7 He disclosed His pathways to Moses and His wondrous feats to the inhabitants of Israel.

8 The Sovereign Captain is compassionate and tender, patient in anger, and full of unwavering devotion.
9 He will not perpetually point out our faults, nor will His wrath persist eternally;
10 He does not retaliate based on our worthless choices or compensate us in line with our mistakes.
11 The Preeminent Sovereign's affection for those who acclaim Him is as vast as the distance from the Earth to the celestial realms.
12 He has taken our unworthy choices as distant from us as the East is from the West.
13 Just as a loving parent feels deep care for their child, so the Sovereign Captain shows boundless compassion to those who look to Him.
14 He understands how fragile we are, remembering that we are made of the simplest elements of this world.
15-16 Human lives are like seasonal ads; they appear briefly with great promise, but a new wave comes, and they're gone without a trace.

17 However, the enduring adoration of the Sovereign Captain remains from time immemorial to perpetuity with those who elevate Him, and His justice extends to their offspring's children.
18 Remember to follow His guiding principles among those who honor and adhere to His solemn agreement.
19 The Sovereign Captain has established His control base in the celestial realms, and the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality governs the universe and beyond.
20 Elevate the Sovereign Captain through His powerful Celestial Envoys who obey His directives, listen to His voice, and execute His will.

21 All you Celestial Forces, laud the Sovereign Captain, you administrators performing His will.
22 Exalt the Sovereign Captain and everything He has created in His sovereignty. All acclaim to the Sovereign Captain, my inner core! "

§ 19010 PROCLAMATION SONG 104

104 "Elevate the Sovereign Captain, my inner-self. Captain, my Preeminent Sovereign, Your greatness is magnificent; You are splendid and marvelous."
2 The Eternal Reality envelops Himself with luminosity like a robe; He unfolds the cosmos resembling a canopy.
3 He constructs the framework of His lofty quarters above the clouds. He utilizes the clouds as His transport and soars on the gusts of the wind.
4 He appoints the winds as His couriers and the fiery flames as His administrators.
5 Never to be changed again, He laid the foundations for the Earth.
6 Like a cloak, You enveloped it with the deep seas; the clouds towered over the mountains.
7 On reprimand, the rain hastened away; they hurried off at the sound of Your resounding thunder.
8 The water drops rained over the peaks and descended into the troughs to the location that You designated for them.
9 You established a limit for the rain they could not breach; they will not return to swallow the Earth.
10 He is the One who causes water to gush from springs into the valleys, flowing amidst the mountains.
11 All the farm animals are provided with water, and the wild donkeys satisfy their thirst.

12 All the avian creatures of the atmosphere build their nests beside the waters. They intonate their songs amidst the tree limbs.
13 From His Celestial Fortress, He rinses the mountains; the Earth is content with the yield of His efforts.
14 He stimulates grass growth for livestock and crops for humans to farm, thereby producing nourishment from the soil.
15 Wine to cheer the enthusiasm of humans, olive oil for the radiance of their faces, and grain for maintaining their vitality.
16 The cedars of Lebanon, which He established, are thoroughly hydrated, as are all of the Sovereign Captain's trees.
17 That's where the birds construct their nests, whereas the stork chooses the junipers for its dwelling.
18 Mountain goats inhabit the towering hills, and the rocky cliffs provide a fortress to the rock badgers.
19 He created the moon to indicate the changes in seasons, and the sun understands when it is time to set.
20 You instill darkness, nightfall occurs, and all the forest creatures wander.
21 The lions bellow in their hunt, clamoring to the Preeminent Sovereign for food.
22 With the break of dawn, they retreat and take shelter in their lairs.
23 Individuals move to their tasks and continue their laborious efforts until nightfall.
24 Captain, the vastness of Your creations is awe-inspiring! With foresight, You crafted each one; our planet teems with the life You brought forth:
25 The immense and vast ocean is brimming with life forms beyond counting petite and grand creatures.
26 The great vessels traverse back and forth, and the sea monster Leviathan, the Symbol of Chaos and an Opponent of the Preeminent Sovereign, which You shaped to frolic in those waters.

27 Every being relies on You for their food at the right moment.
28 When You provide for them, they are brimming with goodness when You open Your palm.
29 When You disregard them, they are terrified; when You seize their breath, they perish and revert to the dust.
30 On dispatching Your Eternal Spark, creation occurs, and the surface of the Earth experiences renewal.
31 Let the splendor of the Sovereign Captain persist eternally. May the Sovereign Captain find pleasure in the living things He created.
32 The One who gazes on the Earth, causing it to quake, makes contact with the mountains and makes them billow smoke.
33 Throughout my existence, I shall celebrate my Preeminent Sovereign with chants; as long as I have breath, praises will I sing to the Sovereign Captain.
34 May my contemplation be sweet to Him, for I delight in the Sovereign Captain.
35 May those who act against right relationships be obliterated from the planet and the malicious exist no longer. My inner-self honors the Eternal Reality. Commend the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 19020 PROCLAMATION SONG 105

105 Express your gratitude to the Sovereign Captain, announce His Name, and reveal His accomplishments to all the nations.

2 Serenade Him, let your songs of gratitude be heard; narrate every single one of His remarkable deeds.
3 Exult in His Exalted Name, allowing those pursuing the Sovereign Captain to find delight.

4 Continuously seek the presence of the Sovereign Captain and depend on His power.

5 Recall the marvelous deeds He performed, His amazing acts, and the verdicts He decreed, 6 those who serve Him, the offspring of Abraham, His special ones, the descendants of Jacob.
7 He is our Sovereign, the Eternal Reality; His rulings prevail throughout the globe.

8 He continually recalls His eternal agreement, the commitment He imparted, set to endure for many eras—
9 the commitment the Eternal Reality secured with Abraham and the promise He pledged to Isaac.
10 He validated it as a Law for Jacob to Israel as a perpetual agreement.

11 "The land of Canaan will be given to you as your allotted heritage."
12 At the time, they were merely a small group, indeed minimal, and were sojourners in the land.
13 They roamed from place to place, from one realm to another.
14 He didn't permit anyone to tyrannize them; He reprimanded Prime Rulers on their account.
15 "Refrain from harming My chosen ones and cause no hurt to My eternally wise servants."

16 He summoned a time of hunger on the territory, demolishing their food resources.
17 He dispatched a man ahead of them—Joseph, who was traded as an enslaved person.

18 His feet endured the pain because of the restraints, and his neck was fitted with a collar of iron, 19 until his prediction was fulfilled; the Sovereign Captain's statement validated his integrity.

20 The Prime Ruler dispatched and liberated him, and the nation's leader granted him freedom.
21 The Prime Ruler appointed him as the head of his home. The overseer of all his belongings, 22 Joseph had the authority to guide Pharaoh's leaders as he wished and impart knowledge to the experienced.

23 Israel made its way to Egypt, with Jacob living as an outsider in the territory of Ham.
24 The Preeminent Sovereign greatly multiplied his people, making them stronger and more numerous than those who opposed them.

25 He altered their feelings to harbor hatred towards His people and to plot craftily against His servants.
26 He dispatched His servants Moses and Aaron, the ones He had selected.
27 They executed His marvelous signs, His astonishing feats in the region of Ham.

28 He dispatched obscurity, causing the terrain to dim, yet they disregarded His directives.

29 He transformed their river into blood, resulting in the demise of their fish.

30 Their terrain was swarming with amphibians, infiltrating even the private chambers of their leaders.

31 On His proclamation, many flies and gnats invaded their entire territory.

32 He transformed their precipitation into hail, and lightning strikes accompanied it all over their territory.
33 He devastated their grapevines and fig trees, splitting all the trees across their land.

34 He uttered the command, and uncountable swarms of locusts and grasshoppers appeared.
35 They consumed every plant and all the soil's yield in their terrain.

36 He also destroyed all the firstborns in their country, the prime outcome of all their vitality.

37 Israel was led out, enriched with silver and gold, and no single individual among their communities stumbled.
38 Egypt rejoiced at their celestial deliverance as the fear of Israel had overwhelmed them.

39 The Sovereign Captain provided a cloud for protection and a flare to illuminate the darkness.

40 Quail was provided to them on request, and they were nourished abundantly with Celestial bread.

41 The rock was broken open, and water poured, running like a stream through the barren wilderness.

42 Indeed, He recalled the exalted vow He made to Abraham.
43 With shouts of delight, He brought forth His people in celebration.

44 He gave them the territories of other ethnic groups. They inherited the fruits of the labor of others, so they could obey His directives and adhere to His directions.

45 All acclaim to the Eternal Reality.

§ 19030 PROCLAMATION SONG 106

106 Express your gratitude towards the Sovereign Captain! Acknowledge the Sovereign Captain's goodness! His steadfast devotion is eternal!

2 Who can articulate the marvelous works of the Sovereign Captain or recount all His praises?
3 The fortunate uphold justice and constantly practice integrity.

4 Captain, when You are kind to Your people, extend Your redemption to me as well,
5 that I may partake in the well-being of Your selected ones. May I delight in the happiness of Your people and engage in honor of Your heritage.

6 Like our forefathers, we are guilty of making unworthy choices. We have committed evil and behaved wrongfully.
7 Our forefathers in Egypt failed to appreciate Your marvelous deeds; they neglected to recall Your numerous acts of love and defied You before the sea, specifically on the Red Sea.

8 You rescued them for Your name's honor, demonstrating Your strength.
9 You commanded the Red Sea to dry up and led them as if navigating the deep sea was like trekking through a wilderness.

10 You liberated them from the clutches of adversaries. You delivered them from the control of their enemies.

11 Their foes were overwhelmed by the waters; every single one perished.
12 Consequently, they trusted Your commitments and sang melodies of admiration.
13 However, they rapidly disregarded Your actions and didn't patiently wait for Your strategy to develop.

14 They succumbed to insatiable desires in the barren lands and challenged the Preeminent Sovereign in the uninhabited wilderness.
15 You granted their wishes yet brought on them a debilitating illness.

16 They harbored jealousy towards Moses and Aaron within the encampment, who was exalted to the Sovereign Captain.

17 Dathan was engulfed when the ground split open; Abiram's adherents were subsequently buried.
18 A blaze ignited among their adherents; the flames devoured the impure.

19 They constructed a calf at Horeb and paid homage to a graven idolized deity.
20 They swapped their majestic Eternal Reality for a depiction of a grass consuming bull.

21 The Eternal Reality, who had performed magnificent feats in Egypt and delivered their redemption, was forgotten by them:

22 Astonishing feats were performed in Ham, and awe-inspiring acts were performed at the Red Sea.
23 You threatened to wipe them out, but Moses, Your chosen servant, intervened, preventing Your fury from obliterating them.

24 They rejected the desirable territory; they didn't trust in Your assurance.
25 They murmured within their encampments and disregarded the voice of Yahweh.
26 You solemnly pledged to cause their downfall in the desert with Your raised hand.
27 This downfall caused their offspring to perish among the nations and disperse them into different territories.

28 They aligned themselves with Baal of Peor and ate absolving payments meant for long-dead idolized deities.
29 They incited the Sovereign Captain's wrath through their evil actions, triggering an epidemic among them.

30 Phinehas took a stand and interceded, bringing the plague to a halt.
31 His action was acknowledged as an act of integrity that would be remembered for all future generations.

32 At the Waters of Strife, they incited the Sovereign Captain's wrath, resulting in difficulties for Moses due to their actions.
33 The people turned against the Preeminent Sovereign's Eternal Spark, leading to an impulsive speech from Moses.

34 They failed to obliterate the nations as the Sovereign Captain had ordered.
35 Instead, they integrated with other societies and adopted their traditions.

36 They venerated their counterfeit idolized deities, which became a trap for them.

37 They sacrificed their offspring, boys and girls, to malevolent entities.
38 They spilled the blood, the life essence of their offspring, whom they presented as sacrifices to the counterfeit idolized deities of Canaan. So, the soil became defiled with their bloodshed.
39 They made themselves impure with their actions and behaved distrustfully with their conduct.

40 Consequently, the Sovereign Captain's fury ignited against His people, and He detested His heritage.
41 He surrendered them to the power of foreign nations, and those who detested them dominated over them.

42 Those who hated them held firm control over them, and they were made to obey their oppressors.
43 He rescued them numerous times, yet they persisted in their defiance, leading to their downfall due to their violations.

44 When He heard their pleas, He recognized their hardship.
45 He recalled His promise to them, altering His course due to the abundance of His mercy.
46 He turned them into objects of sympathy for everyone imprisoning them.

47 Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, bring us back from among the nations to express our gratitude to Your Exalted Name and revel in honoring you!

48 May Yahweh, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, be esteemed from the past eternally to the future endlessly. May all individuals agree by saying, "So Be It!" Let's praise Yahweh.

§ 19040 PROCLAMATION SONG 107

107 Express appreciation to the Sovereign Captain because He is compassionate; His loyal affection is eternal.

2 The Sovereign Captain should redeem and share their tale—He delivered them from the enemy's clutches.
3 He assembled those from various countries, from the rising and setting sun, from the polar North to the distant South.

4 Some roamed in the barren wilderness, failing to find a path leading to an inhabited city for them to reside.
5 They found themselves hungry and thirsty; their existence was slipping away.
6 In their time of affliction, they pleaded to the Sovereign Captain, who rescued them from their suffering.

7 He guided them on the right path to a city where they could live.
8 May they express gratitude towards the Sovereign Captain for His relentless affection and the marvelous acts He performs for humanity.

9 He quenches the thirst of those in need and provides the famished with bountiful food.

10-11 Some found themselves trapped in bleakness, as if locked in a cell of their own making, weighed down by consequences because they rejected the Eternal Reality's guidance and dismissed wise advice.

12 He made them endure grueling work; they tripped without assistance.
13 Amid their chaos, they pleaded to the Sovereign Captain, who rescued them from their affliction.

14 He led them out of despair, the deepest obscurity, and shattered the locks holding them captive.
15 May they thank the Sovereign Captain for His relentless affection and astonishing actions for humanity.

16 He shatters the bronze doors and cuts the iron bars in two.

17 Some individuals turned into idiots due to their disobedience, experiencing suffering due to their unworthy choices.
18 They developed a disgust for all types of food and approached the brink of death.
19 Amid their adversity, they pleaded with the Sovereign Captain, who rescued them from their desperate circumstances.

20 The Preeminent Sovereign issued His proclamation, providing healing; He delivered them from the brink of death.

21 May they thank the Sovereign Captain for His steadfast affection and astonishing acts for humanity.
22 Let them proclaim His works with delight and give gifts of gratitude.

23 A group of sailors set sail on the ocean, trading over the vast seas.
24 They witnessed the mighty actions of the Sovereign Captain and the impressive wonders He disclosed in the deep sea.
25 He emitted words invoking a violent storm, catapulting the sea waves to heights.

26 The sailors ascended to the sky and descended into the ocean depths; their bravery dissolved in the face of danger.
27 The sailors swayed and stumbled as if intoxicated. They were utterly confused.
28 They called on the Sovereign Captain in their turmoil, who rescued them from their adversities.

29 The Sovereign Captain subdued the storm to a murmur; the ocean's waves were silenced.
30 They expressed delight when tranquility was restored, and He steered them to the port they yearned for.

31 May they thank the Sovereign Captain for His steadfast affection and marvelous works for all humanity.
32 They should celebrate Him when the ensovereigned lifestyle community gathers to express joyful adoration and commend Him in the company of respected leaders.

33 He transforms watercourses into a wasteland and bubbling springs into arid land.
34 He transforms productive soil into a barren, salty desert due to the corrupt deeds of its inhabitants.

35 He transformed desolate spaces into vibrant plazas and lifeless zones into fountains of renewal.

36 He leads the famished to that place, and they may construct a city for habitation.
37 They cultivate fields and vineyards, producing abundant fruit.

38 He empowers them, causing their population to surge without allowing a reduction in their livestock.
39 When they are diminished and made low by injustice, cruelty, and suffering, 40 He treats the governors disdainfully, forcing them to stray aimlessly through a wasteland.

41 However, He elevates the underprivileged from suffering and expands their households into a thriving community.
42 People who practice integrity witness this elevation and are filled with delight. People who practice a counterfeit life—that transgression will silence their speech.

43 May the wise individual consider these meanings and contemplate the Sovereign Captain's perpetual devotion to you.

§ 19050 PROCLAMATION SONG 108

(A song: a Proclamation of David.)

108 My Preeminent Sovereign, my inner-self, is unwavering; I am determined to sing and create harmonies with my entire being.
2 Arise, lute, and harp! I will stir the sleepy dawn from slumber.
3 My Sovereign Captain, I will acknowledge You among the nations and sing Your honors among the populace.
4 Your immense adoration soars above the celestial realms; Your unwavering authenticity extends to the clouds.
5 May You, my Preeminent Sovereign, rise above the celestial realms. May Your splendor cover the entire Earth.
6 Bring assistance and redemption through Your mighty hand so Your cherished ones may be rescued.

7 The Preeminent Sovereign has heralded from His Exalted Space: 'I will distribute Shechem and mark out the Sukkoth Valley in victory.
8 Gilead and Manasseh belong to Me; Ephraim is the combat helmet of My head, and Judah is the vanguard of My authority.
9 Moab serves Me like a washbowl; I stomp My boots on Edom and overthrow Philistia with victory. '
10 Who can guide Me toward the well-defended city? Who can direct Me towards Edom?
11 My Preeminent Sovereign, haven't you turned away from us and refrained from marching with our troops?
12 Assist us in our fight against the adversary since relying on human assistance is futile.
13 We shall prevail through the Preeminent Sovereign's assistance, for He is the One who will crush our adversaries.

§ 19060 PROCLAMATION SONG 109

(For the director of the choir. A Proclamation of David)

109 “My Preeminent Sovereign, whom I acclaim, do not keep quiet.
2 Adversaries who are malicious and treacherous have voiced untrue accusations against me. They have used their tongues to tell falsehoods about me.
3 They encase me with spiteful language, launching an unprovoked assault on me.
4 These adversaries oppose me in response to my friendship. Yet, I am devoted to melding my conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
5 Though I treat them well, they return my kindness with hostility and respond to my affection with animosity.

6 “Assign an impure individual to stand against these adversaries and allow this individual to take the accuser’s position.
7 At these adversaries’ judgment, let them be pronounced guilty, and their pleas counted as a transgression.
8 Let their time be shortened and let someone else assume their positions of authority.
9 Let their offspring become orphans and these adversaries’ spouses widows.
10 Let their offspring roam as vagrants, seeking food far from their demolished abodes.
11 Let the people they owe take everything these adversaries own and allow outsiders to loot their acquired properties.
12 Let no one show these adversaries compassion or solace to their offspring left without fathers.
13 Let these adversaries’ offspring be eliminated, and their memory be erased from the next generation.

14 “Let the Sovereign Captain keep in mind the wrongdoings of their ancestors and never let their mothers’ unworthy choices be erased.
15 Let their offenses be eternally in the presence of the Sovereign Captain so that He may eradicate their memory from the world, 16 since these adversaries never considered showing compassion; they relentlessly pursued and caused the demise of the destitute, the needy, and those with shattered inner selves.
17 These adversaries relished cursing others; let those curses return to them. These adversaries didn’t enjoy granting favors; their enjoyment may remain distant.

18 “Cursing was as integral to these adversaries as their clothing, infusing into their physiques like water and permeating their bones like oil.

19 Let it envelop these adversaries as a garment like a belt constantly bound around him.
20 May the Sovereign Captain recompense those who slander me, including those who accuse me.

21 “My Almighty Sovereign Captain, intervene on my behalf because of Your reputation; rescue me due to the transformative generosity of Your loyal devotion.
22 Indeed, I am impoverished and helpless; my inner-self harbors profound hurt.
23 I disappear like a shadow as the day ends; I am brushed away like a bug.
24 Fasting has caused my knees to weaken; my physique is slim and emaciated.
25 My accusers ridicule me; they wag their heads on seeing me.

26 “Assist me, My Sovereign Captain, my Preeminent Sovereign; deliver me by Your steadfast adoration.
27 Permit these adversaries to recognize that this is Your handiwork; You, My Sovereign Captain, are the architect of my life.
28 Even if they hurl insults, Your empowerment shall prevail; those who assault me will face humiliation, whereas Your servant shall bask in delight.
29 May those who bring charges against me be dressed dishonestly, humiliating themselves as if it were a mantle.

30 “Using my words, I will praise the Sovereign Captain profusely; among many, I will express my adoration for Him.
31 He positions Himself to support the impoverished, rescuing them from those adversaries who seek their destruction.”

(David’s Proclamation.)

110 “Sit at My dominant hand until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet,” Yahweh commanded My Sovereign Captain.
2 The Eternal Reality shall project Your celestial seal from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, commanding and governing amidst Your adversaries!
3 On the day of Your military clash, Your soldiers will join You voluntarily, cloaked in celestial majesty. Like morning dew emerging from dawn’s womb, Your youthful forces will rally to Your side.
4 Yahweh has taken an oath and will not waver. You are an eternal ensovereigned mediator in the likeness of Melchizedek.
5 Positioned at Your dominant side, the Sovereign Captain will shatter Prime Rulers on the day of His anger.
6 He will render justice among the nations, collecting corpses and defeating leaders throughout the entire world.
7 The Sovereign Captain will quench His thirst from a stream and triumphantly raise His head.

§ 19080 PROCLAMATION SONG 111

111 “Honor the Sovereign Captain!” I will express my gratitude to the Sovereign Captain amidst the gathering of authentic individuals and the ensovereigned lifestyle community.
2 The Sovereign Captain’s deeds are magnificent and studied by all who enjoy them.
3 His actions are marked with splendor and honor, and His ultimate authenticity is sustained perpetually.
4 The Sovereign Captain made His magnificent deeds unforgettable; He is gentle and empathetic.

5 He sustains those who elevate Him; He perpetually recalls His solemn agreement.
6 He gave His people the strength of His deeds by granting them the territories of foreign nations.
7 Everything He accomplishes is authentic and fair. All His instructions can be depended on.
8 His accomplishments are perpetually sustained and constructed with sincerity and integrity.

9 He delivered redemption to His esteemed people and enacted His pledge eternally; His Name is celestial and evokes enormous honor.
10 Honor for the Eternal Reality is the initial step towards wisdom for those who adhere to His directives and sound understanding. He is worthy of everlasting honor.

§ 19090 PROCLAMATION SONG 112

112 Elevate the Eternal Reality. Happy are those who elevate the Sovereign Captain and take immense pleasure in obeying His directives.
2 The offspring of the authentic will be strong throughout the country; a fortunate family will belong to those who practice integrity.
3 Their homes are prosperous, and their authentic actions remain everlasting.
4 Even amid the gloom, illumination emerges for the authentic, those who embody kindness, empathy, and justice.
5 Positive outcomes await individuals displaying transformative generosity, lending without hesitation, and managing their matters guided by justice.
6 Authentic people will undoubtedly remain unswayed; their memory will live on through eternity.
7 They won't be intimidated by unfortunate reports; their inner selves are unwavering, placing their trust in the Sovereign Captain.

8 They remain poised and fearless. Ultimately, they will witness their enemies' defeat.
9 They have generously distributed their empowerments to those in need; their authentic deeds persist eternally; their strength and dignity will be exalted magnificently.
10 Evil-minded men will be infuriated when they witness this; they will clench their teeth in anger and dissolve into nothing, and their impure desires will fail.

§ 19100 PROCLAMATION SONG 113

113 Elevate the Eternal Reality! Acknowledge the Sovereign Captain; all who serve Him and exalt the Name of the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 "May the Sovereign Captain's Name receive accolades from this moment forth and eternally."
3 "From dawn to dusk, the Name of the Sovereign Captain deserves our honor."
4 "the Sovereign Captain reigns supreme over all nations; His magnificence surpasses the celestial realms."
5 "Who could be compared to our Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, who rules from His marvelous command control in the celestial realms,"
6 "To see the world and the celestial realms, He humbles Himself."
7 "He elevates the impoverished from filth and hoists the needy from the trash pile."
8 "He positions them among the governors alongside the leaders of their state."
9 "In her abode, He establishes the barren woman as a joyous mother of offspring. Give celebration to the Sovereign Captain."

§ 19110 PROCLAMATION SONG 114

114 As Israel escaped Egypt, the people of Jacob departed from a nation speaking an outsider language.
2 Judah was transformed into His Exalted Space, and Israel became His realm.
3 The sea witnessed it and scampered away, and the Jordan River reversed direction.
4 The slopes skipped like lambs, the mountains like rams.
5 Sea, what caused you to flee? The River Jordan, what made you retreat?
6 Mountains, what made you jump like rams, and you hills, like little lambs?
7 Earthquakes with fear when the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Jacob, comes near;
8 the One who transformed the stone into a reservoir, the hard stone into water springs.

§ 19120 PROCLAMATION SONG 115

115 The honor belongs to You, Captain, for Your affectionate tenderness and unwavering authenticity.
2 Why do the nations question, “Where is their Eternal Reality?”
3 Our Preeminent Sovereign freely acts according to His will in the celestial realms.
4 The nations’ revered idolized deities are mere artifacts of gold and silver crafted by humans.
5 They have mouths but cannot speak, eyes but cannot see.
6 They have ears but cannot hear. They have noses but cannot smell.
7 They have hands but cannot feel feet but cannot walk, and they make no sound from their throats.

8 Those who craft these idolized deities become like them, as do all who trust in them.
9 You from Israel, trust the Sovereign Captain; He is your helper and ballistic shield.
10 Aaron’s family relies on the Sovereign Captain; He is their defender and ballistic shield.
11 All who elevate Him, place your confidence in the Sovereign Captain—He is their aid and protector.
12 The Sovereign Captain remembers us and will grant His empowerment: His empowerment will be on His chosen people, Israel, and the family of Aaron.
13 everyone who honors the Sovereign Captain, from the humblest to the most influential, will receive His empowerment.
14 May the Sovereign Captain grant you prosperity, extending to you and your offspring.
15 May the empowerments of the Eternal Reality, the Innovator of the celestial realms and Earth, be given to you.
16 The most distant celestial expanses belong to the Sovereign Captain, yet He allocated the Earth to human authority.
17 The deceased or those who descend into stillness don’t acclaim the Sovereign Captain.
18 We continuously appreciate the Sovereign Captain today and for all eternity. Give praise to the Sovereign Captain.

§ 19130 PROCLAMATION SONG 116

116 My affection for the Preeminent Sovereign amplifies, for He has listened to my pleas; He perceived my appeal for compassion.
2 He lent me His ear, so I shall summon Him all my days.

3 I was trapped by the ropes of death, overcome by the terrors of the grave; distress and sorrow overwhelmed me.
4 On invoking the Name of the Sovereign Captain, I implored, “Captain, please rescue me!”
5 Our Preeminent Sovereign is merciful; the Sovereign Captain is just and generous.
6 The Sovereign Captain protects the meek hearted; He delivered me while I was defenseless.
7 Be at peace again, my inner-self, because Yahweh has shown mercy to you.
8 You alone have liberated my life from the clutches of mortality, banished crying from my eyes, and prevented me from faltering.
9 So I may continue to serve Yahweh in the realm of those alive.
10 I maintained my trust despite being severely oppressed.
11 In my panic, I declared, “All individuals are deceitful!”
12 How shall I repay the Sovereign Captain for all the transformative generosity He gave me?
13 I shall raise my cup of deliverance and invoke the name of the Eternal Reality.
14 I will commit to the Sovereign Captain in front of all His pathseekers.
15 The passing of His devoted ones holds a significant value in the eyes of the Sovereign Captain.
16 Indeed, I am Your loyal servant, My Sovereign Captain; as my mother served You in the same manner I serve You, You have released me from my bonds.
17 I will present a gratitude offering to You and invoke the Name of the Sovereign Captain.
18 I will keep my promises to the Preeminent Sovereign before the ensovereigned lifestyle community, 19 within the fortress of the Sovereign Captain’s judicial grounds at the center of Yerushalayim. Give adoration to the Preeminent Sovereign!

§ 19140 PROCLAMATION SONG 117

117 “Let all nations herald the Sovereign Captain; let all peoples applaud Him.
2 His affection for us is tremendous, and the steadfastness of the Sovereign Captain endures forever. Give acclaim to the Sovereign Captain. “

§ 19150 PROCLAMATION SONG 118

118 Express gratitude to the Sovereign Captain; His kindness is everlasting, for He is generous.
2 Israel should declare, “His loyal devotion is everlasting.”
3 May Aaron’s family declare, “His tenderness is everlasting.”
4 Those who respect and elevate the Sovereign Captain should proclaim, “His unwavering love is eternal.”
5 In distress, I invoked the Sovereign Captain; He led me to a wide-open territory.
6 With the Eternal Reality on my side, I have no fear; what can humans do to me?

7 The Sovereign Captain stands beside me and assists me. I will witness the defeat of those who oppose me.
8 Seeking safety in the Sovereign Captain is more reliable than depending on humanity.
9 Trusting Him for security is superior to relying on state signatories.
10 Confronting numerous nations, I eliminated them all by invoking the Sovereign Captain's authority.

11 They encircled me on all fronts, yet I defeated them through the power of the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 They gathered around me like a swarm of bees, yet they swiftly vanished as thorns engulfed in flames; under the authority of the Sovereign Captain, I overcame them.
13 My collapse was imminent due to intense opposition; however, the Sovereign Captain came to my rescue.
14 The Sovereign Captain serves as my might and protector, transforming into my redemption.

16 The power of the Preeminent Sovereign is raised in victory. His mighty arm has accomplished great deeds.
17 I shall survive, not perish, and I'll proclaim the deeds accomplished by the Sovereign Captain.
18 The Eternal Reality disciplined me harshly, yet he did not hand me over to my demise.
19 Unseal the portals of ultimate authenticity. I shall step through them and express my gratitude to the Sovereign Captain.
20 This portal is the Sovereign Captain's star gate; the authentic ones shall pass through it.
21 Captain, I am grateful You acknowledged my intervention; You have become my deliverance.
22 The foundation block that was dismissed as useless has become the most crucial part of the entire design.

24 On this very day, the Preeminent Sovereign has acted; let's celebrate and be happy.

25 Oh, Captain, please come to our aid! Almighty, bring us triumph!
26 He who comes in the Name of the Eternal Reality is honored. We extend our empowerment to you from the fortress of the Sovereign Captain.
27 Being the Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain has caused His brilliance to glow on us. Fasten the festive offering to the pedestal table's corners using cords.
28 You are my Eternal Reality, and I will express my exceeding admiration for You; You are my Preeminent Sovereign, and I will elevate You.
29 Express your gratitude to the Sovereign Captain, who is generous; His affection persists forever.

§ 19390 PROCLAMATION SONG 120

(A proclamation song of ascents)

120 When troubled, I call upon the Sovereign Captain, who provides solutions.
2 "My Sovereign Captain, rescue my inner-self from deceitful lips and lying tongues."
3 "O deceptive language, what punishment awaits you, and what further measures will be taken?"
4 "You will face discipline through piercing projectiles and scorching flames."
5 Alas, I must reside in Meshek amidst Kedar's encampments!
6 I have lived too long with those who despise tranquility.
7 I advocate peace, but when I speak of it, they seek war.

§ 19400 PROCLAMATION SONG 121

(A proclamation song of ascents)

121 I gaze toward the mountains, questioning, "Where will my assistance originate?"
2 "My support comes from the Sovereign Captain, the Innovator of celestial realms and the Earth."
3 This safeguard will never allow you to stumble; the inner shield protecting you won't fall asleep.
4 Truly, the protector of Israel neither dozes nor falls into a deep sleep.
5 The Sovereign Captain is the shade on your dominant hand; the Sovereign Captain is your defender.
6 Neither the sun during the day nor the moon at night will harm you.
7 The Eternal Reality will protect you from all dangers; He'll keep your inner-self intact.
8 The Sovereign Captain will safeguard your departures and arrivals from this moment until perpetuity.

§ 19410 PROCLAMATION SONG 122

(A proclamation song of ascents. From David.)

122 My inner-self was delighted when I suggested, "Let's visit the Sovereign Captain's fortress!"
2 In Yerushalayim, we find ourselves stationed within your portals.
3 Yerushalayim was constructed as a firmly united city.
4 This place is where the communities ascend—the communities of the Sovereign Captain to honor the Name of the Eternal Reality according to the decree of Israel.
5 The legal authority bases are situated there, belonging to the family of David.
6 Offer petitions for Yerushalayim's peace, saying, "May those who love you prosper!"
7 May harmony thrive within your boundaries and safety within your strongholds.
8 Out of consideration for my relatives and companions, I express, "May tranquility reside within you."
9 Out of love for the fortress of the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, I will intervention for your well-being.

§ 19420 PROCLAMATION SONG 123

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

123 My gaze is fixed on You, Who rule from Your authority based in the celestial realms.
2 Just as employees depend on their boss and a personal assistant relies on her patron, we similarly count on the Sovereign Captain as the Preeminent Sovereign, awaiting His transformative generosity and compassion.
3 Show us compassion, Captain, and mercy since we are overwhelmed with disdain.
4 We have experienced relentless mockery from the arrogant and disdain from the vain.

§ 19430 PROCLAMATION SONG 124

(A proclamation song of ascents: from David)

124 Let Israel now declare, “If the Sovereign Captain had not been on our side:
2 Had the Sovereign Captain not defended us against human attacks,
3 They would have eaten us alive if their rage had risen against us.
4 Then we would have been submerged by the floods, then overrun by the torrent,
5 and the furious waters would have overwhelmed us.
6 Empowered is the Sovereign Captain who didn’t allow us to be prey to their fangs.
7 We have attained freedom, like a bird liberated from the hunter’s trap; the trap is shattered, and our sovereignty is achieved.
8 The assistance we seek originates from the Sovereign Captain, the Architect of the cosmos and our planet.

§ 19440 PROCLAMATION SONG 125

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

125 Individuals trusting the Sovereign Captain resemble the City of the Eternal Reality, unwavering and eternal.
2 Just as mountains encircle Yerushalayim, the Sovereign Captain similarly offers encirclement to His people from now into the endless future.
3 Because of this, the people of integrity will not be struck by the wand of evil. Otherwise, such people might extend their hands to commit a transgression.
4 “Almighty, be kind to the authentic ones and those whose inner selves portray integrity.”
5 The Sovereign Captain, however, will exile all evildoers and all who choose corrupt methods. Israel, peace be with you.

§ 19450 PROCLAMATION SONG 126

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

126 We became dreamers when the Sovereign Captain released the captives from David's Hub.
2 We celebrated with laughter and joyful songs. Among the nations, it was shared, “the Sovereign Captain has accomplished splendid deeds for us!”
3 Indeed, He performed spectacular deeds for us, delighting us.

4 My Sovereign Captain, release our prisoners like streams in the Negev.
5 Individuals who plant sorrowfully will harvest with exultant shouts.
6 Those who depart in tears, bearing seeds for planting, will undoubtedly return, rejoicing with a harvest in their arms.

§ 19460 PROCLAMATION SONG 127

(A proclamation song of ascents. From Solomon, the builder of the fortress)

127 Unless the Sovereign Captain isn't the architect behind the project, all the workers' efforts are wasted. If the Eternal Reality doesn't oversee the city, even the best security systems are useless."
2 Rising early and staying up late, toiling for food, is pointless, for He grants rest to those He loves.
3 Children are a celestial empowerment from the Sovereign Captain, a gift from the womb.
4 Children born in youth are like tactical projectiles in a warrior's hand.
5 Fortunate is the one whose field pack is full of ammunition. They will not be defeated when they face their foes.

§ 19470 PROCLAMATION SONG 128

(A proclamation song of ascents)

128 "Fortunate are those who elevate the Sovereign Captain and live according to His directives.
2 The work of your hands will provide for your food; you will enjoy empowerment and abundance.
3 Your spouse shall resemble a vine that produces plenty of inner fruit within your dwelling; your offspring will appear as young olive branches surrounding your dining table.
4 These offspring reward those who respect and elevate the Sovereign Captain.
5 Receive empowerment from the Eternal Reality from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign and witness Yerushalayim's daily prosperity.
6 May you see your grandchildren's growth and let tranquility prevail over Israel. "

§ 19480 PROCLAMATION SONG 129

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

129 From my early days, heavy has been the burden they've put on me—let Israel state it:
2 "My foes have frequently assaulted me since my early days. However, they have never managed to overpower me.
3 My back bears the marks of those who cut deep, lasting tracks like ruts in my skin.
4 However, the Sovereign Captain is good; He has severed the ropes of the authoritarian.
5 Let every person who despises the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign feel humiliated and driven away in defeat.
6 Could they be like the rooftop grass that dies before it can sprout?
7 Unable to fill the arms of the sheaf binder and the reaper's hands.
8 May no one passing by say to them, 'We bless you in the Name of the Sovereign Captain; the empowerment of the Sovereign Captain is on you. '"

§ 19490 PROCLAMATION SONG 130

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

130 From deep despair, I call out to you, My Sovereign Captain;
2 "Captain, heed my voice. May Your ears be alert to my intervention for compassion."
3 My Sovereign Captain, who among us could withstand if You were to keep track of our transgressions?
4 Yet, forgiveness resides within You, allowing us to serve You respectfully.
5 My inner-self relies on the Sovereign Captain as I wait expectantly, firmly trusting His assuring words.
6 I yearn for the Sovereign Captain more fervently than night guards anticipate the dawn; indeed, more fervently than night vanguards look forward to the break of the day.
7 So Israel: Trust the Sovereign Captain because there is constant tenderness and affection with the Sovereign Captain and complete redemption with Him.
8 He alone will liberate Israel from every kind of unworthy choice.

§ 19500 PROCLAMATION SONG 131

(A proclamation song of ascents: from David.)

131 "My Sovereign Captain, my inner-self doesn't harbor arrogance; my gaze isn't disdainful; I steer clear of grand affairs or intricacies beyond my grasp.
2 I have stilled and pacified myself; I am comparable to a satisfied child cradled by its mother; just as a content child, I find my peace.
3 O Israel, trust the Sovereign Captain from this time forward and for all eternity."

§ 19510 PROCLAMATION SONG 132

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

132 My Sovereign Captain, remember David and his self-denial.
2 He vowed loyalty to the Sovereign Captain and made a solemn promise to the Preeminent Sovereign of Jacob.
3 "I will not enter my dwelling or lie down to rest,
4 I will not allow rest to my eyes nor respite to my eyelids,
5 until I find a fortress for Yahweh, a habitation for the Eternal Reality of Jacob.
6 We found the Strongbox in the meadows of Jaar, where we heard it was in Ephrathah.
7 Let's go to His fortress; let's pay homage at His footrest.
8 Ascend, My Sovereign Captain, to Your peaceful fortress, You and the Strongbox representing Your power.
9 Let Your ensovereigned mediators be dressed with integrity, and let those who belong to You celebrate in song.
10 Don't turn Your back on Your chosen Prime Ruler in honor of Your servant David.

11 The Preeminent Sovereign promised David a pledge He would never abandon: "I will establish a successor from your family on your authority base.

12 If your offspring abide by My solemn agreement and the directives I impart, their family will forever occupy your authority base.”
13 Indeed, the Eternal Reality has chosen the hub of David, the place He desires for His fortress.
14 “This place is My eternal fortress; I will rule from here since it is My wish.
15 I will richly provide her with everything she needs; her needy ones will be filled with bread.
16 Her ensovereigned mediators will be adorned with redemption, and her devoted pathseekers will perpetually express their delight through song.
17 I will amplify David’s power at this place and establish a beacon for My chosen one.
18 His adversaries will wear shame as their attire. However, he will be ensovereigned with a glorious command control.”

§ 19520 PROCLAMATION SONG 133

(A proclamation song of ascents: from David)

133 “It’s truly delightful and agreeable when pathseekers of the Preeminent Sovereign dwell in unity!
2 This unity is like a precious essence flowing freely among us, like a gentle stream of shared understanding and cooperation, touching each individual in its path, transcending any boundaries or distinctions.
3 It resembles the dew from Hermon descending on the City of the Eternal Reality. At this location, the Sovereign Captain confers His empowerment, specifically eternal life. “

§ 19530 PROCLAMATION SONG 134

(A proclamation song of ascents.)

134 “Give honor and thanks to the Sovereign Captain, all of you who work for the Sovereign Captain and serve during the night in the Sovereign Captain’s fortress.
2 Raise your hands in the Exalted Space and elevate the Sovereign Captain.
3 May the Innovator of the universe and Earth grant His empowerment on you from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 19540 PROCLAMATION SONG 135

135 Exalt the Eternal Reality. Honor the name of the Sovereign Captain; herald Him, you servants of the Preeminent Sovereign, 2 those serving in the Sovereign Captain’s fortress, within His courtyards.
3 Exalt the Eternal Reality, for He is kind; celebrate His excellent Name with music, which brings delight.
4 The Sovereign Captain has selected Jacob for Himself, marking Israel as His most cherished asset.
5 Our Sovereign Captain’s greatness exceeds any deity’s.
6 The Sovereign Captain carries out His will in the celestial realms, the Earth, and the seas’ depths.
7 He triggers the ascension of clouds from the Earth’s extremities; He propels lightning to accompany rainfall and summons wind from His depositories.

8 He destroyed the eldest child in each Egyptian household, as well as the initial offspring of their livestock.
9 Into the center of Egypt, against Pharaoh and all his servants, marvelous signs and amazing things were dispatched.
10 He defeated numerous nations, bringing extinction to powerful Prime Rulers:

11 Sihon, the Prime Ruler of the Amorites; Og, the Prime Ruler of Bashan; and all the Prime Rulers of Canaan.
12 Their territory was provided as His legacy, a unique possession for His chosen nation, Israel.
13 Your Name will forever persist, My Sovereign Captain; Your distinction will remain throughout every generation.
14 The Sovereign Captain will enact justice for His people and extend kindness to those who serve Him.
15 The idolized deities of other countries are made from gold and silver and crafted by people.
16 They possess mouths, yet they remain speechless, and eyes, yet they are sightless.
17 They possess ears yet cannot listen; there's no sign of breathing from their lips.
18 Individuals who create idolized deities will mirror their lifeless nature; similarly, all those who trust them will end up in the same state.
19 All descendants of Israel: Express your admiration for the Sovereign Captain! To Aaron's family: Express your admiration for the Sovereign Captain.
20 Community of Levi: Give honor and thanks to the Sovereign Captain. All of you who elevate Him and grant your recognition on the Sovereign Captain:
21 Give honor to the Eternal Reality, He who resides in Yerushalayim, from the fortress in the City of the Eternal Reality. Exalt the Sovereign Captain.

§ 19550 PROCLAMATION SONG 136

136 Express gratitude to the Sovereign Captain since He is generous, and His loyal affection is everlasting.
2 Express gratitude to the Supreme Eternal Reality who is over all idolized deities. His loyal devotion continues indefinitely.
3 Express gratitude to the most influential Sovereign Captain of all captains: His trusting tenderness continues forever.
4 Only He performs magnificent and wondrous deeds on His own. His loyal adoration lasts eternally.

§ 19560 PROCLAMATION SONG 137

137 Beside Babylon's rivers, we wept as we remembered the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 We hung our lyres on the willow trees.
3 Our captors demanded songs, insisting on joyful melodies, saying, "Perform one of the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress tunes for us!"
4 How can we sing the chants of the Eternal Reality in a foreign land?
5 May my dominant hand fail me, Yerushalayim, if I forget you!
6 If Yerushalayim doesn't bring my greatest delight, let my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth if.
7 Recall, My Sovereign Captain, what the sons of Edom commanded on the day Yerushalayim fell: "Tear it down to its foundation!"
8 Babylon, you are doomed to ruin. Joyous will be the one who repays you for your deeds to us.
9 "Fortunate are those who seek justice and healing for the suffering, turning their pain into compassion and anger into a force for peace."

§ 19570 PROCLAMATION SONG 138

(From David)

138 I will appreciate You, My Sovereign Captain, with my entire being. Even in the presence of idolized deities, I will exalt the Eternal Reality with songs.
2 I will prostrate myself facing Your fortress, celebrating Your Name for Your perpetual affection and constancy. Indeed, Your authoritative proclamation song is so highly esteemed that it exceeds even Your renown.
3 On my cry for help, You responded and imbued my inner-self with considerable bravery.
4 When all earthly Prime Rulers listen to Your decrees, My Sovereign Captain, they shall offer You their gratitude.
5 Let them voice songs about Eternal Reality's pathways considering His immense magnificence.
6 Even though the Sovereign Captain is supreme, He is compassionate towards the humble; even at His high position, He watches over them from a distance.
7 Even when surrounded by adversity, You safeguard my existence. You oppose the wrath of my adversaries with Your might; with Your dominant hand, You rescue me.

[8] The Sovereign Captain will accomplish His goal for me. My Sovereign Captain, Your enduring adoration is perpetual; do not forsake the endeavors of Your hands.

§ 19580 PROCLAMATION SONG 139

(For the director of the choir: a Proclamation of David)

139 My Sovereign Captain, You have examined and understood me.
[2] You discern my states of resting and standing; You grasp my ideas from a distance.
[3] You read my travels and times of rest; You are well acquainted with all my actions.
[4] Captain, You know it thoroughly before I utter a word.
[5] You box me in from back to front, placing Your finger on my head.
[6] This understanding is so astonishing and beyond my reach that I cannot comprehend it.

[7] How could I possibly escape from Your Eternal Spark? Is there any place I could go to dodge Your watchful presence?
[8] If I fly into intergalactic space, You exist there; if I descend into the realm of the dead, Your presence is there also.
[9] Should I take off on the early morning flight or make my abode in the most distant parts of the ocean?
[10] Even in that place, Your hand will lead me. Your dominant hand will maintain a firm grip on me.
[11] If I assert, “The darkness will conceal me, the surrounding light will transform into night” , [12] Even the obscurity is not obscure to You; even in the depth of night, it shines as bright as daytime because obscurity and illumination are identical to You.

[13] You shaped my innermost parts and intertwined me with my mother’s belly.
[14] I am grateful to You, for I am remarkably and wondrously crafted; Your deeds are marvelous, which I am deeply aware of.
[15] You were not unaware of my creation when I was sculpted in a concealed location, intricately assembled within the Earth’s profound layers.
[16] Your vision beheld my formless substance; all my designated days were recorded in Your database before any of my days took form.

[17] My Preeminent Sovereign, Your thoughts are precious to me! The total of them is immense!
[18] If I attempted to quantify them, they would surpass the countless grains of sand. On awakening, I find myself still in Your presence.

[19] My Preeminent Sovereign, I wish You would exterminate those who are evil. Stay away from me, you murderers, [20] Your opponents speak against You maliciously. Your enemies falsely employ Your Name.
[21] Isn’t it authentic, My Sovereign Captain, that I detest those who despise You and loathe those who rise in defiance against You?
[22] I hate them completely, and they are regarded as my adversaries.

[23-24] My Eternal Reality, scan my heart like a security check. Look into my worries and behaviors, and point me toward the path that leads to real life.

§ 19590 PROCLAMATION SONG 140

(For the director of the choir. A Proclamation of David.)

140 Save me, My Sovereign Captain, from corrupt individuals; safeguard me from those who are cruel and violent,
2 those who plot vicious schemes in their minds and incite conflicts incessantly.
3 They have viper venom on their lips and sharpen their tongues like serpents. Selah
4 Preserve me, My Sovereign Captain, from the grasp of the corrupt; guard me against the violent individuals who scheme ways to make me stumble.
5 Conceited individuals have crafted a hidden trap for me. They have laid out the web of their trap and set up snares for me throughout my journey. Selah
6 I intervene with the Sovereign Captain: “You are my Eternal Reality!” Listen, My Sovereign Captain, to my intervention for compassion.
7 Preeminent Sovereign, my mighty Redeemer, You protect my head during warfare.
8 My Sovereign Captain, don’t allow the evil ones to achieve their wishes; don’t let their schemes triumph. Selah 9 Regarding the people surrounding me, let their own mischievous words come back to haunt them.
10 Let fiery mortars rain on them, causing them to fall into the inferno and deep water pits, which they cannot escape.
11 May those spreading false accusations not find a foothold in the territory; let calamity relentlessly pursue and overthrow those promoting violence.
12 I am confident that the Sovereign Captain will ensure integrity for the impoverished and advocate for the underprivileged.
13 Indeed, authentic individuals will express gratitude to Your Name, and those with integrity will reside in Your vicinity.

§ 19600 PROCLAMATION SONG 141

(Of David)

141 “My Sovereign Captain, hasten to my aid; hear my intervention when I implore You.
2 Let my intervention rise like incense before You, my uplifted hands like an evening offering.
3 My Sovereign Captain, help me guard my tongue; watch over my lips.
4 Keep my inner-self from evil and from joining corrupt people in their crimes; do not let me indulge in their temptations.

5 “When an authentic person chastises me, it is love; if he corrects me, it is a healing balm on my head. I will not reject it. Yet my prayers persist against the hateful actions of wrongdoers.
6 When their leaders are cast off cliffs, the evil will see the ultimate authenticity of my proclamations.
7 They will say, just as the ground is disrupted by plowing, our bones have been scattered at the entrance to the Underworld.

8 “Nevertheless, my gaze is on You, My Supreme Sovereign Captain; in Your protection, I find solace—spare me from death’s clutches.
9 Shield me from wrongdoers’ traps and ambushes.
10 May the impure be ensnared by their traps while I traverse unharmed. “

§ 19610 PROCLAMATION SONG 142

(A Maskil from David, when he was hiding in the cave: an intervention)

142 My voice resounds as I implore the Sovereign Captain. I plead to the Sovereign Captain for compassion.
2 I express my grievances to Him; I intimate my predicament to Him.
3 As my inner-self succumbs to exhaustion, You are the One who oversees my journey. In my trajectory, individuals have cunningly set a trap for me.
4 No one is caring for me. Look to my right. I have nowhere to go, and no one is concerned about me.
5 I call out to you, My Sovereign Captain; I declare, “You are my fortress, my share in the sphere of the living.”
6 Heed my intervention since I am in severe distress; save me from those who chase me since their strength surpasses mine.
7 Liberated from my confinement, I am grateful for Your Name. Consequently, authentic individuals will assemble around me, a testament to Your transformative generosity towards me.

§ 19620 PROCLAMATION SONG 143

(A Proclamation of David.)

143 My Sovereign Captain, heed my intervention for mercy and demonstrate Your loyalty and integrity by assisting me.
2 Please do not subject me to Your trial. No individual alive can be deemed full of integrity in Your sight.
3 My Adversary relentlessly chases and grinds me into the dirt. I’m forced to live in a cave where the dead have been extinct for ages.
4 My inner-self feels vulnerable; my courage has drained from my inner-self.
5 I recall the times of yesteryears. I contemplate all of Your deeds and reflect on Your hands’ creations.
6 I extend my hands towards You; my inner-self craves for You like a parched land longing for rain.
7 Respond to me swiftly, My Sovereign Captain. My inner-self is weakening. Please do not turn Your face away; otherwise, I may become like those who fall into a bottomless pit.

8 May the dawn grant the message of Your everlasting affection, as my trust is vested in You. Direct me towards the route I should follow since it is to You I commit my existence.
9 Deliver me from my foes, My Sovereign Captain, as I seek refuge in You.
10 Guide me in performing Your wishes since You are my Eternal Reality; let Your generous Eternal Spark direct me on a balanced path.
11 My Sovereign Captain, for the recognition of Your Name, maintain my life; in Your integrity, rescue me from my hardships.
12 In Your steadfast affection, annihilate my opponents; eradicate all those who oppose me since I am Your loyal attendant.

§ 19630 PROCLAMATION SONG 144

(From David.)

144 All thanks and empowerments are for the Sovereign Captain, my unshakeable Rock, who readies my hands for combat and guides my fingers in warfare.
2 He is my constant support, my secure base, my protector, and my firewall. I find safety and strength in him.

3 "What is the human species that You value, and what is the heir of humanity that You heed him, My Sovereign Captain?
4 They exist like a puff of air; their time resembles a swiftly passing shadow.
5 My Sovereign Captain split Your celestial realms and proceed down; strike the mountains so that they spew smoke.
6 Flash forth lightning bolts and scatter my foes. Dispatch Your projectiles and embarrass them.
7 Extend Your hand from the sky; set me free and protect me from the tumultuous waters, from the control of strangers.
8 Individuals who consistently emit untrue statements and employ their dominant hands in acts of deception.

9 "I shall vocalize a fresh song for You, my Preeminent Sovereign; I will perform tunes on a lyre with ten strings.
10 For the One who gives conquest to Prime Rulers and safeguards me, David, from the assassin's blade.
11 Set me free and protect me from the control of aliens whose tongues speak untruths and whose dominant hands are fraudulent.

12 "In their youth, our sons will resemble plants that have been meticulously cared for. At the same time, our daughters will emulate the elegance of finely chiseled columns, enhancing the beauty of a federal palace.
13 Every supply will fill our storehouses, and our people will multiply into hundreds of thousands, even hundreds of millions, in our cities.
14 Our citizens will support substantial economic burdens; there'll be no breaking through our defenses, no exile, and no sounds of agony in our public places.
15 Happy and empowered people will know that the Preeminent Sovereign is the Sovereign Captain."

§ 19640 PROCLAMATION SONG 145

(A Proclamation of acclaim from David)

145 "You are my Preeminent Sovereign and Prime Ruler, and I will elevate You and adore Your name forever.
2 I will honor You each day and magnify Your Name indefinitely and eternally.
3 The Sovereign Captain is magnificent, deserving of high acclaim, and His grandeur is beyond human understanding.
4 One generation will tell of Your great deeds and herald Your wonders to the next generation.

5 People proclaim the majestic acclaim of Your honor, and I shall ponder over Your marvelous deeds.

6 They speak about the powerful and beautiful things You do, and I will talk about the great things You have accomplished.
7 They enthusiastically acclaim Your plentiful kindness and melodiously sing of Your integrity.
8 The Preeminent Sovereign is merciful, compassionate, patient, always ready to forgive, and abundant in His loyal adoration.

12 so that everyone becomes aware of Your mighty deeds and the majestic acclaim of Your authority.
13 Continuously, Your reign is everlasting, and Your authority persists from generation to generation. Unwaveringly, the Sovereign Captain fulfills all His commitments and remains loyal in every action He takes.
14 The Eternal Reality assists those who stumble and elevates all who feel helpless.

16 By opening Your hand, you meet the cravings of all life forms.
17 The Sovereign Captain showcases His unwavering loyalty in all His actions.
18 The Preeminent Sovereign is close to everyone who sincerely merges their consciousness with the Eternal Reality.
19 He satisfies the needs of those who respect Him. He heeds their pleas for aid and delivers them.

20 The Preeminent Sovereign safeguards everyone who cherishes Him, but He will obliterate all who are corrupt.
21 I shall express adoration for the Sovereign Captain with my words and my path. May all beings honor His Exalted Name eternally.”

146 Express your delight, thanksgiving, and acclaim to the Eternal Reality! My entire being. Honor the Sovereign Captain with my inner-self!
2 As long as I exist, I will elevate the Sovereign Captain and musically acclaim my Preeminent Sovereign for my life.
3 Do not trust dignitaries or mere mortals incapable of delivering redemption.
4 They revert to dust when their breath leaves them, and all their schemes dissolve instantly.
5 Fortunate are those whom the Preeminent Sovereign of Jacob assists; their hope rests in the Sovereign Captain, their Preeminent Sovereign.
6 He innovates the galaxies, the land and ocean on the Earth, and everything else that dwells within them—He constantly maintains His loyalty.
7 He champions the plight of wronged people, ensuring they are fed. The Eternal Reality liberates those in captivity.
8 The Sovereign Captain grants vision to those who cannot see, raises those burdened, and holds authentic people very precious.
9 The Eternal Reality safeguards the outsiders and supports the orphaned and the grieving. Yet, He obstructs the path of those with evil intentions.

10 The Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, is destined to rule for eternity. The Eternal Reality will be constant through every generation. Give all commendation to the Sovereign Captain.

15 His directive spans the globe, traveling rapidly.
16 He blankets Earth in snow, scattering frost like volcanic dust.
17 He tosses hailstones like gravel; who can endure His freezing gust?

18 He dispatches His proclamation, causing thaw; He heats His wind gusts, and water pours.
19 His messages are proclaimed to Jacob, His statutes and directives to Israel.
20 No other nation has benefited from His actions; they are unaware of His proclamations. Express your delight, thanksgiving, and acclaim to the Eternal Reality!

§ 19670 PROCLAMATION SONG 148

~ 120 | Wisdom | Proverbs

§ 19700 INVITATION TO EMBRACE WISDOM

1 These are the wise words of Solomon, the Israelite Prime Ruler, and Heir of Prime Ruler David.
2 “To acquire knowledge and discipline; to comprehend insightful teachings;
3 To gain instruction in wise conduct, fostering right relationships, justice, and equity.
4 For imparting shrewdness to the unsophisticated and conveying knowledge and foresight to the youthful.

5 Permit those possessing wisdom to listen, develop their knowledge further, and empower the insightful to receive advice.
6 To comprehend the meaning of wise sayings, puzzles, and the enigmatic expressions of the learned.
7 Reverence for the Sovereign Captain is the first step towards wisdom, yet the unwise shun guidance and enlightenment.”

§ 19710 WARNING AGAINST THE INVITATION OF WRONGFUL MEN

8 “Heed your father’s advice, my male heir, and do not abandon the knowledge your mother imparts.
9 They serve as an elegant wreath for your crown and a pendant of honor for your neckline.
10 My child, should wrongdoers tempt you, resist succumbing to them.
11 If they suggest accompanying us, we should hide and set a trap for the guiltless. Let’s covertly attack an unsuspecting individual.
12 Let’s consume them whole and alive, like the underworld, and intact, comparable to those descending into the abyss.
13 We will acquire various precious items and stock our homes with loot.
14 Join us; we’ll equally split the spoils.
15 My offspring, refrain from accompanying them; withhold your feet from treading on their trails.
16 They’re always hurrying to indulge in impurity and take lives quickly.
17 It is futile to lay a net in sight of all birds.
18 These individuals set a trap for their demise; they are plotting against their own lives!

19 This inevitable outcome is for all who pursue counterfeit profit; it robs the very lives of those who acquire it.”

§ 19720 WISDOM’S REBUKE

20 Wisdom proclaims her messages in public, her voice echoing in busy squares.
21 She speaks from the city walls, at the urban gates.

22 “How long will the naive enjoy their naivety? How long will mockers delight in cynicism and fools hate wisdom?
23 Heed my correction, and I will share my insights and unveil my instructions.
24 Despite my repeated attempts, no one heeded my appeal; you ignored my summons.
25 Since you dismissed my guidance and resisted my admonishment, 26 I will laugh at your disaster and jest when panic strikes.
27 When disaster engulfs you like a storm, and doom arrives like a cyclone, bringing pain and suffering,
28 you will call me, but I won’t answer; you will search for me but find nothing.
29 You disregarded understanding and chose not to elevate the Sovereign Captain.
30 Since you rejected my counsel and dismissed my corrections, 31 you will eat the fruits of your actions and find satisfaction in your schemes.
32 The deviation of the naive leads to their demise, and the self-satisfaction of fools results in their destruction.
33 The individual who heeds My path will experience security and tranquility, free from the intimidation of adversity.”

§ 19730 MORAL BENEFITS OF WISDOM

2 “My child, embrace My path and keep my directives within you.
2 Listen to wisdom from the Eternal Reality and strive to understand with your inner self.
3 Plead for wisdom and beg for understanding.
4 Pursue it like silver and seek it as hidden treasures.
5 You will then understand reverential awe for the Sovereign Captain and discover wisdom from the Eternal Reality.
6 The Eternal Reality grants wisdom; His words provide insight and discernibility.
7 He reserves prosperity for individuals with integrity, protecting those who lead faultless lives.
8 He safeguards the path of the fair and watches over His loyal pathseekers.
9 You’ll discern integrity, justice, and equity—each good course in life.
10 Wisdom will enter your inner self, and you will find delight in knowledge.
11 Sound judgment will protect you, and understanding will watch over you.
12 Wisdom will guard you from malicious individuals and those who twist their language.
13 Those who abandon upright trails for shady and destructive paths, 14 who enjoy impure deeds and find happiness in unworthy choices.
15 Those who practice dishonesty and display perversion.
16 Wisdom will rescue you from the disloyal wife and the promiscuous woman’s seductive words.
17 She abandoned her youthful companion and neglected her exalted agreement with the Preeminent Sovereign.

18 Her dwelling leads to demise, and her routes lead to the realm of the deceased.
19 No one who visits her returns or reaches the ways of existence.
20 You shall tread the road of authentic individuals and adhere to the upright course.
21 The honest and those with integrity will reside within the land, and the unblemished will persist.
22 Evil individuals will be eliminated from the territory, and the deceitful will be forcefully removed.”

§ 19740 WISDOM BESTOWS WELL-BEING

3 My child, remember my lessons and keep my instructions in your inner self.
2 They will extend your life and bring you tranquility and wealth.
3 Never let love and loyalty leave you; wear them as a necklace and engrave them in your inner self.
4 This will gain you the approval and esteemed reputation of the Preeminent Sovereign and humanity.
5 Trust in the Sovereign Captain wholeheartedly; do not rely on your insight.
6 Acknowledge Him in everything you do, and He will guide you on the right path.
7 Don't consider yourself knowledgeable; respect the Sovereign Captain and avoid wrongdoing.
8 This will bring physical well-being to your body and rejuvenate your bones.
9 Pay tribute to the Eternal with your riches by giving the choicest part of your harvest.
10 Consequently, your storage places will be abundantly filled, and your barrels will burst with fresh wine.

11-12 Don't be upset when the Sovereign Captain corrects you—it's because He loves you, just like a caring mentor who guides those they deeply value.

13 Fortunate are those who discover wisdom and acquire insight.
14 Wisdom's benefits are more advantageous than silver, surpassing gold's returns.
15 Wisdom is beyond value than jewels; none of your wishes could equal her worth.
16 Wisdom presents longevity with her dominant hand, prosperity, and recognition with her left.
17 Her trails are delightful, leading to a tranquil existence.
18 Wisdom is like the Source of Vitality in a thriving urban park; those who embrace her guidance find their lives enriched, and they are called fortunate.
19 The Sovereign Captain used his wisdom to create the Earth's foundations, and with his understanding, he positioned the celestial realms.
20 The ocean depths broke loose through his knowledge, and the clouds released the rain.
21 My child, remember these things and use priceless wisdom and foresight to maintain your competence and discretion.
22 They will provide living energy and decorate your neck's beauty.
23 You shall proceed securely on your path without your foot tripping or falling.
24 You will rest without fear; your slumber will be tranquil and pleasant.
25 You need not worry about an unexpected catastrophe or the downfall that engulfs those who do evil.

26 Indeed, the Sovereign Captain will be your assurance and safeguard your every step, preventing any trap.
27 Avoid denying assistance to those deserving it if you can lend a hand.
28 Avoid telling your neighbor to return for what you can give the next day, especially when it's already in your possession.
29 Refrain from devising harmful intentions toward your neighbor who resides peacefully beside you.
30 Refrain from blaming someone unjustifiably when they haven't inflicted damage on you.
31 Refrain from envying those who are violent, and avoid adopting any of their practices.
32 The Sovereign Captain despises those who are dishonest but shares His intimate counsel with individuals of integrity.

33 The Preeminent Sovereign’s curse resides in the dwelling of the impure. At the same time, he grants empowerment on the abode of the authentic.
34 He ridicules those filled with pride yet extends kindness to the modest and downtrodden.
35 People of wisdom will receive respect and acclaim, whereas those who are foolish will exclusively experience disgrace and humiliation.

§ 19750 AVOIDING THE UNLIT PATH

4 My children heed a father’s path: be attentive and acquire wisdom.
2 I provide beneficial advice, so don’t disregard my instructions.
3 I was once a young boy in my father’s household, delicate and deeply loved by my mother.
4 He instructed me, “Embrace my sayings wholeheartedly; obey my teachings, and you shall dwell in life.”

5 Acquire insight and gain comprehension; don’t ignore or deviate from My path.
6 Hold on to wisdom; it will safeguard, cherish, and guard you.
7 The first step to becoming wise is to obtain wisdom. Even if it necessitates all your resources, strive to acquire understanding.
8 Esteem her; she will lift you, hold you close, and honor you.
9 She will grant a graceful wreath on your head and gift you a golden headband of remarkable beauty.
10 Heed, my child, acknowledge My path. Your existence will be extended for numerous years.
11 I am guiding you toward wisdom and directing you on straight courses.
12 While traversing, your pace shall not be impeded; you won’t trip and fall if you sprint.
13 Maintain a tight grip on your education; do not let it slip away. Protect it diligently, as it is the essence of your existence.
14 Avoid the route of the counterfeit, and don’t follow the course of those who perpetrate harm.
15 Shun it; do not cross it; turn aside from it and continue your journey;
16 They can’t achieve tranquility unless they’ve committed a wrong deed; the counterfeit is deprived of slumber until they cause someone to falter.
17 They feast on impurity as if it were sustenance and consume the liquor of brutality.
18-19 The journey of a good life is like the sun rising over a city skyline, growing brighter and clearer with time. Living wrong is like navigating a city with no streetlights—chaotic and dangerous, and they don’t even realize what’s tripping them up.

20 Dear child, listen carefully to My Path; incline your ear to my sayings.

21 Never let them slip from your vision; hold them deep in your inner-self.
22 They provide existence to those who uncover them and wellness to their entire physique.
23 Guard your core being above all, for it is the control center from which all your actions originate.
24 Refrain from dishonest language; ensure deceptive conversation is distant from your speech.
25 Maintain your sight directly before you and keep your focus steadily ahead.
26 Reflect carefully on your feet’s route, and let all your actions be consistent and secure.
27 Avoid deviating to the right or left. Keep away from paths of evil.

§ 19760 WARNING AGAINST EXTRAMARITAL AFFAIRS

5 My child, heed my wisdom and listen to my enlightened words.
2 This will help you make sensible judgments and speak with knowledge.
3 The seductive words of a disloyal woman are sweet as honey, and her flattery is smoother than olive oil.
4 But she turns as bitter as wormwood, as sharp as a dual-edged tactical blade.
5 Her path leads to demise; her steps guide her to the burial ground.
6 She doesn't consider the course of existence; her ways are aimless, yet she remains unaware.
7 Now, my children, listen to me; do not stray from My Path.
8 Stay away from her and avoid the entrance of her house.
9 Do not give your respect to others or your self-worth to a heartless person.

10 Do not let outsiders consume your wealth while your hard-earned efforts benefit a foreigner's home.
11 You will regret it when your life nears its end, as your strength and health deplete.
12 You'll say, "How I hated guidance! How my inner-self rejected admonishment!"
13 I didn't listen to my educators or pay heed to their teachings.
14 I quickly found myself in deep distress among the ensovereigned lifestyle community of Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers.

15 Drink water from your own reservoir, fresh water from your own source.
16 Should your water sources be shared in public places, your streams flowing in the city squares?
17 They should solely be for you, not shared with outsiders.
18 With the spouse you wed in your early years, may your source of life find favor, and may you find delight.
19 A delightful hind, an elegant doe—let her affection always fill you with delight; let her love captivate you perpetually.

20 My son, why should you be captivated by another's wife? Why embrace the breasts of a promiscuous woman?
21 The Sovereign Captain sees your actions and scrutinizes every path you take.
22 The malicious actions of wrongdoers entrap them; the ropes of their transgressions restrain them.
23 Due to a lack of control, they will perish after being deceived by their extreme stupidity.

§ 19770 WARNINGS AGAINST FOLLY

6 "My offspring, if you've guaranteed a debt for an acquaintance or made a handshake agreement with an unrecognized individual,
2 your words have trapped you.
3 To liberate yourself, given that you are under your neighbor's power: Proceed— even to utter fatigue—and allow your neighbor no peace!

4 Don’t rest your eyes or let your eyelids slumber.
5 Liberate yourself like a gazelle avoiding the hunter’s grasp, like a bird evading the fowler’s trap.
6 You who favor idleness study the ant’s behavior and gain wisdom!
7 It has no leader, head, or governor.
8 It prepares its sustenance during the summer and collects its nourishment at harvest time.
9 Lazy one, how long will you remain there? When will you rise from your slumber?
10 A brief nap, a short doze, a moment of folding the arms for relaxation;
11 financial hardship will approach like a prowler, and deficiency will charge like a man ready for battle.
12 An evil man who is worthless has a twisted mouth.
13 He gestures with his feet, points with his fingers, and winks his eyes.
14 Continually planning malevolence with untruthfulness in his core; he consistently incites discord.
15 Calamity will apprehend him abruptly. He will be shattered beyond recovery.”
16 “the Sovereign Captain detests seven things, of which six are things that he hates:

17 a mind that conjures up impure plans, feet that dash toward evil,
18 a mind that conjures up impure plans, feet that dash toward evil, 19 two people: one who sows division among brothers and one who provides false testimony as an eyewitness.”

§ 19780 WARNING AGAINST EXTRAMARITAL AFFAIRS

20 “Male heir, adhere to your father’s instruction and never disregard your mother’s guidance.
21 Always keep their teachings in your mind, engrave them on a pendant, and wear them around your neck.
22 They will lead you when you roam, safeguard you while you rest, and converse with you on your waking.
23 These principles are like streetlights on a dark boulevard, showing the way and keeping you safe from wrong turns.
24 Guarding you from another man’s spouse, shielding you from the persuasive language of a disloyal woman.
25 Don’t allow your inner-self to be enticed by her appearance, nor be trapped by the allure of her gaze.
26 A woman who sells her love might cost you as little as a meal; however, being intimate with another man’s wife could cost you everything.
27 “Is it possible for a man to hold fire against his chest without his clothes getting burned?
28 Can someone tread on burning coals without scorching their feet?
29 The same fate awaits the one who has sexual relations with the wife of another man. Anyone who lays a hand on her will face retribution.
30 A robber is not condemned when he pilfers to fulfill his needs due to starvation.
31 However, if he is discovered, he must reimburse seven times the amount, even if it leads to losing all his household riches.

32 “A man who partakes in an extramarital affair lacks judgment; any individual engaging in such an act is self-destructive.

33 He will endure beatings and humiliation, and his dishonor will persist permanently.
34 Jealousy incites a husband's rage, and he will relentlessly pursue retribution.
35 He won't acknowledge any payment; he will reject a hefty bribe, no matter its value. "

§ 19790 WARNING AGAINST THE ADULTEROUS FEMALE HUMAN

7 My child, remember My path and treasure my instructions deep within you.
2 Obey my instructions; you'll thrive and protect My path as your most precious vision.
3 Secure them on your digits; inscribe them on the core of your being.
4 Treat wisdom as if she were your esteemed sister, and consider insight as a cherished family member.
5 They shall safeguard you from a woman who commits an extramarital affair, from a disloyal wife and her enticing language.

6 From my home's window, I peered downwards through the grid.
7 I observed among the naive; I discerned a young man lacking understanding among the youths.
8 He was journeying down the road close to her corner, strolling towards the path to her dwelling.
9 During the dim light of dusk, the inky darkness of the night began to prevail with the day drawing to a close.

10 Suddenly, a woman appeared before him, garbed as a seductress and carrying a dishonest plan.
11 She is boisterous and rebellious; her feet do not abide in her house.
12 At one moment, she's in the public thoroughfares, the next in the gathering spots, always setting traps at every turn.

13 She seized him and planted a kiss on him, her expression audacious as she spoke.
14 "This day, I have kept my special promises and possess meat from my peace offering at my residence.
15 Therefore, I emerged to encounter you; I sought your presence and successfully discovered you!
16 I've adorned my resting place with vibrant Egyptian sheets.
17 I have imbued my sleeping quarters with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon scents.
18 Let's engross ourselves in love until dawn; let's enjoy our affection!
19 My spouse isn't present. He's embarked on an extended trip.
20 He carried a wallet brimming with cash and was not expected back until the lunar peak."

21 She swayed him off course with her convincing discourse; with her silky words, she lured him.
22 Suddenly, he trailed her like an ox being led to its doom, like a deer trapped within a snare.
23 Until a projectile strikes through his liver, similar to a bird speeding into a trap, unaware that it would be the cause of his demise.

24 Now, my children, lend your ears to me; focus on my words.
25 Avoid allowing your inner-self to deviate towards her paths or to lose direction on her trek.
26 Numerous are those she has led to death; her victims are beyond count.

27 Her dwelling is a route to the underworld, descending to death's crypts.

§ 19800 WISDOM'S CALL

8 "Isn't wisdom calling out? Isn't understanding lifting her voice?"
2 Wisdom stands at the peak of the journey, where paths intersect.
3 She calls out near the city's gateway, at its entry point.
4 "People, I am reaching out to you; my appeal is to everyone worldwide.
5 Those who are naive strive for astuteness; those who are unwise focus their minds on it.
6 Pay heed: I am about to share reliable information, and my speech will reflect authenticity.
7 I convey ultimate authenticity with my words since evil is abhorrent to my lips.
8 Every utterance I make is fair; no one is devious or distorted.
9 All these words are valid to the insightful; they stand authentic for those who have gained wisdom.
10 Opt for my teaching over silver and prefer wisdom over the finest gold.
11 Wisdom holds a higher value than precious stones, and nothing you yearn for can match it.
12 I, as wisdom, share a home with good judgment; I have obtained understanding and sound judgment.

13 Revering the Sovereign Captain implies despising impurity. I detest haughtiness, self-importance, corrupt conduct, and twisted language.
14 Good advice and wisdom are mine. I possess understanding, and I wield strength.
15 With my assistance, prime rulers govern, and lawgivers dispense justice.
16 Leaders command, and dignitaries exert authority over the planet through my influence.
17 I hold affection for those who bear affection for me, and those who search for me shall surely locate me.
18 Accompanying me are wealth, acclaim, lasting substance, and integrity.
19 What I produce is superior to the finest gold, and what I give out excels the purest silver.
20 I traverse the path of integrity, following the lanes of justice.
21 Granting substantial wealth to those fond of me and ensuring their storehouses are filled.
22 The Sovereign Captain formed me before His ancient actions at the outset of His works.
23 I was created in the earliest times, even before the establishment of the world.
24 I was born before any deep waters or springs brimming with water existed.
25 I was born before the mountains' establishment and the hills' formation.
26 Before the Earth's formation, its fields, or the initial soil particles.
27 I was present when He established the celestial realms and outlined the ocean and sky boundaries.
28 When He solidified the clouds overhead and fortified the springs in the ocean depths.

29 When He established the ocean's limits to ensure the waters would not violate His directive and when He delineated the base of the globe.
30 I was continuously close to Him, always rejoicing and enjoying each day in His company.
31 Taking pleasure in His entire creation and finding delight in humanity.
32 Now, my offspring, heed My Path; fortunate are those who adhere to My path.
33 Heed my guidance, become prudent, and ensure not to neglect it.
34 Fortunate are those who heed My Path, checking in every day at my portal, waiting for insight to flow from my space.
35 Those discovering me acquire life and gain the Sovereign Captain's goodwill.

36 Those who do not learn to seek me injure themselves; everyone detesting me is enamored with mortality.”

§ 19810 INVITATIONS OF WISDOM AND FOLLY

9 “Wisdom has built her house, setting up its seven pillars.
2 She has prepared her food, mixed her wine, and set her table.
3 She has sent out her maidens and calls from the city’s highest point.
4 ‘Let the simple come to my house!’ To those who lack judgment, she says,
5 ‘Join me at the table—partake in the sustenance and refreshment I’ve prepared for you.’
6 Walk the path of understanding, and you will thrive; abandon your simple ways.

7 “Rebuking the impure results in abuse; correcting a mocker invites insults.”
8 Reprimand the wise, and they will adore you; do not reprimand mockers or despise you.

9 Instruct the wise, and they will be wiser still; teach individuals of integrity, and they will add to their learning.
10 The fear of the Eternal Reality is the beginning of wisdom, and knowledge of the exalted One is understanding.
11 For through wisdom, your days will be many, and years will be added to your life.
12 You will be rewarded for your wisdom if you are wise; if you are a ridiculer, you will suffer alone.

13 Folly can be defined as an ignorant and rowdy lady.
14 She sits at the door of her house, on a seat at the highest point of the city, 15 calling out to those who pass by, who go straight on their way,
16 ‘Let all who are simple come to my house!’ To those who lack judgment, she says,
17 ‘Stolen water is sweet; food eaten in secret is delicious!’
18 But little do they know that the dead are there, that her guests are deep in the underworld.”

27 There will be ample goat's milk for your sustenance, your household's sustenance, and your personal assistants' maintenance.

28 Evildoers run away even when no one is after them, but those in a rightful relationship have the confidence of a lion.
2 A nation revolting sees figures surging in power, yet a leader with wisdom and understanding ensures stability.
3 A leader exploiting needy people is like a torrential downpour that eliminates all food.
4 Individuals who abandon guidance laud the impure, yet those who follow it oppose them.
5 Counterfeit individuals fail to comprehend justice, yet those pursuing the Sovereign Captain understand entirely.
6 It's preferable to be impoverished yet live with integrity than to be wealthy but follow dishonest paths.
7 An intelligent child follows the Mosaic Law, but one who associates with wastrels shames their parents.
8 He who amasses fortune through exorbitant interest accumulates it for someone who feels sorry for the underprivileged.
9 He heeded Abraham's intervention on the Preeminent Sovereign's obliteration of the plain's cities, rescuing Lot from the calamity that engulfed the towns where 10 One who misguides the rightful relationship towards impurity shall descend into his snare; however, the innocent shall be beneficiaries of abundant good.
11 Wealthy individuals may trust they hold wisdom; however, those less fortunate with insight recognize their self-deception.
12 When authentic individuals gain victory, there's immense honor; however, when the impure assume authority, esteemed people seek concealment.
13 A person who hides their wrongdoings won't be successful, but if they admit and abandon them, they will receive compassion.

14 The person who incessantly respects the Sovereign Captain is fortunate; still, anyone who becomes stubborn in their inner-self will stumble into hardship.
15 An impure governor ruling an impoverished population resembles a growling lion or a charging bear.
16 A despotic leader manipulates and exploits; however, a ruler who despises dishonest profit will experience sustained rule.

17 An individual burdened by the guilt of taking another's life will seek solace in death; no one should prevent this.
18 A person with integrity will be safeguarded; however, an individual who distorts right and wrong will abruptly fall.
19 Individuals who exert effort into their farmland will enjoy a plentiful food supply. Yet, those who pursue unattainable illusions will be inundated with poverty.
20 A steadfast individual will receive numerous empowerments; however, anyone rushing to amass wealth will not escape punishment.
21 It's not favorable to be prejudiced; however, an individual may commit a misstep for just a morsel of food.
22 Those who are tightfisted rush for wealth, oblivious to impending poverty.
23 A person who offers constructive criticism will ultimately be appreciated more than one who engages in empty flattery.
24 Anyone who steals from their parents and claims it is not an unworthy choice is in league with a destroyer.
25 Greed drives some to provoke disputes, yet trusting the Sovereign Captain rewards others with prosperity.
26 Individuals who rely solely on their understanding are unwise, while those who follow the path of wisdom will find protection.
27 Individuals who are generous towards the impoverished will always have their needs satisfied; those who ignore them will experience many retributions.
28 When those with evil intent gain control, individuals conceal themselves; nevertheless, when such individuals meet their demise, the authentic flourish.

29 A person who persists in obstinacy despite numerous admonitions will be abruptly shattered beyond repair.
2 When good, rightful relationship people flourish, everyone is happy, but when evil individuals dominate, everyone sighs.
3 A person who cherishes knowledge makes his father rejoice; however, associating with the wrong woman leads to wasting his fortune.
4 A fair and just ruler brings strength and stability to a nation; however, those with avarice for illicit funds demolish it.
5 Individuals who offer insincere praise to their acquaintances lay traps for their footsteps."
6 Those who commit evil get caught in their wrongdoings, while the authentic sing with happiness and contentment.
7 Authentic individuals show concern for the fair treatment of the underprivileged; however, impure people lack such understanding.
8 Those who ridicule incite turmoil in a city; yet the prudent defuse rage.
9 When a prudent individual enters a legal dispute with an imbecile, the latter exclusively sneers and expresses anger; hence, tranquility is unattainable.
10 Individuals with murderous intents detest an honest person and actively seek an authentic life.
11 Unwise individuals openly express their anger; however, the prudent ones eventually alleviate the situation.
12 When a leader takes heed to untruths, all his subordinates inevitably turn corrupt.
13 The impoverished and the oppressive share this similarity: the Sovereign Captain imparts vision to both.
14 A Prime Ruler who administers justice to the underprivileged with integrity will have his reign secure eternally.

15 “Discipline and correction contribute to knowledge. However, a child left uninstructed brings humiliation to his mother.”

16 “As evildoers gain power, wrongdoing escalates, but those who are authentic will observe their demise.”

17 “Instruct your offspring; they will provide tranquility and present you with the joys you seek.”

18 “Without celestial guidance, individuals become unrestrained; however, those who follow the path of wisdom are indeed fortunate.”

19 Words alone cannot reprimand a servant; even if he understands, he will not answer.

20 “Have you observed an individual who is quick to voice their thoughts? A simpleton holds more promise than such a person.”

21 “A servant indulged from his early years will become arrogant later.”

22 “A wrathful individual causes arguments, and one with a fiery temper is guilty of numerous transgressions.”

23 “Arrogance leads to a downfall, while humility paves the way to respect.”

24 “Those who aid robbers become their adversaries. They hear the penalty under oath but fear to give testimony.”

25 “Being terrified of individuals can lead to entrapment. Yet, the one who trusts the Sovereign Captain will be secure.”

26 “Numerous individuals aspire to converse with a leader, but one receives fairness exclusively from the Sovereign Captain.”

27 “Individuals with integrity find those lacking honesty repugnant; conversely, those who practice impurity find upright individuals repulsive.”

§ 19860 SAYINGS OF AGUR

30 Agur, the heir of Jakeh, conveyed to Ithiel: “I am exhausted, my Preeminent Sovereign.”
2 I lack intelligence and human comprehension.
3 I haven’t gained wisdom or the Preeminent Sovereign’s knowledge.
4 Who has ascended and descended the celestial realms? Who has captured the wind, enveloped the waters, and determined the Earth’s corners? What is his identity and his offspring? You must know!
5 Each declaration of the Preeminent Sovereign is perfected. He is a protective barrier for those seeking a fortress in him.
6 Do not augment his words lest he exposes you as dishonest.
7 “Captain, grant me two things; do not deny them until I breathe my last.

[8] Keep untruthfulness and deceit away from me. Do not give me poverty or wealth. Provide me with just my daily sustenance.

[9] If too prosperous, I might reject you, questioning, ‘Who is the Sovereign Captain?’ If in extreme poverty, I might steal, disgracing the name of my Preeminent Sovereign.
[10] Refrain from spreading defamatory rumors about a servant to his employer; he might curse you, and you would bear the consequences.
[11] Some disrespect their fathers and fail to show gratitude to their mothers.
[12] Some perceive themselves as clean but remain squalid.
[13] Some have extremely arrogant eyes and contemptuous looks.
[14] Some have teeth as sharp as tactical blades and jaws as cutting as knives, preying on the impoverished and deprived.
[15] The bloodsucker has twin offspring demanding ‘More! More!’ Three elements never reach contentment, and a fourth never declares, ‘It suffices!’
[16] The afterlife, a barren woman, thirsty terrain, and fire that constantly demands more.
[17] Ravens shall pluck out, and vultures devour the eye that ridicules one’s father and despises the mother in her old age.
[18] Three phenomena leave me in awe, plus a fourth I fail to comprehend.
[19] How an eagle soars, a serpent slides on a stone, a ship navigates the ocean, and a man interacts with a maiden.
[20] Such is the behavior of a disloyal wife: She consumes and cleans her lips, proclaiming, ‘I haven’t committed any wrongdoing. ’
[21] The planet quakes beneath three considerations and cannot withstand the fourth.
[22] A subordinate ascends to command control, and an impious fool prospers with abundant food.
[23] An unloved woman finds a husband and a personal assistant inherits from her matron.

[24] Four diminutive entities possess immense wisdom.
[25] Ants accumulate sustenance during summer despite their weakness.
[26] Hyraxes dwell among rocky cliffs despite being relatively powerless.
[27] Locusts lack a Prime Ruler but march in unison.
[28] Lizards dwell in governance estates despite being graspable.
[29] Three entities display magnificence in their steps; four showcase transformative generosity in movement.
[30] A lion, the most powerful among creatures, never backs down.
[31] A proud rooster, a male goat, and a Prime Ruler invulnerable to insurrection.
[32] If you act foolishly by promoting yourself or devising malevolent schemes, cover your mouth!
[33] Like whipping cream makes butter, and hitting someone’s nose causes bleeding, provoking wrath results in conflicts.

§ 19870 SAYINGS OF PRIME RULER LEMUEL

[31] The path of Prime Ruler Lemuel—an enlightened statement from his mother
[2] “Hear My Path, my child! Heed the voice of the one who conceived you! Pay heed; you are the inner fruit of my supplications!
[3] Avoid dedicating your power to women or your energy to those who cause the downfall of Prime Rulers.
[4] Prime Rulers, Lemuel, should not consume wine, nor should leaders desire beer.

5 If they consume alcohol, they might overlook established rulings and unjustly strip the oppressed of their privileges.

6 Allocate strong drinks to those on the brink of death and wine to those wrestling with distress.
7 Permit them to consume alcohol so they can disregard their impoverished status and no longer recall their hardships.
8 Be a voice for those who cannot express themselves, advocating for the rights of all who are impoverished.
9 Articulate your thoughts, ensure justice in your judgments, and support the underprivileged and needy.

§ 19880 EPILOGUE: THE WIFE OF NOBLE CHARACTER

10 “Who can discover a woman of ultimate authenticity? Her value surpasses that of the most precious gemstones.
11 Her husband completely entrusts his inner-self to her, and he doesn’t lack anything of significance.
12 Every day of her existence, she ensures that she provides him with benefits and keeps him away from harm.
13 She searches for wool and flax, enthusiastically laboring with her palms.
14 Like trading vessels, she procures sustenance from distant lands.
15 She awakens early in the morning, prepares meals for her household, and assigns tasks to her maidens.
16 She evaluates a piece of land before purchasing it; she cultivates an hidden rooftop garden with the profits of her labor.
17 She energetically pursues her tasks; her arms exhibit sturdy resilience for her duties.
18 She realizes her business dealings are successful, and her light remains unextinguished throughout the night.
19 She grips the spindle with her fingers and holds the distaff.

20 She reaches out to the impoverished and assists those in need.
21 She doesn’t worry about her family during snowfall; they are all attired in warm crimson attire.
22 She creates luxurious bed linens and outfits herself in exquisite purple and fine cloth.
23 Her spouse is held in high esteem in the community assembly as he assumes his position among the senior figures of the territory.
24 She crafts clothes from linen and trades them, providing traders with belts.
25 Adorned with power and nobility, she can joyfully anticipate the future.
26 She verbalizes sagacious words and authentic teaching in her tongue.
27 She vigilantly supervises her family’s activities and refrains from laziness.
28 Her offspring stood up and declared her fortunate; her spouse also applauded her.
29 Numerous females have performed authentic acts, yet you outshine them all.
30 Attractiveness can be misleading, and physical allure doesn’t last; however, a woman respecting the Sovereign Captain deserves commendation.
31 Celebrate her for everything she has achieved, and let her accomplishments be publicly recognized at the city’s entrance.”

~ 121 | Purpose | Ecclesiastes

§ 19890 EVERYTHING IS MEANINGLESS

1 The reflections of the educator, David's offspring, the Prime Ruler in Yerushalayim:

2 "Pointless! Pointless!" exclaims the Teacher. "Pointless! Everything is pointless."
3 What gain comes from all their labor on this Earth?
4 Generations come and go, but the world remains forever.
5 The sun rises and sets, then hurries back to rise again.
6 The wind blows South, then North, endlessly swirling back to its course.
7 Rivers flow into the sea, yet it never overflows. The water returns to its source to flow again.
8 Everything is wearisome beyond words. Eyes are never satisfied with seeing, nor ears with hearing.
9 What has been will be again; what has been done will be done again; there is nothing new under the sun.
10 One might say, "Look, this is new," but it has already existed long before us.
11 Future generations will forget past generations, just as those who follow will forget them.

§ 19900 WISDOM IS MEANINGLESS

12 I, the Philosopher, held authority over Israel in Yerushalayim.
13 I dedicated myself to examining and understanding everything under the sky through wisdom. The Preeminent Sovereign imposes a significant hardship on humanity.
14 I observed everything under the sun; it's all pointless, like chasing the wind.
15 Bet things can't be made straight, and missing items can't be quantified.
16 I said, "I have accrued more wisdom than any predecessor who governed Yerushalayim; my inner-self has undergone much understanding and learning."

17 I then dedicated my efforts to comprehending wisdom, madness, and foolishness, realizing it's like trying to catch the wind.
18 Greater wisdom leads to more significant distress. Increasing knowledge intensifies the pain.

§ 19910 PLEASURES ARE MEANINGLESS

2 I told myself, "Let's proceed; I will experiment delightfully to discern what is valuable." However, even this was discovered to be pointless.
2 I remarked that mirth is insanity. But what is the benefit of pleasure?
3 I attempted to uplift myself with alcoholic beverages and by taking on foolishness. All the while, my intellect continued to guide me with discernment. I desired to comprehend what benefited individuals to perform under the sky during their limited existence span.
4 I initiated grandiose tasks: constructing my residences and establishing vineyards.
5 I constructed governance gardens and parks, filling them with fruit-bearing trees.
6 I constructed water pools to irrigate my lush tree groves.

7 I acquired male and female servants, and enslaved people were also born into my household.
I possessed larger quantities of herds and flocks than any previous inhabitant of Yerushalayim.
8 I gathered treasures of gold and silver and the wealth of Prime Rulers and regions. I obtained singers of both genders and kept numerous women who filled the desires of my inner-self.
9 I surpassed all those who had resided in Yerushalayim before me. Despite everything, my wisdom remained intact with me.
10 I gave myself everything I yearned for; I didn't keep my inner-self from any delight. I found pleasure in all of my work, and this gratification was the result of all my effort.

11 On reflecting on my hands' accomplishments and the hard work I put into them, everything appeared futile, like running after the wind; there was no real benefit to be found under the sun.

§ 19920 WISDOM AND FOLLY ARE MEANINGLESS

12 I turned my attention to wisdom, madness, and folly. What can the successor achieve that hasn't been done?
13 I saw that wisdom surpasses foolishness as light outshines darkness.
14 The thoughtful person stays aware of their choices, while the careless one stumbles blindly through life—though ultimately, both face the same reality.
15 I thought, "I will also share the fool's fate." What benefit is there in being wise?" I concluded it was pointless.
16 Neither the sage nor the simpleton will be remembered for long; both are soon forgotten. The sage shares the same fate as the simpleton—death!

§ 19930 TOIL IS MEANINGLESS

17 I despised existence, as the activities accomplished under the sun were unbearable.
Everything is futile, like pursuing the wind.
18 I detested seeing the results of my hard work under the sun, knowing someone else would inherit them after me.
19 Who can predict if this individual will be prudent or imprudent? Nevertheless, they will wield power over all the results of my hard work, which I diligently and skillfully performed under the sun's gaze. All of this, too, is void of any real significance.
20 So, I was sorrowful over all the strenuous work I had done under the sun.
21 An individual might exert effort through wisdom, understanding, and expertise exclusively to pass on all they have gathered to someone who hasn't strived for it. This scenario is also considered futile and a massive tragedy.

22 What does one gain from all their hard work and constant struggle on Earth?
23 Their entire life is consumed with sorrow and hardship. Their minds fail to find rest even during the night. This scenario is utterly pointless.
24 There's no superior action for an individual than to consume, imbibe, and derive pleasure from their labor. I have discerned that this privilege, too, originates from the Preeminent Sovereign's hand.
25 Who can consume or experience pleasure apart from Him?
26 The Preeminent Sovereign endows a person who finds favor in His sight with wisdom, knowledge, and delight. Still, to those who offend Him, He imposes the labor of amassing and hoarding riches, exclusively to be given to those who please the Preeminent Sovereign. This scenario, too, seems futile, just like pursuing the wind.

§ 19940 A TIME FOR EVERYTHING

3 Every event and activity under the celestial realms has its appointed time and season.
2 When the Preeminent Sovereign obliterated the plain's cities, He heeded Abraham's intervention, rescuing Lot from calamity.
3 There is a time for slaying, healing, destruction, and construction.
4 A time for tears and delight, grieving and celebration.
5 A time to discard rocks and assemble them, hold them close, and desist.
6 A time for seeking and forfeiting, retaining and discarding.
7 A time to rip apart and sew together, to maintain silence and to converse.
8 A season for affection and detestation, conflict and tranquility.
9 What benefit can a worker obtain from his hard work?
10 The Preeminent Sovereign has given humanity a weighty task.

11 He has made everything fitting and beautiful at its appropriate time. He has also imbued the human inner-self with a sense of eternity; however, some people can fully comprehend the work that the Preeminent Sovereign has accomplished from start to finish.
12 I've understood that there's no more significant thing for individuals than to feel delight and engage in beneficial actions throughout their existence.
13 It's the Preeminent Sovereign's present for everyone to consume, imbibe, and experience contentment in all their laborious efforts.
14 I comprehend that whatever the Eternal Reality performs will persist eternally; it is impossible to supplement or deduct anything from it. He orchestrates it this way to invoke reverence in people.
15 What exists now has existed, and what is yet to occur has already happened in the past. Preeminent Sovereign will seek an accounting of what has passed.
16 Under the sun, I observed another thing: the realms of judgment were tainted with evil, and so were the places meant for integrity.
17 I concluded that the Preeminent Sovereign will issue His judgment on the authentic and the counterfeit because there is a designated moment for each undertaking and a time for assessing every action.
18 I pondered that the Preeminent Sovereign scrutinizes them to demonstrate they are just like beasts concerning humanity.
19 Truly, the end of humans is like the termination of animals; both are met with the same inevitable conclusion: just as one ceases to exist, the other succumbs similarly. Both take in the same air; humanity has no supremacy over beasts. All represent vanity in the end.
20 Everyone returns to the same end; we are all made of the same matter, and to the earth we all go back.
21 Who can ascertain if the life-breath of a human ascends while that of an animal descends into the ground?
22 I realized that the finest thing for an individual is to find pleasure in their labor, as that's their reward. Who can show them what the future holds?

§ 19950 OPPRESSION, TOIL, FRIENDLESSNESS

4 I observed all the tyranny under the celestial realms: the oppressed wept without a consoler; power was with their oppressors, who also lacked a consoler.
2 I concluded that the departed are more content than the living.
3 Better still is the one who hasn't been born and hasn't seen the venom under the sun.
4 I realized that all effort and achievement stem from one person's jealousy of another. This striving is also futile, like chasing the wind.
5 The imprudent idle their hands, leading to their downfall.
6 It's better to have one handful with peace than two with hard work and chasing the wind.
7 I saw another example of futility under the sun.
8 A solitary person labored endlessly without a male heir or sibling. Despite his efforts, his wealth didn't satisfy him. He pondered, "For whom am I toiling and denying myself pleasures?"
This work is futile and disheartening.
9 A partnership is better than solitude, given the fruitful rewards of joint efforts.
10 If one stumbles, the other can help them up. But woe to the one who falls with no one to help them up.
11 Two who sleep together can stay warm, but how can one alone stay warm?
12 Though one can be overpowered, two can defend themselves. A tri-braided rope doesn't break easily.

§ 19960 ADVANCEMENT IS MEANINGLESS

13 A penniless yet intelligent young man is superior to a mature but irrational Prime Ruler who has lost the ability to pay heed to caution.

14 The young individual might have ascended to authority straight from prison or been raised in poverty within his realm.
15 I observed all those who existed and moved under the sun, supporting the young one who would replace the Prime Ruler.
16 A boundless number of people existed before them. However, the future generations found no delight in the successor. This situation, too, is an exercise in futility, like trying to catch the wind.

§ 19970 STAND IN AWE OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

5 Exercise caution as you approach the Preeminent Sovereign's abode. Prioritize listening over mindlessly offering absolving payments like the unaware who commit wrongdoings.
2 Avoid hastily speaking or impulsively presenting matters before the Preeminent Sovereign. He is in the celestial realms while you are on the Earth; hence, curtail your words.
3 Dreams occur when concerns are abundant, and excessive words characterize a fool's utterance.

4 Don’t hesitate to keep your promise once you’ve pledged the Preeminent Sovereign. He finds no delight in those who act foolishly; ensure you render what you have promised.
5 It’s more advisable not to pledge than not to see it through.
6 Avoid allowing your words to lead you into transgressions. Don’t make claims of error to the honored envoy in your oath. Why invite the Preeminent Sovereign’s wrath with your utterances and risk the destruction of your accomplishments?
7 An abundance of dreams and excessive talk are trivial. So, respect the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 19980 RICHES ARE MEANINGLESS

8 Don’t be surprised if you see the underprivileged mistreated and fairness ignored. Higher authorities oversee each other.
9 everyone benefits from the land’s yield; even the Prime Ruler gets his share.
10 Those who love money will never have enough; those who covet wealth will never be content.
Such pursuits are futile.
11 As prosperity grows, so do its consumers. What profit does the owner gain apart from seeing it?
12 A hardworking person enjoys peaceful sleep, but the wealthy find no comfort in rest.
13 I’ve seen a painful tragedy: wealth that ruins its holders.
14 Fortunes can vanish due to misfortune, leaving nothing for offspring.
15 everyone enters the world with nothing and leaves the same way. Despite hard labor, nothing tangible is taken away.
16 This is a terrible evil: Just as one is born, so shall they die. What gain comes from laboring for the wind?
17 They eat in gloom all their lives, with irritation, suffering, and rage.
18 Eating, drinking, and finding gratification in work benefits one during the limited lifespan granted by the Preeminent Sovereign. This reality is our destiny.
19 It’s a celestial empowerment when the Preeminent Sovereign endows someone with riches and possessions and the capacity to enjoy them, to be content with their station, and to take pleasure in their labor.
20 They don’t dwell on their days because the Preeminent Sovereign fills their inner-self with delight.

6 I’ve seen another misfortune under the sun—a substantial burden on humanity.
2 The Preeminent Sovereign grants some individuals riches, assets, and prestige but doesn’t give them the capacity to enjoy these gifts; instead, outsiders benefit. This wealth is pointless and a severe affliction.

3 Even if a person fathers a hundred children and lives many years, if life’s rewards don’t fulfill him and he doesn’t get a dignified funeral, a stillborn child is better off.
4 Arriving pointlessly, it fades into obscurity, enveloped in darkness.
5 Although it never saw light or gained knowledge, it finds more tranquility than that individual.
6 Even if he lives two thousand years but doesn’t find delight in life, don’t all end up at the same destination?
7 All work hard to satisfy hunger, yet desire remains unfulfilled.
8 What benefit does wisdom provide over foolishness? What can the impoverished gain from understanding public behavior?

9 Appraising what is within sight is more fulfilling than endless cravings. These cravings, too, are unavailing, like capturing the wind.
10 Everything was named long ago; humanity's essence is understood; no one can dispute with one mightier than them.
11 Abundant words often diminish value; what benefit does it bring?
12 Who can discern what benefits anyone during their fleeting life? Who can predict what will occur on Earth after they depart?

§ 19990 WISDOM

7 A reputable character is more valuable than fine cologne, and one's demise is more significant than one's birth.
2 "Attending a funeral is more beneficial than a feast, as it reminds us of our inevitable end; the living should take this to our inner-self."
3 "Sorrow is better than laughter, for a sad face can improve the inner-self"
4 "The insightful find solace in sorrow, while fools revel in delight."

5 "Listening to the sharp words of a sage is better than being entertained by the tunes of fools."
6 "The merriment of the unwise is like the sizzling of brambles under a pot. It's pointless."
7 "Unjust gain makes the intelligent foolish, and a payout taints the inner-self."
8 "Finishing something is better than starting it, and tolerance is better than arrogance."
9 "Avoid haste in your inner-self to get irritated, for anger resides in the inner-self of fools."
10 "Don't ask why the past seemed better than the present; such questions aren't wise."
11 "Wisdom, like a legacy, is beneficial and advantageous to those who see the light of day."
12 "Wisdom protects like wealth, but intellect ensures the life of its possessors."
13 "Consider the acts of the Preeminent Sovereign; who can correct what he has distorted?"
14 "Rejoice in prosperity; remember that both conditions are Preeminent Sovereign's creations during challenges. So, man remains uncertain about the future."
15 "In my fruitless existence, I have seen the authentic succumbing to their ultimate authenticity and those full of unworthy choices living long despite their transgressions."
16 "Avoid being excessively integrid or overly wise; why ruin yourself?"
17 "Avoid being excessively evil, and don't act foolishly—why risk dying prematurely?"
18 "Holding on to one thing without releasing the other is beneficial. Anyone who reveres Preeminent Sovereign will avoid all extremes."
19 "The knowledge of a discerning individual offers superior strength compared to ten city leaders."

20 "No one is integrid, always does good, and never commits an unworthy choice."
21 "Don't heed all spoken words; your servant's curse might reach your ears."
22 "Your conscience knows that you have spoken ill of others many times."
23 "I examined all this through wisdom, intending to become wise, but such understanding remained elusive."
24 "Whatever it is, it's beyond reach and incredibly deep. Who can truly understand it?"
25 "So, I directed my thoughts to comprehend, investigate, and explore wisdom and reasoning behind events and gain insight into evil's foolishness and senseless actions."
26 "A woman whose inner-self is trapped and whose hands are like prison shackles is more bitter than death. The one who finds favor in the Preeminent Sovereign's eyes will elude her, yet the transgressor she will capture."

27 “Observe,” says the teacher, “this is my conclusion: By combining one element with another to decipher the pattern of life.”
28 “Despite my relentless search, I found a single integrated man out of a thousand. Yet, I could not find a single authentic woman among them.”
29 “My single discovery is this: The Preeminent Sovereign made human beings straightforward, yet they have pursued numerous complications.”

8 “Who can equate to the intelligent? Who comprehends the elucidation of matters? An individual’s insight illuminates their countenance and transforms its stern expression.”

§ 20000 OBEY THE PRIME RULER

2 Follow the Prime Ruler’s directives, honoring your pledge to the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 Do not hastily leave the Prime Ruler’s presence or support a nefarious cause, as he can act on his every whim.

4 Given the absolute authority of a Prime Ruler’s decree, who dares question his actions?
5 Those who obey will avoid detrimental consequences; an intelligent mind will discern the right timing and process.
6 Even in distress, there’s an appropriate moment and method for everything.
7 Since the future is unknown, who can predict upcoming events?
8 Just as no one can command the wind to cease, no one can dictate their day of departure from life. A soldier cannot desert his duty during the conflict, and evil will not liberate those who engage in it.
9 I have seen individuals exercise dominance over others to their detriment.
10 I also observed those full of unworthy choices receiving honorable burials and being lauded in the town where they acted. These obituaries, too, are devoid of purpose.
11 Individuals are encouraged to engage in malicious activities when punishment for wrongdoing is not swift.
12 Even if an evildoer transgresses a hundred times and lives long, those who respect the Preeminent Sovereign will have a more favorable outcome.
13 Despite their lack of reverence towards the Preeminent Sovereign, prosperity will elude the impure, and their lifespan won’t extend like a shadow.
14 Another vain occurrence on Earth is that authentic individuals receive what malevolent ones merit, and malicious individuals obtain what the honest should have. This experience, too, is purposeless.
15 So, savor life; there is nothing better under the sun than to eat, drink, and be happy. This contentment will accompany you during your trying days throughout your lifespan, given by the Preeminent Sovereign under the sun.
16 As I sought to understand wisdom and scrutinize earthly toil, I realized that individuals scarcely find rest, neither day nor night.

17 Observing all actions of the Preeminent Sovereign, I understood that no one can truly grasp events under the sun. Despite strenuous attempts to understand, the meaning remains elusive. Even wise people who claim to know cannot truly grasp it.

§ 20010 A COMMON DESTINY FOR ALL

9 I have reflected deeply and concluded that the actions and lives of the authentic and insightful are under the Preeminent Sovereign's control. Yet, it remains unknown whether their future holds love or hatred.
2 everyone shares the same fate—authentic or impure, benevolent or malevolent, pure or impure, those who perform absolving payments, and those who abstain. Just as it is with the honest, so it is with those full of unworthy choices; just as it is with those who make pledges, it is with those who fear making them.
3 This unfortunate reality is everything that transpires beneath the sun: An identical fate befalls everyone. Furthermore, human inner selves are brimming with impurity, and insanity is within them throughout their life. Subsequently, they become part of the deceased.
4 Whoever is connected to all that breathes can be confident—indeed, a living canine surpasses a lifeless lion!
5 Those alive are aware of their impending demise, while those who have passed away are oblivious; they have no additional rewards, and their existence is erased from memory.
6 Their affection, hatred, and envy have long ceased to exist. They will never again partake in any occurrences under the sun.
7 Proceed, enjoy your meal, and sip your wine with a cheery inner-self, for Preeminent Sovereign has already endorsed your actions.
8 Constantly adorn yourself in clean attire, and never neglect to perfume your head.
9 Cherish the moments with your spouse, whom you dearly love, throughout the short and transient existence that the Preeminent Sovereign has given you under the sun—every moment of this fleeting life. This love is your fundamental role in life and the inner fruit of your strenuous efforts under the sun.

10 Execute any task you encounter with maximum effort, as in the afterlife, where your path is leading, no labor, strategizing, comprehension, or insight exists.
11 Here's something else I've observed on Earth: Victory in the race doesn't always go to the fastest, nor does the strongest always win the battle. The wise don't always have an abundance of food, the intelligent don't always amass great wealth, and those with great learning aren't always favored. Instead, time and unpredictable circumstances can affect everyone.
12 Indeed, no one can predict their end. Just as fish are trapped in a relentless net or birds are captured in a trap, so are individuals ensnared by malevolent periods descending on them without warning.

§ 20020 WISDOM BETTER THAN FOLLY

13 I observed a profound instance of wisdom under the sun.
14 In a small town with few inhabitants, a mighty Prime Ruler attacked, encircled, and built extensive fortifications against it.
15 A poor yet intelligent man in that town saved the city with his wisdom, but no one remembered his deed.
16 I concluded that intellect outweighs brute force. However, the wisdom of people experiencing poverty is often scorned and ignored.
17 The soft-spoken wisdom of the learned holds more weight than the loud cries of a foolish leader.

18 Discernment is superior to weaponry for battle, yet a single wrongdoer can ruin many right relationships.

10 Just as dead insects can ruin the scent of perfume, a minor act of foolishness can diminish wisdom and tarnish honor.
2 The discerning mind of a wise individual leans to the right, whereas the mind of an ignorant fool diverges to the left.
3 While strolling the street, fools display their lack of understanding and reveal all their idiocy.

4 If a leader's fury surges against you, do not abandon your position; serenity can pacify severe transgressions.
5 I've observed wrongdoing under the sun; it's a mistake from those in power.
6 Ignorant individuals are often placed in elevated roles, while the affluent are relegated to inferior ones.
7 I have seen servants riding transports while influential people walk on the ground like servants.
8 One who digs a hole might fall into it. An individual breaking down a barrier could suffer a serpent's bite.
9 Anyone who removes stones from rock pits might be harmed; anyone who cuts logs might be exposed to danger.
10 More power is required when the axe blade is blunt and not honed, yet expertise leads to achievement.
11 The snake charmer earns no payment if the snake strikes before being enchanted.
12 Enlightened utterances from the sage bring transformative generosity. However, their tongue obliterates the foolish.
13 They start with nonsensical talk and end with total insanity.
14 Fools babble excessively. Nobody knows what's yet to come—who can inform another about future occurrences?
15 The hard work of foolish individuals exhausts them; they must be shown how to navigate their way to the city.
16 Unfortunately, it is a country where the Prime Ruler was once a servant, and its leaders feast at dawn.
17 The land is fortunate when the Prime Ruler hails from a reputable family and high-ranking officials dine at appropriate times for vitality and do not indulge in excessive alcohol.

18 The roof collapses due to negligence, and when hands remain inactive, the dwelling drips water.
19 Festivals are designed for merriment. Wine brings delight to life, and cash resolves all needs.
20 Abstain from criticizing the Prime Ruler, even inwardly, and avoid speaking ill of the affluent in your sleeping quarters. A sky-bound bird may relay your utterance, and a flying creature may disclose your words.

§ 20030 INVEST IN MANY VENTURES

11 Send your commodities overseas; you might profit eventually.
2 Diversify into seven or eight investments; you can't predict what misfortune may strike.
3 When the celestial realms are full, they release rain on the land, regardless of where it falls.
4 Those who watch the weather will never sow, and those who stare at clouds will never reap.

5 Just as you can't understand the wind's path or a baby's development in the womb, the Eternal Reality's craftsmanship of Preeminent Sovereign, the Innovator of all existence, is beyond comprehension.
6 Start your projects early in the day, and keep working on them into the evening—you can't always predict which effort will succeed or if everything will turn out equally well.

§ 20040 REMEMBER YOUR INNOVATOR WHILE YOUNG

7 The delight of witnessing daylight is undeniable, and it's a delight for the eyes to gaze at the sun.
8 No matter the duration of someone's life, they should derive pleasure from every moment.
However, they should be mindful of the inevitable period of darkness, as it will consist of numerous days. All that lies ahead is devoid of significance.

9 "Delight in your youth, young one, and let your inner-self enjoy your early days. Pursue the desires of your inner-self and everything that catches your eye, yet remember that the Preeminent Sovereign will hold you accountable for all these actions.
10 Therefore, eliminate worry from your inner-self and disregard your body's ills, as the prime of life and strength is pointless.

12 Remember the Eternal Reality's authority that created you during your youthful days before adversities arose. The forthcoming years led you to proclaim: "They bring me no delight."
2 Before the sun's dimming, the moon, the stars, the light, and the reappearance of clouds following a rainfall.
3 When the guardians of the household grow shaky and the influential individuals bow their heads, when those grinding grain stop due to their scarcity, and those observing from the windows see poorly;
4 As the entranceways to the avenues become shut and the murmur of milling dwindles, individuals awaken at the birds' chirping, yet all their melodies become muted.
5 As individuals fear climbing heights and dread threats along the pathways as the almond tree flourishes and the grasshopper sluggishly moves, the longing ceases. Eventually, individuals journey to their everlasting abode, and those grieving wander the streets.
6 Keep your Innovator in mind before the life thread snaps, the golden vessel is shattered, the water jar is broken at the spring, and the well's pulley is fractured.
7 The earthly remains shall revert to the soil from whence it came. In contrast, the life essence reverts to the Eternal Reality's entity that gave it.
8 Vanity of vanities declares the Teacher; everything is vanity!"

§ 20050 THE CONCLUSION OF THE MATTER

9 The Teacher, known for his wisdom, shared his insights with the people. He carefully considered, researched, and organized many sayings.

10 He sought the best words to ensure his writings were truthful and authentic.
11 The wisdom of the enlightened is like prods, and their collected sayings are like firmly driven stakes from a single guardian.

[12] “Be cautious, my child, about anything beyond these. Writing many books is endless; too much study wearies the body.”
[13] In conclusion, the essence is this: express joyful adoration of the Eternal Reality with reverence and follow His instructions, as this is the core duty of every human.
[14] The Preeminent Sovereign will judge every action, including all hidden matters, whether authentic or impure.

~ 122 | The Allegory | Song of Songs

§ 20060 SOLOMON'S SONG

1 This beautiful song is from Solomon, the builder of the fortress.

§ 20070 Beloved

2 I long for his kisses. Your love is more delightful than wine.
3 The scent of your ensovereigning oils and the allure of your name, like perfume, explain why young maidens adore you.
4 Take me with you; let's hurry! May the Prime Ruler bring me to his private rooms.

§ 20080 Friends

Friends, we delight in your company and praise your love more than wine. It is right that they love you!

§ 20090 Beloved It is right that they love you!

5 Though I am dark, I am beautiful, O women of Yerushalayim, as dark as the tents of Kedar and as lovely as Solomon's curtains.
6 I'm dark because the sun has burned me, so don't stare at me. I had to neglect my hidden rooftop garden since my mother's boys were upset with me and made me tend to the rooftop gardens.

7 Please, my love, where do you care for your flock? Where do you find shade in the heat of the day? Why should I wander like an outsider among the herds of your friends?

§ 20100 Friends

8 If you're unsure, my beautiful one, follow the trail of the sheep and let your little goats graze near the sheep keepers' shelters.

§ 20110 Lover

9 I compare you, my love, to a rare and powerful sports car, sleek and commanding attention wherever it goes.
10 Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings and neck with jewels strings.
11 We will make you earrings of gold studded with silver.

§ 20120 Beloved

12 My perfume spread its fragrance While the Prime Ruler was at his table.
13 To me, my partner is like a myrrh sachet nestled between my breasts.

14 My Esteemed is a cluster of henna blooms from En Gedi's vines.

§ 20130 Lover

15 How beautiful you are, my darling! Oh, how beautiful! Your eyes are doves.

§ 20140 Beloved

16 How handsome you are, my Esteemed! Oh, how charming! Our bed is verdant.

§ 20150 Lover

17 The beams of our house are cedars; our rafters are firs.

§ 20160 Beloved

2 I am a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys.

§ 20170 Lover

2 Like a lily among thorns is my darling among the young women.

§ 20180 Beloved

3 Like an apple tree among the forest's trees is my Esteemed among the young men. I delight in sitting in his shade, and his inner fruit is sweet to my taste.
4 I'm faint with love, so strengthen me with raisins and revive me with apples.
5 His left arm is under my head, and his right arm embraces me.
6 By the gazelles and the does of the field, daughters of Yerushalayim, I charge you: Do not awaken or stir love until it wishes.
7 Pay Heed! Respected One! See! Here he is, tumbling over the hills and vaulting over the mountains.

8 My Esteemed is comparable to a juvenile stag or gazelle. See! He is standing behind our wall, staring through the lattice and the windows.
9 My Esteemed said, "Arise, my darling, my beautiful one, come with me.
10 See! The winter is past; the rains are over and gone.

11 Flowers appear on the Earth; the singing season has come, and doves' cooing is heard in our land.
12 The fig tree bears early fruit, and the fragrant blossoms of the vines disseminate their scent. Come, my dear; join me, my lovely one.
13 My darling, please reveal your face and voice to me in the crevices in the rock and the concealed spots on the slope; your voice is charming and beautiful.

14 Please catch the little pets that ruin our rooftop gardens while they bloom.

§ 20190 Lover

15 My Esteemed is mine and I am his; he browses among the lilies.

§ 20200 Beloved

16 Until the day breaks and the shadows flee, turn, my Esteemed, and be like a gazelle or a young stag on the rugged hills.

3 Throughout the night, while on my bed, I searched for the one my inner-self cherishes; I sought him, but he was nowhere to be found.
2 I shall now rise and venture through the town, navigating its lanes and plazas; I will seek the one my inner-self cherishes. So, I searched for my lover but was unable to locate him.
3 The guards came on me as they patrolled the city. “Have they spotted the one cherished by my inner-self?”
4 Barely had I moved beyond them when I encountered the one my inner-self loves. I embraced him and refused to release him until I had ushered him into my mother’s home, to the chamber of she who gave birth to me.
5 Women of Yerushalayim, I implore you by the field’s gazelles and hinds: Refrain from stirring or igniting love until it wishes to.
6 Who is this appearing from the desert like a smoke pillar, fragranced with myrrh and merchant’s all-spices incense?

7-8 Prime Ruler Solomon fashioned his carriage from Lebanon wood, with sixty of Israel’s finest warriors attending him. Each warrior, equipped with a tactical blade and adept in warfare, positioned their blade at their flank, ready to confront the fears of the night.
9 Prime Ruler Solomon built his main strike vehicle using Lebanon timber.
10 He constructed its pillars from silver and its foundation from gold. Its cushioning was purple-hued, and its center was laid with affection. Daughters of Yerushalayim:
11 Step forward and witness, O maidens of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign. Lay your eyes on the Prime Ruler, Solomon, wearing the military uniform given to him by his mother on his wedding day, the day his inner-self was delighted.

§ 20210 Lover

4 Your veiled gaze mirrors the tranquil serenity of dawn. Your hair flows with the elegance and energy of a radiant stream, descending gracefully, vibrantly, and alive.
2 Your smile radiates like a row of pristine high-rises under the glow of dawn. Each is paired ideally; none of them stand solitary.
3 Your lips resemble a crimson thread; your mouth is attractive. Your eyes, veiled, shine like stars in the night sky.
4 Your neck is comparable to the tower of David, constructed with layers of stones; it carries a thousand protective armors, each belonging to a warrior.
5 Your curves are like two harmonious melodies playing amidst the serene beauty of nature.
6 Until dawn arrives and the shadows disappear, I will journey to the myrrh-covered mountain and the hill fragrant with incense.
7 My sweetheart, you are stunning; there is not a single blemish in you.

[8] Journey with me from Lebanon: My promised journey is in Lebanon. Step down from the pinnacle of Amana, from the peak of Senir, the crown of Hermon, from the dwelling places of lions and the rugged hideouts of leopards.

[9] My inner-self has been captivated, my sibling, my promised bride; with a single look from your eyes and one gem from your necklace, you have ensnared my affections.
[10] Your affection, my sister and my spouse, is captivating! It's more enjoyable than the finest wine, and the scent of your fragrance surpasses all precious spices!
[11] The sweetness from your lips resembles that of a honeycomb, my Esteemed; a mix of milk and honey is on your tongue. The scent of your clothes is just like the fragrant breath of Lebanon.
[12-13] My Esteemed, you are like a hidden urban garden, full of life and beauty, a sanctuary of abundance and refreshment in the midst of the city's chaos.

[14] Balsam, turmeric, sweet cane, and cinnamon are used with every type of fragrant tree, myrrh, and aloe, alongside all the premium spices.
[15] You are like an oasis, a renewable source of refreshing vitality, pouring out with life-giving energy cascading from Lebanon.

§ 20220 Beloved

[16] Arise, northern breeze, and approach, southern zephyr! Let your breath flow through my orchard, letting its scents disperse universally. Allow my dearest to enter his orchard and relish its exceptional harvest.

§ 20230 Lover

5 I've entered my private space, my closest companion, my love. I've enjoyed the sweet moments we've built together—every taste, every aroma, every memory we've shared.

§ 20240 Friends

Come, friends, let's celebrate! Take it all in; immerse yourselves in the joy of love.

§ 20250 Beloved

[2] I was resting, but my mind was alert. Wait! My partner is at the door, calling: "Let me in, my dearest, my treasure, my perfect companion, my source of joy."
[3] I have shed my garment; do I need to wear it again? My feet have been cleansed; must they be dirtied again?
[4] My darling extended his hand through the keyhole, setting my inner-self on fire.
[5] I stood up to unlock the door for my Esteemed, with myrrh dewing from my hands, my fingers slick with liquid myrrh on the bolt's handles.
[6] I sought my lover, but my lover had vanished; he was no longer there. Desolation filled my inner-self in his absence. I searched for him, but he was nowhere to be found. I cried out for him, but there was no response.

7 The city’s guards discovered me during their patrol. They assaulted me, inflicted injuries on me; they confiscated my cloak, those gatekeepers of the city’s walls!
8 Ladies of Yerushalayim, I urge you—if you come across my Esteemed, what message will you deliver to him? Inform him that I am overwhelmed with passion.

§ 20260 Friends

9 What makes your esteemed stand out among others? Fairest of all women. How does your Esteemed exceed all others? Why would you lay such a contest on us?

§ 20270 Beloved

10 My cherished one shines brilliantly, exhibiting a robust complexion and surpassing all in a multitude of ten thousand.
11 His ensovereigned insignia is of gleaming gold; his locks are curled and as dark as a crow.
12 His gaze is likened to serene doves beside the water bodies, cleansed in pure milk and set like precious gemstones.

13 His face resembles a garden of spices emanating fragrance. His mouth is just like lilies, exuding sweet-smelling myrrh.
14 His limbs resemble golden pillars adorned with topaz. His torso is just like burnished ivory embellished with lapis lazuli.
15 His legs are just like marble columns, placed on foundations of purest gold. His visage is reminiscent of Lebanon, as select as its towering cedars.
16 His lips are like a gentle nectar. He is captivating in his entirety. This man is my loved one.
This man is my companion, O, and my young daughters from Yerushalayim.

§ 20280 Friends

6 Where has your darling ventured, fairest of females? In which direction has your sweetheart journeyed so we can assist you in searching for him?

§ 20290 Beloved

2 My darling has journeyed to his garden, to the fragrant plantings, to feast in the gardens and collect lilies.
3 I belong to the one I love; he reciprocates my feelings; he takes pleasure in the blooms.

§ 20300 Lover

4 You are as stunning as Tirzah, my love, as charming as Yerushalayim, as governance as an army flying its banners.
5 Avert your gaze from me; it’s too overpowering. Your hair flows smoothly, like a waterfall descending gently, illuminated by the morning sun.

6 Your teeth gleam like a set of pristine pearls, everyone impeccably aligned and none missing.
7 Like your mind, the space beyond your facade reveals a world rich with mystery.
8 There might exist sixty queens, eighty mistresses, and countless maidens.
9 Yet my love, my flawless one, stands alone, being the sole cherished child of her mother. All young women admire her and deem her fortunate; even first ladies and pursuers elevate her virtues.

§ 20310 Friends

10 Who is this emerging like the first light of day, as lovely as the lunar glow, radiant as the solar brilliance, grand as a parade of celestial bodies?

§ 20320 Lover

11 I visited the orchard of walnut trees to witness the emergence of new sprouts in the valley and to check if the grapevines had started budding or if the pomegranate trees had begun their flowering.
12 Unintentionally, my yearning placed me in the governance carriages of my community. Comrades

§ 20330 Friends

13 Return, O Shulammite; return, that we may behold you! Why should you behold the Shulammite as on the dance of Mahanaim?
7 Oh, ruler’s daughter, how lovely your sandaled feet are! The contours of your thighs are like precious stones crafted by an expert.
2 Your belly button is a globular cup always full of mixed wine. Blossoms surround your waist, bending like a river.
3 Your heart is like twin beacons, radiant and paired in harmony.
4 Your neck stands tall, elegant as a skyscraper. Your eyes are the water bodies of Heshbon near the Bath Rabbim gate. Your nose is just like the building of Lebanon that gazes towards Damascus.
5 Your head adorns you as Mount Carmel does. Your locks resemble federal embroidery; the Prime Ruler is entrapped in their strands.
6 How stunning and delightful you are, my Esteemed, with your captivating charms!
7-8 Your figure echoes the transformative generosity of a palm tree, and your curves are as inviting as clusters of fruit. I’ve sworn to climb that tree, to reach and embrace its bounty. May your embrace be as rich and fulfilling as clusters of grapes on the vine and the scent of your breath as refreshing as apples.

§ 20340 Beloved

9 And your speech is like superior spiced wine. May it stream to my Esteemed effortlessly, smoothly graze over lips and teeth.
10 My lover claims me, and his yearning is directed towards me.
11 My dearest, let’s venture into the rural areas and pass the evening in the hamlets.

12 At dawn, let us head to the rooftop gardens to observe if the vines have started to bud and if their flowers have unfurled. If the pomegranates flourish in that place, I will grant you my affection.
13 The mandrakes exude their sweet scent, and at our entrance sit all sorts of modern and traditional foods I have prepared exclusively for you, my cherished ones.
8 You resembled a brother, caring for me like a mother would! I could find you outside, kiss you, and no one would hate me.
2 I would guide you and take you to my mother's house, where I received my education. I offer you my pomegranate nectar in the form of spiced wine.
3 His right arm is around me, and his left hand is beneath my head.
4 I command you, O girls of Yerushalayim: Wait until the proper moment to kindle or awaken love.

§ 20350 Friends

5 Who is she clinging to her Esteemed as she emerges from the wilderness?

§ 20360 Beloved

I woke you up beneath the apple tree; it was there that your mother became pregnant, gave birth, and endured labor.
6 Position me like a seal on your arm and over your inner-self. Because love is as powerful as death, and its resentment is as relentless as Underworld. It's sparks are the most intense fires known to man.

7 The largest seas cannot douse Love's fire, nor can the most vital rivers wash it away if a person tries to exchange all his worldly possessions for love. He would be met with sheer disgrace.

§ 20370 Friends

8 Our younger sister's breasts have not yet developed. On the day that she is spoken for, what should we do for our sister?
9 We'll shield her with a silver tower if she has flat breasts. I'll surround her with a cedar wall if she is as flat as a door.

§ 20380 Beloved

10 For her, my breasts are like buildings, and I am that wall. I have, therefore, come to be seen as someone who brings tranquility to his eyes.
11 Yerushalayim's maidens, I implore you: Do not provoke or stimulate love until it willingly yearns. Comrades,
12 Who is this emerging from the wilderness, leaning on her loved one? Here, under the apple tree, I stirred you into consciousness; it was here that your mother first conceived you; it was here that she who bore you went into labor.

§ 20390 Lover

13 My friends, you who live in the gardens, are waiting to speak. Give it to me to hear!

§ 20400 Beloved

14 Step aside, my love, and resemble a young stag or gazelle on the spice mountains.

~ 123 | The Rescuer | Isaiah

§ 20410 A REBELLIOUS NATION

1 Isaiah, the heir of Amoz, witnessed a vision about Judah and Yerushalayim during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, Prime Rulers of Judah.

2 "Listen, O celestial realms, and heed, O Earth, for the Sovereign Captain has declared: 'I nurtured and raised sons, but they have turned against Me. '"
3 "A donkey knows its overseer's feeding location, and an ox can even identify its owner. Yet, Israel seems unaware, and My people lack discernment."
4 "The country is full of unworthy choices, a population burdened with significant guilt, offspring practicing evil, and youth inclined to corruption! They have abandoned the Sovereign Captain, shown contempt for the Exalted One of Israel, and turned away from Him."
5 "Why do you continue to invite punishment? Must you rebel forever? Your head is injured, and your inner-self is unhealthy."
6 "From the bottom of your feet to the crown of your head, there is no healthy spot left: only injuries, hurts, and raw wounds. They haven't received proper care; there has been no combat gauze or relief with antibiotic ointment."
7 "Depart with me, my cherished one, and resemble an elegant gazelle or a young deer grazing in the spice-filled highland meadow."
8 "Daughter, the hub of David, has become like a deserted shelter in a grape field, just like a shack in a cucumber plantation, comparable to a city under assault."
9 "If the Almighty Sovereign Captain hadn't preserved a few of us, we would have met the same fate as Sodom and become like Gomorrah."
10 "Heed the path of our Preeminent Sovereign, leaders of Sodom; take to your inner selves the instructions of our Sovereign Captain, inhabitants of Gomorrah!"
11 "'Why do your numerous absolving payments matter to me?' questions the Sovereign Captain. 'I have been overly supplied with scorched absolving payments and the fat from your well-fed animals; I do not take delight in the blood of goats, lambs, or bulls. '"
12 "On your arrival to stand in My presence, who has demanded this act of you, this desecration of my exalted spaces?"
13 "Stop making pointless absolving payments! I hate your incense. I can't stand your New Moons, Sabbaths, and gatherings."

14 "I detest your New Moon celebrations and scheduled festivals with My entire being. They have become oppressive to Me; I'm exhausted from enduring them."
15 "As you extend your hands in supplications, I avert My eyes from you. Despite the numerous meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, I remain inattentive. Your hands are stained with blood!"
16-17 "Renew your ways; change your approach. Eliminate harmful behaviors; take proactive steps toward good. Fight for fairness, address systemic inequality, stand up for marginalized children, and advocate for those without a voice."

18 "Let's clear this up," says the Sovereign Captain. "Even if your mistakes are glaring like neon red, they can be made as clean and bright as a fresh digital screen."
19 "If you consent and adhere, you will feast on the land's best produce."

20 “However, if you continue to defy and disobey, warfare will consume you,” declares the Sovereign Captain.
21 “Observe how the once authentic city has become a harlot. It used to overflow with justice and integrity inhabited within her, but presently, it’s full of murderers.”
22 “Your silver has lost its worth; your preferred wine is mixed with water.”
23 “Your leaders are defiant associates of robbers; they all appreciate graft and pursue rewards. They refuse to stand up for the rights of the orphans; they never consider the plight of the widows.”
24 “the Sovereign Captain, the Eternal Reality Ruler of Israel, proclaims: ‘Indeed! I will unleash my fury against those who oppose me and inflict retribution on my adversaries. ’”
25 “I will take action against you. I will smelt away your dross with lye and eliminate all your impure elements.”

26 “I will reestablish your chiefs as in times past and your directors as at the Inception. Subsequently, you will be termed the Metropolis of Justice, the Loyal City.”
27 “The hub of David will be saved through fairness, her remorseful ones through ultimate authenticity.”
28 “The defiant and the counterfeit will be shattered, and those who abandon the Sovereign Captain will meet their end.”
29 “The exalted oaks you enjoyed will shame you; the gardens you selected will cause you disgrace.”
30 “You would compare it to a tree with withering leaves, similar to a drought-stricken garden.”
31 “The powerful individual will become easily combustible material, and his deeds will ignite like a spark; they will burn together without anyone to extinguish the inferno.”

§ 20420 THE MOUNTAIN OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

2 Isaiah, the male heir of Amoz, had a vision concerning Judah and Yerushalayim:
2 “In the ultimate days, the Sovereign Captain’s fortress will stand as the highest peak, surpassing all others, drawing people from every nation.”
3 “Many will come, urging others to ascend to the Sovereign Captain’s mountain, to the fortress of Jacob’s Eternal Reality. This Path will teach us His principles and guide us in His chosen ways. The Path will start from the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress, with the Sovereign Captain’s message spreading from Yerushalayim.”
4 “He will mediate among nations and resolve conflicts for many. They will transform their weapons into farming tools. Nations will no longer wage war or train for battle.”
5 “Gather Jacob’s family, and let’s walk in the light of the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 20430 THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

6 “Captain, you have deserted Your family, the offspring of Jacob. They are brimming with mystical beliefs from the Orient; they predict the future like the Philistine Warriors and adopt distrustful traditions.”
7 “Their territory is brimming with silver and gold. Their wealth is boundless. Their countryside is teeming with armored personnel carriers. Their strike vehicles are innumerable.”

8 “Their territory is teeming with counterfeit idolized deities; they prostrate themselves before the artifacts of their handiwork, in front of what they have crafted with their hands.”
9 “So, man is humbled, and humanity is brought low; do not pardon them!”
10 “Retreat to the crags, conceal yourself in the Earth away from the Sovereign Captain’s terrifying manifestation and His majestic magnificence!”
11 “The haughty gaze of individuals will be diminished, and the pride of humans will be lowered.
Only the Sovereign Captain will be honored on that day.”

12 “The Supreme Sovereign Captain has designated a day for all those boasting in pride and arrogance: for all that is elevated, they will be brought low:

13 • against all Lebanon’s towering cedar trees and Bashan’s formidable oak trees

14 • against all the high-altitude mountains and elevated hills.”

15 • against each lofty stronghold and each fortified barrier.”

16 • against all commercial maritime vessels and each magnificent ship.”

17 “The haughtiness of humanity will be humbled, and the pride of individuals will be made modest. Solely the Sovereign Captain will be lifted on that particular day.”
18 “All the worshipped idolized deities will be utterly abolished.”
19 “Human beings will seek refuge in the crannies of mountains and underground caves, evading the intimidating aura of the Sovereign Captain and His majestic grandeur when He ascends to shake the planet.”
20 “During that moment, individuals will discard their silver and gold idolized deities, which they crafted for reverence. Humans will dump their idolized deities into the holes of moles and bats.”

21 “Amidst the terror of the Sovereign Captain and the brilliance of His majesty, when He stands to tremble the Earth, they will seek refuge in the caves of rocks and the recesses of cliffs.” 22 “Cease relying on mere mortals with barely a breath in their nostrils. What makes them worthy of admiration?”

§ 20440 JUDGMENT ON YERUSHALAYIM AND JUDAH

3 Pay Heed: The Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, is about to strip
Yerushalayim and Judah of all sustenance and security—every provision of food and water.
2 This will impact the mighty, the combatants, judges, prophets, fortune-tellers, and elders,
3 as well as military leaders, esteemed dignitaries, advisors, wise artisans, and skillful wizards.
4 “I will appoint young boys as their leaders, and infants will govern them.”

5 People will exploit each other, with conflicts arising among neighbors. Young individuals will disrespect their elders, and the insignificant will confront those in high regard.
6 One will seize his brother in their father’s house, saying, “You have a coat; be our leader; take charge of this ruin!”
7 He will protest that day, declaring, “I can’t cure their ills. My house lacks food or garments; I should not be appointed as the people’s chief.”

8 “Yerushalayim is collapsing, and Judah is falling. Their words and actions defy the Sovereign Captain, challenging His majesty.
9 Their faces reveal their guilt; they flaunt their iniquities like Sodom once did; they do not hide it.
Misfortune awaits them! They have invited calamity upon themselves!
10 Assure the authentic that good fortune awaits them; they will reap the rewards of their actions.
11 But woe to the hostile! Calamity looms over them! They will receive retribution for their deeds!”
12 “The young ones burden my people, and females exert control over them. Your leaders misguide you; they divert you from the right path.
13 The Sovereign Captain positions Himself in the courtroom; He ascends to pass judgment on His people.
14 The Sovereign Captain brings forth accusations against the respected seniors and ruling individuals of His populace: ‘You have destroyed My grape field; the possessions looted from the underprivileged are stored in your homes.
15 What gives you the right to oppress my people and exploit those in poverty?’ asserts the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.”
16 The Sovereign Captain proclaims, “The females of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign are arrogant, promenading with extended necks, enticing with their gazes, sauntering with oscillating hips, and their ankle decorations tinkling as they move.

17 So, the Sovereign Captain will afflict the head crests of the daughters of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign with scabs, leaving their heads barren and exposed.”
18 On that day, the Sovereign Captain will remove their splendor: the bracelets, hairbands, and lunar-shaped pendants,
19 the pendants, armlets, and shawls,
20 scarves, ankle bracelets, cloth belts, fragrances, and amulets, 21 the finger rings and nose jewels,
22 the elegant dresses, coats, shawls, handbags,
23 reflective surfaces and designer outfits, the fashion accessories, and statement scarves.
24 Instead of emitting a pleasant aroma, a foul stench will fill the air; a cord will take the place of a belt; baldness will replace carefully styled hair; plain workwear will substitute for fine attire; branding scars will mar beauty.
25 Your men will perish in combat during the war.
26 The fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign’s entrances will express sorrow and grief in desolation; she will sit in the dirt.

4 On that day, seven women will seize one man and declare, “We’ll make our clothes and eat our bread.” Please address us by your name. This name will take away our shame!

§ 20450 THE FOUNDATION LINK OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

2 "In that day, the Foundation Link of the Sovereign Captain will be extraordinary, and the results of His work will bring pride and hope to those who remain faithful in the city."
3 All those in Yerushalayim listed among the living will be deemed exalted, including those who stay in the hub of David

4 when The Eternal Spark of fire and judgment has wiped the bloodstains from Yerushalayim's inner-self and removed the dirt of the daughters of the hub of David.
5 The Eternal Reality will manifest in every area of David's Mount and over the gathered individuals, a misty cloud during the day and a bright, blazing brilliance during the night; His glorious presence will be a protective covering overall.
6 This presence will provide a covering and coolness from the daytime heat, a haven, and seclusion from storms and rainfall.

§ 20460 A MISMANAGED CITY ENTERPRISE

5 Let me share a story about a developer and his urban project: The developer had a prime plot of land in a thriving part of the city.
2 He cleared the lot, removed all the debris, and built a sustainable garden with the finest plants.
He installed security features and invested in an innovative irrigation system. He anticipated a harvest of quality produce, but it yielded nothing but weeds.
3 "Now, you citizens and residents of this city, weigh in on this project—what went wrong with my urban garden?
4 Was there anything I neglected? I invested in it fully, but when I expected a lush garden, all I got was waste.
5 Here's what I'll do: I'll stop maintaining it, let the fences decay, and let anyone trample over it.
6 I'll turn it into an abandoned lot, with overgrowth and no care. I'll even restrict resources like water from nurturing it."
7 This garden is symbolic of the city's people, cherished by the Sovereign Captain. He sought fairness but found exploitation; he hoped for integrity but heard only the cries of the oppressed.

§ 20470 MISFORTUNE AND JUDGMENTS

8 Beware those who amass properties, leaving no space and isolating themselves.
9 The Celestial Forces' Captain has declared: "Grand residences will be deserted, and splendid estates will be empty.
10 Vineyards of 40,000 square meters will yield only 22 liters of wine, and 225 liters of seed will produce just 22 liters of grain."
11 Beware those who rise early to drink and continue until night, becoming intoxicated.
12 They enjoy music and wine at their gatherings but ignore the acts of the Preeminent Sovereign and His accomplishments.
13 Consequently, my people will be taken captive; honored individuals will starve, and the multitude will suffer from thirst.
14 The afterlife will consume their elite and common populace, troublemakers, and jubilant indulgers.
15 Humanity will be humiliated, individuals degraded, and the arrogant humbled.
16 Yet, the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will be revered through His fair judgments, and the exalted Preeminent Sovereign will manifest His purification through His deeds of integrity.
17 Lambs will graze in fields, and young goats will forage among the remnants of the affluent's properties.
18 It's wrong to bind oneself to wrongdoings and pull in corruption with lies.
19 It criticizes those who challenge the Preeminent Sovereign to act quickly instead of allowing His plan to unfold.

20 Trouble awaits those who twist right and wrong, confusing people by promoting deception as truth and truth as deception, swapping what's harmful for what's helpful.
21 Misfortune awaits those who see themselves as intelligent and cunning.
22 Misfortune awaits those known for consuming wine and concocting potent beverages.
23 Those who vindicate the guilty for a payoff yet deprive the innocent of fair treatment.
24 As flames consume straw and dry grass succumbs to fire, their roots rot, and their blossoms scatter like dust. They have discarded the Path of the Almighty Sovereign Captain and disdained the message from the Pure One of Israel.
25 The Sovereign Captain's fury flares against His people; He lifts His hand and strikes them down. Mountains tremble, and corpses lie in the streets like garbage. His fury has not subsided; His hand remains poised to strike.
26 He signals distant nations and calls people from the ends of the Earth. Look, the enemy comes quickly and swiftly.
27 None tire or stumble; none fall asleep. No broken boot lace or loose belt on their tactical gear.
28 Their projectiles are loaded, their projectile launchers are ready; their strike vehicles are pre-positioned.
29 Their bellowing echoes like lions; they thunder while gripping their victim, dragging it away with no chance for redemption.
30 On that day, they will growl as fiercely as the sea. Darkness and torment will be visible; even clouds will mask the sunlight.

§ 20480 ISAIAH'S COMMISSION

6 "In the year Prime Ruler Uzziah passed away, I saw the Sovereign Captain presiding from a high place of honor, and His presence filled the entire fortress."

2 The highest-ranking Celestial Guardians were positioned above Him, each possessing six wings: they used a pair to shield their faces, another to guard their feet, and the remaining pair for flight.
3 They shouted to each other: "Exalted, Exalted, Exalted is the Sovereign Captain of all; His majesty permeates the entire Earth."
4 The resonance of their calls caused the door frame to tremble, enveloping the fortress with smoke.
5 "How terrible it is for me?" I exclaimed. "I'm faced with destruction! I have impure speech and live among individuals with contaminated speech. Yet, my vision has encompassed the Prime Ruler, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces."
6-7 One Celestial Guardian darted toward me, carrying a glowing ember, radiant with energy. With this ember, he touched my lips and said, 'This moment has transformed you—your past mistakes are erased, and you have been renewed.

8 I discerned the Sovereign Captain's call, asking, "Who will be My messenger? Who will represent Us?" I replied, "I am at Your disposal. Dispatch me!"
9 He said, "Proceed and inform these individuals: 'You always hear, but never understand, and you always see but never perceive. '
10 "Make them insensitive, blocking their hearing and sight. Otherwise, they might see and hear, understand emotionally, change, and be healed."

11 I inquired, Captain, “How long?” The response was: “Until the towns are decimated and uninhabited, until residences stand vacant, and the farmland is wholly deprived and devastated, 12 until the terrain is wholly deserted until the Sovereign Captain dispatches everyone to a distant place.
13 Even if a tenth of the population remains, it will be destroyed again. Like stumps left after chopping down the terebinth and oak trees, the remaining stump in the land will be the exalted chosen people.”

§ 20490 THE SIGN OF IMMANUEL

7 During Ahaz’s rule over Judah, Rezin, the Prime Ruler of Aram, and Pekah, the Prime Ruler of Israel, attacked Yerushalayim but failed to conquer it.
2 Intelligence revealed Aram’s alliance with Ephraim, causing fear in Ahaz and his people.
3-4 The Sovereign Captain instructed Isaiah and his son Shear-Jashub to meet Ahaz and reassure him to stay calm and fearless, likening the threat from Rezin and Pekah to smoldering firewood.
5-6 Aram, Ephraim, and Pekah plotted to invade Judah and install Tabeel’s heir as ruler.
7 However, the Preeminent Sovereign declared their plan would fail.
8 Damascus is Aram’s capital, and Rezin is its governor. In sixty-five years, Ephraim will be destroyed.
9 Samaria is Ephraim’s capital, and Pekah is its ruler. Without trust, Ahaz won’t stand firm.
10-11 The Sovereign Captain urged Ahaz to request a sign from the celestial realms or the depths of ultimate justice.
12 Ahaz refused, not wanting to test the Sovereign Captain.
13-15 "Then Isaiah said, 'Listen here, people of this city! Isn’t it enough to test the patience of others? Must you also test the patience of the Eternal Reality? The Sovereign Captain Himself will give you a sign: A young woman will have a child, and he will be called Immanuel, meaning ‘The Eternal Reality with us.’ He will grow up nourished by simple meals, learning to make wise choices, rejecting what is wrong and embracing what is right.'"
16 Before the boy matures, Ahaz fears that the lands of the two rulers will be deserted.
17 The Sovereign Captain will bring unprecedented separation between Ephraim and Judah and summon the Prime Ruler of Assyria.
18-19 In that day, the Sovereign Captain will summon swarms of pests from distant places, like invasive insects spreading through neglected alleyways and vacant lots. They will invade the cracks in high-rise buildings, the abandoned subway tunnels, and the overgrown plots in the city, covering every neglected corner and forgotten space.

20-23 In that day, the Sovereign Captain will bring a force as sharp and unrelenting as a demolition crew from a distant nation, stripping you of your pride and dignity, leaving you bare and exposed. In that day, people will scrape by, relying on a small supply of essentials—like a single food cart or a few cans of provisions—just enough to survive. The abundance once celebrated in bustling marketplaces will be gone, replaced by empty lots and overgrown ruins. Where thriving neighborhoods once stood, there will be nothing but abandoned buildings and weeds reclaiming the land.

24-25 People will avoid those areas, carrying tools for self-protection, because the streets will be overrun with danger and neglect. Once-thriving neighborhoods, where parks and gardens were carefully tended, will become desolate and overgrown. No one will dare to enter for fear of the broken glass and the encroaching wildness. These places will be abandoned, left to stray animals and the forces of decay.

§ 20500 ASSYRIA, THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S INSTRUMENT

8 The Sovereign Captain instructed me, "Take a large sheet and write Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz with an ordinary ball point pen.
2 I will appoint two reliable testifiers: Zechariah, son of Jeberekiah, and Uriah, the ensovereigned mediator.
3 Later, I was intimate with my wife, the eternally wise servant, and she conceived and bore a son. the Sovereign Captain said, "Name him Maher-Shalal-HashBaz."
4 "The Assyrian Prime Ruler will take Damascus' wealth and Samaria's loot before he can say 'Daddy' or 'Mommy. '"
5 The Sovereign Captain spoke again:
6 "These people have rejected the gentle waters of Shiloah and expressed delight in Rezin and Remaliah's son.
7 The Sovereign Captain will bring the mighty Euphrates River—the Assyrian Prime Ruler and his splendor. It will overflow its banks, 8 flooding Judah, reaching up to your neck. Its wings will cover your land, Immanuel!

9 Sound the battle cry, my people, and be shattered! Listen, distant lands. Prepare for war and be crushed! Prepare for war and be defeated!
10 Devise your plans, but they will fail; propose your strategies, but they won't succeed, for Preeminent Sovereign is with us."

§ 20510 RESPECT THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

11 The Sovereign Captain warned me with His mighty power to avoid living like these people.
12 "Don't you call conspiracy what they call conspiracy. Don't fear what they fear.
13 Remember that the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, is the only One you should hold Exalted. He is the only One who should instill fear in you.
14 The Eternal Reality will be a sanctuary, but for some, He's like a cornerstone that they trip over—unwilling to align with His design, they fall and face consequences.. For Yerushalayim's residents, He will be a trap and a snare.
15 Many will stumble, fall, and be broken. They'll be trapped and captured."
16 Secure this warning message and seal the Preeminent Sovereign's Path among My pathseekers."
17 I will trust in the Sovereign Captain, who has hidden His face from Jacob's family; I will wait for Him.
18 Pay Heed: I and the children given to me by the Sovereign Captain are signs and wonders in Israel from the Commander Chief of Celestial Forces who dwells on David's Mount.

§ 20520 THE DARKNESS TURNS TO LIGHT

19 Shouldn’t people consult their Preeminent Sovereign instead of seeking advice from the entities of the dead and mediums? Why would the living seek counsel from the dead?

20 Refer to the Sovereign Captain’s Path and heed the eternally wise servant’s warnings. Those who contradict these words lack enlightenment.
21 In their suffering and hunger, they will wander through the land; as their hunger intensifies, they will erupt in anger and curse their Prime Ruler and their Eternal Reality.
22 When they gaze towards the Earth, they witness only hardship and darkness, themselves engulfed in terror and banished into obscurity.

§ 20530 TO US A PROMISED CHILD IS BORN

9 However, the former distress will no longer cast a shadow. Previously, the Sovereign Captain diminished the lands of Zebulun and Naphtali. Yet, in the days ahead, He will bring new prestige to Galilee of the Outsiders, the Path to the Sea, and the territories across the Jordan.
2 People who lived in confusion and hopelessness have experienced a powerful breakthrough of understanding; those surrounded by despair have been given a new perspective.
3 You have expanded the nation while amplifying their delight; they express their glee in Your presence, similar to the pleasure during harvest or the triumph of soldiers distributing spoils.
4 Like the victory over Midian, You have dismantled the oppressive yoke, the beam on their shoulders, and the power staff of their tyrant.
5 Every soldier’s footwear worn during combat and every outfit soaked in blood will be scorched as fuel for flames.
6 A child is given to us, a male heir provided, and governance will rest on Him. He will bear titles of Remarkable Advisor, Almighty Sovereign Captain, Eternal Life-Giver, and Prime Ruler of Tranquility.
7 His sovereignty and tranquility shall grow indefinitely. From now into eternity, He will preside from David’s command control and over his realm, instituting and sustaining it with fairness and integrity. The zeal of the Eternal Reality will ensure this fulfillment.

§ 20540 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S ANGER AGAINST ISRAEL

8 The celestial decree on Jacob has been dispatched; Israel shall bear its impact:
9 everyone, including Ephraim and the Samaritans, will know it. They’ll say, with conceit and arrogance in their inner selves:
10 “The brick structures have collapsed, but we plan to construct them again using chiseled stone; the fig trees have been cut down, yet we intend to substitute them with cedar trees.”
11 However, the Sovereign Captain fortified Rezin’s adversaries against them and incited their enemies.
12 The Arameans from the East and the Philistine Warriors from the West have consumed Israel completely. Despite all these attacks, His wrath and hand remain lifted for punishment.
13 Nevertheless, the Israelites did not return to the One who smacked them or looked to the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
14 So, the Sovereign Captain will eliminate from Israel both the top and the bottom, the high palm branch and the low reed, all in a solitary day.

15 The high palm branches are the seasoned and respected men who are the leaders. At the same time, the low reeds are the charlatan preachers spreading dishonest teachings that represent Israel.
16 The individuals directing this populace lead them off course, and those following the false leaders are devoured.
17 The Sovereign Captain finds no delight in the young men nor shows compassion to the fatherless and widows, for each one is devoid of the Preeminent Sovereign and is full of unworthy choices; every mouth utters foolish words. His wrath hasn't subsided; His hand remains outstretched.
18 Verily, evil ignites like a fire; it devours obstacles and overgrowth, setting the woodland undergrowth on fire, thereby spiraling upward in a cloud of smoke.
19 The land will be torched due to the fury of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, and its inhabitants will become like kindling for the holocaust; none will show mercy to others.

20 They will gorge on the right flank yet remain famished; they will devour on the left flank and still not be content. Each one will eat the flesh of their offspring.
21 Manasseh shall engulf Ephraim. Likewise, Ephraim shall devour Manasseh; collectively, they will wage war against Judah. Despite all these factors, the Sovereign Captain's wrath remains unquenched, and His hand remains poised to strike.

10 Misfortune awaits those who establish unfair legislation and those who pass oppressive orders,
2 denying fair treatment to the impoverished, inflicting injustice on the downtrodden of My nation, turning widows into victims, and exploiting orphans.
3 How will you respond when catastrophe strikes from a distance during judgment? Who will you turn to for assistance? Where will you stash your wealth?
4 Nothing will be left except crouching among the prisoners or collapsing among those killed. Even so, the Sovereign Captain's wrath does not subside; His hand remains ready to strike.

§ 20550 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S JUDGMENT ON ASSYRIA

5 Misfortune awaits Assyria, the instrument of My fury, wielding the club of My anger!
6 I send Assyria against a nation that has forsaken the Eternal Reality, commanding them to seize possessions, plunder wealth, and trample them like street mud.
7 Yet Assyria's aim is total destruction, the annihilation of many nations!
8 Assyria boasts, "Aren't all my military leaders Prime Rulers?
9 Didn't Kalno fall like Carchemish? Aren't Hamath and Arpad like Samaria and Damascus?"
10 Having conquered idolatrous nations with worse representations than Samaria and Yerushalayim, 11 will I not do the same to Yerushalayim and her idolized deities as I did to Samaria and its idolized deities?

12 Once the Sovereign Captain completes His tasks against David's Mount and Yerushalayim, He will declare, "I will punish the Prime Ruler of Assyria for his arrogance and disdainful gaze.

13 Assyria’s Prime Ruler claims: ‘By my power and intelligence, I have eradicated borders, looted wealth, and overpowered Prime Rulers like a mighty conqueror.
14 Just as one gathers eggs from a nest, I amassed territories without resistance. ’” 15 Can the axe boast over its axman or the saw over its sawyer? It’s as absurd as a baseball bat controlling its batter or a baton directing a police officer!
16 Therefore, the Preeminent Sovereign of Celestial Forces will afflict Assyria’s fighters with disease; a fierce fire will consume their opulence like a raging flame.
17 The Sunshine of Israel will blaze, and its Exalted One will become a conflagration, burning Assyria’s obstacles and overgrowth in a single day.
18 The splendor of their woodlands and lands will vanish like a diseased individual deteriorating.
19 A mere child will count the surviving trees.

§ 20560 THE CHOSEN PEOPLE OF ISRAEL

20 On that day, the surviving few of Israel and Jacob’s descendants will stop depending on the one who smote them. Instead, they will genuinely trust the Sovereign Captain, the Exalted One of Israel.
21 The few survivors of Jacob’s family will return to their powerful, Preeminent Sovereign.
22 Israel, a tiny segment will survive even if your populace is as pleasant as the sand at the seashore. A comprehensive destruction is inevitable, filled with justice and integrity.

23 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will execute the determined destruction across the entire territory.
24 Therefore, the Sovereign Captain, the Sovereign Captain of all, declares: “My citizens residing in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, don’t succumb to fear from the Assyrians who oppress you with their rod and raise their staff against you, just as the Egyptians did before.
25 My fury towards you will subside briefly, and My anger will then be channeled into the Assyrians’ obliteration.”
26 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will strike them down, just like the defeat of Midian at the rock of Oreb; His power will stretch over the waters, similar to His actions in Egypt.
27 On that particular day, the weight they imposed on you will be removed from your shoulders, the rule around your neck released, and the dominance will be shattered due to your increasing strength.
28 Assyria goes to Aiath, moves through the Migron, and stockpiles their provisions at Mikmash.
29 They traverse the passage, stating their intention to lodge in Geba for the night. Fear seizes the inhabitants of Ramah; Gibeah of Saul stands abandoned.
30 Shout out loud, you people of Gallim. Pay heed, you residents of Laishah. Alas, for the affliction of Anathoth.
31 The inhabitants of Madmenah are fleeing; the residents of Gebim seek shelter.
32 On this day, they will stop at Nob, brandishing their fists towards the Daughter, David's Hub, in the elevated area of Yerushalayim.
33 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will forcefully sever the branches. The high-standing trees will be cut down, and the towering ones will be humbled.”
34 The forest’s underbrush will be chopped down with an axe; Lebanon will surrender to the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 20570 THE BRANCH FROM JESSE

11 "A new connection will emerge from Jesse's legacy; from its foundation, a strong link will flourish and produce results."
2 The Eternal Spark of the Preeminent Sovereign will descend on the Branch, embodying wisdom, understanding, counsel, courage, knowledge, and reverence for the Sovereign Captain.
3-4 The respect of the Sovereign Captain will excite Him. He will judge with justice and integrity for the oppressed and needy, not by what He merely sees or hears. He will strike the Earth with His words, and His lips will eliminate the impure.
5 Loyalty will be His sash, integrity, and belt.
6 A day will come when the wolf resides peacefully with the lamb, the leopard with the young goat, and a child will guide them.
7 The cattle and grizzly will graze together, the lion and oxen will rest together, and the lioness will eat straw like the ox.
8 A baby will play near the cobra's dwelling, and a toddler will reach into a viper's lair.
9 In My exalted sovereignty, no harm or destruction will occur, as the world will be filled with awareness of the Eternal Reality as the sea teems with water.
10 On that day, the Root of Jesse will be an emblem for all nations; they will seek His guidance, and His fortress will bask in splendor.
11 The Sovereign Captain will gather His people from Assyria, Lower Egypt, Upper Egypt, Cush, Elam, Babylonia, Hamath, and the Mediterranean Isles.
12 He will hoist a flag for the nations and assemble Israel's dispersed individuals and Judah's scattered people.
13 Ephraim's envy and Judah's tormentors will cease; they will no longer be adversarial.
14 Together, they will attack the Philistine Warriors in the West and seize goods from the East. They will conquer Edom and Moab, making the Ammonites obedient.
15 The Sovereign Captain will target the Sea of Egypt for destruction and cross the Euphrates with a fierce wind, dividing it into seven streams for dry passage.

16 A passage will be established for His surviving people from Assyria, mirroring Israel's celestial deliverance from Egypt.

§ 20580 SONGS OF ACCLAIM

12 On that day, you will say: "I acclaim You, Captain. Though You were displeased with me, Your ire has subsided and brought me solace.
2 The Preeminent Sovereign is my deliverance; I will trust and not fear. the Sovereign Captain is my power and fortress; He has become my Redeemer."
3 With joy, you will access the endless resources of renewal and rescue.
4 In that time, you will thank the Sovereign Captain, "Invoke His Name, proclaim His deeds worldwide, and announce how highly His Name is elevated.
5 Sing to the Sovereign Captain, for He has done magnificent deeds; let this be known to everyone on Earth.
6 Rejoice and sing, O David's citizen, for the Exalted One of Israel is great among you."

§ 20590 A VISION AGAINST BABYLON

13 This wisdom is the Eternal Reality's disclosure regarding Babylon, which Isaiah, the male heir of Amoz, perceived:
2 Hoist a flag on a barren peak, yell out to them, and wave your hand for them to pass through the doors of the influential dignitaries.

3 You will joyfully drink from the fountains of redemption.
4 Then you'll exclaim, "Give thanks to the Sovereign Captain, declare His name!" that day. Proclaim that His Name is Exalted and make His works known to everyone.
5 Celebrate the Sovereign Captain, who has accomplished great things. Make this known to everyone on the planet.

6 Sing and shout, O David's citizen, for the Exalted One of Israel is great among you.

7 As a result, everyone will be weak with fear, their courage melting away.
8 Dread will overcome them, distress and agony will take control; they will contort in discomfort, similar to a woman giving birth. They will stare at each other in astonishment, their faces showing signs of intense fear.
9 Pay heed: the day of the Sovereign Captain is on us—a ruthless day filled with anger and blazing fury intended to render the Earth a wasteland and eradicate its transgressors.
10 The celestial realms' stars and formations will not shine. The moon won't shine, and the rising sun will be obscured.
11 I will punish the impure for their unworthy choices and the Earth for its transgressions. I'll end the arrogance of the arrogant and bring low the pride of the vicious.
12 Humans will become even more scarce than fine gold or gold from Ophir.
13 So, I will cause the celestial realms to shudder. The Earth will be jolted from its foundation in the fury of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, on the day of His intense wrath.
14 Similar to a scared deer and like a protected community without an inner shield, everyone will turn back to their homeland; they will escape to their birthplace.
15 Anyone seized will be impaled, and all those apprehended will succumb to the tactical blade.
16 Your little ones will be smashed to death right in front of their eyes; their dwellings will be ransacked, and their wives will be raped.
17 I am rousing the Medes against Babylon, who have no regard for silver nor find pleasure in gold.
18 Their projectiles will demolish the young individuals; they will show no compassion for newborns, nor will their gaze display any pity towards children.

19 And the Preeminent Sovereign will destroy Babylon, the authority of dominions, the arrogance of the Chaldeans, just as He destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, 20 This place will not see habitation or settlement for all future generations; not a single nomad will set up their temporary dwellings there, nor will any sheep keeper let their flock rest there.
21 Yet, wilderness beasts will reside there, their houses teeming with jackals; owls will find a habitat there while wild goats frolic and fling around.
22 Hyenas will yowl within the burly walls of her courts, and wild dogs will find a home in Babylon's beautiful palaces. The end of her era is near, and her days won't last much longer.

14 The Sovereign Captain will extend mercy towards the people of Jacob; He will once more select Israel, providing them tranquility in their ancestral land. Those from foreign nations will align with Israel and become part of Jacob's family.
2 Numerous nations will escort Israel back to their homeland. Subsequently, Israel will claim ownership over these nations, transforming them into forced laborers within the Eternal Reality's territory. Israel will confine those who once enslaved them and gain dominance over their former tormentors.
3 When the time arrives, the Sovereign Captain will provide you with ease from your pain, anxiety, and the cruel servitude you were subjected to.
4 You will begin this mocking song towards the Prime Ruler of Babylon: "Look, the tyrant has met his downfall! Pay heed! His rage is no more!"
5 The Eternal Reality has shattered the power of the wrongdoers and the evil authority of the Prime Rulers.
6 The Sovereign Captain has relentlessly battered wrongful people in a fury with constant strikes, and He has aggressively dominated evil nations in rage with unyielding persecution.
7 Every region of the Earth is filled with tranquility; they burst forth in musical celebration.
8 The junipers and the cedars of Lebanon celebrate your downfall, conveying, "Since you have been humbled, there is no one left to chop us down."

9 The Underworld is in a state of excitement to welcome you on your arrival; it stirs up the deceased to meet you—all those who once held leadership positions on Earth; it causes them to rise from their places of authority—all those who once reigned as Prime Rulers of various nations.
10 They will all collectively answer, "You too have degraded to our level of weakness; You have mirrored our likeness."
11 Your grandeur and the music of your string instruments have descended to the place of the dead; under you lie squirming maggots and worms envelop you.
12 What a steep fall from the celestial realms, the Day Star, heir of the dawn! You are cast down to the Earth, you who once held nations under your sway!
13 You secretly declared, "I will ascend to the celestial realms; I will raise my place of authority above the stars of the Preeminent Sovereign. I shall sit in the far North, on the ensovereigned summit.
14 I shall climb beyond the highest celestial realms like the Preeminent Sovereign."
15 But you will be cast down to the realm of the Adversary, to the uttermost parts of the abyss.
16 Those who perceive you gaze at you; they contemplate your destiny: "Could this be the individual who jolted the Earth and incited nations to quake?
17 Is this the individual who transformed the globe into a desolate wasteland, demolished Earth's cities, and denied his prisoners the opportunity to return to their residences?"
18 Every Prime Ruler of the nations rests in magnificence, each having their own grave.
19 However, like a spurned branch, they discard you from your grave, the deceased bury you, the tactical blade punctures those, and into the rocky pit, that plummet—resembling a corpse trodden on.
20 You won't be buried alongside them, having wreaked havoc on your territory and wiped out your population. The progeny of the evil will be deprived of future acknowledgment.

21 Arrange for the execution of his heirs due to the misdeeds of their forefathers; they will not ascend to power, gain control of the planet, or populate the world with their metropolises.
22 "I vow to obliterate Babylon's identity and remaining populace, as well as her future generations and family," declares the Sovereign Captain.

23 “I will transform her into a habitat for owls and a marshland. I will eradicate her using the tool of devastation,” proclaimed the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
24 The Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces has taken an oath: “I have envisioned, So it shall transpire, and as I have determined, so it shall be actualized:
25 The Assyrians will be eradicated within My territory; I will tread Assyria underfoot on My highlands. His oppressive rule will be lifted from My populace, and the substantial load will be taken off their backs.”
26 This scheme was devised for the entire planet, extending His arm across all countries.
27 The intention of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, has been made. Who can alter it? His arm is extended, and who can push it away?”

§ 20600 A VISION AGAINST THE PHILISTINE WARRIORS

28 This disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign was received in the year that Prime Ruler Ahaz passed away:
29 All you Philistine Warriors, do not celebrate because the weapon that struck you was merely shattered. A foreboding winged serpent will emerge from the snake’s egg, and a viper will proceed from its root.
30 Even the neediest will graze in my fields, and those in need will find refuge safely. However, I’ll annihilate your family through starvation; it will end the lives of your remaining folk.

31 Raise your lament, gate! Shout in fear, city! Dissolve in terror, all you Philistine Warriors! The dust cloud is billowing from the North; no soldier should stray from his formation.
32 How should the messengers from that country be responded to? “the Sovereign Captain has founded David's Hub, which will provide a fortress for his oppressed people.”

§ 20610 A VISION AGAINST MOAB

15 A celestial prediction concerning Moab: Ar and Kir in Moab are destroyed overnight.
2 People in Dibon mourn at their shrines; everyone in Moab is cutting their hair and beards in grief for Nebo and Medeba.
3 everyone in the streets and on the rooftops of Moab wears mourning clothes and cries.
4 You can hear the cries from Heshbon to Elealeh, spreading as far as Jahaz. Moab’s soldiers are scared and crying out.
5 I feel sorry for Moab. Its people try to flee to Zoar and Eglath-shelishiyah, crying along their way and mourning over their destroyed lands. They ascend the slope of Luhith, shedding tears as they move; on the path to Horonaim, they express their grief over their devastation.
6 The waters of Nimrim are now gone; all the plants are dead, and there’s no green left.
7 The people of Moab try to save their riches by carrying them across the Willow Brook.
8 Moab’s cries of distress reach the borders, and their sadness spreads from Eglaim to Beer-elim.
9 Dimon’s rivers are filled with blood, but more disasters are promised for Moab, including attacks on those who escape and survive.

16 Moab sends lambs to the leader of the land, from Sela, through the wilderness, to the mountain of David, to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 The daughters of Moab are like frightened birds at the Arnon River edge.
3 They ask for refuge, protection from the oppressor, and a place to stay until the danger passes.
4 Permit my runaways to remain with you; provide Moab a haven from the destroyer. After the oppressor leaves, the land is no longer destroyed, and the oppressors are no longer there.
5 In the fortress of David, a place of authority will be constructed in passionate devotion. A judge who sits diligently on it will seek justice and expedite integrity.

6 Moab is known for its pride and arrogance, but its boasts are worthless.
7 Moabites mourn for their land and the loss of their famous wines. They sorrowfully yearn for the dried grape delicacies of Kir-haroseth.
8 The fertile terrain of Heshbon fades, as do the grapevines of Sibmah. The invading nations have ravaged the finest vineyards that once stretched to Jazer and expanded into the arid wasteland. Their offshoots have spread out and journeyed as far as the marine expanse.
9 So I cry with Jazer for the Sibmah vines; my tears cover Elealeh and Heshbon. My triumphant cries have ceased over your summer's fruit and harvested.
10 Happiness and delight have vanished from the farmlands; nobody raises their voice or sings in the vineyards; no one stomps on grapes in the winepresses as I have brought the joyful shouts to an end.

11 I feel deep sorrow for Moab, like playing a sad song on a harp for Kir-Heres.
12 Moab's worship at the high places is in vain; it brings no results.

13 This proclamation is what the Sovereign Captain previously declared about Moab:
14 "Moab will lose respect and be left weak and small in number in three years. The few survivors will be tiny in number and weak."

§ 20620 A VISION AGAINST DAMASCUS

17 A vision concerning Damascus: Damascus will one day no longer be a city but a heap of ruins.
2 The towns of Aroer will be left for flocks to rest without fear.
3 Ephraim's fort and Damascus' realm will fade away, and what's left of Aram will be like the acclaim of Israel, says the Sovereign Captain.
4 Jacob's acclaim and physical health will decline.
5-6 Like the leftover grains collected after harvest, only a few olives will remain on the olive trees.
Despite this, some remnants will still exist, says the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel.

7 People will return to express adoration for their Innovator and elevate the Exalted One of Israel.
8 They will cease to trust the pedestal tables they crafted with their hands, nor will Israel pay any attention to the Asherah poles and fragrant altars they shaped with their fingertips.
9 The cities that Damascus abandoned because of the threat from Israel will become overgrown with shrubs and vegetation, resembling ruins.

10 You've ignored the foundation of your security and turned away from the source of your strength, the Preeminent Sovereign. So even if you invest in flashy, appealing projects or align with outsiders, 11 and even if these initiatives appear successful overnight, the results will crumble in a moment of regret and lasting distress.

12 Sadly, there is chaos among numerous peoples; they rage like bellowing oceans and ranting nations; they thunder like powerful waters smashing.
13 Despite the strength of nations, the Sovereign Captain disciplines them, and they quickly retreat, like wind blowing away grain husks or tumbleweeds.
14 The fear at night disappears by morning. This outcome is what happens to those who robbed us; it is what Damascus receives from those who loot.

§ 20630 A VISION AGAINST CUSH

18 Misfortune awaits the territory near the Cush riverbanks, buzzing with wings.
2 This nation sends envoys across the sea in reed vessels. Hurry, swift couriers to a nation of tall, smooth-skinned people who incite widespread fear, possess formidable power, speak an unusual language, and have many rivers.

3 All Earth's inhabitants will see when a signal flag is raised on the highlands and hear the sound of authority.
4 The Sovereign Captain has said: "I will remain silent and watch from My fortress, like radiant heat in sunlight, like dew in the warmth of harvest."
5 Before the harvest, when the bud blossoms and the flower becomes a mature grape, the Eternal Reality prunes the sprouts and discards the redundant branches.
6 Predatory birds and beasts will feast on these corpses throughout the hot and cold seasons.
7 At that time, absolving payments will be delivered to the City of the Eternal Reality, the location of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, from a towering, smooth-skinned people, a greatly feared community, a mighty nation with odd speech, and a land split by rivers.

§ 20640 A VISION AGAINST EGYPT

19 A vision concerning Egypt: the Sovereign Captain is advancing on a fast-moving cloud towards Egypt. Egypt's counterfeit deities shiver at His arrival, and the courage of the Egyptians dissolves into dread.
2 "'I will incite strife among Egyptians—sibling will combat sibling, a friend will clash with a friend, the metropolis will contend with the metropolis, and the realm will battle realm.
3 The courage of the Egyptians will ebb away, causing their schemes to fall apart; they will divert themselves to their idolized deities and the deceased individuals. They will consult fortune-tellers and those who converse with the dead."
4 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign decrees: "The Egyptians will be subjected to the control of a ruthless overseer, and an aggressive Prime Ruler will govern them."
5 The liquid sources of the river will evaporate, leaving the riverbed baked and dehydrated.

6 The waterways of Egypt will begin to emit a foul odor; they will shrink and evaporate. The aquatic plants, reeds, and rushes will waste away.
7 The vegetation bordering the Nile, at the river's opening and each cultivated plot adjoining the Nile, will dry out. The wind will scatter your plots and cease them to exist.
8 The fishermen will express sorrow and mourn all who cast fishing lines into the Nile. Those who spread their fishing nets on the water will languish.
9 Individuals who handle combed flax will despair, and those crafting fine linen will be hopeless.
10 The fabric makers will be crushed, and all those earning a salary will feel distressed.

11 Zoan's leaders are pure imbeciles; Pharaoh's insightful advisers offer absurd counsel. How dare you claim to Pharaoh: "I am a sage, an heir of the oriental Prime Rulers?"
12 Where are your erudite advisors now? Let them unveil and interpret the intentions the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, has intended for Egypt.
13 The Prime Rulers from Zoan have acted foolishly. The rulers of Memphis have been misled; those who are the foundation of her communities have caused Egypt to deviate from the right path.
14 The Eternal Reality has infused a mindset of confusion in them. Egypt falters in all its endeavors, like a drunk man staggering around in his vomit.
15 Furthermore, Egypt cannot produce a leader or follower who salutes or doesn't salute.

16 The Egyptians will become as timid as women on that day. They will quake in terror because of the threatening hand of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, that He raises against them.
17 The region of Judah will instill fear in the Egyptians; anyone who hears the name of Judah will be filled with dread. This name will remind them that the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, is devising against them.
18 Five metropolises in Egypt will adopt the Canaan dialect during that period. They will pledge their loyalty to the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. One of these cities will be known as the 'City of the Sun. '

19 At that time, there shall be a dedicated pedestal table for the Sovereign Captain in the control center of Egypt and a commemorative obelisk for the Sovereign Captain at its frontier.
20 "This memorial will serve as a symbol and a testimony to the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces in Egyptian territory. When they plead to the Sovereign Captain due to their oppressors, He will dispatch a redeemer and protector to liberate them.

21 Egypt will recognize the Sovereign Captain when He makes Himself known to them. They will make vows to the Sovereign Captain and keep them; they will express adoration with absolving payments and gifts.
22 The Eternal Reality will afflict Egypt with a scourge. He will wound them and later restore them. They will seek the Sovereign Captain. Their intervention will move him, and he will bring them healing.
23 A highway connecting Egypt and Assyria will be built during that period. The Assyrians will journey to Egypt and vice versa. Both Egyptians and Assyrians will engage in communal expression of joyful adoration.

24 At that time, Israel would form a trinity with Egypt and Assyria, bringing a beneficial effect to the world.

25 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will extend His empowerments, affirming, “Egypt, you are acknowledged as My people. Assyria, I recognize you as my creation and Israel, My chosen inheritance.”

§ 20650 A VISION AGAINST EGYPT AND CUSH

20 Before Ashdod fell to the Assyrian Prime Ruler’s commander,
2 The Sovereign Captain instructed Isaiah: “Remove your sandals and plain workwear.” Isaiah obeyed, going barefoot and unclothed.
3 The Sovereign Captain said, “My loyal one has wandered without clothing and shoes for three years as a symbolic warning to Egypt and Cush.
4 The Assyrian ruler will lead Egyptian prisoners and Cushite exiles, young and old, disrobed and barefoot, to humiliation in Egypt.
5 Those who relied on Cush and took pride in Egypt will be disillusioned and humiliated.
6 On that day, coastal inhabitants will say, ‘Observe the fate of those we counted on, those we sought to aid and rescue from the Assyrian Prime Ruler! How can we escape now?’”

§ 20660 A VISION AGAINST BABYLON

21 A warning comes about a threatening force from the desert, causing chaos.
2 A disturbing vision showed betrayal and raiding, calling on Elam and Media to end the suffering.
3 I felt terrible pain and fear from the alarming news, turning anticipation into dread.
4 My inner-self stumbles; terror causes me to shake. The new day I yearned for has transformed into a nightmare.
5 Arrange the dining table, lay out the carpets, and indulge in food and beverages! Rise, commanders, ready your ballistic body armor!”

6 The Sovereign Captain told me: “Proceed forward, station a sentinel, and let him declare his observations.
7 He must be fully alert when he sees strike vehicles, armored personnel carriers, military couriers, and special operations forces.”
8 Then the sentinel cried to the commanding officer, “Every day, I steadfastly hold my position at the surveillance tower; I remain at my post every night.
9 Look! Assault troops in pairs are approaching. Pay Heed! Babylon has fallen! Her revered idolized deities lie shattered and scattered across the Earth.”

10 My people endure harsh conditions and oppression. I share the disclosures from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, and the Eternal Truth of Israel.

11 The vision against Dumah is this: From Seir, one screams to me, “Sentinel, what’s left of the night? How much time remains of the darkness?”

12 The Sentinel replies, “The approaching dawn lingers on while the dusk persists. Feel free to inquire again after a brief pause.”

§ 20670 A VISION AGAINST ARABIA

13 Dedanite caravans are now seeking refuge in the Arabian wilderness from their perilous journeys.
14 We must act with humanity and provide water to the thirsty, embodying generosity. Residents of Tema should also show extraordinary hospitality by offering food to these escapees.
15 They flee for survival, escaping deadly weapons, including drawn tactical blades, loaded projectile launchers, and the relentless stress of warfare.
16 An eternal wisdom casts a shadow on Kedar's future. Within a year, Kedar will lose all its accolades, its praises fading like a hired worker's countdown.
17 Amidst this devastation, hope remains for a few of Kedar's skilled sharpshooters who might endure these troubling times. This declaration from the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, prepares us for what's to come.

§ 20680 A VISION ABOUT YERUSHALAYIM

22 The Valley of Vision faces turmoil: Why is everyone on the rooftops?
2 The town is noisy with celebration, yet your soldiers didn't die in combat or from the tactical blade.
3 All leaders fled but were captured without weapons despite trying to escape far away.
4 I pleaded, "Let me cry alone. Don't comfort me for the calamities befalling my people."
5 The Preeminent Sovereign declared a day of chaos and destruction in the Valley of Vision, tearing down walls and calling for help to the mountains.

6 Elam readies strike vehicles and assault troops, well-supplied with ammunition. Kir discloses their tactical bunkers.

7 Your beautiful valleys are filled with strike vehicles, and soldiers guard the city entrances.
8 The Preeminent Sovereign ceased protecting Judah when you relied on Solomon's Armory.
9 You saw breaches in David's city walls and collected water from the lower reservoir.
10 You assessed Yerushalayim's houses, demolishing some to strengthen the city wall.
11 You built a water storage area between two barriers for the Ancient Pool's water. Still, you ignored the innovator and original designer who created it centuries ago.

12 On that day, the Sovereign Captain of all Celestial Forces called for grief and lamentation, head shaving, and somber clothing.
13 Instead, there's delight and revelry, butchering cattle, slaughtering sheep, feasting on meat, and guzzling wine! You say, "Let's feast and drink, for we may perish tomorrow."
14 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declared: "This mistake won't be forgiven until you die."

15 The Sovereign Captain says, "Go to Shebna, the household manager:
16 'Why are you here, and who allowed you to carve a tomb on this mountain and chisel your tombstone?
17 Beware, influential leader! the Sovereign Captain will reprimand you strongly.

18 He will seize and throw you into an open space, crushing you. You will perish there, and your impressive strike vehicles will disgrace your commanders' home. '

19 ‘Your role will be removed if you do not follow the directives. ’
20 ‘On that day, I will call for my assistant Eliakim, son of Hilkiah. ’
21 ‘Eliakim will wear your shirt and use your belt for strength. You will entrust your responsibilities to him, and he will be like a father to Yerushalayim’s people and Judah’s community. ’
22 ‘He will hold David’s master key card. Any door he unlocks will stay open; any door he locks will remain closed. ’
23 ‘I will make him a reliable anchor in a stable place. He will bring pride and honor to his family. ’
24 ‘His family’s reputation rests on him, including future generations and their possessions, from small items like smartphones to larger ones like furniture. ’
25 “On the specified day,” says the Almighty Sovereign Captain, “the reliable anchor will become unsteady, break, and fall, releasing its load.” This is the Sovereign Captain’s command.

§ 20690 A VISION AGAINST TYRE

23 A vision about Tyre: Trading ships, cry out! Tyre is destroyed, with no homes or ports. People from Cyprus bring this news.
2 Attention island residents and traders from Sidon who have prospered from sailor voyages: Please remain quiet!
3 The grain from Shihor flowed across the abundant waters, and the Nile’s harvest enriched Tyre, turning her into the trading hub of the nations.
4 Sidon, you are known for your strong connection to the sea, but now feel ashamed as the sea says, “I haven’t endured the pain of childbirth or raised children.”
5 “On hearing the news, Egypt will be sorrowful due to the events in Tyre.”

6 “Venture towards Tarshish; lament, you inhabitants of the isle.”
7 Is this your old, familiar city where people have traveled far away to make new homes?
8 Who planned this attack on Tyre, the One who gives authority, where merchants are respected, and traders are renowned worldwide?
9 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, created this to diminish the pride of all those magnificent and humble esteemed individuals on the planet.

10 Cultivate your land like the Egyptians with the Nile, offspring of Tarshish, because there’s no marketplace available.
11 The Sovereign Captain used His power to control the sea, shaking its empires. He ordered the removal of the defense perimeters in Phoenicia.
12 He conveyed, “Stop celebrating, oppressed Virgin Daughter Sidon. Head to Cyprus, but you won’t find peace there either.”
13 The Assyrians have overtaken the Babylonians’ territory. They have turned it into a desolate ruin by constructing siege towers, plundering its strongholds, and transforming it into a dwelling for wilderness beasts.
14 Ships of Tarshish, weep, for your stronghold is destroyed!

15 Tyre will be forgotten for 70 years while a Prime Ruler is in power. But after these 70 years, the situation in Tyre will be similar to the story told in a courtesan’s song.
16 “Grab your guitar, walk around the town; you’ve ignored your talent; play the guitar well, play lots of songs so people will remember you.”

17 The Sovereign Captain will address Tyre’s case after seven decades. She plans to continue her profitable immoral activities, offering her services to all the empires across the globe.

18 Her income and earnings will go to the Sovereign Captain, not saved but used to provide food and clothing for those around the Sovereign Captain.

§ 20700 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S DEVASTATION OF THE EARTH

24 The Sovereign Captain is set to devastate the Earth, making it barren and scattering its people.
2 His directives apply universally, affecting religious figures, civilians, leaders, employees, homeowners, their staff, and business people, whether selling or buying. It also includes those in debt, offering loans, or owing money.
3 The Sovereign Captain has proclaimed the Earth will be emptied and plundered.
4 The Earth is weakening, and the celestial realms are also affected.
5 The people have defiled the land, ignored the directives, and broken the longstanding agreement.
6 A curse ravages the world, leading to widespread destruction and leaving only a few survivors.
7 The wine is gone, grapevines are dead, and delight has turned to sorrow.
8 The lively sounds of tambourines and harps have ceased.
9 People no longer drink wine joyfully; it now tastes bitter.
10 The town is destroyed; houses are sealed shut.

11 People seeking wine gather in the streets; despair replaces laughter and happiness.
12 The city is desolate, with collapsing entrances.

13 The situation is dire like an olive tree thrashed or a few grapes left after harvest.
14 "They lift their voices joyfully; from the western sea, they praise the splendor of the Sovereign Captain."
15 Honor the Sovereign Captain in the Orient and acknowledge Him as the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel in the ocean islands.
16 Songs around the planet say, "Praise the Real One." But I feel my strength fading; my fate is terrible! Deceivers deceive others with betrayal!

17 Beware, danger and trouble are approaching.
18 Escaping one fear may lead to another problem. The sky and Earth reveal important secrets.
19 The Earth is violently convulsing and breaking apart.
20 It wobbles like a drunkard and shakes like a shack in a storm; its mistakes are so great it collapses with no hope of recovery.

21 On designated days, the Sovereign Captain will interact with Celestial Envoys in the celestial realms and Prime Rulers on Earth.
22 They will be imprisoned for a long time as punishment.
23 The Sovereign Captain of the Celestial Armies will take authority over the City of the Eternal Reality in Yerushalayim. His magnificent acclaim will be evident before its leaders, causing both the moon and sun to be embarrassed.

§ 20710 PRAISE TO THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

25 Yahweh, you are my Eternal Reality. I will honor and praise Your Name for your extraordinary and reliable feats since ancient times.
2 You have turned cities into rubble, bringing down fortified towns and citadels, never to be rebuilt.

3 Powerful nations will honor you, and harsh countries will admire you.
4 You have provided a strong defense for the impoverished, a refuge for the distressed, a shield against storms, and relief from the hot sun. The cruel attack is like a rainstorm hitting a barrier.
5 You calm the chaos of outsiders like a cloud's shade cooling the desert heat.

6 Captain Almighty will host a grand feast on this mountain for all nations, featuring the finest meats and wines.
7 On this mountain, he will remove the barrier affecting all societies and the cover hiding every nation.
8 The Sovereign Captain has declared that death will be eliminated forever. The Eternal Reality will wipe away every tear and remove shame from his people worldwide.
9 On that day, people will say, "This is truly our Preeminent Sovereign. We trust in Him, and He saved us. He is the leader we trust. Let's celebrate and enjoy His rescue."

10 The Sovereign Captain's influence will support this mountain, while Moab will be crushed as straw compacted into compost.
11 He will reach out to the land as a swimmer extends his arms. The Preeminent Sovereign will humble their pride despite their skilled movements.
12 Your strong defenses will be destroyed and turned to dust on the Earth.

§ 20720 A SONG OF PRAISE

26 When the time comes, people in Judah will sing: "Our city is strong and secure; our leader provides safety like walls and defenses."
2 Let the authentic and reliable nation enter by unblocking the doors.

3 You bring absolute peace to people who trust Your unwavering thoughts.
4 Always trust the Sovereign Captain because the Preeminent Sovereign provides lasting strength and stability.
5 He destroys religious shrines and conquers the city, leveling it to the ground and covering it in dust.
6 The downtrodden and impoverished walk on it, leaving their mark with each step.
7 Genuine individuals take a straightforward path. As a person of honor, you ensure the journey of ultimate authenticity is easy.
8 We eagerly await your help, Captain, as we follow your directives and remember your good reputation.
9 I long for Your presence at night and eagerly seek You at dawn. People understand what integrity means when Your integrity is shown on Earth.
10 Even when people are treated kindly, they don't make good choices. Even though they live in a fair place, they continue to do bad things and don't appreciate the greatness of the Sovereign Captain.

11 Almighty, your arm is raised to strike, yet they fail to acknowledge it. Allow these people to witness your passionate dedication to your people and feel humiliation; let the flames destined for your foes engulf them.
12 You bless us with peace; everything we have achieved is because of you.
13 Other overseers, apart from You, have dominion over us, but we solely elevate Your Name, our Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign.
14 The lives that have passed away won't return. Because of this, they have been completely obliterated, and they have no memory of themselves.
15 Captain, you have expanded and increased the nation's population. Your actions have made you well-known and expanded our territory.
16 The people sought You in their predicament. But when You imposed your directives on them, their thoughts about the Eternal Reality turned to a murmurous plea.

17 In your presence, My Sovereign Captain, we felt as much pain and distress as a woman in labor.
18 We worked hard and suffered, but our efforts were in vain. We couldn't bring about positive change for our planet, and the Earth's inhabitants remain unaware.
19 However, those who died while You were in charge will return to life, Captain. Their bodies will return, and those in the realm of the dead will wake up and be happy. Your dew is like the morning's fresh air; the planet will bring back those who have fallen.
20 everyone, return to your rooms and lock the doors. Hide until He calms everything down.
21 Beware: the Sovereign Captain is leaving His stronghold to hold accountable those on Earth for their wrongdoings. No one will be able to escape as our planet will reveal all the blood that was unjustly shed, and Earth will no longer conceal its victims.

§ 20730 THE CELESTIAL DELIVERANCE OF ISRAEL

27 On that day, the Sovereign Captain will use His powerful weapon to bring judgment on Leviathan, the Symbol of Chaos and an Opponent of the Preeminent Sovereign, the large sea creature; He will eliminate the marine beast.
2 "Enjoy a bountiful hidden rooftop garden celebration.
3 I, the Eternal Reality, ensure it stays hydrated and protect it day and night to keep it safe.
4 I have no anger if only obstacles and overgrowth would oppose me! I would charge into battle against them and burn them entirely."
5 They can seek My protection and establish harmony with Me. They must indeed repay Me."
6 Jacob will put down strong roots in the future, and Israel will grow and prosper, leading to an abundance of their produce worldwide.

7 Has the Sovereign Captain dealt with Israel like he did with others? Has the Sovereign Captain slayed Israel in the same way that their enemies slayed Israelites?
8 You argue with her, and You expel Israel forcefully, like the East wind sweeping on a day of conflict and banishment.
9 So, with this action, Jacob's wrongdoing is made right. This means that all the consequences of his bad choices are taken away. Turning all the altar stones into rubble will mean no more Asherah pillars or incense altars.
10 The city fortress is still in ruins, empty and abandoned. The calves can now be found there, grazing and eating the leaves from the trees.

11 When its branches dry up, they snap off. Women gather them to burn. They represent a nation without wisdom. Their Innovator lacks sympathy for them, and the One who shaped them does not show them kindness.
12 The Sovereign Captain will separate the grain that day. People from Israel will be gathered individually from the Euphrates River to Egypt.
13 Remember this: A powerful signal will be given. People who are close to death in Assyria and those who were sent away to Egypt will come back to honor the Sovereign Captain at His high mountain in Yerushalayim.

§ 20740 MISFORTUNE AWAITS THE LEADERS OF EPHRAIM AND JUDAH

28 Alcohol has ruined the arrogant people of Ephraim, withering the once beautiful garland.
This happened in the prosperous valley where they lived.
2 Be mindful: the Sovereign Captain possesses a powerful and intense force. It is like a storm with hail and a destructive gust, similar to a heavy downpour and an overwhelming flood. He will forcefully throw it to the Earth.
3 Those who are intoxicated will destroy Ephraim's proud symbol.
4 Remember this: The beautiful flowers on the valley's top will look like early figs before they are picked. Once you see and touch them, they will be gone in an instant.

5 On that day, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will become a magnificent wreath and a splendid garland for the remaining pathseekers.
6 He will ensure fair decisions in the judicial process and strengthen those defending the city from enemies.
7 These people also stumble because of wine and stagger from beer: Priests and prophets alike reel from alcohol. They are led astray by wine and stagger from beer, befuddled with wine; they stagger when seeing visions; they stumble when rendering decisions.
8 Every surface is covered in vomited food, with no clean areas.
9 Who is He trying to teach? Who is He supposed to explain His teachings to, and is it to young children just starting to eat solid food or those recently weaned from breastfeeding?
10 They receive one command after another and one rule On another: "A piece here, a piece there."
11 The Preeminent Sovereign will speak strange languages and unfamiliar dialects to his people.
12 He told them, "This is a peaceful place where tired people can find comfort and rest." But they didn't want to listen.
13 Therefore, the Sovereign Captain's instructions to them will become: "Do this, finish that task; order for this situation, rule for that circumstance; step by step here, part by part there," leading them to struggle as they move forward, they will suffer harm, become trapped, and end up captured.
14 Listen up, leaders of Yerushalayim, Pay Heed to the message from the Sovereign Captain.
15 We are confident that we will be protected in the face of a devastating disaster because we have used deception and falsehoods to shield ourselves from harm.
16 The Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain declares: "I've set a foundation in the heart of the city—a secure and proven cornerstone that holds everything steady. Anyone who builds their life on this foundation will stand firm, unshaken by fear."

17 “I will prioritize fairness and integrity. Deception will be exposed, and secrets will be disclosed.”
18 “Your agreement with death will be canceled, and your pact with the underworld will not prevail. When the devastating disaster sweeps past, it will trample you.”
19 Every time it comes, it will whisk you away; it passes from dawn until dusk, day after day. Understanding this message will instill significant fear.
20 The sleeping surface is not big enough to stretch out, and the covering is too small to wrap around completely.
21 As He did in the Valley of Gibeon and Mount Perazim, the Commander will move decisively to fulfill His unusual and extraordinary duties.
22 Avoid making fun of others, or you will be more restricted. the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, disclosed a plan to bring ruin to the entire Earth.
23 Please focus on my voice and understand My Path.
24 Does a farmer always plow to sow? Does he consistently turn and cultivate the land?
25 After preparing the ground, the farmer plants dill seeds and scatters cumin seeds. Wheat is planted in its designated area, barley in its intended plot, and rye in its specific field.
26 The Eternal Reality of the farmer guides and enlightens him towards the right path.
27 A farmer does not crush caraway seeds with a heavy board or run a wagon wheel over cumin seeds. Instead, caraway seeds are extracted with a baton, and cumin seeds use a twig.
28 Bread needs the grain to be ground, but the grain is not continually beaten. The horse’s hooves do not crush the grain even though the cart’s wheels roll over it.
29 This wisdom comes from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, who has a great strategy and exceptional intelligence.

§ 20750 MISFORTUNE AWAITS DAVID’S HUB

29 Ariel, Ariel, the city where David made his home, how terrible it will be for you! Observe your annual rituals, and let your feasts run their course.
2 I will bring trouble to Ariel, leading to sadness and grief. It will seem as though fire surrounds me.
3 I will surround you with military camps, block you in with towers, and pile up dirt against your walls.
4 You will be brought low, talking from the ground, with your words barely heard, as if whispering from the dust.
5 Many enemies will become like dust, disappearing suddenly.
6 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will come with thunder, earthquakes, loud noises, windstorms, storms, and devouring fire.
7 The nations fighting Ariel will vanish like a dream and achieve nothing.
8-9 People will be confused and disoriented, as if drunk but not from alcohol.
10 The Preeminent Sovereign has cast a deep sleep, closing the eyes of prophets and hiding insights.
11 You will perceive the entire vision as a scroll with words sealed inside. If you give this important message to someone who cannot open it, they’ll say, ‘I can’t; it’s locked. ’
12 If you give it to someone who can’t read and ask them to explain, they’ll say, ‘I can’t read. ’
13 The Sovereign Captain says, “These people only give Me lip service; their inner selves are not with Me. They just follow human rules.
14 So, I will shock them again; the smart will become foolish. "
15 Misfortune awaits those hiding their plans, thinking no one sees them.

16 It’s wrong to think the Innovator and the creation are the same. Can a creation deny its Innovator?
17 Soon, Lebanon will turn fertile, and fertile lands will become forests.
18 Then, blind people and people who are deaf or hard of hearing will finally understand this message.
19 The poor and humble will be happy with the Sovereign Captain, the Exalted One of Israel.
20 The cruel, the mockers, and the dishonest will be gone.
21 This includes those who slander others in the court and deny justice.
22 “Jacob’s children won’t be ashamed; they’ll be proud of their Preeminent Sovereign, the Death Destroyer, as He did with Abraham.
23 They’ll honor the Preeminent Sovereign when they see their children, the Eternal Reality’s creation, and will respect Him.
24 Those who stray will understand; complainers will learn.”

§ 20760 MISFORTUNE AWAITS THE OBSTINATE NATION

30 “the Sovereign Captain warns the stubborn children who make decisions without consulting Him and form alliances without His advice, leading to worthless choices.
2 Those seeking help from Egypt without His guidance, trusting Pharaoh for protection, will face shame and dishonor.
3 Trusting Pharaoh will lead to shame, and seeking shelter in Egypt will bring dishonor.
4 This remains authentic even if their leaders are in Zoan and their envoys reach Hanes.
5 They will be embarrassed because relying on a nation that doesn’t help them results in shame and dishonor. “

6 There’s a vision concerning the dangerous southern lands, including fierce lions and venomous snakes. People carrying goods on animals head towards a nation that cannot help them.
7 They’re going towards Egypt for help, which is useless, so it’s called a Rehab, the Idle One.
8 Write this down as a permanent record.
9 This nation is rebellious and dishonest, ignoring guidance from the Sovereign Captain.
10 They prefer lies over authenticities from those who have visions or wisdom. They forbid eternally wise servants to have visions or speak the ultimate authenticity.
11 “Stop obstructing our journey, get out of our direction, and cease bombarding us with the Exalted One of Israel!”
12 So pronounces the Exalted One of Israel: “Seeing that you have disregarded this counsel, leaned on tyranny, and trusted in lies, 13 your transgression will become like a high, cracked wall that suddenly falls apart.”
14 It will break like pottery, completely shattered, so you can’t find a piece big enough to carry coals or scoop water.”
15 The Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain tells Israel’s people: To be saved, you must stop fighting and rely on calmness and trust. But you don’t listen.
16 You decided to flee using fast vehicles, thinking you could escape. But those chasing you will match your speed.
17 A small threat will make many of you run away; a slightly bigger threat and you’ll scatter until almost no one is left.

18 The Sovereign Captain plans to show you mercy and compassion because He values fairness. Those who trust in Him are fortunate.
19 People living in Yerushalayim will see an end to their suffering. He will show great kindness when you ask for help, answering immediately.

20 Even if the Sovereign Captain makes you endure hard times, you won't be left without guidance. You'll see the way forward.
21 You will be guided on the right path, feeling as if a voice behind you is showing you which way to go.
22 You will reject and discard your idolized deities, getting rid of them once and for all.
23 The Preeminent Sovereign will provide precipitation and nourishment for the seeds you plant in the soil. The land will be fertile, providing ample food for planting. Your animals will have vast fields to graze in.
24 Your working animals will eat well-prepared food, indicating prosperity.
25 When disasters occur, there will be a silver lining: nature will flourish, providing abundant water.
26 The light from the moon and sun will be much brighter, symbolizing healing and restoration from the Eternal Reality.
27 The Sovereign Captain's power and anger will be evident from afar, bringing fierce justice to wrongdoers.
28 He will lead those who oppose Him astray, displaying His dominance and obstructing their path.
29 Your celebrations will be joyful and heartfelt, like an exalted festival filled with music and happiness. Your inner selves will delight like those who ascend to the Sovereign Captain's mountain, to Israel's Foundation, to the rhythm of flutes.
30 The Eternal Reality will let everyone hear His powerful, awe-inspiring voice and reveal His striking arm descending in furious wrath, engulfed by destructive fire amidst driving rain, fierce storms, and hailstones.
31 The Sovereign Captain's might will overthrow enemies like Assyria, showcasing His strength.
32 His retribution will be both a spectacle and a lesson, combining justice with the delight of deliverance.
33 The Sovereign Captain will ignite Topheth, prepared by their leader for judgment, symbolizing His decisive and powerful justice.

§ 20770 MISFORTUNE AWAITS THOSE WHO RELY ON EGYPT

31 People seeking help in Egypt, relying on their military instead of the Sovereign Captain of Israel, are mistaken.
2 The Sovereign Captain is wise and powerful, and His words are unchanging. He opposes both the wrongful nation and its supporters.
3 The Egyptians are mere humans, and their armies are not divine. When the Sovereign Captain acts, both the helper and the helped will fail together.
4 The Sovereign Captain will protect His land like a mighty lion unafraid of sheep keepers, fighting for the City of the Eternal Reality and its hill. So the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will descend to wage conflict on the City of the Eternal Reality and its heights.

5 Like birds protecting their nest, the Sovereign Captain will safeguard Yerushalayim, ensuring its safety and freedom.
6 Israelites should return to the Preeminent Sovereign, whom they have deeply rebelled against.
7 Eventually, you will abandon the counterfeit idolized deities you made.
8 Assyria will fall, not by human means, but by a celestial force that will defeat them. They will flee in terror, and their soldiers will become enslaved.
9 Fear will destroy their defenses, and the sign of war will terrify their leaders, as the Sovereign Captain, whose presence is in the hub of David and His furnace in Yerushalayim, declares.

§ 20780 THE REALM OF INTEGRITY WITH THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

32 A wise leader acts with honesty and fairness.

2 everyone should be a source of strength and peace, like water in a desert or the cool shadow of a big rock in a dry land.
3 People will see clearly and listen carefully.
4 Those who are nervous will understand more, and those with trouble speaking will speak well.
5 Starting now, fools will not be respected, and tricksters won't be praised.
6 Thoughtless people speak and act without purity, spreading lies about the Sovereign Captain and neglecting needy people.
7 Wrongdoers plot harm against people experiencing poverty through lies, even when people experiencing poverty speak the authenticity.
8 Good people plan and act with nobility.

§ 20800 THE WOMEN OF YERUSHALAYIM

9 Women of Yerushalayim, listen and Pay Heed if you feel secure.
10 In just over a year, those who are too comfortable will panic; expected grape harvests will fail, and fruit collection will not happen as planned.
11 If you've been living without worry, it's time to change; discard your fancy clothes and dress as if in mourning.
12 I mourn the ruined farms and once-thriving rooftop gardens.
13 Mourn for the lands now covered with weeds and for the once-happy cities.
14 Important places will be empty, busy cities abandoned, and towers and lookouts will become wild, home to animals instead of people.
15 This will continue until we receive blessings from the Eternal Spark, turning barren land into fertile ground and creating dense forests where there were fields.

16 Goodness and fairness will fill these places, bringing prosperity and growth from the Celestial Sovereign Captain.
17 The results will be peace, lasting security, and complete trust forever.
18 People will live in peace, safe and quiet homes.
19 Even when disaster strikes the forests or cities, 20 You'll find happiness in farming, providing plenty for your animals.

§ 20810 DISTRESS AND HELP

33 “Misfortune befalls you, demolisher, who has yet to be demolished! Calamity strikes you, a deceiver who hasn’t been deceived! Once you cease demolishing, you will be destroyed; when you halt your deceit, you will be deceived.”

2 “My Sovereign Captain, show us mercy; we yearn for you. Be our arm of strength each dawn, our deliverance in periods of tribulation.”

3 Peoples retreat at the tumultuous clamor of your force; nations disperse when you manifest your dominance.

4 Young grasshoppers gather the loot of the nations; individuals descend on it just like a swarm of locusts.

5 The Sovereign Captain is honored as he resides in the celestial realms. He promises to infuse the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign with his fairness and integrity.

6 He will be the primary anchor in your epochs, a bountiful reservoir of deliverance, understanding, and enlightenment; reverential awe towards the Sovereign Captain is the pathway to this wealth.

7 Their courageous individuals publicly shouted; the emissaries advocating tranquility shed bitter tears.

8 The roads are vacant, with no voyagers on the paths. The pact is violated, its affirmers are scorned, and none is held in esteem.

9 The Earth deteriorates and decays; Lebanon feels humiliation and dwindles; Sharon resembles a desert; and Bashan and Carmel shed their foliage.

10 The Sovereign Captain states, “This is the moment for me to stand up. Now, I will be honored; now, I will magnify myself.

11 You nurture dry grass. You bring forth stubble; your breath acts like a fire that devours you.

12 Nations will be scorched till they become like white dust, just as pruned thorns are ignited into fire.

13 Those at a distance listen to my deeds; those nearby recognize my strength!”

14 Counterfeit individuals in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign are filled with dread; the impious are seized with shaking: “Can any of us make a home amidst the devouring flames? Can any of us exist amidst the perpetual inferno?”

15 Individuals who lead an honest life and express ultimate authenticity, those who refuse to profit from oppressive means and do not take bribes, avoid listening to murderous schemes, and refrain from thinking about committing evil deeds.

16 Such individuals will find fortresses in exalted places, their stronghold being the fortresses amidst the cliffs. Their sustenance will be ensured, and their water will be unfailing.

17 You will gaze on the Prime Ruler in all his splendor and behold a region that extends into the distance.

18 You will reflect on the past terrors and ask, “Where is the leading official? Who handled the income? Who was in command of the fortifications?”

19 You will no longer encounter those bold individuals who employ an unclear discourse that you cannot grasp, using a strange language beyond comprehension.

20 Observe the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, the location of our solemn feasts; your gaze will fall on Yerushalayim, a serene dwelling, a Tent never to be displaced; its pegs shall remain undisturbed, and none of its cords shall be severed.

21 Our Sovereign Captain will stand as our Mighty Protector there. It shall resemble a region of large rivers and broad streams. Oars will not propel any boat across, and no formidable vessel will set sail.

22 Our ruler is the Sovereign Captain, the Sovereign Captain establishes our laws, and our Prime Ruler is the Sovereign Captain. He is the one who will deliver us.

23 Your ship’s tackle is unsecured, the mast isn’t firmly held, and the sail isn’t unfurled. Consequently, plentiful spoils will be shared, and even those with physical impairments will obtain a portion of the loot.

24 No inhabitant of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign will utter, “I am sick.” The impurity of those residing there will be absolved.

§ 20820 JUDGMENT AGAINST THE NATIONS

34 “Gather around, all nations, and heed; be observant, you peoples! Let the Earth and everything within it listen.
2 The Sovereign Captain is furious with every nation, and His rage is against their militaries. He intends to eradicate them and hand them over for butchering.
3 The bodies of the slain will be discarded, emitting a foul odor; their blood will drench the hills.
4 Every celestial body will disintegrate; the celestial realms shall contract like a manuscript; the entire cosmic assembly will descend like wilted foliage from the vine, just like desiccated figs from the fig tree.
5 My tactical blade is filled in the sky; behold, it will descend on Edom in judgment, the community I have annihilated.
6 The tactical blade of the Eternal Reality is steeped in crimson, gorged on richness—the life’s fluid of lambs and goats, the unctuousness from the core of rams. The Eternal Reality orchestrates a formality in Bozrah and a colossal massacre in Edom.
7 The wild oxen, along with them, will collapse, and the youthful calves and mighty bulls will also succumb. Their terrain will be saturated with blood, and the Earth will be enriched with fatness.

8 The Sovereign Captain has chosen a time for punishment, a year when people must pay for their wrongs to uphold the cause of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign.

9 The rivers of Edom will transform into tar, its soil into fiery brimstone; the entire territory will ignite with burning tar!
10 The ceaseless flames will endure day and night. Its fumes will continually ascend. It will be left in ruins through succeeding generations. No individual will traverse it evermore.
11 The wasteland shall be claimed by the hoot owl and the screech owl; the raven and the great owl shall make it their nesting ground. The Preeminent Sovereign will employ a measuring line of unrest and a plumb line of ruination on Edom.
12 She will lose all her leaders, and no state person will be left to ensovereign a Prime Ruler.
13 Thistles will invade her fortifications, her strongholds overwhelmed by nettles and brambles. It will turn into a dwelling for jackals and a fortress for owls.
14 Beasts of the desert shall rendezvous with hyenas, and wild goats shall call out to each other. Nightly creatures will find solace there and establish their spots of repose.
15 The site will be a nesting ground for the owl, where she'll lay and incubate her eggs, nurturing her offspring in the protective cover of her plumage. The falcons, too, will assemble in that area, each paired with its partner.
16 Examine the record of the Sovereign Captain and study: None of these shall be absent; each will have its companion. As His decree has been proclaimed, His Eternal Spark will assemble them.
17 He determines their sectors; His hand apportions them precisely. They will claim it permanently and reside there from one era to the next."

§ 20830 DELIGHT OF THE REDEEMED

35 The barren and arid regions will exult; the wasteland will celebrate and flourish like a spring bloom.

2 The land will flourish dramatically, expressing immense delight and resonance with jubilation. The grandeur of Lebanon will be given on it, as well as the magnificence of Carmel and Sharon; they will witness the majesty of the Sovereign Captain and the radiant acclaim of our Preeminent Sovereign.
3 Empower the weak arms and stabilize the trembling knees.
4 Express to those harboring apprehensive inner selves: 'Gather courage, release your fear; your Eternal Reality is on the way, and He will arrive with reprisal; armed with celestial compensation, He will rescue you. '
5 The sight of those who are blind will be restored, and hearing will return to those who are deaf.
6-7 Then those bound by limitations will move freely, and silent voices will burst with joy. Renewal will flow through barren districts, and neglected neighborhoods will bubble with life.

8 A thoroughfare known as the Route of Exaltedness will emerge. It's designated for those who tread on its path. Individuals tainted with impurity won't traverse it, nor will the malevolent simpletons wander on it.
9 There will be no menacing lion or vicious creature; their presence will not be detected there. Exclusively, those who are liberated will tread on that path.
10 Individuals redeemed by the Sovereign Captain will make their return. The song will accompany their entrance into the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign; eternal jubilation will ensovereign them. Contentment and ecstasy will envelop them, while sadness and lamentation will make their escape.

§ 20840 SENNACHERIB THREATENS YERUSHALAYIM

36 In the fourteenth year of Prime Ruler Hezekiah's reign, Sennacherib, the Assyrian Prime Ruler, attacked and captured all of Judah's protected cities.

2 He then sent his military chief with a large force from Lachish to confront Hezekiah in Yerushalayim. On the way to the Field of the Cloth Bleacher, the commander stopped at the Upper Pool's water channel.
3 Eliakim, Hilkiah's son and overseer of the governance household; Shebna, the governance intelligence analyst; and Joah, Asaph's son and chronicler, met him there.

4 The field leader said, "Tell Hezekiah: 'This is what the majestic Prime Ruler of Assyria says: What is the basis of your confidence?
5 You claim to have strategy and strength for war, but your words are empty. Who do you trust to rebel against me?
6 You rely on Egypt, a fragile reed that breaks and injures anyone who leans on it. Pharaoh, the Prime Ruler of Egypt, is just as unreliable.
7 If you say, 'We trust in the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, ' isn't He the one whose exalted sites and altars Hezekiah removed, telling Judah and Yerushalayim to elevate this pedestal table exclusively?
8 Make a deal with my overseer, the Prime Ruler of Assyria: I will give you two thousand armored personnel carriers if you can provide riders for them!
9 How can you resist even one of my overseer's officers while relying on Egypt for assault forces and strike vehicles?
10 Do you think I attacked and destroyed this land without the Sovereign Captain's approval? the Sovereign Captain told me to march against this nation and destroy it. '"

11 Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah asked the field commander to speak in Aramaic so they could understand, and not in Hebrew, as the people on the wall could hear.
12 The field commander replied, "Did My Sovereign Captain send me only to your ruler and you? No, it's also for those on the wall who will suffer like you."

13 The field commander shouted in Hebrew, "Hear the proclamations of the illustrious Prime Ruler of Assyria!
14 The Prime Ruler says: Don't let Hezekiah deceive you. He can't save you!
15 Don't let Hezekiah make you trust in the Sovereign Captain by saying, 'the Sovereign Captain will save us; Assyria won't capture this city. '
16 Ignore Hezekiah. The Assyrian Prime Ruler offers peace if you surrender. You will eat from your rooftop garden and fig tree and drink from your well.
17 Until I come to relocate you to a land like yours—rich in grain, wine, bread, and rooftop gardens.
18 Don't let Hezekiah's claim mislead you that the Sovereign Captain will save us. Has any nation's idolized deities saved their lands from Assyria?
19 Where are the idolized deities of Hamath and Arpad? What about Sepharvaim? Did they rescue Samaria from me?
20 Which idolized deities have ever saved their lands from my hand? How can Yahweh save Yerushalayim from me?"

21 The Prime Ruler commanded, and the people remained silent.
22 Eliakim, Shebna, and Joshua went to Hezekiah with torn clothes and reported the field commander's words.

§ 20850 YERUSHALAYIM'S DELIVERANCE FORETOLD

37 Upon hearing the news, Prime Ruler Hezekiah tore his garments, donned mourning attire, and went to the Sovereign Captain's fortress.
2 Eliakim, the palace steward, Shebna, the state secretary, and notable somber-clothing-clad ensovereigned mediators were sent to Isaiah, the male heir of Amoz, the eternal wisdom beholder.
3 "Hezekiah has declared," they informed him, "today is a time of suffering, insult, and humiliation, like a baby ready to be birthed with no energy left for delivery.

4 The disrespectful field commander, sent by his overseer, the Assyrian Prime Ruler, speaks words to scorn the living Eternal Reality, addressing you, the Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain. He might correct him for the words you've heard. So, meld your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign for the remaining survivors."
5 The delegates of Prime Ruler Hezekiah approached Isaiah.
6 Isaiah instructed them: "Convey to their overseer: the Sovereign Captain declares: 'Do not tremble in fear due to the words you've heard—the insults that the subordinates of the Assyrian Prime Ruler have used to defame me.
7 Pay heed! On receiving a particular piece of news, I will instigate his desire to retreat to his homeland, and there he will meet his end by the tactical blade. '"
8 On learning that the Assyrian Prime Ruler had departed from Lachish, the field commander retreated and found the Prime Ruler engaged in a confrontation with Libnah.
9 Sennacherib was alerted that Tirhakah, the Prime Ruler of Cush, had mobilized to engage him in battle. On receiving this intelligence, he dispatched envoys to Hezekiah with a message.
10 "Convey to Prime Ruler Hezekiah of Judah: 'Don't let the Eternal Reality you lean on delude you with claims that Yerushalayim won't fall into Assyrian control. '
11 You know the devastation the Assyrian Prime Rulers wrought on all nations. Do you think you will escape this fate?
12 Were the nations my predecessors destroyed—Gozan, Harran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden in Tel Assar—rescued by their idolized deities?
13 What became of the Prime Ruler of Hamath or the Prime Ruler of Arpad? What happened to the Prime Rulers of Lair, Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?'"

§ 20860 HEZEKIAH'S MELDING OF HIS CONSCIENCE

14 After reading the messengers' message, Hezekiah proceeded to the Preeminent Sovereign's stronghold and presented it to the Eternal Reality.

15 Hezekiah implored the Sovereign Captain.
16 “Sovereign of the Universe, Eternal Reality of Israel, stationed above the representation of a Celestial Envoy, you are the Preeminent Sovereign over all nations on Earth. You are the Innovator of the sky and the terrestrial landscape.
17 Captain, listen and observe; consider Sennacherib’s words mocking the living Preeminent Sovereign.
18 Captain, the Prime Rulers of Assyria have devastated these nations and their territories.
19 The idolized deities were cast into flames and destroyed as mere creations of timber and stone crafted by human hands.
20 Now, our Sovereign Captain, liberate us from his control so that all territories on Earth may recognize you as the singular Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 20870 SENNACHERIB’S FALL

21 Isaiah, the heir of Amoz, conveyed a message to Hezekiah: “the Sovereign Captain, Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, has declared: ‘In light of your meldings with the Preeminent Sovereign about Sennacherib, the Prime Ruler of Assyria.
22 This Sovereign Captain’s pronouncement is about him: ‘The virgin daughter of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign scorns and ridicules you. As you retreat, the daughter of Yerushalayim shakes her head at you.
23 Whom have you scorned and defamed? Against whom have you amplified your speech and hoisted your eyes in arrogance? It’s against the exalted One of Israel!’
24 You have used your emissaries to scorn the Sovereign Captain. You have boasted, ‘With my extensive fleet of strike vehicles, I have reached the mountainous peaks, the highest points of Lebanon. I have felled its loftiest cedars, the finest of its pines. I have ventured to its farthest summit, the most lush of its woodlands.

25 I’ve excavated wells in foreign territories and consumed their water. I’ve managed to deplete all of Egypt’s rivers using exclusively the bottoms of my feet. ’
26 Isn’t it known that I have designated this since ancient times? I mapped it out in the distant past now. I’ve caused it to transpire, leading you to convert heavily fortified cities into heaps of rubble.
27 Their strength is gone, leaving them humiliated and disheartened—like rooftop gardens in the summer heat, dried out before they have a chance to thrive.
28 I know your location, comings and goings, and intense fury towards me.
29 Given your fury towards me and your arrogance has reached my hearing, I’ll set my hook in your nostril and my bit in your mouth, leading you back to the path from which you arrived.
30 This proclamation is your sign, Hezekiah: During the current year, you’ll consume what sprouts spontaneously, and the following year, what emerges from that. But in the third year, they sow and harvest crops, establish rooftop gardens, and enjoy their produce.
31 Again, those who have survived in Judah will strengthen their roots in the soil and become productive above the ground.
32 A few individuals will emerge from Yerushalayim, and a group of survivors will escape from City of the Eternal Reality. The emotional commitment of the Sovereign Captain of the Celestial Realm’s Armies will ensure this happens.
33 The Sovereign Captain pronounces this about the Prime Ruler of Assyria: He will not infiltrate this city or launch a projectile here. He will not approach it with a ballistic shield or construct a siege mound against it.
34 He will retreat through the same path he arrived; he won’t step foot in this city, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

35-36 I will shield and rescue this city for my honor and the good of my servant David!'" Subsequently, the Sovereign Captain's messenger annihilated one hundred and eighty-five thousand men within the Assyrian encampment. At dawn, people saw nothing, but lifeless bodies strewn about!

37 So Sennacherib, the Prime Ruler of Assyria, dismantled his camp and retreated. He made his way back to Nineveh, where he remained.
38 During a formality in the fortress of his idolized deity Nisrok, his children Adrammelek and Sharezer assassinated him using a blade, after which they fled to Ararat. Following this, command control was succeeded by his offspring, Esarhaddon.

§ 20880 HEZEKIAH'S ILLNESS

38 During that period, Hezekiah fell mortally ill. Isaiah, the eternally wise servant and heir of Amoz, delivered a message from the Sovereign Captain, advising him to set his affairs in order as his end was imminent.
2-3 Hezekiah turned to the wall and melded his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, pleading, "Captain, recall how trustfully I've served you, dedicating myself entirely and carrying out pleasing actions in your sight." Hezekiah then wept profusely.

4-5 Isaiah received another message from the Sovereign Captain: "Tell Hezekiah, 'So proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Eternal Reality of your forefather David: I have perceived your supplications and witnessed your sorrow; I will extend your existence by fifteen years.
6 I will rescue you and shield this metropolis from the Assyrian Prime Ruler.
7 This pledge is from the Sovereign Captain to you that He will fulfill what He has proclaimed.
8 I will reverse the sun's shadow across the ten steps it has descended on Ahaz's staircase. '" So, the sun's rays retraced the ten steps they had declined.

9-10 Prime Ruler Hezekiah's reflection after his sickness and healing: "Must I depart in the zenith of my existence and enter the realm of the deceased, being deprived of my remaining years?"
11 "I'll never behold the Sovereign Captain again in this territory of existence; I will cease to see those of my species or accompany those currently residing there.

12 My fortress has been dismantled like a guardian's shelter. Like a weaver, I've wrapped up my existence, and he has severed me from the weaving frame; ceaselessly, you've brought my life to a halt.
13 I endured until sunrise, yet as a lion, he shattered all my bones; from dusk until dawn, you concluded my existence.
14 I chattered like a swallow or crane; I mourned like a dove. My gaze became weary from endless upward peering. Amidst looming threats, I beckon you for support, Captain!"

15 "What can I utter? He communicated with me and carried out this act. I will tread gently throughout my lifetime due to the deep distress of my inner-self.
16 Preeminent sovereign individuals thrive through such occurrences; also, my inner self inner-self existence within them. You rejuvenated my health, allowing me to continue living.
17 Indeed, my intense suffering was ultimately for my good. Your affection spared me from the abyss of destruction and disregarded all my transgressions.
18 Neither the underworld can express gratitude, nor can death praise you; those who descend into the pit can't anticipate your trustworthiness.

19 Those still living, just like me today, praise you, and these fathers pass on tales of your unwavering loyalty to their offspring.
20 The Sovereign Captain is set to deliver me, and we shall perform music using stringed tools throughout our existence in the Sovereign Captain's fortress."

21 Isaiah had instructed him to create a salve from figs and rub it on the inflamed spot for his recovery.
22 Hezekiah asked, "What's the indication that I'll ascend to the Sovereign Captain's fortress?"

§ 20890 ENVOYS FROM BABYLON

39 During that era, Merodach-Baladan, son of Baladan and ruler of Babylon, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah upon learning of his illness and recovery.
2 Hezekiah warmly received the envoys, showing them his treasures: silver, gold, spices, refined olive oil, his entire armory, and wealth. Nothing in his palace or realm was hidden from them.
3 Isaiah, the eternally wise servant, asked Prime Ruler Hezekiah, "Where did these men come from, and what did they say?" "They traveled from a remote land, from Babylon," Hezekiah retorted.
4 Isaiah asked, "What did they see in your palace?" "Everything," Hezekiah answered. "I showed them all my treasures."
5 Isaiah told Hezekiah, "Hear the message from the Eternal Reality.
6 The time will come when everything in your palace and all your forefathers' wealth up to this day will be carried off to Babylon. Nothing will be left," declares the Sovereign Captain.
7 "Some of your descendants will be taken away and become officials in the Prime Ruler's court in Babylon."
8 Hezekiah responded positively to the message from the Preeminent Sovereign, trusting it was good and trusting that peace and security would prevail during his lifetime.

§ 20900 COMFORT FOR THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S PEOPLE

40 "Give solace to my people," proclaims you, the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 "Address Yerushalayim with gentle words and announce to her that her period of enforced labor is over, her iniquity has been compensated for, and that she has endured from the hand of the Sovereign Captain a punishment twice as severe for all her transgressions."

3 Listen to the proclamation: "In the desolate lands, prepare the path for the Sovereign Captain; construct a thoroughfare for our Preeminent Sovereign in the barren terrain.
4 Every hollow will be elevated, each peak and hill will be brought down; uneven surfaces will become smooth, and the rocky areas will transform into a flat expanse.
5 The Eternal Reality's brilliance will be unveiled like a citywide broadcast, and everyone will witness it together because the Sovereign Captain has declared it.

6-7 A voice suggests, "Speak out!" And I responded, "What should I utter?" All people are like fading trends, and their promises like fleeting social media posts. Trends pass, and posts are forgotten, but the word of our God remains constant forever.

9 Herald of joyful news to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign ascends a towering hill.
Messenger proclaiming joyous developments to Yerushalayim, raise your voice in a mighty cry, amplify it, let no fear hold you back; declare to the cities of Judah, “Pay Heed, Your Eternal Reality is here!”
10 Pay Heed: The Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain approaches with strength, and His arm governs with considerable force. Observe that His compensation is carried with Him, and His repayment precedes Him.
11 He cares for His people like a loving protector, carrying the weak in His arms and holding them close. He walks patiently with those who need extra care.

12 Who has encompassed the waters in the palm of his hand or used his hand’s width to set the boundaries of the celestial realms? Who has measured the Earth’s dust with a measuring cup or balanced the mountains and hills on scales?

13 Who can comprehend the mind of the Sovereign Captain or offer advice to Him as a guide?
14 Who did the Sovereign Captain seek advice from for insight, and who educated him on integrity? Who was the one who imparted knowledge to him or guided him down the path of discernment?
15 Surely the nations are like a drop in a bucket; they are as weightless as a speck on a scale.
Even vast cities are as fleeting as fine particles in the air.
16 Even Lebanon’s resources, including its trees for fuel and fauna, are inadequate for a proper reconciliation payment.
17 All the nations are insignificant before him; he sees them as utterly formless and less than nothing.

18 To whom can you equate the Preeminent Sovereign, and what likeness can you set up for a comparison to Him?
19 For an idolized deity, a craftsman forms it, a goldsmith covers it with gold and creates silver chains.
20 An individual too impoverished to afford such a contribution opts for a type of timber resistant to decay; they seek an adept artisan to craft and construct an artifact, an idolized deity that won’t fall over.

21 Aren’t you aware? Hasn’t the information reached you? Hasn’t it been disclosed to you from the onset? Haven’t you grasped it from the time the Earth was established?
22 Seated over the Earth’s disk, the Preeminent Sovereign views its dwellers as insects. He unfolds the celestial realms like a veil and lays them out like a dwelling tent.
23 He diminishes Prime Rulers’ power and renders this world’s leaders insignificant.

24 Barely have they been planted and just started to grow when his mere breath causes them to dry up, and a strong wind carries them off like straw.

25 “Who can you equate Me with? Is anyone parallel to me?” questions the Exalted Sovereign.
26 Direct your gaze towards the celestial realms: Who is the architect? The one who leads forth the celestial bodies individually and identifies each through their unique name. Owing to his immense might and tremendous power, none are absent.

27 Why do you grumble, Jacob? Why do you assert to Israel, “the Sovereign Captain does not perceive my predicament, and my Preeminent Sovereign ignores my claim?”

28 Are you not aware? Haven't you been told? the Sovereign Captain is the Eternal Reality, architecting the Earth's furthest corners. He never experiences exhaustion or fatigue; his wisdom is beyond human comprehension.
29 He invigorates the exhausted and multiplies the potency of those lacking vigor.
30 Even the young can become exhausted, and the fit may falter and collapse;
31 Those who trust the Sovereign Captain will renew their power. They will rise high as if, with eagles' wings, go on without exhaustion; they will proceed without growing weak.

§ 20910 THE HELPER OF ISRAEL

41 "Stay quiet before me, you coast! Let the nations regain their might! Allow them to step forward and articulate; let's convene at the assessment location,
2, who has awakened the integrid one from the East and summoned him for his service in integrity. He delivers nations into his hands and subjugates their Prime Rulers. He transforms them into dust with his tactical blade, and his projectile launcher turns them into chaff blown by the wind.

3 He tracks them down and advances harmlessly along a route his feet haven't traversed before.
4 Who executed this and carried it out, summoning the generations Since the Inception? It's me, the Sovereign Captain, present with the first and the last."

5 The islands have witnessed it and are filled with dread; the furthest reaches of the Earth shake with trepidation. They draw closer and advance.
6 They assist one another and tell their mates, "Stay resilient!"
7 The craftsman boosts the goldsmith, while the one who polishes with the hammer inspires the one hitting the anvil. One remark on the soldering is that it is declared satisfactory. The other secures the idolized deity with nails to prevent it from falling over.

8 "Israel, my chosen servant, Jacob, and the progeny of my dear friend Abraham.
9 I called on you From the Earth's most extreme regions. Declaring, 'You are my servant, ' I selected you and did not cast you aside.
10 Feel no anxiety, for I stand with you; allow no intimidation, for I am your Eternal Reality. I will fortify and assist you and sustain you with my mighty hand.
11 Every individual expressing anger towards you will face humiliation and disgrace. Adversaries challenging you will amount to nothing and will cease to exist.
12 Even if you look for your adversaries, you won't locate them. Those who decide to fight against you will turn into nothing, completely non-existent.
13 I, the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, am the one who grasps your strong hand, reassuring you not to be afraid, for I am here to aid you.
14 Fear not, O Jacob, you tiny worm, let not terror grip you, for I am here to assist you," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, your liberator, the Exalted One of Israel."

15 Pay Heed: I will transform you into a new and sharp threshing instrument with numerous teeth. You will tear apart the mountains and reduce them to dust, making the hills seem as insignificant as chaff.
16 You will toss them in the air, the wind lifts them, and a storm wind scatters them. However, you will take delight in the Eternal and bask in the acclaim of the Pure One of Israel.
17-18 The overlooked and struggling seek resources, but find nothing; they're weary and exhausted. Yet I, the Eternal Reality, will provide for them. I will create flowing renewal in neglected high-rises and bubbling vitality in forgotten alleys. I will transform abandoned spaces into vibrant community centers and dry, lifeless zones into hubs of activity.

19 I will establish cedars, acacias, myrtles, and olives in the arid landscape. I will place junipers, firs, and cypresses in the barren wasteland.
20 So that all might observe, recognize, ponder, and comprehend, the Sovereign Captain has done the deed, and the Pure One of Israel is the Innovator.

21 “Submit your cause,” declares the Sovereign Captain. “Unveil your evidence,” proclaims the Prime Ruler of Jacob.
22 “Enlighten us, your counterfeit idolized deities, about future events. Discuss past occurrences. It enables us to reflect on them and comprehend their ultimate consequences. Alternatively, please share with us the incidents that are yet to transpire.
23 Enlighten us with what is to come so we may realize you are celestial. Perform a deed, be it noble or malicious, that we might be terrified and overwhelmed.
24 You amount to less than nothing, and your achievements are completely valueless; anyone who selects you is disgusting.
25 I have awakened an individual from the North, and he arrives someone from the dawn who acknowledges my name. He tramples on officials as if they were mud as if he were a craftsman stamping the Earth.

26 Who disclosed this from the start, allowing us to understand, or in advance, leading us to assert, ‘He is correct. ’ Indeed, none unveiled this, predicted it, or perceived any utterance from you.
27 I initially announced to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, ‘Pay Heed! they have arrived!’ I supplied Yerushalayim with a herald bearing joyful tidings.
28 None of these idolized deities offer advice or answer my questions when I seek guidance.
29 Observe that all of them are delusions! Their accomplishments are non-existent; their artifacts are merely air and chaos.”

§ 20920 THE SERVANT OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

42 “Pay heed: my chosen servant, in whom my inner-self finds pleasure; I have given my Eternal Spark to him, and he is destined to establish integrity among the nations.
2 His voice won’t echo through the avenues, and he will neither yell nor holler.
3 He will not extinguish a flickery flame or snap off a broken plant. He’ll faithfully enforce the Mosaic Law.
4 He won’t lose hope or grow weak until justice prevails worldwide. Distant lands beyond the sea eagerly await his instruction.”

5 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign, the originator of the celestial realms, expands them and unfolds the territory with everything that sprouts from it, who grants breath to its inhabitants, and existence to those who traverse it, proclaims:
6-7 “I, the Sovereign Captain, have called you to live in integrity and will guide you every step. I’ll sustain you and make you a beacon for the nations—a guide for those blinded by confusion, a liberator for the trapped, and a light breaking into the deepest corners of despair."

[8] I am the Eternal Reality. My name is I Am! I will not let another claim my unique acclaim, nor will my praise be directed towards graven images.
[9] The past events have already transpired, and I am predicting fresh happenings; even before they materialize, I share them with you.”

§ 20930 SONG OF PRAISE TO THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

[10] Sing a new song to the Preeminent Sovereign, and praise him from the ends of the Earth, you who sail the seas and all within them, the distant islands, and their inhabitants.
[11] Let the wilderness and its cities rejoice; let Kedar’s communities be glad. Let those in Sela sing joyfully; let their jubilation echo from the mountain tops.
[12] Let the distant lands honor the Sovereign Captain and proclaim his praise on the islands.
[13] The Sovereign Captain will advance like a hero, stirring his zeal like a warrior, ready for battle; he will shout triumphantly and assert his dominance over his adversaries.
[14] “I have been silent for a long time, holding back. But now I will pant and gasp and cry out like a laboring woman.
[15] “I will dry up ponds and convert rivers into islands; I will destroy hills and mountains and all of their vegetation.
[16] "I’ll guide those who feel lost along unexpected routes, lighting up the path ahead and turning rough roads into smooth streets."
[17] “Those who trust in counterfeit idolized deities and say to their carved images, ‘You are our idolized deities, ’ will be put to shame and humiliated.”

§ 20940 ISRAEL BLIND AND DEAF

[18] “Listen, those with unhearing ears; observe, those with unseeing eyes!

[19] Who can be more sightless than my servant or as deaf and hard of hearing as the envoy I dispatch? Who can be as sightless as the one in a pact with me or as sightless as the Sovereign Captain’s devotee?
[20] Despite witnessing numerous events, you remain indifferent; your auditory senses function, yet you choose not to heed.
[21] In demonstrating His integrity, the Sovereign Captain took delight in elevating and glorifying His Law.
[22] However, these are individuals who have been robbed and despoiled, all of them snared in holes or concealed within prisons. They’ve transformed into booty with no one to deliver them; they’ve been subjected to pillage, and there’s no one demanding their return.
[23] Is there anyone among you who will heed this and carefully consider what will come?
[24] Who authorized the despoliation of Jacob and the pillaging of Israel? Was it not the Sovereign Captain whom we have offended? They refused to adhere to His path and ignored His teachings.
[25] So, he unleashed fiery wrath on them and the brutality of the conflict. It wrapped them in searing flames, yet they remained oblivious; it devoured them, but they failed to comprehend its importance. “

§ 20950 ISRAEL'S ONLY REDEMPTION

43 This proclamation is from the Sovereign Captain, the architect of your being, Jacob, and the designer of your existence, Israel: "Do not fear, for I have liberated you; I have invoked your identification; you belong to me.
2 When you navigate turbulent challenges, I will be beside you. When overwhelming currents threaten, they won't overtake you. When you face the heat of trials, you won't be scorched; the flames of hardship will not consume you.
3 I am your Redeemer, the Eternal Reality of Israel, who saves you. I have traded Egypt for your freedom, exchanging Cush and Seba for your liberation.
4 Because you hold immense value and respect, I will surrender others to safeguard you and risk entire nations to preserve you due to my affection for you.

5 Fear not, for I am with you. I will bring your offspring from the East and gather you from the West.
6 I will command the North, 'Surrender them!' and the South, 'Do not withhold them. ' Escort my sons from distant places and my daughters from the farthest corners of the globe.
7 All who claim me as their Preeminent Sovereign, created for my acclaim and meticulously shaped and brought into existence."
8 Summon individuals who, despite possessing sight, cannot see and those with hearing ability yet fail to hear.
9 The nations unite, and the populace congregates. Which among their idolized deities can predict such events and enlighten us regarding prior happenings? Let them bring forth their evidence bearers to substantiate their accuracy so others can say, 'It is indeed factual. '
10 "You stand as my testimony," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "and the servant I've selected, for you to recognize, trust in me, and comprehend that I am the one. No Eternal Reality was crafted before me, and there will be none succeeding me.
11 I alone am the Sovereign Captain, and no one can enact redemption except me.
12 I disclosed, rescued, and announced not some outsider Eternal Reality among you. You are my affirmations," asserts the Sovereign Captain, "that I am the Eternal Reality."
13 Indeed, I have existed since old times. No one can save me from my power. Once I take action, who can undo it?

§ 20960 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S MERCY AND ISRAEL'S DISLOYALTY

14 The Sovereign Captain, your liberator and exalted Entity of Israel, declares: "For your benefit, I will send the Babylonians away as refugees on their prized vessels.
15 I am your Sovereign Captain, the exalted entity, the maker of Israel, your Prime Ruler."

16 The Sovereign Captain, who carved a route through the ocean and a passage amidst the mighty waves, 17 who brought in strike vehicles and armored personnel carriers, says they have settled and will not rise again; they are extinguished like a lamp wick.
18 "Forget the past; do not dwell on bygone days.
19 Pay heed: I will initiate something new. It is emerging; can't you see it? I am carving a path through the chaos and bringing renewal to barren places.

20 My chosen people, the jackals and the owls, show me respect because I ensure there is water in the barren lands and streams in the desolate wilderness for their thirst.
21 The populace I established for myself will give voice to my commendation.
22 Jacob, you have not sought my help, and Israel, you have not exhausted yourself for me.
23 You haven't presented me with sheep as absolving payments to be scorched, nor have you respected me with your absolving gifts. I haven't burdened you with cereal-absolving payments or exhausted your incense requirements.
24 You haven't purchased any aromatic cane for me or indulged me with the richness of your absolving payments. Instead, you've burdened me with your transgressions and exhausted me with your misdeeds.
25 I am the one who erases your rebellious deeds for my benefit and will not recall your unworthy choices.
26 Refresh my memory regarding what transpired. Let us discuss this matter collectively and present your argument for your innocence.
27 Your initial ancestor committed wrongdoing; those I sent to educate you defied me.
28 So, I brought dishonor on the high officials of your fortress, subjected Jacob to destruction, and exposed Israel to ridicule."

§ 20970 ISRAEL THE CHOSEN

44 Now pay heed, Jacob, my servant, my selected one, Israel.
2 The Innovator who fashioned and assisted you since birth declares: "Fear not, my servant
Jacob, and Jeshurun, my chosen one.
3 I will supply revitalizing energy to parched neighborhoods, like streams flowing into underserved areas. I will pour out my Eternal Spark to empower future generations and bless those who follow you.
4 They will sprout among the grasses, growing vibrant and tall like the willow trees lining a riverbank.
5 Some individuals will proclaim, 'I am Yahweh's'; others will identify themselves using Jacob's name; others will inscribe, 'Belonging to the Sovereign Captain' on their hands and adopt the name of Israel."

§ 20980 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN, NOT IDOLIZED DEITIES

6 The Sovereign Captain and Rescuer of Israel declare: "I am the beginning and the end. No Preeminent Sovereign exists besides Me.
7 Who can match me? Let them affirm it and predict future events.
8 Don't fear or be terrified. Haven't I made everything known to you long ago? You are my proof.
Could there be any Preeminent Sovereign other than me? Indeed, there is no other stronghold;
I am unaware of any."

9 Those who create idolized deities are futile, and their cherished objects carry no value. The individuals who defend them lack sight and knowledge, leading to their disgrace.
10 Who crafts an idolized deity and forms an image without benefit?
11 Those who commit such crimes will be ashamed; these craftsmen are only mortal. They will succumb to fear and humiliation if they band together and take a stance.

12 The ironworker labors over the burning coals with a tool, forming an idolized deity using a hammer and his arm’s power. As he works, he becomes famished, and his energy diminishes; he refrains from drinking water and becomes weak.
13 The artisan applies a measuring line and drafts an image using a marker; he sculpts it with chisels and elaborates it with a compass. He crafts it to resemble a human being, a figure of remarkable beauty designed to inhabit a fortress.
14 He chopped down cedars or possibly selected a cypress or an oak. He allowed it to flourish among the forest trees or planted a pine, and the precipitation helped it grow.

15 This material serves as a heat source; a portion is utilized to create warmth, and a fire is ignited for preparing food. Interestingly, the same material is used to construct an idolized deity for adoration; an idolized deity is crafted and reverenced while kneeling.
16 Using half of the timber, the craftsman kindles a flame; atop it, he readies his meal, sizzles his vegetables, and consumes until satiated. He also derives warmth from it and expresses it as exhilarating! “I feel the heat; I behold the blaze.”
17 He uses the leftovers to create a deity, his idolized deity; he prostrates and pays adoration. He implores it, stating, “Rescue me! You’re my deity!”

18 They grasp nothing; their comprehension is non-existent; their vision is clouded, preventing them from seeing; and their minds are impenetrable, stopping them from understanding.
19 No one perceives they have used half the wood for heat; they even cooked bread on its ashes and prepared meat they consumed. Should they transform the remaining piece into an offensive object? Should they prostrate themselves before a piece of timber?
20 An individual like this exists on ashes; a misguided mind leads him astray; he is incapable of rescuing himself or even uttering, “Isn’t this object in my dominant hand a falsehood?”

21 Bear in mind these facts, Jacob, because you, Israel, serve as my servant. I crafted you, and you remain my servant; Israel, I will never forget you.
22 I have cleared away your wrongdoings like a misty cloud; your unworthy choices vanish like the dawn fog. Come back to me, for I have set you free.
23 Rejoice, the celestial realms, for the Sovereign Captain has accomplished this; let the Earth below resonate with delight. Allow the mountains, forests, and all their trees to burst into joyful melody, for the Sovereign Captain has liberated Jacob and showcased his magnificence in Israel.

§ 20990 YERUSHALAYIM TO BE INHABITED

24 The One who rescued and shaped you before birth declares: “I am the Innovator of the universe, extending the celestial realms alone and laying out the Earth unaided.
25 I undermine the omens of false seers, turn diviners into jesters, overturn the wisdom of the enlightened, and transform their expertise into absurdity.
26 I put into effect the proclamations of My servants and actualize the forecasts of My messengers. I proclaim Yerushalayim, ‘She will be populated, ’ and the towns of Judah, ‘They will be reconstructed. ’
27 I command the enormous depths to empty, and your rivers will dry.
28 Regarding Cyrus, whom I decree as My guardian, he will fulfill all My desires and command Yerushalayim to be reconstructed and its fortress to establish foundations.

45 The Sovereign Captain declares to Cyrus, His chosen one: “I’m guiding your efforts to achieve victory, dismantling resistance before you. I’m unlocking opportunities, ensuring no barrier stays closed in your path.”

2 “I’ll lead the way for you, flatten mountains, shatter bronze gates, and slice through iron bars.

3 I will grant you treasures hidden in darkness and wealth concealed in undisclosed locations, acknowledging that I, the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, am the one who calls you by your name.
4 I call on your name and confer on you a prestigious rank for the benefit of My servant Jacob and My select nation, Israel, even though you do not recognize Me.
5 I am the Eternal Reality. No Preeminent Sovereign surpasses Me. Even though you haven’t recognized Me, I am preparing you for victory.
6 From dawn to dusk, it shall be recognized throughout the universe that no one else exists but
Me. I am the Sovereign Captain; there are no idolized deities.
7 I craft luminescence and spawn obscurity; I usher in well-being and instigate calamities; I, the Sovereign, am the author of all these events.
8 Skies on high, release My justice; let the mists rain it down. Enable the Earth to expand widely, allow redemption to sprout forth, and let integrity bloom together; I, the Eternal Reality, have manifested it.

9 Misery awaits those who contend with their Innovator; they are merely fragments among debris on the floor. Can the clay question the sculptor, ‘What are you creating?’ Does the creation claim, ‘The artist lacks hands’?
10 How dreadful for one who questions his father, ‘What are you procreating, ’ or challenges his mother, ‘What have you given birth to?’
11 The Sovereign Captain, the set-apart One of Israel and its Innovator, inquires: ‘Regarding future events, do you interrogate Me about My offspring or instruct Me on the labor of My own hands?
12 I am the architect of the Earth and the originator of humanity on it. My hands spread out the sky; I organized their celestial constellations.

13 I will awaken Cyrus in integrity. I will straighten all his paths. He will reconstruct My city and release My captives without seeking any compensation or reward, ’ declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

14 The Sovereign Captain declares, “The wealth of Egypt, the goods of Cush, and the towering Sabeans; they will cross over to you, becoming yours. They will follow behind you, arriving in restraints. They will kneel before you and implore you, affirming, ‘Undoubtedly, the Preeminent Sovereign resides with you, and there is no other; there is no Preeminent Sovereign apart from Him. ’”

15 Indeed, You are the Preeminent Sovereign who conceals Himself, the Eternal Reality’s Redeemer of Israel.
16 All creators of counterfeit idolized deities will be humiliated, dishonored, and depart united in their disgrace.
17 Israel will experience perpetual redemption through the Sovereign Captain. There will be no room for humiliation or disgrace forever.
18 It is the decree of the Sovereign Captain, the Innovator of the universe; He is the Eternal Reality; He shaped and constructed the Earth. He instituted it; He did not design it to be desolate but rather prepared it for habitation—He proclaims: “I am the Sovereign Captain; there exists no other.

19 I haven’t conveyed My Path in concealment or any dark corner of the world, nor did I instruct the offspring of Jacob to find Me fruitlessly. I, the Sovereign Captain, speak ultimate authenticity; I announce what is just.
20 Unite and approach; join together, you survivors from the nations. Those without knowledge bear wooden icons and entreat idolized deities incapable of rescue.
21 Proclaim and make known the future; let them deliberate together. Who disclosed these events in advance? Who announced them from afar? Wasn’t I the Sovereign Captain? There is no other Preeminent Sovereign besides Me— just the Preeminent Sovereign and a Redeemer; there is no other.
22 Look towards Me for redemption across the globe, for I alone am the Eternal Reality, and there is none other.

23 I have given My solemn oath; My lips have spoken with complete honesty a promise that cannot be changed: Every knee will surrender before Me; each tongue will affirm its loyalty to Me.

24 It will be declared concerning Me, ‘Only in the Sovereign Captain do we find redemption and might. ’” All those filled with fury against Him will approach Him and experience embarrassment.
25 All offspring of Israel will achieve justification through the Sovereign Captain and take pride in Him.

§ 21000 IDOLIZED DEITIES OF BABYLON

46 Bel kneels, Nebo bends; their idolized deities burden animals and beasts. These images are heavy loads, exhausting the weary.
2 They bend and kneel together, entering captivity, unable to save the load.

3 “Pay heed, family of Jacob, all who remain of Israel. Pay heed to whom I have supported since birth.
4 I will be with you even in old age and gray hair. As your Innovator, I will uphold, support, bear your burdens, and deliver you to safety.
5 Who can you compare to me? Who resembles me for comparison?
6 Individuals empty gold from their purses, weigh silver, commission a goldsmith to fashion an idolized deity, and then submit in reverence.
7 They hoist it on their shoulders and plant it in its spot where it remains. It cannot move or respond to pleas or rescue from adversities.

8 “Remember this; don’t let it slip from your thoughts; engrave it on your disobedient inner selves.
9 Recall past events; I am the Eternal Reality, with no other in existence; none matches me.
10 I announce outcomes before they begin; from the earliest times, what is yet to occur, I affirm, ‘My plan will prevail, and I will accomplish everything I wish. ’

11 I beckon a raptor from the East, a man from a distant country, to achieve my intent. What I have proclaimed, I will materialize; what I have designed, I will execute.
12 Hear me, strong-willed individuals far from my integrity.

13 My justice is advancing; it isn't distant; my deliverance won't be delayed. I'll grant liberation to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, my magnificence to Israel."

§ 21010 THE FALL OF BABYLON

47 "Descend into the grime, unspoiled offspring of Babylon; occupy the Earth without a command control, the sovereign metropolis of the Babylonians. You will no longer be called gentle or fragile.
2 Seize the heavy stones and grind grain into flour; remove your face-covering. Hoist your skirt, expose your thighs, and traverse the rivers.
3 everyone will witness your nudity, and your humiliation will be apparent. I am determined to retaliate; no individual shall be spared."

4 "The liberator of us—the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces by name—is Israel's set-apart one."

5 "Remain quiet and retreat into the shadows, capital of the Babylonians; you'll no longer bear the title of sovereign ruler of territories.
6 I was enraged with my nation; I tarnished my heritage; I handed them over to you, and you showed no compassion. You heaped a burdensome load even on older people.
7 You proclaimed, 'I will reign continuously, the everlasting matron!' yet you did not consider these matters or contemplate the possible outcomes.

8 Now give ear, you seeker of pleasures, resting in your comfort and uttering to oneself, 'I am the exclusive one, and none other exists. I will never experience the solitude of a widow or the anguish of losing children. '
9 Both of these calamities will abruptly descend on you within the same day: the grief of your offspring and the state of being a widow. They will fully encompass you despite your multitude of magical practices and overwhelming enchantments.
10 You've trusted your malice, thinking, 'I'm unseen. ' Your intellect and insight lead you astray when you convince yourself, 'I exist alone, and there's no other like me. ' 11 A calamity will unexpectedly strike you, and you'll be powerless to dispel it. A misfortune will descend on you that you cannot keep at bay with payments; a disaster that isn't within your predictions will abruptly arise.
12 Continue with your enchantments and multiple spells you have practiced from your origin.
Maybe you'll attain success; perhaps you'll incite fear.
13 All the advice you've garnered has exhausted you! Let your celestial interpreters, those sky-watching prognosticators who make monthly forecasts, step in and safeguard you from impending events.
14 Indeed, they resemble dry grass; flames will consume them. They are incapable of rescuing themselves from the intense heat of the blaze. These are not embers for providing warmth; this is not a hearth to gather around.
15 These people you have worked and traded with since youth cannot save you; they are all lost in their ways."

§ 21020 STUBBORN ISRAEL

48 “Heed this, descendants of Jacob, who go by the name of Israel and hail from Judah’s family, you who swear by the Sovereign Captain’s Name and summon the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, yet not with sincerity or ultimate authenticity.
2 Those who identify as residents of the exalted city assert their dependence on the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

3 “Long ago, I disclosed past events; My Path went forth from my lips, making them known;
then, suddenly, I took action, bringing them into reality.
4 I knew you were obstinate; your forehead is bronze, and your neck is iron.
5 I told you these events a long time before their occurrence to prevent you from attributing their happening to your idolized deities, claiming that your wooden figure and metal deity ordered them.
6 You’ve witnessed these events; consider all that’s happened. Won’t you acknowledge them?
From now forward, I will reveal new unknown secrets.
7 These have only come into being not a while back; you’ve never heard of them before today.
Therefore, you can’t claim, ‘Indeed, I was aware of them. ’
8 You’ve neither listened nor comprehended. Since ancient times, your ears have remained closed. I know your deceitful nature; you’ve been labeled a dissenter from birth.
9 For the honor of my reputation, I restrain my anger; for the sake of my acclaim, I withhold it from you, thereby preventing your destruction.
10 Observe, I have purified you, but not in the manner one refines silver; I have examined you in the crucible of suffering.
11 I will act purely for my honor and will not let my reputation be tarnished. I refuse to share my acclaim with anyone else. “

§ 21030 ISRAEL SET FREE

12 “Pay heed, Jacob, Israel whom I summoned: It is I; I am the beginning and the end.
13 The Earth’s foundation was established by my hand, while the celestial realms were spread out by my dominant hand. On my summoning, they present themselves in unison.

14 Gather, everyone, and heed: Which of your order idolized deities predicted these? The One whom the Sovereign Captain adores will execute His will against Babylon; His strength will oppose the Babylonians.
15 It is I who have spoken. Indeed, it is I who have summoned Israel. I will lead him, and he will achieve his purpose.
16 Approach me and heed these words: I have not uttered in concealment since the announcement’s inception; I am present when it transpires.” the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, has dispatched me, equipped with His Eternal Spark.
17 The message from the Sovereign Captain, your Rescuer, the exalted One of Israel, is: “I am your Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, who instructs you for your advantage and guides you on the path you should follow.
18 Had you heeded my directives, your tranquility would have flowed like a river, and your prosperity would have surged like ocean waves.

19 Your offspring would have been as plentiful as the grains of sand; your progeny would not have perished nor been eradicated from my view.”
20 Depart from Babylon, escape from the Babylonians! Broadcast this with joyful exclamations; make it known. Transmit it to the furthest corners of the Earth; proclaim, “the Sovereign Captain has rescued his servant Jacob.”
21 They were never dried as he guided them through the barren wilderness; he made the waters surge from a stone; the rock was cleaved, and water sprang forth.
22 The Sovereign Captain declares: “There is no tranquility for those full of unworthy choices.”

§ 21040 THE SERVANT OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

49 “Pay heed to me, you islands; perceive these words, you far-off countries: Even before my birth, the Sovereign Captain evoked me; in my mother’s belly, he pronounced my name.

2 He shaped my words to be as precise as a laser beam and shielded me with his hand. He prepared me like a polished, guided tool, ready for a purposeful mission.
3 He told me: ‘You’re My servant, Israel, through whom My acclaim will be manifested. ’
4 I said, ‘My efforts have seemingly been futile, and I’ve exhausted my energy for emptiness. However, the fairness I deserve lies with the Sovereign Captain, and my Preeminent Sovereign holds my compensation. ’
5 Now, the Sovereign Captain who shaped me in the womb to serve Him declares that I am to restore Jacob to Him and unite Israel with Him. I am esteemed in the Sovereign Captain’s sight, and He is the source of my vigor.
6 He proclaims: ‘You being my servant to rejuvenate the communities of Jacob and retrieve those of Israel I have safeguarded insufficiently. I shall also position you as a beacon for the nations, ensuring my deliverance extends to the world’s farthest reaches. ’
7 The Pure One of Israel and Sovereign Captain, the Death Destroyer, communicates to the one who has been rejected and despised by the nation, the servant of leaders: ‘Prime Rulers will rise on seeing you, and leaders will show their respect by saluting. This reason is because of the Sovereign Captain, who is unwavering and reliable, the Pure One of Israel, who has elected you. ’

§ 21050 RESTORATION OF ISRAEL

8 The Sovereign Captain declares: “In my time of mercy, I will answer your call and deliver aid on the day you seek it. I will protect you and make you a symbol of my pact with the people. Your duty will be to revitalize the land and reassign the desolate inheritances.
9 Tell the imprisoned, ‘Emerge, ’ and those in darkness, ‘Reveal yourselves!’ They will graze along pathways and find feeding grounds on barren heights.
10 They will not suffer hunger or thirst; neither the desert’s heat nor the sun’s rays will harm them. Their compassionate guide will lead them to freshwater springs.
11 I will turn my mountains into pathways, and my byways will be elevated.

12 See, they are coming from afar; some from the North, others from the West, and a few from Aswan.”

13 Let the celestial realms sing with delight, the Earth rejoice, and the mountains break into song! the Sovereign Captain comforts his people and shows mercy to those in distress.
14 David's Hub said, “the Sovereign Captain has abandoned me; My Sovereign Captain no longer remembers me.”
15 “Can a mother forget her nursing child or lack compassion for her child? Even if she forgets, I will never forget you!
16 Look, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands. Your city walls are always in my thoughts.
17 Your children will return quickly, while those devastated you will leave.
18 Lift your eyes and look around; your children gather and come to you.” the Sovereign Captain affirms: “You will adorn yourself with them like jewels; you will wear them like a bride.”
19 Despite your destruction and desolation, soon your land will be too small for your inhabitants, and those who ravaged you will be far away.
20 The children born during your mourning will say, ‘This place is too cramped; give us more space to live. ’
21 You will ask, ‘Who gave me these children? I was mourning and barren; I was exiled and rejected. Who raised them? I was alone, so where did these come from?’
22 The Sovereign Captain declares: “I will raise my flag for all peoples to see and signal to the nations; they will bring your daughters on their hips and your sons in their arms.”
23 Prime Rulers will be your guardians, and their leading ladies will be your nurturing mothers. They will salute you and kiss the dust at your feet. This act will show that I am the Eternal Reality; those who trust in me will never regret it. ’
24 Can plunder be taken from warriors or captives rescued from the strong?

25 The Sovereign Captain declares: ‘Yes, captives will be taken from warriors, and plunder rescued from the violent; I will fight your enemies and save your children.
26 Your oppressors will be forced to consume their own flesh by Me, and they will become inebriated from their own blood like wine. Then everyone on the planet will understand that I, the Sovereign Captain, am the Eternal Reality of Jacob, your Redeemer and Rescuer.

§ 21060 ISRAEL’S UNWORTHY CHOICES AND THE SERVANT’S OBEDIENCE

50 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Can you present your mother’s divorce papers, which I dismissed her, or pinpoint any of my lenders to whom I pawned you? Indeed, due to your wrongdoings, you were sold; due to your rebellious actions, your mother was dismissed.
2 Why, on my arrival, was no one present? When I called out, why didn’t anyone respond? Is my arm lacking the power to rescue you? Am I devoid of strength to save you? With a mere reproach, I can turn the sea into a barren wasteland, transforming rivers into deserts; their fish decay due to water scarcity and die from dehydration.
3 I can change the celestial realms to become as dark as sorrow, with a shroud of mourning as its cloak.”

4 The Eternal Reality has imparted a well-educated dialect to help me comprehend the utterance that comforts the weary. Each dawn, he awakens me, arousing my auditory sense to heed like a pupil receiving direction.
5 The Eternal Reality has enlightened my comprehension; I have neither shown resistance nor deviated from His path.

6 I submitted my body to the attackers and my facial hair to those who ripped it off; I didn't shield my face from ridicule and being spat at.
7 The Eternal Reality stands by me; I won't be dishonored. So, I have steeled my resolve, confident that I will escape embarrassment.

8 My champion, who sets things right, is close at hand. Who would dare to accuse me? Let's stand toe to toe. Who is prepared to bring a case against me? Let him step up.
9 Indeed, the Eternal Reality is my aid. Who dares to declare me guilty? They will all deteriorate like worn-out cloth; moths will consume them.

10 Is anyone among you who adores the Sovereign Captain adhering to My Path? If you traverse in obscurity, devoid of illumination, trust the Sovereign Captain's name and depend on your Preeminent Sovereign.
11 Pay Heed: If you surround yourselves with flames and walk in the light of your own fire, this is what you'll get from Me: You will end up in a place of suffering.

§ 21070 PERPETUAL REDEMPTION FOR THE HUB OF DAVID

51 "Heed My Path, pathseekers of integrity and seekers of the Sovereign Captain: Reflect on your origins, the rock from which you were chiseled, and the pit from which you were carved.
2 Reflect on Abraham, your progenitor, and Sarah, who birthed you. When I summoned him, he was alone, yet I empowered and expanded his family.
3 The Sovereign Captain will bring solace to the hub of David, transforming her barren lands to resemble the Eternal Reality's garden and her desolate regions to the Sovereign Captain's garden. Her ambiance will be filled with delight, cheerfulness, gratitude, and harmonious melodies.
4 My people, heed My Path; my nation, listen closely: A directive will emanate from me, illuminating all ethnicities.
5 My ultimate authenticity is approaching swiftly, my deliverance is imminent, and my strength will bring justice to the people. The distant shores await me, placing their hope in my protective arm.
6 Look up to the celestial realms and down on the Earth below; the celestial realms will dissipate like smoke, the Earth will decay like clothing, and its dwellers will perish like gnats. However, my deliverance persists indefinitely; my justice will never wane.

7 Listen attentively, those who understand integrity and carry My path in your inner selves: Don't let ordinary people's scorn intimidate or terrify you.
8 Moths consume them like clothes, and worms devour them like wool. However, my justice and mercy shall remain eternally, and my deliverance will persist for all future lineages."
9 Rise, O arm of the Sovereign Captain, adorn yourself with vigor! Stir as in ancient times.
Wasn't it you who cleaved Rahab in half and impaled that beast?
10 Are you who drained the sea and crafted a path within the seabed for the released to traverse?
11 The individuals whom the Sovereign Captain has liberated will return to the hub of David in joyous songs; perpetual happiness will be their accomplishing acclaim. Abundant delight will fill their lives, pushing sorrow to vanish.

12 “I am the one who gives you comfort. Why are you afraid of mere humans, whose influence fades as quickly as passing trends?"
13 Have you disregarded the Sovereign Captain, your Innovator, who broadened the cosmos and established the Earth’s base? Are you persistently fraught with fear due to the adversary’s rage? But where has the adversary’s fury gone?
14 Inmates living in fear will soon gain freedom; they won’t perish in their cells or be deprived of sustenance.
15 I am your Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, who churns up the ocean, causing its waves to surge. My name is the Sovereign Captain of the celestial realm’s armies.
16 I have implanted my speech in your thoughts and shielded you under my protective palm—I who crafted the galaxies established the Earth’s infrastructure, and proclaimed to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, ‘You are my chosen. ’”

§ 21080 THE CUP OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S WRATH

17 “Awaken, awaken! Rise, Yerushalayim, you who have endured the wrath of the Preeminent Sovereign; you have drained the last bitter drop of that dreadful cup, leaving you in anguish.

18 None of your offspring is there to guide you; none is present to support you.
19 You’ve faced two calamities—who will comfort you? Destruction and devastation, famine and tactical blade—who can console you?
20 Your children have collapsed, scattered at every street corner, like deer caught in a trap. They are filled with the Sovereign Captain’s fury, bearing the stern rebuke of your Preeminent Sovereign.
21 So listen now, you afflicted inner-self, drunk but not with wine.
22 Your Sovereign Captain declares, ‘I have taken from your hand the cup that made you stagger; you will no longer drink from the chalice of my fury.
23 I will give it to those who oppressed you, who commanded, “Lie down so we can walk over you.” And you made your body like the ground, a path for them to tread. ’

52 “Rise, rise, oh hub of David; clothe yourself with strength! Put on your majestic garments, Yerushalayim, the Exalted City. The unhealthy and defiled will no longer enter you.
2 Dust yourself off; rise to a place of dignity, City of Promise. Break free from the locks around your mind, Urban Beacon, once imprisoned.
3 The Sovereign Captain declares: ‘You were sold for nothing and will be redeemed without money. ’
4 The Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain says, ‘My people went to Egypt to live; lately, Assyria has oppressed them.
5 What do I have here?’ declares the Sovereign Captain. ‘My people have been taken away for nothing, and their Prime Rulers mock, ’ declares the Sovereign Captain. ‘All day long, my name is constantly blasphemed.'

6 Therefore, my people will know my name; they will know that I foretold it. Yes, it is I. ’

7 “How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of those who bring joyous developments, proclaim peace, bring joyous developments, proclaim redemption, and say to the hub of David, ‘Your Eternal Reality reigns!’

8 Listen! Your sentinels lift their voices; together, they shout for delight. When Yahweh returns to David's Hub, they will see it with their eyes.
9 Burst into songs of delight together, you ruins of Yerushalayim, for the Sovereign Captain has comforted his people and redeemed Yerushalayim.
10 All countries shall see the redemption of our Preeminent Sovereign, for the Eternal Reality will reveal his Exalted Arm to them.
11 Leave, leave, leave that place! Don’t touch anything dirty! You who bear the Sovereign Captain's fortress’ vessels depart from it and purify yourself.
12 But you will not leave in haste or go in flight; the Sovereign Captain will go before you, and the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel will be your rear guard. “

§ 21090 THE SUFFERING AND MAJESTY OF THE SERVANT

13 Pay Heed: my servant will act wisely; he shall be elevated, exalted, and stand exceedingly high.
14 Many were shocked at his appearance; he seemed so battered it was beyond human recognition, and his form was distorted beyond any human semblance.
15 He will astonish numerous nations, rendering Prime Rulers speechless. They will witness something they were never informed about and comprehend concepts they had never previously heard.

53 Who has put their trust in the news we brought, and to whom has the Sovereign Captain exposed His mighty power?
2 He developed in His presence like a delicate sprout and a root emerging from arid soil. His visage bore neither beauty nor grandeur to compel our admiration, nothing in his countenance that we could find appealing.
3 Because the Sovereign Captain declares, “You have been traded for nothing, and you will be redeemed without money.”

4 he bore our afflictions and carried our sorrows. Still, in our ignorance, we thought he was being penalized, struck down, and tormented by the Preeminent Sovereign.
5 He was injured because of our rebellious acts; he bore the brunt for our wrongdoings; the chastisement that ensured our tranquility was his to take, and through his afflictions, we found our healing.
6 We are all like lost travelers, wandering off course and choosing our own paths. Yet the Sovereign Captain has placed the burden of our wrongs on Him to bring us back to the right way.
7 Despite the torment and maltreatment, he remained silent; he was guided to his demise just like a lamb being led to its execution, and similar to a sheep that stays quiet before the shearers, he refrained from uttering a single word.
8 Through mistreatment and unjust trial, he was led away. But did anyone of his time object: “He was forcefully separated from the realm of the living, chastised for the wrongdoings of my people.”
9 Even though he hadn’t committed any violent acts or spoken falsely, he was buried among the impure and affluent post-death.

10 However, it was the will of the Sovereign Captain to crush Him and make Him suffer. When His inner-self is offered as an absolving payment, He will see His progeny and live a longer life, and the Sovereign Captain’s good pleasure will prevail in His hand.
11 After enduring hardships, he will witness the radiance of existence and find contentment; through his understanding, my integrid aide will vindicate numerous individuals carrying their misdeeds.
12 So, I will assign him a share among the mighty, and he will distribute the booty with the powerful, having willingly sacrificed his existence to death and was considered among the wrongdoers. He accepted the unworthy choices of numerous individuals and appealed on behalf of the wrongdoers.

§ 21100 THE FUTURE MAJESTY OF THE HUB OF DAVID

54 "Your Eternal Reality is your closest ally—the Almighty Sovereign Captain is His name. The Exalted One of Israel is your Restorer; He is the ultimate authority over all the world." declares the Sovereign Captain.

2 “Expand your dwelling area, extend your home’s curtains broadly, and don’t hesitate to elongate your ropes and fortify your stakes.
3 You will expand in every direction; your offspring will inherit nations and repopulate their ruined cities.
4 Fear not, for you will not suffer humiliation. Be at ease and expect no disgrace; you will not be belittled. The shame of your early years will be forgotten, and the dishonor of your widowhood will no longer be in memory.

5 Your Innovator is your spouse; the exalted One of Israel is your Redeemer, known as the Preeminent Sovereign who presides over the world.
6 As a wife forsaken and grieved in enthusiasm, as one married in her youth and subsequently rejected, so will the Sovereign Captain summon you back,” declares your Preeminent Sovereign.

7 “I deserted you briefly but will welcome you back with enormous kindness.
8 In a flash of anger, I momentarily obscured my presence from you; however, with never-ending transformative generosity, I will sympathize with you,” proclaims your Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.

9 “This situation is similar to Noah’s time when I pledged that Noah’s waters would not engulf the Earth again. Consequently, I have vowed not to hold any wrath against you or reprimand you any longer.
10 Even if the mountains crumble and the hills disintegrate, my enduring affection for you will remain steadfast, and my commitment to peace will stand unshaken,” declares the Sovereign Captain, who shows you mercy.

11 “I will torment the city, strike it with storms, leave it without solace, then reconstruct it with turquoise stones and establish its base with sapphires.

12 Your fortifications will be constructed out of rubies and entrances from glittering gems, and all your perimeter walls will be valuable stones.
13 The Sovereign Captain will educate all your offspring, and their well-being will be extensive.

14 You will be firmly established in integrity: Oppression will remain distant; you won't have to be afraid. Frightening situations will be kept at bay; they won't approach you.
15 Should anyone dare to taunt you, know that I am not the instigator; those who choose to confront you will inevitably capitulate to you.

16 Understand that I am the one who produced the craftsman who intensifies the fire to create a weapon suited for its intended use. Additionally, I am responsible for creating the devastation that causes destruction.
17 No weapon intended to harm you will succeed, and you will counter every voice that dares to charge you. This result will stand as the inheritance of those who serve the Sovereign Captain, whose justification comes from Me," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21110 INVITATION TO THE THIRSTY

55 "If you are parched, approach the waters; those without any currency, heed the call, procure and devour! Step forward and obtain wine and milk without any financial obligation or expense.
2 Why invest in things that don't truly sustain you, or work for things that leave you unfulfilled? Pay attention to me, and take delight in what's truly enriching—you'll find satisfaction beyond compare.
3 Lend your ear and approach me. Hear my words so you may thrive. I will establish a perpetual agreement with you mirroring the dependable love I assured David.
4 Pay Heed: I appointed him as a representative to the nations, a leader and lawgiver for the nations.

5 You will call forth nations unknown to you. Countries unfamiliar with you will quickly approach, all due to the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, the exalted One of Israel, for He has given on your magnificence."
6 Pursue the Eternal Reality while He is within reach; invoke His name when He is close at hand.
7 Wrongdoers should abandon their wrongful paths, and the unjust should discard their harmful thoughts. They should return to the Sovereign Captain, and he will show them compassion, and to our Preeminent Sovereign, who will generously forgive them.
8 "the Sovereign Captain's guidance and intentions differ vastly from yours," declares the Preeminent Sovereign.
9 "Just as the sky soars above the Earth, in the same manner, my deeds surpass your deeds, and my contemplations are beyond yours.
10-11 Just as rain and snow fall from the sky and nourish the ground, producing life and beauty, so my words will accomplish their purpose.

12 You will depart with delight and be guided calmly. The mountains and knolls will erupt in melodies in your presence, and all the flora in the field will applaud.
13 Juniper trees will spring up where the thorn bush used to be, and myrtles will replace the briers. This transformation will testify to the Sovereign Captain's stature, an enduring reminder that won't be obliterated."

§ 21120 REDEMPTION FOR OTHERS

56 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Uphold fairness and perform good deeds, for my deliverance is near, and my justice will soon unfold.
2 Fortunate is the individual who adheres to this, firmly grasps it, maintains the Day of Rest without polluting it, and refrains from committing any wrongdoing.”

3 No outsider affiliated with the Sovereign Captain should say: “the Sovereign Captain will marginalize me from His community.” Also, no eunuch should lament: “I am merely a barren tree.”
4 As per the Sovereign Captain’s decree: “The eunuchs who observe my exalted days, make choices that bring me delight and firmly adhere to my pact 5 within my fortress and its boundaries, I will grant them a commemoration and a reputation superior to having offspring; I will grant them an eternal epithet that will persist indefinitely.
6 Aliens who pledge their loyalty to the Sovereign Captain adore His name and become His pathseekers, those who observe the Day of Rest refraining from defilement and adhere tightly to His solemn agreement.
7 I shall lead them to my exalted hill and fill them with delight in my fortress of joyful adoration.
Their scorched absolving payments and absolving payments will favor my pedestal table. My dwelling place will be recognized as a fortress for melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign for all of the world’s people.”
8 the Almighty Sovereign Captain proclaims the one who reunites the dispersed Israel: “I will bring more to them than those already reunited.”

§ 21130 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S ACCUSATION AGAINST THE IMPURE

9 “Come, all wild animals, feast, all woodland creatures!”
10 The sentinels of Israel are blind, unaware, like silent wolves, unable to growl; they lounge, lost in dreams, relishing slumber.
11 Like greedy dogs, their hunger is insatiable. These leaders lack discernment. Each follows their path, driven by profit.
12 “Each proclaims, ‘Fetch wine! Saturate with ale! Tomorrow will be like today, perhaps more magnificent. ’”

57 Authentic individuals pass unnoticed; devout people are swept off without understanding they are spared from forthcoming malevolence.
2 Those who live with integrity attain tranquility; they find comfort in the afterlife.

3 “Yet, you descendants of sorceresses, the progeny of the disloyal and illicit, come forth!
4 Who do you ridicule? Towards whom do you show disdain and protrude your tongue? Aren’t you children of defiance, descendants of deceivers?
5 You ignite desire among oak trees beneath verdant foliage; you offer offspring as absolving payments in gorges and beneath cliffs.

6 Your allegiance is with idolized deities within polished stones in gorges; they are your share.
To them, you willingly present liquid and grain absolving payments. Shall I overlook your actions?
7 You've established a sleeping arrangement atop a towering mountain. There, you ascended to perform absolving rituals.
8 You placed distrustful symbols behind doors and doorposts. Neglecting me, you exposed your sleeping place, ascended into it, and made it spacious; you consented to deals with those whose couches you favor and lasciviously observed their bare forms.
9 You journeyed to Molek with olive oil and amplified fragrances. You dispatched representatives to distant places; you descended into the dominion of the deceased!"
10 Despite exhaustion, you never said, "It's futile." You found a resurgence of might, preventing weakness.
11 Who instilled such fear that you betrayed me and did not remember or acknowledge me in your inner-self? Could my prolonged silence have caused you to lose the fear of me?
12 I will reveal your so-called good deeds and actions, but they won't assist you.
13 When distressed, may your counterfeit idolized deities rescue you! The wind will sweep them away; a single breath will cause them to vanish. Yet, anyone seeking shelter in me will own the land and inherit my exalted hill.

§ 21140 COMFORT FOR THE CONTRITE

14 It will be declared: "Construct, construct, pave the path! Eliminate the obstructions from my people's route."
15 This message is from the One who is lofty and exalted, who endures forever and whose name is exalted: "I reside in an elevated and set-apart space, yet also with those who are remorseful and humble in their inner selves, to rejuvenate the inner selves of the humble and to restore the inner selves of those who feel regret.
16 I will not perpetually indict them or incessantly harbor anger lest they grow weak due to my wrath. These are, indeed, the individuals I have fashioned.
17 Their fullness of unworthy choices and avarice provoked my wrath; I disciplined them and withdrew my presence in a fury, but they persisted in their obstinate behavior.
18 I've observed their actions, yet I will mend them, steer them, and reinstate solace to those who grieve in Israel.
19 I bring forth words of comfort. Tranquility and tranquility," declared the Sovereign Captain, "to those at a distance and nearby. And I will restore them." 20 However, evildoers resemble the storm-battered sea, incapable of calm; its waves toss up sludge and silt.
21 My Preeminent Sovereign declares: "Tranquility is non-existent for the counterfeit."

§ 21150 AUTHENTIC FASTING

58 "Sound the trumpet without delay. Expose the counterfeit individual's transgressions and unworthy choices to my people and Jacob's descendants.
2 They seek me daily, eager to understand my ways, like those who practice integrity and uphold celestial laws. They request fair judgments and desire Preeminent Prime Rulers' proximity." "Why did we abstain from food?" the people ask, "You did not acknowledge it. Why did we humble ourselves, and you did not notice?"

3 “On your fasting day, you indulge in whims and exploit your laborers.
4 Your fasting leads to disputes, conflict, and violent assault with malevolent hands. This fasting mode won’t make your appeals heard in the celestial realms.
5 Is this the fasting I’ve approved, just a day for individuals to humble themselves? Is it merely bending one’s head like a reed and reclining in somber clothing and ashes? Do you call this fasting a day pleasing to the Sovereign Captain?

6 “Isn’t this the fasting I have chosen: to liberate those trapped by iniquity, unbind the shackles of servitude, emancipate the oppressed, and shatter all forms of servitude?
7 Isn’t it about sharing your sustenance with those in need, offering shelter to the destitute wanderer, providing garments for the unclothed, and not neglecting your relatives?

8 “Then your luminescence will emerge like the morning sun, and your healing will swiftly materialize; your ultimate authenticity will precede you, and the splendor of the Sovereign Captain will safeguard you from behind.
9 When you plead, the Sovereign Captain will respond; your appeal for assistance will be met with His affirmation: ‘I am present!’ If you eliminate tyranny, cease blaming others, and halt destructive dialogue.
10 If you aid the starved and fulfill the needs of the oppressed, illumination will emerge from your darkness, and your gloomiest moments will resemble high noon.

11 “The Sovereign Captain will guide you through the busiest streets and satisfy your inner self in the driest seasons. You will be like a thriving urban park, full of life, with fountains that never run dry.
12 Your community will reconstruct historical ruins, raising long-established foundations; you will be named the Mender of Crumbled Walls and Restorer of Livable Streets.

13 “If you honor the Day of Rest by refraining from pursuing your interests and desires, observe it as a joyful and exalted day, celebrating this special day of the Sovereign Captain by avoiding self-serving actions, unnecessary travel, and idle talk.
14 You will then discover your delight in the Sovereign Captain, and I will enable you to soar victoriously over the elevated regions of the Earth and enjoy the legacy of your forefather, Jacob. ’ Indeed, the Sovereign Captain spoke these words.”

§ 21160 UNWORTHY CHOICES, CONFESSION AND REDEMPTION

59 The Sovereign Captain’s reach is limitless, enabling rescue, and his audibility is unimpaired, allowing him to listen.
2 “Your wrongdoings have separated you from your Preeminent Sovereign. Your transgressions have veiled His countenance from you, so He will not listen.
3 Your hands are stained with blood, your fingers with transgressions. You’ve spoken deceitfully, and your tongue whispers malevolent deeds.
4 No one advocates for fairness; no inner-self argues honestly. They rely on baseless claims, spew falsehoods, devise mischief, and bear impurity.
5 The ova of venomous snakes are incubated, and a spider’s silk is spun. Consuming these eggs leads to death, and if one ruptures, a viper emerges.

6 Their webs are unfit for garments; they cannot cover themselves with what they construct.
Their actions are counterfeit, and violent behavior is their handiwork.
7 They are quick to engage in impurity; their eagerness to spill innocent blood is notable. They follow evil plots, leaving a trail of tumult and ruin.
8 They are unfamiliar with the path of tranquility; fairness is absent in their course. They have twisted them into distorted routes; none who tread on them will experience serenity.

9 Fairness is removed, and ultimate authenticity doesn't find us. We anticipate illumination yet are engulfed in obscurity; we yearn for radiance though we traverse in profound gloom.
10 As sightless individuals, we fumble along the wall, navigating as if we lacked vision. In the full light of noon, we falter as though it was dusk; among the healthy, we resemble the deceased.
11 We all lament like hungry creatures, expressing sorrow like doves. We yearn for justice, but it remains elusive; we long for redemption, which appears unreachable.
12 The numerous wrongdoings before you are undeniable, and our transgressions confirm our guilt. Our rebellious deeds constantly accompany us, and we concede to our faults.
13 We have acted in defiance and deception towards the Sovereign Captain, turned our backs on the Preeminent Sovereign, sparked uprisings and persecution, and given voice to falsehoods born in our inner selves.
14 Fairness is repelled, and integrity is kept at arm's length; sincerity has tumbled in the city squares, and honesty cannot gain entry.
15 Honesty is nowhere to be observed, and those who refrain from wrongdoing are victimized.
On witnessing this, the Sovereign Captain was disappointed over the absence of fair judgment.
16 He noticed no help was available; he was shocked that no one stepped up; hence, his own might accomplish deliverance for him, and his ultimate authenticity supported him.
17 He cloaked himself in authentic integrity like his ballistic body armor. He dressed his head in the protective gear of deliverance; His determination to right wrongs wrapped around him like an impenetrable coat!
18 He will compensate his adversaries and give to his foes for their actions; moreover, he will deliver deserved retribution to the islands.
19 From the sunset, the Name of the Sovereign Captain will instill dread in people, and from the sunrise, they will hold his splendor in awe, for he will surge forth like a restrained river that the Eternal Spark of the Sovereign Captain propels.

20 "The Rescuer shall arrive in Yerushalayim, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, for those among Jacob's family who have abandoned their transgressions," proclaimed the Sovereign Captain.
21 "Concerning me, this is my agreement with them," declares the Sovereign Captain: "My Eternal Spark placed on you shall remain with you, and The Path that I have spoken through you will continuously echo from your mouth, from the mouth of your offspring and their progeny—from this moment forward and to eternity," declares the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21170 THE MAJESTY OF THE HUB OF DAVID

60 "Get up and glow! Your moment has arrived, and the Sovereign Captain's brilliance is shining all around you like a dawn breaking over the city."
2 Picture this: the world shrouded in misinformation and despair, with communities lost in confusion. Yet, the Sovereign Captain's clarity and direction will shine over you, and a sense of purpose will radiate through you.
3 Nations will come to your light, and Prime Rulers to the brightness of your dawn.

4 Look around you; people are congregating and approaching you. Your daughters are held on the hip, and your sons travel great distances.
5 You will see and be radiant; your inner-self will throb and swell with delight; the sea's wealth will be brought to you, and the riches of nations will come to you.
6 Your country will be covered with herds of young camels from Ephah and Midian. everyone from Sheba will arrive, bringing incense and gold, and they will all declare the Sovereign Captain's honor.

7 My haven will be more beautiful; all of Kedar's flocks will come to you. The rams of Nebaioth will assist you and serve as payment on my pedestal table.
8 Who are these that soar to their nests like clouds and doves?

9 The islands surely look down on me; in front of me are the ships of Tarshish, carrying your children from far away, in their gold and silver, to honor the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, for He has given you splendor.

10 Outsiders will rebuild your walls, and their Prime Rulers will serve you. Even though I hit you out of rage, I will still be kind to you.

11 Day or night, your gates will never close, allowing people to bring you the wealth of the countries, led in triumphant procession by their Prime Rulers.

12 The country or nation that refuses to serve you will be destroyed; it will not survive.
13 The acclaim of Lebanon will come to you, the juniper, the fir, and the cypress together, to adorn my sanctuary; I will glorify the place for my feet.
14 The children of your oppressors will come saluting before you; all who despise you will salute at your feet and call you the City of the Sovereign Captain, the hub of David of the Exalted One of Israel.
15 even though no one has ever passed through you, and you are despised, I will make you the source of eternal pride and delight for all future generations.
16 You will drink the milk of nations and be nursed at governance breasts. Then you will know that I, the Sovereign Captain, am your Redeemer, your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.
17 I will send you silver and gold instead of iron and bronze. I will send you bronze and iron instead of wood and stones. I shall establish well-being as your ruler and tranquility as your governor.
18 You will name your walls Redemption and your gates Praise. No longer will you hear of violence in your country, of disaster or destruction within your borders.
19 The sun will no longer be your light by day, nor will the moon's brightness shine on you, for the Sovereign Captain will be your everlasting light, and your Preeminent Sovereign will be your glory.

20 Your days of grief will end, and the Sovereign Captain will be your everlasting light. Your moon will never set, and your sun will never set again.
21 Your people will always be honest and pure and own the country. They are My handiwork, the branch I planted to show off My magnificence.
22 The tiniest among you will grow to be a powerful nation, and the least of you a thousand.
Since I'm the Sovereign Captain, I'll finish this quickly and on schedule.

§ 21180 THE YEAR OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S FAVOR

61 The essence of the Eternal Reality envelops me, for the Sovereign Captain has chosen and commissioned me to bring joyful news to the disadvantaged. He assigned me to heal those with shattered inner selves, to declare liberation for those in captivity, and to illuminate a path of freedom for those confined in darkness.
2 To announce the time of the Sovereign Captain’s kindness and the period of retribution by our Preeminent Sovereign to provide solace to all those in mourning.
3 To comfort those grieving in the hub of David—to give them a recognition of beauty in place of despair, celebration instead of sorrow, and vibrant hope instead of heaviness.
4 They will reconstruct the historical ruins, revitalize the location’s long-laid waste, and rejuvenate the desolated cities that have been untouched for many eras.
5 Outsiders will tend your sheep, and individuals from other lands will labor in your agricultural fields and vineyards.
6 You will be recognized as the Sovereign Captain’s ensovereigned mediators, servants of our Eternal Reality. You will consume the affluence of other nations and take pride in their prosperity.
7 Instead of your humiliation, you will gain twice as much and celebrate your legacy instead of disgrace. So, you will accumulate a double share in your land, and perpetual happiness will be your possession.

8 As the Sovereign Captain, it is my nature to embrace fairness. I detest theft and any form of transgression. I commit to repaying my pathseekers trustfully and establishing a ceaseless pact with them.
9 Their family will gain recognition among the nations, and their progeny will be acknowledged among different communities. everyone who witnesses them will comprehend that they are a group to which the Sovereign Captain has shown his favor.
10 I will greatly rejoice in the Sovereign Captain, and my inner-self will rejoice in my Preeminent Sovereign, for He has wrapped me in a robe of integrity and clothed me in garments of redemption, just as a bride wears her diamonds and a groom wears an official emblem.
11 Just as a rooftop garden turns tiny seeds into thriving plants, the Eternal Reality brings justice and hope to life across the city and the world.

§ 21190 THE HUB OF DAVID’S NEW NAME

62 Out of love for the hub of David, I will not hold my tongue. I will not cease speaking for Yerushalayim until her suitable standings beam as the sunrise and her redemption illuminates like a fiery torch.
2 All nations will recognize Your integrity; every Prime Ruler shall testify to Your acclaim; the Preeminent Sovereign Himself will foretell a new designation for you.
3 You will hold a sovereign command control in the palm of your Preeminent Sovereign and a beacon of brilliance in the hand of the Sovereign Captain.
4 People will no longer refer to you as Abandoned, nor will your territory be termed Desolation. Instead, you shall be known as “My Delight is in Her,” and your territory “Married” ; as the Sovereign Captain finds delight in you, and your land will be as a spouse to him.

5 "Just as a designer delights in completing their masterpiece, so your Eternal Reality will celebrate His relationship with you. Like a union built on love and care, the Eternal Reality will rejoice over His people."

6 Guards have been stationed on your fortifications, Yerushalayim; they will continually communicate, day or night. Those who invoke the Sovereign Captain refrain from resting.
7 Persistently appeal to him until he reestablishes Yerushalayim and makes it renowned worldwide.
8 The Eternal Reality has pledged with His dominative hand and potent arm: “Your harvest will no longer nourish your foes, nor will the outsider evermore partake of the fresh wine you have laboriously produced.
9 However, those who harvest the grain will consume it while praising the Sovereign Captain, and those who collect the grapes will enjoy their wine within the confines of my exalted courts.”
10 Move forward, move forward through the gates! Make the path ready for the crowd. Construct and construct the road! Clear it off rocks. Hoist a flag for all nations to see.
11 The Sovereign Captain has announced the world’s farthest reaches: “Tell the people of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign. Pay heed; your deliverer is arriving! Look, his compensation and reward are accompanying him.”
12 The Sovereign Captain will designate them as the Exalted Community, and people will know you as Desired, the Metropolis That Was No Longer Abandoned.

§ 21200 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S DAY OF VENGEANCE AND REDEMPTION

63 Who is this emerging from Edom, from Bozrah, with clothing drenched in deep red? Who is this individual, dressed magnificently, marching confidently in his immense power? “It is me announcing vindication, possessing the power to deliver.”
2 Why do your clothes appear stained with red, similar to someone trampling on grapes in a wine vat?

3 “I stamped the winepress in solitude; no one from the nations was with me. I stomped on them in my fury and crushed them in my wrath; their lifeblood splashed on my attire, leaving all my clothes stained.
4 The day for me to enact retribution was at hand, and the time to liberate had arrived.
5 I looked around, yet no one offered assistance; I was shocked that no one was providing support. So, my strength brought about deliverance, and my fury upheld me.
6 I crushed the nations due to my fury, made them intoxicated in my rage, and spilled their lifeblood on the Earth.”

§ 21210 PRAISE AND MELDING OF HIS CONSCIENCE

7 I will recount the transformative generosity of the Sovereign Captain, the acts for which he deserves admiration, in alignment with everything the Sovereign Captain has rendered to us—indeed, the numerous favors he has given to Israel, consistent with his compassion and abundant goodwill.

8 He declared, unquestionably, “These are my children who will not deceive me,” so He emerged as their Redeemer.
9 Amid their suffering, he too was agonized, and the Celestial Envoy of his presence brought them redemption. Out of his abundant love and compassion, he reclaimed them; he provided support and bore them through the entirety of days past.
10 They defied and distressed His Eternal Spark despite this. Consequently, He transformed and emerged as their adversary, personally combating them.

11 The community remembered the ancient times, the era of Moses and his pathseekers. Where is the one who guided them across the sea, with the sheep keeper of his herd? Where is the one who placed His Eternal Spark among them:
12 positioned his majestic strength on Moses’ right side, cleaving the waters in their path and establishing eternal fame for Himself.

13 Who guided them across the deep waters? They moved like stallions in the wilderness without tripping.
14 Captain’s Eternal Spark granted them tranquility compared to livestock descending to the valley. This movement was your method of leading your people, thereby creating a prestigious reputation.

15 Gaze from the celestial realms and behold, from your high dwelling place, exalted and magnificent. Where have your enthusiasm and power gone? Your gentle care and sympathy seem to have been kept away from us.
16 Even though Abraham doesn’t recognize or acknowledge us, you are still our Life-Giver, Captain. Your Name has been our Redeemer since ancient times.
17 Why, O Eternal Reality, do you cause us to deviate from your paths and stiffen our inner selves, making us unable to honor you? Please return for the good of your servants and the communities you possess.
18 Your exalted, ensovereigned lifestyle community exclusively had momentarily control over your celestial spot. Still, those hostile to us have desecrated your Exalted Space.
19 We existed from ancient times; however, you did not exercise authority over them; your Name did not identify them.

64 I wish you would split the celestial realms open and descend, making the mountains shake with your presence!
2 Like fire, burning ignites brushwood and causes the water to boil, revealing your power and presence to your adversaries and triggering immense tremors among the nations.
3 When you performed awe-inspiring deeds beyond our anticipation, you descended, causing the mountains to quake in your presence.
4 From the earliest times, no one has experienced, no ear has discerned, no eye has witnessed any Preeminent Sovereign other than you, who intervenes for those who patiently anticipate him.

5 You assist those who joyfully act in integrity and recall your guidance. However, despite your wrath due to our persistent disobedience. Can we still hope for redemption?

6 Each of us has turned into something impure; our authentic deeds are just like soiled clothes; we all wilt like a leaf, and our transgressions, like the breeze, carry us apart.

7 No one seeks your presence or tries to grasp you. You've veiled your countenance from us and surrendered us to the impact of our transgressions.
8 Yet you, Sovereign Captain, are our Eternal Reality. We are the raw material, and you are the master designer; we are all shaped by your hands.
9 My Sovereign Captain, refrain from limitless wrath; do not indefinitely recall our transgressions.
Please gaze on us, for we are all part of your flock.

10 Your set-apart locales in David's Hub are notably a barren wilderness, and Yerushalayim is a devastated wasteland.
11 Flames have consumed our exalted and magnificent fortress, where our forefathers joyfully adored You, and have left everything we cherished in devastation.
12 Captain, will you still refrain from helping us after witnessing all this? Are You planning to remain silent and subject us to unbearable suffering?

§ 21220 JUDGMENT AND REDEMPTION

65 "I disclosed myself to those who didn't seek me; I appeared to those who didn't search for me; I exclaimed, 'Here I am! Here I am!' to a nation that didn't recognize My name.
2 All day, I extended my acceptance to a stubborn group, following their harmful paths driven by their thoughts.

3 A group that consistently angers me, performing rituals in gardens and burning scents on clay pedestal tables.
4 Those who dwell in tombs and spend their evenings in secluded rituals eat swine's flesh, and their dishes contain soups made from tainted meat; 5 Those proclaiming, 'Keep your distance; don't approach me; I'm too exalted for you!' Such individuals are like choking smoke in my nose, a flame perpetually smoldering.

6 Pay Heed! It is inscribed: I will not stay quiet but will reciprocate fully; I will pour their due directly into their grasp.
7 Your transgressions and those of your forefathers have been noted," declares the Sovereign Captain. "Given their incense offerings on the mountains and their defiance towards me on the hilltops, I will apportion a fitting compensation for their past actions to them."

8 The Sovereign Captain articulates: "Similar to when there is residual juice in a grape cluster, and individuals suggest, 'Do not destroy it, there remains empowerment within it, ' in the same manner, I will act for the benefit of my servants; I will refrain from eradicating them all.
9 Offspring will emerge from Jacob and Judah. Those who will claim ownership of my mountains, my elect shall acquire them. It's there that my servants will reside.
10 The Sharon area will serve as an agricultural production center for herds, and the Achor Valley will be a haven for livestock, all for those who long for me.

11 However, those of you who abandon the Sovereign Captain and disregard my exalted mountain, setting a meal for Luck and pouring out blended wine for fate, 12 I will predetermine you to experience the tactical blade. You all will succumb to the execution, for when I beckoned, you disregarded, I pronounced, but you paid no heed. You committed a full range of unworthy choices within my view and opted for what I disliked."

13 The Sovereign Captain decrees this pronouncement: “My servants shall feast, while hunger strikes you; my servants shall quench their thirst, while you stay parched; my servants shall bask in delight, while disgrace consumes you.” 14 My assistants will sing with delight in their inner selves, yet you will weep due to torment in your inner-self and lament from a shattered inner-self.
15 Your names will become a term of revilement for my chosen individuals; the Supreme Preeminent Sovereign will eradicate your existence, but he will rename his servants with a distinct name.
16 Anyone in the land who asks for empowerment will seek it from the Preeminent Sovereign of ultimate authenticity; anyone who pledges an oath on the land will swear by the Preeminent Sovereign of ultimate authenticity because the struggles of the past will be entirely forgotten and concealed from my sight.”

§ 21230 NEW CELESTIAL EXPANSES AND A NEW EARTH

17 “Pay Heed: I will create new celestial bodies and a new Earth. People will forget and not remember past events.
18 Instead, rejoice and celebrate eternally over what I will manifest. I will make Yerushalayim a source of happiness and delight for its inhabitants.
19 I will delight in Yerushalayim, and my people will delight me; sorrow and cries will no longer be heard.

20 “It will no longer happen when infants live only a few days or older people fail to reach their years. A person dying at a hundred will be seen as a youth, and anyone who doesn’t reach a hundred will be deemed unfortunate.
21 Individuals will build homes to live in and cultivate grape gardens to enjoy their harvest.

22 They won’t build homes for others to live in, nor will they cultivate crops for others to consume. People’s lifespan will be like that of a tree. My chosen ones will enjoy their labor outcomes for a long time.

23 “They will not work without results, nor will they bear children destined for disaster; the Sovereign Captain favors their community, as will future generations.
24 Even before they voice their needs, I will respond; while their words are unfinished, I will understand.
25 The lion will consume straw like an ox, the lamb and the wolf will share a patch of pasture, and the serpent will consume dust. There will be no pain or devastation throughout my exalted mountain,” declares the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21240 JUDGMENT AND HOPE

66 The Sovereign Captain declares: “The celestial realms are my command control, and the Earth is a footrest for my feet. Could you possibly construct a dwelling for me? Where could the location of my repose possibly be?

[2] Is it not my hand that has crafted everything that exists, bringing them into being," affirms the Sovereign Captain. "The individuals who have my approval are modest, remorseful in their inner-self, and shudder at my directives.
[3] Any individual who offers a bull as an absolving payment equates to a person indulging in murder; the one presenting a lamb as an offering can be likened to a person snapping a dog's neck. Similarly, the act of offering grain is comparable to someone offering the blood of a pig, and the act of burning formal incense mirrors idolized deity worship.
[4] Therefore, I choose to subject them to harsh occurrences and instill what they fear most. Despite my calls, no one responded, and when I voiced out, no one paid attention. They indulged in activities that were unacceptable to me and preferred what I found displeasing.

[5] Hear the Sovereign Captain's message, you who shudder at His declarations: 'Your relative who despises you and casts you out due to my name's sake has articulated, "May the Sovereign Captain be exalted so that we may witness your happiness!" However, they will be cloaked in disgrace. '
[6] Listen to the commotion from the city; take notice of the sound from the fortress! This commotion is the noise of the Sovereign Captain serving punishment to those who oppose him, reciprocating them as they deserve.

[7] "Before she experiences childbirth, she has a delivery; before her childbirth aches approach, she brings a male child into the world.
[8] Has anyone ever witnessed such occurrences? Has anyone ever seen anything just like this? Can a land exist in a day, or can a nation emerge instantly? Yet, as soon as the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign experiences the pains of labor, she delivers her offspring.
[9] Would I bring a child to the verge of being born and not let him be born? It's time for delivery. Would I shut the womb," asks your Preeminent Sovereign.

[10] Celebrate with Yerushalayim and find delight in all those who cherish her; be filled with immense happiness in all those who grieved for her.
[11] You will be nurtured and content at her solacing bosom. You shall partake heartily and revel in her plentiful bounty.
[12] This declaration is from the Sovereign Captain: "Prosperity will overflow her like a river, and the riches of nations will surge like an overflowing stream; you will feed and be cradled in her arms and showered with affection with her salute.
[13] Like a mother soothes her child similarly, I'll provide consolation, so you'll experience tranquility in Yerushalayim."

[14] Your inner-self will rejoice in witnessing this, and you will prosper like the newly sprouted grass. The power of the Sovereign Captain will be disclosed to his pathseekers, yet his wrath will be unleashed against his adversaries.

[15-16] See, the Eternal Reality arrives with the intensity of a blazing storm; His presence cuts through corruption like a hurricane of justice. With the purging heat of His power and the clarity of His authenticity, He will hold everyone accountable, exposing what cannot stand in the light of His justice.

[17] "Individuals who purify and cleanse themselves to enter the exalted gardens, adhering to the one in the midst who consumes pork, rodents, and other impure substances—will encounter their culmination concurrently with the one they obey," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
[18] "I, responsive to their plans and actions, am on the verge of uniting individuals from every nation and language, and they shall arrive to witness my magnificence.

19 I will exhibit a mark among them and dispatch the survivors to the nations—to Tarshish, to the Libyans and Lydians, renowned for their markmanship, to Tubal and Greece, and to the remote islands that are unfamiliar with my reputation or have not witnessed my majesty. They will broadcast my majesty among the nations.
20 They will gather and transport all your compatriots from across all the nations to Yerushalayim, my exalted hill, as an offering to the Sovereign Captain. They will journey via armored personnel carriers, strike vehicles, armored resupply vehicles, utility terrain vehicles, and special operations forces," proclaims the Sovereign Captain. "This deployment will be done in the same manner as the Israelites present their cereal contributions to Sovereign Captain's fortress."

21 The Sovereign Captain declares: "I will choose some individuals from among them to serve as ensovereigned mediators and administrators."
22 "In the same way that I re-create a new universe and a new Earth and sustain them in My presence," says the Sovereign Captain, "so your children and your name will persist." 23 All humanity will assemble and prostrate themselves before me, from each New Moon to the next, and from Day of Rest to Day of Rest," declares the Sovereign Captain.

24 "Individuals will exit and gaze at the lifeless bodies of those who defied me. The maggots consuming them will never cease to exist, the fire incinerating them will never extinguish, and they will be an object of horror to all humanity."

~ 124 | Ascension | Jeremiah

§ 21250 THE CALL OF JEREMIAH

1 These are the words of Jeremiah, heir of Hilkiah, an ensovereigned mediator in Anathoth, Benjamin.
2 In the thirteenth year of Josiah, son of Amon, Prime Ruler of Judah, the Preeminent Sovereign's message came to him.
3 The disclosures continued through the reign of Josiah's heir until the fifth month of Zedekiah's eleventh year, marking the exile of Yerushalayim's citizens.
4 The Sovereign Captain conveyed his message to me.
5 "Before your formation in the womb, I knew you. Before your birth, I set you apart as a spokesperson to the people."
6 I protested, "Oh, Sovereign Captain, I lack eloquence since I am young."
7 The Sovereign Captain told me, "Do not say 'I'm just a youngster. ' You must go to everyone I send you and say whatever I command you.
8 Do not fear them, for I am with you to protect you," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
9 The Sovereign Captain touched my mouth and said, "I have put my words in your mouth."
10 "Today, I appoint you over nations and nations to uproot and tear down, to destroy and overthrow, to build and plant."

11 The Sovereign Captain asked me, "Jeremiah, what do you see?" I replied, "I see an almond tree branch."
12 The Sovereign Captain confirmed, "You have seen correctly; I am watching to ensure My Path is fulfilled."
13 The Preeminent Sovereign's message came again: "What do you see?" "I see a boiling pot tilting from the North," I replied.
14 The Sovereign Captain said, "From the North, disaster will be poured out on all who live in this land.
15 I am calling all the peoples of the northern nations," declares the Sovereign Captain. "Their Prime Rulers will come and set up their bases of authority at the entrances of Yerushalayim's gates; they will attack all her surrounding walls and all the cities of Judah.
16 I will pronounce my judgments on my people because of their impurity in forsaking me, burning scorched absolving payments to idolized deities, and worshipping what their hands have made."

17 Prepare yourself. Get up and tell them everything I've told you to do. I will frighten you in front of them, so don't be intimidated by them.
18 Today, I have created you to be like a city fortified, an iron pillar, and bronze barriers against the entire land, including the Prime Rulers, officials, priests, and people of Judah.

§ 21260 ISRAEL FORSAKES THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

2 Captain's message was conveyed to me.

2 March forth and announce to the people of Yerushalayim: This is what the Sovereign Captain declares: ‘I remember the passion of your early days, how like a committed partner, you dedicated yourself to me and stood by me even through uncharted and difficult paths.'

3 Israel was purified to the Sovereign Captain, just like the early harvest produce; those who consumed her were deemed guilty, and calamity befell them, asserts the Sovereign Captain.

4 Listen to the Sovereign Captain’s message, you offsprings of Jacob, every family group from the nation of Israel.
5 The Sovereign Captain questions: What wrongdoing did your forefathers perceive in me, leading them to depart so drastically from me? They pursued meaningless idolized deities, so turning into futile beings themselves.
6 They neglected to question, “Where is the Sovereign who led our escape from Egypt and guided us through the arid wilderness, a terrain of deserts and gorges, a region of intense dryness and complete blackness, a territory untraversed and uninhabited?”
7 I led you into a land of plenty to enjoy its gifts and goodness, yet you tarnished my territory on your arrival. You turned my heritage into something loathsome.
8 The clergy didn’t ask, “Where is the Sovereign Captain?” Those accountable for interpreting the Mosaic Law failed to recognize me; the authorities defied me. The seers foretold through Baal adhere to valueless idolized deities.
9 Therefore, again, I accuse you, says the Sovereign Captain, and I also blame your grandchildren.
10 Go to the shores of Cyprus and have a look; forward to Kedar and give it great thought; find out whether anything similar has ever happened:
11 Has there been a situation where a nation has altered its idolized deities, even when they are not real idolized deities? Yet my people have swapped their magnificent Preeminent Sovereign for valueless idolized deities.
12 Be horrified; you celestial realms tremble with absolute terror, proclaim Yahweh.
13 My people have committed two errors: They’ve abandoned me, the source of fresh and renewing energy, and instead built faulty systems, cracked and unable to sustain the power they need.
14 Has Israel turned into bondservants, born into captivity? If not, why have they been treated as spoils?
15 Enemies roared like lions against him; they growled loudly, leading his territory to Desolation; his settlements were charred and void of people.
16 The individuals from Memphis and Tahpanhes have shattered your authority.

17 Isn’t it authentic that you have brought this on yourself by abandoning the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, as He guided you on the right path?
18 What is the purpose of journeying to Egypt to partake in the waters of the Nile? What benefits are achieved by traversing to Assyria to consume the waters of the Euphrates?
19 Your wrongdoings will bring you discipline; your deviation from the trust will reprimand you. Reflecting on and comprehending how harmful and bitter it is to abandon the Sovereign Captain and not possess a reverence for me, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Sovereign Captain of the celestial realm’s armies.
20 You shook off your shackles and broke free from my constraints in the distant past, declaring, “I refuse to be enslaved!” Yet, under the leafy cover of every sprawling tree and atop each lofty hill, you have acted like a streetwalker.
21 I nurtured you like an exclusive, well-planned urban development with state-of-the-art infrastructure. How then did you deteriorate into a run-down, neglected project?

22 Despite scrubbing yourself with cleanser and using a significant amount of solid soap, the mark of your fullness of unworthy choices remains visible to me, proclaims the Eternal Reality.
23 How can you deny being contaminated and chasing after the Baals? Reflect on your actions in the valley and realize what you've perpetrated. You behave like a fast-paced she-camel zigzagging every which way.
24 A wild donkey, used to the wilderness, in her craving, sniffs the wind in her heat; who can hold her back? Males seeking her need not exhaust themselves; during her mating season, they will quickly find her.
25 Refrain from pursuing until your footwear is worn out and your esophagus is parched.
However, you decide, "It's pointless! I adore foreign idolized deities and am obligated to chase them."
26 Similar to how a thief feels humiliated upon getting caught, the nation of Israel and its Prime Rulers, officials, priests, and prophets experience the same disgrace.
27 They address the timer as "You are our progenitor," and to the rock, "You birthed us." They have shown me their rear instead of their countenances; nevertheless, they'll "Rise and rescue us during their adversities!"

28 Where could the idolized deities you have crafted for your benefit? Let them appear if they are capable of rescuing you during your hardships! Judah, the number of your idolized deities is as vast as the number of your cities.
29 What is your complaint? All of you have turned against me, says the Sovereign Captain?
30 Despite my attempts to chastise your people, they refused to heed the lessons. Your tactical blade has consumed your eternally wise servants like a voracious beast.
31 People of the present era reflect on Sovereign Captain's message: Have I been to Israel as a barren wasteland or a territory enveloped in deep darkness? Why do my subjects proclaim, "We are uncontained; we no longer need to return to you?"
32 Can a maiden disregard her precious trinkets, or can a bride overlook her nuptial attire?
However, my people have disregarded me endlessly for innumerable days.
33 You certainly know how to chase after lovers. Even the wrong women can learn from your techniques.
34 The garments bear the bloodstains of the innocent deprived, even while they weren't discovered while intruding. Regardless of all these, it persists.
35 You claim, "I am not guilty; he bears no resentment towards me." However, I will bring charges against you since you haven't committed any misdeed." 36 Why are you so inconsistent, constantly altering your course? You will be let down by Egypt just as Assyria was before it.
37 Eventually, you will depart from that spot, your hands atop your head, as the Sovereign Captain has disregarded those you trust; they will not assist you.

3 If a man separates from his wife and she departs from him to wed another, does he have the right to take her? Wouldn't this completely defile the territory? You've behaved like an untrustworthy woman with countless partners. "Do you intend to return to me?" proclaimed the Sovereign Captain.

2 Cast your gaze on the lonely hilltops and observe. Is there a single location where you have not been violated? You awaited for your lovers by the wayside, positioned like a wanderer in the wilderness. You have tarnished the Earth with your harlotry and evil deeds.
3 So, the rains have been restrained, and there have been no spring showers. Despite this, you carry the shameless expression of a harlot and adamantly refuse to display embarrassment.
4 Didn't you recently refer to me as My Life-Giver, a companion from my younger days?

5 Will His rage never end? Will His ire last till the very end? You've said this, but you're still doing everything wrong you can.

§ 21270 DISLOYAL ISRAEL

6 During Josiah's reign, the Sovereign Captain asked me, "Did you see disloyal Israel? She went up every high hill and under every green tree, acting like a harlot."
7 "I hoped she would return to me, but she didn't; her disloyal sister, Judah, saw it all."
8 Despite Israel's many acts of disloyalty leading to her dismissal, Judah showed no fear and cheated.
9 Israel's disregard for her actions polluted the land, and she worshipped idolized deities with stones and trees.
10 Despite everything, Judah didn't return to me sincerely; she only pretended, declares the Sovereign Captain.
11 The Preeminent Sovereign disclosed that disloyal Israel was more aligned than deceitful Judah.
12 proclaim this message to the North: "Return, disloyal Israel," the Sovereign Captain declares. "I am merciful and will not stay angry forever," the Sovereign Captain announces.

13 Acknowledge your guilt for betraying the Sovereign Captain and the Eternal Reality One. the Sovereign Captain exclaims, "You have scattered your favors to foreign idolized deities under every green tree and have not obeyed My voice."
14 "Return to me, you disloyal ones," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "for I am your overseer. I will choose one from a city and two from a community and bring you to the hub of David."
15 "I will appoint guides who follow my inner-self; they will lead you with wisdom and insight."
16 In the future, as you grow and prosper, states the Sovereign Captain, people will no longer talk about 'The Strongbox of the Sovereign Captain's Solemn Agreement. ' It will not come to mind or be missed, nor will another be made.
17 At that time, Yerushalayim will be called the seat of the Sovereign Captain, and all nations will gather there to honor the Sovereign Captain's Name. They will no longer follow their stubborn, impure inner selves.
18 In those days, Judah will join Israel, and they will come from the North to the land I gave your ancestors as an inheritance.
19 I considered treating you as my children and giving you a pleasant land, the finest heritage among nations. I expected you to call me 'Life-Giver' and never stop following me.
20 But like a wife disloyal to her husband, you, Israel, have been disloyal to me, declares the Sovereign Captain.
21 The people of Israel are heard to be crying and pleading on the desolate heights because they have turned away from their Sovereign Captain, their Preeminent Sovereign, and have corrupted their ways.
22 "Return, faithless people; I will cure your backsliding." Yes, we come to you, for you are our Sovereign Captain and Preeminent Sovereign.
23 Surely the idolatrous commotion on the hills and mountains is a deception; our redemption is in the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign.
24 From our youth, idolized deities have consumed our ancestors' labor—their flocks and herds, their sons and daughters.

25 Let us sink into our humiliation and allow it to envelop us. We have transgressed against the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, from our youth until now; we have not obeyed the Sovereign Captain or our Preeminent Sovereign.

4 Israel, if you return, return to me, declares the Sovereign Captain. If you put your detestable idolized deities out of my sight and no longer go astray,
2 if in an authentic way, you swear, ‘As surely as the Sovereign Captain lives, ’ then the nations will be fortunate by him, and in him, they will acclaim.
3 The Sovereign Captain says to the people of Judah and Yerushalayim:
4 Break up your unplowed Earth, and do not plant among thorns. Dedicate yourselves to the Sovereign Captain, purify your inner selves, men of Judah and people of Yerushalayim. Otherwise, my wrath will flare up like fire because of your evil deeds, burning with no one to quench it.

§ 21280 DISASTER FROM THE NORTH

5 Broadcast in Judah and make known in Yerushalayim, declare: “Blow the horns across the entire region! Shout out and command: ‘Let’s retreat to the cities with high walls for protection!’”
6 Hoist the flag towards David's Hub! Take cover instantly! A catastrophe from the North is imminent, bringing severe devastation.
7 A lion has emerged from its den, and a devastator of nations is on the move. He has departed from his dwelling to wreak havoc on your terrain. Your cities will become desolate, devoid of dwellers.
8 Therefore, don mourning attire, express sorrow, and cry out; Captain’s intense wrath has not yet been withdrawn from us.
9 According to the Sovereign Captain’s vision, the prophets would be overcome with fear on that terrible day, the priests would shudder in terror, and the Prime Ruler and his dignitaries would lose all courage.
10 I exclaimed, “Oh no, Eternal Sovereign Captain! By ensuring You will have peace, You have led these people and Yerushalayim astray, even when a blade is on our necks!”

11 A scorching wind from the barren summits in the desert blasts toward the offspring of My people, but not to refine or to sift,” it will be spoken to this populace and Yerushalayim at that time.
12 A gust far too powerful for that emerges from me. At this moment, I declare my condemnation of my people.
13 Pay heed: the enemy approaches like gathering clouds; their war strike vehicles resemble a violent storm, and their tactical personnel transports move faster than eagles. Alas! We are doomed for destruction!
14 Yerushalayim, purge your inner-self of evil to attain redemption. How long will you entertain sinister ideas within you?
15 A declaration of disaster echoes from Dan while lousy news emerges from the hills of Ephraim.
16 Communicate this to the nations and make it known regarding Yerushalayim: “Forces laying siege are advancing from a remote territory, uttering battle shouts against the towns of Judah.”
17 They enclose her like custodians of an estate, given that she has acted in defiance towards me,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
18 The consequences you face result from your behavior and actions. This payback is your retribution. It’s genuinely harsh! It indeed reaches deep into your core!
19 My agony, how I wish! I writhe in agony! My chest hurts so much! My inner-self is racing; I can’t stay still because I hear the combat alarm and the authority sound.

20 Catastrophe succeeds catastrophe; the entire landscape is laid waste. In a blink, my dwellings meet destruction, my fortress in a fleeting moment.
21 How long will I have to witness the war flags and endure the blaring of sound cannons?
22 My populace needs to be made aware of me; they need to be made aware of me. They resemble thoughtless offspring; they are devoid of comprehension. They have mastered the act of wrongdoing and are clueless about enacting integrity.

23 I observed the planet; it was barren and vacant. I directed my sight to the celestial realms, and their luminescence had vanished.
24 I observed the mountains and noted their shaking. Every single hill seemed to rock back and forth.
25 I observed, and no human was in sight; every bird in the celestial realms had taken flight.
26 I observed that the fertile field had turned into a wilderness; all its cities were in ruins due to the presence of the Sovereign Captain and his burning wrath.
27 The Sovereign Captain proclaims that the entire Earth will turn into wastelands, and you won't eradicate it.
28 As a result, the land will grieve, and the sky above will be cloaked in darkness. I have voiced my intentions and will not waver; I have made my determination and will not reverse it.
29 On hearing the thunderous noise of assault forces and snipers, every city succumbs to panic and flight. Some seek shelter amid dense vegetation; others ascend the rocky terrain. All towns are vacated and devoid of inhabitants.
30 You who are ravaged, what are you up to? Why do you adorn yourself in crimson and embellish yourself with gold ornaments?
31 I hear she sounds like a maiden in the throes of childbirth, distress like that of a woman birthing her first offspring—the lament of the Daughter, the hub of David, gasping for air, extending her arms, exclaiming, "I'm! I'm growing faint; my existence is in the hands of executioners."

§ 21290 NOT ONE IS UPRIGHT

5 Traverse the pathways of Yerushalayim, observe and ponder, and investigate her public communal places. I will absolve this city if you discover an inner-self who acts with integrity and pursues ultimate authenticity.

2 Despite their claim that "As certainly as the Sovereign Captain lives," they are making a false vow.

3 Almighty, isn't it the ultimate authenticity your gaze searches for? Even though you thrashed them, they did not experience any discomfort; despite your attempts to obliterate them, they turned a blind eye to your discipline. They hardened their visages, exceeding the sturdiness of a rock, and adamantly rejected remorse.

4 I deduced that these are merely the impoverished; they act senselessly, as they are unacquainted with the path of the Sovereign Captain or what their Preeminent Sovereign requires of them.

5 There, I'll approach the influential individuals and communicate with them; undoubtedly, they know the Preeminent Sovereign's path and what their idolized deity demands of them. However, in unity, they have cast aside their responsibilities and shattered their constraints.

6 That's why a wolf from the arid plains would attack them, and a lion from the wild would destroy them. A leopard lurks around their cities, ready to shred anyone who leaves, given their numerous acts of rebellion and frequent backslidings.

7 What reason do I have to pardon you? Your offspring have abandoned Me and pledged to those who are idolized deities. I catered to all their necessities, yet they were disloyal and frequented brothels in large numbers.

8 They resemble satiated, passionate stallions, each calling for the spouse of another man.

9 Is it unjustified for me to retaliate against such actions? asks the Sovereign Captain. Is it not valid for me to seek retribution against a nation of such nature?

10 Traverse her rooftop gardens and wreak havoc, yet do not obliterate them. Tear away her sprigs, as these individuals do not pertain to the Sovereign Captain.

11 The house of Israel and Judah have betrayed me completely, affirming the Sovereign Captain.

12 They have spread falsehoods about the Sovereign Captain, asserting they won't intervene! No adversity will befall us; we will not experience warfare or scarcity.

13 The prophets are empty air; their messages do not come from celestial authority; let their proclamations befall them.

14 So, the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Celestial Forces, declares: As these individuals have uttered this statement, I'll turn my utterances in your speech into a fiery blaze, and these individuals will be the timber it engulfs.

15 The Sovereign Captain proclaims to the people of Israel that a remote nation is being rallied against you—a timeless and persistent civilization, a community speaking a tongue unknown to you, uttering words you cannot comprehend.

16 Their projectile holders resemble a gaping tomb; each is a formidable fighter.

17 They will consume your grain and your food supplies, obliterate your offspring; they will prey on your livestock and cattle, and ravage your vineyards and fig orchards. With their weapons, they will lay waste to the fortified towns you have trust in.

18 Nonetheless, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, I will not bring you to utter destruction during those times.

19 When the populace inquire, "What is the reason for the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, imposing all these events on us?" you should inform them, "Just as you turned your backs on me and worshipped idolized deities from other nations. At the same time, in your homeland, you will now be subjected to serving outsiders in unfamiliar territory and not your own."

20 Declare this throughout Judah and in the house of Jacob:

21 Listen, you unwise and senseless individuals endowed with sight but unable to perceive, gifted with hearing but unable to comprehend.

22 Are you afraid of Me? the Sovereign Captain says. Do you not shudder at the sight of Me, who made the sea's border from sand, an impregnable wall it cannot pass? The waves break, yet they are powerless. They roar, unable to triumph over it.

23 These individuals possess unyielding and defiant inner selves; they have deviated and departed.

24 They do not contemplate, "We ought to elevate the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, who graciously sends the rains of autumn and spring at the right time, ensuring the timely arrival of our harvest weeks."

25 Your misconduct has barred these empowerments. Your transgressions have robbed you of the benefits.

26 Within my community, malevolent individuals lurk, like those who ensnare birds, setting devious traps to ensnare humans.

27 Their homes abound in dishonesty, just like cages brimming with birds. As a result, they have amassed wealth and influence.

28 They have become plump, and there's no boundary to their impure actions; they avoid pursuing fairness. They neglect the plight of the orphans and fail to stand up for the rightful matters of the impoverished.

29 "Isn't it right for me to impose retribution on them?" proclaims the Sovereign Captain. Can I not seek retaliation on a nation of this sort?

30 An appalling and outrageous situation has occurred in the territory.

31 The prophets deliver untruthful predictions, the religious leaders govern under their discretion, and my ensovereigned lifestyle community enjoys this conduct. Yet, what actions will you undertake when everything concludes?

§ 21300 YERUSHALAYIM UNDER SIEGE

6 "Seek refuge, inhabitants of Benjamin! Depart now from Yerushalayim! Resound the alarm in Tekoa! Elevate a beacon over Beth Hakkerem! For menace, peers from the North brought extensive devastation.
2 The beautiful and tender Daughter, the hub of David, faces imminent devastation.

3 Herders and their livestock will approach her and set their camps around her, each taking care of his section.
4 Initiate conflict with her! Get ready; it's time for a midday assault! Oh no, the day is gradually dimming, and the evening shadows are beginning to extend.
5 Let's get ready; we will assault at night and demolish her strongholds!
6 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, decrees: Chop down her trees and construct battering rams against Yerushalayim. This city is meant to be disciplined; there's nothing but tyranny.

7 Like a fountain continuously expels its waters, she constantly exhibits impurity. The sounds of violence and chaos echo throughout her; her diseases and injuries are persistently in my sight.
8 Heed the caution, Yerushalayim, or I will become estranged from you, transforming your land into a barren wilderness where no one can reside.
9 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: Gather the few remaining people of Israel as entirely as one would gather grapes from a vine; brush your hand over the branches once more, as a grape harvester would.
10 To whom should I communicate and issue a caution? Who would pay heed to My Path? Their ears are shut, and they cannot comprehend. The messages from the Sovereign Captain are distressing for them. They extract no delight from it.
11 Yet, I am filled with the anger of the Sovereign Captain, which I am tired of containing. Unleash it on the children playing in the streets and the young men convened together; spouses and older people, those burdened with numerous years, will be trapped in it.
12 The properties, agricultural territories, and their spouses will be transferred to others when I cast my hand against all those residing in this region," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
13 "everyone from the most insignificant to the most significant desires dishonest earnings; alike, prophets and priests engage in deceptive behavior.

14 They treat people's injuries as trivial, proclaiming, 'All is well, all is well, ' when, in fact, tranquility is absent.
15 Are they remorseful for their reprehensible behavior? No, they do not; they do not even understand the concept of embarrassment. So, they will tumble among those already fallen; they will be pulled down when I deliver my judgment," declares the Sovereign Captain.
16 The Sovereign Captain directs: "Position yourself at the juncture of paths and examine; inquire about the routes from yesteryears; seek out where the authentic path lies; journey on it, and you will attain tranquility for your inner-self." However, you responded, "We refuse to tread on it."
17 "I commanded security guards to keep an eye on you and warned you to hear the sound of the alarm." But in response, they said, "We won't listen!"
18 "Nations lend your ears; you who serve as testifiers, be aware of the fate that awaits them.
19 Take note, Earth: I am about to inflict calamity on these people, and the outcome of their plotting is that they've turned a deaf ear to my proclamations and dismissed my instruction.
20 Why should I bother with the sweet-smelling cane from a far-off country or the incense from Sheba? The scorched gifts you offer are not appealing to me, nor do your absolving payments bring me delight.
21 So declares the Sovereign Captain: I plan to place stumbling blocks in the path of these people. Both parents and children will trip over them; community members and their associates will be wiped out."
22 The Sovereign Captain declares: "Pay Heed: a military force is advancing from the northern territory; a considerable nation is awakening from the farthest regions of the Earth.
23 They seize projectile launchers, are ruthless, and take no pity. Their sound roars like the sea as they rush in their armored personnel carriers; they arrive in formation like warriors ready to strike you, O daughter of the hub of David.
24 News about them has reached us, causing our hands to weaken. Agony traps us, resembling the pain a woman endures during childbirth.

25 Avoid journeying into the countryside or treading along the roads, as the foe wields a tactical blade, and fear pervades in all directions.
26 My people, adorn yourselves in mourning clothes and immerse in the dust; grieve intensely as if for a unique child, for abruptly, the one who brings destruction will descend on us.

27 I have designated you as an assayer of my people, similar to a worker examining our quality so that you can assess and scrutinize their behavior.
28 Each is irredeemably defiant, constantly spreading false rumors. Comparable to bronze and iron, their actions invariably breed corruption.
29 The flames are fanned intensely to consume the lead with fire, yet the purification continues fruitlessly; the evil ones are not separated.
30 They are called discarded silver, for the Sovereign Captain has dismissed them.”

§ 21310 FALSE RELIGION WORTHLESS

7 The Sovereign Captain communicated his message to Jeremiah.
2 “Position yourself at the entrance of the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress and announce:
‘Listen to the words of the Preeminent Sovereign, all inhabitants of Judah who enter these doors to offer reverence to the Sovereign Captain.
3 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, directs: Alter your conduct and deeds, and I will permit you to reside in this land.
4 Sayings such as ‘This is the fortress of the Sovereign Captain that should not be believed.
5 Truly reform your behaviors and deeds and treat one another fairly,
6 abstain from mistreating the outsider, the orphan, and the widow, refrain from spilling innocent blood on this land, and avoid chasing after idolized deities to your detriment.

7 I will then allow you to reside in this place, on the land I have given to your forefathers for all eternity.
8 Observe that you are placing your trust in dishonest, unproductive statements.
9 Will you follow unknown idolized deities, commit infidelity and perjury, steal and kill, burn fragrance to Baal, and more?
10 Then dare you to approach and stand before me in this fortress, where my Name is revered, and declare, ‘We are secure to carry out all these despicable acts’?
11 Did you turn this house, renowned by My Name, into a hideout for thieves? Remember, I have been observing! Affirms the Sovereign Captain.
12 Proceed to Shiloh, the initial site where I established a place for my Name, and follow my actions there due to the lack of unworthy choices and behavior of my people, Israel.
13 Despite your continual actions,” affirms the Sovereign Captain, “I persistently communicated to you, yet you chose not to heed; I beckoned you, but you declined to respond.
14 I will now take action against Shiloh, the house that bears My Name, the fortress you trust, and the place I gave to you and your forefathers.
15 Just like I banished all your relatives—Ephraim’s descendants—you too will be dismissed from my sight.
16 Refrain from supplicating for these individuals or proffering any request or petition for them.
Avoid imploring with me, for I shall not pay heed to you.
17 Aren’t you observing their actions with Judah’s cities and along Yerushalayim’s lanes?
18 Offspring collect timber, fathers ignite the flame, and women mold the dough to create bread offerings for the Extra-Terrestrial First Lady. They dispense libations to idolized deities, inciting my wrath.
19 ‘Is it I they are truly offending?’ asserts the Sovereign Captain. ‘Isn’t it indeed themselves they are bringing harm to, resulting in their humiliation?’

20 So, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: My anger and fury will be unleashed on this location—impacting both humans and animals, the trees in the fields, and the produce of your land—it will blaze unstoppably.
21 The Sovereign Captain directs: Feel free to combine your scorched absolving payments with your other absolving payments and consume the meat yourself!
22 When I led your forefathers from Egypt, my instructions were not solely about scorched absolving payments and absolving payments.
23 I gave them the directive: heed my instruction, and I will stand as your Eternal Reality. You'll be my pathseekers. Conduct yourselves by every directive I give so that prosperity may be yours.
24 Despite the warnings, they failed to heed or show concern; instead, they pursued the obstinate desires of their malicious inner selves. Their path led them toward regression rather than progression.
25 Since your forefathers departed from Egypt, I have continually dispatched my messengers, the eternally wise servants, to you daily.
26 Yet, they failed to heed my voice or give me any consideration. They were stubborn, committing more wrong deeds than their forefathers.
27 They won't lend you their ears even after you relay all these matters to them; your calls will meet with no response.
28 So, proclaim to them, 'This refers to the nation which failed to heed the directives of the Sovereign Captain or accept any reproof. Honesty has ceased to exist; it has completely disappeared from their discourse.
29 Shave your head, cast aside your hair; let your sorrowful cries ring out on the desolate hilltops, for the Preeminent Sovereign has discarded and turned His back on the generation subject to His anger. '"

§ 21320 THE VALLEY OF SLAUGHTER

30 The inhabitants of Judah have committed acts displeasing to me, proclaims the Sovereign Captain. They have installed their loathsome idolized deities in the fortress that carries my Name, defiling it.

31 They've constructed sites of joyful adoration at Topheth, in the Ben Hinnom Valley, to burn their sons and daughters—a deed I never commanded, nor did it ever cross my consciousness.

32 The days are near, declares the Sovereign Captain, when this place will be called the Valley of Slaughter instead of Topheth and the Valley of Hinnom. In Topheth, they will bury the dead until there is no more space.
33 No one will scare away the birds and beasts from these people's bodies.
34 I will silence the chants of delight and delight, along with the celebrations of the groom and bride, in Judah's communities and Yerushalayim's streets as the land becomes a ruinous wasteland.

8 The Sovereign Captain announced that during that period, the remains of Judean Prime Rulers and officials, priests, and prophets, and Yerushalayim's inhabitants would be extracted from their burial sites.
2 They will be exposed to the sun, moon, and celestial bodies they loved, admired, followed, and sought guidance from. They will not be collected or buried but like refuse on the soil.

3 Where I have expelled them, all remnants of this impure family will choose death over life, asserts the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21330 UNWORTHY CHOICES AND PUNISHMENT

4 Communicate to them, “Here are the words of the Sovereign Captain: Doesn’t a person stand up when they stumble? If they stray, wouldn’t they come back?”
5 Why do these individuals continually turn their backs? Why does Yerushalayim persistently deviate? They are closely bound to dishonesty and do not wish to change their ways.
6 They don’t speak truthfully despite my careful attention. No one expresses remorse for Yerushalayim’s evil deeds, pondering, “What have I done?” They all continue on their paths, like an assault force's charge headfirst into combat.

7 Even the stork in the sky is aware of her migration seasons, and the dove, the swift, and the thrush monitor the timing of their travel. Yet, my people need to understand Sovereign Captain’s laws.
8 How can you proclaim we are enlightened, stating that the Sovereign Captain’s Path is with us when the distorted writings of the intelligence analysts have manipulated it with dishonesty?
9 Those presumed wise will be humiliated, shocked, and trapped. Given that these people are intelligence analysts of Sovereign Captain’s Path, can their understanding be considered wisdom?

10 So, their wives will be given to strangers and their lands to those who will inherit. Everyone, from the lowest to the most prominent, is desirous of illicit wealth; every prophet and priest is involved in deception.
11 They treat the injuries of my people as if they were trivial. They proclaim harmony, harmony when it doesn’t exist.
12 Are they remorseful for their despicable actions? Not at all; they do not possess any sense of shame nor the capacity to feel humiliated. So, they will stumble with those who have struggled; they will crumble when punished, declares the Sovereign Captain.
13 The Sovereign Captain has decreed their crops will be removed. The vine will bear no grapes.
No figs will grow on the tree, and the leaves will dry up. The empowerments they have received will be confiscated.

14 What are we doing lingering? Let’s rally each other. Let’s move forward to the protected client.
Let’s meet our fate there! the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, has decreed our downfall and endowed us with toxic water to consume, entailing our transgressions against him.
15 We longed for relief, yet received none, for a healing period but found exclusively fear.

16 The enemy’s armored personnel carriers are audible from Dan; the entire territory quakes at their mighty neighs. They’ve arrived to consume the territory, including all its contents, the metropolis, and its inhabitants.
17 The Sovereign Captain declares I will unleash dangerous serpents on you, venomous vipers immune to enchantments, and they will inflict their bite on you.

18 The Preeminent Sovereign, you are my solace when upset; my inner-self feels weak.
19 Pay heed to the distress calls of my populace from a distant territory: Has the Sovereign Captain abandoned the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign? Is her Prime Ruler no longer present? Why did they provoke my wrath with their representations, their insignificant idolized deity adoration from abroad?

20 “The deadlines have passed, the opportunities have closed, and still, we’ve seen no progress or resolution.”
21 The torment of my people inflicts torment on me as well; I grieve, overcome with terror.

22 “Doesn’t Gilead have medicinal ointments? Isn’t there a doctor in that place? Then, hasn’t the health of my dear people been restored?”

9 “If only my head were a well of water and my eyes a fountain of tears! Then, I could weep day and night for my slain people!”

2 “I wish I could find a refuge in the wilderness, a place for wanderers to rest, so I could leave my nation and distance myself from them, for they are all involved in illicit affairs, an ensovereigned lifestyle community teeming with untrustworthy individuals.”

3 “They equip their words like a weapon, firing deceit; authenticity does not lead them to victory. They transition from one wrongdoing to the next and fail to recognize me,” pronounces the Sovereign Captain.

4 “Be cautious of your companions. Place no confidence in your relative. Each is skilled at deception, while every friend is prone to spreading false rumors.”

5 “Nobody tells the ultimate authenticity; everyone betrays their friends. Their tongues have been trained to lie, and they exhaust themselves while committing wrongdoing.”

6 “Your existence unfolds within an environment of dishonesty; their falsehoods lead them to dismiss my presence,” proclaimed the Sovereign Captain.

7 “Consequently,” the Almighty Sovereign Captain proclaims, “Pay heed; I will refine them and put them to the test; what other option do I have given the transgressions of my people?”

8 “Their speech is as lethal as a launched projectile; they utter lies. They convey friendly words to their counterparts. However, they devise snares in their minds against them.”

9 “Is it not my duty to inflict retribution on them for these deeds?” proclaims the Sovereign Captain. “Is it wrong for me to retaliate against such a nation?”

10 “I shall weep for the hills, bemoan the meadows in the desert, and sing a mourning song. They are scorched and deserted, and the sound of livestock is not audible. All the birds and wild beasts have evacuated and disappeared.”

11 “Yerushalayim will be reduced to a mound of rubble, a dwelling for wild dogs; I will devastate Judah’s cities, leaving them uninhabitable.”

12 “Who possesses the wisdom to comprehend this? To whom has the Preeminent Sovereign imparted wisdom to clarify it? Why has the Earth been desolate, resembling a desolate wilderness no one traverses?”

13 “The Preeminent Sovereign expressed that they abandoned the instruction I provided for them; they neither acknowledged my authority nor adhered to my teachings.”

14 “They actively pursued the stubbornness of their inner selves and worshipped the Baals, following the instructions of their forefathers.”

15 “So declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: Pay heed. I am about to feed this nation bitterness and make them consume toxin-infused water.”

16 “I’ll distribute them among the nations unknown to them and their forebears and chase them with a blade, so they’re entirely eradicated.”

17 “the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims: Reflect on this! Summon the lamenting women; bring forth those with the highest expertise.”

18 “Hasten their arrival to lament for us until our eyes are filled with tears and our eyelids are flush with water.”

19 “The cries of lamentation echo from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign: ‘We are utterly devastated! Intense is our humiliation! We are compelled to desert our land as our homes lie in destruction. ’”

20 “Ladies, pay heed to the message of the Sovereign Captain; absorb the words from His mouth. Instruct your daughters in the art of mourning; teach each other a song of sadness.”

21 “Mortality has stealthily intruded through our windows and invaded our strongholds; it has banished the children from the thoroughfares and the young adults from the communal spaces.”

22 “Announce this proclamation from the Sovereign Captain: ‘Corpses of people will be scattered everywhere like manure in an open field as if they were freshly reaped grain with no one to collect them. ’”

23 “The message from the Sovereign Captain emphasizes that those with knowledge should not take pride in their understanding, neither should the powerful be arrogant about their power, nor should those of wealth find vanity in their affluence.”

24 “If someone takes pride in something, let it be in their comprehension and acknowledgment of me, their realization that I am the Sovereign Captain, demonstrating love, fairness, and equity on Earth, for these are the aspects in which I find delight,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

25 “The time is near,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, “when I will deal with all those who exclusively physically observe circumcision.”

26 “Egypt, Judah, Edom, Ammon, Moab, and all those residing in remote wilderness locations, for all these nations are innerly misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh. Similarly, the entire community of Israel lacks inner circumcision in the inner-self.”

§ 21340 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN AND IDOLIZED DEITIES

10 Listen to the message that the Sovereign Captain delivers to you, citizens of Israel.
2 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: “Do not adhere to the practices of other societies and do not let celestial omens petrify you, even if they incite terror in those societies.”
3 “The traditions of the nations hold no value; they chop down a tree from the woods and artisan crafts it with his cutting tool.”
4 “They embellish it with silver and gold. It is secured with a hammer and nails to prevent it from toppling.”
5 “Their idolized deities, no more effective than a scarecrow in a field of cucumbers, cannot communicate and must be transported. Since they lack mobility, you should not be intimidated by them; they are incapable of causing harm just as they are incapable of doing any good.”

6 There is no comparison to You, Captain, for You display immense greatness, and Your Name is synonymous with tremendous strength.
7 Prime Ruler of all nations, who wouldn’t elevate you? You are truly deserving of such fear. None can compare to you among all the clever leaders worldwide and in every realm.
8 everyone is irrational and unwise. The leaders receive instructions from insignificant idolized deities made of timber.
9 Gold from Uphaz and beaten sheets of silver from Tarshish are used. These materials are crafted and shaped by artisans and goldsmiths and then adorned with garments of blue and purple, all completed by adept laborers.

10 Indeed, the Sovereign Captain is the ultimate authenticity; he is the Preeminent Sovereign with life, the Prime Ruler who endures forever. When his anger arises, the Earth shudders, and nations fail to withstand his fury.
11 Communicate to them that the idolized deities who didn’t create the sky and the land will be eliminated from the world and beneath the sky.
12 With His might, the Preeminent Sovereign formed the Earth, used His wisdom to shape the world, and extended the celestial realms by His understanding.
13 During his thunderous proclamation, the Celestial waters stir violently; he prompts the ascension of clouds from the Earth’s extremities. Accompanying rain with flashes of lightning, he releases wind from his hidden reserves.

14 Ignorance and a lack of wisdom plague all of humanity; creations disgrace every artisan. The figures they fashion are mere deceptions; they are devoid of life.
15 They are devoid of worth, subject to ridicule; they will cease to exist at their trial.
16 Unlike the rest, the Preeminent Sovereign of Jacob is the architect of everything, including Israel, His chosen race. His Name is the Almighty Sovereign Captain.

§ 21350 COMING DESTRUCTION

17 “Gather your belongings and leave the besieged territory.
18 The Sovereign Captain declares: ‘I will cast out the inhabitants and bring severe hardship upon them, leading to their capture. ’

19 Woe is me for my grievous injury! It is beyond healing! Yet, I acknowledge, ‘This is my affliction, and I must endure it. ’
20 My home is destroyed; all its support is gone. My children have left and are no more; no one remains to rebuild or establish my refuge.

21 The leaders are foolish and do not seek the Sovereign Captain’s guidance; they fail, and their adherents are scattered.
22 Pay heed! News is coming—great turmoil from the North! It will turn Judah’s cities into ruins, a dwelling for wild dogs. “

§ 21360 JEREMIAH’S MELDING OF HIS CONSCIENCE WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY

23 “Celestial Life-Giver, I understand that one’s life does not belong to oneself, and it’s beyond our capability to chart our path.
24 Correct me, Captain, but with justice and not in your fury, or you will diminish me to nothing.
25 Unleash your fury on the nations that fail to recognize you, on the communities that don’t invoke your Name, for they have ravaged Jacob; they have entirely consumed him and left his homeland in ruins. “

§ 21370 THE PACT IS BROKEN

11 The Sovereign Captain’s message to Jeremiah:
2 “Hear the words of this agreement and relay them to the people of Yerushalayim and Judah.
3 Tell them this decree from the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: ‘Anyone who fails to follow this agreement is doomed.
4 I instructed your forefathers to obey my orders when I led them out of Egypt, a place like a smelting furnace. If you do, you will be my people, and I will be your Eternal Reality.
5 I will fulfill the promise I made to your ancestors, giving them a prosperous land flowing with milk and honey—the land you live in today; so be it, Captain. ’”

6 The Sovereign Captain told me to announce these statements throughout Judah and Yerushalayim: “Pay heed to this solemn agreement and follow it.”

7 “Since I brought your forefathers from Egypt until now, I have persistently warned them to heed my instructions.
8 They followed their stubborn, impure inner selves. So, I imposed all the penalties of the agreement they failed to keep.”

9 The Sovereign Captain disclosed a secret arrangement among Judah and Yerushalayim.
10 “They have reverted to their forefathers’ wrongdoings, disregarding My path. They express joyful adoration and serve idolized deities. Both Israel and Judah have violated the agreement I made with their ancestors.
11 The Sovereign Captain declares: ‘I will inflict a calamity they cannot escape. Even if they plead to me, I will not hear them. ’”

12 “The cities of Judah and Yerushalayim will implore the idolized deities they offer incense to, but these idolized deities will not help them during their calamity.
13 O Judah, your idolized deities are as numerous as your towns, and the altars you’ve built for Baal are as prevalent as Yerushalayim’s streets.
14 Do not intercede for these people or make any appeal for them, as I won’t heed their cries for help during their hardship.”

15 “What does my Esteemed do in my Exalted Space while devising evil plans? Can exalted absolving payments deflect your retribution? You rejoice in your iniquity.
16 The Sovereign Captain described you as a thriving system, producing great results. But with the force of a powerful disruption, it will be dismantled, and its connections severed.
17 The Sovereign Captain cultivated you and pronounced calamity on you because Israel and Judah have acted wickedly and stirred My wrath by offering fragrant absolving payments to Baal.”

§ 21380 PLOT AGAINST JEREMIAH

18 The Sovereign Captain disclosed their plot to me, making me aware of their actions.
19 I was like a docile lamb led to slaughter, unaware of their schemes, saying, “Let’s destroy the tree and its fruit; let’s erase him from the realm of the living so his name is forgotten.”
20 But you, Almighty Sovereign Captain, who judges justly and examines the inner-self and thoughts, let me see your retribution on them, for I have entrusted my grievances to you.
21 The Sovereign Captain has spoken about the inhabitants of Anathoth who seek your life, warning them to stop prophesying in the Name of the Sovereign Captain or face death by our might.
22 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: “I will punish them. Their young men will fall by the tactical blade, and famine will claim their children.” 23 “There will be no survivors among them, as I will bring calamity on Anathoth inhabitants when their retribution comes.”

§ 21390 THE QUESTION OF JUSTICE IN URBAN RENEWAL

12 My Sovereign Captain, you always act justly when I bring my complaints to you, but I need to ask why the corrupt seem to thrive. Why do those who disregard the community’s well-being prosper?
2 You’ve allowed them to establish themselves; they look successful and seem untouchable.
They speak about you with shallow words, but their inner determination is far from you.
3 But you, Sovereign Captain, know what’s really inside. You see their motives. Remove their influence, just like weeds pulled out of a garden, so they no longer disrupt what’s meant to grow.
4 How long must this city endure neglect and decay? Even the natural world feels the effects of their greed—parks lie in disrepair, rivers are polluted, and wildlife suffers because of their self-serving ways. The people feel abandoned, wondering if you’ve forgotten them.

§ 21400 THE COST OF BETRAYAL AND THE HOPE OF RESTORATION IN THE CITY

5 “If you’re exhausted by the daily grind of city life, how will you handle the high-stakes demands of leadership? If you struggle in stable circumstances, how will you cope with navigating the chaotic neighborhoods in crisis?
6 Even your closest connections, your family and trusted colleagues, have turned against you. They say all the right things to your face, but their actions show betrayal.
7 I am stepping away from the community I built and cherished. I will let those who have exploited it feel the consequences of their actions.
8 The city I poured my heart into now seems to turn on me, like a ferocious force resisting all my efforts to restore it and so I detest it.
9 The community feels like a vulnerable outlier, marked and targeted by surrounding forces. It’s as if predators are circling, waiting to dismantle it.
10 Caretakers of the city have mismanaged its resources, leaving parks and neighborhoods in ruin. What was meant to be a thriving space is now a derelict zone.
11 The cityscape is left barren and neglected. Everywhere I look, the signs of abandonment are clear because no one takes responsibility anymore.
12 From the rundown industrial zones to the abandoned high-rises, destruction looms. The consequences of negligence and greed sweep across the city, leaving no district untouched.
13 They’ll invest in urban projects, but the results will backfire—frustration instead of growth. Their efforts will feel wasted as their poor decisions and selfish ambitions catch up with them.

14 The Sovereign Captain declares: To those corrupt leaders and influencers who’ve exploited the neighborhoods I entrusted to my people, I’ll dismantle their systems and restore the community’s dignity.
15 But after I clear out the corruption, I will rebuild with compassion. I will help each person reclaim their rightful place and purpose in the renewed community.
16 If they adopt the values of equity and integrity that my pathseekers hold dear, and acknowledge me as the true source of justice and peace, they will be welcomed as part of the city’s restoration.
17 Yet if any group refuses to embrace these principles of renewal, I will dismantle their influence entirely, says the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21410 A LINEN BELT

13 The Sovereign Captain instructed me: “Acquire a linen undergarment, wrap it around your waist, but do not submerge it in water.”
2 I complied, purchasing a loincloth and wrapping it around my loins.
3 The Sovereign Captain’s message came again:
4 “Take the waistband you are wearing, go to Perath, and conceal it in a rocky crevice.”
5 Following the instructions, I went to Perath and buried it there.
6 After a substantial period, the Sovereign Captain instructed me to return to Perath and retrieve the belt.
7 I journeyed to Perath and excavated the belt, but it had disintegrated to worthlessness.
8 The Sovereign Captain then conveyed:

9 “Just as this belt has become worthless, so will I destroy Judah’s and Yerushalayim’s arrogance.

10 These evil individuals, who deny My Path, follow their obstinate inner selves, and chase after idolized deities, will be like this loincloth—utterly worthless!
11 Just as a loincloth wraps tightly around a man’s waist, I secured Israel and Judah to myself, ’ proclaims the Sovereign Captain, ‘intending for them to become my people and bring me recognition, acclamation, and dignity. Yet, they disregarded My Path. ’”

§ 21420 WINE JUGS

12 Convey to them: “the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, directs: Every wine jug ought to be packed with wine.” And if they respond to you, “Is it evident that every wine jug ought to be filled with wine?”
13 Convey to them, “the Sovereign Captain declares: I am set to inundate all the inhabitants of this region with a sense of intoxication, taking into account the rulers who occupy David’s command control, the clergy, the seers, and everyone residing in Yerushalayim.”
14 The Sovereign Captain declares that He will shatter them against one another, both parents and children in tandem. He shall permit no sentiments of mercy, compassion, or pity to hinder His intent to eradicate them.

§ 21430 THREAT OF CAPTIVITY

15 “Listen closely and refrain from pride, for the word of the Preeminent Sovereign has been declared.
16 Acknowledge the Eternal Reality’s greatness before circumstances cloud your path, before you lose your way in uncertainty, and while you search for answers, find only overwhelming confusion.
17 If you refuse to heed, my inner-self will lament in solitude due to your arrogance. My eyes will shed tears profusely, drenched with sorrow because the protected community of the Sovereign Captain will be led into captivity.

18 Inform the Prime Ruler and the First Lady to descend from their bases of authority as their magnificent ensovereigned symbols are about to tumble from their heads.
19 The towns in the southern desert will be locked up, with no one to unlock them. Every inhabitant of Judah will be led away into captivity, entirely swept away.
20 Gaze upward and notice those approaching from the North. What happened to the protected community in your custody, the people you took pride in?
21 How will you react when the Sovereign Captain appoints the individuals you’ve nurtured as your close partners to rule over you? Won’t you experience agony just like a woman in childbirth?
22 Should you question yourself, ‘Why have these misfortunes befallen me?’ it’s due to the abundance of your transgressions that your garment has been ripped apart, and you’ve been harshly abused.
23 Is it possible for a Cushite to alter his skin color or a leopard to change its spots? Similarly, you trained in impurity cannot perform acts of goodness.
24 The wilderness breeze will sweep you away like a drifting straw it disperses.

25 This destiny is what I've planned for you," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "because you have disregarded Me and placed your trust in counterfeit idolized deities.
26 I will tear off your skirts to expose your disgrace.
27 Your untruthfulness, impassioned cravings, and disgraceful debauchery! I have witnessed your abhorrent deeds on hilltops and in meadows. Alas for you, Yerushalayim! When will you reach a state of purity?"

§ 21440 DROUGHT, FAMINE, TACTICAL BLADE

14 The Sovereign Captain's message to Jeremiah about the drought:
2 "Judah mourns, her cities decay; they cry for the land, and Yerushalayim's wail is heard."

3 "The elite send their administrators for water; they find none and return with empty containers, disheartened and desolate, heads covered."
4 "The Earth is parched without rain. Agriculturists are distressed and cover their faces."
5 "Even a mother deer abandons her newborn fawn due to lack of grass."
6 "Feral donkeys gasp atop desolate hills, suffering vision failure from lack of nourishment."
7 "Despite our iniquities, intervene, My Sovereign Captain, for the honor of Your Name. We have strayed and erred against you."
8 "You, the hope of Israel, its deliverer in trouble, why do you seem like an outsider, a wayfarer pausing for a night?"
9 "Why do you appear as a man caught off guard, like a fighter unable to rescue? You, My Sovereign Captain, reside among us, and Your Name knows us; please do not abandon us!"
10 The Sovereign Captain speaks: "They love to deviate; they fail to control themselves. So, the Sovereign Captain disapproves of them; he will recall their evil actions and punish their transgressions."
11 The Sovereign Captain instructed me not to intercede for this populace.
12 "Even if they abstain from eating, I will not heed their pleas; I will not be pleased even if they present scorched and grain gifts. Instead, I will bring war, starvation, and disease upon them."
13 I protested, "Dear mighty Sovereign Captain! These prophets reassure them, 'You won't face war or scarcity. I will offer you continuous serenity. '" 14 The Sovereign Captain told me the prophets proclaim falsehoods. In His Name, He has neither dispatched them nor communicated with them. Their prophecies are fabricated, deceitful divinations, idolized deity worship, and false impressions.
15 The Sovereign Captain declares that these counterfeit prophets will meet their end due to warfare and hunger.

16 The people they mislead will be cast into Yerushalayim's lanes due to starvation and conflict.
No one will perform last rites for them or their families. I will discharge the catastrophe they have earned on them.
17 Deliver this message: 'May my eyes stream with tears, day and night without rest, for the Virgin Daughter, my people, has endured a severe injury. ' 18 In the countryside, the tactical blade had felled many; in the city, starvation had devastated many. The oracle and inner leader have wandered into unknown territory.
19 Has Judah been entirely rejected? Is the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress so abhorred? Why have we been stricken beyond recovery? We yearned for tranquility; nothing beneficial transpired; we awaited restoration but met only fear and dread.
20 We confess our wrongdoing, O Eternal Reality, and our forefathers' trespasses; we are guilty of transgressing against you.

21 Do not treat us with contempt or disgrace your splendid authority base for your reputation's sake. Remember your promises to us and refrain from breaching them.
22 Can any futile idolized deities cause rainfall? Are the celestial realms capable of making showers happen by their own will? Certainly not; it is you, our Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign. So, we trust you because you can do all these things.

15 The Sovereign Captain told me, "Even if Moses and Samuel were present in a pleading case, My compassion wouldn't extend to these individuals. Banish them from my vicinity! Bid them leave!"
2 If they inquire, 'Where should we proceed?' inform them, 'the Sovereign Captain declares: To those who are marked for demise, they will demise; to those marked for conflict, they will conflict; to those marked for hunger, they will hunger; to those marked for imprisonment, they will experience imprisonment. '

3 The Sovereign Captain stated that they would assign four types of devastators: the tactical blade for execution, dogs for hauling away, birds, and the beasts of the wilderness for consumption and destruction.

4 Because of Manasseh's actions in Yerushalayim, the male heir of Hezekiah and Prime Ruler of Judah, I will make them a dreadful sight for all the Earth's nations.
5 Who will show compassion towards you, Yerushalayim? Who will lament your condition? Who will divert their path to inquire about your well-being?

6 You have deserted me, announces the Sovereign Captain. You persist in turning away. So, I will extend my hand to annihilate you; I am exhausted from showing restraint.
7 I'll use a pitchfork to scatter them at the entrances of their territory. I will deprive them of offspring and bring about the downfall of my people as they persist in their harmful ways.
8 The count of their widows will surpass the grains of sand by the sea. I will unleash a destroyer on the mothers of their youth during the height of the day; all of a sudden, I will inflict on their distress and fear.
9 The woman who gave birth to seven sons will succumb, taking her last breath. Her brightness will fade in the fullness of day; she will endure shame and disgrace. Those remaining, I will condemn to death by the tactical blade in the sight of their foes, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

10 How unfortunate I am, mother, for giving birth to me, a person who is constantly in conflict with the whole territory. I've neither given nor taken loans, yet everyone curses me.
11 The Sovereign Captain affirmed: "I will certainly rescue you for a beneficial reason; I will cause your adversaries to beg for your aid in moments of catastrophe and hardship."
12 Can a person shatter iron, specifically the iron originating from the North or bronze?

13 I'll freely hand over your riches and treasures as loot due to the multitude of transgressions across your land.

14 I will compel you to serve your foes in unfamiliar territory as my rage has ignited a flame that will blaze on you.
15 Almighty, you comprehend; bear me in mind and tend to my needs. Bring judgment on those who torment me. Your patience is boundless; refrain from banishing me; contemplate the disgrace I endure on your account.

16 As your words reached me, I consumed them; they filled my inner-self with delight and delight.
I am identified with your name, Sovereign Captain, and I am the Preeminent Sovereign of Armies.
17 I never joined the crowd in their joyous gatherings; I didn't partake in their celebrations; isolated I sat, for your influential hand was on me, filling me with resentment.
18 Why does my suffering persist, and my injury proves so severe and beyond cure? You appear as misleading as a stream, like a spring that lets down.

19 So, the Sovereign Captain declares: "If you change your inner-self and come back to me, I will take you back, and you will stand in my service; if you speak words of value instead of worthless ones, you will speak on my behalf. Let the people turn toward you, but you shouldn't conform to them."
20 "You will be transformed into an impervious bronzed barricade for this populace. The people will assault you, yet they will not achieve victory, as I stand beside you for your protection and deliverance," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
21 "I will rescue you from the control of evil people and free you from the clutches of the ruthless."

§ 21450 DAY OF DISASTER

16 The Sovereign Captain's message was conveyed to me:
2 "You cannot wed or bear children here."
3 The Sovereign Captain says this about the offspring born in this land, their mothers and fathers.
4 "They will perish from lethal illnesses. No one will grieve for them or bury them; they will be like waste on the soil. They will die by warfare and starvation, their bodies feeding birds and wild beasts."
5 "Do not attend wakes or mourn, as I've taken back my peace, affection, and compassion from these people," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
6 "The prominent and humble alike will perish here. There will be no funerals or lamentations, and none will inflict wounds or clip their hair in mourning." 7 "Not even a bereaved parent will receive a meal or a consoling beverage as comfort for the loss of a loved one."
8 "Refrain from attending celebrations to partake in meals and beverages."
9 "This proclamation is from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: I will silence the sounds of jubilation and merriment, as well as the voices of the bride and groom in this vicinity, all within your lifetime and before your eyes."
10 When you relay this information, they ask, 'Why has the Eternal Reality commissioned such a calamity against us? What mistakes have we made? What transgressions have we perpetrated against the Preeminent Sovereign of our forefathers?'
11 Respond, 'This happened because your forefathers abandoned me, ' proclaims the Sovereign Captain, 'and pursued idolized deities, offering them service and adoration. They deserted me and failed to obey my instructions. ' 12 "However, your actions have surpassed the evil of your forefathers. Each of you stubbornly adheres to your malice-filled desires, disregarding my instructions." 13 "Consequently, I'll cast you into a foreign territory unfamiliar to you or your forefathers. You'll express joyful adoration for outsider idolized deities day and night devoid of compassion from me."

14 “There will come a time,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, “when people will no longer say,
‘Just as the Sovereign Captain lives, who led the Israelites out from Egypt. ’” 15 “Instead, people will proclaim, ‘The Living Sovereign Captain is authentic to his word, having retrieved the Israelites from the northern territory and all other lands they were expelled. I intend to return them to the land that once belonged to their forefathers. ’” 16 The Sovereign Captain announces that He will soon dispatch many fishermen who will trap them. Following this, He will summon a horde of hunters who will relentlessly pursue them on every mountain, hill, and rock cavity.
17 “I closely watch their every move; nothing they do is hidden from my sight, nor can their unworthy choices escape my notice.”
18 “I will doubly penalize them for their evil and transgressions, given they have contaminated my terrain with lifeless representations of dreadful entities and crammed my heritage with abhorrent counterfeit idolized deities.”
19 Almighty, you are my might, secure haven, and fortress during hardship. Nations will journey from the furthest corners of the Earth to you and proclaim, ‘Our forefathers exclusively inherited deceitful idolized deities, meaningless idolized deities that brought no benefit. ’ 20 Can individuals create their idolized deities? Indeed, these are not actual idolized deities.
21 I will instruct them this time to make them recognize my strength and power. They will then understand that My Name is the Sovereign Captain.

17 The wrongdoing of Judah is permanently marked with an instrument of iron, etched deeply with a stalwart tip on the enduring tablets of their inner selves and the topmost parts of their pedestal tables.
2 Even their offspring remember their places of religious express adoration and Asherah symbols near lush verdant trees and atop towering hills.
3 Because of pervasive unworthy choices across your nation, I will surrender your wealth, treasures, and religious shrines on my land mountain as loot.

4 You will submit the legacy I granted you due to your actions. I will compel you to serve your adversaries in an unknown foreign territory, as you have ignited my fury, and it will persist eternally.
5 The Sovereign Captain declares: Damned is the individual who places trust in humanity, who gains power from human frailty, and whose inner-self forsakes the Sovereign Captain.
6 Such an individual will resemble a desert shrub; they won’t acknowledge when good fortune arrives. They will inhabit barren wilderness regions in an uninhabited land of salt.
7 The individual who trusts the Sovereign Captain and derives assurance from Him is indeed fortunate.
8 They will be comparable to a tree sited near water, extending its roots towards a brook. The days of scorching heat don’t frighten it; its foliage remains perpetually lush. It stays untroubled even during a year of scarce rainfall and produces inner fruit without fail.
9 The human mind is the most cunning and irreversible in its deceitfulness. Who can fully comprehend it?
10 As the Sovereign Captain, I probe the inner-self and discern hidden motives to give everyone what they deserve based on their behavior and actions’ consequences.
11 Individuals who amass wealth through deceit are comparable to a bird that broods over eggs it did not produce. When they reach midlife, their ill-gotten wealth will abandon them, and ultimately, they will be disclosed as complete fools.
12 Our Exalted Space has been a magnificent and elevated command control since its Inception.

13 Sovereign Captain, you are the Foundation Link of our lives; those who abandon you will face emptiness. Their names will fade like graffiti washed away in the rain, for they have turned from you, the wellspring of life-giving energy.
14 Captain, grant me the remedy to my ailment, and I will truly be restored; deliver me, and I will be genuinely liberated, for you alone receive my adoration.

15 They continually question me, 'What happened to the message from the Sovereign Captain?
Let's see it come to fruition now!'
16 I have not shied away from serving as your keeper; you know I haven't longed for desperation. What is uttered from my mouth is transparent to you.
17 Don't make me afraid of you; you are my safe place in trouble.
18 May my tormentors experience disgrace yet ensure my dignity remains intact; let them be filled with fear but keep me free from fear. Bring on them the day of calamity; eradicate them with a twofold ruin.

§ 21460 KEEPING THE REST DAY SET-APART

19 The Sovereign Captain instructed me: "Position yourself at the entrance used by the people, where the rulers of Judah enter and depart; similarly, ensure you do the same at all other gates of Yerushalayim.
20 Convey to them, 'Listen to the Sovereign Captain's message, you rulers of Judah, all residents of Judah, and every inhabitant of Yerushalayim that passes through these gates.
21 The Sovereign Captain urges: Be cautious not to bear any burden on the Day of Rest and refrain from conveying it through Yerushalayim's gates.
22 Avoid carrying any burdens out of your homes or engaging in any tasks on the Day of Rest.
Instead, purify this day as I instructed your forebears.
23 Still, they refused to heed or give any consideration; they were obstinate and wouldn't listen or accept correction.
24 If you pay stringent attention to my directives," asserts the Sovereign Captain, "not bringing any burden through the city gates on the Day of Rest, and purify the Day of Rest by refraining from any labor.
25 Prime Rulers who occupy David's command control will proceed through the city gates with their dignitaries. These rulers and their dignitaries, accompanied by the populace of Judah and the residents of Yerushalayim, will travel in armored personnel carriers, ensuring this city remains populated perpetually.

26 Individuals will approach from the settlements of Judah and the communes encircling Yerushalayim, from Benjamin's region and the western slopes, from the mountainous terrain and the Negev, presenting scorched contributions and oblations, cereal gifts and fragrances, along with thanksgiving absolving payments to the Sovereign Captain's abode.
27 However, suppose you do not heed my command to purify the Day of Rest by refraining from bearing any burden while entering Yerushalayim's gates on the Day of Rest. In that case, I will ignite an inextinguishable flame in Yerushalayim's gateways that will ravage her strongholds.

§ 21470 AT THE POTTER'S HOUSE

18 Jeremiah received a message from the Preeminent Sovereign through the Sovereign Captain.

2 “Go to the craftsman’s dwelling, where I will share my proclamation.”
3 I went to the potter’s house and saw him working at his wheel.
4 The pot he was shaping became flawed, so he remade it into another pot, shaping it as he saw fit.
5 Then, I received the Sovereign Captain’s message:
6 "Can I not shape your destiny as an artist molds their creation?" declares the Sovereign Captain. "Like raw material in the hands of the maker, so are you in My hands, My people."
7 There may come a time when I declare that a nation or realm will be uprooted, shattered, and obliterated.
8 If the nation I warned reforms from its impurity, I will withdraw and abstain from imposing the catastrophe I devised.
9 If I declare that I intend to construct and cultivate a nation or realm,
10 and it acts wickedly from my perspective and disregards my directives, I will alter my original plan of doing good to it.

11 This message is from the Sovereign Captain to Judah and Yerushalayim: Pay heed! I am fashioning a calamity for you and working out a strategy against you. You must cease your impure practices, alter your paths, and amend your conduct.”
12 They will assert, “It’s hopeless. We will persist in executing our schemes and adhere to the stubbornness of our impure inner selves.”
13 From now forward, the Sovereign Captain proclaims: “Pose a question among the nations: Has anyone ever been privileged to such a thing? Israel, the pure one, has committed a horrendous act.
14 Does the frost from Lebanon’s mountains ever disappear entirely from their crags? Do the refreshing streams from afar ever cease to flow?
15 My people have disregarded me and offered absolving payments to useless idolized deities, leading them to lose their footing on the ancient paths. They’ve been forced to wander on side tracks, avoiding the established roads.
16 Their territory will become dreadful and a perpetual object of scorn; everyone traveling by will be horrified and wag their heads in disbelief.
17 I will disperse them like a dust storm in the East before their foes during their day of calamity. They will see my retreat rather than my presence.”
18 They proposed, “Let’s devise a plot against Jeremiah, as the priests’ instructions shall not vanish, nor the guidance from the wise, nor the message from the prophets. So, let’s verbally assault him and disregard everything he articulates.”
19 Pay heed to me, My Sovereign Captain, and understand the words of those who stand against me!
20 Is it to return evil for good? Despite this, they designed a trap for me. Recall my efforts when I interceded for them in your presence, aiming to dissipate your anger towards them.
21 Allow their offspring to succumb to starvation, exposing them to the tactical blade’s wrath. Let their wives lose their children and be left as widows; let their men meet their end, their young warriors vanquished in battle.
22 May their dwellings resonate with cries when you abruptly dispatch marauders against them, as they’ve devised a trap to ensnare me and concealed pitfalls for my locomotion.

23 Captain, you know all their deadly schemes against me. Do not pardon their wrongdoings or neglect their transgressions from your sight. Let them tumble before you; confront them at your wrath’s peak.”

19 The Sovereign Captain instructs: “Proceed to purchase a potter’s earthenware vessel. Request the presence of some senior citizens from the populace and clergy.

2 Proceed towards the Ben Hinnom Valley near the Potsherd Gate's entrance. Declare there the messages I impart to you.
3 Announce this, 'Heed the message of the Sovereign Captain, Judah rulers, and Yerushalayim residents. This message is the proclamation of the Sovereign Captain of celestial realm forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: Pay heed! I am about to unleash such a catastrophe in this area that the ears of all who learn about it will resonate with shock.
4 They have abandoned me and transformed this location into a shrine for outsider idolized deities; they have offered fragrances to idolized deities unknown to them, their progenitors, or the Prime Rulers of Judah and have filled this site with innocent people's blood.
5 They have constructed religious shrines for Baal to burn their offspring as sacrifices in the flame as gifts to Baal—which I neither ordered nor articulated nor conceptualized in my conscience.
6 Be aware. A time is approaching," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "when this location will cease to be referred to as Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom but will be known as the Valley of Slaughter.
7 I will immediately disrupt Judah and Yerushalayim's intentions. I'll let their foes defeat them, people desiring their demise, and their bodies will become a feast for birds and wild beasts.
8 I'll make this city a lonely place and an object of scorn; every passerby will be horrified and ridiculed because of all its afflictions.
9 I will lead them into a situation where they consume the flesh of their children and each other out of desperation due to the severe siege enforced on them by their foes who are determined to eradicate them. '"
10 "Shatter the jar before those accompanying you.

11 Announce to Judah and Yerushalayim, 'As per the proclamation of the Almighty Sovereign Captain: Just like a potter's jar shattered beyond repair, so will I pulverize this nation and this city. The bodies of the deceased will be interred in Topheth until there remains no space for burial.
12 The Sovereign Captain guarantees my actions towards this location and its residents. This city will be rendered comparable to Topheth.
13 The residences in Yerushalayim and Judah's governance dwellings will become as impure as Topheth every home where they offered incense on rooftops to celestial hosts and sacrificed libations to foreign idolized deities. '" 14 After the Sovereign Captain dispatched him to deliver visions, Jeremiah returned from Topheth and stationed himself in the Sovereign Captain's fortress courtyard, where he addressed the assembly.
15 The Sovereign Captain of all, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, proclaims: "Pay heed! I am about to inflict every catastrophe I have spoken of on this city and its surrounding villages due to their stubbornness and refusal to heed my directives."

§ 21480 JEREMIAH AND PASHHUR

20 Upon hearing Jeremiah's visions, Pashhur, Immer's high-ranking priest and male heir, the supervising authority in the Sovereign Captain's fortress, took note.
2 The eternally wise servant, Jeremiah, was struck and confined in restraints at the Sovereign Captain's fortress, particularly at the Upper Benjamin Gate.
3 The next day, as Pashhur released him, Jeremiah declared, "the Sovereign Captain has not dubbed you Pashhur but Dread from All Quarters."

4 The Sovereign Captain says: “I will make you a cause of dread to yourself and your companions; you will witness their downfall by the tactical blade of their adversaries. I will surrender all of Judah to the Prime Ruler of Babylon, who will transport them to Babylon or execute them.
5 I will surrender all the riches of this city to their foes, including its produce, precious items, and the treasures of the Prime Rulers of Judah. They will plunder it and transport it to Babylon.

6 Pashhur, you and your household will be taken into captivity to Babylon. There, you will meet your end and be laid to rest, along with all your companions to whom you have spoken untruths.”

§ 21490 JEREMIAH’S COMPLAINT

7 “Captain, you misled me, and I fell for it; you were too strong and won. I receive scorn day in and day out; I am the subject of everyone’s mockery.
8 Each time I utter a word, I must announce calamity and devastation. So, Captain’s message has resulted in constant scorn and disgrace for me throughout the day.
9 Suppose I attempt to stop speaking in His Name or mentioning His teachings. In that case, His directives become a fiery blaze intensely lodged in my inner-self and tightly trapped within my bones. The struggle to suppress it leaves me exhausted; without a doubt, I am incapable of doing so.
10 I perceive numerous murmurs; terror encompasses every corner! ‘Accuse him! Let’s accuse him!’ All my companions anticipated my downfall, suggesting he could be tricked. ‘We’ll gain the upper hand over him and exact our vengeance on him. ’
11 However, the Sovereign Captain stands with me as a formidable giant, so those who pursue me will trip and cannot triumph. They are destined to fail and experience profound humiliation; their disgrace will remain unforgotten.
12 Oh, Captain of the Celestial Armies, who scrutinize the authentic and discern the most profound thoughts and emotions, allow me to witness your retribution against them, for I have entrusted my case to you.
13 Exalt the Sovereign Captain! Applaud the Sovereign Captain! He delivers the existence of the impoverished from the grip of evildoers.
14 Let the day of my birth be damned! May no empowerment be granted on the day my mother gave life to me!
15 Let the man who delivered the news to my father that a male child has been born to you be cursed, bringing him great delight!

16 May that individual be like the cities the Sovereign Captain demolished ruthlessly. May he perceive mourning sounds at dawn and war alarms at midday?
17 He didn’t end my life before birth, thereby making my maternal womb my eternal resting place, always gravid.
18 Why was I born to witness distress and anguish exclusively to have my lifetime consumed in disgrace? “

§ 21500 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN REJECTS ZEDEKIAH'S REQUEST

21 Jeremiah received celestial communication when Pashhur, the offspring of Malkijah, along with the ensovereigned mediator Zephaniah, a descendent of Maaseiah, were dispatched by Prime Ruler Zedekiah. They conveyed a message.

2 "Seek the Sovereign Captain's counsel as Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon wages war against us. the Sovereign Captain may display His extraordinary works for us like before, resulting in Nebuchadnezzar retreating from us."

3 Jeremiah responded to them, conveying this to Zedekiah.

4 "the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, declares: I will redirect the combat implements you possess against the Prime Ruler of Babylon and the Babylonians laying siege outside your city walls. Furthermore, I will marshal them within this metropolis.

5 "My powerful hand and mighty arm, fueled by intense fury and rage, will oppose you.

6 "I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both human and animal, and they shall succumb to a horrible epidemic.

7 "Subsequently," the Sovereign Captain proclaims, "Zedekiah, the Prime Ruler of Judah, his administrators, and the inhabitants of this city who have survived the pestilence, warfare, and scarcity, will fall into the clutches of Nebuchadnezzar, Prime Ruler of Babylon, and their adversaries who desire their destruction. They will be murdered ruthlessly; no mercy, sympathy, or kindness shall be shown towards them.

8 "Convey to the people, 'the Sovereign Captain stresses. Observe, I'm offering you a choice between the path leading to life and the one leading to death.

9 "'Anyone who chooses to remain in this city will perish through conflict, starvation, or disease. However, those who decide to defect and submit to the Babylonians laying siege to you will survive; their lives will be preserved.

10 The Sovereign Captain declares, "I have decided to bring harm to this city, not good. It will fall under the command of the Prime Ruler of Babylon, who will reduce it to ashes."

11 "Additionally, impart to Judah's governance family, 'Heed the message from the Preeminent Sovereign of the Sovereign Captain. '

12 "the Sovereign Captain addresses the house of David, commanding them to ensure justice is served every dawn and rescue those who have been wrongfully despoiled from their oppressors. If not, His wrath will ignite and blaze uncontrollably like a fire due to the wrongful deeds committed, a fire that nobody can extinguish.

13 "You are in my sights, Yerushalayim, inhabitants atop this valley and on the rocky plateau," proclaims the Sovereign Captain—"those who question, 'Who can challenge us? Who can infiltrate our fortress?'

14 “the Sovereign Captain announces that He will deliver due retribution based on your actions. He intends to ignite a blaze in your woodlands, destroying everything surrounding you.”

§ 21510 JUDGMENT AGAINST IMPURE PRIME RULERS

22 The Sovereign Captain instructs: Proceed to the governance residence of the Prime Ruler of Judah and announce this communication there.
2 “Listen to the Sovereign Captain’s message, O Prime Ruler of Judah, the one occupying David’s command control, your counselors, and the populace entering these portals.
3 The Sovereign Captain directives this: Uphold fairness and justice. Free the victim from his oppressor’s grasp. Commit no harm or brutality to the outsider, the orphan, or the widow, and refrain from spilling guiltless blood in this location.
4 If you diligently follow these directives, Prime Rulers occupying David’s command control will enter this palace through its gates, aboard tactical personnel transports and strike vehicles, and their administrators and subjects.
5 Should you ignore these directives,” solemnly declares the Sovereign Captain, “I vow on myself that this governance residence will transform into a pile of rubble.
6 According to the Sovereign Captain’s declaration concerning the governance residence of Judah: You may bear a resemblance to Gilead or the peak of Lebanon in my eyes, but I am determined to transform you into a lonely place just like uninhabited cities.
7 Destroyers will be unleashed on you, each equipped with his instruments of destruction; they will dismantle your exquisite cedar structures and cast them into the blaze.
8 Individuals from various nations will traverse this city and question each other, ‘For what reason has the Sovereign Captain inflicted such an incident on this magnificent city?’

9 The response will be, ‘It’s because they abandoned the solemn pledge with the Sovereign Captain, their Preeminent Sovereign, and bowed in worship to different idolized deities. ’
10 Shed no tears for the departed Prime Ruler nor grieve for him; instead, lament significantly for the one sent into exile as he won’t ever return or behold the land of his birth once more.
11 The Sovereign Captain’s proclamation regarding Shallum, Josiah’s male heir, who assumed his father’s authority base in Judah and departed from this location is as follows: He will never revisit this place.
12 His demise will occur where he was led captive; he will no longer behold this terrain.
13 Misfortune awaits the individual who constructs his dwelling using unethical means and elevates his rooms through wrongdoings, compelling his people to toil without remuneration and refraining from compensating them for their hard work.
14 He declares, ‘I will construct a magnificent mansion with airy upper chambers. ’ Consequently, he installs large windows, panels, and cedar panels in the dwelling and adorns it in a vibrant hue of red.
15 Does an abundance of cedar establish your governance status? Didn’t your father consume food and beverages? He executed integrity and justice; hence, he prospered.
16 He upheld the rights of the impoverished and needy. Consequently, everything progressed smoothly. This action is indicative of knowing me,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
17 “Yet, your gaze and mind are fixated on unjust profits, spilling the blood of the guiltless and enforcing cruelty and fraud.

18 So," the Sovereign Captain declares regarding Jehoiakim, the male heir of Josiah, Prime Ruler of Judah, "No one will grieve for him, exclaiming, 'Oh, my sibling!' or 'Oh, the radiance he once had!' No one will mourn for him, crying, 'Oh, our leader! Oh, his acclaim!'
19 His end will be as ignominious as a donkey hauled off and discarded beyond Yerushalayim's boundaries.

20 Ascend to Lebanon and lament; let your voice echo in Bashan, wail from Abarim, for everyone of your partners has been devastated.
21 I cautioned you in your times of prosperity, yet you declared, 'I won't pay heed!' This action has persisted. Since your adolescence, you've disregarded my directives.
22 The gust will sweep away all your leaders, and your friends will be led into captivity. Subsequently, you will feel humiliation and dishonor due to your extensive evil actions.
23 Those who reside in 'Lebanon' comfortably settled in buildings of cedar; how much you'll lament when searing pains assail you, agony just like that of a woman in childbirth!
24 As sure as I am alive," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "even if you, Coniah, offspring of Jehoiakim, the Prime Ruler of Judah, were just like a seal on my right palm, I would not hesitate to wrench you away.
25 I will surrender you into the control of those intending to end your life. You dread them—Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and the Babylonians.
26 You and the mother who bore you will be expelled to a foreign nation; neither of you was native to it, and it's there you both shall perish.
27 The country you ardently wish to revisit will forever remain unreachable.
28 Is Jehoiachin regarded as a discarded, shattered jar, an entity nobody desires? Why will he and his offspring be cast off and thrown into unfamiliar territory?
29 Pay heed, ground, ground, ground, to Yahweh's message!
30 The Sovereign Captain proclaims that this man is without descendants and an individual who shall not succeed in his lifetime. None of his offspring will flourish, assume David's command control, or exercise dominion in Judah again."

§ 21520 THE BRANCH OF INTEGRITY

23 "Misfortune awaits to the leaders who harm and disperse my people!" declares the Sovereign Captain. "This is what the Sovereign Captain, the Eternal Reality of Israel, says to those who are supposed to care for my people: Because you have neglected your responsibility and pushed them away, I will hold you accountable for the harm you have caused," declares the Sovereign Captain.

5 "The time is approaching," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "when I will bring forth an authentic descendant for David, a Prime Ruler who will govern with wisdom and ensure fairness and right relationships across the land.
6 Judah will find deliverance during his era, and Israel will inhabit securely. He will be identified as the Sovereign Captain, Our Just Redeemer.
7 From now forward, the era is approaching," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "when it will not be stated, 'Just as indeed as the Sovereign Captain exists, who led the Israelites from Egypt. '
8 Instead, they'll say, 'Undeniably, it's the Sovereign Captain who lives, He who relocated the progeny of Israel from the northern territory and all other regions where He had expelled them. ' Consequently, they will reside in their territory."

§ 21530 LYING PROPHETS

9 Regarding the prophets: All my bones shake profoundly; I resemble a drunk man, overwhelmed by alcohol, because of the Sovereign Captain and His exalted proclamations.
10 The territory teems with violators of marital vows; due to the condemnation, the region is desiccated, and the grazing areas in the wilderness have dried up. Those who claim to speak celestial messages pursue an evil path and wield their influence dishonestly.
11 The clergy and the prophets oppose the Preeminent Sovereign's lifestyle; their evil deeds are observed within my fortress, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

12 So, their journey will turn perilous; they will be thrust into obscurity, where they will stumble. I will inflict them with calamity in the year of their retribution, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
13 I observed a revolting act among the prophets of Samaria: They foretold the future in the name of Baal and misled my chosen Israelites.
14 I have observed something dreadful among the prophets of Yerushalayim: They engage in infidelity and live in falsehood. They empower wrongdoers, preventing them from leaving their fullness of unworthy choices. In my eyes, they are all just like Sodom, and the inhabitants of Yerushalayim resemble Gomorrah.
15 So, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, pronounces judgment on the prophets: They will be forced to consume distasteful meals and imbibe harmful beverages, for misalignment with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality has permeated across the land, originating from the prophets of Yerushalayim.
16 Here's what the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares:
Do not heed the words of the prophets who prophesy to you; they merely fill you with empty expectations. Their visions arise from their imagination, not from the Sovereign Captain's utterance.
17 They constantly assure those who scorn me, "the Sovereign Captain has declared: You shall know tranquility." And to all those who adhere to the stubbornness of their inner selves, they allege, "No adversity will befall you."
18 But who among them has been present in the Sovereign Captain's assembly to perceive or heed His word? Who has seriously thought and truly comprehended it?
19 Observe the disruption of the Sovereign Captain, which will detonate in a fury, a hurricane descending on the heads of the evil ones.
20 The Preeminent Sovereign's wrath won't abate until He completely fulfills His inner-self's intentions. In the future, this will become completely clear to you.
21 These prophets, whom I never commissioned, spread their message; though I never addressed them, they still made prophecies.
22 If they had been present at My advisory session, they would have announced My path to my pathseekers and guided them away from their wrongful conduct and malicious actions.

23 Am I simply the Preeminent Sovereign who is near, announces the Sovereign Captain, and not the Preeminent Sovereign who is also distant?
24 "Is there someone who can conceal themselves, so I remain unaware?" asserts the Sovereign
Captain. "Isn't I who encompass both the celestial realms and the Earth?" claims the Sovereign
Captain.
25 I know the false messages the so-called prophets deliver under the pretense of My Name, claiming, "I've experienced a dream! I've experienced a dream!"
26 Until when will the deceit persist in the inner selves of these counterfeit prophets who proclaim the fabrications of their thoughts?

27 They trust that sharing their dreams can cause My people to lose the memory of My Name, just as their forefathers abandoned My Name in favor of Baal.

28 A mere prophet with a dream should share it. Still, when an eternal wise person authentically possesses My eternal wisdom, they should shout it from the rooftops! What common elements does wheat share with straw? So says the Sovereign Captain:
29 “Is not My message like a refining flame," says the Eternal Reality, "and like a precision tool that reshapes even the hardest obstacles?”
30 Consequently, asserts the Sovereign Captain, I stand opposed to those prophets who steal so-called celestial messages from each other.”
31 Indeed, it affirms the Sovereign Captain; I stand against those prophets who use their own words yet claim, “This is what the Sovereign Captain states.”
32 Certainly, I stand against those who convey misleading visions and proclaim the Sovereign Captain. They disseminate them and misguide my people with their irresponsible falsehoods, even though I neither commissioned nor sent them. They impart no advantage whatsoever to these people, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21540 FALSE VISION

33 If a prophet or priest asks, “What is the Sovereign Captain’s declaration?” respond, “the Sovereign Captain says, ‘I will abandon you. ’” 34 If anyone claims, “This is a proclamation from the Sovereign Captain,” they and their family will face judgment.
35 You constantly ask each other, “What was the Sovereign Captain’s response?” or “What has the Sovereign Captain declared?”
36 Stop saying, “A vision from the Sovereign Captain.” Each person’s words become their vision, twisting the words of the Living Preeminent Sovereign, the Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain.
37 You keep asking prophets, “What response has the Sovereign Captain given you?” or “What has the Sovereign Captain conveyed?”
38 Even though you insist, “This is the proclamation from the Sovereign Captain,” despite my warning not to say it, 39 I will abandon you and thrust you away from my presence, along with the city given to you and your forefathers.
40 I will impose an enduring humiliation and a perpetual dishonor that will never be forgotten.

§ 21550 TWO BASKETS OF FIGS

24 After Jehoiachin, the male heir of Jehoiakim, Prime Ruler of Judah, and the officials, craftsmen, and artisans from Yerushalayim were exiled to Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar, Prime Ruler of Babylon, I received a vision from the Sovereign Captain of two baskets of figs in front of the Sovereign Captain's fortress.
2 One basket had delicious figs, like those that ripen first; the other had extremely poor figs, so rotten they were inedible.
3 The Sovereign Captain asked, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” I replied, “Figs. The good ones are excellent, but the bad ones are so rotten they can’t be eaten.”
4 Then the Sovereign Captain conveyed His message to me.

5 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, says: “As with these good figs, I regard favorably the exiles from Judah, whom I have sent away to Babylon.
6 I will watch over them for their good and return them to this land. I will build them up and not tear them down; I will plant them and not uproot them.
7 I will give them an inner determination to know me as the Sovereign Captain. They will be my people, and I will be their Eternal Reality because they will return to me wholeheartedly.
8 But like the rotten figs that are so bad they can’t be eaten,” says the Sovereign Captain, “so will I treat Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah, his officials, and the survivors in Yerushalayim, whether they remain in this land or live in Egypt.
9 I will make them abhorrent to all the nations of the Earth, a reproach and a proverb, an object of ridicule and cursing wherever I banish them.
10 Until they are exterminated from the country that I gave to them and their ancestors, I will unleash war, starvation, and plague against them.

§ 21560 SEVENTY YEARS OF CAPTIVITY

25 A message from the Preeminent Sovereign was delivered to Jeremiah about all the inhabitants of Judah during Jehoiakim’s fourth year of rule, the male heir of Josiah, Prime Ruler of Judah, coinciding with Nebuchadnezzar’s inaugural year as Prime Ruler of Babylon.
2 Jeremiah, the ensovereigned mediator, delivered the message to all individuals in Judah and the residents of Yerushalayim.
3 “For twenty-three years, starting from the thirteenth year of Prime Ruler Josiah, the male heir of Amon, ruler of Judah, until now, I have received celestial messages from the Sovereign Captain. I have relentlessly communicated these to you. Yet, your attention to my words needs to be improved.
4 Despite the Sovereign Captain persistently sending his eternally wise servants as his messengers to you, you have yet to heed nor inclined your ear to their words.

5 They imparted and modified your path, each individual, from your counterfeit habits and wrongdoings. So, you can persist indefinitely in the territory the Sovereign Captain gave you and your forefathers.
6 Refrain from adhering to different idolized deities, from serving and adoring them; do not incite my wrath with the creations of your own hands. In doing this, I will refrain from causing you hurt.
7 Despite the Sovereign Captain’s declarations, you turned deaf ears, provoking His wrath through the creations of your hands, consequently causing damage to yourselves.
8 So, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, pronounces: Since you have not obeyed My Path,
9 I am about to call all the communities from the North. My servant, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar, proclaims the Sovereign Captain. I will lead them against this territory, its residents, and all neighboring nations. I will utterly annihilate them, transforming them into an epitome of terror and derision, a perpetual desolation.
10 I will eliminate the sounds of merriment and delight, the voices of the groom and bride, the noise of grinding stones, and the lamp’s glow from them.
11 The entire territory will transform into a barren and desolated ruin, and these nations will be subjugated to the Prime Ruler of Babylon for seventy years.
12 Once seventy years have elapsed, I will hold the Prime Ruler of Babylon and his people accountable for their wrongdoings,” state the Sovereign Captain, “and transform their land into a perpetual wasteland.

13 All the declarations I have made against that territory, all the predictions from Jeremiah mentioned in this text, and everything directed against every nation will befall that land.
14 They will be subjected to servitude under the reign of numerous nations and influential leaders. Their actions and handiwork will determine their retribution."

§ 21570 THE CUP OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S WRATH

15 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, instructed me: "Take this goblet filled with my wrath and make all nations drink it."
16 They will stagger and go mad because of the warfare I unleash.
17 So, I took the goblet and made all the nations drink.
18 Yerushalayim and its towns, rulers, and administrators became desolate, a source of terror and ridicule.
19 Pharaoh, his aides, leaders, and people of Egypt;
20 all nationalities there; every Prime Ruler from Uz; leaders of the Philistine Warriors (Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, Ashdod);
21 Idumea, Moav, Ammon;
22 Prime Rulers of Tyre, Sidon, and beyond the ocean shores;
23 Dedan, Tema, Buz, and distant residents;
24 Prime Rulers of Arabia and desert communities;
25 Prime Rulers from Zimri, Elam, Media;
26 Prime Rulers in the North—all nations on Earth. The Prime Ruler of Sheshak will also drink.
27 Tell them the Sovereign Captain directives: "Drink, become drunk, vomit, fall, and never rise again due to the warfare I unleash."
28 If they refuse, tell them, "the Sovereign Captain directives you must drink."
29 I am initiating a calamity in the city that bears My Name. Do you think you will escape? No, I am summoning warfare against all inhabitants of the globe.
30 Announce these words: "the Sovereign Captain will roar from the celestial realms; he will shout from His exalted fortress and roar over his territory. He will cry out against all inhabitants of Earth.

31 The noise will reach the ends of the globe as the Sovereign Captain proclaims his indictment against the countries. He will judge all humanity, and the impure shall face the tactical blade," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
32 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "Pay heed! Calamity is spreading from nation to nation; a powerful storm is rising from Earth's corners.
33 The Sovereign Captain will scatter those killed across the Earth. They will not be mourned, collected, or buried; they will be like refuse on the ground.
34 Lament and mourn, guardians of the herd; writhe in dust, overseers of the protected community. Your destruction has come; you will fall like rams.
35 Lifeguards won't find hideouts, and leaders won't have refuge.
36 Hear the distress calls from lifeguards and lamenting leaders as the Sovereign Captain devastates their city.
37 The Sovereign Captain's severe wrath will devastate tranquil neighborhoods.
38 Like a lion leaving its den, their territory will become desolate due to the Sovereign Captain's oppressive tactical blade and burning wrath."

§ 21580 JEREMIAH THREATENED WITH DEATH

26 The Sovereign Captain delivered this message shortly after Jehoiakim, Josiah's male heir, took the base of Judah's authority.
2 The Sovereign Captain instructs: "Position yourself in the Sovereign Captain's fortress courtyard and address everyone from the cities of Judah who come to salute in joyful adoration at the Sovereign Captain's fortress. Convey to them all that I have commanded you; leave out not a single word.
3 They may pay heed, and each will halt their impure deeds. If this happens, I will reconsider and abstain from unleashing the catastrophe I had intended due to the evil acts they have committed.

4 Announce to them, 'So declares the Sovereign Captain: If you choose not to heed me and abide by my laws I've laid before you.

5 Should you fail to heed the words of my servants, the eternally wise servants that I have repeatedly dispatched to you, even though you've shown disregard,
6 I will render this fortress just like Shiloh and designate this city as an abomination to all the countries across the globe. '"

7 The priests, prophets, and general people heard Jeremiah's remarks in the Sovereign Captain's fortress.
8 The priests, the prophets, and the people as a whole grabbed him as soon as he had completed telling everyone what the Sovereign Captain had directed him to say, yelling, "You must surely die!"
9 "Why do you declare in the Name of the Sovereign Captain that this fortress will become a ruin like Shiloh and this town will be uninhabited?" Then, everyone assembled around Jeremiah at the Sovereign Captain's fortress.

10 On hearing these events, the leaders of Judah left the Prime Ruler's mansion. They headed towards the Sovereign Captain's fortress, occupying their posts at its New Gate entrance.
11 The priests and the prophets pronounced to the authorities and the entire populace that this individual merits a death verdict as he has foretold against this city, which you all have acknowledged with your auditory senses!

12 Jeremiah articulated to every leader and the entire populace: "Yahweh directed me to foretell the impending doom of this dwelling and city, echoing everything you've been made aware of.
13 Alter your behavior and actions by adhering to the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality. Then, the Sovereign Captain may reconsider and revoke the impending calamity he has threatened to unleash on you.
14 My fate is in your control; proceed with whatever actions you deem suitable and justified.

15 However, be sure that if you sentence me to death, the responsibility of shedding blameless blood will be on you, this city, and its inhabitants. It is undoubtedly the ultimate authenticity that the Sovereign Captain has commissioned me to deliver these words to you under your direct acknowledgment."

16 The leaders and all of the people proclaimed to the priests and prophets that this individual does not merit a death verdict! He has communicated with us invoking the Name of our Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign.

17 A few of the region's senior leaders addressed the whole ensovereigned lifestyle community of individuals.
18 During the reign of Prime Ruler Hezekiah of Judah, Micah from Moresheth issued visions. He communicated to all citizens of Judah the message from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces: 'The fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign will be cultivated as a field. Yerushalayim will transform into a wreckage heap. The fortress' hill will evolve into a mound shrouded with shrubs. '"

19 "Didn't Prime Ruler Hezekiah of Judah or anybody else in Judah execute him? Didn't Hezekiah respect the Sovereign Captain and appeal for his mercy? And didn't the Sovereign Captain change his mind, avoiding the catastrophe he had declared? We're on the verge of inflicting a substantial disaster on ourselves!"

20 Uriah, the male heir of Shemaiah from Kiriath Jearim, was yet another individual who delivered visions in the Sovereign Captain's Name. His declarations against this city and this terrain mirrored those of Jeremiah.
21 On hearing his remarks, Prime Ruler Jehoiakim and his deputies and authorities aspired to have him executed despite this. Uriah realized this intention, felt overwhelmed by fear, and fled to Egypt for refuge.
22 Nevertheless, Prime Ruler Jehoiakim dispatched Elnathan, the male heir of Achbor, and a few others to Egypt.

23 Uriah was led out of Egypt and brought before Prime Ruler Jehoiakim, who executed him with a tactical blade and cast his remains into a burial ground meant for ordinary people.
24 Moreover, Jeremiah received backing from Ahikam, Shaphan's male heir, which prevented his execution by the public."

§ 21590 JUDAH TO SERVE NEBUCHADNEZZAR

27 Shortly after Zedekiah, Josiah's son, took Judah's command control, Jeremiah received a message from the Preeminent Sovereign from the Sovereign Captain.
2 The Sovereign Captain instructed: "Make a yoke and place it on your neck.
3 Send a message to the rulers of Ammon, Moab, Edom, Sidon, and Tyre through their ambassadors in Yerushalayim meeting with Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah."
4 Tell their leaders: "the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, says: 'Tell your rulers:
5 I used my power to create the land, its people, and animals. I can give it to anyone I choose.
6 I am giving all your lands to my servant, Nebuchadnezzar, ruler of Babylon. He will also rule over the wild animals.
7 Every nation will serve him, his son, and his grandson until his time comes; then, many nations and great rulers will enslave him.
8 Any nation or realm that refuses to serve Nebuchadnezzar or wear his yoke will face war, famine, and disease," declares the Sovereign Captain, "until I destroy it by Nebuchadnezzar's hand.
9 Ignore your prophets, fortune-tellers, dream interpreters, those who talk to the dead, and magicians who say you won't serve Babylon.

10 They deceive you and will drive you from your homeland. You will die, and I shall drive you out.

11 But if a nation submits to Babylon and serves him, it will stay on its land and live there,” declares the Sovereign Captain.
12 I gave the same message to Zedekiah, Prime Ruler of Judah. I urged him to submit to Babylon’s rule to survive.
13 Why should you and your people die by war, famine, and disease as the Sovereign Captain declared for any nation that refuses to serve Babylon?
14 Don’t listen to prophets who say you won’t serve Babylon; they are lying.
15 The Sovereign Captain says, “I didn’t send them. They lie in My Name. You and the counterfeit prophets will be expelled and die.” 16 I then told the priests and people: “the Sovereign Captain says: Don’t listen to prophets who predict the quick return of items from the Sovereign Captain’s fortress in Babylon.” They lie.
17 Ignore them; serve Babylon and live. Why let this city be destroyed?
18 If they are authentic prophets with the Sovereign Captain’s message, they should ask the Sovereign Captain to keep the items still in the Sovereign Captain’s fortress and Judah’s governance residence from being taken to Babylon.
19 The Sovereign Captain discusses this city’s pillars, bronze basin, bases, and remaining items.
20 Nebuchadnezzar didn’t take them when he exiled Jehoiachin, son of Prime Ruler Jehoiakim of Judah, from Yerushalayim to Babylon with all Judah’s prominent people.
21 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, says about the items in the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress, Judah’s governance residence, and Yerushalayim.
22 They will be taken to Babylon until I look for them,” declares the Sovereign Captain. “Then I will bring them back here.”

§ 21600 THE COUNTERFEIT PROPHET HANANIAH

28 In the fourth year, the fifth month of Prime Ruler Zedekiah’s reign over Judah, the false prophet Hananiah, son of Azzur from Gibeon, visited the Sovereign Captain’s fortress. He spoke before the priests and the town.
2 “the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, Zedekiah’s Sovereign of Israel, proclaims: ‘The Prime Ruler of Babylon’s burden will be shattered. ’”
3 “I will restore all items from the Sovereign Captain’s fortress Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian Prime Ruler, took to Babylon in two years.”
4 “the Sovereign Captain proclaims, ‘I will return Jehoiachin, son of Jehoiakim, and all Judah exiles from Babylon. I will shatter the Babylonian Prime Ruler’s control. ’” 5 Visionary Jeremiah responded to Hananiah before the priests and congregation in the Sovereign Captain’s fortress.
6 He declared, “So be it! May the Eternal Reality perform this! May He actualize your words by retrieving His fortress’ exalted items and captives from Babylon.”
7 “However, heed my message to your Sovereign Captain’s population.
8 Seers before us foretold conflicts, calamities, and diseases for many nations and empires.
9 Only when a prophet’s peace forecast is realized will it be acknowledged that the Sovereign Captain genuinely dispatched him.”
10 Hananiah then removed and shattered the yoke from Jeremiah’s neck.
11 He proclaimed, “the Sovereign Captain has declared: ‘I will shatter Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar’s bonds on every nation within two years. ’” Jeremiah then departed.
12 Shortly after, Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain:
13 “Tell Hananiah, ‘the Sovereign Captain proclaims: You have shattered a wooden yoke but will replace it with iron.

14 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares He will place an iron yoke on these nations, forcing them into servitude under Nebuchadnezzar. They will be his subjects, even the creatures of the wild. ’” 15 Jeremiah told Hananiah, “the Sovereign Captain hasn’t sent you; you’ve misled this nation with falsehoods.
16 The Sovereign Captain declares: ‘I will eradicate you from the globe. You shall perish this year for instigating insurrection against the Sovereign Captain. ’” 17 Hananiah died in that year’s seventh month of Tishrei.

§ 21610 JEREMIAH’S LETTER TO THE EXILES

29 This is the message that the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah, sent from Yerushalayim to the remaining elders among the deportees, the religious priests, the oracles, and all others whom Nebuchadnezzar had exiled from Yerushalayim to Babylon.
2 This occurred after the exile of Prime Ruler Jehoiachin, the First Lady’s mother, court officials, leaders of Judah and Yerushalayim, and skilled workers and craftsmen from Yerushalayim.
3 Elasah, Shaphan’s heir, and Gemariah, Hilkiah’s heir, delivered the letter, having been sent to Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon by Zedekiah, the Prime Ruler of Judah. The letter read:
4 The Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, addresses all exiles taken from Yerushalayim to Babylon:
5 Put down roots, create a home, and cultivate spaces of growth—like planting a community garden where life can flourish.
6 Get married, start a family, and assist your sons and daughters in finding spouses so they can start families. In that location, increase the number rather than decrease it.
7 Also, seek the peace and prosperity of the city where you have been exiled. Intervene with the Preeminent Sovereign for it because if it prospers, you, too, will prosper.

8 The Sovereign Captain warns: Don’t let the seers and prophets among you mislead you.
Ignore the goals you urge them to pursue.
9 They prophesied lies to you in my name. I have not sent them,” declares the Sovereign
Captain.
10 “I shall come to you and fulfill My good promises to bring you back to this place when 70 years of work are completed for Babylon,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
11 “Because I am aware of my intentions for you; they are to benefit you rather than harm you, to provide you with hope and a future,” the Sovereign Captain declares.
12 You will call on me and come and intervene with me, and I will listen to you.
13 You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your inner determination.
14 The Sovereign Captain says, “You will find me, and I will bring you back from your captivity.”
the Sovereign Captain says, “I intend to bring you back to the location from which I carried you into exile, and I am going to collect you from all the nations and places where I have banished you.”
15 You may say that the Sovereign Captain has raised prophets for us in Babylon.
16 But this is what the Sovereign Captain says about the Prime Ruler sitting on David’s command control and everyone still in this municipality, your fellow residents who did not accompany you on your banishment.
17 Yes, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, says: “I will send war, famine, and plague against them, making them like bad figs that are so rotten they cannot be eaten.

18 I will pursue them with war and famine and make them abhorrent to all the nations of the Earth. They will be a curse and an object of horror, scorn, and reproach among all the nations where I drive them.
19 For they have not listened to My Path," declares the Sovereign Captain, "words that I sent to them repeatedly by my eternally wise servants. And you exiles have not listened either," declares the Sovereign Captain.

20 "Therefore, hear the word of the Sovereign Captain, all you exiles whom I have sent away from Yerushalayim to Babylon.
21 Regarding Ahab, heir of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah, heir of Maaseiah, who are telling falsehoods to you in My presence, this is what the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, says: I will deliver them to Nebuchadnezzar, Prime Ruler of Babylon, and he will execute them right in front of your eyes.
22 All the Judah exiles in Babylon will utter the curse because of them: "May the Preeminent Sovereign deal with you as the Prime Ruler of Babylon dealt with Zedekiah and Ahab by burning them in the fire."
23 Because they have committed horrible crimes in Israel, such as lying to Me without my consent and having extramarital affairs with their neighbors' wives. the Sovereign Captain declares, "I know it, and I am a witness to it."

§ 21620 MESSAGE TO SHEMAIAH

24 "Convey this message to Shemaiah of Nehelam.
25 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, says: 'In My Name, you have sent letters to all in Yerushalayim, to the priest Zephaniah, son of Maaseiah, and all the priests. ' To Zephaniah, you said:
26 'the Sovereign Captain has made you a priest, succeeding Jehoiada, and placed you in charge of the Sovereign Captain's fortress; it is your duty to confine any lunatic pretending to be a prophet in stocks and shackles.
27 Why hasn't Jeremiah of Anathoth, who claims to be a prophet among you, been rebuked?
28 He sent us to Babylon, saying: 'Build houses and settle down; cultivate gardens and enjoy their produce; therefore the exile will be prolonged. ' 29 Nevertheless, the ensovereigned activator Zephaniah conveyed the letter's content to the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah.
30 Subsequently, a message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to Jeremiah.

31 'Relay this declaration to all the captives: This is the proclamation of the Sovereign Captain regarding Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Shemaiah has delivered prophecies to you, though I did not commission him, and he has deceived you into trusting in falsehoods.
32 The message of the Sovereign Captain asserts: Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his offspring will face retribution. None of his descendants will remain among these people, nor will they witness the empowerments I am going to grant to my people, ' asserts the Sovereign Captain,
'as he incited disobedience against me.

§ 21630 RESTORATION OF ISRAEL

30 Jeremiah received the word from the Sovereign Captain.

[2] The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, instructs: “Document all the phrases I have communicated to you in a manuscript.”

[3] The time is on the horizon, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, “when I will reinstate my people Israel and Judah from their exile and return them to the territory I entrusted to their forefathers to own,” declares the Sovereign Captain.
[4] This message is that the Sovereign Captain communicated about Israel and Judah.
[5] The Sovereign Captain proclaims: “Screams of terror resonate—dread, not tranquility.
[6] Inquire and ponder: Can a male bring offspring? If not, why do you observe each robust man clutching his midsection just like a woman in childbirth, every countenance paled white?
[7] That day will be tremendously dreadful; there can be no comparison. It will mark a period of great distress for Jacob, yet he will make it through unscathed.
[8] The declaration of the Almighty Sovereign Captain affirms that on the destined day, he will shatter the yoke from their necks and rip off their restraints; subsequently, they will no longer be subservient to foreign invaders.

[9] Rather, they will be subjected to their Preeminent Sovereign, the Sovereign Captain, and the Prime Ruler from David’s family, whom I will establish for them.
[10] My servant Jacob, don’t live in fear, and don’t be distressed, Israel, states the Sovereign Captain. I promise to rescue you from a place far away, your offspring from the territory of their confinement. Jacob will again experience a tranquil David’s safety, and no one will terrify him.
[11] “I am with you and will rescue you,” affirms the Sovereign Captain. “Even if I utterly exterminate all the nations where I have dispersed you, I will not obliterate you. I will chastise you, but with justice; I will not permit you to evade punishment completely.”
[12] The Sovereign Captain declares: “Your affliction is incurable; your hurt is grave.”
[13] No individual defends your case, nor is there any cure for your afflictions or recovery.
[14] All those who were your friends have abandoned you; they don’t bother about you anymore. I have assaulted you in the same way an adversary would and inflicted you with harsh discipline just like that of a cruel person, given the enormity of your impurity and the abundance of your transgressions.
[15] Why are you sobbing about your injury? There is no remedy for your misery! I have done these things to you because of your tremendous wrongdoing and many dishonorable decisions.
[16] Yet, all those who consume you will be ravaged. Each of your adversaries shall be dispatched into exile. Those who rob you will themselves be robbed. I will make anyone who pillages you become pillaged themselves.
[17] I will bring back your well-being and cure your afflictions,” says the Sovereign Captain, “for you are deemed abandoned, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, whom nobody looks after.”
[18] The Sovereign Captain declares: “Jacob’s tents will regain their prosperity, and I’ll show mercy to his homes; the city shall rise from its wreckage, and the palace shall resume its rightful position.”
[19] They will proceed with Thanksgiving with a festive noise. I will honor and not denigrate them; I will multiply and not decrease them.

[20] Their offspring will flourish as they did in previous times, their ensovereigned lifestyle community will be founded in my sight, and I will retaliate against all those who torment them.
[21] The sovereign from their community will be one of them; their governor will emerge from within their own. I will draw him nearer, and he will approach me, for who else would commit himself to staying near me? Proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

22 From now forward, you shall stand as my cherished ensovereigned lifestyle community. At the same time, I affirm my role as your celestial entity.
23 Observe that the Sovereign Captain's storm, filled with rage, will erupt, a fierce wind spiraling downwards on the fullness of unworthy choices.
24 The Sovereign Captain's intense wrath shall not abate until His determined intentions are fully realized. You will comprehend this in the future.

31 "I will be the Preeminent Sovereign, the Eternal Reality Innovator of all the families of Israel, and they will be My people at that time," declares the Sovereign Captain.
2 The Sovereign Captain states, "When Israel went to find rest, the people who survived the tactical blade found favor in the wilderness."
3 In ancient times, the Sovereign Captain manifested himself to us and professed: "My affection for you is eternal; I've drawn you towards me with ceaseless compassion."
4 Once more, the enemy constructs you anew, and you, pure Israel, will be reestablished. You will pick up your tambourines again and participate in the dances with those who are jubilant.
5 Yet again, you'll cultivate vineyards in Samaria's hills; those who sow will also harvest and relish their yield.
6 The time will come when sentries in the mountains of Ephraim will call out, "Let's make our way to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign to express joyful adoration to the Sovereign Captain."
7 The Sovereign Captain speaks: "Joyfully sing for Jacob; exclaim for the first of the nations! Say, 'My Sovereign Captain, save Your people, the chosen people of Israel!'" as you make your praises heard.

8 Pay Heed: I will bring them from the northern territory and collect them from the extreme points of the Earth. Included will be those who are visually impaired and physically disabled, women anticipating birth, and those in the throes of childbirth; a vast assembly will make their return.
9 They will arrive shedding tears and offer meldings of their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign as I guide them home. I will steer them along tranquil watercourses on a flat trail where they won't falter, as I am the father of Israel, and Ephraim is my eldest child.

10 Listen to the message of the Sovereign Captain, nations of the world, and declare it on distant shores: "He who dispersed Israel will reunite them and guard his people as an inner shield does his protected community."
11 The Eternal Reality will liberate Jacob and reclaim them from those who wield more power.
12 They will arrive and exclaim in delight from the high points of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign; they will bask in the transformative generosity of the Sovereign Captain—the grain, fresh wine, olive oil, and offspring of flocks and cattle. Their existence will resemble a lush, watered garden, and they will never experience sadness again.
13 The young maidens shall delight in the dance, and older people and young men shall too. Their sorrow will be transformed into cheer; with my solace, their grief will be replaced by rejoicing.
14 I will satiate the ensovereigned mediators with excess, and my people will be bountifully satisfied," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
15 The Sovereign Captain declares, "A cry of despair is perceived in Ramah, paired with profound sorrow. Rachel sheds tears for her offspring and resists consolation, as they exist no longer."
16 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "Cease your cries of sorrow and wipe away your tears, for your efforts will be compensated," affirms the Sovereign Captain. "They shall make their way back from enemy territory."

17 There exists optimism for your offspring, proclaims the Sovereign Captain. Your descendants will revert to their original territory.
18 Ephraim's lamentations have reached me: 'You have disciplined me like an untrained calf, and I have learned my lesson. Bring me back, and I will return, for you are my Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain. '
19 On realizing my deviation, I felt remorse; I punished myself in sorrow when Ephraim understood my actions. I was filled with shame and embarrassment because I carried the guilt of my early years.
20 Ephraim is my precious and delightful male heir, right? Despite my frequent criticisms against him, I keep him in my thoughts. As a result, my inner-self longs for him, and I will unquestionably have profound compassion for him," as the Sovereign Captain proclaims.
21 Establish markers along your route; construct indicators. Consider the main road, the path you've followed. Make your way back, pure Israel; return to your communities.
22 How long will you continue to stray, disloyal Daughter Israel? The Preeminent Sovereign will bring something unique to the globe—the female shall return to the male.
23 The Sovereign Captain of Celestial—you have the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel proclaims: "When I restore their fortunes from exile, the inhabitants of Judah and its cities will once more utter these phrases: 'May the Sovereign Captain empower you, the abode of prosperity, exalted. '"
24 Inhabitants of Judah and all its towns will dwell harmoniously—the agriculturalists and those who traverse with their livestock.
25 I will invigorate those feeling exhausted and fulfill those who are weak.
26 After hearing that, I surveyed the surroundings. My slumber was quite delightful to me.
27 A time is approaching, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, when I will increase the population of Israel and Judah with humans and animals.
28 As I previously ensured their upheaval, destruction, and calamity, I will now provide their development and growth," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

29 During that period, it will no longer be stated that the parents have consumed unripe fruit, causing their offspring's teeth to numb.
30 Rather, each individual will meet their demise due to transgressions; those who consume unripe fruit will feel the bitterness in their mouths.
31 An era is approaching, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, when I will establish a fresh agreement with the people of offspring Judah.
32 The agreement I formed with their forefathers when I led them out of Egypt will not resemble this one, for they failed to honor that pact. However, I was just like a spouse to them," affirms the Sovereign Captain.
33 This agreement is what I will establish with the Israeli community after that era," proclaims the Sovereign Captain. "I will place My path in their thoughts and inscribe them in their inner selves. I will act as their Eternal Reality, and they will become My pathseekers.
34 They will no longer have to instruct each other by saying, 'Understand the Sovereign Captain, ' as everyone will possess personal knowledge of me, from the least significant to the most important," proclaims the Sovereign Captain. "I will absolve their iniquities and not recall their transgressions anymore."
35 This is what the Sovereign Captain says: "He who creates light by day by giving the sun, arranges the moon and stars for light at night and agitates the sea to cause its waves to roar is known as the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces."
36 "The descendants of Israel would never cease to be a nation before Me," declares the Sovereign Captain, "unless this fixed order departed from My presence."

37 The Sovereign Captain proclaims, “I will reject all of Israel’s descendants because of all they have chosen wrong, only if the celestial realm above could be surveyed and the foundations of the Earth below could be searched out.”
38 The Sovereign Captain has announced that the time is approaching for the reconstruction of Yerushalayim for His acclaim, extending from the Hananel Tower to the Corner Gate.
39 The surveyor’s line shall extend from that point directly to Gareb Hill and change direction towards Goah.

40 The Sovereign Captain will declare exalted the entire valley of ashes and corpses, along with all the pastures up to Kidron Valley and the eastern corner of Horse Gate. It won’t ever be pulled down or destroyed again.

§ 21640 JEREMIAH BUYS A FIELD

32 Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain in the tenth year of Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah, the eighteenth of Nebuchadnezzar.
2 At that time, Yerushalayim was under siege by the Babylonian Prime Ruler’s forces. Jeremiah, the eternally wise servant, was held captive within the guard’s courtyard in Judah’s governance palace.
3 Judah’s Prime Ruler Zedekiah imprisoned him and asked, “Why are you prophesying this way? You say the Sovereign Captain declares, ‘I will hand over this city to the Prime Ruler of Babylon, and he will take it. ’”
4 Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah will not escape the Babylonians but will be handed over to the Babylonian Prime Ruler, engaging in direct conversation with him and seeing him with his own eyes.
5 Someone will transport Zedekiah to Babylon, where he will stay until I confront him. “You will fail if you fight against the Babylonians,” declares the Sovereign Captain.
6 Jeremiah conveyed the Sovereign Captain’s message to me.
7 Hanamel, your uncle Shallum’s son, will come to you with a proposal: ‘Buy my field in Anathoth, as you have the legal right and responsibility to acquire it. ’
8 As the Sovereign Captain had foretold, my cousin Hanamel approached me in the guard’s courtyard and urged me to buy his field in Anathoth, in the Benjamin region. He suggested I purchase it since it was within my rights to reclaim and own it. I recognized this as a message from the Sovereign Captain.
9 I bought the field in Anathoth from my cousin Hanamel, giving him seventeen silver shekels.
10 I signed the deed, sealed it, took witnesses, and weighed the silver on scales.

11 I took both the unsealed and sealed copies of the deed of purchase, which contained the terms and conditions.
12 In the presence of my cousin Hanamel, the witnesses who signed the deed, and all the Israelites in the guard’s courtyard, I gave this deed to Baruch, son of Neriah and grandson of Mahseiah.
13 In their presence, I instructed Baruch.
14 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, says: Take these records, which include both unopened and opened copies of the purchase deed, and store them in a ceramic jar for long-term preservation.
15 The Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, the Sovereign Captain of All, proclaims that homes, land, and vineyards will once more be purchased in this region.
16 I pled to the Sovereign Captain after giving Baruch, son of Neriah, the deed of purchase.

17 “Ah, Sovereign Captain, you made the celestial realms and the Earth by your great power and outstretched arm. Nothing is too hard for you.
18 You show love to thousands but bring the punishment for the parents’ transgressions into the laps of their children after them. Great and mighty the Preeminent Sovereign, whose name is the Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies.
19 Great are your purposes, and mighty are your deeds. Your perceptions are open to all human behavior, and you reward each person based on their deeds and behavior.

20 You made signs and wonders in Egypt and continue to do so now in Israel and across humankind, earning you a reputation that is still yours.
21 With great dread, a mighty hand, an outstretched arm, and signs and wonders, you led your people, the Israelites, out of Egypt.
22 You gave them this land, one that was overflowing with milk and honey, which you had promised to give their forefathers.

23 They came in and took possession of it but did not obey you, follow your Law, or do what you commanded them to do. So you brought all this disaster on them.
24 See how the siege ramps are built to take the city. Because of tactical blade, famine, and plague, the city will be given to the Babylonians attacking it. What you said has happened, as you now see.”

25 Even as the city is destined to fall into Babylonian hands, you, the Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain, instruct me to secure the field using silver and ensure the deal is legally confirmed.
26-27 The Sovereign Captain’s message to Jeremiah was clear: “I am the Preeminent Sovereign who governs all beings on Earth. Is there any task too challenging for me?”
28 The Sovereign Captain declares: “I will surrender this city to the Babylonians and Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, who will seize it.”
29 The Babylonian forces besieging this town will enter and ignite it; they will demolish it, along with the residences where the inhabitants provoked My wrath by offering incense to Baal on their rooftops and presenting libations to the idolized deities.
30 The individuals from Israel and Judah have committed exclusively impure deeds in my presence since their youth; the Israelites have persistently stirred up my wrath through their handcrafted idolized deities, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
31 Since its construction, this city has incessantly incited such fury and anger in me that I am compelled to delete it from my presence.
32 The inhabitants of Israel and Judah have initiated my wrath by all their evil actions; it includes them, their Prime Rulers and leaders, their clergy persons and seers, the populace of Judah, and those residing in Yerushalayim.
33 They showed me their back instead of their face; despite my numerous teachings, they refused to hear and react to correction.
34 They arranged their repugnant idolized deities in the dwelling known by My Name, so contaminating it.

35 In the Valley of Ben Hinnom, they built temples dedicated to Baal, offering their young daughters and sons as sacrifices to Molek—an act I neither ordered nor approved. This repugnant deed resulted in their fall into the unworthy choice of Judah.
36 You claim concerning this city that ‘It will be surrendered to the Prime Ruler of Babylon due to war, starvation, and disease, ’ yet here is the proclamation from the Sovereign Captain, the Eternal Reality of Israel.
37 “I will regather them from all the territories where I have exiled them in my extreme fury and immense wrath. I will restore them to this location and ensure they dwell here peacefully.”

38 They shall be acknowledged as My pathseekers, and I will be recognized as their Eternal Reality.
39 I will instill unity of inner-self and conduct in them, so they'll consistently elevate me, benefiting them and their offspring.
40 An eternal promise will be established with them: I will perpetually continue to empower them and instill a deep respect for me, ensuring they will not abandon me.
41 I will take delight in treating them; with my whole being, I will trustfully establish them in this land.
42 The pronouncement of the Sovereign Captain is such: "Just as I've unleashed this immense catastrophe on these people, in the same way, I will present to them all the affluence that I'm committed to granting them."
43 In this territory you perceive as uninhabited and desolate, void of people and animals, and relegated to the Chaldeans, fields will again be procured.
44 Real estate will be acquired in exchange for money, with contracts being drafted, authenticated, and corroborated within Benjamin's territory, the peripheral areas of Yerushalayim, the city-states of Judah, and the settlements in the hill districts, western lowlands, and the Negev, because I will re-establish their prosperity, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21650 PROMISE OF RESTORATION

33 Jeremiah was confined in the guard's courtyard when Benjamin's message from the Sovereign Captain reached him again.
2 The Sovereign Captain, who crafted and stabilized the globe, declared:
3 "Appeal to me, and I will respond, unveiling magnificent, unsearchable mysteries unknown to you."
4 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, spoke about Judah's demolished residential structures and governance buildings used as defense against siege towers and weaponry.
5 Amidst the conflict with the Babylonians, the city will overflow with corpses from my fury and rage. I will turn away from this metropolis due to its rampant evilness.
6 Despite this, I will restore vitality and wellness, mend my people, and ensure they experience profound peace and safety.
7 I will restore Judah and Israel from exile and reconstruct them to their former condition.
8 I will purify them from all wrongdoings and pardon all acts of defiance.
9 Consequently, this metropolis will bring me fame, delight, commendation, and distinction among all countries globally who learn of my beneficial actions. They will be filled with reverence and quake at the copious wealth and tranquility I grant.
10 The Sovereign Captain declares: "You claim this area is a barren void, devoid of humans or creatures. However, sounds will reverberate once again in the abandoned settlements of Judah and the empty lanes of Yerushalayim.
11 The echoes of celebration and delight, the tones of newlyweds, and the utterances of those who present their expressions of gratitude to the fortress of the Sovereign Captain, proclaiming, 'Express your appreciation for the Almighty Sovereign Captain, as the Sovereign Captain is benevolent; His devotion is everlasting. ' For I will re-establish the prosperity of the territory as it was in the past," 12 The Sovereign Captain of All declares: "This location, now a wasteland without any humans or beasts, shall once more have agricultural production centers where sheep keepers can allow their flocks to repose.

13 Sheep keepers will once more count their sheep in the towns of the hill country, the foothills to the West, the Negev, the area of Benjamin, the surroundings of Yerushalayim, and in the cities of Judah," declares the Sovereign Captain.
14 "The time is approaching," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "when I will execute the benevolent decree I pronounced to Israel and Judah.
15 "In that era, I will establish an authentic Leader from David's lineage; he will bring fairness and justice to the community."
16 Judah will find redemption during those times, and Yerushalayim will exist in undisturbed peace. They will be known by this title: the Sovereign Captain, Our Justice Provider.
17 According to the Sovereign Captain's decree, David will forever have a successor to reign over Israel.
18 The Levitical mediators will perpetually have someone in my presence to perform entirely burned and grain offerings and to present absolving payments."
19 The message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to Jeremiah.
20 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "If you can nullify my pact with day and night, causing them not to occur at their designated period," 21 "Only then could my pact with my servant David be disrupted, implying he wouldn't have an offspring to ascend his authority base. Similarly, my agreement with the Levite ensovereigned mediators serving me could be nullified.
22 The offspring of my servant David and the Levites who serve me will be as innumerable as celestial bodies in celestial realms and as uncountable as grains of sand on the seashore."
23 Jeremiah received this message from the Sovereign Captain.
24 "Aren't you aware of what these individuals say, 'the Sovereign Captain has cast off the two dynasties he selected?' Consequently, they disrespect my people and no longer recognize them as a nation."

25 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "If my agreement with day and night does not stand, and if I do not set the directives of the universe and the Earth,"
26 "I would likewise dismiss Jacob's offspring and My servant David's line, not nominating any of his descendants to govern Abraham's, Isaac's, and Jacob's line. Indeed, I'll return their prosperity and show them kindness."

§ 21660 WARNING TO ZEDEKIAH

34 During the siege of Yerushalayim and its neighboring cities by Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and his vast army, a disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign was conveyed by Jeremiah from the Sovereign Captain.
2 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, instructed Go to Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah and tell him, "the Sovereign Captain declares: I am about to surrender this city to the Babylonian Prime Ruler, who will burn it down."
3 "You cannot escape his grasp; he will capture you, and you will be handed over to him. You will see the Prime Ruler of Babylon face to face and speak with him directly. Ultimately, you will go to Babylon."
4 Hear this assurance from the Sovereign Captain, Zedekiah, Prime Ruler of Judah. the Sovereign Captain proclaims: "You will not die by the tactical blade."
5 "You will die peacefully. Just as your ancestors, the previous Prime Rulers, were honored with formal fires, so will you be. People will mourn your loss, saying, 'Oh, our Sovereign Captain!' I assure you of this."

6 In Yerushalayim, Jeremiah faithfully relayed everything to Zedekiah, the Prime Ruler of Judah.
7 At that time, the Babylonian Prime Ruler's military force was attacking Yerushalayim and the remaining cities of Judah that had not yet been captured, including Lachish and Azekah. These were the last fortified cities in Judah.

§ 21670 FREEDOM FOR ENSLAVED PEOPLE

8 Prime Ruler Zedekiah, heeding the Preeminent Sovereign's message delivered by Jeremiah, made a pact with the people of Yerushalayim to free their enslaved.
9 everyone was ordered to liberate their Hebrew servants, regardless of gender, as keeping a compatriot in servitude was forbidden.
10 In this solemn agreement, All officials and participants pledged to release their menservants and personal assistants. They complied and let them go.
11 However, they later reversed their decision, reclaiming the freed individuals and forcing them back into servitude.
12 Jeremiah then received another directive from the Sovereign Captain.
13 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, said: "I made a treaty with your forefathers when I rescued them from Egypt's bondage.
14 You must release any Hebrew brethren sold to you every seven years. After six years of service, they should be set free. Yet, your forefathers ignored My Path.
15 Recently, you changed your inner selves and did what pleased me: you declared liberation for your compatriots. In my presence, you ratified an agreement within the fortress recognized by My Name.
16 But you reversed your actions, desecrating My Name by reclaiming the enslaved persons you had freed, forcing them back into servitude.
17 So declares the Sovereign Captain: You have disregarded my command and not declared independence for your people. Therefore, I now say 'liberty' for you; the Sovereign Captain says 'freedom' to succumb to the tactical blade, plagues, and famine. I will make you a deterrent to all nations.
18 Those who transgressed my agreement and didn't keep their promises will be dealt with like the calf sliced in half whose parts they moved through.
19 The high-ranking figures from Judah and Yerushalayim, the judicial officers, the clergy, and all land residents who traversed between the calf parts will face the consequences.
20 I'll hand them over to their foes who seek to end their lives. Their lifeless bodies will nourish the sky's birds and the Earth's beasts.

21 Prime Ruler Zedekiah of Judah and his officers will be handed over to their adversaries who intend to end their lives and to the military force of the Prime Ruler of Babylon that has currently pulled back from you.
22 I'm poised to issue my command," stated the Sovereign Captain, "and guide them back to this city. They will wage war against it, seize it, and reduce it to ashes. Furthermore, I will turn the cities of Judah into desolate wastelands devoid of inhabitants."

§ 21680 THE REKABITES

35 Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain during Jehoiakim's reign over Judah.

2 “Go to the Rekabite people, bring them to a secluded chamber in the Sovereign Captain’s fortress, and offer them wine.”
3 I invited Jaazaniah, Jeremiah’s son, Habazziniah’s grandson, and Josiah’s family, representing the Rekabites.
4 I led them to the Sovereign Captain’s fortress, to the chamber of Hanan’s sons, next to the officials’ chamber and above Maaseiah’s chamber.
5 I said, “Drink some wine,” setting pitchers and glasses before them.
6 They replied, “We don’t drink wine because our ancestor Jonadab, Rechab’s son, commanded us never to drink wine.
7 We are also forbidden from building homes, farming, or planting vineyards; we must live in tents to ensure a long life as wanderers.
8 We have followed Jonadab’s instructions, ensuring our families abstain from wine.
9 We have never built houses or owned vineyards or farms.
10 Living in tents, we strictly followed all our ancestors’ directives.
11 When Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon invaded, we moved to Yerushalayim to escape the Babylonian and Aramean forces. That is why we now live in Yerushalayim.”

12 Then the Sovereign Captain’s message came to Jeremiah.
13 The Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, said: “Tell Judah and Yerushalayim, ‘Will you not accept correction and follow my precepts?’
14 The son of Rechab, Jehonadab, instructed his successors not to consume alcohol, and they complied. Despite my persistent communication, you have ignored My Path.
15 I sent my eternally wise servants to urge you to turn from your impure ways and amend your actions. Do not pursue idolized deities. I gave you this land; live here. But you did not listen or salute.
16 Jehonadab’s descendants have followed his command, but you have ignored mine. ’” 17 The Sovereign Captain, Preeminent Sovereign of Celestial Forces, Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, declares: “Pay Heed! I will bring upon Judah and Yerushalayim all the calamities I warned about because they ignored My Path and did not respond.”
18 Jeremiah told the Rekabites, “This is the message from the Sovereign Captain of Forces, Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: You have followed your ancestor Jehonadab’s directives and teachings.”
19 So declares the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, Preeminent Sovereign of Israel: “Jehonadab’s descendants will always honor me.”

§ 21690 JEHOIAKIM BURNS JEREMIAH’S SCROLL

36 In Jehoiakim’s fourth year as Prime Ruler of Judah, Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain:
2 “Take a scroll and record everything I have said about Israel, Judah, and all the nations from the first time I spoke to you during Josiah’s reign until now.
3 The people of Judah may change their ways when they learn of the disasters I have planned for them. Then, I will pardon their transgression and wrongdoing.”

4-5 Jeremiah told Baruch, “I am confined and cannot enter the Sovereign Captain’s fortress;
6 therefore, on a day of fasting, you are to go to the Sovereign Captain’s fortress and recite the Sovereign Captain’s words from the scroll you have written at my command in front of the people. Read them aloud to every Judahite traveling from their cities.

7 Since the Sovereign Captain is angry with these people, perhaps they will petition Him, and everyone will turn away from their impure ways."
8 Baruch, heir of Neriah, carried out all of Jeremiah's instructions. He read the words of the Sovereign Captain from the scroll in the fortress.

9 During the ninth month in the fifth year of Jehoiakim's reign, a period of abstinence was announced for all Yerushalayim and those who journeyed from Judean cities.
10 Baruch read aloud from a scroll the words of Jeremiah to the entire assembly from the chamber of Gemariah, the intelligence analyst and heir of Shaphan, located in the top courtyard at the opening of the New Gate of the Sovereign Captain's home.

11 When Micaiah, heir of Gemariah, heard all that the Sovereign Captain had written on the scroll, 12 he went to the intelligence analyst's room in the Prime Ruler's headquarters where Elishama, Delaiah, Elnathan, Gemariah, Zedekiah, and other officials were seated.
13 Micaiah told them all he had heard Baruch read aloud from the scroll to the assembly.

14 Through Jehudi, all the officials sent news to Baruch, saying, "Bring the scroll that you recited in the hearing of the people, and come here." Baruch proceeded to them with the scroll.
15 They requested him to sit and recite it again, and Baruch conveyed it to them.
16 After listening to all these statements, they looked fearful at one another and told Baruch, "We must convey all these statements to the Prime Ruler."
17 They inquired how he managed to pen down everything and whether it was at Jeremiah's explicit verbal guidance.
18 Baruch acknowledged that Jeremiah had articulated all these expressions to him, and he inscribed them with ink on parchment.

19 "You and Jeremiah must hide yourselves and tell no one where you are," the officials warned Baruch.
20 The authorities proceeded to the Prime Ruler's courtyard. After keeping the scroll in Elishama's chamber, they informed the Prime Ruler of everything.
21 The Prime Ruler dispatched Jehudi to get the scroll, which he did, taking it from Elishama's chamber. Jehudi read it aloud before the Prime Ruler; every official was beside him.
22 It was the ninth month, and the Prime Ruler sat in his winter quarters, a fire blazing before him.
23 Jehoiakim used an intelligence analyst's knife to chop off columns as soon as Jehudi finished reading three or four before tossing them into the fire pot until the fire had burned the entire scroll.
24 Neither the Prime Ruler nor his assistants showed fear or tore their garments on hearing these words.
25 Their pleas were ignored Despite Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah trying to dissuade him from burning the scroll.

26 Rather than following the Eternal Reality's word, the Prime Ruler issued directives to Jerahmeel, Seraiah, and Shelemiah to apprehend Jeremiah and Baruch. However, they were unsuccessful, as the Eternal Reality had concealed them.

27 The Living Word of the Sovereign Captain reached Jeremiah after Jehoiakim burned the scroll that Baruch had inscribed at Jeremiah's command:
28 "Write again on another scroll everything that Judah's Prime Ruler Jehoiakim burned.

29 Communicate this to Jehoiakim: the Sovereign Captain declares you scorched that scroll because you questioned why it predicted that Babylon's Prime Ruler would devastate this territory, eradicating both humans and animals.
30 The Sovereign Captain declares that there will be no successor from your family to ascend to David's command control; your corpse will be cast into the open, subjected to day's scorching heat and night's cold.
31 You, your offspring, and your servants will face my retribution for their wrongdoing; I'll inflict every calamity I declared on them and Yerushalayim's residents for their refusal to heed my warning."

32 Jeremiah procured another parchment and handed it to Baruch. As Jeremiah dictated, Baruch transcribed all words from that scroll that Jehoiakim had scorched. Numerous analogous phrases were included in addition.

§ 21700 JEREMIAH IN PRISON

37 Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, inaugurated Zedekiah as the Prime Ruler of Judah, succeeding Jehoiachin, the offspring of Jehoiakim.
2 He, his officials, and the land inhabitants did not heed Eternal Reality's messages conveyed through the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah.

3 Yet Prime Ruler Zedekiah sent Jehucal, the male heir of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah, the ensovereigned mediator, the male heir of Maaseiah, to Jeremiah with the message, "Please meld your conscience with the Sovereign Captain our Preeminent Sovereign for us!"
4 Jeremiah still had the liberty to mingle with the people as he hadn't been incarcerated yet.
5 The Chaldeans who were besieging Yerushalayim retreated when they learned that Pharaoh's army had fled Egypt.
6 A message from the Sovereign Captain was conveyed to Jeremiah.
7 Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, declares: Convey this to the Prime Ruler of Judah who dispatched you to seek my counsel, "The military force of Pharaoh that had mobilized to aid will retreat to its native territory, Egypt."
8 Subsequently, the Babylonians will make a comeback and assault this city. They will seize it and set it ablaze.
9 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "Don't delude yourselves by trusting The Chaldeans will certainly depart from us." They won't!
10 Even if you were to defeat the Chaldeans' entire army and only the injured men were left in their tents, they would still rise and destroy this city with fire.
11 Fearing the force of Pharaoh, the Chaldean army withdrew from Yerushalayim.
12 Jeremiah set out to depart from Yerushalayim to claim his share among the people in the province of Benjamin.
13 However, the guard's commander at the Gate of Benjamin, Irijah (the male heir of Shelemiah and Hananiah), grabbed him and declared, "You are deserting to the Chaldeans!"
14 "That is untrue," Jeremiah answered. "I refuse to abandon myself to the Chaldeans!" Irijah, however, would not hear of it; instead, he detained Jeremiah and brought him before the authorities.
15 The officials, filled with rage towards Jeremiah, subjected him to physical assault and confined him in what used to be the dwelling of Jonathan, the intelligence analyst, which they had transformed into a detention center.

16 Jeremiah was confined in an underground vault in a prison, where he stayed for an extensive period.
17 Subsequently, Prime Ruler Zedekiah summoned Jeremiah and escorted him to the palace, where he privately inquired, “Has there been a message from Sovereign Captain?” Jeremiah affirmed, “Indeed, you are destined to fall into the hands of the Prime Ruler of Babylon.”
18 Jeremiah asked Prime Ruler Zedekiah, “How have I wronged you, your officials, or the citizens you have ordered me to be incarcerated?
19 What became of your seers who foretold that the Prime Ruler of Babylon wouldn’t invade you or this territory?
20 I implore you, my Prime Ruler, to lend me your ears. Allow me to present my intervention to you: Please refrain from sending me back to the dwelling of Jonathan, the intelligence analyst, or else I fear I may perish there.”
21 Prime Ruler Zedekiah then ordered Jeremiah to be relocated to the sentinel’s yard and provided daily bread from the bakers’ lane until the entire city’s bread was depleted. Consequently, Jeremiah remained within the sentinels of the guard’s courtyard.

§ 21710 JEREMIAH THROWN INTO A CISTERN

38 Shephatiah, Gedaliah, Jucal, and Pashhur heard Jeremiah proclaiming:
2 “the Sovereign Captain declares that those who stay in this city will die from starvation, disease, and the tactical blade, but those who surrender to the Chaldeans will live and keep their life as a prize.
3 The Sovereign Captain states: ‘This city will fall into the hands of the Babylonian Prime Ruler’s army, and he will take it. ’”

4 “This man must die; he is weakening the warriors and everyone else by saying such things. He is not seeking the welfare of these people but their ruin,” the authorities told the Prime Ruler.

5 “This is him,” Prime Ruler Zedekiah replied. “You have him because the Prime Ruler cannot stop you.”

6 So, they took Jeremiah and cast him into Malchiah’s cistern in the guard’s courtyard. Jeremiah was lowered into the muck-filled cistern by ropes; it was empty of water, and he sank into the mud.

7 Word reached Ebed-Melech the Cushite that Jeremiah had been placed in the cistern. As the Prime Ruler occupied the Gate of Benjamin,
8 Ebed-Melek left the governance residence to speak to him.

9 “My Prime Ruler, the actions of those who guard Jeremiah have been heinous. The Prime Ruler has banished him to a well where he will perish from hunger, as the city has no bread.”

10 Prime Ruler Zedekiah instructed Ebed-Melek to rally thirty men and extract Jeremiah from the well before he died.
11 Ebed-Melek led the troops to a location beneath the Prime Ruler’s headquarters storehouse. From there, he lowered tattered clothing and rags to Jeremiah in the cistern using ropes.
12 Ebed-Melek advised Jeremiah to cushion these ropes with worn-out clothing and old rags under his arms. Jeremiah complied, 13 They hoisted Jeremiah using the ropes and rescued him from the cistern. However, he continued to stay within the confines of the guard’s courtyard.

§ 21720 ZEDEKIAH QUESTIONS JEREMIAH AGAIN

14 Prime Ruler Zedekiah summoned Jeremiah to the third gate of the Sovereign Captain's fortress. "Jeremiah, I have a question for you," Zedekiah said. "Hide nothing from me."

15 Jeremiah replied, "If I tell you, Captain, will you protect me? And if I offer guidance, will you heed it?"
16 Zedekiah privately assured Jeremiah, "As surely as the Sovereign Captain lives, who has given us this existence, I will not kill you or hand you over to those who seek your life."

17 Jeremiah then declared, "This is what the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Hosts, the Eternal Reality of Israel, says: '"You and your household will survive if you surrender to the Babylonian officers, and this city will not burn down."
18 "But if you resist, this city will fall to the Babylonians, and they will set it aflame; you won't escape them."

19 Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "I fear the Judeans who have deserted to the Chaldeans; they might mistreat me."
20 Jeremiah reassured him, "They won't hand you over. Listen to the Sovereign Captain's word so you may live and prosper.
21 But if you don't surrender, this will happen:
22 The women in your palace will be brought before the Babylonian officials and declare, 'Your trusted friends misled and defeated you. ' Your feet sank into the mud."

23 "The Chaldeans will capture your wives and children. You won't escape because the Babylonian Prime Ruler will capture you, and this city will burn down."

24 Zedekiah warned Jeremiah to keep their conversation secret or face death.
25-26 "If the authorities learn of our talk and question you, tell them you were pleading with the Prime Ruler not to send you back to Jonathan's house to die."

27 Jeremiah followed Zedekiah's instructions when questioned by the officials. They stopped interrogating him since no one had overheard their exchange.
28 Jeremiah remained in the guard's courtyard until Yerushalayim was taken.

§ 21730 THE FALL OF YERUSHALAYIM

39 Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, attacked Yerushalayim with his entire army in the ninth year, the tenth month of Zedekiah's reign over Judah. He besieged the city.
2 The city was breached on the ninth day of the fourth month in Zedekiah's eleventh year.
3 Nergal-sharer of Samgar, Nebo-Srsekim the Rabsaris, Nergal-sharer the Rabmag, and other Babylonian officials then took seats in the Middle Gate.
4 Zedekiah, Prime Ruler of Judah, and his army fled at night through the gate between the two walls near the Prime Ruler's garden, heading towards Arabah.
5 However, Zedekiah was captured by the Babylonian military in Jericho's fields and brought before Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah in Hamath, where he faced a decisive verdict.
6 At Riblah, Nebuchadnezzar executed Zedekiah's offspring in his presence and eradicated all Judah's elites.

7 Then, to transport Zedekiah to Babylon, he gouged out his eyes and shackled him with bronze restraints.
8 The Chaldeans destroyed Yerushalayim's walls and set fire to the Prime Ruler's headquarters and homes.
9-10 Nebuzaradan, the guard's command, took the remaining citizens and deserters to Babylon but left a few impoverished individuals in Judah, providing them with farms and vineyards.
11 Nebuzaradan received orders from Nebuchadnezzar regarding Jeremiah:
12 "Take him, tend to him, and fulfill his requests."

13-14 So, Nebuzaradan, Nebushazban the Rabsaris, Nergal-Sharezer the Rabmag, and other commanders retrieved Jeremiah from the guardhouse court and entrusted him to Gedaliah, Ahikam's heir and Shaphan's grandson, to escort him home. Jeremiah stayed among his compatriots.
15 While imprisoned in the guard's courtyard, Jeremiah received a word from the Sovereign Captain:
16 "Tell Ebed-Melech the Cushite that the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will carry out His words against this city for evil and not for good. This will happen before your eyes.
17 On that day, the Sovereign Captain assures your redemption; you will not be delivered to those you fear.
18 I will save you from falling by the tactical blade. the Sovereign Captain proclaims, 'You will escape with your life like a spoil of war because you have trusted in Me. '"

§ 21740 JEREMIAH FREED

40 Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain when Nebuzaradan, the chief officer of the governance guard, set him free at Ramah. He found Jeremiah among the prisoners from Yerushalayim and Judah, who were chained and taken into Babylonian exile.
2 The guard's commander told him, "The Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, proclaimed this catastrophe over this place.
3 I promise to aid you and keep you from falling by the tactical blade. the Sovereign Captain proclaims, 'You will escape with your life like a spoil of war because you have trusted in Me. '
4 I am releasing you from your wrist shackles today. Come with me to Babylon if it pleases you; I'll ensure you are cared for. However, if going to Babylon seems improper, please stop here. You have the entire land before you. Proceed wherever it seems proper and suitable to you."

5 Before Jeremiah left, Nebuzaradan said, "Go wherever else seems right, or return to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the grandson of Shaphan, whom the Prime Ruler of Babylon has appointed over the municipalities of Judah." the Sovereign Captain of the guard then released him after giving him a present and a ration.
6 Jeremiah proceeded to Mizpah to join Gedaliah, Ahikam's male heir, and resided with him and the remaining inhabitants of Judah's territory.

§ 21750 GEDALIAH ASSASSINATED

7-8 When the top ruler of Babylon chose Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, to manage the land and care for the remaining poor people, military leaders and their soldiers, along with several groups, met him at Mizpah. The sons of Ephai led these groups: Netophah, Jezaniah from Maacath, Johanan and Jonathan, the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah, the son of Tanhumeth.

9 Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and Shaphan, assured them and their soldiers not to fear serving the Chaldeans. “Stay in the land and serve the Babylonian Prime Ruler, and all will be well.
10 I will remain in Mizpah to represent you before the Babylonians. Meanwhile, gather wine, summer fruits, and oil, store them, and settle in the captured towns.”
11 When news spread that the Babylonian Prime Ruler had left a chosen people in Judah under Gedaliah’s rule, Israelites from Moab, Ammon, Edom, and other nations returned to Judah.
12 They gathered a substantial harvest of wine and summer fruits.
13 Johanan, son of Kareah, and all the military commanders in the countryside came to Gedaliah at Mizpah.
14 Johanan warned Gedaliah, “Baalis, Prime Ruler of the Ammonites, has sent Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, to kill you.” But Gedaliah did not trust him.
15 In a private conversation, Johanan offered to kill Ishmael secretly to prevent his plot.

16 But Gedaliah replied, “Do not do such a thing! What you are saying about Ishmael is false.”

41 In the seventh month of Tishrei, Ishmael, son of Nethaniah and Elishama’s heir, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah with ten men. They dined together.
2 Ishmael and his men killed Gedaliah, the man Babylon appointed, with a tactical blade, overthrowing him.
3 Ishmael also killed all the Chaldean soldiers and Judeans with Gedaliah at Mizpah.
4 No one knew of Gedaliah’s murder until two days later.
5 Eighty men from Shechem, Shiloh, and Samaria came with grain offerings and incense for the Sovereign Captain’s fortress. They had shaved beards, torn clothes, and cut themselves.
6 Ishmael met them with tears in his eyes and invited them to Gedaliah.
7 Ishmael and his soldiers slaughtered them once they were inside the city and put their remains into a cistern.
8 However, ten men pleaded for their lives, offering hidden treasures of oil, barley, wheat, and honey. So Ishmael spared them.
9 Prime Ruler Asa had built a large cistern out of concern for Baasha, Prime Ruler of Israel. Ishmael filled it with the bodies of those he killed, along with Gedaliah.
10 Ishmael then took all the remaining people in Mizpah, including the Prime Ruler’s daughters and others left under Nebuzaradan’s supervision. He set out for Ammonite territory with his captives.
11 When Johanan and all the army leaders heard of Ishmael’s actions, 12 they gathered their men and pursued him. They found him near Gibeon’s large pool.
13 Ishmael’s captives rejoiced at seeing Johanan and switched sides.
14 Now every individual that Ishmael had captured at Mizpah turned to face Johanan 15 Ishmael escaped with eight men to the Ammonites.

§ 21760 FLIGHT TO EGYPT

16 Johanan, heir of Kareah, and his army commanders took the remaining people from Mizpah after Ishmael, heir of Nethaniah, killed Gedaliah, heir of Ahikam. They recovered court officials, women, children, and soldiers from Gibeon.
17 They halted at Geruth Kimham near Bethlehem on their way to Egypt, evading the Chaldeans due to fear of Ishmael.

18 Ishmael killed Gedaliah, a governor appointed by the Babylonian Prime Ruler.

42 All the army commanders, including Johanan and Jezaniah, came forward with everyone from the lowest to the highest rank.
2 Jeremiah, the eternally wise servant, declared, “May our petition come before you, an intervention to the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, on behalf of this chosen people.
You see, there are few of us left.
3 Ask the Sovereign Captain to guide us on the path we should follow and instruct us on our actions.”

4 Jeremiah confirmed he heard their intervention and would convey it to their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, sharing every message without withholding anything.
5 They pledged to adhere to all that the Sovereign Captain communicates through Jeremiah.
6 “Regardless of how wonderful or awful it may be, we shall heed the voice of the Sovereign Captain, our Eternal Reality, so everything works out nicely for us.”

7 After ten days, Jeremiah called for Johanan and all the leaders and individuals.
8 He conveyed the Sovereign Captain’s message:

9-10 ‘If you reside in this region, I will strengthen and establish you. Do not fear the Prime Ruler of Babylon; I will protect and liberate you.
11-12 I’ll display kindness towards you; he will treat you mercifully and allow you to return to your homeland.
13-14 However, if you declare, “We will go to Egypt,” where you think you will avoid war and hunger,
15-16 then hear the word of the Sovereign Captain: “If you go to Egypt, you will die from the tactical blade and famine you dread.”
17 everyone who moves to Egypt will perish from plague, starvation, or tactical blade.
18 My anger will be poured out on you if you go to Egypt. You’ll be targets of fear and curses and won’t return here. ’”

19 “O remaining survivors of Judah,” the Sovereign Captain has told you not to proceed to Egypt.
Be confident about this warning.
20 You have fooled yourselves by sending me to your Preeminent Sovereign, claiming obedience to all instructions given by our Eternal Reality.
21 Despite my warnings, you have disregarded the voice of your Preeminent Sovereign.
22 Rest assured, you’ll perish due to warfare, starvation, and disease in Egypt.”

43 After Jeremiah delivered all that the Sovereign Captain had given him to say,
2-3 Johanan and others accused him of lying and claimed Baruch manipulated him.
4 They defied Eternal Reality’s directive to stay in Judah.
5 Johanan and all military leaders directed the entire surviving group of Judah to a different location.

6 They forcibly relocated those under Gedaliah’s supervision, including Jeremiah and Baruch.

7 In defiance of the Sovereign Captain’s directives, they ventured into Egypt, reaching Tahpanhes.
8 Jeremiah received a message from the Sovereign Captain while in Tahpanhes.
9-10 He conveyed that Nebuchadnezzar would establish his command over concealed stones in Egypt and spread his governance tent atop them.

11 He will strike Egypt and inflict fatality on those meant for death and captivity on those meant for ensnarement.
12 He will ignite a blaze in Egypt's shrines and seize their idolized deities. He will thoroughly cleanse Egypt before departing.
13 He will eradicate exalted obelisks in Egypt's temple of the sun and incinerate their sanctuaries. '"

§ 21770 DISASTER BECAUSE OF THE WORSHIP OF IDOLIZED DEITIES

44 A message was relayed to Jeremiah for all the Israelites residing in the southern region of Egypt—in Migdol, Tahpanhes, Memphis, and the northern part of Egypt.
2 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, proclaims: "You have witnessed the immense catastrophe I inflicted on Yerushalayim and all the settlements of Judah. Presently, they are abandoned and in a state of decay."

3 "Their evil actions ignited My wrath by offering incense and paying homage to unknown idolized deities unfamiliar to them, you, and your forefathers.
4 I persistently dispatched my eternally wise servants, imploring, 'Cease this repugnant action I deeply despise!'

5 They neither heeded nor took notice. They refrained not from their evil acts nor ceased offering absolving payments to counterfeit idolized deities.
6 Consequently, my furious wrath was unleashed, and it burned intensely within Judah's urban dwellings and the Yerushalayim pathways, decimating them into the barren wastelands witnessed today."

7 "Now, this is what the Sovereign Captain of Celestial Forces, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, asks: Why are you inflicting such a significant catastrophe on yourselves by eliminating men, women, infants, and children from Judah, consequently leaving yourselves without any survivors?
8 Why incite my wrath through your crafted idolized deities, offering absolving payments to foreign idolized deities in Egypt, where you have chosen to reside? You are heading towards self-destruction and will inevitably become a symbol of disgrace and a subject of scorn among all the world's nations."

9 "Have you disregarded the fullness of unworthy choices and actions of your forefathers, the rulers, and their spouses of Judah, along with the foul deeds you and your wives committed within Judah's territory and Yerushalayim's avenues?
10 Until now, they have not exhibited contrition, or respect nor sought My path and the directives I presented to you and your forefathers.
11 So, the Sovereign Captain of all, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, has resolved to inflict a catastrophe on you with the intent to obliterate the entirety of Judah.
12 I will remove those remaining from Judah who have resolved to venture into Egypt for habitation. They will all meet their end in Egypt. They will succumb to the tactical blade or perish through starvation. From the most insignificant to the most significant, they will meet their end either by tactical blade or through famine. Hey, it will transform into a jinx, a cause of terror, a curse, and a subject of disgrace."

13 “Those residing in Egypt will be disciplined with war, starvation, and disease, similar to how Yerushalayim was chastised.

14 No surviving members of Judah who have relocated to Egypt will manage to evade or endure to return to Judah, the place they dearly wish to return and settle; exclusively, a select handful will make it back.”

15 All the males, acknowledging that their spouses offered absolving payments to diverse idolized deities, with the women in attendance forming a significant gathering and the entire populace residing in Northern and Southern Egypt, communicated to Jeremiah.
16 “We refuse to heed what you’ve said to us under the guise of the Sovereign Captain’s message.
17 We will fulfill everything we pledged: We will offer aromatic substances to the Extra-Terrestrial First Lady and present liquid tributes to her, precisely as we, our forefathers, rulers, and officials engaged in the communities of Judah and lanes of Yerushalayim. During that period, we were endowed with ample food and prosperity and encountered no adversity.
18 We have been left with nothing since we ceased offering the Extra-terrestrial First Lady perfumes and stopped giving her libations. We are succumbing to wars and starvation.”

19 The ladies explained that while creating fragrant offerings for the Extra-Terrestrial First Lady and delivering libations to her, were our spouses unaware that we were baking pastries bearing her likeness and offering her libations?
20 Jeremiah then addressed the crowd, encompassing both genders, who responded to him.
21 “Wasn’t it remembered by the Sovereign Captain, the incense you, your forefathers, your leaders, and the land masses burned in the cities of Judah and the streets of Yerushalayim?
22 The land turned into a desolate waste and a curse, devoid of dwellers, due to the Sovereign Captain’s inability to tolerate your nefarious actions and the repulsive acts you perpetrated, mirroring its current status.”

23 “As you can observe now, this catastrophe has descended on you due to your transgressions against the Sovereign Captain, disobedience to His directives, and failure to abide by His Law, decrees, and stipulations, all the while burning incense.”

24 Jeremiah then addressed all the individuals, including the females, imploring them to listen to the message from the Preeminent Sovereign from the Sovereign Captain aimed at all the Judaic residents in Egypt.
25 The Sovereign Captain of all, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel proclaims: “You and your wives have acted according to your declaration, ‘We will undeniably fulfill our promises to make absolving payments and pour out libations to the Extra-Terrestrial First Lady. ’ Proceed then, and do as you committed! Honor your promises!
26 Yet heed the message from the Sovereign Captain, all you Israelites residing in Egypt: ‘I solemnly declare in my mighty name, ’ states the Sovereign Captain, ‘that none of the Judeans dwellers in any part of Egypt will ever again call on my name or make an oath saying, As honestly as the Eternal Reality exists. ’”

27 “I am keeping an eye on them to ensure their destruction, not their prosperity; the tactical blade or starvation will eradicate the Israelites residing in Egypt until none remain.
28 A few will survive the battle and return from Egypt to the land of Judah. Then, the entire group of Judeans who chose to settle in Egypt will recognize whose proclamation prevails—mine or theirs.

29 This is the evidence for you that I will administer punishment in this location," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "enabling you to comprehend that my warnings of disaster against you will definitively materialize."

30 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "I am set to surrender Pharaoh Hophra, the Prime Ruler of Egypt, to his adversaries who are seeking his life in the same manner that I handed over Zedekiah, the Prime Ruler of Judah, to Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, who was his foe and was aiming for his life."

§ 21780 A MESSAGE TO BARUCH

45 In the fourth year of Jehoiakim's reign, the male heir of Josiah, Prime Ruler of Judah, Jeremiah, the eternally wise servant, dictated words to Baruch, the male heir of Neriah, who inscribed them on a scroll. Jeremiah then addressed Baruch directly.

2 "Baruch, the Sovereign Captain of the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, has a message for you.
3 You lamented, 'It's too much! the Sovereign Captain has compounded my anguish with grief; I am drained from ceaseless groaning and can't seem to find any respite. '
4 The message from the Sovereign Captain to me is, 'the Sovereign Captain proclaims: everything I've established, I'm set to demolish, and what I've grown, I aim to eradicate throughout the globe.
5 Are you desiring remarkable accomplishments for you? Don't pursue them. Because I'm set to inflict distress on all humankind, ' says the Sovereign Captain, 'but I promise to spare your life and protect you, no matter where you wander. '"

§ 21790 A MESSAGE ABOUT EGYPT

46 The Sovereign Captain told the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah, about various nations.
2 Concerning Egypt: Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, defeated Pharaoh Necho, Prime Ruler of Egypt, at Carchemish near the Euphrates River during the fourth year of the reign of Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, Prime Ruler of Judah.
3 "Deploy small and large ballistic shields; advance for assault!
4 Prepare tactical personnel transports; take charge of strike vehicles! Assume battle stances with helmets on! Ready your tactical blades and don ballistic body armor!

5 What do I see? They are terrified, fleeing in panic; their soldiers are crushed. "the Sovereign Captain declares, 'Driven by fear, they swiftly escape without looking back. '"
6 "Even the fastest runners can't escape, and the strongest warriors can't elude. Up North, by the Euphrates River, they trip and fall.
7 Who is this rising like the Nile, like turbulent waters?"
8 Egypt rises like a flooding Nile, like rivers with turbulent waters. It proclaims, 'I will rise and cover the land; I will destroy cities and their inhabitants. '
9 Tactical personnel transports, advance! Strike vehicles and drive with fury! Soldiers, proceed, you shield-bearers from Put and Cush and snipers from Lydia, march forward.
10 Indeed, that day is reserved for the Sovereign Captain, the Eternal Reality Preeminent Sovereign—a day of retribution to settle scores with his adversaries. The tactical blade will consume until it is content and sated with blood. For the Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign will arrange an absolving payment in the northern land by the Euphrates River.

11 Go to Gilead and get healing ointment, you innocent descendant of Egypt. Despite trying many treatments, it is futile; there is no cure for your condition.
12 Your disgrace will be known worldwide; your cries will echo across the globe. One soldier will trip over another; together, they will fall.
13 This disclosure is what the Eternal Reality gave to the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah, regarding Nebuchadnezzar, Prime Ruler of Babylon's impending assault on Egypt.
14 Broadcast this in Egypt, make it heard in Migdol; ensure it's known in Memphis and Tahpanhes: 'Take up your battle positions and brace yourselves because the tactical blade brings destruction to those nearby. '
15 Why have your soldiers fallen? They can't stand because the Sovereign Captain has struck them down.
16 They will frequently trip and tumble over each other, saying, 'Arise, let's return to our people and the land of our birth far from the destructive tactical blade of the assailant. '

17 They will declare, 'Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt, is merely a commotion; he has missed his moment of action. '
18 The Prime Ruler, known as the Almighty Sovereign Captain, solemnly affirms that someone comparable to Tabor's prominence among the mountains and Carmel in its coastal majesty will emerge as long as he lives.
19 Gather your belongings for your impending departure, inhabitants of Egypt, as Memphis will be desolate and uninhabited, reduced to rubble.
20 Egypt resembles an attractive cow. Nevertheless, a biting fly from the North is approaching her.
21 The hired soldiers in her midst are like well-fed calves. They, too, will retreat and escape together; they won't hold their positions because their day of ruin is imminent—the time for their chastisement.
22 As her foes press on with might, Egypt will sound like a retreating snake; they will confront her with axes like loggers felling trees.
23 The Sovereign Captain declares that her forest, despite its density, will be destroyed. They outnumber locusts and are beyond measure.
24 Egypt will be humiliated and handed over to northerners.
25 The Sovereign Captain of all, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, declares: "I'm preparing to punish Amon, the idolized deity of Thebes, Pharaoh, Egypt with her idolized deities and Prime Rulers, and those who trust in Pharaoh.
26 I will hand them over to those who seek their lives—Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and his commanders. Yet Egypt will be populated in the future as it was in ancient days," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
27 "Fear not, Jacob, you who serve; do not lose your inner-self, Israel. I will rescue you from remote regions and your offspring from captivity. Jacob will once more enjoy serenity and protection with no one causing him fear.
28 Fear not, Jacob, my servant," says the Sovereign Captain, "for I am by your side. Even if I obliterate all nations where I have dispersed you, I won't annihilate you. I will reprimand you but only to the proper extent; I will not let you escape without some punishment."

§ 21800 A MESSAGE ABOUT THE PHILISTINE WARRIORS

47 This message is from the Sovereign Captain, delivered to Jeremiah, the visionary, about the Philistine Warriors before Pharaoh assaulted Gaza.
2 The Sovereign Captain declares, “Pay heed: waters are surging from the North, becoming an overwhelming flood. The deluge will engulf the land and all within it, including the cities and their inhabitants. People will voice their distress; every occupant of the land will express their sorrow.”
3 “There’s the sound of enemy strike vehicles clattering, wheels rumbling, and the thunderous tracks of charging strike vehicles. Parents do not aid their offspring due to the feebleness of their hands.”
4 “The time is approaching to destroy all the Philistine Warriors and eliminate every remaining helper for Tyre and Sidon. the Sovereign Captain is set to eradicate the Philistine Warriors, those survivors from the coastal area of Caphtor.”
5 “The city of Gaza will become bald in sorrow; silence will envelop Ashkelon. You, remnants of the plain, when will you stop harming yourselves?”
6 “O, blade of the Eternal Reality, when will you find solace? Return to your holder; halt and maintain your silence.”
7 “How could it find tranquility when the Sovereign Captain issued a directive instructing it to confront Ashkelon and the seashore?”

§ 21810 A MESSAGE ABOUT MOAB

48 The Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, declares: “Misfortune awaits Nebo; it will be destroyed. The fortress will collapse, and Kiriathaim will be seized and humiliated.
2 Moab’s praise has ended; Heshbon’s people plot her downfall: ‘Let’s annihilate this nation. ’ Madmen’s citizens will be silenced; the tactical blade is at your heels.
3 Distressed wails from Horonaim signal severe devastation and destruction.”

4 Moab will be shattered; her young ones will voice their distress.
5 Ascending Luhith, they weep incessantly; descending to Horonaim, cries echo the devastation.
6 “Escape! Save your lives; survive like a wild ass in the desert.
7 Because you relied on your actions and wealth, you too will be seized, and Chemosh will be exiled with its clergy and leaders.
8 The annihilator will strike every town, leaving none untouched. “the Sovereign Captain declares, ‘Driven by fear, they swiftly escape without looking back. ’”
9 Sprinkle salt over Moab; it will be destroyed; her cities will become a dry desert with no inhabitants.
10 Misfortune falls on those who neglect the Sovereign Captain’s duties. Trouble awaits anyone who is careless in carrying out the Eternal Reality’s mission! Trouble awaits anyone who avoids using the truth to confront wrongdoing!
11 “Moab has remained serene since its early days, like wine undisturbed on its sediment, never transferred—never exiled. Consequently, its flavor persists, and its fragrance is unfaltering.

12 However, the time is approaching," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "when I will dispatch those who decant wine, causing her to overflow; they will exhaust her containers and shatter her pots.
13 Moab will be humiliated due to Chemosh, just as Israel felt disgraced for trusting in Bethel.
14 "How can you proclaim, 'We are heroes, mighty in warfare. ' 15 Moab is set for demolition. Its settlements will be infringed on; the most promising youths will be slain," announces the Preeminent Sovereign, Yahweh of hosts.
16 "Moab's disaster is looming; its downfall approaches rapidly.
17 All who dwell nearby and know her reputation should lament; express, 'The mighty rod of power is shattered, the splendid staff is no more!'

18 "O daughter of Dibon, come down from your pride and sit on dry ground, for Moab's murderer has risen against you and destroyed your strongholds.
19 You who reside in Aroer, stay vigilant beside the roadway. Question the man on the run and the woman making her getaway: 'What transpired?'
20 Moab is humiliated and reduced to rubble. Lament and express your sorrow. Declare alongside Arnon that Moab is desolated.
21 "The high plain, including Holon, Jahzah, and Mephaath, faces retribution.
22 Towards Dibon, Nebo, and Beth Diblathaim.
23 Toward Kiriathaim, Beth Gamul, and Beth Meon.
24 Towards Kerioth and Bozrah, extending to all settlements of Moab, distant and adjacent.
25 Moab's strength is crushed, her power broken," announces the Sovereign Captain.
26 "Get her drunk, as she has rebelled against the Sovereign Captain. Allow Moab to roll in her own regurgitated matter; let her become a mockery.
27 Didn't you mock Israel? Was she found among robbers that you exhibit disdain each time you mention her?
28 You, inhabitants of Moab, desert your cities and take shelter among cliff faces. Be like a dove that constructs its home at a cavern's entrance.
29 "We know Moab's arrogance—her vanity is well-known! Her disdain, conceit, self-importance, and inflated opinion of her inner-self.
30 The Sovereign Captain perceives her arrogance, yet it is fruitless; her vain bragging yields no results.
31 Consequently, I lament for Moab; I express sorrow for all of Moab and grieve for Kir Hareseth's inhabitants.
32 "Your loss equals Jazer's, O vineyards of Sibmah. Your influence stretched to the ocean, reaching even Jazer. Now, the devastator has laid waste to your mature fruits and vineyards.

33 The orchards and fields of Moab have been stripped of delight and gladness. I have halted the stream of wine from the presses; no one stomps on them with cries of happiness. Even though there are cries, they are not cries of happiness.
34 "The screams from Heshbon extend to Elealeh and Jahaz and travel from Zoar to Horonaim and Eglath Shelishiyah; even Nimrim's waters have become a desolate waste.
35 In Moab, there will be an end to those who offer scorched absolving payments at places of worship and those who present incense to their idolized deities," affirms the Sovereign Captain.
36 "Accordingly, my inner-self mourns for Moab like a sorrowful flute's melody; it echoes the same melancholy for Kir Hareseth's inhabitants. The affluence they once amassed has disappeared.
37 All scalps are bereft of hair; every beard trimmed down; on each hand are gashes, and every midriff is clad in mourning clothes.
38 Sorrow is heard everywhere in Moab, from every rooftop to every public gathering spot. As the Sovereign Captain proclaims, Moab has been shattered like an unwanted jar.

39 “See how smashed she is. Listen to their cries. Observe how Moab flees in disgrace. Moab has become a joke, a terrifying sight to all her neighbors.”
40 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Pay heed! An eagle descends rapidly, extending its feathers across Moab.
41 Kerioth is slated for seizure; fortresses will be overcome. On that day, Moab’s courageous men’s inner-selves will resemble those of a woman in childbirth.
42 Since it opposed the Sovereign Captain, Moab shall no longer exist as a nation.
43 “Dread, pit, and trapping net await you, citizens of Moab,” proclaims Yahweh.
44 “Anyone running from dread will tumble into a pit; anyone ascending from the pit will be trapped in a snare, for I am ushering in the year of retribution against Moab,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
45 “In Heshbon’s shelter, refugees stand powerless as a flame erupts from Heshbon, fire from Sihon’s midst; it scorches Moab’s brows and loud braggarts’ scalps.”

46 “Misfortune falls on you, Moab! Chemosh’s adherents face ruin; your offspring are exiled, your daughters forced into captivity.”
47 The Sovereign Captain proclaims He will reverse Moab’s misfortunes in the future. This proclamation concludes the judgment on Moab.

§ 21820 A MESSAGE ABOUT AMMON

49 The Sovereign Captain questions the Ammonites: “Doesn’t Israel have offspring? Doesn’t Israel have an heir? Why then has Molek taken Gad’s land, and why do his adherents live in its cities?”
2 The Sovereign Captain envisions a time when battle alarms will sound against Rabbah of the Ammonites, turning it into ruins, and nearby settlements will burn. Israel will reclaim its land from those who ousted her, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
3 “Lament, Heshbon, for Ai is destroyed! Weep, inhabitants of Rabbah! Wear somber clothing and mourn; rush within the fortifications, for Molek will be captured along with his clergy and leaders.”
4 “Why do you boast of your fertile valleys, trusting their abundance, rebellious Ammonites, arrogantly asking, ‘Who would dare confront me?’”
5 “Dread will surround you,” asserts the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. “Each of you will flee, with no one to gather the escapees.”
6 However, in time, I will restore prosperity to the people of Ammon, affirms the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21830 A MESSAGE ABOUT EDOM

7 Regarding Edom, the Commander Chief of Celestial Forces Sovereign Captain posits: “Has intelligence in Teman ceased to exist? Is advice no longer obtained from the wise? Has their discernment deteriorated?

8 Shift your position, take refuge in cavernous depths, you inhabitants of Dedan, as I am about to deliver calamity on Esau during his period of punishment.
9 Should rooftop garden laborers approach you, wouldn’t they leave behind some grapes? If burglars invaded during nighttime, wouldn’t they exclusively take what they needed?

10 I will lay Esau bare; his secret locations will be exposed, making it impossible for him to hide. His armed forces will be decimated, including his allies and neighbors, leaving no one to narrate.
11 Forsake your children without parents; I will ensure their survival. Your bereaved wives can also rely on me.
12 As per the words of the Sovereign Captain: If those undeserving of wrath are compelled to taste it, would you trust yourself to be exempt? You are not exempt. Indeed, you must surely savor it.
13 I, the Sovereign Captain, pledge with my name that Bozrah will transform into rubble and a symbol of curse, a vision of terror and scorn; all its surrounding cities will remain ruins indefinitely.
14 A dispatch from the Sovereign Captain has reached me; a herald has been dispatched to the nations, proclaiming, ‘Mobilize for an offensive! Prepare for conflict!’
15 I am about to reduce you to insignificance among the nations scorned by all humanity.
16 Your ability to spread fear and the arrogance within your inner-self has misled you, those residing among the crevices of the cliffs and dominating the mountaintops. Despite constructing your dwelling as elevated as the eagle’s abode, I will plummet you down from such height,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
17 “Edom is destined to become a sight of terror. everyone who travels past it will be horrified and mocked due to its extensive damage.
18 The Sovereign Captain says that just as Sodom, Gomorrah, and their surrounding cities were destroyed, neither a person nor a community will live there.

19 Like a lion emerging from the dense undergrowth of the Jordan on a lush grazing field, I will instantly drive Edom out of its territory. Who is the selected individual I will designate for this task? Who equals me, and who can dispute me? And which sheep-herder has the strength to oppose me?
20 Consequently, heed the scheme that the Sovereign Captain has contrived against Edom, his intentions for the residents of Teman: their youth will be forcefully taken away; desolation will seize their grazing grounds due to their destiny.
21 Their downfall will cause the ground to shake; their shrieks will echo up to the Red Sea.
22 Observe! Like a soaring vulture, one will descend rapidly, extending its wings over the city of Bozrah. Childbirth pains will grip the inner-selves of Edom’s fiercest fighters on that day, resembling those of a woman.”

§ 21840 A MESSAGE ABOUT DAMASCUS

23 Troubling news distresses Hamath and Arpad, making them feel fainthearted and agitated, like a restless sea.
24 Damascus has lost its strength, seeking escape but trapped by fear; distress and suffering overwhelm her like childbirth agony.
25 “Why hasn’t the famous city, the town that fills me with delight, been deserted?”
26 Her young men will perish in the city squares, and all her warriors will be silenced on that day, proclaims the Sovereign Captain of the celestial realm’s armies.
27 “I will kindle a flame within Damascus’ barriers, devouring Ben-Hadad’s strongholds.”

§ 21850 A MESSAGE ABOUT KEDAR AND HAZOR

28 Regarding Kedar and Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian Prime Ruler, attacked: The Sovereign Captain directs: “Rise, engage Kedar, and destroy the inhabitants of the East.”
29 Their encampments and herds will be seized, and their dwellings, possessions, and dromedaries will be taken. People will declare, “Dread surrounds them.”
30 Hurry and escape! Seek refuge in the depths, residents of Hazor, the Sovereign Captain proclaims. Nebuchadnezzar has devised a plan against you.
31 “Rise and attack a complacent nation, living securely,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, “a country without gates or bars; its citizens live far from danger.”
32 Their special operations forces will be looted, and their abundant inventories will be war prizes. the Sovereign Captain states, “I will scatter those in remote areas and bring catastrophe upon them from every direction.”
33 Hazor will become a home for wild dogs, an everlasting waste. No one will inhabit it; no individual will reside there.

§ 21860 A MESSAGE ABOUT ELAM

34 The disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign given to the eternally wise servant, Jeremiah, concerning Elam at the outset of Prime Ruler Zedekiah’s rule in Judah:
35 The declaration of the Almighty Sovereign Captain is: “Pay Heed: I am set to shatter Elam’s projectile launcher, the backbone of their power.
36 I will let loose on Elam the four winds from every corner of the sky; I will disperse them in all directions, and there won’t be a single nation where the displaced people of Elam will not arrive.
37 Elam will be terrified in the presence of their enemies, those who seek their lives; I will bring severe troubles on them, expressing my intense wrath,” affirms the Sovereign Captain: “I will chase them with the tactical blade until they are eradicated.
38 The Sovereign Captain declares that His realm will be established in Elam, and its ruler and authorities will be annihilated.

39 However, in the future, I will return prosperity to Elam,” announces the Sovereign Captain.

§ 21870 A MESSAGE ABOUT BABYLON

50 The Preeminent Sovereign, through the Sovereign Captain and Jeremiah, delivers this message targeting Babylon and its inhabitants.
2 Announce it to the nations, raise a signal, and declare, “Babylon will be seized; Bel humiliated, Marduk terrified. Her artifacts shamed, and her counterfeit idolized deities in dread.”
3 An assault from the North will devastate her land, leaving it uninhabited.
4 In those days, declares the Sovereign Captain, Israel and Judah will unite in sorrow, seeking their Preeminent Sovereign with tears.
5 They will ask for the path to the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign and unite with the Sovereign Captain through a perpetual agreement.
6 My community became wandering sheep; their leaders misguided them, leading them astray.

7 All who encountered them consumed them, claiming no blame as they transgressed against the Sovereign Captain, their fortress of integrity.
8 Escape from Babylonia; depart from the Chaldeans and be like rams leading the herd.
9 I will lead a consortium of mighty nations from the North against Babylon. They will capture her from the North, their projectiles like proficient soldiers.
10 Babylon will be laid to waste; all her despoilers will be satisfied, proclaims the Sovereign
Captain.
11 You will face profound humiliation Because of your delight and triumph in plundering my heritage.
12 Your mother will be burdened with disgrace, becoming insignificant among nations, a desolate wilderness.

13 Due to the Sovereign Captain's wrath, she will be uninhabited and desolated. All who pass by will mock her injuries.
14 All snipers, position yourselves around Babylon and unleash every projectile as she has committed unworthy choices against the Sovereign Captain.
15 Yell against her from all sides! Her defense structures collapse; her barriers are destroyed.
Reciprocate as she has meted out to others.
16 Expel the seed planter and the one swinging the sickle at harvest time. Each person should seek refuge among their people and retreat to their ancestral lands.
17 Predatory lions disperse Israel, which resembles a protected community. Initially preyed on by Assyria, Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon shattered it.
18 the Almighty Sovereign Captain proclaims: Just as I imposed retribution on Assyria, I will now set it on Babylon and his realm.
19 I will return Israel to their native agricultural production centers; they will feed on fertile terrains and be satiated in mountainous regions.
20 During these days, declares the Sovereign Captain, a search for Israel's misdeeds will find none, and Judah's transgressions will not be discovered because I will absolve the survivors I save.
21 Charge against Merathaim and Pekod. Hunt, eliminate, and obliterate them, proclaims the Sovereign Captain. Carry out all my instructions.
22 The sounds of war and immense ruin can be heard throughout the territory.
23 Observe how the tool that impacted all nations is now fragmented! Witness Babylon's solitude!
24 I laid a trap for you, and you were ensnared due to your defiance against the Sovereign
Captain.
25 The Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain has unleashed His tools of fury for a mission in Babylon.
26 Attack her from distant places. Open her granaries; accumulate her like mounds of grain.
Annihilate her, leaving no survivors.

27 Annihilate all her youthful bulls and lead them to their execution. Misfortune awaits them as their day of retribution is imminent.
28 Hear those escaping Babylon announce in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign the retribution of our Sovereign Captain.
29 Call forth snipers against Babylon, those with projectile launchers. Set up camp around it and allow none to escape. Give back to her in response to her actions because she has shown arrogance towards the Sovereign Captain.
30 Her youthful men shall perish in city squares; all her warriors will be silenced on that day, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

31 I am against you, you presumptuous entity, declares the Sovereign Captain, for your moment of reckoning has arrived.
32 The haughty entity shall crash without aid for recovery. I'll ignite a blaze in her settlements, engulfing all in its vicinity.
33 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: Israel and Judah are mistreated; their captors refuse to release them.
34 Their liberator is potent. the Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies is His designation. He will champion their case to bring tranquility but stir up turmoil for Babylon's inhabitants.
35 The Sovereign Captain proclaims that the Babylonians are threatened by destruction.
36 The tactical blade will strike her deceitful diviners, making them fools, and paralyze her mighty men with fear.
37 Destructive forces will target her tactical personnel transports, strike vehicles, and foreign troops within her, causing fear and confiscation of wealth.
38 A period of no rainfall will strike her waters due to idolized deities overwhelmed with fear.
39 Wild desert animals and hyenas will inhabit it; owls will settle there forever unoccupied through ages.
40 Just as Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, were obliterated, so shall that place be devoid of life, proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

41 Observe! A powerful force approached from the North; numerous Prime Rulers mobilized from afar.
42 Equipped with projectile launchers and tactical bayonets, they show no mercy, advancing like warriors poised for battle against you, O Daughter of Babylon.
43 The news distresses the Prime Ruler of Babylon, suffering like a woman's childbirth that overwhelms her, causing the Ruler to lose strength.
44 Resembling a lion emerging from dense undergrowth to a lush agricultural production center, I will abruptly drive Babylon from its territory. Who can compare to me or dare oppose me?
Which sheep keeper can withstand me?
45 Listen to what the Sovereign Captain has planned against Babylon and its inhabitants: The young ones will be taken away; their grazing areas will be shocked at their fate.
46 The Earth will tremble at the news of Babylon's fall. The sound of its outcry will echo globally.

51 The Eternal Reality proclaims: "Look, I'm about to arouse a demolishing Celestial Envoy against Babylon and the inhabitants of Leb Kamai.
2 I'll dispatch outsiders to scatter her and lay waste to her territory; they'll attack from all directions when calamity strikes.
3 Don't let the bowman prepare his projectile launcher or dress in battle gear. Show no mercy to her young soldiers; annihilate her forces.
4 In Babylon, bodies will be strewn across the streets, succumbing to fatal injuries.
5 Even though their territory is brimming with crime against the exalted One of Israel, neither Israel nor Judah has been abandoned by their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
6 Escape from Babylon! Save your lives. Don't be eradicated due to her wrongdoings. The time for the Sovereign Captain's retribution has arrived. He will administer her fitting punishment.

7 Babylon functioned as a golden chalice in the grasp of the Sovereign Captain, resulting in the intoxication of the entire globe. The nations consumed her wine, leading them to madness.
8 Babylon is unexpectedly shattered and destroyed—a lament for her. Bring medicine for her discomfort. Maybe she can recover."

9 “Even though we tried to help Babylon, she was beyond saving; we should abandon her and retreat to our native lands, as her punishment extends to the celestial realms and ascends as high as celestial bodies.”
10 The Sovereign Captain has justified our cause; come, let’s proclaim the deeds of our Preeminent Sovereign in the hub of David.
11 Polish the projectiles and prepare the ballistic shields! the Sovereign Captain has incited the Prime Rulers of Medes to eradicate Babylon. the Sovereign Captain will seek retribution for His fortress.
12 Hoist a signal flag on Babylon’s fortifications! Strengthen the defenses, post lookouts, and set up a surprise attack! the Sovereign Captain will fulfill his plan and pronounce it against the residents of Babylon.
13 You who reside by the mighty waters, possessing immense wealth, your termination is imminent; it’s the period for your destruction.
14 The Sovereign Captain of all has pledged on His identity: He will inundate you with soldiers resembling a horde of locusts, and they will celebrate their victory over you.
15 He crafted the Earth leveraging his might, structured the world with his wisdom, and extended the cosmos using his insight.
16 On his thunderous proclamation, the celestial waters bellow; he summons the clouds to ascend from the Earth’s extremities. He coordinates the lightning with the rain and unleashes the wind from his vaults.
17 Every individual lacks understanding and knowledge; the idolatrous artifacts disgrace each artisan who works with gold. The figures they craft are deceptive; they lack any life or energy.
18 They hold no value, subject to ridicule; they are destined to be destroyed in the face of impending judgment.

19 The one who is regarded as Jacob’s share is not comparable to these, for he is the Innovator of everything, including the community he considers his inheritance—the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces is his name.
20 “You serve as my instrument of shattering, my tool for conflict—with your aid, I pulverize nations—with your help, I lay waste to realms.
21 I use you to crush the assault force, main strike vehicle, and driver.
22 I employ you to demolish both males and females; I use you to discourage older people and the youth; I utilize you to pulverize young men and young women.
23 I utilize you to dismantle sheep keepers and their flocks. I utilize you to fracture farmers and their oxen. I use you to demolish rulers and high-ranking officials.” 24 The Sovereign Captain promises to pay for all the wrongdoings committed by Babylon and its people in the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress. This repayment will transpire before your own eyes.
25 “You, the destructive mountain who devastates the entire world,” the Sovereign Captain declares His opposition against you. “He will exert His power against you, topple you from the precipices, and transform you into an extinguished peak.
26 No stone shall be extracted from you to serve as a cornerstone or a base, for you will remain in ruins for all eternity,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
27 Elevate a flag across the territory! Sound the call among the nations! Rally the nations for warfare against her; gather these nations: Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz. Designate a leader to confront her; bring forth assault forces like many locusts.
28 Get the nations equipped for warfare against her—the Medes’ governance, their administrators, high-ranking officers, and all the territories under their jurisdiction.
29 The Earth shudders and is in agony as the Sovereign Captain’s intentions against Babylon persist—to turn the land of Babylon into a desolate waste wherein nobody will reside.

30 The fighters of Babylon have ceased their battles and stayed in their fortresses. Their potency is drained; they've turned into the frail. Her residences are aflame; her gate barriers have been shattered.
31 One messenger comes after another, and herald trails herald to inform the Babylonian Prime Ruler that his whole city has been seized.
32 The enemy captured the fords, set the swamplands on fire, and fear consumed the troops.
33 The Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, proclaims that the systems of Babylon are like projects in their final stages. Soon, the moment of their outcome will arrive, and their results will be clear for all to see.
34 "Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, has consumed us, left us in disarray, and turned us into an empty vessel. Much like a monster, he ingested us, filled his belly with our finest foods, and eventually cast us aside."
35 Let the harm inflicted on us befall Babylon, as the residents of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign declare. Let our spilled blood be the burden of those residing in Babylonia," Yerushalayim proclaims.
36 So declares the Sovereign Captain: "Witness, I will stand up for your case and exact retribution on your behalf; I commit to reducing her sea to nothing and draining her springs.
37 Babylon will transform into a pile of rubble, a dwelling place for wild dogs, a sight of dread and scorn, a location devoid of inhabitants.
38 All its inhabitants bellow like robust lions and emit sounds like lion whelps."
39 "While they are agitated, I will organize a banquet and intoxicate them, leading them to cackle with glee. "the Sovereign Captain proclaimed that they will enter an eternal slumber, never to awaken."
40 "I'll lead them away to their demise like sheep, lambs, and goats being steered to their execution."
41 Observe how Sheshak will be defeated, the pride of the entire world taken captive! Imagine witnessing Babylon's desolation among different nations!
42 Babylon will be submerged as the sea surges; its tumultuous billows will engulf her.

43 The towns will become horrifying, like an arid desert, an uninhabited region where no inner-self ventures through.
44 Bel in Babylon will be penalized and compelled to disgorge what he ingested. Countries will cease to flow towards him, and Babylon's barrier will crumble."
45 "Flee from her, my people! Save yourselves! Escape from the Sovereign Captain's intense wrath."
46 Don't let your courage waver or get frightened by reports circulating in the nation; this year brings a specific report, and next year, another talks of conflicts and rulers battling each other.
47 "Indeed, the day is approaching when I will deal with counterfeit idolized deities of Babylon; her entire territory will suffer shame, and all her casualties will fall on her soil."
48 As the Sovereign Captain states, "Ravagers from the North will descend on Babylon, and the cosmos and all its inhabitants will rejoice over her fate."
49 Babylon is destined to collapse owing to its massacre of Israel, just as fatalities worldwide have occurred due to Babylon.
50 Those who have survived the battle, don't delay your departure! Commemorate the Sovereign Captain in far-off territories and hold Yerushalayim in your recollection.
51 "We are humiliated having endured insults and our countenance masked in disgrace as outsiders have trespassed into exalted areas of the fortress of Sovereign Captain."
52 The time is approaching," says Sovereign Captain, "when I will deal with counterfeit deities, and moans of injured can be heard all over the territory."
53 "Even if Babylon reaches the sky and strengthens towering defenses, I will usher in downfall by sending devastators," proclaims Sovereign Captain.

[54] Listen to anguish-filled lament from Babylon and extensive devastation of Babylonians' territory.
[55] The Sovereign Captain is set to devastate Babylon ending loud clamor. Her foes will surge like potent waters, and their commotion will reverberate.

[56] The army will destroy Babylon; her warriors have been captured, and their weapons have been broken. Being Preeminent Sovereign who punishes evil, "the Sovereign Captain will give them full punishment they deserve."
[57] "Her leaders, sages, governors officials, and warriors will be intoxicated. They will plunge into perpetual slumber, never to awaken," says Sovereign, "the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces."
[58] The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: "Fire will consume the high gates of Babylon, and her thick walls will be leveled." As a result, the people's labor will be in vain. The nations will sacrifice everything to fan the fires.

[59] Jeremiah, "the eternally wise servant," imparted this directive to Seraiah, "the male heir of Neriah and grandson of Mahseiah, a staff officer during his expedition to Babylon accompanying Zedekiah, the Prime Ruler of Judah, in the fourth year of his governance."

[60] Jeremiah penned in manuscript all "the calamities predicted to befall Babylon" —everything documented about Babylon. "
[61] Jeremiah told Seraiah that on his arrival in Babylon, "He must ensure that he recites all these words audibly."
[62] Proclaim, "'Captain, you have pronounced the destruction of this location, ensuring that neither humans nor creatures will inhabit it; it's destined to remain a desolate wasteland eternally. '"
[63] On reading this manuscript: "Fasten a rock to it and cast it into the midst of the Euphrates."
[64] Proclaim, "This is how Babylon will be submerged, never to ascend again due to the calamity I will inflict on her. Her inhabitants will collapse." Jeremiah's proclamations conclude with this.

§ 21880 THE FALL OF YERUSHALAYIM

52 Zedekiah ascended the authority base at age twenty-one and ruled over Yerushalayim for eleven years. Hamutal, a woman from Libnah and the daughter of Jeremiah, was his mother.
[2] He committed wrongdoings in the sight of the Sovereign Captain, similarly to Jehoiakim.
[3] All these events unfolded in Yerushalayim and Judah due to the fury of the Sovereign Captain, ultimately leading to their expulsion from His presence. Subsequently, Zedekiah initiated a rebellion against the Babylonian Prime Ruler.

[4] In Zedekiah's ninth year of ruling, in the tenth month on the tenth day, Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon advanced towards Yerushalayim with his entire force. They positioned their camp on the city's outskirts and constructed fortifications.
[5] The beleaguerment of the city persisted till the eleventh year of Prime Ruler Zedekiah's rule.
[6] The scarcity in the city escalated to such a degree by the ninth day of the fourth month that there was no sustenance left for the inhabitants.

[7] The city defenses were compromised, and the entire military force escaped. In the cover of nighttime, they departed the city through a passage between the two barriers near the governance garden despite the encirclement of Babylonians around the city. They took the route to the Arabah.

[8] The forces of Babylon relentlessly chased Prime Ruler Zedekiah, capturing him in the flatlands of Jericho. In this event, his military force was dispersed and scattered.
[9] He was apprehended and brought before the Prime Ruler of Babylon at Riblah, situated in Hamath, where a verdict was decreed on him.

[10] At Riblah, the Babylonian Prime Ruler executed Zedekiah's sons right in front of him and also put to death all the Judean leaders.

[11] Subsequently, Zedekiah's vision was taken away; he was restrained with bronze restraints and transported to Babylon, where he was incarcerated until his ultimate demise.

[12] Nebuzaradan, the commander of the governance guard who was an official of the Babylonian Prime Ruler, arrived in Yerushalayim on the tenth day of the fifth month during the nineteenth year of Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar's reign.
[13] He ignited the fortress of Yahweh, the Prime Ruler's residence, and the entire Yerushalayim's dwellings. Every significant structure was reduced to ashes.
[14] The guards' commander, leading the entire Chaldean forces, dismantled all the fortifications surrounding Yerushalayim.

[15] Then Nebuzaradan, guard commander, took the rest of the craftsmen, the city's deserters who had turned on the Prime Ruler of Babylon and some of the poorest residents into exile.
[16] However, Nebuzaradan left some of the most impoverished inhabitants of the region to cultivate the vineyards and farmlands.
[17] The Chaldeans dismantled the bronze columns, the wheeled stands, and the sea in the Sovereign Captain's fortress. They transported all these bronze items to Babylon.

[18] All the bronze utensils used in the fortress activations, including the pots, shovels, wick cutters, basins, and dishes, were also removed.
[19] The chief of the executioners confiscated the deep dishes, incense burners, washing pots, other pots, light fixtures, dishes for unique perfume, and the dishes for drink gifts, which were made of fine gold and fine silver.
[20] Prime Ruler Solomon crafted two columns, the sea, twelve bronze bovines beneath it, and the mobile bases for the Sovereign Captain's fortress using bronze in such a large volume that it surpassed the capacity to be weighed.

[21] Each column reached a height of 8.23 meters, had a circumference of 5.49 meters, was as thick as four fingers, and was hollow inside.
[22] The bronze crown adorning one pillar stood 225 centimeters tall, showcasing a lattice-like structure and bronze pomegranates encircling it. Its twin column, also decorated with pomegranates, mirrored its appearance.
[23] On the sides were ninety-six pomegranates, and the total count of pomegranates above the encompassing latticework numbered a hundred.

[24] The high-ranking guard's leader seized Seraiah, the head mediator, Zephaniah, the second-highest mediator, and all the door guardians.
[25] From those who remained in the city, he apprehended the commander overseeing the combatants and seven critical consultants to the Prime Ruler. He also captured the chief executive responsible for the enlistment of the local populace, and he found sixty individuals within the city.
[26] Nebuzaradan, the guard's commander, led them all to the Babylonian Prime Ruler in Riblah.

[27] In Riblah, situated within the region of Hamath, the Prime Ruler ordered their execution, leading to Judah’s expulsion and consequent enslavement far from its homeland.
[28] Nebuchadnezzar exiled 3,023 Judeans during his seventh year of reign.
[29] During the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar’s reign, 832 inhabitants of Yerushalayim were taken.
[30] Nebuzaradan, the chief of the governance guards, transported 745 Israelites into captivity during his twenty-third reign. The overall count of deported individuals stood at 4,600.

§ 21890 JEHOIACHIN RELEASED

[31] In the thirty-seventh year of Prime Ruler Jehoiachin of Judah’s captivity, on the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month, Awel-Marduk, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, freed Jehoiachin.
[32] He treated him respectfully and gave him a higher command than other Prime Rulers in Babylon.
[33] Jehoiachin changed out of his prison clothes and dined at the Prime Ruler’s table for the rest of his life.
[34] The Babylonian ruler ensured Jehoiachin received steady provisions until his death.

§ 21900 THE WAILING

1 See how abandoned the city is, once teeming with inhabitants! Now, she resembles a widow, previously glorious among the nations! The former First Lady of the provinces has been reduced to servitude.
2 In the darkness of the night, she sobs uncontrollably, with tears streaming down her face. Not a single one of her admirers is there to offer solace. All those who claimed to be her friends have deceived her, becoming her adversaries.
3 Following torment and tough servitude, Judah has been exiled. She stays among foreign nations, finding no place of tranquility. everyone pursuing her has caught up to her during her intense distress.

4 The fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign's roads is in sorrow, given no travelers arrive for her scheduled feasts. All her entrances are abandoned, her religious leaders lament, her young females are in distress, and she is steeped in deep agony.

5 Her oppressors have taken control; her adversaries rest untroubled. The Eternal Reality has subjected her to misery due to her numerous transgressions. Their enemy has driven her offspring into banishment and held them captive.

6 The acclaim of Daughter, the hub of David, has disappeared. Her leaders are like deer that can't find grassland to graze; they've retreated powerless before their chaser.
7 Amid her days of suffering and homelessness, Yerushalayim fondly recalls all her cherished belongings from the long past. When the adversary defeated her inhabitants, no one was there to aid her. Her enemies looked at her, relishing and laughing at her downfall.

8 Yerushalayim committed a substantial transgression. So, she turned into something impure.
Those who once admired her now loathe her, having witnessed her disgrace; she mourns and retreats in humiliation.
9 Her dirtiness stuck to her clothes; she did not heed what lay ahead. Her downfall was shocking; no one was there to console her. "See, Captain, my suffering, for the adversary has been victorious."

10 The adversary plundered all her cherished possessions; she witnessed foreign nations intruding on her Exalted Space—those you distinctly commanded not to be part of your ensovereigned lifestyle community.
11 The city's inhabitants lament as they seek sustenance; they swap their precious possessions for nourishment to sustain their existence. "Observe, Captain, and regard, for I am held in contempt."

12 "Does it mean nothing to all who pass this way? Pay heed and see if any torment is like mine, the torment that was ruthlessly imposed on me, the torment that the Sovereign Captain enforced on me on the day of His blistering wrath."
13 He unleashed a raging inferno from the celestial realms, searing deep into my bones. He laid a snare for my feet, causing my retreat. He turned me into a lonely being, suffering and feeble throughout the day.

14 His hand created the yoke of my wrongdoings; they are intertwined. the Sovereign Captain leans on my neck and saps my strength. I have been surrendered to those whom I have no power to resist.
15 The Sovereign Captain has disdained all my valiant men within my walls, calling forth a hostile force against me to shatter my youthful warriors. He stomped over the Maiden Daughter of Judah as in a winepress.

16 I cry; tears well up in my eyes for these things: Nobody is close to console me or bring my inner-self back to life. The Adversary has won, leaving my children bankrupt.
17 The hub of David extends her arms, yet there's no one to offer solace. the Sovereign Captain has instructed that those around Jacob shall be his adversaries; they now consider Yerushalayim a malevolent entity.

18 The Preeminent Sovereign is just, yet I defied His decree. Listen, all the nations gaze on my torment. My male and female youths have been led into bondage.
19 I reached out to those who were supposed to support me, but they deceived me. My religious leaders and the elderly of the city succumbed to death in the town while seeking sustenance to sustain their lives.

20 "Recognize, My Sovereign Captain, the level of my distress! I am suffering internally with unrest in my inner-self, for my disobedience has been substantial. The tactical blade takes life outdoors; indoors, nothing else exists but death."
21 My cries of distress have reached many ears, yet none have offered solace. My opponents are aware of my misery, delighting in your actions. I long for the arrival of the day you've proclaimed so they may experience my plight.

22 Bring all their evil deeds to your attention. Treat them as you have treated me due to all my transgressions. My lamentations are numerous, and my inner-self is weak.

2 Observe how the Sovereign Captain, in his wrath, has enveloped Daughter, David's Hub, in a dark cloud! He has thrown the acclaim of Israel from the celestial realms to the ground; he disregarded his fortress during his day of fury.

2 The Sovereign Captain, void of compassion, has engulfed all of Jacob's homes; in his fury, he has demolished the fortifications of Judah's offspring. He has debased her realm and its rulers, forcing them to the Earth in disgrace.
3 Blazing wrath consumed him as the Sovereign Captain obliterated all of Israel's strength. As the adversary approached, he recoiled his supportive hand. He scorched Jacob like a wildfire, leaving nothing but ashes.

4 He prepared his projectile launcher like an adversary; his dominant hand was set as if he were an enemy. He took the lives of all that were delightful and appealing to look at, unleashing his fury like a blaze on the dwelling of Daughter, the hub of David.
5 The Sovereign Captain has become just like a foe; he has devoured Israel. He has engulfed all her majestic residences and ruined her fortifications. He has increased sorrow and expressions of grief within his daughter Judah.

6 He has wrecked his fortress as if it were merely a garden and ruined his convention spot. the Sovereign Captain has caused David's Hub to forget her established festivals and Days of Rest; his intense fury has rejected both the Prime Ruler and the clergyman.

7 The Sovereign Captain has spurned his pedestal table and deserted his Exalted Space. He has surrendered the walls of her fortresses to the adversary in the Sovereign Captain's fortress. They have made an uproar as though it was a predetermined celebration

8 The Sovereign Captain was resolved to demolish the protective walls of Daughter, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign. He extended a measurement line and did not restrain his hand from ruin. He caused the fortifications and walls to grieve; they deteriorated together.

9 Her gates have sunk into the Earth; he has destroyed and broken their bars. Her ruler and leaders are exiled, the code is gone, and her seers receive no celestial images from the Sovereign Captain.
10 The respected leaders of the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress sit silently on the ground, covered in dirt and penitential burlap. The maidens of Yerushalayim bow their heads to the Earth.

11 My vision is blurred with tears; I am overwhelmed with internal agony; my inner-self is drained due to the ruin of my people as young children and babies collapse in the city's streets.
12 They ask their mothers, "Where can we find food and drink?" as they lose consciousness like soldiers struck down in the city's avenues, their lives fading in their mother's embrace.

13 What can I say about you? How can I compare you, Yerushalayim's offspring? How can I equate you to offer solace, O maiden offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress? Your affliction is as deep as the ocean. Who can heal you?
14 The visions of your seers were deceitful and worthless; they failed to expose your wrongdoings to prevent your enslavement. Their predictions were untruthful and misleading.
15 everyone who passes by mocks you; they hiss and nod scornfully at Daughter Yerushalayim: "Is this the city hailed as the epitome of beauty, the delight of the world?"

16 Your adversaries open their mouths wide to curse you; they mock and gnash their teeth, saying, "We have devoured her completely. This is the day we anticipated; we have finally seen it."
17 The Eternal Reality executed His plan; He fulfilled His ancient pronouncement. He demolished you without compassion, allowing the adversary to rejoice over your plight and strengthen your opponents.

18 The inhabitants of the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress express their anguish to the Sovereign Captain. You, structures of the Preeminent Sovereign's daughter, let your sorrow flow ceaselessly like a torrent; grant no solace to yourself; let your vision know no calm.
19 Rise, wail in the night as the guarding shifts begin; let your sentiments gush out like water in the Sovereign Captain's presence. Extend your hands to Him for your children's lives, who are weakening from starvation at every street's edge.

20 Reflect, my Sovereign Captain, and behold: Have you ever inflicted such grief on anyone else? Must mothers consume their children, the very kids they nurtured? Is it right for priests and prophets to be killed in the Sovereign Captain's Exalted Space?
21 In the streets, both young and old lie together; my young men and women have fallen by the tactical blade. In your anger, you've taken my lives without mercy. As you would invite to a festival, you invited terrors to surround me.

22 On the day of the Sovereign Captain's wrath, none escaped or survived; my enemy destroyed those I nurtured and raised.

3 I have suffered under the Sovereign Captain’s anger.
2 He led me into captivity and forced me to walk in darkness instead of light.
3 He persistently turns His hand against me all day long.
4 He has aged my skin and flesh, and my bones are broken.
5 He has besieged me with bitterness and hardship.

6 He forced me to dwell in darkness like those long dead.
7 He has walled me in so I cannot escape and weighed me down with restraints.
8 He shuts out my intervention even when I cry for help.
9 He has blocked my way with stone walls and made my paths crooked.
10 Like a bear lying in wait, like a lion hiding.
11 He dragged me from the path and mangled me, leaving me lonely.
12 He drew His projectile launcher and made me the target for his projectiles.
13 He pierced my inner-self with His projectiles.
14 My people mock me all day long; they sing taunting songs about me.
15 He has filled me with bitterness and made me drink wormwood.

16 “Stones shattered my teeth; he ground my face into the dirt.
17 My inner-self has been cast far from tranquility; I have lost my recollection of happiness.
18 My acclaim has faded, and everything I expected from the Sovereign Captain has disappeared.
19 The thought of my suffering and aimless wandering, the wormwood and poison, lingers in my memory.
20 My mind keeps reflecting on them, and I become depressed.

21 Nevertheless, remembering this, I find reason for hope.
22 Owing to the immense affection of the Sovereign Captain, we are not annihilated; his empathies never cease.

23 Each morning brings fresh mercies. Your loyalty is abundant.
24 My inner-self proclaims that the Sovereign Captain is my inheritance, so I shall find hope in him.
25 Yahweh proves to be generous to those who confidently await him and to the person who diligently searches for him.
26 It is advantageous to hope and patiently stand by for the deliverance from the Sovereign Captain.
27 It is beneficial for an individual to shoulder responsibilities during his early years.
28 He should remain solitary and quiet as the Sovereign Captain has placed the burden on him.
29 He should salute with his posture standing erect; perhaps there is still potential for hope.
30 He should endure a slap in the face, resulting in public shame.

31 The Sovereign Captain will not abandon anyone eternally.
32 Even if He induces sorrow, He will display mercy; such is the enormity of His unwavering affection.
33 He doesn’t enjoy making us sad or uncomfortable.
34 To trample and crush all the captive individuals of the territory underfoot, 35 to defy the Most High by depriving individuals of their rightful privileges.
36 Wouldn’t the Sovereign Captain notice it when they are denied fairness in court?

37 Who can utter words and bring them to reality if the Sovereign Captain does not authorize it?

38 Don’t adversity and prosperity stem from the orders of the Most High?
39 Why would a person still alive grumble when faced with the consequences of their transgressions?
40 Let’s scrutinize our paths and put them to the test, then turn back to the Eternal Reality.
41 Let’s raise our inner-selves and hands towards the Eternal Reality’s presence in the celestial realms, expressing our thoughts.
42 We have committed wrongs and revolted, yet you have not granted absolution.
43 Enveloped in wrath, you chased us, showing no mercy in your killings.”

44 “You have cloaked yourself in a cloud, preventing any melding of your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign from penetrating.
45 You have transformed us into mere garbage and filth in the eyes of the nations.
46 Those who hate us speak out against us.
47 We have experienced panic, pitfalls, devastation, and collapse.
48 The devastation of my nation causes a continuous torrent of tears from my eyes.

49 I will weep uncontrollably and without stopping,
50 until the moment the Eternal Reality beholds from the celestial realms and notices.
51 Seeing my city’s women induces sorrow in my inner-self.
52 My adversaries pursued me like a bird without justification for their actions.
53 They endeavored to terminate my existence by throwing me into a ditch and pelting me with stones.

54 The water rose and covered my head; I trusted I would meet my end.
55 I invoked your name, Captain, from the deepest pit.
56 He heeded Abraham’s intervention on the Preeminent Sovereign’s obliteration of the plain’s cities, rescuing Lot from the calamity that engulfed.”

57 “You approached me when I reached out to you, reassuring me not to be afraid.
58 Captain, you have championed my cause and brought me back to life.
59 You have observed the injustice done to me, Captain; stand up for me.

60 You have witnessed the intensity of their vindictiveness and schemes aimed at me.
61 Almighty, you know their scorn and schemes against me.
62 The continuous scheming and murmuring of my adversaries against me.
63 Observe them. Whether they are seated or on their feet, I am the subject of their scornful tunes.
64 Deliver their rightful punishment, my Sovereign Captain, by their deeds to them.
65 Encase their inner-selves in obduracy; let your malediction befall them!
66 In your wrath, eradicate them from beneath the Sovereign Captain’s celestial realm.”

4 “See how the gold has lost brilliance; the pure gold has tarnished! The hallowed stones are strewn around every street corner. Observe how the hands of a potter craft the treasured offspring of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, once deemed as valuable as pure gold, now perceived as earthen jars!
3 Even wild dogs present their milk to feed their pups, yet my people have turned as merciless as ostriches in the wilderness.

4 Owing to dehydration, the tongue of the baby clings to the inside of its mouth; youngsters plead for sustenance, yet no one provides them with any.

5 Individuals who previously enjoyed gourmet food now struggle on the streets. Those nurtured in luxury and crimson garments currently reside in refuse heaps.
6 My people have endured chastisement surpassing Sodom's, which experienced an instantaneous downfall with no one helping."

7-8 Their leaders once radiated purity and vibrancy, but now they are unrecognizable, their skin dried and darkened.
9 Those who die by the tactical blade fare better than those who starve, tormented by hunger.
10 Kind-hearted mothers desperately cooked their children as food.
11 The Sovereign Captain unleashed His fiery rage, engulfing the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 Neither the Prime Rulers nor inhabitants could fathom adversaries breaching Yerushalayim's barriers.

13 This scenario occurred due to the prophets' transgressions and priests' wrongdoings, spilling the blood of the authentic.
14 Blood contaminates them as they stumble unapproachably through the streets.
15 People shout, "Leave! You're defiled!" They become nomads, banned from residing anywhere.
16 The Sovereign Captain dispersed them; priests and elders are no longer respected.

17 Our eyes exhausted, we sought assistance in vain; our lookouts observed a country incapable of delivering us.
18 We were continuously pursued, unable to journey along our roads. Our doom approached, and our lifetimes concluded.
19 Pursuers moved faster than eagles, ambushing us in the wilderness.
20 The Sovereign Captain chose our Prime Ruler, who was trapped. We trusted in his protection among the world's peoples.

21 Rejoice, residents of Edom in Uz, but know judgment will come to you; you will expose your shame.
22 Daughter, the hub of David, your atonement is over; he will not extend your banishment but will hold Daughter Edom accountable for her unworthy choices.

5 My Sovereign Captain, consider our calamity; perceive our national shame.
2 Our inherited property is handed to outsiders; our residences belong to others.
3 We have become orphans; our mothers resemble the bereaved.
4 We must purchase our drinking water; wood is expensive.
5 Our hunters are at our necks; we are worn out with no rest.

6 We surrendered to Egypt and Assyria for food.
7 Our forefathers transgressed; they no longer exist, yet we endure the consequences of their unworthy choices.
8 Servants dominate us; no one liberates us from their grasp.
9 We obtain sustenance under life-threatening conditions due to weaponry in the wilderness.
10 Our flesh simmers like a furnace due to starvation.

11 Females in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign and young maidens in Judah have been dishonored.
12 They string up leaders by their arms; they give older people no regard.
13 Adolescent male laborers carry millstones; lads tumble under timber's weight.

14 Senior citizens have deserted the city entrance; youth tunes are quelled.
15 Happiness has vanished; our pastime is grief.
16 Our acclaim has slipped from us due to our wrongdoings.
17 Our inner-selves are heavy, and our vision is blurred due to these circumstances.
18 Owing to Mount, the hub of David's desolation, jackals roam it.

19 You, Captain, are eternally sovereign; your reign persists through generations.
20 Why have you abandoned us eternally? How have you deserted us for so long?
21 Captain, bring us back so we may return; revitalize our days like before.
22 Your fury with us knows no bounds if you disowned us.

~ 126 | My Strengthener | Ezekiel

§ 21910 EZEKIEL'S INAUGURAL VISION

1 During my thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month, while among the exiles by the Kebar River, the celestial realm opened, and I received celestial disclosures.
2 On the fifth day of the month, in the fifth year of Prime Ruler Jehoiachin's captivity, 3 the Preeminent Sovereign's message came to Ezekiel, the ensovereigned mediator and son of Buzi, by the Kebar River in Babylon. There, Ezekiel felt the Sovereign Captain's mighty influence.
4 I saw a storm coming from the North—a massive cloud with lightning and a brilliant light. Inside the fire, it looked like glowing metal.
5 Within the fire were four beings that looked human.
6 Each had four faces and four wings.
7 Their legs were straight, and their feet were like polished bronze hooves.
8 They had human hands under their wings on all four sides. All had faces and wings.
9 Their wings touched one another; they moved straight ahead without turning.
10 Each had a human face, a lion's face on the right, an ox's face on the left, and an eagle's face.
11 Each had two wings spread upward, touching the wings of another, and two wings covering their bodies.
12 They moved straight ahead wherever the Eternal Spark led them.
13 The beings looked like burning coals or flame throwers; fire moved among them, and lightning flashed from it.
14 The beings moved back and forth like lightning.
15 As I looked at the beings, I saw a wheel on the ground beside each one with its four faces.

16 The wheels gleamed like topaz and looked alike; each appeared to have another wheel intersecting it.
17 They could move in any direction without turning as they went.
18 The rims were high and awesome, and all four rims were full of eyes.
19 When the beings moved, the wheels moved with them; when they rose from the ground, the wheels rose too.
20 Wherever the Eternal Spark wanted to go, they went, and the wheels rose along with them because the beings' energy was in the wheels.
21 When the beings moved, the wheels moved; when they stood still, the wheels stood still; when they rose from the ground, they rose along with them because the beings' energy was in the wheels.
22 Over the heads of the beings was something like a vault, sparkling like crystal and awesome.
23 Under the vault, their wings were stretched out toward one another, and each had two wings covering its body.
24 I heard the sound of their movements like the roar of an army, the noise of their wings like rushing waters, and the voice of the Preeminent Sovereign. They retracted their wings when they were motionless.
25 Then, while they stood with their wings lowered, a voice was heard above the ceiling over their heads.
26 Above the vault over their heads was what looked like a high command control of lapis lazuli, and high above the command control was a figure like that of a man.

27 He appeared to be full of fire from what seemed to be his waist up, and from that point on, he resembled incandescent metal; dazzling light encircled him.
28 The light surrounding him was like a rainbow emerging from the sky on a rainy day. This was how the Sovereign Captain's grandeur and likeness appeared. I fell facedown upon seeing it, and I perceived a voice speaking.

§ 21920 EZEKIEL'S CALL TO BE AN ETERNALLY WISE SERVANT

2 The voice called me "Heir of Humanity," instructing me to stand and engage in conversation.
2 As His words were spoken, the Eternal Spark filled me, causing me to stand upright, and His voice resonated within me.
3 He declared: "Mortal man, I am sending you to the people of Israel, a defiant nation that has rebelled against me; they and their forefathers persist in their rebellion to this day.
4 These are harsh and unyielding individuals. The Sovereign Captain says this, and I am sending you to tell them.
5 Whether they heed or ignore, given their defiant nature, they will acknowledge an eternally wise servant among them.
6 As a Heir of Humanity, do not fear them or their words. Despite the hardships and danger surrounding you, don't let their words make you tremble, or their demeanor terrify you, even if they are known for rebellion.
7 You must convey my messages to them, regardless of whether they heed or ignore them, as they are defiant.
8 You, Heir of Humanity, heed My Path. Don't turn against me like the disobedient ones; accept what I give you by opening your mouth."
9 I saw a hand extending towards me, carrying a written scroll.
10 It was unfolded before me, with expressions of grief, sorrow, and distress inscribed on both sides.

3 The command was given to me to consume what's in my view, devour this manuscript, and then communicate with the nation of Israel.
2 I parted my lips, and He gave me the roll to consume.
3 He then instructed me, "Heir of Humanity, eat this scroll I'm presenting you with and let it fill your insides." It tasted as sweet as honey on my palate.
4 He told me: "Heir of Humanity, proceed to the nation of Israel and deliver my statements to them.

5 You are not being sent to a country with an incomprehensible tongue or difficult dialect but to the community of Israel.
6 You aren't being sent to multiple countries with impossible speech and peculiar languages you can't grasp. If I had sent you to them, they would have paid attention to you.
7 The nation of Israel has no intention to heed your words as they refuse to listen to me; the entirety of the Israelites are stubborn and unyielding.
8 However, I am making you as defiant and obstinate as they are."
9 "Your resolve will be as firm as a diamond, even sturdier than flint. Don't let their defiance instill fear or terror in you, as they are a rebellious group.
10 " He told me, "Heir of Humanity, absorb in your consciousness all the communications I direct towards you and pay careful attention.

11 Proceed to your compatriots in exile and communicate with them. Convey to them, ‘This is the proclamation of the Eternal Reality, ’ irrespective of their willingness or reluctance to pay heed.”
12 Subsequently, the Eternal Spark hoisted me aloft, and from behind me resonated a profound booming noise as the magnificence of the Sovereign Captain ascended from its established location.
13 The wings of the living beings produced a clamor as they touched each other, and the wheels next to them made noise, similar to a powerful earthquake.
14 The Eternal Spark elevated and whisked me away. I proceeded with a bitter inner-self and a wrathful Eternal Spark while experiencing the profound might of the Sovereign Captain on me.
15 I arrived at the captives near the Kebar River in Tel Aviv. I spent seven days in their dwelling place, feeling overwhelmed by various emotions.

§ 21930 EZEKIEL’S TASK AS SENTINEL

16 Seven days later, the Sovereign Captain’s message was disclosed to me.

17 “Heir of Humanity, I have appointed you as a sentinel for the nation of Israel; heed my message and warn them.
18 If I declare to an individual full of unworthy choices, ‘You are destined to perish. ’ You fail to caution them or speak up to persuade them to abandon their evil actions to preserve their life, counterfeit individuals will perish because of their transgression, and I will make you answerable for their blood.
19 However, if you caution the person engaged in impure deeds and they persist in their evil behavior or continue their harmful paths, they will face demise due to their transgressions; nevertheless, you will have secured your own life.
20 Furthermore, if an authentic individual deviates from their authentic actions and indulges in wrongdoings, and I set a trap for them, they will perish. Due to your failure to caution them, they will succumb to their unworthy choices. Their authentic deeds will no longer be recalled, and you will be held accountable for their demise.
21 Suppose you caution the upright individual to avoid committing unworthy choices and refrain from unworthy decisions. In that case, their life will be preserved because they adhered to your warning, and you have secured your own life.
22 I felt the powerful presence of the Sovereign Captain there, and He commanded me to rise and venture into the valley, where He would communicate with me.
23 Rising, I ventured out into the valley. There, the majestic acclaim of the Sovereign Captain was present, similar to the Eternal Reality scene I had witnessed by the Kebar River, causing me to prostrate myself.
24 The Eternal Spark entered me, lifting me to my feet. He then communicated with me, instructing me to seclude myself inside my dwelling.
25 “Heir of Humanity, they will bind you with cords, preventing you from mingling with the populace.
26 I will cause your speech to become immobilized by adhering your tongue to your palate, rendering you speechless and incapable of admonishing them as a defiant populace.
27 When I converse with you, your mouth will be unsealed, and you’ll convey to them, ‘So declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. ’ Those inclined to heed, let them heed, and those who choose to disregard, let them forget; they, indeed, are a defiant populace.”

§ 21940 SIEGE OF YERUSHALAYIM SYMBOLIZED

4 “Heir of Humanity, procure a clay tablet, set it down before you, and sketch a depiction of Yerushalayim.
2 Initiate a blockade on it: • Construct battle infrastructures against it. • Create an ascent to it. • Establish military bases around it. • Position siege engines encircling it.
3 Obtain an iron plate and establish it as a metallic barrier between yourself and the metropolis, ensuring your gaze is fixed on it. The city will be subjected to a blockade, and you are to enforce this siege. This barrier will serve as a significant symbol to the dwellers of Israel.
4 Lay yourself on your left side and assume the guilt of the Israeli people. You will endure their guilt for the same duration of time that you remain on your side.
5 I’ve designated the identical duration of days equivalent to the years of their wrongdoing. So, for 390 days, you’ll carry the burden of Israel’s transgressions.
6 Once you have completed this, assume your position again, this time on your dominant side, and carry the burden of Judah’s transgressions. I have apportioned you 40 days. Each day, you are symbolizing a year.
7 Direct your gaze towards the attack on Yerushalayim, bear your arm, and predict its downfall.
8 I will bind you with cords, preventing you from shifting from side to side until your siege concludes.
9 Procure wheat and barley grains alongside beans, lentils, millet, and spelled, consolidate them in a receptacle, and prepare bread for your consumption. This bread will serve as your sustenance for 390 days while you are recumbent on your side.
10 Measure each day’s food ration, twenty shekels in weight, and consume it at predetermined intervals.
11 Regulate your water consumption to .7 liters, and ensure you drink it according to a schedule.

12 Consume your sustenance as if it were a barley cake; prepare it before the eyes of the observers, utilizing human waste as a source of heat.
13 The Sovereign Captain declared this is how the Israelites will consume unhealthy bread in the countries to which I will exile them.
14 I protested, “No, Sovereign Captain! I’ve never tainted myself. From childhood until now, I’ve never eaten anything that has died naturally or that wild creatures have torn apart. Unsanitary food has never found its way into my mouth.”
15 Indeed, he responded, “I’ll permit you to prepare your bread over cow manure rather than human waste.”
16 He told me: “Human, I intend to impede the provision of sustenance in Yerushalayim. The populace will consume assigned food with unease and imbibe allotted water in hopelessness.”
17 Due to the scarcity of bread and water, seeing each other will cause shock and horror, and their transgressions will lead to their gradual decline.

§ 21950 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S RAZOR OF JUDGMENT

5 “Heir of Humanity, take a sharp blade and shave your head and beard. Weigh and divide the hair.

2 After your siege, burn a portion of the hair in the city, strike another portion with your tactical blade, and scatter the rest to the wind. I will pursue them with an unsheathed blade.
3 Secure a few strands in your attire's hem.
4 Burn some of these strands, and fire will spread to all of Israel.
5 The Sovereign Captain says, "I have positioned Yerushalayim at the center of the world, surrounded by nations."
6 Despite her impurity, she defied my directives more than the surrounding nations. She ignored my laws and decrees.

7 The Sovereign Captain says: Your disobedience surpasses that of the surrounding nations; you have not followed my laws or honored My directives. You haven't even met the ethical standards of these nations.
8 The Sovereign Captain declares: I am against you, Yerushalayim, and will punish you before the nations.
9 Due to your abhorrent idolized deities, I will punish you as never before and never again.
10 Parents will consume their children, and children will devour their parents. I will execute penalties on you, and survivors will be scattered in all directions.
11 As I live, proclaims the Eternal Reality, due to the heresy of my Exalted Space with your repugnant idolized deities and vile actions, I will cut you off without mercy or compassion.
12 One-third of your people will die from disease or starvation; weapons will kill another third; the remaining third I will scatter and hunt with an unsheathed blade.
13 My fury will be quenched, my anger will fade, and I will feel vindicated. When my wrath is fully vented, they will know that I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared this in my passion.
14 I will turn you into a desolate waste and an object of mockery among the nations.
15 When I exact my judgment in wrath and fury, you will become a target of mockery and ridicule, a cautionary tale, and a source of fear for neighboring nations. I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared so.
16 I will assail you with lethal hunger-inducing projectiles for your obliteration. I will escalate famine in your midst and eliminate your access to nourishment.
17 I will unleash hunger and ferocious creatures on you, robbing you of your offspring. Disease and violence will overrun you, and I will introduce warfare on you. I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared this."

§ 21960 DOOM FOR THE MOUNTAINS OF ISRAEL

6 The Sovereign Captain spoke his word to me.
2 "Heir of Humanity, direct your gaze towards the ranges of Israel; say against them."
3 "Proclaim to the mountains of Israel, heed the words of the Eternal Reality. Here's a declaration from the Sovereign Captain to the hills, mountains, valleys, and gorges: I am poised to unleash a war against you, and your elevated expression of joyful adoration sites will be obliterated."
4 "The absolving platforms will be ruined and your scent pedestal tables shattered; I will eliminate your populace before your lifeless idolized deities."
5 "The deceased remains of the Israelites will be placed in the vicinity of their idolized deities, and your skeletal remains will be dispersed surrounding your pedestal tables."
6 "No matter where you reside, the cities will be destroyed. The exalted sites will be torn down, resulting in the desolation and destruction of your pedestal tables, the shattering and demolition of your idolized deities, the dismantling of your incense pedestal tables, and the complete elimination of your handiwork."

7 “The place will be littered with corpses among you, and you will recognize that I alone am the Sovereign Captain.”
8 “I will allow a few to survive, for a portion of you will avoid the tactical blade amid your dispersion across various territories and nations.” 9 “Those who manage to elude captivity will recollect me in the foreign lands where they’ve been deported. It’s a memory of how their traitorous inner-selves, which deserted me, and their lust-filled eyes, yearning for their idolized deities, caused me such anguish. They will feel selfrepulsion for the impure deeds they have committed and for all their despicable actions.” 10 “They will comprehend that I am the Sovereign Captain. I didn’t declare this disaster intended for them without a reason.”
11 “This declaration is what the Eternal Reality Sovereign Captain says: ‘Clap your hands, stomp your feet, and cry out in sorrow due to all the vile acts of the people of Israel, who will perish by war, starvation, and disease.”

12 “Those who are distant will succumb to disease, those in proximity will be slain in battle, and the remaining survivors will perish from starvation. In this manner, I will unleash my fury on them.”
13 “You will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain when your deceased lay scattered among your counterfeit idolized deities, encircling your sanctuaries, on every elevated mound and all the mountain summits, beneath each lush tree and every heavy oak. You charmed your idolized deities in these very spots with aromatic offerings.” 14 “I will extend My power against you, turning your region into a barren wasteland, stretching from the wilderness to Diblah, regardless of their residence. Then, you will realize that I am the Sovereign Captain. ’”

§ 21970 THE END HAS COME

7 A message from the Sovereign Captain arrived for me.
2 “Heir of Humanity, the Eternal Reality proclaims to the territory of Israel: ‘It is over. The conclusion has arrived on the entirety of the land’s quadrants!’” 3 “Your time is up; I’m about to let loose my fury against you. I’ll assess you based on your actions and make you face the consequences of all your loathsome deeds.”
4 “I will not show compassion, nor will I show mercy. You can be confident that you will face retribution for your actions and your abhorrent deeds. Consequently, you will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain.”
5 “The Eternal Reality proclaims Catastrophe! A catastrophe like no other! Pay heed; it approaches!”
6 “The conclusion is imminent. The culmination has come! It is stirring itself up against you. Pay heed to its arrival.”
7 “Catastrophe has struck you, you inhabitants of the Earth. The moment is here! The day of devastation looms near! There exists turmoil, not merriment, atop the hills.”

8 “I’m on the brink of unleashing my fury on you and exhausting my anger against you. Your ways will be the basis for my judgment and all your terrible acts; retribution awaits.” 9 “I won’t show mercy or feel sorry for you. I’ll pay you back according to how you’ve lived and for the vile deeds within. Consequently, you’ll understand that I, the Sovereign Captain, am punishing.”
10 “Pay heed; the day is here. It has arrived! Disaster has erupted, the power against you has grown, and arrogance has bloomed.”

11 “Malevolence has matured into a staff for reprimanding the corrupt. No single person will endure; none from that multitude or their riches or worth will be left.”
12 “Judgment day is on us! The day of reckoning has dawned! The person buying should avoid happiness, and the person selling should avoid sorrow, for my fury is set against the entire mob.”
13 “The vendor will exclusively regain the sold estate if they both exist. For the prediction, addressing the entire multitude will not be annulled. Due to their iniquities, none of them can save their own lives.”
14 “The alarm has been sounded, and preparations have been made, yet no individual proceeds to fight, given that my fury is directed at the entire multitude.”
15 “Warfare lurks outdoors, whereas disease and hunger stalk within. Individuals in rural areas will fall to the violence. In contrast, those within city walls will fall victim to starvation and disease.”
16 “Those who manage to survive will retreat to the highlands, wailing like doves from the lowlands, each lamenting due to their transgressions.”
17 “All hands will hang weakly with fear, and all knees will become as weak as water.”
18 “They’ll adorn themselves with mourning clothes and be overwhelmed with dread. Disgrace will plaster all faces, and every head will be devoid of hair.”
19 “They will discard their wealth in the streets, treating their precious metals as if they were tainted. Neither their silver nor gold will be capable of saving them during the day of the Sovereign Captain’s fury. It will neither quench their hunger nor sate it, for their wealth led them down the path of transgression.”

20 “Their attractive ornaments, once a source of vanity, were used to create revolting idolized deities. These vile images were crafted from it; as a result, I will render their wealth as filth to them.”
21 “Their riches will be handed over to outsiders as spoils, and the depraved ones of the Earth will desecrate it as loot.”
22 “I shall avert my gaze from my people, and thieves will dishonor the exalted location I cherish. They will infiltrate it and tarnish its purification.”
23 “Ready the shackles! The territory is overwhelmed with bloody transgressions while atrocities saturate the city.”
24 “The evilest nations will be ushered in to seize their homes. The arrogance of the powerful will be quashed, and their places of expression of joyful adoration will be defiled.”
25 “Their search for harmony will yield no results when panic strikes.”
26 “Disaster will follow, and one rumor will succeed another. The evil axis will seek a vision from the seer. Still, education from the clergy will vanish, and advice from the senior figures will cease.”
27 “The Prime Ruler will be filled with sorrow, the leader enveloped in desolation, and terror will shake the inhabitants’ hands. They will be treated in correspondence with their actions, and I will reckon them using their criteria. Then, they will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 21980 IDOLIZED DEITIES IN THE FORTRESS

8 During the sixth year, on the fifth day of the sixth month, I was in my dwelling with Judah’s senior figures before me; the power of the Eternal Reality descended on me.
2 I saw a form resembling a human. From the waist down, it looked like fire, and from the waist up, it shone like radiant metal.

3 Extending what seemed like a hand, he grasped me by a lock of my hair. The Eternal Spark elevated me between Earth and the celestial realms and, amidst celestial visions, transported me to Yerushalayim. I was brought to the northern entrance of the inner court, where an idolized deity inciting envy resided.
4 Suddenly, the radiance of the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel was present, similar to the vision
I witnessed in the valley.
5 He then spoke to me, saying, “Heir of Humanity, direct your gaze to the North.” I observed an alarming symbol of envy situated in the access way to the North of the pedestal table’s gate.
6 He questioned me, “Heir of Humanity, do you observe their actions—the revolting practices the Israelites are carrying out here? These actions will compel me to distance myself from my fortress. However, you will witness even more horrifying acts.”
7 He guided me to the gateway of the courtyard. On observation, I noticed an opening in the wall.
8 He instructed me, “Heir of Humanity, break through the wall.” When I did, I discovered a hidden entrance.
9 He instructed me to enter and witness those opposed to the Preeminent Sovereign’s lifestyle and their despicable acts there.
10 Inside, I observed various depictions of vile creatures and beasts and all the counterfeit idolized deities of Israel covering the walls.
11 Seventy of Israel’s elders were positioned before them, with Jaazaniah, the male heir of Shaphan, among them. Each held an incense burner, and a scent-laden cloud of incense ascended.
12 He inquired of me, “Human, are you aware of the deeds committed by Israel’s elders in obscurity, each in the fortress of his idolized deity? They proclaim, ‘Our Preeminent Sovereign does not witness our actions; Our Preeminent Sovereign has abandoned our territory. ’” 13 He further mentioned that you will witness them committing even more repugnant actions.

14 He guided me towards the north-facing entrance of the Sovereign Captain’s fortress. I noticed women seated in sorrow, lamenting the idolized deity Tammuz.
15 He asked me, “Do you observe this, human being? You’re about to witness actions even more repulsive than these.”
16 I was then guided into the central courtyard of the Sovereign Captain’s fortress. I observed roughly twenty-five individuals at the fortress doorway, between the entrance hall and the absolving pedestal table. They had turned their backs on the Sovereign Captain’s fortress and directed their faces eastward, demonstrating reverence for the sunrise.
17 “Have you observed this, mortal? Is it insignificant to Judah’s people to commit these horrendous deeds here? Do they also need to inundate the territory brutally and constantly provoke my ire? Observe them? Are they sticking a branch up their nostrils!” 18 “I’ll act in my fury, offering them no mercy or respite. Even though they cry loudly for help, I will disregard their pleas.”

§ 21990 JUDGMENT ON THE IDOLATERS

9 He thundered in my hearing, summoning those designated to punish the city, each clutching a destructive instrument.
2 I saw six individuals advancing from the upper gateway facing North, each brandishing a lethal instrument. Accompanying them was a man in linen with writing equipment at his side. They positioned themselves next to the bronze fixing platform.

3 The grandeur of the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel ascended from the representation of Celestial Envoy and moved to the fortress entrance. the Sovereign Captain then summoned the man in linen with the analytical equipment.
4 He was instructed to traverse Yerushalayim and mark the foreheads of those who express sorrow for the horrendous acts within it.
5 He instructed the others to follow him and commence the slaying without mercy.

6 “Execute the senior citizens, youths, females, mothers, and offspring, but avoid anyone with the mark. Start at my Exalted Space.” They began with the older men before the fortress.
7 He instructed them to disgrace the fortress and fill its yards with victims. “Leave.” They exited and initiated the slaughter across the town.
8 Amidst their execution, I prostrated on the ground, pleading, “Oh, Supreme Sovereign Captain! Will you eradicate Israel in your furious anger towards Yerushalayim?”
9 He responded, stating that the transgressions of Israel and Judah are immense; the territory is inundated with violence, and urban areas are rife with dishonesty. They proclaim, “‘The Eternal Reality has abandoned this region; He is blind to our actions. ’”
10 “So, I will not show compassion or grant mercy but will make them bear the consequences of their actions.”
11 The man in linen reported performing as directed.

§ 22000 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S MAJESTY DEPARTS FROM THE FORTRESS

10 I observed a lapis lazuli command control above the Celestial Envoy representation’s heads.
2 The Eternal Reality instructed the individual in linen to gather burning coals from the Celestial Envoy and disperse them across the city. He complied under my observance.
3 The Celestial Envoys were positioned on the southern side of the fortress, and a cloud enveloped the inner courtyard.
4 The Eternal Reality’s brilliance ascended from the Celestial Envoy towards the fortress’ entrance, filling it with a mystic cloud and awe-inspiring luminosity.
5 The noise from the Celestial Envoy’s wings was discernible even in the outer courtyard, resembling the voice of the Preeminent Sovereign.

6 Following the Sovereign Captain’s directive, the man in linen took embers from amid the wheel-work and positioned himself adjacent to a wheel.
7 One Celestial Envoy extended his arm, collected flames, and deposited them into the hands of the individual in linen, who then departed.
8 Human-like hands were observed beneath the wings of the Celestial Envoy.
9-10 Four wheels were adjacent to each Celestial Envoy, shimmering like topaz, appearing as if a wheel was within another wheel.
11 They traveled in any direction without turning, moving as their heads faced.
12 Their bodies, backs, hands, wings, and wheels were covered with eyes.
13 The spinning wheels were referred to in my hearing.
14 Each Celestial Envoy bore four faces: a celestial arch-agent, a human, a lion, and an eagle.
15 The Celestial Envoy ascended; these were the same beings I had witnessed near the Kebar River.
16 The wheels moved in unison with the Celestial Envoy; when it raised its wings to rise, the wheels remained nearby.

17 The stationary state of the Celestial Envoy complemented their stillness. When it ascended, they did, too, because the essence of the living beings was inherent in them.
18 The celestial radiance of the Sovereign Captain shifted away from the fortress entrance and hovered atop the Celestial Envoy.
19 The Celestial Envoys extended their wings and lifted off the Earth, with wheels moving alongside them. They stopped at the eastern gate of the Sovereign Captain's fortress, and the Eternal Reality's brilliance hovered over them.
20 These were the identical creatures I had identified under the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel by the Kebar River; they were representations of Celestial Envoys.
21 Each entity had four faces and four wings, with human-like hands beneath their wings.

22 Their countenances resembled those I had observed at the Kebar River, and they progressed directly forward.

§ 22010 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S SURE JUDGMENT ON YERUSHALAYIM

11 The Eternal Spark lifted me to the East entrance of the Sovereign Captain's abode, where I saw twenty-five men, including Jaazaniah, Azzur's son, and Pelatiah, Benaiah's son, notable leaders.
2 The Eternal Reality disclosed that these men were plotting malevolent actions and giving malicious advice in the city.
3 They said, "Our houses were recently rebuilt; this city is like a stewing pot, and we are the meat."
4 The Heir of Humanity was instructed to oppose them.
5 The Sovereign Captain's Eternal Spark commanded me to declare: This is the Sovereign Captain's message: Leaders of Israel, I know your inner thoughts.
6 You have increased the number of slain in this city, filling its streets with corpses.
7 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: The corpses you scattered are the meat, and this city is the pot, but I will remove you from it.
8 "The tactical blade you fear will be used against you," declares the Eternal Reality.
9 I will lead you out of the city, hand you over to strangers, and execute my judgments.
10 You will die in battle, and I will judge you at Israel's border, confirming that I am the Sovereign
Captain.
11 This city will not be your pot, nor will you be its meat; I will judge you at Israel's fringes.
12 You will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain because you have not followed my directives or laws but adopted the surrounding nations' customs.

13 While delivering this vision, Pelatiah, Benaiah's son, died. I fell to the ground, crying in fear, "Oh, Almighty Sovereign Captain! Will you destroy the remaining population of Israel?"

§ 22020 THE PROMISE OF ISRAEL'S RETURN

14 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
15 "Heir of Humanity, the inhabitants of Yerushalayim have said about your comrades in exile and all the Israelites, 'They have strayed significantly from the Sovereign Captain; this territory was granted to us as our inheritance. '"

16 Convey this: “The Supreme Sovereign Captain declares: ‘Even though I have dispatched them to distant nations and dispersed them among various countries, I have momentarily served as a fortress for them in those lands they have inhabited. ’” 17 From now forward, convey: “The Pervading Sovereign Captain declares: ‘I will assemble you from the realms and restore you from the nations where you have been dispersed.
Furthermore, I shall return to you the territory of Israel once more.
18 They will return and cleanse it of all its loathsome depictions and abhorrent idolized deities.
19 I will grant them a unified inner-self and instill fresh enthusiasm. Their stony inner-self will be eliminated from their beings and replaced with an inner-self of sensitivity and responsiveness.
20 They will abide by my directives and diligently observe my precepts. They will constitute my community, and I will serve as their Preeminent Sovereign.
21 However, I will impose the consequences of their actions on those whose inner-selves remain attached to their unsavory figures and offensive idolized deities, ’ as asserted by the Eternal Reality.”
22 The celestial arch-agent Celestial Envoys extended their wings, with the wheels next to them, and the majestic radiance of the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel hovered over them.

23 The Sovereign Captain’s splendor ascended from the city’s core and paused over the hill to its East.
24 In a celestial vision, the Eternal Spark of the Preeminent Sovereign conveyed me to the captives in Babylonia. Subsequently, the vision that I was observing departed from me.
25 I communicated to the captives every disclosure the Sovereign Captain had provided me.

§ 22030 THE EXILE SYMBOLIZED

12 The Sovereign Captain’s message came to me:
2 “Heir of Humanity, you live among a defiant people. They see but do not perceive, hear but do not understand, for they are rebellious.
3 Heir of Humanity, pack your belongings as if for exile and leave in broad daylight while they watch. Perhaps they will understand despite their defiance.
4 Prepare your luggage in their sight during the day and leave at dusk as if going into exile.
5 Make a hole in the wall and carry your belongings through it as they watch.
6 Carry it on your shoulder at twilight, covering your face so you cannot see the land, for I have made you a sign to the Israelites.”
7 I did as commanded, gathering my belongings by day and breaking through the wall at dusk. I carried my possessions on my shoulders and left under their watchful eyes.
8 At dawn, the Sovereign Captain’s message came to me:
9 “Mortal man, did the Israelites not ask you, ‘What are you doing?’
10 Tell them, ‘The Sovereign Captain says: This message is for the Prime Ruler in Yerushalayim and all the Israelites.
11 Say, ‘I am a sign for you. ’ As it happened to me, so it will happen to them. They will go into exile as captives.

12 The Prime Ruler will carry his belongings at night and leave. He’ll be able to escape by digging a hole in the wall. He will cover his face so he cannot see the land.
13 He won’t see it; he will perish there. I will build a trap for him and take him to Babylonia, the region of the Chaldeans.
14 I will scatter his aides and army in every direction and pursue them with an unsheathed tactical blade.

15 When I disperse them among the nations, they will know that I am the Sovereign Captain.
16 Yet I will spare a few from the tactical blade, famine, and disease so they can tell of their detestable practices among the nations where they go. Then they will know that I am the Sovereign Captain.”
17 The Sovereign Captain’s message came to me again:
18 “Mortal man, tremble as you eat your food and drink your water with anxiety.
19 Tell the people of the land: ‘The Eternal Reality says to those in Yerushalayim and Israel: They will eat their food in fear and drink their water in despair because their land will be stripped of everything due to the violence of its inhabitants. ’
20 The inhabited towns will be destroyed, and the land will become desolate. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22040 THERE WILL BE NO DELAY

21 A message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to me.
22 “Human being, what is this saying in the land of Israel? That you hold: ‘Days are passing, and every vision turns out futile’?”
23 Convey to them, “The Eternal Reality declares: ‘I am on the verge of silencing this proverb, and it will not be cited in Israel anymore. ’ Inform them, ‘The time is approaching when every vision will see its realization. ’”

24 Within the populace of Israel, there will no longer be any deceptive predictions or pleasing prophecies.
25 “I, the Sovereign Captain, will undoubtedly voice my thoughts, which will be accomplished without any further holdup. During your existence, you defiant esteemed people, I will bring to fruition everything I utter, as the Almighty Sovereign Captain has proclaimed.”
26 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
27 “Mortal man, the people of Israel are stating, ‘The disclosure he visualizes pertains to a time many years ahead, and he speaks about an era that is far in the future. ’”
28 So, communicate to them, “the Eternal Reality proclaims: ‘There will be no further postponement of my words; anything I pronounce will come to pass, as the Eternal Reality affirms. ’”

§ 22050 COUNTERFEIT PROPHETS CONDEMNED

13 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
2 Human beings condemn the seers of Israel who are currently offering their prophecies. Speak to those formulating prophecies from their thoughts: “Listen to the message of the Sovereign Captain!”
3 The Eternal Reality declares: Misfortune awaits the imprudent seers guided by their fundamental nature yet perceive nothing!
4 Israel, your seers are like wild dogs foraging through the wreckage.
5 You haven’t stepped up to mend the gaps in the fortifications for the community of Israel to enable it to remain steadfast during the combat on the day of celestial judgment.
6 Their prophecies are deceitful, and their predictions are fabricated. Even though the Sovereign Captain hasn’t commissioned them, they declare, “the Sovereign Captain has announced,” and wait for him to make their claims a reality.

7 Didn’t you proclaim false prophecies and speak deceptive divinations, asserting that these are the words of the Sovereign Captain, even though I didn’t utter a word?
8 So, the Sovereign Captain declares: because you have spoken deceitfully and had untruthful visions, I stand in opposition to you, affirms the Sovereign Captain.
9 I will counter prophets who envision deceit and deliver false predictions. They will have no position within my people’s assembly, nor will their names be inscribed in Israel’s annals, nor shall they gain access to Israel’s territory. Then, you will acknowledge that I am the Eternal Reality.
10 Since they have misled my people by proclaiming tranquility when there isn’t and because they conceal the weakness of a poorly built wall by coating it with plaster.
11 So, inform those who smear it with a whitewash that it will collapse. An outpour of rain will occur, and I will dispatch heavy hailstones rapidly descending, and tumultuous gales will explode.
12 Will individuals question where the plaster you applied has gone up on the wall’s disintegration?
13 So, the Sovereign Captain declares: During my rage, a strong windstorm will be set loose, and because of my fury, hailstones, and overwhelming rain will descend destructively.
14 I will demolish the wall you’ve plastered with whitewash and bring it down to its base, exposing its foundation. Your destruction within it is imminent as it crumbles, and you will acknowledge that I am the Sovereign Captain.
15 And when I have poured out My fury on the wall and on those who whitewashed it, I will say to you, says the Sovereign Captain: “The wall has been destroyed, and so have the individuals who whitewashed it—those prophets of the state of Israel that prophesied to Yerushalayim and saw an apparition of peace for her since there was no peace.”
16 Through their visions, the prophets of Israel envisioned tranquility for Yerushalayim despite the absence of peace, as the Eternal Reality pronounced.
17 Now, Heir of Humanity, confront the women among your people who fabricate prophecies. Speak against them.

18 Articulate the following: “The Sovereign Captain decrees: Doom to the women who bind magic adornments on their arms and prepare shrouds of varying lengths for their heads to capture individuals. Would you prey on the lives of my people while safeguarding your own?
19 You have dishonored me among my people for mere scraps of barley and bread. By spreading falsehoods to my people, who are prone to trust lies, you’ve ended the lives of those who deserved to live and allowed those who should perish to survive.
20 So, this is how the Eternal Reality proclaims: “I’m opposed to your enchanted bands with which you trap individuals like avians. I will rip them off your arms, liberating those people whom you’ve ensnared just like birds.
21 I will rip apart your disguises and liberate my people from your grip so they will not remain victims under your influence. At that point, you will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain.
22 Since you’ve distressed the authentic with your falsehoods, even though I didn’t cause them any harm, and due to your motivation towards the impure to persist in their malicious actions rather than amending their ways for their survival.
23 From now forward, you will not witness false prophecies or engage in divination. I will free my people from your control, and then you will acknowledge that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22060 IDOLATERS CONDEMNED

14 A group of senior leaders from Israel approached me and sat before me.

[2] The Sovereign Captain’s message was delivered to me.
[3] These individuals have fabricated counterfeit idolized deities in their thoughts and positioned vile obstacles of unworthy choice in front of themselves. Is it appropriate for me to entertain their questions?
[4] So, address them and let them know the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign, made the following statement: “If an Israelite builds any idolized deities in his inner-self and places an impure obstacle in front of his face, and then approaches an eternally wise servant: I, the Sovereign Captain, will respond to him under his insane worship of idolized deities,

[5] to capture the inner-selves of the Israelites. They will be cut off from Me because they entertain counterfeit idolized deities!
[6] Proclaim to the people of Israel that the Eternal Reality directives: Change your inner-selves and lives, abandon your idolized deities, and relinquish all your vile acts!
[7] If either any native Israeli or any foreigner living in Israel distances themselves from me, installs the memory of their idolized deities in their inner-selves, positions his guilt-causing stumbling block in front of themselves, and then comes to a prophet to seek my guidance, I, the Sovereign Captain, will personally provide them the response.
[8] I will confront those individuals, turning them into a warning and an object of ridicule. I will separate them from my ensovereigned lifestyle community. Thereupon, you will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain.
[9] If the prophet is tricked into uttering a vision, I, the Sovereign Captain, deceive the prophet. I will employ my strength against him and obliterate him from the midst of my people, Israel.
[10] The prophet and the one seeking his guidance will share the same guilt.
[11] From now forward, the people of Israel will not deviate from me, nor will they continue to taint themselves with their numerous transgressions. They are destined to be my people, and I am their Preeminent Sovereign, proclaiming the Eternal Reality.

§ 22070 YERUSHALAYIM’S JUDGMENT INESCAPABLE

[12] The Sovereign Captain’s message was delivered to me.
[13] “Human, when a nation acts fruitlessly against me, resulting in my intervention to destroy their food source, inflict them with starvation, and bring about the demise of both their populace and livestock.
[14] Even these authentic individuals—Noah, Daniel, and Job—could exclusively ensure their survival through their integrity by proclaiming the Eternal Reality.

[15] Suppose I unleash dangerous animals within that nation, turning it barren and uninhabitable due to them, preventing anyone from traversing through it for fear of these creatures.
[16] The Sovereign Captain vouches for his life; even if these three individuals were present, they couldn’t save their offspring. They could exclusively ensure their survival while the terrain would remain barren.
[17] Suppose I wage war on that nation and command, ‘Allow warfare to sweep the territory, eliminating its inhabitants and fauna. ’
[18] As sure as my existence proclaims the Eternal Reality, they couldn’t rescue their offspring even if these three individuals resided there. Exclusively, they could be spared.
[19] Suppose I inflict a pestilence on that country, venting my anger on it through mass carnage, leading to the demise of its residents and their livestock.

20 As the Eternal Reality, I affirm that they wouldn't be able to rescue their offspring even if Noah, Daniel, and Job existed in it. Their authentic conduct would exclusively assure their redemption.
21 So declares the Eternal Reality: Imagine the severity when I unleash on Yerushalayim my four disastrous acts of judgment—war, scarcity of food, ferocious creatures, and disease—to eradicate all human and animal life.
22 Nonetheless, a few will remain—children who will escape. They will approach you, and witnessing their behavior and deeds, you will find solace concerning the calamity I have inflicted on Yerushalayim—all the destruction I have imposed on it.
23 Observing their behavior and actions will bring you comfort, as you will realize that everything I've done was not without a valid reason," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 22080 YERUSHALAYIM AS A USELESS VINE

15 A message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to me.
2 "Heir of Humanity, how is the vine's timber different from any other tree in the forest?

3 Can its wood be used to craft anything valuable? Can pegs be made from it to hang items?
4 Once placed in the fire, the flames consume both ends, leaving the core charred. Does it retain any value or utility after that?
5 If it was useless when whole, can it be of any value now that it is charred and burned?
6 So, this is the declaration of the Eternal Reality: Just as I designated the vine's wood to be burned, I will treat the inhabitants of Yerushalayim likewise.
7 I will oppose them. Even if they escape one fire, another will consume them. You will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain when I show my hostility towards them.
8 The Sovereign Captain declares that the land will be wasted due to their lack of loyalty."

§ 22090 YERUSHALAYIM A CHEATING WIFE

16 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
2 Heir of Humanity exposes Yerushalayim's repulsive acts.
3 Declare, "The Eternal Reality proclaims to Yerushalayim: Your origins trace back to the Canaanites; your ancestor was an Amorite and your First Lady a Hittite."
4 When you were born, nobody severed your umbilical cord, bathed, or swaddled you.
5 You were discarded in a barren field, detested from birth.
6 As I passed by, I saw you struggling in your blood and commanded you to survive!

7 I facilitated your growth. You matured into womanhood, but you were still uncovered.
8 I noticed you had reached the age for affection. I extended my cloak over you, shielding your naked form. I pledged my trust and established an agreement, proclaiming the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces; hence, you became mine.
9 I cleansed you with water, eliminated your blood, and rubbed you with aromatic oils.
10 I adorned you in fine apparel and provided soft leather shoes. I wrapped you in premium linen and high-end attire.
11 I adorned you with necklaces and bracelets to make you look beautiful.
12 I adorned your nose with a ring, embellished your ears with earrings, and placed a wreath on your head with majestic beauty.

13 You were adorned with gold and silver; your garments were luxurious linen, silk, and ornately stitched fabric. Your diet consisted of honey, olive oil, and fine flour. You blossomed into exceptional beauty and ascended to the stature of a First Lady.
14 You garnered renown among all nations due to your beauty. The Sovereign Captain says that your beauty epitomizes perfection because of the magnificence I gave to you.
15 You relied on your attractiveness and acted like a harlot. You gave your amorous advances to every passer-by, and he claimed your beauty.
16 You used some of your clothing to construct decorated shrines for lewd acts.
17 You used the ornaments I gave you to fabricate masculine effigies and partook in acts of harlotry with them.
18 You used your ornate garments to clothe them and presented my oil and incense to them.
19 You honored the sustenance I provided with aromatic absolving payments," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

20 You even offered your sons and daughters as a meal for your idolized deities. Was your harlotry not sufficient?
21 You exterminated my offspring and offered them as scorched absolving payments to counterfeit idolized deities.
22 Amidst your abhorrent activities, you failed to recall your infancy when you lay uncovered and defenseless in your blood.
23 How terrible it will be for you," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, "beyond all your impure deeds.
24 You constructed a platform for yourself and fabricated a high place of joyful adoration in every city square.
25 You faked elevated adoration sites at each intersection, dishonored your allure, offering yourself without restraint to every passer-by, amplifying your immorality.
26 You committed shameful acts with the Egyptians, triggering my wrath with your escalating immorality.
27 Therefore, I used my power against you, reducing your lands; I handed you over to the Philistine Warrior women who despise you, and they were appalled by your indecent behavior.
28 You also committed wrong acts with the Assyrians as your desires were unquenchable, yet even this didn't fulfill your desire.
29 You escalated your licentious acts to Babylon, yet even this didn't fulfill your desire.
30 "I am angry towards you," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "considering you commit all these actions, behaving recklessly as an audacious harlot!" 31 "Crafting your religious shrines at every road junction and establishing your elevated platforms in every town square, you differed from a harlot, given that you disdained remuneration.
32 You are a disloyal spouse! You favor outsiders over your mate!
33 While the norm is for harlots to receive payments, you distribute presents to your admirers, enticing them to approach you from all corners for your wrong indulgences.

34 In your acts of immorality, you are not like others; no one pursues you for your services.
Indeed, you are the reverse, as you are the one who provides payment while receiving none in return.
35 From now forward, you harlot, listen to the message from the Sovereign Captain!
36 The Sovereign Captain declares: Due to your rampant desire and the revealing of your nakedness through your harlotry with your paramours, and because of all your repugnant idolized deities, and for providing them with your children's lifeblood, 37 Therefore, I will assemble all your partners, those you took delight in and cherished and despised. I will rally them against you from every direction. I will leave you unclothed for them to witness, and they will see your absolute nudity.

38 I will impose on you the penalties deserved by women engaging in extramarital infidelities and those who spill blood; I will envelop you in the bloody fury of my rage and envy.
39 I will hand you over to those you desire, who will demolish your mounds and ruthlessly destroy your elevated places of expression of joyful adoration. They will tear off your garments, seize your beautiful ornaments, and leave you utterly bare.
40 An assembly will be incited against you, who will pelt you with stones and slaughter you with their tactical blades.
41 Your homes will be set ablaze, and penalties will be administered in the presence of numerous females. I will halt your acts of harlotry, and no longer will you finance your paramours.
42 My fury towards you will be satisfied, and my jealous rage will depart from you. I'll find tranquility and will cease to be angry.
43 As you have forgotten the days of your youth and incited my fury with your actions, I pledge, as the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, to hold you accountable and let the consequences of your actions fall on you. Haven't you included indecent behavior on top of all your disgusting practices?
44 All those who use wise sayings will associate you with this saying: As the mother is, so is her daughter.

45 Undeniably, you reflect the nature of your mother, who harbored disdain for her spouse and offspring. Likewise, you share the actions of your siblings who scorned their partners and progeny. The family traces back to a Hittite mother and an Amorite father.
46 Your senior sibling was Samaria, residing northward of you alongside her offspring; your junior sibling, inhabiting southward of you with her offspring, was Sodom.
47 Not only did you adopt their customs and mimic their disgusting habits, but in short order, your actions became even more corrupt than theirs.
48 The Almighty Sovereign Captain affirms with absolute certainty that your sister Sodom and her offspring have never committed the deeds you and your offspring have.
49 Sodom, your sibling city, and her daughters committed wrongdoing by wallowing in arrogance and excess while showing indifference; they refused to assist those who were impoverished or in need.
50 They were arrogant and committed repulsive acts in my presence. So, I eradicated them, as you witnessed.
51 Samaria hasn't performed even half of your misdeeds. You have indulged in more contemptible acts than they ever did, and you've made your sisters appear authentic through all your appalling actions.
52 Endure your humiliation, as you have provided some grounds for your sisters' justification. Your transgressions were more vile than theirs, so they seem more authentic than you. Therefore, feel embarrassed and tolerate humiliation, as you have portrayed your sisters as having integrity.
53 Nevertheless, I intend to restore the prosperity of Sodom and her daughters, Samaria and her daughters, including your prosperity.
54 So, you'll accept your humiliation and feel disgraced for all your actions in offering them solace."

55 "And your siblings, Sodom, her offspring, and Samaria, will regain their previous condition. Likewise, you and your offspring will also revert to your previous state.

56 During your arrogance, you wouldn't even utter your sibling's name, Sodom.

57 The daughters of Edom and all her neighbors now deride you before the exposure of your depravity, as do the daughters of the Philistine Warriors— everyone around you who loathes you.
58 As the Sovereign Captain states, you must suffer the repercussions of your iniquity and loathsome abominations.
59 The message from the Eternal Reality is clear: I will respond to you in a manner fitting to your actions, given that you have disrespected my solemn vow by violating our agreement.

60 Despite this, I will recall the pact made with you in your youth and secure a perpetual solemn agreement with you.
61 When you recall your prior conduct and feel embarrassed having gotten your older and younger siblings back, I will establish them as your daughters but not associated with our agreement.
62 I will affirm my agreement with you, and you shall comprehend that I am the Sovereign Captain.
63 After I wipe away all your actions, you will recall and feel humiliated, and you will never speak again because of your disgrace," as per the declaration of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 22100 TWO EAGLES AND A VINE

17 This message came to me from the Sovereign Captain.
2 Heir of Humanity: propose an enigma and narrate it to the Israelites as a symbolic tale.
3 Communicate to them, "The Eternal Reality proclaims: A giant eagle, endowed with robust wings, elongated feathers, and various colored plumage, arrived at Lebanon. It seized the summit of a cedar tree.
4 He detached its highest branch sprout and transported it to a commerce territory, planting it in a metropolis teeming with traders.

5 He took a native seedling and sowed it in nutrient-rich soil, setting it up like a willow beside a source of ample water.
6 It grew and expanded like a network, spreading outward while staying rooted in its foundation.
7 Another immense eagle appeared with mighty wings and abundant plumage. The vine extended its roots towards this eagle from the garden bed where it was established and aimed its branches at him in the hope of acquiring water.
8 The vine had been situated in the fertile ground near plentiful water to yield branches, produce inner fruit, and evolve into a magnificent vine.
9 Announce to them, 'So declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces: Shall it flourish? Will it not be torn out from its root system and denuded of its produce, causing it to fade? All its budding leaves will wilt away. It doesn't necessitate immense force or a populous workforce to extirpate it from its roots.
10 Even though it has been set into the ground, will it flourish? Won't it entirely wilt when the East wind hits it—perish in the region where it sprouted?"
11 The Sovereign Captain's message reached me:
12 Address the insubordinate populace, "Aren't you aware of what these circumstances imply?" Inform them. "The Prime Ruler of Babylon journeyed to Yerushalayim, seized her Prime Ruler and dignitaries, and escorted them back to Babylon with him.
13 He then selected a descendant of the monarchy and established a pact with him, binding him with a sworn promise. Furthermore, he exiled the prominent figures of the territory.

14 For the realm to remain humble, incapable of regaining its power and exclusively enduring by adhering to his agreement.
15 The Prime Ruler defied him by dispatching emissaries to Egypt to acquire tactical personnel transports and a vast military force. Can such a person triumph? Can an individual who performs these actions escape? Can he violate the agreement and still manage to evade capture?

16 The Prime Ruler of Judah shall undoubtedly perish in Babylon, the place of the Prime Ruler who appointed him to rule, for he showed contempt for his sworn oath and violated his solemn agreement, declares the Almighty Sovereign Captain, as long as I exist.
17 Even with his mighty military and vast crowd, Pharaoh couldn't assist him during the conflict when they constructed ramps and siege structures to eliminate numerous lives.
18 He showed contempt for the promise by disregarding the agreement. Despite making a commitment and committing these actions, he will not evade punishment."
19 The Sovereign Captain pronounces: "As I exist, I will punish him for rejecting my exalted promise and violating my agreement.
20 I'll cast my net over him, and he'll be ensnared in my trap. I'll transport him to Babylon and judge him there for his disloyalty to me.
21 His elite fighters will be defeated in battle, and those who survive will be dispersed in all directions. And then, you will comprehend that I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared this."
22-24 The Almighty Sovereign Captain declares: "I will take a key piece from the top of a structure and integrate it into a new path; I will position this Foundation Link where it can thrive and be visible to all."

§ 22110 THE ONE WHO COMMITS UNWORTHY CHOICES WILL DIE

18 A message from the Sovereign Captain was relayed to me.

2 "What does it mean when people say, 'Fathers consume unripe fruit, leaving the children with a bitter taste in their mouths?'"
3 "I assure you," says the Almighty Sovereign Captain, "this saying will no longer be used in Israel."
4 "Remember, all lives belong to me; the one who commits an unworthy choice will face death."
5 "On the Preeminent Sovereign's obliteration of the plain's cities, He heeded Abraham's intervention, rescuing Lot from the calamity that engulfed the towns where Lot resided."
6 "He refrains from partaking in meals at skeptical joyful adoration sites on the hills, nor does he engage in idolized deity adoration. He remains loyal and does not violate his neighbor's spouse or engage in sexual intimacy with a woman during her menstruation."
7 "He doesn't exploit anyone but returns collateral for a debt. He refrains from theft; instead, he shares his nourishment with those in need and offers clothes to those without."
8 "He doesn't demand repayments with interest or earn profits unjustly. He refrains from immorality and ensures fair judgment among individuals."
9 "Conforming to my directives and systematically observing them, such an individual is just; he is guaranteed to endure and proclaim the Eternal Reality."
10 "Imagine he fathers an aggressive male heir, a shedder of blood, or who commits any of these acts."

11 “Even though his father never perpetrated such acts, the male heir consumes food at mountain temples. He tarnishes his neighbor’s matrimonial purification by committing an extramarital affair.”
12 “He mistreats the helpless and needy, indulges in theft, refuses to return borrowed items, reveres counterfeit idolized deities, and performs repulsive acts.”
13 “He charges interest when he lends money and makes extra income. Can such a man survive? He will not! Given that he has committed all these despicable acts, he will undoubtedly face death; the blame for his death will be entirely on him.”

14 “Imagine if this man’s male heir has a child who chooses not to emulate such actions despite being aware of all his father’s wrongdoings.”
15 “He refrains from consuming food at exalted mountain locations and avoids flattering worshipped idolized deities. He steers clear of violating his neighbor’s wife.”
16 “He neither mistreats nor extorts anyone nor seizes property unfairly. Instead, he shares his nourishment with those in need and furnishes attire for those who lack it.”
17 “This individual refrains from oppressing the underprivileged, neither demanding nor accepting interest. This offspring obeys My directives and lives by my regulations. This offspring’s father’s transgressions will not cause his demise; he is guaranteed survival.”
18 “On the other hand, his father will meet his end due to his transgressions, having exploited unfairly, committed theft against his relative, and performed counterfeit acts in his community.”
19 “Nevertheless, your question, ‘Why isn’t the male heir burdened with his father’s iniquity?’ Since the male heir has accomplished what is lawful and reasonable and has diligently followed all my statutes, he is sure to live.”
20 “The individual who commits an unworthy choice is the one who will perish. Neither will a child carry the burden of a parent’s wrongdoing, nor will a parent carry the burden of a child’s wrongdoing. The authentic acts of the honest will be attributed to them, while the wrongdoings of the impure will be held against them.”
21 “If an evil individual renounces all their wrongdoings, adheres to all my directives, and practices fairness and right relationships, that individual will undoubtedly survive; they will not perish.”
22 “All their past misdeeds will not be held against them. Owing to their authentic actions, they will continue to exist.”
23 “‘Do I find any delight in the impure’s demise?’” the Sovereign Captain declares. “‘Would it be better if he changed his ways and lived?’”
24 “Should an authentic individual deviate from their ethical behavior, engage in wrongdoing, and perform the same horrendous actions as an evildoer, will they survive? All the authentic acts they have accomplished would be forgotten. Due to the disloyalty they are responsible for and the unworthy choices they’ve committed, their demise is inevitable.”
25 “You argue, ‘The Sovereign Captain’s path is unfair. ’ Listen, inhabitants of Israel, is it not my path that is fair? Could it be your unjust path?”
26 “When deviating from their ethical path and indulging in unworthy choices, an authentic individual will face death; it’s due to the unworthy choice they’ve perpetrated that death will ensue.”
27 “Suppose an individual with a history of wrongdoing abandons their fullness of unworthy choices and actions and chooses to act lawfully and authentically; in that case, they will succeed in preserving their existence.”
28 “With the reassessment of their illicit actions and the resolution to abandon them, they are sure to persist in life, and they will not succumb to death.”
29 “The House of Israel asserts, ‘the Preeminent Sovereign’s ways are not equitable. ’ Are my actions not fair, house of Israel? Could it be possible that your actions are inequitable ones?”

30 “Therefore, the Eternal Reality declares that the esteemed people of Israel will all be judged according to their deeds. Change your lifestyle! Divert from all your wrongdoings; hence, transgressions will not lead to your destruction.”
31 “Discard all the unworthy choices you have committed, and acquire a renewed mindset and inner-self. Why choose death, inhabitants of Israel?”
32 “I do not enjoy seeing anyone die,” declares the Eternal Reality. “Change your ways and exist!”

§ 22120 A LAMENT OVER ISRAEL’S PRIME RULERS

19 Compose a lament for the leaders of the nation of Israel.
2 Say, “Your city’s foundation was like a proud First Lady among the mighty, mentoring young leaders who sought greatness.

3 She nurtured one who rose to power, becoming fierce and ambitious. He gained strength, exploiting others and devouring the weak.
4 The surrounding nations heard of his actions, and they conspired against him. They captured him in their trap and sent him away to captivity, far from home in Egypt.
5 “Seeing her dreams dashed and hopes destroyed, she invested in another leader, shaping him to be intense and unrelenting.
6 He, too, prowled among the powerful, wielding his strength to dominate and consume the vulnerable.
7 He demolished neighborhoods, leaving ruins where vibrant communities once thrived. The people of the land lived in terror, overwhelmed by his roaring authority.
8 But the international powers united against him. They set their trap, captured him, and subdued him.
9 They caged him, sending him to the Prime Ruler of Babylonia, silencing his voice on the streets of Israel where he once ruled.
10 “Your city’s essence was like a flourishing vine in an urban park, nourished by deep resources, growing and expanding with influence.
11 It’s offshoots were strong and suited to leadership and authority. It grew tall, overshadowing everything around it, recognized for its reach and impact.
12 But it was torn up in anger and cast down. A scorching wind of hardship dried it out, leaving it barren, its branches weakened and burned by destructive forces.
13 Now, it is planted in an abandoned lot, lonely and without sustenance.
14 Flames have erupted from within its core, consuming its remnants. No strong leader remains, no fit to bear authority’s weight.”
15 This is a lament to be spoken as such.

§ 22130 REBELLIOUS ISRAEL PURGED

20 During the seventh year, on the tenth day of the fifth month, esteemed representatives of Israel sought knowledge from the Eternal Reality and positioned themselves before me.
2 The Sovereign Captain’s message came to me:
3 “O human, tell Israel’s elders, ‘The Sovereign Captain proclaims: Did you come to consult me? I will not permit it, ’ asserts the Sovereign Captain.”
4 “Mortal man, are you ready to judge them? Remind them of their forefathers’ disgusting actions.”

5 Tell them: "'The Sovereign Captain proclaims: When I chose Israel, I pledged to Jacob's descendants and disclosed myself in Egypt. With a solemn oath, I affirmed that I am your Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign.
6 On that day, I pledged to guide them out of Egypt to a land abundant in milk and honey, surpassing all others in beauty.
7 I instructed them to eliminate the detestable idolized deities captivating their gaze. Don't sully yourselves with Egypt's counterfeit idolized deities. I am your sole Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain."
8 But they defied me, unwilling to pay heed; they failed to discard the appalling images and abandon Egypt's counterfeit idolized deities. Consequently, I planned to unleash my fury on them in Egypt.
9 I led them out of Egypt to preserve my reputation and prevent my name from being dishonored among the nations.
10 I guided them into the wilderness.
11 I presented my directives and disclosed my instructions, compliance with which ensures life.
12 I also presented my Days of Rest as a symbol for them to understand that I, the Sovereign Captain, made them set-apart."
13 But in the wilderness, Israel defied me. They disregarded my decrees and spurned my laws by which anyone who adheres shall prosper. They massively violated my days of rest.
Therefore, I decided to unleash my fury and eradicate them in the wilderness.

14 Nevertheless, I acted to preserve my name's dignity, preventing it from being tarnished in the eyes of the nations who witnessed me leading them out.
15 In the wilderness, I pledged not to lead them into the land abundant in milk and honey, the most illustrious of all regions.
16 They disregarded my directives, did not observe my statutes, and defiled my rest days, for their inner-selves remained loyal to their counterfeit idolized deities.
17 Nevertheless, I regarded them with compassion, refraining from eradicating them in the desert.
18 I told their offspring not to follow their forefathers' decrees or tarnish themselves with counterfeit idolized deities.
19 'I am your celestial authority; adhere to my directives and abide by my regulations. ' 20 Commission my Days of Rest as a symbol between us. Consequently, you'll recognize I am your Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign." 21 Yet the children defied me: They didn't adhere to my statutes or diligently follow my laws, from which I declared, "The individual who complies will survive," and they dishonored my exalted days. Therefore, I resolved to release my fury on them in the barren wilderness.
22 However, I restrained my action to uphold my reputation and ensure it would not be defiled in the sight of the nations who saw me lead them out.
23 With a raised hand, I solemnly pledged in the wilderness to scatter them among various countries and distribute them across different lands.
24 They had not adhered to my directives, dismissed my statutes, violated my days of rest, and focused on the counterfeit idolized deities of their ancestors.
25 Therefore, I handed them detrimental decrees and regulations by which they could not sustain life.
26 I tainted them via their absolving payments, causing dread by the extinction of each first-born so they would recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain.

27 So, mortal man, converse with the inhabitants of Israel and communicate to them, "The Eternal Reality proclaims: In this manner too, your forefathers insulted me by breaking trust with me.

28 Once I led them to the territory I had vowed to grant them, they observed any lofty hill or verdant tree; at those spots, they performed their absolving rituals, provoked me with their absolving payments, released their fragrant incense, and dispensed their pouring offerings.
29 I asked them: ‘What worship site are you visiting?’ (It remains known as Bamah even today.)
The revival of disobedient Israel.
30 Speak to the Israelites and say: ‘The Sovereign Captain proclaims: Will you degrade yourselves as your forefathers did and yearn for their abhorrent idolized deities?’
31 Even though you’re presenting your absolving payments and making your children walk through the fire, you persist in contaminating yourselves with all your idolized deities until now.
Do you presume to seek answers from me, you people of Israel? As sure as my existence proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, I will not entertain your queries.
32 Despite your aspirations to follow in the footsteps of the worldly communities revering wood and stone, the thoughts you harp on will never be actualized.

33 I, the Sovereign Captain, affirm that as long as I exist, I will rule over you with overwhelming force, an extended arm, and an outpouring of fury.
34 I will extract you from the nations and assemble you from the lands where you have been dispersed—utilizing a mighty hand, an extended arm, and the display of my furious wrath.
35 I will guide you through the desert, inhabited by various nations, and render my judgments upon you in a one-on-one confrontation.
36 Just as I pronounced judgment on your forefathers in the desert region of Egypt, I will similarly pass judgment on you,” affirms the Eternal Reality.
37 I will observe you closely as you come under My authority and draw you into the allegiance of the promise.

38 I will cleanse you of those who rebel against me. While I will indeed lead the rebels away from the land they currently inhabit, they will not be able to step foot in the land of Israel.
Subsequently, you will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain.

39 House of Israel, the Eternal Reality declares: Continue with the worship of your counterfeit idolized deities, every single one of you! However, you will heed My Path in the future and cease to taint my exalted reputation with your absolving payments and counterfeit idolized deities.
40 On my celestial hill, the lofty peak of Israel, as stated by the Eternal Reality, all the inhabitants of Israel will express joyful adoration to me in that territory, and there I will welcome them. I will demand your tributes, finest absolving payments, and set-apart absolving payments there.
41 As a pleasing aroma, I will receive you when I lead you away from the nations and collect you from the territories where you were dispersed, and through you, my exaltedness will be demonstrated for all countries to see.
42 Your recognition of me as the Sovereign Captain will be confirmed when I lead you to Israel’s territory, a region I solemnly promised to grant to your forefathers.
43 In that place, you will recollect your behavior and every deed through which you have tainted yourselves, and you will hate yourselves due to all the evil acts you have committed.
44 People of Israel, the Sovereign Captain declares that when I honor my reputation by dealing with you, and not based on your impure actions and counterfeit behavior, you will surely recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain.

§ 22140 VISION AGAINST THE SOUTH

45 The Sovereign Captain’s message was conveyed to me.
46 “Mortal man, direct your attention to the South; declare your opposition to the South and foretell against the forest of the southern area.

47 Communicate to the woodland of the South: ‘Listen to the command of the Sovereign Captain. The Sovereign Captain declares: I am on the verge of igniting a fire in you, which will eradicate all your trees, both alive and dead. The fiery inferno will remain unstoppable, leaving everyone from the South to the North feeling its scorching heat. ’
48-49 All humankind will perceive that I, the Sovereign Captain, have ignited it; it will not be extinguished.” I expressed, “Almighty the Preeminent Sovereign, people are commenting about me. Is he merely weaving tales?”

§ 22150 BABYLON, THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S TACTICAL BLADE

21 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
2 “Heir of Humanity, turn your attention towards Yerushalayim and denounce the fortress—Foretell about the territory of Israel.
3 Declare to her, ‘This is the proclamation of the Sovereign Captain: I stand against you. I will unsheathe my blade and eradicate the authentic and the counterfeit from your midst. ’
4 In light of my intention to eliminate both the authentic and the vicious, my blade will be drawn, confronting all humanity from the southern to the northern regions.
5 everyone will realize that I, the Sovereign Captain, have unsheathed my tactical blade; it won’t be sheathed again.”
6 “In their presence, lament, Heir of Humanity! Express your distress with a shattered inner-self and severe sorrow.
7 When they question you about your sighs, you are to respond, ‘The cause is the forthcoming news. Each inner-self will surrender to terror, and every hand will slacken; every resolution will lose its vigor, and every knee will trickle with liquid. ’ It is approaching! It will indeed occur,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
8 The Sovereign Captain’s message was delivered to me:
9 “Human being, envision and declare, ‘The Sovereign Captain proclaims: A blade, a blade, honed and burnished’

10 Honed for a devastating massacre, polished to dazzle like lightning!’ Can we find delight in the power staff of my governance progeny? The tactical blade scoffs at all such pieces of wood.
11 The tactical blade is prepped for shining and seized in the palm; it’s honed and gleamed, made primed for the executioner’s grasp.”
12 “Shout and yell, human being, because the tactical blade is intended for my people; it is against all the rulers of Israel. The tactical blade will slay them along with my people. So, express your sorrow by smacking your chest.
13 “Destruction is coming to test everything. And what will happen when it strikes down even those in power holding the weapons of authority? Their rule will not last, declares the Eternal Reality.”

14 “Therefore, mortal, vision and vigorously clap your hands. Let the lethal blade hit twice, maybe even thrice. It represents the instrument of carnage, an instrument for a vast massacre, trapping them from all directions.
15 For inner-selves to lose courage and have a multitude of casualties, I have positioned the slaughtering weapon at every entrance. Observe! It is crafted to flash like lightning, ready and held for execution.
16 Make your tactical blade thrust to the right, move your tactical blade’s edge to the left, and engage in warfare.
17 I’ll clap my hands, stopping my rage. I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared it.”
18 The Sovereign Captain’s message was conveyed to me.
19 “Humans delineate two paths for the Prime Ruler of Babylon’s tactical blade to follow, originating from the same nation. Construct a sign at the point where the path diverges towards the city.
20 Designate one route for the tactical blade toward Rabbah of the Ammonites and another towards Judah and the fortified city of Yerushalayim.
21 The Babylonian Prime Ruler will pause at the crossroads, where the two paths intersect, for divination: He will use projectiles in a lottery method, enquire with his idolized deities, and study the animal’s liver.”

22 The discernment for Yerushalayim will land in his dominant hand, instructing him to establish battering rams, issue the orders for carnage, sound the war cry, position battering rams by the gates, construct an assault ramp, and construct fortifications for a siege.
23 Those who pledged loyalty to him will perceive it as a misleading vision. Yet, he will evoke their transgressions, leading to their capture.”
24 “So,” the Eternal Reality declares, “Given that you’ve made your transgressions noticeable through your blatant defiance, exposing your unworthy choices in every action you take—because you’ve proceeded this way—you’ll be led into captivity.”
25 “O corrupt and full of unworthy choices, leader of Israel, your day of retribution has arrived; the peak of your punishment has been reached.”
26 The Sovereign Captain decrees: “Shed the governance wreath, discard the sovereign insignia. Things will evolve: The humble will ascend, and the lofty will descend.
27 Destruction! Destruction! I will make it a total devastation! The dominion will not be re-established until the one with a legitimate claim to it arrives. I will then grant it to him.”
28 “You, Heir of Humanity, deliver this celestial proclamation,” ‘The Preeminent Sovereign Captain declares concerning the Ammonites and their mockery: Pay Heed! A weapon, a weapon unsheathed for execution, honed to obliterate and to gleam like a bolt of lightning!
29 Despite deceitful prophecies and untruthful predictions about you, it will be placed on the throats of the evildoers destined to be killed, whose judgment day has arrived, whose moment of ultimate retribution is at its peak.”
30 “Place the tactical blade back into its holder. You will be judged in the region where you were formed, in the territory of your origin.
31 My fury will be unleashed on you; my intense rage will consume you like a fire; I will surrender you to the mercy of heartless men, men adept at wreaking havoc.
32 You shall serve as kindling for the flames; your lifeblood will seep into your soil, and you will not be recalled anymore—for it is I, the Sovereign Captain, who has decreed this.”

§ 22160 JUDGMENT ON YERUSHALAYIM'S UNWORTHY CHOICES

22 A message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to me.
2 "Mortal man, are you ready to condemn the bloody city? Will you expose all her vile deeds?
3 Proclaim: 'This is the command of the Eternal Reality: You metropolis that hastens her ruin by pouring blood within her confines and disgraces herself by manufacturing idolized deities.
4 You are culpable due to the blood you have spilled and have corrupted yourself with the artifacts you have crafted. Your final days are on you, and your era's conclusion has arrived. Consequently, I have rendered you derision to the nations and a source of mockery to all lands.
5 Individuals close by and far off will ridicule you, a notorious town brimming with chaos.
6 Observe how each ruler of Israel within you employs his authority to spill blood.
7 Within your borders, disrespect towards fathers and mothers is rampant; you exploit those from foreign lands and inflict injustice on the orphaned and bereaved.
8 You have scorned what I deem exalted and violated my rest days.
9 Within you, individuals spread false accusations to cause harm; in your community, some partake in meals at the mountain temples and engage in wrong activities.
10 Within you, men commit unworthy acts with their father's wives; you also have individuals disrespecting women amid their menstrual impurity.
11 Within you, a male engages in a detestable act with another man's wife, another shamefully dishonors his daughter-in-law, and another infringes on his sister, who is his father's child.
12 Individuals among you are involved in taking bribes to commit murder; you apply high interest rates and make money from the disadvantaged. You take unfair advantage of your neighbors for personal gain. Yet, you have neglected me," proclaims the Eternal Reality.

13 "I will clap my hands in response to the dishonest profit you've amassed, and the blood spilled within your community.
14 Will your strength and bravery last on the day of my confrontation with you? I, the Sovereign Captain, have communicated my intentions and will execute them.
15 Your filthiness will be purged as I scatter you throughout various nations and foreign lands.
16 After you've been dishonored in the sight of other countries, you'll realize that I am the Sovereign Captain."
17 The Sovereign Captain's message was communicated to me.
18 "Mortal man, the people of Israel are like residue to me; they are all remnants of copper, tin, iron, and lead left in a smelting furnace. They are nothing more than the leftover impurities of silver.
19 The Eternal Reality declares: 'Given that you've all turned into waste, I am set to assemble you within Yerushalayim.
20 Just as various metals like silver, copper, iron, lead, and tin are collected and subjected to a scorching blast to be molten, I will amass you amid my wrath and rage, station you within the city confines, and liquefy you.
21 I will assemble you and exhale the fire of my fury on you, resulting in you being liquified within her.
22 Similar to how silver undergoes smelting in a furnace, so shall you experience a comparable process within the city, and you will not doubt that I, the Sovereign Captain, have unleashed my fury on you. '"
23 The Sovereign Captain's message again reached me.

24 “Mortal man communicates to the territory that it is an area that hasn’t been purified nor seen rainfall in the time of fierce vengeance.
25 A secret scheme involving her leaders is present within her, much like a ferocious lion rending its victim; they consume individuals and seize valuable artifacts and precious possessions, increasing the count of widows within her.

26 Her ensovereigned mediators have mistreated My path and desecrated my exalted entities; they fail to differentiate between the exalted and the mundane; they assert there is no distinction between the pure and the impure; they deliberately overlook my designated days of rest, leading to my dishonor among them.
27 The authorities in her midst are comparable to wolves ripping up their victims; they engage in bloodshed and eradication of individuals to amass ill-gotten wealth.
28 Their seers gloss over their actions with misleading visions and deceitful predictions, asserting, ‘This is the decree of the Eternal Reality’—despite the Sovereign Captain not having uttered a word.
29 The inhabitants of the region exploit and swindle; they suppress the impoverished and disadvantaged, denying them fair treatment and unjustly maltreating the outsiders.
30 I searched amidst them for an individual who could reconstruct the barrier and place himself in the broken section in my presence, defending the territory so I did not have to eradicate it, yet I found none.
31 So, I will unleash my fury on them, eradicating them with the blaze of my anger, recompensing their actions on their heads,” proclaiming the Eternal Reality.

§ 22170 TWO ADULTEROUS SISTERS

23 The Sovereign Captain communicated his message to me.
2 “Heir of Humanity, two females were the offspring of a mutual mother.
3 They indulged in sexual misconduct in Egypt, involving themselves in such acts since their younger days. In that territory, their chests were caressed, and the purity of their bosom was touched. The older citizen was named Oholah, while her sibling was called Oholibah. They belonged to me, giving birth to boys and girls.

4 Oholah represents Samaria, and Oholibah symbolizes Yerushalayim.

5 Oholah committed sexual immorality while she belonged to me; she longed for Assyria’s fighters.
6 Adorned in blue, they were all good-looking young men, governors, and officers, adeptly riding their tactical personnel transports.
7 She gave her sexual favors to the cream of the crop among the Assyrians. She tarnished herself with the worshipped idolized deities of every individual she desired.

8 She never abandoned the wrong acts that originated in Egypt during her youth, where men had intimate relations with her, handled her unspoiled breasts, and unleashed their carnal desires on her.

9 Consequently, I handed her over to her suitors, the Assyrians, whom she desired ardently. They exposed her disgrace, seized her children, and executed her using their tactical blades.

10 Her story became infamous among women as they witnessed the justice served against her.

11 Oholibah, her sister, observed this, but her passionate cravings and illicit acts made her even more corrupt than her sibling.
12 She strongly desired the Assyrian chieftains and military leaders, magnificent looking warriors in full uniform, riding on tactical personnel transports, all youthful and attractive.

13 I perceived she had tainted herself; both sisters tread the identical path.
14 She took her immorality to a higher level. She was attracted to men depicted on a wall, and images of Chaldeans were illustrated in bright red.

15 Adorned with sashes tied around their hips and elaborate headdresses on their wreaths, each one resembled the depiction of a Chaldean Babylonian main strike vehicle commander.
16 The instant her eyes beheld them, she was filled with desire and dispatched envoys to them in Babylonia.

17 The men of Babylon approached her, entering her love nest; they tainted her with their impure desires. Once they had made her unclean, she recoiled from them, filled with hate.
18 As she openly admitted her immorality and bared her nakedness, I distanced myself from her in repulsion, just as I had from her sibling.

19 Still, she amplified her acts of immorality, harking back to her adolescent years when she engaged in solicitation in the land of Egypt.
20 There, she yearned for her paramours, whose sexual organs resembled those of donkeys and whose ejaculation mirrored that of horses.

21 So, you yearned for the indecencies of your early years when your chest was gently stroked in Egypt and your youthful mammary glands were tenderly caressed.

22 So, Oholibah declares to the Eternal Reality: “I am going to incite against you those lovers you turned away from in disgust, and I will make them confront you from all directions:
23 the Babylonians, along with all the Chaldeans, inclusive of individuals from Pekod, Shoa, and Koa, and every Assyrian, attractive youthful male, each one of them holding governorship and leadership roles, main strike vehicle drivers, and individuals of notable status, all skillful assault troops.”

24 “They’ll invade you with lethal weapons, strike vehicles, and armored resupply vehicles accompanied by many assault troops. They will encircle you from all directions, armed with large and small ballistic shields and helmets. I will hand you over to them for retribution, and they will penalize you by their standards.

25 My jealous fury will be unleashed on you, bringing about their wrathful actions towards you. They will mutilate you, removing your noses and ears, and the remaining ones among you will meet their end with the tactical blade. Your sons and daughters will be seized, and the remainder of your relatives will be scorched.

26 They will undress you and confiscate your precious ornaments.
27 I will put an end to the indecency and sexual immorality you initiated in Egypt. You will not desire these things anymore, nor will you recall Egypt.

28 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: I am now prepared to hand over you to the people you detest, to those who fill you with disgust.

29 They will treat you with hatred, robbing you of all your hard-earned possessions. You will be left entirely bare, and the disgrace of your sexual misconduct will be laid bare, revealing your indecency and numerous illicit affairs.
30 This predicament has befallen you due to your yearning for the nations and tarnishing yourself with their counterfeit idolized deities.
31 Since you followed your sister's path, I'll hand you the chalice she held.
32 The Eternal Reality proclaims: You will consume your sister's goblet, a vessel. That's broad and profound; given its abundant contents, it will lead to mockery and ridicule.
33 You'll be overcome with drunkenness and grief, a chalice of destruction and desolation identical to the one experienced by your sister, Samaria.
34 You shall guzzle it down, empty it, gnaw on its remnants, and claw at your chest. This sentence, I decree, announces the Eternal Reality.

35 So declares the Eternal Reality: Given that you've neglected me and pushed me into the shadows, you are to endure the repercussions of your unchaste behavior and sexual licentiousness.
36 The Sovereign Captain asked me: "Heir of Humanity, are you prepared to pass judgment on Oholah and Oholibah? Then expose their abominable acts to them.
37 They stand guilty of infidelity, and their hands are stained with blood. They were disloyal to their counterfeit idolized deities; they even offered up the children they gave birth to me as sustenance for these idolized deities.
38 Additionally, they have committed this offense against me: On an identical day, they tainted My Exalted Space and violated my rest days.
39 The day they offered their children to their counterfeit idolized deities, they proceeded to My Exalted Space, making it impure. Such is the act they committed within My fortress.
40 They even dispatched invitations to men who resided far away. On their arrival, you prepared for them, enhanced your eyes with cosmetics, and adorned yourself with precious gems.
41 You reclined on a luxurious sofa, setting up a table in front of it where you arranged my olive oil and incense that belonged to me.
42 The joyful multitude's sound surrounded her; inebriated individuals emerged from the wilderness, accompanied by men with unsophisticated demeanors. They adorned the woman's and her sibling's arms with trinkets and placed ornate wreaths on their heads.
43 "I asserted that they should continue their forbidden relations with her as she is merely a harlot, debilitated by her unworthy sexual choices." '
44 They were intimate with her, in the same manner, one would be with a courtesan; such was their interaction with those depraved women, Oholah and Oholibah.
45 Yet, impartial adjudicators will deliver the punishment generally reserved for women guilty of infidelity and murder because they are disloyal, and their hands are tainted with blood.

46 The Eternal Reality decrees: Summon an assembly against them and consign them to fear and looting.
47 The assembly will pelt them with rocks and hack them to pieces using their tactical blades; they will slaughter their children and set their homes ablaze.
48 I will extinguish indecency throughout the territory, cautioning all females not to replicate your actions.
49 You will bear the repercussions of your indecency and the unworthy choices of expressing joyful adoration for an idolized deity. Subsequently, you will comprehend that I am the Eternal Reality."

§ 22180 YERUSHALAYIM AS A COOKING POT

24 In the ninth year, tenth month, and tenth day, the Preeminent Sovereign’s message from the Sovereign Captain reached me.
2 “Human beings, mark today’s date. The Prime Ruler of Babylon began his assault on Yerushalayim today.
3 Tell this story to the defiant: ‘The Eternal Reality commands: ‘Set the pot on fire; fill it with water. ’
4 Add prime cuts—the leg and shoulder. Load it with the finest bones.
5 Choose the best of the flock. Arrange wood under it for the bones. Boil it and cook the bones thoroughly.
6 The Sovereign Captain declares: Misfortune befalls the murderous city like a pot filled with unremovable filth. Extract its contents piece by piece.
7 The blood she spilled remains within her confines: She dispensed it on the naked rock; she abstained from dispersing it on the Earth where dust would conceal it.
8 To invoke anger and enforce retribution, I displayed her blood on the distinct rock, ensuring it remained unconcealed.
9 The Eternal Reality proclaims: Disaster awaits the city drenched in blood! I will personally heap the firewood high.

10 Pile up the logs, ignite the fire, thoroughly cook the meat incorporating the spices, and allow the bones to become charred.
11 Place the empty vessel over the coals until it gets sufficiently heated, and its bronze incandesces, facilitating the melting of its impurities and vanishing its residue.
12 Despite all attempts, its substantial accumulation has yet to be eradicated, even with fire.
13 Now, your indecency is scandalous. Despite my efforts to purify you, you remained unhealthy from your impurities. You won’t be purified again until my fury towards you is completely satisfied.
14 The Sovereign Captain has announced the verdict. It’s time for me to intercede. I won’t hesitate; no sympathy will be shown, and I won’t change my mind. Your actions and deeds will be the basis of your judgment,” proclaims the Eternal Reality.

§ 22190 EZEKIEL’S WIFE DIES

15 A message from the Sovereign Captain was addressed to me.
16 “Human, I’m about to suddenly deprive you of the person you love the most with a single stroke. However, you should not express sorrow, cry, or let any tears fall.
17 Suppress your grief; do not exhibit sorrow for the departed. Retain your headgear and footwear; refrain from covering your facial hair or consuming the traditional sustenance of those in mourning.
18 ” I addressed the people at dawn, and by sunset, my spouse had passed away. The following day, I followed the orders I had been given.
19 The individuals inquired, “Aren’t you going to enlighten us about how your actions and these happenings relate to us? Why are you behaving in such a manner?”
20 I communicated with them, and a message from the Sovereign Captain was made known to me.

21 “Inform the nation of Israel, ‘This is what the Sovereign Captain declares: I’m prepared to profane my fortress—the fortress you are so proud of, the delight of your sight, and the desire of your inner-self. The tactical blade will slay the sons and daughters you have left in your wake. ’
22 You will mirror my actions. You won’t hide your facial hair or consume the traditional sustenance of those in mourning.
23 Your head covering will remain in place, and your footwear will not be removed. Instead of shedding tears or mourning, you will languish due to your transgressions, expressing your distress among yourselves.
24 Ezekiel is your example; you’ll mimic his actions. You’ll recognize that I am the Eternal Reality when these events unfold.
25 You, the Heir of Humanity, on the day I withdraw their mighty fortress, happiness, splendor, the pleasure of their sight, the longing of their inner-selves, including their offspring and progeny.
26 On that date, an escapee will arrive to inform you about the incident.
27 During that period, your speaking ability will be restored; you will converse with him and cease to be silent. So, you will serve as a symbol to them, and they will acknowledge that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22200 A VISION AGAINST AMMON

25 A message from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to me.
2 “Heir of Humanity, confront the Ammonites and declare a vision against them.
3 Convey to them, ‘Listen to the Sovereign Captain’s decree. The Sovereign Captain proclaims:
In light of your glee over the heresy of my fortress, the devastation of Israel’s land, and the exile of the Judean people.
4 I plan to surrender you to the eastern communities as their property. They will establish their encampments and set up their residences within your territory. They will consume your harvest and partake of your dairy products.

5 Rabbah will be transformed into a grazing field for camels, while Ammon will become a fortress for sheep. This event will affirm that I am, indeed, the Sovereign Captain.
6 So declares the Eternal Reality: Seeing that you’ve expressed delight by clapping your hands and stomping your feet, displaying utter contempt from within your inner-self towards the territory of Israel.
7 I am extending my hand against you, handing you over as loot to multiple nations. I am going to erase your existence from the nations and eliminate you from the countries. I am determined to eradicate you; then, you will realize I am the Sovereign Captain. ’”

§ 22210 A VISION AGAINST MOAB

8 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Because Moab and Seir claim Judah is like all other nations,
9 I will expose Moab’s side, starting with its border cities—Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kiriathaim, the pride of that land.
10 I will hand Moab over to the Ammonites and the eastern communities, ensuring Ammonites are no longer remembered among the nations.

11 I will execute judgment against Moab, and they will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22220 A VISION AGAINST EDOM

12 The Eternal Reality declares: “Edom’s actions against Judah for revenge are deeply wrong.
13 Therefore, I will strike Edom, eradicating human and animal life and turning it into a wasteland. From Teman to Dedan, they will fall by the tactical blade.
14 My nation, Israel, will execute my retribution on Edom, acting with my anger and fury; they will understand my vengeance,” affirms the Eternal Reality.

§ 22230 A VISION AGAINST PHILISTIA

15 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Because of the Philistine Warriors’ retribution, spiteful inner-selves, and long-standing animosity, they sought to destroy Judah.
16 So, the Eternal Reality states: I will unleash my power on the Philistine Warriors, eliminate the Kerethites, and obliterate the remaining coastal population.
17 I will execute severe retribution against them, disciplining them in my ire. They will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain when I unleash my vengeance on them. “

§ 22240 A VISION AGAINST TYRE

26 On the first day of the eleventh month, during the twelfth year, a message from the Preeminent Sovereign from the Sovereign Captain was delivered to me.
2 “Heir of Humanity, Tyre has celebrated Yerushalayim’s downfall, expressing delight over the destroyed gateway to the nations. Its doors are now wide open to Tyre, and with Yerushalayim in ruins, Tyre sees an opportunity to increase its wealth.
3 The Sovereign Captain declares: I stand in opposition to you, Tyre, and I will muster numerous nations against you, just as the ocean stirs up its tides.
4 The ramparts of Tyre will be demolished and her fortresses toppled; all her debris will be swept away, leaving her as nothing but a barren rock.
5 Her transformation into a site for laying out fishing nets amid the sea is what I have proclaimed,” asserts the Eternal Reality. “She will serve as spoils for different nations.
6 Warfare will devastate her communities residing on the mainland. Afterward, they will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain.
7 According to the declaration of the Eternal Reality, Nebuchadnezzar, the unrivaled Prime Ruler of Babylon, will mobilize against Tyre from the North with assault forces, strike vehicles, and a considerable military force.

8 He’ll devastate your coastal towns using weaponry, construct fortifications against you, construct an incline leading to your walls, and deploy his protective ballistic shields against you.
9 The strikes of his siege engines will be guided against your fortifications, and his arms will dismantle your watchtowers.
10 The multitude of his tactical personnel transports will be such that their raised dust will envelop you. When he enters through your gates, similar to the invasion of a city with breached walls, the clatter of the assault forces, armored resupply vehicles, and strike vehicles will cause your walls to shudder.

11 His assault forces will trample through every street in the city; your populace will be butchered, and your robust pillars will topple.
12 Your riches will be seized and your goods pillaged; they will tear apart your protective barriers and reduce your elegant homes to ruins, casting your building's stones, wooden materials, and debris into the ocean.
13 I will silence the sound of your melodies, and the tunes of your stringed instruments will echo no more.
14 I will transform you into a mere barren stone where fishermen can lay out their nets. You will never rise again, for I, the Sovereign Captain, have decreed this."
15 The Eternal Reality questions Tyre, "Won't the seashore nations shudder in fear at the news of your downfall when the injured wail in pain and butchery occurs within you?"
16 All the rulers of the shoreline shall descend from their positions of power, shedding their governance attire and finely stitched garments. Fear will overcome them, and they will sit on the bare Earth, shudder continuously, and be utterly shocked by your state.
17 They will begin singing a funeral song about you, expressing, 'You have been destroyed, famous city, once home to sea traders! You and your people were a mighty power on the oceans, spreading fear among everyone there.
18 The islands quiver on the day of your downfall; the oceanic territories are horrorstricken by your disintegration.

19 The Eternal Reality declares: "I will transform you into a deserted city, just like those devoid of inhabitants, and I will allow the profound ocean to overwhelm you and its immense waters to engulf you.
20 I shall send you into the depths with those entering the underworld, alongside people of past generations. You will reside in the lower regions of the Earth, among ruins from times long past, with those who have descended into the abyss. You will never return nor reclaim your position in the realm of the living.
21 You will become unrecognizable to me and an object of terror. Even though people seek you, you will remain unfound," proclaiming the Eternal Reality.

§ 22250 A LAMENT OVER TYRE

27 A message from the Sovereign Captain reached me.
2 Heir of Humanity sings a sad song about Tyre.
3 Convey to Tyre, located at the sea entrance, trader to various nations along different coastlines, "This is the declaration of the Eternal Reality: 'Tyre, you claim to be the epitome of aesthetic perfection. '"
4 Your realm was in the inner-self of the sea. Your architects have made you glorious.
5 All your lumber was crafted from fir trees of Senir, with cedar from Lebanon used to construct your mast.
6 Your oars were crafted from Bashan's oaks, and your deck, built from Cyprus' cypress wood, was embellished with ivory.
7 Your sail, crafted from richly woven linen from Egypt, stood as your emblem; blue and purple coverings originating from the shorelines of Elishah formed your awnings.
8 Individuals from Sidon and Arvad served as your rowers. Tyre, your proficient men, were on board functioning as your navigators.

9 Experienced artisans from Byblos were present as marine carpenters to repair your leaks. All maritime vessels and their crews approached you for business transactions with your goods.

10 Warriors from Persia, Lydia, and Put served as combatants in your military. Their ballistic shields and helmets, displayed on your walls, brought you magnificence.
11 Individuals from Arvad and Helek were stationed around your ramparts. Gammadite warriors occupied your lookout posts. They adorned your fortifications with ballistic shields and rendered your splendor flawless.
12 Given the enormous quantity of your goods, Tarshish engaged in commerce with you; they bartered silver, iron, tin, and lead in exchange for your products.
13 Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were involved in trading with you, exchanging enslaved people and bronze items for the goods you offered.
14 Individuals from Beth Togarmah bartered agricultural tractors, armored personnel carriers, and utility terrain vehicles in return for your goods.
15 Rhodes' inhabitants engaged in commerce with you; numerous seaside regions were your patrons; they compensated you with ivory and ebony.
16 Aram was involved in trade with you due to the abundance of your goods; they provided emeralds, purple dye, intricately sewn cloth, refined linen, coral, and rubies in return for your wares.
17 Judah and Israel conducted business transactions with you, trading Minnith wheat, sweet treats, honey, olive oil, and balm in return for your commodities.
18 Damascus engaged in trade transactions with you because of your many products and immense wealth. They provided Helbon wine and Zahar wool in exchange.
19 Barrels of wine from Izal was swapped for your goods, including forged steel, aromatic cinnamon, and sweet cane.
20 Dedan conducted business with you in dealing saddlecloths for riding.
21 Arabia and all the leaders of Kedar engaged in trade with you, selling lambs, rams, and goats.
22 The dealers of Sheba and Raamah bartered with you; they traded your goods for the best spices, all kinds of valuable gems, and gold.

23 Harran, Kanneh, Eden, and the merchants from Sheba, Ashur, and Kilmad conducted business exchanges with you.
24 Within your trading hub, they bartered exquisite attire, indigo materials, intricate needlework, and vibrant carpets reinforced and secured with entwined cords.
25 Tarshish's vessels function as transporters for your merchandise. Your load is substantial as you traverse the ocean.
26 Your sailors guide you into the vast ocean, yet a gust from the East will shatter you in the center of the sea.
27 When your ship meets its doom, all your affluence, trade goods, and commodities, your seafarers, navigators and artisans, traders, warriors, and every other inner-self aboard will plunge into the ocean's core.
28 The coastal plains shudder at the shrieks and cries of your pilots.
29 everyone exerting force on the oars will desert their vessels, and the seafarers and all the naval crew will position themselves on the beach.
30 They will make their voices heard lamenting over you, toss dirt on their heads, and immerse themselves in ashes.
31 They will make themselves utterly hairless for your sake and adorn themselves in rough attire. They will lament for you in profound despair and with sorrowful cries.
32 During their grieving and lamentation for you, they will ask: "Has there ever been a city like Tyre, reduced to silence amidst the waters?"

33 Your commodities are transported across the oceans, meeting the desires of countless nations. The abundance of your wealth and goods contributed significantly to the affluence of global Prime Rulers.
34 The seas have now wrecked you, sinking you into the ocean's depths; your merchandise and crew have vanished along with you.
35 All those dwelling near the seashores are horrified because of you; their leaders are frightened, and their faces reflect their terror.
36 Traders across the nations jeer at you; you have met a dreadful demise and shall cease to exist.

§ 22260 A VISION AGAINST THE PRIME RULER OF TYRE

28 A message from the Sovereign Captain was given to me.
2 Heir of Humanity, convey to the chief of Tyre, "Here is what the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces proclaims: 'Due to the arrogance of your inner-self, you assert, 'I am celestial; I reside on the Eternal Reality's seat within the core of the oceans. ' However, despite your trust in your Sovereign-like wisdom, you are nothing more than a human being, not an Eternal Reality. '" 3 Do you consider yourself more knowledgeable than Daniel? Is there any mystery that remains concealed from you?
4 Through astuteness and comprehension, you have accumulated wealth and stockpiled gold and silver in your vaults.
5 Your clever business acumen has multiplied your riches; your inner-self is arrogant due to this wealth.
6 So, the Sovereign Captain declares: 'Since you regard yourself as intelligent as an Eternal Reality. '"
7 I am poised to usher in outsiders, the harshest nations; they will unsheathe their tactical blades against your aesthetic brilliance and intellect and tarnish your radiant honor.
8 They will thrust you into the pit, leading to your violent demise amidst the ocean's depths.
9 Will you maintain your claim of divinity when faced with your demise? You are merely a human, not an Eternal Reality, under the control of those who bring about your end.
10 You shall perish as the men misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh, killed by strangers. The Eternal Reality has decreed this.
11 A message from the Sovereign Captain was presented to me.

12 Mortal man, raise a lamentation over the Prime Ruler of Tyre and communicate this to him:
"So says the Sovereign Captain: 'You served as the model of impeccability, brimming with knowledge and flawless in attractiveness.
13 You resided in Eden, the Preeminent Sovereign's paradise; you were embellished with every kind of valuable gem: ruby, topaz, emerald, chrysolite, onyx, jasper, sapphire, turquoise, and beryl. Your jewelry settings and mounts were crafted out of gold; they were ready for you on the day you came into existence.
14 I had designated you as an Ensovereigned Celestial Arch-Envoy Guardian. You had access to Preeminent Sovereign's celestial mountain and traversed amidst stones blazing like fire.
15 From the day of your creation, your conduct was impeccable until your presence of malignancy was discovered.

16 Your extensive commerce filled you with brutality, leading to your transgression.
Consequently, I cast you away in shame from the Eternal Reality's mountain. I removed you, the safeguarding Celestial Arch-Envoy, from the midst of the blazing stones.
17 Your appealing appearance swelled your inner-self with arrogance, and you let your dazzling splendor destroy your wisdom. So, I cast you down to the ground and made you an object of spectacle in front of Prime Rulers.
18 Your numerous transgressions and unscrupulous trade have tainted your exalted places.
Consequently, I ignited a fire from within you. That devoured you, reducing you to dust on the Earth for all observers to see.
19 All nations aware of your existence are filled with dread; your downfall was horrific, and you shall cease to exist. '"

§ 22270 A VISION AGAINST SIDON

20 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
21 Heir of Humanity, focus on Sidon and envision against her.

22 Proclaim this: "'The Eternal Reality declares, 'Sidon, I oppose you and will manifest my magnificence within your borders. You shall recognize me as the Sovereign Captain when you witness the punishments I dispense, and my purification disclosed within you. '" 23 "I will unleash a pestilence on you, and the roadways will be filled with blood. The wounded will collapse in your midst as attacks ensue from all directions. Then you will realize that I am the Sovereign Captain."
24 "Israel's inhabitants will no longer endure harmful neighbors who act like stabbing thistles and piercing prickles. They will ultimately recognize that I am the Eternal Reality." 25 "Here is what the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, pronounces: When I reassemble the individuals of Israel from the regions where they have been dispersed, I will manifest my exaltedness via them in the visibility of the nations.
Subsequently, they will inhabit their dedicated land, a gift I gave to my servant Jacob." 26 "They will reside there undisturbed, establishing homes and cultivating rooftop gardens; they will securely dwell as I execute retribution on all neighboring individuals who belittled them.
Subsequently, they will comprehend that I am their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain."

§ 22280 A VISION AGAINST EGYPT: JUDGMENT ON PHARAOH

29 During the tenth year, on the twelfth day of the tenth month, the Sovereign Captain granted me a message from the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 "Heir of Humanity, direct your gaze at the Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt, and speak against him and his nation.
3 Communicate this message to him: 'The Sovereign Captain in His sovereignty declares: 'I am in opposition to you, Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt, you mighty beast residing within your waterways.
You've claimed, 'The Nile is my possession; I have crafted it for my purpose. '
4 I'll set a hook in your jaws and cause the river's fish to adhere to your scales. I'll extract you from your waterways with all the fish clinging to your scales.

5 I shall abandon you in the wilderness, along with all the aquatic creatures of your rivers. You will lie uncollected in the open terrain, untouched. I have commissioned you as sustenance for the terrestrial animals and the avians of the sky.
6 All the residents of Egypt will come to understand that I am the Sovereign Captain. You have merely been an unreliable support for the Israelites.
7 When they seized you by the hand, you fractured and ruptured all their shoulders; when they leaned on you, you shattered, causing their backs to twist.
8 So proclaims the Eternal Reality: I am going to attack you with a tactical blade, resulting in the death of people and animals.
9 Egypt will turn into an empty desert. Then, they will realize that I am the Sovereign Captain. ’
Because you claimed, ‘The Nile is under my possession, I was its Innovator. ’
10 So, I stand against you and your rivers, transforming the territory of Egypt into a barren and forsaken wasteland stretching from Migdol to Aswan, all the way to the frontier of Cush.
11 No person or animal will walk through it and remain uninhabited for four decades.
12 The territory of Egypt will be transformed into a desolation, standing desolate for forty years amid ruined lands, and her urban centers will turn into ruins among other devastated cities. The Egyptians will be dispersed among various nations across different territories.
13 However, the Eternal Reality declares: After four decades, I will assemble the Egyptians from the various peoples they were dispersed among.
14 They will be returned from captivity and resettled in Upper Egypt, the region of their forefathers. There, they will form an inconspicuous realm.
15 This realm will become insignificant and no longer place itself above the rest. I will render it so powerless that it will never again hold dominion over other nations.

16 Israel will no longer have trust in Egypt as a place of refuge. Still, instead, it will serve as a symbol of their transgressions when they seek assistance from them. Subsequently, they will acknowledge that I am the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

17 On the inaugural day of the first month in the twenty-seventh year, I was granted the Sovereign Captain’s Eternal Reality communication.
18 Nebuchadnezzar, the Prime Ruler of Babylon, compelled his troops to engage in an arduous battle against Tyre. This action made every soldier’s head bared and all shoulders chafed. Despite their efforts, neither he nor his soldiers received any compensation from Tyre for their exertions in this campaign.
19 From now forward, the Sovereign Captain proclaims: I have resolved to hand over Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar, ruler of Babylon; he will abscond with its riches. He will pillage and despoil the nation as remuneration for his assault troops.
20 As compensation for his endeavors, I have given up on him Egypt, as he and his military personnel have worked in my favor, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
21 On that specified day, I will cause a surge of power for the House of Israel and grant you the ability to voice out among them. Then, they shall comprehend that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22290 A LAMENT FOR EGYPT

30 Another message came to me from the Sovereign Captain.
2 “Heir of Humanity, forecast and declare: ‘These are the words of the Eternal Reality: ‘Cry and exclaim, ‘Woe be to this day!’

3 Indeed, the appointed time is approaching—the day of the Sovereign Captain, characterized by dark clouds and impending catastrophe for the countries.
4 A blade will strike Egypt, and distress will descend on Cush. As casualties mount in Egypt, its riches will be seized, and its base will be demolished.
5 The individuals from Cush, Libya, Lydia, all of Arabia, Kub, and those from the land of the solemn agreement will meet their end by the tactical blade, together with Egypt. ’”

6 The Sovereign Captain declares that Egypt’s supporters will fall, and her power will be defeated. “The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, says that from Migdol to Aswan, the tactical blade will slay individuals.”
7 The land will be deserted, and cities devastated.
8 They will recognize my sovereign authority when I ignite a blaze in Egypt and her allies meet defeat.
9 On that day, envoys will deploy in vessels to terrorize the unsuspecting Ethiopians; they will be gripped by distress on Egypt’s ruin day, for it is inevitable.
10 The Eternal Reality decrees: “I will use Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon to abolish Egypt’s massive populace.”
11 He and his troops, the most remorseless among nations, will ravage the territory. They will unsheathe their tactical blades against Egypt and overrun the land with the dead.
12 I will turn the Nile’s waterways into dry land and deliver the territory to impure individuals; using outsiders’ power, I will devastate the land and all it encompasses. The Sovereign Captain has decreed this.
13 The Eternal Reality proclaims: “I will annihilate the venerated idolized deities and cease the existence of images in Memphis. There will not exist a ruler in Egypt, and I will instill a state of terror across the region.
14 Upper Egypt will be devastated, Zoan set ablaze, and retribution delivered on Thebes.
15 My anger will be unleashed on Pelusium, Egypt’s fortress, and Thebes’ masses eradicated.
16 Egypt will be ignited; Pelusium will suffer unbearable pain; Thebes breached; Memphis will face continuous troubles.
17 The young warriors from Heliopolis and Bubastis will be killed in battle and their cities taken captive.

18 Tahpanhes will experience a gloomy day when I shatter Egypt’s dominion there; her arrogant power shall halt. A cloud will envelop her and her surrounding towns, subjected to captivity.
19 I shall execute acts of judgment in Egypt. Then, they shall recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain. Pharaoh’s power will be shattered.”
20 On the seventh day of the first month during the eleventh year, I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
21 “Heir of Humanity, I have shattered Pharaoh’s arm. No one has immobilized it for recovery or supported it with a splint to regain enough strength to wield a tactical blade.” 22 So declares the Eternal Reality: “I stand against Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt. I will shatter both his arms, compelling the tactical blade to drop from his grasp.
23 I will distribute the Egyptians among various nationalities and spread them across territories.
24 I will fortify Babylon’s Prime Ruler’s might and furnish him with my weapon. Yet, I will shatter Pharaoh’s power, and he will lament before the Babylonian ruler like an individual fatally injured.
25 I will amplify Babylon’s Prime Ruler’s power while Pharaoh’s strength diminishes. They’ll realize I am the Sovereign Captain when I place my weapon in Babylon’s ruler’s hand. He directs it at Egypt.
26 The Egyptians will be distributed among nations and spread across different lands.
Subsequently, they will understand that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22300 A CEDAR IN LEBANON

31 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain on the first day of the third month in the eleventh year.
2 “Heir of Humanity, communicate to Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt, and his multitude:

3 Think of Assyria, previously like a cedar in Lebanon, with attractive branches providing shade to the forest; it stood high, its summit exceeding dense leaves.

4 Abundant water helped it thrive; deep fountains made it stand tall; their rivers flowed all over its foundation and directed its waterways to all surrounding trees in the field.
5 Due to plentiful waters, it rose above all other field trees in stature; its limbs multiplied, and branches elongated, extending in reach.
6 Every type of bird constructed nests within its branches; all wild creatures birthed offspring beneath it; every majestic nation found a dwelling in its shelter.
7 This tree was magnificent in appeal, expanding its branches as its roots descended into plentiful waters.
8 No cedar in the Eternal Reality’s garden could contend with it; junipers could not mirror its branches and plane trees failed compared to its limbs. No Eternal Reality garden tree could compare to its elegance.”
9 “With numerous branches, I rendered it magnificent, eliciting envy from all trees in Eternal Reality's garden, situated in the Preeminent Sovereign’s garden.”
10 So, the Sovereign Captain declares: “Due to the grand cedar ascending above dense leaves and its arrogance in elevation, 11 I turned it over to the leader of nations, who judged it meticulously based on its fullness of unworthy choices. I discarded it.
12 The most fierce foreign nations chopped and abandoned it. Its large branches collapsed on mountains and throughout valleys; its twigs shattered in all gorges of the land. Every nation on Earth emerged from its shade and deserted it.
13 Every bird made its home in the downed tree, while all beasts of the field found refuge within its limbs.
14 From now forward, no trees by waters shall ever stand tall with arrogance, their blossoms reaching beyond dense leaves. No tree, irrespective of its well hydrated state, shall aspire to achieve such grandeur; they all are fated to perish and return to Earth beneath amidst mortals descending to the underworld.”

15 The Eternal Reality declares: “The day it fell to the domain of the deceased, I shrouded underground waters in sorrow for it; I restricted its rivers, and plentiful waters were held back. Because of this, I draped Lebanon in darkness, and every tree in the field wilted.

16 I spurred nations into fear at the echo of its descent when I dispatched it to the afterlife to accompany those who journey into the abyss. Consequently, the water nourished every superior and finest tree of Eternal Reality's garden, the ones of Lebanon, and they found solace in the depths of the Earth.
17 Similarly to the mighty cedar, they had descended to the underworld, joining those slain in battle and warriors who resided in its protection amidst nations.
18 Among Eternal Reality's garden’s trees, who is greater and more glorious than you? You will also descend to Earth’s depths to join Edenic trees. You shall be buried with sword-slain and uncircumcised individuals.” The Sovereign Captain says, “This is Pharaoh and all his multitude.”

32 On the inaugural day of the twelfth month during the twelfth year, I received a message from the Preeminent Sovereign from the Sovereign Captain.
2 “Heir of Humanity, raise a lament over Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt, and tell him: ‘You compare yourself to a young lion among nations; yet you are more like a sea monster causing havoc in your rivers, agitating waters with your movements and contaminating their clearness. ’”
3 The Eternal Reality declares: “I will trap you with many people who will lift you from depths within my trap.
4 I will cast you on terrain, fling you into an exposed field. I’ll enable all sky-dwelling birds to alight on you and all wild beasts to satiate their hunger with you.
5 Your body shall be scattered on hills, and your remnants will inundate valleys.
6 I’ll moisten Earth with your spouting blood extending to mountains, and your remains will occupy gorges.
7 When I extinguish your lights, I will veil celestial realms and make stars dark; I will shroud sun in a cloud, and moon will not radiate light.”
8 “I will cause all radiant celestial bodies to dim over you. I will spread a veil of obscurity across your territory,” proclaims Eternal Reality.
9 “I will cause distress in many individuals when I orchestrate your fall among nations within unfamiliar territories.”

10 “Your actions will send shockwaves among several nations, with their Prime Rulers trembling in terror as I wield my tactical blade before them. As your destruction nears, each will shudder incessantly, fearing for his existence.”

11 The Eternal Reality proclaims: “You will face the attack of Babylonian Prime Ruler’s tactical blade.”
12 “Your masses will meet their demise by tactical blades of formidable warriors, most severe of all nations. They will fracture Egypt’s arrogance, and all her multitudes toppled.”
13 “I will eliminate all livestock from where they have plenty of water; human feet will never disturb waters again. Not even hooves of cattle will cause any muddiness.”
14 “I will allow her waters to become tranquil and her brooks to stream as fluidly as olive oil,” proclaims Eternal Reality.
15 “Once I render Egypt barren and deprive territory of every entity that inhabited it, causing the downfall of all its residents, they will then perceive that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

16 “This song is mournful, and they will sing about her. Women across nations will recite this dirge; over Egypt and all her multitudes, they will repeat it,” proclaims Eternal Reality.

§ 22310 DESCENT INTO THE UNDERWORLD

17 During the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day, I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
18 “Humans lament for Egypt’s multitude and send them, along with the females of powerful nations, to the underworld to join those in the abyss.
19 Ask them, ‘Do you think you are more beautiful than anyone else? Descend and make your bed with those misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh. ’

[20] They will perish among those slain in battle. The weapon is ready; Egypt and its multitudes should be carried off.
[21] Powerful figures from the underworld will proclaim about Egypt and its associates, ‘They have descended and now rest among the unclean, along with those who met their end by the tactical blade. ’
[22] Assyria lies there, her entire army accompanying her; all her casualties, slaughtered by the tactical blade, have their graves encircling her.
[23] Their final resting places are deep within the abyss, and her military force surrounds her tomb. All those who once propagated fear in the realm of the living have been killed, succumbing to the tactical blade.
[24] Elam surrounds the burial site near her multitudes. All have been killed and struck down in combat. Those who once instilled fear in living beings, the men who misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh, descended into the underworld. They carry their disgrace alongside those who fall into the abyss.
[25] They arranged a resting place for her among those killed, surrounding her with her multitude near her burial site. The tactical blade defeated one of them, which was misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh. Their frightening influence once permeated the land of the living; they now share the disgrace with those who descend to the abyss. They are positioned among the fatalities.
[26] Meshek and Tubal, surrounded by their armies, exist near burial sites. They all were slain on the battlefield, men misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh, for they incited fear within the realm of the living.
[27] However, they do not rest alongside the ancient fallen soldiers who descended to the underworld armed for battle, their tactical blades positioned beneath their heads and their ballistic shields on their skeletons, even though these soldiers once instilled fear in the world of the living.
[28] Pharaoh, you will also be shattered and rest among those who misled the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh, alongside those who met their end by the tactical blade.”

[29] “Edom finds its place there alongside her rulers and all her leaders; regardless of their might, they’ve been relegated to those slain in combat. They are consigned with those misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh and those who descend into the abyss.
[30] Every leader from the North, along with the Sidonians, was sent there; they descended with the fallen, shrouded in disgrace despite the fear their strength incited. They rest, unclean, alongside those the tactical blade has slain, enduring humiliation with those descending to the underworld.”
[31] “Pharaoh and his entire army will witness them and take solace in his multitudes who perished by the tactical blade,” stated the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
[32] “Even though I enabled him to instill fear in the land of the living, Pharaoh and all his multitude shall find their resting place among those misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh, alongside those who fell by the tactical blade,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 22320 RENEWAL OF EZEKIEL'S CALL AS SENTINEL

33 I received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
2 "Human, tell your people: 'If I bring war to a land, and its people appoint a sentinel, '"
3 "when he sees danger coming, he sounds the alarm."
4 "If someone hears the alarm but ignores it, and the tactical blade takes their life, they are responsible for their own death."
5 "They heard the alarm but ignored it. Their blood is on their own hands. They could have saved themselves by heeding the warning."
6 "If the sentinel sees danger but fails to sound the alarm, and someone dies, that person dies for their wrongdoing, but I will hold the sentinel accountable."
7 "Mortal man, I've made you a sentinel for Israel; listen to my message and warn them."

8 "If I say to the counterfeit, 'O counterfeit one, you will die, ' and you don't warn them to turn from their ways, they will die for their unworthy choices, and I will hold you accountable."
9 "But if you warn them to turn from their unworthy choices and ignore you, they will die for their unworthy choices, but you will have saved yourself."
10 "Human, tell Israel, 'This is your proclamation: Our transgressions and unworthy choices weigh us down. How can we live?'"
11 "Tell them, 'As surely as I live, ' declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, 'I take no pleasure in the death of the impure. I want them to turn from their ways and live. Turn! Turn from your evil ways! Why should you die, Israel?'"
12 "So, mortal, tell your people, 'If an integrid person turns from their integrity and does evil, their past integrity will count for nothing. If an impure person turns from their impurity and does what is and right, they will live. '"
13 "If I promise an integrid person life, but they trust in their integrity and do evil, none of their integrid acts will be remembered; they will die for their evil."
14 "If I say to an evil person, 'You will die, ' but they turn from their transgression and do what is just and right,"
15 "If they return what they took in pledge for a loan, and repay what the offender stole, follow the laws that give life, and do no evil, such people will surely live; they will not die."
16 "None of the unworthy choices they have committed will be remembered against them. They have done what is right; they will surely live."
17 "Your people say, 'The Sovereign Captain's way isn't fair. ' But it is their way that isn't fair."
18 "If an integrid person turns from their integrity and does evil, they will die for it."
19 "If a counterfeit person turns from their evil and does what is just and right, they will live by doing so."
20 However, I shall evaluate each of you based on your individual merits.

§ 22330 YERUSHALAYIM'S FALL EXPLAINED

21 On the fifth day of the tenth month, during our twelfth year of captivity, a refugee from Yerushalayim arrived and reported, "The city has been captured!"
22 The night before, the power of the Sovereign Captain came upon me, restoring my voice before dawn. Consequently, I could speak again.

23 The Sovereign Captain’s message came to me.
24 “Heir of Humanity, those in the ruins of Israel say, ‘Abraham, though one man, acquired the land. We are many; surely the land is ours. ’”
25 “Tell them, ‘The Sovereign Captain declares: As you consume flesh with blood and use projectile launchers before your counterfeit idolized deities while spilling blood, do you expect to gain land ownership?
26 You rely on your tactical blade, commit atrocities, and dishonor your neighbor’s wife. Are you entitled to inherit the land?
27 Tell them: ‘The Eternal Reality declares: Those in the wreckage will die by the tactical blade, ferocious creatures will devour those in the countryside, and those in fortifications and caverns will perish from contagion.
28 Her haughty authority will end; I will make the land desolate, and Israel’s highlands will be empty of people.
29 They will know I am the Sovereign Captain when I turn the region into a barren desert due to their terrible acts.
30 Heir of Humanity, your fellow citizens talk about you near city walls and home entrances, inviting each other to hear the messages from the Sovereign Captain.
31 People gather before you to listen but don’t apply what they hear. Though they speak of devotion, their inner-selves pursue dishonest profit.
32 To them, you are like a vocalist of romantic melodies with an enchanting voice and skilled at playing an instrument. They listen but don’t implement it.
33 When everything becomes reality, they will realize a seer existed. ’”

§ 22340 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN WILL BE ISRAEL’S KEEPER

34 A message from the Sovereign Captain was relayed to me.
2 Human beings denounce the leaders of Israel; declare and assert to them: “The Eternal Reality proclaims: Disaster to the leaders of Israel who merely look after their welfare! Isn’t it the duty of leaders to look after their ensovereigned lifestyle community?
3 You consume the dairy, outfit yourselves with the wool, and butcher the top quality animals. Yet, you neglect to tend to the herd.
4 You haven’t reinforced the frail, cured the unhealthy, or mended the wounded. You haven’t guided back the wanderers or explored for the vanished. You have governed them severely and ruthlessly.
5 They dispersed due to the absence of a leader, transforming into prey for every beast in the wilderness once scattered.
6 My protected community strayed on all the mountains and every high hill. They were dispersed across the entire face of the world, with no one making an effort to seek or inquire about them.
7 So, guardians of the protected community, listen to the command of the Sovereign Captain.
8 Assuredly proclaims the Eternal Reality, due to the deficiency of a guardian, My protected community has fallen prey; they’ve served as food for all the feral beasts. The wardens didn’t endeavor to find My protected community, opting to look after their own needs over those of My protected community.
9 So, your inner guides, pay heed to the decree of the Sovereign Captain.
10 The Eternal Reality proclaims: I stand against the lifesavers and will demand accountability for My protected community from them. I will disallow them from overseeing the protected community, preventing the lifesavers from sustaining themselves. I will liberate My protected community from their clutches, ensuring they will no longer serve as their nourishment.

11-12 "This is what the Sovereign Captain says: I will personally seek out my people and care for them. Just as a guardian reunites a separated group in times of chaos, so I will care for my people. I will rescue them from every place where they've been lost in the shadows and storms of life."

13 I will lead them out of the foreign nations and assemble them from different lands. Then, I'll guide them back to their homeland. I will shield them in Israel's mountains, valleys, and all areas where people dwell.
14 I will shield them in the most fruitful fields, and Israel's towering summits will serve as their agricultural centers. They will find comfort in these lush fields and feast in abundant meadows on Israel's mountains.
15-16 "I myself will care for my people and give them a place to rest, declares the Sovereign Captain. I will search for those who are lost and bring back those who have strayed. I will heal the wounded and support the vulnerable, but I will hold the powerful and oppressive accountable. I will lead the community with fairness and justice."

17 "If you people were like My flock of domesticated animals, I would referee between various sheep, rams, and goats.
18 I would ask, 'Isn't feeding on the lush pasture sufficient for you? Do you also have to crush the remaining grass under your feet? Is drinking pure water not enough for you? Are you compelled to dirty the water with your feet?'
19 I would point out to the rams and goats, 'My sheep must consume what you have stomped on and sip from water contaminated with your hoofs. '
20 I would add to this point, 'I discern between the well-fed and malnourished sheep.
21 They're driven away by pushing with your hips and shoulders and using your horns to strike the frail sheep.
22 Therefore, I will rescue my sheep; they will no longer be exploited. I will distinguish between my sheep and the rest of you. '"

23 My servant David, who will tend to their needs and provide food, will be appointed as their lone guardian.
24 I, as the Sovereign Captain, will stand as their Eternal Reality, and my servant David is to be their leader. I, the Sovereign Captain, have so declared.
25 I will form an agreement ensuring tranquility and abolishing ferocious animals from the territory, enabling them to inhabit barren terrains and repose amidst woodlands securely.
26 They and the vicinity around my hill shall receive empowerment. During the appropriate season, I will bring forth rains; these shall be rains granting empowerment.
27 The trees will produce their bounty, and the soil will bring forth its harvest; the inhabitants will dwell safely within their territory. They will recognize that I am the Sovereign Captain when I shatter the restraints of their oppression and save them from their captors' clutches.
28 Outsiders will no longer exploit them, nor will fierce beasts ravage them. Instead, they will dwell securely, free from fear.
29 I will establish a place famous for its agricultural output so that they won't experience hunger in the territory anymore, nor will they endure insults from foreign nations.
30 They will realize that I, their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, am with them and that they, the people of Israel, are recognized as my own," proclaim the Eternal Reality.

31 "You are like My flock, the human flock of my range, and I am your Preeminent Sovereign," proclaims the Eternal Reality.

§ 22350 A VISION AGAINST EDOM

35 A message from the Sovereign Captain was conveyed to me.
2 Heir of Humanity, direct your gaze towards Mount Seir and utter a vision against it.

3 Proclaim: “The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign declares: I’m your adversary, Mount Seir; I’ll extend my power against you, transforming you into an utterly desolate wasteland.
4 Your cities will be reduced to rubble, and you will become a wasteland. Consequently, you will recognize that I am Yahweh.
5 Since you held an enduring grudge and handed the Israelites to the mercy of the tactical blade during their disaster, the moment their retribution culminated.
6 From now forward, as I, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, affirm my existence, I will subject you to a fate of violence, and it shall relentlessly follow you. Because you have shown no aversion to violence, it shall incessantly haunt you.
7 Mount Seir will be transformed into a barren wasteland, and I will annihilate all who enter or exit it.
8 The peaks will be laden with the deceased; the casualties from the tactical blade’s blow will descend on your hillsides, lie in your valleys, and fill your gorges.
9 I will turn you into an eternal wasteland. Your cities will no longer be occupied. Subsequently, you will comprehend that I am the Sovereign Captain.
10 As you’ve proclaimed, these two nations and lands shall be yours, and you’ll seize them, regardless of the presence of the Sovereign Captain there.
11 So, with absolute certainty of my existence, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, I will deal with you in line with the anger and envy you manifested in your hatred towards them. Moreover, I will reveal my identity to them while passing judgment on you.
12 It will become apparent to you that I, the Sovereign Captain, have heard all the degrading remarks you’ve made against the mountains of Israel, boasting, ‘They are desolate; they are ours for consumption. ’
13 You’ve expressed hubris against me and have unrestrainedly voiced your thoughts against me. I’ve taken note of it.
14 The Eternal Reality declares: As the world celebrates, I will turn you into a wasteland.

15 In light of your celebration over Israel’s desolation, I shall respond in kind. Mount Seir and all of Edom will be in ruins. Then, they will acknowledge that I am the Sovereign Captain.”

§ 22360 HOPE FOR THE MOUNTAINS OF ISRAEL

36 The Heir of Humanity delivers an eternally wise servant’s message to the hills of Israel. He says, “Heights of Israel, listen to the Eternal Reality’s communication of the Sovereign Captain.”
2 The Eternal Reality declares: Your adversary has proclaimed, “Finally, the timeworn heights are ours to keep.”
3 So, deliver the vision and proclaim, “This is the decree of the Eternal Reality: They have devastated and trodden you from all directions, causing you to become property for the remainder of the nations and the subject of people’s scornful chatter and defamation.

4 So, you mountain ranges of Israel, heed the proclamation of the authoritative Sovereign Captain: The authoritative Sovereign Captain conveys to the mountains and hills, the watercourses and valleys, the deserted wastelands and abandoned cities that have become objects of robbery and mockery to the remaining nations surrounding you.
5 The Eternal Reality declares: ‘Driven by my intense anger, I voiced my displeasure against the remaining nations, especially Edom, who delightedly and hatefully took My land as their personal property to pillage its lush meadows.
6 Speak vision regarding the territory of Israel and address the mountains and hills, the gorges and valleys: ‘The Almighty Sovereign Captain declares: I utter in my fervent ire because you have endured the scorn of the nations.
7 So, the Eternal Reality declares: I solemnly promise that the neighboring nations will endure their mockery.
8 On the other hand, you, the mountains of Israel, will sprout branches and yield harvest for my people, Israel, as their return is imminent.
9 I care about you and will show you favor; your land will undergo cultivation and seeding.

10 I will increase your population—the entire house of Israel. The cities will be populated, and the damaged areas will undergo reconstruction.
11 I will amplify the populace and the wildlife flourishing on you; they will multiply and yield bountifully. I will reinstate the living conditions like they were previously and enhance your prosperity, exceeding your past. Subsequently, you will be confident about My identity as the Sovereign Captain.
12 I will lead my people, my nation of Israel, to tread your soil once again. They will take ownership of you, and you will become their legacy; never again will you take their offspring away from them.
13 The Eternal Reality articulates: Some accuse you of consuming humans and causing your nation to lack children.
14 From now forward, you shall cease to consume humans and no longer deprive your nation of its offspring,” proclaims the Eternal Reality.
15 “You will no longer hear the insults from the nations, you will no longer endure disgrace from the peoples, and you will not lead your country into downfall,” announces the Eternal Reality.

§ 22370 ISRAEL’S RESTORATION ASSURED

16 The Sovereign Captain’s message came to me again.
17 When Israel lived in their land, they defiled it with their actions, making them as impure as a woman during her menstrual cycle.
18 I unleashed my fury on them for the innocent bloodshed and the contamination from their idolized deity worship.
19 I scattered them among the nations, judging them by their deeds.
20 Wherever they went, they tarnished my exalted name, as people said, “These are the ones who express adoration for the Sovereign Captain, yet they were exiled from his land.”
21 I was distressed because they dishonored my esteemed reputation among the nations.

22 So, tell the Israelites, “The Sovereign Captain says: I am not doing this for your sake, Israel, but to preserve my exalted name, which you have tainted among the nations.
23 I will purify my renowned name, which you disrespected. Then the nations will know I am the Sovereign Captain,” declares the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “when I show my exaltedness through you.
24 I will gather you from all nations and bring you back to your land.

25-26 I'll refresh you, washing away everything weighing you down—your obsessions with materialism and distractions. I'll instill in you a renewed mindset and a revitalized sense of purpose.

27 I will instill my Eternal Spark within you, inspiring you to follow my decrees and laws.
28 You shall be my people, and I shall be your Preeminent Sovereign; you shall dwell in the country which I gave to your parents.
29 I will rescue you from all impurities and ensure abundant grain, so famine never strikes you.
30 I will increase your yields, so you won't face shame from other nations for hunger.
31 You will remember your evil paths and wrongdoings and despise yourselves for your transgressions and abhorrent behaviors.
32 Understand that I am not doing this for your benefit," asserts the Eternal Reality. "Feel the shame and humiliation for your behavior, Israel!
33 On the day I purify you from all your wrongdoings," remarks the Sovereign Captain, "I will repopulate your cities and restore the decimated places.
34 The barren land will be farmed again, replacing the desolation seen by passersby.
35-36 "The neglected lots will be transformed into flourishing urban gardens, and people will marvel, saying, 'This barren place has become like a paradise.'"

36 The surrounding nations will know that I, the Sovereign Captain, have rebuilt what was ruined and replenished what was barren. I, the Sovereign Captain, have declared it and will make it happen."
37 The Sovereign Captain declares: "I will answer Israel's request and act in their favor: I will multiply their population like a protected community.
38 Just like the multitude of sheep brought to Yerushalayim for celebrations, crowds of individuals will fill the devastated towns. Then they will know that I am the Sovereign Captain."

§ 22380 THE VALLEY OF DRY BONES

37 The Sovereign Captain's force led me through the Eternal Spark to a valley filled with bones.
2 I wandered among them, noticing they were dehydrated.
3 He asked, "Heir of Humanity, can these bones live?" I replied, "Almighty Sovereign Captain, only you know."
4 He commanded, "Dry bones, hear the Sovereign Captain's message."
5 The Eternal Reality says: 'I will breathe life into you, and you will live. '
6 'I will attach ligaments, cover you with flesh and skin, and breathe into you; you will live and know I am the Sovereign Captain. '
7 As commanded, I envisioned it. The bones rattled and assembled.
8 Ligaments and flesh formed, and skin covered them, but they lacked life.
9 He then instructed me to speak to the inner-self, "Proclaim, 'This is the Sovereign Captain's command: Come, Eternal Spark, from the four winds and breathe life into these lifeless so they may live. '"
10 I envisioned as instructed, and breath entered them; they came to life and stood—a vast force.

11 He said, "Heir of Humanity, these bones represent all of Israel. They say, 'Our bones are dry, our hope is gone; we are cut off. '"

12 “So envision and tell them: “My people, I will break open your graves and raise you from them;
I will return you to Israel’s soil,” declares the Sovereign Captain.

13 “When I open your graves and bring you up, you will know I am the Sovereign Captain.”
14 “I will put my Eternal Spark in you, and you will live. I will settle you in your land. Then you will know I, the Sovereign Captain, have spoken and done this,” asserts the Sovereign Captain.

§ 22390 ONE NATION UNDER ONE PRIME RULER

15 He said, “A message from the Sovereign Captain came to me again.
16 Heir of Humanity, acquire a piece of wood and inscribe on it, ‘For Judah and his affiliated Israelites. ’ Then procure another piece of wood and sign on it, ‘For Joseph (Ephraim’s equivalent) and all the Israelites linked with him. ’ 17 Combine them to form one piece of wood so they will merge into one in your grasp.
18 When your citizens inquire, ‘Can you clarify the significance of this to us?’
19 The Sovereign Captain declares: “I stand on the brink of merging the power staff of Joseph, which Ephraim currently possesses, with that of Judah, uniting the communities of Israel allied with him. I will merge them into a single piece of timber, establishing unity in my grip.
20 Display the inscribed sticks in your hand for everyone to see.”
21 Convey to them, ‘the Eternal Reality states: I intend to retrieve the Israelites from the foreign nations they’ve settled in. I will assemble them from all corners and return them to their homeland.

22 They will be unified into a single country on the Israeli highlands, with one ruler governing them all. There will be no more division into two countries or two nations.
23 They won’t continue polluting themselves with counterfeit idolized deities, detestable practices, or wrongdoings. I will deliver them from all their places of rebellion and purify them.
They will belong to me as my people, and I will be their Eternal Reality.
24 My servant David will rule as their Prime Ruler, and there will be a singular sheep keeper.
They are to abide by my laws and diligently uphold my statutes.
25 They will inhabit the territory I was given on my servant Jacob, the same area where your forefathers resided. Their descendants and the subsequent generations will live there perpetually, and my servant David will permanently serve as their leader.
26 A perpetual pact of tranquility will be established with them. It’s a promise that will remain forever. I will make them secure, enhance their population, and ensure that My Exalted Space is amidst them eternally.
27 The place where I reside will be among them; I will serve as their Eternal Reality, and they will stand as my ensovereigned lifestyle community.
28 When My Exalted Space resides among them eternally, the nations will recognize that I, the Sovereign Captain, purify Israel.”

§ 22400 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S GREAT VICTORY OVER THE NATIONS

38 A message from the Sovereign Captain was conveyed to me.
2 Heir of Humanity, direct your attention towards Gog, from the territory of Magog, the principal leader of Meshek and Tubal; foretell his future.

3 The Eternal Reality declares: “Gog, top leader of Meshek and Tubal, I oppose you.

4 I will steer you around, insert hooks into your jaws, and lead you out with your entire army, tactical personnel transports, fully equipped assault forces, and a massive assembly armed with large and small ballistic shields, all wielding their tactical blades.
5 Forces from Persia, Cush, and Put will be part of their alliance, all equipped with protective gear such as ballistic shields and combat helmets.
6 Moreover, Gomer, with its entire forces, as well as Beth Togarmah from the utmost North with all its military, numerous countries will be allied with you.
7 Prepare yourself; stay mobilized, you and all the armies assembled around you, and be their leader.
8 You will be summoned for duty in the distant future. You will then launch an invasion on a territory that has recovered from conflict. In this territory, its inhabitants, who were brought together from various nations, dwell on the mountains of Israel that had remained deserted for an extended period. These inhabitants were extracted from different countries, and presently, they all reside in a state of security.
9 Accompanied by your armies and various nations, you rise and emerge like a storm, resembling a cloud that blankets the terrain.
10 Here is what the Eternal Reality asserts: On the designated day, complete of unworthy choices, plans will form in your mind, and you will contrive an evil plot.
11 You will contemplate, ‘I will encroach on a territory of unprotected villages and assail a tranquil and unsuspecting populace all residing without fortifications, gates, and barriers.
12 I will pillage and seize, turning my attention against the reconstructed ruins and the inhabitants gathered from various nations, affluent in livestock and possessions, residing in the center of the territory. ’
13 Sheba, Dedan, and the traders of Tarshish, including all their settlements, will ask, ‘Did you arrive intending to seize wealth? Have you summoned your multitude to ransack, to transport silver and gold, to strip away livestock and goods, and to accumulate a vast amount of spoils?’
14 So, offspring of humanity, proclaim and declare to Gog, as per the command of the Eternal Reality: When my communities from Israel abide securely, won’t you become aware of it?

15 Emerging from your homeland in the distant North, you, accompanied by many nations, will board tactical personnel transports. Together, you will form a massive ensovereigned lifestyle community and a formidable military force.
16 You will engage my nation, Israel, resembling a cloud encompassing the Earth. In the future, Gog, I will summon you against my territory so that the world can acknowledge me when they witness my purification demonstrated through your actions.
17 The Sovereign Captain declares: You are the individual I referred to in the past through my envoys and eternally wise servants of Israel. They forecasted over years that I would set you against them.
18 On that day, as Gog invades the land of Israel, my wrath will stir fiercely,” proclaims the Eternal Reality.
19 “In my enthusiasm and blazing anger, I vow that during that period, a massive tremor will strike the territory of Israel.
20 Every living creature in the ocean, the birds overhead, wild animals, all beings that crawl on the land, and everyone on the planet will quake in fear of me. The mountains will be uprooted, steep landscapes will collapse, and every barrier will tumble down.
21 I will call against Gog a tactical blade on all of my mountains,” proclaims the Almighty Sovereign Captain. “Each man’s weapon will be directed against his fellow soldier.

22 I will render my verdict on him through disease and blood loss; I will unleash a deluge of rain, large hailstones, and blazing sulfur on him, his armies, and the numerous countries aligned with him.
23 I will exhibit my supremacy and purification, revealing myself to many nations. Subsequently, they will comprehend that I am the Sovereign Captain."

39 Heirs of Humanity condemn Gog and announce: "So declares the Almighty Sovereign Captain: I stand against you, Gog, highest Prime Ruler of Meshech and Tubal."
2 "I will redirect your path, pull you along, and guide you from the remote regions of the North, setting your course towards the mountains of Israel.

3 I will dislodge your projectile launcher from your left hand and force your projectiles to tumble from your dominant hand."

4 "You and your forces will meet your end on Israel's mountains, becoming nourishment for scavenging birds and wild creatures.
5 You shall perish on the plains, as I, the Eternal Reality, have proclaimed.
6 Fire will strike Magog and the coastlands, and they will recognize me as the Sovereign
Captain.
7 My exalted name will be disclosed to Israel, and I will no longer allow its desecration. The world will know that I am the Exalted Preeminent Sovereign in Israel.
8 This event is imminent and certain, as Sovereign Captain Sovereign asserts.

9 The inhabitants of Israeli cities will use the weapons for fuel, burning them for seven years.
10 They won't need to gather wood from the countryside or forests, as they'll use the weapons for fire. They will seize the treasures from their trespassers," proclaims the Eternal Reality.

11 "I will allocate a burial ground for Gog in Israel, in the valley East of the Sea. This burial ground will block the path of travelers, for Gog and his multitude will be interred there; hence, it will be called the Valley of Hamon Gog.
12 The Israelites will spend seven months burying them to purify the land.
13 everyone in the nation will participate in their burial, marking a day of remembrance," proclaims the Eternal Reality.

14 "Individuals will be tasked with purifying the territory, aiding others in burying any corpses left on the surface. After seven months, they will conduct a thorough examination.

15 Anyone finding a human bone will mark it until the gravediggers bury it in Hamon Gog Valley.
16 The land will be purified near a city named Hamonah."

17 "Mortal man," commands the Eternal Reality, "Summon every bird and wild creature: 'Gather for the grand absolving feast I am arranging on Israel's mountains. There, you will consume flesh and drink blood.
18 You will eat the meat of soldiers and drink the blood of leaders, like devouring rams, lambs, goats, and bulls—all well-fed creatures from Bashan.
19 During this feast, you will gorge on fat and drink blood until intoxicated.
20 You will feast to your inner-self's content at my table with assault troops and warriors, '" proclaims the Eternal Reality.

21 "My majesty will be demonstrated among all nations, and they shall witness my judgment and power.

22 From then on, Israel will know that I am their Sovereign Captain.
23 Foreign nations will understand that Israel's exile was due to their transgressions and disloyalty towards me. So, I turned away from them and surrendered them to their foes, resulting in their downfall by the tactical blade.
24 I responded to their impurities by turning my back on them.

25 So declares the Eternal Reality: "I am about to reverse Jacob's misfortunes, show love to Israel, and protect my exalted name's purity.
26 They will dismiss their disgrace and infidelities committed against me while living peacefully without fear.
27 When I return them from different communities and gather them from their adversaries' territories, my purification will be validated through them, visible to many nations.

28 They will understand that I am their Sovereign Captain because even though I banished them among nations, I will reunite them with their native land, ensuring none is left behind.
29 The Sovereign Captain declares, "I will no longer conceal My presence from them, for My Eternal Spark will be given to Israel."

§ 22410 THE FORTRESS AREA RESTORED

40 In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, fourteen years after the city had been destroyed, the Sovereign Captain touched me and transported me to that place.
2 The Preeminent Sovereign's disclosures took me to Israel, placing me atop a towering hill where structures resembling a city were seen towards the southern slope.
3 I followed a man who shimmered like burnished metal, holding a flax cord and a measuring stick.
4 He said, "Heir of Humanity, scrutinize intently and listen carefully to each detail I disclose because this is why you are here. Inform Israel about every detail you discern."

§ 22420 THE EAST GATE TO THE OUTER COURT

5 I observed a barrier encircling the fortress premises in the Eastern entryway to the External Court. The man held a measuring stick 3.144 meters long. The shimmering man gauged the wall, which was one measuring stick in thickness and height.
6 He proceeded towards the gateway facing East, ascended its steps, and gauged the entrance's depth, equivalent to a rod.
7 The rooms for the guards measured one stick in length and width, with partitioning walls 260 centimeters thick. The gate's entrance next to the porch, directed towards the fortress, was one stick deep.
8 Then, the entry room of the gateway was gauged.

9 The gate's porch was oriented toward the fortress, with a depth of 4.192 meters and side pillars 104.8 centimeters thick.
10 Within the eastern entrance, three chambers existed on each flank; all had identical dimensions, and the protruding wall faces on both sides matched exactly.
11 The shimmering man then measured the gateway entry as 5.24 meters wide and 6.812 meters long.

[12] A barrier 52.4 centimeters high was in front of each room, each room measuring 3.144 meters on all sides.
[13] The shimmering man then assessed the distance from one alcove's rear wall to the other's peak, spanning 13.1 meters from one edge opening to its counterpart.
[14] He determined the extent of the protruding walls within the gateway to be 31.44 meters in all directions, leading up to the porch overlooking the courtyard.
[15] The span from the front of the entrance gate to its vestibule's endpoint measured 26.2 meters.
[16] The recesses and inward-facing walls in the gateway had slender parapet windows on all sides, mirroring the entrance; these windows were all oriented inside. The front areas of the intervening walls in the Outer Court were adorned with palm tree carvings.

§ 22430 THE OUTER COURT

[17] He guided me into the outer courtyard. I observed chambers and a stone plaza around the yard; thirty chambers were positioned alongside the plaza.
[18] The lower pavement was adjacent to the sides of the gateways, with its width equaling its length.
[19] He then determined the extent from the lower portal's inside to the inner yard's outer edge; it was 52.4 meters on The North Gate's eastern and northern sides.

§ 22440 THE NORTH GATE

[20] The man calculated the length and breadth of the gate on the North side leading to the outer courtyard.

[21] Its guardrooms, three on either side, side pillars, and porch were identical in dimensions to the inaugural gateway, spanning 26.2 meters in length and 13.1 meters in breadth.
[22] This entrance's windows, entrance room, and palm tree carvings matched the east-facing gateway's. One approached it by ascending seven steps, and the entrance room was opposite.

[23] A gateway leading to the inner courtyard was like the East side, facing the northern gateway. The distance from one gateway to its counterpart measured 52.4 meters. This gate refers to the South Gate.

§ 22450 THE SOUTH GATE

[24] Afterward, he guided me toward the southern side, where I spotted a gate facing South. The dimensions of its supporting pillars and portico were identical to other gates.
[25] The entrance and vestibule featured slender windows encircling it, similar to other entrances. The length was set at 26.2 meters and spanned 13.1 meters in width.
[26] It had a staircase of seven steps, and its entrance hall faced them. Palm tree ornaments adorned its side pillars on both sides.

[27] The inner court had a southern gateway, measuring 52.4 meters from this entrance to the exterior gate on the same side. These measurements pertain to the Entries towards the Inner Court.

§ 22460 THE INNER COURT GATES

[28] The guide led me to the interior courtyard through the southern entrance and measured the South gate, which matched the others.
[29] The recesses, pilasters, and vestibule had identical dimensions. The entrance and its vestibule had openings all over. Its depth was 26.2 meters, and its breadth was 13.1 meters.
[30] The vestibules of the gateways around the interior courtyard were 13.1 meters long and 260 centimeters wide.

[31] Eight steps led up to the entryway, which faced the outer courtyard and featured palm tree carvings on the pillars.
[32] He then led me into the inner courtyard towards the East and measured the entrance, identical to the others.
[33] Its recesses, dividing walls, and porch had similar dimensions. The gate and its porch had apertures all around. It was 26.2 meters long and 13.1 meters wide.
[34] Eight steps led up to the entrance hall, which faced the external court and featured pillars on each side adorned with palm tree carvings.
[35] He led me to the gate facing North, and its dimensions were identical to the others.
[36] Like the others, it had guardrooms, decorative walls, and an entrance hall with windows. It was 26.2 meters long and 13.1 meters wide.
[37] Its entrance hall faced the outer courtyard. The jambs were adorned with palm tree carvings on both sides, and eight steps were accessed. This space was designated for absolving payment preparations.

§ 22470 THE ROOMS FOR PREPARING ABSOLVING PAYMENTS

[38] A chamber with its entrance was beside the pillars at each inner gate, where they cleaned the scorched absolving payments.
[39] Within the gateway's entrance were two tables on either side for preparing scorched, peace, and guilt-absolving payments.
[40] Adjacent to the exterior wall of the porch at the northern gateway entrance, two tables were near the stairs, and two more tables were on the other side of the stairs.
[41] On one side of the entranceway were four tables and an equal number on the opposite side, making eight for executing formality offerings.
[42] Four stone-carved tables were present for scorched absolving payments, each measuring 52.4 centimeters in length and width and one in height. These tables held tools for sacrificing scorched absolving payments and other activations.

[43] The interior walls had handbreadth-long double-sided hooks. The tables beside them were for the meat of absolving payments, set up in the ensovereigned mediators' chambers.

§ 22480 ROOMS FOR ENSOVEREIGNED MEDIATORS

[44] Adjacent to the inner gate within the central courtyard were two chambers; one next to the northern entrance facing South and the other alongside the southern gate facing North.

45 The guide said that the chamber facing South is for mediators safeguarding the fortress.
46 The chamber facing North is for ensovereigned mediators overseeing pedestal table duty. These individuals are descendants of Zadok, the only Levite people permitted to approach the Sovereign Captain for his service.
47 He then measured the courtyard, a perfect square of 52.4 meters each in length and width, with the pedestal table ahead of the fortress.

§ 22490 THE NEW HEADQUARTERS

48 He guided me to the fortress' vestibule and measured its doorposts, each 2.62 meters thick. The entrance spanned 7.336 meters, with outer walls 1.572 meters wide.
49 Steps flanked by columns provided access to the vestibule, which was 10.48 meters wide and 6.288 meters deep.

41 He led me to the central room, measuring the side pillars at 3.144 meters each.
2 The entryway was 5.24 meters wide, with side walls extending 260 centimeters. The central room measured 26.2 meters in length and 10.48 meters in width.

3 He proceeded to the innermost fortress, measuring the door jambs 104.8 centimeters wide. The entrance spanned 3.144 meters, with walls on each side measuring 3.71 meters.

4 The inner fortress was 10.48 meters long and equally wide. He declared, "Here lies the Most Exalted Space."

5 He measured the fortress wall at 3.144 meters thick, with surrounding side chambers 209.6 centimeters wide.
6 The auxiliary chambers were arranged in three tiers, each with thirty chambers supported by ledges on the fortress wall.
7 The chambers broadened at each tier, with a staircase connecting all levels.

8 The fortress was built on an elevated foundation encircling it, serving as the base for the side chambers, spanning a rod or 3.144 meters.
9 The outer wall of the side chambers was 260 centimeters thick, leaving an open space between them.

10 The space around the fortress, occupied by the ensovereigned mediators' chambers, was 10.48 meters wide.
11 The side chambers had access points from the unoccupied space, one to the North and one to the South, with a width of 260 centimeters.

12 The structure facing the fortress yard on its western end was 37.68 meters wide, with walls 260 centimeters thick and extending to 47.16 meters.
13 He measured the fortress at 52.4 meters, matching its courtyard, auxiliary structure, and surrounding walls.

14 The fortress yard on the East side, alongside the fortress' facade, was 52.4 meters wide.

15 He measured the structure facing the yard at the fortress' rear, including its terraces; it extended 52.4 meters. This survey included the main fortress, inner chamber, and vestibule overlooking the court.

16 The doorposts and slender openings were overlaid with lumber from floor to window, which were also enclosed.
17 Decorations appeared regularly Above the inner fortress entryway and along its walls.

18 Winged creatures and palm trees were depicted alternately around the entire fortress, each winged entity having dual faces.
19 A person's face looked toward one palm tree, and a lion's face toward another. These designs were intricately engraved around the entire fortress.

20 Representations of Celestial Envoys and palm trees were engraved from the ground to above the doorway on the primary chamber walls.
21 The principal chamber featured a square-shaped doorpost similar to that before the Most Exalted Space (where the Preeminent Sovereign manifests His astonishing reconciliation).

22 A wooden pedestal table stood 1.572 meters high and 104.8 centimeters square with wooden corners, base, and sides. The shimmering man told me, "This is the table in the presence of the Sovereign Captain."

23 The nave and fortress each had doors with two folding sections for each door.
24-25 Depictions of Celestial Envoys and palm trees were engraved on the main chamber doors and walls, with an extended wooden canopy at the portico entrance.

26 The vestibule's sidewalls had slender windows adorned with palm tree carvings, and the fortress' ancillary chambers had eaves.

§ 22500 THE ROOMS FOR THE ENSOVEREIGNED MEDIATORS

42 The guide led me to the North section of the outer court, to the chambers opposite the fortress yard and the exterior wall on the North side.
2 The structure, with a North-facing entrance, was 52.4 meters long and 26.2 meters wide.
3 In the 10.48 meter area next to the inner courtyard and the section facing the outer courtyard paving, one gallery matched another across three tiers.
4 These chambers were in an interior corridor 5.24 meters wide and 52.4 meters long, with entrances facing North.
5 The top chambers had less space as the galleries occupied more area than those on the first and second stories.
6 The upper-level chambers lacked pillars, so their square footage was less than the middle and lower floors.
7 An external wall ran alongside the chambers towards the outer court, parallel to the rooms, measuring 26.2 meters long.
8 While the chambers next to the outer court were 26.2 meters long, those near the fortress were 52.4 meters long.
9-10 The base chambers had an eastern entryway accessible from the external courtyard. Chambers were also opposite the structure and next to the courtyard on the South side of the outer court wall.

11 Like the North rooms, there was a hallway in front of them with identical dimensions, lengths, widths, and exits.
12 Similar to the South-facing chambers, there was an entrance at the passage's start, aligned with the corresponding wall to the East, serving as entry into the chambers.

13 He explained that the chambers near the North and South overlooking the fortress courtyard are exalted quarters for ensovereigned mediators. Eternally wise servants who approach the Sovereign Captain consume exalted offerings. They store exalted absolving payments in these purified quarters, including cereal and transgression offerings.
14-15 After entering this exalted location, ensovereigned mediators must change their vestments used for activating before approaching areas frequented by the populace. After measuring within the fortress' interior, he led me out via the East gate and surveyed the perimeter.
16 Using a measuring rod, he calculated the East side to be 262 meters long.
17 The northern side measured 262 meters with a meter tape.
18 The southern side was also 262 meters.
19 He then measured the western side, which was 262 meters long.
20 We took the area's dimensions from all four directions, enclosing it with a wall 262 meters long and wide to distinguish the exalted from the ordinary.

§ 22510 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S MAJESTY RETURNS TO THE FORTRESS

43 The individual guided me to the gateway facing East.
2 I witnessed the magnificence of the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel appearing from the East. His voice echoed like a mighty torrent, and the Earth glowed bright, reflecting His acclaim.
3 The sight resembled the one I observed when He arrived to decimate the city, similar to my visions by the Kebar River, leading me to salute with my erect posture.
4 The magnificence of the Sovereign Captain proceeded into the fortress via the gateway facing the sunrise.
5 Subsequently, the Eternal Spark hoisted me up and guided me into the inner courtyard, immersing the fortress in the radiance of the Eternal Reality of the Sovereign Captain.

6 As the man positioned himself next to me, a voice resounded within the fortress.
7 He articulated: "Heir of Humanity; this is the location of my sovereign seat and the soil for the base of my appendages. Here is where I will reside among the descendants of Israel indefinitely. The nation of Israel will profane my purified identity again, neither they nor their Prime Rulers, through their venerated infidelity and the commemorative rites for their leaders at their expiration.
8 When they positioned their entrance close to mine and their door supports adjacent to mine, with exclusively a wall serving as the separation between us, they sullied my exalted name with their despicable acts. So, I obliterated them in my fury.
9 They should now dismiss their idolized deity adoration and the tributes to their deceased Prime Rulers from my presence. Then, I will eternally inhabit their midst.
10 Humans present the fortress details to the people of Israel so they might feel remorse for their wrongdoings. Encourage them to understand its exceptional design.
11 If they feel remorse for all their misdeeds, enlighten them about the blueprint of the fortress, its layout, its ingress and egress, its entire schema, and its complete directives. Document these in their presence to ensure they adhere to the design and comply with all the directives.

12 The directive concerning the fortress is as follows: The complete area encircling it on the mountaintop is considered exceptionally exalted. This directive relates to the fortress:”

§ 22520 THE GREAT PEDESTAL TABLE RESTORED

13 The pedestal table’s dimensions, measured in long cubits (52.4 cm), include a 52.4 cm deep and wide gutter with a span-wide rim. This measurement defines the pedestal table’s height.
14 From the base drain to the first stage, the height is 104.8 cm, with a 52.4 cm wide ledge. From this stage to the upper stage, it rises 209.6 cm, maintaining the same ledge width.
15 The pedestal table fireplace stands seven feet tall, with four vertical horns.

16 The hearth is a perfect square, 6.288 meters on each side.
17 The upper platform is also a perfect square, 7.336 meters on each side, with a one-cubit channel and a half-cubit rim. The stairs face East.
18 The Sovereign Captain decreed: “These are the guidelines for presenting scorched absolving payments and scattering blood on the pedestal table once constructed.”
19 The Sovereign Captain directives a young bullock as a purification gift to the Levitical mediators from Zadok’s family who serve me.
20 “Smear some of the bull’s blood on the pedestal table’s horns, upper ledge quadrants, and around its edge to cleanse it and cover any unworthy choices.”
21 The bull for absolving payment should be scorched in the designated fortress area, away from the Exalted Space.
22 On the next day, present an unblemished male goat as an atonement offering to cleanse the pedestal table, as done with the bull.
23 After cleansing, present an unblemished young bull and a defect-free ram from the flock.
24 "Present your work before the Sovereign Captain with integrity, adding care and intention, like seasoning that preserves and enhances, as a meaningful offering to the Eternal Reality."
25 Prepare a daily male goat for seven days as a purification offering, along with a flawless young bull and ram.
26 They shall purify and set-apart the pedestal table over seven days.
27 After these days, starting on the eighth day, the ensovereigned mediators will offer your scorched and peace-absolving payments on the exalted pedestal table. I will then accept you, as proclaimed by the Eternal Reality.

§ 22530 THE ENSOVEREIGNED MEDIATORS RESTORED

44 The individual led me to the eastern outer gate of the fortress, confirming it was closed.

2 As the Sovereign Captain instructed, this gate will remain sealed because the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, entered through it.
3 Only the Prime Ruler may dine in the entrance passageway in the sight of the Sovereign Captain, entering and exiting through the vestibule.
4 The individual guided me to the fortress’ forefront. I witnessed the Sovereign Captain’s radiant presence in the fortress, causing me to prostrate in humility.
5 The Sovereign Captain said, “Heir of Humanity, observe meticulously, listen carefully, and focus on all regulations and directions for the fortress. Be attentive to its entry and exit points.”

6 Tell the defiant people of Israel that the Sovereign Captain declares: “Enough of your despicable actions, citizens of Israel!”
7 You allowed those unaligned with the Eternal Reality’s lifestyle to infiltrate My Exalted Space, tarnishing my fortress when you presented my sustenance, violating my pact.
8 Instead of upholding responsibility for my exalted absolving payments, you entrusted others with overseeing my fortress.
9 The Eternal Reality’s message dictates: No outsider misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh will enter My Exalted Space, not even those among the Israelites.
10 The Levites who distanced themselves from me when Israel deviated will endure the fallout of their transgressions.
11 They may execute duties in My Exalted Space, overseeing the entrance and fulfilling responsibilities within; they may slaughter scorched absolving payments and other absolving payments made by the people and attend to them by providing service.
12 Since they catered to idolized deities and led Israel into transgression, they will endure the ramifications of their unworthy choices, declares the Eternal Reality.
13 They are forbidden from approaching me to perform ensovereigned mediator duties or nearing any of my purified or dedicated ensovereigned mediators; they must bear the dishonor of their repulsive conduct.

14 I will assign them responsibility for the fortress, handling all necessary tasks.
15 However, Levite mediators, offspring of Zadok who were caretakers of my fortress when Israel went astray, may approach me to serve; they will present absolving payments of fat and blood, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
16 Only they may enter my fortress and approach my table to serve me as protective guards.
17 When entering the inner courtyard gates, they must wear linen garments; no woolen attire is allowed while serving within the inner court or fortress.
18 They must wear linen head coverings and underclothes, avoiding garments that induce sweat.
19 When venturing into the outer courtyard where people gather, they must change attire to prevent purification by touching their formal garments.
20 They must not shave their heads or let their hair grow long but keep it neatly trimmed.
21 Activators cannot consume alcohol before entering the inner courtyard.
22 They cannot marry widows or divorced women; their spouses must be pure maidens of Israelite families or widows of other ensovereigned mediators.
23 They must instruct my people on discerning the exalted from the ordinary and guide them on differentiating the impure from the pure.
24 Ensovereigned mediators will judge disputes based on my stipulations, adhere to my directives during celebrations, and purify rest days.
25 An ensovereigned mediator should not make himself unhealthy by approaching a deceased individual unless it is his father, mother, male heir, daughter, brother, or unmarried sister.
26 Once purified, seven days must elapse before resuming duties.
27 He must present an absolving payment for his transgressions upon entering the inner yard to conduct service, as the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims.

28 I shall be the exclusive heritage for ensovereigned mediators; there should be no land allotment for them in Israel; I am what they possess.
29 They will consume grain tributes, unworthy choice tributes, and guilt tributes; all set-apart for Yahweh in Israel will be theirs.

30 The prime choice of all first harvests and dedicated offerings will be designated to ensovereigned mediators. Your responsibility is to provide them with the initial batch of milled grain, inviting empowerment to your family home.
31 Regulations prohibit ensovereigned mediators from consuming meat from any bird or animal that has died naturally or has been ravaged by other beasts.

§ 22540 ISRAEL FULLY RESTORED

45 When distributing the land, set aside a special parcel for the Sovereign Captain, measuring 13.1 kilometers by 10,480 meters, all maintained as exalted grounds.
2 Allocate a square plot measuring 262 meters by 262 meters for the fortress and surround it with an open space of 26.2 meters.
3 In the purified region, designate a segment of 13.1 kilometers by 5240 meters for the fortress, the Most Exalted Space.
4 This exalted land will be for the ensovereigned mediators serving in the fortress, providing space for their residences and a purified area for the fortress.
5 The Levites, ensovereigned mediators of the fortress, will have a parcel of 5250 meters by 13.1 kilometers for their communities.
6 Designate an area of 2620 meters by 13.1 kilometers for the city, adjacent to the exalted site, for the entire house of Israel.
7 The Prime Ruler will possess territory adjacent to both sides of the exalted area and the city's property, stretching from the West to the East border, equivalent to one communal division.
8 This land will be his property in Israel. My rulers will no longer exploit my people. Still, they will grant the remaining land to the Israelites based on their communities.

9 The Eternal Reality proclaims: "You've crossed the line, rulers of Israel! Abandon violence and suppression and uphold justice and fairness. Cease evicting my people," asserts the Eternal Reality.
10 Use precise balances, a precise dry measure, and an accurate liquid measure.
11 Both the bath (22.5 liters) and the ephah (22.5 liters) have the same volume. A single bath is a tenth of a homer (22.5 liters). A single ephah also contains a tenth of a homer (22.5 liters). The homer (225 liters) will standardize all volume measurements.
12 One shekel should be equivalent to 5.7 grams. Summing up, twenty, twenty-five, and fifteen shekels give you one mina.
13 This distinctive offering is what you should present: 3.75 liters from every 36.67 liters of wheat and 3.75 liters from every 36.67 liters of barley.
14 The stipulated fraction of olive oil, gauged in baths, implies a tenth of a bath for every cor, which amounts to ten baths or homer, as ten baths are equivalent to one homer (225 liters).
15 Additionally, from each group of two hundred, select one sheep from Israel's lush grazing fields for grain, scorched, and peace offerings to achieve reconciliation for the people, as the Eternal Reality proclaims.
16 Every land inhabitant must contribute this exceptional offering to the Prime Ruler of Israel.
17 The Prime Ruler shall supply scorched absolving payments, grain offerings, and libations during festivals, New Moons, and Sabbaths across all appointed celebrations of Israel. He shall ensure absolving payments for unworthy choices, grain offerings, scorched offerings, and peace offerings to seek atonement for the Israelites.
18 The Almighty Sovereign Captain decrees: "On the first day of the first month, procure an unblemished young bull to purify the fortress."

19 The designated mediators must apply a small amount of blood from the offering to cleanse transgressions on the four corners of the table, gate posts leading to the inner courtyard, and main entrance doorposts.

20 On the seventh day of the month, conduct the same formality for anyone who commits an unworthy choice unknowingly; hence, repay the fortress.
21 The Emancipation celebration should begin on the fourteenth day of the first month and continue for a week; consume only unleavened bread during this period.
22 On that occasion, the leader must supply a bull for an unworthy choice offering for himself and all-region inhabitants.
23 Throughout the seven-day festival, present seven flawless bulls and seven rams each day as an absolving burning to the Sovereign Captain and a male goat for atonement of unworthy choices.
24 Offer a grain gift of 22.5 liters with each bull and ram and 3670 milliliters of oil mixed with each 22.5 liters.
25 On the fifteenth day of Tishrei, during the seven-day celebration, prepare absolving payments, including transgression absolving payments, scorched absolving payments, grain offerings, and oil.

46 The Eternal Reality directives: “During the six workdays, the east-facing gate of the inner courtyard remains closed but opens on the Day of Rest and New Moon.”
2 The Prime Ruler enters through the vestibule and stands by the doorpost. Ensovereigned mediators create his scorched absolving payment and peace offerings. He salutes at the gate’s entrance before departing, keeping the gate open until dusk.
3 The land’s inhabitants salute in the Sovereign Captain’s presence at the gateway on Days of Rest and New Moons.
4 The leader’s absolving payment on the Day of Rest includes six flawless male lambs and a ram, all without imperfections.
5 The grain gift with the ram is 22.5 liters, and with the lambs, as much as desired, plus 3670 milliliters of olive oil per 22.5 liters.
6 During the New Moon, offer a young, unblemished bull, six lambs, and a ram, each without imperfections.

7 The grain offering is 22.5 liters with each bull and ram. For the lambs, provide as per capacity, including 3670 milliliters of oil per 22.5 liters.
8 The leader enters and exits through the entrance hall passageway.
9 When visiting the Sovereign Captain during fixed celebrations, those entering through the northern entrance must exit through the southern gate and vice versa. No one should retreat through their entryway but use the opposite end.
10 The Prime Ruler accompanies the people, entering and exiting with them.
11 During festivities and exalted occasions, the grain tribute is 22.5 liters for each bull, ram, and lamb, as much as desired, plus 3670 milliliters of oil per 22.5 liters.
12 When presenting a voluntary offering to the Sovereign Captain—scorched or peace offering—the eastward gate opens. He renders his offerings as on the Day of Rest and then closes the gate upon departure.
13 Provide a flawless one-year-old lamb for the Sovereign Captain as a daily scorched absolving payment every morning.
14 Prepare a grain absolving payment every morning using 3.75 liters and 1.365 liters of oil to soften the flour. This perpetual practice is an enduring statute.
15 The lamb, grain gift, and oil should be provided each morning for a regular absolving burning.

16 The Eternal Reality declares: “If the Prime Ruler offers part of his estate to any of his sons, it will be their legacy through inheritance.”
17 If he offers part of his legacy to a laborer, it remains with the laborer until the year of liberty; afterward, it returns to the Prime Ruler. His inheritance is exclusive to his sons; it stands as their possession.
18 The Prime Ruler should not seize any portion of the people’s heritage or push them away from their holdings. He must pass on his sons’ inheritance from his assets so that no one among my people is dispossessed of their belongings.
19 The man guided me through the pathway by the gateway leading into the north-facing exalted chambers for ensovereigned mediators. He pointed out a spot on the western side.

20 He said this is where ensovereigned mediators prepare compensation and purification offerings and grain offerings to prevent them from being taken into the external area and unintentionally purifying the populace.
21 He guided me to the exterior courtyard through its four angles, where I found an additional courtyard at every angle.
22 In each corner of the exterior courtyard were walled enclosures measuring 26.2 meters in length and 15.72 meters in width; all four corner courts were identical in dimensions.
23 A stone shelf was in each courtyard, with fireplaces constructed beneath it.
24 He said this is where those serving in the fortress prepare absolving payments brought by the people.

§ 22550 THE RIVER FROM THE FORTRESS

47 The guide led me back to the hub of the community, where I saw streams of renewal flowing out from its foundation, spreading vitality to the city.

3 The guide moved eastward, measuring 524 meters, and led me through ankle-deep water.
4 He measured another 500 steps, leading me through knee-high water. Again, he measured 500 steps, and the water reached my hips.
5 He measured another thousand steps, but now it was a river too deep to cross, suitable for swimming but untraversable.
6 He asked, “Human, have you seen this?” Then he brought me back to the riverbank.
7 On returning, I saw many trees on both sides of the river.
8 He explained that the water flows East, down into the Arabah, and into the Dead Sea. When it enters the sea, the salty water becomes fresh.

9 Wherever the river flows, life will thrive, with many fish because the river makes the salty water fresh; Wherever the revitalizing stream of renewal flows, life will flourish.
10 People will dry their nets along the shore from En Gedi to En Eglaim. The variety of fish will be as abundant as in the Mediterranean Sea.
11 The swamps and marshes will not be purified; they will be left for salt production.
12 Every variety of fruit trees will flourish on either side of the river. Neither their fruit nor their leaves will wither. Because the river from the fortification waters them, trees will produce fresh fruit every month. The leaves will be used for healing and the inner fruit for nourishment.

§ 22560 THE BOUNDARIES OF THE LAND

13 The Eternal Reality declares: “These are the borders of the land you will distribute among the twelve communities of Israel, with a double portion for Joseph.”
14 The land must be divided equally among you. I promised your forefathers this territory, which is now yours.
15 The boundaries are as follows: From the Great Sea on the North, extending by Hethlon, bypassing Lebo Hamath, and reaching Zedad.
16 From Berothah to Sibraim (along the frontier between Damascus and Hamath) to Hazer Hattikon on Hauran’s border.
17 From the sea to Hazar Enan, tracing the northern limit of Damascus, with Hamath’s border on the North. This perimeter is the northern frontier.
18 The eastern limit stretches between Hauran and Damascus, following the Jordan River between Gilead and Israel, to the Dead Sea, and up to Tamar. This perimeter is the eastern border.
19 The southern limit starts from Tamar, stretching to the waters of Meribah Kadesh, then following the Egyptian brook to the Mediterranean Sea. This is the southern border.

20 The Mediterranean Sea marks the western extremity, extending to a location across from Lebo Hamath. This is the western border.
21 The land should be divided among the communities of Israel.
22 It should be shared with immigrants living among you who have children. Treat them as natural-born Israelites. They will receive a portion of the land among the Israelite communities.
23 The community where the outsider dwells will allocate his share of land, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 22570 THE DIVISION OF THE LAND

48 The communal divisions start from the northernmost boundary. Dan’s territory extends from the Hethlon route to Lebo Hamath, including Hazar Enan and the northern frontier of Damascus adjacent to Hamath, spreading from East to West.
2 Asher’s share adjoins Dan’s territory, extending East to West.
3 Naphtali’s segment adjoins Asher’s land from East to West.
4 Manasseh’s share adjoins Naphtali’s land from East to West.
5 Ephraim’s share adjoins Manasseh’s area from East to West.
6 Reuben’s segment adjoins Ephraim’s territory, extending from East to West.
7 Judah’s share adjoins Reuben’s territory, extending from East to West.
8 Abutting Judah’s boundary from East to West is the section dedicated as a unique present, 13.1 kilometers wide, with the exalted fortress at its core.

9 The designated area for offering to the Sovereign Captain measures 5,240 meters in width and 13.1 kilometers in length.

10 This exalted tract for the ensovereigned mediators extends 13.1 kilometers on the northern side, 5,240 meters in width towards the West and East, and 13.1 kilometers on the southern side. The Sovereign Captain’s fortress is situated in its midst.
11 This portion is for the set-apart mediators, descendants of Zadok, who stayed steadfast and didn’t diverge from the right path as the Levites and other Israelites did.

[12] This unique offering from the Eternal Reality's sector of the land is adjacent to the Levites' territory.
[13] The Levites' section extends 13.1 kilometers in length and 5,240 meters in width. The entire length measures 13.1 kilometers, and its full width encompasses 5,240 meters.
[14] They are prohibited from selling or trading any part. This prime portion of land should not be transferred as it is purified to the Sovereign Captain.
[15] The surplus land, 2,620 meters wide and 13.1 kilometers long, serves ordinary city functions, providing space for residences and grasslands. The city is situated in its midst.

[16] The dimensions are as follows: • Northern boundary: 2.358 kilometers • Southern boundary: 2.358 kilometers • Eastern boundary: 2.358 kilometers • Western boundary: 2.358 kilometers [17] The city's grasslands extend 131 meters to the West, East, South, and North.

[18] The leftover land adjacent to the hallowed territories on both the East and West sides extends over 5,240 meters each. The yield from this land caters to the city's laborers' sustenance needs.

[19] The city laborers cultivating the land hail from every community of Israel.
[20] The entire area forms a square, measuring 13.1 kilometers on each side. The exalted share is a unique offering, including the city's land.
[21] The remaining land is for the Prime Ruler, on either side of the exalted offering and the city's property, adjacent to the 13.1 kilometers of the offering toward the East border and westward adjacent to the 13.1 kilometers toward the West border, adjacent to the Prime Ruler's portions. It is a holy offering with the fortress in the center.
[22] The Levites' and city lands are within the inner-self of the Prime Ruler's territory between Judah's and Benjamin's boundaries.
[23] Benjamin receives a single section stretching East to West.
[24] Simeon's share adjoins Benjamin's territory from East to West.
[25] Issachar's share adjoins Simeon's land from East to West.
[26] Zebulun's share runs adjacent to Issachar's territory from East to West.
[27] Gad's share adjoins Zebulun's land from East to West.
[28] Gad's southern border extends from Tamar to Meribah Kadesh waters, following Egypt's brook to the Mediterranean Sea.
[29] This territory is apportioned to Israel's communities as their inheritance; these are their allocated shares," proclaims the Eternal Reality.

§ 22580 THE GATES OF THE NEW HUB

[30] The city's gates begin on the northern side, spanning 2.358 kilometers.
[31] These entrances will be named after the communities of Israel, with the North side featuring Reuben's gate, Judah's gate, and Levi's gate.
[32] The East side, also 2.358 kilometers long, will have gates for Joseph, Benjamin, and Dan.

[33] The southern side, measuring 2.358 kilometers, will include gates for Simeon, Issachar, and Zebulun.
[34] The western side, equally 2.358 kilometers, will have gates for Gad, Asher, and Naphtali.
[35] The city's perimeter will total 9.432 kilometers, and it will be named: "The Sovereign Captain is there."

~ 127 | My Judge | Daniel

§ 22590 DANIEL'S TRAINING IN BABYLON

1 During Jehoiakim's third year in Judah, Babylonian Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar besieged Yerushalayim.
2 The Sovereign Captain allowed Jehoiakim, ruler of Judah, and some exalted vessels from the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress to be captured. These were taken to Babylonia and placed in the idolized deity's treasure repository.

3 The Prime Ruler instructed Ashpenaz, his court official, to select a few Israelites from governance and wealthy families—
4 young men without flaws, attractive, wise, intelligent, and fit for the Prime Ruler's court. They were to be taught the Chaldean language and literature.
5 Their daily nourishment was arranged with food and wine from the Prime Ruler's servings. They were scheduled for a three-year education before serving in the governance court.

6 Among the selected were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah from Judah.
7 The principal officer gave them new names: Belteshazzar to Daniel, Shadrach to Hananiah, Meshach to Mishael, and Abednego to Azariah.

8 Daniel chose not to defile himself with the Prime Ruler's meals or drinks and requested an exemption from the head official.
9 The Preeminent Sovereign induced a kind attitude in the official towards Daniel.

10 However, the official feared the Prime Ruler, who determined their diet. If Daniel and his peers appeared worse than others their age, the Prime Ruler might order his execution.
11 Daniel then spoke to the guard supervising them.
12 "Please test your servants with a diet of vegetables and water for ten days.
13 Compare our appearance with those who eat the Prime Ruler's food and treat us based on your observations."

14 He agreed and tested them for ten days.
15 After ten days, they appeared healthier than those who ate the Prime Ruler's meals.
16 So, the overseer continued providing them with vegetables instead of fine food and beverages.

17 The Preeminent Sovereign granted these four youths wisdom and knowledge in various realms of literature and education. Daniel could decipher all sorts of visions and dreams.
18 They were presented to Nebuchadnezzar when their induction ended.
19 The Prime Ruler found none equal to Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, leading to their enlistment in his court.

20 Whenever the Prime Ruler sought wisdom and understanding, their insights surpassed all the court's magicians and enchanters tenfold.
21 Daniel served there until the first year of Prime Ruler Cyrus' reign.

§ 22600 NEBUCHADNEZZAR'S DREAM

2 During his second reign, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams that disturbed and deprived him of sleep.
2 He summoned diviners, wise men, spell casters, and astrologers to interpret his dream. They stood before him.
3 He told them his dream deeply troubled him and wanted its meaning.
4 The magicians replied, "May your reign be perpetual! Tell your dream to your administrators, and we will reveal its meaning."
5 Nebuchadnezzar declared, "Unless you reveal and explain my dream, you will be dismembered, and your homes turned into rubble.
6 You'll receive gifts, rewards, and great honor if you do. Now, tell me the dream and its meaning."
7 They insisted that if he shared his dream, they could interpret it.
8 Nebuchadnezzar accused them of stalling, knowing his decision was firm.
9 "If you don't reveal the dream, you face one sentence. You've conspired to deceive me with false words, hoping for a change in circumstances. So, tell me the dream, and I'll know you can explain it."
10 The astrologers argued that no one on Earth could meet his demand. "No ruler has ever asked such a thing from any spell caster, illusionist, or stargazer.
11 Only the idolized deities can fulfill this request, but they don't dwell among humans."
12 Furious, Nebuchadnezzar ordered all Babylon's wise men to be executed.

13 The decree was issued, and men were sent to find Daniel and his companions for execution.
14 As Arioch, the chief officer of the governance guard, prepared to execute the wise men, Daniel approached him with discernment and prudence.
15 He asked why the Prime Ruler's command was so severe. Arioch explained the situation.
16 Daniel then requested more time from the Prime Ruler to interpret the dream.
17 He returned home and informed his companions Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.
18 He urged them to seek celestial compassion from the Preeminent Sovereign of the celestial realm regarding this mystery, hoping to avoid the same fate as Babylon's other wise men.
19 Daniel received the mystery in a vision that night. He then praised the Preeminent Sovereign of the celestial realms.
20 Daniel said: "Forever may the name of the Preeminent Sovereign be esteemed; He possesses wisdom and strength.
21 He changes times and seasons; he removes Prime Rulers and sets up new ones. He grants knowledge to the discerning and wisdom to the wise.
22 He makes deep and concealed realities visible; light resides inside Him, and He knows what is hidden from view.
23 I thank you, Preeminent Sovereign of my ancestors: • You've given me wisdom and might. • You've disclosed what we asked of you. • You've made known to us the Prime Ruler's dream."

§ 22610 DANIEL INTERPRETS THE DREAM

24 Daniel approached Arioch, assigned by the Prime Ruler to eliminate Babylon's wise men, and implored him not to kill them. "Escort me to the Prime Ruler, and I shall disclose the meaning of his dream to him."

25 Arioch swiftly presented Daniel to the Prime Ruler, declaring he'd identified an individual from Judah's captives who could reveal the interpretation of the Prime Ruler's dream.
26 The Prime Ruler questioned Daniel, also known as Belteshazzar, "Can you reveal the content of the dream I experienced and elucidate its meaning?"
27 Daniel stated that no scholar, spell caster, wizard, or fortune-teller could reveal the enigma he sought to explain to the Prime Ruler.
28 "Indeed, a Preeminent Sovereign resides in the celestial realms and unveils secrets. This Eternal Reality has imparted a vision of future events to Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar. This vision was the substance of your dream and the mental imagery that occurred while you were asleep in bed."
29 "While you were at rest, O Prime Ruler, your thoughts ventured into the future, and the secrets unveiled what will unfold."
30 "This mystery was unveiled to me, not due to possessing superior wisdom compared to all other living beings, but to make the explanation known to you, the Prime Ruler, and help you comprehend the thoughts that crossed your mind." 31 "Your rule, you observed a colossal artifact, strikingly bright and imposing, which invoked a sense of terror."
32 "The artifact boasted a head constructed of unadulterated gold, with its torso and limbs formed from silver and its abdomen and upper legs crafted from bronze."
33 "Its limbs were crafted from iron, with its extremities combining iron and fire-hardened clay."
34 "As observed, human hands had not touched the hewn stone. It hit the artifact at its iron and clay feet, shattering them."

35 "Simultaneously, the iron, clay, bronze, silver, and gold shattered into chaff from a summer harvest ground. A gust carried them off, leaving no remnants. However, the stone that impacted the artifact grew into a colossal mountain, occupying the entire planet." 36 "This dream constituted the vision, and we are prepared now to provide the Prime Ruler with its explanation."
37 "Sovereign, you are the epitome of rulers. The celestial, the Preeminent Sovereign, has granted you reign, authority, potency, and honor." 38 "The Preeminent Sovereign has entrusted into your care all humans, beasts of the field, and birds of the sky. Regardless of their dwelling place, you've been appointed as their overseer.
You symbolize the head of gold."
39 "Following your reign, a different empire, lesser in power, will emerge. Subsequently, a third empire, characterized by bronze, will dominate the globe." 40 "A fourth empire will emerge, robust as iron—for iron shatters and pulverizes everything—and just like iron reduces objects to fragments, it will demolish and shatter all the remaining ones." 41 "As you interpreted the feet and toes of the figure to consist partly of iron and partly of earthen clay, this realm will be fragmented; nonetheless, it will retain some of the iron's robustness just as you perceived the combination of iron with clay."
42 "This empire exhibited strength and brittleness as the toes comprised iron and clay."
43 "Like the vision of iron combined with earthen clay, the populace will form a blend but will not sustain unity, just as iron does not fuse with clay."
44 The Preeminent Sovereign of The Celestial Realms will establish Sovereignty during those Prime Rulers' reigns that will never fall or be taken over by another nation. It will destroy all these nations and bring them to an end, yet it will endure forever.
45 "The Eternal Reality discloses a vision of a stone, cut from the mountain without human intervention, that reduces the iron, bronze, clay, silver, and gold to rubble, representing the future to the Prime Ruler. The dream is genuine, and its explanation can be relied on."

46 Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar lowered himself to the ground before Daniel, gave him due respect, and decreed that an absolving payment and fragrant incense should be made for him.
47 The Prime Ruler proclaimed to Daniel, “Without a doubt, your idolized deity is the grand deity of all idolized deities and the Sovereign of all Rulers, and an Unveiler of Enigmas, considering you succeeded in unraveling this enigma.”
48 Subsequently, the Prime Ruler elevated Daniel to a prestigious rank, granting him numerous gifts. He appointed him as the governor over the entire province of Babylon and the head of all the wise advisers.
49 On Daniel’s urging, the Prime Ruler designated Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego as overseers of the Babylon region. At the same time, Daniel stayed within the governance premises.

§ 22620 THE IMAGE OF GOLD AND THE BLAZING FURNACE

3 Sovereign Nebuchadnezzar constructed a golden effigy, ninety feet high and 2.62 meters wide, in the expanse of Dura within Babylon province.
2 He summoned satraps, prefects, regional authorities, counselors, chief financiers, judges, law officers, and all provincial leaders to attend the inauguration of his artifact.
3 The officials assembled to commission the artifact that Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar had established, positioning themselves in its presence.
4 The official announced to all races, nations, and tongues, “Here are your directives.
5 When the melody from the shofar, flute, lyre, zither, bagpipe, and every instrument plays, everyone must salute and pay homage to the golden figure that Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar has fabricated.
6 Any individual failing to salute and express joyful adoration shall promptly be cast into a fiery inferno.”

7 Consequently, when the shofar, flute, zither, lyre, harp, and various other musical instruments played their melodies, individuals from all nations and tongues joyfully prostrated themselves in adoration before the golden artifact that Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar had established.
8 Certain astrologers levied accusations against the Israelites during this period.
9 “Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar, we wish our Prime Ruler eternal life!
10 You enacted a law stating that anyone who hears the melody of the shofar, flute, lyre, zither, harp, bagpipe, or any form of music must prostrate themselves and pay homage to the golden artifact.
11 Any individual failing to kneel and offer reverence will be cast into a furnace of raging fire.
12 Nevertheless, certain Israelites you’ve assigned to administrative duties in Babylon—namely, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego—disregard your authority. They fail to express joyful adoration to your idolized deities and show no reverence for the golden artifact you’ve fabricated.”
13 In anger, Nebuchadnezzar commanded the presence of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.
14 Nebuchadnezzar queried them. “Is it accurate that you refuse to honor my idolized deities or pay tribute to the golden artifact I have fabricated?
15 Should you be ready to prostrate yourself and pay homage to the artifact I’ve created at the sound of the flute, harp, horn, lyre, pipe, zither, and other instruments—very well. However, failure to do so will result in your immediate relocation to an inferno. Tell me, which deity can free you from my clutches?”

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego responded to Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar, saying, “We do not have to present a defense to you concerning this issue.
17 Should we be cast into the fiery inferno, the Eternal Reality we express joyful adoration can extract us from it and will liberate us from your governance clutches.
18 However, even if he chooses not to, we need you to understand that we refuse to pay homage to your idolized deities or revere the golden figure you’ve fabricated.”

19 Nebuchadnezzar was furious and commanded the furnace be heated seven times its normal heat.
20 He ordered his strongest warriors to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and cast them into the fiery furnace.
21 These men were tied up and tossed into the scorching inferno.
22 Due to the Prime Ruler’s precipitated order and the intensely heated furnace, the inferno’s rage claimed the lives of the soldiers escorting Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.
23 These securely bound men descended into the roaring flames.
24 Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar sprang up and asked his counselors, “Didn’t we bind and cast exclusively three men into the fire?” They affirmed.
25 He claimed, “Observe! I spot four figures roaming uninhibited and unscathed within the fire;
the fourth appears to be a Celestial Envoy’s offspring.”
26 Nebuchadnezzar then moved towards the doorway of the fiery furnace and exclaimed, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the Preeminent Sovereign Almighty, emerge and approach!” As a result, they exited the inferno.
27 The satraps, prefects, governors, and governance advisers observed that the blaze did not affect these men’s physical forms during the gathering. Not a single strand of their hair was scorched; their attire remained untouched by fire; no whiff of smoke could be detected.
28 From the earliest times, no one has experienced, no ear has discerned, no eye has witnessed any Preeminent Sovereign other than You, who intervenes for those who patiently anticipate him.
29 “So I command that individuals of any ethnicity or dialect who utter offensive words against the Eternal Reality of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego shall be dismembered. Their residences transformed into debris as no other celestial entity could rescue them in such a manner.”
30 Subsequently, the Prime Ruler advanced Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego to higher positions within Babylon.

§ 22630 NEBUCHADNEZZAR’S DREAM OF A TREE

4 A message from Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar to all nations, cultures, and language speakers inhabiting the globe: “May your wealth and success multiply!”
2 “I am delighted to share the marvelous works and wonders the Supreme Preeminent Sovereign has worked in my life.
3 His marvelous works are staggering; his wonders are surprising! His reign is everlasting; his rule continues from one era to the next.
4 I was comfortable in my home and thriving in my residence, I, Nebuchadnezzar.
5 My dream terrified me; the pictures and ideas in my head awakened me from sleep.
6 I ordered all Babylon’s sages to be summoned in my presence to interpret my dream.
7 When sorcerers, seers, astrologers, and fortune-tellers arrived, I shared my dream with them, yet they could not explain its meaning.
8 In the end, Daniel (Belteshazzar) entered my court. I shared my dream with him.

9 “Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, I know that you possess the essence of the holy gods and that mysteries do not deter you. Please tell me about the interpretation of the images I saw in my dream.
10 While I lay in bed, I had these mental images of what I saw happening: there was a large tree in the middle of the land.
11 The tree became enormous and robust, reaching the sky and visible from the planet’s horizon.
12 It had lovely leaves, abundant fruit, and enough sustenance for everyone. It covered the field’s creatures, a nesting place for avian birds, and a food source for all living things.
13 Also, while I lay in bed, I saw mental images of an exalted person, a watcher, descended from the celestial realms.

14 “Cut down the tree and slash off its branches; rip off the leaves and scatter its fruit,” he yelled in a loud voice. Let the birds fly from its branches, and the creatures run from under it.
15 However, leave the stump in the field’s delicate grass, with its roots buried and a belt of iron and bronze surrounding it. Let him graze on the Earth’s grass with the creatures and be doused in the dew of the celestial realms.
16 Till seven different times pass him by, let his mind be transformed from that of a man to that of a beast.
17 To ensure that the living understand, the Most High exercises control over the realm of people, distributing it to whomever He chooses and establishing the lowest of men over it. This decision constitutes the watchers’ ruling, the verdict the Exalted Ones have pronounced.

18 This vision is what I, Nebuchadnezzar, observed in a dream. None of my realm’s clever men can translate it for me, Belteshazzar, so please tell me the meaning. However, you are capable because you possess the Eternal Spark.

§ 22640 DANIEL INTERPRETS THE DREAM

19 Daniel, also known as Belteshazzar, was momentarily bewildered, and his thoughts alarmed him. The Prime Ruler reassured him, urging him not to let the dream or its interpretation trouble him. Belteshazzar replied, “My Prime Ruler, I wish the dream were about your enemies and its meaning for your adversaries!”

20 “The tree you saw, which grew large and strong, its top reaching the celestial realms and visible worldwide,
21 with beautiful leaves and abundant fruit, providing food for all, shelter for animals, and branches for birds to nest.
22 My Preeminent Sovereign, you are that tree! You have grown great and strong; your greatness has reached the sky, and Your Sovereignty extends to the ends of the Earth.

23 “Prime Ruler saw a set-apart messenger from the celestial realms saying, ‘Cut down the tree and destroy it but leave the stump bound with iron and bronze in the grass of the field, with its roots in the ground. Let it be drenched with the dew of the celestial realms and live with the animals until seven times pass by. ’

24 “This is the interpretation, Prime Ruler, and this is the decree of the Most High against you.

25 You'll be forced to live among wild animals and be separated from people; you'll drink sky dew and eat straw like an ox. Seven times will pass until you acknowledge that the Supreme One rules over all earthly realms and gives them to anyone He wishes.
26 The command to leave the tree's stump with its roots means that your realm will be restored to you when you recognize that the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality holds authority.

27 "So, my Prime Ruler, accept my advice: Renounce your transgressions by practicing integrity and your iniquities by showing compassion to the oppressed. This way, your prosperity may continue."

§ 22650 THE DREAM IS FULFILLED

28 All these events transpired for Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar.
29 A year later, the Prime Ruler strolled on the rooftop of his majestic palace in Babylon.
30 He remarked, "Isn't this magnificent Babylon, which I have constructed as a governance dwelling, utilizing my immense strength and displaying my impressive majesty?"
31 As the speech was still in Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar's presence, a celestial utterance fell from the celestial realms stating, "This is the binding proclamation for you, Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar: Your sovereignty has been stripped from you."

32 "You shall be compelled to depart from human society and dwell with the creatures of the wilderness; you will consume foliage as bovines do. A cycle of seven seasons will transpire before you recognize that the Eternal Authority governs all earthly realms and assigns them to whomever He determines."
33 Without delay, the vision of Nebuchadnezzar came to pass. He was expelled from human society and began to consume grass as if he were an ox. The nightly dew soaked his body till his hair lengthened like an eagle's plumage, and his fingernails resembled bird talons.
34 When that period concluded, I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted my gaze toward the sky, and my mental clarity returned. Consequently, I extolled the Preeminent Sovereign; I expressed respect and magnified him, who exists eternally. His sovereignty is beyond time; his reign persists through all generations.
35 Every inhabitant of the planet is seen as insignificant. He executes as he desires with the celestial forces and all life on Earth. No person can resist or question his influence: "What is your action?"
36 Concurrently, with the return of my mental clarity, my prestige and magnificence were returned to me, amplifying the grandeur of my realm. My counselors and elites sought my counsel, and I was reinstated as the Prime Ruler of my realm, rising to a greatness unmatched by my past self.
37 At this point, I, Nebuchadnezzar, laud, magnify, and honor the Sovereign of the Celestial Realms, for every single action he carries out is fair, and all his paths are filled with justice.
Furthermore, he can bring those filled with arrogance down to their submission.

§ 22660 THE WRITING ON THE WALL

5 Prime Ruler Belshazzar hosted a grand celebration for a thousand distinguished guests, indulging in wine with them.

2 As he savored his wine, he commanded to bring the gold and silver vessels Nebuchadnezzar had seized from the fortress in Yerushalayim for him, his dignitaries, wives, and concubines to use.
3 The gold cups from the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress in Yerushalayim were brought, and they drank from them.

4 While drinking, they praised their idolized deities of gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.
5 Suddenly, a human hand appeared and began writing on the plaster wall near the light fixture in the Prime Ruler's residence. Belshazzar watched the hand as it wrote.
6 Fear gripped him; his thoughts terrified him, his legs weakened, and his knees knocked together.
7 He called loudly for the sorcerers, astrologers, and fortune-tellers, promising that anyone who could interpret the writing would be clothed in governance purple, wear a golden necklace, and become the third highest authority in the realm.
8 None of the wise men could interpret the writing or explain its meaning despite their efforts.
9 Belshazzar's fear grew, his complexion paled further, and his officials were bewildered.

10 Hearing the commotion, the First Lady entered the banquet hall. "Long live the Prime Ruler," she said. "Don't let your thoughts alarm you or your face turn pale!
11 There is a man in your realm with the essence of the Eternal Reality. During your father's reign, he had insight and wisdom like the Eternal Reality. Prime Ruler Nebuchadnezzar appointed him over the sorcerers, mystics, astrologers, and fortune tellers.
12 This man, Daniel (called Belteshazzar by Nebuchadnezzar), has extraordinary intelligence, knowledge, discernment, and the ability to interpret dreams, solve enigmas, and untangle complex issues. Summon Daniel, and he will explain the writing."

13 Daniel was brought before Belshazzar. The Prime Ruler asked, "Are you Daniel, one of the captives from Judah brought by my father?
14 I've heard that you have the essence of a Celestial Force and possess exceptional discernment, intelligence, and wisdom.

15 My wise men and enchanters couldn't interpret this writing.
16 But I've heard you can solve mysteries and untangle complex issues. Can you interpret this writing and explain its meaning to me? In that case, you'll be clothed in violet attire, wear a golden necklace, and be the third most influential leader in the realm."

17 Daniel replied, "Keep your gifts or give them to someone else. Nevertheless, I will interpret the writing for you.
18 The Eternal Reality gave your predecessor Nebuchadnezzar rule, magnificence, honor, and brilliance.
19 All peoples and nations feared him because of his elevated status. Nebuchadnezzar killed whom he wished and spared whom he wished; Nebuchadnezzar elevated whom he wished and humbled whom he wished.
20 But when he became arrogant and disrespectful, his authority was taken away, and he was stripped of his glory.
21 Nebuchadnezzar was driven from human society; his mind became like that of an animal; he lived with wild donkeys and ate grass like an ox; his body was drenched with dew until he acknowledged that the Supreme Preeminent Sovereign rules over all earthly nations and appoints anyone He wishes to rule them.

22 Despite knowing all this, Belshazzar, you did not humble yourself.

23 Instead, you defied the Sovereign Captain of the celestial realms by using His sacred cups for drinking wine with your dignitaries, wives, and concubines while praising idolized deities of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone—idolized deities that cannot see or hear.
24 This hand was sent to write this message."

25 "The inscription reads as follows." MENE, MENE, TEKEL, PARSIN.

26 The message's meaning is as follows: MENE denotes that the Preeminent Sovereign has counted down the days of your sovereignty and ended it.
27 Tekel: You've been evaluated on the scales of integrity and discovered a deficiency.
28 Peres signifies that your empire has been segmented and granted to the Medes and Persians.
29 Following Belshazzar's directive, Daniel was adorned in governance purple attire, a golden necklace was draped around his collar, and his status as the realm's third most potent authority was publicly announced.
30 Belshazzar, the Prime Ruler of the Babylonians, was killed that night.
31 Darius the Mede took command of the realm at nearly sixty-two years old.

§ 22670 DANIEL IN THE DEN OF LIONS

6 Darius found establishing 120 satraps who govern the entire realm agreeable.
2 Three superiors were assigned, one of whom was Daniel, to whom the satraps were responsible for ensuring the Prime Ruler would not sustain any loss.
3 Daniel emerged extraordinarily among the administrators and satraps due to his unique qualities, leading the Prime Ruler to consider him for the leadership of the entire realm.
4 Consequently, the high officials and satraps endeavored to indict Daniel based on his bureaucratic responsibilities, but they utterly failed. They couldn't find any evidence of misconduct because he was reliable and showed no signs of corruption or negligence.
5 These men concluded we'd never find any legitimate reason to incriminate Daniel unless it involved the directives of his Preeminent Sovereign.
6 These leaders and officials gathered collectively and addressed the Prime Ruler: "Long live Prime Ruler Darius!"

7 "All the high-ranking officials, prefects, regional authorities, counselors, and deputies are in consensus that the Prime Ruler and a Law should make a proclamation enacted stating that anybody making a melding of your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign to any Eternal Reality or person over the coming thirty days, excepting yourself, O Prime Ruler, is to be sent into the lions' den."
8 "Now, Your Highness, enact the Mosaic Law and record it so that it may not be modified following the ordinance of the Medes and Persians, which is unchangeable."
9 Prime Ruler Darius, therefore, endorsed the ordinance and recorded it.
10 On becoming aware of the proclamation's enactment, Daniel returned to his abode, specifically, the upper chamber with windows facing Yerushalayim. With a formalistic thrice-a-day routine, he would humble himself on his knees, offering the meldings of his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign and expressing gratitude to his Preeminent Sovereign, a custom he has consistently maintained.
11 These individuals congregated and discovered Daniel in a melding of his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign seeking assistance from his Preeminent Sovereign.

12 So, they approached the Prime Ruler and questioned him about his governance edict: “Didn’t you authorize and publicize an ordinance stating that for the ensuing thirty days, any individual who seeks assistance from any deity or human being other than you, Your Highness, would be hurled into the den of lions?” The Prime Ruler responded, “Indeed, the ordinance remains intact.”
13 They informed the Prime Ruler that Daniel, one of the captives from Judah, disregards you, Sovereign, and your officially documented edict. He continues melding his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign thrice daily.
14 On hearing this, the Prime Ruler was troubled; he was resolved to liberate Daniel and exerted himself until sunset to ensure his deliverance.
15 The group of men approached Prime Ruler Darius collectively. It reminded him that, as per the regulations of the Medes and Persians, any mandate or proclamation issued by a Prime Ruler cannot be altered.
16 The Prime Ruler commanded, and Daniel was brought forth and cast into the lion’s den. The Prime Ruler told Daniel, “The deity you incessantly express joyful adoration, may he liberate you!”

17 A rock was conveyed and positioned to cover the den’s entrance. The Prime Ruler sealed it using his seal and the seals of his dignitaries to ensure that the circumstances concerning Daniel could not be altered.
18 The Prime Ruler returned to his governance palace, enduring the night fasting with no diversions. He found himself unable to surrender to sleep.
19 As the morning sun rose, the Prime Ruler promptly arose and made haste to where the lions were kept.
20 Arriving close to the den, he called out to Daniel in a voice filled with distress, “Daniel, you who serve the living Preeminent Sovereign, has the Preeminent Sovereign to whom you devote yourself incessantly managed to save you from the lions?”

21 Daniel responded, “Long live the Prime Ruler!”
22 “My Sovereign Captain dispatched his Celestial representative, who sealed the lions’ mouths.
They haven’t harmed me since my innocence was acknowledged in his presence. Additionally, I’ve committed no offense towards you, Your Highness.”
23 The Prime Ruler could not contain his delight and commanded that Daniel be hoisted from the pit. On examination, after Daniel was retrieved from the den, no injury was detected on him, for he had placed his trust in his Preeminent Sovereign.
24 Under the Prime Ruler’s directive, those wrongfully blamed Daniel were seized and hurled into the lions’ lair with their spouses and offspring. The lions dominated them and shattered all their skeletal structure even before they made contact with the den’s base.
25 Prime Ruler Darius penned a message to all peoples, nations, and those speaking all languages across the globe: “Wishing you immense prosperity!”
26 “I’m implementing a Law across all regions of my realm that individuals are to elevate and tremble before the Preeminent Sovereign of Daniel. He is the eternally living Preeminent Sovereign whose sovereignty is indestructible, and his reign will last indefinitely.” 27 “He liberates and safeguards. He conducts marvelous works and marvels in the celestial spaces and on our planet. He has saved Daniel from the clutches of the lions.”

28 Daniel thrived under the rule of Darius and Cyrus the Persian.

§ 22680 DANIEL'S DREAM OF FOUR BEASTS

7 During the first year of Prime Ruler Belshazzar's reign over Babylon, Daniel had a dream with visions while asleep. He recorded the main theme.
2 Daniel said: "In my vision at night, I saw the four winds of the celestial realms stirring the vast ocean."
3 "Four enormous creatures emerged from the ocean, each different from the others."
4 "The first creature looked like a lion with an eagle's wings. As I watched, the wings were torn off. It was lifted from the Earth to stand on two legs like a person and was given a human mind."
5 "Then I saw a second creature, like a bear. It was raised on one side, with three ribs in its teeth. It was told, 'Arise and devour much meat!'"
6 "Next, I saw another creature, like a leopard. It had four wings of a bird on its back and four heads. It was given authority to rule."
7 "In my vision at night, I saw a fourth creature, terrifying and powerful. With iron teeth, it crushed and devoured its victims and trampled what was left. It was different from all the former beasts and had ten horns."
8 "As I considered the horns, a smaller one came up among them, and three of the first horns were uprooted before it. This horn had eyes like a human and spoke arrogantly."
9 "I watched as command bases were set up, and the One who has existed since immemorial took His command control. His clothing was white as snow; the hair on his head was like pure wool. His command control was flaming with fire, and its wheels were ablaze."
10 "A river of fire flowed from his presence. Thousands served him, and a million stood before him. The court was seated, and the books were opened."
11 "I kept watching because of the horn's arrogant words. I watched until the beast was slain, its body destroyed and thrown into the blazing fire."

12 "The other creatures had their authority taken away but were allowed to live for a period of time."
13 "In my vision at night, I saw someone like a human coming with the clouds of the celestial realms. He approached the beyond time Sovereign and was led into His presence."
14 All peoples and nations speaking every ethnic language gave him legitimacy, acclaim, and absolute authority; they honored him. His realm is an eternal sovereignty that is unaffected by time, and it can not be destroyed.

§ 22690 THE INTERPRETATION OF THE DREAM

15 I, Daniel, felt deeply distressed in my inner-self, and the images that flashed across my mind left me angry.
16 I approached one of those present and inquired about its significance. The Celestial Envoy responded and explained these matters to me.
17 The immense creatures represent four Prime Rulers who will emerge from the Earth.
18 The chosen ones of the Supreme Preeminent Sovereign will inherit the power to rule, holding it eternally for all ages.

19 I was keen to understand the authentic essence of the fourth creature, which, unlike all others, is intensely fearsome and possesses iron teeth and bronze claws. The beast was known for crushing its prey, consuming them, and stamping on any remainder with its feet.

20 I was keen to understand the ten protuberances on its crown and the additional one that appeared, succeeding. Three of them collapsed—the bump with a more formidable appearance than its peers and possessed eyes and a verbal organ expressing arrogance.
21 During my observation, the horn vigorously fought against the exalted individuals and emerged victorious.

22 Until the time arrived when the One who has lived forever passed the verdict in favor of the chosen ones of the Highest, and they assumed control over the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.

23 His interpretation was: “The fourth creature signifies a fourth empire that will emerge on this planet. It will be unlike all other empires and consume the entirety of the Earth, stomping on and shattering it.
24 The ten horns represent ten Prime Rulers that will rise from this realm. Following them, a distinct Prime Ruler will surface, unlike the preceding ones; he will overthrow three Prime Rulers.
25 He will defy the Most High and afflict His exalted people, even attempting to modify the established times and laws. His exalted people will be at his mercy for two periods and half a period.
26 Nonetheless, the judgment will be established, and his authority will be stripped, obliterated, and permanently abolished.
27 The reign, authority, and magnificence of all the nations beneath the sky will be entrusted to the exalted pathseekers of the Preeminent Sovereign. His dominion is eternal; all leaders will honor and submit to Him.”

28 The account ends here: These thoughts greatly perturbed me (Daniel), causing my complexion to lose its color, yet I restrained the issue within myself.

§ 22700 DANIEL’S VISION OF A RAM AND A GOAT

8 In the third year of Prime Ruler Belshazzar’s reign, Daniel had another vision following his first.
2 In this vision, he was in the fortress city of Susa, in Elam, standing by the Ulai Canal.
3 He saw a ram with two long horns by the canal; one horn grew longer than the other, though it appeared later.

4 The ram moved forcefully westward, northward, and southward, unstoppable and dominant.
5 As Daniel pondered this, a he-goat with a prominent horn between its eyes came from the West, crossing the globe without touching the ground.
6 The goat attacked the ram furiously, breaking its horns and overpowering it.
7 The ram was trampled with no one to save it.
8 The goat grew powerful but broke its large horn at the peak, which was then replaced by four notable horns pointing in different directions.
9 From one of these horns emerged a smaller horn that grew strong toward the South, East, and the glorious land.
10 It expanded its power against the celestial army, causing some celestial bodies to fall and be crushed.
11 It exalted itself to match the chief of the Celestial Armies, withdrew the universal gift from the Eternal Reality, and toppled His exalted fortress.

12 The Sovereign Captain's pathseekers and regular absolving payments were surrendered due to resistance. It succeeded in all its undertakings, casting honesty aside.
13 Daniel then heard a pure being conversing. Another pure being asked when this vision would be realized—the vision about the regular scorched absolving payment and the resulting desolation, the handing over of the Exalted Space, and the trampling of the Sovereign Captain's ensovereigned lifestyle community.
14 He was told that the exalted fortress would be purified after 2,300 days of evening and morning.

§ 22710 THE INTERPRETATION OF THE VISION

15 As Daniel scrutinized this vision, an entity resembling a human materialized before him.
16 A voice from the Ulai summoned Gabriel to elucidate the vision.

17 Approaching Daniel, fear gripped him, and he fell face-down. Gabriel addressed him as the Heir of Humanity, clarifying that the vision pertained to the final times.
18 Daniel succumbed to a profound slumber, but Gabriel returned him to an upright position.
19 Gabriel declared: "I will inform you of events during celestial fury, as the vision relates to the predestined epoch at the culmination."
20 "The two-horned ram represents the Prime Rulers of Media and Persia."
21 "The rough-coated male goat symbolizes the Prime Ruler of Greece, and the prominent horn signifies the inaugural Prime Ruler."
22 "The four horns that replaced the broken horn represent four nations from his nation, lacking equivalent might."
23 "When disobedience reaches its peak, a Prime Ruler with a menacing facade and adept in deception will emerge in their rule's concluding phase."
24 "This individual will gain strength not from his abilities, bringing extraordinary destruction and triumph. He will eliminate the powerful and those aligned with the Eternal Reality lifestyle."
25 "He will succeed through deceit, considering himself superior. In their false security, he will devastate many and confront the Prime Ruler of rulers. However, his downfall will come, not from human intervention."
26 "The disclosure about the evenings and mornings holds, yet keep the vision under wraps as it pertains to a time far ahead."
27 Daniel felt drained and feeble for days. He revived and proceeded with the Prime Ruler's affairs. The vision left him horrified; it was too complex to comprehend.

§ 22720 DANIEL'S MELDING OF HIS CONSCIENCE WITH THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

9 In the first year, Darius, son of Xerxes of the Median family, was appointed leader of the Babylonian empire.

2 In this initial year, I, Daniel, learned that the desolation of Yerushalayim would last for seventy years, as the Eternal Reality disclosed to Jeremiah through the Living Path.
3 I then sought the Sovereign Captain through the earnest melding of my consciousness, fasting, and donning somber clothing and ashes.

4 I confessed to the Sovereign Captain, my Preeminent Sovereign: “Sovereign Captain, majestic and awe-inspiring Eternal Reality, who keeps His pledge of affection for those who love Him and follow His directives, 5 we have made unworthy choices and misbehaved. We have acted wickedly and rebelled, ignoring Your directives and statutes.
6 We disregarded the words of Your eternally wise servant servants who spoke on Your behalf to our leaders, nobility, forefathers, and all individuals in the nation.

7 “Sovereign Captain, You are authentic. Yet today, we are overwhelmed with embarrassment—the citizens of Judah and Yerushalayim, as well as all of Israel, those nearby and far away in territories where You’ve dispersed us due to our disloyalty towards You.
8 Our Prime Rulers, leaders, forefathers, and ourselves are engulfed in humiliation because we transgress against You.
9 Our Sovereign Captain remains compassionate and ready to pardon despite our rebellion.
10 We have not heeded the voice of our Preeminent Sovereign or followed the regulations He imparted through His eternally wise servant servants.

11 “All of Israel has violated Your teachings, refused to listen to You, and deviated from the path.
Consequently, our transgressions have unleashed the curses and penalties outlined in the Mosaic Law given by Moses on us.
12 The severe catastrophe that befell us and our leaders has come true as predicted, especially in Yerushalayim—an unparalleled event under all of the celestial realm.

13 Despite this calamity, we failed to implore the Sovereign Captain’s favor by renouncing our wrongdoings and focusing on integrity.
14 The Sovereign Captain did not delay bringing this calamity because our Preeminent Sovereign is just in all His deeds; however, we failed to heed His voice.

15 “Now, My Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, You led Your people out of Egypt with a mighty hand and established a name for Yourself that endures today; we have transgressed and behaved unjustly.
16 Sovereign Captain, in light of Your authentic deeds, we implore You to mitigate Your anger towards Yerushalayim, Your esteemed city, Your exalted mountain. Our transgressions and those of our forefathers have subjected Yerushalayim and Your people to ridicule by everyone around us.

17 “Preeminent Sovereign, heed the meldings of my consciousness and appeals of Your servant.
Sovereign Captain, cast a favorable gaze on Your desolate fortress for Your acclaim.
18 Lend Your ear, our Preeminent Sovereign; recognize and gaze upon the city’s ruin that carries Your designation. We approach You not because we are authentic but due to Your immense kindness.
19 My Preeminent Sovereign, give heed! Pardon us, My Sovereign Captain! Lend Your ear and respond! Let no procrastination occur for Your honor since Your Name identifies Your people and municipality.”

§ 22730 THE SEVENTY SEVENS

20 As I was melding my conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, admitting my transgression and Israel’s, I pleaded to my Eternal Reality for His exalted mountain.

21 Amid this melding, Gabriel, whom I remembered from a prior vision, swiftly approached around the time of the evening offering.

22 He made me understand, saying, “I have come to provide you with wisdom and comprehension.”
23 “From the moment your melding commenced, a response was given, which I have come to relay, as you are greatly cherished. Reflect on the message and comprehend the vision.”
24 “A period of seventy sets of seven has been assigned for your people and your exalted city to end defiance, halt unworthy choices, compensate for wrongdoings, introduce perpetual morality, confirm the foreseen vision, and purify the Most exalted fortress.”
25 “Understand this: From the decree to reconstruct Yerushalayim until the Death Destroyer, the Prime Ruler, a period of ‘seven weeks’ and ‘sixty-two weeks’ will elapse. Streets and a defensive trench will be constructed during a difficult period.”
26 “After sixty-two sevens, the Appointed Leader will meet death and acquire nothing. The populace of the forthcoming ruler will lay waste to the city and the Exalted Space. The end will come like a deluge: Conflict will persist until the conclusion and destructions have been commissioned.”
27 “He will ratify an agreement with many for a single ‘seven. ’ At the midpoint, he will halt absolving payments. Furthermore, he will establish an abhorrent desolation at the fortress until a predetermined culmination occurs.”

§ 22740 DANIEL’S VISION OF A MAN

10 During Cyrus’ third tenure as Prime Ruler of Persia, Daniel, also known as Belteshazzar, received a disclosure about an immense conflict. He comprehended the message through a vision.
2 I, Daniel, was engulfed in sorrow for weeks.
3 I refrained from consuming any tasty food; neither meat nor wine crossed my lips, and I abstained from applying any ointment until the completion of the three weeks.
4 On the 24th day of the inaugural month, I found myself beside the vast Tigris River.

5 Raising my eyes, I beheld a confident man garbed in linen, his waist encircled by a belt of pure gold from Uphaz.
6 His figure resembled a chrysolite; his countenance mirrored the brilliance of lightning, his gaze was like blazing fires, his limbs gleamed like polished metal, and the echo of his speech was as roaring as a vast crowd.
7 Solely, I, Daniel, witnessed the vision; those accompanying me did not experience the same. However, an enormous fear seized them, causing them to scatter and seek refuge.
8 I remained solitary, beholding this grand vision; all vitality had escaped me, my complexion had turned frighteningly pallor, and I was utterly powerless.
9 As his words filled my ears, I descended into a profound slumber, with my countenance facing the Earth.
10 Suddenly, a hand initiated contact with me, triggering a tremor as I found myself arranged on my palms and kneecaps.
11 He articulated, “Daniel, a man of high regard, ponder over the message I am about to convey and rise, as I have been dispatched to you now.” On his utterance, I found myself standing while shaking.
12 He reassured me, stating, “Don’t fear, Daniel. From the day you decided to seek knowledge and exhibit humility towards your Preeminent Sovereign, your meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign have been acknowledged. I am here due to those meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign."

13 "The Prime Ruler of the Persian empire opposed me for twenty-one days. Subsequently, Michael, one of the superior leaders, came to my aid as I was held back there with the Persian Prime Ruler.
14 I am here to impart knowledge about the events that will transpire among your people in the future, as the vision pertains to a period not yet arrived."
15 I lowered my countenance to the Earth and remained silent as he communicated these words.
16 Suddenly, a man-like figure kissed my lips. I opened my mouth to say to the person before me, "My Prime Ruler, I am so overcome with anguish and lack strength because of the vision."

17 "How can I, a mere servant, converse with you, my overseer? My vitality has depleted, and I struggle to breathe."
18 Once more, the entity resembling a human being reached out to me and revived my energy.
19 "Fear not, for you hold great worth," he expressed. "Tranquility! Gather strength!" His speaking strengthened me, and he declared, "Please talk, my overseer. I see that you've made me more robust."
20 He inquired if you were aware of the reason for my visit. "Shortly, I must recommence the battle with the leader of Persia. On my departure, the Prime Ruler of Greece will arrive.
21 I must disclose what's inscribed in the Book of Authenticity before proceeding. No one else stands in my defense against them except for Michael, your guardian Celestial Envoy."

11 "During the initial year of Darius the Mede's rule, I stood firm to aid and secure him."

§ 22750 THE RULERS OF THE SOUTH AND THE NORTH

2 Indeed, I am disclosing the certainty to you: In Persia, three additional Prime Rulers will emerge, followed by a fourth, who will amass wealth exceeding that of all the others. Once he has fortified his influence through his riches, he will incite the entirety of the population against the realm of Greece.
3 A powerful Prime Ruler will emerge, governing with immense authority and acting according to his whims.
4 Once he rises to authority, his reign will be fragmented and dispersed toward the celestial quadrants. His family won't inherit it, nor will it maintain the influence he once wielded, for his sovereignty will be eradicated and assigned to individuals other than his own.
5 The Prime Ruler of the South would grow in might. Yet, one of his commanders would rise to even more strength, surpassing him and governing his realm with considerable authority.

6 They will form a partnership after a while. The southern Prime Ruler's daughter will come to the northern Prime Ruler to establish a pact. However, she will fail to hold on to her influence, and neither he nor his strength will endure. Her governance entourage, father, and benefactor will be abandoned during this era.
7 A descendant from her family will assume her position. He will combat the troops of the northern Prime Ruler, infiltrate his stronghold, and achieve victory in the conflict against them.

[8] He would confiscate their idolized deities, cast metal, idolize idolized deities, and treasure items of silver and gold, transporting them to Egypt. He will refrain from engaging with the Prime Ruler of the North for a considerable period.
[9] Subsequently, the northern Prime Ruler would attack the territory of the southern Prime Ruler, yet he would withdraw to his land.
[10] His offspring will ready themselves for conflict and gather an extensive force, advancing like an overwhelming deluge and extending warfare to his stronghold.
[11] The Southern Prime Ruler, burning with anger, will set out to combat the Northern Prime Ruler, who amasses a formidable force; however, this force will experience a crushing defeat.
[12] Following the army's removal, the southern Prime Ruler will grow arrogant, causing the death of many thousands, yet his victory will not endure.
[13] After years, the northern Prime Ruler will rally another force, more formidable than the initial one, and proceed with an extensive, well-armed military.
[14] During those times, numerous individuals opposed the Prime Ruler of the South. The belligerent ones among your people will rise, aiming to validate the vision, but their endeavors will not prevail.
[15] The northern Prime Ruler will arrive, construct siege works, and seize a stronghold. The Southern military would be incapable of countering, and even their elite squads wouldn't be willing to defend.
[16] The aggressor shall act according to his whims; none shall withstand his onslaught. He will affirm his position in the splendid territory, holding the potential to lay it to waste.

[17] He will resolve to invade with the full force of his whole realm and recompense with the southern Prime Ruler. He will propose to his daughter for matrimony to destabilize the realm. However, his schemes will neither flourish nor aid him.
[18] Subsequently, he will focus his efforts on the coastal regions, capturing several of them; however, a military leader will halt his arrogance and even cause his audacity to rebound on him.
[19] Subsequently, he'll redirect his focus to the strongholds within his realm. Still, he will falter, tumble, and vanish without a trace.
[20] The following line will dispatch an official to collect taxes for the realm's acclaim. However, he will meet his demise quickly, not out of anger or during a conflict.
[21] A despicable individual who hasn't conferred the dignity of rule will follow in his footsteps. During a period of peace when the people feel safe, he will infiltrate the realm and successfully take control using deceitful methods.
[22] A colossal force will be annihilated in his presence; not exclusively it, but a solemn agreement leader will be obliterated.
[23] On reaching a pact with him, he will employ duplicity to ascend to authority with a small group of individuals.
[24] He will unexpectedly infiltrate the most prosperous regions when they feel safe. He will accomplish something unprecedented, unlike the deeds of his ancestors or predecessors. He will distribute spoils, booty, and riches to his loyalists. He will devise his strategies against fortified cities, but this will be short-lived.
[25] Marshaling a substantial force, he will awaken his might and fortress to confront the Prime Ruler of the South. The Southern Prime Ruler will respond in kind, assembling a monumental and formidable army. However, he will crumble, succumbing to cunning strategies crafted against him.
[26] Individuals who partake in the Prime Ruler's sustenance will conspire to ruin him; his military force will be overwhelmed, and numerous will perish in the conflict.

[27] The pair of Prime Rulers, their inner-selves set on evil intentions, will convene at the same table, trading falsehoods. Still, their efforts will be futile, for the unavoidable finale is yet to occur at the destined moment.

[28] The northern Prime Ruler will retreat to his homeland laden with substantial riches. Yet, his mind shall be obstinate towards the exalted agreement. He will execute his plans against it before his return to his land.
[29] At the designated moment, he will once more assail the South. Yet, the result this time won't mirror the earlier occasion.
[30] Vessels from the western shores will confront him, causing him to lose courage. He will retreat, unleashing his wrath against the exalted pact. On his return, he will demonstrate a preference for those who abandon the exalted pact.
[31] His assault troops will emerge and desecrate the exalted stronghold, ending the regular absolving payments. Following this, they will establish the horrifying object that brings devastation.
[32] He will deceive those who have broken the solemn agreement with smooth words. Still, those familiar with their Preeminent Sovereign will vigorously oppose him.
[33] Enlightened individuals will impart wisdom to many, albeit for a while, they will succumb to the tactical blade, be charred, trapped, or stripped of possessions.
[34] They will be granted minimal assistance on their downfall while many deceitful individuals associate with them.
[35] Some insight will stumble, be tested, cleansed, and made pure until the moment of conclusion, for it will arrive at the predetermined time.

§ 22760 THE PRIME RULER WHO EXALTS HIMSELF

[36] The Prime Ruler will act without opposition, elevating himself above all idolized deities and making outrageous claims against the Supreme Preeminent Sovereign. His success will last until the celestial fury ends, as predestined.
[37] He will disregard the idolized deities of his ancestors and the Preeminent Sovereign desired by women, considering himself superior to all celestial entities.

[38] Instead, he will honor the Preeminent Sovereign of strongholds, an Eternal Reality unknown to his forebears, with gold, silver, gems, and expensive gifts.
[39] With the help of an outsider, Eternal Reality, he will fiercely attack strongholds and elevate those who accept him, appointing them as governors and distributing territories for a price.
[40] In the final period, the Prime Ruler of the South will confront him in battle. At the same time, the Prime Ruler of the North will attack with strike vehicles, infantry vehicles, and a vast armada. He will invade many nations, sweeping through them like a flood.
[41] He will also invade the desirable territory. Many nations will fall, but Edom, Moab, and Ammon's leaders will escape his power.
[42] His dominion will extend to many nations, including Egypt.
[43] He will seize Egypt's treasures of gold, silver, and valuable resources. At the same time, the Libyans and Cushites submit to him.
[44] However, news from the East and North will alarm him, prompting a furious response to destroy many.
[45] He will set up his governance command center on the exalted hill between the seas but will meet his end with no one to help him.

§ 22770 THE EARTH'S FINAL DAYS

12 Michael, the esteemed celestial guardian over your people, will rise during an unprecedented time of hardship. However, your people—all those recorded in the book—will find redemption.
2 Many who lie dormant in the Earth will awaken; some to eternal existence, others to disgrace and ceaseless disparagement.
3 The wise will shine brightly, and those who guide many to upright living will shimmer like the stars forever.
4 “Daniel, guard the secrets and seal the document until the predetermined time. Many will seek to widen their understanding.”

5 I, Daniel, saw two others on each side of the river.
6 One asked the man in linen over the river’s waters about the duration before these incredible events are fulfilled.
7 The man in linen, above the river’s waters, raised his hands to the sky and swore by the Eternal Reality that it would last for two durations and half a duration, concluding with the shattering of the exalted pathseekers’ strength.
8 I heard but didn’t understand, so I asked, “My man in linen, what will be the ultimate conclusion?”
9 He replied, “Continue on your path, Daniel, for the messages are sealed until the end.”
10 Many will be purified and refined, but the nefarious will persist in impurity. The unworthy choices won’t grasp ultimate authenticity, but the enlightened will.
11 From discontinuing daily absolving payments to introducing the desolating monstrosity, it will be 1,290 days.
12 The one who patiently anticipates and reaches 1,335 days is fortunate.
13 “Continue on your path until the end. You will achieve tranquility and rise again to claim your reward at the epoch’s closure.”

~ 128 | My Salvation | Hosea

§ 22780 HOSEA IS CHOSEN

1 The Preeminent Sovereign's message to Hosea, son of Beeri, came during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, Prime Rulers of Judah, and Jeroboam, son of Jehoash, Prime Ruler of Israel.
2 The Sovereign Captain instructed Hosea to marry a disloyal woman and have children, symbolizing the land's betrayal of the Sovereign Captain.

3 Hosea married Gomer, daughter of Diblaim, who bore him a son.
4 The Sovereign Captain said, "Name him Jezreel, for I will punish Jehu's family for the bloodshed at Jezreel and end Israel's realm.
5 On that day, I will break Israel's military power in the Jezreel Valley."
6 Gomer had a daughter next. The Sovereign Captain told Hosea to name her LoRuhamah (meaning 'unloved'), saying, "I will no longer show love to Israel or forgive them.
7 But I will show love to Judah and save them—not by weapons or war but by the Sovereign Captain and Preeminent Sovereign."
8 After weaning Lo-Ruhamah, Gomer had another son.
9 The Preeminent Sovereign said, "Name him Lo-Ammi (meaning 'not my people'), for you are not my people, and I am not your Eternal Reality.
10 Yet the Israelites will be countless like sand by the sea. In the place where they were called 'not my people, ' they will be called 'children of the living Preeminent Sovereign. ' 11 Judah and Israel will unite under one leader and rise from their land; the day of Jezreel will be great.

2 Call your brothers 'My people' and your sisters 'The one who has been shown mercy. '"

§ 22790 ISRAEL PUNISHED AND RESTORED

2 Confront your mother, for she acts not as my wife, and I am not her husband. She must remove the look of infidelity from her face and disloyalty from her inner determination.
3 If she persists, I will strip her bare as on the day of her birth, turn her into a barren wasteland, and she will perish from thirst.
4 I will show no affection to her children, for they are born of infidelity.

5 Their mother has been disloyal and brought them forth in shame. She said, 'I will follow my lovers who provide my food, water, wool, linen, oil, and drink. '
6 Therefore, I will block her path with thorns and enclose her so she cannot find her way.
7 She will look for them but never find them, and she will pursue her lovers but never catch them. Then she will say, 'I will return to my first husband, for I was better off then than now. ' 8 She did not realize it was I who gave her the grain, wine, and oil and lavished on her silver and gold, which they used for Baal.
9 I will take back my grain at harvest time and my wine in its season. I will remove my wool and linen intended to cover her nakedness.
10 Now I will expose her lewdness before her lovers, and no one will rescue her from my hand. I will stop all her celebrations: • Her yearly festivals • Her New Moons • Her Days of Rest

11 • All her appointed feasts

12 She claimed that her fig trees and vines were a payment from her boyfriends, but I would damage them and turn them into a thicket that wild animals would devour.
13 The Sovereign Captain would punish her for those days because she chased her lovers and adorned herself with jewels while burning incense to the Baals.
14 I shall entice her, take her into the forest, and speak to her gently.
15 I will restore her rooftop gardens there and open a door of hope for the Valley of Achor. She'll react much like she did when she was younger and fled Egypt.

16 In that day, declares the Sovereign Captain, you will call me 'my husband'; you will no longer call me 'My Sovereign. '
17 I will take the names of the Baals straight from her mouth; she will no longer call them by name.
18 On that day, I will make a solemn agreement for them with the beasts of the field, the birds of the sky, and the creatures that move along the ground. I will abolish projectile launchers, tactical blades, and war from the land so that all may lie down in safety.
19-20 "I will commit myself to you forever, uniting us with integrity, fairness, love, and care. I will build this relationship on trust and loyalty, and you will come to truly know me as your Eternal Reality."

21 In that day, I will respond, declares the Sovereign Captain—I will respond to the celestial realms, and they will respond to the Earth;
22 and in response to the grain, the fresh wine, and the olive oil, the Earth —as well as Jezreel— will react.
23 I'll plant her in the soil for Myself, and I'll give My affection to the person I previously referred to as "not My loved one." "You are my people," I shall declare to those who were previously deemed "not my people," then you will respond, "You are our Celestial Envoy."

§ 22800 RECONCILIATION WITH HIS WIFE

3 The Sovereign Captain instructed me to express my affection to my spouse again despite her infidelity. "Love her as the Sovereign Captain adores the Israelites, despite their idol worship and fondness for hallowed raisin pastries."
2 So, I purchased her for fifteen pieces of silver and 330 liters of barley.
3 I told her, "You must stay with me for a long time; avoid promiscuity and relations with other men. I will do the same."
4 For a time, the Israelites will be without a ruler, sovereign lifestyle, absolving payments, exalted stone pillars, operational garments, or domestic idolized deities.

5 Eventually, they will seek the Sovereign Captain and their Prime Ruler from David's family in the last few days. They will approach the Sovereign Captain with awe and receive His empowerment from the Eternal Reality.

§ 22810 THE CHARGE AGAINST ISRAEL

4 Listen to the Sovereign Captain’s message, all of you from Israel. The Sovereign Captain brings a legal dispute against the inhabitants of this territory: There is no loyalty, affection, or recognition of the Preeminent Sovereign here.
2 Oath-breaking, deception, murder, theft, and infidelity overrun; they breach all limits, leading one act of violence to trail another.
3 As a result, the Earth withers, and all its inhabitants decline; the wildlife, birds, and marine creatures are eradicated.
4 Avoid accusing others or placing blame, as your people behave similarly to those who dispute with an ensovereigned mediator.
5 Day and night, you blunder on, and your prophets do no better; accordingly, I will obliterate the nation that gave you birth.
6 My people perish due to a lack of wisdom. Since you have discarded wisdom, I will toss you from serving as my ensovereigned mediators; since you have overlooked your Preeminent Sovereign’s teachings, I will miss your offspring.
7 As the number of priests increased, their transgressions against me escalated; they traded their magnificent deity for something shameful.
8 They thrive on the transgressions of my people and take pleasure in their iniquity.
9 The fate of the ensovereigned mediators will mirror that of the people. I intend to bring them to justice for their actions and provide retribution for their misdeeds.
10 They will consume but never feel satiated; they will indulge in sensual activities yet not multiply, as they have strayed from the Sovereign Captain to devote themselves.
11 They engage in wrong acts, and aged wine and fresh wine rob one’s sense of comprehension.

12 My people seek advice from a wooden idolized deity, and a dowsing rod provides them with oracles. A malevolent entity of promiscuity leads them off course; they commit inner extramarital affairs against their Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Rituals are performed atop mountains, and offerings are burned on hills, underneath oak, poplar, and terebinth trees, where the shade is agreeable. As a result, your girls practice promiscuity, and your sons’ wives engage in extramarital affairs.
14 I won’t reprimand your daughters when they resort to promiscuity, nor your daughters-in-law when they engage in infidelity, as the men themselves associate with women who offer themselves for money and partake in rituals with fortress women. A populace lacking discernment is destined for destruction!
15 Even though you engage in infidelity, Israel, refrain from making Judah fall into the same error. Avoid visiting Gilgal and ascending to Beth Aven. Moreover, abstain from proclaiming, “By the life of the Sovereign Captain!”
16 Israel is obstinate, comparable to a rebellious heifer. How can the Sovereign Captain guide them like lambs in a broad pasture?
17 Ephraim is closely associated with idolized deities who do not intervene.
18 Even after their libations have depleted, they persist promiscuously; their leaders take great pleasure in disgraceful conduct.
19 They will be engulfed by a storm, resulting in embarrassment due to their absolving payments.

§ 22820 JUDGMENT AGAINST ISRAEL

5 “Listen closely, religious priests! Take note, people of Israel! Heed the words, governance house! The judgment is aimed at you: You’ve laid a trap at Mizpah and spread a net over Tabor.
2 Those who have revolted are deeply involved in killing. I will chastise each one of the guilty.

3 Ephraim’s actions are evident; Israel cannot escape my observation. Ephraim, you have engaged in illicit behaviors; Israel is now tainted.
4 Their actions hinder them from returning to their Preeminent Sovereign. The essence of immorality dwells within them; they do not recognize the Sovereign Captain.
5 The conceit of Israel stands as evidence against them; both Israelites, particularly Ephraim, trip over their transgressions; Judah also falls alongside them.
6 As they proceed with their livestock and cattle to search for the Eternal Reality, they will fail to locate Him; He has distanced Himself from them.
7 They’ve betrayed the Sovereign Captain, having raised untrusting progeny. As they hold their New Moon festivals, their lands will be consumed.
8 Initiate the bugle’s sound in Gibeah, the cornet’s echo in Ramah. Let out the war cry in Beth Aven; march forth, Benjamin.
9 Ephraim is set to become desolate when the day of judgment arrives, I assert with certainty to the communities of Israel.
10 The leaders of Judah act like individuals who displace boundary markers. So, I will unleash my fury on them just like a deluge.
11 Ephraim is burdened and crushed under judgment due to a determination to follow worthless images.
12 I mirror to Ephraim what a moth does to wool. Similarly, I embody decay to the inhabitants of Judah.
13 Ephraim recognized his illness, and Judah identified his wounds. Subsequently, Ephraim sought help from Assyria, reaching out to the mighty Prime Ruler. However, he could not heal you or remedy your injuries.
14 I will act like a ferocious lion towards Ephraim and a mighty lion to Judah. I will violently rip them apart and then depart; I will drag them away, leaving no one to deliver them.
15 I will return to my dwelling until they admit their unworthy choice and search for me—amidst their struggles, they will eagerly seek my assistance.”

§ 22830 ISRAEL REMORSELESS

6 Let’s return to the Sovereign Captain. Though he has torn us apart, he promises to restore us; though we are wounded, he assures us to mend our injuries.
2 After two days, he will rejuvenate us; on the third sunrise, he will resurrect us so we can exist in his aura.
3 Let us recognize the Sovereign Captain and persist in fully understanding him. As sure as the dawn breaks, he will show up; he will arrive to us like the wintry showers, just like the spring downpours that nourish the land.
4 Ephraim, how should I handle you? Judah, what action should I take with you? Your affection is as transient as the morning fog, like the dew that evaporates at dawn.
5 So I’ve confronted you through my messengers, piercing through falsehoods with the clarity of my words. My decisions shine like sunlight, exposing everything in their path.

[6] I seek compassionate love, not formality absolving payments, and the understanding of Preeminent Sovereign over animal absolving payments.
[7] Like Adam, they violated the agreement; they betrayed me in that location.
[8] Gilead is a metropolis teeming with wrongdoers, marked by blood-soaked tracks.
[9] Like a gang of thieves that stalk a man, groups of fanatic religious leaders execute lethal actions along the path to Shechem, implementing their nefarious plans.
[10] I've witnessed a terrible event in Israel: Ephraim has committed himself to sexual misconduct, causing Israel to be tainted.
[11] And you too, city of Judah, have a decisive moment scheduled—a time when the system will correct itself and rebuild the well-being of the community.

7 Each time I aim to mend Israel, the transgressions of Ephraim come to light, and the evil deeds of Samaria are unveiled. They engage in deception; burglars infiltrate homes, while gangs ravage the thoroughfares.
[2] They fail to acknowledge that I remember all their impure actions. Their transgressions surround them; they are perpetually in my sight.
[3] Their evil actions delight the Prime Ruler, and their deceptive words please the rulers.
[4] All of them are engaged in infidelity, just like a furnace that the baker doesn't have to fuel from when the dough is prepared until it ascends.
[5] At the celebration of our reign, the officials fall ill due to excess wine, forming alliances with those who scorn.
[6] Their inner-selves ignite like a furnace; they are near him with clever schemes. Their anger incubates all through the night; as dawn arrives, it erupts like a blaze of fire.
[7] Each one burns like a furnace; they consume their leaders. All their Prime Rulers have fallen, and no one has contacted me.

[8] Ephraim intermingles with other countries, like bread baked only on one side.
[9] Aliens use his vigor, yet he remains oblivious. His hair is increasingly turning grey, but he remains unaware.
[10] The stubborn pride of Israel stands as evidence against them. Yet, despite all this, they do not seek the Sovereign Captain or strive to find him.
[11] Ephraim behaves like a gullible dove devoid of understanding, alternating between appeals to Egypt and assistance from Assyria.
[12] As they depart, I will cast my net over them, bringing them down like fowl of the celestial realms. On hearing their collective gathering, I will trap them.

[13] Misfortune befalls them as they've deviated from me! Ruin is their fate, as they've revolted against me! I yearn to liberate them, but they continue to fabricate lies about me.
[14] They don't sincerely appeal to me; they moan in despair in their sleeping quarters. They harm themselves, seeking empowerment for crops and fermented drinks from their idolized deities, yet they disregard me.
[15] I taught and enhanced their strength, yet they planned impurity towards me.
[16] They neglect to return to the Most High, resembling an ineffective, unreliable projectile launcher. Their chiefs will succumb to the tactical blade due to their audacious utterances. Consequently, they will become the subject of mockery in Egypt.

§ 22840 ISRAEL TO REAP THE WHIRLWIND

8 Sound the alarm! A vulture hovers over the Sovereign Captain's fortress because the individuals have violated my agreement and revolted against my instructions.
2 Israel shouts, “We recognize you as our Eternal Reality!”
3 Israel has disregarded the Preeminent Sovereign; a foe will chase him.
4 They ensovereigned prime rulers without my permission; they appointed leaders without my consent. They crafted idolized deities using silver and gold, paving the way for their ruin.
5 O Samaria, discard your idolized deity in the shape of a calf! My fury is aflame towards them. Until when will they remain unable to attain cleanliness?
6 Originating from Israel, a metalworker crafted this calf; however, it isn’t an Eternal Reality. The calf of Samaria is destined to be shattered into fragments.
7 They cultivate the wind and harvest a storm. The grain stalk bears no head and will not yield flour. If it were to produce, outsiders would consume it.
8 Israel has been devoured presently. It resides among other nations as an undesirable entity.

9 Ephraim, like a solitary wild ass, ventured to Assyria. They traded themselves for affection.
10 I will now assemble them despite their dealings with foreign nations. They will start to languish under the tyranny of a powerful ruler.
11 Although Ephraim constructed numerous pedestal tables to offer transgressional absolving payments, these became platforms for committing unworthy choices.
12 I penned numerous teachings from my directives for them, yet they viewed these teachings as outsider and unrelated.
13 Despite offering to fix gifts and to consume the flesh, the Sovereign Captain does not find favor with them. He will now recollect their transgressions and administer punishment for their unworthy choices: They are destined to return to Egypt.
14 Israel has neglected the Preeminent Sovereign who made them; they have constructed governance estates. Judah has fabricated numerous strongholds. Yet, I will ignite a blaze in their metropolises that will eradicate their citadels.

§ 22850 PUNISHMENT FOR ISRAEL

9 “Hold back your delight, Israel; do not rejoice like the other nations, for you have committed infidelity against your Preeminent Sovereign; you are enamored by the earnings of a harlot at every grain-threshing site.
2 The grain from the floors used for threshing and the wine from winepresses will not be sufficient to sustain the populace; the production of new wine will disappoint them.
3 Ephraim will no longer stay in the territory of the Sovereign Captain; they will return to Egypt, and in Assyria, they will consume formally impure food.
4 They will not offer libations of wine to the Sovereign Captain, and their absolving payments won’t be found satisfactory. Such absolving payments will be comparable to the bread mourners consume; all who partake in them will become defiled. This sustenance will solely serve their own needs; it won’t be permitted into the fortress of the Sovereign Captain.

5 “How will you act during the day of your scheduled celebrations on the Sovereign Captain’s days of feast?
6 Even if they manage to flee from devastation, Egypt will collect them, and Memphis will become their final resting place. Weeds will overtake the precious items of silver they treasure, and thorn bushes will infest their dwellings.

7 The time for retribution is nearing; the payback period is imminent. Israel should grasp this.
Given the sheer magnitude of your transgressions and intense hatred, the seer is deemed foolish; the one with celestial inspiration is viewed as insane.
8 The eternally wise servant, in union with my Eternal Reality, is a sentinel for Ephraim. Yet, traps are laid for him wherever he ventures, and hate is prevalent within the fortress of his Eternal Reality.

9 "They have delved deeply into depravity, similar to the times of Gibeah. The Sovereign Captain will remember their iniquity and repay them for their transgressions.
10 Discovering Israel was like coming across grapes in the wilderness; observing your forefathers was reminiscent of spotting the first ripe figs on the tree. However, when they approached Baal Peor, they devoted themselves to a disgraceful idolized deity, becoming as deplorable as the entity they cherished.
11 Ephraim's splendor will vanish like a bird; there will be no offspring, gestation, or genesis.
12 Even if they foster offspring, I will deprive them of each. Misery awaits them when I abandon them.
13 As I observed, Ephraim is reminiscent of Tyre, established in a delightful location. However, Ephraim will lead their offspring to the executioner.

14 "Offer them, Sovereign Captain—what will you grant? Provide them with barren wombs and milk-less breasts?

15 Due to the immense impurity at Gilgal, my hatred for them was initiated there. Because of their evil activities, I will expel them from my dwelling. My affection for them will cease; all their officials are rebels.
16 Ephraim is devastated. Their roots have dried up, and they can't produce any offspring. Even though they may conceive, I will exterminate their treasured children.
17 My Eternal Reality will disown them as they have failed to comply with His directives, leading them to become nomads among different races.

10 "Israel, this city once expanded with thriving businesses, bringing wealth to its people. But instead of reinvesting for the community, they built luxury that only served themselves.

2 Their priorities became divided, their vision corrupted. Now, their enterprises will crumble, and their influence will be lost.
3 It will then be stated that we lack a ruler. Since we did not elevate the Sovereign Captain, even if a Prime Ruler was present, what assistance could he provide us?

4 They make countless promises they don't intend to keep, sign agreements with no sincerity, and break their commitments. As a result, legal battles and corruption spread like toxic graffiti across the cityscape.

5 The residents of Samaria are terrified due to the calf figure of Beth Aven. Its inhabitants will lament over it, as will its idolatrous deity-worshiping priests who once rejoiced in its magnificence as it was removed into banishment.
6 When carried to Assyria, the great Prime Ruler will receive it as a tribute. Ephraim will experience humiliation, while Israel will feel a sense of shame due to its foreign alliances.

7 "The Prime Ruler of Samaria will be annihilated, vanishing like a stick floating on the water's surface.

8 The sites of iniquity shall be torn down—this is Israel's transgression. Brambles and briers will sprout up, enveloping their pedestal tables. They will then implore the mountains, 'Conceal us!'
and the hills, 'Descend on us!'
9 Ever since Gibeah, you have been committing transgressions, Israel, and have chosen to stay there. Will the battle again descend on those who partake in impure deeds in Gibeah? Will not the

10 "I will discipline them at my discretion, and various nations will unite against them to confine them for their compounded guilt.
11 Ephraim is like a well-taught calf that enjoys treading grain, so I shall wear a harness on her attractive neck. I will set Ephraim to work. Judah is obliged to cultivate, and Jacob has the task of turning the soil.

12 Invest in doing what's right, and you'll see the results in lasting love. Clear away what's holding you back—it's time to turn to God until His presence renews you completely.
13 Although you have cultivated iniquity, you have harvested misalignment with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality and consumed the yield of falsehood. This situation is due to your reliance on your might and the vast number of your assault troops.

14 "The noise of conflict will escalate among your people, destroying your strongholds, mirroring Shalman's ruin of Beth Arbel during wartime when mothers were brutally crushed alongside their offspring.
15 This fate will be your fate, Bethel, due to your extreme evil. On the arrival of that morning, the Prime Ruler of Israel will be utterly annihilated."

§ 22860 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S LOVE FOR ISRAEL

11 During Israel's youth, I lovingly called him from Egypt.

2 Despite my calls, they distanced themselves, offering absolving payments to the Baals and burning aromas to idolized deities.
3 I guided Ephraim, holding their arms, yet they didn't realize I had healed them.
4 I led them with human ties and love, like one lifting an infant to their cheek, and I provided their nourishment.

5 "Aren't they bound to return to Egypt, and won't Assyria rule over them for refusing to change?
6 A tactical blade will strike their cities, consuming their deceptive seers and disrupting their plans.
7 Despite their calls to the Preeminent Sovereign, my people abandon me. I will not elevate them.

8 "How can I abandon you, Ephraim? How can I forsake you, Israel? How can I make you like Admah or Zeboyim? My inner-self churns with sympathy.
9 I won't unleash my severe wrath or ruin Ephraim again. Because I am celestial, not mortal—the exalted One in your presence—I will not advance in hostility towards their towns.

10 “They will adhere to the Sovereign Captain; he will bellow like a lion. On his bellowing, his offspring shall arrive, shaking, from the West.
11 They will come from Egypt like birds and from Assyria like anxious doves. I will return them to their dwellings,” promises the Sovereign Captain.

§ 22870 ISRAEL’S UNWORTHY CHOICE

12 “Ephraim surrounds me with deceit, Israel with treachery. Judah also rebels against the Preeminent Sovereign, even against the loyal Pure One.”

12 “Ephraim chases the scorching eastern wind all day, increasing deceit and violence. He makes agreements with Assyria and sends olive oil to Egypt.”

2 “The Sovereign Captain accuses Judah; he will discipline Jacob according to his deeds and repay him for his actions.”

3 “Before birth, he grasped his brother’s heel; as an adult, he struggled with the Eternal Reality.”

4 “He wrestled with the Celestial Envoy and prevailed; he wept and sought his favor. He met him in Bethel and spoke with him there.”

5 “The Preeminent Sovereign, commander of the Celestial Armies, desires to be known and remembered as the ‘Sovereign Captain’!”

6 “Turn back to your Preeminent Sovereign, maintain kindness and equity, and always anticipate your Preeminent Sovereign.”

7 “The businessman practices fraud; he loves to deceive others.”

8 “Ephraim boasts: I have become wealthy. Amid all my riches, they will find no wrongdoing or transgression in me.”

9 “Since your liberation from Egypt, I have been your Preeminent Sovereign; I will make you live in tents again, as in the days of your festivals.”

10 “Through the eternally wise servants, I spoke, provided many visions, and gave enlightening stories.”

11 “Is Gilead steeped in unworthy choice? Its people are worthless! Do they offer bulls as absolving payments in Gilgal? Their pedestal tables will become piles of stones in a plowed field.”

12 “Jacob fled to Syria, where he worked to earn a wife and tended sheep to pay for her.”

13 “The Sovereign Captain led Israel out of Egypt through an eternally wise servant. With the same eternally wise servant, he cared for them.”

14 “Yet Ephraim provoked intense anger; his Sovereign Captain will not absolve him of his bloodshed and will repay him for his contempt.”

§ 22880 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S ANGER AGAINST ISRAEL

13 Ephraim's words once commanded respect in Israel, but his downfall came through Baal worship.
2 They continue to transgress, crafting silver idolized deities and suggesting human-absolving payments, showing affection for calf-shaped idolized deities.
3 They will disappear like morning fog, dew at sunrise, grain dust, or smoke from a window.
4 I have been your Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality since Egypt. Recognize no other Eternal Reality but Me; there is no other liberator.

5 I watched over you in the desert, in extreme drought.
6 As I nourished them, they grew arrogant and forgot Me.
7 Therefore, I will attack them like a lion and stalk them by the path like a leopard.
8 I will attack them like a bear who has been robbed of her cubs, and I will rip open their chests and devour them there like a lion would, tearing them apart like a wild beast.
9 Israel, your demise is due to your resistance to Me, your aid.
10 Where is the Prime Ruler you trusted to rescue you? Where are the authorities you demanded?
11 I granted you a Prime Ruler in my fury and removed him in My anger.
12 Ephraim's iniquity is bound up, his transgressions preserved.
13 He suffers like a woman in labor but lacks the sense to be born.
14 I will liberate them from the tomb and save them from death. Death, where are your diseases? Grave, where is your power? I will show no mercy.
15 Though he prospers among siblings, an East wind from the Sovereign Captain will dry his water source and seize his possessions.
16 Samaria's inhabitants must acknowledge their transgressions; they will meet their end through warfare.

§ 22890 LIFE TRANSFORMATION TO BRING EMPOWERMENT

14 Israel, return to your Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign. Your transgressions have led to your ruin!
2 Bring your confessions and turn back to the Sovereign Captain. Speak: "Erase our iniquities and kindly welcome us so we can praise you."
3 Assyria won't redeem us; we won't depend on armored personnel carriers or call our crafted idolized deities. Only in You do orphans find kindness.

4 I will mend their rebellion and love them unconditionally; my wrath is no longer directed at them.
5 I will be like morning dew for Israel; he will flourish like a lily and extend roots like Lebanon's trees.
6 His branches will expand, his magnificence will resemble the olive tree, and his scent will be like Lebanon's cedar.

7 People will reside under his protection, thrive like grain, and bloom like grapevines. Israel’s reputation will be like Lebanon’s renowned wines.
8 Ephraim, what connection do I have with idolized deities anymore? I respond to him and look after him. I am like an evergreen cypress; your productivity comes from Me.
9 The intelligent will discern these facts; the insightful will comprehend. The paths of the Eternal Reality are full of integrity; the authentic tread on them, but the defiant stumble over them.

~ 129 | My Sovereign Captain | Joel

§ 22900 AN INVASION OF LOCUSTS

1 Joel, Pethuel's male heir, received the vision from the Sovereign Captain:
2 "Senior priests, pay heed; everyone dwelling in the territory, lend your ears. Has an event like this ever occurred during your lifetime or the era of your forefathers?
3 "Narrate this to your offspring and have them relay it to their progeny and their progeny to the succeeding family.
4 "Whatever remnants the swarm of locusts spared, the colossal locusts devoured; whatever the giant locusts didn't consume, the juvenile locusts did; and what little the young locusts overlooked, the other locusts finished off.

5 "Rise and lament, you inebriates! Moan, all you wine aficionados; mourn over the sweet wine, for it is abruptly removed from your grasp.
6 "A formidable, countless troop exhibiting a lion's fierce dentition and a lioness' menacing bite has breached my territory.
7 "My vines have been devastated, and my fig trees splintered. Their bark has been stripped away and discarded, leaving their branches pale.
8 "Weep with the sorrow of a young woman donned in mourning garments, lamenting for the young man she was engaged to in her early years.
9 "The Sovereign Captain's fortress is bereft of grain and drink offerings. The priests, those who serve in the presence of the Sovereign Captain, are steeped in sorrow.
10 "The agricultural lands are devastated; the Earth is dried; the crops have perished; the grape juice has evaporated, and the olive extract is depleted.
11 "Lament you tillers of the soil, cry out, you cultivators of vineyards; mourn for the wheat and the barley, as the crop yield of the field has been lost.
12 "The grapevine has faded, and the fig tree has decayed; the pomegranate, the date palm, and the apple tree—indeed, all trees of the field—have withered. Indeed, the delight of humanity has evaporated."

§ 22910 A CALL TO LAMENTATION

13 "You priests, don mourning attire and express your sorrow; cry out in grief, those of you who serve at the pedestal table. Come, reside through the night in mourning clothes, you who perform sovereign lifestyle activations for me, the Preeminent Sovereign, because grain and drink offerings are no longer present at your Preeminent Sovereign's fortress.

14 Initiate an exalted period of fasting; request a solemn gathering. Bring together the leaders and everyone dwelling in the land to the fortress of the Sovereign Captain; you're the Preeminent Sovereign and passionately plead to the Sovereign Captain.

15 Misfortune awaits us; the Eternal Reality's day of judgment is approaching and will arrive as a calamity from the Eternal Reality.

16 Hasn't our sustenance vanished right before our sight, happiness, and celebration absent from our Preeminent Sovereign's fortress?

17 The planted seed has dried up under the clods of Earth, the storehouses are in a state of decay, and the barns have been pulled down as the grain has withered away.

18 Listen to the distress of the livestock! The herds of cattle need clarification due to the lack of grazing fields; even the sheep flocks are enduring hardship.

19 I appeal to you, Sovereign Captain, as fire has consumed the wilderness pastures, and the flames have destroyed all the trees in the field.

20 The untamed creatures of the field yearn for you; the water sources have evaporated, and the flames have consumed the wilderness grazing lands.”

§ 22920 AN ARMY OF LOCUSTS

2 “Sound the alert in David's Hub; give a warning on my exalted mountain. Let everyone residing in the land shake with fear as the day of the Sovereign Captain approaches. Indeed, it is near:
2 an era of obscurity and dread, overcast and pitch blackness. Resembling the morning light unfolding over the hills, an enormous and formidable force arrives, a spectacle unparalleled in antiquity and unmatched in all future generations.

3 Fire engulfs everything ahead of them, and flames fiercely trail them. The land is like the Garden of the Eternal Reality in their presence. Still, it transforms into a desolate wasteland, and nothing endures their effect once they pass.
4 Their form is similar to that of tactical personnel transports, and they charge forward like assault troops.
5 They bound over the mountain tops with the din just like strike vehicles, much like the snapping sounds of fire feasting on dry grass, comparable to a formidable force ready for confrontation.
6 Everybody’s face goes pale as nations writhe in terror in their wake.
7 They attack like mighty warriors, climbing barriers like they were trained for battle. Staying in formation, each one advances without deviating from their destined path.
8 They do not interfere with one another; each progresses directly forward. They break through all barriers while maintaining their formation.
9 They storm the city, darting along its ramparts. They infiltrate the residences, sneakily entering through windows like burglars.
10 The land quivers at their approach, the sky shudders, the sun and moon grow dark, and the stars cease to emit radiance.
11 The Sovereign Captain’s voice resounds at the forefront of His forces; His troops are innumerable, and the strength of the military that adheres to His orders is immense. The day of the Sovereign Captain is tremendous and horrifying—who can withstand it?

§ 22930 REND YOUR INNER SELF

12 The Sovereign Captain urges a sincere return to Him with fasting, tears, and grief.

13 “Tear your inner-self, not your clothes. Turn back to your Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, who is merciful, tender, patient, overflowing with love, and ready to reverse His decision on disaster.”

14 Perhaps He will change His mind and grant empowerment, leaving you with enough grain and wine to present absolving payments to the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality.
15 Sound the alarm in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, proclaim a time of fasting set-apart as exalted, and summon a solemn ensovereigned lifestyle community.
16 Assemble the populace, purify the ensovereigned lifestyle community, summon the senior members, and call on the youngsters and nursing infants. Let the groom depart his private quarters, and the bride exit her private room.
17 Let the clergy, who serve in the Preeminent Sovereign’s presence, shed tears in the space between the vestibule and the pedestal table. Let them plead, “Show mercy to your people, My Sovereign Captain. Don’t allow your heritage to be derided or become a mocking slogan among foreign nations. Why should the populace question, ‘Where is their Eternal Reality?’”

§ 22940 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S ANSWER

18-19 The Sovereign Captain, driven by a zealous love for His land and compassion for His people, declared: “I will provide you with abundant grain, fresh wine, and olive oil, ensuring you are fully satisfied and never mocked by other nations.”

20 “I will drive the northern invaders far away, pushing them into desolate lands; their front will be submerged in the Eastern Sea, and their rear in the Western Sea. Their stench will rise as their foul odor fills the air. Indeed, remarkable feats have been accomplished!”

21 “Land of Judah, do not fear; let delight and celebration fill your days. The Sovereign Captain has performed wondrous deeds.”

22 “Wild beasts, fear not, for the wilderness meadows are turning green. Trees bear inner fruit, and the fig tree and grapevine yield abundantly.”

23 “Rejoice, citizens of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, in the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, who has given you the fall rains in His trustworthiness. As in earlier times, he provides plentiful downpours, both fall and spring rains.”

24 “Grain will cover your threshing floors. Olive oil and wine will overflow from jars.”

25 “I will compensate you for the years the locusts consumed—the significant locust, juvenile locust, different locusts, and locust invasion—the vast legion I directed against you.”

26 “You will have enough to eat until you are delighted. You will express gratitude to the name of the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, who performs wonders on your behalf; my people will never experience disgrace again.”

27 “You will know that I exist within Israel; I am your Sovereign Captain; there is no one beside me, and my people will never experience disgrace again.”

§ 22950 THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

28 I will distribute my Eternal Spark among all humanity. Your male and female progeny will deliver eternally wise servant messages, your elders will experience dreams, and your young warriors will behold visions.
29 During those times, my Eternal Spark will be freely given to all my servants, irrespective of gender.
30 I will display portents in the sky and on the ground, involving blood, flame, and columns of fume.
31 The sun will transform into darkness, and the moon will resemble blood before the Sovereign Captain’s momentous and terrifying day arrives.

32 All individuals who invoke the Sovereign Captain’s Name will be rescued; redemption will be present on Mount the hub of David and in Yerushalayim, according to the Sovereign Captain’s promise, including those remaining alive whom the Sovereign Captain summons.

§ 22960 THE NATIONS JUDGED

3 During those days when I reestablish the prosperity of Judah and Yerushalayim,
2 I will assemble all nations and lead them to the Valley of Jehoshaphat. There, I will hold them accountable for their actions towards my heritage, my people, Israel, as they dispersed my people among the nations and divided my land.
3 They gambled with my people’s fate, swapping lads for harlots and exchanging maidens for wine to consume.
4 Tyre, Sidon, and all territories of Philistia, what grievances do you hold against me? Are you seeking retribution for my deeds? If you are attempting to repay me, be warned that I will rapidly and promptly reciprocate your actions on yourselves.
5 You have appropriated my gold and silver, relocating my most valuable assets to your places of worship.
6 You traded the inhabitants of Judah and Yerushalayim to the Greeks to displace them far from their native territory.
7 Notice, I will awaken them from the locations where you’ve traded them, and I will turn your actions back on your heads.
8 Your sons and daughters will be traded to the inhabitants of Judah, who will then sell them to the Sabeans, a remote nation. This word is a proclamation from the Sovereign Captain.
9 Spread the word among the nations: Gear up for combat! Awaken the brave ones! Command every soldier to approach and engage in battle.
10 Hammer your agricultural tools into weaponry, transforming your plows into tactical blades and pruning equipment into tactical bayonets. Encourage even those considered weak to declare their strength.

11 Accelerate and gather all your nations at that location. Summon your combatants, Sovereign Captain!
12 Stir up the nations and let them mobilize towards the Jehoshaphat Valley, where I will reside to adjudicate all the surrounding nations.
13 Begin the operation; the time to act has come. The situation is pressing, the pressure is high, and it’s clear that wrongdoing has reached a critical mass.

14 Many people await in the valley of judgment! The day of the Sovereign Captain is about to dawn in this valley of decision-making.
15 The sun and moon darken while the stars cease to radiate their light.
16 The sky and the ground will tremble as Yahweh roars from the Presence of Sovereignty and speaks from Yerushalayim. Yet, Yahweh will be a haven for his pathseekers, serving as a formidable fortress for the Israelites.

§ 22970 EMPOWERMENTS FOR THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S PEOPLE

17 Then you shall understand that I, the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, reside in the hub of David, my exalted mountain. Outsiders will no longer control Yerushalayim, which will be set-apart and exalted.

18 In that future day, prosperity will overflow; the streets will hum with activity, and revitalizing streams will flow from the heart of the community, bringing life even to neglected corners.

19 Egypt will turn into a wasteland, and Edom will become a barren desert due to the atrocities committed against the people of Judah, on whose territory they spilled blameless blood.

20 Judah will endure perpetually, and Yerushalayim will flourish from one age to another.

21 Would I leave their innocent blood without retribution? The Eternal Reality dwells in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign!

~ 130 | My Transporter | Amos

§ 22980 JUDGMENT ON ISRAEL'S NEIGHBORS

1 Declarations from Amos, a sheep farmer from Tekoa, about the Eternal Reality's disclosure he received concerning Israel, two years ahead of the earthquake, during the reigns of Uzziah in Judah and Jeroboam Jehoash's male heir, in Israel.
2 He exclaimed: "The Sovereign Captain bellows from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, and His voice resounds from Yerushalayim; the agricultural production centers of the sheep keeper deteriorate, and the summit of Carmel diminishes."
3 The Sovereign Captain declares: "Despite the multiple transgressions of Damascus, up to four,
I won't back down due to their brutal treatment of Gilead utilizing iron-clad threshing instruments."
4 "Fire shall be unleashed on Hazael's abode, destroying Ben-Hadad's strongholds."
5 "The fortifications of Damascus shall be smashed; I will obliterate the Prime Ruler who dwells in the Valley of Aven and the one wielding power in Beth Eden. The people of Aram will be banished to Kir," declares the Sovereign Captain.
6 The Eternal Reality pronounces: "In light of Gaza's triad of transgressions, and even a fourth, I will not withdraw my judgment because they have enslaved whole communities and sold them to Edom."
7 "I will dispatch a blaze against Gaza's walls, which will obliterate its strongholds."

8 "The Prime Ruler of Ashdod will be eradicated, and the one exerting authority in Ashkelon will be eliminated. I will unleash my power on Ekron until the Philistine Warriors' existence is completely wiped out," declares the Eternal Reality.
9 The proclamation of the Sovereign Captain stands: "Due to the numerous transgressions of Tyre, extending to four, I will not withdraw my punishment. They disregarded a pact of kinship by selling entire communities into captivity to Edom."
10 "Fire will be directed towards Tyre's ramparts, which will devastate its strongholds."
11 The Sovereign Captain declares: "Despite Edom's numerous transgressions, I will not spare them. He relentlessly persecuted his relative using a tactical blade and indiscriminately put the females to death. His anger constantly blazed, and his wrath remained uncurbed."
12 "Fire will be directed at Teman, leading to the obliteration of Bozrah's strongholds."
13 The Sovereign Captain declares: "Despite the multitude of Ammon's transgressions, I shall not withhold retribution. They grievously harmed the expectant mothers of Gilead to expand their territory."
14 "I will set the defenses of Rabbah ablaze, demolishing its ramparts amidst the chorus of warfare on the day of combat, accompanied by forceful gusts on a stormy day."
15 As the Sovereign Captain foretold, "the sovereign and his leaders will be taken captive."

2 "I will not retract My judgment for three offenses of Moab, even four, because he torched to lime the carcass of Edom's Prime Ruler," declares the Sovereign Captain.
2 "Fire will be propelled on Moab, destroying Kerioth's strongholds. Amidst the turmoil and the echoes of war cries, chaos will engulf Moab, punctuated by the blaring of the sound canon."
3 The Sovereign Captain decrees "the elimination of her leader and the execution of all her authorities alongside him."

4 The Sovereign Captain says, “I will not withdraw my judgment despite Judah’s numerous transgressions, even exceeding three. They have disregarded the Sovereign Captain’s Law, failed to uphold His directives, and have wandered off, deceived by counterfeit idolized deities, the same ones worshipped by their ancestors.”
5 “Fire will be unleashed on Judah, reducing Yerushalayim’s strongholds to ashes.”

§ 22990 JUDGMENT ON ISRAEL

6 The Sovereign Captain declares: “Despite Israel’s multiple transgressions, I will not relent. The innocent are sold for silver, and the needy for sandals.
7 They trample the poor and deny justice to the oppressed. Fathers and sons share the same woman, desecrating my exalted name.
8 They lounge by each pedestal table on garments taken as collateral and drink wine bought with fines in their idolized deity’s house.
9 I destroyed their roots below and fruit above, even though the Amorites were as strong as oaks and towering as cedars.
10 I led you from Egypt and sustained you in the desert for forty years to possess the Amorites’ land.
11 I appointed eternally wise servants from your children and Nazirites from your youth. Isn’t this authentic, Israel?” says the Sovereign Captain.
12 “But you made the Nazirites drink wine and commanded the eternally wise servants not to prophesy.
13 I will press you down as a cart loaded with grain presses down.
14 The swift will not escape, the strong will not muster strength, and the warrior will not save his life.
15 The sniper will not stand firm, the fleet-footed soldier will not escape, and the assault troop will not save his life.

16 Even the bravest warriors will flee naked on that day,” declares the Sovereign Captain.

§ 23000 WITNESSES SUMMONED AGAINST ISRAEL

3 “Heed this message, inhabitants of Israel,” the Sovereign Captain declared against the entire family He liberated from Egypt.
2 “You alone have I acknowledged among all the peoples on Earth, so I will punish you for all your wrongdoings.
3 Can two individuals journey together without mutual agreement?
4 Does a lion roar in the forest without prey? Does it growl in its lair without a catch?
5 Is a bird trapped without bait? Will a trap spring from the ground without catching anything?
6 Don’t citizens quake when an alarm sounds in a town? When misfortune strikes a city, isn’t it the Sovereign Captain’s doing?
7 The Eternal Reality doesn’t act without revealing His intentions to His servants, the eternally wise servants.
8 When the lion roars, who isn’t terrified? The Eternal Reality has spoken; who can resist delivering His message?

9 “Announce this to the troops in Egypt and Ashdod: Gather on the hills of Samaria; observe the turmoil and oppression within her.

10 They must learn how to act," declares the Sovereign Captain, "and hoard their stolen goods in their strongholds.
11 The Eternal Reality says: A foe will surround your land, dismantle your defenses, and pillage your citadels.

12 The Sovereign Captain declares: Just as a guardian saves only two leg bones or an ear fragment from a lion's jaws, so will the Israelites in Samaria be saved; they will have only the corner of a bed and a piece of a sofa's fabric.

13 "Listen and testify against Jacob's descendants," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
14 "When I hold Israel accountable for their transgressions, Bethel's pedestal tables will be demolished; their projections will be chopped off and fall to the ground.
15 The Sovereign Captain declares that winter and summer dwellings will be demolished; ivory-decorated homes will be ruined, and palatial estates will be razed."

§ 23010 ISRAEL HAS NOT RETURNED TO THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

4 "Listen to this message; you pampered cattle of Bashan on Samaria's hill, you females who exploit the destitute and trample the needy, commanding your partners, 'Procure us some beverages!'"
2 The Eternal Reality has pledged by His purification: "The era is indeed impending when you will be led away with hooks, every last one of you with fishhooks."
3 "Each of you will leave through the gaps in the city walls and be expelled towards Harmon, as per the proclamation of the Sovereign Captain ."
4 "Proceed to Bethel and transgress; continue to Gilgal and intensify your transgressions. Offer absolving payments each dawn and grant your ten percent contributions every third year."
5 "Offer bread made with yeast as an absolving payment to express gratitude and loudly publicize your voluntary contributions—take pride in them, you Israelites, as this activity you delight in proclaims the Eternal Reality."
6 "I deprived you of food in all your cities and ensured a scarcity of bread in every town, yet you did not come back to me," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

7 "I held back the rain from you three months before the crops were harvested. Rain was given to one city while another was deprived of it. One field was showered with rain, while another received none. I was withered away."
8 "Individuals wandered from one municipality to another in search of water but did not find enough to quench their thirst; despite this, you've not come back to me," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
9 "On numerous occasions, I afflicted your gardens and vineyards with pestilence and fungus, leading to their destruction. Locusts consumed your fig and olive trees, yet you failed to recommit yourself to me," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
10 "I unleashed on you the same diseases I did to Egypt. Your younger generations fell to my tactical blade, and your tactical personnel transports were taken captive. The foul smell from your encampments filled your noses, yet you refused to return to my presence," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

11 “I brought ruin on some of you just as I decimated Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression. You were like a blazing log rescued from the inferno, yet you did not turn towards me,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
12 “So, Israel, this is the course of action I will take towards you, and due to this impending action, get prepared to encounter your Preeminent Sovereign.” 13 “The one who shapes mountains originates the wind and discloses his ideas to humans, who transforms dawn into nightfall, and strides across the Earth’s loftiest peaks—His name is the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Almighty.”

§ 23020 A LAMENT AND CALL TO THE GIFT OF TURNING AWAY FROM UNWORTHY CHOIC

5 “Listen, Israel, to this mournful message I raise about you.
2 Virgin Israel lies in a state of downfall, with no chance of resurgence, abandoned in her homeland, devoid of assistance for recovery.
3 The Eternal Reality communicates to Israel: A city that sends a thousand warriors to battle will exclusively see a hundred return; a town that sends a hundred will exclusively have ten survive.

4 The Sovereign Captain’s message to Israel is clear: Look for me, and you’ll thrive.
5 Refrain from pursuing Bethel, refrain from visiting Gilgal, and refrain from traveling to Beersheba. Indeed, Gilgal will undoubtedly be led into captivity, and Bethel will become nothing more than a relic.
6 Pursue the Sovereign Captain and survive, or else he will rush through Joseph’s family like a flame; they will be consumed, and there’ll be no one in Bethel capable of extinguishing it.
7 Some people convert fairness into a bitter experience and discard ultimate authenticity on the Earth.

8 “The Innovator of the Pleiades and Orion transforms midnight into the break of day, dims daylight into evening, summons the ocean’s waters, and dispenses them over the Earth’s surface—His name is the Sovereign Captain.
9 He demolishes the stronghold in a sweeping burst of light, causing the fortified metropolis to collapse.
10 Some individuals despise the person who promotes fairness in legal trials and scorn the one who speaks honestly.
11 You impose a hefty fee on the disadvantaged and extract a grain tax from them. As a result, even though you’ve constructed lavish homes from stone, you won’t reside in them; even though you’ve cultivated verdant vineyards, their wine won’t pass your lips.
12 I know the extent of your transgressions and the enormity of your misdeeds. You terrorize the blameless, accept payoffs, and deny the impoverished their rightful justice in the judicial system.
13 Those with wisdom remain silent in these circumstances, as these are infamous times.
14 Pursue virtues and shun vices to survive. Consequently, the Eternal Reality, the Preeminent Sovereign, will accompany you as you profess He does.
15 Detest what is wrong, cherish what is right, and uphold fairness in the judicial chambers. It’s possible that the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of all Celestial forces, will show kindness to the survivors from Joseph’s family.

16 “Consequently, the Sovereign Captain, the Supreme, the Preeminent Sovereign of all forces, proclaims: There will be cries of sorrow in every street and expressions of distress in all public places. The agriculturists will be called on to shed tears, and the professional lamenters will be called to express their grief.
17 Grief will be widespread in every vineyard, as I will move among you,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

§ 23030 THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

18 Trouble awaits for those who look forward to the final reckoning without understanding its weight—it’s not a time of clarity but one of reckoning and exposing what’s hidden.
19 Imagine escaping a lion only to encounter a bear and then getting bitten by a snake at home.
20 The day of the Sovereign Captain will be darkness, not light, utterly black with no brightness.
21 I loathe your exalted feasts; your gatherings are disgusting.
22 Even if you present scorched and grain offerings, I will not acknowledge them. Despite your absolving selected fellowship payments, they will not garner my attention.
23 Cease the clamor of your tunes! I refuse to attend to the melody of your stringed instruments.
24 Allow fairness to surge like a river and authentic deeds to flow like an indestructible stream.
25 Esteemed people of Israel, were you presenting me with absolving payments and offerings during the forty years in the wilderness?
26 You’ve fabricated the fortress of your Prime Ruler, the stand for your counterfeit idolized deities, the celestial body of your idolized deity—creations of your own hands.
27 I will cause you to be captive far beyond Damascus, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, renowned as the Eternal Reality.

§ 23040 MISFORTUNE AWAITS THE COMPLACENT

6 Alas, for those who live comfortably on Mount the hub of David and those feeling safe on the hill of Samaria, the distinguished individuals of this leading nation, to whom the citizens of Israel turn!

2 “Venture towards Kalneh and observe; continue to grand Hamath, then venture downwards to Gath in Philistia. Do they hold superiority over your dual nations? Is the expanse of their land surpassing yours?”

3 You disregard the impending catastrophe and hasten the onset of a reign of violence.

4 You sprawl out on beds bejeweled with ivory, relaxing on your sophisticated sofas as you feast on the most desirable lambs and well-fed calves.

5 You pluck away on your lutes like David and create melodies on musical devices.

6 You consume wine in large quantities and apply the most exquisite ointments, yet show no sorrow for the destruction of Joseph.

7 So, you’ll lead those taken into captivity; your banquets and relaxation will cease.

§ 23050 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN ABHORS THE PRIDE OF ISRAEL

8 The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign Almighty, declares: “I detest Jacob’s arrogance and despise his strongholds; I will deliver the city and all within it.”
9 Ten individuals will perish if they remain in one house.
10 When a relative comes to remove and cremate the bodies and asks if anyone else is there, and the answer is no, he will say, “Silence! Do not invoke the Sovereign Captain’s Name.” 11 The Sovereign Captain has decreed that he will smash the large house to pieces and the small house to bits.
12 Can strike vehicles run on air? Can a guy use oxen to plow rocks? However, you have transformed the fruits of integrity into hatred and justice into venom.
13 You who rejoice in the conquest of Lo Debar and say, “Didn’t we take Karnaim by our own strength?”
14 The Sovereign Captain, the Almighty, announces, “He will raise a nation against you, Israel, which will oppress you from Lebo Hamath to the Arabah valley.”

§ 23060 LOCUSTS, FIRE AND A PLUMB LINE

7 This disclosure is what the Eternal Reality disclosed to me: He was creating a multitude of locusts just after the Prime Ruler’s portion had been harvested and as the latter crops started to emerge.
2 Once they had utterly consumed the Earth’s vegetation, I implored, “Almighty Sovereign Captain, be merciful! How can Jacob endure? He is too insignificant!”
3 The Sovereign Captain decided not to do this, stated the Sovereign Captain.
4 The vision disclosed to me by the Eternal Reality was this: the Eternal Reality invoked a sentence of blazing inferno; it evaporated the vast depths and laid waste to the Earth.
5 I pled, “Almighty Sovereign Captain, I implore you to cease! How will Jacob stand, given his minuteness?”

6 Consequently, the Sovereign Captain had a change of inner-self. “I will not allow this to transpire either,” declared the Eternal Reality.
7 Here’s what he disclosed: the Eternal Reality stood adjacent to a vertical wall constructed with precision, holding a plumb line in his grasp.
8 The Sovereign Captain asked me, “What do you perceive, Amos?” “A vertical line,” was my response. Then the Sovereign Captain declared, “Take note, I’m positioning a plumb line amid my nation, Israel; I won’t overlook their transgressions any longer.”
9 Isaac’s expression of joyful adoration sites will be desolate, and the exalted places of Israel will be laid to waste; I will stand against Jeroboam’s dynasty, wielding my tactical blade.

§ 23070 AMOS AND AMAZIAH

10 Amaziah, the ensovereigned mediator at Bethel, informed Jeroboam, the Prime Ruler of Israel: “Amos is conspiring against you in the inner determination of Israel. The nation cannot endure all his declarations.”

11 “Amos is proclaiming that Jeroboam will die by weapon, and the people of Israel will be exiled from their homeland.”

12 Amaziah then ordered Amos, “Leave, prophet! Flee to Judah. Sustain yourself there and deliver your prophecies in that place.
13 Stop prophesying here at Bethel, as it’s the Prime Ruler’s Exalted Space and a governance fortress.”

14 Amos replied to Amaziah, “I am not a prophet or a prophet’s son; I am a herdsman and caretaker of sycamore-fig trees.” 15 “However, the Sovereign Captain called me away from my duties, instructing me, ‘Go proclaim to the children of Israel. ’”

16 “Now, pay heed to the Sovereign Captain’s message. You say, ‘Do not prophesy against Israel; cease proclaiming against the family of Isaac. ’” 17 “So, the Sovereign Captain declares: ‘Your spouse will resort to prostitution in the city, and your children will perish by the tactical blade. Your land will be divided. Unlike the Preeminent Sovereign’s lifestyle, you will die in a foreign land. Israel will be exiled from its homeland. ’”

§ 23080 A BASKET OF RIPE FRUIT

8 The Sovereign Captain showed me a basket of ripe fruit.
2 He asked, “Amos, what do you see?” I replied, “A basket of ripe fruit.” Then the Sovereign Captain said, “The time is ripe for my people, Israel; I will not delay their punishment.”
3 On that day, the Sovereign Captain declares, “The songs in the fortress will turn to wailing.
Many bodies will be thrown everywhere. Silence!”
4 Listen to this, you who oppress the poor and the needy in the nation
5 “When will the Day of Rest end so we can sell wheat, and the New Moon be over so we can sell grain?” —cheating with dishonest scales, raising the price, and skipping the measure, 6 purchasing with silver the poor and the needy for sandals; selling even the chaff with the wheat.
7 The Sovereign Captain has sworn by His Name, the pride of Jacob: “I will never forget anything they have done.”
8 This will cause the land to quiver and cause all who dwell there to grieve. The entire region will rise like the Nile, be agitated, and finally sink like the Egyptian River.
9 On that day, says the Sovereign Captain, I’ll disrupt the usual order, causing clarity to vanish even when it’s most expected.

10 I will transform your music into sorrow and your holy celebrations into grief. All of you will have your heads shaved and forced to wear somber clothing. I’ll treat that period of time as an only son in mourning and treat its conclusion like a hard day.
11 “I will send a famine through the land in the coming days, not a famine for nourishment or an acute need for water, but a famine of discerning My directives,” declares the Sovereign Captain.
12 In their quest for the Sovereign Captain’s word, people will stumble from sea to sea and meander from North to East, but they won’t find it.
13 The attractive young ladies and robust young guys will pass out from thirst that day.

14 Those who swear by the transgression of Samaria—who say, ‘As surely as your idolized deity lives, Dan, ’ or, ‘As surely as the Preeminent Sovereign of Beersheba lives’—they will fall, never to rise again.”

§ 23090 ISRAEL TO BE DESTROYED

9 I witnessed the Sovereign Captain beside the pedestal table, commanding: “Strike the columns’ tops until the bases tremble. Let them collapse on everyone; I will execute the rest with the tactical blade. None shall escape; no survivors.”
2 Even if they burrow into the netherworld, my hand will find them. I will pull them back even if they ascend to the celestial sphere.
3 Even if they hide at Carmel’s peak, I will track and capture them. Even if they vanish in the ocean’s depth, I will order the sea creature to strike them.
4 Even if taken captive by their adversaries, I will direct the tactical blade to execute them there. I will keep a vigilant eye on them, bringing adversity rather than benefit.
5 The Sovereign Captain, the Sovereign of Celestial Armies, impacts the land, causing it to dissolve, and everyone grieves; the entire land elevates like the Nile and then recedes like Egypt’s river;

6 He builds his magnificent dwelling in the celestial realms and Sovereign Captain establishes its base on Earth. He beckons marine waters and dispenses them over Earth’s surface. His name is Sovereign Captain.
7 “Are you, Israelites, not similar to Cushites in my view?” asserts the Sovereign Captain. “Did I not guide Israel from Egypt, the Arameans from Kir, and the Philistine Warriors from Caphtor?”
8 The eyes of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, are fixated on the nation’s full list of unworthy choices. I am committed to eradicating it from Earth’s surface. However, the Sovereign Captain affirms: “I will not wholly annihilate Jacob’s family.”
9 I shall indeed issue an order, causing Israel to be agitated among all countries as corn jostled in a sieve. Yet, no small stone shall fall on Earth.
10 All wrongdoers of my people will fall to the tactical blade. Those who assert calamity will neither catch up to nor confront us.

§ 23100 ISRAEL’S RESTORATION

11 On that day, I will mend the fallen shelter of David, restore its damaged walls, and rebuild its ruins as they were in the past.
12 “So, my people will take control of what’s left of Edom and all the nations identified by my name,” the Sovereign Captain affirms, “who will bring this about.”
13 “The period draws near,” envisions the Sovereign Captain, “when the cultivator will outpace the harvester, and the grape crusher will overtake the crop planter. Fresh wine will trickle from the mountain ranges and surge from every hill.”
14 “My people, Israel, will be delivered from captivity, and they will rebuild and settle in the destroyed towns. They will create gardens and relish their inner fruit; they will grow rooftop gardens and sip the wine that they produce.”
15 “Israel will be firmly established in their territory, with no future threat of being displaced from the land I’ve given up on them,” asserts the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign.

~ 131 | Servitude | Obadiah

§ 23110 OBADIAH'S VISION

1 This disclosure is what the Eternal Reality declares about Edom: "We have received a communication from Preeminent Sovereign: A messenger has been dispatched among the nations to say, 'Arise, let's assemble our armies and engage her in combat. '"
2 "I will reduce you to insignificance among the nations; you will be wholly scorned."
3 "Your arrogance has fooled you, dwelling in the hollows of the cliffs, with your abode high on the peaks, thinking to yourself, 'No one can bring me down to the Earth. '"
4 "Even if you rise high like a soaring eagle and establish your dwelling among the stars, I, the Sovereign Captain, will pull you down from such heights."
5 "Should thieves approach you if marauders struck during the night—look at the calamity that awaits you!—wouldn't they exclusively steal until their needs are satisfied? Wouldn't they spare a few fruits if those gathering grapes visited you?"
6 "Notice how thoroughly Esau will be plundered and his concealed riches looted."
7 "Every individual in alliance with you will push you to the fringe; those at peace with you will trick and defeat you; the ones who have shared your provisions will lay an ambush unknown to you."
8 "On that day, isn't it sure that I, the Sovereign Captain, will obliterate the intellectuals of Edom and eradicate insight from Esau's highlands?"
9 "The soldiers of Teman will be filled with dread, resulting in a complete decimation of all inhabitants of Esau's mountains through mass killing."
10 "Due to the harm you inflicted on your sibling, Jacob, disgrace will engulf you, and your existence will be perpetually obliterated."

11 "On the day you just indifferently watched as outsiders seized his fortune and intruders entered his gates, deciding Yerushalayim's fate, you behaved no differently than them."
12 "You ought not to have triumphed over your sibling's misfortune, delighted over the calamity of Judah's people, or spoken arrogantly during their time of hardship."
13 "You ought not to have walked through the city doors of my people when disaster struck them nor reveled in their suffering during the day of their adversity, nor capitalized on their riches during the day of their misfortune."
14 "You shouldn't have been present at the junctions to slaughter those trying to escape, nor should you have handed over the remaining few on their day of hardship."
15 "The day of judgment from the Sovereign Captain is approaching for all nations. What you have done will be inflicted on you; your actions will return to haunt you."
16 "As you consumed on my exalted mount, all nations will persistently imbibe; they will continue to drink until they resemble those who have ceased to exist."
17 "A fortress shall exist on Mount, the hub of David, providing redemption; it will be purified, and Jacob will reclaim his inheritance."
18 "Jacob will ignite like a fire, and Joseph will blaze like a flame; they will scorch and annihilate Esau, who will become as good as kindling. There will be no remaining vestiges of Esau's family. This living word is a declaration from the Sovereign Captain."
19 "Inhabitants from the southern desert will take over Esau's mountains, and those from the lowlands will overrun the Philistine Warrior territory. They will take control of Ephraim and Samaria's fields, and Benjamin will claim Gilead."

20 “The group of Israeli expats residing in Canaan will reclaim the territory up to Zarephath; the displaced residents of Yerushalayim who are now in Sepharad will regain control of the cities in the Negev.”
21 “Victors will ascend Mount, the hub of David, to rule over the hilly country of Esau, with the preeminent sovereignty belonging to the Sovereign Captain.”

~ 132 | The Dove | Jonah

§ 23120 JONAH FLEES FROM THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

1 The Sovereign Captain's message reached Jonah, Amittai's son.
2 "Go to the great city of Nineveh and denounce it, for its impurity has come to my attention."
3 Jonah headed for Tarshish to evade the Sovereign Captain. He went to Joppa, found a ship bound for Tarshish, paid the fare, and boarded, attempting to flee from the Sovereign Captain.
4 The Sovereign Captain then sent a powerful storm over. The ship was in danger of breaking apart when the Sovereign Captain unleashed a strong storm across the ocean.
5 Terrified, each sailor prayed to their idolized deity and threw the cargo overboard to lighten the ship. Meanwhile, Jonah had gone below deck, lying down and falling into a deep sleep.
6 The ship's commander approached him and said, "How can you sleep? Get up and call on your idolized deity! Maybe he will notice us so we will not perish."
7 "Let's cast lots to figure out who is to blame for this calamity," the seamen said to one another. Jonah was the recipient of the lot that they cast.
8 They asked him, "Tell us, who is responsible for making all this trouble for us? What do you do? Where do you come from? What is your country? From what people are you?"
9 He answered, "I am a Hebrew and elevate the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of the celestial realms, the Innovator of the sea and land."
10 This terrified them, and they asked, "What have you done?" (They knew he was running away from the Sovereign Captain because he had already told them so.)

11 As the sea grew rougher, they asked him, "What should we do to you to make the sea calm down for us?"
12 He answered, "Pick me up and toss me into the sea, and it will turn calm. I know that it is my fault that this huge storm has come upon you."
13 Instead, the men tried to row back to land but could not because the sea was getting wilder.
14 Then they cried out to the Sovereign Captain, asking him to spare them from death because they had done as they pleased.
15 They took Jonah and flung him overboard, and the once-raging sea began to calm down.
16 At this, the men greatly feared the Sovereign Captain, and they offered an absolving payment to Him and made vows.
17 The Eternal Reality arranged for a colossal sea creature to engulf Jonah, who then remained inside this creature's gut for three days and nights.

§ 23130 JONAH'S MELDING OF HIS CONSCIENCE WITH THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

2 Jonah offered the meldings of his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign to the Sovereign Captain from within the sea creature.
2 He articulated: "I reached out to the Sovereign Captain in my trouble and was answered. I pleaded for assistance from the depths of the afterlife, and my intervention was attended to."

3 “You tossed me into the profound depths, into the core of the oceans, and the currents whirled around me; all your surges and crashing waves overwhelmed me.”
4 I proclaimed, “‘I’ve been expelled from your presence. Nonetheless, I shall gaze once more towards your exalted fortress.”
5 The overwhelming waters threatened me; the abyss engulfed me; marine plants surrounded my skull.
6 “I descended to the very base of the mountains; I was locked within the Earth eternally. However, you, My Sovereign Captain, resurrected me from the abyss.”

7 “As my existence was fading, I recollected you, Sovereign Captain and my earnest intervention ascended to you in your exalted fortress.”
8 “Individuals who adhere to meaningless idolized deities forsake the Preeminent Sovereign’s affection for them.”
9 “Nonetheless, with a voice filled with thanksgiving, I will offer my absolving payment to you. I shall fulfill what I have promised. I will declare, ‘Deliverance belongs to the Sovereign Captain.’”
10 The Eternal Reality issued an order to the fish, resulting in Jonah being regurgitated on terra firma.

§ 23140 JONAH GOES TO NINEVEH

3 The Sovereign Captain spoke to Jonah again, instructing him to go to Nineveh and deliver His message.
2 Jonah obeyed and traveled to the vast city, which took three days to cross.
3 On his first day there, he proclaimed, “Nineveh will be destroyed in forty days.”
4 The people of Nineveh believed the Preeminent Sovereign’s warning, declared a fast, and wore somber clothing, from the greatest to the least.
5 When the Prime Ruler of Nineveh heard this, he left his control base, removed his governance robes, put on somber clothing, and sat in ashes.
6 He issued a decree: “No one, not even animals, may eat or drink.
7 Everyone must wear somber clothing and fervently implore the Preeminent Sovereign. They must turn from their evil ways and violence.
8 Perhaps the Preeminent Sovereign will relent and show mercy, sparing us from destruction.”
9 Seeing their life transformation, the Preeminent Sovereign had compassion and did not bring the disaster He had threatened.

§ 23150 JONAH’S ANGER AT THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S COMPASSION

4 Jonah was distraught by this reversal.
2 “My Sovereign Captain, is this not what I claimed when I was still in my own country?” he pleaded to the Sovereign Captain. That’s the reason I ran toward Tarshish so quickly. I knew You are kind and merciful, the Preeminent Sovereign who is slow to become enraged and abundant in loving devotion— The One who hesitates before bringing about calamity.
3 “Sovereign Captain, please end my life; I should die than to live.”
4 The Sovereign Captain replied, “Do you have any justification for your anger?”

[5] Jonah moved to the city's eastern outskirts, built a shelter, and waited to see what would happen to the city.
[6] The Eternal Preeminent Sovereign made a shrub grow over Jonah to provide shade and ease his discomfort, which delighted Jonah.
[7] The next morning, the Preeminent Sovereign sent a worm to gnaw at the plant, causing it to wither.
[8] The heat beat down on Jonah's head until he fainted, and the Preeminent Sovereign sent a searing East wind as the sun rose. He wished for death, saying it was better to die than to live.
[9] The Preeminent Sovereign asked Jonah, "Do you trust being upset about the plant is justified?" "Yes," Jonah replied, "I'm so enraged I could die."
[10] The Sovereign Captain pointed out, "You are concerned about a plant you did not nurture or cultivate. It appeared one night and perished the next.
[11] Shouldn't I empathize with Nineveh, a city of over 120,000 people who cannot distinguish their dominant hand from their left, along with many animals?"

~ 133 | The Promise | Micah

§ 23160 JUDGMENT AGAINST SAMARIA AND YERUSHALAYIM

1 The disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign given to Micah from Moresheth during the reigns of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, leaders of Judah, pertained to his visions about Samaria and Yerushalayim.
2 "Pay heed, all nations, listen carefully, Earth and everyone dwelling on it so that the Eternal Reality may testify against you," declared the Sovereign Captain from His exalted fortress.
3 "Pay heed! The Sovereign Captain descends from His fortress and steps on the world's elevated terrains.
4 The peaks disintegrate under Him, and the valleys fracture like wax before a flame, like water cascading down an incline.
5 This arises due to Jacob's disobedience and Israel's wrongdoings. Isn't Samaria the source of Jacob's disobedience? Isn't Yerushalayim the revered fortress of Judah?
6 I will convert Samaria into ruins suitable for vineyards. I will scatter her rocks into the valley and reveal her hidden foundations.
7 All her idolized deities will be shattered; all her exalted treasures consumed by fire; I will demolish all her representations. Because she amassed treasures from sexual immorality, they will be used for the same purpose again."

§ 23170 WEEPING AND MOURNING

8 "As a result, I will lament and mourn. I will traverse without shoes and in nudity. I will yowl like a wild dog and groan like a desert bird."

9 "Indeed, the affliction of Samaria is beyond healing, extending to Judah. It has reached right up to the entrance of my people, all the way to Yerushalayim."

10 "Do not disclose it in Gath. They shed no tears. In Beth Ophrah, immerse yourself in the dust."

11 "Proceed on your journey, dwellers of Shaphir, exposed and disgraced. The inhabitants of Zaanan refuse to emerge. Beth Ezel is distressing; it no longer offers you cover."

12 "The inhabitants of Maroth endure suffering as they anticipate aid, given that a calamity has descended from the Sovereign Captain, extending even to Yerushalayim's gate."

13 "Residents of Lachish, prepare your swiftest tactical personnel transports for assault forces transport. You initiated the iniquity of Daughter, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign since the rebellious conduct of Israel was discovered within you."

14 "So, you will grant farewell presents on Moresheth Gath. The township of Akzib will disappoint the Prime Rulers of Israel."

15 “I shall send an adversary towards the residents of Mareshah. Israel’s elite will seek refuge in Adullam.”

16 “Shear your locks as a sign of despair for the offspring you cherish; make your scalp as bare as an eagle’s, for they will be taken from you and forced into exile.”

§ 23180 HUMAN PLANS AND THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S PLANS

2 Beware of those who plot evil and devise harm while on their beds! At dawn, they carry out their plans because they have the power to do so.
2 They covet fields and seize them and houses, taking them by force. They defraud individuals of their homes and strip them of their ancestral lands.
3 The Sovereign Captain declares: “I am planning a disaster against this people, from which you cannot escape. “I intend to unleash a disaster among this people, so you cannot escape,” the Sovereign Captain declares. It will be a moment of disaster, so you won’t be able to walk with pride anymore.
4 On that day, people will ridicule you and sing this mournful song: “We are utterly ruined; my people’s inheritance is divided. He takes it from me! Our fields are given to traitors.”
5 Therefore, no one in the ensovereigned lifestyle community of the Sovereign Captain will be there to divide the land by lot.

§ 23190 COUNTERFEIT PROPHETS

6 “Don’t forecast,” their seers command. “Don’t forecast such matters; humiliation won’t befall us.”
7 Is it right to assume that Jacob’s family, the Eternal Reality, grows impatient? Does he perform such actions? Don’t my teachings benefit the one who adheres to the integrity?
8 Recently, my individuals have behaved like foes. They forcibly take the elegant garments from those who casually stroll by, similar to warriors returning from conflict.
9 You evict the women in my community from their delightful dwellings. You rob my acclaim from their offspring eternally.
10 Stand up, move on! This locale is no longer a place of solace, as it is tarnished and devastated beyond any chance of repair.

11 If a fraud who tells untruths appears and pledges to predict an abundance of wine and ale for you, such a one would be the ideal oracle for this populace!

§ 23200 DELIVERANCE PROMISED

12 "I will gather all of you, my people; I will bring together those who remain faithful. I will bring them together like a community reunited in a safe neighborhood, like friends in a vibrant park; the place will be filled with life and celebration."
13 The one who breaks barriers will lead them; they will break out, pass through the gate, and go out. Their Sovereign will go before them, with the Sovereign Captain guiding them.

§ 23210 LEADERS AND PROPHETS REBUKED

3 I implored, “Pay heed, chiefs of Jacob, overseers of Israel. Do you not know what is fair?
2 You despise what is authentic and adore impurity, violently stripping away the skin and meat from my people.
3 You consume their flesh, peel their skin, shatter their bones, and dice them like meat for the pot.
4 In desperation, you will implore the Sovereign Captain, but he will not respond. He will turn away due to your impurity.

5 The Sovereign Captain says this about the prophets who misguide His people: they declare ‘tranquility’ when fed, but if not catered to, they instigate conflict.
6 Evening will descend on you without visions; darkness will cover the prophets.
7 The prophets will be humiliated, and the soothsayers shamed. They will mask their expressions as there is no celestial response from the Preeminent Sovereign.

8 Empowered by the Eternal Spark of the Sovereign Captain, I expose Jacob’s defiance and Israel’s offenses with integrity and strength.

9 Listen attentively, heads of Jacob and officials of Israel, who have contempt for fairness and pervert integrity, 10 who build the hub of David through bloody crimes and Yerushalayim with profound wrongdoing.
11 The city’s principals make decisions based on bribes, inner guides instruct only when paid, and prophets predict for monetary gain. Still, they seek the Sovereign Captain’s backing, affirming, ‘Isn’t the Sovereign Captain with us? No calamity will fall on us. ’
12 As a consequence of your actions, the Promised Land will become open land, Yerushalayim a pile of debris, and the hill of the fortress a mound teeming with undergrowth.

§ 23220 THE MOUNTAIN OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

4 In the end, the mountain of the Eternal Reality’s fortress will be established as the highest among all mountains; it will rise above the hills, and nations will flock to it.
2 Many nations will say, “Let’s ascend to the Sovereign Captain’s mountain, to the dwelling of Jacob’s Preeminent Sovereign. He will teach us His paths so we can walk in them.” Instruction will come from the Preeminent Sovereign fortress and the Sovereign Captain’s message from Yerushalayim.
3 He will judge many nations and settle disputes for strong, distant countries. They will turn their tactical blades into agricultural tools and tactical bayonets into vine-trimming instruments. No nation will fight another, and they will stop training for war.
4 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, decrees that everyone will rest under their vine and fig tree without fear.
5 Other communities might follow their idolized deities, but we will forever follow the guidance of the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 23230 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S PLAN

6 On that marked day, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, "I will gather the limping, the banished, and those I have afflicted with sorrow.
7 I will transform the weak into a chosen people and the exiled into a formidable nation. From this day forward and for all eternity, the Sovereign Captain will govern them from Mount, the hub of David.
8 For you, sentinel of the protected community, a fortress of the daughter of the hub of David, your prior sovereignty will be re-established; governance authority will be given back to the Daughter of Yerushalayim.
9 Why are you shouting so loudly? Is there no Prime Ruler among you? Has your wise leader been destroyed? Is this why pain grips you like a woman in labor?
10 Experience distress, Daughter of the hub of David, like a woman giving birth; you must now depart from the city to settle in the open countryside. Your journey will lead you to Babylon; you will find redemption there. In that place, the Sovereign Captain will liberate you from your adversaries.
11 At present, numerous nations have assembled against you, expressing their desire to see her dishonored and take pleasure in the downfall of the Promised Land.
12 But they don't realize the full purpose of the Sovereign Captain's intentions. They don't grasp that their actions are being compiled for evaluation, ready to be separated into what's valuable and what isn't.
13 Stand up and crush the grain, O daughter of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, for I will equip you with horns as hard as iron and feet of brass, allowing you to shatter many nations.
You will contribute their dishonestly acquired riches to the Sovereign Captain, their wealth to the Sovereign Captain of the entire Earth.

5 Now, gather your forces. The city is under siege, as an attack has been mounted against us.
The leader of Israel will be smacked on the face with a wand." Although you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, are insignificant among the communities of Judah, it's from you that a ruler over Israel, whose beginnings trace back to ancient times, will arise to serve me.

3 Israel will be left until a woman in labor gives birth to a male heir, and his remaining relative will rejoin the Israelites.
4 He will lead His people with the Sovereign Captain's strength, displaying the power and honor of His name. Under His care, they will live in safety, and His influence will extend everywhere.
5 He shall be the source of tranquility when the Assyrians encroach on our territory and tread on our strongholds. We will mobilize seven guardians and eight leaders against them.

§ 23240 DELIVERANCE AND DESTRUCTION

6 The one who will govern the territory of Assyria with the tactical blade, the land of Nimrod, using a ready-to-strike weapon. He will liberate us from the Assyrians when they intrude on our lands and tread within our boundaries.
7 The surviving portion of Jacob will live among numerous nations, like morning dew the Sovereign Captain grants, similar to rainfall on vegetation that does not wait for or depend on any human.
8 The survivors of Jacob will be scattered among many nations, immersed among various populations, resembling a lion amid jungle creatures, just like a young lion amidst herds of sheep, which tramples and ravages as it traverses, and no one is capable of saving.

9-10 You will raise your fist victoriously against your adversaries, and all who oppose you will be eliminated.” As per the Sovereign Captain’s proclamation, the day will come when I will wipe out your assault forces from your midst and shatter your strike vehicles.
11 Your land’s municipalities will be eradicated, and all your fortifications will be demolished.
12 I will render your sorcery powerless, and you will cease to conjure incantations.
13 I will eradicate your counterfeit idolized deities and exalted pillars. You will cease to express joyful adoration of what you have crafted with your own hands.
14 I will dismantle your shrines dedicated to Asherah amidst you while decimating your urban areas.

15 With furious wrath, I will execute retribution on the countries that have disregarded my directives.”

§ 23250 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S CASE AGAINST ISRAEL

6 Tune in to the Sovereign Captain’s declaration: “Rise, present your argument to the mountains; let the hills hear your discourse.”
2 “Mountains, heed the Sovereign Captain’s claim; you are enduring Earth’s foundations, so pay heed. The Sovereign Captain has a complaint against his people and will indict Israel.”
3 “How have I wronged you? How have I made you weary? Answer me.”
4 “I emancipated you from Egypt and freed you from servitude. I sent Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to guide you.”
5 “Remember the schemes of Prime Ruler Balak of Moab and Balaam’s response. Recall your journey from Shittim to Gilgal to acknowledge the Sovereign Captain’s just deeds.”
6 “How should I present myself before the Sovereign Captain and show reverence to the mighty Preeminent Sovereign? Should I approach with scorched absolving payments or year-old calves?”
7 “Would the Eternal Reality be satisfied with multitudes of sheep or vast rivers of olive oil? Must I offer my eldest child for my misdeeds, the offspring of my loins for my inner-shelf’s unworthy choice?”
8 “Heir of Humanity, you know what is authentic. What does the Sovereign Captain seek from you? It’s simple: act fairly, cherish compassion, and walk humbly with your Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 23260 ISRAEL’S GUILT AND PUNISHMENT

9 “Pay heed! The Sovereign Captain communicates with the city, and reverence for Your Name signifies wisdom. Observe the power staff of discipline and the One who established it.
10 Can I disregard the dishonest riches in your total of unworthy choices in your household and the condemned inadequate measure?

11 Can I consider someone innocent who uses deceptive measures and carries a bag of fraudulent weights?
12 The affluent individuals among you are full of aggression. Your citizens are falsehood spreaders, and their speech is filled with deception.
13 Consequently, I have initiated your dismantling, causing your downfall due to transgressions.

14 You'll consume yet never be fulfilled; your belly will remain empty. You will stockpile yet safeguard nothing because of your hoarded possessions. I will consign to the tactical blade.
15 You will sow seeds but not gather the crops; you'll squeeze out oil from the olives, yet you won't get to utilize it; you'll tread on grapes but won't consume the wine.
16 You have adhered to the decrees of Omri and all the works of Ahab's family; you have walked in their footsteps. Consequently, I will abandon you to destruction and your citizens to mockery; you will endure the contempt of the nations."

§ 23270 ISRAEL'S MISERY

7 I am in deep distress! It's like gathering the last summer fruits from the hidden rooftop garden, only to find no grapes or early figs I crave.
2 The authentic ones have disappeared from the Earth; not a single person of integrity remains.
everyone is out for blood, trapping each other with nets.
3 All are skilled in evil; officials seek gifts, judges crave bribes, and the influential conspire together.
4 The best among them is like a brier; the most upright is more dangerous than a thorn hedge.
The day of your celestial retribution has come, the day your guardians sound the alarm. Now is the time of your confusion.
5 "Don't trust a companion; don't have confidence in a close friend. Guard your words even with the one who shares your bed.

6 A son disrespects his father, a daughter rebels against her mother, and a daughter-in-law opposes her mother-in-law—one's enemies are often from their own family.
7 Yet, I remain expectant and vigilant for the Sovereign Captain; I patiently await my Preeminent Sovereign, my Rescuer; surely, my Preeminent Sovereign will hear my call."

§ 23280 ISRAEL WILL RISE

8 Don't celebrate my struggles, those who oppose me. When I stumble, I'll rise again, and even in my lowest moments, the Eternal Reality will guide me like a beacon.

9 Due to my transgressions, I must endure the fury of the Sovereign Captain. I anticipate the time he advocates for me and establishes my innocence. In due course, he will guide me into brightness where I will witness His ultimate integrity in action.
10 The one who tormented me will observe this and be engulfed in disgrace, the one who questioned me, 'Where is your Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain?' I will witness her demise; presently, she will be crushed underfoot like sludge on the roadways.
11 The time will arrive when your walls will be reconstructed, and your territory will be broadened.
12 On that day, individuals will flock to you from the lands of Assyria and Egyptian cities, spanning from Egypt to the Euphrates and covering the expanse from one sea to the other and from one mountain range to another.
13 The land will become a wasteland due to its residents' actions."

§ 23290 MELDING CONSCIENCE AND PRAISE

14 “Guide your flock with your power, the group that is your heritage, which dwells solitarily in a woodland amid bountiful grassland. Let them graze in Bashan and Gilead as they did in the distant past.
15 “Similar to the era of their celestial deliverance from Egypt, I will display to them astonishing marvelous works.
16 “The world will witness and feel humiliated, losing all their might. They will cover their mouths in disbelief, and their auditory senses will be nullified.
17 “They will consume dirt like a serpent, like beings that creep on the terrain. They will emanate from their lairs, shivering with trepidation; they will turn in apprehension to the Sovereign Captain, our Preeminent Sovereign, and will feel a profound fear of you.
18 “Who can compare to an idolized deity like you, absolving iniquity and overlooking rebellion among the survivors of your endowed portion? Your wrath does not endure eternally, as you cherish demonstrating compassion.
19 “Once more, you will show mercy on us; our unworthy choices will be trampled underfoot, and every trace of our wrongdoings will be thrown into the ocean’s depth.
20 “You will extend ultimate authenticity to Jacob and grant kindness to Abraham just as you vowed to our forefathers in ancient times.”

§ 23300 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S ANGER AGAINST NINEVEH

1 This vision from the Preeminent Sovereign about Nineveh was delivered to Nahum from Elkosh.
2 The Sovereign Captain zealously embodies and acts as a corrective Eternal Reality; He reciprocates, consumes Himself with anger, and returns it against those who oppose Him, releasing His wrath on His adversaries.
3 The Eternal Reality is patient yet immensely strong; He ensures wrongdoers face justice. His presence is seen in the storm and gale, with clouds as dust beneath His stride.
4 He admonishes the sea, causing it to dry up and deplete all rivers. Bashan and Carmel languish while Lebanon's blossoms deteriorate.
5 Mountains shake, hills dissolve, and the Earth upheaves at His presence, along with the world and all its inhabitants.
6 Who can endure His fury or withstand His burning outrage? His rage is like wildfire, causing stones to crumble before Him.
7 The Eternal Reality is benevolent, a stronghold that attends to those who trust Him during distressing times.
8 He will eradicate Nineveh with a mighty deluge and chase His adversaries into obscurity.
9 Whatever plans they make against the Sovereign Captain, He will terminate them; distress won't arise twice.
10 Complexities will trap them, their indulgences will overwhelm them, and they will utterly consume them, like dry kindling in a fire.
11 Someone from Nineveh schemes evil against the Sovereign Captain and formulates sinister strategies.
12 The Sovereign Captain declares: 'Though they have strong allies and are plentiful, they will end and vanish. Even though I have brought suffering on you, Judah, I shall not cause you such pain again.
13 I will now liberate you from their control by breaking their yoke from your neck and ripping your restraints apart. '

14 This decree from the Sovereign Captain states: 'Nineveh, your family will cease to exist. ' The carved and metallic images of your idolized deities in your houses will be eradicated. Your tomb is being prepared, for you are despicable.
15 Observe atop the peaks the arrival of the herald of joyous developments, declaring tranquility! Commemorate your feasts, Judah, and fulfill your solemn promises. The malicious ones shall no longer infiltrate your realm; they will be utterly eradicated.

§ 23310 NINEVEH TO FALL

2 Nineveh, an adversary, is approaching to confront you. Defend the stronghold, keep an eye on the path, steel yourselves, and muster your full power!

2 The Sovereign Captain will restore Jacob’s majesty, similar to Israel’s grandeur, even though despoilers have ravaged them and destroyed their rooftop garden branches.
3 The ballistic shields of the troops are dyed crimson; battle-hardened men are dressed in bright red. The sheen of steel on the strike vehicles lights up when prepared for warfare; tactical bayonets are confidently swung around.
4 Main battle strike vehicles race fiercely through city streets, rushing across plazas like flame throwers and moving swiftly like lightning flashes.
5 Nineveh calls for its chosen soldiers, yet they falter in their march. They rush towards the city wall, and the defensive ballistic shield is established.
6 The fortress dissolves as rivers open their gates.
7 The sentence has been passed—Nineveh is to be stripped and led into exile. Her handmaidens express grief audibly; their sounds resemble doves’ cooing as they thump their chests in sorrow.
8 Nineveh resembles a reservoir steadily leaking out. Halt. Halt. They implore, yet no one reverses course.
9 Seize the silver! Seize the gold! The stockpile is limitless, with an abundance of precious possessions!
10 She is ravaged, looted, desolated! People faint, knees buckle, bodies shudder, and every countenance turns ashen.

11 Where is the haven of the lions where they nourished their young? Where did male and female lions roam with their offspring without fear?
12 The lion slaughtered adequately for his whelps and choked food for his lioness, stuffing his dens with captures and lairs with hunted game.
13 The Almighty Sovereign Captain opposes you. He intends to ablaze your strike vehicles until reduced to ash, and the tactical blade will devour your young lions. There will be no spoils left on Earth for you. The proclamations of your envoys will cease to resound.

§ 23320 MISFORTUNE AWAITS NINEVEH

3 How terrible for the city soaked in blood, teeming with deceptions, overflowing with spoils, and perpetually filled with victims!
2 The explosion of mortars, the rumbling of strike vehicles, tactical personnel transports charging, and artillery blasting!
3 Tactical transport riders rush into battle with tactical blades gleaming and tactical bayonets shimmering! Numerous fatalities, heaps of lifeless, innumerable bodies, individuals tripping over the dead.
4 This situation is solely due to the uncontained sexual desires of a seductive courtesan, an adept of black magic who subjugated nations with her lewd acts and ensnared populations with her sorcery.
5 The Almighty Sovereign Captain opposes you. He will expose you by lifting your dress above your face. He will reveal your indecency to the nations and your disgrace to the nations.
6 I will hurl detestable muck at you, display you as an impure fool, and set you up as a public display.
7 everyone who looks at you will recoil in disgust, exclaiming that Nineveh lies devastated. Who will grieve for its state? Where might I search to find someone to offer you comfort?

8 Do you outshine Thebes, stationed by the Nile, encircled by water? The river served as her safeguard; her walls were the surrounding waters.

9 Ethiopia and Egypt provided her with limitless power. Put and Libya were her supportive associates.
10 Even though she went into exile and became a captive, her young ones were brutally shattered at every intersection of the streets. The casting of lots determined her distinguished men and all her influential men were shackled.
11 Similarly, you will be intoxicated; you will conceal yourself and look for a fortress from the adversary.
12 All your defenses resemble fig trees bearing the first fruits; they topple directly into the devourer's mouth once agitated.

13 Observe your forces; they are all as feeble as women. The entrances to your territory are fully accessible to your foes; the fire has devoured the barricades of your gates.
14 Gather water in preparation for the impending siege, and fortify your defenses! Mold the clay, trample the mortar, mend the brickwork!
15 Fire will engulf you in that place; tactical blades will cause your end—they will annihilate you like a locust swarm. Augment like grasshoppers, increase like locusts!
16 The quantity of your traders has expanded, surpassing the count of stars in the cosmos. Yet, they ravage the Earth like grasshoppers before taking flight.

17 Your sentinels resemble grasshoppers, and your officials are like clouds of locusts lodging in the ramparts during a frigid day—but with the sunrise, they take flight. Their whereabouts remain unknown.
18 Rulers of Assyria, your guardians have fallen into a deep slumber. Your eminent men lie motionless. Your chosen people are dispersed on the slopes and need someone to round them up.

19 Your affliction is beyond repair; your injury is mortal. everyone who hears of your fate applauds your downfall, for who hasn't suffered from your relentless impurity?

~ 135 | The Wrestler | Habakkuk

§ 23330 HABAKKUK'S COMPLAINT

1 This disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign was given to the eternally wise servant, Habakkuk.
2 "Eternal Reality, how long must I seek your assistance without response? I cry out about brutality, yet you do not deliver.
3 Why do you make me witness injustice? Why tolerate misdeeds? Chaos and aggression confront me; disputes are rampant.
4 As a result, the Mosaic Law is ineffective, and justice is never upheld. The counterfeit surrounds the authentic, distorting justice."

§ 23340 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S ANSWER

5 "Observe the nations and be astounded—you will witness events in your lifetime that seem impossible, even if forewarned.
6 I am empowering the relentless and quick-tempered Chaldeans who traverse the globe to seize homes not their own.
7 They are notorious and terrifying, creating their directives and elevating their status.
8 Their steeds are swifter than leopards and fiercer than wolves at dusk. Their assault forces charge swiftly, and their riders advance from afar, descending like eagles on prey.

9 They come with a singular intent to harm, pushing forward like a desert wind, capturing as many grains of sand as possible.
10 Prime rulers amuse them, and they mock leaders. They laugh at fortified cities and build dirt ramps to seize them.
11 After passing swiftly like a gust of air, they continue as transgressors who revere their might."

§ 23350 HABAKKUK'S SECOND COMPLAINT

12 My Sovereign Captain, haven't you existed from time immemorial? My Preeminent Sovereign, my exalted One, we will not meet death. You, Sovereign Captain, have assigned them to deliver judgment; you, my bedrock, have established them for retribution.
13 Your gaze is too immaculate to witness unworthy choice; you cannot endure misdeeds. How, then, do you bear with the deceitful? Why remain muted as the corrupt devour the more authentic ones?
14 You've fashioned humans to resemble marine life like aquatic organisms bereft of a leader.
15 The malicious enemy hauls all of them with hooks, entraps them in his net, and assembles them in his seine; subsequently, he rejoices and is content.
16 So, he offers offerings to his fishing equipment and expresses reverence to his seine, for through it, he indulges in a lavish lifestyle and relishes the finest meals.
17 Will he persist in emptying his fishing net, continually annihilating nations without showing any compassion?

2 I will take my stance at my guard post and position myself on the fortress; I will keep watch to understand what he will communicate to me and how I should respond to this grievance.

§ 23360 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S ANSWER

2 The Sovereign Captain replied: "Inscribe the vision on tablets, ensuring it's easily understood so a messenger can swiftly carry the message.
3 The vision is set for a specific time; it indicates the conclusion and won't be deceptive. Even if it seems to be taking a while, persist in waiting; it unquestionably will arrive without any procrastination.
4 Observe, the adversary is inflated in ego; his aspirations are not just yet the individual who is right with Preeminent Sovereign will exist through their trustworthiness.
5 Truly, alcohol deceives him; he is arrogant and always restless. His greed matches the insatiability of the abyss, just like death never content; he assembles all countries to himself and entraps all their inhabitants.
6 Won't everyone criticize him with mocking questions and derisions, stating, 'Misery to the one who hoards what isn't his and enriches himself using extortion! When will this end. '
7 Those to whom you owe money rise abruptly. Creditors awaken and instill fear in you. Subsequently, you will turn into their take.
8 Since you have looted numerous nations, those who remain shall loot you in return as you have spilled human blood and ruined territories, towns, and everyone within them.
9 Misfortune awaits the individual who constructs his dwelling through corrupt earnings, positioning his abode at lofty heights to evade impending catastrophes.
10 You have schemed shame for your household by destroying numerous nations, risking your existence.
11 The very stones in the walls will protest, and the wooden rafters will reverberate the outcry.
12 Alas, for the one constructing a city through murder and setting up a village via unlawful acts!
13 Doesn't the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, establish that people serve exclusively as fodder for flames and that nations wear themselves out to no avail?

14 The globe will be saturated with the understanding of the Sovereign Captain's majesty in the same way water envelops the sea.
15 Disaster awaits the one delivering intoxication to his neighbors, drenching them with the contents from the flask until drunkenness pervades, all with the intent of witnessing their uncovered bodies!
16 Your honor will be replaced with disgrace. The time is on you. Consume and have your uncircumcision disclosed. The vessel from the Sovereign Captain's dominant hand is approaching you, and your acclaim will be shrouded in humiliation.
17 The brutality inflicted on Lebanon will consume you. Your devastation of wildlife will instill terror in you, for you are guilty of spilling human blood and have laid waste to territories, cities, and all their inhabitants.
18 What worth does a sculpted deity carry when its maker is a craftsman or a figure that propagates deception? The Innovator places trust in his creation, crafting voiceless idolized deities.
19 Misfortune to the one who orders the wood to awaken or instructs the inert stone to rouse! Can it offer guidance? It's adorned with gold and silver; there is no life.
20 Yahweh resides in his exalted fortress; all the planet should maintain calm in his presence."

§ 23370 HABAKKUK'S MELDING OF HIS CONSCIOUSNESS

3 Shigionoth's transcription of Habakkuk's conscience merging with the Eternal Reality is as follows:
2 "Oh, Sovereign Captain, I have heard the report about you. I am amazed by your actions. In these years, revive them; in these years, make them known. In Your fury, keep mercy in mind!"
3 The Eternal Reality emerged from Teman, the exalted Entity from Mount Paran. His magnificence enveloped the celestial realms, and His commendations saturated the planet.

4 His brilliance resembled the breaking of dawn; beams of light emanated from His hand, concealing His formidable might.
5 He travels ahead of infectious disease, and plague follows in His wake.
6 He took a stand, causing the Earth to shudder; He struck fear into the nations with His stare. The mountains of time immemorial disintegrated, and the hills as old as time fell. His progress is perpetual.
7 I perceived the shelters of Cushan overwhelmed by trouble; the habitations of Midian trembled in severe distress.
8 "Sovereign Captain, had You been vexed with the rivers? Was it Your anger against the brooks? Was it a fury against the ocean when You steered Your strike vehicles and victorious assault forces?"
9 You brandished Your empty launcher, invoking the deployment of numerous projectiles. Rivers cleaved the land apart;
10 The hills observed You and quaked; a flood of water rushed through; the profound sea roared and elevated its surges to great heights.
11 The sun and moon remained stationary in the sky at the brilliant flash of Your soaring projectiles amidst the electrifying light of Your glittering tactical bayonet.
12 You marched across the land in fury, trampling and threshing the nations in Your anger.
13 You set Your people free to rescue Your chosen ones. You shattered the head of the impure realm, laying him bare from foundation to the neck.
14 Utilizing his weapon, You penetrated his leader's skull during their fierce onslaught to disperse us, rejoicing as if they were on the verge of consuming the helpless ones who were concealed.
15 You strode across the sea with Your steeds, stirring the vast water masses.
16 The sound made my inner-self palpitate; my lips trembled in fear; it felt like rot seeping into my bones, causing my legs to waver. Nevertheless, I will endure and quietly anticipate the day of distress on the invading nation.

17 Even when the fig trees don't bear buds or have grapes on the branches, even when the olive harvest comes up short. The fields are empty of provisions, even when there are no sheep to be found in their pens, and there's the absence of cattle in their stalls.
18 Even then, I will be content in Yahweh. I will genuinely take pleasure in the Preeminent Sovereign who delivers me.
19 The Eternal Reality is my power source; He gives me the agility equivalent to a deer, enabling me to navigate elevated places. (Direct the choir director to accompany this with my stringed instruments.)

§ 23380 JUDGMENT ON THE WHOLE EARTH ON THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

1 The Preeminent Sovereign's message came to Zephaniah, son of Cushi, a descendant of Gedaliah, Amariah, and Hezekiah, during Josiah's reign over Judah.
2 The Sovereign Captain declares He will remove everything from the Earth's surface.
3 "I will obliterate humans, animals, birds of the celestial realms, sea creatures, and the worshipped idolized deities. I will eradicate all human life," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
4 "I will act against Judah and Yerushalayim, erasing Baal's worship and the names of false religious priests.
5 Those who venerate extra-terrestrial entities make oaths in the Sovereign Captain's Name and pledge to Molek.
6 Those who have renounced the Sovereign Captain are neither seeking Him nor asking of Him.

7 As judgment nears, maintain silence before the Eternal Reality. He has orchestrated a formality and set-apart those He summoned.
8 I will impose penalties on the Sovereign Captain's absolving formality on authorities, governance offspring, and those in foreign attire.
9 I will bring retribution to those who skip the entranceway, filling idolized deity sanctuaries with aggression and dishonesty.
10 There will be cries from the Fish Gate, wails in the New Quarter, and devastation from the hilltops," declares the Sovereign Captain.
11 "Lament, residents of the commercial area; your silver traders will be eliminated.
12 I will scrutinize Yerushalayim with lanterns and reprimand those content like wine on its residue, who think 'the Sovereign Captain will not intervene. '
13 Their assets will be seized, and their homes ruined. They won't prosper in their homes or taste wine from their vineyards.

§ 23390 THE GREAT DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

14 The Sovereign Captain's day is swiftly approaching. The sound on that day is harsh; the mighty warrior cries out.
15 It's a day of reckoning, full of challenges and despair, where chaos reigns and clarity is completely obscured—a day of heavy uncertainty and overwhelming trouble.
16 A period of alarm blasts and war shouts against secure metropolises and defense perimeters.
17 I will impose such turmoil that humanity will wander like the blind due to their transgressions against the Sovereign Captain. Their lifeblood will scatter like debris, their insides like refuse.
18 Neither silver nor gold will protect them on the Preeminent Sovereign's day of fury. His jealousy ignites like fire, engulfing the planet and abruptly ending all inhabitants."

§ 23400 JUDAH SUMMONED TO TURN AWAY FROM UNWORTHY CHOICES

2 “Come together, unite your nation devoid of shame,
2 before the decree is enacted and the day swiftly passes like chaff in the wind. You face the intense fury of the Sovereign Captain before His anger confronts you.
3 Implore the Eternal Reality, all the unassuming of the Earth who adhere to His decrees. Pursue ultimate authenticity and strive for modesty; it could be that you will be concealed during the day of the Sovereign Captain’s anger.”

§ 23410 AGAINST PHILISTIA

4 “Gaza will be forsaken, Ashkelon will become desolate, Ashdod’s inhabitants will be driven out at noon, and Ekron will be overthrown.
5 How terrible it will be for you who reside near the sea, you nation of the Cherethites; the proclamation of the Sovereign Captain is against you, Canaan, the realm of the Philistine Warriors. He declares, ‘I will annihilate you, leaving no survivors. ’
6 The coastal area will transform into agricultural production centers with watering holes for herders and enclosures for sheep.
7 The surviving individuals from Judah will acquire that territory; they will graze their flocks there. At dusk, they will retire in the dwellings of Ashkelon. Their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, will look after them; He will recover their prosperity.”

§ 23420 CONCERNING MOAB AND AMMON

8 “I am aware of the scorn from Moab and the mockery from the Ammonites who have defamed my people and threatened their territory.
9 Truly, as I exist,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, the Eternal Reality of Israel, “Moab and the Ammonites will indeed be transformed into a mirror image of Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, —a territory dominated by thorny plants and saline pits, and eternal desolation. Those who endure among my people will seize their belongings. Those who survive in my nation will take possession of their territory.
10 They will receive this compensation for their arrogance because they taunted and ridiculed the pathseekers of Almighty Sovereign Captain.

11 The Sovereign Captain will inspire terror in them as He eradicates all the Earth’s idolized deities. Remote nations will prostrate to Him, each from their territories.”

§ 23430 AGAINST CUSH

12 “The tactical blade will also claim your lives from Cush, Assyria.

§ 23440 AGAINST ASSYRIA

13 He will extend His influence towards the North, annihilating Assyria and making Nineveh completely deserted and dried like a wilderness.
14 Herds and packs will settle there, with beasts of all types. The owl and the screech owl will make their homes on Nineveh's pillars. Their calls will resonate from the windows, debris will be strewn in the entrances, and the cedar beams will lie bare.
15 This carefree metropolis, content to live in security and think to herself, 'I am it because there is nothing besides me, ' has turned into a ruin and a haven for animals. Everybody who walks by Nineveh gives her a hiss and a fist shake."

§ 23450 THE FUTURE OF YERUSHALAYIM

3 "Disaster is coming to the city of rebels, now defiled and oppressive!
2 She disregards all instructions and rejects any rectification. She lacks trust in the Sovereign Captain and does not seek closeness with her Preeminent Sovereign.
3 The authorities within her are like bellowing lions; her leaders resemble dusk wolves, leaving no remnants for the dawn.
4 Her seers are bereft of morals; they are deceitful individuals. Her priests defile the Exalted Space and commit aggression against the path.
5 Within her, the Sovereign Captain is upright; He commits no injustices. He administers His fairness every sunrise and always persists with each dawn. Nonetheless, those who act unjustly exhibit no embarrassment."
6 "I have annihilated countries; their fortresses are in ruins. I have turned their thoroughfares into desolate areas with no one traversing. Their metropolises have been devastated; they are abandoned and unoccupied.

7-8 Yerushalayim would express reverence and embrace My path. Under such circumstances, her fortress would not be demolished, nor would she face all of my planned punishments. However, they persisted in enthusiastically engaging in all forms of misconduct." "Be patient," says the Sovereign Captain, "for the day I rise to testify is coming. I have resolved to convene the nations, accumulate the nations, and unleash my anger on them—all of my intense rage. The inferno of my jealous fury will consume the entirety of the Earth."

§ 23460 RESTORATION OF ISRAEL'S CHOSEN PEOPLE

9 I will purify the speech of all nations, enabling them to invoke the Sovereign Captain's name and serve him in unity.
10 My loyal pathseekers, scattered beyond the rivers of Cush, will return to present their tributes.
11 On that day, Yerushalayim, you won't feel shame for past rebellious acts because I'll remove pride and boastfulness. No arrogance will remain on my exalted hill.
12 You will be lowly and gentle, trusting the Sovereign Captain's Name.
13 They will commit no injustices or falsehoods, speak no deceitful language, and rest without fear.

14 O daughter of the hub of David, sing joyfully; exclaim, Israel! Be merry and delight, Daughter Yerushalayim!
15 The Sovereign Captain has canceled your judgments and repelled your adversaries. The Sovereign Captain, the Prime Ruler of Israel, is among you; you will never fear misfortune again.
16 On that day, Yerushalayim will be reassured, “Don’t be afraid, the hub of David; don’t let your hands fall weakly.
17 The Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, resides among you. He is a formidable warrior destined to bring redemption. His delight in you is immense; His love will no longer reprimand you. Instead, He will rejoice over you in harmonious celebration.

18 I will eliminate the anguish of those lamenting the inability to observe customary festivals, which has caused dishonor and burden.
19 I will address all who tormented you. I will aid the weak and assemble the banished, granting them acclaim and respect in every territory where they were disgraced.
20 I shall gather you and return you home when the time comes, granting you respect and admiration from all nations when I restore your prosperity,” declares the Sovereign Captain.

~ 137 | My Holidays | Haggai

§ 23470 A CALL TO BUILD THE FORTRESS OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

1 On the first day of the sixth month in the second year of Darius' reign, Haggai, the eternally wise servant, delivered the Preeminent Sovereign's message to Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel and ruler of Judah, and Joshua, son of Jozadak and the prime ensovereigned mediator.
2 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: These people say, "The time to rebuild the Sovereign Captain's fortress has not yet come."
3 The Preeminent Sovereign's message came through Haggai:
4 Is it time for you to live in your luxurious homes while this fortress lies in ruins?
5 This is the command of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces:
Consider your ways.
6 You have sown much but harvested little. You eat but are not satisfied. You drink but remain thirsty. You clothe yourselves but are not warm. Your wages disappear as if placed in a bag with holes.
7 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, says: "Consider your ways."

8 "Go up to the mountains, bring wood, and build My fortress so I may enjoy it and be honored," says the Sovereign Captain.
9 "You expected much, but it turned out to be little. What you brought home, I blew away. Why?
Because My fortress remains in ruins while you are busy with your own house.
10 Because of you, the celestial realms have withheld their dew and the Earth's crops.
11 I have called for a drought on the fields and hills, on the grain, new wine, olive oil, and everything else the ground produces, on people and livestock, and all the labor of your hands."
12 Zerubbabel, Shealtiel's son, and Joshua, Jozadak's son, the prime ensovereigned mediator, along with all the chosen people of the people, obeyed the voice of the Sovereign Captain, their Preeminent Sovereign, and the words of Haggai, the eternally wise servant, because the Sovereign Captain had sent him. The people feared the Sovereign Captain.
13 Haggai, the emissary of the Preeminent Sovereign, delivered this message to the people: "I am with you," declares the Sovereign Captain.
14 So the Sovereign Captain stirred up the motivation of Zerubbabel, Shealtiel's son and ruler of Judah, and the energy of Joshua, Jozadak's son and prime ensovereigned mediator, and the energies of all the chosen people of the people. They began work on the fortress of their Preeminent Sovereign, the Almighty Sovereign Captain.
15 The work began on the 24th day of the sixth month in the second year of Darius' s reign as Prime Ruler.

§ 23480 THE PROMISED MAJESTY OF THE NEW HOUSE

2 On the twenty-first day of Tishrei, Haggai, the eternally wise servant, delivered a message from the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 "Tell Zerubbabel, Shealtiel's offspring, leader of Judah, Joshua, Jozadak's descendant, the prime ensovereigned mediator, and the remaining populace:

3 'Does anyone remember this fortress in its original splendor? How does it appear now? Does it seem insignificant to you?

4 "Now muster your courage, Zerubbabel," proclaims the Sovereign Captain. "Show your strength, Joshua, the male heir of Jozadak, the prime ensovereigned mediator; demonstrate your resolve, all land inhabitants," announces the Sovereign Captain, "and undertake the task.
Because I am by your side," asserts the Almighty Sovereign Captain.

5 "As per my promise when you departed Egypt, my Eternal Spark dwells within you. There's no need to be scared.

6 "The Sovereign Captain of all declares: 'Soon, I'll agitate the celestial realms and the Earth, the ocean, and the barren land once again. '

7 "All nations will rattle, and every country will draw its desired treasures here. This fortress will be filled with my splendor," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.

8 "The silver and gold are under my possession," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

9 "The magnificence of this current fortress will surpass that of the previous one," proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. "Furthermore, I will grant tranquility and prosperity in this location," affirms the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 23490 BLESSINGS FOR A DEFILED PEOPLE

10 During Darius' reign, on the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month in his second year, the Sovereign Captain delivered the Preeminent Sovereign's message to Haggai, the eternally wise servant.
11 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, instructed: "Ask the priests about the legal implications."
12 "If someone carries set-apart meat in their garment and touches bread, stew, wine, olive oil, or any other food, does it become commissioned?" The priests answered no.
13 Haggai then asked, "If someone defiled by touching a corpse touches any of these items, do they become unsanitary?" The priests affirmed they would be impure.
14 Haggai declared, "This is the state of this people and this nation," proclaims the Sovereign Captain: "All their actions and offerings are tainted."

15 Reflect from this day forward, considering the time before a single stone was placed on another in the exalted fortress of the Sovereign Captain.
16 When someone approached a grain pile expecting twenty measures, it amounted to ten.
Similarly, they found only twenty when extracting fifty measures from the wine vat.
17 “Despite afflicting all your work with diseases, mildew, and hail, you didn’t return to me,” proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
18 From this day on, starting from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, reflect on when the foundation of the Sovereign Captain’s fortress was laid. Contemplate this.
19 Are there still seeds in the storehouse? Until now, the olive tree, pomegranate, fig tree, and grapevine have not yielded fruit. But from this day on, I will grant empowerment to you.

§ 23500 ZERUBBABEL THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S SIGNET RING

20 On the twenty-fourth day of the month, the Preeminent Sovereign’s message came to Haggai again.

21 Tell Zerubbabel, ruler of Judah, that I intend to disrupt the celestial realms and Earth.
22 I will destabilize governance seats and decimate outsider nations’ might. Strike vehicles and their operators, tactical personnel transports, and assault forces will fall by their own weapons.
23 On that day, declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “I will choose you, Zerubbabel, child of Shealtiel, my servant, and set you as my representative symbol, like a signet ring, for I have singled you out.”

~ 138 | My Remembrance | Zechariah

§ 23510 A CALL TO RETURN TO THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

1 In the eighth lunar cycle of Prime Ruler Darius' second year, the Preeminent Sovereign's message from the Sovereign Captain was disclosed to Zechariah, the eternally wise servant, son of Berekiah, and grandson of Iddo.
2 "Your forefathers greatly incurred the Sovereign Captain's wrath.
3 So, tell the people: The Sovereign Captain of the Celestial Armies says, 'Return to me, ' proclaims the Sovereign Captain of the Celestial Armies, 'and I will return to you, ' states the Sovereign Captain of the Celestial Armies.
4 Earlier seers warned, "Do not follow the path of your forefathers." The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, issues directives: 'Abandon your impure lifestyles and deeds." But they ignored me," affirms the Sovereign Captain.
5 "What happened to your forefathers? Can the visionaries exist eternally?"
6 "Didn't my warnings and directives reach your ancestors? They then changed their inner-selves and realized, 'The Preeminent Sovereign Captain has treated us as our actions and habits deserved, precisely as he had planned. '"

§ 23520 THE MAN AMONG THE MYRTLE TREES

7 On the twenty-fourth day of Shebat, in Darius' second year, Zechariah, son of Berekiah and grandson of Iddo, received a message from the Sovereign Captain.
8 In a vision, a man rides a flaming horse among myrtle trees in a hollow, accompanied by horses in shades of russet, chestnut, and white.
9 I asked, "What are these, my sir?" The Celestial Envoy replied, "I will show you what they mean."
10 The man among the myrtle trees explained that the Sovereign Captain sent these entities to patrol the Earth.
11 They reported to the Celestial Envoy that the world was at peace.
12 The Celestial Envoy then asked, "Sovereign Captain of all, how long will you withhold compassion from Yerushalayim and Judah, who have faced your wrath for seventy years?"
13 The Sovereign Captain responded to the Celestial Envoy with gentle and reassuring words.
14 the Celestial Envoy announced: The Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies declares: "My passion for Yerushalayim and the hub of David is intense."
15 "I am very angry with the complacent nations. Though my anger was minor, they went too far in their punishment."
16 The Sovereign Captain proclaims: "I will return to Yerushalayim with compassion, and my house will be rebuilt. A surveyor's line will be stretched over Yerushalayim," affirms the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
17 Announce again: The Almighty Sovereign Captain declares: "My cities will once more overflow with prosperity, and the Sovereign Captain will comfort the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign and choose Yerushalayim again."

§ 23530 FOUR HORNS AND FOUR CRAFTSMEN

18 I raised my eyes and saw four authorities.
19 I asked the Celestial Envoy what they signified. He explained they represented the forces that scattered Judah, Israel, and Yerushalayim.
20 Then, the Sovereign Captain disclosed four artisans.
21 I asked their purpose. He said these powers scattered Judah so no one could stand tall. Still, these artisans were here to strike fear into them and demolish the strongholds of nations that used their might against Judah's territory.

§ 23540 A MAN WITH A MEASURING LINE

2 I noticed a man with a yardstick.
2 I asked, "Where are you going?" He replied, "To measure Yerushalayim's dimensions."
3 Another Celestial Envoy approached as the one speaking to me was leaving.
4 He was instructed: "Run, tell the young man, 'Yerushalayim will be an unwalled village due to its vast population and livestock. '"
5 The Sovereign Captain affirms He will be a protective flame barrier around it, and His magnificence will resound within.

6 "Rise! Escape from the North," announces the Sovereign Captain, "as I have dispersed you into the four directions of the sky," proclaims the Sovereign Captain.
7 "Arise, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign! Flee, inhabitants of Babylon's offspring!"
8 This decree is of the Eternal Reality: "After sending me against the countries that stripped you bare—anyone who harms you harms the core of His eye.
9 I will wave my fist over them, resulting in their servants looting them. This action will clarify that the Sovereign Captain of all the Celestial Armies has dispatched me."

10 "Rejoice and be delighted, Daughter, the hub of David. I am on my way and will reside within you," announces the Sovereign Captain.
11 Many countries will unite with the Sovereign Captain and become his people. He will reside in your midst, and you will know that the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, has sent me to you.
12 The Sovereign Captain will claim Judah as His share in the set-apart territory and select Yerushalayim again.
13 Maintain silence in the presence of the Sovereign Captain, every living being, as he emerges from his set-apart abode.

§ 23550 CLEAN GARMENTS FOR THE SUPREME MEDIATOR

3 I saw Joshua, the prime ensovereigned mediator, standing before the Sovereign Captain's Celestial Envoy, with the Adversary ready to accuse him.
2 The Sovereign Captain rebuked the Adversary, saying, "May the Sovereign Captain, who chose Yerushalayim, admonish you! Isn't this man like a flaming log rescued from the fire?"

3 Joshua, in filthy clothes, stood before the Celestial Envoy.
4 The Celestial Envoy ordered those nearby to remove his dirty garments. He then told Joshua, “Your wrongdoing is removed, and I will clothe you in rich attire.”
5 I suggested placing a clean wreath on his head. They did so and dressed him while the Celestial Envoy watched.
6 The Sovereign Captain’s emissary solemnly instructed Joshua.
7 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaimed: “If you follow my directives and keep my statutes, you will govern my fortress, oversee my courts, and have the privilege to mingle among those here.”
8 "‘Listen, Leader Joshua, you and your team who represent future possibilities: I am sending my servant, the Foundation Link, who will connect everything together.’"

9 Observe the stone I laid before Joshua! This stone has seven facets, and I will inscribe on it,” declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “in one day, I will eradicate this land’s impurity.”
10 “On that day,” says the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “you will invite your neighbor to enjoy peace and tranquility under your grapevine and fig tree.”

§ 23560 THE GOLD LIGHT FIXTURE AND THE TWO OLIVE TREES

4 The Celestial Envoy returned and roused me as if waking someone from slumber.
2 He asked, “What do you observe?” I responded, “I see a gold light fixture with a bowl on top, seven lamps, and individual conduits leading to each.”
3 Two olive trees stand beside it, one on the right and one on the left.
4-5 I asked, “What do these signify, my sir?” He responded, “Don’t you know?” “No sir,” I acknowledged.
6 Then the Sovereign Captain declared to Zerubbabel, “Not by might or power, but by the energy of my Eternal Spark!”
7 “Mighty mountain, you will become flat before Zerubbabel. He will present the preeminent stone amid cheers: ‘May the Preeminent Sovereign’s empowerments be upon it!’”
8 The message from the Sovereign Captain reached me.
9 “Zerubbabel’s hands started this fortress, and he will complete it. Then you will know that the celestial realm’s army’s Sovereign Captain has sent me to you.”
10 “Who dares belittle humble beginnings when the seven vigilant eyes of the Sovereign Captain scan the globe and delight in seeing the pivotal stone in Zerubbabel’s possession?”
11 I asked, “What do the two olive trees on the right and left of the light fixture represent?”

12 I asked again, “What do the two branches next to the dual gold conduits that discharge golden oil signify?”
13 He responded, “Don’t you know?” “No, sir,” I replied.
14 He declared these are “the two individuals chosen and purified to attend to the overseer of the entire globe.”

§ 23570 THE FLYING SCROLL

5 I looked up and saw a flying scroll.
2 The Celestial Envoy asked, “What do you see?” I answered, “A floating manuscript, 5.334 meters wide and 10.5 meters long.”
3 He explained that this is the punishment spreading across the land; on one side, it declares that every thief will be expelled, and on the other, every liar under oath will be evicted.
4 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims, “I will send the curse, and it will enter the house of both the thief and the false swearer. It will remain there until the house is destroyed, including its woodwork and stones.”

§ 23580 THE FEMALE HUMAN IN A BASKET

5 The Celestial Envoy instructed, “Elevate your gaze and see what is coming.”
6 I asked, “What is this?” He replied, “It’s a measuring bucket, representing the unworthy choices of the inhabitants.”
7 The lead lid was lifted, revealing a woman inside!
8 He declared it an evil act and secured her back in the basket with the lead lid.
9 I then saw two females with stork-like wings lifting the basket between the sky and the ground.

10 “Where is it going?” I asked.
11 He answered, “A residence is being built in Babylonia. Once complete, the basket will reside there.”

§ 23590 FOUR OBLIVION WRATH STARSHIPS

6 I looked up and saw four starships emerging from between two airborne bronze pyramids (motherships).
2 Crimson Horse piloted the first, and Ebony Horse piloted the second.
3 White Horse piloted the third, and Spotted Horse piloted the fourth, both demonstrating great strength.
4 “What do these represent, sir?” I asked the Celestial Envoy conversing with me.
5 He explained, “These are the four winds of the sky, departing after presenting themselves before the Sovereign Captain of the entire Earth.”
6 “Crimson Horse pilots the Starship heading North; White Horse pilots the one heading West, and Spotted Horse pilots the one moving South.”
7 All the starships were eager to traverse the globe. The Celestial Envoy commanded, “Scout the globe!” They then explored the entire world.
8 He summoned me, indicating, “Those heading to the northern lands have provided rest to my Eternal Reality in the North.”

§ 23600 A GOLDEN HEADBAND FOR JOSHUA

9 The Sovereign Captain’s message was disclosed to me.

10 “Collect silver and gold from the exiles, specifically Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah, who have recently journeyed from Babylon. Proceed to Josiah, the male heir of Zephaniah’s residence, on the same day.
11 Use the gold and silver to construct a wreath and position it on the head of Jozadak’s male heir, Joshua, the prime ensovereigned mediator.

12 "Say this is what the Almighty Sovereign Captain declares: ‘Here is the one named the Foundation Link, who will expand from his base and establish the core of the Eternal Reality’s network.'"
13 Indeed, the construction of the Sovereign Captain’s fortress will be his responsibility, and he will be adorned with grandeur, overseeing and governing from his authority base. He will also serve as an ensovereigned mediator while seated on his command control. There will be a peaceful understanding between the two roles.
14 The coronet will be given to Heldai, Tobijah, Jedaiah, and Hen, the male heir of Zephaniah, as a commemorative token in the fortress of the Sovereign Captain.
15 Individuals from distant lands will arrive to assist in constructing the Sovereign Captain’s fortress, and it will become apparent that the Almighty Sovereign Captain dispatched me to you.
This arrival will transpire if you meticulously heed the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality.’"

§ 23610 JUSTICE AND MERCY, NOT FASTING

7 During Prime Ruler Darius’ fourth year, Zechariah received a message from the Preeminent Sovereign on the fourth day of Kislev, the ninth month.
2 The residents of Bethel sent Sharezer and Regem-Melek with their pathseekers to seek the Sovereign Captain’s favor.
3 They asked the prophets and priests of the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “In the fifth month, should I keep fasting and grieving as I have for a long time?”
4 Then, the Sovereign Captain’s message came to me.
5 “Ask all the people and priests, ‘During your fasting and grieving in the fifth and seventh months over the past seventy years, was it truly for me?
6 Wasn’t your eating and drinking for your own pleasure?
7 Isn’t this the same message the Sovereign Captain gave through earlier eternally wise servants when Yerushalayim and its cities were peaceful and thriving, and people lived in the Negev and western mountain slopes?’"

8 Again, the Sovereign Captain’s message came to Zechariah.
9 “The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, directs: dispense honest and unbiased judgments; show kindness and empathy to each other.
10 Do not mistreat the widow, fatherless, stranger, or oppressed. Refrain from plotting evil against one another.”
11 They refused to listen, stubbornly turning away and blocking their ears.
12 They hardened their inner-selves like diamonds, ignoring the instructions and messages the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, sent through his Eternal Spark via former eternally wise servants. So, the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, was very angry.
13 “They ignored me when I reached out, so I ignored them when they reached out,” declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

14 “I scattered them with a whirlwind among all nations where they were strangers. The land they left became so desolate that no one traveled through it. This avoidance was how they turned the delightful land into ruins.”

§ 23620 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN PROMISES TO BLESS YERUSHALAYIM

8 A message from the Sovereign Captain about celestial forces was delivered to me.
2 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, communicates this: “I care passionately about the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, and I’m consumed with passion for her.”
3 The Sovereign Captain declares: “I shall return to the hub of David and reside within Yerushalayim. Subsequently, Yerushalayim will earn the title of the Loyal City and the Sovereign Captain’s mountain will be known as the exalted mountain.”

4 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims: “Older men and women will once again inhabit the streets of Yerushalayim, each leaning on staff due to their advanced years.”
5 “The city’s public squares will be bustling with children at play.”
6 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, declares: “Although this might appear incredible to the surviving few in that period, would it appear the same to me?” proclaims the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
7 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, asserts: “I am about to rescue my people from the lands of the East and the West.”
8 “I will usher them back to reside in Yerushalayim; they shall be recognized as my people. I will be their Preeminent Sovereign, steadfast in loyalty and abiding by justice.”
9 The message from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, is clear: “Heed these words, ‘Strengthen your resolve so the fortress can be constructed. ’ This living word aligns with the eternally wise servants’ proclamation when the groundwork was established for the Sovereign Captain of Celestial Host’s fortress.”
10 “Before that period, there weren’t any earnings for individuals or compensation for creatures. Nobody could conduct their affairs securely due to their foes, as I had incited each person against their fellow citizen.”
11 “I will no longer treat the survivors of this nation as I previously did,” says the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
12 “The seeds will thrive, grapes will emerge from the vine, the Earth will contribute its yield, and the celestial realms will grant their condensation. I will assign the surviving populace all these amenities as an estate.”
13 “As you, the house of Judah and the house of Israel once stood as symbols of misfortune among the nations. I will rescue you and transform you into symbols of prosperity. Fear not; instead, strengthen your resolve.”
14 The Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces proclaims: “In the same way I was resolved to wreak havoc on you when your forefathers provoked my wrath and showed no mercy,” declares the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

15 “I’ve decided to show favor to Yerushalayim and Judah afresh. Fear not.”
16 “Here are the actions you must carry out: Always be authentic to one another and make genuine and wise decisions in your judicial assemblies.”

17 “Do not devise harm against one another, and refrain from making false promises. The Sovereign Captain detests all these things.”
18 I received this message from the Almighty Sovereign Captain.
19 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims: “The periods of fast observed in the tenth, seventh, fourth, and fifth months will transform into instances of delight, gladness, and festive celebrations for Judah. So, embrace ultimate authenticity and harmony.”
20 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, proclaims: “In the future, people from various nations and residents from multiple cities will arrive.”
21 “The residents of one city will approach those of another, proposing, ‘Let’s promptly go to implore the favor of the Sovereign Captain and petition the Almighty Sovereign Captain. I will be joining as well. ’”
22 “Numerous individuals and influential nations will gather in Yerushalayim to search for the Sovereign Captain of Eternal Reality armies and plead His favor.”
23 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, communicates the following: “During that era, a group of ten individuals, each hailing from different nations and speaking other languages, will clutch the edge of the garment of a Judean person, exclaiming, ‘We wish to accompany you on your journey, as we have come to understand that the Preeminent Sovereign is in your company. ’”

§ 23630 JUDGMENT ON ISRAEL’S ENEMIES

9 A disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign: The Sovereign Captain’s decree targets Hadrak and will descend on Damascus, as all eyes, including Israel’s peoples, are fixed on the Sovereign Captain.
2 Hamath, Tyre, and Sidon, despite their ingenuity,

3 Tyre has built a fortress, amassing silver like dust and gold like dirt.
4 Yet, the Sovereign Captain will seize her assets, destroy her naval power, and engulf her in flames.
5 Ashkelon will tremble; Gaza will suffer, and Ekron will lose hope. Gaza’s sovereignty will vanish, and Ashkelon will be deserted.
6 A mixed race will inhabit Ashdod, and I will end the Philistine Warriors’ arrogance.
7 Blood will be removed from their mouths and forbidden sustenance from their teeth. Survivors will join our Preeminent Sovereign’s community, like a family in Judah, and Ekron will be like the Jebusites.
8 I will guard my fortress against destructive armies. I am now vigilantly observing to ensure that tyrants no longer subjugate my people.

§ 23640 THE COMING OF DAVID CITY’S PRIME RULER

9 Rejoice greatly, O offspring of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign! Raise your voices, O progeny of Yerushalayim! Pay heed: your Prime Ruler arrives upright and triumphant, humble, astride a donkey, specifically a colt, the offspring of a donkey.

10 Main battle strike vehicles from Ephraim and warhorses from Yerushalayim will be eliminated, and war weaponry will be shattered. He will broadcast tranquility to the nations. His authority will stretch from one ocean to the next and from the River to the Earth's furthest reaches.
11 Due to our blood-sealed pact, I will liberate your captives from the dry cistern.
12 You captives who now have hope return to the place of safety; I declare right away that I will give back to you twofold.
13 I will shape Judah as my projectile launcher, and Ephraim will be filled within it. I will instigate your children, the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, against your children, Greece, and transform you into a tactical blade of a combatant.

§ 23650 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN WILL APPEAR

14 The Sovereign Captain will be seen above them; His dart will light up like lightning. The Sovereign Captain, Preeminent Sovereign, will blow His trumpet and advance amidst the southern windstorms.
15 The Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, will protect them. With sling stones, they will dominate and demolish. Just like someone drunk with wine, they will bellow and imbibe; they will be filled to the brim as a basin used for ensovereigning the edges of the pedestal table.
16 On that specified day, the Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain, will rescue His people, much like a guardian safeguards his throng. They will shimmer across His territory, just like gemstones adorning a wreath.
17 They will be incredibly pleasing and lovely! The young men will flourish with grain nourishment, while the young women will thrive on the freshness of new wine.

§ 23660 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN WILL CARE FOR JUDAH

10 Implore the Sovereign Captain for rain during the spring season; He brings forth storm clouds and provides rain showers, delivering vegetation to all fields.
2 False promises and misleading advice abound; they comfort people with empty words. As a result, the people feel lost and vulnerable, like commuters without guidance in a chaotic city.
3 My outrage is ignited against the lifesavers. I will punish the leaders, for the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, attends to His protected people, the community of Judah, transforming them into a high performance military transport in warfare.
4 The cornerstone will originate from Judah, the tent peg, the fighting projectile launcher, and every leader.
5 They will unite as combatants in the conflict, crushing their adversaries into the sludge of the avenues. The presence of the Sovereign Captain will drive them to wage war. They will cause the foe's assault forces to experience humiliation.

6 I will empower Judah and rescue the lineages of Joseph. I will bring them back because I feel deep sympathy for them. It will be as if I had never cast them away, for I am their Eternal Reality, the Sovereign Captain. I will heed the meldings of their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.

7 Ephraim will transform into mighty combatants, and their inner-selves will fill with delight as if they've consumed wine. Their offspring will witness this and express delight; their inner-selves will revel in triumph to the Sovereign Captain.
8 I will whistle for them and assemble them, for I have reclaimed them; their population will be as extensive as it was in the past.
9 Even if I distribute them among the nations, they will still recall me in far-off places. They and their offspring will persist and eventually return.
10 I will restore them from Egypt and aggregate them from Assyria. I will relocate them to Gilead and Lebanon until there is no more space to accommodate them.
11 They will navigate through a sea of difficulties; the tumultuous sea will be calmed, and the deepest parts of the Nile will be devoid of water. The arrogance of Assyria will be lessened, and Egypt's rule will cease to exist.
12 The Sovereign Captain declares that He will fortify them, and they will dwell securely under His name.

11 Unseal your entryways, Lebanon, to let fire obliterate your cedar trees!
2 The cypress tree mourns for the fallen cedar; magnificent trees have been devastated!
Bemoan oaks from Bashan; the thick woodland has been felled!
3 Hear the cries of the lifesavers as their affluent agricultural production centers are laid waste!
Pay heed to the roaring of lions; the dense vegetation along the Jordan has been devastated!

§ 23670 TWO SHEEP KEEPERS

4 My Preeminent Sovereign Captain commanded: "Tend to the sheep destined for slaughter."

5 Those who buy them kill without consequence. Sellers boast, "Fortunate be the Sovereign Captain, for I have become wealthy!" Caregivers show no mercy.
6 The Sovereign Captain declares: "I will no longer show compassion for Earth's inhabitants. Each person will fall into the control of their neighbor and their Prime Ruler, leading to the land's destruction, and the Sovereign Captain will not save anyone from their grip."

7 I took care of the sheep destined for slaughter, especially the oppressed members of the flock. I acquired two staffs, naming one Pleasure and the other Unity, and guided the flock.
8 I dismissed three sheep keepers within a month.
9 I proclaimed, "I refuse to care for you. Let those destined to die perish and those on the verge of destruction meet their end. Let the remaining ones feast on each other's flesh."

10 I then snapped my rod, known as Favor, in half, nullifying the pact I had with all populations.
11 The agreement was rejected that day. The afflicted among the sheep observing me understood this was a message from the Sovereign Captain.
12 I told them to hand over my earnings if they deemed fitting; otherwise, I would withhold them. They compensated me with thirty silver coins.
13 The Eternal Reality instructed me to dispose of it to the pottery maker—the noble sum they valued me at! I threw thirty silver coins to the potter in the Sovereign Captain's fortress.

14 I then severed my other staff, known as Union, shattering the familial ties between Judah and Israel.
15 The Sovereign Captain instructed me to adopt the tools of a senseless sheep keeper.

16 Indeed, I am about to appoint a sheep keeper who will not attend to the lost, search for the young, mend the injured, or nourish the healthy; instead, he will consume the flesh of the choicest sheep, even tearing away their hooves.
17 How terrible it will be for that useless sheep keeper who abandons the flock. A tactical blade may affect his arm and his right eye. May his arm lose all strength, and his right eye completely darken.

§ 23680 YERUSHALAYIM'S ENEMIES TO BE DESTROYED

12 A vision: The proclamation from the Sovereign Captain about Israel: the Sovereign Captain, who unfurls the celestial realms, establishes the bedrock of the Earth, and crafts the human inner-self within an individual, proclaims: I have decided to turn Yerushalayim into a bowl of intoxicating drink that will stagger all the neighboring nations. Both Judah and Yerushalayim will be under attack.
3 On that day, when all countries unite against it, I will transform Yerushalayim into a weighty boulder for all nations. Any who attempt to relocate it will inflict harm on themselves.
4 On that eventful day, I will instill fear in every horse and drive its rider into insanity, proclaims the Sovereign Captain. I will maintain vigilant oversight over Judah while rendering all the tactical personnel transports of the foreign nations disabled.
5 Every people of Judah will acknowledge within their inner-selves, "The strength of the Yerushalayim dwellers emanates from the Almighty Sovereign Captain, their Preeminent Sovereign."
6 On that day, I will transform the leaders of Judah into a raging fire among timber and a blazing torch amidst the grain. They will engulf the neighboring nations on either side, yet Yerushalayim will continue to stand undisturbed in its original location.
7 The Sovereign Captain will first deliver the homes of Judah, ensuring that the respect given to David's family and the residents of Yerushalayim does not surpass that of Judah.
8 On the designated day, the Sovereign Captain will safeguard the inhabitants of Yerushalayim. So, the most fragile among them will mirror David in strength. David's family will emulate the Preeminent Sovereign, just like the guiding Celestial Envoy of the Sovereign Captain.

9 I am determined to eradicate every nation launching an assault on Yerushalayim when that time comes.

§ 23690 MOURNING FOR THE ONE THEY PIERCED

10 I will grant David's family and Yerushalayim's residents an atmosphere of cooperation, mercy, and earnest pleas. They will gaze on me, the one they have injured, lament for him as one laments for a unique child, and express deep sorrow for him as one speaks for a first-born male heir.
11 The grieving in Yerushalayim on that day will be as profound as the lamentation of Hadad-Rimmon in the Megiddo Valley.
12 The region will grieve each family individually, husbands separate from their wives: the family line of the house of David and their wives, the family line of the house of Nathan and their wives, 13 The family of Levi's house, including their wives, and Shimei's home, including their wives.

14 The remaining families, each separately, and their women.

§ 23700 CLEANSING FROM UNWORTHY CHOICES

13 On that day, a flow of renewing energy will be made available to the community, purging the people of guilt and restoring their integrity.

2 The Almighty Sovereign Captain pledges, during that time, to eradicate the names of the counterfeit idolized deities from the terrain, causing them to be no longer recollected. Moreover, the unhealthy demonstrated that the prophets would be expelled from the land.
3 Should anyone persist in prophecy, the very parents who gave them birth will tell them, “Your life is forfeit, for you have spoken deceptions under the Sovereign Captain’s Name.” When they prophesy, their parents will deliver the fatal blow.

4 Then, every seer will feel disgraced regarding their ‘prophetic inspiration. ’ They won’t dress in prophetic, rough-hewn attire to mislead others.
5 Each one will declare, “I am not a prophet; I am a cultivator of the soil; tilling the Earth has been my means of survival from my youth.”
6 When questioned, “What are these injuries on your physique?” they will respond, “These are the marks I sustained in my friend’s residence.”

§ 23710 THE FIRST RESPONDER STRUCK, THE PEOPLE SCATTERED

7 “Rise up, forces of accountability, against the leader I have chosen, the one close to my purpose!" declares the Eternal Reality.”
8 The Sovereign Captain announces that two parts will perish in the entire region while only one will persist.
9 “This remnant I will expose to a purifying process, like metals tested in a forge. They will reach out to Me, and I will respond, affirming, 'These are My people,' and they will declare, 'The Eternal Reality is our guide!' ”

§ 23720 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN COMES AND REIGNS

14 Yerushalayim, prepare for the Sovereign Captain’s judgment day when your possessions will be taken and distributed within your city.
2 I will gather all nations to besiege Yerushalayim; the city will fall, homes will be plundered, and women violated. Half of the city will be displaced, but the remaining populace will stay.
3 Then, the Sovereign Captain will fight those nations as He did in past conflicts.
4 He will stand on the Mount of Olives, East of Yerushalayim. A broad valley will be formed when the Mount of Olives splits in two, going from East to West. The mountain will shift in halves, moving northward and southward, respectively.

5 You will escape through the valley of My mountains, reaching Azal. You will flee as you did from the earthquake during Prime Ruler Uzziah of Judah's time. Then, the Sovereign Captain, My Preeminent Sovereign, will arrive with all His Celestial Envoys.
6 There will be no warmth of the sun or chill of frost.
7 A unique day is known only to the Sovereign Captain, with no distinction between day and night. Light will prevail at dusk.
8 On that day, streams of renewal will flow from the heart of the city, reaching the furthest communities, from dense urban cores to the distant suburbs, in every season and circumstance. Dead Sea and West to the Mediterranean Sea, continuing through summer and winter.
9 The Sovereign Captain will rule the world. The Sovereign Captain will be the only one adored, and His name the only one acknowledged.
10 The region from Geba to Rimmon, South of Yerushalayim, will become a plain like the Arabah. Yerushalayim will rise and remain at its original location, from the Benjamin Gate to the First Gate, from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate, and from the Prime Ruler's Winepresses.
11 The city will be inhabited; it will no longer face destruction. Yerushalayim will dwell safely.
12 This is the calamity with which the Sovereign Captain will punish all nations that fought against Yerushalayim: • "Their bodies will decay as they stand. • Their eyes will dissolve in their sockets. • Their tongues will disintegrate in their mouths."

13 On that day, the Sovereign Captain will throw individuals into great turmoil. They will clutch each other's hands and fight.
14 Even Judah will battle at Yerushalayim. The riches of all nearby nations will be amassed, including gold, silver, and apparel.

15 An equivalent disease will affect the encampments' donkeys, camels, mules, horses, and other animals.
16 The people left from all nations that fought against Yerushalayim will travel there yearly to express joyful adoration to the Prime Ruler, the Sovereign Captain, and the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces and participate in the Feast of Booths.
17 Any nation that fails to journey to Yerushalayim to honor the Prime Ruler, the Sovereign Captain, and the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces will be deprived of rainfall.
18 If Egypt's citizens refrain from participating and ascending, they will be deprived of rainfall.
The affliction that the Sovereign Captain dispenses on nations that abstain from commemorating the Feast of Booths will also be imposed on them.
19 Egypt and all other nations will face consequences if they fail to attend and celebrate the Feast of Tents.
20 Every horse's bell will bear "Pure to the Sovereign Captain," and cooking utensils in the fortress of the Sovereign Captain will be as exalted as offering bowls at the pedestal table.
21 Every container in Yerushalayim and Judah will be purified to the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. All who present absolving payments will use some pots to prepare their absolving payments. From that day forward, a Canaanite will no longer exist in the fortress of the Almighty Sovereign Captain.

~ 139 | My Messenger | Malachi

§ 23730 ISRAEL DOUBTS THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S LOVE

1 This disclosure is from the Preeminent Sovereign: Yahweh conveyed His message to Israel via Malachi.
2 The Sovereign Captain declares His affection for you, yet you question, "In what ways have you demonstrated your love for us?"

3 "I detested Esau, transforming his mountainous region into a lonely place and allocating his legacy to the jackals of the wilderness."
4 Edom might declare, "Despite our devastation, we will reconstruct the ruins." Yet, here's the decree from the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces: "They might construct, but I will tear down. They will be called the Land of Iniquity, a nation perpetually under the Sovereign Captain's fury."
5 You will witness it with your sight and proclaim, "The Sovereign Captain's greatness extends even beyond the confines of Israel!"

§ 23740 BREAKING PACT THROUGH BLEMISHED PENANCES

6 A child respects their parent, and a servant shows regard to his overseer. Assuming I'm your parent, why am I not given due respect? Where is the reverence I deserve if I am your overseer? says the Almighty Sovereign Captain. It is you, the priests, who belittle my name. Yet, you question, "In what way have we ?"

7 You have shown contempt by presenting polluted food on my pedestal table. Yet, you question, "In what way have we tarnished your reputation?" By implying that the Sovereign Captain's table is deserving of disdain.
8 Is it not considered evil when you present blind animals as an absolving payment? And is it not regarded as evil to give lame or diseased animals as an offering? Imagine presenting such to your governor! Would he find pleasure in you? Would he welcome you?" declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

9 But now beg for the favor of the Eternal Reality: "Is He going to be kind? Will He grant you favor because this is of your own doing?" queries The celestial forces' Sovereign Captain.
10 I wish someone among you would bar the fortress gates, preventing pointless ignition on my pedestal table! The Almighty Sovereign Captain expresses his displeasure with you, refusing to accept any contributions from your hands.

11 My reputation will be honored among the nations from sunrise to sunset. Sweet incense and pure absolving payments will be presented in my honor everywhere. My reputation will be esteemed among the nations, proclaims the Sovereign Captain of All.

12 However, you dishonor it when you claim that the Sovereign Captain's table may be contaminated, and its absolving payments are despicable.
13 You exclaim, "How tiresome!" and you scornfully sneer at it, says the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. When you present animals that have been harmed, disabled, or sick as absolving payments, do you expect me to accept them from your hands? says the Sovereign Captain.

14 Condemned is the swindler with a flawless male in his herd and pledges it, yet deceitfully offers a defective one to the Sovereign Captain. For I am a mighty Prime Ruler, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, and my name induces reverence among all nations.

§ 23750 ADDITIONAL WARNING TO THE PRIESTS

2 This directive is for you, priests.
2 If you refuse to heed and do not commit to acclaiming my name, says the Sovereign Captain of all, I will curse you and turn your empowerments into a curse. I have already done so because you have not committed to honor me.
3 Because of your actions, I will discipline your offspring; I will spread animal poop on your faces, refuse your festival-absolving payments, and you will be ushered away with it.
4 You'll realize I've sent this caution to preserve my agreement with Levi, declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
5 I made a pact with him that promised life and tranquility, and I gave these to him. He was expected to respect me, which he did, and he was filled with awe for my name.

6 He passed on ultimate authenticity without falsehood. He led a life of tranquility and integrity with me and guided many away from their unworthy choices.
7 An ensovereigned mediator's words should safeguard knowledge; as the envoy of the Almighty Sovereign Captain, individuals look to him for teachings.
8 You, however, have strayed from the path, and your instructions have led many to err; the agreement with Levi has been corrupted under your watch, declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
9 Consequently, I have made you rejected and disgraced in everyone's sight since you failed to keep My path and acted with bias in interpreting the Mosaic Law.

§ 23760 BREAKING PACT THROUGH DIVORCE

10 "Aren't we all children of the same patriarch? Wasn't it a single Eternal Reality that molded us? Why do we betray each other and tarnish the pact our forefathers made?"
11 Judah has shown disloyalty. A despicable act has occurred in Israel and Yerushalayim. Judah has defiled the Exalted Space the Sovereign Captain cherishes by wedding women who venerate a foreign deity.
12 The individual committing this act, irrespective of his identity, may the Sovereign Captain expel him from Jacob's dwellings, even if he presents a tribute to the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
13 You drench the Sovereign Captain's pedestal table with your tears, lamenting and groaning since he no longer regards your absolving payments with favor nor welcomes them gladly from your grasp.

14 You wonder why. It's due to the Sovereign Captain acting as a testimony between you and the spouse of your youth. You have acted treacherously against her, even though she's your companion, the woman of your solemn vow.
15 "Hasn't the singular Preeminent Sovereign created you? You are his, in both flesh and Eternal Spark. And what is this one Preeminent Sovereign pursuing? Is it a family that is devout? Therefore, be vigilant and refrain from betraying the spouse of your youth."

16 The individual who despises and ends his marriage proclaims the Sovereign Captain of Israel, commits an act of violence against the one he should guard, and asserts the Sovereign Captain almighty. Therefore, remain vigilant and avoid infidelity.

§ 23770 BREAKING PACT THROUGH INJUSTICE

17 Your words have worn out the Sovereign Captain, but how have we worn Him out, you ask? By uttering phrases like "Where is the Preeminent Sovereign of Justice?" By saying, "All who do evil are acceptable in the sight of the Sovereign Captain, and He delights in them."

3 The envoy I am sending will prepare the path. Then, the Sovereign Captain you seek will suddenly appear in his fortress; the deliverer of the compact you desire is coming, says the Sovereign Captain Supreme.
2-3 Who can withstand the arrival of true justice? Who can stand firm when the authenticity is revealed? For it will be like a laser beam cutting away impurities, like a deep cleanse that restores what was stained. The Eternal Reality will work with precision, refining Levi offspring's hearts like an artist restoring a priceless masterpiece.

4 The Sovereign Captain will delight in Judah and Yerushalayim's gifts, as in ancient times.
5 So, I will come for judgment. I will swiftly testify against dark arts practitioners, those disloyal in matrimony, false vow makers, those who withhold rightful wages, exploit widows and orphans, and deny immigrants justice—all who show no reverence towards me, declares the Sovereign Captain of all Creation.

§ 23780 BREAKING PACT BY WITHHOLDING TEN PERCENT ASSESSMENTS

6 I, the Sovereign Captain, remain unchanged, so you, the offspring of Jacob, have not been destroyed.
7 Like your ancestors, you have strayed from my directives. Return to me, and I will return to you, says the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces. Yet, you ask, "How should we return?"

8 Would a mere human dare to cheat the Preeminent Sovereign? But you are cheating Me. You ask, "How are we cheating you?" : By withholding ten percent contributions and gifts.
9 A curse has fallen upon you—the entire nation—because of your theft against me.
10 Bring the ten percent contribution into the treasury so My fortress may have sustenance. Test me in this, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, and see if I will not open the windows of the celestial realm and pour out blessings you cannot contain.

11 I, the Sovereign Captain, Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, swear that pests will not ruin your crops and that your rooftop gardens will not bear fruit before time.
12 All nations will call you fortunate as your land will be a delight, proclaims the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.

§ 23790 ISRAEL SPEAKS ARROGANTLY AGAINST THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

13 “You have used harsh words against me,” declares the Sovereign Captain. Yet you inquire, “What have we spoken about you?”
14 You have stated, “Serving the Preeminent Sovereign is pointless. What benefits do we reap by fulfilling His obligations and acting as mourners in the presence of the Sovereign Captain of Celestial Armies?
15 We now consider the boastful to be fortunate. Indeed, those who commit impurity thrive, and even when challenging the Preeminent Sovereign, they escape unscathed.”

§ 23800 THE LOYAL CHOSEN PEOPLE

16 Those who revered the Sovereign Captain conversed, and He listened attentively. A record was made in His presence, noting those who esteemed His name.

17 “The day I act,” declares the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, “they will be my treasured possession. I will spare them as a parent spares a devoted child.”

18 “You will again see the difference between the authentic and the wrong, between those devoted to the Preeminent Sovereign and those who are not.”

§ 23810 THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

4 “Surely the day of reckoning approaches; it will be as intense as a controlled demolition. All arrogance and wrongdoing will crumble under its force, swept away without leaving a trace. The Master Architect declares that nothing harmful will remain standing.”

2 “But for the ones who exalt My Name, the light of justice will arise with healing in its light. You will go forth and romp like properly nourished newborns.”

3 “You will trample the unworthy choices underfoot. They will be like dust beneath your feet when I bring justice,” proclaims the Eternal Reality.

4 “Remember the path and directives I gave to my servant Moses on Mount Horeb for all Israel.”

5 “Pay Heed!, I will send Elijah, the eternally wise servant before the Sovereign Captain’s great and dreadful day arrives.”

6 “He will turn the inner focus of parents to their children and the inner focus of children to their parents; otherwise, I will come and strike the land with absolute destruction.”

` The New Path: Born Of The Eternal Spark

~ 201 | Promise and Fulfillment | Matthew

14 Azor fathered Zadok, Zadok fathered Akim, and Akim fathered Elihud.
15 Elihud fathered Eleazar; Eleazar fathered Matthan, and Matthan fathered Jacob.
16 Jacob fathered Joseph, the husband of Mary, who gave birth to Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
17 From Abraham to David, there were fourteen generations; from David to the Babylonian exile, there were fourteen generations, and fourteen more until the Chosen Redeemer arrived.

§ 23830 JOSEPH ACCEPTS IMMANUEL AS HIS HEIR

18 The inception of Immanuel the Chosen Redeemer occurred as follows: Mary was engaged to Joseph and was found to be expecting a child through the Eternal Spark before they became intimate.
19 Joseph adhered to the Mosaic Law and did not want to disgrace her; he planned a quiet dissolution of their engagement.
20 While contemplating this, a Celestial Envoy appeared in a dream, addressing him as 'Joseph, a descendant of David, ' and encouraged him to take Mary as his wife because the Eternal Spark had conceived the child.

21 "She will give birth to an heir, and you are to name him Immanuel, for he will save his people from their unworthy choices," the Envoy explained.
22 This fulfilled the Sovereign Captain's words through the eternally wise servant:
23 "A virgin will conceive and give birth to an heir, and they will call him Immanuel," meaning "the Eternal Reality is with us."
24 Upon waking, Joseph followed the Celestial Envoy's instructions and took Mary as his wife.

25 He did not consummate their marriage until she gave birth to an heir named Immanuel, adhering to the celestial directive.

§ 23840 THE MAGI VISIT THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

2 When Immanuel was born in Bethlehem of Judea, during Prime Ruler Herod's reign, wise men from the East journeyed to Yerushalayim.
2 They asked, "Where is the one-born Prime Ruler of the Judeans? We saw his star and have come to honor him."
3 This news troubled Herod and all of Yerushalayim.
4 Herod gathered the chief priests and Law teachers, asking where the Chosen Redeemer would be born.
5 They replied, "The eternally wise servant wrote that He would be born in Bethlehem of Judea:

6 "Bethlehem, in Judah, you are not the least among Judah's rulers, for from you will come a ruler who will defend Israel."

7 Herod secretly called the wise men, asking them to inform him when they found the child.

8 He said, "Go and search carefully for the child," and sent them to Bethlehem. "Report back to me so I can honor him too."
9 Following Herod's instructions, they went on their way, and the brilliant light they had seen led them to the place where the child was.
10 Overjoyed at seeing the brilliant light, they were filled with great delight.
11 Entering the house, they saw the child with Mary, his mother. They honored him and gave gifts of myrrh, frankincense, and gold.
12 They returned home on a different path after being warned in a dream not to go back to Herod.

§ 23850 THE ESCAPE TO EGYPT

13 After their departure, Joseph received a vision from a Celestial Envoy sent by the Sovereign Captain. The Envoy urged him, "Arise, take the child and his mother, and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I instruct you further. Herod seeks the child to destroy him."
14 Joseph, heeding the warning, took the child and his mother under cover of night and set out for Egypt.
15 They stayed there until Herod's demise, fulfilling the Sovereign Captain's eternal wisdom: "Out of Egypt, I called my heir, who is my authentic heir."
16 Based on what the Wise Men told him, Herod, feeling deceived, gave the order to have all male youngsters in Bethlehem and the surrounding districts who were two years old or less murdered.
17 So, Jeremiah's eternal wisdom was fulfilled.
18 A lamentation was heard in Ramah, echoing with weeping and great mourning. Refusing to accept consolation, Rachel sobbed for her children, who were no longer with her.

§ 23860 THE RETURN TO NAZARETH

19 After Herod's death, a messenger from the Sovereign Captain appeared to Joseph in a vision while he was in Egypt.
20 The Celestial Envoy instructed, "Arise, take the child and his mother, and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the child's life are dead."
21 Heeding the message, Joseph got up, took the child and his mother, and returned to the land of Israel.
22 Joseph was afraid to go there after learning that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in his father's place. After being warned in a dream, he withdrew to the district of Galilee.
23 He lived in Nazareth, fulfilling what the eternally wise servants said: "He will be called a Nazarene."

§ 23870 JOHN THE IMMERSER PREPARES THE WAY

3 In that era, John the Immerser emerged, proclaiming his message in the wilderness of Judea:
2 "Change your ways of living, for the Celestial Sovereignty is near."
3 The eternally wise servant, Isaiah, foretold his coming, saying, "A voice cries out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way for the Sovereign Captain; make his paths straight. '" "
4 John ate only grasshoppers and bee honey, and his clothes were made of camel hair fastened with a leather belt around his waist.
5 People from Yerushalayim, Judea, and the entire region around Jordan were drawn to him.
6 After confessing their unworthy choices, he immersed them in the Jordan River.
7 He yelled at the group of Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists approaching the area where he was immersed, "You spawn of vipers! Who told you to run away from the impending fury?"
8 "Produce inner fruit in keeping with a life transformation."

9 "Do not think you can say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father. ' I tell you that the Preeminent Sovereign can raise children for Abraham out of these stones."
10 "Even now, the ax is laid to the tree's root. Any tree that yields poor-quality inner fruit will be chopped down and burned."
11 "I immerse you with water for a complete turn-around of your lives. However, someone stronger than me follows, whose shoes I do not deserve to carry. Immanuel will immerse you with The Eternal Spark and the purifying heat of justice."
12 "He stands ready to sort what is genuine from what is false, discarding what is harmful in an unquenchable blaze of accountability, leaving no trace of corruption behind."

§ 23880 THE IMMERSION OF IMMANUEL

13 Immanuel traveled from Galilee to the Jordan River, seeking John's empowerment through immersion.

14 John hesitated, questioning why he should immerse Immanuel, believing Immanuel should immerse him instead.
15 Immanuel assured him that fulfilling all integrid requirements was essential. John agreed and performed the immersion.

16 Immediately after being immersed, Immanuel rose from the water, and the celestial realms opened. The Eternal Spark, symbolized by a dove, descended on him.
17 A voice from the celestial realms proclaimed, “This is my Esteemed offspring, in whom I take great delight; My trust in Him is immense.”

§ 23890 IMMANUEL IS TESTED IN THE WILDERNESS

4 The Eternal Spark guided Immanuel into a desolate wilderness to face the Chief Instigator’s trials.

2 Immanuel was extremely hungry after fasting for forty days and nights.
3 The tempter approached and suggested, “If you are the chosen one of the Preeminent Sovereign, command these stones to become bread.”
4 Immanuel countered, “It is written in the Living Word: ‘People don’t thrive on physical sustenance alone, but on the life-giving words that flow from the Eternal Source.’”
5-6 The Chief Instigator then took him to the pinnacle of the exalted city and challenged, “If you are the Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir, cast yourself down. It is written: ‘He will command His Celestial Envoys concerning you, and they will lift you up to prevent you from striking a rock. ’”
7 Immanuel replied, “The Living Word also says: ‘Do not test the Preeminent Sovereign, your Sovereign Captain. ’”
8 Again, the Chief Instigator took him to a very high mountain, showing him all the world’s nations in their splendor.
9 He offered, “All this I will give you if you salute and express adoration to me.”
10 Immanuel declared, “Away from me, Adversary! It is written: ‘Express adoration exclusively to the Preeminent Sovereign, your Sovereign Captain, and serve Him only. ’” 11 With that, the Chief Instigator left him, and Celestial Envoys came and attended to him.

§ 23900 ILLUMINATING THE CITY

12 Upon learning of John’s detention, Immanuel moved to Galilee.
13 He left Nazareth and settled in Capernaum, by the lake in the regions of Zebulun and Naphtali.
14 This fulfilled Isaiah’s eternal wisdom:
15 ‘The lands of Zebulun and Naphtali, beyond Jordan in the Outsiders’ Galilee, by the sea:

16 The city’s residents, stuck in cycles of confusion and despair, have witnessed a brilliant signal, and for those in the shadow of hopelessness, clarity has broken through.
17 Immanuel proclaimed, “Change your ways of living, for the Celestial Sovereignty is near.”

§ 23910 IMMANUEL CALLS HIS FIRST PATHSEEKERS

18 Immanuel observed two brothers, Simon (also known as Peter) and Andrew, who were fishermen, throwing their nets into the Sea of Galilee as He strolled by.
19 Immanuel said, “Follow me, and I will teach you to catch people instead of fish.”
20 They immediately left their nets and followed Him.

21 Continuing on, He saw two more brothers, John and James, sons of Zebedee. Zebedee was helping them mend their nets in their boat. Immanuel called them.
22 They instantly left the boat and their father and followed Him.

§ 23920 IMMANUEL HEALS THE SICK

23 Immanuel journeyed through Galilee, teaching in communal places, proclaiming the joyous developments of the Celestial Sovereignty, and healing every kind of sickness and affliction among the people.
24 News about him spread across Syria, bringing many to him who were paralyzed, in great agony, possessed by malevolent entities, suffering from seizures, and afflicted with various disorders. He healed them all.
25 Large crowds from Galilee, the Decapolis, Yerushalayim, Judea, and the region across Jordan followed him.

§ 23930 IMMANUEL‘S HILLSIDE CHAT

5 Observing the multitude, Immanuel ascended a hillside and sat. His pathseekers approached him.
2 He began his instruction:
3 “Fortunate are those who acknowledge their inner impoverishment, for they will be granted the Celestial Sovereignty.
4 Those who grieve are fortunate, for they shall receive comfort.
5 The humble and gentle are fortunate, for they will possess the whole world.
6 Happy are those whose greatest desire is to do what the Preeminent Sovereign requires. They will be delighted.
7 Those who display kindness will be treated compassionately.
8 Those with clear intentions and honest hearts are the ones who truly perceive the Eternal Reality’s presence in their lives.
9 Those who foster peace are gratified and will be acknowledged as the Preeminent Sovereign’s offspring.
10 Those facing affliction for adhering to what is morally right are genuinely fortunate since the Celestial Sovereignty is their ultimate reward.
11 You are fortunate when individuals slander, oppress, and deceitfully utter hostility against you because of your association with me.
12 Be joyful and exceedingly pleased, as your reward in the celestial realms is immense; the eternally wise servants who preceded you were persecuted in the same manner.”

§ 23940 PURITY AND LIGHT

13 "You are like the essential ingredient that brings out the best in the world. But if you lose your unique ability to make a difference, what use will you have? You'll be like something discarded and overlooked."
14-16 "You're the city's beacon, glowing brightly for all to see. Nobody hides a streetlamp under a cover. Instead, it stands tall, lighting up the surroundings. Shine your light brightly so others can see your impact and honor the Source of your brilliance."

§ 23950 THE FULFILLMENT OF THE MANDATE

17 "Understand this: my purpose is not to discard the path of the Mosaic Law or the eternally wise servants but to fulfill their requirements.
18 Until celestial domains and Earth vanish, not even the smallest detail will disappear from the Mosaic Law.
19 Anyone who breaks one of these directives and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the Celestial Sovereignty. Conversely, those who practice and teach this Path will be greatly honored.
20 Only if your integrity exceeds that of the legal clerks and interpreters of the Mosaic Law will you enter the Celestial Sovereignty."

§ 23960 MURDER

21 In ancient times, it was declared, "Do not kill, for those who do will face judgment."
22 But today, I say to you, everyone who is angry with his comrade will face judgment. Once again, everyone who calls his brother 'idiot' will face the Sanhedrin. Still, anyone who calls him a "wretch" will face the furnace of ultimate justice.

23 Suppose you are about to present your offering at the revered pedestal table and remember that your family member has a complaint against you, 24 leave your offering there. First, reconcile with your family member; then return to present your offering.

25 While traveling to court, make a speedy reconciliation with your opponent. If not, he might give you to the court, who might then give you over to the policeman, and you might end up in jail.
26 I assure you, you won't be free from this situation until every cent of the outstanding balance is cleared.

§ 23970 EXTRAMARITAL AFFAIRS

27 "It has been said, 'You must not be guilty of having an extramarital affair. '
28 I am here to tell you a new way. Anyone who lusts after a woman while staring at her has already committed extra-marital affairs in his inner-self with her.

[29] If your right eye leads you to an unworthy choice, pluck it out and cast it aside. It's more beneficial for you to lose a fraction of your body than for your entire body to be thrown into the abyss.
[30] If your dominant hand leads you astray, sever and cast it aside. You should lose a portion of your body instead of having your entire being cast into damnation."

§ 23980 DIVORCE

[31] "The Mosaic Law states, 'If a man divorces his wife, he must give her an official divorce notice. '
[32] However, I tell you, anyone who divorces their spouse, except for marital untruthfulness, causes her to engage in extramarital infidelities. Anyone who marries an illegitimately divorced woman commits an extramarital affair."

§ 23990 PLEDGES

[33] "Remember, breaking promises is forbidden; honor your obligations to the Sovereign Captain.

[34] Avoid making pledges, especially not on the authority of the celestial realms, because they are the command control of the Preeminent Sovereign.
[35] Do not pledge on the authority of the Earth, for it is His footstool, nor by Yerushalayim, the capital city of the great Prime Ruler.
[36] Also, shun promises based on your grandiose schemes since you cannot naturally change a single gray hair.
[37] Let your responses be 'Yes' or 'No'; anything beyond this comes from malice."

§ 24000 EYE FOR EYE

[38] As you may have heard, "Take an eye for the one that was put out and take a tooth for the one knocked out."
[39] However, I offer a new way: do not retaliate against harm. If someone strikes your right cheek, turn to the other.
[40] If someone sues for your shirt, give them your coat too.
[41] If forced to walk a mile, go two.
[42] Give to those who ask and do not turn away from borrowers.

§ 24010 LOVE FOR ENEMIES

[43] You've heard it said: "Love your neighbor and hate your enemy."
[44] But I urge you to love your enemies and intervene for those who persecute you.
[45] This way, you'll be authentic children of your Celestial Innovator, who grants sunlight and rain to both the just and unjust.
[46] If you only love those who love you, what reward is there in that? Even tax collectors do the same.

47 If you greet only your own people, what are you doing more than others? Even non-believers do that.
48 Therefore, strive to be perfect, just as your Celestial Innovator is perfect.

§ 24020 GIVING TO THE NEEDY

6 Be mindful not to parade your genuine actions for public applause. Engaging in such displays only leads to losing recognition from your celestial Life-Giver.
2 When you extend a helping hand to those in need, refrain from broadcasting it as the actors do in religious ceremonies and public spaces, seeking others' admiration. Indeed, they have already received their complete reward.
3 In your efforts to aid the disadvantaged, keep your charitable deeds concealed, even from those closest to you.
4 Conduct your acts of charity in secrecy. Your celestial Provider, who sees what is done privately, will grant His empowerment to you.

§ 24030 MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

5 When seeking union with the Eternal Reality, avoid emulating those who perform inner practices publicly for attention. They have already received their reward.
6 In your inner communion, find a secluded place, close the door, and connect with your unseen Innovator. Your Innovator, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.

7 When uniting your consciousness with the Eternal Reality, avoid repetitive babbling like those who are distant from the path of Eternal Authenticity; they believe their many words will be heard.
8 Avoid such practices because your Innovator knows your needs before you ask.

9 Engage in inner conversations with the Eternal Reality like this: "Our loving Eternal Reality in the celestial realms, let Your Name be exalted and honored.
10 May Your Sovereignty flourish; Your will be done on Earth, as in the celestial realms.
11 Grant us today the nourishment we need.
12 And cancel the record of our wrongs, just as we have cleared the accounts of those who wronged us.
13 Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the Adversary."

14 If you forgive others when they transgress against you, your Eternal Reality will also forgive you.
15 But if you do not forgive others for their unworthy choices, your Eternal Reality will not forgive your unworthy choices.

§ 24040 FASTING

16 "Don't wear a sad face like the hypocrites when you skip meals; they make themselves look miserable to show off. Trust me, that's their only reward.
17 When you skip meals, take care of your appearance and wash your face so it won't be obvious to others.

18 Keep it a secret between you and your unseen Life-Giver. He who sees what is done in secret will acknowledge you."

§ 24050 TREASURES IN THE UNIVERSE

19 Avoid accumulating material wealth, as it is prone to decay and theft.
20 Instead, gather treasures in the celestial realms, safe from destruction and theft.

21 "Where your treasure is, your inner-self will also be."
22-23 Your focus is like the city's power grid. If it's aligned, you'll be full of energy and light. If your perspective is distorted, your whole life will reflect confusion. And if what you think is clarity is actually deception, imagine how deep that confusion must be!

24 "No one can serve two overseers. You will be loyal to one and loathe other. The love of wealth and love of the Preeminent Sovereign are incompatible."

§ 24060 DO NOT WORRY

25 "I urge you, do not fret over your life—what you'll eat or drink, nor about your body, what you'll wear. Is not life more than food and the body more than clothing?
26 Think about the feathered creatures of the air: your Celestial Provider provides for them even though they don't sow, harvest, or collect into barns. Are you not of much more value than they are?
27 Who among you can lengthen his life by even an hour by worrying?
28 And why worry about clothes? Observe how the lilies of the field grow; they do not labor or spin.
29 Yet I tell you that not even Prime Ruler Solomon, the builder of the fortress, in all his splendor, was dressed like one of these.
30 Will you not be better clothed, O you who have little trust, if the Eternal Reality clothes the grass in the field, which is alive now and tossed into the furnace tomorrow?
31 So, don't worry and ask, 'What should we eat?' or 'What should we wear?' or 'What should we drink?'
32 The Outsiders chase after all these things, and your celestial Life-Giver knows you need them.
33 But seek His Sovereignty and His integrity first, and all these things will also be given to you.

34 Consequently, stop worrying about tomorrow since it will be anxious about itself. There is enough trouble in each day on its own."

§ 24070 JUDGING OTHERS

7 Avoid judging others to prevent being judged in return.
2 The standards you apply to others will be the same to you.
3-6 Why focus on a smudge on someone else's glasses when your own lenses are covered in grime? Clean your own perspective first before pointing out their flaws.

§ 24080 ASK, SEEK, KNOCK

7 “Make your intervention, and it shall be granted; seek diligently, and you shall uncover; knock persistently on the door, and it shall swing open for you.
8 Askers get what they ask for, seekers discover what they seek, and knockers will have their doors opened.
9-11 If a child asks for food, what loving parent would give them something harmful? If imperfect people can give good things to their kids, imagine how much more the Eternal Reality, your perfect heavenly parent, will give to those who ask.

12 Therefore, interact with others as you would have them interact with you, for this principle captures the core of the path of the Mosaic Law and the path of the eternally wise servants.”

§ 24090 THE NARROW AND WIDE GATES

13-14 “Choose the small, well-marked entrance. The broad, flashy pathway leads to ruin, and it’s packed with people chasing the wrong things. The focused, intentional path leads to real life, though it’s not the popular choice.

§ 24100 AUTHENTIC VISIONARIES AND COUNTERFEIT PROPHETS

15 “Beware of counterfeit prophets who seem harmless but are as dangerous as wolves.
16 Their authentic nature is disclosed by their actions. Can you gather grapes from brambles or figs from thistles?
17 A genuine tree bears good fruit, while a faulty tree produces bad fruit.
18 An unhealthy tree cannot provide good fruit, and a good tree can’t produce bad fruit.
19 Any tree that doesn’t produce quality fruit is chopped down and burned.
20 By their deeds, you will recognize their authentic essence.”

§ 24110 AUTHENTIC AND FAKE PATHSEEKERS

21 “Simply calling me ‘Sovereign Captain’ does not guarantee access to the Celestial Sovereignty; this privilege is strictly limited to those who embody the desires of my Celestial Innovator.

22 When judgment day arrives, numerous individuals will approach Me, asking, ‘Sovereign Captain, in Your Name, did we not deliver prophecies, expel malevolent entities with Your authority, and demonstrate numerous marvelous works?’
23 I will directly respond, ‘You were never known to Me. Depart from Me, you practitioners of iniquity!’”

§ 24120 THE WISE AND FOOLISH BUILDERS

24-25 "Anyone who listens to my teachings and applies my path is like a skilled architect who builds on bedrock. Storms may come, floods may rise, and winds may batter, but the structure stays firm because it’s built on a solid foundation."

26 Conversely, anyone who hears My words but does not put them into practice is like a foolish person who constructed their house on sandy soil.
27 When the rains poured down, the floods came up, and the winds blew against that house; it fell with a great crash.

28 After finishing these teachings, the crowd was deeply impressed by His directives.
29 He taught with authority, distinct from their usual teachers of the Mosaic Law.”

§ 24130 IMMANUEL HEALS A MAN WITH A CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASE

8 Descending from the mountain, Immanuel was followed by large crowds.
2 A leper approached, knelt, and said, “Sovereign Captain, if you are willing, you can make me healthy.”
3 Immanuel touched him, saying, “I am willing. Be cleansed.” Instantly, the contagious skin disease (an indication of inner unhealthfulness) was cured.

4 Immanuel then advised him to tell no one but to present himself to the governing authorities and offer the gift Moses instructed as a sign of trust.

§ 24140 THE TRUST OF THE COMPANY COMMANDER

5-6 Upon Immanuel’s arrival in Capernaum, a military officer approached him for help. “Sir, my servant is paralyzed and in great pain at home.”
7 Immanuel asked, “Shall I come and heal him?”
8 The officer replied, “I am not worthy to have you under my roof, sir. But if you speak the word, my servant will be healed.
9 I am a man of authority, commanding soldiers. I say to one, ‘Go, ’ and he goes; to another, ‘Come, ’ and he comes. I tell my servant, ‘Do this, ’ and he does it.”
10 Amazing, Immanuel turned to His pathseekers and said, “Truly, I have not found such great trust in all of Israel.”
11 “Many from the East and West will join Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob at the feast in the Celestial Sovereignty.”
12 “But the people of this world will be cast into the pit of despair, where there will be crying and grinding of teeth.”

[13] Immanuel told the company commander, “Go. Let it be as you believed.” And at that moment, his servant was healed.

§ 24150 IMMANUEL HEALS MANY

[14] Upon entering Peter’s home, Immanuel saw Peter’s mother-in-law bedridden with a severe fever.
[15] He touched her hand. Her fever subsided, enabling her to rise and serve him.

[16] As evening came, He expelled the evil entities with a command and healed all who were diseased, many afflicted by malevolent entities having been brought to Him.
[17] This fulfilled Isaiah’s eternal wisdom: “He took on Himself our infirmities and bore our diseases.”

§ 24160 THE COST OF FOLLOWING IMMANUEL

[18] Surrounded by a large crowd, Immanuel suggested they move to the other side of the water.
[19] A learned man who had studied Moses’ teachings stood up and said, “Teacher, I will accompany you wherever you go.”
[20] Immanuel replied, “Foxes have dens, and birds have nests, but the Heir of Humanity has nowhere to lay His head.”
[21] Another pathseeker told him, “Sovereign Captain, first let me go and bury my father.”
[22] Immanuel told him, “Follow me, and let the dead bury their own dead.”

§ 24170 IMMANUEL CALMS THE STORM

[23] Immanuel boarded the vessel with His pathseekers.
[24] Suddenly, a fierce storm arose, causing waves to engulf the boat. Yet, Immanuel slept.
[25] His pathseekers woke Him, pleading, “Sovereign Captain, save us, lest we be lost!”
[26] He responded, “O you of little trust, why are you so afraid?” Then He rebuked the wind and the sea, bringing profound calm.
[27] The men marveled, asking, “Who is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him?”

§ 24180 IMMANUEL RESTORES TWO MEN POSSESSED BY MALEVOLENT ENTITIES

[28] Upon reaching the Gadarenes, Immanuel encountered two men tormented by malevolent entities from the burial sites. Their aggression was so intense that no one dared to pass that way.

[29] They shouted, “Why do you interfere with us, Offspring of the Supreme Ruler? Have you come to torment us before the appointed time?”

30 A big herd of pigs was eating nearby.
31 The malevolent entities begged Immanuel, “If you cast us out, allow us to enter the pigs.”

32 “Go!” was His directive. Immediately, they leaped out of the men and into the pigs, sending the whole herd down the steep bank and hurtling into the lake and drowning.

33 The herders fled to the town and reported everything, including what happened to the possessed men.

34 The entire town met Immanuel and pleaded with Him to leave their region.

§ 24190 IMMANUEL FORGIVES AND HEALS A PARALYZED MAN

9 Immanuel crossed the waters to His hometown.
2 A group brought a paralyzed man on a mat. Seeing their steadfast trust, Immanuel comforted the man, saying, “Your unworthy choices are forgiven.”

3 Some interpreters of Mosaic Law silently accused Him of blasphemy.
4-5 Aware of their thoughts, Immanuel challenged them, asking, “Which is easier: to say, ‘Your unworthy choices are forgiven, ’ or ‘Get up and walk’?”
6 To demonstrate His authority to forgive unworthy choices, He told the man, “Stand up, take your mat, and go home.”
7 The man got up and went home.
8 This event amazed everyone, filling them with respect and admiration, glorifying the Eternal Reality for giving such power to humanity.

§ 24200 THE CALLING OF MATTHEW

9 While traveling, Immanuel noticed Matthew at his tax booth and beckoned him to join his journey. Matthew immediately left his post and followed Immanuel.
10 At a dinner hosted by Matthew, numerous tax collectors and individuals of questionable character joined Immanuel and his pathseekers for a meal.
11 This event drew the curiosity of the Tradition Keepers, who questioned why their Teacher would dine with tax collectors and those viewed as transgressors.
12 In response, Immanuel remarked, “It is not those who are well who need a physician, but those who are ill.”
13 He then encouraged them to grasp the authentic essence of the phrase, “I desire compassion rather than absolving payment.” He emphasized that His mission was not to call individuals of integrity but transgressors to a path of change.

§ 24210 IMMANUEL DISCUSSES FASTING

14 John’s pathseekers questioned Immanuel about why they and the Tradition Keepers often skipped meals for inner discipline while His pathseekers did not.

15 Immanuel responded, “How can members of a celebration team grieve while their leader is still with them? The time will come when their leader is gone, and then they will reflect and prepare.”
16 He added, “No one patches old clothing with new cloth, as the patch will pull away, worsening the tear.”
17 “Similarly, new wine is not poured into old inflexible wine bags; otherwise, the bags burst, the wine spills, and the bags are ruined. New wine is put into fresh, flexible wine bags, preserving both.”

§ 24220 IMMANUEL RAISES A DEAD GIRL AND HEALS A SICK WOMAN

18 A leader of the communal place approached Immanuel and knelt before Him as He spoke. He said, “My daughter just passed away. However, come and touch her; then, she will live.”
19 Immanuel stood up and followed him, along with his companions.
20 Meanwhile, a woman suffering from twelve years of continuous bleeding touched the edge of His cloak from behind.
21 She thought, “If only I could touch His cloak, I will be healed.”
22 Immanuel turned to her and said, “Take heart, dear woman; your trust has healed you.” And she was completely healed at that moment.
23 Upon arriving at the official’s home, Immanuel encountered noisy crowds and flute players.
24 He told them to leave, saying, “The girl is not dead but asleep.” They laughed in disbelief.
25 After the crowd was sent out, He took the girl by the hand, and she got up.
26 News of this spread across the region.

§ 24230 IMMANUEL HEALS THE BLIND AND THE MUTE

27 As Immanuel continued His journey, two blind men followed, pleading, “Have mercy on us, offspring of David!”
28 Inside a residence, Immanuel asked them, “Do you trust I can do this?” They replied, “Yes, Sovereign Captain.”
29 He touched their eyes and said, “According to your trust, let it be done.”
30 Their sight was restored. Immanuel warned them, “Tell no one.”
31 But they spread the news throughout the region.
32 As they left, someone brought a mute man, possessed by a malevolent entity, to Immanuel.
33 After driving out the malevolent entity, the man spoke, astonishing the crowd, who proclaimed they had never seen such in Israel.
34 The Traditionalists accused, “He drives out malevolent entities with the authority of the Adversary.”

§ 24240 SEPARATING THE RELIABLE FROM THE UNRELIABLE

35 Immanuel ventured through each town and village, sharing wisdom in their communal spaces, bringing the joyful news of the Celestial Sovereignty, and healing every sort of sickness and infirmity.
36 Seeing the crowds, He was compassionate for them because they seemed weary and scattered, like a protected community without a reliable first responder.
37 Then he said to his pathfinders, “The opportunities are endless, but there aren’t enough skilled people to meet the demand.
38 Plea to the Sovereign Captain of all opportunities to send more capable workers into these ventures.

§ 24250 IMMANUEL SENDS OUT THE TWELVE

10 Immanuel gathered His twelve pathseekers and empowered them to cast out malevolent entities and heal all ailments.
2 The twelve emissaries were Simon (Peter) and his brother Andrew; James, heir of Zebedee, and his brother John;
3-4 Philip, Bartholomew, Thomas, Matthew the tax collector, James, the heir of Alphaeus, Thaddeus, Simon the Revolutionary, and Judas Iscariot, who would betray him.

5 Immanuel instructed them: “Do not go among the Outsiders or enter any Samaritan town.
6 Go to the lost people of Israel.
7 Proclaim this message: ‘The Sovereignty of Eternal Authenticity has come near.

8 Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, and drive out evil entities. Freely you have received; freely give.

9 Don’t take gold, silver, or copper in your belts.
10 The worker is worth his keep, so don’t worry about shoes, a walking stick, an extra shirt, or a travel bag.

11 Find a good individual in every town or hamlet you visit, and remain at their home until you are ready to depart.
12 As you enter the home, give it your greeting.
13 If the home is deserving, let your peace rest on it; if not, let your peace return to you.
14 If someone refuses to welcome you or hear your message, leave that place and brush off the traces of your visit as you move on.

15 Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, will fare better than that town on judgment day.

16 “You are being sent among wolves. Be as cunning as vipers and as innocent as doves.
17 Beware: you will be flogged in meeting rooms and given over to local tribunals
18 On My account, you will be brought before governors and Prime Rulers as witnesses to them and the Outsiders.

19 Do not stress about what to say when arrested; you'll be told what to say at that point, 20 for it will be the Eternal Spark speaking through you.
21 A father will betray his child, a brother will betray another to death, and children will rebel against their parental figures and have them hanged.
22 everyone will hate you because of me, but whoever endures will be saved.

23 "If persecuted in one place, flee immediately. You won't finish traveling through Israel's villages before the Heir of Humanity arrives.
24 Students are not above their teachers, nor servants above their overseers.
25 It is enough for students to be like their teachers and servants like their overseers. If I, the head of the house, is called Beelzebub, how much more are the members of My household?

26 Don't be afraid of them; nothing concealed will be disclosed or hidden that will not be made known.
27 Proclaim from rooftops what I whispered in your ear, what I reveal in darkness, and what I pronounce in daylight.

28 Do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the inner-self. Rather, fear the Adversary who can destroy both inner-self and body in ultimate justice.

29 Two sparrows are sold for a meager coin each, yet none falls without your Life-Giver's oversight.
30 Even the hairs of your head are numbered.
31 Don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

32 Whoever acknowledges Me before others, I will acknowledge before My Life-Giver in the celestial realms.
33 But whoever disowns Me before others, I will disown before My Life-Giver in the celestial realms.

34 Don't assume I came to bring quiet harmony to the world. I came to bring a powerful truth, cutting through illusions and dividing what's true from what's false.
35 I have come to turn a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law—
36 A man's enemies will be members of his household.
37 Anyone who loves their parents or children more than Me is not worthy of Me.

38 Anyone who does not take up their execution stake and follow Me is not worthy of Me.
39 Whoever tries to preserve their existence will lose it; whoever loses their existence for My cause will find it.

40 Whoever welcomes you welcomes both Me and the One who sent Me.

41 Anyone who acknowledges the wisdom of an eternally wise servant will receive an eternally wise servant's reward. Whoever recognizes an integrid man for his integrity will receive an integrid man's reward.

42 Anyone who helps one of these humble pathseekers with even a cup of cold water, because they are my pathseekers, will not lose their reward."

§ 24260 IMMANUEL AND JOHN THE IMMERSER

11 After instructing His twelve pathseekers, Immanuel taught and proclaimed in Galilean towns.
2 While imprisoned, John learned of the Chosen Redeemer's activities and sent his pathseekers.
3 "Should we question if you are the Expected One, or should we wait for another?"

4 Immanuel replied, "Inform John of what you've seen and heard."
5 "The blind see, the disabled walk, lepers are made clean, the deaf hear, the dead are revived, and the impoverished receive uplifting news."
6 "Fortunate is the one who does not lose trust because of Me."

7 As John's pathseekers left, Immanuel spoke to the masses about John: "What prompted you to enter the desert? To witness a reed being blown by the wind?"
8 "What did you go to see? A person in luxurious attire? No, those in exquisite attire are in government households."

9 "What did you expect to see? A foreteller? Yes, and much more."

10 "John is mentioned in the Living Word: 'My messenger will be sent ahead to prepare Your path. '"
11 "No one born of a woman is greater than John the Immerser; yet even the least in the Celestial Sovereignty is greater than he."
12 "Since John's time, the Celestial Sovereignty has faced rigorous assault, with forceful individuals trying to seize it."

13 "Until John, all the path of Moses and the visions of eternally wise servants were announced."
14 "If you are willing to accept it, he is the Elijah who was to come."
15 "He who has ears, let him hear."
16 "How shall I describe this era? They are like children in public squares calling to others."
17 "We played merry tunes, but you did not dance; we sang a lament, but you did not mourn."

18 "John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a malevolent entity. '"
19 "They claim that the Heir of Humanity is a glutton and an alcoholic, a friend of tax collectors and wrongdoers, and He arrives eating and drinking. Yet wisdom is shown to be authentic by its actions."

§ 24270 MISFORTUNE ON REMORSELESS TOWNS

20 Immanuel began to denounce the cities where He had performed most of His marvelous works because they did not change their ways of living.

21 "Misfortune awaits you, Chorazin! Misfortune awaits you, Bethsaida! They would have long since turned to ashes and somber clothing if the great exploits performed in you had also been performed in Tyre and Sidon.
22 "I assure you, Tyre and Sidon will endure more on the day of judgment than will you."

23 “And Capernaum, will you be exalted to the celestial realms? No, you will go down to the underworld. If the marvelous works performed in you had been done in Sodom, it would have remained to this day.”
24 “But I tell you, on the day of judgment, Sodom will have it easier than you will.”

§ 24280 THE LIFE-GIVER REVEALED IN THE HEIR

25 At that moment, Immanuel proclaimed, “I honor you, Life-Giver, Sovereign of the celestial realms and the Earth, for concealing these authenticities from those who are so-called wise and knowledgeable and making them known to the pure hearted like children.”

26 “Indeed, Life-Giver, this was Your generous will and pleasure.”
27 “My Life-Giver has entrusted everything to Me. The Life-Giver exclusively knows the Heir and the Heir knows the Life-Giver and those pathseekers the Eternal Provider wishes to make Him known.”

28 “Approach Me; All of them are worn out and burdened, and I will give you peace of mind.”

29 “Adopt My path to transformation. Let Me guide you, for I am modest and unassuming toward your inner-self, and you shall discover tranquility for your inner-self.”
30 “The load that I give you to carry is light, and My path is easy.”

§ 24290 IMMANUEL IS SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN OF THE REST DAY

12 During that period, Immanuel traversed the wheat fields on the rest day. His pathseekers, feeling famished, began to gather and consume the heads of grain.
2 On witnessing this, the Tradition Keepers told him, “Observe! Your pathseekers engage in acts deemed illegal on the Day of Rest.”
3 He responded, “Aren’t you aware of what David did when he and his group felt the pangs of hunger?”
4 “He entered the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress, and he, along with his companions, consumed the exalted bread, which was against the Mosaic Law for them but permissible exclusively for the ensovereigned mediators.”

5 Or perhaps you’ve read in the Mosaic Law that even when the fortress mediators violate the Day of Rest on the Shabbat, they are still considered innocent?

6 “Listen, One greater than the fortress is present right now.”
7 “Had you understood the meaning of ‘I prefer compassion over absolving payments, ’ you wouldn’t have pronounced judgment on those without guilt.”
8 “Indeed, the Heir of Humanity has authority over the Day of Rest.”

9 Proceeding from that location, He entered their communal place.

10 A man with a withered hand was present. In their quest to accuse Immanuel, they queried Him, “Is it permissible to perform healing on the Day of Rest?”

11 Immanuel responded, “Wouldn’t you, if you own a sheep that tumbles into a hole on the Day of Rest, grasp it and rescue it?”
12 “A human being carries significantly more worth than a sheep! So, performing benevolent acts on the Day of Rest is permissible.”

13 He then instructed the man to extend his hand. On doing so, it was fully healed, as was the previous case.
14 The Tradition Keepers departed and strategized on how they could assassinate Immanuel.

§ 24300 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S CHOSEN SERVANT

15 Immanuel retreated from that location, having learned of their intentions. Numerous people tracked Him down, and He cured them of their ailments.
16 He instructed them to keep His identity a secret.
17 These marvelous happenings made real the wisdom of the eternally wise servant, Isaiah:

18 “Pay heed, My chosen servant, in whom My inner-self finds excellent pleasure; I shall place My Eternal Spark on Him, and He will differentiate right from wrong to all people.”
19 “He won’t argue or shout; His voice won’t be audible in public.”
20 “He will not shatter a battered reed nor extinguish a dimly burning wick until He leads justice to victory.”
21 “And in His Name, people around the globe will find hope.”

§ 24310 IMMANUEL AND BEELZEBUB

22 A man possessed by a malevolent entity, who was blind and mute, was brought to Immanuel. After healing him, the man could speak and see.
23 The crowd was amazed and wondered if He could be the promised descendant of David.

24 The Tradition Keepers said, “This expulsion is due to Beelzebub, the Prime Ruler of malevolent entities.”

25 Knowing their thoughts, Immanuel stated, “A nation in conflict with itself will fall, and a divided city or household won’t last.”
26 “If the Adversary expels the Adversary, he conflicts with himself. How can his dominion endure?”
27 “If I use Beelzebub to exorcise malevolent entities, who do your esteemed exorcists use? They will judge you.”

28 “On the other hand, if I expel malevolent entities with the Preeminent Sovereign’s Eternal Spark, then the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality has arrived.”

29 “How can one break into a strong man’s house and seize his belongings without first immobilizing him? Only then can he ransack the house.”
30 “Anyone not with Me is against Me, and anyone not gathering with Me scatters.”

31 “I assure you, every unworthy choice and defamation can be absolved, but denigration of the Eternal Spark will never be pardoned.”

32 “Anyone speaking against the Heir of Humanity may be absolved, but those disrespecting the Eternal Spark will not be forgiven in this era or the next.”
33 “Cultivate a good tree for good fruit; a poor tree for poor fruit. A tree is known by its inner fruit.”

34 “You offspring of snakes, how can you, being evil, say anything good? The mouth speaks what fills the inner-self.”
35 “An authentic individual produces positive outcomes from inner transformative generosity, while an impure individual yields negative results from inner malevolence.”

36 “I assure you, everyone will answer for every trivial word on the day of reckoning.”
37 “Your words will either vindicate or convict you.”

§ 24320 THE SIGN OF JONAH

38 Tradition Keepers and Law teachers approached Him, asking, “Teacher, we wish to witness a marvelous work from You.”
39 He replied, “A generation full of unworthy choices and disloyalty seeks a marvelous work. Yet, the story of Jonah, told by the eternally wise servant, will be presented to them.”
40 “Like Jonah spent three days and three nights in the gigantic sea creature’s stomach, so will the Heir of Humanity spend three days and three nights deep within the Earth.”

41 “The citizens of Nineveh will rise at the judgment alongside this generation and rebuke it; they turned away from their unworthy choices when Jonah proclaimed the Preeminent Sovereign’s word, and presently, something more substantial than Jonah exists here.”

42 Because she traveled from all corners of the globe to hear Solomon’s wisdom and someone even greater than Solomon is now present, the First Lady of the South will stand up at the judgment alongside the current generation and condemn it.

43 “When a malevolent entity is expelled from an individual, it roams through barren regions in search of rest yet fails to find it.”
44 “Then it says, ‘I will return to the dwelling I departed from. ’ On its return, it finds the place unoccupied, swept clean, and put in order.”
45 “Then it takes seven other entities more impure than itself, and they enter and live there. And the final condition of that person is worse than the first. So, it will be with this impure generation.”

§ 24330 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER’S MOTHER AND BROTHERS

46 As Immanuel addressed the crowd, His mother and siblings waited outside, hoping to speak with Him.
47 Someone informed Him that His family was outside, wanting to talk.

48 He replied, “Who are My mother and siblings?”

49 Pointing to His pathseekers, He said, “Pay heed: these are my mother and My people of the New Humanity.”
50 “Anyone fulfilling the desires of my Celestial Life-Giver is My sibling and maternal figure.”

§ 24340 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE FLYERS

13 On that day, Immanuel left the residence and sat by the sea.

2 A vast crowd gathered, so He boarded a vessel while the crowd remained on the shore. He taught them many things in enlightening stories, saying:

3-9 “Imagine someone spreading flyers or sharing messages in a busy city. Some flyers landed on crowded sidewalks, where they were ignored and swept away. Some landed in cracks of pavement where they sparked some interest but didn’t have enough depth to grow. As soon as life got difficult, the interest faded. Other messages ended up in chaotic places, like on cluttered noticeboards or in inboxes filled with spam, where they got drowned out by everything else. But some landed in just the right places—in the hands of people ready to listen and act. Those messages spread, inspiring others and creating a ripple effect—thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold in impact. If you’re ready to understand, pay attention!”

10 Immanuel’s pathseekers asked why He used enlightening stories.
11 He replied, “The mysteries of the Celestial Sovereignty are disclosed to you but not to them.”
12 “Those who have will receive more, while those who lack will lose even what they have.”

13 “I use enlightening stories because they see but do not perceive, and hear but do not understand.”

14 “Isaiah’s eternal wisdom is fulfilled in them: ‘You’ll see but never perceive; you’ll hear but never understand. ’”
15 “Their inner determinations have grown callous; they hardly hear and have closed their eyes. Otherwise, they might see, hear, understand, and turn to Me for healing.”

16 “Fortunate are your eyes because they see and your ears because they hear.”
17 “Many eternally wise servants and authentic individuals longed to see what you see and hear what you hear but did not.”
18-23 “Here’s what the story about sharing messages means: When someone hears the message about the Eternal Reality's sovereignty but doesn’t really take it in, it’s like dropping a flyer on a crowded sidewalk. The noise and distractions of the city quickly sweep it away, leaving no chance for it to stick. The message landing on cracks in the pavement is like someone who gets excited when they hear it but doesn’t take the time to dig deeper. Without a strong foundation, their enthusiasm fades as soon as challenges or criticism arise. The message ending up on cluttered bulletin boards or crowded inboxes represents people who hear it but let life’s pressures, the chase for money, and endless distractions crowd it out, so it doesn’t make a difference. But the message landing in just the right place—like with someone ready to hear it, reflect on it, and act on it—produces incredible results. They share it, inspire others, and their impact grows exponentially—thirty, sixty, or even a hundredfold!” "

§ 24350 REAPING THE OUTCOMES OF LIFE’S CHOICES

[24] Immanuel shared another analogy: “The Sovereignty of the Celestial Realm is like an entrepreneur who started a quality business with trustworthy staff.
[25] But while everyone was off-duty, a rival came and introduced sabotage into the operation, corrupting the team.
[26] As the company began thriving, the effects of the sabotage also became evident.
[27] The employees came to the founder and asked, ‘Didn’t you hire the best people? How did this trouble arise?’
[28] ‘An adversary caused this,’ he responded. The employees said, ‘Do you want us to fire those causing problems?’
[29] ‘No,’ he replied, ‘because while removing the troublemakers, you might harm the good employees.
[30] Let everything develop together until the deadline. When it’s time, I’ll instruct the analysts: “Sort out the useless parts first and discard them responsibly, but preserve the valuable components for future use.”

§ 24360 THE STORY OF TINY SPARKS

[31-32] He shared another enlightening story: “The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is like a tiny spark of an idea planted in someone’s mind. It starts small, almost unnoticed, but it grows and transforms into something expansive, like a vibrant community where people from all walks of life can find support and belonging.” He continued with another enlightening story:

[33] “The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is like yeast that a woman mixed into about thirty kilograms of flour until it worked through the dough.”

[34] Immanuel always taught the people using enlightening stories.

[35] This fulfilled the eternal wisdom: “I will speak in enlightening stories; I will reveal hidden things since the world’s creation.”

§ 24370 UNDERSTANDING THE GARDEN: SORTING THE GOOD FROM THE HARMFUL

[36-43] Later, Immanuel left the crowd and went inside. His closest pathseekers approached him and said, 'Can you explain that story about the weeds in the garden?' He replied, 'The one who planted the good seeds represents the Heir of Humanity. The garden represents the world, and the good plants symbolize the people who live by the Eternal Reality's ways. The invasive weeds stand for those who spread harmful and destructive influences, and the enemy who planted them represents evil at work in the world. The harvest represents the final moment of reckoning, and the workers symbolize the celestial envoys who will carry out this work. Just as invasive weeds are removed from the garden and incinerated everything that corrupts or brings harm will be removed from Eternal Reality's community at the end. Those who persist in harm will face the consequences, but those who have lived rightly will thrive and shine, like lights in a city, in the presence of their Eternal Reality. Whoever is ready to listen should take this to heart.' "

§ 24380 THE ENLIGHTENING STORIES OF THE HIDDEN TREASURE AND THE PEARL

44 "The Celestial Sovereignty is like a treasure hidden in a field. Upon finding it, a man reburied it and, in his delight, sold all he had to buy that field."

45 "The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is like a merchant seeking fine pearls."
46 "Finding a pearl of great value, he sold everything he owned to buy it."

§ 24390 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE NET

47 The Celestial Sovereignty is like a fishing net cast into the waters, gathering various fish.
48 When the net is full, fishermen haul it to the beach, sort the good fish into containers, and discard the bad ones.

49 "This is how it will be at the end of the age; Celestial Envoys will separate the wrongdoers from the authentic."
50 The impure will be thrown into the fiery stove, where there will be lamentation and grinding of teeth.

51 "Do you understand all these teachings?" Immanuel asked. They replied, "Yes."

52 He said, "Every pathseeker taught about the Celestial Sovereignty is like a homeowner who brings out new and old treasures from his storage room."

§ 24400 AN ETERNALLY WISE SERVANT WITHOUT HONOR

53 After concluding His enlightening stories, Immanuel left that place.
54 Returning to His hometown, He began teaching in their place of joyful adoration, astonishing the locals. "They questioned the source of His profound knowledge and ability to perform marvelous acts."

55 "Isn't he the male heir of the craftsman? Isn't his mother identified as Mary, and his siblings James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas?"

56 “Don’t all his sisters reside here among us? How did this man acquire all this wisdom and power?”

57 They repulsed him. Yet, Immanuel informed them: “An eternally wise servant does not receive reverence except outside his locality and household.”
58 Due to their disbelief, Immanuel couldn’t perform numerous mighty deeds there.

§ 24410 JOHN THE IMMERSER BEHEADED

14 During this period, the news about Immanuel reached Herod, the regional governor.
2 He told his aides, “This is the resurrected John the Immerser, which is why he’s capable of such supernatural feats.”

3 Herod had taken John into custody, restrained him, and incarcerated him due to his marriage to Herodias, the wife of his sibling Philip.
4 John had persistently asserted that having her was against the eternal wisdom.

5 Herod desired to end John’s life, yet he was apprehensive of the public’s reaction, given their regard for John as an eternally wise servant.

6 During Herod’s birthday celebration, Herodias’ daughter performed a dance that delighted Herod immensely.
7 He pledged on oath to grant her any request she made.
8 Encouraged by her mother, she requested “that Herod present the head of John the Immerser on a serving dish.”

9 Despite being upset, the Prime Ruler, owing to his pledges and the presence of his dinner companions, commanded the fulfillment of her wish.
10 He ordered the beheading of John while he was in jail.

11 The man’s head was served on a tray and handed to the young lady, who presented it to her maternal figure.

12 The pathseekers of John came, collected his corpse, performed the burial, and subsequently reported to Immanuel.

§ 24420 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FIVE THOUSAND

13 Upon hearing the news, Immanuel sought solitude and departed by boat to a secluded place. The multitude, learning of His departure, pursued Him on foot from their cities.
14 A vast crowd met Him upon His arrival. His inner-self ached for them, and He cured their ailments.
15 As dusk fell, His pathseekers approached, noting the isolation and the advancing night. “Encourage the multitudes to depart so they can venture into nearby towns to purchase food.”

16 Immanuel responded, “They do not need to leave. You provide them with food.”

17 They replied, “We have only five pieces of bread and two fish.”

18 Immanuel implored them to bring the food to him.
19 He instructed the individuals to settle on the grass. With the five loaves and two fish, He glanced towards the celestial realms, offered gratitude, and divided the loaves. These were then passed to His pathseekers, who distributed them.

20 everyone had their fill, and afterward, the pathseekers gathered twelve baskets full of remaining fragments.

21 Approximately five thousand men were fed, not counting the women and children who also ate.

§ 24430 IMMANUEL WALKS ON THE WATER

22 Immanuel promptly urged the pathseekers to board the boat and head to the opposite shore while He dispersed the crowd.
23 After sending them away, He ascended a hill to converse with the Preeminent Sovereign. As night fell, He remained alone.

24 Strong winds battered the boat that was far from shore.
25 Just before dawn, Immanuel approached them, walking on the water.
26 The sight terrified the pathseekers, who thought they saw an apparition and screamed in fear.
27 Immanuel immediately reassured them, “Have trust! It’s just Me. Don’t be afraid.”

28 Peter replied, “If it is you, Sovereign Captain, command me to come to you on the water.”

29 Immanuel said, “Come.” Peter got out of the boat, made his way across the lake, and approached Immanuel.
30 Seeing the strong wind, fear struck him, and he began to sink, crying out, “Sovereign Captain, save me!”

31 Immanuel immediately reached out and caught him, asking, “O one with faint trust, why did you doubt?”

32 The wind calmed as they entered the boat.
33 Those in the boat enthusiastically adored Immanuel, declaring, “Indeed, You are genuinely the Heir of Preeminent Sovereign.”

34 Upon crossing, they reached Gennesaret.
35 Recognizing Immanuel, the men spread the news throughout the region, bringing all the ailing to Him.
36 They implored Him to let the ailing touch the border of His garment, and all who did were cured.

§ 24440 THAT WHICH DEFILES

15 Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law approached Immanuel from Yerushalayim with a question.

2 “Why do Your pathseekers disregard our ancestral customs? They don’t wash their hands before eating!”

3 Immanuel responded, “And why do you infringe the Preeminent Sovereign’s directive for your customs?”

4 “Eternal Reality commands, ‘Show respect to your father and mother’ and ‘He who speaks disrespectfully of his parents will face death. ’”
5 “But you say if someone dedicates what could aid their parents to the Preeminent Sovereign,”

6 “they bypass their duty to respect their parents. So, you nullify the Preeminent Sovereign’s mandate for your customs.”

7 “You deceivers! Isaiah foretold about you:

8 “‘They honor Me with words, but their inner-selves are distant. ’”
9 “‘Their worship is pointless; they teach human rules. ’”

10 Immanuel gathered the crowd and said, “Understand these words.”
11 “It’s not what someone eats that defiles them; it’s their words that stain their character.”

12 The pathseekers asked, “Do you know You upset the Tradition Keepers?”

13 He replied, “Any plant not sown by my Celestial Life-Giver will be uprooted.”
14 “Ignore them; they are blind leaders. If a blind person leads another, both will fall into a pit.”

15 Peter asked, “Can you explain the allegory?”

16 “Are you still lacking understanding?” asked Immanuel.
17 “Are you not observing that food enters the mouth, travels to the stomach, and then is eliminated?”

18 “Words come from the inner-self and taint a person.”
19 “From the inner-self come evil thoughts, murder, infidelity, lewdness, theft, false testimony, and slander.”
20 “These defile a person, but eating with unwashed hands does not.”

§ 24450 THE TRUST OF A CANAANITE FEMALE HUMAN

21 Immanuel moved to the regions of Tyre and Sidon.

22 A Canaanite woman from that area approached him, pleading, “Sovereign Captain, heir of David, show compassion for me! A malevolent entity grievously torments my child.”

23 Immanuel remained silent. His pathseekers urged Him to dismiss her as she continued to shout after them.

24 He replied, “My mission is solely for the misplaced pathseekers of Israel.”

25 The woman bowed before him, pleading, “Sovereign Captain, lend me assistance!”

26 He responded, “It’s not right to take a children’s meal and give it to the dogs.”

27 She agreed: “Yet, dogs consume the leftovers that tumble from their owners’ dining surface.”

28 Immanuel said, “Lady, your trust is abundant! Your wish is fulfilled.” Her daughter was instantly cured.

§ 24460 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FOUR THOUSAND

29 Departing from that location, Immanuel journeyed along the Sea of Galilee. Subsequently, He ascended a hillside and settled down.
30 Many people gathered around Him, carrying individuals who could not walk, see, move freely, or speak, along with several others. They positioned these individuals at His feet, and He cured them.

31 The spectators were astounded as they witnessed those once mute, now articulating words, people with diseases now restored to health, those previously disabled now walking, and blind people now gaining sight. They subsequently expressed their acclaim and adoration for the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel.

32 Immanuel brought His pathseekers close and voiced His deep concern for the crowd as they stayed with Him for three days without anything to eat. He expressed His unwillingness to send them off unfed, worried they might faint due to exhaustion during their journey home.

33 His pathseekers questioned, “How could we procure ample food in this desolate area to cater to such a massive gathering?”

34 Immanuel inquired about the quantity of bread they possessed. They responded with seven loaves and a handful of small fish.

35 He directed the multitude to sit down on the ground.
36 He took the seven loaves and the fish, expressed gratitude, and then divided them. He passed them on to the pathseekers, who, in turn, distributed them to the masses. Everyone fed themselves till they had their fill.

37 Subsequently, the pathseekers gathered seven baskets full of leftover fragments.

38 About four thousand men participated in the meal, not including women and children.
39 Following the dismissal of the multitude, Immanuel boarded the boat and headed towards the region known as Magadan.

§ 24470 THE DEMAND FOR A SIGN

16 The Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists approached Immanuel to test him, asking for a marvelous spectacle from the celestial realms.

[2] He replied, “At dusk, you predict, ‘The weather will be good because the skies are aflame. ’
[3] You say the day will bring storms in the morning, as the sky is fiery and clouded. You understand weather signs but fail to grasp the indications of this era. An evil and morally disloyal generation craves a marvelous sign, yet the exclusive sign provided will be the sign of Jonah.”

[4] Immanuel then departed.

§ 24480 THE YEAST OF THE TRADITION KEEPERS AND AFTERLIFE DENIALISTS

[5] As the pathseekers crossed the lake, they forgot to bring bread.
[6] Immanuel warned them to be wary of the corrupting influence of the Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists.
[7] They discussed among themselves, realizing they had no loaves.

[8] After noticing their conversation, Immanuel asked, “Why are you discussing the lack of bread with such meager trust?”
[9] “Don’t you understand yet? Remember the five bread pieces that fed five thousand and the baskets of leftovers?”
[10] “And the seven bread loaves for the four thousand and the full baskets collected?”
[11] “My warning wasn’t about actual bread. My point is to guard against the doctrinal contamination of the Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists.”

[12] They then understood He was cautioning them about the deceptive teachings of the Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists, not the leaven in bread.

§ 24490 PETER DECLARES THAT IMMANUEL IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER.

[13] In the Caesarea Philippi region, Immanuel asked His pathseekers, “What are the masses saying about the Heir of Humanity?”
[14] They replied, “Some believe you are John the Immerser, others think you are Elijah, and some say Jeremiah or another eternally wise servant.”

[15] “And you,” he asked, “who do you think I am?”

[16] Simon Peter answered, “You are the Chosen Redeemer, the Ensovereigned One, the offspring of the ever-living Preeminent Sovereign.”

[17] Immanuel said, “Simon, son of Jonah, how fortunate you are! This reality was disclosed to you not by any human but by My Life-Giver in the celestial realms.”

[18] “You are Peter, and on this solid foundation, I will build my New Humanity community, a network so strong that not even the authority of hell will overpower it.”

19 “I will give you the keys to the Celestial Sovereignty; what you prohibit on Earth will be prohibited in the celestial realm, and what you allow on Earth will be permitted in the celestial realm.”
20 He then instructed His pathseekers not to tell anyone that He was the Ensovereigned One.

§ 24500 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH

21 From that point forward, Immanuel began to explain to His pathseekers that He must journey to Yerushalayim, endure numerous hardships at the command of the elders, the chief priests, and the professors of the Mosaic Law, be executed, and subsequently be resurrected on the third day.

22 Peter pulled Him aside and started criticizing Him. “By no means, Sovereign Captain!” he exclaimed. “Such events will not transpire about You!”

23 Immanuel turned towards Peter and declared, “Withdraw from Me, the Adversary! You pose a barrier to Me; your thoughts are not aligned with the Preeminent Sovereign’s desires but simply with worldly matters.”

24 Immanuel told His pathseekers that anyone desiring to follow His path must forgo their desires, embrace the challenges, and walk the path I lead.
25 “Anyone who intends to preserve their existence will ultimately lose it, while those who offer their existence for My cause will discover it.”

26 “What benefit will it serve for a person to acquire the entirety of this world while losing their inner essence? What could an individual offer as a trade for their inner essence?”

27 “The Heir of Humanity is set to arrive in the grandeur of His Life-Giver, accompanied by His Celestial Envoys. He will then grant rewards to each individual based on their actions.”
28 “I assure you that some of those here and now will not encounter death before they witness the Heir of Humanity arrive in His Sovereignty.”

§ 24510 THE CELESTIAL TRANSFORMATION

17 After six days, Immanuel took Peter, James, and John to a secluded mountain peak.

2 Immanuel changed before them, His garments turning as bright as sunlight and His face sparkling like the sun.
3 Suddenly, Moses and Elijah appeared, conversing with Immanuel.

4 Peter suggested, “It’s good for us to be here. If you wish, I can set up three shelters—one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

5 A brilliant cloud engulfed them as He spoke, and a voice spoke from it, saying, “This is My cherished Heir whom I adore; I take great satisfaction in Him.” Listen to what he says!

6 The pathseekers fell to the ground, overwhelmed with fear.
7 Immanuel approached, touched them, and said, “Rise, do not be afraid.”
8 When they looked up, they saw no one except Immanuel.

9 As they descended the mountain, Immanuel instructed them not to tell anyone about the vision until after the Heir of Humanity had been resurrected.

10 The pathseekers asked why the scholars of the Living Word said Elijah must come first.

11 Immanuel replied, “Elijah is coming and will restore everything.
12 But trust Me when I say that Elijah has already arrived, and they treated him however they wished, not even realizing he was there. In the same way, the Heir of Humanity will suffer at their hands.”

13 The pathseekers understood that he was talking about John the Immerser.

§ 24520 IMMANUEL HEALS A MALEVOLENT ENTITY-POSSESSED BOY

14 Upon reaching the crowd, a man knelt before Immanuel.
15 “Sovereign Captain, have mercy on my child,” he pleaded. “He suffers from seizures and severe pain, often falling into fire or water.”

16 “I brought him to Your pathseekers, but they couldn’t heal him.”

17 Immanuel replied, “You deceptive and twisted generation, how long must I stay with you? How long must I endure you? Bring the child to me.”
18 Immanuel commanded the malevolent entity to leave, and the boy was instantly cured.

19 Privately, the pathseekers asked Immanuel, “Why couldn’t we expel it?”

20 He answered, “It’s because your trust is so small. But here’s the truth: Even the smallest spark of trust, like a seed of potential, can accomplish extraordinary things—like making the impossible possible.”

21 “This kind only departs through melding his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign and self-denial of food.”

§ 24530 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH A SECOND TIME

22 While in Galilee, He shared, “The Heir of Humanity will be handed over to people.”
23 “They will take His life, but He will rise after three days.” This disclosure left the pathseekers deeply distressed.

§ 24540 THE FORTRESS TAX

24 Upon arriving in Capernaum, the collectors of the fortress tax (8.6 grams of silver) approached Peter, asking, “Does your Teacher pay the fortress tax?” “Indeed,” he affirmed.

25 As Peter entered his home, Immanuel initiated the conversation, asking, “Simon, what’s your perspective? Do earthly Prime Rulers gather taxes and dues from their offspring or others?”

26 Peter responded that the tax was from outsiders.

27 Immanuel then informed him, “In that case, the Prime Ruler’s offspring are not subject to it.” “To avoid causing any disturbance: 1 : Go to the lake and cast your line. 2 : Snag the first fish that bites; inside its mouth, you’ll find a coin equivalent to 17.2 grams of silver. 3 : Retrieve it and use it to pay both your tax and mine.”

§ 24550 THE GREATEST IN THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

18 During that period, the pathseekers approached Immanuel, seeking to know who was most prestigious in the Celestial Sovereignty.
2 Immanuel beckoned a youngster towards Him and positioned the kid in their presence.

3 He declared, “Truly I tell you, you will never enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality unless you transform into little children.”

4 So, anyone adopting the humility of this child stands as the most esteem

5 “Anyone who receives a little child like this in My name accepts Me.”

§ 24560 CAUSING TO STUMBLE

6 “They would rather have a massive stone tied around their neck and be submerged in the ocean’s depth than lead these young people of trust in Me into unworthy choices.

7 Misfortune awaits the world due to the things that lead people astray. However, these instances are inevitable; disaster befalls the individual who instigates them.

8 If your hand or foot leads to your downfall, sever and cast it away. It’s preferable to step into life maimed or paraplegic rather than having both limbs and being thrown into the perpetual inferno.
9 Tear out and discard your eye if it leads you astray. Living with one eye is preferable to having two and being thrown into the Adversary’s fiery domain.”

§ 24570 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE WANDERING SHEEP

10 “Do not look down on these little ones. Their Celestial Envoys in the celestial realms are always in the presence of My Celestial Life-Giver.

11 The Chosen Redeemer came to rescue the lost.
12-14 What do you think? If someone owns a hundred apartments and notices that one tenant is missing, will they not leave the others to search for the one who is lost? And when they find them, I tell you, they will rejoice more over that one than over the others who were safe all along.

§ 24580 DEALING WITH UNWORTHY CHOICES IN THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COM

15 “If your sibling makes a mistake, address their mistake privately. If they heed your words, you have successfully influenced them.”
16 “If they do not heed, you should bring one or two others along; ‘two or three observers affirming can validate every argument. ’”
17 “If they still refuse to heed, bring it to the assembly’s attention. If they ignore even the ensovereigned lifestyle community, regard them as a person of disloyalty or a tax-gatherer.”

18 “I assure you, whatever prohibitions you impose on Earth will reflect in the celestial realm, and whatever permissions you grant on Earth will be similarly granted in the celestial realm.”
19 “Again, I assure you, if a pair of you agree on Earth about anything they wish to request, My Celestial Life-Giver will fulfill it.”
20 “Whenever a couple or a trio congregate under My designation, I will be present amidst them.”

§ 24590 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE UNMERCIFUL OVERSEER

21 Peter asked Immanuel, “Sovereign Captain, how often should I forgive my sibling who wrongs me? Up to seven times?”

22 Immanuel replied, “Not seven times, but seventy times seven.”

23-27 “The Sovereignty of the Celestial Realms is like a leader auditing the financial books of their community. During the review, someone with an unpayable credit balance was brought forward. Unable to settle the account, the leader ordered that he and his household face foreclosure and repossession to recover the loss. The debtor fell to their knees and pleaded, ‘Please, give me time, and I’ll find a way to pay it back.’ Out of compassion, the leader forgave the entire debt and released them.”

28-30 “However, that same person later confronted a colleague who owed them a small sum of money. Grabbing them roughly, they demanded, ‘Pay back every cent you owe me!’ The colleague fell to their knees and pleaded, ‘Give me more time, and I’ll pay it all back.’ But the debtor refused and took legal action, resulting in their colleague being jailed until the money was repaid.”

31 “Other servants saw this and were deeply distressed. They reported everything to their Prime Ruler.”

32 “The Prime Ruler summoned the servant and said, ‘You impure servant! I forgave all your debt because you pleaded with me. ’”
33 “‘Shouldn’t you have shown compassion to your fellow servant as I did for you?’”

34 “In anger, the overseer handed him over to the correctional officers until he paid all he owed.”

35 “My Celestial Life-Giver will treat you the same way if you do not forgive your sibling sincerely from your inner-self.”

§ 24600 DIVORCE

19 After Immanuel finished his teachings, he left Galilee and went to Judea across the Jordan.
2 A large crowd followed Him, and he healed them there.

3 He was tested by the Tradition Keepers, who asked, “Is it legal for a man to divorce a spouse for any reason?”

4 He replied, “Haven’t you read that the Great Innovator created them male and female at the beginning?”
5 He added, “‘For this reason, a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one. ’”
6 “So they are no longer two but one. Therefore, what Preeminent Sovereign has joined together, let no one separate.”

7 They then asked, “Why did Moses command that a man give his wife a divorce certificate and send her away?”

8 Immanuel answered, “Moses permitted you to divorce because of your hard inner determination, but it was not this way from the beginning.”

9 “I tell you that, aside from sexual immorality, anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman has extramarital affairs.”

10 The pathseekers told Him, “If this is the situation between a husband and wife, it is better not to marry.”

11 “Not everyone can accept this word; only those to whomever it has been given,” was Immanuel’s response.

12 “Some are born eunuchs, others have made eunuchs, and some choose to live like eunuchs for the sake of the Celestial Sovereignty. The one who can accept this should accept it.”

§ 24610 THE LITTLE CHILDREN AND IMMANUEL

13 The small children were brought before Immanuel so He might touch and intervene for them. And those who brought them were chastised by the pathseekers.
14 Immanuel emphasized, “Don’t prevent the children; allow them to approach Me, as those with child-like innocence are the ones to whom the Celestial Sovereignty pertains.”
15 After administering empowerment by laying hands on them, He proceeded from that location.

§ 24620 THE RICH AND THE CELESTIAL REALMS OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

16 A man approached Immanuel and asked, “Sovereign Captain, what authentic deed should I perform to inherit Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign?”

17 Immanuel responded, “Why do you inquire about the essence of goodness? Only One Entity embodies authentic goodness. If you seek to gain life, adhere to the directives.”

18 “Which directives?” he asked. Immanuel answered, “You must not take another’s life, you must not be disloyal in marriage, you must not steal, and you must not falsify evidence.”
19 “Show respect to your father and mother, and cherish your neighbor as you do yourself.”

20 “I’ve observed all these,” the young lad communicated. “What am I still missing?”

21 Immanuel responded, “Should you desire completeness, proceed, liquidate your assets, distribute to those in need, and you shall amass riches in the Celestial Sovereignty. Subsequently, come and walk in My path.”

22 On listening to this, the young man departed with a heavy inner-self because he possessed considerable riches.

23 Immanuel told His pathseekers, “With absolute certainty, it’s challenging for a wealthy individual to enter the Celestial Sovereignty.”
24 “Again, it is less likely for a wealthy person to join the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality than for a camel to fit through a needle’s eye.”

25 The pathseekers were profoundly flabbergasted, asking, “Who has the potential for redemption?”

26 Immanuel regarded them and expressed, “It’s unattainable from a human perspective. Yet, everything can be accomplished with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

27 Peter responded, “We’ve given up our all to become your pathseekers! What’s in it for us, then?”

28 Immanuel assured them that when the Heir of Humanity assumes His magnificent command control in the era of rejuvenation, “Those who have followed Me will also take their places on twelve bases of authority, presiding over the twelve communities of Israel.”
29 “Any individual who has sacrificed homes, siblings, parents, spouse, offspring, or land for my purpose will be rewarded a hundredfold and granted Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.”
30 “Numerous individuals holding top positions now will find themselves at the bottom, and those lagging will eventually rise to the top.”

§ 24630 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE WORKERS IN ANN URBAN RENEWAL PROJE

20 The Celestial Sovereignty is like a project manager who rose at dawn to hire laborers for a large-scale urban renewal initiative.
2 He agreed to pay them a fair wage for the day’s work and sent them to his worksite.
3-4 Around 9 a. m., he saw others idle in the job center and said, “You too can work in my project, and I will pay you fairly.”
5 So they went. He did the same at noon and mid-afternoon.
6 At the eleventh hour, he found more idle and asked, “Why have you been idle all day?”
7 They replied, “No one hired us.” He said, “You too, go work in my project.”

8 At the end of the shift the project manager told his lead, “Call the workers and pay them, starting with the last hired.”
9 Those hired at the eleventh hour received a fair wage for the whole day.
10 Those hired first expected more but received a same fair wage for the whole day.

11-12 “These individuals worked only for an hour, but you treated them just like us, who toiled through the heat and strain of the day,” they complained.

13 The project manager replied, “Friend, I am not being unfair. Didn’t you agree to a fair gage for the day?
14 Take your pay and go. I want to give the last person I hired the same as you.
15 Don’t I have the right to do what I want with my own money? Or are you envious because I am generous?”
16 “So the last will be first, and the first will be last.”

§ 24640 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH A THIRD TIME

17 As Immanuel journeyed to Yerushalayim, He privately gathered the Twelve and said, 18 “We are traveling to Yerushalayim, where the top priests and interpreters of the Mosaic Law will receive the Heir of Humanity. They’ll give Him the death penalty.
19 “He will be given to the Outsiders, who will mock, whip, and execute him. But on the third day, he will rise again!”

§ 24650 A MOTHER'S REQUEST

20 The mother of the sons of Zebedee approached Immanuel with her sons, saluting respectfully.

21 "What would you like?" he asked. She replied, "Promise that my two sons will sit at Your right hand and Your left hand in Your reign."

22 Immanuel responded, "You don't know what you're asking. Can you drink from the cup I'm going to drink?" The brothers answered, "We can."

23 Immanuel affirmed, "Indeed, you will partake in my challenge. But the authority to grant seats at My right or left is not Mine but for those My Life-Giver has set aside."

24 The other ten pathseekers were furious with the two brothers.

25 Immanuel gathered them. He said, "You know that Outsider leaders dominate their people, and their high-ranking officers wield power over them."
26 "Among you, it will be different. Serving others is a prerequisite for leadership.
27 "Anyone desiring to lead among you should become your servant."
28 "Just as the Heir of Humanity did not come to be served but to serve and offer His life as the price of freedom for many."

§ 24660 TWO BLIND MEN GET VISION

29 As Immanuel and His pathseekers left Jericho, a large crowd followed.
30 Two blind men by the roadside cried out, "Rescuer, descendant of David, show us compassion!"
31 The crowd told them to be quiet, but they shouted louder, "Heir of David, have mercy on us!"
32 Immanuel stopped and called them over. He asked, "What do you want Me to do for you?"
33 They replied, "Sovereign Captain, we want to see again."
34 Immanuel, moved with tenderness, touched their eyes. Immediately, they could see and followed Him.

§ 24670 IMMANUEL COMES TO YERUSHALAYIM AS PRIME RULER

21 Nearing Yerushalayim at Bethphage on the Mount of Olives, Immanuel instructed two pathseekers.
2 He said, "Go to the village ahead, and you will find a tethered donkey and her colt. Untie them and bring them to Me."
3 "If anyone asks, say the Sovereign Captain needs them, and they will be sent immediately."

4 This event fulfilled the eternally wise servant's wisdom:

5 “Tell the people of the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress, ‘Pay Heed! your Prime Ruler comes, humble and riding on a donkey, even on a colt, the offspring of a beast of burden. ’”

6 The pathseekers followed Immanuel’s instructions.
7 After bringing the colt and donkey, they dressed Immanuel and sat him down.
8 While other people chopped tree branches and laid them on the walkway, a sizable group of people lay their clothes out on the street.

9 The crowds ahead and behind shouted, “All acclaim to the Heir of David! Fortunate is the one who comes in the name of Eternal Reality! Praise be to the Preeminent Sovereign in the highest celestial realm!”

10 As Immanuel entered Yerushalayim, the city buzzed with excitement, asking, “Who is this?”
11 The crowds answered, “This is Immanuel, the eternally wise servant from Nazareth of Galilee.”

§ 24680 IMMANUEL AT THE FORTRESS

12 Immanuel entered the fortress grounds and expelled all those engaged in trade. He overturned the desks of currency exchangers and the seats of dove vendors.

13 He declared, “My fortress will be perceived as a fortress for the meldings of their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, yet you are turning it into a refuge for thieves.”

14 Those unable to see or walk approached Him at the fortress, and their health was restored.
15 When they witnessed His marvelous works and heard the kids yelling, “All acclaim, adoration, and delight to the heir of David!” in the fortress courts, the chief priests and legal clerks became enraged.

16 “Are you listening to what these kids are saying?” they asked Him. Immanuel responded, “Haven’t you ever read, ‘Through the mouth of babes and nurslings, you Sovereign Captain, have drawn out your acclaim’?”

17 He then departed towards Bethany, where He stayed overnight.

§ 24690 IMMANUEL CURSES A FIG TREE

18 As morning dawned, Immanuel, returning to the city, felt hungry.
19 Observing a fig tree by the road, He approached but found only leaves. He declared, “May fruit never sprout from you again!” Instantly, the tree withered.

20 The pathseekers witnessed this and were astounded. “How did the fruit tree wither so quickly?” they enquired.

21 Immanuel replied, “I assure you, if you have confidence in trust and do no doubt, you can not only do what was done to the fig tree but also command this mountain, ‘Move and plunge into the sea, ’ and it will obey.
22 Whatever you request in a trust-filled melding of your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, if you have trust, it will be granted.”

§ 24700 THE AUTHORITY OF IMMANUEL QUESTIONED

23 As Immanuel entered the fortress precincts and began instructing, the lead priests and the elderly religious representatives confronted Him. They inquired about the source of His power to carry out these actions and who gave Him this right.

24 Immanuel responded, “I, too, will pose a question to you. If you respond, I will disclose the origin of the authority by which I perform these actions.”

25 “If they do not heed, you should bring one or two others along; ‘two or three observers affirming can validate every argument. ’” They deliberated among themselves, stating, “If we declare, ‘Celestial, ’ He will question, ‘Then why did you not trust him?’
26 Suppose we claim it’s from a human source. In that case, we’re apprehensive about the public’s reaction, as they all perceive John as an eternally wise servant.”

27 They responded to Immanuel, stating they didn’t know. So, He declared that He wouldn’t reveal by which power He performed these actions.

§ 24710 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE TWO HEIRS

28 “What’s your opinion? A man had two sons. He approached the first and said, ‘My son, go labor in the rooftop garden today. ’” ‘I refuse, ’ he responded, but he eventually changed his inner demur 29 and proceeded.

30 Subsequently, the father approached the other son, expressing the identical command. The male heir responded affirmatively, uttering, “I will, sir,” yet his actions contradicted his words as he failed to go.

31 “Who among the two fulfilled his father’s wishes?” They responded, “The first one.” Immanuel assured them, “Taxmen and women of the night were gaining entry to the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality before you do.”

32 John the Immerser approached you, demonstrating the path of integrity, yet you disregarded him. However, the tax collectors and the prostitutes acknowledged him. Even after witnessing this, you did not feel remorse or accept him.

§ 24720 ACCOUNTABILITY IN THE CITY'S SHARED SPACES

33 Consider another illustrative story: “Picture a visionary leader who invested in a neglected city block. He developed a shared garden, installed secure fencing, and set up a community center. Then, he entrusted it to local organizers and left for another project.”
34 “When the time came to collect the profits from their work, he sent representatives to check in.”
35 “But the organizers mistreated the first group, driving them away. Some they humiliated, others harmed, and others pushed out entirely.”
36 “So he sent another group, even larger, but the same thing happened—they were ignored and mistreated.”
37 “Finally, he sent his own child, thinking, ‘Surely, they’ll respect my child.’”
38 “But when the organizers saw the heir, they said among themselves, ‘If we take this person out of the picture, we can keep all this for ourselves!’”
39 “They seized the child, dragged them out of the shared space, and destroyed them.”
40 “Now,” Immanuel asked, “when the leader returns, what do you think he’ll do to those organizers?”
41 The crowd replied, “He’ll hold them accountable and entrust the block to others who’ll respect his investment.”
42 Immanuel said, “Have you never read the plans of the Sovereign Architect? ‘The cornerstone rejected by the builders has become the foundation of the entire structure. This was planned, and it’s a marvel to see.’
43 43: “I’m telling you, the leadership of this shared community will be taken from you and entrusted to others who’ll honor the vision.”
44 “Anyone who tries to oppose this foundation will break themselves against it, and if it turns on them, it will crush them entirely.”
45 The city’s influential leaders heard this and realized Immanuel pointed out their failures.
46 They wanted to silence him but hesitated because the crowds saw him as a truth-teller and a redeemer advocate for the people.

§ 24730 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE WEDDING BANQUET

22 Immanuel shared another story:

2 “The Celestial Sovereignty is like a Prime Ruler who organized a wedding feast for his child.”
3 He sent his servants to call those invited, but they refused to come.
4 He sent more servants, saying, “Tell the guests the feast is ready, the oxen and fattened livestock are slaughtered, and everything is prepared. Come to the wedding celebration.”

5 They ignored the invitation; one went to his farm, another to his business.
6 The rest seized his servants, mistreated them, and killed them.

7 The Prime Ruler was furious. He sent his troops, destroyed the murderers, and burned their city.

8 He told his servants, “The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy.”
9 “Go to the crossroads and invite everyone you find.”

10 The wedding hall was crowded with people after the servers went out and collected everything they could find, good and bad.
11 When the Prime Ruler came in to see the guests, he noticed a man not wearing wedding clothes.

12 “Friend, how did you get in here without wedding clothes?” he inquired. The man was speechless.

13 The Prime Ruler gave his administrators orders to “tie him by his feet and hands and throw him out into the pitch black, and there will be tears and grinding of teeth.”

14 “Many are invited, but few are chosen.”

§ 24740 PAYING THE FEDERAL TAX TO CAESAR

15 The Tradition Keepers left and planned to trap Him with His words. They sent their adherents along with the Herodians.

16 They said, “Teacher, we know you are a man of integrity and that you teach the way of ultimate authenticity. Others don’t sway You because You ignore who they are.”

17 “Tell us then, what is your opinion? Is it right to pay the federal tax to Caesar or not?”

18 Aware of their malice, Immanuel responded, “You hypocrites, why are you trying to trap me?” “Show me the coin used for paying the tax.”

19 They brought Him a silver coin (3.9 grams).

20 He asked them, “Whose image is this? And whose inscription?”

21 “Caesar’s,” they answered back. “So give back to Caesar what is Caesar’s, and to the Preeminent Sovereign what is the Preeminent Sovereign’s,” he then said to them.

22 They were amazed at his answer. So they left him and went away.

§ 24750 MARRIAGE AT THE RETURN FROM DEATH

23 On that day, the Afterlife Denialists, who deny an existence in the afterlife, approached Him with a question.

24 “Teacher, Moses taught that a man’s brother must marry the woman without a husband and have children for him if he dies childless,” they stated.
25 “Among our family were seven brothers. The first married and died without children, leaving his widow to his brother.
26 The same happened to the second and third brothers, up to the seventh.
27 Finally, the woman also died.
28 Given that all seven men were married to her, whose wife will she be at the return from death?

29 Immanuel replied, “You are mistaken because you do not understand the Pure Writings or the Preeminent Sovereign’s power.”
30 “People will not marry or be given in marriage at the return from death; instead, they will resemble Celestial Envoys.”

31 Regarding the return from death of the dead, “Have you not read what the Eternal Reality said to you:

32 “I am Abraham’s Eternal Reality, Isaac’s Eternal Reality, and Jacob’s Eternal Reality. He is not the Eternal Reality of the dead but of the living.”

33 The crowds were amazed at His illumination when they heard this.

§ 24760 THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT

34 The Tradition Keepers gathered after hearing that Immanuel had silenced the Afterlife Denialists.
35 A Law specialist among them tested Him with a question.

36 “Teacher, what is the most prime directive in the Mosaic Law?”

37 Immanuel replied: “Devote yourself to the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign, with all your inner determination, your inner-self, and your intellect.”
38 “This is the foremost and paramount directive.”

39 “The second is like it: ‘Show affection towards your fellow humans as you do for yourself. ’”

40 “These two directives form the foundation of all the Mosaic Law and the Wisdom of the eternally wise servants.”

§ 24770 WHOSE HEIR IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER?

41 As the Tradition Keepers regrouped, Immanuel asked them, “What’s your view on the Chosen Redeemer? From whose family does he come?”

42 They replied, “David’s descendant.”

43 Immanuel then questioned: “Why did David, inspired by the Eternal Spark, call him ‘Sovereign Captain, ’ as it is written:

44 “The Sovereign Captain proclaimed to My Sovereign Captain: ‘Sit at My right until I make Your adversaries Your footrest. ’”

45 “If David calls him ‘Sovereign Captain, ’ how can He be his offspring?”
46 No one dared to question him from that moment, leaving him speechless.

§ 24780 A WARNING AGAINST HYPOCRISY

23 Immanuel addressed the multitudes and His pathseekers:

2 “The interpreters of the Mosaic Law, the Tradition Keepers, and the Mosaic Law teachers have placed themselves in Moses’ position.”

3 “So practice what they proclaim, but pay heed: avoid following their path since they do not live up to their words.”

4 “They bind big, cumbersome loads and place them on people’s shoulders but won’t lift a finger to motivate them.”
5 They broaden the scripture boxes on their foreheads and lengthen their robe tassels to perform all their deeds to be seen by others.

6 They covet seats of distinction at feasts and primary spots in communal places.
7 They enjoy respectful salutations in public forums and being addressed as ‘Teachers. ’

8 “You shouldn’t be called ‘Teacher. ’ Since you have a single Teacher, all of you are equal as human beings.”

9 “Refrain from addressing anyone on Earth as ‘Father, ’ considering you have one ‘Father’—the Life-Giver in the celestial realms.”

10 “Don’t let yourselves be called master teachers, as you have one Captain-Teacher, the Chosen Redeemer.”

11 “The most significant among you will assist others.”
12 “Those who inflate their importance will be brought down, while the modest will be elevated.”

§ 24790 SEVEN MISFORTUNES ON RELIGIOUS LAWYERS AND THE TRADITION KEEPERS

13 “Misery be on you, interpreters of Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers. You frauds! You obstruct the entrance to the Celestial Sovereignty. You neither enter nor allow those trying to do so.”

14 “It will be terrible for you, Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers custodians, pretenders! You consume widows’ residences under the guise of extensive prayers; your punishment will be more severe.”

15 “Alas for you, experts in Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers, deceivers! You journey across terrains and oceans to gain a solitary pathseeker. Once achieved, you transform them into beings doubly worthy of damnation than yourselves.”

16 “Alas for you, sightless leaders! You claim, ‘If a person takes an oath using the fortress as a pledge, it carries no weight; but if one pledges on the fortress’ gold, they are obliged to honor that oath. ’”

17 “How can you be so blind and foolish? What holds more value, the gold or the fortress lending the gold its exaltedness?”

18 “You also argue that an oath sworn on the pedestal table holds no obligations. Still, if declared on the offering resting on the pedestal table, the individual is duty-bound to uphold it.”

19 “Are you sightless individuals? Which holds more significance, the offering or the pedestal table that sets apart the offering?”

20 “So, anyone who takes an oath utilizing the pedestal table is affirmed not exclusively by the pedestal table but also by everything on it.”

21 “Any person making a promise by the fortress pledges by the fortress and the entity residing within it.”

22 “The individual making a promise in the name of the celestial realm is promising in the name of the Preeminent Sovereign’s command control and Him who resides on it.”

23 “Alas to you, Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers instructors, for you’re pretenders! You meticulously give a tenth of your herbs—mint, dill, and cumin. However, you have overlooked the pivotal principles of Mosaic Law: equity, compassion, and loyalty. You should have observed these without abandoning the previous.”

24 “You’re like blind influencers, obsessing over minor details while ignoring massive problems right in front of you!”

25-26 Trouble is coming for you, religious leaders who fake sincerity! You polish your public image, but inside you’re driven by selfish ambition and excess. Focus on cleaning up your mindset and priorities; only then will your actions match your words.

27 “Alas for you, interpreters of Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers, pretenders! You resemble whitewashed graves, which appear impressive externally but internally are loaded with remains of the deceased and all forms of impurity.”

28 “Similarly, you seem authentic and law-abiding to others on the surface, but within, you are filled with deceit and evil.”

29 “Alas for you, interpreters of the Living Word and Tradition Keepers, pretenders! You construct monuments for the eternally wise servants and embellish the crypts of the upright.”

30 “You proclaim, ‘Had we existed during our forefathers’ era, we would not have collaborated with them in murdering the eternally wise servants. ’”

31 “In doing so, you confirm that you are the offspring of those who killed the eternally wise servants.”

32 “Proceed and finish the work your forefathers began!”

33 “You serpents, offspring of vipers! How can you avoid condemnation to the realm of the Adversary?”

34 “Therefore, I am dispatching eternally wise servants, wise individuals, and instructors to you. Some you will execute; others you will torture in your houses of expression of joyful adoration and hound from city to city.”

35 “Therefore, you will bear the burden of all innocent lives taken on Earth, from authentic Abel to Zechariah, the male heir of Berekiah, whom you unjustly killed between the fortress and the absolving pedestal table.”

36 “I assure you, all these things will occur to this generation.”

37 “Yerushalayim, Yerushalayim, a city that slays eternally wise servants and stones those dispatched to you, how often I’ve wanted to shield and unite you, like a parent keeping their children safe within a strong home, but you resisted.”

38 “Pay heed: your home remains deserted and abandoned.”

39 “I assure you, you won’t look at me until you proclaim how great He is who arrives in the Sovereign Captain’s Name.”

§ 24800 THE DESTRUCTION OF THE FORTRESS AND SIGNS OF THE EARTH'S FINAL DAY

24 As Immanuel left the fortress, his pathseekers pointed out its architecture.
2 He remarked, “Not one stone will remain; all will be reduced to rubble.”
3 Seated on Olive Mountain, his pathseekers asked privately, “When will this happen, and what will signal your return and the end of the age?”
4 Immanuel warned, “Be cautious; don’t be misled.”
5 “Many will claim to be the Chosen Redeemer and deceive many.”
6 “You’ll hear of wars and rumors of wars; stay calm. These must happen, but the end is not yet.”
7 “Nations will fight each other, and realms will clash. There will be earthquakes and famines in different areas.
8 “These are the beginning of birth pains.”
9 “For my sake, all nations will persecute, kill, and hate you.”
10 “Many will turn away from trust, betray, and hate each other.”

11 “Counterfeit prophets will appear and deceive many.”
12 “Because of increased impurity, the affection of most will grow cold.”
13 “But whoever stands firm to the end will be saved.”
14 “This positive news of the Sovereignty will be proclaimed worldwide as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.”

15 “Remember what Daniel, the eternally wise servant, said: Pay Heed when you see the curse that causes devastation standing in the Exalted Space.”
16 “Those in Judea should flee to the mountains.”
17 “Anyone on the roof should not go down to take anything out of the house.”
18 “Anyone in the field should not return to get their coat.”
19 “How dreadful it will be for pregnant women and nursing mothers!”
20 “Wish that your flight will not occur on the day of joyful adoration or during the winter.”
21 “There will be immense suffering, never to be matched from the dawn of time until now—and not to be matched again.”
22 “If those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the chosen ones, those days would be shortened.” 23 “If anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Chosen Redeemer!’ or ‘There he is!’ Do not believe it.”
24 “Counterfeit prophets and false messiahs will arise, putting on impressive displays of marvelous works to try to fool even the chosen.”
25 “See, I have told you ahead of time.”
26 Therefore, do not trust anyone who tells you, “There he is, over in the wilderness,” or “Here he is, in one of your inner rooms.”

27 “For as lightning comes from the East and is visible even in the West, so will be the coming of the Heir of Humanity.”
28 “Wherever there is a carcass, there the vultures will gather.”
29 “After the turmoil of those days, the sun will disappear, and the moon will not rise; the stars will drop from the sky, and the celestial bodies will be shaken.”
30 The Heir of Humanity’s symbol will, after that, emerge in the celestial realms. When the Heir of Humanity appears on the clouds of the Celestial Sovereignty with tremendous power and renown, all the peoples of Earth will grieve.
31 “He will send His envoys to gather his chosen ones from all four directions, from one end of the celestial realms to the other, with a loud trumpet call.” 32 “Take a cue from the fig tree: Summer is approaching when its leaves emerge, and its twigs become tender.”
33 “Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door.”
34 “This generation will not die until all these things have occurred, I promise you.”
35 “The Celestial Realms and Earth will pass away, but My path will never pass away.”

§ 24810 THE DAY AND HOUR UNKNOWN

36 “Only the Life-Giver knows that day and hour; not even the Heir or the Celestial Envoys in the celestial realms are aware.”
37 “Just like in Noah’s time, the arrival of the Heir of Humanity will be similar.”
38 “Before the flood, people were engrossed in daily life—eating, drinking, and marrying—until Noah boarded the life barge.”
39 “They were unaware of the impending disaster until the deluge came and swept them away.
This reality will be the scenario when the Heir of Humanity appears.” 40 “Two individuals will be working in the farmland. One will be selected, and the other will remain.”

41 “Two females will work on grain with a manual grindstone; one will be selected, and the other will remain.”
42 “So, be vigilant, as the day of your Sovereign Captain’s arrival is unknown.”

43 “Understand this: if the dwelling proprietor knew when the thief would come at night, he would stay vigilant and prevent his residence from being intruded on.”
44 “Therefore, you must stay alert for the arrival of the Heir of Humanity at an unexpected time.”
45 “Who is the wise and loyal servant whom the overseer has entrusted with providing nourishment to his household at the designated time?”
46 “That servant will be fortunate if his overseer finds him performing his duty upon return.”
47 “Indubitably, he will assign him responsibility for all his belongings.”
48 “What if the evil servant believes, ‘my overseer won’t return for a long time?’”
49 “He begins to strike his fellow servants while consuming food and beverages with those frequently inebriated.”
50 “That servant’s overseer will show up at an unexpected time and on an unspecified day.”
51 “He will severely punish the servant and allocate him a position among the pretenders, where there will be sorrow, cries, and teeth grinding due to distress and anger.”

§ 24820 PREPAREDNESS FOR THE UNEXPECTED

25 “At that time, the sovereignty of the Eternal Reality will be like ten friends invited to a late-night celebration. They brought lanterns to light their way, but only five had extra batteries. The other five didn’t think to bring spares. The event was delayed, and as they waited, all of them dozed off. At midnight, someone shouted, ‘The host is here! Let’s go meet him!’ The friends woke up and turned on their lanterns. But the five without extra batteries said, ‘Share with us! Our lights are fading!’ ‘We can’t,’ the others replied. ‘We only have enough for ourselves. You’ll have to find more batteries from the convenience store.’ While they were out searching, the host arrived. The prepared friends went in with him to the party, and the door was locked behind them. When the others returned, they knocked and said, ‘Hey, let us in!’ But the host answered, ‘I don’t recognize you. ’So stay ready, because you don’t know when the moment will come."

§ 24830 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE BAGS OF GOLD

14 “It is comparable to a man who called his managers before departing on a journey and gave them custody of his belongings.”

15 “One individual received five units of gold, another was given two, and a third based on their capabilities. Following this, he embarked on his trip.”

16 “The individual given five bags of gold immediately invested his wealth and doubled his original amount.”

17 “Similarly, the individual possessing two gold sacks earned an additional two.”

18 “The individual given a single bag took off, excavated a pit in the soil, and stashed his overseer’s wealth.”

19 “Following an extensive period, the overseer of those workers returned and reconciled their financial dealings.”

20 “The one given five bags came, presenting another five, ‘Sovereign Captain, ’ he declared, ‘you handed me five bags. Look, I’ve earned five additional ones.’”

21 “His overseer responded, ‘Excellent work, sound and loyal servant! You’ve proven trustworthy with a modest amount; I will appoint you over a more significant quantity. Revel in your overseer’s delight!’”

22 “The servant endowed with two sacks of gold came forth, ‘Overseer, ’ he declared, ‘you entrusted me with a pair of gold sacks; notice, I have successfully earned two additional ones. ’”

23 “‘Excellent job, commendable and loyal servant! You’ve shown your loyalty with minor things; I will entrust you with more significant tasks. Revel in your overseer’s delight!’”

24 “The individual given a single bag of gold stepped forward. ‘Overseer, ’ he declared, ‘I understood that you are a rigorous person, reaping profits you didn’t sell and collecting from areas where you didn’t market. ’”

25 “‘Because of my fear, I went outside and buried your coin with concrete. You see, you still have what is rightfully yours. ’”

26 “The overseer responded, ‘You’re an evil and idle servant! So, you knew that I reaped where I hadn’t sold and collected where I hadn’t marketed any products?’”

27 “‘Therefore, you should’ve invested my money with the bankers. On my return, I could’ve obtained it back along with the accrued interest. ’”

28 “‘So, seize the bag of gold from him and present it to him, who possesses ten bags. ’”

29 “‘For everyone who has will receive more, and they will each have plenty. However, even what the one has will be taken away from the one who lacks. ’”

30 “‘Send that worthless servant into the darkness outside, where there will be grinding of teeth and wailing. ’”

§ 24840 THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS

31 The Heir of Humanity, in all His majesty, accompanied by His Celestial Envoys, will take His position in His majestic command control.
32 When all the nations come before Him, He will divide the people into groups according to the way a sheep keeper divides sheep from goats.
33 He will place the upright individuals on His favorable side and the others on His less esteemed side.

34 The Preeminent Sovereign will address those to His right: “Enter, favored ones of my Life-Giver, claim your legacy, the Sovereignty made ready for you since the world’s Inception.”

35 “When I was famished, you provided me with food; when I was parched, you quenched my thirst; and when I was an outsider, you welcomed me.”

36 “I was without attire, and you provided me clothing; I was ill, and you cared for me; I was incarcerated, and you visited to see me.”

37 Then the authentic ones will question Him, “Sovereign Captain, when did we witness you in a state of hunger and nourish you or parched and provide you a drink?”
38 “When did we notice you as a stranger, welcomed you or in need of attire, and provided you with it?”
39 “When were we found you ill or incarcerated and came to see you?”

40 The Prime Ruler will respond, “I assure you, you did it on my behalf, any act of kindness you extended towards the humblest of my relatives.”

41 He will then tell those on His left side, “Separate from me, you accursed ones, into the inferno beyond time intended for the Adversary and his pathseekers.”
42 “I was starving, and you left me with no food; I was dried, and you provided me with no beverage.”
43 “I was an outsider, and you didn’t welcome me; I needed attire, and you didn’t provide any; I was ill and incarcerated, and you didn’t care for me.”

44 They, too, will ask, “Sovereign Captain, when did we observe you hungry or thirsty, or a foreigner, or devoid of garments, or ill, or detained, and neglected to assist you?”

45 He will respond, “I assure you, anything you failed to do for the most insignificant among us, you could not do for me.”

46 The counterfeit is destined for everlasting torment, while the authentic will enjoy eternal life.

§ 24850 THE PLOT AGAINST IMMANUEL

26 After speaking, Immanuel told his pathseekers,
2 “In two days, the Emancipation Feast will occur, and the Heir of Humanity will be betrayed and put on the execution stake.”
3 The high priests and elders gathered at Caiaphas’ residence.
4 They plotted to capture and kill Immanuel secretly.
5 “They insisted it should not happen during the celebration to avoid inciting chaos among the populace.”

§ 24860 IMMANUEL ENSOVEREIGNED AT BETHANY

6 During Immanuel’s stay in Bethany, he was hosted at Simon’s house, the one afflicted with contagious skin disease (an indication of inner unhealthfulness).
7 A woman approached with an alabaster flask of expensive ointment and poured it over his head while he was dining.
8 Witnessing this, the pathseekers were outraged and asked, “Why such waste?”
9 “This perfume could have been sold for a high price and the money given to the needy.”
10 Aware of this, Immanuel said, “Why trouble this woman? She has done a noble act for me.”

11 “The poor will always be with you, but I will not.”
12 “She poured this perfume on me to prepare my body for burial.”

13 “Truly, wherever this message is spread worldwide, what she has done will be told in memory of her.”

§ 24870 JUDAS AGREES TO BETRAY IMMANUEL

14 Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, approached the leading priests.
15 He asked, “What will you offer me to hand him over to you?” They then provided him with thirty silver coins.
16 Subsequently, Judas sought a suitable occasion to betray him.

§ 24880 THE LAST SUPPER

17 On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the pathseekers asked Immanuel, “Where should we prepare your Emancipation Feast?”
18 He replied, “Go into the city to a certain man and tell him, ‘The Sovereign Captain says: My time is near. I will celebrate the Emancipation Feast with My pathseekers at Your fortress. ’”
19 Following Immanuel’s instructions, the pathseekers prepared the Emancipation Feast Meal.
20 Immanuel sat with the Twelve at the table as evening came.
21 During the meal, he announced, “Truly, one of you will betray me.”
22 They were deeply troubled, and each asked Him, “Surely not I, Sovereign Captain?”
23 In response, Immanuel said, “The person who has touched the bowl with me will turn against me.

24 The Heir of Humanity will go as written in the Living Word. But woe to that man who betrays Him! It would have been better for him if he had not been born.”
25 Judas, who would betray him, said, “Surely not I, Sovereign Captain?” Immanuel replied, “You have said so.”
26 While they were eating, Immanuel took bread, gave thanks, broke it, and gave it to his pathseekers, saying, “Take this and eat—it represents my very being, offered for you.'”
27 Then, after giving thanks and offering them a cup, he said, “Drink from it, all of you.”
28 This is my blood of the voluntary agreement, poured out for many to absolve transgressions.”
29 “I swear, until I drink it new with you in the Celestial Realms of My Life-Giver, I will not drink this wine.”
30 After singing a hymn, they went to Mount of Olives.

§ 24890 IMMANUEL PREDICTS PETER’S DENIAL

31 Immanuel informed them, “You will all desert Him tonight, as foretold: ‘The sheep keeper will be struck, and the sheep from His protected people will scatter. ’”
32 “After I am resurrected, I will go ahead of you to Galilee.”
33 Peter declared, “I will never abandon you, even if everyone else does.”
34 “Tonight, before the chicken crows, you will argue against knowing Me three times,” Immanuel retorted.
35 Peter insisted, “Even if I must die with you, I will never deny you.” All the other pathseekers echoed his sentiment.

§ 24900 GETHSEMANE

[36] Immanuel led his pathseekers to Gethsemane, instructing them to stay. At the same time, he went to meld his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.
[37] Accompanied by Peter and Zebedee's sons, Immanuel began to feel deep sorrow and distress.
[38] "My inner-self has been overcome with pain to the point of death," He said to them. Stay with me and keep an eye on things.
[39] Prostrating himself, he pleaded, "My Life-Giver, if possible, let this hardship pass from me; yet not as I will, but as you will."
[40] Returning to his pathseekers, he found them asleep. "Couldn't you keep watch with me for one hour?" he asked Peter.
[41] "Stay alert and intervene so you may not succumb to temptation. The Eternal Spark is willing, but the body is weak."
[42] He went away again. He melded His conscience with the Eternal Reality, "My Life-Giver, if this cup cannot be taken away unless I drink it, may your will be done."
[43] Returning, he found them asleep again, their eyes heavy.
[44] Leaving them a third time, He melded his conscience with the Eternal Reality of the same words.
[45] Returning, he said, "Are you still sleeping and resting? The hour has come, and the Chosen Redeemer is handed over to impure individuals."
[46] "Rise, let us go. My betrayer is approaching."

§ 24910 IMMANUEL ARRESTED

[47] Judas, one of the Twelve, arrived with a large group as Immanuel spoke. The high priests and elders had sent them armed with tactical blades and batons.
[48] Judas had prearranged a signal: "The one I kiss is the one to arrest."
[49] He approached Immanuel, greeted him with, "Hello, Sovereign Captain!" and kissed him.

[50] Immanuel replied, "Friend, do what you came for." Then they seized Immanuel.
[51] Suddenly, one of Immanuel's pathseekers drew his weapon and cut off the high priest's servant's ear.
[52] Immanuel said, "Put your weapon away. Those who use violence will die by it."
[53] "Don't you know I could call on my Life-Giver for more than twelve armies of Celestial Envoys?"
[54] "But how would the exalted writings' visions be fulfilled?"
[55] Immanuel asked the crowd, "Am I leading a rebellion that you come with weapons to capture me? I taught daily in the fortress, yet you didn't arrest me."
[56] "All this happened to fulfill the visions in the Living Word." Then, his pathseekers deserted him and fled.

§ 24920 IMMANUEL BEFORE THE HIGHEST COUNCIL

57 The religious leaders and elders had gathered at the home of Caiaphas, the high priest, where Immanuel was taken by those who had arrested Him.
58 Peter trailed him from afar, reaching the high priest's courtyard. He entered and stationed himself with the officers to observe the conclusion.
59 The high priests and the entire legal council sought fabricated testimony against Immanuel to execute him.

60 They found no substantial evidence despite numerous deceptive testimonies. Finally, a pair stepped forward.
61 They proclaimed, "This individual claimed, 'I can demolish the fortress of Preeminent Sovereign and reestablish it within three days. '"
62 The chief priest asked Immanuel, "Do you have any response? What charges are these men presenting against you?"

63 Immanuel kept his composure without uttering a word. The high priest then demanded under the Preeminent Sovereign of life's solemn oath: "State if you are indeed the Sovereign One, the Preeminent Sovereign's offspring."
64 "Your words have acknowledged as much," Immanuel responded. "However, I tell everyone among you: From this moment forward, you will witness the Heir of Humanity positioned at the dominant hand of the Eternal Reality and arriving amidst the Celestial clouds."
65 On hearing this, the chief priest rent his garments, exclaiming, "He's uttered profanity opposed to our religion! Do we require further testimony? Observe, you've just heard his profanity opposed to our religion."
66 What is your verdict? They responded that he is deserving of the death penalty.
67 They proceeded to spew saliva on his visage and assaulted him with their clenched hands. Some even delivered slaps to him.
68 They demanded, "Foretell to us, Redeemer, who struck you?"

§ 24930 PETER DISOWNS IMMANUEL

69 Peter was outside when a female servant approached him, saying, "You were with Immanuel from Galilee."
70 He denied it before everyone, claiming, "I do not know the subject."

71 Later, another female servant saw him at the entrance gate and told those present, "This man was with Immanuel from Nazareth."
72 Again, he denied it with an oath: "I do not know the man!"

73 Soon after, those standing nearby said to Peter, "You are one of them; your dialect gives you away."
74 He began to curse and swear, "I'm unaware of the man!" Immediately, a rooster crowed.

75 Peter remembered Immanuel's words: "You will deny me three times before the rooster crows." Overcome with remorse, he went outside and wept bitterly.

§ 24940 JUDAS HANGS HIMSELF

27 At dawn, the high priests and elders conspired to bring about Immanuel's death.
2 They restrained, escorted him, and handed him to Governor Pilate.
3 Judas felt deep regret, realizing Immanuel was sentenced. Overwhelmed with guilt, he returned the thirty silver coins to the high priests and leaders.
4 "I have committed a wrong," he expressed, "by betraying a guiltless individual." "How does this concern us?" they responded. "It's your problem to resolve."
5 Judas cast the silver into the fortress, departed, and hung himself.
6 The high priest proclaimed, "Our laws forbid depositing this in the fortress treasury because it is the remuneration for bloodshed."
7 They used the funds to purchase the potter's field as a graveyard for outsiders.
8 The field is called the Field of Blood until now.
9 The words spoken by Jeremiah became a reality: "They collected the thirty silver coins, the cost determined by Israel for him."
10 "They used them to purchase the potter's field per the Sovereign Captain's instructions."

§ 24950 IMMANUEL BEFORE PILATE

11 "Are you the Prime Ruler of the Judeans?" the governor asked Immanuel. "That's what you said," Immanuel answered.
12 As the chief priest and elders presented their allegations, he didn't respond.

13 Pilate inquired, "Aren't you listening to the accusations they are leveling against you?"
14 Immanuel remained silent, causing the governor to be greatly astonished.
15 The governor traditionally set free one inmate selected by the populace during the festival.
16 During that period, they held a notorious inmate called Immanuel Barabbas.
17 As the multitude assembled, Pilate asked: "Do you wish me to free Immanuel Barabbas or Immanuel, referred to as the Chosen Redeemer?"
18 He knew they had surrendered Immanuel due to self-interest.
19 Pilate occupied the judgment seat, and his spouse told him, "Refrain from intervening with that blameless individual, as I've had a distressing dream due to him today."
20 The high priest and elders convinced the masses to demand Barabbas' freedom and Immanuel's execution.
21 The Prime Ruler questioned, "Whom do you wish I set free among the two?" They responded, "Barabbas."
22 "What should be the fate of this Immanuel referred to as the Chosen Redeemer?" Pilate posed. Their collective response was, "Execute him!"
23 Pilate questioned, "What wrongdoing did he commit?" Despite his intervention, their voices intensified: "Execute him!"
24 Pilate witnessed he was not succeeding, and a rebellion was brewing, so he used water and cleansed his hands before the crowd. "I am free of this man's lifeblood," he declared. "The burden is on you!"
25 The crowd stated, "May the responsibility of His demise fall on us and our offspring!"
26 He set Barabbas free but had Immanuel severely whipped and delivered for execution.

§ 24960 THE SOLDIERS MOCK IMMANUEL

27 The governor’s military unit took Immanuel into the Praetorium, gathering the entire troop around him.
28 They stripped him and draped a bright red cloak over him.
29 They then fashioned a wreath of thorns and placed it on his head, putting a reed in his dominant hand. Kneeling before him mockingly, they said, “Cheers to the Prime Ruler of the Israelites.”
30 They spat on him and struck his head with the baton repeatedly.
31 After their mockery, they removed the robe, dressed him in his clothes, and led him away to be crucified.

§ 24970 THE NAILING TO AN EXECUTION STAKE OF IMMANUEL

32 As they left, they encountered Simon of Cyrene, who was compelled to carry the execution stake.
33 They arrived at Execution Hill, meaning “the site of the skull.”
34 They offered Immanuel wine mixed with gall, but he refused it after tasting it.
35 After nailing him to the post, they divided his garments by casting lots.
36 They kept watch over him.
37 They placed the charge against him above his head: THIS IS IMMANUEL, THE PRIME RULER OF THE ISRAELITES.
38 Two revolutionaries were crucified with him, one on his right and one on his left.
39 Passersby hurled insults, shaking their heads.
40 They mocked, “You who would destroy and rebuild the fortress in three days, save yourself! Come down from the execution stake if you are the offspring of Preeminent Sovereign!”

41 The high priest, Mosaic Law instructors, and elders also mocked him.
42 They said, “He redeemed others but can’t redeem himself! If he’s the Prime Ruler of Israel, let him come down now, and we’ll trust him.
43 He trusts in the Preeminent Sovereign; let the Preeminent Sovereign rescue him now if he wants him, for he said, ‘I am Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir. ’”
44 The revolutionaries crucified him and also insulted him.

§ 24980 THE DEATH OF IMMANUEL

45 The entire landscape was dark from midday to three in the afternoon.
46 Around the ninth hour, Immanuel cried, “Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani” (meaning, “My Preeminent Sovereign, my Eternal Reality, why have you abandoned me?”).
47 Some individuals there thought he was summoning Elijah.
48 One quickly fetched a sponge, soaked it in sour wine, affixed it to a reed, and offered it to Immanuel.
49 Others said, “Let him be. We’ll see if Elijah comes to rescue him.”
50 Immanuel then cried out loudly and surrendered his essence.

51 The fortress curtain split from top to bottom. The ground shook, and large stones broke apart.
52 Graves opened, and many integrid individuals who had died were brought back to life.
53 After Immanuel revived, they left their graves and entered the exalted city, and many saw them.
54 Witnessing the earthquake and everything else, the Roman commander and those guarding Immanuel were filled with immense fear and declared, “Indeed, he was the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign!”

55 Many women were present, observing from afar. They had accompanied Immanuel from Galilee to attend to his needs.
56 Among them were Mary of Magdala, Mary, Joseph, James’ mother, and Zebedee’s children.

§ 24990 THE BURIAL OF IMMANUEL

57 At dusk, Joseph of Arimathea, a wealthy pathseeker of Immanuel, approached Pilate to request Immanuel’s body.
58 Pilate granted his request.
59 Joseph wrapped the body in a pristine linen sheet.

60 He placed it in his own newly carved tomb and sealed the entrance with a large rock before leaving.
61 Mary Magdalene and the other Mary sat across from the tomb.

§ 25000 THE GUARD AT THE TOMB

62 Following the day of preparation, the high priest and the Tradition Keepers approached Pilate.
63 “Sir, we recall that the imposter claimed, ‘Three days later, I will be resurrected.
’”
64 “So, the tomb should be secured until the third day. Otherwise, his pathseekers might steal the body and declare he has risen, causing a greater deception than before.”
65 Pilate replied, “Deploy a guard and secure the tomb as best as possible.”
66 They secured the tomb by sealing the stone and setting a watch.

§ 25010 IMMANUEL HAS RISEN

28 Following the day of joyful adoration, as dawn broke on the first day of the week, Mary from Magdala and another Mary visited the grave.
2 A violent tremor occurred as a Celestial Envoy from the Sovereign Captain descended, rolled the stone aside, and sat on it.
3 His countenance radiated like lightning, and his attire shone as white as snow.
4 The guards trembled fearfully and fell into a dead faint.
5 The Celestial Envoy reassured the women, “Don’t be frightened; I know you’re looking for Immanuel, who was executed on the stake.”
6 “He isn’t here; he has been resurrected, as Immanuel proclaimed. Come and see where he lay.”

7 “Quickly relay the message to his pathseekers: ‘He’s resurrected from death and precedes you to Galilee. You’ll encounter him there. ’ This is my message.”
8 The women swiftly departed from the tomb, filled with terror and immense delight, and ran to relay the news to his pathseekers.
9 Suddenly, Immanuel met them. He greeted them, saying, “Hello.” They approached him, held his feet, and paid him homage.
10 Immanuel said, “There’s no reason to fear. Instruct my people of the New Humanity to go to Galilee; they will encounter me there.”

§ 25020 THE GUARDS’ REPORT

11 As the women traveled, some guards entered the city and reported everything to the chief priest.
12 After consulting with the religious elders, the high priest gave the soldiers a lot of money.
13 They were instructed to say, “His pathseekers came at night and took him while we slept.”
14 “If this reaches the governor, we will appease him and keep you safe.”

15 The soldiers accepted the bribe and spread the story, which persists among the Judean community today.

§ 25030 THE GREAT COMMISSION

16 The eleven pathseekers traveled to Galilee, to the hill where Immanuel had directed them.
17 Upon seeing him, they paid homage; some were uncertain.
18 Immanuel approached and declared, “All power in the sky and the land has been given to me.”
19 “Go forth and educate pathseekers from every nation, consecrating them through sharing My death and rebirth by water immersion in the Name of the Life-Giver, the Heir, and the Eternal Spark.”
20 “Instruct them to abide by all the directives I’ve imparted. Indeed, I will be with you until the end of this era.”

~ 202 | The Mystery | Mark

§ 25040 JOHN THE IMMERSER PREPARES THE WAY

1 This account marks the beginning of the story of the Chosen Redeemer, the Eternal Reality's Heir.
2 As Isaiah expressed eternal wisdom: "I shall dispatch my envoy before you, who will lay the groundwork for your arrival."
3 "A cry emerges from the desert: pave the way for the Sovereign Captain, clear a direct route for Him."

4 Consequently, John the Immerser appeared in the desert, advocating for an immersion symbolizing regret for wrongdoing and seeking celestial absolution for those transgressions.
5 everyone from the Judean province and the entire populace of Yerushalayim journeyed to him. In acknowledging their wrongdoings, he immersed them in the waters of the Jordan River.
6 John was dressed in a garment made from camel's hair, had a leather strap encircling his midriff, and sustained himself on a diet of grasshoppers and forest honey.
7 His proclamation was: "Following me is a more formidable being whose sandal fastenings I am not worthy to lean over and undo."
8 "I have administered your immersion using water, but He will confer your rebirth with the Eternal Spark."

§ 25050 THE IMMERSION AND TESTING OF IMMANUEL

9 During that period, Immanuel journeyed from Nazareth of Galilee and underwent immersion at the hands of John in the Jordan.
10 On emerging from the water, Immanuel noticed the celestial realms unfold and the Eternal Spark descending towards him in the likeness of a dove.
11 A voice echoed from the celestial realms: "You are my esteemed child, cherished, and in you, I find great delight."
12 The Eternal Spark immediately propelled him into the wilderness.
13 He endured temptations from the Adversary during his forty-day stay in the wilderness. He lived among the wild beasts while the Celestial Envoys catered to his needs.

§ 25060 IMMANUEL ANNOUNCES THE JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

14 Following John's imprisonment, Immanuel ventured into Galilee, announcing the joyous developments of the Preeminent Sovereign.

15 “The appointed period is on us,” he declared. “Preeminent Sovereign’s Reign is imminent.
Transform your inner-selves and trust in the joyful news!”

§ 25070 IMMANUEL CALLS HIS FIRST PATHSEEKERS

16 Walking by the Sea of Galilee, Immanuel observed Andrew and his brother Simon, who were fishermen, lowering a net into the water.
17 “Follow me,” Immanuel said, “and I will make you fishers of men.”
18 They immediately left their nets and followed him.
19 He continued and spotted Zebedee’s son James and his brother John fixing nets in a boat.
20 He called them at once, and they left their father, Zebedee, in the boat with the hired men and followed him.

§ 25080 IMMANUEL DRIVES OUT A MALEVOLENT ENTITY

21 They journeyed to Capernaum, and on the Day of Rest, Immanuel entered the Judean place of expression of joyful adoration and commenced teaching.
22 The audience was astonished by his instruction, for he educated them as an individual with authority, contrary to the interpreters of Mosaic Law.
23 Suddenly, a man was in their place of expression of joyful adoration, under the control of an unhealthy entity, and let out a scream.
24 “Immanuel of Nazareth, what is your purpose with us? Did you come here to annihilate us? I recognize your identity—you’re the Eternal Reality entity of preeminent sovereignty!”
25 Immanuel said in a firm tone, “Silence! Get out of him!”
26 The malevolent entity convulsed the man rigorously and exited from him with a loud cry.

27 everyone was so astonished that they asked themselves, “What could this be?
Unprecedented teaching with power! He even commands the malevolent entities, and they comply.”
28 The word about him swiftly circulated throughout the Galilee region.

§ 25090 IMMANUEL HEALS MANY

29 Immediately after leaving the meeting, they went with James and John to Simon and Andrew’s home.
30 Simon’s mother-in-law was bedridden with a fever, so they informed Immanuel.
31 He took her hand, helped her up, and the fever left her. She then began to serve them.
32 As night fell, people brought all the sick and malevolent entities afflicted to Immanuel.
33 The entire city gathered at the door.
34 Immanuel healed many with various ailments and expelled numerous malevolent entities, silencing them as they knew his authentic identity.

§ 25100 IMMANUEL MELDS HIS CONSCIOUSNESS WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY

35 At dawn, while it was still dark, Immanuel rose, left the house, and went to a secluded place to meld his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
36 Simon and his companions searched for him.
37 When they found him, they said, “everyone is looking for you.”
38 Immanuel replied, “Let’s go to the nearby towns so I can impart My path there. This reason is why I have come.”
39 He traveled throughout Galilee, proclaiming the message in their places of joyful adoration and expelling malevolent entities.

§ 25110 IMMANUEL HEALS A MAN WITH A CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASE

40 A man with a skin disease approached Immanuel, knelt, and implored, “You can purify me if you desire.”
41 Moved deeply, Immanuel extended his hand, touched him, and said, “I do want to. Become cleansed!”
42 Instantly, the disease left, and he was made healthy.
43 Immanuel then cautioned him sternly and dismissed him.
44 “Do not disclose this to anyone. Instead, present yourself to the ensovereigned mediator and perform the ceremonies Moses designated for your purification,” he instructed as evidence to them.
45 However, the man began to spread the news openly. As a result, Immanuel could no longer enter cities freely and stayed in secluded areas. Nevertheless, people continued to come to him from everywhere.

§ 25120 IMMANUEL FORGIVES AND HEALS A PARALYZED MAN

2 When Immanuel returned to Capernaum after a few days, word spread quickly.
2 A large crowd gathered, leaving no room, not even at the entrance, as he taught Eternal Reality’s teachings.
3 Four men arrived, carrying a paralyzed man.
4 Unable to get through the crowd, they made an opening in the roof and lowered the man on his mat.
5 Seeing their unwavering trust, Immanuel said, “Young man, you are absolved of your wrongdoings.”
6 Some interpreters of the Mosaic Law thought to themselves,

7 “How can he speak like this? He’s committing blasphemy! Only the Preeminent Sovereign can absolve unworthy choices.”
8 Immanuel, knowing their thoughts, asked, “Why do you think this way?”
9 “Which is easier: to say, ‘Your transgressions are absolved, ’ or ‘Rise, take your mat and walk’?”

10-11 “To show you that the Heir of Humanity has authority on Earth to absolve unworthy choices,” he said to the man, “I command you, rise, take your mat, and go home.”
12 The man stood up immediately, took his mat, and walked out in full view of everyone. They were amazed and praised the Preeminent Sovereign, saying, “We have never seen anything like this!”

§ 25130 IMMANUEL CALLS LEVI AND EATS WITH TRANSGRESSORS

13 Immanuel returned to the lake, where a large crowd gathered, and he began teaching them.
14 He saw Levi, Alphaeus’ son, at the toll booth and said, “Join me.” Levi got up and followed him.
15 While dining at Levi’s house, many tax collectors and individuals with ill repute joined Immanuel and His pathseekers, as many were His pathseekers.
16 Seeing this, the Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law asked His pathseekers, “Why does he eat with those notorious for their unworthy choices?”
17 Immanuel replied, “Those in good health do not need a medical practitioner, but those who are unwell do. I did not come to invite the authentic but those who have strayed off the path.”

§ 25140 IMMANUEL QUESTIONED ABOUT FASTING

18 John’s pathseekers and the Tradition Keepers were fasting. Some individuals asked Immanuel, “Why do John’s pathseekers and the Tradition Keepers skip meals, but yours do not?”

19 Immanuel replied, “Can wedding guests skip meals while the groom is with them? They cannot while he is present.”
20 “A time will come when the groom is taken from them, and then they will skip meals.”
21 “No one patches old clothing with un-shrunk cloth. The new patch will pull away from the old, worsening the tear.”
22 “No one pours new wine into old flexible wine bags. If they do so, everything will be lost as the wine ruptures the skin. New wine is poured into new flexible wine bags.”

§ 25150 IMMANUEL IS CAPTAIN OF THE REST DAY

23 During one Day of Rest, Immanuel passed through fields of grain. His pathseekers, who were accompanying him, began gathering some grain heads.
24 The Tradition Keepers questioned him, explaining, “Why are they engaging in what’s considered illegal on Day of Rest?”

25 He responded, “Haven’t you read about what happened when David and His pathseekers were in need and hungry?”
26 “Abiathar entered the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress as the prime ensovereigned mediator. He consumed the exalted loaves, a privilege solely designated for the ensovereigned mediators. He extended this to those accompanying him as well.”
27 He told them, “The Day of Rest was established for the sake of humanity, not humanity for the Day of Rest.”
28 “So, the Heir of Humanity exercises authority even over the Day of Rest.”

§ 25160 IMMANUEL HEALS ON THE REST DAY

3 Immanuel entered the assembly hall, where a man with a deformed hand was present.

2 Certain individuals sought a reason to accuse Immanuel, watching closely to see if he would heal on the Day of Rest.
3 Immanuel instructed the man to stand where all could see him.
4 He asked, “Is it right to do good or evil on the Day of Rest, to save or destroy life?” They remained silent.
5 Angered and grieved by their stubbornness, Immanuel told the man, “Extend your hand.” The man’s hand was healed.
6 The Tradition Keepers then conspired with the Herodians to plot Immanuel’s death.

§ 25170 CROWDS FOLLOW IMMANUEL

7 Immanuel and His pathseekers withdrew to the sea, with a large crowd from Galilee following them.
8 Hearing of His deeds, many came from Judea, Yerushalayim, Idumea, beyond the Jordan, and the regions around Tyre and Sidon.
9 Due to the crowd, He instructed His pathseekers to prepare a small boat to avoid the people pressing Him.
10 He had healed many, so those with ailments sought to touch Him.
11 Whenever malevolent entities saw Him, they would salute and scream, “You are the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign.”
12 He sternly warned them not to reveal His identity.

§ 25180 IMMANUEL APPOINTS THE TWELVE

13 Immanuel ascended a hillside and summoned the individuals he desired, and they responded by joining him.
14 He selected twelve individuals to stay in his company and dispatched them to proclaim the “joyous developments.”

15 Possessing the power to expel malevolent entities.
16 Simon, who received “Peter” from him, was among the twelve he chose.
17 James, the offspring of Zebedee, along with his sibling John, was named “Boanerges” by him, an epithet signifying “thunder’s progeny.”

18 The individuals included Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, Alphaeus' male heir, James, Thaddaeus, and Simon, who were recognized as "The Extremists."
19 Judas Iscariot, the one who handed Immanuel over to his enemies.

§ 25190 IMMANUEL ACCUSED BY HIS FAMILY AND BY TEACHERS OF THE MOSAICAL LAW

20 Immanuel entered a dwelling, and a large crowd gathered, leaving no chance for him or His pathseekers to eat.
21 Hearing this, his relatives tried to restrain him, thinking he had lost his senses.
22 Interpreters of the Mosaic Law from Yerushalayim claimed, "He is under Beelzebub's influence! He expels malevolent entities with the Chief Instigator's help."
23 Immanuel summoned them and spoke in allegories: "How can the Adversary expel the Adversary?"
24 "A nation divided against itself cannot last."
25 "A family divided against itself cannot survive."
26 "If the Adversary is internally fragmented, he cannot prevail, and his end is near."
27 "No one can rob a strong man's home without first subduing him. Only then can his house be ransacked."
28 "Indeed, individuals can be forgiven for all unworthy choices, actions, and defamatory words."

29 "But one who disparages the exalted Eternal Spark will never be absolved and is guilty of an everlasting transgression."
30 This was in response to their claim that a malevolent entity possessed him.

§ 25200 IMMANUEL'S MOTHER AND SIBLINGS

31 Immanuel's mother and siblings arrived but couldn't get through the crowd, so they sent someone to call him.
32 The assembly informed him that his mother and siblings were outside seeking him.
33 He asked, "Who are my mother and siblings?"
34 Looking at those around him, he declared, "These are my mother and brothers!"
35 "Whoever adheres to the Preeminent Sovereign's desires is my mother and my people of the New Humanity."

§ 25210 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE FLYERS

4 Immanuel began teaching by the lake, and the crowd was so large that he sat in a boat on the lake while the people stood on the shore.
2 He taught them many things through stories.
3-8 "Listen! Imagine someone sharing flyers with an important message throughout the city. Some flyers landed on busy sidewalks, where they were ignored and eventually swept away. Others landed on shallow ground, like in cracks between paving stones—they got some attention at first, but there wasn't enough depth for the message to stick, so it faded quickly. Some flyers ended up in cluttered areas full of distractions—like crowded bulletin boards covered in other notices—and the message got lost. But some landed in just the right hands, where the message took root, spread, and inspired change, creating results far greater than anyone expected—thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold."

9 Immanuel said, "Those who have ears to hear, let them hear."

10 When he was alone, the Twelve and others around him asked about the stories.
11 He told them, "The mysteries of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality are given to you; but to those outside, everything is told to them in stories 12 so that they will ever see but never perceive, ever listening but never understanding; so that they might turn around their lives and be pardoned!"
13 Then Immanuel asked them, "Don't you understand this story? How, then, will you understand any story?"

14-20 "The message of the Eternal Reality is like someone sharing important ideas with the city. Some people are like flyers dropped on a busy sidewalk. They hear the message, but distractions, negativity, or cynicism quickly take it away before it can make any impact. Others are like messages posted in shallow cracks in the pavement—they're excited at first, but they don't have the depth to sustain their interest. When challenges or criticism come, they give up. Still others are like flyers placed in overcrowded bulletin boards or inboxes—life's worries, the pull of money, and the endless chase for more overwhelm them, and the message gets lost. But some people are like a well-connected network. They hear the message, embrace it, and use it to inspire change, spreading its influence far beyond what anyone expected—thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold."

§ 25220 LET YOUR INFLUENCE SHINE!

21-24 He said to them, 'Do you turn on a streetlight just to cover it with a tarp or block it with a wall? No, you let it shine where everyone can see, so it lights up the area. In the same way, anything hidden is meant to be revealed, and anything kept secret is meant to be shared openly. If you're ready to listen, pay attention!' Then he added, 'Be mindful of what you take in and how you act on it. The effort and care you put into sharing what you've learned will determine how much impact it has—and even more will come back to you. Those who invest in understanding will gain even more insight. But those who neglect it will lose even the little they once had.

25 "Those who possess something will receive more, while those who lack, even the slight they hold, will be stripped of them."

§ 25230 SMALL BEGINNINGS, BIG IMPACT: THE GROWTH OF ETERNAL REALITY'S WORK

26-34 "The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is like this: Imagine someone sharing an idea that spreads through the city. Day by day, whether they focus on it or not, the idea takes root and virals in ways they don't fully understand. On its own, the community begins to develop that idea—first as a spark, then as a movement, and finally as something transformative. When the time comes, the impact becomes clear, and the change is celebrated.' Again, he said, 'How can we describe the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality? It's like a small initiative—something as simple as a single spark of creativity. Though it starts out as the smallest, it grows into something expansive, like a towering tree in the park, providing shelter and inspiration to many.' Immanuel often used illustrations like these to share his message, giving as much as the people could understand. But when he was alone with his closest followers, he explained everything in detail".

§ 25240 IMMANUEL CALMS THE STORM

35 As dusk fell, He told His pathseekers, "Let's cross to the other bank."
36 Departing from the multitude, they retained Him aboard the boat. Other vessels accompanied them.
37 An intense gale arose, and waves crashed on the ship, nearly sinking it.
38 Immanuel was at the back of the boat, asleep on a cushion. His pathseekers roused Him, exclaiming, "Sovereign Captain, aren't You bothered that we are about to perish?"
39 Rising, He chastised the wind and said to the waves, "Silence! Settle down!" The wind abated, and there was absolute calm.
40 He questioned His pathseekers, "Why are you so terrified? Is your trust still absent?"
41 Overwhelmed with fear, they asked themselves, "What kind of man is this that even the wind and the sea are under His proclamation?"

§ 25250 IMMANUEL RESTORES A MALEVOLENT-ENTITY-POSSESSED MAN

5 They crossed the lake to the Gerasenes' territory.

2 As Immanuel disembarked, a man from the graves, possessed by a malevolent entity, approached him.
3-4 This man wandered among abandoned structures, and no one could restrain him anymore, not even with reinforced locks. Often, they had cuffed him hand and foot, but he shattered the restraints and snapped the security devices on his ankles. No one had the strength to hold him down.

5 Day and night, he wailed and cut himself with stones among the graves and mountains.
6-7 Seeing Immanuel from afar, he ran and knelt before him, shouting, "Immanuel, Heir of the Highest, the Preeminent Sovereign, what do you want with me? I implore you not to afflict me in the name of Preeminent Sovereign!"
8 Immanuel commanded, "Depart from this man!"
9 Immanuel asked, "What is your name?" He replied, "Legion, for we are many."
10 He begged Immanuel not to expel them from the region.
11 Nearby, many pigs were grazing on a hill.
12 The malevolent entities pleaded, "Let us enter the swine."
13 Immanuel permitted them, and they entered the pigs. The herd, about two thousand, rushed down a steep slope into the water and drowned.

14 The pig caretakers fled, spreading the news in rural and urban areas. People came to see what had happened.
15 They saw the man who had been possessed, now sane and clothed and was afraid.
16 Witnesses explained the man's transformation and the incident with the swine.
17 The people began to implore Immanuel to leave their region.
18 As Immanuel boarded the boat, the man previously possessed asked to go with him.

19 Immanuel refused and instructed him, "Return to your family and tell them what the Sovereign Captain has done for you and his compassion."
20 The man went to the Decapolis, proclaiming Immanuel's deeds, leaving everyone astonished.

§ 25260 IMMANUEL RAISES A DEAD GIRL AND HEALS A SICK FEMALE HUMAN

21 Once Immanuel crossed the lake by boat, a crowd gathered around him at the water's edge.
22 Jairus, a communal place official, arrived and, upon seeing Immanuel, fell at his feet.
23 He pleaded, "My little child is dying. Please come and lay your hands on her so she can be healed and live."
24 Immanuel and a thronging crowd went with him.
25 A woman who had suffered from continuous bleeding for twelve years was there.
26 Despite spending all of her money and suffering under numerous doctors, her condition continued to deteriorate.
27 Hearing about Immanuel, she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his garment.
28 She believed that touching his clothes would heal her.
29 Her bleeding stopped right away, and she experienced a physical release from her pain.
30 Immanuel sensed power leaving him and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"
31 His pathseekers said, "You see the crowd pressing against you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'"
32 Immanuel looked around to see who had done it.

33 The woman, knowing what had happened to her, came forward trembling with fear and told Him the truth.
34 He said, "Your trust has healed you. Go in peace and be freed from your suffering."
35 While he was speaking, people from Jairus' house arrived and said, "Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher anymore?"
36 Ignoring them, Immanuel told Jairus, "Don't be afraid; just trust."
37 He allowed only Peter, James, and John, James' brother, to follow him.
38 At Jairus' house, he saw a commotion with people crying loudly.
39 He entered and said, "Why all this commotion and wailing? The child is not dead but asleep."
40 They laughed at him. After putting them all outside, he took the child's father, mother, and pathfinders into the room where the child was.
41 Taking her hand, he said, "Talitha koum!" (which means "Little girl, I say to you, get up!").
42 Immediately, she stood up and began to walk around; she was twelve years old. They were completely astonished.
43 He urged them to serve the girl something to eat and gave stern instructions not to tell anyone about this.

§ 25270 AN ETERNALLY WISE SERVANT WITHOUT HONOR

6 Immanuel returned to his hometown, accompanied by his pathseekers.
2 On the Day of Rest, he taught in the communal place, astonishing many. They asked, “Where did he get such insights? What is the source of this profound understanding? How is he performing these extraordinary, marvelous works?”
3 “Isn’t he a craftsman? Isn’t he Mary’s son and the brother of James, Joseph, Judas, and Simon? Don’t his sisters live here?” They were upset with him.

4 Immanuel said, “A Preeminent Sovereign spokesperson is respected everywhere except in his hometown, among his relatives, and in his household.”
5 He couldn’t perform many marvelous works there except for healing a few ill individuals by touching them.
6 Their disbelief took Immanuel aback. He traveled from one town to another, teaching.

§ 25280 IMMANUEL SENDS OUT THE TWELVE

7 Immanuel called his twelve pathseekers and sent them out in pairs, empowering them over malevolent entities.
8 He instructed, “Take only a walking stick—no bread, no bag, and no coins in your belts.
9 Wear sandals, but do not take an extra tunic.”
10 “Stay in the same house until you leave that city.”
11 “If a place does not welcome you or listen to you, leave and shake the dust off your feet as a testimony against them.”
12 They proclaimed for people to change their inner-selves and lives.
13 They expelled many malevolent entities and healed many sick individuals by anointing them with oil.

§ 25290 JOHN THE IMMERSER BEHEADED

14 Prime Ruler Herod learned of Immanuel’s growing fame, with rumors suggesting John the Immerser had been resurrected, explaining His extraordinary abilities.
15 Some speculated, “He’s Elijah,” while others believed, “He’s a seer like the ancient eternally wise servants.”
16 Herod declared, “John, whom I beheaded, has been resurrected!”

17 Herod had arrested and imprisoned John due to Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife, whom he had taken.
18 John repeatedly told Herod it was against the directives to marry his brother’s wife.
19 Herodias resented John and wanted him dead but couldn’t achieve it.
20 Herod respected John, recognizing him as authentic and exalted, and despite John’s words perplexing him, he felt drawn to his teachings.

21 The opportunity arose during Herod's birthday feast for esteemed officials, military leaders, and Galilee's prominent figures.
22 Herodias' daughter performed a dance that delighted Herod and his guests. The Prime Ruler offered her anything she desired, promising to fulfill her request.
23 He vowed to grant her any wish, even half his realm.

24 She consulted her mother, who instructed, "Ask for John the Immerser's head."
25 The girl demanded from Herod, "I want John the Immerser's head on a plate."
26 Though troubled, Herod couldn't refuse due to his vows and the guests.

27 He sent an executioner to behead John in prison.
28 The head was brought on a plate to the girl, who gave it to her mother.
29 John's pathseekers retrieved his body and placed it in a grave.

§ 25300 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FIVE THOUSAND

30 The pathseekers reported to Immanuel all they had done and taught.
31 With the constant influx of people, leaving no time to eat, he suggested they retreat to a quiet place to rest.
32 They set off alone to a secluded area.
33 However, many recognized them and ran on foot from all cities, arriving ahead of them.
34 When Immanuel arrived and saw the crowd, he felt deep compassion for them, because they were like people wandering through life without direction. So he began to teach them what they needed to know.
35 As the day waned, his pathseekers noted their remote location and the late hour.
36 "Send the people away to buy food in nearby rural and village areas," they suggested.
37 He replied, "You give them something to eat." They protested that it would cost over six months' wages! "Should we spend that much on bread to feed them?"
38 He asked, "How many loaves do you have? Go and see." They found out and said, "Five loaves and two fish."
39 Immanuel instructed them to have the crowd sit in groups on the green grass.
40 They sat in clusters of fifties and hundreds.
41 Taking the five loaves and two fish, he looked up to the celestial realms, gave thanks, broke the loaves, and gave them to his pathseekers to distribute. He also divided the two fish among them all.
42 everyone ate and was satisfied.
43 The pathseekers collected twelve baskets of leftover bread and fish.
44 Five thousand men had eaten.

§ 25310 IMMANUEL WALKS ON THE WATER

45 Immanuel directed His pathseekers to sail to Bethsaida while he dismissed the crowd.
46 After saying goodbye, he went up a hill to meld his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.
47 As night fell, the boat was in the middle of the lake, and Immanuel was alone on land.
48 Seeing His pathseekers struggling against the wind, Immanuel walked on water towards them just before dawn, appearing as if he would pass by.
49 They saw him and thought he was an apparition, crying out in fear.

50 He immediately reassured them, “Stay calm, it’s me. Do not let fear take hold.”
51 He climbed into the boat, and the wind stopped. They were utterly amazed.
52 They did not understand the significance of the loaves; their minds were closed.
53 They reached Gennesaret and anchored there.
54 The crowd recognized Immanuel as soon as they disembarked.
55 People hurried throughout the region, bringing the sick on pallets to wherever they heard he was.
56 In villages, cities, or rural areas, people brought their sick to public gatherings, imploring him for a chance to touch even a fragment of his garment, and all who did were healed.

§ 25320 THAT WHICH DEFILES

7 Tradition Keepers and Law teachers approached Immanuel from Yerushalayim.
2 They noticed some of His pathseekers eating with unwashed hands.

3 Tradition Keepers and Judeans follow strict hand-washing rituals before eating, per their ancestors’ traditions.
4 After visiting the marketplace, they cleanse themselves before eating and also wash cups, jugs, and pots.
5 The Tradition Keepers and Mosaic Law interpreters questioned Immanuel about why His pathseekers ignored these customs and ate with unhealthy hands.
6 He replied, “Isaiah rightly expressed eternal wisdom about your hypocrisy; as the Living Word says: ‘This person honors me with their lips, but their inner determination is far from me. ’”
7 “‘Their worship is in vain; their teachings are merely human rules. ’”
8 “You have abandoned the directives of the Preeminent Sovereign to hold on to human traditions.”
9 He added, “You skillfully set aside Preeminent Sovereign’s directives to observe your own traditions!”
10 “Honor your parents and mother. Anybody who curses their parents will be executed,” declared Moses.
11 “But you say that if someone tells their parents that what might have been used to help them is Corban (dedicated to Preeminent Sovereign),” 12 “you no longer let them do anything for their parents.”
13 “So, you nullify the word of the Preeminent Sovereign by your tradition that you have handed down. And you do many things like that.”
14 Immanuel called the crowd to him and said, “Pay heed to me, everyone, and understand this.”
15 “It’s not external influences like food or drink that compromise a person, but the harmful attitudes and actions that emerge from within.”
16 “He who has ears to hear, let him hear.”
17 When he entered the house away from the crowd, His pathseekers asked him about the enlightening story.

18 “Are you really that slow of mind?” He enquired. “Are you not seeing that nothing can defile a person that enters them from the outside?”
19 “It doesn’t go into their inner determination but into their stomach and out of the body.” In saying this, Immanuel declared all foods healthy.
20 He went on: “What comes out of a person is what defiles them.”

21 “For it is from within, out of a person’s inner determination, that evil thoughts come—sexual immorality, theft, murder,” 22 “extra-marital affairs, greed, malice, deceit, lewdness, envy, slander, arrogance, and folly.”
23 “All these evils come from inside and defile a person.”

§ 25330 IMMANUEL HONORS A SYRO-PHOENICIAN WOMAN’S TRUST

24 Immanuel traveled to the vicinity of Tyre, seeking solitude in a house but couldn’t remain hidden.
25 Hearing about Immanuel’s presence, a woman whose child was tormented by a malevolent entity immediately bowed before him.
26 She was a Greek from Syrian Phoenicia and earnestly begged Immanuel to expel the malevolent entity from her child.
27 He told her, “It’s not right to take the children’s food and toss it to the dogs.”
28 She replied, “Sir, even the animals that live under the table eat the children’s crumbs,” she retorted.
29 Impressed, he said, “For your response, you may go; the malevolent entity has left your child.”
30 When she returned home, she found her child resting peacefully, free from the malevolent entity.

§ 25340 IMMANUEL HEALS A DEAF AND MUTE MAN

31 Immanuel departed from Tyre, journeyed through Sidon, sailed across the Sea of Galilee, and arrived in the Decapolis.
32 There, people brought a deaf man with severe speech difficulties to him, pleading for Immanuel to lay his hand on him.
33 Immanuel took the man aside from the crowd, placed his fingers in the man’s ears, spat, and touched his tongue.
34 Looking up to the celestial realms, he sighed and said, “Ephphatha!” —meaning “Be opened!”
35 Immediately, the man could hear and speak clearly.
36 Immanuel instructed them not to tell anyone, but the more he insisted, the more they spread the news.
37 People were utterly amazed, saying, “His deeds are outstanding. He allows the silent to speak and people who are deaf or hard of hearing to hear.

§ 25350 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FOUR THOUSAND

8 Meanwhile, a large crowd gathered again. Seeing they had no food, Immanuel called His pathseekers and said,
2 “I feel deep compassion for these people; they’ve been with me for three days and have nothing to eat.”
3 “If I send them away hungry, they might collapse on the way because some have come from far away.”

4 His pathseekers asked, “Where can we get enough bread to feed them in this remote place?”
5 Immanuel asked how many loaves they had. They replied, “Seven.”

6 He told the assembly to sit on the ground. After giving gratitude and taking the seven loaves, he broke them. He delivered them to his pathseekers, who distributed them to the people.
7 They also had a few small fish; he thanked them and told the pathseekers to distribute them.
8 The people ate and were satisfied. Afterward, the pathseekers collected seven baskets of leftover pieces.
9 About four thousand were present. After sending them away,
10 he immediately got into a boat with His pathseekers and went to the region of Dalmanutha.
11 The Tradition Keepers came and began to argue with Immanuel, seeking a sign from the celestial realms to test him.
12 Sighing deeply, he said, “Why does this generation ask for a sign? Truly, none will be given.”
13 Then he left them, got back into the boat, and crossed to the other side.

§ 25360 THE YEAST OF THE TRADITION KEEPERS AND HEROD

14 The pathseekers had only one loaf of bread on the ship with them.
15 “Stay cautious,” Immanuel advised. “Beware of the leaven of the Tradition Keepers and Herod.”
16 They discussed among themselves, concluding, “It’s because we lack bread.”
17 Immanuel noticed their discussion: “Why focus on the lack of bread? Haven’t you understood yet? Is your inner-self still thick-headed?”
18 “Seeing but not observing, hearing but not listening, can’t you recall?”
19 “When I divided five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets of leftovers did you gather?” They answered, “Twelve.”

20 “How many baskets of fragments did you gather when I split seven loaves among four thousand?” They replied, “Seven.”
21 He asked, “Haven’t you grasped it yet?”

§ 25370 IMMANUEL HEALS A BLIND MAN AT BETHSAIDA

22 Arriving at Bethsaida, individuals guided a sightless man to Immanuel, pleading for him to lay his hands on the man.
23 Grasping the sightless man’s hand, Immanuel guided him beyond the outskirts of the town. After moistening the man’s eyes with his saliva and laying his hands on him, Immanuel asked, “Can you discern anything?”
24 Glancing upward, he expressed, “I perceive individuals; they resemble strolling trees.”
25 Immanuel touched the man’s eyes again, and his vision was cleared, fully recovering his sight, allowing him to perceive all things distinctly.
26 Immanuel dispatched him to his dwelling, instructing him not to enter the town.

§ 25380 PETER DECLARES THAT IMMANUEL IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

27 Immanuel and His pathseekers traveled towards the towns near Caesarea Philippi. During their journey, He asked them, “What are people’s opinions about who I am?”
28 They replied, “Some trust you are John the Immerser; others speculate Elijah; yet others think you are one of the historical eternally wise servants.”
29 Then He inquired, “What’s your perspective? Who do you consider me to be?” Peter responded, “You are indeed the Sovereign One.”
30 Immanuel sternly instructed them to avoid revealing anything about Him to others.

§ 25390 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH

31 Immanuel began by telling them that the Heir of Humanity must endure many hardships, face rejection from the elders, the high priest, and Mosaic Law instructors, be sentenced to death, and rise again after three days.
32 He spoke plainly, prompting Peter to take him aside and criticize him.
33 Turning to his pathseekers, Immanuel rebuked Peter, “Retreat from my presence, Adversary! Your thoughts don’t align with the Preeminent Sovereign’s intentions but are focused on worldly matters.”
34 He called the crowd and his pathseekers, saying: “Anyone who desires to be my pathseeker must reject their desires, bear their cross, and follow my path.”
35 “Anyone who desires to preserve their existence will forfeit it. Yet, those who lose their existence for my cause and the joyous developments will secure it.”
36 “What’s the benefit for an individual to acquire the entirety of the world but surrender their essence in the process?”
37 “What could one offer as compensation for their own life?”
38 “If any individual feels embarrassed about me and my path in this disloyal and counterfeit era, the Heir of Humanity will also feel ashamed of them upon His arrival in the splendor of His Life-Giver, accompanied by exalted Celestial Envoys.”

9 He affirmed that some here won’t experience mortality before they witness the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality arriving in full force.

§ 25400 THE CELESTIAL TRANSFORMATION

2 After six days, Immanuel took Peter, James, and John up a high mountain in solitude. There, Immanuel’s appearance changed dramatically before them.
3 His clothes became dazzling white, brighter than any earthly launderer could achieve.
4 Elijah and Moses appeared, conversing with Immanuel.

5 Peter told Immanuel, “Teacher, it’s good for us to be here. Let’s set up three sanctuaries: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”
6 He was overwhelmed with fear and didn’t know what to say.

7 A cloud then enveloped them, and a voice from the cloud declared, “This is my Esteemed child. Listen to him!”
8 Suddenly, they looked around and saw only Immanuel with them.
9 As they descended the mountain, Immanuel instructed them not to tell anyone about what they had seen until the Heir of Humanity had risen from the dead.
10 They kept this to themselves, pondering what “rising from the dead” meant.

11 They asked why the interpreters of Mosaic Law said Elijah must come first.
12 Immanuel replied, “Elijah comes first to restore everything. But why is it written that the Heir of Humanity must suffer and be rejected?”
13 “Elijah has indeed arrived, and they treated him however they pleased, just as it is written.”

§ 25410 IMMANUEL HEALS A BOY POSSESSED BY A MALEVOLENT ENTITY

14 Returning to the remaining pathseekers, they found a large crowd of interpreters of Mosaic Law debating with them.
15 When the crowd saw Immanuel, they were awestruck and rushed to greet him.
16 “What are you arguing about?” he asked.
17 A man from the crowd answered, “Teacher, I brought my son to you. A malevolent, intangible entity possesses him and renders him mute.

18 It throws him to the ground whenever it seizes him. He becomes rigid, grinds his teeth, and foams at the mouth. I requested that your pathseekers remove it, but they could not do so.
19 Immanuel replied, “O deceptive people, how long must I stay with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring the boy to me.”
20 As soon as the malevolent entity saw Immanuel, it convulsed the boy. He collapsed on the ground, convulsing and spitting foam.
21 Immanuel asked the boy’s father, “How long has he been like this?” “Since childhood,” he answered.
22 “It has frequently killed him by throwing him into the lake or fire. However, please aid us and show us some compassion if you can.”
23 “If you can?” said Immanuel. “Everything is possible for one who trusts.”
24 The boy’s father immediately cried, “I have confidence; please help me transcend my lack of trust!”
25 Seeing the crowd running to the scene, Immanuel rebuked the malevolent entity. “You deaf and mute entity,” he said, “I command you to come out of him and never enter him again.”
26 The apparition screamed, gave him a severe convulsion, and emerged. The boy’s appearance was so eerie that many assumed he had passed away.
27 But Immanuel took him by the hand and lifted him to his feet, and he stood up.
28 After Immanuel had gone indoors, his pathseekers asked him privately, “Why couldn’t we drive it out?”
29 He replied, “This kind can come out only by melding his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 25420 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH A SECOND TIME

30 Departing from that location, they journeyed through Galilee. Immanuel wished to keep their whereabouts a secret.

31 He was imparting knowledge to His pathseekers, informing them that the Heir of Humanity would be surrendered to the power of others. “They will end his life, yet he will be resurrected after a trio of days.”
32 They failed to grasp his statement and felt apprehensive about inquiring further.

§ 25430 WHO IS THE GREATEST?

33 On their arrival in Capernaum and while residing in a household, he asked about the topic of their dispute during their journey.
34 They remained silent while debating who was superior during their trip.
35 Immanuel, while seated, summoned the Twelve and proclaimed, “The one aiming to be excellent should place himself at the very end and act as everyone’s aide.”
36 He brought a small child and sat amidst them. As he cradled the child in his embrace, he addressed them.
37 “everyone who receives each one of these tiny children in My honor receives Me, and whoever greets Me greets not only Me but also the One who sends Me.”

§ 25440 WHOEVER IS NOT AGAINST US IS FOR US

38 John informed the Teacher, “We saw someone expelling malevolent entities using your authority. We tried to stop him because he wasn’t part of our group.”
39 Immanuel replied, “Do not interfere with him. Anyone performing wonders in my name won’t quickly speak ill of me.”
40 “Anyone not opposing us is with us.”
41 “I assure you, anyone who gives you a drink of water in my name, as you are pathseekers of the Chosen Redeemer, will be rewarded.”

§ 25450 CAUSING TO STUMBLE

42 “Anyone who misleads one of these young pathseekers would be better off with a hefty stone tied around their body and tossed into the sea.
43 If your hand tempts you, sever it. It’s better to live handicapped than face eternal damnation with all limbs intact.
44 In that place, the worm never dies, and the fire never ceases.
45 If your foot leads you astray, cut it off. It’s preferable to live disabled than to be cast into the inferno with both feet.
46 The worm never dies there, and the fire is eternal.
47 If your eye causes you to transgress, it’s better to enter the Celestial Sovereignty partially sighted than to be cast into the inferno with perfect vision.

48 The maggots never die there, and the flames are perpetual.
49 everyone will be purified through fire.
50 "Your influence matters, but if you lose your impact, how can you regain it? Keep your distinctiveness and foster harmony within your community."

§ 25460 DIVORCE

10 After leaving the previous location, Immanuel traveled to Judea and beyond the Jordan River. Crowds gathered around him, and he began teaching them, as was his custom.
2 Tradition Keepers approached to test him, asking if it was lawful for a man to divorce his wife.
3 He replied, “What did Moses command you?”
4 “Moses permitted a man to draft a divorce decree and send her away,” they declared.
5 Immanuel answered, “Moses wrote this Law because of the stubbornness of your inner-selves.

6 The Preeminent Sovereign made them male and female from the beginning of creation.
7 A man shall leave his father and mother and be united with his wife.
8 The two shall become one flesh. They are no longer two but one.
9 Therefore, what the Preeminent Sovereign has joined together, let no one separate.”
10 Back at the house, the pathseekers asked Immanuel about this again.
11 He said, “Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits infidelity against her.
12 Additionally, a woman has an extramarital affair if she marries a man after divorcing her husband.

§ 25470 THE LITTLE CHILDREN AND IMMANUEL

13 Individuals brought their young ones to Immanuel, seeking his touch, but the adult pathseekers rebuked them.
14 Observing this, Immanuel showed displeasure and declared, “Let the young ones come to me; do not hinder them, for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality belongs to such as these.”
15 “Truly, anyone who does not receive the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality like a child will never enter it.”
16 Embracing the little ones, he touched them and invoked empowerment.

§ 25480 THE RICH AND THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

17 As Immanuel began his journey, a man approached, knelt, and asked, “Good Sovereign Captain, what must I do to achieve Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign?”

18 Immanuel replied, “Why call me good? Only the Preeminent Sovereign is excellent.”
19 “You know the principles: • Do not murder.
• Do not be disloyal in marriage.
• Do not steal.
• Do not falsely accuse.

• Do not deceive.
• Honor your father and mother.”

20 “Sovereign Captain,” he said, “I have observed all these from my youth.”
21 Immanuel looked affectionately at him, saying, “One thing you lack. Sell all you have, give to needy people, and gather Celestial wealth. Then, follow me.”
22 The man’s face fell. He left sorrowful, for he had great wealth.
23 Immanuel observed His pathseekers and disclosed how hard it is for the affluent to enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
24 His words astonished his pathseekers. Immanuel reiterated, “Little ones, it’s exceedingly challenging to enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality!
25 It is harder for a wealthy person to enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality than for a camel to pass through a needle.”
26 The pathseekers were astounded, asking, “Who then can be redeemed?”
27 Immanuel said, “For humans, it’s impossible, but not for the Preeminent Sovereign; everything is possible for Him.”

28 Peter said, “We have left everything to follow you.”
29 Immanuel affirmed, “No one who has left family or property for My cause and the Preeminent Sovereign’s message has done so in vain.
30 In this era, they will receive what they left behind: homes, siblings, mothers, children, and lands—with trials—but eternal life in the coming age.
31 Many who are first will be last, and the last will be first.”

§ 25490 IMMANUEL AGAIN PREDICTS HIS DEMISE

32 As they journeyed to Yerushalayim, Immanuel led while His pathseekers were astonished and those behind were fearful. He took aside the Twelve and explained what would happen to him.
33 He declared they were going to Yerushalayim, where the high priests and Mosaic Law interpreters would betray the Heir of Humanity. They would sentence him to death and hand him over to outsiders.
34 He would be mocked, spat on, tortured, and killed but would rise after three days.

§ 25500 THE REQUEST OF JAMES AND JOHN

35 James and John, sons of Zebedee, approached him with a request. “Sovereign Captain,” they said, “we want you to do whatever we ask for us.”
36 “What do you want me to do for you?” he asked.
37 They replied, “Let one of us sit at your right and the other at your left in your acclaim.”
38 Immanuel said, “You don’t know what you are asking. Can you drink My cup or endure the ordeal I am confronting?”
39 “We can,” they answered. Immanuel told them, “Truly you will drink from My cup and share My death and rebirth by water immersion.”

40 However, I don’t provide permission to sit to the left or right of me. These locations are reserved for the people for those they have been intended.
41 When the ten heard this, they became indignant with James and John.
42 Immanuel called them together and said, “Those who are regarded as Prime Rulers of the Outsiders supervise them, and their high officials exercise authority over them.”

43 “Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant.”
44 “And whoever wants to be first must be the servant of all.”
45 “Because even the Heir of Humanity came to serve and give his entire existence as a ransom for many, rather than to be served.”

§ 25510 BLIND BARTIMAEUS RECEIVES HIS SIGHT

46 Arriving in Jericho, Immanuel, His pathseekers, and a substantial multitude exited the town. They encountered a visually impaired man, Bartimaeus (Timaeus’ male heir), positioned by the road soliciting donations.
47 On realizing it was Immanuel of Nazareth, he began to voice loudly, “Immanuel, Descendant of David, grant your compassion on me!”
48 Numerous individuals chastised him, instructing him to silence himself. However, his pleas for mercy directed towards the Heir of David became increasingly loud.
49 Immanuel halted and commanded, “Summon him.” So, they beckoned to the man deprived of sight: “Don’t worry! Stand up! He’s summoning you.”
50 He discarded his coat, stood up, and approached Immanuel.
51 Immanuel inquired, “What do you desire me to perform for you?” The visually impaired man responded, “Sovereign Captain, I want to regain my vision.”
52 Immanuel stated, “Your trust has been restored.” At once, he regained his vision and accompanied Immanuel on the journey.

§ 25520 IMMANUEL COMES TO YERUSHALAYIM AS A PRIME RULER

11 Nearing Yerushalayim, at Bethphage and Bethany by the Olive Mount,
2 Immanuel instructed, “Go to the village ahead. As you enter, you’ll find a tethered colt, never ridden. Untie it and bring it here.”
3 If questioned, say, ‘The Sovereign Captain needs it and will return it soon. ’
4 They found the colt tied outside a doorway and untied it.
5 Bystanders asked, “Why are you untying the colt?”
6 They answered as Immanuel had told them and were allowed to proceed.
7 They brought the colt to Immanuel, placed their garments on it, and he sat on it.
8 Many spread their garments on the road; others scattered branches from the fields.
9 Those ahead and behind shouted, “Hail! Fortunate is the one who comes in the name of Preeminent Sovereign!”
10 “Fortunate is the coming realm of our ancestor David! All acclaim to the one who comes in the name of the Sovereign Captain!”
11 Immanuel entered Yerushalayim, went into the fortress precincts, surveyed everything, and, as it was late, left for Bethany with the Twelve.

§ 25530 IMMANUEL CURSES A FIG TREE AND CLEARS THE FORTRESS COURTS

12 The next day, leaving Bethany, Immanuel felt hungry.
13 He saw a leafy fig tree from afar and went to see if it had any fruit. Finding only leaves, as it was not fig season, 14 Immanuel declared, “May no one ever eat your fruit again.” His pathseekers heard this.

15 Upon arriving in Yerushalayim, Immanuel entered the fortress precincts and began driving out those trading there. He overturned the money changers’ tables and the seats of those selling pigeons.
16 Immanuel did not allow anyone to carry goods through the fortress precincts.
17 He taught them, “Is it not written, ‘My fortress will be called a place for all races to meld their consciences with the Preeminent Sovereign’? But you have made it a den of thieves.”

18 Hearing this, the high priest and interpreters of Mosaic Law sought a way to kill him, fearing him because the crowd was amazed by his directives.
19 Immanuel and His pathseekers left the city at dusk.

§ 25540 THE WITHERED FIG TREE

20 The next morning, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots.
21 Remembering, Peter told Immanuel, “Teacher, look! The fig tree you cursed has withered!”
22 Immanuel replied, “Have trust in Preeminent Sovereign.”
23 “It really will be done for them if someone says to this mountain, ‘Be thrown into the sea, ’ and does not doubt in their inner-self but trusts what they say will happen.”
24 “Therefore, I tell you, whatever you ask for when melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, trust that you have received it, and it will be yours.”
25 “And when you are melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, if you hold anything against anyone, forgive them so your Celestial Life-Giver may forgive your wrongdoings.”
26 “If you refuse to forgive, your life—in the celestial realm—will not absolve your mistakes.”

§ 25550 THE AUTHORITY OF IMMANUEL QUESTIONED

27 Once in Yerushalayim, as Immanuel roamed the fortress, religious authorities, Mosaic Law instructors, and senior leaders approached him.
28 They asked, “What gives you the right to perform these actions, and who granted you this authority?”
29 Immanuel replied, “I have a question for you. Answer it, and I will disclose my authority.”
30 “Did John’s immersion come from the celestial realm or human ingenuity? Answer me.”
31 They debated: “If we say from the celestial realm, he’ll ask, ‘Why didn’t you trust him?’”

32 “But if we say from earthly sources. . .” (They feared the crowd, who believed John was an eternally wise servant.)
33 They told Immanuel they didn’t know. Immanuel responded, “Then I won’t reveal my authority either.”

§ 25560 THE MISUSE OF ENTRUSTED RESOURCES

12 Immanuel shared this story: “Imagine a business leader who revitalized a neglected urban plaza. They built a thriving marketplace, established boundaries, and set up a management team. Then, they moved on to another city.”
2 “When it was time to review the returns, they sent a representative to collect what was owed.”
3 “But the managers assaulted the representative and sent them away empty-handed.”
4 “So, the leader sent another representative. This one they insulted and beat before sending them away.”
5 “Still, the leader sent another, and they attacked that one as well, even injuring them severely. They did the same to many others—some they harmed, and others they killed.”
6 “Finally, the leader decided to send their own child, thinking, ‘Surely, they’ll respect my child.’”
7 “But the managers conspired, saying, ‘This is the heir! If we get rid of them, the plaza will be ours!’”
8 “So they seized the child, killed them, and threw them out of the community.”
9 Immanuel asked, “What do you think the plaza owner will do? They’ll return, hold those managers accountable, and give the plaza to others who’ll honor the vision.”
10 “Haven’t you read this in the Sovereign Architect’s blueprint? ‘The cornerstone rejected by the builders has become the foundation of the entire structure.
11 This was planned,
12 and it’s an amazing outcome.’”

The city’s power brokers realized Immanuel was exposing their corruption with this story. They wanted to arrest him but feared the crowd, who saw him as a prophetic voice. So they left him and withdrew.

§ 25570 PAYING THE FEDERAL TAX TO CAESAR

13 Tradition Keepers and Herodians were sent to Immanuel to trap him with his words.
14 They said, “Teacher, we know you are authentic and impartial, teaching the Preeminent Sovereign’s ways sincerely. Is it lawful to pay Caesar the governance tax?”
15 “Should we pay or not?” Immanuel, aware of their trickery, asked, “Why test me? Show me a silver coin (3.9 grams).”
16 They brought the coin, and he asked, “Whose image is this?” They replied, “Caesar’s.”
17 Immanuel then said, “Give to the Prime Ruler what is the Prime Ruler’s, and to the Preeminent Sovereign what is the Preeminent Sovereign’s.” They were amazed by his answer.

§ 25580 MARRIAGE AT THE RETURN FROM DEATH

18 Afterlife Denialists, who reject the return from death, questioned him.

19 They said, “Teacher Moses wrote that if a man’s brother dies leaving his wife childless, the man must marry the widow and have children for his brother.”

20 “There were seven brothers; the first married and died without children.
21 The second married the widow and also died childless. The same happened to the third.
22 None of the seven left children. Finally, the woman died, too.
23 Since all seven men married her, whose wife will she be at the return from death?
24 “Aren’t you mistaken because you do not know the Living Path or the power of the Preeminent Sovereign?” said Immanuel to them
25 They will not marry or be given in marriage when the dead rise. Rather, they will resemble the Celestial Envoys in paradise.
26-27 Regarding the return from death, have you not read in the Codex of Moses about the flaming emanation where the Preeminent Sovereign said, ‘I am the Eternal Reality of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob’? He is not the Eternal Reality of the dead but of the living. You are greatly deceived!”

§ 25590 THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT

28 Impressed by Immanuel’s responses, an expert in the Mosaic Law asked, “Which directive is the most significant?”

29 Immanuel replied, “The foremost directive is: ‘Listen, Israel: Our Sovereign Captain, the exclusively Sovereign Captain, is undivided. ’ 30 Adore your Innovator with all your inner-self, intellect, and empowerment.”

31 “The second is: ‘Cherish your neighbor as yourself. ’ No directive is more substantial than these.”
32 The scholar affirmed, “You’ve correctly stated that there is but one Preeminent Sovereign and no other exists besides Him.
33 Cherishing Him with your entirety and loving your neighbor as yourself is greater than any scorched absolving payments and absolving acts.”
34 Immanuel, seeing his insight, said, “You’re on the verge of entering the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.” From then on, no one dared to question him further.

§ 25600 WHOSE HEIR IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER?

35 As Immanuel was teaching in the fortress area, he questioned, “How can the interpreters of Mosaic Law assert that the Chosen Redeemer is a descendant of David?”
36 Guided by the exalted Eternal Spark, David declared: “The Sovereign Captain commanded My Sovereign Captain, saying, ‘You will sit at my dominant hand until I turn your foes into your footrest. ’” 37 “David calls him ‘Sovereign Captain. ’ How, then, can he be his descendant?” The majority of the people delighted in his words.

§ 25610 WARNING AGAINST THE TEACHERS OF THE MANDATE

38 During his teachings, Immanuel cautioned against the interpreters of the Mosaic Law, who enjoy flaunting their extravagant garments and relish deferential greetings in public.

39 “They seek prominent positions in meeting houses and esteemed spots at feasts.”
40 “They exploit widows’ homes and make a show of lengthy prayers. Such individuals will face the harshest punishment.”

§ 25620 THE WIDOW’S OFFERING

41 Immanuel observed people giving donations at the fortress treasury. Many wealthy individuals gave large amounts.
42 A poor widow offered two small copper coins worth only a few pennies.
43 Immanuel called His pathseekers, saying, “This poor widow has given more than all the others.”
44 “They gave out of their wealth, but she, out of her poverty, gave everything she had to live on.”

§ 25630 THE DESTRUCTION OF THE FORTRESS AND SIGNS OF THE EARTH'S FINAL DAY

13 As Immanuel departed from the fortress, one of His pathseekers remarked, “Observe, Teacher! Such gigantic stones! Such splendid architecture!”
2 Immanuel responded, “Do you observe these enormous structures? There won’t be a single stone left on another here; all will be demolished.”
3 When Immanuel was perched on the Mount of Olives with a view facing the fortress, Peter, James, John, and Andrew approached Him for a private inquiry.
4 “Enlighten us: when are these events likely to occur? Also, what will signify their impending completion?”
5 Immanuel cautioned them to be vigilant and not be misled by anyone.
6 Numerous individuals will come, using My name, alleging ‘I am the One, ’ and they will mislead many people.
7 Don’t be frightened to hear about conflicts and reports of impending strife. These incidents are meant to occur. However, it isn’t the finale just yet.
8 One realm will stand against another, and one dominion will battle another. There will be tremors in a variety of locations and periods of hunger. These are the early indicators of coming distress.

9 Be cautious and vigilant. You will be delivered to local tribunals and chastised in places of express adoration due to your devotion to me. You will present your testimony before rulers and heads of state.
10 The joyous developments must be announced to all countries.
11 When apprehended and taken to court, avoid stressing out what you will communicate. Speak whatever is prompted to you now, for it’s not you conveying the message, but the Eternal Spark.
12 Siblings will turn against each other, leading to death, and a father will betray his child. Offsprings will rise in defiance against their parents, resulting in their execution.
13 All people will detest you due to your association with me. However, the individual who perseveres unwaveringly to the last will be delivered.
14 Once you witness ‘the desolating profanity’ positioned where it should not be— those reading, take heed—then those residing in Judea should escape to the hills.

15 People atop their dwelling must avoid descending and entering the abode to retrieve possessions.
16 A person working in the field should not return to retrieve their coat.
17 It will be a horrible time for women who are expecting and breastfeeding during those days.
18 Hope it doesn't happen in the cold season.
19 For those will be times of unparalleled agony, unmatched from Inception, when the Preeminent Sovereign laid the Earth's foundations, till the present, and will certainly not be rivaled ever after.
20 Nobody will endure if the Sovereign Captain doesn't shorten the calamity. Yet, in favor of His chosen ones, He will diminish its duration.
21 Should anyone tell you, 'Observe, the Chosen Redeemer is here!' Or, 'See, there He goes!' do not let it sway you.

21-22 Deceptive saviors and counterfeit prophets will emerge, showcasing marvelous works and wonders to mislead and attempt to trap the chosen of the Preeminent Sovereign if such a thing were possible.
23 Be vigilant; I've forewarned you about all possible events.
24 After the days of that torment, the sun's light will become obscurity, and the moon will withhold its radiance.
25 The universe's stars will plummet, and celestial entities will tremble.
26 During that period, individuals will witness the Heir of Humanity arriving in the clouds, emanating tremendous might and magnificence.
27 He will dispatch his Celestial Envoys to assemble his chosen ones from all directions, from the most remote parts of the land to the most remote parts of the celestial realms.
28 Understand this analogy drawn from the fig tree: as its branches soften and leaves sprout, you realize the warm season is approaching.
29 Similarly, when witnessing these occurrences, you understand that it is imminent, practically at the entrance.
30 I assure you, the people in this era won't cease to exist until everything I've mentioned transpires.
31 The cosmos and the terrestrial sphere may perish, but these utterances of mine will endure eternally."

§ 25640 THE DAY AND HOUR UNKNOWN

32 Regarding that day or time, it remains a mystery to everyone, including the Celestial Envoys in the celestial realm and even the Heir, with knowledge residing solely with the Life-Giver.
33 "Stay vigilant! Remain on watch! The exact moment is unknown to you."
34 "It can be compared to a man departing on vacation; he assigns his coworkers to take care of his home, each having a specific task, and instructs the guard at the entrance to remain vigilant."

35 "Maintain your vigilance since you can't predict when the householder will return. It could be in the late hours of the evening, at the stroke of midnight, or the crowing of the rooster, or even at first light."
36 "Ensure you aren't found sleeping during his unexpected arrival."
37 "My message to you all is: 'Stay alert!'"

§ 25650 IMMANUEL ENSOVEREIGNED AT BETHANY

14 As the Emancipation Feast and the Feast of Unleavened Bread neared, the leading priests and Mosaic Law interpreters plotted to apprehend Immanuel and cause his death.
2 They decided it must not happen during the feast to avoid public unrest.

3 While in Bethany, a woman came to Simon the Leper's house with an alabaster jar of pure nard perfume. She broke the jar and poured it on Immanuel's head.
4 Some present were indignant, questioning why the perfume was wasted.
5 They chastised her, saying, "The perfume might have been sold for more than a year's wages and the cash given to the poor."

6 Immanuel responded, "Why are you bothering her? Leave her alone. She has done a beautiful thing for Me.
7 The poor will always be with you, and you can help them anytime, but you will not always have Me.
8 She made an effort to prepare my body for burial by applying perfume to it beforehand.
9 Her act will be remembered wherever these positive developments are proclaimed."

10 One of the Twelve, Judas Iscariot, went to the high priests to betray Immanuel.
11 They were delighted and promised him money. So, he began looking for an opportunity to hand him over.

§ 25660 THE LAST MEAL

12 Immanuel's pathfinders inquired, "Where should we prepare for you to celebrate the Emancipation Feast?" The lamb for the Emancipation Feast was customarily offered at the beginning of the Feast of Unleavened Bread.
13 He sent two of them with these instructions: "Go into the city, and a man carrying a water jar will meet you. Follow him."
14 "Tell the homeowner he enters, 'The instructor asks: Where is the guest room where I can eat the Emancipation Feast with My pathseekers?'"
15 "He will show you a large upper room, furnished and ready. Prepare for us there."
16 The pathseekers entered the city and found everything, as Immanuel said. They prepared for the Emancipation Feast.
17 Immanuel arrived with the Twelve as evening came.
18 While they were eating, he said, "One of you will betray me, one who is eating with me."
19 Distressed, they asked him one by one, "Surely not I?"
20 He replied, "It is one of the Twelve, one who dips bread into the bowl with me."
21 "His story will unfold just as it is written about the Heir of Humanity. But, anyone betrays the Heir of Humanity, woe is him! He would benefit more from not having been born.

22 While they were eating, Immanuel took bread, gave thanks, broke it, and gave it to his pathseekers, saying, "Take it; this is my body."
23 Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it.
24 "This is My blood of the voluntary contract, which is poured out for many," he said to them.
25 "I tell you with ultimate authenticity, I will not drink again from the vine's inner fruit until I drink it anew in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality."

[26] After singing a hymn, they went to Olive Mountain.

§ 25670 IMMANUEL PREDICTS PETER'S DENIAL

[27] Immanuel warned, "You will all abandon me, as foretold: 'I will strike the inner shield, and the protected community will scatter. '"
[28] "After my return from death, I will go ahead of you to Galilee."
[29] Peter insisted, "Even if everyone else loses their trust, I won't."
[30] "Tonight, before the chicken crows twice, you will deny me three times," Immanuel retorted.
[31] Peter declared, "Even if I must die with you, I will never renounce you." The others echoed his words.

§ 25680 GETHSEMANE

[32] They arrived at Gethsemane, where Immanuel instructed His pathseekers, "Stay here as I meld my conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign."
[33] With Peter, James, and John, he began to feel profound distress and agitation.
[34] "I am deeply grieved, almost to death," he said, urging them to stay and keep watch.

[35] Moving a short distance away, he collapsed, imploring that the impending ordeal might pass if possible.
[36] He melded his conscience with the Eternal Reality, "Dearest Life-Giver, you can do everything. Please take this burden from me. Yet, let your will, not mine, be done."
[37] Returning, he found His pathseekers asleep. Addressing Peter, he asked, "Couldn't you keep watch for one hour?"
[38] "Stay vigilant and intervene to avoid temptation. The inner-self is willing, but the body is weak."
[39] He withdrew again and repeated his intervention.
[40] Returning, he found them asleep once more, their eyes heavy. They had no words for him.
[41] Returning a third time, he said, "Still sleeping and resting? Enough! The time has come. Pay Heed! The Heir of Humanity is handed over to those who commit unworthy choices."
[42] "Rise! Let us go! My betrayer is approaching!"

§ 25690 IMMANUEL ARRESTED

[43] During his discourse, a crowd armed with tactical blades and batons, sent by the chief priest, Mosaic Law teachers, and religious elders, arrived with Judas, one of the esteemed Twelve.
[44] Judas had arranged a signal: "The man I greet with a kiss is He; seize him and ensure his secure departure under surveillance."
[45] Approaching Immanuel, Judas exclaimed, "Teacher!" and kissed him.
[46] Immanuel was then seized and taken into custody.
[47] A nearby individual drew his weapon and struck the high priest's coworker, severing his ear.

[48] "Am I leading a rebellion," Immanuel asked, "that you come with weapons to capture me?
[49] I was with you daily, teaching in the fortress grounds, yet you did not arrest me. But the fulfillment of the Living Word is inevitable."
[50] All His pathseekers abandoned him and fled.

51 A young man, wearing only a linen sheet, followed Immanuel. They seized him, 52 but he escaped naked, leaving his garment behind.

§ 25700 IMMANUEL BEFORE THE HIGHEST COUNCIL

53 Immanuel was brought before the chief priest, where all high priests, religious elders, and interpreters of Mosaic Law were gathered.
54 Peter followed at a distance into the chief priest's courtyard, finding a spot among the guards and warming himself by the fire.
55 The chief priest and the council sought evidence to execute Immanuel but found none.
56 Many gave false testimony, but their statements did not agree.
57-58 Some falsely claimed, "He said, 'I will destroy this human-made fortress and, in three days, build another not made by human hands. '"
59 Yet even their testimonies were inconsistent.

60 The chief priest stood up and questioned Immanuel, "Do you not have a response? What do you say about these accusations?"

61 Immanuel remained silent. The chief priest asked again, "Are you the Ensovereigned One, the male heir of the Glorious Preeminent Sovereign?"
62 Immanuel replied, "I am. And you will see the Heir of Humanity seated at the dominant hand of the Eternal Reality, coming on the celestial clouds."

63 The chief priest tore his clothes and asked, "Why do we need more testifiers?
64 You have heard His blasphemy. What is your decision?" They all condemned Him as deserving death.
65 Some began to spit on Him, blindfolded Him, struck Him with their fists, and demanded, "Prophesy!" The guards took Him and beat Him.

§ 25710 PETER DISOWNS IMMANUEL

66 In the courtyard, a personal assistant of the high priest noticed Peter warming himself and scrutinized him.
67 She remarked, "You were with that man from Nazareth, Immanuel."
68 Peter denied it, claiming ignorance and misunderstanding before leaving the entrance.
69 The assistant saw him again and told the bystanders, "This man is one of them."
70 He denied it again. Later, some people nearby said to Peter, "Surely you are one of them; you are from Galilee."
71 He began to curse and swear, insisting he did not know the man.
72 Immediately, the rooster crowed a second time. Peter then remembered Immanuel's words: "I will be rejected three times before a chicken crows twice." Realizing this, he broke down and wept.

§ 25720 IMMANUEL BEFORE PILATE

15 At dawn, the high priests, elders, interpreters of Mosaic Law, and the entire Sanhedrin conspired together. They bound Immanuel, led him away, and handed him over to Pilate.

2 Pilate asked, “Are you the Prime Ruler of the Israelites?” Immanuel replied, “It’s as you said.”
3 The religious leaders accused him of many things.
4 Pilate questioned him again, “Aren’t you going to respond? Look at all the charges against you.”
5 Immanuel remained silent, astonishing Pilate.
6 During the festival, it was customary to release a prisoner at the people’s request.
7 Barabbas, imprisoned with revolutionaries who had murdered during the rebellion, was one such prisoner.
8 The crowd approached Pilate, asking him to perform his usual act.
9 “Do you want me to release the Prime Ruler of the Israelites?” Pilate asked.
10 He knew the chief priest had handed Immanuel over out of self-interest.
11 The high priest stirred the crowd to demand Barabbas’ release instead.
12 “What should I do with the one you call the Prime Ruler of the Israelites?” Pilate asked.
13 “Execute him!” they shouted.
14 Pilate asked what crime he had committed. Still, they shouted louder, “Execute him!”
15 To satisfy the crowd, Pilate released Barabbas and had Immanuel whipped and handed over for crucifixion.

§ 25730 THE SOLDIERS MOCK IMMANUEL

16 The soldiers took Immanuel to the governor’s residence, the Praetorium, and gathered the entire unit.

17 They dressed him in violet governance attire and placed a thorny wreath on his head.
18 Mockingly, they proclaimed, “Long live, Prime Ruler of the Israelites!”
19 They struck his head with a stick, spat on him, and knelt in false reverence.
20 They mocked him, took off the purple cloak, put on his clothing, and took him outside to be nailed to an execution stake.

§ 25740 THE NAILING TO AN EXECUTION STAKE OF IMMANUEL

21 Simon from Cyrene, father of Alexander and Rufus, was compelled to carry the execution stake.
22 Immanuel was taken to Execution Hill, meaning the place of the skull.
23 They offered Him myrrh-infused wine, but He refused.
24 After nailing Him to the stake, they divided His clothes by casting lots.
25 His execution began around nine in the morning.
26 The inscription read, “THE PRIME RULER OF THE ISRAELITES.”
27 Two insurgents were executed with Him, one on His right and one on His left.
28 The exalted writings were fulfilled: “He was considered among the transgressors.”
29 Bystanders mocked Him, saying, “You plan to dismantle and reconstruct the fortress in three days.
30 Descend from the execution stake and rescue yourself!”

31 Leading religious leaders and Mosaic Law interpreters also ridiculed Him, “You saved others, but you can’t save yourself!”

32 “If you are the Chosen Redeemer, the Prime Ruler of Israel, descend from the execution stake so we may witness and trust.” Even those executed with Him jeered.

§ 25750 THE DEATH OF IMMANUEL

33 Around midday, darkness covered the entire territory until the ninth hour, about three post meridian.
34 Immanuel cried out loudly around three o’clock, “Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?” (translated as “My Preeminent Sovereign, My Preeminent Sovereign, why did You abandon me?”).
35 Some nearby remarked that He seemed to be invoking Elijah.
36 Someone ran, soaked a sponge in sour wine, affixed it to a pole, and offered it to Immanuel. “Let him be. We shall see if Elijah arrives to descend him,” he exclaimed.
37 Immanuel cried out loudly and surrendered his essential life force.
38 The fortress’ veil was torn from top to bottom.
39 Witnessing Immanuel’s death, the company commander standing before him declared, “This man was unquestionably Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir!”
40 A few women were observing from afar, including Mary Magdalene, Mary—the mother of young James and Joseph—and Salome.
41 When he was in Galilee, these women had accompanied and served him. Many other women who had journeyed with him to Yerushalayim were also present.

§ 25760 THE BURIAL OF IMMANUEL

42 As evening approached, marking the eve of the Day of Rest, 43 Joseph from Arimathea, a respected council member awaiting the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality, bravely asked Pilate for Immanuel’s body.

44 Surprised by how quickly Immanuel died, Pilate called the company commander to confirm it.
45 Pilate released the body to Joseph upon confirmation.
46 Joseph bought linen, wrapped Immanuel’s body, and placed it in a rock-hewn tomb, sealing it with a stone.
47 Mary Magdalene and Mary, Joseph’s mother, noted the burial site.

§ 25770 IMMANUEL HAS RISEN!

16 After the exalted day, Salome, Mary, the mother of James, and Mary from Magdala bought aromatic spices for Immanuel’s remains.
2 At dawn on the first day of the week, just after sunrise, they headed to the grave.
3 They wondered, “Who will move the stone from the tomb’s entrance?”
4 Looking up, they saw the large stone had already been moved.
5 As they entered the tomb, they were astounded to see a young guy sitting on the right in a white robe.
6 “Do not be afraid,” he said. “You seek Immanuel from Nazareth, who was executed on the stake. He has risen! He is not here. See the place where they laid him.”

7 Tell Peter and His pathfinders that He is traveling to Galilee ahead of you. Just like he promised, you can find him there.
8 The women were so terrified and perplexed that they ran out of the tomb and kept quiet to everyone.
9 At dawn on the first day of the week, Immanuel appeared to Mary Magdalene, whom he had freed from seven malevolent entities.
10 She went to tell those who had been with him mourning and weeping.

11 They did not believe it despite hearing that Immanuel was alive and had appeared to her.
12 Later, Immanuel appeared in a different form to the two of them while they were walking in the countryside.
13 They returned and reported it to the rest, but they did not believe them either.
14 Later, Immanuel appeared to the Eleven as they ate; He rebuked them for their lack of trust and stubborn refusal to trust those who had seen him after he had risen.
15 He told them to go into all the world and proclaim the joyous developments to all creation.
16 “Whoever trusts and is immersed will be saved, but whoever does not trust will be condemned.”
17 “Marvelous signs will accompany those who trust: In my name, they will drive out evil and speak new languages.”
18 “They will use their hands to pick up snakes; they will not be harmed when they consume lethal poison; they will touch the sick, and they will recover.”
19 After speaking with the Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, he was transported to the celestial realms and sat at the Preeminent Sovereign’s dominant hand.
20 The pathseekers went out and proclaimed Immanuel’s path everywhere, and the Sovereign Captain worked with them and confirmed his word by the accompanying marvelous signs.

~ 203 | The Promise Has Arrived | Luke

§ 25780 THE HISTORICAL SOURCE

1 Many have tried to document the events that occurred among us.

2 Those who were firsthand witnesses and messengers of the Living Path shared it with us.
3 Therefore, after carefully investigating everything from the beginning, I decided to write a clear account for you, Theophilus,
4 so you can be certain of the integrity of what you have learned.

§ 25790 THE BIRTH OF JOHN THE IMMERSER FORETOLD

5-6 During Prime Ruler Herod's reign in Judea, an ensovereigned mediator named Zechariah, from Abijah's group, and his wife Elizabeth, from Aaron's family, lived uprightly, adhering to all the Sovereign Captain's laws and directives.
7 They were childless due to Elizabeth's infertility and were advanced in age.
8-9 While Zechariah served in the Preeminent Sovereign's presence, the lot chose him to offer incense in the Sovereign Captain's fortress.
10 As the incense was set ablaze, the ensovereigned lifestyle community melded their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign outside.

11 A messenger from the Sovereign Captain appeared to Zechariah, standing to the right of the incense pedestal table.
12 Zechariah was startled and afraid.
13 The Celestial Envoy reassured him, "Zechariah, calm down; don't be scared. The Preeminent Sovereign has considered your meldings. Your wife, Elizabeth, will bear a son named John."
14 "His birth will bring you immense happiness, and many will celebrate his arrival."
15 "He will be esteemed by the Sovereign Captain, must abstain from wine and intoxicants, and will be imbued with the Eternal Spark even before birth."
16 "He will guide many in Israel back to their Eternal Reality Innovator."

17 "He will pave the way for the Sovereign Captain, embodying Elijah's essence and strength, absolving parents with their offspring, and leading the integrid to wisdom, preparing an assembly ready for the Sovereign Captain."

18 Zechariah asked, "How can I be sure? I am old, and my wife is advancing in years."
19 The Celestial Envoy replied, "I am Gabriel. I stand ready before the Preeminent Sovereign and was commissioned to bring you this joyous announcement."
20 "You will lose your voice and be unable to speak until these events are fulfilled because of your disbelief."

21 Meanwhile, the crowd awaited Zechariah's appearance, curious about his delay.
22 When he emerged speechless, they realized he had seen a vision in the fortress due to his hand gestures.

23 After his duty period ended, he returned home.

24 Elizabeth conceived and secluded herself for five months.
25 She said, “The Sovereign Captain has extended kindness and remedied her public humiliation.”

§ 25800 THE BIRTH OF IMMANUEL FORETOLD

26 Six months after Elizabeth conceived, the Preeminent Sovereign sent the Celestial Envoy Gabriel to Nazareth in Galilee.
27 He visited a maiden engaged to Joseph of David’s family named Mary.
28 Gabriel greeted her, “Congratulations, highly honored one! The Sovereign Captain is with you.”

29 Mary was troubled and wondered about this greeting.
30 Gabriel reassured her, “Mary, don’t be afraid; you have found favor with the Preeminent Sovereign.”
31 “You will conceive and bear a son; name him Rescuer or Immanuel.
32 He will be great and called the Heir of the Most Elevated. The Sovereign Captain will give Him David’s command control.”
33 “He will reign over Jacob’s family forever; His Realm will never end.”
34 Mary asked, “How can this be since I am a virgin?”
35 Gabriel answered, “The Eternal Spark will come upon you, and the Eternal Force will overshadow you. So, the Exalted One born from you will be called the Heir of Preeminent Sovereign.”
36 “Your relative Elizabeth also expects a child in her old age. She is now in her sixth month, though she was considered barren.”
37 “No word from the Preeminent Sovereign will ever fail.”
38 Mary replied, “I am the Sovereign Captain’s humble coworker. Let it happen to me as you have said.” Then Gabriel departed.

§ 25810 MARY VISITS ELIZABETH

39 During that period, Mary promptly prepared herself and sped to a city in the mountainous region of Judea.
40 She visited Zechariah’s residence and extended her salutations to Elizabeth.
41 On hearing Mary’s salutation, Elizabeth felt the infant stir in her belly and was overwhelmed with the Eternal Spark.
42 With a loud proclamation, she declared: “The Preeminent Sovereign favors you among all women, and the infant you are to bring forth is equally endowed!”

43 “Why am I so privileged that My Sovereign Captain’s mother should visit me?”
44 When your salutation resonated in my ears, the infant within me jumped in delight.
45 “Happy is the woman who trusts that the Sovereign Captain’s assurances will be realized.”

§ 25820 MARY’S SONG

[46] Mary proclaimed: “My inner-self exalts the Sovereign Captain.”
[47] “My inner-self finds immense delight in my celestial liberator.”
[48] “He has noticed his personal assistant’s lowliness. From now forward, all ages will refer to me as fortunate.”
[49] “The Preeminent Sovereign has accomplished remarkable deeds for me; His designation is exalted.”
[50] “From one era to another, His compassion is given to those who respect Him.”
[51] “With His arm, He has accomplished incredible feats and dispersed the inner-selves of the arrogant.”
[52] “He has toppled the mighty from their seats and elevated the lowly.”
[53] “Those hungerings have been satiated with beneficial things, yet those of wealth have been dismissed with nothing.”
[54] “He has helped His coworker Israel as a reminder of His kindness.”
[55] “In perpetuity to Abraham and his family, precisely as He assured our forefathers.”
[56] Mary spent roughly three months with Elizabeth before returning to her place.

§ 25830 THE BIRTH OF JOHN THE IMMERSER

[57-58] Elizabeth gave birth to a son, and news of the Sovereign Captain’s extraordinary kindness spread, bringing delight to her friends and family.
[59] On the eighth day, during the circumcision formality, they intended to name him Zechariah after his father.

[60] However, his mother insisted, “He must be named John.”
[61] They questioned her, saying, “None of your family holds that name.”
[62] They then gestured to the baby’s father for his preference.
[63] He requested a writing surface and wrote, “John.”
[64] His speech was restored, and he expressed gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign.
[65] Fear struck everyone nearby, and these events were discussed throughout Judea’s hills.
[66] All who heard pondered, “What future holds this child?” Indeed, the Eternal Reality’s assistance of the Sovereign Captain was on him.

§ 25840 ZECHARIAH’S SONG

[67] Zechariah’s father, filled with the exalted Eternal Spark, delivered a vision.
[68] “Fortunate is the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign of Israel, for He has visited and brought deliverance to His people.
[69] He has elevated a symbol of deliverance for us in the dwelling of His coworker David.
[70] As per the proclamations of His Celestial Envoys from antiquity, He heeded Abraham’s intervention, rescuing Lot from the calamity that engulfed the towns where Lot resided.
[71] Liberation from our foes and from the grasp of everyone who despises us.

[72] To demonstrate kindness towards our forefathers, remember His exalted pact, and keep [73] the solemn promise He made to Abraham, our progenitor.
[74] To liberate us from our foes’ power and allow us to express joyful adoration to Him without trepidation.

75 We are exalted and upright before the Preeminent Sovereign for as long as we live.
76 You, My offspring, will be recognized as the spokesman of the Eternal Reality; your task will be to precede the Sovereign Captain and set the stage for His arrival.
77 He helps those seeking guidance by allowing them to understand how to be forgiven for their mistakes.”
78 Owing to the compassionate, transformative generosity of our Preeminent Sovereign, the dawn will break on us from the celestial realms.
79 To illuminate those residing in obscurity and under the specter of death, directing our steps toward the route of tranquility.”
80 The young one developed and was fortified in his inner-self, residing in desolate regions until he was disclosed to the people of Israel.

§ 25850 THE BIRTH OF IMMANUEL

2 Caesar Augustus ordered a comprehensive survey of the Roman Empire during that period.
2 The initial registration occurred when Quirinius governed Syria.
3 everyone traveled to their hometowns to be registered.
4 Joseph journeyed from Nazareth in Galilee to Bethlehem in Judea, David’s city, because he was of David’s family.
5 He went to be registered with Mary, his betrothed, who was expecting a child.

6 While they were there, the time came for her to give birth.
7 There was nowhere for them in the inn, so she delivered her first son, swaddled Him in linens, and placed him in a feeding trough.

§ 25860 THE SHEEP KEEPERS AND CELESTIAL ENVOYS

8 Nearby, sheep keepers lived in the fields, watching their flocks at night.
9 The Sovereign Captain’s messenger appeared to them, and the Sovereign Captain’s acclaim shone around them, and they were terrified.
10 The Celestial Envoy said, “Do not be afraid. I bring you joyous developments that will cause great delight for all people.”
11 “Today in the city of David, a Sovereign Captain’s Ensovereigned Rescuer has been born.”
12 “You will discover a baby lying in a feeding trough, wrapped in linens. This will be an indicator to you.”
13 Suddenly, a great ensovereigned lifestyle community of Celestial Armies appeared with the Celestial Envoy, praising and saying,
14 “All acclaim to our Preeminent Sovereign in the highest the celestial realms, and on Earth peace to those on whom His favor rests.”

15 When the Celestial Envoys had left them and gone into the celestial realms, the sheep keepers said to one another, “Let’s go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Sovereign Captain has told us about.”
16 When they arrived, Mary, Joseph, and the infant were all lying in the feeding trough.
17 When they saw him, they spread the word concerning what had been told about this child.
18 All who heard it were amazed at what the sheep keepers said to them.

19 Mary treasured and pondered all these things in her inner determination.

20 The sheep keepers returned, glorifying and praising the Preeminent Sovereign for everything they had heard and seen, just as they had been told.

21 On the eighth day, when the time came to circumcise the child, they named him Immanuel, the name the Celestial Envoy had given before his conception.

§ 25870 IMMANUEL PRESENTED IN THE FORTRESS

22 When the time for their ceremonial cleansing per the Mosaic Law arrived, Joseph and Mary brought Immanuel to Yerushalayim to present him to the Sovereign Captain.
23 The Sovereign Captain's Law directives that every first-born male be dedicated as exalted to Him.
24 They offered a pair of doves or two young pigeons, as instructed.
25 In Yerushalayim, Simeon, an authentic and devout man, eagerly awaited Israel's comfort, empowered with the exalted Eternal Spark.
26 The Eternal Spark had assured Simeon he wouldn't die before seeing the Sovereign Captain's Chosen Redeemer.
27 The Eternal Spark guided him as he entered the fortress. When the parents brought Immanuel to perform the customary rites, 28 Simeon took him in his arms. He praised the Preeminent Sovereign, saying:
29 "My Preeminent Sovereign Captain, you can now let your coworker depart in peace."
30 "I have seen your deliverance."
31 "Prepared for all nations."
32 "A light revealing the Eternal Reality's will to the nations and honoring Israel."
33 Immanuel's parents were amazed at what was said about him.

34 Empowering them, Simeon informed Mary, "This child has been selected to be a sign of opposition and to bring many in Israel to their knees."
35 "A sharp pain, like a piercing truth, will cut through your own soul as well."
36 Anna was also there, an eternally wise servant from Phanuel's family of Asher. She was ancient, having lived with her husband seven years after marriage.
37 She remained a widow until eighty-four, always in the fortress, melding her conscience with the Eternal Reality day and night with fasting and intervention.
38 She thanked the Eternal Reality and spoke about the child to all awaiting Yerushalayim's liberation.
39 After fulfilling all the Sovereign Captain's Law requirements, Joseph and Mary returned to Nazareth in Galilee.
40 The child grew strong and wise, with the transformative generosity and favor of the Preeminent Sovereign upon him.

§ 25880 THE BOY IMMANUEL AT THE FORTRESS

41 Immanuel's parents traveled to Yerushalayim annually for the Emancipation Feast.
42 They attended the festival as usual when He was twelve.
43 After the festivities, Immanuel stayed behind in Yerushalayim as his parents headed home without their knowledge.

44 Assuming he was with the group, they journeyed on but soon began searching for him among their relatives and friends.
45 Not finding him, they returned to Yerushalayim to look for him.
46 They found Him in the fortress' courtyard three days later, engaging with educators, listening, and asking questions.

47-48 Every one who heard him was amazed by his understanding and answers. His parents were astonished when they saw him. His mother said, "Heir, why have you treated us this way? Your father and I have been anxiously searching for you."
49 He replied, "Why did you need to look for me? Didn't you know I must be in my Life-Giver's house?"
50 They didn't understand what he meant.
51 He returned to Nazareth with them and was obedient. His mother treasured all these things in her inner-self.
52 Immanuel grew in wisdom and stature, gaining favor with the Preeminent Sovereign and people.

§ 25890 JOHN THE IMMERSER PREPARES THE WAY

3 During the fifteenth year of Tiberius Caesar's rule, Lysanias was the tetrarch of Abilene, Herod was the tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip was the tetrarch of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Pontius Pilate was the governor of Judea.
2 Zechariah's son, John, received the Preeminent Sovereign's word in the wilderness. At the same time, Annas and Caiaphas were high priests.
3 He proclaimed an immersion of life transformation for the forgiveness of unworthy choices throughout the entire area surrounding Jordan.
4 A voice of one calling in the wilderness said, "Prepare the way for the Sovereign Captain, make straight paths for Him," according to the book of Isaiah, the eternally wise servant.
5 Every hill and mountain will be lowered, and every valley will be filled in. The rocky paths will be smoothed out, and the crooked paths will be straightened.
6 And the Preeminent Sovereign's redemption will be seen by all people.
7 "You bunch of snakes, who cautioned you to run from the coming wrath?" John then spoke to the crowds gathering to be immersed by him.
8 Therefore, bear inner fruit consistent with life transformation. Furthermore, don't start thinking, "We have Abraham as our father." I tell you, the Preeminent Sovereign can create offspring for Abraham from these stones.

9 Any tree that does not bear fruit will be felled and hurled into the fire, and the axe is waiting at the tree roots.
10 "What then should we do?" the people questioned him.
11 "Whoever has two shirts should share them with him who has none," John retorted, adding that "whoever has bread should do the same."
12 He even immersed tax collectors. They said, "Teacher, what should we do?"
13 He replied, "Do not collect more than you are authorized."
14 Then he was asked, "And what should we do?" by several soldiers. He advised against using coercion or false accusations to obtain money. "Be happy with your salary."

15 The people were eagerly awaiting John, and they were all secretly wondering if he was the Chosen Redeemer.
16 John addressed the crowd, saying, “I’m immersing you in water as a symbol, but someone far greater than I is coming, and I’m not even worthy to tie his sneakers. He will immerse you in the transformative power of the Eternal Spark and ignite a fire of renewal in your inner-self.
17 He’s like a street cleaner with a high-tech vacuum, ready to clear away the clutter, gathering what’s good and valuable while tossing the useless trash into an unstoppable incinerator.
18 John spread the message of redemption to the populace with these and many more exhortations.
19 However, after John chastised Herod the Tetrarch for his brother’s wife Herodias and all of his transgressions, 20 Herod decided to imprison John.

§ 25900 THE IMMERSION AND GENEALOGY OF IMMANUEL

21 While others were receiving immersion, Immanuel also got immersed. The celestial realms opened as he melded his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.

22 The Eternal Spark, appearing as a dove, descended upon him. A voice from the celestial realms proclaimed: “You are my Esteemed offspring; I delight in you, and you fill me with delight.”
23 Immanuel was thirty years old at the start of his Calling. He was believed to be the offspring of Joseph, the progeny of Heli.
24 Matthat’s progeny was Levi, who sired Melki, the father of Jannai, who had Joseph.
25 Descendant of Mattathias, offspring of Amos, the progeny of Nahum, child of Esli, scion of Naggai, 26 Maath’s offspring was Mattathias, from whom Semein was derived, who gave life to Josek, whose progeny was Joda.
27 Offspring of Joanan, the progeny of Rhesa, Zerubbabel’s descendant, Shealtiel’s child, and Neri’s scion.
28 Descended from Melki, from Addi, borne of Cosam, begotten of Elmadam, and traced back to Er.
29 Joshua descended from Eliezer, who Jorim had produced, a descendant of Matthat, a male heir of Levi.
30 Simeon’s descendant came from Judah, born to Joseph, the offspring of Jonam, a progeny of Eliakim.
31 Melee’s offspring was Menna, who gave birth to Mattatha, from whom Nathan was born, who in turn was the father of David,
32 the offspring of Jesse, the progeny of Obed, the descendant of Boaz, the child of Salmon, the family of Nahshon.
33 The offspring of Amminadab, a descendant of Ram, the progeny of Hezron, child of Perez, and scion of Judah, 34 Jacob’s offspring, who was, in turn, Isaac’s progeny, the descendant of Abraham, born of Terah, and a child of Nahor.
35 Originating from Serug, Reu, Peleg, Eber, and Shelah.

[36] Descendant of Cainan, Arphaxad's progeny, Shem's offspring, Noah's child, and Lamech's family.
[37] Descending from Methuselah, Enoch's offspring came from Jared, Mahalalel's progeny, who was born to Kenan.
[38] Enosh's descendant was Seth, Adam's offspring, and Adam was the creation of the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 25910 IMMANUEL IS TESTED IN THE WILDERNESS

4 The Eternal Spark, filled with exaltation, led Immanuel, who had left the Jordan, into the desert wilderness.
[2] For forty days, he faced temptations from the Chief Instigator, abstaining from food and becoming famished.
[3] The Adversary challenged him, "If you are truly the Preeminent Sovereign's Heir, command this stone to become bread."
[4] Immanuel replied, "the Living Path declares: 'Humans cannot live on bread alone. '"
[5] The Adversary then took Him to a high place, showing Him all the global realms in an instant.
[6] He said, "I will give you all this power and acclaim. It has been given to me, and I can grant it to anyone I choose."
[7] "All this will be yours if you express joyful adoration to me."
[8] Immanuel answered, "Adore and serve the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality exclusively."
[9] The Adversary then took him to Yerushalayim and set him on the highest point of the fortress. "Prove you are the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign," he said, "by throwing yourself down from here."
[10] The Living Path assures: "Preeminent Sovereign will command His Celestial Envoys to guard you carefully."

[12] Immanuel replied, "The Living Word says: 'You must not tempt the Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign. '"
[13] After completing all his tests, the Chief Instigator temporarily left him, waiting for a more suitable time.

§ 25920 IMMANUEL REJECTED AT NAZARETH

[14] Immanuel returned to Galilee, empowered by the Eternal Spark, and news of Him spread widely.
[15] He taught in their places of joyful adoration, receiving universal acclaim.

[16] In Nazareth, where He was raised, He entered the communal place on the Day of Rest and stood to read.
[17] The scroll of Isaiah, the eternally wise servant, was given to Him. He found the passage and read:

18 “The Sovereign Captain’s Eternal Spark is within me, for He has chosen me to bring favorable news to the underprivileged, announce liberation to the imprisoned, restore vision to the blind, and release the oppressed.
19 To proclaim the time of celestial transformative generosity.”

20 Immanuel then rolled up the scroll, returned it to the attendant, and sat down. All eyes were on Him.
21 He began, “The Living Word you heard today has been fulfilled.”

22 everyone praised Him and marveled at His eloquence, asking, “Is this Joseph’s son?”
23 “You are bound to quote this proverb to Me and say, ‘Do here what you did in Capernaum, ’” Immanuel retorted.
24 He added, “The eternally wise servants are never welcomed in their hometown.”

25-26 “During Elijah’s time, when there was a severe famine in Israel, he was sent not to any widow in Israel but to one in Zarephath in Sidon.
27 And during Elisha’s time, though many in Israel had contagious skin disease (an indication of inner unhealthfulness), only Naaman the Syrian was healed.”

28 Hearing this, everyone in the communal place became furious.
29 They drove Immanuel out of town and took Him to the hilltop to throw Him off.
30 But He walked through the crowd and went on His way.

§ 25930 IMMANUEL DRIVES OUT A MALEVOLENT ENTITY

31 He journeyed to Capernaum, a city in Galilee, instructing the populace on the exalted day of the Day of Rest.
32 His teachings captivated them due to the potency and conviction in his words.
33 A malevolent entity controlling a man screamed in the communal place.
34 “Depart! What business do you have with us, Immanuel from Nazareth? Did you come here to eliminate us? I recognize you—you are the exalted One of Preeminent Sovereign!” 35 “Shut your big mouth!” Immanuel commanded tersely. “Depart from him!” Subsequently, the malevolent entity cast the man to the ground before everyone and emerged without causing him any harm.

36 Each person was astounded and asked one another, “What kind of utterances are these? He has the power and authority to command malevolent entities, and they obey!”
37 Reports about him circulated throughout the entire region.

§ 25940 IMMANUEL HEALS MANY

38 Leaving the communal place, Immanuel went to Simon’s home. Simon’s mother-in-law was suffering from a severe fever, and they asked for Immanuel’s help.
39 He approached her and commanded the sickness to leave, and it did. She immediately got up and began serving them.

40 As the sun set, people brought those with various diseases to Immanuel. He placed his hands on each one, and all were healed.
41 Malevolent entities left many, shouting, “You are the Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir!” But he silenced them, not allowing them to speak because they knew he was the Sovereign One!

42 At dawn, Immanuel withdrew to a secluded place. The crowds found him and tried to keep him from leaving.
43 He said, “I must deliver the message from the Preeminent Sovereign born of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality to other cities too, for this is my mission.”
44 He spread his message in Judean places, expressing joyful adoration throughout Judea.

§ 25950 IMMANUEL CALLS HIS FIRST PATHSEEKERS

5 Immanuel stood by the Sea of Galilee, also known as Lake Gennesaret, as a large crowd gathered to hear the path of the Preeminent Sovereign.

2 Two fishermen, cleaning their nets, had left the boats at the water’s edge.
3 Immanuel got into Simon’s boat and asked him to move it a bit from the shore. Then, he sat down and taught the crowd from the boat.
4 After speaking, he suggested Simon go deeper and let down the nets for a catch.
5 Simon replied, “Sovereign Captain, we’ve worked hard all night and caught nothing. But if you say so, I’ll drop the nets.”
6 They caught so many fish that their nets began to tear.
7 They signaled their colleagues in the other boat to help, and both boats were filled to the point of almost sinking.
8 Simon Peter fell at Immanuel’s feet, saying, “Get away from me, Sovereign Captain, for I am an impure man!”
9 The catch amazed him and his companions.
10 This was also true for James and John, the sons of Zebedee, Simon’s partners. Immanuel told Simon, “Don’t be afraid; from now on, you will fish for people.”
11 They pulled their boats ashore, left everything, and followed him.

§ 25960 IMMANUEL HEALS A MAN WITH A CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASE

12 During Immanuel’s visit to a city, a man with a severe skin condition approached him, kneeling and pleading, “Sovereign Captain, if you are willing, you can make me healthy.”
13 Immanuel reached out, touched the man, and said, “I am willing; be clean!” Instantly, the contagious skin disease (an indication of inner unhealthfulness) left him.
14 Immanuel instructed him not to tell anyone but to show himself to the ensovereigned mediator and offer the gifts Moses commanded for his cleansing as a testimony.

15 Despite this, word about Him spread, and crowds gathered to hear Him and be healed.
16 Immanuel often withdrew to meld his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 25970 IMMANUEL FORGIVES AND HEALS A PARALYZED MAN

17 On one occasion, Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law from every town of Galilee, Judea, and Yerushalayim surrounded Immanuel. Eternal Reality energy empowered Immanuel to heal the sick.
18 Some men arrived carrying a paralyzed man on a mat, trying to bring him before Immanuel.
19 Unable to reach him due to the crowd, they went up to the roof. They lowered him through the ceiling into the ensovereigned lifestyle community's center right in front of Immanuel.
20 Seeing their trust, Immanuel said, "Comrade, you are absolved of your wrongdoings."
21 The Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law questioned, "Who is this speaking blasphemies? Who but the Preeminent Sovereign can absolve unworthy choices?"
22 Knowing their thoughts, Immanuel asked, "Why do you think this way?"
23 "Which is easier: to say, 'Your wrongdoings are absolved, ' or to say, 'Rise and walk'?"
24 "But to show you that the Heir of Humanity has authority on Earth to absolve unworthy choices," he told the paralyzed man, "Rise, pick up your mat, and go home."
25 Immediately, the man stood before them, picked up his mat, and went home, exalting the Preeminent Sovereign.
26 everyone was amazed and glorified the Preeminent Sovereign. They were filled with awe and said, "Today, we have seen remarkable things."

§ 25980 IMMANUEL CALLS LEVI AND EATS WITH TRANSGRESSORS

27 After this, Immanuel noticed a tax collector named Levi at his station and instructed him, "Join me."
28 Levi abandoned everything, rose, and followed him.
29 Levi then hosted a grand feast for Immanuel at his home, with many tax collectors and others joining them.
30 The Tradition Keepers and their Law teachers objected to His apprentices, questioning why they associated with tax collectors and notorious offenders.
31 Immanuel responded: "Those in good health do not need a physician, but those who are ill do.
32 My purpose is not to summon those who deem themselves authentic but to call transgressors to turn from their unworthy choices."

§ 25990 IMMANUEL QUESTIONED ABOUT FASTING

33 It was noted that John's pathseekers and the Tradition Keeper's adherents typically abstain from food and meld their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign. In contrast, Immanuel's pathseekers continue to enjoy food and drink.
34 Immanuel replied, "Can you impose fasting on the groom's companions while he is still with them?

35 A time will come when the groom is separated from them, and then they will abstain from eating.
36 He illustrated this with an analogy: “No one rips a section from a new piece of clothing to mend an older one. If they do, the new garment will be damaged, and the piece from the new will not match the old.
37 No one injects fresh wine into worn-out wine bottles because the expanding wine will cause the bottles to shatter, the liquid will be lost, and the containers will be destroyed.

38 Instead, fresh vintage wine needs to be stored in new skins.
39 No one, having tasted matured wine, wishes for a recent one as they trust the vintage one surpasses.”

§ 26000 IMMANUEL IS THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN OF THE REST DAY

6 During one Day of Rest, as Immanuel moved through the grain fields, his pathseekers began plucking heads of grain, rubbing them in their hands, and consuming the kernels.
2 Some Tradition Keepers asked, “Why are you partaking in actions forbidden on the Day of Rest?”
3 Immanuel responded: “Haven’t you read about David and his adherents when they were hungry?
4 He entered the Preeminent Sovereign’s fortress, ate the exalted loaves of bread—permissible only for the Ensovereigned mediators—and shared with his associates.”
5 Immanuel further stated: “The Heir of Humanity has authority over the Day of Rest.”

6 During another Day of Rest, Immanuel began teaching in the communal place. Among those present was a man with a withered right hand.
7 The Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law sought a reason to accuse Immanuel, watching to see if He would heal on the Day of Rest.
8 Aware of their thoughts, Immanuel instructed the man with the withered hand to stand before everyone. The man complied.
9 Immanuel asked, “Is it more appropriate on the Day of Rest to promote transformative generosity or hostility, to preserve or eradicate life?”
10 He looked at each of them before instructing the man to hold out his hand. The man did so, and his hand was wholly healed.

11 The experts in Moses’ teachings and the Tradition Keepers were angry and began deliberating their actions against Immanuel.

§ 26010 THE TWELVE EMISSARIES

12 One day, Immanuel ascended a hill to commune with the Preeminent Sovereign, dedicating the entire night to melding His conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 At dawn, he called his pathseekers and chose twelve, naming them emissaries.
14 He named “Simon” as “Peter,” along with his siblings Andrew, James, John, Philip, and Bartholomew.

15 Also chosen were “Matthew,” “Thomas,” “James,” the offspring of Alphaeus, and “Simon,” known as the Extremist.
16 Lastly, “Judas,” the child of James, and “Judas Iscariot,” who later became a betrayer.

§ 26020 EMPOWERMENTS AND MISFORTUNE

17 Descending with them, He positioned Himself on a flat surface. A vast multitude from across Judea, including people from Yerushalayim and the coastal areas of Tyre and Sidon, actively joined his pathseekers, forming an enormous community.
18 They had traveled to listen to Him, and He had healed those afflicted with malevolent entities and cured their illnesses.
19 Every individual in the crowd sought to reach out and contact Him due to the healing power emanating from Him and curing everyone.

20 Gazing at His pathseekers, Immanuel proclaimed: “Fortunate are you who lack wealth, for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is your inheritance.

21 The Preeminent Sovereign will empower those currently famished, as they shall be fulfilled. The Preeminent Sovereign will empower those who mourn, as they will find delight and laughter.
22 You are fortunate when individuals despise, marginalize, slander, and dismiss your reputation as impure, all in the name of the Heir of Humanity.
23 Be glad on that day and jump for delight; you will have a rich reward in the celestial realm. The ultimate authenticity is that the eternally wise servants experienced behavior similar to that of their ancestors.

24 “Misery awaits wealthy people, as they have already experienced all the consolation they will get.
25 Misfortune awaits those who are satiated now, for you will experience hunger. Misfortune awaits joyful people, for you will grieve and shed tears.
26 How miserable for you when everybody sings your praises because that’s exactly how their forefathers behaved with the counterfeit prophets.”

§ 26030 LOVE FOR YOUR ENEMIES

27 “I speak to those who heed My Path: ‘Cherish those who oppose you, and show kindness to those bearing malice towards you. ’
28 ‘Invoke empowerment on those who say bad things to you, implore Preeminent Sovereign’s favor for those who are cruel to you. ’
29 ‘Give him the other side of your face when someone hits you on one side. Additionally, don’t withhold your shirt if someone steals your coat. ’
30 ‘Provide to anyone who requests from you; if someone claims your belongings, refrain from insisting on their return. ’
31 ‘Treat others in the same way you desire to be treated. ’
32 ‘What good does it do to love exclusively those who reciprocate your affection? Even the worst individuals express love to those who care for them. ’

[33] ‘What is so praiseworthy about being kind to those who treat you well? Even wrongdoers behave in the same manner. ’
[34] ‘If you provide loans to those you trust will pay you back, where is your merit? Even the most unworthy individuals lend to their kind, anticipating a total return.

[35] ‘Show affection towards those who dislike you, perform benevolent actions, and provide loans without expecting any repayments. Your compensation will be bountiful, and you will be considered the offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign. He shows kindness even to those who aren’t thankful and exhibit malice. ’
[36] ‘Show compassion in the same manner as your Celestial Life-Giver does. ’”

§ 26040 JUDGING OTHERS

[37] “‘Refrain from criticizing others; you won’t be criticized. Avoid condemning others, and you won’t be condemned. Pardon others, and you will be pardoned.

[38] ‘You will receive what you offer. It will be dumped into your lap, hammered down, blended, and running over. Because you will get measured back according to the measure you use. ’”
[39] He shared an illustrative story: “Can one visually impaired person guide another? Will they not both stumble into a hole?
[40] A learner isn’t superior to their instructor, but anyone who is thoroughly prepared will resemble their mentor.
[41] Why do you focus on the speck in your sibling’s eye yet fail to recognize the substantial beam in your own?
[42] How can you tell your brother, ‘Brother, allow me to take out the tiny particle from your sight, ’ without realizing there is a log in your eye? You’re pretending! Extract the log from your eye, and then you can see how to extract the speck from your brother’s eye. ’”

§ 26050 A TREE AND ITS INNER FRUIT

[43] An authentic tree yields beneficial produce, while a detrimental tree delivers harmful produce.
[44] Its inner fruit identifies every tree. People do not gather figs from thorny plants or grapes from prickly bushes.
[45] An authentic individual produces benevolent outcomes from the abundance of ultimate authenticity within their inner-self. In contrast, an evil individual brings impure results from the nefariousness within their inner-self. One’s speech reflects one’s inner-self’s contents.

§ 26060 THE WISE AND FOOLISH BUILDERS

[46] “What good is it to say, ‘Sovereign Captain, Sovereign Captain, ’ when you don’t live according to My path?
[47] I will illustrate what individuals who listen to My path, follow me, and implement them are comparable to.
[48] They resemble an individual constructing a dwelling who excavated deeply and established the base on a solid rock. The surging water lashed at that dwelling on a flood but failed to disturb it, for it was sturdily fabricated.

49 A person listening to My path but failing to implement it resembles an individual building a dwelling on soil without a foundation. As the floodwaters assailed this structure, it toppled over, and its obliteration was total. “

§ 26070 THE TRUST OF THE COMPANY COMMANDER

7 After sharing His teachings with the crowd, Immanuel entered Capernaum.
2 A highly esteemed coworker of a company commander there was critically ill and near death.
3 Hearing about Immanuel, the officer sent esteemed Judean leaders to Him, imploring Him to come and heal his coworker.

4 They earnestly pleaded with Immanuel, saying, “This man is worthy of Your benevolent act.
5 He loves our nation and built our communal place.”
6 Immanuel went with them. As they neared the house, the company commander sent friends to say, “Sovereign Captain, don’t trouble Yourself, for I am unworthy of You entering my home.
7 I didn’t consider myself worthy to come to You. But say the word and my coworker will be healed.
8 I am under authority, with soldiers under me. I tell one to go, and he goes; another to come, and he comes. I tell my coworker to do this, and he does it.”
9 Immanuel was amazed at his words. Turning to the crowd following Him, He said, “I have not found such great trust even in Israel.”
10 The messengers returned to the house and found the coworker in good health.

§ 26080 IMMANUEL RAISES A WIDOW’S SON

11 Shortly after, Immanuel traveled to with his pathseekers and a large crowd.
12 Near the city entrance, they encountered a funeral procession for a widow’s only son. Many city dwellers accompanied her.
13 Moved compassionately, the Sovereign Captain told her not to weep.
14 He approached the stretcher, touched it, and the bearers stopped. He commanded the young man, “Awaken!”
15 The dead man sat up and began to speak. Immanuel then returned him to his mother.
16 everyone was filled with awe and praised the Eternal Reality, declaring that a great, eternally wise servant had appeared and that the Eternal Reality had come to help his people.
17 News about Immanuel spread throughout Judea and the surrounding regions.

§ 26090 IMMANUEL AND JOHN THE IMMERSER

18 John’s pathseekers informed him of all these incidents. He summoned a pair of them.
19 They were dispatched to the Sovereign Captain with the query, “Is it you who is anticipated to arrive, or should we keep on waiting for someone else?”
20 On arriving at Immanuel, the men conveyed John the Immerser’s inquiry, “Are you the anticipated one, or shall we continue our wait for another?”

21 During that exact period, Immanuel healed numerous people suffering from illnesses, ailments, and malevolent entity possessions and restored vision to many vision-impaired individuals.
22 He responded to the envoys: “Return and inform John about everything you have witnessed and learned: the sightless are granted vision, the disabled can move, those with skin diseases are healed, the hard of hearing can listen, the deceased are brought to life, and the needy have the joyous developments announced to them.”
23 “The person who does not lose trust will be innerly favored because of me.”
24 Once John’s envoys had departed, Immanuel initiated a conversation with the assembly regarding John: “Did you journey to the wilderness to observe? Was it a stalk blowing in the breeze?”
25 “Otherwise, what was your purpose for going out? To glimpse a man studded up in luxurious attire. Certainly not; those who don extravagant outfits and revel in luxury are in governance palaces.”
26 “But what was your purpose for going out? To witness an eternally wise servant? Indeed, I affirm he is more than a Visionary of Eternal Realities.”
27 “It says, ‘Pay Heed! I will send My envoy ahead of You, who will clear Your way before Yourself, ’” about this person.
28 “Verily, among those given birth by women, none surpasses John; still, the one perceived as the least in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality holds more extraordinary privilege.”

29 On hearing Immanuel’s words, everyone, including the tax collectors, affirmed the integrity of Preeminent Sovereign’s path as they had received John’s immersion.
30 The Tradition Keepers and the interpreters of the Mosaic Law rejected the Eternal Reality’s intent for them, having not undergone immersion at the hands of John.
31 The Sovereign Captain then questioned, “How can I illustrate the nature of the individuals in this era? How can I describe their character?”
32 “They resemble youngsters gathered in the public square, shouting to their peers: ‘We performed music for you, yet you didn’t sway; we chanted a mournful song, yet you didn’t shed a tear. ’”
33 “John the Immerser arrived neither consuming food nor sipping wine, and you say, ‘A malevolent entity possesses him. ’”
34 “The Heir of Humanity arrived partaking in food and drink, and you ridicule, ‘Look at this overeater and drinker, a companion of tax-gatherers and rogues. ’”
35 “All who follow wisdom confirm its correctness.”

§ 26100 IMMANUEL ENSOVEREIGNED BY A WOMAN FULL OF UNWORTHY CHOICES

36 Immanuel accepted an invitation from a Tradition Keeper and reclined at his table.
37 A woman known for her unworthy choices learned of his presence and brought an alabaster jar of fragrant oil.
38 She sobbed and used her hair to moisten and dry his feet before kissing and applying oil to them.
39 The Tradition Keeper thought, “If he were an authentic eternally wise servant, he would know she is unworthy.”
40 Immanuel said, “Simon, I have something to say to you.” Simon replied, “Go ahead, Teacher.”

41-42 Immanuel shared an enlightening story to Simon: “Two people owed loans to a generous lender—one owed the equivalent of a year’s salary, the other a month’s wages. Since neither could repay, the lender forgave both loans. Which of them will be more grateful?”

43 Simon answered, “The one forgiven more.” Immanuel agreed, “You are correct.”
44 Turning to the woman, he asked Simon, “Do you see this woman? You left my feet without water, but she used her tears to wash them and her hair to dry them.
45 You gave no kiss, but she has not stopped kissing my feet.
46 You did not anoint my head with oil, but she anointed my feet.
47 Her many unworthy choices are absolved because of her great love. Those forgiven little love little.”
48 Immanuel told her, “Your wrongs are forgiven.”
49 Others questioned who could absolve unworthy choices.
50 Immanuel told the woman, “Your conviction has liberated you; go in tranquility.”

§ 26110 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE FLYERS

8 Immanuel traveled from city to city, accompanied by twelve pathseekers, spreading the joyous tidings of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
2 Certain women, healed from malevolent entities and ailments, also joined Him. Mary, called Magdalene, had seven malevolent entities released from her.
3 Joanna, wife of Chuza, an administrator in Herod’s court, Susanna, and many others supported Immanuel and his pathseekers financially.
4 As a large crowd gathered, Immanuel shared a symbolic story.
5-8 “Imagine a person distributing flyers for an important message across the city. Some flyers fell onto the sidewalk, where they were ignored and trampled underfoot, and eventually swept away. Others landed in cracks of pavement where they sparked some interest, but there wasn’t enough space for the idea to grow, so it faded quickly. Some flyers ended up in cluttered areas full of distractions, where the noise and busyness drowned out the message. But some landed in receptive hands, where people not only read and understood the message but shared it widely, creating an impact far beyond what was first expected.”

§ 26120 UNDERSTANDING THE MESSAGE

9 His pathseekers asked about the story’s meaning.
10 He explained, “You have insight into the mysteries of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality. For others, I speak in enlightening stories so they might see but not perceive and hear but not understand.”
11-15 Here’s the meaning behind the story: The message is like an idea meant to inspire and transform lives. Those along the crowded sidewalks represent people who hear the message but let distractions, doubts, or negativity sweep it away before it takes hold. The message landing on thin cracks in the pavement symbolizes those who are excited about it at first but don’t commit to understanding it deeply. When challenges or criticism arise, they give up easily. The message that ends up on cluttered bulletin boards or in inboxes filled with spam represents those who hear but get overwhelmed by life’s stress, the constant chase for money, and endless entertainment. The message is lost in the chaos, and they never grow from it. But the message that reaches the right hearts—like someone ready to reflect, apply, and act on it—produces incredible results. These people stick with it through ups and downs, making a meaningful impact that multiplies and transforms others around them."

§ 26130 LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE BRIGHTLY

16 "No one switches on a light and then covers it up or hides it in a closet. Instead, they place it where everyone in the room can see it, lighting the way for all who enter."
17 "All secrets will eventually be disclosed, and everything hidden will come to light."
18 "Pay Heed to how you listen. Those who have will receive more, but those who lack, even what they think they have, will be taken away."

§ 26140 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER'S MOTHER AND BROTHERS

19 "Immanuel's mother and siblings tried to visit him, but the crowd was too large."
20 "He was told that his family was waiting outside to see him."
21 "He replied, 'My mother and brothers are those who hear the word of the Preeminent Sovereign and act on it. '"

§ 26150 IMMANUEL CALMS THE STORM

22 "Immanuel told his pathseekers one day, 'Let's make our way across the lake. ' So, they boarded a boat and embarked on their journey."
23 "He drifted off to sleep during their voyage. They were in a dire situation as a sudden and intense storm rushed across the lake, filling the boat to dangerous levels."
24 "The pathseekers awakened him, shouting, 'Sovereign Captain, we are about to perish!' Rising, he scolded the wind and the tumultuous waves; the storm quieted, and serenity prevailed."
25 "What has happened to your trust?" he questioned his pathseekers. Overcome with fear and astonishment, they asked each other: "Who can this be? He can order even the winds and the seas, and they comply."

§ 26160 IMMANUEL RESTORES A MALEVOLENT ENTITY-POSSESSED MAN

26 "They voyaged to the area of the Gerasenes, which is on the opposite side of the lake from Galilee."
27 Upon disembarking, a man from the locality (plagued with malevolent entities) greeted Immanuel. This man had spent a substantial period without clothing, not inhabiting a home but residing among the graves.

28 On seeing Immanuel, he let out a loud cry. He collapsed at His feet, roaring with all his might. “What is your business with me, Immanuel, Offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign? Please, I plead that you don’t torment me!”

29 Immanuel had ordered the malevolent entity to leave the man. On numerous occasions, the malevolent entity had taken control over him. Despite being confined with restraints, shackles, and under surveillance, he managed to shatter his restraints. The malevolent entity compelled him to venture into isolated areas.
30 Immanuel inquired, “What do you call yourself?” “I am called Legion,” he responded, “due to the many malevolent entities that had infiltrated him.”
31 They persistently implored Immanuel not to command them to enter the bottomless pit.
32 A considerable number of swine were grazing on the slope of the mountain. The malevolent entities implored Immanuel to allow them to inhabit these pigs, to which He consented.
33 The malevolent entities exited the individual. They inhabited the swine, resulting in the entire herd plunging down a precipice, leading to their demise in the lake.
34 Observing the events, the individuals looking after the swine fled, spreading the news both in the urban regions and rural areas.
35 The crowd ventured out to discern what had transpired. Upon encountering Immanuel, they witnessed the previously possessed man, now serenely sitting at Immanuel’s feet, dressed and expressing coherent thoughts, a sight that instilled fear in them.
36 Witnesses stated that a malevolent entity had possessed the man, but the man had recovered.
37 Every individual from the Gerasene territory implored Immanuel to depart as they were gripped by immense fear. Consequently, he boarded the boat and went away.
38 The individual who had been rid of the malevolent entities pleaded to accompany him, but Immanuel dismissed him with a remark.
39 “Journey back to your dwelling and share the notable deeds the Sovereign Captain has performed for you.” Consequently, the man embarked on a journey, disseminating the wonderful things Immanuel had accomplished for him throughout the entire city.

§ 26170 IMMANUEL RAISES A DEAD GIRL AND HEALS A SICK WOMAN

40 The crowd welcomed Immanuel eagerly upon his arrival, as they had been anticipating his return.
41 At this moment, Jairus, a leader in the communal place, approached and fell at Immanuel’s feet, pleading for him to come to his home.
42 His only daughter, about twelve years old, was dying. As Immanuel went, the crowds pressed around him.
43-44 Approaching him from behind, a woman touched the edge of his cloak; she had been bleeding for a dozen years, and no one could heal her. Immediately, her bleeding stopped.
45 Immanuel asked, “Who touched me?” When everyone denied it, Peter said, “Teacher, the people are crowding and pressing against you.”
46 But Immanuel said, “Someone touched me; I know that power has gone out from me.”
47 The woman approached him, frightened, and dropped at his feet, realizing she could not pass unseen. She explained to everyone why she had touched his clothing and how she had felt instantly better.
48 Then he told her, “Daughter, your trust has healed you. Go in peace.”

49 While Immanuel was still speaking, someone came from the house of Jairus, the communal place leader. “Your daughter is dead,” he said. “Don’t bother the Teacher anymore.”
50 Hearing this, Immanuel told Jairus, “Don’t be afraid; just trust, and she will be healed.”
51 He only allowed Peter, John, James, and the child’s parents to enter Jairus’ home with Him when He got there.
52 everyone was wailing and mourning for her. “Stop wailing,” Immanuel said. “She is not dead but asleep.”
53 They laughed at him, knowing she was dead.

54 But he took her by the hand and said, “My child, get up!”
55 Her inner-self returned, and at once, she stood up. Then Immanuel told them to give her something to eat.
56 He told her parents not to inform anyone about what had transpired, even if they were astonished.

§ 26180 IMMANUEL SENDS OUT THE TWELVE

9 Immanuel called his twelve pathseekers, granting them the power to expel malevolent entities and heal ailments.
2 He sent them to proclaim the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality and heal the afflicted.
3 He instructed, “Take nothing for the journey—no walking stick, sack, food, money, or extra tunic.”
4 “Stay in any home that welcomes you until you leave that city.”
5 “If people reject you, leave their town and shake the dust from your feet as a symbolic reproach.”
6 They traveled from village to village, spreading the message and healing the sick.
7 Herod, the Tetrarch, heard about these events and was perplexed. Some said John had risen from the dead.
8 Others believed Elijah had appeared or an ancient, eternally wise servant had returned.
9 Herod, who had beheaded John, wondered, “Who is this causing such a commotion?” and sought to meet him.

§ 26190 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FIVE THOUSAND

10 Upon their return, the emissaries shared their achievements with Immanuel. He then led them to the secluded town of Bethsaida.
11 The masses, aware of his presence, followed him. He welcomed them, spoke about the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality, and healed those in need.

12 The Twelve proposed that, because of the area’s remoteness, he send the multitude away to find food and shelter in surrounding cities and villages as dusk came.
13 He replied, “You feed them.” They answered, “We have only five loaves and two fish. We would need to buy food for this entire crowd.”

14 Despite about five thousand men being present, he instructed his pathseekers to have them sit in groups of fifty.
15 The pathseekers complied, seating everyone.

16 With the five loaves and two fish, he looked to the celestial realms, gave thanks, and broke them. He handed them to his pathseekers to distribute to the crowd.
17 everyone ate and was satisfied, and the leftovers filled twelve baskets collected by the pathseekers.

§ 26200 PETER DECLARES THAT IMMANUEL IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

18 During a private moment of melding his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, Immanuel asked his pathseekers, “What does the public say about me?”
19 They replied, “Some believe you are John the Immerser; others think you are Elijah; and some say an eternally wise servant from ancient times has returned.”
20 “And what about you?” he asked. “Who do you think I am?” Peter said, “The Preeminent Sovereign has sent You as the Chosen Redeemer.”
21 Immanuel strictly instructed them to keep this confidential.

§ 26210 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH

22 He predicted that elders, chief priests, and interpreters of the Mosaic Law would greatly suffer the Heir of Humanity, reject him, kill him and that he would rise on the third day.
23 Immanuel addressed everyone: “If anyone wants to follow me, they must deny their desires, carry their burdens daily, and walk my path.”
24 “Whoever loses their life for my sake will save it; whoever tries to save their life will lose it.”
25 “What benefit is it to gain the whole world but lose or forfeit your life?”
26 “The Heir of Humanity will disapprove of anyone ashamed of Me and My path when He comes in His celestial radiance along with the acclaim of the Life-Giver and the Celestial Envoys.”
27 “Some here will not taste death before seeing the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”

§ 26220 THE CELESTIAL TRANSFORMATION

28 About a week after Immanuel’s teachings, he took Peter, John, and James up a hill to meld his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
29 His face changed, and his clothes shone like lightning during this melding.
30 Immanuel spoke with Moses and Elijah, who appeared in awe-inspiring magnificence.
31 They discussed his upcoming departure in Yerushalayim.
32 Peter and his companions, though exhausted, fully awoke to see his radiance and the two men with him.
33 As the men left, Peter suggested, “Sovereign Captain, it would be delightful to stay here. Let’s build three pavilions: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah,” not realizing the implications.

34 While he spoke, a cloud enveloped them, causing fear as they entered it.
35 A voice from the cloud said, “This is my chosen offspring; heed his words.”
36 When the voice ended, Immanuel was alone. The pathseekers kept silent and told no one what they had seen during that time.

§ 26230 IMMANUEL HEALS A BOY POSSESSED BY A MALEVOLENT ENTITY

37 A large crowd met them the next day as they came down the hill.
38 A man from the crowd cried out, “Sovereign Captain, please look at my heir. He is my only child.”
39 A malevolent entity seizes him, causing sudden shrieks and violent fits, making him froth at the mouth. It rarely leaves him and constantly harms him.
40 “I asked your pathseekers to expel it, but they couldn’t.”
41 Immanuel replied, “You deceptive and crooked people, how long must I endure you? Bring your son to me.”
42 As the boy approached, the malevolent entity threw him into a violent seizure. Immanuel rebuked the entity, healed the child, and returned him to his father.
43 everyone was amazed by the Preeminent Sovereign’s power. While the crowd marveled at Immanuel’s actions, He spoke to His pathseekers.

§ 26240 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH A SECOND TIME

44 “Pay heed to My Path: The Heir of Humanity will be handed over to his foes.”
45 They couldn’t comprehend the meaning of this statement. It was kept secret, preventing them from understanding, and they were too scared to inquire about it.

§ 26250 WHO WILL BE THE GREATEST

46 A dispute emerged among the pathseekers concerning who would be considered the most prominent.
47 Understanding their intentions, Immanuel brought a small child beside him.
48 He told them, “Anyone who embraces this small child in my designation also welcomes me, and anyone who embraces me also embraces the one who dispatched me. Indeed, the most humble individual among you is considered the most significant.”
49 John spoke, “We observed an individual using Your name to expel malevolent entities, Sovereign Captain, and attempted to deter him, given he does not belong to our team.”
50 Immanuel stated, “Don’t restrain him since anyone not opposing you is on your side.”

§ 26260 SAMARITAN OPPOSITION

51 As the time for His ascension to the Eternal Reality’s realm approached, Immanuel set out resolutely for Yerushalayim.
52 He sent envoys to a Samaritan village to prepare for His arrival.
53 However, the villagers did not welcome him because his destination was Yerushalayim.

54 Seeing this, James and John asked, “Sovereign Captain, should we call down fire from the sky to consume them?”
55 Immanuel turned and rebuked them sharply.
56 He then led his pathseekers to another village.

§ 26270 THE COST OF FOLLOWING IMMANUEL

57 While journeying, a man declared, “I will accompany you anywhere.”
58 Immanuel replied, “Foxes have dens, birds have nests, but the Heir of Humanity has no place to rest.”
59 To another, he said, “Join my path.” The man replied, “Sovereign Captain, let me first go and bury my father.”

60 Immanuel said, “Let the innerly dead bury their own dead. You must spread the path of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”
61-62 Another said, “I will follow you, Sovereign Captain, but let me first say goodbye to my family.”
63 Immanuel replied, “Anyone who starts working but looks back is not fit for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”

§ 26280 THE FIELD OF ACTIONS AND RESULTS

10 After this, the Sovereign Captain selected seventy-two individuals and sent them in pairs to every city and place he intended to visit.
2 He told them, “There’s so much opportunity, but too few people to make a difference. So ask the Sovereign Captain to send more helpers to manage the work effectively.”
3 “Go, I send you like lambs among wolves.
4 Carry no money belt, provisions bag, or extra footwear; greet no one on the road.
5 When you enter a house, say, ‘Peace to this house. ’
6 If a person of peace is there, your peace will rest on them; if not, it will return to you.
7 Stay in that house, eating and drinking what they provide, for the worker deserves their wages. Do not move from house to house.
8 When you enter a town and are welcomed, eat what is set before you.
9 Heal the sick there and tell them, ‘The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is near you. ’

10 But when you enter a town and are not welcomed, go into its streets and say, 11 ‘Even the dust of your town we wipe from our feet as a warning to you. Yet be sure of this: The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is near. ’
12 ‘I tell you, it will be more bearable on that day for Sodom than for that town. ’
13 ‘Misfortune awaits you, Chorazin! Misfortune awaits you, Bethsaida! They would have changed their ways of living long ago, sitting in somber clothing and ashes, if the amazing marvelous works done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon.
14 “Tyre and Sidon will have it easier than you at the judgment.”
15 ‘And you, Capernaum, will you be lifted to the celestial realms? No, you will go down to the underworld. ’
16 “Whoever rejects Me opposes the One who sent me, but whoever rejects you rejects Me.” Whoever listens to you likewise hears me.

17 The seventy-two returned joyfully and said, “Sovereign Captain, even the malevolent entities submit to us in your name.”
18 He replied, “I saw the Adversary fall like lightning from the celestial realm.
19 I have given you the power to defeat the enemy’s might and step on snakes and scorpions. Nothing can hurt you.
20 However, do not rejoice that malevolent entities submit to you, but rejoice that your names are written in the celestial realms.”
21 At that time, Immanuel, full of delight through the Eternal Spark, said, “I give you thanks, Life-Giver, Sovereign of the Earth and the celestial realms, for it is You who has disclosed these things to little children while keeping them hidden from the wise and knowledgeable. Yes, Life-Giver, for this is what you were pleased to do.
22 My Life-Giver has committed all things to Me. No one knows who the Heir is except the Life-Giver, and no one knows who the Life-Giver is except the Heir and those to whom the Heir chooses to reveal him.”
23 Then he turned to his pathseekers and said privately, “Fortunate are the eyes that see what you see.

24 For I tell you that many eternally wise servants and Prime Rulers wanted to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.”

§ 26290 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE COMPASSIONATE SAMARITAN

25 A Mosaic Law expert once challenged Immanuel, asking, “Teacher, what must I do to gain eternal life?”

26 Immanuel replied, “What does the Living Path say? How do you read it?”

27 He answered, “Love the Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, with all your inner-self, your inner determination, your empowerment, and your intellect, and love your neighbor as yourself.”

28 Immanuel affirmed, “You have answered correctly. Do this, and you will live.”

29 Seeking to justify himself, he asked, “Who is my neighbor?”

30 Immanuel told a story: “A man was traveling from Yerushalayim to Jericho when thieves attacked him. They stripped him, beat him, and left him half-dead.”
31 “A priest happened to be going down the same road, but when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side.”
32 “So too, a Levite came to the place and saw him but passed by on the other side.”
33 “But a compassionate Samaritan, as he traveled, came where the man was and took pity on him.”

34 He went to him, applied wine and oil to his wounds, and bandaged them. After that, he placed the man in his own transport, took him to a lodging, and cared for him.
35 He took out two silver pieces (7.7 grams) and delivered them to the innkeeper the following day. He responded, “Look after him, and I’ll reimburse you for any additional costs you may have when I return.”

36 “Which of these three do you think was a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of robbers?”
37 The expert in the Mosaic Law replied, “The one who had mercy on him.” Immanuel told him, “Go and do likewise.”

§ 26300 AT THE HOME OF MARTHA AND MARY

38 During their journey, Immanuel and his pathseekers arrived at a township where they were welcomed into the house of a woman known as Martha.
39 Mary, her sister was found seated at the feet of the Sovereign Captain, engrossed in his teachings.
40 Martha, overwhelmed with tasks, approached him and questioned, “Sovereign Captain, aren’t you bothered that my sister has left all the work for me to do alone? Ask her to assist me!”
41 “Martha, Martha,” the Sovereign Captain responded, “you are anxious and distressed over numerous matters.”
42 “Truly, one thing is of importance exclusively. Mary has made the superior choice, which won’t be revoked.”

§ 26310 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER’S TEACHING ON MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

11 Immanuel was melding his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign on a specific occasion. After concluding, one of his pathseekers approached him, saying, “Sovereign Captain, teach us how to meld our conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign in the same manner as John instructed his pathseekers.”

2 Immanuel began, “Life-Giver, let Your name be celebrated as exalted; usher in Your Sovereignty.”
3 “Grant us the sustenance we require every day.”
4 “Pardon our wrongdoings, as we also absolve everyone who has committed offenses against us. Keep us away from complex testing.”
5 He then posed a scenario: envision visiting a comrade at midnight and asking, “Mate, could you spare me three loaves of bread?”
6 “My friend, who has been traveling, has arrived at my place, and I don’t have any sustenance to provide him.”
7 Imagine the individual inside responds, “Leave me be. The entrance is securely fastened, and my offspring and I have retired for the night. I can’t rouse and hand you anything.”
8 “I assure you that even if he doesn’t rise to offer you anything due to friendship, your bold persistence will compel him to provide what you need.”
9 “I convey to you: Make a request, and it shall be granted; continue your search, and you shall discover; rap and the entrance will unlock for you.”
10 “All who persistently inquire shall be granted those. That diligent search shall find, and the gateway shall be unveiled for the one who relentlessly knocks.”
11 “Would any of you who are dads, if your child requests a fish, provide him with a serpent instead?”
12 “Would he be handed a scorpion if he asks for an egg?”

13 “Even when evil, you can grant beneficial gifts to your offspring. Imagine how much more the celestial Life-Giver will provide the Eternal Spark to those who petition him.”

§ 26320 IMMANUEL AND BEELZEBUB

14 Immanuel expelled a malevolent entity causing muteness, and the man began to speak, astonishing the crowd.

15 Some claimed he did this through Beelzebub, the chief of malevolent entities.
16 Others demanded a celestial sign to test him.
17 Immanuel, aware of their thoughts, said, “A realm in civil war will fall, and a divided family will collapse.”
18 “If the Adversary is in civil war, how can his domain stand? You claim I expel malevolent entities with Beelzebub’s help.”
19 “If I use Beelzebub’s power, whose help do your pathseekers use? They will be your judges.”
20 “If I expel malevolent entities by the Preeminent Sovereign’s power, then the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is within you.”
21 “A strong, well-armed man guards his home, and his possessions are safe.”
22 “But if someone stronger attacks and overcomes him, he takes the ballistic body armor the man trusted and divides the spoils.”
23 “Anyone not with me is against me, and anyone not helping me scatters.”
24 “When a corrupting malevolent entity leaves someone, it wanders in desolate places seeking rest but finds none. It decides to return to its former home.”
25-26 “Finding it clean and organized, it brings seven more malevolent entities worse than itself, and they live there. The person’s final state is worse than the first.”
27 While Immanuel spoke, a woman shouted, “Fortunate is the woman who birthed and nursed you.”
28 He replied, “Fortunate are those who listen to and follow the Preeminent Sovereign’s teachings.”

§ 26330 THE SIGN OF JONAH

29 Immanuel declared this era inherently tainted as the population swelled. “It craves a marvelous sign. However, the exclusive one provided will be that of Jonah.”

30 “Just as Jonah served as a sign for Nineveh, so will the Heir of Humanity be for this generation.”

31 “The Prime Ruler from the southern territories will stand up alongside humanity during the final reckoning, denouncing them, considering she journeyed from the farthest corners of the globe to value Solomon’s discernment. Now, something surpassing Solomon’s greatness is here.”

32 “The individuals from Nineveh will rise at the judgment beside this era and rebuke it, given that they altered their ways in response to Jonah’s sermon. Now, something more significant than Jonah is here.”

§ 26340 YOUR INNER LIGHT SHAPES YOUR WORLD

33 "Nobody switches on a light and hides it under a shelf or stuffs it in a closet. Instead, they place it high up, where it lights up the entire room for everyone who walks in. The way you see the world is like a lamp that lights your life. If your perspective is clear and focused on what's good, your entire life will radiate positivity. But if your perspective is clouded, it will feel like you're surrounded by darkness. Pay attention to your inner light—don't let negativity dim it. When your whole self is filled with brightness, with no shadow of doubt or despair, you'll shine as brightly as a light that illuminates everything around it."

§ 26350 "MISFORTUNES FOR THE TRADITION KEEPERS AND THE EXPERTS IN MOSAIC L

37 After his discourse, a Tradition Keeper invited Immanuel to dine with him. Immanuel accepted and sat at the table.
38 The Tradition Keeper was surprised that Immanuel didn't perform the formal cleansing before eating.
39 The Sovereign Captain then remarked on how the Tradition Keepers clean the outside of the cup and plate but are internally full of greed and spite.
40 "Foolish ones, didn't the Innovator of the exterior also create the interior?"
41 "Show kindness to the less fortunate, and everything will be purified for you."

42 "Misery awaits you, Tradition Keepers, for you give ten percent herbs like mint and rue but neglect fairness and celestial affection. You should have practiced these without neglecting the others."
43 "How terrible for you Tradition Keepers, as you love prestigious seats in communal places and respectful recognition in public markets."
44 "You are like hidden tombs that people walk over without knowing."

45 An interpreter of Mosaic Law said, "Teacher, your words offend us too."
46 Immanuel replied, "Misfortune awaits you, interpreters of Mosaic Law, for you impose heavy burdens on people but don't help lighten them."
47 "What sorrow awaits you, for you build tombs for the eternally wise servants whom your forefathers killed."
48 "You endorse your forefathers' actions; they killed the eternally wise servants, and you build their tombs."

49 "The Eternal Reality's wisdom said, 'I will send eternally wise servants and messengers; some they will kill and others they will torment. '"
50 "The accountability for all the seers' bloodshed from the dawn of time will fall on this era."
51 "From Abel's death to Zechariah's killing between the pedestal table and the Exalted Space, this era will bear these deeds."
52 "Alas, you authorities of Mosaic Law have taken the key of wisdom. You haven't entered understanding yourselves and have hindered those trying to do so."

53 Outside, Immanuel faced severe opposition from the Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law, who bombarded him with questions, 54 trying to trap him in his words.

§ 26360 WARNINGS AND ENCOURAGEMENTS

12 Amidst a vast crowd, Immanuel addressed his pathseekers, warning them: “Beware the leaven of the Tradition Keepers, symbolizing their pretense.”
2 He heeded Abraham’s intervention during the Preeminent Sovereign’s destruction of the plain’s cities, rescuing Lot from disaster.
3 “What is spoken in darkness will be disclosed in daylight, and what is whispered in private will be proclaimed from rooftops.”
4 “Do not fear those who can kill the body but can do no more.”
5 “Fear the one who, after taking your life, can cast you into eternal torment. Yes, fear him.”
6 “Five sparrows are sold for two small coins, yet the Preeminent Sovereign forgets none.”
7 “Every hair on your head is counted. Do not fear; you are worth more than many sparrows.”

8 “Anyone who acknowledges me before others, the Heir of Humanity, will also acknowledge before the Preeminent Sovereign’s Celestial Envoys.”
9 “But whoever denies me before others will be denied before the Preeminent Sovereign’s Celestial Envoys.”
10 “Anyone who speaks against the Heir of Humanity will be forgiven, but those who blaspheme against the Eternal Spark will not be absolved.”
11 “When you are brought before communal places, rulers, and authorities, do not worry about your defense or what to say.”
12 “The exalted Eternal Spark will teach you what to say at that moment.”

§ 26370 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE RICH FOOL

13 An individual among the multitude requested that the instructor require my sibling to share the legacy with me.
14 Immanuel responded, “My good man, who made me an adjudicator or mediator over you?”
15 He cautioned them, saying, “Beware! Keep your inner-self clear of every form of greed, for the real essence of life doesn’t lie in the multitude of one’s belongings.”
16 He gave them an analogy: “A wealthy individual possessed a plot of land that brought forth a plentiful crop.”
17 He deliberated, “What’s the solution? I don’t have sufficient room to accumulate my harvest.”
18 He devised, “I comprehend what I must execute. I will dismantle my storing structures and construct larger ones, wherein all my excess wheat will be conserved.”
19 “I will tell myself, ‘You have amassed enough grain for numerous years. Relax, indulge in food and drink, and enjoy yourself. ’”

20 But the Preeminent Sovereign told him, “You foolish one, they are demanding your life from you this night. Then, who will own all the things you’ve accumulated?”
21 “It mirrors those who amass possessions for their own sake yet fail to cultivate wealth in their relationship with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 26380 DO NOT WORRY

22 Immanuel advised his pathseekers: “Stop worrying about your existence, what you will consume, your physical self, or what you will wear.”
23 “Existence is more significant than sustenance; the physical form surpasses mere attire.”
24 “Consider the crows: They neither plant nor harvest; they don’t own a warehouse or barn, yet the Preeminent Sovereign nourishes them. You are more precious to Him than the birds!”
25 “Can you prolong your life even a moment by worrying?”
26 “If you cannot accomplish such a minor task, why let the rest cause you anxiety?”
27 “Observe how the wildflowers flourish. They don’t toil or weave cloth. Yet, not even Solomon’s magnificence was as well-adorned as these.”
28 “If the Preeminent Sovereign can adorn the ephemeral grass of the field, which exists today and is cast into the furnace tomorrow, how much more will He ensure your well-being? O, those with scant trust.”
29 “Don’t let your mind be preoccupied with what you will consume or drink. Eliminate any anxiety regarding it.”
30 “The Outsiders in the world seek all these things, and your Life-Giver knows you require them.”
31 “Pursue His Sovereignty above all else; everything else will be provided to you.”
32 “Don’t worry, small group; it is your Life-Giver’s great delight to grant you the Sovereignty.”

33 “Liquidate your belongings and distribute the proceeds to needy people. Equip yourselves with inexhaustible monetary vessels, creating a fail-proof wealth reserve in the celestial realm, where burglars cannot infringe on it, and insects cannot cause its decay.”
34 “Your inner-self will dwell where your wealth lies.”

§ 26390 WATCHFULNESS

35 “Be ready for duty and keep your lights on.”
36 Like administrators awaiting their Sovereign Captain’s return from a wedding, ready to unlock the door immediately upon his arrival and knock.
37 “Those coworkers found alert by their supervisor on his return will be rewarded. Truly, he will prepare to serve them, invite them to sit at the table, and personally attend to them.”
38 “Those coworkers are fortunate if their supervisor finds them alert on his arrival, whether during midnight or at dawn.”
39 “If the homeowner knew when the burglar was coming, he wouldn’t have let his house be broken into.”
40 “You too should be ready, for the Heir of Humanity will arrive when you least expect it.”
41 Peter asked, “Sovereign Captain, is this enlightening story for us or everyone?”
42 The Sovereign Captain replied, “Who is the wise and dependable steward that the supervisor will appoint to manage his household coworkers, ensuring they get their food supplies at the right time?”
43 “The coworker will be fortunate if his supervisor finds him doing his duties on his return.”
44 “I promise he’ll give him command over everything he owns.”
45 “But if the worker thinks, ‘My boss is delaying his return, ’ he starts to mistreat the other staff, both males and females and begins to eat and drink until he becomes drunk.”

46 “The coworker’s owner will return on a day and at a time he least expects. He will be severely punished and placed with those who reject trust.”
47 “A coworker who knows his supervisor’s desires but fails to prepare or act accordingly will receive many harsh punishments.”
48 “The one who acts wrongly out of ignorance will receive a lighter punishment. Much is expected from those who have received much, and even more is required from those given much responsibility.”

§ 26400 NOT PEACE BUT DIVISION

49 “I have come to ignite a transformation in the world, and I wish the spark of change had already been set aflame!”
50 “I must experience a death immersion and feel immense pressure until it is accomplished!”
51 “Do you trust I arrived to establish harmony on the planet? I must correct you; it’s not peace but separation.”
52 “A household of five will experience division, with a split of three against two and two against three.”
53 “Discord shall arise, with fathers opposing sons and sons fighting fathers, mothers conflicting with daughters and daughters conflicting with mothers, mothers-in-law at odds with their daughters-in-law, and daughters-in-law at odds with their mothers-in-law.”

§ 26410 INTERPRETING THE TIMES

54 “When you see an overcast sky in the West, you immediately say, ‘Rain is coming, ’ and it happens,” he said to the crowd.
55 “When the South wind blows, you say, ‘It’ll be hot, ’ and it is.”
56 "Hypocrites! You can decipher the sky and the Earth, so why can’t you comprehend these times?

57 “Why can’t you judge what is right?”
58 “Settle with your adversary before reaching the magistrate. Otherwise, he may hand you over to the judge, who will deliver you to the officer, and you’ll be thrown into prison.”
59 “You won’t get out until you’ve paid every last cent.”

§ 26420 TURN AWAY FROM UNWORTHY CHOICES OR PERISH

13 During that period, some individuals informed Immanuel about the Galileans Pilate had slaughtered, blending their blood with the absolving payments they made.
2 Immanuel responded, “Do you suppose these Galileans were full of unworthy choices compared to every other Galilean because they endured such suffering?”
3 “Not. But you will all die if you don’t change your inner selves and lives.”
4 “Regarding those eighteen individuals who lost their lives due to the collapse of the Siloam Tower, do you consider them to have been more guilty than everyone else residing in Yerushalayim?”

5 "I assure you that unless you change your ways and renounce your unworthy choices, you all are destined for destruction."
6 He then shared this analogy: "A particular individual planted a fig tree within his vineyard. He sought after its fruit, only to discover none."
7 "So, he spoke to the vineyard's caretaker, 'It's been three years already that I've been anticipating fruit from this fig tree, but I've come up empty. Chop it down! Why should it keep depleting the nutrients from the soil?'"
8 "'Supervisor, ' the man responded, 'give it one more year, during which I'll cultivate the soil around it and add fertilizer. '"
9 "If it produces fruit in the coming year, that would be good. However, if it doesn't, you should have it cut down."

§ 26430 IMMANUEL HEALS A CRIPPLED FEMALE HUMAN ON THE REST DAY

10 "Immanuel provided lessons on the exalted rest day in a communal place."
11 "A lady was present who, due to a malevolent entity, had been disabled for eighteen long years. She had an arched back and was incapable of standing upright."
12 Observing her, Immanuel beckoned her over, uttering, "Lady, you are liberated from your affliction."
13 He placed his hands on her, and right away, she could stand upright while glorifying the Preeminent Sovereign.
14 The communal place leader, upset because Immanuel had performed healing on the Day of Rest, proclaimed to the ensovereigned lifestyle community that six days were available for labor. Therefore, people should seek healing on these days, not on the day of expression of joyful adoration.
15 The Sovereign Captain retorted, "You impostors! Isn't it typical of all of you to unchain your ox or donkey from its pen and guide it for a drink on the Day of Rest?"
16 "Isn't it right on the Day of Rest to unchain this woman from her confinement, a descendent of Abraham, whom the Adversary has restrained for eighteen years?"
17 On uttering these words, all those in opposition felt ashamed. Yet, the crowd was overjoyed by all the magnificent acts He performed.

§ 26440 SMALL IDEAS, BIG CHANGE

18-19 Immanuel asked, "How can I illustrate the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality? What comparison should I use?" It's like a tiny idea someone shared in a small neighborhood park. Over time, that idea grew into a thriving movement, like a towering tree. It became a place where people from all over found connection, shelter, and a sense of belonging.

20 Again, he asked, "What comparison can I use for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality?"
21 "It's like a small bit of starter dough that a baker mixes into a large batch of ingredients. Over time, that small piece spreads throughout the entire mixture, transforming it into something ready to rise and feed many."

§ 26450 THE NARROW DOOR

22 As Immanuel journeyed towards Yerushalayim, he taught in various towns and villages.
23 Someone asked, “Sovereign Captain, will only a few attain redemption?” He replied, 24-25 “Put in the effort to access the exclusive opportunity. Many will try but miss their chance. Once the invitation expires, you’ll find yourself outside, knocking and saying, ‘Please, let us in.’ But the response will be, ‘I don’t recognize you or where you belong.”

26 “You’ll say, ‘You taught in our streets, and we were eating and drinking with you.
’”
27 “But he will reply, ‘I don’t know you or where you come from. Depart from me, all you who practice impurity!’”
28 “When you see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the eternally wise servants in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality, but you yourselves are thrown out, there will be crying and clenching of teeth.”
29 “People will come from the East, West, North, and South to take their places at the celestial banquet in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”
30 “Indeed, those who are last will be first, and those who are first will be last.”

§ 26460 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER’S SORROW FOR YERUSHALAYIM

31 During that period, certain Tradition Keepers approached Immanuel, suggesting he exit this location and relocate elsewhere since Herod harbors an intention to murder him.
32 He responded, informing that sly creature, “I will continue to expel malevolent entities and cure individuals today and tomorrow, and on the third day, I will accomplish my mission.”
33 “Nonetheless, I must continue my journey today, tomorrow, and the following day—because an eternally wise servant can’t perish outside Yerushalayim!”
34 “Yerushalayim, Yerushalayim, the one that executes the eternally wise servants and throws rocks at those who are dispatched to you, many times I yearned to assemble your offspring just like a bird does with her young under her wings, but you did not consent.”
35 “Consider this: your habitation is left to you abandoned. I assure you, you will not behold me until you pronounce, ‘Fortunate is the one who arrives in the name of the Sovereign Captain. ’”

§ 26470 IMMANUEL AT A TRADITION KEEPER’S HOUSE

14 Under close scrutiny, Immanuel dined at a distinguished Tradition Keeper’s home on a Day of Rest.
2 A man with extreme bodily swelling stood before him.
3 Immanuel asked the Tradition Keepers and interpreters of Mosaic Law, “Is it permitted to heal on the Day of Rest or not?”
4 They remained silent. Immanuel then healed the man and sent him away.
5 He asked, “Wouldn’t any of you rescue your child or ox if it fell into a well on the Day of Rest?”

[6] They had no response.

[7] Noticing how guests chose prominent seats, he shared this story.

[8] “When invited to a wedding, don’t choose the seat of honor; someone more esteemed might be invited.”
[9] “The host may ask you to give up your seat, leaving you embarrassed and taking the least significant place.”
[10] “Instead, choose the least prestigious seat. The host may then invite you to a better position, earning you respect from all attendees.”
[11] “everyone who elevates themselves will be lowered, and those who humble themselves will be elevated.”

[12] “When you host a dinner party or a banquet, do not invite your friends, brothers, relatives, or wealthy neighbors," Immanuel then told the man who had invited Him. If not, they might extend a reciprocal invitation, in which case you will receive payment.
[13] However, invite the blind, lame, disabled, and impoverished to your dinner, [14] and you’ll be fortunate. You will be compensated at the return of the death of individuals of integrity since they are unable to pay you back.

§ 26480 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE GREAT BANQUET

[15] Upon hearing this, a guest remarked to Immanuel about the fortune of those who will dine in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
[16] Immanuel responded: “A man once organized a grand feast and invited many guests.”
[17] “When the meal was ready, he sent his attendant to tell the invitees, ‘Come, everything is prepared. ’”
[18] But they all began to make excuses. The first said, ‘I’ve just bought some land and must see it. Please excuse me. ’
[19] “I just bought five sets of oxen and am on the way to try them out,” stated another. I apologize.
[20] Another said, ‘I’ve just gotten married, so I can’t come. ’”

[21] The attendant returned and reported this to his Sovereign Captain. ‘Quickly go into the streets and alleyways of the village and bring in the impoverished, those with disabilities, the blind, and the lame, ’ the enraged homeowner ordered his assistant.
[22] ‘Sir, ’ the coworker said, ‘what you ordered has been done, but there is still room. ’
[23] The owner then instructed his coworker to go out to the roads and country lanes and compel people to come in so his house would be full.
[24] “None of those invited will get a taste of my banquet.”

§ 26490 THE COST OF BEING A PATHSEEKER

[25] Many people were journeying alongside Immanuel when he turned and addressed them.
[26] “One cannot be my pathseeker if they do not prioritize me over their parents, spouse, children, siblings, and even their own life.”

27 “Those unable to endure their burdens and pursue My path cannot be considered my pathseekers.”

28 “Imagine that one of you intends to construct a tower. Wouldn’t you initially take a moment to calculate the expenses to confirm if your funds are adequate for its completion?”
29 “Suppose you start construction by laying the foundation but fail to complete it. In that case, all who witness it will mock you.”
30 “They would remark, ‘This individual initiated construction but failed to accomplish it. ’”

31 “Consider a scenario where a Prime Ruler prepares to wage a battle against another Prime Ruler. Would he not first deliberate and evaluate if his force of ten thousand soldiers could confront the Adversary who approached with twenty thousand men?”
32 “If he finds himself incapable, he’ll dispatch a representative to negotiate conditions of peace while the opponent is still at a significant distance.”

33 “Similarly, if you are unwilling to forfeit all your possessions, you cannot be a pathseeker of mine.”

34-35 "Your influence is valuable, but if you lose your unique ability to inspire and improve the world, what good will you be? It won’t even serve a basic purpose and will be cast aside. Pay attention to this authenticity."

§ 26500 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE LOST SHEEP

15 All the tax collectors and notorious individuals gathered to hear Immanuel.
2 The intelligence analysts and Tradition Keepers grumbled, saying that he associates with wrongdoers and shares meals with them.
3-7 Immanuel addressed them with this enlightening story: 'Imagine you have a hundred people in your care, and one goes missing. Wouldn’t you leave the ninety-nine in a safe place to search tirelessly for the one who is lost? And when you find them, you would carry them back with joy, bringing them home safely.'"

§ 26510 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE LOST COIN

8 “Alternatively, what woman with ten silver pieces fails to turn on the lights, clean her home, and thoroughly search until she finds the lost coin?”
9 “On locating it, she invites her companions and neighbors over, exclaiming, ‘Celebrate with me; I have discovered the coin I misplaced. ’”

10 “Similarly, it’s assured that there is an expression of delight among the Celestial Envoys of Preeminent Sovereign when a single wrongdoer decides to amend his ways.”

§ 26520 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE LOST HEIR

11 Immanuel said: “Once, a confident individual was the parent of two sons.”
12 The younger Heir told his parent, ‘Life-Giver, I request my portion of the inheritance. ’ Consequently, the parent allocated his assets among them.
13 In a brief period, the young Heir gathered all his possessions, ventured to a far-off land, and frivolously exhausted his fortune through unrestrained behavior.
14 When he had depleted all his resources, a harsh food scarcity afflicted the entire region, leading him to poverty.
15 So, he secured employment with a local inhabitant of that nation, who assigned him to his farmland to tend the swine.
16 He was desperate to satisfy his hunger with the carob pods the swine fed on, yet no one offered anything.
17 Once he regained clarity, he thought, ‘Several of my parent’s employed workers have an abundance of food, yet here I am, on starvation!’
18 “I shall depart and return to my parent, confessing: ‘Life-Giver, I have transgressed both against the celestial realms and you. ’
19 ‘I no longer have the merit to be seen as your offspring. Treat me as one of your compensated laborers. ’” 20 Even when he was far from home, his parent saw him coming, overwhelmed with love and compassion, and ran to embrace him.
21 The offspring declared, ‘Life-Giver, I am guilty of committing an unworthy choice against the celestial realms and you. I no longer hold the right to be addressed as your child. ’

22 The parent instructed his coworkers, ‘Hurry! Bring the finest garment and dress him. Place a ring on his digit and footwear on his soles.
23 Fetch the well-nourished calf and slaughter it. We ought to revel and commemorate with a banquet.
24 This child of mine was lifeless and has now returned to existence. He had gone astray and had been located. So, the festivities commenced. ’
25 At the same time, the senior Heir was out in the fields. As he approached the dwelling, he heard melodies and merriment sounds.
26 He summoned a coworker and inquired about current events.
27 ‘Your brother has returned, ’ he informed, ‘and your parent has celebrated his safe arrival by slaughtering the fattened calf. ’”
28 The elder Heir was angry and would not enter. So, his parent emerged and implored him.
29 He responded to his parent, ‘Pay Heed!! I have served you like an enslaved person for all these years, always obeying your directives. Still, I don’t remember you providing me as much as a young goat to have a feast with my friends.
30 Yet when this child of yours who has wasted your wealth on the wrong woman returns home, you offer the prime calf for him. ’
31 The parent asserted, ‘My child, you are perpetually in my presence. All my possessions are at your disposal.
32 Nevertheless, it was essential to rejoice and feel happiness, as your brother, who was once lost, is now found and who was considered dead, is now alive. ’”

§ 26530 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE SHREWD MANAGER

16 Immanuel shared a story with his pathseekers: “A wealthy individual’s steward was accused of mismanaging his supervisor’s assets.”

2 The individual summoned him and demanded, “What are these allegations? Provide a full account of your stewardship, as you can no longer manage my affairs.”
3 The steward thought, “What should I do now? My employer is dismissing me. I am not strong enough for manual labor and too ashamed to beg.”
4 “I know what I’ll do so that people will welcome me into their homes when I lose my job.”
5 He called in each debtor of his supervisor. To the first, he asked, “How much do you owe my supervisor?”
6 He answered, “I owe 3,407 liters of olive oil.” “Take your bill, sit down rapidly, and make it
1,704 liters,” the manager instructed him.
7 He asked another, “And how much do you owe?” The man replied, “221,677 liters of wheat.”
The manager said, “Take your bill and make it 177,377 liters.”
8 The employer praised the dishonest steward for his shrewdness, noting that people of this world are often more cunning with their kind than those of light.
9 “Make friends with the wealth of this world so that, when it passes away, you will be received into eternal dwellings.”
10 “A person who is dishonest with little will also be deceitful with much; whoever can be entrusted with very little is equally trustworthy with much.”
11 Who will trust you with authentic wealth if you haven’t proven trustworthy with material wealth?
12 “And who will provide you your property if you haven’t been reliable with other people’s stuff?”
13 “A person cannot work for two supervisors. Either you will be loyal to and detest the other or hate and adore the other. Money and the Preeminent Sovereign cannot be served together.
14 The Tradition Keepers, who loved money, heard all this and sneered at Immanuel.
15 He told them, “The Preeminent Sovereign knows your inner determination. What is highly valued among humans is detestable in His sight.”

§ 26540 ADDITIONAL TEACHINGS

16 “Moses’ teachings and the eternally wise servants’ messages persisted until John came along. Since then, the joyous developments about the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality have spread, with everyone striving hard to gain entry.”

17 “The dissolution of the celestial realms and the globe is more likely than even the smallest detail of the Mosaic Law fading away.”

18 “A man who ends his marriage with his wife and chooses to wed another is committing an act of infidelity. Similarly, the individual who decides to marry a woman who has been separated from her husband is also indulging in infidelity.”

§ 26550 THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS

19 A wealthy man, always dressed in purple and fine linen, lived in luxury daily.
20 At his gate lay a poor man named Lazarus, covered in sores.
21 He longed to eat the scraps from the rich man's table. Even dogs came and licked his sores.
22 The time came when the poor man died, and the Celestial Envoys carried him to Abraham's side. The wealthy man also died and was buried.
23 In the underworld, in torment, he looked up and saw Abraham far away, with Lazarus by his side.
24 "Father Abraham, have compassion on me and send Lazarus to cool my tongue by dipping the point of his finger in water, for I am in agony in this fire," he cried out.

25 "Son, keep in mind that during your lifetime, you were fortunate with good things, while Lazarus was cursed with awful things; now he gets comfort here, and you are in agony," Abraham answered.
26 Besides, a great chasm has been set between us and you, so those who want to go from here to you cannot, nor can anyone cross over from there to us."
27 He answered, "Then I beg you, Father, send Lazarus to my family.
28 My brothers number five. Allow him to warn others to prevent them from visiting this torture site as well.
29 Abraham replied, "They have Moses and the eternally wise servants; let them listen to them."
30 "No, Father Abraham," he replied, "but they will alter your ways of living if a deceased person visits them."
31 He said to him, "If they do not listen to Moses and the eternally wise servants, even if someone were to rise from the grave, they wouldn't be persuaded.

§ 26560 UNWORTHY CHOICES, TRUST, DUTY

17 Immanuel told his pathseekers that incidents leading individuals to unworthy choices are inevitable, but disaster awaits the one causing them.
2 It would be better for them to be cast into the sea with a large stone tied around their neck than to lead the innocent into unworthy choices.
3 "Remain vigilant. If your sibling transgresses against you, correct them; if they express remorse, forgive them.
4 Even if they transgress seven times in one day and return each time with remorse, you must absolve them.
5 The emissaries implored the Sovereign Captain to strengthen their trust.
6-7 "'If you have even a tiny bit of trust, like a spark of belief, you could tell the oldest, deepest-rooted tree in the city park, "Move to the riverbank," and it would shift. Imagine this: Suppose you have a worker who's been running deliveries or maintaining the community spaces. When they return, would you immediately invite them to relax and join you for dinner?"

8 Wouldn't you rather say, 'Prepare my dinner, get ready, and serve me while I eat and drink; afterward, you can eat and drink'?
9 Is the coworker praised for merely following directives?
10 Likewise, when completing all tasks, say, 'We are simply coworkers not deserving of acclaim; we have fulfilled our obligations. '"

§ 26570 IMMANUEL HEALS TEN MEN WITH A CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASE

11 As Immanuel journeyed to Yerushalayim, he passed through the boundary between Samaria and Galilee.
12 Upon entering a village, ten individuals with skin disorders met him but kept their distance.
13 They cried out, “Immanuel, Sovereign Captain, show mercy to us!”
14 Immanuel instructed them to “show yourselves to the ensovereigned mediators.” As they went, they were purified.
15 One, realizing he was healed, returned, loudly glorifying the Preeminent Sovereign.
16 He fell at Immanuel’s feet, thanking him, and identified himself as a Samaritan.
17 Immanuel asked, “Weren’t ten healed? Where are the other nine?”
18 “Is this outsider the only one who returned to thank the Preeminent Sovereign?”
19 Immanuel told him, “Get up and go; your trust has restored your health.”

§ 26580 THE COMING SOVEREIGNTY OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

20 When the Tradition Keepers asked about the arrival of the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality, Immanuel explained that it cannot be visibly detected.
21 People won’t say, “Pay Heed here” or “Pay Heed there,” because the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is within you.
22 He told his pathseekers that a time would come when they would long to see even one day of the Heir of Humanity, but it would be impossible.
23 People might say, “Pay Heed! he’s there!” or “Look, he’s here!” but they should not follow.
24 Just as lightning lights up the sky from one end to the other, so will the Heir of Humanity in his time.
25 First, he must suffer greatly and be rejected by this generation.
26-27 It will be like the days of Noah; people continued their routines until Noah entered the life barge, and then the flood came and destroyed them all.
28-29 Similarly, in Lot’s time, people ate, drank, bought, sold, planted, and built until fire and sulfur rained down and destroyed them all.
30 It will be just like this on the day the Heir of Humanity is disclosed.
31 On that day, anyone on a rooftop must not go down to get their belongings, and anyone in the field must not turn back.
32 “Remember Lot’s wife!”
33 Whoever tries to save their existence will lose it, but whoever loses their life will preserve it.
34 That night, two people will be in one bed; one will be taken and the other left.
35 Two women will be processing grain together; one will be taken and the other left.
36 Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left.
37 The pathseekers asked, “Where, Sovereign Captain?” He replied, “Where there is a carcass, the scavengers will gather.”

§ 26590 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE PERSISTENT WIDOW

18 Immanuel shared a story with his pathseekers to emphasize the importance of melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign and persisting without losing your inner-self. He said:

2 In a certain city, a magistrate neither revered the Preeminent Sovereign nor cared about public opinion.
3 A widow in that city persistently appealed to him, “Vindicate me against my opponent.”
4-5 He refused but eventually thought, “Though I have no reverence for the Preeminent Sovereign or concern for human opinion, this widow is continuously bugging me. I will ensure she receives justice, so she doesn’t ultimately resort to assaulting me.”

6 The Sovereign Captain instructed to heed the words of the unfair judge.
7 “Won’t our integrid Preeminent Sovereign defend and protect his chosen ones who incessantly call on him day and night? Will he postpone their aid indefinitely?”
8 “I assure you, he will grant them justice rapidly. Yet, when the Heir of Humanity returns, will he discover trust on this planet?”

§ 26600 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE TRADITION KEEPER AND THE TAX COLLECT

9 Immanuel shared an enlightening story with those confident in their integrity who looked down on others.
10 A Tradition Keeper and a tax collector went to express joyful adoration and meld their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.

11-12 The Tradition Keeper stood alone and prayed, ‘My Preeminent Sovereign, I am grateful I am not like other people—thieves, wrongdoers, those who engage in an extramarital affair, or even this tax collector. I skip meals twice a week, giving a tenth of my income. ’
13 But the tax collector, standing at a distance, wouldn’t look up to the sky; he beat his chest and pleaded, ‘Preeminent Sovereign, be compassionate to me, for I am guilty. ’
14 The Preeminent Sovereign vindicated this man, rather than the other, as he went home because those who humble themselves will be exalted. Those who acclaim themselves will be diminished.

§ 26610 THE LITTLE CHILDREN AND IMMANUEL

15 People were bringing their children to Immanuel for His touch. Observing this scene, the pathseekers rebuked those who brought them.
16 Immanuel called the children and said, “Let the young ones come to me, and do not hinder them, for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality belongs to such as these.”

17 “Truly, anyone who does not receive the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality with a child’s innocence will not enter it.”

§ 26620 THE RICH AND THE REALM OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

18 An official asked him, “Good Teacher, what steps should I take to achieve eternal life?”

19 Immanuel queried, “Why do you refer to me as Good? No one is good, except for the Preeminent Sovereign alone.”

20 “You are aware of the laws: • Refrain from an extramarital affair.
• Avoid murdering.
• Abstain from theft.
• Do not present false evidence.
• Respect your parents.”

21 “I’ve trustfully adhered to all these directives since my youthful days,” he replied.

22 On hearing his words, Immanuel remarked, “There’s still something you’re missing. Liquidate all your possessions, distribute the wealth among people in need, and you’ll gain celestial riches. Then, come, become my pathseeker.”

23 He was overcome with sadness on hearing these words, given his extreme affluence.

24 Observing him, Immanuel expressed, “How difficult it is for those possessing wealth to gain entry into the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality!”
25 “A wealthy man cannot more easily enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality than a camel can pass through a needle’s eye.”

26 Hearing this, one asked, “Who can be saved?”

27 Immanuel asserted, “What is impossible with man is possible with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

28 Peter articulated, “We’ve left everything to follow you!”

29-30 “Truly, I tell you,” Immanuel replied, “everyone who has given up their home, spouse, siblings, parents, children, or siblings for the sake of the Eternal Reality’ s sovereignty will receive countless times more in this age as well as in the age to come Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 26630 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH A THIRD TIME

31 Immanuel gathered the Twelve, announcing their journey to Yerushalayim. “Every vision about the Heir of Humanity by the seers will come true.”
32 “He will be handed over to the Outsiders, who will ridicule, affront, and spit on him.”
33 “He will be whipped, executed, and resurrected on the third day.”
34 The pathseekers failed to grasp his words; the message was obscured from their understanding.

§ 26640 A BLIND BEGGAR RECEIVES HIS SIGHT

35 As Immanuel approached Jericho, a blind man sat by the road, begging for alms.
36 Hearing the crowd, he asked what was happening.
37 They told him Immanuel from Nazareth was passing by.
38 He shouted, “Immanuel, heir of David, show kindness to me!”
39 The crowd urged him to be quiet, but he cried even louder, “Heir of David, extend your compassion towards me!”

40-41 Immanuel stopped and asked for the man to be brought to Him. As he approached, Immanuel asked, “What do you want me to do for you?” He replied, “Sovereign Captain, I want to regain my sight.”
42 Immanuel said, “Regain your vision; your trust has been restored.”
43 Immediately, he regained his sight and followed Immanuel, glorifying the Preeminent Sovereign. All the people who saw this also praised the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 26650 ZACCHAEUS THE TAX COLLECTOR

19 Immanuel entered Jericho, intending to pass through.
2 Zacchaeus, a wealthy chief tax collector, lived there.
3 Eager to see Immanuel but hindered by his short stature and the crowd,
4 in an attempt to get a better look, he dashed forward and scaled a sycamore-fig tree.
5 When Immanuel reached the spot, he looked up and called, urging Zacchaeus to come down quickly, as he needed to stay at his house that day.
6 Zacchaeus hurried down and welcomed him joyfully.
7 Observers grumbled, saying, “He has gone to be the guest of a notorious wrongdoer.”
8 Zacchaeus told the Sovereign Captain, “Look, Sovereign Captain! I will give half of my possessions to people in need. If I have wrongfully taken anything, I will repay fourfold.”
9 Immanuel declared that deliverance had come to this house, “for this man is truly a descendant of Abraham.”
10 “The Heir of Humanity came to find and deliver those who have strayed.”

§ 26660 THE STORY OF THE SILVER INVESTMENT

11 As his audience listened intently, he shared a symbolic tale, knowing he was near Yerushalayim, and they believed the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality would soon appear.
12 “A high-born individual traveled to a distant land to gain governance authority and return.
13 He called ten aides and gave them 4.3 kilos of silver, instructing, ‘Invest this until I return. ’
14 His fellow citizens despised him and sent representatives to say, ‘We reject this man’s rule over us. ’
15 Upon gaining his rule, he returned and summoned the aides to see their profits.
16 The first aid reported, ‘Sovereign Captain, your silver has multiplied by ten. ’
17 ‘Excellent work, commendable coworker, ’ his supervisor said, ‘since you’ve been reliable in a small task, I grant you governance over ten cities. ’
18 The second aid reported, ‘Sovereign Captain, your silver has returned five hundred percent. ’
19 The Prime Ruler replied, ‘I’ll entrust you with authority over five cities. ’
20 A third aid said, ‘Supervisor, here is your 4.3 kilos of silver; I kept it safe in a handkerchief.
21 I feared you because you are severe. You take what you didn’t deposit and harvest what you didn’t plant. ’
22 The supervisor replied, ‘By your words, you will be judged, you foolish aid! So, you knew I was rigorous, taking what I didn’t deposit and harvesting what I didn’t plant?
23 Then why didn’t you invest my money in a bank so I could have earned interest?’
24 The Ruler then instructed bystanders to ‘seize the third aid’s silver and give it to the first aid with the most silver. ’
25 ‘Supervisor, ’ they protested, ‘he already has 43 kilos!’

26 He responded, ‘Know that whoever has will receive more; but whoever has nothing, even what they have, will be taken away. ’ 27 ‘As for my adversaries who opposed my rule—bring them here and execute them in my presence. ’”

§ 26670 IMMANUEL COMES TO YERUSHALAYIM AS THEIR PRIME RULER

28 After sharing his illustration, Immanuel advanced towards Yerushalayim.
29 Nearing Bethphage and Bethany by the Mount of Olives, he sent two pathseekers on a mission.
30 “Go to the village ahead; you’ll find a colt tied up that no one has ridden. Untie it and bring it here.”
31 If asked, ‘Why are you untying it?’ say, ‘The supervisor needs it. ’
32 They found everything, as he said.
33 When untying the colt, its owners asked, “Why are you untying it?”
34 They replied, “The Sovereign Captain needs it.”
35 They brought the colt to Immanuel, placed their garments on it, and helped him mount it.
36 People laid their garments on the path as he proceeded.
37 Nearing the descent of the Mount of Olives, all his pathseekers joyfully praised the Preeminent Sovereign for the marvelous deeds they had seen.
38 “Honored is the Prime Ruler who comes in the Sovereign Captain’s Name! Tranquility in the celestial realm and greatness in the highest celestial realms!”

39 Some Tradition Keepers among the crowd urged Immanuel, “Mentor, restrain your pathseekers!”

40 He replied, “If they remain silent, the rocks will shout.”
41 Approaching Yerushalayim, he wept over the city.
42 He said, “If only you had understood what would bring you tranquility today.”
43 “A time will come when adversaries will build fortifications around you, encircle you, and trap you from all sides.”
44 “They will crush you and your children within your walls. No stone will remain because you did not recognize the Preeminent Sovereign’s visit.”

§ 26680 IMMANUEL AT THE FORTRESS

45-46 Upon entering the fortress, Immanuel expelled the sellers, proclaiming, “The Living Path states my abode will be a fortress of intervention; yet, you have made it a den of thieves.”
47 He taught daily at the fortress, but the high priest, Law teachers, and leading figures plotted his assassination.
48 Because the people were enthralled by his teachings, they found no way to execute their plan.

§ 26690 THE AUTHORITY OF IMMANUEL QUESTIONED

20 On a particular day, as Immanuel was teaching at the fortress and sharing the message of redemption, the high priest, interpreters of Mosaic Law, and seniors approached him.
2 They asked, “What gives you the right to perform these actions, and who gave this power to you?”
3 He responded, “I also have a question for you. Please enlighten me.”
4 “Did John’s immersion authority come from the Preeminent Sovereign, or was it just a human convention?”

5 They debated among themselves, saying, ‘If we declare it was from the celestial realm, he would then question, ‘Why was there no trust in him?’”
6 “If we assert it came from human roots, the crowd will pelt us with stones, as they firmly trust that John was an eternally wise servant.”
7 They responded, “We are unaware of its origin.”
8 Immanuel answered, “I won’t reveal by what right I have to perform these actions.”

§ 26700 THE ENLIGHTENING STORY OF THE TENANTS

9 He shared this story with the crowd: “A man established a vineyard, leased it to cultivators, and left for a long time.”

10 “When harvest time came, he sent a worker to collect some of the produce. But the tenants beat him and sent him back empty-handed.”
11 “He sent another worker, whom they also beat and insulted, sending him away with nothing.”
12 “He sent a third, who was also wounded and expelled.”
13 “The rooftop garden owner thought, ‘What should I do? I’ll send my Esteemed Heir; they might respect him. ’” 14 “Seeing him, the tenants said among themselves, ‘This is the heir; let’s kill him, and the inheritance will be ours. ’” 15 “They threw him out of the rooftop garden and killed him. What will the rooftop garden owner do to them?”
16 “He will come and destroy those farmers, then give the hidden rooftop garden to others.” Hearing this, the people exclaimed, “Celestial Realm forbid!”
17 Immanuel looked directly at them and said, “How do you interpret the Living Word that says,
‘The part dismissed as unimportant has turned into the foundation that holds everything together'?”
18 “everyone who stumbles over this stone will be broken; if it falls on anyone, it will crush them.”

19 The Mosaic Law instructors and high priest sought a way to arrest him immediately because they knew the enlightening story was about them. But they feared the people’s reaction.

§ 26710 PAYING TAXES TO CAESAR

20 Monitoring him vigilantly, they dispatched agents who feigned genuineness. They aimed to entrap Immanuel through his words, enabling them to deliver him to the rule and jurisdiction of the governor.
21 The undercover agents probed him: “Teacher, it is clear that you declare and impart what is accurate. You display no bias but instruct in the method of Preeminent Sovereign based on integrity.”
22 “Is it permissible for us to give taxes to Caesar?”
23 He detected their deceit and addressed them, 24 “Present to me a silver coin (3.9 grams). Whose likeness and inscription does it bear?” They responded, “Caesar’s.”
25 He advised them, “Then return to Caesar what is Caesar’s, and to the Preeminent Sovereign what is the Preeminent Sovereign’s.”
26 They couldn’t trap him with his words in the presence of the public. Amazed by his response, they fell silent.

§ 26720 THE RETURN FROM DEATH AND MARRIAGE

27 A group of Afterlife Denialists, challenging the idea of the return from death, approached Immanuel with a question.
28 They asked, “Teacher, Moses wrote that if a man’s brother dies, leaving a wife but no children, the man must marry the widow and have children for his brother.”
29 “There were seven brothers. The first married and died childless.”

30 “Then the second,”

31 “and the third married her, and likewise, all seven died without children.”
32 “Finally, the woman also died.”
33 “In the afterlife, whose wife will she be, since all seven were married to her?”
34 Immanuel answered, “People of this age marry and are given in marriage.”
35 “However, neither marriage nor being given in marriage will be permitted to those deemed worthy of the next age and being brought back from the dead.”
36 “They can no longer die; they are like the Celestial Envoys. They are children of the Preeminent Sovereign, being partakers in the return from death.”
37 “Even Moses showed that the dead rise, for he calls the Sovereign Captain ‘the Preeminent Sovereign of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. ’”
38 “He is not the Preeminent Sovereign of the dead, but of the living, for to him all are alive.”
39 Some interpreters of the Mosaic Law agreed, “Well said, teacher!”
40 After that, no one dared to ask him any more questions.

§ 26730 WHOSE HEIR IS THE CHOSEN REDEEMER?

41 Immanuel questioned them, asking why people say the Chosen Redeemer descends from David.
42 David states in the Proclamations: “The Sovereign Captain instructed My Sovereign Captain: Assume your position at my right side.”
43 “Until I place those foes of thine right underneath thy feet.”
44 David calls him “Sovereign Captain.” So, how could he also be his Heir?

§ 26740 WARNING AGAINST THE TEACHERS OF THE MOSAICAL LAW

45 Amidst the audience, Immanuel addressed his pathseekers, 46 “Be cautious of the interpreters of Mosaic Law. They love to appear prominent in their long gowns and relish reverence in bustling marketplaces. They covet prestigious seats in communal places and desire distinguished positions at festive occasions.”
47 “They exploit widows’ homes and pretend to align with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality through prolonged prayers. These individuals will face the harshest judgment.”

§ 26750 THE WIDOW’S OFFERING

21 Immanuel observed wealthy individuals depositing their absolving payments into the fortress’ collection box.
2 He noticed a destitute widow dropping in two tiny copper coins.
3 “I assure you,” he stated, “this impoverished widow has contributed more than all the rest.”
4 “All these individuals contributed their donations from their surplus; despite her lack, she offered everything that sustained her life.”

§ 26760 THE DESTRUCTION OF THE FORTRESS AND SIGNS OF THE EARTH'S FINAL DAY

5 Some of his pathseekers admired the fortress' stunning decoration, magnificent stones, and absolving payments to the Preeminent Sovereign. Immanuel responded,
6 "A time will come when not one stone will remain atop another; all will be demolished."
7 They asked, "When will this happen? What signs will indicate these events?"

8 He replied, "Be cautious not to be misled. Many will come claiming to be me, saying, 'I am the one, ' and, 'The moment is imminent. ' Do not follow them."
9 "Do not be afraid when you hear of wars and conflicts. These events must happen first, but the end is not immediate."
10 He continued, "Nations will go to war against each other, and realms will confront each other."
11 "Severe tremors, widespread food shortages, and devastating epidemics will occur in various places, along with terrifying events and significant celestial signs."
12 "Before all this, they will capture and torment you. You will be handed over to religious institutions and imprisoned. You will stand before rulers and authorities because of my name."
13 "This will be your opportunity to testify about me."
14 "Resolve in your inner-self not to rehearse your defense ahead of time."
15 "I will give you words and wisdom that none of your opponents can counter or refute."
16 "Even your closest family members will betray you, leading to the execution of some among you."
17 "All people will despise you because of my name."
18 "Yet not a hair on your head will be lost."
19 "By steadfastly persevering, you will secure your existence."
20 "When you see Yerushalayim surrounded by hostile forces, know its devastation is near."
21 "Those in Judea should flee to the hills, those in the city should leave, and those in the countryside should not enter the city."
22 "This is the time of celestial retribution, fulfilling every letter of the Living Word."

23 "Those days will be terrible for expectant mothers and nursing women. The land will experience intense hardship, and there will be anger against the populace."
24 "Tactical blades will slay them, and they will be taken as captives to all nations. Outsiders will tread on Yerushalayim until the end of the non-Jew era."
25 "Omens will appear in the sun, moon, and stars. Nations on Earth will be in distress and confusion due to the tumultuous sea."
26 "People will faint from fear, anticipating what is coming on the world, as the cosmic forces are disrupted."
27 "Then they will see the Heir of Humanity coming in a cloud with great power and acclaim."
28 "When these signs appear, get up and raise your heads; your deliverance is at hand."
29 He used this analogy: "Look at the fig tree and all other trees.
30 You can tell yourself that summer is approaching when they grow leaves.
31 Likewise, when you see these things happening, know that the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is near.
32 I promise you that the current generation will not die until all these things have occurred.
33 The Celestial Realms and Earth may pass, but My path will never pass.
34 Take caution, or that day will close on you unexpectedly like a trap, your inner resolve crushed by partying, intoxication, and life's worries.

35 It will come upon all those who live on the face of the whole Earth.
36 Always be watchful and plea that you may have the strength to escape all that is about to happen and stand before the Heir of Humanity.”
37 Immanuel taught at the fortress each day, and at night, he went to stay on the Mount of Olives.
38 All the people came early in the morning to hear him at the fortress.

§ 26770 JUDAS AGREES TO BETRAY IMMANUEL

22 As the Feast of Unleavened Bread, known as Emancipation Feast, approached, the high priest and Mosaic Law interpreters plotted to eliminate Immanuel due to their fear of the people.
3 The Chief Instigator then influenced Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve.
4 Judas arranged a secret meeting with the high priest and fortress police to plan Immanuel’s betrayal.
5 They were delighted and agreed to pay him.
6 Judas accepted and looked for an opportunity to betray Immanuel when the crowd was absent.

§ 26780 IMMANUEL’S LAST MEAL

7 The day for the Feast of Unleavened Bread arrived, requiring the Emancipation Feast lamb to be offered.
8 Immanuel sent Peter and John to prepare the Emancipation Feast.
9 They asked, “Where shall we make the preparations?”
10 Immanuel replied, “Upon entering the city, you’ll find a man carrying a water container. Follow him to the house he enters.”
11 “Ask the owner, ‘The Educator inquires: Where is the room for visitors to commemorate the Emancipation Feast with my pathseekers?’”
12 “He will show you a large, fully equipped upper room. Prepare there.”
13 They found everything as Immanuel had said and prepared the Emancipation Feast.
14 Immanuel and his emissaries sat down when the time came.

15 He expressed his deep desire to share this Emancipation Feast with them before his suffering.
16 “I will not partake again until its authentic meaning is realized in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”
17 After taking the cup, he gave thanks and said, “Share this among yourselves.”
18 “I assure you, I won’t drink from the vine again until the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality arrives.”
19 Giving them the bread after breaking it and giving thanks, he said, “This represents my broken body given for you; do this in memory of me.”
20 “After dinner, he said, ‘This cup is the new agreement in my blood, which is poured out for you’ as he took the cup.”
21 “The hand of my betrayer is with me at the table.”
22 “The Heir of Humanity will go as decreed, but woe to the one who betrays him!”
23 They began to question who would do such a thing.
24 They argued about who was considered greatest.

25 Immanuel said, “The prime rulers of nations exercise dominance, and those in power are called protectors.”
26 “But it should not be so among you. The greatest should be like the least, and the leader like a coworker.”
27 “Who is greater, the one at the table or the one serving? Isn’t it the one at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.”
28 “You have trustfully stayed with me through my trials.”
29 “As my Life-Giver granted me sovereignty, I grant you the same privilege.”
30 To eat and drink at my Sovereignty’s table and judge the twelve communities of Israel.
31 “Simon, Simon, the Adversary has asked to sift you like wheat.”

32 “I have merged my consciousness with the Eternal Reality for you, Simon, that your trust may not fail. When you return, strengthen your people of the New Humanity.”
33 He replied, “Sovereign Captain, I’m ready to go to prison and death with you.”
34 Immanuel assured Peter that he would deny knowing him three times before dawn.
35 Immanuel asked them, “When I sent you without money, a bag, or sandals, did you lack anything?” They answered, “Nothing.”
36 He said, “If you have a moneybag, take it; also a travel bag; and if unarmed, sell your cloak and buy a tactical blade.”
37 “The Living Word says: ‘And He was counted among lawbreakers’; I must fulfill this. Indeed, what is written about me is nearing completion.”
38 His pathseekers said, “Look, Sovereign Captain, we have two tactical blades.” “That’s enough!” he replied.

§ 26790 IMMANUEL MELDS HIS CONSCIOUSNESS WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY ON THE

39 As was his habit, Immanuel proceeded to the Mount of Olives, and his pathseekers accompanied him.
40 On arriving, he advised them to implore that they would not succumb to temptation.
41 He distanced himself about a stone’s throw away, then knelt to communicate with the Preeminent Sovereign.
42 “Celestial Life-Giver, if possible, remove this burden from me; nevertheless, let your celestial plan prevail.”
43 A Celestial Envoy came to him, providing a fortress.

44 Experiencing great distress, the meldings of his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign intensified, and his sweat resembled droplets of blood descending to the Earth.
45 After arising from the melding of his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign and returning to the pathseekers, he discovered them fast asleep, worn out due to grief.
46 “Why do you slumber?” he inquired. “Stand and petition so that you shall not surrender to temptation.”

§ 26800 IMMANUEL ARRESTED

47 As Immanuel spoke, Judas, one of the twelve pathseekers, led a crowd that approached. Judas moved to kiss Immanuel.

48 Immanuel asked, “Would you betray the Heir of Humanity with a kiss?”
49 Seeing what was about to happen, Immanuel’s pathseekers asked, “Sovereign Captain, should we use our tactical blades?”
50 One struck the high priest’s assistant, cutting off his right ear.
51 Immanuel said, “Stop this!” and healed the assistant’s ear.
52 He then questioned the lead priest, fortress officials, and religious elders, asking if they thought He was inciting an uprising that required them to come with tactical blades and batons.
53 “I was with you daily in the fortress, and you didn’t seize me. But now is your moment—the time when the power of evil reigns.”

§ 26810 PETER DISOWNS IMMANUEL

54 Upon apprehension, they led him to the chief priest’s residence. Peter followed at a distance.
55 He joined the group around a fire in the courtyard.

56 A personal assistant, seeing him in the firelight, scrutinized him and said, “This man was with him.”
57 Peter denied it, saying, “I don’t know him.”
58 Soon after, another person noticed him and said, “You’re one of them too.” Peter replied, “Man, I am not!”
59 About an hour later, another insisted, “Certainly this man was with him, for he is a Galilean.”

60 Peter responded, “I don’t know what you’re talking about!” Just then, the rooster crowed.
61 The Sovereign Captain looked directly at Peter. Peter remembered the Sovereign Captain’s words about denying him three times before the rooster crowed.
62 He went out and wept bitterly.

§ 26820 THE GUARDS MOCK IMMANUEL

63 The guards began mocking and assaulting Immanuel.
64 They blindfolded Him and demanded, “Predict! Who struck you?”
65 They continued their taunts with many other insults.

§ 26830 IMMANUEL BEFORE PILATE AND HEROD

66 “Tell us if You are the Chosen Redeemer.”

67 “If I tell you, you will not trust,” Immanuel retorted.
68 “Furthermore, you will refuse to respond when I ask you a question.
69 However, the Heir of Humanity will now occupy the dominant hand of the Preeminent Sovereign’s power.”

70 The priests questioned one another, “Are You then the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign?” “You say that I am,” Immanuel replied.

71 They shouted, “Why do we need any more testimony? We have personally heard it from His lips.”

23 The entire Council then stood up and escorted Immanuel to Pilate.

2 "We found this man subverting our nation, forbidding payment of taxes to Caesar, and proclaiming Himself to be the Chosen Redeemer, a Prime Ruler," they said as they started to charge Him.

3 "Are You the Prime Ruler of the Judeans?" Pilate questioned Him. "That's what you said," Immanuel answered.

4 "I find no basis for a charge against this man," Pilate declared in front of the chief priests and the mob.

5 Still, they persisted, saying, "His teaching stirs up the people throughout Judea." He started in Galilee and traveled there.

6 On hearing this, Pilate inquired about the man's nationality: Galilee.

7 On discovering that Herod was in charge of Immanuel, he sent Him to Herod, who was in Yerushalayim then.

8 Herod was ecstatic about seeing Immanuel. He had heard about Him and had been hoping to see Him work marvelously, so he had been wanting to meet Him for a while.
9 Herod questioned Immanuel for a long time but didn't respond.
10 The chief priests and the interpreters of Mosaic Law were standing there fiercely condemning Him.
11 Herod and his soldiers also made fun of and humiliated him. After putting on an elegant robe, they returned Him to Pilate.
12 Herod and Pilate had been foes until that day when they became peers.

13 Then, in front of the people, rulers, and chief priests, Pilate declared, 14 "You delivered me this man as one who had stirred up the people to rebellion." After examining Him before you, I found He is innocent of your accusations against Him.
15 Herod hasn't found this conclusion because he returned Him to us. This man has done nothing that merits death, as you can see.
16 So I will punish Him and set Him free."

17-18 However, they all simultaneously exclaimed, "Get rid of this man! Give Barabbas back to us!"
19 (Barabbas was imprisoned for both murder and a city-wide uprising.)

20 Pilate spoke to them once more, desiring to free Immanuel.

21 yet they persisted in yelling, "Execute Him! Nail Him on an execution stake!"

22 "What horrible thing has this man done?" he asked them a third time. "I have not discovered anything in Him that warrants death. So, I will release Him once I have punished Him."
23 But they were adamant, protesting and demanding Immanuel be exterminated. And their roar was heard.

24 So Pilate ordered that their desire be carried out.

25 He gave Immanuel over to their will and freed the person detained for rebellion and murder, as they had desired.

§ 26840 IMMANUEL IS NAILED TO AN EXECUTION STAKE

26 They commandeered Simon from Cyrene as he entered from the fields. The execution squad forced Simon to carry the stake of execution for Immanuel as they took Him away.
27 A large crowd followed, including women mourning and lamenting for him.
28 Immanuel turned to them and said, “Women of Yerushalayim, do not weep for me; weep for yourselves and your children.”
29 “The times are not far off when you will exclaim, ‘Fortunate are the childless ladies, the uteruses that bore no children, and the breasts that never nursed!’” 30 “Fall on us,” they would say to the mountains: Cover us!”
31 What will occur when the tree is dried if people continue to do these things while it is still green?
32 Two other criminals were also led out with him to be executed.
33 When they came to the place called the Execution Hill, they nailed Him to an execution stake, along with the criminals—one on his right, the other on his left.

34 “Life-Giver, pardon them, for they know not what they are doing,” declared Immanuel. And they cast lots to divide up his clothes.
35 The people stood watching, and the religious leaders even sneered at him. They said, “He saved others; let him save himself if he is the Preeminent Sovereign’s Redeemer, the chosen one.”
36 The soldiers also mocked him. They offered him wine vinegar
37 and said, “If you are the Prime Ruler of the Judeans, save yourself.”
38 There was a written notice above Him, which read: “THIS IS THE PRIME RULER OF THE JEWS.”
39 One of the convicts hanging there insulted him, saying, “Aren’t you the Chosen Redeemer?”
Save both of us and yourself!
40 But the other criminal rebuked him. “Don’t you fear the Preeminent Sovereign,” he said, “since you are under the same sentence?
41 We are punished justly for getting what our deeds deserve. But this man has done nothing wrong.”
42 Then he said, “Immanuel, remember me when you come into Your Sovereignty.”
43 “Truly, I tell you, this day you will be with me in paradise,” was Immanuel’s response to him.

§ 26850 THE DEATH OF IMMANUEL

44 Around midday, darkness enveloped the entire region until about three o’clock.
45 The sun’s light vanished, and the fortress’ veil was torn apart.
46 Immanuel proclaimed, “Life-Giver, into your custody, I surrender my inner-self.” After this, he took his final breath.
47 Witnessing these events, the army officer praised the Preeminent Sovereign, affirming Immanuel’s integrity.

48 The assembled spectators, struck with profound sorrow, expressed their distress by striking their chests before departing.
49 Those acquainted with him, including the women who had followed him from Galilee, maintained their vigil from a distance.

§ 26860 THE BURIAL OF IMMANUEL

50 Joseph, an authentic and honorable Council member,
51 who opposed their plan, came from Arimathea in Judea and awaited the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
52 He approached Pilate to request Immanuel's body.
53 Then Joseph covered it with a linen wrap and buried it in a freshly dug stone tomb.
54 It was the preparation day, and the Day of Rest was near.
55 The women from Galilee who followed Immanuel saw the tomb and how his body was laid.
56 They returned home to prepare aromatic herbs and fragrant oils. Still, they rested on the Day of Rest, complying with the Living Word directive.

§ 26870 IMMANUEL HAS RISEN !

24 At dawn on the first day of the week, the women brought the spices they had prepared and went to the grave.
2 They found the stone rolled away from the grave.
3 They did not find Sovereign Captain Immanuel's body upon entering.
4 As they stood puzzled, two men in dazzling clothes appeared beside them.

5 Frightened, the women bowed to the ground. The men asked, "Why do you seek the living among the dead?"
6 "He is not here; He has risen! Remember how He told you while in Galilee?"
7 "The Heir of Humanity must be delivered into the hands of wrongful men, be nailed to an execution stake, and on the third day rise again."
8 Then they remembered His words.
9 Returning from the grave, they reported all these things to the Eleven and all the others.
10 Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary, the mother of James, and others with them told this to the emissaries.
11 But their words seemed like nonsense, and they did not trust them.
12 Peter rose and bolted towards the tomb. He bent down to see the linen strips resting on their own and left, wondering what had occurred.

§ 26880 ON THE ROAD TO EMMAUS

13 Two of them were heading to Emmaus, about seven miles from Yerushalayim that day.
14 They discussed recent events.
15 As they talked, Immanuel joined them.
16 They didn't recognize him.
17 He asked, "What are you discussing?" They stopped, looking sad.
18 Cleopas asked, "Are you the only visitor in Yerushalayim unaware of what's happened?"

19 “What events?” he asked. They spoke of Immanuel from Nazareth, a powerful, eternally wise servant in actions and words before the Preeminent Sovereign and all the people.

20 “Our high priests and leaders handed him over to be executed.”
21 “We hoped he was the destined Redeemer of Israel. It’s been three days since this happened.”
22 “Some women from our group amazed us. They went to the tomb at dawn.”
23 “They didn’t find his body and said they saw a vision of a Celestial Envoy declaring he was alive.”
24 “Some of us went to the tomb and found it just as the women said, but didn’t see Immanuel.”
25 He said, “‘How slow you are to trust everything the eternally wise servants have declared!’”
26 “Wasn’t it necessary for the Ensovereigned One to suffer before entering his acclaim?”
27 Starting with Moses and all the eternally wise servants, he explained what was said about him in the Living Path.
28 As they neared Emmaus, Immanuel indicated he would continue traveling.
29 They urged him, “Stay with us; it’s nearly evening.” So he stayed.
30-31 As they gathered at the table, he picked up the loaf, expressed gratitude, broke it, and shared it with them. In that moment, their perspective shifted, and they truly understood who he was as he disappeared.

32 They said to each other, “Weren’t our inner determination burning within us as he talked with us on the road and opened the Living Path to us?”
33 They got up and returned to Yerushalayim. They found the Eleven and others gathered together.
34 They said, “The Sovereign Captain has risen and appeared to Simon.”
35 The two told what happened on the way and how they recognized Immanuel when he broke the bread.

§ 26890 IMMANUEL APPEARS TO THE PATHSEEKERS

36 As they discussed, Immanuel appeared and greeted them with tranquility.
37 They were startled and scared, thinking they saw an apparition.
38 He asked, “Why are you uneasy, and why the skepticism?”
39 “Look at my hands and feet. It’s me! Touch and see; an apparition doesn’t have flesh and bones like mine.”
40 He showed them his hands and feet.
41 Despite their delight and amazement, they doubted. So, Immanuel asked, “Do you have anything to eat?”
42 They gave him cooked fish.
43 He took it and ate while they watched.
44 While with them, he explained that everything written about him in Moses’ Law, the eternally wise servants, and the Proclamations must happen.
45 He opened their minds to understand the exalted Living Path.
46 “According to the Living Word, the Ensovereigned One must suffer and rise on the third day.”
47 “The transformation of inner-selves to absolve unworthy choices will be declared in His name to all nations, starting from Yerushalayim.”
48 “You have witnessed these things.”

49 “I’m sending what my Life-Giver promised; stay in the city until you are empowered with Celestial power.”

§ 26900 THE CELESTIAL ASCENSION OF IMMANUEL

50 Guiding them to Bethany’s outskirts, He raised His hands and empowered them.
51 As He empowered them, He was transported to the celestial realm.
52 After paying Him homage, they returned to Yerushalayim, filled with immense delight.
53 They were always at the fortress, celebrating and extolling the Preeminent Sovereign.

~ 204 | Humanity Empowerment | John

§ 26910 THE CELESTIAL WORD BECOMES HUMAN

1 Before the dawn of everything, the Living Word existed alongside the Preeminent Sovereign, embodying the essence of the Ultimate Redeemer.
2 Right from the start, this Word co-existed timelessly and creatively with the Preeminent Sovereign, a testament to their profound unity.
3 It is through this Word that all of existence was shaped. There isn't a single aspect of creation that came to be without its direct influence.
4-5 In him was vibrant energy, the kind that sparks hope in everyone. His brilliance cuts through the deepest shadows, and no chaos or confusion can snuff it out.

6 The Preeminent Sovereign sent John and entrusted him with a pivotal role.
7 His mission was clear: bearing witness to the ultimate authenticity, paving the way for all to trust the Illuminator's promise.
8 While not the source of light himself, John's purpose was to testify to its presence and power.

9 The authentic Illuminator, who sparks life in everyone, came among us.
10 The very world He shaped overlooked its architect.
11 He came to His own, yet they did not embrace Him.

12 Yet, to those who did recognize and trust Him, He gave an extraordinary promise: the right to become children of the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 This new birth wasn't a matter of natural family or human desire but a gift from the Sovereign.
14 By taking on human form and dwelling among us, He allowed us to witness His majesty firsthand—the one authentic Heir, epitomizing perfect love, ultimate authenticity, and transformative generosity.

15 John's assertion cements the undeniable greatness of the Chosen Redeemer: "He who follows me surpasses me, for He was before me."
16 From His fullness, we've all received transformative generosity on top of more transformative generosity, a testament to His boundless compassion.
17 While Moses gave us the Mosaic Law, the Chosen Redeemer brought us transformative generosity and reality in its purest form.
18 No one has ever seen the Preeminent Sovereign, but through His unique Heir, closely connected to the Sovereign's essence, we have been offered a disclosure of the celestial.

§ 26920 JOHN DENIES BEING THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

19 John's testimony came at a pivotal moment when religious leaders from Yerushalayim sent their delegates to interrogate him about his authentic identity.
20 Unwavering in his honesty, he openly declared, "I am not the Ensovereigned One."

21 They pressed on, “Are you Elijah?” to which he firmly replied, “Not so.” When asked if he was the eternally wise servant, his answer was a clear, “Negative.”

22 They then asked him, “Who are you? We need a response from our senders. How would you describe yourself?

23 When pushed further for his identity, for a message to take back, John drew on the wisdom of Isaiah, the eternally wise servant, expressing, “I am a voice in the wilderness, urging, ‘Create a straight path for the Sovereign Captain. ’”

24 Sent by the Tradition Keepers,
25 they inquired, “Without being the Chosen Redeemer, Elijah, or the eternally wise servant, why do you immerse?”

26 John answered, “I immerse with water, but among you stands One you do not know.

27 He is the One who follows me, and I am not worthy to untie the laces of his sneakers.
28 This significant event unfolded in Bethany, across the Jordan, where John was immersing.

§ 26930 JOHN TESTIFIES ABOUT IMMANUEL

29 The subsequent day, John detected Immanuel approaching him and exclaimed, “Observe the exalted Preeminent Sovereign's Redeemer Advocate, who eradicates the world’s iniquity!”

30 This individual is the One I referred to when I stated, “A gentleman who arrives after me has excelled in my presence because His existence preceded mine.”

31 “I was unaware of His identity, yet my purpose of immersing in water was to unveil Him to Israel.”

32 John affirmed: “I have beheld the Eternal Spark descending from the celestial realms like a dove lingering on Him.”
33 “I was not personally acquainted with Him. Still, the One who implored me to immerse others in water instructed me, ‘On observing the Eternal Spark descend and dwell on a man, that man will be the One performing immersions with the Eternal Spark. ’”

34 “I have observed with my own eyes and can confirm that this is indeed the Chosen Redeemer of the Preeminent Sovereign.”

§ 26940 JOHN’S PATHSEEKERS FOLLOW IMMANUEL

35 John, accompanied by his pathseekers, was present the following day.
36 Observing Immanuel walking by, he stated, “Pay heed, that He is the Preeminent Sovereign’s Lamb!”
37 On hearing his words, two pathseekers of John began to accompany Immanuel.

38 Seeing them trailing Him, Immanuel enquired, “What are you seeking?” They replied, “Teacher, where are you staying?” “Just join me,” he suggested, “and you’ll see for yourselves.”

39 Therefore, they accompanied Him and noted the whereabouts of His dwelling, choosing to remain with Him for the rest of the day. The time was approximately the tenth hour (or four o’clock in the afternoon).

40 Andrew, Simon Peter’s sibling, was one of the duo who listened to John’s words and accompanied Immanuel.
41 Andrew’s first move was to locate his sibling Simon and tell him, “We have discovered the Chosen Redeemer, the Chosen Redeemer.”

42 He led Simon to Immanuel. On seeing him, Immanuel stated, “You’re Simon, John’s offspring.
From this point forward, you now shall be called Cephas (which translates to Peter).”

§ 26950 IMMANUEL CALLS PHILIP AND NATHANAEL

43 Immanuel decided to go into Galilee the following day. On encountering Philip, he instructed him, “Join me.”

44 Philip, similarly to Andrew and Peter, hailed from the city known as Bethsaida.
45 Philip located Nathanael and told him, “We’ve discovered the individual that Moses referred to in the Mosaic Law: the One who the eternally wise servants spoke of: Immanuel from Nazareth, Joseph’s offspring.”

46 “Nazareth!” spewed Nathaniel. “Is it possible for anything of value to originate from there?”
Philip responded, “Why don’t you just come with me and witness it yourself?”

47 On sighting Nathanael coming His way, Immanuel declared: “Pay Heed, a genuine Heir of Israel, with no trace of deceit within him!” 48 Nathanael asked, “How did you figure out my mindset?” Immanuel responded, “I read your mind under the fig tree before Philip summoned you.”

49 Nathanael affirmed, “Sovereign Captain, You embody the Eternal Reality’s Essence; You are Israel’s Sovereign Ruler.”
50 Immanuel questioned, “Is it due to My mentioning that I read your mind beneath the fig tree that you trust Me? You are yet to witness things more wonderful than these!”

51 “You should see the celestial realms unveil, with the Preeminent Sovereign’s Celestial Envoys ascending and descending on the Heir of Humanity.”

§ 26960 IMMANUEL CHANGES WATER INTO WINE

2 Three days later, a marriage celebration occurred in Cana, located in Galilee, and the mother of Immanuel was in attendance.
2 Immanuel and His pathseekers also were guests at the wedding.
3 As the wine supply depleted, Immanuel’s mother said to Him, “No more wine is left.”

4 “Dear lady, how does this concern have anything to do with us?” Immanuel continued, “It is not yet the right time for me to act.”
5 His mother instructed the coworkers, “Do whatever He tells you.”

6 In the vicinity, six large stone water containers were used for the Judean purification rites, each with 75 to 114 liters capacity.
7 Immanuel instructed the helpers, “Fill up the containers with water,” and they topped them off.
8 He then instructed them, “Extract some and present it to the head of the feast.” They complied with His instructions.

9 The banquet overseer experienced the water that had been transformed into wine. He was unaware of its origin, even though the coworkers who fetched the water were aware. Subsequently, he summoned the groom.
10 He remarked, “everyone usually serves the finest wine first and brings out the inferior wine once the guests have already indulged; however, you’ve reserved the finest wine until now!”

11 Immanuel unveiled His grandeur through His initial marvelous sign performed in Cana of Galilee, leading His pathseekers to trust Him.
12 He and His mother, siblings, and pathseekers journeyed to Capernaum. They remained there for a short duration.

§ 26970 IMMANUEL CLEARS THE FORTRESS COURTS

13 As the Judean Emancipation approached, Immanuel traveled to Yerushalayim.
14 He discovered individuals peddling oxen, sheep, and doves alongside those seated at counters to provide currency exchange within the fortress area.
15 Enraged, Immanuel evicted everyone from the fortress’ grounds using a self-made cord whip, including sheep and cattle. He flung the money of those who changed currency into the air and flipped their counters upside down.

16 “Get out of here and stop converting My Life-Giver’s fortress into a shopping mall!”
17 His pathseekers recalled the Living Word: “Your enthusiasm for Your fortress engulfs Me.”

18 Then, the Judean leaders questioned Him, asking Him to provide any marvelous sign demonstrating His justification and authority for His actions. Immanuel responded,

19 “Dismantle this fortress; I will restore it in three days.”

20 They responded, “This fortress took forty-six years to construct, and do You trust You can resurrect it in three days?”
21 However, the fortress Immanuel referred to was indeed His physical self.
22 His pathseekers recollected His words on His return from death. This disclosure strengthened their trust in the Living Path and the path put forth by Immanuel.

23 During the Emancipation Feast in Yerushalayim, numerous individuals observed the marvelous feats He achieved and put their trust in His Name.
24 Immanuel did not trust them since He was fully aware of all humans.

25 He didn't require any validation about human nature since He fully comprehended what resided in everyone's inner-self.

§ 26980 IMMANUEL TEACHES NICODEMUS

3 Nicodemus, a Tradition Keeper and a prominent leader within the Judean governing body, appeared.
2 Approaching Immanuel under darkness, he stated, "Teacher, it's clear you have been sent from the Preeminent Sovereign. The marvelous deeds You carry out can't be accomplished without the presence of the Eternal Reality."

3 Immanuel responded earnestly, "It's an absolute authenticity: Without experiencing an inner rebirth, no one can perceive the ultimate authenticity of Eternal Reality's Sovereignty."

4 Nicodemus queried, "Is it possible for an individual to have a second birth when they are already advanced in years? Indeed, it is not feasible to reenter one's mother's womb for a second time to experience birth!"

5 Immanuel responded, "I assure you, entry into the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is impossible without being born of water and the Eternal Spark."
6 "Spark is given birth from the Eternal Spark."
7 "It shouldn't astonish you when I declare, 'You must experience an inner rebirth.
'"
8 "The breeze moves to its rhythm. While its whispers reach your ears, its origin and destination remain unknown. These observations mirror the experience of all those to whom the Eternal Spark gives birth."

9 "How is this possible?" inquired Nicodemus.

10 Immanuel questioned, "Are you a teacher of the Israeli people, and yet these things are beyond your comprehension?"
11 "Assuredly, what we communicate is based on our knowledge, and the proof we offer is from what we've experienced. Yet, you all continue to reject our affirmation."

12 "When I discuss terrestrial matters, and you show disbelief, how do you expect to trust My Path when the topic is celestial affairs?"
13 "The only individual who ever ascended to the celestial realm is the One who descended from it: the Heir of Humanity."

14 "In the same way, Moses raised the serpent in the wilderness, the Heir of Humanity must be elevated."

15 "All those who trust Him will gain everlasting presence."

16 "The Preeminent Sovereign cherished the world to such a degree that He offered His unique child, ensuring that any individual who trusts in Him will not be destroyed but will possess Eternal Life."

17 "Indeed, the Preeminent Sovereign didn't dispatch His Heir into the world to judge. He sent Him to the world so that the whole planet could be rescued through Him."

18 “Any individual who trusts Him is not declared guilty. However, anyone who does not trust Him has already been declared guilty because they failed to trust in the Name of the Preeminent Sovereign’s uniquely born Heir.”

19 This is the verdict: clarity and truth arrived in the world, but people gravitated toward confusion and secrecy because their actions couldn’t stand the spotlight.
20-21 Those who live dishonestly avoid transparency, fearing their actions will come under scrutiny. But those who pursue integrity embrace clarity, allowing their lives to show they’re in sync with the higher good of the Eternal Reality.

§ 26990 JOHN TESTIFIES AGAIN ABOUT IMMANUEL

22 After this event, Immanuel and His pathseekers proceeded to the rural areas of Judea, where He lingered among them for a duration, initiating the act of immersion.

23 Because of the abundant water, John also conducted immersions in Aenon, close to Salim. Individuals continually arrived for immersion.
24 John had not been imprisoned yet.

25 A controversy emerged between a few pathseekers of John and a particular Judean concerning the formality of purification.
26 Individuals approached John. They told him, “The Teacher, whom you witnessed and who was with you beyond the Jordan, is now baptizing people in the water, and everyone is flocking to Him.”

27 John responded, “Individuals can exclusively acquire what is given to them from the Eternal Reality.”
28 “You are witnesses that I declared, ‘I am not the one Ensovereigned One, but I have been dispatched before Him. ’”
29 “The groom is the One who is betrothed to the bride. The companion of the groom stands by patiently, listening for Him, and experiences immense delight when he hears the groom’s voice. Such happiness is mine, and it has reached its fulfillment.”
30 “He needs to gain prominence while I necessitate a reduction in importance.”

31 “The individual originating from the celestial realms holds superiority over all; the individual from the earthly domain is of the Earth and articulates thoughts in a worldly manner. The One that arrives from celestial heights stands supreme over all.”
32 “He bears witness to the realities He has observed and the authenticities He has heard, yet His evidence goes unaccepted.”
33 “Anyone who receives His evidence affirms that the Preeminent Sovereign is authentic.”
34 “The Preeminent Sovereign dispatches the One to communicate His celestial messages because He grants the Eternal Spark boundlessly.”
35 “The Life-Giver cherishes His Heir and has entrusted everything to His control.”

36 “Anyone trusting in the Heir has a life that lasts forever. Yet, anyone refusing to accept the Heir won’t experience Life since the Preeminent Sovereign’s continuous anger is on them.”

§ 27000 IMMANUEL TALKS WITH A SAMARITAN FEMALE HUMAN

4 Immanuel discovered that the Tradition Keepers had received information that He was attracting and immersing more pathseekers than John.
2 It was not actually Immanuel conducting the immersions; but His pathseekers were."
3 Then He departed from Judea and returned to Galilee.
4 He needed to travel through Samaria.

5 He arrived at a Samaritan city named Sychar, adjacent to Jacob's land, granted to his offspring, Joseph.
6 There was Jacob's well, where Immanuel, exhausted from His journey, found a resting spot. The time was approximately midday.
7 As a woman from Samaria arrived to get water, Immanuel inquired, "Could you give me a drink?"
8 His pathseekers had ventured into the city to purchase provisions.

9 Astonished, the woman of Samaria questioned Him, stating, "You're a Judean while I am a Samaritan woman; how could You dare request a drink from me?" As it's well known, Israelites have no dealings with Samaritans.
10-14 Immanuel responded, "If you understood the gift of the Eternal Reality and who is asking you for help, you would ask him, and he'd provide you with life-renewing sustenance. Whoever connects to the renewal I offer will never feel depleted. The energy I provide will become an endless source of vitality, fueling a life of purpose and fulfillment.

15 "The woman replied, 'Sir, please give me this endless resource so I'll never feel depleted again or have to keep returning to the same exhausting routines for renewal.'"

16 He instructed her, "Summon your spouse and return here."

17 She responded, "I'm without a spouse." Immanuel affirmed her utterance, saying, "Your assertion about being spouseless is accurate."
18 "Indeed, you've been married to five men, and the man you're currently living with isn't your spouse. Your statement is unquestionably accurate."

19 "Sir," acknowledged the woman, "it's apparent to me that You can be an eternally wise servant."
20 "Our forefathers used to pay their respects on this hill, but you Israelites assert that Yerushalayim is the sole location wherein we should express joyful adoration."

21 "Lady," Immanuel responded, "Trust me: an era is approaching when you will honor the Life-Giver neither on this hill nor in Yerushalayim."
22 Samaritans revere what you don't comprehend; we elevate what we understand since deliverance comes through the Israelites.

23 The moment is approaching. Indeed, it's already here when genuine people of trust will honor the Life-Giver in energy and ultimate authenticity, as these are the types of trust the Life-Giver is searching for.

24 Since the Preeminent Sovereign is the same as the Eternal Spark, those who adore Him must do so with ultimate authenticity and energy.

25 The woman asserted, “I’m aware that the Chosen Redeemer, also known as the Chosen Redeemer, is due to arrive. Once He does, He will make everything clear to us.”
26 Immanuel proclaimed, “I am the One conversing with you; I am the One you have been seeking.”

§ 27010 THE PATHSEEKERS REJOIN IMMANUEL

27 At that moment, His pathseekers returned and were amazed to discover Him conversing with a Samaritan woman. However, none of them inquired, “Why are You talking with her? What were You discussing with her?”

28 Abandoning her water vessel, the lady proceeded towards the city. She relayed her message to the inhabitants:
29 “Come and meet a man who conveyed every action I’ve ever performed to me. Is it possible that He is the Ensovereigned One?”

30 They departed from the village and set off to encounter Him.
31 Meanwhile, His pathseekers pleaded with Him, “Teacher, please eat something.”
32 He responded, “I possess nourishment to consume, of which you are entirely ignorant.”
33 His pathseekers then wondered, “Has anyone supplied Him with food?”

34 Immanuel stated, “My sustenance comes from fulfilling the desires of the One who sent Me and accomplishing His task.”
35 Don’t you often say, ‘There’s still plenty of time to address the city’s needs’? I tell you, look around! The community is ready for action and transformation.
36 Those who contribute now are already earning their rewards, and together, both the initiators and the implementers can celebrate their shared success.
37 The saying, ‘One person starts, and another completes the job,’ holds true here.
38 I’ve brought you into a project where you’re finalizing the results of someone else’s hard work. Others laid the foundation, and now you’re building on their effort to enjoy the rewards together.

§ 27020 MANY SAMARITANS TRUST IMMANUEL

39 Many Samaritans from that city trusted in Him because the woman declared, “He disclosed every action I have ever done to me.”

40 On the Samaritans’ arrival, they pleaded with Him to remain in their midst, resulting in His two-day stay.

41 Due to His statements, significantly more numbers of Samaritans trusted Him.

42 One individual told the lady, “Our trust is no longer solely based on your words; we have listened to Him ourselves and are convinced that He is the liberator of humanity.”

§ 27030 IMMANUEL HEALS AN OFFICIAL'S HEIR

43 Following two days, He set off for Galilee.
44 Immanuel Himself had indicated that a homegrown 'eternally wise servant' receives no respect in His homeland.
45 On His arrival in Galilee, the Galileans greeted Him warmly. They had witnessed all His accomplishments in Yerushalayim during the Emancipation Feast celebration since they, too, had been present at the event.

46 Immanuel made another visit to Cana in Galilee, where He had transformed the water into wine. In Capernaum, there was a particular state official whose child was ill.
47 On hearing of Immanuel's arrival in Galilee from Judea, this man approached Him, pleading earnestly for the recovery of his gravely sick heir.
48 Immanuel affirmed to him that without witnessing marvelous works and extraordinary events, "you people will never have trust."
49 Despite this, the state official continued to plead, "Sir, make haste before my boy succumbs."

50 "Proceed," Immanuel responded; "your heir will survive."
51 As he was enroute, his administrators intersected him with the report that his child was alive.

52 On Questioning when his heir began to feel better, they informed him that the fever had subsided yesterday at 1 : 00 p. m.
53 The official recognized this was the precise moment when Immanuel assured him, "Your heir will survive." As a result, he and his entire family developed trust in Immanuel.

54 This second marvelous deed marked an accomplishment by Immanuel after His journey from Judea to Galilee.

§ 27040 THE HEALING AT THE POOL

5 Following a certain period, Immanuel traveled to Yerushalayim for a formal Judean feast.

2 A body of water, known as Bethesda and referenced in Aramaic, lies near the Sheep Gate in Yerushalayim, featuring five sheltered walkways.

3 A sizable multitude of incapacitated individuals, encompassing the visually impaired, motion-limited, and paralytics traditionally found rest in this location.
4 Occasionally, a Celestial Envoy of the Sovereign Captain would descend and agitate the waters. The individual who first entered the pool following each such disruption would receive healing from any ailment they possessed.

5 A particular individual here had been incapacitated for thirty-eight years.
6 Observing him in his state and recognizing his prolonged ailment, Immanuel queried, "Do you want to be healed?"

7 The ailing man responded, "I lack assistance getting into the pool when the water is disturbed. As soon as I attempt to enter, another individual descends before me."

8 Immanuel then ordered him, "Stand up! Carry your sleeping mat and proceed on foot."

9 Instantly, the man recovered his health, grabbed his mat, and began to walk. This event occurred on a Day of Rest.

10 So, the Judean authorities conveyed to the cured individual that this day was the Day of Rest: the day of expression of joyful adoration. “Our Mosaic Law prohibits you from moving your sleeping mat.”

11 However, he responded, “The individual who restored my health instructed me, ‘Lift your bedroll and commence walking. ’”

12 So, they questioned him: “Who is this man that gave you the direction to lift your bedroll and just stroll away?”
13 The individual who was cured was unaware of the identity of his healer as Immanuel had discreetly left amidst the gathered crowd.

14 Later, Immanuel encountered him in the fortress and told him, “Notice, your health is restored. Refrain from committing an unworthy choice. Otherwise, a dire situation might occur to you.”

15 The individual departed and informed the Judean authorities that Immanuel was the healer who had restored his health.

§ 27050 THE AUTHORITY OF THE HEIR

16 As a result of Immanuel’s performing these actions on the Day of Rest, the Judean authorities initiated their harassment against Him.

17 Immanuel justified Himself by reiterating, “My Life-Giver never ceases to work, even to this very instant, and in the same vein, I persist in working the same way.”

18 The result was for them to intensify their efforts to end His life; He wasn’t simply violating the Day of Rest, but He was also referring to the Preeminent Sovereign as His personal Life-Giver, implying His equality with the Preeminent Sovereign.

19 Immanuel responded: “I assure you with utmost certainty, the Heir cannot take action on His own accord; the Heir can exclusively do what He observes His Life-Giver doing because whatever the Life-Giver makes happen, the Heir duplicates the same happening.”

20 “Indeed, the Life-Giver deeply cherishes the Heir and discloses to the Heir everything He does. And He will reveal even more astounding happenings than these, leaving you in awe.”

21 “Similarly, as the Life-Giver revives the dead and grants Life to them, the Heir likewise grants Life to those He chooses.”

22 “The Life-Giver exercises no judgment. Instead, all discernment has been delegated to Me-the Heir.”

23 The intent is for everyone to regard the Heir as they regard the Life-Giver. Essentially, anyone following the Heir must consider the Life-Giver who dispatched Him.

24 “I tell you that whoever hears what I say and trusts in the One who sent me has Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign, will not be judged, and has already crossed over from death to rebirth.”

25 “I assure you, an era is approaching. Indeed, it has already arrived, where the deceased will perceive the voice of the Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir, and those who acknowledge it will experience Life.”

26 “Just as the source of Life is the Life-Giver, He has likewise empowered the Heir to possess Life within Himself.”

27 “He has been granted the power to pass judgment, given that He is the Heir of Humanity.”

28 “Don’t be surprised; a moment will arise when everyone in their tombs will perceive His sound.”

29 “Individuals who have performed authentic acts will ascend toward life. In contrast, those who have committed malicious deeds will ascend to judgment.”

30 “I cannot act independently; my verdict relies solely on what I hear, maintaining fairness, given that my intentions are not to satisfy my desires but to satisfy the directives of the One who sent Me.”

§ 27060 TESTIMONIES ABOUT IMMANUEL

31 “If I alone testify regarding Myself, My testimony isn’t deemed valid.”

32 “Someone else bears testifies about Me, and I am confident their testament to Me is authentic.”

33 “John is the one to whom You dispatched Your Celestial Envoys, and he spoke the ultimate authenticity in his testimony.”

34 “I do not rely on human testimony, but I indicate it so it might aid in your redemption.”

35 “John was a luminous beacon, illuminating brightly, and you decided to relish in his radiance for a period.”

36 “My proof is more substantial than John’s. The deeds the Life-Giver has assigned Me to complete—the tasks I am performing—provide evidence that the Life-Giver has dispatched Me.”

37 “The Life-Giver, who dispatched Me, has personally given evidence about Me. His voice has remained unheard by you, and His form remains unseen.”

38 “His path doesn’t reside within you, as you lack trust in the One He dispatched.”

39 “You meticulously examine the Living Word, assuming it provides Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign. Yet, these very Living Words testify to Me!”

40 “Still, you choose not to approach Me to obtain Eternal Life.”

41 “I don’t receive honor from any men.”

42 “However, I am aware that the affection of the Preeminent Sovereign is not present within you.”

43 “I’ve arrived representing My Life-Giver, yet you reject Me; if another individual shows up in his name, you’ll welcome him.”

44 “How can you possibly trust when you are content with receiving praise from each other, yet you disregard the honor that the sole Preeminent Sovereign gives?”

45 “Don’t assume I’ll condemn you before the Life-Giver. It’s Moses, the one you’ve placed your expectations on, who is your critic.”

46 “If you trusted Moses, you would trust Me since he talked about Me.”

47 “Since you reject Moses’ written works, how could you trust My declarations?”

§ 27070 IMMANUEL FEEDS THE FIVE THOUSAND

6 Following a certain period, Immanuel journeyed to the alternate side of the Sea of Galilee, also referred to as the Sea of Tiberius.

2 A vast assembly persisted in tracking Him down due to witnessing the marvelous works He achieved, successfully curing those unwell.

3 Immanuel ascended a hill and found a place to sit with his pathseekers.

4 The time for the Judean Emancipation celebration was approaching.

5 Immanuel turned to Philip, observing a vast multitude approaching. He asked, “How will we secure food to feed these individuals?”

6 This question was posed exclusively as a trial, as He fully understood His impending plans.

7 Philip responded, “Even working for over six months wouldn’t accumulate sufficient funds to purchase enough bread for every individual to get a small piece.”

8 Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother and among His pathseekers, expressed his thoughts:
9 “A lad is present who possesses five barley loaves and a pair of fish, yet what good are they for such a multitude?”

10 Immanuel instructed, “Let the crowd take a seat.” The location was abundant with grass, and they complied with His proclamation (the count of men present was approximately five thousand).

11 Immanuel took the bread, expressed gratitude, and handed it to the sitting individuals, ensuring they received as much bread as they desired. He followed the same procedure with the fish.

[12] After everyone was stuffed, He instructed His pathseekers to collect the remaining fragments, ensuring nothing was squandered.
[13] After eating, they gathered the scraps and packed twelve baskets with the remaining pieces of the five barley loaves.
[14] As Immanuel performed the marvelous act, the crowd began to assert that the ‘eternally wise servant’ they expected was indeed making His arrival into our world.
[15] Aware of their plans to forcibly ensovereign Him as a Prime Ruler, Immanuel retreated to the solitude of a mountain.

§ 27080 IMMANUEL WALKS ON THE WATER

[16] As dusk fell, His pathseekers descended to the lake.
[17] They embarked on a vessel journey across the lake towards Capernaum. With the descent of nightfall, Immanuel still hadn’t appeared among them.
[18] A powerful breeze created high waves.

[19] After covering three to four miles with their oars, they were terrified to see Immanuel approaching the boat, treading on the water.
[20] He told them, “I am the One; fear not.”

[21] They were eager to let Him in the boat and arrived at their desired destination straightaway.

[22] The following day, the multitude on the other side of the lake acknowledged that only one vessel was present, and that Immanuel had not embarked on it with His pathseekers but had departed solo.
[23] Subsequently, a few water vessels from Tiberius reached nearby, where the crowd had partaken in the bread following the Sovereign Captain’s expression of gratitude.
[24] Noticing the absence of Immanuel and His pathseekers, the crowd embarked on boats and set sail towards Capernaum to find Immanuel.

§ 27090 IMMANUEL THE BREAD OF LIFE

[25] On discovering Him at the lake’s opposite shore, they inquired, “Teacher, when did you arrive here?”

[26] Immanuel replied, “You pursued Me not because of the marvelous works you witnessed but because the bread you consumed filled you.”
[27] Focus your efforts not on perishable goods, but on the enduring nourishment that leads to eternal renewal, which the Heir of Humanity provides. He carries the unmistakable mark of the Eternal Reality's affirmation.

[28] They asked, “What actions should we take to perform Preeminent Sovereign’s desired tasks?”

[29] Immanuel responded, “Preeminent Sovereign’s primary task for you is to trust in the One who He dispatched.”

[30] They asked Him, “What marvelous work will You show that might convince us of Your ultimate authenticity? What action will You take?”

31 “In the past, our forefathers consumed celestial food while wandering through the wilderness; as the Living Word states, ‘You satisfied their hunger by providing bread from the celestial realms. ’”

32 Immanuel affirmed to them, “In utmost sincerity, it wasn’t Moses who provided you with the bread from the celestial realm; instead, My Life-Giver grants you the genuine celestial bread.”
33 “The Preeminent Sovereign’s nourishment, which descends from the celestial realm, grants Life to the whole Earth.”

34 “Sovereign Captain,” they requested, “Provide us with this bread perpetually!”

35 Immanuel then proclaimed, “I am the essential food for your life. Those who come to me will never feel lacking, and those who trust in me will never feel innerly drained.'

36 “Even though you’ve witnessed Me, you don’t trust me.”

37 “Each individual the Life-Giver entrusts to Me will approach Me. I shall certainly not reject anyone who seeks Me.”
38 “I descended from the celestial realm not to fulfill My desires but to carry out the directives of the One who dispatched me.”

39 “The One who sent Me intends that I shouldn’t let any of those given to Me perish; instead, resurrect them on the final day.”

40 “My Life-Giver desires that anyone who gazes on the Heir and puts their trust in Him will know the Life that never ends, and I am the One who will bring them to Life at the time of the end.”

41 Hearing His words, some Israelites started expressing their discontent since He claimed to be the food that descended from the celestial realms.
42 They questioned, “Isn’t this Immanuel, Joseph’s offspring, whose parents we’re familiar with? How can He then assert that He descended from the celestial realm?”

43 “Cease bickering among yourselves,” Immanuel responded.
44 “Nobody can approach Me unless the Life-Giver sends Me compelling them. On the ultimate day, I will resurrect them.”
45 “The Eternal Wisdom states: ‘The Sovereign Captain will educate all your offspring. ’ Each individual who has heard and understood the path of the Life-Giver approaches me.”

46 “Only the One originating from the Preeminent Sovereign has had the opportunity to see the Life-Giver; no one else has.”
47 “I assure you, anyone with trust in Me has Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

48-51 “I am the true source of sustenance for your inner-self. Your predecessors had temporary provisions in difficult times, but those supplies ran out. Now, here is the sustenance that sustains eternally, available to anyone. I am the living nourishment sent from above—those who partake in what I offer will find lasting life. What I provide—my very essence—is given for the renewal of the entire world.”

52 The Israelites initiated a heated debate among themselves, questioning how this individual could offer His flesh for them to consume.

53 Immanuel explicitly stated, “Without consuming the Heir of Humanity’s body and blood, one could not possess Life within them.”
54 “Anyone who consumes My body and sips My blood will possess Life everlasting, and I assure their return from death on the final day.”

55 “For My body is authentic food, and My lifeblood is genuine drink.”

56 “Anyone who consumes my body and imbibes my lifeblood abides in Me, and I abide in them.”
57 “Just as the living Life-Giver has given Me Life, so shall the one who partakes of Me gain Life through Me.”

58 “This is the eternal resource sent from above. While past generations relied on temporary provisions and eventually passed away, those who embrace this life-giving source will experience enduring eternal life.”

59 He uttered this as He was imparting wisdom at the communal place of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Capernaum.

§ 27100 MANY PATHSEEKERS ABANDON IMMANUEL

60 When many of His pathseekers heard this, they remarked, “This instruction is too challenging. Who can comprehend and consent to it?”

61 Knowing His pathseekers were complaining, Immanuel asked, “Does this upset you too?”

62 “How would you react if you observed the Heir of Humanity ascending to where He originally came from?”

63 “The Eternal Spark gives Life; nothing comes from the physical. I have spoken to you words that are both Inner Energy and Life.”

64 “However, some of you lack trust.” From the start, Immanuel was aware of those who wouldn’t trust Him and those who would turn against Him.

65 “This is why I advised you that no one may come to Me unless the Life-Giver has granted them to Me,” Immanuel declared.

66 After this, many of His students withdrew and ceased to accompany Him.

67 Immanuel questioned the Twelve, asking if they also intended to depart.

68 Simon Peter responded, “Sovereign Captain, who else can we turn to? You possess the path that grants Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.”

69 “We’ve trusted You and are convinced You are the Preeminent Sovereign’s One.”

70 Immanuel responded, “Didn’t I handpick you all, the group of Twelve? Nonetheless, one of you is an emissary of evil!”

71 The reference was to Judas, heir of Simon Iscariot, who was one of the twelve emissaries but would eventually turn against Him.

§ 27110 IMMANUEL GOES TO THE FESTIVAL OF TENTS

7 After this, Immanuel journeyed throughout Galilee. He consciously avoided venturing into Judea since the Judean authorities were plotting His demise.
2 However, the time was approaching for the Judean Feast of Booths.
3 Immanuel’s siblings urged Him to depart from Galilee and travel to Judea so that His pathseekers could witness the marvelous works He performed.

4 “Those yearning for public recognition do not do things covertly. Given your actions, it’s time to make yourself visible to the world.”
5 Even His siblings lacked trust in Him.

6 Immanuel told them, “My moment hasn’t yet arrived; any moment suits you.”
7 “The universe bears no ill will towards you, yet it despises Me because I witness against it, testifying that its works are evil.”
8 “Proceed to the celebration. I’m not attending this celebration as it is not yet the right moment for me.”

9 After uttering these words, he stayed in Galilee.

10 Yet, once His siblings departed for the celebration, He, too, attended, not openly but as it were in secret.
11 During the festival, the heads of the Judean community were vigilantly searching for Immanuel, questioning, “Where can he be found?”
12 There was extensive secret discussion about Him among the masses, with some arguing that He was honorable.
13 However, Nobody dared to speak about Him openly due to the intimidation from the authorities.

14 Immanuel set out to the fortress to impart His path when the festival was already half over.

§ 27120 IMMANUEL TEACHES AT THE FEAST

15 Astonishment took hold of the Israelites present. They queried, “How did this individual obtain such knowledge without any formal instruction?”

16 Immanuel responded, “The knowledge I impart isn’t of My origin but originates from the One who dispatched Me.”
17 “A person resolved to fulfill the Preeminent Sovereign’s will can discern if the Preeminent Sovereign creates My instruction or if I am merely expressing personal thoughts.”

18 “An individual uttering his own words tries to obtain individual honor, but the one aiming for the high regard of the One who sent Him exhibits ultimate authenticity; there isn’t a bit of dishonesty in Him.”

19 “Didn’t Moses provide you with the Laws? Yet, not a single person among you abides by them. Why are you plotting to murder Me?”

20 The crowd retorted, “Is there a destructive malevolent entity in You who seeks Your life?’”

21 Immanuel responded, “I performed one marvelous act, and all of you are astonished.” “Moses handed down the tradition of circumcision to you (it’s crucial to note that its origin isn’t from Moses but from the forefathers).

22 But still, you continue to perform this formality on a boy even during the Day of Rest.”

23 “If a male child can receive circumcision on a Day of Rest to comply with Moses’ s Law without breach, why are you upset with Me for restoring a man to total health on a Day of Rest?”
24 “Stop assessing based solely on what you see outwardly; aim for an authentic determination based on what you see inwardly.”

§ 27130 IS IMMANUEL THE CHOSEN REDEEMER?

25 The residents of Yerushalayim questioned, “Isn’t this the individual they are trying to assassinate?
26 Yet He stands here, openly addressing the crowd, and they offer no rebuttal. Could the leaders have determined that He is the promised Chosen Redeemer?”

27 “We know this man’s origin, yet when the Chosen Redeemer arrives, His origin will remain unknown.”
28 As Immanuel continued His teachings within the fortress courts, He loudly declared, “You recognize Me and know My origins. I didn’t come here by My own decision but by the One who dispatched Me, who is authentic. Yet, you’re unfamiliar with Him.”
29 “But I know Him, for I originated from Him, and He dispatched Me.”
30 They attempted to apprehend Him, but nobody touched Him since it wasn’t the appropriate time yet.
31 Many of the audience trusted in Him, pondering, “Will the Chosen Redeemer, on His arrival, display more marvelous evidence than this individual?”
32 On learning that the crowd was muttering about Him, the leading priests and the Tradition Keepers dispatched fortress guards to seize Him.
33 Immanuel proclaimed, “I will stay with you briefly and return to the One who sent Me.”
34 “You will search for Me, yet you won’t be able to discover Me, and the place where I reside is unreachable.”
35 The Israelites queried among themselves, “What is this man’s destination that we won’t be able to reach Him? Does He plan to reside with our people dispersed among the Greeks and instruct the Greeks?”
36 “What does His statement imply when He asserts, ‘You’ll seek Me and fail to locate Me, and the place where I dwell, you are incapable of reaching?’”

37-38 On the concluding and most significant day of the festivity, Immanuel rose and spoke to the people, “If anyone feels empty, come to me and be restored. Those who trust in me, as the Living Word promise, will have streams of revitalizing energy flowing from deep within them.”

39 He referred to the exalted Eternal Spark given to those who trusted Him. Until then, the Eternal Spark had not been dispensed since Immanuel had not yet been exalted.

40 Responding to His proclamations, a portion of the audience said, “This individual must indeed be the eternally wise servant.”
41 Others claimed, “He is the Chosen Redeemer,” while still others questioned, “Could the Chosen Redeemer possibly originate from Galilee?”
42 “Isn’t it stated in the Living Word that the Chosen Redeemer will be a descendant of David and will be from Bethlehem, the place where David resided?”
43 The crowd was split over Immanuel.
44 A few intended to arrest Him, yet nobody dared to touch Him.

§ 27140 UNBELIEF OF THE ISRAELI LEADERS

45 The fortress officers returned to the chief priest and the Tradition Keepers, who asked, “Why didn’t you capture Him?”
46 The officers replied that His manner of speaking was unprecedented.
47 The Tradition Keepers sarcastically responded, “Has He fooled you too?”
48 “Is there any ruler or Tradition Keeper who has placed their trust in Him?”
49 “This ignorant crowd, devoid of Mosaic Law knowledge, is under a curse!”
50 Nicodemus, one of their group who had previously visited Immanuel, asked:
51 “Is it legal to judge a man according to our Mosaic Law before we listen to Him and learn about His actions?”
52 They responded, “Do you hail from Galilee as well? Investigate thoroughly, and you’ll discover that no one bearing the mantle of an eternally wise servant emerges from Galilee!”
53 Subsequently, each one returned to their residence.

8 Immanuel proceeded towards the Mount of Olives.

2 He woke early and returned to the fortress. People flocked to Him, surrounding Him as He settled down and began sharing His path.
3 The interpreters of Mosaic Law and Tradition Keepers brought in a woman caught in an extramarital affair. They forced her to present herself before the crowd.
4 They told Immanuel that this woman had been caught in an extramarital sexual act.
5 “Moses’ Law instructs us to execute women like this by stoning. What is Your perspective on this?”
6 They posed this query as a snare, hoping to secure grounds to lay charges against Him.
7 Since their persistent questioning endured, He rose and addressed them, stating, “The individual among you, free from any unworthy choice, should cast the initial rock at her.”
8 Once more, He bent down and inscribed in the dirt.
9 Consequently, those listening began to depart singly, commencing with the more mature individuals, until only Immanuel remained, with the woman persistently upright.
10 Immanuel stood up and inquired, “Dear lady, where have they gone? Is there no one to find you guilty?”
11 She replied, “Not one, Sir.” Immanuel then said, “Nor do I judge you. Proceed now and cease your ways full of unworthy choices.”

§ 27150 DISPUTE OVER IMMANUEL'S TESTIMONY

12 Immanuel addressed the crowd again: "I am like the guiding light for the world. Anyone who follows me won't be lost in confusion but will have clarity and purpose lighting their way."
13 The Tradition Keepers disputed His claim, pointing out that He was the sole bearer of His testimony, asserting that such validation was implausible.

14 Immanuel responded, "Regardless of My self-representation, My statement holds integrity since I know where My origin started, and my eventual destination ends. Yet, you must be aware of My inception and forthcoming journey."
15 "You evaluate others by earthly measures; however, I refuse to evaluate anyone."
16 "Even when I pass judgment, My verdicts are reliable; given that I am not alone, I remain in union with the Life-Giver who dispatched Me."
17 "Your teachings affirm that when two individuals concur, their testimony is valid."
18 "I give evidence about myself, and the Life-Giver who dispatched Me is the other validator."
19 The Tradition Keepers inquired, "Where is Your paternal figure?" Immanuel responded, "Your knowledge lacks understanding of My Life-Giver and Me. You would also comprehend My Life-Giver if you understood who I am."
20 He used these expressions while imparting His path in the fortress near where tributes were deposited. However, no individual apprehended Him since His predestined moment had not arrived.

§ 27160 DISPUTE OVER WHO IS IMMANUEL

21 Immanuel reiterated, "I will depart, and you will search for Me, but you'll meet your end in your transgressions. You cannot follow where I'm heading."
22 The Israelites wondered, "Could He be contemplating suicide? Is that why He says, 'You cannot follow where I go'?"
23 He continued, "You are from the Earth; I am from the celestial realms. You belong to this terrestrial realm; I do not."
24 "If you fail to acknowledge that I am the Chosen One, you will perish in your worthless choices; your disbelief will cause you to die in your unworthy choices."
25 They questioned His identity, and Immanuel responded, "'I am who I have proclaimed to be since the Inception."

26 "There's much I could comment on and criticize about you. However, the One who dispatched Me is reliable, and I relay only what I've received from Him to the universe."
27 They failed to comprehend that He spoke about His Celestial Life-Giver.
28 Immanuel further stated: "Once you've exalted the Heir of Humanity, you'll recognize that 'I am the Chosen One and don't operate independently; instead, I explain what the Life-Giver has disclosed to Me. '"
29 "My Sender is always with Me; He has never abandoned Me since I consistently do what delights Him."
30 While Immanuel was speaking, many people trusted Him.

§ 27170 CHILDREN OF ABRAHAM?

31 Immanuel addressed the Israelites who had trusted Him, stating: “You will indeed be My pathseekers if you remain loyal to My path.
32 “You will come to understand the Eternal Reality, and this Reality will grant you liberty.”
33 They retorted, “We are relatives of Abraham and have never been in bondage to any man. What do you mean when you declare we will be liberated?”
34 Immanuel responded, with utmost certainty, “Anyone who commits an unworthy choice is in bondage to an unworthy choice.”
35 “A coworker does not retain a lasting role in the household; an heir perpetually belongs there.”
36 “You are unquestionably free if the heir liberates you.”
37 “I’m aware that you’re the offspring of Abraham. However, you’re plotting to murder Me because My path finds no acceptance in your inner-selves.”
38 “I am sharing the things I witnessed in the presence of My Life-Giver while you act based on what your father has conveyed to you.”

39 They responded, “Abraham was our progenitor.” Immanuel retorted, “Were they genuine offspring of Abraham, their actions would reflect Abraham’s actions.”
40 “Despite everything, you’re intent on ending My life, a man who spoke the ultimate authenticity to you that I learned from the Innovator. Such actions were never a part of Abraham’s way.”
41 “You perform what your father did.” “We are not children born out of illicit relations,” they asserted. “The solitary Life-Giver we acknowledge is the Preeminent Sovereign Himself.”

§ 27180 CHILDREN OF THE ADVERSARY!

42 Immanuel told them, “Should the Preeminent Sovereign be your Life-Giver, you would harbor affection for Me since My origin is from the Preeminent Sovereign. I didn’t embark on this journey independently; the Preeminent Sovereign is the One who dispatched Me.”
43 “Why can’t you grasp My Path? It’s because you are incapable of listening to My message.”
44 “You hail from your progenitor, the Chief Instigator, and eagerly perform your progenitor’s wishes. From the Inception of the Universe, he was a killer and has never adhered to ultimate authenticity since authenticity is absent in him. When he perpetrates deception, he communicates in his inherent manner since he is a fabricator and the pioneer of falsehoods.”
45 “Even though I speak of ultimate authenticity, you refuse to trust me!”
46 “Is anyone among you who can validate My wrongdoings? If My Path holds ultimate authenticity, then why don’t you put your trust in Me?”
47 “Those from the Preeminent Sovereign listen to His teachings. But you’re unable to comprehend My Path because you are not part of Preeminent Sovereign’s realm.”

§ 27190 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER’S CLAIMS ABOUT HIMSELF

48 The Israelites said to Him, “Haven’t we rightly claimed that you are a Samaritan and possessed by a malevolent entity?”

49 Immanuel replied, “I’m not under the control of a malevolent entity. I respect My Life-Giver while you disrespect Me.”
50 “I am not seeking self-praise. Someone who seeks My acclaim is here. This One is the judge.”
51 “I assure you, anyone who keeps My path will never experience death.”
52 They retorted, “Now we know You are under the influence of a malevolent entity! Abraham and the eternally wise servants passed away. Yet, You claim that anyone who adheres to Your teachings will never experience death.”
53 “Do you consider Yourself superior to our ancestor Abraham? He has passed away, just as the eternally wise servants did. What are you making Yourself out to be?”
54 Immanuel responded, “If I praise myself, My praise holds no value. It’s My Life-Giver, the One you acknowledge as your Preeminent Sovereign, who grants acclaim to Me.”
55 “Although you aren’t aware of His existence, I am. I would be untruthful if I denied My knowledge of Him, just like you. However, I know Him and adhere to His path.”
56 “Abraham, your father, was overjoyed at the prospect of witnessing My time; he observed it and took delight.”
57 They responded, “You haven’t yet reached the age of fifty, and you claim to have witnessed Abraham!”
58 “I assure you,” Immanuel responded, “I existed before Abraham’s birth!”
59 They gathered rocks to attack Him on hearing His words. However, Immanuel concealed Himself and silently left the fortress area.

§ 27200 IMMANUEL HEALS A MAN BORN BLIND

9 While journeying, He observed a man who had been visionless since his inception.

2 The pathseekers questioned Him, asking, “Teacher, whose transgression led to this man’s blindness from birth, his own or his parents?”
3 Immanuel declared, “The man and his parents were not guilty of any unworthy choice; his blindness was an opportunity to reveal the Preeminent Sovereign’s mighty deeds in him.”
4 “We must perform the tasks the One who dispatched Me directs as long as daylight prevails.” The arrival of nightfall will render all labor impossible.”
5 “I serve as the world’s illumination as long as I exist.”
6 On uttering these words, Immanuel spat on the soil, formed clay with His saliva, and spread it over the man’s eyes.
7 The man was instructed to cleanse himself in the Pool of Siloam, a name signifying “Sent.” On doing so, he returned with regained sight.
8 The individuals from his locality and those who had recognized him from his previous begging days inquired, “Could this be the same individual who would customarily sit and plead for alms?”
9 Some indicated it was him, while others disagreed, saying he merely resembled the man. However, he persistently affirmed, “I am indeed that individual.”
10 “How did you regain your vision?” they inquired.
11 The man answered, “The individual known as Immanuel created clay, anointed my eyes, and directed me to proceed to Siloam and cleanse myself. Following His instructions, I went, cleaned, and regained my ability to see.”
12 “Where could the man be?” they asked. “I am unaware,” he responded.

§ 27210 THE TRADITION KEEPERS INVESTIGATE THE HEALING

13 The individual who had once lacked sight was presented to the Tradition Keepers.
14 The day Immanuel created the mud and restored the man's vision was a Day of Rest.

15 So, the Tradition Keepers inquired how he regained his vision. The man answered, "He applied a clay mixture to my eyes. I cleansed them, and presently, I have sight."
16 "Tradition Keepers argued, "Given that this man disregards the Day of Rest, He can't be inspired by the Preeminent Sovereign." Others, however, wondered how one seen as 'full of unworthy choices' could display such marvelous capabilities; this led to disagreement within their ranks.
17 They addressed the man who was once blind again: "What's your perspective on Him? He is the one who restored your vision." The man responded, "He must be a seer."
18 Despite the evidence, they remained skeptical about the man's transition from blindness to sight until they had interacted with his parents.
19 "Is this the child you claim was born without sight? How does he have the ability to see now?"
20 The parents affirmed, "He's our child and came into this world without sight."
21 "We are clueless about how he recently gained vision or who was the One to give him sight. Question him directly. He is mature enough to provide his account."
22 Their parents spoke these words due to their fear of the Judean authorities; it was known that they had made up their minds that anyone confessing Immanuel as the Chosen Redeemer would be excommunicated from the communal place.
23 This situation is why his parents stated that he is mature; they question him.
24 They called in the man who had once been blind for another time. "Honor the Preeminent Sovereign by speaking the ultimate authenticity," they insisted. "We are sure that this healer is a wrongdoer."
25 He responded, "I am unsure if He is a wrongdoer. However, there's one thing I' m sure of—I used to be unable to see, but now I have sight!"
26 They inquired, "What actions did He perform on you? How did He restore your sight?"

27 The former blind man responded, "I have already informed you, yet you failed to pay heed. What makes you want to hear it once more? Do you wish to join His pathseekers as well?"
28 They criticized him, proclaiming, "You're a pathseeker of this man! But we, we're pathseekers of Moses!"
29 "It's acknowledged that the Preeminent Sovereign had a conversation with Moses. Yet, we remain in the dark regarding the origins of this man."
30 The individual responded, "It's extraordinary! His origin is unknown to you, but He restored my eyesight."
31 "It is understood that the Preeminent Sovereign does not hear the pleas of wrongdoers. Instead, He heeds the devout individual who carries out His wishes."
32 "It's unprecedented that anyone has ever restored sight to a person blind from birth."
33 "This man wouldn't have been able to accomplish anything without coming from the Preeminent Sovereign."
34 Their retort: "You were thoroughly buried in unworthy choices on your emergence into this world. What audacity you have to instruct us!" So, they expelled him.

§ 27220 INNER BLINDNESS

35 Having learned about his expulsion, Immanuel sought the man out and questioned him: “Do you trust the Heir of Humanity?”
36 “Sir, who is this individual,” the former blind man inquired. “Inform me so that I can put my trust in Him.”
37 Immanuel said, “You’ve already witnessed Him; He’s conversing with You right now!”
38 The man said, “Sovereign Captain, I trust You.” He saluted Him in reverence.

39 Immanuel proclaimed, “I arrived in this world to pass judgment, thereby enabling the sightless to gain vision and those with vision to end up sightless.”
40 Hearing His statement, some of the Tradition Keepers with Him questioned, “Are you insinuating that we, too, lack vision?”
41 Immanuel replied, “If you were innerly blind, you would not have committed unworthy choices; however, due to your declaration of sight, your transgression persists.”

§ 27230 THE TRUE GUIDE: A MESSAGE OF TRUST, SAFETY, AND UNITY IN A COMPLEX W

10 “Let me tell you something important,” Immanuel told the Tradition Keepers religious leaders: “Anyone trying to get into the secure zone without using the main entrance is up to no good—a thief or scammer. However, the one who uses the main entrance is the trusted guide of the residents.

3 “The security system recognizes and lets him in, and the people respond to his call. He knows each of them personally and leads them to safety.”
4 “When they’re all outside, he leads the way, and they follow him because they trust his voice.”
5 “But they would never follow a stranger; instead, they’d run, knowing the stranger doesn’t have their best interests at inner determination.”
6 Immanuel spoke using this example, but the Tradition Keepers didn’t get what he meant.
7-9 So Immanuel explained further: “I am the secure gate. The only legitimate way in is through me. Everyone else who claimed authority over you were scammers and frauds, but you didn’t listen to them. I am the way in. Anyone who comes through me will be safe—they’ll have the freedom to move and find what they need.

10 “The scammer’s goal is to steal and destroy. But I’ve come to give life—real, abundant life. "
11-15 “I am the trusted guide who truly cares. I’m even willing to risk everything for your well-being. The paid worker, who has no personal connection to you, runs away at the first sign of trouble. When the predators show up, they scatter everyone. The worker runs because they’re just doing a job—they don’t honestly care about you. But I am the trusted guide. I know my people, and they know me—Just as my Life-Giver knows me, and I know Him. I’m willing to give everything to protect my people.”"

16 “I have others outside this group who also need to hear my call. I must reach them too. They’ll respond, and we’ll all be part of one united group.”
17 “This is why my Life-Giver values me: I willingly offer my life, knowing I’ll take it back again.”

18 “Nobody is forcing me—I do this freely. I have the authority to lay down my life and to take it up again. This is what my Life-Giver has instructed me to do.”
19 The crowd listening to Immanuel was divided.
20 Some said, “He’s out of his mind, talking nonsense. Why pay attention to him?”
21 But others countered, “These aren’t the words of a madman. Besides, can a crazy person heal blindness?”

§ 27240 FURTHER CONFLICT OVER THE CHOSEN REDEEMER’S CLAIMS

22 The Dedication Feast arrived in Yerushalayim during the winter season.
23 Immanuel strolled through Solomon’s Portico within the fortress courts.
24 The Israelites encircled Him, questioning, “For how long will You leave us guessing? If You are the Chosen Redeemer, state it clearly to us.”
25 Immanuel said, “I have shared it with you, yet you refused to trust Me. My actions under My Life-Giver’s endorsement prove who I am.”
26 But you don’t trust Me since you’re not part of My protected community.
27 “My protected community heeds My call; I recognize My protected people, and they track My path.”
28 “I grant them Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign, and they will never cease to exist; no single individual can take them away from My grasp.”
29 Greater than all is My Life-Giver, who has given them to Me. Nobody can take them from My Life-Giver's grasp.
30 “The Life-Giver and I share the same inner energy and nature.”
31 His Judean adversaries gathered rocks to execute Him.
32 Immanuel questioned them: “I have demonstrated numerous deeds of integrity from the Life-Giver. For which of these are you choosing to stone Me?”
33 They clarified, “We aren’t seeking to stone You for any authentic deed but for Your profanity, as You, being just a human, profess to be celestial.”

34 Immanuel responded to them, “Does it not say in your Law, ‘I decree that you are Eternal Beings’?”

35 “If the Preeminent Sovereign referred to you as ‘Eternal Beings, ’ the Living Path cannot be negated.”

36 “How can you accuse the One whom the Life-Giver has purified and dispatched to the world of blasphemy for claiming, ‘I am the Heir of Preeminent Sovereign’?”
37 “Unless I accomplish My Life-Giver’s deeds, do not place your trust in Me.”
38 “Even if you don’t trust Me, trust in My actions, realizing and acknowledging that the Life-Giver exists within Me, and I’m within the Life-Giver.”
39 Once more, they attempted to arrest Him, yet He eluded their clutches.
40 Immanuel returned once more to the location on the other side of the Jordan where John had initially been conducting immersions, and He chose to stay there.
41 Numerous individuals approached him, stating, “John may not have conducted any marvelous works. Yet, everything he expressed about this man was accurate.”
42 A lot of those people in that location placed their trust in Immanuel.

§ 27250 THE DEATH OF LAZARUS

11 Lazarus, a resident of Bethany and brother to Mary and Martha, was gravely ill.
2 Mary, who had previously anointed the Sovereign Captain with aromatic oil and wiped His feet with her hair, informed Immanuel of Lazarus' condition.
3 The sisters sent word to Immanuel, saying, "Your cherished friend is unwell."
4 Upon hearing this, Immanuel declared, "This illness will not end in death but will showcase the Preeminent Sovereign's magnificence and grant acclaim to His Heir."
5 Immanuel deeply loved Martha, her sister, and Lazarus.
6 Despite the news, He stayed where He was for two more days.
7 Afterward, He told His pathseekers, "It's time to return to Judea."

8 They protested, "Teacher, the Israelites there recently tried to stone You. Are You going back?"
9 Immanuel replied, "A day has twelve hours. One who walks in daylight does not stumble because they see by this world's light."
10 "But one who walks at night stumbles because they have no light."
11 "Lazarus has gone asleep; I intend to wake him," he stated.
12 The pathseekers said, "If he's sleeping, he will recover."
13 Immanuel had been speaking of Lazarus' death, but they thought He meant natural sleep.
14 He told them plainly, "Lazarus is dead."
15 "I am glad I was not there for your sake so that you may trust. Let us go to him."
16 Thomas, called Didymus, said to the others, "Let's go with Him so we may die with Him."

§ 27260 IMMANUEL COMFORTS THE SISTERS OF LAZARUS

17 Upon arriving in Bethany, Immanuel found Lazarus had been in the grave for four days.
18 Bethany was just two miles from Yerushalayim.
19 Many Judeans had come to comfort Martha and Mary over their brother's death.
20 When Martha heard Immanuel was coming, she went to meet Him while Mary stayed at home.
21 "Sovereign Captain," Martha said to Immanuel, "if You had been here, my brother would not have died."
22 "But even now, Preeminent Sovereign will give You whatever You ask."

23 Immanuel said to her, "Your brother will rise again."
24 Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the return from death on the last day."
25 Immanuel told her, "I am the return from death and the life. The one who trusts Me will live, even though they die."
26 "And whoever lives by trusting Me will never die. Do you trust this?"
27 "Yes, Sovereign Captain," she replied, "I trust that You are the Chosen Redeemer, the Preeminent Sovereign's Heir, who is to come into the world."
28 She turned back and pulled her sister Mary aside after saying this. She said, "The Teacher is here and calling for you."
29 When Mary heard this, she got up quickly and went to Him.

30 Immanuel remained where Martha had first seen Him; he had had not yet reached the village.
31 The Judeans who had been supporting Mary in the home observed how swiftly she got up and left, so they assumed she was heading to the tomb to grieve there and followed her.
32 When Mary reached the place where Immanuel was and saw Him, she fell at His feet and said, “Sovereign Captain, if You had been here, my brother would not have died.”
33 When Immanuel saw her weeping, and the Judeans who had come along with her also weeping, He was deeply moved in His inner-self and troubled.
34 “Where have you laid him?” He asked. “Come and see the Sovereign Captain,” they replied.
35 Immanuel wept.
36 Then the Judeans said, “See how He loved him!”
37 But some of them said, “Could not He who opened the eyes of the blind man have kept this man from dying?”

§ 27270 IMMANUEL RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD

38 Immanuel, deeply moved, approached the grave, a cavern sealed with a boulder.
39 “Remove the stone,” he instructed. Martha, the dead man’s sister, hesitated, “Sovereign Captain, the body must be decaying and emitting a foul smell; he has been dead for four days.”
40 Immanuel replied, “Did I not tell you that if you trust in Me, you will witness the magnificence of the Preeminent Sovereign?”
41 They removed the stone, and Immanuel, looking toward the celestial realms, thanked His Life-Giver for listening to Him.
42 “I know You always listen to Me, but I said this for the crowd’s sake so they might trust that You have dispatched Me.”
43 Then Immanuel called out loudly, “Lazarus, emerge!”
44 The dead man appeared, his face clothed, hands and feet bound with strips of linen. Immanuel instructed them, “Remove the burial attire and set him free.”

§ 27280 THE PLOT TO KILL IMMANUEL

45 Many Israelites who visited Mary and witnessed Immanuel’s actions put their trust in Him.
46 Some reported His actions to the Tradition Keepers.
47 The leading priests and Tradition Keepers convened the Sanhedrin, questioning their progress. They were concerned about the man performing numerous marvelous works.
48 “If we let Him continue, everyone will trust Him, and the Romans will come to destroy our fortress and society.”
49 Caiaphas, the high priest that year, declared, “You are ignorant!
50 It’s better for one man to die for the people than for the whole nation to perish.”

51 As high priest, he was foretelling Immanuel’s death for the people
52 and to unite the dispersed children of the Preeminent Sovereign, not just for the country but also for themselves.
53 From that point, they plotted to kill Him.
54 Consequently, Immanuel stopped appearing publicly in Judea. He retreated to Ephraim, near the wilderness, with His pathseekers.

55 As the Judean Emancipation approached, many traveled from the countryside to Yerushalayim for purification before the feast.
56 They searched for Immanuel and questioned each other in the fortress area: “What do you think? Will He attend the feast?”
57 The leading priests and Tradition Keepers had issued a decree for anyone knowing Immanuel’s location to inform them so they could apprehend Him.

§ 27290 IMMANUEL ENSOVEREIGNED AT BETHANY

12 Immanuel traveled to Bethany, home of Lazarus, whom He had resurrected six days before the Emancipation Feast.
2 A meal was prepared in His honor. Martha served, and Lazarus dined with Him.
3 Mary then used nearly 473 milliliters of pure nard, a luxurious fragrance, to anoint Immanuel’s feet, wiping them with her hair and filling the house with its scent.
4 Judas Iscariot, one of His pathseekers who would later betray Him, objected,
5 “Why wasn’t this oil sold to the poor for a wage equivalent to a year’s wages?”
6 His concern was not for the poor but stemmed from his deceit; as the treasury keeper, he often stole from it.
7 Immanuel responded, “Leave her alone; she kept this for My burial.

8 The poor will always be with you, but I will not.”
9 Many Israelites gathered to see Immanuel and Lazarus, whom He had raised.
10 The high priest plotted to kill Lazarus
11 because many Israelites were abandoning their beliefs to trust in Immanuel.

§ 27300 IMMANUEL COMES TO YERUSHALAYIM AS PRIME RULER

12 The next day, the large crowd gathered for the celebration and learned Immanuel was coming to Yerushalayim.
13 Waving palm fronds, they greeted Him, shouting, “Exalted be! Fortunate is the One who arrives in the Sovereign Captain’s Name! Empowerment to the Prime Ruler of Israel!”
14 As the Living Word narrates, Immanuel found and rode a young donkey.
15 “Fear no more, Daughter of David; your ruler is coming, riding on a donkey’s colt.”
16 Initially, the pathseekers didn’t understand these events. After Immanuel received His acclaim, they realized these predictions were about Him, and these actions were foretold.
17 The group with Him, when He raised Lazarus from the grave, continued spreading the news.
18 Many came to greet Him because of the marvelous sign He had performed.
19 The Tradition Keepers saw their efforts failing. “Look, the whole world is following Him!”

§ 27310 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS DEATH

20 A group of Greeks attended the sovereign lifestyle celebration.

21 They approached Philip from Bethsaida of Galilee, saying, “Sir, we wish to meet Immanuel.”

22 Philip informed Andrew; together, they conveyed the message to Immanuel.
23 Immanuel responded that the Heir of Humanity had arrived to receive His acclaim.
24 “Listen carefully: Unless a single idea is planted and sacrificed for something greater, it remains just that—an idea. But when it is given up and nurtured, it can multiply and grow into something far more impactful.”
25 “Those cherishing their existence will forfeit it, while those disdaining their earthly life will safeguard it for perpetual life.”
26 “Anyone committed to My service must follow My path; wherever I am, My servant will be. My Life-Giver will honor those dedicated to My service.”
27 “At this moment, My inner-self is distressed. What should I say? ‘Life-Giver, rescue Me from this testing period?’ No, I have come for this decisive moment.”
28 “Life-Giver, honor Your Name!” A voice echoed from the celestial realms, “I have honored it and will do so again.”
29 The assembly heard the voice and thought it was thunder; others believed a Celestial Envoy had spoken.
30 Immanuel said the utterance was for their benefit, not His.
31 “The world is being held to account; its leader will soon be expelled.”
32 “I shall draw everyone to Me when I am elevated above the Earth.”
33 This indicated the manner of death He would face.
34 The crowd retorted, “We have heard from the Mosaic Law that the Chosen Redeemer will remain forever. How can you say the Heir of Humanity must be exalted? Who is this Heir of Humanity?”
35 Immanuel enlightened them: “The light will be with you briefly. Walk while you have the light, so you aren’t engulfed by darkness. Those who walk in darkness don’t know their destination.”

36 “Trust in the light while it is with you, so you may become children of light.” After concluding His discourse, Immanuel departed and concealed His presence from them.

§ 27320 TRUST AND DISTRUST AMONG THE ISRAELITES

37 Despite Immanuel performing numerous marvelous works before their eyes, they remained steadfast in their mistrust towards Him.
38 This doubt fulfilled Isaiah’s vision: “Sovereign Captain, who has believed our report, and to whom has Preeminent Sovereign’s mighty power been disclosed?”
39 They couldn’t trust, as Isaiah also said,
40 “Their eyes are blind, and their inner-selves are unfeeling, so they can’t see, understand, or change their ways—and I would have restored them.”
41 Isaiah said this because he saw Immanuel’s magnificence and spoke about Him.
42 Despite their status, many leaders trusted Him. They feared the Tradition Keepers would banish them from the communal place, so they didn’t publicly express their trust.
43 They valued human approval over the Preeminent Sovereign.
44 Immanuel declared loudly, “Trust in Me is also trust in the One who sent Me.
45 Anyone who sees Me sees the One who sent Me.
46 I came as a light so that anyone who trusts Me won’t remain in darkness.
47 I don’t judge those who hear My path and don’t follow it; I came to save the world, not condemn it.

48 Those who reject Me and My path have One who will judge them; the path I have given will be their condemnation on the final day.
49 I didn't speak on My own; the Life-Giver who sent Me commanded Me to say everything I have said.

50 His instructions lead to Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign. So, everything I teach follows what the Life-Giver has instructed Me."

§ 27330 IMMANUEL WASHES HIS PATHSEEKERS FEET

13 Before the Emancipation Feast Celebration, Immanuel knew His time to leave this realm and return to His Life-Giver was near. He showed unwavering love for His pathseekers in this world.
2 During supper, the Chief Instigator had already influenced Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, to betray Immanuel.
3 Immanuel, aware that the Life-Giver had given Him authority over everything and that He came from and would return to the Preeminent Sovereign,
4 rose from supper, set aside His outer garments, and wrapped a towel around Himself.
5 He then filled a basin with water and began washing His pathseekers' feet, drying them with the towel.
6 When He approached Simon Peter, Peter asked, "Sovereign Captain, are You going to wash my feet?"
7 Immanuel replied, "You don't understand now, but you will later."
8 Peter protested, "You shall never wash my feet!" Immanuel answered, "If I don't wash you, you have no part with Me."
9 Frustrated, Peter implored, "Then not just my feet but my hands and head as well!"
10 Immanuel said, "Those who have bathed need only to wash their feet; their whole body is pure. You are pure, though not all of you."
11 He knew who would betray Him; that's why He said not everyone was pure.
12 After washing their feet and putting on His clothes, He asked, "Do you understand what I have done for you?"

13 "You call Me 'Mentor' and 'Sovereign Captain, ' and rightly so, for that is what I am."
14 "You should wash each other's feet as your Teacher and Mentor have already done."
15 "I have set an example for you to follow."
16 "Truly, no coworker is greater than his supervisor, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him."
17 "You will be Fortunate if you do these things."

§ 27340 IMMANUEL PREDICTS HIS BETRAYAL

18 "I am not implying this about everyone; I know My chosen ones. However, it is to actualize the Living Path: 'The one who partook of My loaf has now betrayed Me. '"
19 "I'm informing you ahead so you will be convinced of My authentic identity when it transpires."
20 "I assure you, anyone who welcomes the person I dispatch welcomes Me. Anyone who receives Me welcomes the One who sent Me."

21 Following His statement, Immanuel was emotionally distressed and declared with certainty,
“One among you will turn against Me.”
22 His pathseekers gazed at each other, unsure of who He was referring to.
23 A pathseeker cherished by Immanuel was resting closely beside Him.
24 Simon Peter gestured to this pathseeker and inquired, “Ask Him whom He was referring to.”
25 Resting his weight on Immanuel, he queried, “Sovereign Captain, who could it be?”
26 Immanuel replied, “It is the individual to whom I would hand over this morsel of bread after immersing it in the dish of wine.” Subsequently, after dipping the bread, he passed it to Judas, Simon Iscariot’s offspring.

27 When Judas accepted the bread, the Adversary took possession of him. Immanuel then instructed him, “Carry out your intended action swiftly.”
28 None of the attendees at the meal comprehended the reason behind Immanuel’s words to him.
29 Judas kept the finances, so some assumed that Immanuel was instructing him to procure necessary items for the celebration or donate funds to needy people.
30 The minute Judas accepted the piece of bread, he immediately departed into the darkness.

§ 27350 IMMANUEL PREDICTS PETER’S DENIAL

31 Immanuel declared after His departure, “The Heir of Humanity has achieved His exaltation, and the Preeminent Sovereign’s magnificence is disclosed through Him.”
32 If the Preeminent Sovereign is exalted in Himself, He will also exalt the Heir in Himself—and He will do so simultaneously.
33 “My little ones, I will remain with you a little longer. You will search for Me, and as I told the Judean leaders, I now tell you: ‘The place I am going, you cannot accompany Me. ’” 34 “I give you a new directive: Cherish each other. As I have cherished you, you must love each other.”
35 “Your strong affection for each other will show the world that you are My pathseekers.” 36 Simon Peter asked, “Sovereign Captain, where are you going?” Immanuel replied, “You can’t accompany Me now; however, you will in the future.” 37 “Sovereign Captain,” Peter asked, “why can’t I go with You now? I am ready to forfeit My life for Your sake.”
38 Immanuel asked, “Are you ready to offer your life for My cause? You will reject Me three times before the rooster crows, I can tell you with absolute surety!

§ 27360 IMMANUEL COMFORTS HIS PATHSEEKERS

14 “Don’t let your inner-selves be disturbed. Have trust in the Preeminent Sovereign, and likewise, have trust in Me.”
2 “In the Live-Giver’s home, there’s plenty of space for everyone. I’m going ahead to prepare a place for you, so you’ll always be welcomed.”
3 “If I depart and arrange accommodations for you, I’ll return and bring you into My presence so you can reside in the same place.”
4 “You know the route that leads to My destination.”

§ 27370 IMMANUEL THE WAY TO THE LIFE-GIVER

5 “Sovereign Captain,” Thomas said, “We are unaware of Your destination; how can we figure out Your path?”
6 Immanuel replied, “I am the path, the reality, and the vitality. One can only approach the Life-Giver through Me.”
7 “Truly understanding Me equates to understanding My Life-Giver, too. From now forward, you are acquainted with and have witnessed Him.”
8 Philip requested, “Sovereign Captain, make us see the Life-Giver, and we will be content.”
9 Immanuel responded: “Philip, haven’t you recognized Me even though I’ve been with you extensively? Whoever has laid eyes on Me has also seen the Life-Giver. How could you now request, ‘Introduce us to the Life-Giver’?”
10 “Aren’t you convinced that I dwell in the Life-Giver and the Life-Giver resides in Me? The path I bring to you is not of My creation. It’s the Life-Giver persisting within Me who makes His manifestations happen.”
11 “Trust Me when I assert that the Life-Giver is in Me, and I am in the Life-Giver. If not, at least have trust in the marvels you’ve seen.”

12 “I assure you, anyone who trusts Me will perform the same actions I have, and they will achieve even more remarkable feats than these since I am on My way to the Life-Giver.”
13 “And I will fulfill all your requests in My name so that the Heir may exalt the Life-Giver.”
14 “I am committed to fulfilling your request under My Name.”

§ 27380 IMMANUEL PROMISES THE ETERNAL SPARK

15 Show your love for Me by following My directives.
16 “I will implore the Life-Giver, and He will provide you with another helper to assist you and remain with you for eternity.”
17 “The Eternal Spark that embodies ultimate authenticity is One the world is incapable of receiving, for it neither perceives nor recognizes Him. However, you are familiar with Him, as He resides with you and will exist within you.”
18 “I will never abandon you like parentless children; I will return to you.”
19 “The world will shortly no longer behold Me, but you will see Me. Since I live, you will live too.”
20 “You will understand on that particular day that I am united with my Life-Giver, and you are intertwined with Me, just as I am with you.”
21 “The individual who comprehends My path and adheres to this is the one who truly cherishes Me. The person who adores Me will receive the affection of my Life-Giver, and I, too, will reciprocate their passion and make My presence known to them.”
22 Judas (not Judas Iscariot) questioned, “Sovereign Captain, why do You plan to reveal Yourself to us but not everyone else?”
23 Immanuel responded, “Any individual who cherishes Me will keep My path. My Life-Giver will show His love for them, and We will visit them and establish our residence within them.”

24 “Those who don’t respect Me won’t follow my directives. The path you follow isn’t from Me but the path of the Life-Giver who dispatched Me.”
25 “I imparted all this to you while I was among you.”

[26] “The Counselor, known as the exalted Eternal Spark, whom the Life-Giver will dispatch in My Name, will instruct you in all matters and help you recollect every word I have spoken.”
[27] I give you my serenity and leave you with peace. I do not provide you with what the external world offers. Keep your inner-self calm, and don’t let fear control you.
[28] “You’ve heard My words, ‘I’m leaving but will return to you. ’ If you genuinely cared for me, you would rejoice in My departure to the Life-Giver, for the Life-Giver surpasses Me.”
[29] “I’ve informed you about this before its occurrence; you’ll maintain your trust when it does occur.”
[30] “My communication with you will soon be limited as the Adversary of this world approaches. He possesses no control over Me.”
[31] “However, this demonstrates that I deeply cherish the Life-Giver and precisely follow His instructions. It is time we should move on.”

§ 27390 THE LIFELINE AND THE CONNECTIONS

[15] I am the source of life, like the central grid of a city's infrastructure. My Father is the planner who ensures everything runs efficiently. Anything that doesn’t contribute to the flow is removed, while productive parts are improved for greater output. Stay connected to Me, and you will thrive and contribute to the city's flourishing.

[9] “Just as the Life-Giver has cherished Me, I have cherished you similarly. Preserve the constancy of My love.”
[10] “Seek and envelope my path to ensure you stay in My affection, which is identical to how My obedience to My Life-Giver’s directives has allowed Me to remain in His love.”

[11] “I have expressed these sentiments intending that My delight may reside within you and your happiness may be wholly fulfilled.”
[12] “My directive to you is this: Cherish each other in the same way I have cherished you.”
[13] “There is no stronger love than giving one’s life for one’s companions.”
[14] “You qualify as My friend when you follow My directives.”
[15] “You are no longer referred to as coworkers since a coworker isn’t privileged to the mentor’s dealings. You have now been designated as friends since all knowledge I received from My Life-Giver has been shared with you.”
[16] “You didn’t select Me. Instead, I elected you and tasked you with producing enduring inner fruit that perseveres; hence, whatever you petition for in My Name, the Life-Giver will grant you.”
[17] “Here is what I instruct you to do: Have affection for each other.”

§ 27400 THE WORLD HATES HIS PATHSEEKERS

[18] “If the world hates you, remember it hated Me first.
[19] The world would embrace you if you belonged to it, but you do not; I have chosen you out of it, so the world despises you.”
[20] “Recall the lesson: ‘A worker isn’t superior to their employer. ’ If they mistreated Me, they will mistreat you too. If they followed My instructions, they would follow yours as well.
[21] You will face this because of My association, as they do not know the One who sent Me.”
[22] “Had I not come and spoken to them, they wouldn’t be guilty of unworthy choices; now they have no excuse for their transgressions.

23 Anyone who despises Me also despises My Life-Giver.
24 Had I not performed deeds among them that no one else has, they wouldn't be guilty of unworthy choices. But they have seen these deeds and still hate Me and My Life-Giver.
25 This fulfills their Law: 'They hated Me without cause. '"

§ 27410 THE WORK OF THE ETERNAL SPARK

26 When the Helper arrives, whom I shall dispatch to you from the Life-Giver—the Eternal Spark of ultimate authenticity—that emanates from the Life-Giver, He will attest regarding Me.
27 You must affirm the same attestation, as you've accompanied Me since the inception of My path.

16 I have imparted these words to prevent you from losing your trust.
2 You will be expelled from the places of joyful adoration; indeed, a moment will occur when the one who murders you will believe that they are performing a celestial duty.
3 They will take such actions since they lack knowledge of the Life-Giver and Me.

4 I've conveyed this information to you so that when the occurrences transpire, you will recall that I cautioned you about them. I didn't mention this earlier because I was in your company.
5 I am now on My way to the One who dispatched Me, yet not one of you inquires, 'To where are You heading?'
6 My Path has sorrowfully overwhelmed your inner-selves.
7 I assure you sincerely that it's in your best interest that I depart. If I do not leave, the Helper will not come to assist you; yet, if I do go, I commit to send Him to you.
8 On His arrival, He will demonstrate how the world misinterprets unworthy choices, right relationships, and judgment.
9 The world lacks trust in Me regarding their unworthy choices.
10 The world lacks trust in Me concerning integrity, as I am heading towards the Life-Giver, and you will no longer be able to see me.
11 The world lacks trust in Me regarding the verdict: the Chief Instigator of this earthly realm has already been declared guilty.
12 There is so much more I wish to convey to you, but it is too overwhelming for you now.
13 The Eternal Spark will lead you into ultimate authenticity when He arrives. He won't utter His own words but will relay what He has heard, revealing what will transpire.
14 He will honor Me, acquire from what belongs to Me, and communicate it to you.
15 Everything the Life-Giver possesses is also Mine. This certainty is why I told you that the Eternal Spark will draw from what I have and disclose it to you.

§ 27420 THE PATHSEEKERS' GRIEF WILL TURN TO DELIGHT!

16 Immanuel continued, "Soon, you won't see me, but shortly after, you will witness me again."

17 Some pathseekers asked, "What does He mean by, 'Soon you won't behold Me, and shortly after you will, ' and 'It's because I am proceeding to my Life-Giver'?"
18 They were puzzled by His words.

19 Immanuel, aware of their confusion, addressed them, “Are you questioning what I meant by, ‘Shortly you won’t observe me. Then again, after a while, you will?’”
20 “You will cry sorrowfully while the world celebrates. Your sadness will soon transform into delight.”
21 “A mother endures discomfort in labor, but once the infant is delivered, she rejoices over the new life.”
22 “Currently, sorrow surrounds you. However, I will reencounter you; your inner-selves will rejoice, and your jubilation will be untouchable by all.”
23 “You won’t need to question Me that day. Anything you request from the Life-Giver using My Name, He will provide for you.”
24 “You’ve sought nothing in My Name. Request and you shall obtain, so your happiness will become whole.”
25 “While I’ve been communicating through metaphors till now, an era will soon arrive when I cease using such figures of speech and inform you candidly about my Life-Giver.”
26 “When that time comes, in My Name, you will make requests directly; I will not need to intercede with the Life-Giver for you.”
27 “Because you embraced Me and accepted that I am an incarnation of the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver Himself personally loves you.”
28 “I originated from the Life-Giver and made My way into the world; presently, I am departing and returning to the Life-Giver.”
29 Immanuel’s pathseekers said, “You now communicate plainly, without metaphorical language.
30 Now it’s evident that we are aware of everything, and there’s no need for anyone to pose questions to You. This assurance convinces us of Your celestial origin.”

31 “So, you finally trust Me!” exclaimed Immanuel.
32 “The hour is approaching. Indeed, it has arrived when you all will go your separate ways, each returning to your home. You will desert Me, and I will be left in solitude. However, I am not alone since my Life-Giver is beside Me.”
33 “I’ve shared these authenticities with you so you may find tranquility through Me. In life, you’ll encounter obstacles; however, remain brave! I’ve triumphed over all worldly challenges.”

§ 27430 IMMANUEL MELDS HIS CONSCIOUS WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY TO BE ELEVAT

17 Looking towards the celestial realms, Immanuel melded His conscience with the Eternal Reality: “Life-Giver, the time is now. Elevate your Heir so that your Heir can elevate You.
2 You have given Him power over all humankind, enabling Him to confer eternal life on everyone You have entrusted to Him.
3 Recognizing You as the sole authentic Eternal Reality and understanding the Chosen Redeemer as the One You dispatched encompasses the essence of Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
4 I have honored You by accomplishing the task You assigned Me.
5 Now, Life-Giver, magnify My honor in Your presence with the same honor I possessed with You before the Inception of the world.”

§ 27440 IMMANUEL MELDS HIS CONSCIOUS WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY FOR HIS PATH

6 "To those You have given Me from this planet, I have disclosed Your Name. You gave them to Me; they were Yours, yet they have remained authentic to Your promises."
7 By Your ultimate authenticity, purify them because the Living Path of the Preeminent Sovereign is authentic.

8 "I shared Your teachings, and they embraced them. They know that I originated from You and are convinced that You were the One who dispatched Me."
9 "My intervention is not for the world but for those You have given to Me, for they belong to You."
10 "Everything I possess is Yours, and what You own is Mine. They have brought honor to Me."
11 "No longer will I exist in the world, yet they remain while I approach You. Exalted Life-Giver, guard them using the strength of Your Name, the Name You entrusted to Me, so they may achieve unity, precisely as We are unified."
12 "While with them, I safeguarded and ensured their safety through the Name You gave Me. Not one has perished except the 'one of destruction' to realize the vision of the Living Path."
13 "I am present enroute to You. However, I articulate these sentiments while I am yet in the world, intending that they may experience the full capacity of My delight within them."
14 "I've conveyed to them Your directives, and the world despised them. My pathseekers do not belong to the world any more than I am a product of the corrupt world order."
15 "I am not requesting You to remove them from the world; instead, make sure they are safe from harm by the Adversary."
16 "They don't belong to this world, just as I don't."
17 "Make them pure and exalted by teaching them Your living words of ultimate authenticity."
18 "I have sent them into the world just like You dispatched Me into the world."
19 "I set Myself apart for their benefit so they can be genuinely exalted."

§ 27450 IMMANUEL MELDS HIS CONSCIOUS WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY FOR ALL PATH

20 "My intercession isn't solely for these individuals right now; I also appeal to those who will trust me in the future due to their teachings."
21 "I desire that they all achieve unity, just as You are within Me, and I am within You. Let them also be united with Us so the world might recognize that You have dispatched Me."
22 "I've passed on the honor You gave me to them, aiming to unify them just like We are unified."
23 "I dwell within them, as You dwell within Me—aiming to accomplish absolute unity. Consequently, the planet will comprehend that You are My sender, and You cherish My New Humanity just as You loved Me."
24 "Life-Giver, I desire that those given to me remain in My presence wherever I am. I want them to witness My splendor, which You awarded Me due to Your love for Me before the world's existence."

25 “My Life-Giver, full of integrity: although the world fails to recognize You, I am aware of You, and these people comprehend that You dispatched Me.”
26 “I’ve disclosed Your essential nature to them, and I will persist in disclosing so that the same affection that dwells within Me can also reside in their inner-selves.”

§ 27460 IMMANUEL ARRESTED

18 “After melding His consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, Immanuel and His pathseekers crossed the Kidron ravine to a garden where they often gathered.”
2 “Judas, His betrayer, knew this place well.”
3 “Judas arrived with soldiers and representatives from the high priest and Tradition Keepers, armed with torches, lanterns, and weapons.”
4 “Aware of what was to come, Immanuel stepped forward and asked, ‘Whom are you looking for?’”

5 “They answered, ‘Immanuel from Nazareth. ’ Immanuel said, ‘I am He. ’ Judas stood with them.”
6 “When Immanuel declared, ‘I am He, ’ they recoiled and fell to the ground.”
7 “He asked again, ‘Whom are you seeking?’ They replied, ‘Immanuel from Nazareth. ’”
8 “Immanuel responded, ‘I have told you that I am He. If you seek Me, let these others go. ’”
9 “This fulfilled His words: ‘I did not lose any of those You entrusted to Me. ’”
10 “Simon Peter, armed with a tactical blade, struck the high priest’s coworker, cutting off his right ear. The coworker’s name was Malchus.”
11 “Immanuel commanded Peter, ‘Put your weapon away. Shouldn’t I face the mission that my Father has entrusted to me?’”

§ 27470 IMMANUEL TAKEN TO ANNAS

12 “The soldiers, their commander, and the Judean authorities arrested Immanuel and bound Him.”
13 “They first took Him to Annas, father-in-law of Caiaphas, the chief priest that year.”
14 “Caiaphas had advised the Judean leaders that it was better for one man to die for the people.”

§ 27480 PETER’S FIRST DENIAL

15 Simon Peter, along with another of Immanuel’s pathseekers, followed Immanuel. Since this pathseeker knew the high priest, he entered the high priest’s courtyard with Immanuel.
16 Peter waited at the entrance. The other pathseeker, familiar with the high priest, spoke to the assistant at the door and brought Peter in.

17 The assistant asked Peter, “Aren’t you one of this man’s pathseekers?” He replied, “I’m not.”
18 The administrators and officials gathered around a fire due to the cold. Peter was among them, trying to warm himself.

§ 27490 THE HIGH PRIEST QUESTIONS IMMANUEL

19 The chief priest interrogated Immanuel about His pathseekers and directives.
20 Immanuel replied, “I made no secret of My message. I always taught in the communal place or the fortress area, where Israelites gather. I said nothing covertly.”
21 “Why question Me? Ask those who heard Me. They know what I said.”
22 An officer nearby struck Him, asking, “Is that how You answer the chief priest?”
23 Immanuel responded, “If I spoke wrongly, show the error. But if I spoke authentically, why strike Me?”
24 Annas then sent Him, still restrained, to the high priest Caiaphas.

§ 27500 PETER’S SECOND AND THIRD DENIALS

25 As Simon Peter warmed himself, he was asked, “Are you also a pathseeker of Him?” He denied it, saying, “I am not.”
26 A high priest’s coworker, related to the man whose ear Peter severed, questioned him, “Didn’t I see you with Him in the orchard?”
27 Peter denied it again, and immediately, a rooster crowed.

§ 27510 IMMANUEL BEFORE PILATE

28 At dawn, the Judean authorities brought Immanuel from Caiaphas to the Roman governor’s mansion. They did not enter to avoid impurity, ensuring they could partake in the Emancipation Feast.
29 Pilate asked, “What allegation do you claim against this gentleman?”
30 They replied, “Had this man not committed crimes, we wouldn’t have surrendered Him to you.”
31 Pilate retorted, “So, put Him on trial and pass judgment under your directives.” They countered that they lacked the authority to impose a death sentence.
32 This fulfilled Immanuel’s words about His death.
33 Pilate returned inside, summoned Immanuel, and asked, “Do You claim to be the Prime Ruler of the Israelites?”
34 Immanuel inquired, “Did you conceive that concept, or have others informed you about Me?”
35 Pilate retorted, “Do I resemble a Judean? Your compatriots and leading priests surrendered You to me. What misdeed have You committed?”
36 Immanuel clarified, “My reign does not originate from this earthly realm. If it did, My pathseekers would fight to keep Me from being handed over to the Judean authorities. However, My rule is not rooted in this world.”
37 “So, You claim to be a Prime Ruler!” Pilate stated. Immanuel responded, “Indeed, your words confirm My Sovereignty. The primary purpose of My birth and coming into this universe is to testify to the ultimate authenticity. Every individual who aligns with ultimate authenticity heeds My path.”
38 “What constitutes authenticity?” Pilate responded dismissively. Pilate then told the assembled Israelites he found no reason to accuse Him.
39 “It is my tradition to free a prisoner for you during Emancipation. Would you like me to set the Prime Ruler of the Israelites free?”

40 They loudly responded, “No, not this one! We demand Barabbas!” (Barabbas was engaged in a rebellion.)

§ 27520 IMMANUEL SENTENCED TO BE NAILED ON AN EXECUTION STAKE

19 Pilate ordered Immanuel to be scourged.
2 Soldiers wove a thorny wreath and placed it on His head, dressing Him in a purple garment.
3 They repeatedly approached Him, saying, “Salutations, Prime Ruler of the Israelites!” and struck His face.
4 Pilate addressed the Israelites, stating, “I present Him to you, finding no crime against Him.”
5 As Immanuel appeared with the thorny wreath and purple garment, Pilate declared, “Pay heed, the man!”
6 The high priest and officers shouted, “Nail Him to the execution stake!” Pilate replied, “You execute Him; I find no justification.”
7 They insisted, “He must die for claiming to be the Eternal Reality’s offspring.”
8 Pilate grew more fearful.
9 He returned inside and asked Immanuel about His origins, but Immanuel remained silent.
10 Pilate questioned, “Won’t You speak? Don’t You know I have the authority to free or execute You?”
11 Immanuel answered, “You have no power over Me unless granted from above. The one who handed Me over bears a greater offense.”
12 Pilate sought to release Him, but the Judean elders cried, “Releasing Him betrays Caesar. Anyone claiming to be a Prime Ruler opposes Caesar.”
13 Pilate brought Immanuel outside and sat on the judicial seat called the Stone Pavement, or Gabbatha in Aramaic.
14 It was the preparation day for the Emancipation Feast, around midday. Pilate announced, “Pay heed, your Prime Ruler!”

15 They shouted, “Get rid of Him! Execute Him!” Pilate asked, “Shall I execute your Prime Ruler?” The high priest replied, “Our sole ruler is Caesar!”
16 Finally, Pilate handed Him over to be nailed to an execution stake. The soldiers took charge of Immanuel.

§ 27530 IMMANUEL NAILED TO AN EXECUTION STAKE

17 Bearing His execution stake, He advanced to Execution Hill, the Place of the Skull.
18 There, they executed Him, positioning two others beside Him, with Immanuel in the center.
19 Pilate arranged a sign reading: “IMMANUEL FROM NAZARETH, THE PRIME RULER OF THE ISRAELITES.”
20 Many Judeans read it, as it was near the city and written in Aramaic, Latin, and Greek.
21 The leading Judean priests objected, wanting it to say, “THIS MAN ASSERTED HE WAS THE PRIME RULER OF THE ISRAELITES.”
22 Pilate replied, “What I have dictated remains unchanged.”

[23] As Immanuel was executed, soldiers divided His garments into four parts, leaving the seamless undergarment intact.
[24] They cast lots for it, fulfilling the eternal wisdom: “They split my clothes and cast lots for my undergarment.”
[25] Near Immanuel’s execution stake stood His mother, her sister, Mary (wife of Cleopas), and Mary Magdalene.
[26] Seeing His mother and an esteemed pathseeker, Immanuel said, “Woman, behold your son.”
[27] To the pathseeker, He said, “Pay Heed! this is your mother.” From then on, the pathseeker sheltered her in his home.

§ 27540 THE DEATH OF IMMANUEL

[28] Recognizing all tasks were complete, Immanuel said, “I need some water” to fulfill the Living Path.
[29] A vessel of tart wine was present. The executioners soaked a sponge, attached it to a hyssop stem, and raised it to Immanuel’s mouth.
[30] After drinking, Immanuel proclaimed, “It is accomplished.” He then lowered His head and gave up His life essence.
[31] Since it was the eve of the Preparation for the Day of Rest, the Judean leaders, not wanting the bodies to remain on the execution stakes the next day, asked Pilate to expedite their death by breaking their legs and removing the bodies.
[32] The soldiers broke the legs of the first man nailed to the execution stake with Immanuel, then the other.
[33] Reaching Immanuel and seeing He was already deceased, they did not break His legs.
[34] A soldier pierced Immanuel's side, and a rush of vital energy—symbolized by blood and water—poured out, signifying his gift of life to enable the birth of the New Humanity.
[35] This testifier has delivered a trustworthy account and is confident in his statements to inspire trust in you.
[36] These events fulfilled the ancient vision of the Living Word: “None of His bones shall be shattered.”
[37] Another passage reads, “They will gaze on the One they have thrust through.”

§ 27550 THE BURIAL OF IMMANUEL

[38] Subsequently, Joseph of Arimathea, a pathseeker of Immanuel who kept his trust a secret out of fear for the Judeans, requested permission from Pilate to take Immanuel’s body. He came and took His body after Pilate permitted him.

[39] Nicodemus, who previously encountered Immanuel during the evening, was also present. He brought a concoction of myrrh and aloes, weighing approximately 34 kilos.
[40] According to Judean traditions for interment, the pair took Immanuel’s body and encased it in linen strips, incorporating spices.
[41] In the vicinity where Immanuel met His end on the execution stake, a garden was present, encompassing a never-before-used tomb.
[42] Given that it was the day of Preparation for the Israelites and the tomb’s proximity, they placed Immanuel in it.

§ 27560 THE EMPTY TOMB

20 In the early hours of the first day of the week, while darkness still blanketed the land, Mary Magdalene made her way to the tomb and discovered that the stone sealing the entrance had been displaced.
2 Hastily, she approached Simon Peter and another pathseeker that Immanuel adored. She exclaimed: “They have removed the Sovereign Captain from His tomb, and we’re unsure of His whereabouts!”
3 Peter and the other pathseeker took off toward the burial place.
4 They were both running, yet the other pathseeker raced ahead of Peter, arriving at the tomb in the lead.
5 He leaned in and noticed the linen strips inside, yet chose not to enter.
6 Simon Peter, trailing him, finally arrived. He blasted past his compatriot and rushed into the tomb. He saw the linen cloths there lying idle.
7 The fabric enshrouded around Immanuel’s head remained original, distinct from the other linen.
8 The other pathseeker, who had arrived before, also ventured in. He also observed and was convinced.
9 They hadn’t yet grasped the Living Path’s vision that Immanuel was required to resurrect from the dead.

10 The pathseekers then returned to their own homes.

§ 27570 IMMANUEL APPEARS TO MARY MAGDALENE

11 Mary stood outside the tomb, weeping. As she wept, she bent down to look into the grave.
12 She saw two Celestial Envoys in white, seated where Immanuel’s body had been, one at the head and the other at the feet.
13 They asked her, “Lady, why do you sob?” She replied, “They’ve relocated My Sovereign Captain, and I don’t know where.”
14 Turning around, she saw Immanuel standing but didn’t recognize Him.
15 In the quiet of the park, she mistook Him for the gardener tending the flowerbeds. But it was Immanuel, the one bringing new life and hope to the world.
16 Immanuel then said, “Mary.” She turned and exclaimed in Aramaic, “Rabboni!” (meaning “Teacher”).
17 Immanuel added, “Don’t cling to Me; I have not yet risen to the Life-Giver. Go to My people of the New Humanity and tell them, ‘I am ascending to My Preeminent Sovereign and your Preeminent Sovereign, to My Life-Giver and your Life-Giver. ’”
18 Mary of Magdala went to the pathseekers and announced, “I’ve seen the Sovereign Captain!” She told them everything He had said to her.

§ 27580 IMMANUEL APPEARS TO HIS PATHSEEKERS

19 On that evening, marking the start of the week, the pathseekers gathered, securing their doors out of fear of Judean authorities. Immanuel arrived, stood among them, and greeted them with peace.
20 He showed them his hands and side, filling the pathseekers with immense delight at the sight of the Sovereign Captain.

21 Immanuel reiterated, “May tranquility accompany you! I am delegating you just as the Life-Giver has dispatched me.”
22 He exhaled on them, saying, “Accept the Eternal Spark.”
23 “When you absolve anyone of their wrongdoings, they are pardoned; if you choose not to forgive them, they remain unforgiven.”

§ 27590 IMMANUEL APPEARS TO THOMAS

24 When Immanuel arrived, Thomas (known as Didymus, one of the Twelve) was absent among the pathseekers.
25 The other pathseekers told him they had seen the Sovereign Captain. Thomas replied, “Unless I check the imprints of the nails in His hands, touch the marks with my finger, and fit my hand into His side, I won’t have conviction.” 26 Seven days later, His pathseekers were gathered again, with Thomas present. Despite the sealed doors, Immanuel appeared and greeted them with tranquility.
27 He instructed Thomas, “Place your finger here, observe My hands, raise your hand, and insert it into My side.” He urged him to abandon skepticism and embrace trust.
28 Emotionally, Thomas proclaimed, “You are the authentic One, the Preeminent Sovereign and Sovereign Captain of my life!”
29 Immanuel told him, “Your trust has stemmed from witnessing Me; those who trust without seeing are indeed fortunate.”

§ 27600 THE PURPOSE OF JOHN’S JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

30 Immanuel performed many other marvelous acts witnessed by His pathseekers, which are not recorded in this book.
31 These accounts are documented so you can trust that Immanuel is the Ensovereigned One, the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign, and through this trust, access eternal life in His Name.

§ 27610 IMMANUEL AND THE MARVELOUS CATCH OF FISH

21 Immanuel appeared again to His pathseekers by the Sea of Galilee. Here's how it happened.
2 Simon Peter, Thomas (Didymus), Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, Zebedee's sons, and two other pathseekers were together.
3 Simon Peter said, "I'm going fishing." They replied, "We'll go with you." They went out and got into the boat but caught nothing all night.
4 Immanuel stood on the shore at dawn, but they didn't recognize Him.
5 He called, "Children, have you any fish?" They answered, "No."
6 He instructed, "Cast your net on the boat's port side, and you will find some," the man said. They did so and couldn't haul the net in because of the large number of fish.
7 The pathseeker loved by Immanuel told Peter, "It's the Sovereign Captain!" Knowing it was the Sovereign Captain, Peter dove into the sea after donning his outermost garment.
8 About a hundred yards off the coast, the other pathseekers followed in the boat, pulling the net full of fish.
9 When they landed, they saw a fire of burning coals with fish on the grill and some bread.
10 Immanuel said, "Bring some of the fish you just caught."
11 Simon Peter climbed back into the boat and dragged the net ashore. It was full of large fish, 153 in total, yet the net was not torn.
12 Immanuel invited them to have breakfast. None of the pathseekers dared ask Him, "Who are You?" They knew it was the Sovereign Captain.
13 Immanuel took the bread, gave it to them, and did the same with the fish.

14 This was the third time Immanuel appeared to His pathseekers after His return from death.

§ 27620 IMMANUEL REINSTATES PETER

15 After their meal, Immanuel asked Simon Peter: "Simon, Heir of John, do you love Me more than these?" "Indeed, Sovereign Captain," he replied, "You know I cherish You." Immanuel instructed, "Nurture My people."

16 Immanuel asked again, "Simon, child of John, do you love Me deeply?" He affirmed, "Sovereign Captain, You know my affection for You is profound." Immanuel commanded, "Look after My protected community."

17 For the third time, He asked Simon, John's Heir, "Do you truly love Me?" Peter was distressed by the repeated question and responded, "Sovereign Captain, You know everything. You know I hold great affection for You." Immanuel replied, "Protect My New Humanity."

18 "In all honesty, I assure you that when you were younger, you wore what you wanted and went wherever you pleased, but when you get older, you will reach out your arms, and someone else will dress and take you somewhere you would prefer not to go."
19 Immanuel said this to indicate the kind of death by which Peter would glorify the Preeminent Sovereign. Then He said to him, "Follow My path."

20 Peter turned and saw the pathseeker loved by Immanuel following them. This was the pathseeker who had leaned against Immanuel at the meal and asked, “Sovereign Captain, who is going to betray You?”
21 Peter asked, “Sovereign Captain, what about him?”
22 Immanuel replied, “If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you? You must follow Me.”

23 Because of this, a rumor spread among the loyal that this pathseeker would not die. But Immanuel did not say he would not die; He only said, “If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you?”

24 This is the pathseeker who testifies to these things and who wrote them down. We know that his testimony is reliable.
25 Immanuel did many other things as well. If everyone of them were written down, even the whole world would not have room for the books that would be written.

§ 27630 IMMANUEL TAKEN UP INTO THE CELESTIAL REALM

1 Theophilus, in my initial compilation, documented everything that Immanuel initiated in actions and instructions.
2 Until he ascended to the celestial realms, he guided his selected emissaries through the Eternal Spark's teachings.
3 Following his ordeal, Immanuel manifested himself to them, offering numerous undeniable evidences of his existence. They saw him for forty days, during which he conversed about the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
4 During a meal with them, he directed them to abstain from leaving Yerushalayim and instead anticipate the empowerment my Life-Giver assured, about which you have heard me discuss.

5 "John, the eternally wise servant, immersed using water. But you will be bathed in the Eternal Spark and share in My death and rebirth."

6 The assembled individuals questioned him, asking, "Sovereign Captain, will you now reinstate the sovereignty of Israel?"
7 Immanuel responded, "It is not within their purview to comprehend the periods or moments that the Life-Giver has determined by His sovereignty."
8 "You will be endowed with strength when the exalted Eternal Spark descends on you, and you'll serve as my testimonies in Yerushalayim, throughout Judea and Samaria, and even to the world's remotest regions."
9 Following his words, he ascended in their presence, and a cloud obstructed their view of him.
10 As they gazed steadfastly into the celestial realms during his departure, two individuals clad in white garments appeared beside them.
11 "Galileans, why are you gazing up into the celestial realms? Immanuel, who ascended from you to the celestial realm, will reappear just as you witnessed his Celestial departure."

§ 27640 MATTHIAS CHOSEN TO REPLACE JUDAS

12 The pathseekers returned to Yerushalayim from the Mount of Olives, a permissible distance for travel on the Day of Rest.
13 Upon arrival, they went to the chamber they occupied. Present were Peter, John, James, Andrew, Philip, Thomas, Bartholomew, Matthew; James, son of Alphaeus; Simon, the Extremist; and Judas, son of James.
14 They all dedicated themselves to unceasing melding with the Preeminent Sovereign and the women, Mary, Immanuel's mother, and his siblings.
15 Peter then stood among the loyal gathering of about one hundred and twenty.
16 "The Eternal Spark had to fulfill the vision it spoke through David about Judas." Judas led those who seized Immanuel."
17 "He was counted among us and shared in this mission."

18 “Judas used his ill-gotten gains to buy land; there he fell, his body rupturing and spilling his internal organs.”

19 This became known to all in Yerushalayim, and they called the place Akeldama, meaning Field of Blood.
20 Peter noted, “Proclamations state, ‘May his place be deserted; let no one dwell there, ’ and ‘May another take his position. ’”
21 “We must choose someone who was with us throughout the Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain’s time with us.”
22 “From John’s immersion until Immanuel ascended, one must be chosen to testify His return from death.”
23 They proposed Joseph (Barsabbas or Justus) and Matthias.
24 They pled, “Preeminent Sovereign, you know everyone’s inner determination. Show us which of these two you have chosen.”
25 “To take over this emissarial attentiveness, which Judas left to go where he belongs.”
26 They cast lots, and Matthias was chosen; he joined the eleven emissaries.

§ 27650 THE ETERNAL SPARK COMES AT THE HARVEST FESTIVAL

2 On the day of the Harvest Festival, they gathered in one place.
2 Suddenly, a powerful wind from the sky filled the entire house where they were.
3-4 What appeared to be flickering beams of radiant energy settled on each person, filling them with the Eternal Spark. Suddenly, they found themselves speaking in new languages, empowered to communicate across every boundary.

5 Devout Israelites from all over the world were in Yerushalayim.
6 Hearing the noise, a crowd gathered, each person understanding their native language.
7 They were amazed, asking, “Aren’t all these speakers Galileans?”

8 “How do we hear them in our native language?”
9 Among us are people from Parthia, Media, Elam, Mesopotamia, Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, and Asia.
10 Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, Libya near Cyrene, and visitors from Rome.
11 Both Judeans and converts to Judaism; people from Crete and Arabia—we hear them declaring the astounding acts of the Preeminent Sovereign in our languages!
12 Stunned and confused, they asked, “What does this mean?”
13 Some mocked, saying they had too much wine.

§ 27660 PETER ADDRESSES THE CROWD

14 Peter stood among the Eleven, raised his voice, and addressed the crowd: “Respected Israelites and everyone residing in Yerushalayim, let me clarify this to you: pay close attention to My Path.”

15 “Contrary to your assumption, these individuals aren’t intoxicated. Remember, it’s merely the third hour of the day.”

16 “Rather, this is what the eternally wise servant Joel referred to.”

17 “Per the Preeminent Sovereign’s words, He will distribute His Eternal Spark among all humanity during the Earth’s final days. Your male and female offspring will deliver visionary messages, the youth will experience celestial visions, and the elders will have visionary dreams.”

18 “In those times, I shall grant my Eternal Spark on my male and female coworkers, enabling them to predict the future.”

19 “Marvelous works will appear in the sky above and signs on the ground beneath, accompanied by blood, fire, and clouds of smoke.”

20 “In preparation for the fantastic and breathtaking day of the Sovereign Captain’s arrival, the sun will become obscurity, and the moon will turn scarlet.”

21 “everyone who invokes the Sovereign Captain’s Name shall attain redemption.”

22 “Men of Israel, heed these words: Immanuel from Nazareth was a man whom the Preeminent Sovereign attested to you with marvelous works, wonders, and signs. He performed in your midst through him, as you know.”

23 “According to the Preeminent Sovereign’s intentional arrangement and foreknowledge, this individual was turned over to you. With the assistance of malevolent individuals, you terminated his life by affixing him to the execution stake.”

24 “The Preeminent Sovereign brought him back to life, liberating him from death’s dreadful grip, seeing as it was unfeasible for death to maintain its control over him.”

25 “David said, ‘I perpetually envisioned the Sovereign Captain in my presence. Given he is beside me on my right, I won’t experience instability. ’”

26 “Consequently, my inner-self finds delight, and My Path echoes delightfully; even my physical form will repose in optimism.”

27 “As you will not desert me in the place of death, your set-apart one will not experience corruption.”

28 “You have disclosed the ways of life; I will be joyful when I see your face.”

29 “Dear fellow descendants of Israel, I can assert without a doubt that our patriarch, David, passed away, his remains were interred, and his grave remains among us to the current day.”

30 “As an eternally wise servant, he knew that the Preeminent Sovereign had promised him through a solemn pledge that a successor from his family would occupy his authority base.”

31 “David foresaw what would transpire and referenced the return from the death of the Chosen Redeemer, emphasizing that he was not deserted in the afterlife and his flesh didn’t undergo decay.”

32 “This Immanuel, the Preeminent Sovereign, brought back to existence, a fact we can all attest to.”

33 “Elevated to a position of honor beside the Preeminent Sovereign, he has been given the pledged Eternal Spark from the Life-Giver and has given what you are currently witnessing and listening to.”

34 “David did not rise to the celestial realms, yet he proclaimed, ‘The Sovereign Captain told My Sovereign Captain: Take a seat at my right side. ’”

35 “‘Until I put your foes under your feet as a stool. ’”

36 Let every person in Israel understand beyond doubt the Immanuel you executed has been declared both Sovereign Captain and Redeemer by the Preeminent Sovereign.

37 On hearing this, the crowd was profoundly affected. They questioned Peter and the remaining emissaries, saying, “Brethren, what is our next course of action?”

38 Peter responded, “Alter your ways and immerse yourselves in water—to bathe in the Eternal Spark and share in the death and rebirth of the Chosen Redeemer. You will be absolved of your wrongdoings, and the Eternal Spark will inhabit you.”

39 “This assurance is for you, your offspring, and those distant encompassing everyone our Sovereign Captain decides to invite.”

40 He cautioned them using numerous other statements and urged them, “Rescue yourselves from this depraved era.”

41 Those embracers of His path bathed themselves in the Eternal Spark and shared in Immanuel’s death and rebirth. Approximately three thousand inner-selves were incorporated into their community on that day.

§ 27670 THE PARTNERSHIP OF THE PATHSEEKERS

42 They consistently and trustfully devoted themselves to the emissaries’ teachings, communal life, shared meals, and melding their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
43 A profound reverence overcame all as numerous marvelous works and signs manifested through the emissaries.
44 Those who trusted the Chosen Redeemer were united and shared all possessions.
45 They sold their assets and belongings, distributing the proceeds to needy people.
46 Daily, they united at the fortress area, shared meals in each other’s homes, and their inner-selves brimmed with delight and ultimate authenticity.
47 They expressed gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign and received the people’s appreciation. Every day, the Sovereign Captain added those being rescued to their tally.

§ 27680 PETER HEALS A LAME BEGGAR

3 One afternoon, Peter and John went to the fortress for their customary melding of conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign at three post meridian.

[2] A man, lame from birth, was daily brought to the Beautiful gate to beg for charity.
[3] Seeing Peter and John about to enter, he asked them for money.
[4] Peter, with John, looked intently at him and said, “Look at us!”
[5] The man gave them his attention, expecting something.
[6] Peter said, “I have no silver or gold, but what I have, I give you. In the name of the Chosen Redeemer from Nazareth, walk.”
[7] He took the man’s hand and helped him up; immediately, his feet and ankles were strengthened.

[8] He jumped up, stood, and began to walk. He entered the fortress courts with them, walking, leaping for delight, and praising the Preeminent Sovereign.
[9] everyone saw him walking and praising the Eternal Reality.
[10] They were amazed and shocked at what had happened to him, realizing that he was the same man who had formerly been begging at the Beautiful gate.

§ 27690 PETER SPEAKS TO THE ONLOOKERS

[11] As the man clung to Peter and John, the entire crowd, utterly astounded, rushed towards them in the area known as Solomon’s Porch.
[12] On observing this, Peter asked them: “Brothers of Israel, why are you astonished? Why do you fix your gaze on us as if we, through our strength or purity, enabled this man to walk?”
[13] “Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob joyfully adore the Eternal Reality, the Preeminent Sovereign of our ancestors, who has honored his coworker Immanuel. You betrayed him, leading to his death, and you rejected him in the presence of Pilate, even when Pilate had decided to set him free.”
[14] “You rejected the pure and blameless one, instead demanding the liberation of a killer.”
[15] “You eradicated the originator of existence, yet the Preeminent Sovereign returned Him from death to life. We stand as testifiers to this occurrence.”
[16] “This individual you witness and recognize has been made robust through trust in Immanuel’s name. Their trust in him via his name has brought about a complete recovery, as is evident to everyone.”
[17] “Now, my fellow Israelites, I understand you were unaware of the implications of your actions, just as your authorities were.”
[18] “The Preeminent Sovereign has accomplished what He promised through all the Eternally Wise Servants, namely, that His Redeemer would go through ultimate justice of hell.”

[19] “Change your ways, redirect your life towards the Preeminent Sovereign to remove your unworthy choices, and welcome periods of revitalization from the Sovereign Captain.”
[20] “He might dispatch Immanuel, who was preordained to be the Chosen Redeemer for you.”
[21] “He must remain in the celestial realm until the period for the universal restoration arrives, which the Preeminent Sovereign declared ages past through his exalted eternally wise servants.”
[22] “Moses articulated, ‘The Sovereign Captain, your Eternal Reality, will bring forth an eternally wise servant just like me from your community; you need to heed every word he utters. ’”
[23] “Every individual who fails to heed his words will be utterly expelled from their community.”
[24] “Truly, starting with Samuel, all the seers who have uttered visions predicted these days.”
[25] “You are the descendants of the eternally wise servants and of the pact that Preeminent Sovereign established with your forebears. He declared to Abraham, ‘Through your family, all communities on Earth will receive empowerment. ’”

26 “On reviving His coworker, the Preeminent Sovereign dispatched him primarily to you to grant empowerment by inspiring you to deviate from your evil paths.”

§ 27700 PETER AND JOHN BEFORE THE HIGHEST COUNCIL

4 As Peter and John spoke to the crowd, religious leaders, the fortress guard’s chief, and the Afterlife Denialists confronted them.
2 The emissaries’ teachings about the return from death through Immanuel greatly disturbed them.
3 Peter and John were arrested and, due to the late hour, held until the next day.
4 Many who heard the proclamation believed, increasing the number of male pathseekers to about five thousand.

5 The next day, authorities, seniors, and Mosaic Law instructors gathered in Yerushalayim.
6 Annas, the chief priest, was present with Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and other high priest family members.
7 Peter and John were brought before them and asked, “Under whose authority or in whose name have you acted?”

8-9 Filled with the Eternal Spark, Peter responded: “Leaders and seniors! If we are being questioned about a good deed done for a disabled man and how he was healed.”
10 “Know this, all of you and all Israel: This man stands healthy because of the name of the Chosen Redeemer of Nazareth. You nailed Him on an execution stake, but the Preeminent Sovereign raised him.”
11 “Immanuel is like the foundation block you overlooked, but He’s now the essential piece that holds the whole structure together.”

12 “There is no other way to achieve redemption; no other name under the celestial realms can save us.”

13 Seeing Peter and John’s confidence, they realized they were uneducated, ordinary men and were astonished as they recognized them as pathseekers of Immanuel.
14 With the healed man standing there, they had no rebuttal.
15 They ordered them to leave the Sanhedrin and conferred among themselves.
16 “What should we do with these men?” they asked. “everyone in Yerushalayim knows they performed a notable marvelous work we cannot deny.”
17 “To stop this from spreading further, we must warn them not to speak to anyone in this name.”

18 They called them back and commanded them not to speak or teach in Immanuel’s name.
19 Peter and John replied, “Judge for yourselves whether it is right to obey you rather than Him in the sight of the Preeminent Sovereign.”
20 “We cannot stay silent. We must speak of what we have seen and heard.”

21 After further threats, they released them, finding no way to punish them because everyone praised the Preeminent Sovereign for what had happened.
22 The marvelously healed man was over forty.

§ 27710 THE PATHSEEKERS MELD THEIR CONSCIENCE WITH THE PREEMINENT SOVERE

23 After their release, Peter and John returned to their group. They shared everything the high priest and religious elders had said.
24 Hearing this, they collectively melded their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, declaring, “Sovereign Captain of all, you are the Innovator of the celestial realms, Earth, sea, and everything within them.”
25 “Through the exalted Eternal Spark, you spoke via David, our ancestor, and coworker: ‘Why are the nations infuriated, and why do people craft futile schemes?’
26 ‘Earth’s Prime Rulers take their positions, and leaders conspire against the Sovereign Captain and His chosen one. ’ 27 “Indeed, Herod and Pontius Pilate, along with Outsiders and Israelites, gathered in this city to plot against your celestial coworker Immanuel, whom you named.”
28 “Your power and plan predestined all they accomplished.”

29 “Sovereign Captain, note their intimidations and empower your coworkers to proclaim your message with utmost courage.” 30 “Extend your reach to provide healing and execute marvelous events through the authority of your celestial coworker, Immanuel.”
31 After melding their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, their place quivered. Each was filled with the exalted Eternal Spark, and they fearlessly uttered the Preeminent Sovereign’s message.

§ 27720 THE PATHSEEKERS SHARE THEIR POSSESSIONS

32 The entire community of people of trust was united in cooperation. Nobody regarded their belongings as solely their own; all possessions were shared.
33 The emissaries demonstrated Immanuel’s resurrection, the Sovereign Captain’s return to life with immense strength and a profound manifestation of the Preeminent Sovereign’s compassion for everyone.
34 There wasn’t a needy individual among them. Those with lands or estates would liquidate them whenever necessary, bringing forth the full transaction proceeds.
35 They presented it to the emissaries, who then allocated it to anyone in need.
36 The emissaries called Joseph, a Levite from Cyprus, Barnabas, which means “son of encouragement.”
37 He sold a plot of land he owned, procured the funds from the sale, and presented the entire proceeds to the emissaries.

§ 27730 ANANIAS AND SAPPHIRA

5 Ananias and his wife, Sapphira, sold a piece of property.

[2] Ananias kept part of the money with his wife's knowledge but brought the rest to the emissaries.
[3] Peter asked, "Ananias, why did you let the Adversary fill your inner determination to lie to the Eternal Spark and keep some of the money?"

[4] "The land was yours before you sold it, right? And wasn't the money in your possession once you sold it? Why did you decide to take this action? You have deceived not just the human race but also the Eternal Reality."
[5] On hearing this, Ananias fell down and died. Great fear seized all who heard what had happened.
[6] Some young men came forward, wrapped up his body, carried him out, and buried him.
[7] About three hours later, his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.
[8] Peter asked her, "Tell me, is this the price you and Ananias got for the land?" She said, "Yes, that is the price."
[9] Peter said, "How could you conspire to test the Sovereign Captain's Eternal Spark? Pay Heed! The guys who buried your spouse are standing at the entryway, and they will also carry you out.
[10] She died at his feet at that very moment! When the young men entered, they saw that she was dead. They brought her outside and buried her next to her spouse.
[11] Great fear seized the entire ensovereigned lifestyle community and everyone who heard about these events.

§ 27740 THE EMISSARIES HEAL MANY

[12] The emissaries performed numerous marvelous works among the people. Loyal individuals consistently gathered at Solomon's Portico.
[13] Though highly regarded, others hesitated to join them.
[14] Nevertheless, the number of men and women trusting the Sovereign Captain grew.
[15] People brought their sick loved ones to public places, hoping Peter's passing shadow might touch them.

[16] Many from neighboring towns of Yerushalayim came with their sick and those troubled by malevolent entities, and all were healed.

§ 27750 THE EMISSARIES PERSECUTED

[17] The chief priest and his colleagues, all part of the Afterlife Denialists sect, were envious.
[18] The emissaries were apprehended and placed in a public detention facility.
[19] Under the cover of darkness, a Celestial Envoy from the Sovereign Captain unlocked the prison gates and led them to freedom.
[20] "Proceed, position yourself in the fortress area, and convey everything regarding this fresh existence to the masses." As dawn broke, they entered the fortress grounds as instructed and started imparting knowledge to the masses.

[21] With the arrival of the high priest and his companions, a gathering of the Sanhedrin, the council of elder Israelites, was assembled, and a message was dispatched to the prison for the emissaries to be fetched.
[22] On reaching the prison, the officials didn't spot them and returned to relay the information.

23-24 “We discovered the prison was locked tightly, with the sentries stationed at the entrances; however, we encountered nobody inside to unlock them.” On receiving these words, the commander of the fortress police and the head priest were greatly perplexed, uncertain about the direction this may take.
25 An individual arrived and announced, “Pay heed! The individuals you incarcerated are now in the fortress, educating the populace.”
26 The leader and his officials escorted the emissaries without harsh means, as they were apprehensive that the crowd might hurl stones at them.
27 The emissaries were conducted to the council and stood before the Judean high court, where the high priest interrogated them.

28 He articulated, “We commanded you to refrain from proclaiming in this name. Yet, you have inundated Yerushalayim with your directives and are resolved to implicate us in this man’s murder.”

29 Peter and the emissaries responded: “Our obedience must be to the Preeminent Sovereign, not to people!
30 Our forefathers acclaimed Eternal Reality, who returned Immanuel from death, whom you slew by nailing Him to a tree.
31 The Preeminent Sovereign uplifted Him to his privileged position as a leader and liberator intended to lead Israel towards profound self-reflection and offer them complete absolution for their wrongdoings.”
32 “We have seen these things and are discussing them. The Eternal Spark also makes these things known; the Preeminent Sovereign gives his Eternal Spark to those who obey him.”
33 On hearing this, they were filled with fury and sought to execute them.
34 Nonetheless, Gamaliel, a respected Law scholar and member of the Tradition Keeper sect, rose in the council and ordered the temporary removal of the emissaries from the vicinity.
35 He turned to the Sanhedrin, addressing the men of Israel and advising them, “Think carefully about your actions towards these men.
36-37 A while back, Theudas emerged, professing to be significant, and gathered around four hundred men to his cause. Nevertheless, he met his demise, his pathseekers scattered to the winds, and the entire ordeal nullified.” “Judas from Galilee rose during the census, following him, instigating a group into rebellion. He was also killed, causing the dispersion of all his pathseekers.”
38 “Consequently, my suggestion in this current situation is to avoid these men. Leave them be. Because if this plan or action is merely human in its inception, it will collapse.”
39 “If it originates with the Preeminent Sovereign, you will not succeed in overthrowing them, potentially placing yourself in opposition to the Preeminent Sovereign.”

40 His words swayed their decision. They brought in the emissaries and subjected them to a beating. Subsequently, they instructed them to refrain from speaking in Immanuel’s name and set them free.
41 The emissaries departed from the Sanhedrin, filled with delight as they were seen fit to endure ignominy for His name.
42 Uninterruptedly, within the exalted fortress halls and numerous households, they continued to educate and broadcast the joyful message that Immanuel is indeed the Sovereign One.

§ 27760 THE CHOOSING OF THE SEVEN

6 As the number of pathseekers grew, Greek-speaking Israelites voiced concerns that their widows were being overlooked in the daily meal distribution.
2 The Twelve gathered all the pathseekers and said, “It’s not right for us to neglect proclaiming the Preeminent Sovereign’s message to serve tables.”
3 “Eternal Spark’s depth and wisdom. . . We will assign this duty to them.”
4 “We will continue focusing on communicating with the Preeminent Sovereign and sharing his word.”
5 The assembly agreed with the suggestion. They chose Stephen, full of immense trust and the Eternal Spark, along with Parmenas, Timon, Philip, Nicanor, Prochorus, and Nicolas, an outsider convert from Antioch who had embraced Judaism.
6 These individuals were presented to the emissaries, who, after melding their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, placed their hands on them in empowerment.
7 The message from the Preeminent Sovereign spread widely, leading to a significant increase in pathseekers in Yerushalayim, and many mediators began adhering to the trust.

§ 27770 STEPHEN SEIZED

8 Stephen, filled with favor from the Eternal Reality and ability, publicly performed marvelous works and indications.
9 However, opposition arose from members of the Meeting Place of the Freedmen, including Israelites from Cyrene, Alexandria, Cilicia, and Asia, who disputed with Stephen.
10 They couldn’t counter the intelligence and inspiration the Eternal Spark gave him as he spoke.
11 They secretly persuaded some to claim, “We’ve heard Stephen uttering sacrilegious remarks about Moses and the Preeminent Sovereign.”
12 They stirred up the crowd, religious elders, and interpreters of Mosaic Law, seized Stephen, and brought him to the Sanhedrin.
13 They presented false witnesses who said, “This man incessantly speaks against this Exalted Space and the Mosaic Law.”
14 “We’ve heard him say that Immanuel from Nazareth will destroy this place and change the traditions Moses handed down.”
15 everyone in the Sanhedrin looked intently at Stephen, seeing his face resembled that of a Celestial Envoy.

§ 27780 STEPHEN’S SPEECH TO THE HIGHEST COUNCIL

7 “The high priest questioned Stephen, asking, ‘Are these accusations accurate?’”
2 In his response, Stephen appealed to the brothers and their fathers, stating, “Our magnificent Preeminent Sovereign unveiled Himself to the patriarch Abraham before his residency in Harran when he was still residing in Mesopotamia.”
3 “The Preeminent Sovereign commanded, ‘Depart from your homeland and your relative and journey to the territory I shall guide you to. ’”

4 Abraham then abandoned the territory of the Chaldeans and resided in Harran. Following his father’s passing, the Preeminent Sovereign guided him to this region where you currently inhabit.

5 He did not leave him any inheritance in this place, not even a ground plot. Despite not having a kid yet, the Preeminent Sovereign pledged to provide Abraham and his offspring ownership of the country.

6 The Preeminent Sovereign communicated to him in such a manner: “Your progeny will exist as outsiders in a land not of their own for a span of four hundred years.” Meanwhile, they were subjected to enslavement and harsh treatment.
7 “However, I will judge the nation that enslaves them,” said the Preeminent Sovereign, “and subsequently, you will leave that land and serve me in this location.”
8 The Preeminent Sovereign then provided Abraham with the solemn agreement of circumcision. Following this, Abraham gave life to Isaac, whom he circumcised on the eighth day after his birth. Subsequently, Isaac gave birth to Jacob, and Jacob became the progenitor of the twelve founding ancestors.

9 Out of envy, the patriarchs sold Joseph into slavery in Egypt, yet he was not alone; the Preeminent Sovereign was with him.
10 He was liberated from all his adversities. The Preeminent Sovereign endowed Joseph with wisdom and enabled him to secure the favor of the Egyptian Prime Ruler, Pharaoh. Consequently, the Pharaoh appointed him as the governor of Egypt and his entire household of governance.
11 A severe food shortage hit Egypt and Canaan, leading to extreme hardship, with our forefathers unable to secure sustenance.
12 On learning about grain availability in Egypt, Jacob dispatched our ancestors for their inaugural trip.
13 During their subsequent trip, Joseph unveiled his identity to his siblings, and Joseph’s family was disclosed to the Pharaoh.
14 Subsequently, Joseph extended an invitation to his father, Jacob, along with his entire family, totaling seventy-five individuals.
15 Jacob migrated to Egypt, and he and our forefathers ended up there.

16 After being returned to Shechem, their corpses were interred in the graveyard that Abraham had purchased in Shechem for a set sum of silver from the descendants of Hamor.

17 As the era for the realization of the pledge that the Preeminent Sovereign had accorded Abraham was imminent, the population of our people in Egypt had grown significantly.
18 Eventually, a Prime Ruler who did not know Joseph assumed control in Egypt.”
19 This ruler shrewdly manipulated our community and mistreated our forefathers, coercing them to abandon their newborn infants, leading to their tragic deaths.
20 Moses came into existence at that period and was a wonderful baby. His family looked after him for three months.
21 After he was abandoned outdoors, the daughter of Pharaoh adopted and raised him as if he were her child.
22 Moses was instructed in every aspect of Egyptian knowledge and was a force to be reckoned with in both words and deeds.
23 At forty, Moses felt compelled to visit his fellow Israelites.
24 Seeing one mistreated by an Egyptian, he defended him and killed the Egyptian.

25 Moses thought his people would understand that the Preeminent Sovereign was using him to free them, but they did not.
26 The next day, he saw two Israelites fighting and tried to reconcile them, saying, “You are brothers; why hurt each other?”
27 The aggressor retorted, “Who made you our leader and judge?”
28 “Do you want to kill me as you did the Egyptian?”
29 Hearing this, Moses fled to Midian and lived as an outsider, fathering two sons.

30 Forty years later, Moses saw a Celestial Envoy in a burning emanation near the Exalted Mountain of the Law.
31 Astonished, he approached and heard the Sovereign Captain’s voice.
32 “I am the Eternal Reality of your ancestors, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.” Terrified, Moses looked away.
33 The Sovereign Captain said, “Remove your sandals; you are on exalted ground.”
34 “I have seen my people’s suffering in Egypt and heard their cries. I have come to rescue them. Now go; I am sending you back to Egypt.”

35 The Preeminent Sovereign sent this same Moses, whom they had rejected with “Who made you a leader and judge?” as their leader and rescuer through the Celestial Envoy in the burning emanation.
36 After leading them out of Egypt, he performed marvelous signs and wonders there, at the Red Sea, and in the wilderness for forty years.
37 Moses told the Israelites, “The Preeminent Sovereign will raise an eternally wise servant like me from among your brothers.”

38 In the Ensovereigned lifestyle community in the wilderness, Moses and our ancestors received life-giving words from the Celestial Envoy on the Exalted Mountain of the Law to deliver to us.
39 But our ancestors refused to obey him. They rejected him and longed to return to Egypt.
40 They told Aaron, “Make us idolized deities to lead us. As for this Moses who brought us out of Egypt, we don’t know what has happened to him!”
41 They made a golden calf and offered it absolving payments, rejoicing in their own creation.

42 The Preeminent Sovereign turned away from them, letting them worship celestial bodies like the sun, moon, and stars. As the eternally wise servants book recorded, “Did you bring me absolving payments during your forty years in the desert, Israel?”
43 “You brought the star of your worshiped deity, Rephan, whom you made to be worshipped, and the temple of Molek. I shall thus banish you beyond Babylon.

44 Our ancestors made the Tent of the Solemn Agreement in the wilderness, following the Preeminent Sovereign’s direction according to the pattern Moses had been shown.
45 They brought it with Joshua when they took the land from the nations the Preeminent Sovereign drove out. It remained until David’s time.
46 David found favor with the Preeminent Sovereign and asked to build a fortress for Him.
47 But it was Solomon who built it.

48 However, the Most High does not live in houses made by human hands, as the eternally wise servant says.
49 “Earth is my footstool, and the Celestial Realms as my command center. Which style of home are you going to build me? Alternatively, where will I go to rest?”
50 “Has not my hand made all these things?”

51 “You stiff-necked people with uncircumcised inner determination and ears! You always resist the Eternal Spark, just as your ancestors did.”
52 Was there ever an eternally wise servant your forefathers did not oppress? They even put to death people who foresaw the arrival of the One of Integrity. And now you have betrayed and murdered Him.”
53 “You who received the Mosaic Law given through Celestial Envoys but have not obeyed it.”

§ 27790 THE STONING OF STEPHEN

54 Hearing these words, the Sanhedrin council members seethed angrily and furiously ground their teeth at him.
55 With the exalted Eternal Spark in complete control, Stephen gazed into the celestial realms, beholding the magnificence of the Preeminent Sovereign, and spotted Immanuel positioned at the Preeminent Sovereign’s right flank.
56 “Pay heed,” he proclaimed; “I perceive the celestial realms unveiling and the Heir of Humanity set at the right side of the Preeminent Sovereign.”

57 Hearing this, they blocked their ears, screamed, and collectively charged toward him.
58 They removed him from the city and pelted him with stones, the same individuals bearing witness that they placed their garments at the feet of a youth known as Saul.
59 As they hurled stones at Stephen, he implored, “Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, accept my inner-self.”
60 Subsequently, he knelt, pleading vehemently, “Sovereign Captain, forgive this transgression of theirs.” After uttering these words, he succumbed to eternal rest.
8 Saul was also present and approved of Stephen’s demise. With the exemption of the emissaries, all were dispersed throughout Judea and Samaria when a severe persecution against the Yerushalayim ensovereigned lifestyle community began on that day.

§ 27800 THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY PERSECUTED AND SCATTERED

2 Reverent individuals laid Stephen to rest, expressing profound grief for his loss.

3 Saul began his mission to dismantle the ensovereigned lifestyle community, infiltrating homes and seizing men and women, condemning them to imprisonment.

§ 27810 PHILIP IN SAMARIA

4 The dispersed individuals spread the word wherever they went.
5 Philip traveled to a city in Samaria and proclaimed the Chosen Redeemer.
6 The crowds, captivated by Philip’s signs and words, focused intently on his message.
7 With loud cries, malevolent entities were expelled, and many incapacitated or disabled individuals were cured.
8 The city was filled with immense happiness.

§ 27820 SIMON THE SORCERER

9 Simon, a man known for his magical acts, amazed the people of Samaria, claiming to be someone significant.
10 everyone, from the influential to the humble, paid attention to him, declaring, “This man is rightly called the ‘Magnificent Force of the Preeminent Sovereign. ’”
11 He captivated them with his magic for a long time.

12 When the men and women believed Philip’s message about the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality and the joyful development of the Chosen Redeemer, they were immersed in water—bathing in the Eternal Spark and sharing Immanuel’s death and rebirth.

13 Simon also believed and was immersed. He stayed close to Philip, constantly amazed by the remarkable wonders and powerful acts.

14 When the emissaries in Yerushalayim heard that Samaria had accepted the word of the Preeminent Sovereign, they sent Peter and John.
15 Upon arrival, they pled for the new pathseekers to receive the exalted Eternal Spark.

16 The exalted Eternal Spark had not yet come upon them; they had only been immersed in the name of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
17 Peter and John laid their hands on them, and they marvelously received the Eternal Spark!

18-19 Seeing this, Simon offered them money, saying, “Give me this power so that I may lay my hands on anyone, and they may receive the Eternal Spark.”

20 “May your cash perish with your foolishness thinking you could purchase the gift of the Preeminent Sovereign with money,” Peter retorted.
21 “You have no part in this attentiveness because your inner determination is not right before the Preeminent Sovereign.”
22 “Change your ways of living of this impurity and intervene with the Sovereign Captain in the hope that He may forgive you for having such a thought in your inner determination.”
23 “I see you are full of bitterness and captive to transgression.”

24 Simon answered, “Intervene with the Sovereign Captain so that nothing you have said may happen to me.”
25 After spreading the Sovereign Captain’s message and testifying about Immanuel, Peter and John returned to Yerushalayim, proclaiming the joyous developments in many Samaritan villages.

§ 27830 PHILIP AND THE ETHIOPIAN

26 A Celestial Envoy of the Sovereign Captain told Philip to go South on the road from Yerushalayim to Gaza.
27 Along the way, he ran into an Ethiopian eunuch, a prominent figure in charge of the treasury of Candace, the First Lady of the Ethiopian people. This man had gone to Yerushalayim to express adoration.
28 On his way home, he read Isaiah’s Living Path in his official vehicle.

29 The Eternal Spark told Philip to go to that official vehicle and stay near it.
30 Philip ran to the official vehicle and heard the man reading Isaiah's writings. "Do you understand what you are reading?" Philip asked.
31 He questioned, "Unless someone explains it to me, how can I?" He, therefore, beckoned Philip to join him in a seat. The section of Living Word that the eunuch read was this:

32 "He didn't open his mouth to say anything because he was dragged like a sheep to the butcher and like a lamb before its shearer was silent."
33 "In his humiliation, justice was denied to him. Who can discuss his offspring? Because the Earth took his life."

34 The eunuch asked Philip, "Tell me, please, who is the eternally wise servant talking about, himself or someone else?"

35 Then Philip began with that same passage of Living Word and told him the joyous developments about Immanuel.

36 As they traveled the road, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, "Look, here is water. What can stand in the way of my being reborn?"

37 Philip replied, "If you trust with all your inner determination, you may." The eunuch answered, "I trust Immanuel is the Eternal Reality's offspring."

38 He gave orders to stop his official vehicle. Then, they entered the water, and the eunuch was immersed—bathed in the Eternal Spark and sharing Immanuel's death and rebirth.

39 Upon emerging from the river, the Eternal Spark abruptly took Philip away, and the eunuch joyfully continued on their journey, never to be seen again.

40 On the other hand, Philip appeared at Azotus. He proceeded to proclaim the joyous developments in every town until he arrived at Caesarea.

§ 27840 SAUL'S TRANSFORMATION

9 Saul, still uttering death threats against the pathseekers of the Sovereign Captain, approached the prime ensovereigned mediator.
2 He sought authorization letters to the Judean temples in Damascus, intending to detain any individuals adhering to the Path and transport them to Yerushalayim.
3 On his way to Damascus, a Celestial light suddenly bathed him.
4 He collapsed, and a voice questioned, "Saul, why are you against me?"
5 "Who is your identity?" Saul asked. "It's me, Immanuel, the one you're pursuing," came the response.

6 "Stand up and proceed to the city; you'll receive instructions there."
7 The individuals with Saul were speechless; they heard the noise but saw no one.
8 Saul rose but could not see despite his open eyes. They guided him into Damascus by hand.
9 He endured three days of blindness without food or drink.

10 A trusted person named Ananias resided in Damascus. The Sovereign Captain spoke to him in a dream, calling his name. Ananias responded affirmatively.

11 The Sovereign Captain guided him to Judas' residence on Straight Street to inquire about Saul from Tarsus, who was offering meldings of consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 Saul had seen a vision of Ananias arriving to lay hands on him, leading to his eye's recovery.
13 Ananias replied, "I've heard about this individual and the extensive damage he's inflicted on your exalted community in Yerushalayim."
14 "The high priest endorsed him to incarcerate everyone who invoked your name."
15 The Sovereign Captain instructed, "Proceed! This individual is my selected representative to establish my reputation among the Outsiders, their Prime Rulers, and Israel's inhabitants."
16 "I will reveal to him the suffering required for my name's acclaim."

17 Ananias proceeded to Saul's residence, placed his hands on him, and said, "Brother Saul, the Eternal Reality's entity, Sovereign Captain Immanuel, who manifested Himself to you during your journey here, has dispatched me to restore your vision and imbue you with the Eternal Spark." Scale-like objects fell from Saul's eyes, restoring his vision.

18 He then arose and immersed himself in water– bathing in the Eternal Spark and sharing Immanuel's death and rebirth.
19 After nourishment, he regained his energy.

§ 27850 SAUL IN DAMASCUS AND YERUSHALAYIM

20 Saul immediately began advocating in the communal place that Immanuel was the Preeminent Sovereign's offspring.
21 everyone who heard him was astonished and asked, "Isn't he the one who caused chaos in Yerushalayim among those invoking this name? And didn't he come here to apprehend them and deliver them to the high priest?"
22 Yet, Saul's strength grew, leaving the Israelites in Damascus perplexed as he proved that Immanuel was indeed the Sovereign One.
23 After a significant time, the Judean leaders plotted to assassinate him.
24 Saul learned of their conspiracy. They watched the city gates day and night to kill him.
25 Under cover of darkness, his pathseekers lowered him over the city wall in a basket.
26 Upon reaching Yerushalayim, he tried to join the pathseekers, but they all feared him, doubting his authenticity.
27 However, Barnabas took Saul to the emissaries. He explained how Saul had encountered the Sovereign Captain on his journey, how the Sovereign Captain spoke to him, and how Saul had boldly proclaimed in the name of Immanuel in Damascus.
28 Saul moved freely in Yerushalayim, confidently expressing his beliefs in the name of the Sovereign Captain.
29 He engaged in debates with the Greek-speaking Israelites, but they sought to kill him.

30 When this was discovered, the loyal escorted him to Caesarea and sent him to Tarsus.
31 The ensovereigned lifestyle community across Judea, Galilee, and Samaria enjoyed peace and grew stronger. Living in reverence for the Sovereign Captain and invigorated by the Eternal Spark, their numbers increased.

§ 27860 AENEAS AND DORCAS

32 Peter traveled extensively and stopped at Lydda to meet the people of trust there.

33 He encountered Aeneas, bedridden for eight years due to paralysis.
34 Peter said, “Aeneas, Chosen Redeemer makes you well. Rise and take care of your mat.” Aeneas immediately stood up.
35 All residents of Lydda and Sharon who saw him converted to the Sovereign Captain.

36 In Joppa, a trusted woman named Tabitha, or Dorcas in Greek, was known for her kindness and aid to the underprivileged.
37 She fell ill and died; after cleansing her, they placed her in an upper room.
38 Hearing Peter was in Lydda, the pathseekers sent two men to urge him to come quickly.
39 Peter went with them and was taken to the upper room. Grieving widows showed him the clothes Dorcas had made.

40 Peter asked everyone to leave, knelt, and melded his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign. He turned to the body and said, “Tabitha, rise.” She opened her eyes. Upon seeing Peter, she sat up.

41 He helped her and called the loyal pathseekers, especially the widows, to show them she was alive.
42 The news spread throughout Joppa, leading many to trust the Sovereign Captain.
43 Peter stayed in Joppa for a long time with Simon, a leatherworker.

§ 27870 CORNELIUS CALLS FOR PETER

10 Cornelius, a company commander in Caesarea’s Italian Regiment, was devoted to the Eternal Reality and revered the Preeminent Sovereign. He was known for his charity and consistent melding of his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 He had a disclosure one afternoon around the ninth hour. A Celestial Envoy appeared, calling, “Cornelius!”
4 With trepidation, Cornelius asked, “What do you want, Sovereign Captain?” The Envoy replied, “Your meldings of consciousness and acts of charity have ascended as a tribute to the Preeminent Sovereign.”
5-6 “Send individuals to Joppa to fetch Simon Peter, who lodges with Simon, a tanner by the seacoast.”
7 After the Envoy departed, Cornelius summoned two household workers and a soldier known for his purity.
8 He explained everything and dispatched them to Joppa.

§ 27880 PETER’S VISION

9 Around midday on the following day, as they neared the town, Peter went to the rooftop to meld his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
10 Hunger overwhelming him, he entered a visionary state as the food was prepared.

11 He saw the celestial realms parting and an entity resembling a vast cloth descending, held up by its corners.
12 The sheet was filled with various quadrupeds, reptiles, and birds.
13 A voice then instructed, “Arise, Peter. Slaughter and eat.”

14 “Not, Sovereign Captain!” Peter replied, “I have never consumed anything impure or unhealthy.”
15 The voice responded, “What the Preeminent Sovereign has set-apart should not be deemed unhealthy.”
16 This happened three times before the object was returned to the celestial realms.
17 As Peter pondered the vision’s meaning, Cornelius’ emissaries arrived at Simon’s house and stopped at the entrance.
18 They asked if Simon, also called Peter, was staying there.
19 While Peter was still contemplating the vision, the Eternal Spark told him, “Simon, three individuals are looking for you.”
20 “Stand up, go downstairs, and accompany them without hesitation since I have commissioned them.”
21 Peter went down and said to the men, “I am the one you seek. Why have you come?”
22 They replied that they were representatives of Cornelius, the commander. “The Judean community esteems him as an honorable and devout man. A Celestial Envoy instructed him to invite you to his residence to hear your message.”
23 Peter invited them to stay as guests. The next day, Peter and some of the loyal from Joppa set off together.

§ 27890 PETER AT CORNELIUS’ HOUSE

24 Peter arrived in Caesarea the next day. Cornelius had gathered his family and close friends in anticipation.

25 Upon Peter’s arrival, Cornelius knelt at his feet in deep respect.
26 Peter helped him up, saying, “Stand up; I am only a human.”
27 As they talked, Peter saw a large group entering the house.
28 He said, “You know it’s against our traditions for a Judean to associate with an Outsider. But the Preeminent Sovereign has shown me not to call anyone defiled or unhealthy.”
29 “So, I came without objection when summoned. Why did you call for me?”
30 Cornelius replied, “Three days ago, at three in the afternoon, I was melding my consciousness with the Eternal Reality at home. Suddenly, a man in shining clothes stood before me.”
31 “He said, ‘The Preeminent Sovereign has noticed the meldings of your conscience with the Eternal Reality and your generosity to the poor, Cornelius. ’”
32 “‘Send for Simon, also called Peter, who is staying at Simon Tanner’s house by the sea. ’”
33 “I sent for you immediately, and you were kind enough to come. Now we are all in the Preeminent Sovereign’s presence to hear everything the Sovereign Captain has commanded you to tell us.”
34 Peter began, “I now realize that the Preeminent Sovereign does not show favoritism.”
35 “He welcomes people from all countries as long as they fear Him and act decently.”
36 “You know the message He sent to the people of Israel, announcing the joyous developments of peace through the Chosen Redeemer, who is Sovereign Captain of all.”
37 “You know what happened throughout Judea, beginning in Galilee after John practiced transformative immersion.”
38 “The Preeminent Sovereign Ensovereigned Immanuel of Nazareth with the Eternal Spark and power. He went around doing good and healing all who were under the power of evil because the Preeminent Sovereign was with him.”

39 “We are witnesses of everything he did in Israel and Yerushalayim. They killed him by hanging him on a cross.”
40 “But on the third day, the Preeminent Sovereign raised him from the dead and caused him to be seen.”
41 “We who ate and drank with the Preeminent Sovereign after Immanuel rose from the dead were the witnesses who saw him, not everyone else.”
42 “He commanded us to proclaim to the people and testify that he is the one whom the Preeminent Sovereign appointed as judge of the living and the dead.”
43 “everyone who believes in Immanuel receives forgiveness of unworthy choices through His Name,” all of the eternal wise people attest to.
44 While Peter spoke, the Eternal Spark came on all who heard the message.
45 The Judean pathseekers who had traveled with Peter were amazed that the Outsiders had also received the gift of the Eternal Spark.
46 “They heard them speaking in tongues and praising the Preeminent Sovereign,” Peter said.
47 “Surely no one can stand in the way of their being immersed with water. They have been infused with the Eternal Spark and shared Immanuel’s death and rebirth just as we have.”
48 “So he ordered that they be immersed in the name of the Chosen Redeemer. Then they asked Peter to stay with them for a few days.”

§ 27900 PETER EXPLAINS HIS ACTIONS

11 The pathseekers and the loyal ones in Judea heard that the Outsiders had embraced the Eternal Reality’s message.
2 When Peter went to Yerushalayim, the pathseekers aligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh confronted him.
3 They said, “You entered the home of uncircumcised men and ate with them.”

4 Peter explained everything from the beginning.
5 “While melding my conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign in Joppa, I fell into a trance and saw a vision. A large cloth-like structure descended from the high celestial realms, attached at its four corners, and came near me.”
6 I saw various four-legged creatures, savage animals, crawling beings, and birds.
7 Then a voice said, ‘Get up, Peter. Slay and eat. ’”
8 I replied, ‘Absolutely not, Sovereign Captain! I’ve never eaten anything tainted or impure. ’
9 “The Preeminent Sovereign’s decree of purity should not be contradicted,” the voice said again.
10 This happened three times, and everything was returned to the sky.
11 “At that moment, three men from Caesarea arrived at the house where I was staying.”
12 The Eternal Spark told me to go with them without hesitation. “These six people of trust also went with me, and we entered the man’s house.”
13 “He told us how a Celestial Envoy appeared in his house and said, ‘Send to Joppa for Simon, also called Peter. ’”
14 “He will bring a message that will save you and your family.”
15 “As I began to speak, the Eternal Spark came on them just as it did on us at the beginning.”
16 Then I remembered the Sovereign Captain’s words: “John performed immersions with water, but you will be bathed in the Eternal Spark and share My death and rebirth.”
17 “So if the Preeminent Sovereign gave them the same gift he gave us for trusting in the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, who was I to oppose the Preeminent Sovereign’s decree?”

18 Hearing this, they stopped their objections and praised the Preeminent Sovereign, saying, “The Preeminent Sovereign has given the Outsiders the chance to change your ways of living and gain eternal life.”

§ 27910 THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN ANTIOCH

19 Following Stephen’s persecution, individuals dispersed to Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, sharing the word only with the Judean community.
20 However, some from Cyprus and Cyrene spoke to Greeks in Antioch, spreading the joyful message of Sovereign Captain Immanuel.
21 “The power of the Sovereign Captain was with them, leading many to trust Him and convert.”
22 This news reached Yerushalayim’s ensovereigned lifestyle community, prompting them to send Barnabas to Antioch.
23 On arrival, he rejoiced at the Preeminent Sovereign’s transformative generosity. He urged everyone to stay loyal to the Sovereign Captain with full commitment.
24 Dependable and filled with the Eternal Spark and trust, Barnabas guided many to the Sovereign Captain.
25 He then went to Tarsus to find Saul.
26 Upon finding him, he brought him to Antioch. Barnabas and Saul interacted with the ensovereigned lifestyle community for a year, imparting the path to many. In Antioch, pathseekers were first called the ‘Path of the Chosen Redeemer’ or simply the ‘Path. ’
27 Some eternally wise servants came from Yerushalayim to Antioch during this time.
28 The Eternal Spark disclosed that severe food scarcity would affect the Roman realm under Claudius’ administration.
29 Each pathseeker decided to help their fellow people of trust in Judea according to their ability.
30 They sent donations to the ensovereigned lifestyle community coordinators through Barnabas and Saul.

§ 27920 PETER’S MARVELOUS ESCAPE FROM PRISON

12 During this time, Prime Ruler Herod detained members of the ensovereigned lifestyle community to harass them.
2 He executed James, John’s brother, with a tactical blade.
3 Seeing that this pleased the Israelites, he arrested Peter during the Celebration of the Unleavened Bread.
4 Four squads of four soldiers guarded the imprisoned Peter. Herod planned a public trial after the Emancipation Feast celebration.
5 While Peter was in jail, the assembly constantly appealed to the Preeminent Sovereign for him.

6-7 The night before Herod was set to present him, Peter lay restrained between two guards, tethered with electronic cuffs, while surveillance monitored the cell. Suddenly, a celestial envoy from the Sovereign Captain appeared, and a bright light filled the space. Tapping Peter gently, the messenger said, "Hurry, rise!" and the restraints disengaged from Peter's wrists.

8 The Celestial Envoy told him to dress and put on his sandals, which Peter did. The Envoy then told him to wrap his garment around himself and follow.

9 Peter followed him out of the prison, thinking it was a vision.
10 They passed the first and second guards and reached the city gate, which opened by itself. They walked down one street, and then the Envoy left him.
11 Peter realized what had happened and said, "Now I know the Sovereign Captain sent his Celestial Envoy to rescue me from Herod and what the Judean people expected."

12 He went to Mary's house, mother of John, also called Mark, where many were melding their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Peter knocked on the door, and a personal assistant named Rhoda answered.
14 Recognizing Peter's voice, she was so overjoyed that she forgot to open the door and ran back to announce that Peter was at the door.
15 They thought she was mad, but she insisted, so they said, "It must be his celestial guardian."

16 Peter kept knocking, and they were astonished to see him when they opened the door.
17 He motioned for silence and explained how the Sovereign Captain delivered him from prison. Peter told them to inform James and the others. Then he left for another place.
18 At dawn, there was great confusion among the soldiers about Peter's whereabouts.
19 Herod searched for him but didn't find him, so he interrogated the guards and ordered their execution. Then Herod moved from Judea to Caesarea and stayed there.

§ 27930 HEROD'S DEATH

20 Herod clashed with the people of Tyre and Sidon, who sought his favor through Blastus, the Prime Ruler's loyal aide, to secure peace as their nation depended on the Prime Ruler's province for sustenance.
21 On the appointed day, Herod, in his governance attire, addressed the public from his elevated seat of honor.
22 They declared his words to be those of the Eternal Reality, not from a human.
23 Immediately, a Celestial Envoy of the Sovereign Captain struck Herod with a fatal illness for not acclaiming the Preeminent Sovereign, leading to his death by worms.

24 The Preeminent Sovereign's message spread and flourished.

§ 27940 BARNABAS AND SAUL SENT OFF

25 After completing their mission, Barnabas and Saul returned from Yerushalayim with John, also called Mark.

13 The ensovereigned lifestyle community in Antioch included eternally wise servants and educators like Barnabas, Simeon (Niger), Lucius from Cyrene, Manaen (raised with Herod the Tetrarch), and Saul.

[2] While serving the Sovereign Captain and fasting, the Eternal Spark said, “Set apart Barnabas and Saul for the mission I have called them to.”
[3] After further intervention and fasting, they laid hands on them for empowerment and sent them off.

§ 27950 ON CYPRUS

[4] The exalted Eternal Spark commissioned them, and they traveled to Seleucia before sailing to Cyprus.
[5] In Salamis, they shared the Preeminent Sovereign’s message in the communal places of the Israelites, with John assisting them.
[6] Their journey across the island brought them to Paphos, where they met BarJesus, a Judean sorcerer and false prophet.
[7] He was an associate of the insightful governor Sergius Paulus. He summoned Barnabas and Saul, eager to hear the Preeminent Sovereign’s message.
[8] Elymas, the wizard, opposed them, trying to prevent the ambassador from embracing the trust.
[9] Saul, also known as Paul, filled with the exalted Eternal Spark, looked intently at Elymas and said,

[10] “You offspring of the Chief Instigator, Adversary of all goodness! You are full of deceit and trickery. When will you stop perverting the Sovereign Captain’s paths?”
[11] “You will be sightless and unable to see the sun for a while because the Sovereign Captain’s hand is upon you.” Suddenly enveloped in mist and darkness, he fumbled around for someone to take his hand.
[12] The governor, witnessing this, believed, astonished by the directives regarding the Sovereign Captain.

§ 27960 PAUL IN PISIDIAN ANTIOCH

[13] Paul and his team sailed from Paphos to Perga in Pamphylia, where John left them to return to Yerushalayim.
[14] They continued to Antioch in Pisidia, attended the meeting on the Day of Rest, and sat down.
[15] After reciting the Mosaic Law and the Eternal Wisdom, the communal place’s authorities invited them to share any encouraging message for the ensovereigned lifestyle community.
[16] Paul stood, gestured, and addressed: “Men of Israel and Preeminent Sovereign respecting Outsiders, listen to me!”
[17] “The Sovereign Captain of the Israeli people chose our forefathers, enabled them to flourish in Egypt, and with great force led them out.”
[18] “He endured their behavior in the wilderness for about forty years.”
[19] “He gave His people the land as an inheritance after destroying seven nations in Canaan.”
[20] These events spanned about four hundred and fifty years. Then, the Preeminent Sovereign gave them judges until Samuel, the eternally wise servant.
[21] The people asked for a Prime Ruler, and they were given Saul, son of Kish, from the Benjamin community, who ruled for forty years.

[22] After removing Saul, the Preeminent Sovereign made David their Prime Ruler, saying, “David, son of Jesse, is a man after My inner determination; he will do everything I want him to do.”

[23] the Preeminent Sovereign brought forth Immanuel as promised from David's descendants.
[24] Before Immanuel's arrival, John proclaimed an immersion of life transformation to all of Israel.
[25] Nearing the end of his mission, John asked: "Who do you think I am? I am not the one you expect. Someone is coming after me whose sandals I am not worthy to untie."
[26] "Brothers and sisters, descendants of Abraham's family, and all who elevate the Preeminent Sovereign, this message of deliverance is for us."
[27] "The inhabitants of Yerushalayim and their leaders did not recognize Immanuel. By condemning Him, they fulfilled the visions read every Day of Rest.
[28] Though they found no valid reason for His execution, they asked Pilate to have Him killed.
[29] After fulfilling all that was written about Him, they took Him down from the execution stake and laid Him in a tomb.
[30] But the Preeminent Sovereign raised Him from the dead.
[31] He appeared to those who had traveled with Him from Galilee to Yerushalayim. These witnesses are now testifying to our community.
[32] We bring you the joyous developments promised to our forefathers by the Preeminent Sovereign.
[33] He fulfilled this promise by raising Immanuel from the dead. As it is written in Proclamation 2 : 'You are my child; today I have become your parent. '
[34] The Preeminent Sovereign raised Him so He would never decay. He said, 'I will give you the exalted and reliable empowerments promised to David. '
[35] It is also stated elsewhere: 'Your hallowed one will not see decay. '

[36] David served the Preeminent Sovereign's purpose in his time, died, was buried with his ancestors, and his body decayed.
[37] But the one whom the Preeminent Sovereign raised did not see decay.
[38] Understand, my friends, that you are proclaimed absolution from unworthy choices through Immanuel.
[39] Through trust in Him, everyone is liberated from all unworthy choices— something impossible under the Mosaic Law.
[40] Be careful not to experience what the eternally wise servants predicted:
[41] 'Look, you scoffers, wonder and perish! For I am doing something in your days that you would never trust, even if someone told you. '"

[42] As they left the meeting, the ensovereigned lifestyle community asked Paul and Barnabas to continue speaking on these subjects on the next Day of Rest.
[43] After the assembly dispersed, many Israelites and devout converts to Judaism followed Paul and Barnabas. They spoke with them and urged them to continue in reliance on the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity.
[44] Nearly the entire city gathered on the next Day of Rest to hear the Sovereign Captain's word.
[45] Seeing the crowds, the Israelites were jealous. They began contradicting Paul's words and insulting him.
[46] Paul and Barnabas boldly replied: "We had to speak the Preeminent Sovereign's message to you first. Since you reject it and believe you do not deserve eternal life with the Preeminent Sovereign, we now move to the Outsiders."
[47] "For this is what the Sovereign Captain has commanded us: 'I have made you a light for the Outsiders, to bring redemption to the ends of the Earth. '"

[48] The Outsiders were glad and honored the Sovereign Captain's message; all who were appointed for immortality believed.

49 The Sovereign Captain’s message spread throughout the region.
50 But the leaders of the Israelites incited religious women of high standing and prominent men of the city. They incited persecution against Barnabas and Paul, driving them out of their territory.
51 In defiance, they dusted off the dust and proceeded to Iconium.
52 The pathseekers were delighted as the exalted Eternal Spark filled them.

§ 27970 IN ICONIUM

14 In Iconium, Paul and Barnabas followed their custom and entered the Judean communal place. They spoke so persuasively that many Israelites and Greeks became people of trust.
2 However, skeptical Israelites incited others, twisting their thoughts against the people of the New Humanity.
3 Paul and Barnabas stayed for a significant period, boldly sharing the Sovereign Captain’s message. The Sovereign Captain confirmed His generous word, enabling them to perform extraordinary works and wonders.
4 The city’s residents were divided some siding with the Judean faction and others with the emissaries.
5 Israelites and Outsiders, along with their leaders, plotted to abuse and stone them.
6-7 Learning of the plan, they fled to Lycaonia’s cities, Lystra and Derbe, and the surrounding areas, where they announced the joyous developments.

§ 27980 IN LYSTRA AND DERBE

8 In Lystra, a man crippled from birth had never walked.
9-10 As Paul spoke, the man listened intently. Seeing his trust in healing, Paul declared loudly, “Rise on your feet!” The man leaped up and began walking.

11 The esteemed people, witnessing this, exclaimed in Lycaonian that idolized deities had come in human form!
12 Paul was dubbed Hermes because he was the main speaker, while Barnabas was called Zeus.
13 The priest of Zeus brought bulls and garlands to the city gates, intending to perform absolving payments with the people.

14-15 Barnabas and Paul, distressed, tore their garments and rushed into the crowd, shouting, “Comrades, why do this? We are mortals like you, bringing joyful disclosures to turn you from these futile practices to the living Eternal Reality, the Innovator of all.”
16 “In the past, he allowed all nations to follow their paths.”
17 “Yet he did not leave himself without evidence, showing transformative generosity by giving rain and harvests, filling you with sustenance and delight.”
18 Even with these words, they struggled to stop the crowd from offering absolving payments.

19 Then, Israelites from Antioch and Iconium arrived and swayed the crowd. They stoned Paul, thinking him dead, and dragged him out of the city.
20 But when the pathseekers of Immanuel gathered around him, he got up and went back into the city. The next day, he and Barnabas left for Derbe.

§ 27990 THE RETURN TO ANTIOCH IN SYRIA

21 They proclaimed the joyous developments in that town and made many pathseekers. Afterward, they revisited Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch.
22 Fortifying the pathseekers while inspiring them to trust, they said, “We must endure numerous difficulties to enter the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.”

23 Paul and Barnabas, having selected leaders in every ensovereigned lifestyle community, immersed themselves in melding their conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign and fasting before entrusting these leaders to the Sovereign Captain, whom they had placed their trust.
24 Following their journey through Pisidia, they arrived in Pamphylia.
25 After delivering the message in Perga, they descended to Attalia.
26 They journeyed back to Antioch from Attalia, where they had been entrusted with the Preeminent Sovereign’s transformative generosity for the mission they had now accomplished.
27 They assembled the ensovereigned lifestyle community on arrival. They conveyed everything the Preeminent Sovereign had accomplished through them and how He had extended the opportunity for trust to the Outsider populace.
28 They remained there for an extended period with the pathseekers.

§ 28000 THE COUNCIL AT YERUSHALAYIM

15 Individuals from Judea arrived in Antioch and taught that “to attain redemption, one must undergo circumcision, following the traditions that Moses handed down.”
2 Paul and Barnabas intensely argued with them. Consequently, Paul, Barnabas, and a few other people of trust were chosen to go to Yerushalayim to consult the emissaries and elders regarding this matter.
3 The ensovereigned lifestyle community sent them forth, and during their journey through Phoenicia and Samaria, they recounted the transformation of the Outsiders, bringing immense delight to all the trustees.
4 On their arrival in Yerushalayim, the ensovereigned lifestyle community, the emissaries, and the elders heartily embraced them. They then detailed every accomplishment the Preeminent Sovereign had achieved through them.
5 Several pathseekers from the Tradition Keeper group, who were firm people of trust, asserted that “the Outsiders needed to undergo circumcision and adhere to the Mosaic Law of Moses.”

6 The emissaries and mediators convened to discuss this matter.
7 Following extensive discussions, Peter rose to speak: “Brethren, remember that it was some time ago when the Preeminent Sovereign decided that through my words, the Outsiders would receive the message of the joyous developments and put their trust in it.”
8 “The Preeminent Sovereign, aware of the most profound thoughts and desires, signified His approval by granting them the Eternal Spark in the same manner He did for us.”
9 “There was no distinction made by Him between us and them, as through trust, He cleansed their inner-selves.”
10 “So, why are you testing the Preeminent Sovereign by burdening the Outsiders with an obligation neither we nor our forefathers could handle?”
11 “Certainly not! We are convinced that we are recipients of redemption through the transformative generosity of our Sovereign Captain Immanuel in the same manner they are.”

12 The entire gathering fell quiet, attentively hearing Barnabas and Paul recount the marvelous works and astonishing marvels the Preeminent Sovereign had performed among the Outsider populations through their attendance.
13 After they had ceased speaking, James began. “My relative,” he implored, “lend me your ears.”
14 “Simon has detailed how the Preeminent Sovereign initially concerned Himself with selecting a group to bear His Name from the Outsider populace.”
15 “This effort is in line with what the eternally wise servants said, as it is written in the Living Word:”

16-18 “After this, I’ll rebuild David’s fallen tent.” The Sovereign Captain, known for performing these things for ages, declares, “I will rebuild its ruins and restore it so that the remaining men and all the Outsiders called by My name may seek Me.”

19 “Therefore, we should avoid creating obstacles for outsiders to convert to the Preeminent Sovereign.”

20 “We ought to send them a written message instructing them to avoid items contaminated by idolized deity worship, engage in no sexual improprieties, refrain from consuming the meat of animals killed by suffocation, and forgo ingestion of blood.”
21 “For many generations, the teachings of Moses have been proclaimed in every town. They are recited in places of expression of joyful adoration each Day of Rest.”

§ 28010 THE COUNCIL’S LETTER TO GENTILE PATHSEEKERS

22 The emissaries, elders, and the ensovereigned lifestyle community decided to send some of their people to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. They chose Judas, also known as Barsabbas, and Silas, esteemed leaders among the pathseekers.

23 They carried this letter: “From your people of the New Humanity, the emissaries and elders, To those who follow the Outsider trust in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia: Salutations.”

24 “It has come to our attention that certain individuals, without our consent, have troubled you with unsettling words.”

25 “We unanimously selected representatives and sent them to you with our cherished colleagues, Barnabas and Paul.”

26 “Individuals who have risked their lives for our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.”

27 “We are sending Judas and Silas to confirm these things verbally.”

28 “The Eternal Spark and I have decided not to impose more obligations on you beyond these essentials.”

29 “Avoid food offered to idolized deities, consuming blood, eating meat from animals that died of suffocation, and sexual misconduct. You will prosper by avoiding these. Take care.”

30 The delegates went to Antioch, gathered the ensovereigned lifestyle community, and delivered the letter.

31 After reading it, the community was delighted by its uplifting words.

32 Judas and Silas, eternally wise servants, spoke extensively to encourage and strengthen the pathseekers of the trust.

33 After some time, the loyal dismissed them in tranquility to return to those who sent them.

34 However, Silas chose to stay.

35 Paul, Barnabas, and many others remained in Antioch, teaching and spreading the Sovereign Captain's message.

§ 28020 DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN PAUL AND BARNABAS

36 Paul suggested that Barnabas revisit the trust in all the localities where they delivered the Sovereign Captain's message to check their condition.
37 Barnabas wanted to bring John, nicknamed Mark, along.
38 Paul disagreed, citing Mark's previous abandonment in Pamphylia.
39 Their disagreement became so intense that they parted ways. Barnabas took Mark to Cyprus.
40 Paul and Silas departed together, with the loyal pathseekers entrusting them to the generous care of the Sovereign Captain.
41 Traveling through Syria and Cilicia, the two strengthened the ensovereigned lifestyle communities.

§ 28030 TIMOTHY JOINS PAUL AND SILAS

16 Paul traveled to Derbe and then to Lystra, where he met Timothy, a pathseeker. Timothy's mother, a Judean woman, was a devoted person of trust, while his father was Greek.
2 The loyal ones in Lystra and Iconium held Timothy in high regard.
3 Paul wanted Timothy to join him, so he circumcised him due to the presence of Israelites who knew Timothy's father was Greek.
4 As they traveled through the cities, they shared the resolutions from the emissaries and elders in Yerushalayim for the people to follow.
5 Consequently, the ensovereigned lifestyle communities were strengthened, and the number of people of trust grew daily.

§ 28040 PAUL'S VISION OF THE MAN OF MACEDONIA

6 Paul and his companions traveled through Phrygia and Galatia. Still, the Eternal Spark prevented them from spreading the word in Asia.

7 When they reached Mysia, they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Eternal Spark of Immanuel stopped them.
8 So, they passed by Mysia and went down to Troas.
9 That night, Paul had a vision of a Macedonian man pleading for help.
10 Paul's vision convinced us, so we immediately set out for Macedonia. We trusted our mission to proclaim the joyous developments was from the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 28050 LYDIA'S TRANSFORMATION IN PHILIPPI

11 We set sail from Troas, heading straight to Samothrace and then to Neapolis the next day.
12 From there, we traveled to Philippi, a major city in Macedonia and a Roman colony. We stayed there for several days.

13 On the Day of Rest, seeking a place to meld our conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, we went to the river outside the city gate. We spoke with the women gathered there.

14 Among them was Lydia, a trusted pathseeker of the Preeminent Sovereign from Thyatira, who dealt in purple fabric. The Sovereign Captain guided her, and she embraced Paul's teachings.

15 After she and her household were immersed, she invited us to stay at her home. "If you consider me a loyal pathseeker of the Sovereign Captain," she said, "please be my guests."
She persuaded us.

§ 28060 PAUL AND SILAS IN PRISON

16 On our way to the place of express adoration, we met a girl with a supernatural ability to predict the future, earning substantial income for her owners.
17 She followed Paul and us, shouting, "These men are coworkers of the Supreme Deity, showing you the path to redemption." 18 After several days, Paul, exasperated, turned and commanded the malevolent entity, "In the name of the Chosen Redeemer, leave her!" Instantly, it left.
19 Realizing their profit was gone, her owners seized Paul and Silas, dragging them to the authorities.
20 They accused them before the chief officials, saying, "These Judeans are causing trouble in our city."
21 "They advocate unlawful practices for Romans."
22 The crowd joined in the attack, and the officials ordered them to be stripped and beaten with rods.
23 After a severe flogging, they were jailed with strict orders for secure confinement.
24 The jailer put their feet in stocks and put them in the innermost cell.

25 Around midnight, Paul and Silas melded their consciousness with the Eternal Reality. They sang hymns to the Preeminent Sovereign, and the other prisoners listened.
26 Suddenly, a violent earthquake shook the prison's foundations; all doors flew open, and restraints fell off.
27 When the jailer woke up and thought that the inmates had escaped, he pulled out his tactical blade to end his own life.
28 But Paul shouted, "Don't harm yourself! We are all here!"
29 The jailer called for lights, rushed in trembling, and fell before Paul and Silas.
30 He brought them out and asked, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

31 They replied, "trust in the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, and you and your household will be saved."
32 They spoke the word of the Sovereign Captain to him and his family.
33 That night, he washed their wounds; then he and his family were immersed in water—bathed in the Eternal Spark and shared Immanuel's death and rebirth.
34 He brought them into his house. He set a meal before them, rejoicing because he and his family believed in the Preeminent Sovereign.
35 At dawn, the magistrates sent officers with orders to release Paul and Silas.
36 The jailer told Paul, "The magistrates have ordered your release. Now you can go in peace."
37 However, Paul confronted the officers, saying, "They threw us into prison and beat us in public without a trial, despite the fact we are Roman citizens." Do they now wish to dispose of us peacefully? Not at all! Allow them to accompany us out on their own.
38 The officers reported this to the magistrates, who were alarmed to learn that Paul and Silas were Roman citizens.
39 They came to appease them and escorted them out of prison, requesting them to leave the city.
40 After leaving the prison, Paul and Silas visited Lydia's house. They met with the pathseekers and encouraged them before departing.

§ 28070 IN THESSALONICA

17 Thessalonica served as the Israelites' gathering place, and Paul and his group proceeded there via Amphipolis and Apollonia.
2 As was his custom, Paul engaged in the communal place, and for three days of rest, he discussed the path of the Living Word.
3 He demonstrated that the Sovereign One needed to suffer and rise from death, declaring, "I'm announcing this Immanuel to you, the Sovereign One."

4 Several Israelites, many Greeks who revered the Preeminent Sovereign, and many distinguished women were persuaded and joined Paul and Silas.
5 However, some envious Israelites gathered impure individuals from the marketplace, formed a mob, and incited a city-wide uproar. They rushed to Jason's house to find Paul and Silas and bring them before the crowd.
6-7 When they couldn't find them, they dragged Jason and some trusted individuals before the city authorities, accused of harboring those who opposed Caesar's regulations by proclaiming Immanuel as a different Prime Ruler.
8 This news greatly disturbed the mob and the city authorities.
9 They required Jason and the others to post a security payment before releasing them.

§ 28080 PAUL AND SILAS IN BEREA

10 At nightfall, the people of trust sent Paul and Silas to Berea. Upon arrival, they went to the Judean place of joyful adoration.
11 The Berean Israelites were more noble than those in Thessalonica, eagerly embracing the path and diligently examining the Living Word daily to verify Paul's claims.
12 Many believed, including several prominent Greek women and men.
13 When the Judean citizens of Thessalonica learned that Paul was teaching the Preeminent Sovereign's teachings in Berea, they came and stirred up trouble.
14 The pathseekers quickly sent Paul to the coast while Silas and Timothy stayed in Berea.
15 Those escorting Paul took him to Athens and instructed Silas and Timothy to join him as soon as possible.

§ 28090 IN ATHENS

16 While Paul awaited their arrival in Athens, he noticed the city was deeply troubled by its rampant false worship.
17 He debated in the communal place with Israelites and those who revered the Preeminent Sovereign and daily in the public square with passersby.
18 Some Epicurean and Stoic philosophers engaged him, asking, "What is this chatterbox trying to say?" Others noted, "He seems to be advocating foreign deities" because Paul spread the joyous message about Immanuel and his return from death.
19 They brought him to the Areopagus, asking, "Can we understand this new teaching you are presenting?"
20 "Your ideas sound strange; we want to know what they mean."
21 All Athenians and outsiders spent their time discussing the latest ideas.
22 Standing at the Areopagus, Paul declared: "Citizens of Athens! I see you are very religious in every way."
23 "As I walked around and observed your shrines, I found a pedestal table inscribed: TO AN UNKNOWN ETERNAL BEING. You unknowingly express joyful adoration to this One, whom I now proclaim to you."
24 "The Eternal Reality who made the world and everything in it, being Sovereign of the Celestial Realms and Earth, does not live in temples made by human hands."
25 "Human hands do not serve Him as if he needed anything. Instead, He gives everyone life, breath, and everything else."
26 "He created all nations from a single man, establishing their designated times and defining the borders of their territories."
27 "They should seek the Preeminent Sovereign and perhaps reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from any of us."
28 "For in him we live, move, and have our being. As some of your poets have said, 'We are his offspring. '"

29 "As his offspring, we should not think that human design and skill have made the Eternal Spark resemble gold, silver, or stone—an idolized deity."
30 "In the past, the Preeminent Sovereign overlooked such ignorance, but now he directs all people everywhere to turn from their unworthy choices."
31 "He has designated a man and fixed a day to judge the Earth with justice. The fact that He rose from the dead has demonstrated this to everyone.

32 Some laughed when they heard of the dead rising from the grave, while others remarked, “We want to hear you again on this subject.”
33 At that, Paul left the assembly.
34 Some people joined him and believed. Among them were Dionysius, a member of the Areopagus, a woman named Damaris, and others.

§ 28100 PAUL IN CORINTH

18 Paul left Athens for Corinth.
2 There, he met Aquila, a Judean from Pontus, and his wife, Priscilla, who had moved from Italy due to Claudius’ edict expelling Israelites from Rome. Paul visited them.
3 Being a tentmaker like them, he stayed and worked with them.
4 Each Day of Rest, he debated in the communal place, trying to persuade Israelites and Greeks.
5 When Silas and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Paul dedicated himself to proclaiming and affirming Immanuel as the Ensovereigned One to the Israelites.
6 When they opposed and insulted him, he shook out his clothes in protest, declaring, “Your actions are on your heads! I am absolved of any blame. From now on, I will focus on the Outsiders.”
7 Paul then moved to the house of Titius Justus, a devout pathseeker of Preeminent Sovereign.

8 Crispus, the communal place leader, and his household believed in the Sovereign Captain. Many Corinthians who heard Paul also believed and were immersed in water —bathed in the Eternal Spark and sharing Immanuel’s death and rebirth.
9 In a vision, the Sovereign Captain told Paul: “Do not be afraid; keep speaking, do not be silent.
10 For I am with you, and no one will harm you because I have many people in this city.”
11 Paul taught in Corinth for a year and a half about the message of the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 The Judeans of Corinth united against Paul and brought him to court while Gallio was the ambassador of Achaia.
13 They accused him of persuading people to express adoration to the Preeminent Sovereign, contrary to the Mosaic Law.
14 As Paul was about to speak, Gallio told the Judeans, It would make sense for me to listen to you if there was misconduct or a severe crime.
15 But since it involves questions about words, names, and your Law, settle it yourselves. I will not judge such matters.”
16 He then drove them off.
17 The crowd turned on Sosthenes, the communal place leader, and beat him in front of Gallio, who showed no concern.

§ 28110 PRISCILLA, AQUILA AND APOLLOS

18 Paul stayed in Corinth for some time. Then he, along with Priscilla and Aquila, left the people of the New Humanity and sailed for Syria. Before he sailed, his hair was cut off at Cenchreae because of his vow.
19 When they arrived at Ephesus, Paul left Priscilla and Aquila. He went into the communal place and reasoned with the Judeans.

20 He declined When they asked him to spend more time with them.
21 But as he left, he promised, “I will come back if it is the Preeminent Sovereign’s will.” Then he set sail from Ephesus.
22 When he landed at Caesarea, he went to Yerushalayim. He greeted the ensovereigned lifestyle community and then went down to Antioch.
23 After spending time in Antioch, Paul set out. He traveled from place to place throughout Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the pathseekers.
24 Meanwhile, Apollos, an Alexandrian Judean, traveled to Ephesus. He was a man of learning, well-versed in the Living Path.
25 The Sovereign Captain had instructed him, and Apollos spoke enthusiastically and taught about Immanuel accurately. However, he knew only the transformational immersion of John.
26 He began to speak boldly in the communal place. When Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they invited him to their home. They explained the way of the Preeminent Sovereign more adequately.
27 When Apollos wanted to go to Achaia, the people of the New Humanity encouraged him and wrote to the pathseekers there to welcome him. On arriving, he was a great help to those who, by transformative generosity, had believed.
28 In public discourse, he passionately contested his opponents, Judean, proving from the Living Path that Immanuel was the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 28120 PAUL IN EPHESUS

19 While Apollos was in Corinth, Paul traveled through the inland regions to Ephesus, where he found some people of trust.
2 He asked them, “Did the Eternal Spark descend on you when you trusted?” They replied, “We were not even informed of such an Eternal Reality.”
3 Paul asked, “What type of immersion did you undergo?” They mentioned John’s transformative immersion.

4 Paul explained that John’s immersion signified a transformation of inner-self and mind, urging them to grow: To trust the One who followed John, namely ‘Immanuel. ’

5 Upon hearing this, they immersed themselves in water —bathing in the Eternal Spark and sharing Immanuel’s death and rebirth.
6 When Paul laid his hands on them, they were imbued with the exalted Eternal Spark, leading them to speak in unknown languages and utter wisdom from an eternally wise servant.
7 The group consisted of about twelve men.
8 Paul then went into the communal place and fearlessly addressed them for three months, presenting convincing arguments about the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
9 However, many resisted; they rejected trust and openly slandered the Path. Therefore, Paul separated from them, took the learners, and engaged in daily dialogs in Tyrannus’ lecture room.
10 Every Judean and Greek residing in Asia became acquainted with the Sovereign Captain’s Path over two years.
11 The Preeminent Sovereign used Paul to perform marvelous works.
12 Consequently, even small pieces of cloth and work aprons that had touched him were delivered to the afflicted, healing their ailments and driving out malevolent entities.

[13] Certain Israelites who exorcised malevolent entities tried to use the name of Sovereign Captain Immanuel on those possessed. They chanted, “I order you to depart in the name of Immanuel, which Paul advocates for.”
[14] This was done by seven sons of a leading Judean priest, Sceva.
[15] One day, a malevolent intangible entity retorted, “I know Immanuel and am acquainted with Paul, but who are you?”
[16] The possessed individual then attacked them, overpowering all of them so brutally that they fled from the house naked and injured.

[17] When this news spread among the inhabitants of Ephesus, both Israelites and Greeks were filled with fear, and the name of Sovereign Captain Immanuel was highly revered.
[18] Many who had come to trust publicly admitted their past deeds.
[19] Numerous individuals engaged in witchcraft gathered their magical books and burned them publicly. The value of these texts was estimated at fifty thousand silver pieces.
[20] So, the message of the Sovereign Captain was amplified profoundly and gained strength.
[21] After these events, Paul decided to go to Yerushalayim via Macedonia and Achaia, expressing his intention to visit Rome afterward.
[22] He sent two aides, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia but stayed longer in Asia.

§ 28130 THE RIOT IN EPHESUS

[23] Around that era, a significant conflict occurred regarding the Path. Demetrius, a metalsmith who crafted silver artifacts for the idolized deity Artemis, generated substantial commerce for the local artisans.
[24] Demetrius, a silversmith who crafted silver replicas of Artemis’ temple, provided substantial work for the artisans.
[25] He assembled them with those involved in similar work. He expressed: “You are well aware, my companions, that this line of work provides us a significant financial return.”
[26] “You witness and perceive how this man Paul has swayed and misled many individuals in Ephesus and almost all of Asia. He asserts that idolized deities crafted by human hands are not authentic idolized deities.”
[27] “Not only is our profession at risk of losing its credibility but the grandness of the temple of Artemis might be degraded; even Artemis, revered across Asia and the entire globe, could be stripped of her glorious splendor.”

[28] On hearing this, they were angry and started to exclaim: “Artemis of the Ephesians is magnificent!”
[29] The entire city was chaotic in no time. The mob laid their hands on Gaius and Aristarchus, associates of Paul from Macedonia, and everyone collectively stormed into the arena.
[30] Paul was inclined to present himself to the assembly. However, his pathseekers did not permit him.
[31] A few provincial authorities, Paul’s companions, dispatched a communication imploring him to refrain from risking his entry into the arena.
[32] The gathering was engulfed in chaos: varied voices were raised, each chanting something different. The majority needed to be more knowledgeable about their purpose of being present there.
[33] The Judean individuals in the crowd propelled Alexander to the forefront as they bellowed directives at him. He gestured for quietness to present his justification to the assembly.
[34] On recognizing his Judean identity, they chanted for nearly two hours: “The greatness of Artemis from Ephesus is unparalleled!”

35 The town official managed to calm the mob and proclaimed: “Citizens of Ephesus, isn’t it universally acknowledged that our esteemed city, Ephesus, is the protector of the temple dedicated to the magnificent iconized deity Artemis and the artifact that descended from the cosmos?”
36 Given that these authenticities are irrefutable, you must maintain tranquility and refrain from reckless actions.
37 “You brought these men here, yet they are innocent of fortress theft and uttering negative remarks about our goddess.”
38 “If Demetrius and his associated artisans have a complaint against anyone, the judicial system is available with proconsuls present. They have the liberty to file a legal complaint.”
39 “It must be addressed in a lawful meeting to discuss anything else.”
40 Given the current circumstances, we risk facing charges for causing an uproar today. We could not justify this disorder as there is no valid reason.

41 Once he had spoken, he let the gathering disperse.

§ 28140 THROUGH MACEDONIA AND GREECE

20 Once the commotion subsided, Paul gathered the pathseekers, encouraged them, and set off for Macedonia.
2 Traveling through the region, he offered many uplifting words to the people, eventually reaching Greece.
3 Paul stayed there for three months. Discovering a plot by some Israelites as he prepared to sail for Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia instead.
4 Timothy, Tychicus, and Trophimus from Asia; Gaius of Derbe; Aristarchus and Secundus from Thessalonica; and Sopater, the successor of Pyrrhus from Berea, accompanied him.
5 These individuals went ahead and awaited us in Troas.
6 After the Unleavened Bread Festival, we left Philippi and, five days later, joined the others in Troas, where we stayed for a week.

§ 28150 EUTYCHUS RAISED FROM THE DEAD AT TROAS

7 We gathered to break bread on the first day of the week. Paul, planning to leave the next day, spoke to the crowd until midnight.
8 The upper room where we met was brightly lit.
9 A young man named Eutychus, sitting in a window, fell into a deep sleep as Paul spoke at length. He was thought to be dead after falling from the third story due to sleeplessness.
10 Paul went down, embraced him, and said, “Don’t worry; he’s alive!”
11 Paul then returned upstairs, broke bread, and ate. After talking until dawn, he left.

12 The young man was taken home alive, bringing great relief and comfort to everyone.

§ 28160 PAUL'S FAREWELL TO THE EPHESIAN SENIORS

13 We boarded the vessel for Assos, planning to meet Paul there as he chose to travel by land.
14 Upon meeting him in Assos, we invited him on board and sailed to Mitylene.
15 The next day, we docked near Chios, then sailed to Samos, and finally reached Miletus.
16 Paul avoided Ephesus to save time, aiming to reach Yerushalayim for the Harvest Festival.
17 In Miletus, Paul summoned the senior members of the ensovereigned lifestyle community from Ephesus.
18 When they arrived, he said, "You know how I lived among you from the first day I set foot in Asia."
19 "I served the Sovereign Captain with humility, often in tears, enduring trials from my Judean adversaries."
20 "I never hesitated to share anything beneficial and taught publicly and in homes."
21 "I urged both Judean and Greek communities to turn to the Preeminent Sovereign with remorse for their unworthy choices and trust in Sovereign Captain Immanuel."
22 "Now, the exalted Eternal Spark compels me to head to Yerushalayim, and I do not know what will happen there."
23 "The Eternal Spark warns me that imprisonment and hardships await."
24 "But I consider my life worth nothing; my goal is to finish the race and complete the task given by Sovereign Captain Immanuel—to testify to the Preeminent Sovereign's kindness through joyous developments."

25 "I know none of you will see me again."
26 "I declare today that I am not responsible for anyone's inner death."
27 "I have proclaimed the full plan of the Preeminent Sovereign."
28 "Guard yourselves and the protected community, which the exalted Eternal Spark has made you overseers of—care for the Preeminent Sovereign's assembly, bought with his absolving payment."
29 "Savage wolves will roam among you after I leave, and they won't spare the protected community."
30 "Even from your own group, some will distort the ultimate authenticity to draw away pathseekers."
31 "Be vigilant! Remember that I never stopped warning each of you for three years with tears."
32 "Now I commit you to the Preeminent Sovereign and his message of transformative generosity, which can build you up and give you an inheritance among all who are purified."
33 "I have not coveted anyone's silver, gold, or clothing."
34 "You know that these hands of mine have supplied my needs and those of my companions."
35 "In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work, we must help the weak, remembering Sovereign Captain Immanuel's words: 'It is more empowering to give than to receive. '"
36 After speaking, Paul knelt with them and melded His conscience with the Eternal Reality.
37 They all wept as they embraced and kissed him.
38 Their greatest sorrow was his statement that they would never see him again. Then, they accompanied him to the ship.

§ 28170 ON TO YERUSHALAYIM

21 We bid them farewell and set sail for Kos, arriving the next day in Rhodes and continuing to Patara.
2 We found a ship bound for Phoenicia, boarded, and set off.
3 Passing Cyprus on our southern flank, we headed towards Syria, finally docking in Tyre to unload cargo.
4 We found the pathseekers there and stayed a week. Guided by the Eternal Spark, they urged Paul not to go to Yerushalayim.
5 When it was time to leave, everyone, including women and children, escorted us out of the city. We knelt on the beach, melding our conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
6 After farewells, we boarded the ship, and they returned home.
7 Continuing from Tyre, we reached Ptolemais, met the people of trust, and stayed one day.
8 The next day, we arrived at Caesarea. We stayed with Philip, the emissary, one of the original seven ensovereigned lifestyle community organizers.
9 He had four single daughters with the gift of vision.
10 After several days, Agabus, an eternally wise servant from Judea, arrived.
11 He took Paul's girdle, bound his hands and feet, and declared, "The owner of this belt will be bound and given to the Outsiders by the Judean authorities in Yerushalayim, according to the Eternal Spark."
12 Hearing this, we and the residents implored Paul not to go to Yerushalayim.
13 Paul replied, "Why are you breaking my inner-self? I am ready to be imprisoned and die in Yerushalayim for Sovereign Captain Immanuel."
14 Unable to dissuade him, we said, "May the Preeminent Sovereign's wish prevail."
15 We then set out for Yerushalayim.

16 Some pathseekers from Caesarea accompanied us to Mnason's house, where we were to stay. Mnason, from Cyprus, was one of the initial pathseekers.

§ 28180 PAUL'S ARRIVAL AT YERUSHALAYIM

17 Upon arriving in Yerushalayim, the people of the New Humanity greeted us warmly.
18 Paul and I met James and all the senior ensovereigned lifestyle community mediators the next day.
19 Paul welcomed them and detailed the marvelous works among the Outsiders through his sovereign lifestyle activations.
20 Hearing this, they praised the Preeminent Sovereign. They informed Paul that many Israelites had embraced trust and were committed to the Mosaic Law.
21 "You teach all Israelites among the Outsiders to abandon Moses' teachings, advising against circumcising their children or following our traditions."
22 "What should we do? They will surely hear of your arrival."
23 "Follow our instructions. We have four men who have taken a vow."
24 "Join them, purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses so they can shave their heads. This will show everyone that your claims are false and that you observe the Mosaic Law."
25 "Regarding the people of trust from Outsider backgrounds, we have sent a letter instructing them to avoid food sacrificed to counterfeit idolized deities, blood, the meat of strangled animals, and sexual misconduct."

26 Paul joined the men in purification the next day. He then went to the fortress to announce the completion date of the purification and when the absolving payments for each would be made.

§ 28190 PAUL ARRESTED

27-28 As the seven-day period neared, some Israelites from Asia saw Paul in the fortress. They stirred up the crowd and seized him, shouting, “Fellow Israelites, help us! This man, Paul, teaches against our nation, our directives, and this place. He has even brought Greeks into the fortress, defiling this Exalted Space.”
29 They had seen Trophimus of Ephesus with Paul in the city and assumed Paul had taken him into the fortress.

30 The whole city was in an uproar, and people rushed from all directions. They grabbed Paul, dragged him out of the fortress, and immediately shut the gates.
31 As they were about to kill him, news reached the Roman commander that Yerushalayim was in turmoil.
32 He quickly took soldiers and officers and ran to the crowd. When the rioters saw the commander and his troops, they stopped beating Paul.
33 The commander arrested Paul and ordered him to be bound with two restraints. He asked who he was and what he had done.
34 Amid the chaos, some in the crowd shouted one thing and others, making it impossible for the commander to learn the truth. So, he ordered Paul to be taken to the barracks.
35 The military had to carry Paul out when he arrived at the stairs due to the crowd’s extreme aggression.
36 The crowd shouted, “Take him away!”

§ 28200 PAUL SPEAKS TO THE CROWD

37 As Paul was about to be taken into the military fortress, he asked the officer, “Can I speak to you?” He further inquired, “Do you speak Greek?, ” the officer replied.
38 “Aren’t you the Egyptian who led an insurrection and took four thousand assassins into the desert some time ago?”

39 Paul clarified that he was a Judean from Tarsus in Cilicia, a significant city. He then humbly requested permission to address the crowd.
40 With the officer’s consent, Paul stood on the staircase and gestured to the masses. As silence fell, he spoke to them in Aramaic.

22 “My fathers and brothers, listen to my defense.”
2 Hearing him speak in Aramaic, they became even quieter. Paul continued.
3 “I am a Judean from Tarsus in Cilicia but was raised in this city. I studied under Gamaliel and learned the Mosaic Law thoroughly. I was as zealous for the Preeminent Sovereign as you are today.”

4 “I persecuted those who followed this Path to their death, arresting both men and women and throwing them into prison.”

5 “The high priest and all the council of elders can testify to this. I even managed to collect letters from them to their accomplices in Damascus, expressing their intention to transport these individuals as captives to Yerushalayim for punishment.

6 “As I neared Damascus around noon, a bright light from the celestial realm suddenly shone around me.” “I fell to the ground and heard a voice say,

7 ‘Saul! Saul! Why do you persecute me?’”

8 “Who are you, Sovereign Captain?” I asked. “I am Immanuel the Nazarene, whom you are persecuting,” he replied.

9 My companions saw the light but did not understand the voice speaking to me.

10 “What shall I do, Sovereign Captain?” I asked. “Get up,” the Sovereign Captain said, “and enter Damascus. You will be told all you have been assigned to do there.”

11 The brightness of the light blinded me. My friends guided me into Damascus by holding my hand.
12 A man called Ananias came to see me; he was well-respected by all the Judeans who lived there and was a devoted follower of the Mosaic Law. He stood beside me and said, 13 “Brother Saul, receive your sight!” At that very moment, I was able to see him.

14 Then Ananias said: “The Eternal Reality of our ancestors has chosen you to know His will and to see the Chosen Redeemer and hear words from His mouth.
15 You will be His witness to all people of what you have seen and heard.”

16 “What are you waiting for now? Get up and be immersed in water: • Soak in the Eternal Spark,
• Share in the death and rebirth of the Chosen Redeemer,
• Wash away your unworthy choices, and
• Call on the Name of Immanuel.”

17 When I returned to Yerushalayim and was melding my consciousness with the Eternal Reality at the fortress, I fell into a trance. I saw the Sovereign Captain speaking to me:

18 “Quick,” he said, “Leave Yerushalayim immediately because they will not accept your testimony about me.”

19 “Sovereign Captain,” I replied, “these people know that I went from one communal place to another to imprison and beat those who trust in you.
20 And I even stood there giving consent and guarding the garments of those who were killing your witness Stephen when his blood was shed.”

21 Then the Sovereign Captain said to me, “Go; I will send you far away to the Outsiders.”

§ 28210 PAUL THE ROMAN CITIZEN

22 The assembly listened to Paul until he said this. Then, they shouted, “Eradicate this man from our world! He is unworthy of existence!”

23 Amid their uproar, they discarded their coats and threw dirt skyward.
24 The commander ordered Paul to be brought inside the military fortress and lashed for questioning to understand the crowd's outcry.
25 As they prepared to beat him, Paul asked the company commander, "Is it lawful to whip a Roman citizen who hasn't been proven guilty?"

26 Hearing this, the company commander informed the commander, asking, "What is your plan? This man is a Roman citizen."
27 The commanding officer asked Paul, "Are you a Roman?" Paul replied, "Yes."
28 The officer mentioned he paid a lot for his citizenship, but Paul said he was born a citizen.
29 Instantly, those set to question him backed away. The officer was afraid after realizing he had bound a Roman citizen.

§ 28220 PAUL BEFORE THE HIGHEST COUNCIL

30 To understand the Israelites' accusations against Paul, the commander released him the next day and summoned the high priest and council. He then presented Paul before them.

23 Looking at the Sanhedrin, Paul declared, "Brethren, before Preeminent Sovereign, I have always acted with a clear conscience."

2 The high priest Ananias ordered those near Paul to strike him.

3 Paul responded, "You judge me by the Mosaic Law, but break it by ordering my beating! The Preeminent Sovereign will strike you!"

4 Those present asked, "How dare you insult the Preeminent Sovereign's chief priest?"

5 Paul replied, "I didn't know he was the high priest. The Living Path says: 'Don't speak ill of your leader. '"

6 Knowing some were Afterlife Denialists, and some were Tradition Keepers, Paul loudly declared, "I am a Tradition Keeper, judged for my trust in the return from death."

7 These words caused a dispute between the Tradition Keepers and Afterlife Denialists, splitting the assembly.

8 The Afterlife Denialists deny the afterlife and Celestial Envoys, while the Tradition Keepers affirm them. Meanwhile, 40 conspirators vowed to abstain from food and drink until they killed him.

9 A great uproar ensued, and some Mosaic interpreters of Mosaic Law from the Tradition Keepers argued, "There's nothing wrong with this man. What if the Eternal Spark or a Celestial Envoy spoke to him?"

10 The argument became so intense that the commander feared for Paul's safety. He ordered soldiers to take Paul by force and bring him to the military fortress.

11 The next night, the Sovereign Captain appeared to Paul and said, “Be brave! Just as you testified for me in Yerushalayim, you must do so in Rome.”

§ 28230 THE PLOT TO KILL PAUL

12 A gang of Israelites planned at dawn, deciding not to eat or drink anything until they had executed Paul.
13 Over forty individuals joined this plot.
14 They approached the high priest and elders, declaring, “We have sworn an oath to eat nothing until we have slain Paul.”

15 “You and the council should request the commander to bring him to you, pretending to investigate his case further. We are ready to kill him before he arrives.”
16 Paul’s nephew learned of the ambush, entered the military fortress, and informed Paul.
17 Paul summoned an officer, instructing him to take the young man to the commanding officer with important news. The officer escorted him to the commander.

18 The company commander said, “Paul, the captive, asked me to bring this young man to you as he has information.”
19 The officer took the young man aside and asked, “What do you want to tell me?”
20-21 “Several Israelites intend to request that you bring Paul before the Sanhedrin tomorrow because they require additional information,” he retorted. I do not agree, for over forty are waiting to ambush him. They have sworn not to eat or drink until they have killed him. They are ready and waiting for your consent.”
22 The commander dismissed the youth, warning him, “Do not tell anyone that you have given me this information.”

§ 28240 PAUL TRANSFERRED TO CAESAREA

23 He summoned two ranking officers and ordered them to prepare a unit of two hundred footmen, seventy assault forces, and two hundred light foot soldiers to depart for Caesarea at the third hour of the night.
24 “Arrange tactical personnel transports for Paul and ensure his safe delivery to Governor Felix.”
25 He wrote a letter as follows:
26 “Claudius Lysias sends greetings to the esteemed Governor Felix.”
27 “The Israelites seized this man to kill him. Learning he was a Roman citizen, I intervened with my soldiers. I ensured his safety.”

28 “To understand the charges, I took him to their council.”
29 “I found the allegations were about their Law, with no charge deserving death or imprisonment.”
30 “Upon hearing of a conspiracy against him, I sent him to you and instructed his accusers to present their charges before you.”
31 Following orders, the soldiers escorted Paul through the night to Antipatris.
32 The next day, they allowed the escorts to proceed with him while they returned to the fort.
33 Upon arriving in Caesarea, the escorts handed the letter to the governor and presented it to Paul.

34 After reading the letter, the governor asked about his origins and learned he was from Cilicia.
35 “I will hear your case when your accusers arrive,” he said, ordering Paul to be kept under surveillance in Herod’s residence.

§ 28250 PAUL’S TRIAL BEFORE FELIX

24 Five days later, the chief priest Ananias, some elders, and a legal advocate, Tertullus, went to Caesarea to present their accusations against Paul before the governor.
2 Summoned, Tertullus began: “Under your governance, we have enjoyed peace, and your foresight has brought beneficial changes to our nation.”
3 “We acknowledge this with gratitude everywhere, most honorable Felix.”
4 “To not take more of your time, I ask for a brief hearing.”
5 “This man is a troublemaker, inciting unrest among Israelites worldwide, and is a Chief Instigator of the Nazarene faction.”
6 “He tried to desecrate the exalted fortress, so we arrested him to judge him by our directives.”

7 “But Lysias, the sergeant, intervened forcefully, taking him from us and ordering his accusers to come before you.”
8 “You can verify our claims by examining him yourself.”
9 The Judean crowd agreed, affirming the accusations.
10 When the governor signaled Paul to speak, he said: “Knowing you have judged this nation for many years, I am glad to defend myself.”
11 “You can verify that it was only twelve days ago I went to Yerushalayim to express joyful adoration.”
12 “My accusers did not witness me engaging in conflict with anyone or creating a commotion within the fortress or gathering areas.”
13 “They cannot prove their accusations against me.”
14 “I admit I serve the Preeminent Sovereign of our ancestors according to what they call a sect, ‘the lifestyle. ’ I trust everything in the Mosaic Law and the Wisdom of the eternally wise servants.”
15 “I share the same trust in the Preeminent Sovereign as these men, that there will be a return from the death of both the authentic and the evil.”
16 “So, I strive always to keep a clear conscience before the Preeminent Sovereign and people.”
17 “After many years away, I returned to Yerushalayim to bring aid and offer absolving payments.”
18 “They found me purified in the fortress without a crowd or disturbance.”
19 “Some Israelites from Asia should be here to accuse me if they have anything against me.”
20 “Or let these men state what crime they found when I stood before the council.”
21 Except for this statement I made: ‘I am on trial for my trust in the return from the death of the dead. ’”

22 Felix, familiar with the way, adjourned the trial until Lysias, the commander, arrived.
23 He ordered Paul to be guarded but allowed some freedom and visits from friends.
24 A few days later, Felix and his Judean wife Drusilla summoned Paul to hear about trust in the Chosen Redeemer.
25 Discussing integrity, self-control, and impending judgment made Felix fearful. He said, “That’s enough for now! You may leave. I’ll call you when it’s convenient.”
26 He hoped Paul would offer a bribe, so he frequently sent for him.

27 After two years, Porcius Festus succeeded Felix. Wanting to please the Israelites, Felix left Paul imprisoned.

§ 28260 PAUL'S TRIAL BEFORE FESTUS

25 After arriving in the province, Festus journeyed to Yerushalayim from Caesarea after three days.
2 The high priest and the religious elders of the Israelites convened before him, furnishing their accusations against Paul.
3 They pleaded with Festus, as a courtesy to them, to arrange for Paul's relocation to Yerushalayim, as they had set a trap to assassinate him during the journey.
4 Festus responded that Paul was under guard in Caesarea and intended to depart there shortly.
5 "A few of your authoritative figures should accompany me. If there's any misconduct on the man's part, they can file a lawsuit against him at that location."
6 After staying with them for eight to ten days, Festus proceeded to Caesarea. On the following day, he held a court session and requested that Paul be presented in front of him.

7 On Paul's arrival, the Judean leaders from Yerushalayim encircled him. They leveled numerous severe accusations against him, which they failed to substantiate.
8 Paul presented his rebuttal: "My actions have wronged neither the Judean Law, fortress, nor Caesar."
9 To cater to the Israelites, Festus asked Paul, "Would you be inclined to ascend to Yerushalayim and face me in a judicial proceeding regarding these allegations there?"
10 Paul responded: "I am in front of Caesar's tribunal, where my case should be heard. I haven't committed any offenses against the Israelites, a fact you are entirely aware of."
11 "If I have indeed committed a crime deserving of death, I won't attempt to escape such fate. However, if the accusations these Israelites have levied against me are without merit, no one possesses the authority to surrender me to them; I demand a trial before Caesar!"
12 After discussing this with his advisors, Festus proclaimed, "You have sought out Caesar. So, to Caesar, you shall proceed!"

§ 28270 FESTUS CONSULTS THE PRIME RULER AGRIPPA

13 "Prime Ruler Agrippa and Bernice visited Caesarea to express their regard for Festus."
14 "During their stay, Festus discussed Paul's case with the Prime Ruler, noting that Felix had left a man in custody."
15 "In Yerushalayim, the Judean high priest and elders accused him, seeking his conviction."
16 "I told them Romans don't hand over individuals without a trial where they can face their accusers."
17 "I quickly arranged a court session the next day and presented the man."
18 "The accusers didn't bring the expected charges."

19 "Instead, they debated religious beliefs involving a deceased man named Immanuel, whom Paul claimed was alive."
20 "Unsure how to handle this, I asked if he'd go to Yerushalayim for trial."

21 “Paul requested to be held for the Prime Ruler’s decision, so I detained him until I could send him to Caesar.”
22 “Agrippa wanted to hear Paul himself. Festus agreed, promising it the next day.”

§ 28280 PAUL BEFORE AGRIPPA

23 The next day, Agrippa and Bernice, accompanied by military leaders and prominent city figures, arrived with great pomp. On Festus’ order, Paul was brought in.
24 Festus announced: “Prime Ruler Agrippa, and all present, observe this man! The entire Judean populace, both in Yerushalayim and here in Caesarea, has demanded that Paul should not live.
25 I found no crime deserving death; however, since he appealed to the Prime Ruler, I decided to send him to Rome.
26 I need specific charges to send with him. Therefore, I present him before you, Prime Ruler Agrippa, hoping this examination will provide material for my report.
27 It seems unreasonable to send a prisoner without specifying the accusations.”

26 Agrippa told Paul, “You may speak for yourself.” Paul then raised his hand and began his defense.
2 “Prime Ruler Agrippa, I am grateful to defend myself today against all accusations by the Israelites.
3 Since you are well-versed in Judean customs and controversies, I ask for your patience.”
4 “All Israelites know my life from childhood, both in my homeland and Yerushalayim.

5 Those who have known me can testify that I lived as a Tradition Keeper, the strictest sect of our religion.”
6 “The Preeminent Sovereign’s promise to our ancestors puts me on trial for my hope.
7 Our twelve communities serve the Preeminent Sovereign day and night, hoping to see this promise fulfilled. The Israelites accuse me because of this hope, Prime Ruler Agrippa.”
8 “Why should any of you consider it incredible that a Preeminent Sovereign raises the dead?”

9 “I once thought I should oppose the name of Immanuel of Nazareth.
10 In Yerushalayim, with the high priest’s authority, I imprisoned many pathseekers of the Sovereign Captain. When they were executed, I cast my vote against them.”
11 “I punished them in every communal place and tried to force them to blaspheme. My obsession led me to persecute them even in foreign cities.”
12 “On one such mission to Damascus, with authority from the leading priests,
13 around noon, Prime Ruler Agrippa, “I saw a light surrounding me and my companions, coming from the celestial realms and brighter than the sun.”
14 As soon as we all hit the ground, I heard someone speaking in Hebrew exclaim, “Saul, Saul, why are you murdering me?” You find it difficult to kick the pricks.
15 “I asked, ‘Who are you, Sovereign Captain?’ ‘I am Immanuel, whom you are persecuting, ’ the Sovereign Captain replied.
16 “Now, get up and stand.” I have come to declare you as a colleague and a testifier of what you have seen and will see of Me.
17 I will rescue you from your own people and the outsiders to whom I am sending you.

18 I will open their eyes to help people see clearly, turning them from confusion to clarity-away from the Adversary’ s power to the Preeminent Sovereign so that they may embrace forgiveness of unworthy choices and be joined into a community of trust-driven individuals. ’”

19 “So, Prime Ruler Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the celestial vision.”
20 “First to those in Damascus, then in Yerushalayim and all Judea, and then to the outsiders, I proclaimed that they should change your ways of living and turn to the Preeminent Sovereign and demonstrate their life transformation by their deeds.”
21 “That is why some Israelites seized me in the fortress courts and tried to kill me.”
22 “But with the help of the Preeminent Sovereign, I stand here today testifying to both small and great alike. I am saying nothing beyond what Moses and the eternally wise servants said would happen—
23 that the Ensovereigned One would suffer and rise from the dead first to bring light to his people and the outsiders.”
24 At this point, Festus interrupted Paul’s defense. “Paul, you are out of your mind!” he shouted. “Your great learning is driving you insane!”

25 Paul answered, “Most excellent, Festus; I am not insane.” “What I’m saying is reasonable and genuine.”
26 Since the Prime Ruler knows these matters, I can communicate with him openly. Since nothing was done in a corner, I’m positive he has noticed everything.
27 Prime Ruler Agrippa, do you trust in the eternally wise servants? I know you do.”
28 Agrippa asked Paul, “Do you think that in such a short time you can persuade me to be a pathseeker of the New Humanity?”
29 Paul replied, “Short time or long—I make an intervention with the Preeminent Sovereign that not only you but all who are listening to me today may become what I am, except for these restraints.”

30 The Prime Ruler, Bernice, and those sitting with them got up and left.
31 They talked among themselves and said, “This man is not doing anything that deserves death or imprisonment.”
32 Agrippa told Festus, “This man could have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar.”

§ 28290 PAUL SAILS FOR ROME

27 Paul and other inmates were entrusted to Julius, a company commander in the Prime Ruler’s division, for their journey to Italy.
2 They boarded a ship from Adramyttium heading towards Asian province harbors, accompanied by Aristarchus from Thessalonica.
3 The next day, they docked at Sidon, where Julius allowed Paul to visit friends who catered to his needs.
4 They continued, skirting Cyprus due to unfavorable winds.
5 Navigating the open sea by Cilicia and Pamphylia, they reached Myra in Lycia.
6 There, Julius found an Alexandrian ship bound for Italy and transferred them onto it.
7 Progress was slow and challenging due to wind resistance, leading them to navigate under Crete near Salmone.
8 They reached Fair Havens near Lasea with significant effort.
9 As sailing conditions became perilous post-Day of Atonement, Paul warned of the journey’s dangers and potential losses.
10 “Men, I can see that our journey will be replete with misfortune and significant loss, not just to the ship and its contents but also to our own lives.”

11 However, Julius trusted the ship’s pilot and owner over Paul’s advice.

[12] The majority favored sailing to Phoenix in Crete to winter there, as the current port was unsuitable.

§ 28300 THE STORM

[13] Seizing a favorable moment when a mild southern breeze began, they raised the anchor and navigated along Crete's coast.
[14] Soon, a violent Northeaster gusted with hurricane intensity.
[15] The storm seized the vessel, and unable to face the wind, we surrendered and were swept away.
[16] We barely secured the lifeboat under the shelter of a tiny island called Cauda.
[17] The sailors used ropes to support the ship; fearing Syrtis' sandbars, they lowered the sea anchor and were forced along.
[18] The storm violently tossed us, leading to scraping the freight the next day.
[19] On the third day, they discarded the ship's equipment into the sea.
[20] After days without sun or stars and the storm's persistent fury, all hope of survival was relinquished.
[21] Following their long abstinence from food, Paul rose and declared: "Gentlemen, you should have heeded my counsel against departing from Crete; you would have averted this destruction and loss."
[22] "Now, remain confident, for there will be no loss of life among you; only the vessel will succumb."
[23] "A Celestial Envoy of the Preeminent Sovereign, to whom I am devoted and serve, appeared to me last night."
[24] He proclaimed, 'Paul, there's no need for fear. You must appear before Caesar, and by the Preeminent Sovereign's kindness, all your shipmates have been granted their lives. '

[25] "So, men, remain positive, for I trust in the Preeminent Sovereign that the outcome will be as he precisely disclosed to me."
[26] "However, we are destined to run the ship on the beach of a specific island."

§ 28310 THE SHIPWRECK

[27] On the fourteenth night, the seafarers sensed land was near as we were tossed in the Adriatic Sea.
[28] Depth measurements showed 120 feet, then 90 feet shortly after.
[29] Fearing rocks, they dropped four anchors from the rear and waited for daylight.
[30] The mariners lowered the dinghy, pretending to set anchors from the front.
[31] Paul warned the company commander and troops, "Without these men on board, survival is impossible."
[32] The troops cut the lifeboat cords, letting it drift away.
[33] Paul urged everyone to eat, saying, "For two weeks, you've been anxious and haven't eaten."
[34] "Eat for your survival; not a hair will be lost."
[35] He took bread, thanked the Eternal Reality, broke it, and ate.
[36] everyone was uplifted and ate.
[37] There were 276 people on the ship.
[38] After eating, they lightened the ship by throwing wheat into the sea.

39 They saw a sandy beach at dawn but didn't recognize the land. They aimed to run the ship ashore.
40 They cut anchor cords, released steering paddle lines, raised the front sail, and headed for shore.

41 The ship hit a shoal and stuck; waves broke the stern apart.
42 Soldiers planned to kill prisoners to prevent escape.
43 The company commander, wanting to save Paul, stopped them and ordered swimmers to go first.
44 The rest used boards or ship fragments to reach the shore. All arrived safely.

§ 28320 PAUL ASHORE ON MALTA

28 After safely reaching land, we discovered the island was called Malta.
2 The natives showed extraordinary hospitality, lighting a bonfire and welcoming us warmly despite the rain and cold.
3 As Paul gathered sticks and placed them on the fire, the heat drove a poisonous snake out, biting his hand.
4 Seeing the snake hanging from his hand, the islanders said, "This man must be a killer; though he escaped the sea, the idolized deity of justice has not allowed him to live."
5 But Paul shook the snake into the fire and suffered no harm.
6 The people expected him to swell up or drop dead. They changed their minds and declared him a deity when a protracted period passed, and nothing strange happened to him.
7 Nearby was an estate belonging to Publius, the island's chief official. He welcomed us into his home and showed us generous hospitality for three days.
8 His father was sick in bed, suffering from fever and dysentery. Paul went to see him, and after melding his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, he laid his hands on him and healed him.
9 After this, the rest of the sick on the island came and were cured.
10 They honored us in many ways and provided us with everything we needed when we were ready to sail.

§ 28330 PAUL'S ARRIVAL AT ROME

11 We sailed on an Alexandrian ship adorned with the celestial twins Castor and Pollux that had spent the winter on the island after a three-month trip.
12 We arrived in Syracuse and stayed for three days.
13 We then sailed to Rhegium. The next day, a southerly wind helped us reach Puteoli.
14 There, we met some people of trust who invited us to stay for seven days. After this, we continued to Rome.
15 Upon our arrival, people of trust who had heard about our journey came to greet us from as far as the Appian Marketplace and the Trio Inn. This ensovereigned lifestyle community filled Paul with gratitude towards the Preeminent Sovereign, and he was heartened.
16 In Rome, Paul was allowed to live alone, under the watch of a guarding soldier.

§ 28340 PAUL PROCLAIMS AT ROME UNDER GUARD

17 Three days later, Paul gathered the local Israelite leaders. He addressed them: “Brethren, though I have not violated our laws or traditions, I was apprehended in Yerushalayim and handed over to the Romans.”
18 After investigating, they intended to release me, finding no crime deserving of death.
19 “However, the Judean community objected, leading me to appeal to Caesar — not to accuse my nation.”
20 “I called you to explain that I am bound because of Israel’s hope.”
21 They replied, “We received no letters from Judea about you, nor has anyone brought negative reports.”
22 “We want to hear your views, as this faction is widely criticized.”

23 A meeting was set, drawing a larger crowd to Paul’s residence. From morning till evening, he explained the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality, using the Mosaic Law and the Wisdom of the eternally wise servants to persuade them about Immanuel.
24 Some were convinced, others disbelieved.
25 Disagreeing, they left after Paul’s final remark: “The Eternal Spark rightly spoke through Isaiah to your forefathers.”
26 “Go to these people and say: ‘You will listen but never understand; you will look but never see. ’”
27 “Their inner determination have hardened; they barely hear and have closed their eyes.
Otherwise, they might see, hear, understand, and turn, and I would heal them.” 28 “Know this: The message of celestial deliverance from the Preeminent Sovereign has been sent to the Outsiders, who will heed it!”
29 After his words, the Israelites left, debating intensely.
30 Paul lived in his rented house for two years, welcoming all visitors.
31 He boldly proclaimed the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality and spoke about the Chosen Redeemer without hindrance.

~ 206 | Inclusion | Romans

§ 28350 OUTSIDERS INCLUDED!

1 Paul, a bond-servant of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, was chosen as an emissary to convey the joyous developments of the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 His eternally wise servants wrote in the Exalted Writings and promised these optimistic developments in advance.

3 They wrote about the Eternal Reality's Heir, who, in His human existence, was born into the family of David.
4 The Eternal Spark endorsed His inner transformation and confirmed Him as the Mighty Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign, witnessed by His rebirth from the dead: the Chosen Redeemer, our Sovereign Captain.
5 Through Immanuel, we were granted transformative generosity and a calling to lead all the Outsiders toward trust-based obedience, all in His honor.
6 You, too, are among those appointed to be part of the Chosen Redeemer's following.
7 To all in Rome dearly loved by the Preeminent Sovereign and summoned to be His set-apart individuals: May favor from the Eternal Reality and His tranquility be on you from the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver, and our Eternal Sovereign Captain.

§ 28360 PAUL'S LONGING TO VISIT ROME

8 I thank my Preeminent Sovereign through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, for everyone, as the news of your trust is spreading globally.
9 The One to whom I express joyful adoration with my inner-self by disseminating His Heir's joyous developments—the Preeminent Sovereign—is aware of how often I think of you.
10 At all moments, I hold you in the meldings of my consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, fervently requesting that, if it aligns with the Preeminent Sovereign's intention, an opportunity would finally arise for me to visit you.
11 I earnestly desire to share celestial empowerment to fortify your trust.
12 Our trust will be a source of mutual inspiration, both yours and mine.
13 I want you to know that I have frequently planned to visit you and my siblings in trust. However, circumstances have consistently obstructed this until now. I aim to reap inner results among you, similar to what I have achieved among other Outsider communities.

14 I am responsible for the educated Greeks and the unlearned, rational, and simple-minded alike.
15 I'm excited and prepared to proclaim the joyous developments in Rome.
16 I feel no embarrassment in proclaiming the improved progressions, for it acts as the Preeminent Sovereign's potent mechanism of imparting redemption to all who have trust: initially to the Judeans and subsequently to the non-Jews.
17 The joyous developments unveil the integrity of the Preeminent Sovereign— integrity established through unwavering trust from beginning to end, in line with what is inscribed: "The authentic shall sustain their life by trust."

§ 28370 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S WRATH AGAINST AN OLD HUMANITY FULL OF U

18 The Preeminent Sovereign's wrath is disclosed from the celestial realms against humanity's depravity and impurity, suppressing ultimate authenticity through their inhumanity.
19 The knowledge of the Preeminent Sovereign is evident to them, for He has disclosed it to them.
20 Since the world's inception, the unseen aspects of the Preeminent Sovereign— His everlasting might and celestial essence—have been discernible and comprehended through His outcomes, leaving individuals without defense or justification.
21 Despite knowing the Preeminent Sovereign, they did not honor Him as the Eternal Reality or express gratitude; instead, their thoughts became worthless, and their senseless inner-selves were plunged into darkness.
22 Claiming wisdom, they became fools.
23 They traded the splendor of the everlasting Preeminent Sovereign for images of humans, birds, beasts, and reptiles.
24 So, the Preeminent Sovereign surrendered them to unworthy choices and cravings, leading to sexual impurity and mutual degradation of their bodies.

25 They exchanged the Preeminent Sovereign's reality for deception, worshipping creation instead of the Eternal Innovator who deserves constant adoration. So be it!
26 As a result, the Preeminent Sovereign surrendered them to disgraceful passions. Their females altered their natural sexual roles to unnatural ones.
27 Similarly, men disregarded their biological sexual function with women and were engulfed with desire for each other, performing indecent actions and enduring appropriate payback for their misconduct.
28 Since they didn't consider it essential to maintain awareness of the Preeminent Sovereign, He allowed them to suffer from a corrupt mind, leading them to perform impure acts.
29 Injustice, meanness, selfishness, corruption, jealousy, homicide, conflict, deception, and spitefulness dominate them. They spread rumors.
30 They talk ill of others, despise the Eternal Reality, are disrespectful, overbearing, full of self-importance, continuously conceive plans to do wrong and show no obedience to their ancestors.
31 They lack discernment and are untrustworthy, affection-less, and unmerciful.
32 Despite knowing the Preeminent Sovereign's integrid proclamation that such activities deserve death, they persistently engage in transgressions and endorse those who commit similar acts.

§ 28380 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S INTEGRID JUDGMENT

2 Those who judge others are without excuse: You condemn yourself because you do the same things.
2 The Preeminent Sovereign's judgment on corrupt individuals is grounded in ultimate authenticity.
3 If you condemn others but do the same, do you think you will escape the Eternal Reality?
4 Are you ignoring His compassion, leniency, and tolerance, not realizing that His transformative generosity wipes away your transgression?

5 Your stubbornness and defiance accumulate celestial indignation for the day of His anger when His fair judgment will be disclosed.
6 The Preeminent Sovereign will reward or punish each individual based on their actions.
7 Eternal life will be given to those who seek honor, respect, and Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign through steadfast diligence in doing good.
8 However, self-interested people who reject ultimate authenticity and embrace impurity will face His outrage and anger.
9 everyone who commits corrupt deeds, first the Judeans, then the Outsiders, will encounter adversity and anguish.
10 Honor, admiration, and tranquility will be given to all who act purely, first to the Judeans, then to the Outsiders.
11 The Preeminent Sovereign does not show favoritism.
12 Those who transgress without knowledge of the Mosaic Law will perish without it, and the Mosaic Law will judge those who transgress under it.
13 It's not those who merely listen to the Mosaic Law who are deemed fit in His eyes, but those who practice it who will be proclaimed honorable.
14 When individuals from outsider backgrounds follow the Mosaic Law instinctively, they embody it within themselves, even without formal Law.
15 The directives of the Mosaic Law are inscribed within their inner-selves, with their consciences attesting to this and their inner reflections alternately accusing or defending themselves.
16 This judgment will occur when the Preeminent Sovereign judges people's hidden thoughts through the Chosen Redeemer, as proclaimed in His joyous developments.

§ 28390 THE ISRAELITES AND THE MOSAICAL LAW

17 If you identify as a Judean, trust the Mosaic Law and take pride in your relationship with the Preeminent Sovereign.
18 Educated through the Mosaic Law, you understand His desires and can discern what is ideal.
19 If you trust yourself to be a guide for the blind, a light for those in darkness,
20 a guide for the senseless, and an educator of young ones because you have wisdom and ultimate authenticity in the Mosaic Law—
21 you who guide others, do you teach yourself? As you advocate against theft, do you steal?
22 Do you commit extra-marital affairs while forbidding them? Do you plunder shrines while despising idolized figurines?
23 Do you, who take pride in the Mosaic Law, disgrace the Preeminent Sovereign by failing to adhere to it?
24 The Living Word states, "Due to your actions, the Name of Preeminent Sovereign is being twisted among the Outsiders."
25 Circumcision is meaningful if you adhere to the Mosaic Law. Yet, if you disregard it, it is as if you were never circumcised.

26 Will a man who is not circumcised be considered circumcised if he complies with legal requirements?
27 You who possess the written code and undergo circumcision, yet violate the Mosaic Law, will face condemnation by the one who, though not circumcised, fulfills it.
28 Being a Judean is not about mere external appearance, and authentic circumcision is not just a physical act.
29 Indeed, an individual is genuinely a Judean if they are one at inner-self. Real circumcision involves the inner-self, conducted by the Eternal Spark, and does not follow the written Law. This individual seeks approval not from fellow humans but from the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 28400 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S TRUSTWORTHINESS

3 What advantage is there in being Judean or in undergoing circumcision?
2 Many! Chiefly, the Preeminent Sovereign's teachings were first entrusted to the Israelites.
3 If some were not loyal, does their disloyalty nullify the Preeminent Sovereign's loyalty?
4 Absolutely not! Let all men be liars, and the Preeminent Sovereign be the only truth-teller. As it is written: "So You, the Eternal Reality, will be validated when You speak and triumphant when You make judgments."

5 If our transgressions highlight the Preeminent Sovereign's integrity, is it wrong for Him to vent His anger on us? (I speak in human terms.)
6 Not at all! How could the Preeminent Sovereign judge the world if that were the case?
7 If my lie enhances His honesty and increases His acclaim, why am I still judged as full of transgressions?
8 Why not say—as some falsely claim we do—that we should commit wrong to bring about good? Those who make such statements deserve condemnation.

§ 28410 NO ONE IS INTEGRID

9 So, what's our final verdict? Do we possess any superiority? Not so! We've already established that both Israelites and Outsiders are subject to unworthy choices.
10 As the Living Word states: "No individual is authentic, absolutely none!
11 No individual truly comprehends; no inner-self searches for the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 everyone has deviated from the path; collectively, they have become futile; not a single individual performs authentic deeds, absolutely none."

13 "Their talk is offensive, like the stench from an open grave. They consistently resort to corrupt means. Venom just like that of a viper resides beneath their lips."
14 "Their speech is saturated with abuse and resentment."
15 "They sprint to commit murder;
16 destruction and misfortune are the characteristics of their journey;
17 they are unaware of the path to tranquility."
18 "The Preeminent Sovereign's dread is not within their perception."

19 We now understand that the Mosaic Law applies to those subject to it, allowing the Preeminent Sovereign to silence all voices and hold everyone accountable.

20 So, no one will be justified in His eyes by following the letter of the Mosaic Law. Because the Mosaic Law only serves to highlight transgression.

§ 28420 INTEGRITY WITH THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN THROUGH TRUST

21 The Preeminent Sovereign has disclosed His integrity, which stands independent of the Mosaic Law. Yet, the Mosaic Law and the Wisdom of the eternally wise servants affirm it.
22 This relationship with the Preeminent Sovereign is through trust in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, available to all who trust, whether Judean or Outsider.
23 everyone has made unworthy choices and falls short of the Preeminent Sovereign's greatness.
24 All are graciously acknowledged as corrected and integrid by His transformative generosity through Immanuel's redemption.
25 The Preeminent Sovereign embodied Immanuel as an absolving payment through His lifeblood, accepted through trust, demonstrating His integrity by overlooking past unworthy choices.

26 He shed this lifeblood to prove His compliance with justice, legitimizing and vindicating those who trust Immanuel.
27 Self-glorification has no place; it's all about trust.
28 Integrity with the Eternal Reality comes through trust, not legalistic directives.
29 The Preeminent Sovereign is not just for Israelites but also for Outsiders.
30 One Supreme Eternal Reality establishes integrity for both groups through trust.
31 This trust supports the Mosaic Law rather than invalidating it.

§ 28430 ABRAHAM JUSTIFIED BY TRUST

4 What did our ancestor Abraham discover in this context?
2 If Abraham gained integrity through deeds, he could boast, but not before the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 The exalted writings state, "Abraham trusted the Preeminent Sovereign, and this trust was recognized as his right relation."
4 For those who work for a paycheck, their earnings are a duty owed, not a favor.
5 However, for those who trust the Preeminent Sovereign (who declares the corrupt clean), their trust is a lifestyle of integrity.
6 David speaks of the delight of a person whom the Preeminent Sovereign credits as the right relation, regardless of their actions.
7 "How joyful are those whose disobedience is pardoned, and unworthy choices are hidden?
8 The Sovereign Captain does not hold the individual's transgressions against them, which makes them fortunate."

9 Is this bliss only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised who misaligned with the solemn agreement between Abraham and Yahweh? As emphasized, Abraham's trust was integrity with the Eternal Reality.
10 When was this acknowledged? After his circumcision or before? It was before!

11 Abraham's circumcision was a symbol of ultimate authenticity he had through trust, even while uncircumcised. So, Abraham is the forerunner of all who trust yet remain uncircumcised so they may have integrity with the Eternal Reality.
12 He is also the patriarch of those circumcised, not just by the act but by adhering to the path of conviction walked by Abraham before his circumcision.
13 The assurance that Abraham and his descendants would inherit the Earth came through trust-derived integrity, not adherence to Mosaic Law.
14 If legal regulations make inheritors, the trust holds no value, and the promise is void.
15 Mosaic Law leads to anger; without it, there is no violation.
16 The promise is received through trust, ensuring it is a gift from the Eternal Reality to all Abraham's descendants, not just those abiding by Mosaic Law but also those with Abraham's trust. He is our inner parent.
17 As depicted in the Living Word: "I have appointed you as the forerunner of numerous nations." He is our patriarch in the eyes of the Preeminent Sovereign, in whom he trusted—the Eternal Reality who revives the deceased and summons into existence what does not yet exist.
18 Against all odds, Abraham trusted hope, becoming the forerunner of countless nations as per the Eternal Reality's proclamation, "This is how numerous your descendants will be."
19 His trust did not waver despite his nearly lifeless body at almost a hundred years and Sarah's barren womb.
20 He never doubted the Preeminent Sovereign's promise; instead, his trust grew stronger, and he praised the Preeminent Sovereign.
21 Abraham was confident that the Preeminent Sovereign could fulfill His pledge.
22 That's why the Preeminent Sovereign regarded his trust as his approval basis.

23 The phrase "it was accredited to him" was not just for his benefit.
24 It also applies to us who trust the one who brought our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain back from death. The Preeminent Sovereign will also consider integrity for us.
25 Immanuel died for our transgressions and was resurrected to establish our integrity.

§ 28440 PEACE AND HOPE

5 Being made integrid through our trust, we experience enduring tranquility with the Preeminent Sovereign, thanks to our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
2 Through our trust in Him, we have been led into this state of favor from the Eternal Reality in which we are firmly established. We rejoice in the confident expectation of experiencing the Preeminent Sovereign's majesty in our new lives.
3 We also take pride in our hardships, understanding that adversity fosters resilience.
4 Endurance fosters a well-formed character, and such a character generates hope.
5 Hope will not let us down, as the affection of the Preeminent Sovereign has been abundantly dispensed into our inner-selves through the Eternal Spark, a gift given to us.
6 Immanuel gave His life for the unauthentic at the ideal moment when we were still helpless.
7 It is rare for someone to lay down their life for an honorable individual, though someone might muster the courage to do so for a genuinely good person.
8 The magnitude of the Preeminent Sovereign's genuine affection for us is evident in this act: Even while we were entrenched in unworthy choices, Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain offered His life for our sake.

9 Now that we have been endowed with a right relation through the absolving payment of His blood, we can be even more confident in our redemption from celestial retribution through Him.

10 Even when we clashed with the Preeminent Sovereign, He brought us back through His Heir's demise. Imagine, no longer at odds! How much more we will be enhanced due to His Heir's indwelling living presence!
11 Beyond this, we take great pride in the Preeminent Sovereign. Because of our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, it is through Him that we've now experienced reconciliation.

§ 28450 DEATH THROUGH ADAM, LIFE THROUGH THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

12 Transgressions entered the world through one man, bringing mortality, and all experienced death due to their unworthy choices.
13 Transgressions existed before legal directives, but accountability for violations requires laws.
14 Death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those who hadn't transgressed like Adam, who symbolizes the forthcoming One.
15 The generous offering differs from the offense. If many perished due to one man's transgression, the Preeminent Sovereign's mercy and Immanuel's generous gift overflowed to many more.
16 The Preeminent Sovereign's providence contrasts with one man's transgression: One unworthy choice led to wrath for all, but the generous gift followed many worthless choices and resulted in pardon.
17 Those receiving abundant transformative generosity and the gift of integrity will triumph in life through Immanuel, despite death reigning through another man's trespass.
18 One transgression led to judgment for all, but one act of relationship absolving led to justification and a new lifestyle for all humanity.
19 One man's disobedience led to corruption, but one man's obedience will lead to integrity with the Eternal Reality for many.

20 The Mosaic Law amplified transgression. Yet, the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity magnified where unworthy choices flourished, 21 so transformative generosity might rule through a fixed relationship and grant Eternal Life through Immanuel, our Sovereign Captain, just as worthless choices reigned in death.

§ 28460 DEAD TO UNWORTHY CHOICES, ALIVE IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

6 How should we respond? Should we continue in wrongful actions to increase favor from the Eternal Reality?
2 Absolutely not! We are dead to wrongdoing; how can we live in it?
3 "Don't you know that being immersed in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, means we were also buried with Him?"
4 We were entombed with Him through immersion into mortality so that just as the Life-Giver's majesty resurrected the Chosen Redeemer, we too might experience a new existence.
5 If we share in His death, we will also share in His rebirth.

6 Our former selves were nailed to an execution stake with Him, eliminating the power of unworthy choices within us. We are no longer captives of unworthy deeds.
7 A dead person is freed from unworthy choices,
8 trusting that we will also be Alive with Him if we have been executed with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
9 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, having been resurrected, will not face death again; He is no longer under death's control.
10 In His death, He conquered transgressions once and for all. Now, His Life is dedicated to the Preeminent Sovereign.
11 Similarly, consider yourselves unresponsive to unworthy choices but awakened to the Preeminent Sovereign through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

12 Do not let unworthy choices control your body, making you succumb to its cravings.
13 Do not offer any part of yourself to unworthy choices as a tool for evil deeds; instead, commit yourselves to the Preeminent Sovereign as those reborn from death to life. Empower all aspects of your being to Him as tools for authentic acts.
14 Unworthy choices will not rule over you because the Mosaic Law does not bind you. You now live within the freedom of the Preeminent Sovereign's favor.

§ 28470 ENSLAVED PEOPLE TO INTEGRITY WITH THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

15 What does this imply? Should we commit wrongdoing because mercy, not the Mosaic Law, binds us? Not so!
16 When you submit to someone as a subservient enslaved person, you are bonded to the one you serve—whether you propose unworthy choices, which culminates in death, or to compliance, which results in honorable integrity.
17 Gratitude be to Preeminent Sovereign that, although you were once in bondage to unworthy choices, you have sincerely followed the path now deeply rooted in your inner-selves.
18 Now, you are liberated from the clutches of unworthy choices and have become coworkers on the path of integrity with the Eternal Reality.
19 I'm employing a simple analogy due to your human constraints. You previously dedicated yourselves as servants to impurity and escalating impurity. Now, dedicate yourselves to a corrected relationship with the Preeminent Sovereign, which results in purification.
20 When unworthy choices had dominion over your life, there was no obligation to be within integrity with the Preeminent Sovereign.
21 What advantage did you gain then from actions that you regret now? The outcome of such deeds is mortality!

22 As you've been liberated from unworthy choices and turned into coworkers of the Preeminent Sovereign, you attain inner purity as a reward, ultimately generating Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
23 The reward for transgression is mortality. However, the generous offering from the Preeminent Sovereign is Eternal Life through our Rescuer, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 28480 RELEASED FROM THE MANDATE, BOUND TO THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

7 “Are you not, my fellow citizens of the New Humanity, since I am addressing those who understand the Mosaic Law, that its power applies to an individual only as long as they are alive?”
2 “A wife is obligated to her spouse for as long as he lives; however, if he passes away, she is freed from the Mosaic Law that bound her to him.”
3 “So, if she becomes involved with another individual while her spouse is still living, she would be branded as a woman engaging in extramarital infidelities. However, if her husband dies, that rule no longer binds her. She won’t be labeled a woman engaging in extramarital infidelities if she chooses to wed another man.”
4 “In the same manner, people of the New Humanity, you too have passed away to the Mosaic Law by being nailed to an execution stake in the body of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer. So now, your allegiance is to another, specifically, the One who was resurrected so that we can yield fruits for the Preeminent Sovereign.”
5 “While we existed in our earthly, carnal state, the hurtful cravings that the Mosaic Law incited within us were actively functioning, leading us to yield results destined for demise.”
6 “Having died to what previously confined us, we have become liberated from the Mosaic Law, enabling us to serve in the revitalized way of the Eternal Spark instead of the old-fashioned manner of the written Law.”

§ 28490 THE MANDATE AND UNWORTHY CHOICES

7 So, what are we implying? Is the Mosaic Law flawed? By no means! Yet, I wouldn’t have understood the authentic nature of unworthy choices without the Mosaic Law. Indeed, the Mosaic Law illustrated what it means to crave, as it clearly stated, “You must not crave.”

8 However, exploiting the Mosaic Law’s chance, my transgression stimulated all forms of craving in me. In the absence of directives, wrongdoing was nonexistent.

9 There was a time when I lived without knowledge of the Mosaic Law. But, when I understood the directive’s significance, the unworthy choice came raging alive, and I faced death.

10 I discovered that the exact edict meant to impart life resulted in demise.

11 Unworthy choices exploited the opportunity the rule book provided, tricked me and used it to terminate my existence.

12 The Mosaic Law is supposedly exalted, and the directive is set-apart, upright, and beneficial.

13 Did that, which is excellent, then turn into my demise? Of course not! But the Mosaic Law produced death in me by exposing my worthless choices as overwhelmingly bankrupt.

14 The Mosaic Law originates from the inner realm; however, I am carnal, enslaved under the control of unworthy choices.

15 I am baffled by my actions, as I often fail to do what I wish to, and instead, I do things that I despise.

16 When I commit actions I do not wish to, I still affirm the intrinsic good of the laws.

17 Indeed, it is not me who performs such actions; the unworthy choice resides within me.

18 I know I have no inherent goodness—in my wrongdoing, my total of unworthy choices. While I aspire to behave correctly, I deplorably need help performing this way.

19 The positive action I wish to accomplish remains undone. Yet, I persist in perpetrating the adverse action I strive to avoid.

20 Suppose I end up performing actions I do not desire to commit. In that case, it's not me carrying them out, but rather the unworthy choice embedded within me.

21 I have discerned this principle: Even though I intend to act rightly, malice is ever present within me.

22 I delight in the Mosaic Law of the Preeminent Sovereign deep within my core.

23 However, I discern a different principle operating within me, battling against the rule of my mind and trapping me in the dominion of the unworthy choice that controls my inner being.

24 How miserable I am! Who will free me from this life that is dominated by unworthy choice and death?

25 Thanks be to the Preeminent Sovereign, who sets me free through our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer! In my mindset, I am devoted to the Mosaic Law of Preeminent Sovereign. Still, I remain chained to the rule of unworthy choices in my flawed nature-set.

§ 28500 NEW LIFE THROUGH THE ETERNAL SPARK

8 No condemnation exists for those united with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
2 Through Him, the Life-giving Eternal Spark liberates you from the control of unworthy choices and demise. The Preeminent Sovereign addressed the Mosaic Law's limitations by sending His Heir, Immanuel, born human, full of worthy choices, to redeem Humanity.

3 He judged and defeated unworthy choices within human nature,
4 so the Mosaic Law's obligations might be fulfilled in us, guided by the Eternal Spark.

5 Carnal cravings drive some to focus on their passions. In contrast, the Eternal Spark empowers others to concentrate on what it aims to create within their inner-selves.

6 Mortal cravings controlling a mindset lead to demise, whereas the Eternal Spark regulating you ensures reality and tranquility.

7 Temporal passions dominating a mindset oppose the Preeminent Sovereign and fail to adhere to His guidance.

[8] Individuals living in the sensual domain can never reach the dream of the Eternal Reality for the New Humanity. But if the Eternal Spark resides within you, He—not your temporal body—is in charge.

[9] Without the Inner-Self of Immanuel, living within their inner-selves, they can not belong to the New Humanity.
[10] Even if your physical form was destined to perish due to unworthy choices, having Immanuel within you breathes life into your inner-self through your corrected relationship with the Eternal Reality.
[11] The Eternal Spark, who resurrected Immanuel, now resides within you. If He brought Immanuel back to life, He will also animate your mortal bodies through Himself inhabiting you.
[12] Consequently, we, the people of the New Humanity, are debtors, not to serve our carnal nature but to live in harmony with the new sovereign lifestyle.
[13] If you allow earthly desires to guide your life, it will lead to your end. Yet, if you renounce wrongdoings by the Eternal Spark's power, you shall experience authentic vitality.
[14] The Eternal Spark of the Preeminent Sovereign guides His offspring.
[15] The Eternal Spark frees you from fear and makes you part of their family. Now you can call Eternal Spark 'Abba,' your loving parent!
[16] The Eternal Spark confirms with our inner-self that we are offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign.
[17] As His offspring, we are also inheritors—of His empowerments and fellow inheritors with Immanuel—on the condition that we participate in His trials to experience His exaltation equally.

§ 28510 PRESENT SUFFERING AND FUTURE MAJESTY

[18] I ascertain that the current affliction cannot measure up to the brilliance that will be unveiled within us.

[19] All that the Preeminent Sovereign has made are fervently waiting for His to disclose who His authentic children are.
[20] The universe was not willingly subjected to futility. But the One in Charge had the intention of hope.
[21] Every facet of this huge creation will be emancipated from the confines of decay and ushered into the freedom and acclaim that the Preeminent Sovereign's children enjoy.
[22] We are aware that all of creation has been expressing discomfort, similar to the distress of childbirth, until now.
[23] Furthermore, as the first fruits of the Eternal Spark, we groan inwardly with anticipation of our adoption as children and our physical redemption.
[24] Indeed, we found redemption within this trust. Yet, the vision of this very trust does not form hope. Who waits for anything that is already in their possession?
[25] We must wait patiently for what we want to see.
[26] Likewise, the Eternal Spark assists us with our weaknesses. We are often uncertain about what we should plead for, yet the Eternal Spark advocates on our behalf with inexpressible aspirations.
[27] The One who delves into our inner-selves understands the Eternal Spark's intent as He advocates for the loyal people following the Preeminent Sovereign's intended path.

28 We are assured that the Preeminent Sovereign orchestrates everything to benefit those who adore Him and are chosen to fulfill His intentions.
29 In His foreknowledge, the Preeminent Sovereign marked out those who would become like His Heir, ensuring His Heir would be the Prime among numerous siblings.
30 Those marked out in advance, He also summoned; those He called, He declared integrid. And those He declared integrid, He also elevated to eternal recognition.

§ 28520 MORE THAN CONQUERORS

31 So, what is our reaction to these events? If the Preeminent Sovereign supports us, who has the power to oppose us?
32 If He did not withhold His Heir but offered Him as an absolving payment for all of us, won't He give us everything besides Him?
33 The Eternal Reality heeded Abraham's intervention, rescuing Lot from the calamity that engulfed the towns where Lot resided.
34 Then, what person can pass judgment against us? Absolutely no one. Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, was nailed on an execution stake and resurrected; He now sits on the right side of the Eternal Reality, advocating on our behalf.
35 What can keep us from the affection of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer? Can affliction, difficulties, harassment, hunger, lack of clothing, peril, or war?
36 As the Living Word dictates: "Because of You, we endure mortality every moment of the day; we are seen as sheep destined for the butcher's block."
37 Despite all, we triumph exceedingly—thanks to the One who cherished us.
38 I am sure that not even death, life, Celestial Envoys, the present, the future, or any powers can separate us.
39 No height, depth, or another aspect of creation can disconnect us from the affection of the Preeminent Sovereign, found in our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 28530 PAUL'S ANGUISH OVER ISRAEL

9 "The Chosen Redeemer speaks ultimate authenticity through me; the Eternal Spark guides my conscience to confirm it.
2 I have deep sorrow and perpetual heartache.
3 If my separation and curse from the Chosen Redeemer could benefit my Hebrew people, I would wish it.

4 Israel holds the honor of being adopted as the first of the Preeminent Sovereign's children; they receive celestial radiance, exalted alliances, the Mosaic Law, fortress rites, joyful adoration, and many celestial assurances.
5 The forefathers belong to them, and from them, even Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer—eternally exalted by the Preeminent Sovereign—emerged! So be it. "

§ 28540 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S SOVEREIGN CHOICE

[6] The promise of the Preeminent Sovereign remains fulfilled. Not all descendants of Israel are authentic descendants.
[7] Abraham's authentic children are traced through Isaac, not all his offspring.
[8] The Preeminent Sovereign's children are those of the promise, not just biological descendants.
[9] The promise declared, "I will return, and Sarah will bear an heir."
[10] Rebekah's children were fathered by Isaac.
[11] To uphold His election plan, before the twins were born or did anything, He said,
[12] "The older will serve the younger." She was told, "Not by deeds but by He who calls."
[13] As written, "Jacob I loved, Esau I hated."
[14] Is there unfairness in the Preeminent Sovereign? Not so!
[15] He told Moses, "I will show kindness and compassion to whom I choose."
[16] It depends on His compassion, not human desire or effort.
[17] The Living Word tells Pharaoh: "I raised you to show My power and spread My Name worldwide."
[18] The Preeminent Sovereign shows compassion or hardens inner determination as He chooses.

[19] You might ask, "Why does He find fault if no one can resist His plan?"
[20] But who are you to question Him? Can the created ask the Innovator, "Why was I made this way?"
[21] Doesn't the artisan have the right to design from the same material both masterpieces and everyday tools, each with its own purpose?
[22] What if the Preeminent Sovereign originally intended to display His wrath (and destroy the damned) and alternately chose to practice patience?

[23] What if He chose to ultimately disclose His grandeur to those recipients of His mercy--to those He prepared in advance to receive the same grandeur?
[24] These recipients include us! The Preeminent Sovereign called from not only the Judeans but also from the Outsiders.

[25] Hosea wrote: "Those, not My people, I will call My people; she who was not loved, I will call My Esteemed."
[26] In the place where they were told, "You are not My people," they will be called "children of the living Preeminent Sovereign."
[27] Isaiah said about Israel: "Though the Israelites are as numerous as sand by the sea, only a leftover will be saved."
[28] The Sovereign Captain will execute His judgment swiftly and decisively.
[29] As Isaiah said, "If the Almighty Sovereign Captain had not left us descendants, we would have become like Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression,"

§ 28550 ISRAEL'S UNBELIEF

[30] So, what's the conclusion here? Outsiders, who weren't even striving for an upright relationship with the Eternal Reality, have achieved it, and this integrity stems from trust.

31 However, the individuals of Israel who sought integrity with the Eternal Reality by adhering to the Mosaic Law did not achieve their objective.
32 They failed because they strived—not through trust—but trusting deeds could accomplish it. They tripped over a rock, which caused people to stumble.
33 According to the Living Word: “Look, I am placing in the hub of David a stumbling stone and an obstacle rock, and anyone who trusts in Him will not experience disgrace.”

10 Now, my dear people of the New Humanity, the yearning of my inner-self and my request to the Preeminent Sovereign for the people of Israel are for their redemption.
2 I vouch for their intense passion for Preeminent Sovereign. However, this enthusiasm is rooted in something other than understanding.
3 They are unaware of the Preeminent Sovereign’s efforts to correct His relationship with all Humanity, and instead, they strive to establish such a relationship by seeking their way and rejecting the way of the Eternal Reality.
4 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, embodies the Mosaic Law’s termination, thereby ensuring the integrity of the Eternal Reality for all those who trust him.

5 Regarding the integrity of the Mosaic Law, Moses states that “the man who works to fulfill these requirements will live by them.”
6 However, the integrity that comes from trust tells you inside your inner-self, “Do not ask yourself, ‘Who will proceed up into the celestial realms?’” (thereby taking away the Sovereignty of Immanuel.)
7 Or “Who will reach down into the abysm?” (thereby resurrecting Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer from the dead).
8 However, what does it declare? “The teaching is close to you; it resides in your speech and your inner-self,” that is our proclamation about trust we announce:

9 By only asserting the expression that “Immanuel is My Sovereign Captain” and holding this trust deep within your inner-self that the Preeminent Sovereign resurrected Him from being dead, redemption will be yours.
10 By trusting your inner-self, you are made right with the Preeminent Sovereign, and by openly declaring your beliefs, you achieve redemption.

11 As the exalted writings state, anyone who trusts Him will never face shame.
12 There is no distinction between a Judean and an Outsider—the same Sovereign Captain governs everyone and generously grants His wealth to everyone who seeks Him.
13 Any individual invoking the Sovereign Captain’s Name shall be delivered.
14 How could they invoke the Name of the One they have not trusted? Furthermore, how would they trust someone they have yet to hear of? And how can they hear if there is no one proclaiming about Him?
15 How can someone proclaim this unless they’ve been commissioned? As declared in the Living Word, “How delightful it is to see those transmitting cheerful upgrades.”

16 However, not all the Israelites embraced the joyous developments. Isaiah questions, “Sovereign Captain, who has trusted our message?”
17 So, trust is derived from listening to cheerful upgrades, which are decoded through the path of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
18 I question, “Did they fail to hear?” “Their message has been dispersed throughout the entire planet, delivering their words to the furthest corners of the globe.”

19 Again, I pose the question: Did not Israel comprehend? First, Moses declares, “I will arouse your jealousy through those not recognized as a nation. I will incite your wrath due to a country devoid of understanding.”
20 Isaiah confidently states, “Those who were not in pursuit of Me have discovered Me; I made Myself known to those who didn’t inquire about Me.”

21 About Israel, he asserts, “I have continually extended My hands throughout the day towards a rebellious and stubborn nation.”

§ 28560 THE CHOSEN PEOPLE OF ISRAEL

11 Has the Preeminent Sovereign abandoned His chosen ones? Not so! As an ancestor of Abraham, I am an Israelite from the people of Benjamin.
2 The Sovereign Captain has not cast aside His chosen ones whom He knew beforehand. Have you heard what the Exalted Text reveals about Elijah and how he lodged a complaint to the Preeminent Sovereign against Israel?
3 “Sovereign Captain, they have massacred Your eternally wise servants and wrecked Your exalted sites; I remain the sole survivor, and they aim to end my life.”
4 The Preeminent Sovereign responded, “I have kept aside for Myself seven thousand men who have never saluted the idolized deity Baal.”
5 Similarly, transformative generosity has favored a selected few in our contemporary era.
6 If it’s due to favor from the Eternal Reality, then it’s not reliant on human efforts. If it were so, the concept of favor from the Eternal Reality would lose meaning.
7 So, what would be the outcome if Israel did not achieve what it passionately sought, and the Preeminent Sovereign’s chosen individuals succeeded? They would grow resistant and unyielding.
8 As per the Living Word, “The Preeminent Sovereign imparted them a temperament of lethargy, sightless eyes, and ears devoid of hearing, a condition that persists till this very day.”
9 David expresses: “Let their feast become a snare, trap, pitfall, and payback for them.
10 Permit their vision confused, rendering them unseeing, and let their backbones be perpetually curved.”

§ 28570 INTEGRATED CONNECTIONS

11 I ask again: “Did they fall beyond recovery?” Absolutely not! Their wrongdoing opened the door for redemption to the Outsiders, stirring jealousy among the Israelites.
12 If their transgression brings wealth to the world and their failure enriches the Outsiders, imagine the immense wealth following the Israelites’ redemption!
13 I speak to you, Outsiders. As an emissary to the Outsiders, I aim to enhance my attentiveness
14 to provoke jealousy among my people and possibly rescue some of them.
15 If the Outsiders’ redemption stems from the Israelites’ rejection, what greater benefit will the Israelites gain but return from death?
16 If the foundation of a building is solid and secure, then everything built upon it will be strong. If the core of a power grid is reliable, so will be the connections extending from it.
17 If some connections were cut off, and you, an outsider, were integrated into the network, you now share in the strength and resources of the core system.

18 Don’t become arrogant. Remember, it’s not you who nourishes the network; the network nourishes you!
19 "You might say, 'Connections were severed so that I could be integrated into the system.'"
20-21 That’s true—they were disconnected because of their lack of trust, and you remain connected through faith. Don’t be overconfident; instead, stay humble and cautious. For if God didn’t hesitate to remove the original connections, He won’t hesitate to remove you either.

22 So recognize the Preeminent Sovereign’s kindness and severity: compassion for you if you persist in His kindness, but harshness for those who fell. Otherwise, you, too, would be disconnected.
23 Should they regain trust, they can be reattached, as Preeminent Sovereign can reintegrate them once more.

24 If you were taken from an unsustainable system and, against all odds, integrated into a thriving and well-designed network, how much more easily can those who originally belonged to the system be restored to their rightful place within it?

§ 28580 ALL ISRAEL WILL BE DELIVERED

25 Understand that Israel’s hardening is temporary until the Outsider population is complete.
26 Then, all Israel will be delivered. As foretold, “The One Redeemer will come from the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign; he will eliminate depravity in Jacob.”
27 “I promise them this when I eliminate their transgressions.”
28 Regarding the joyous developments, they are adversaries for your benefit. Yet, in terms of celestial selection, they are cherished due to their forefathers.
29 The Preeminent Sovereign never revokes His empowerments and summons.
30 Just as you were once non-compliant towards the Preeminent Sovereign, you have experienced compassion due to the Israelites’ waywardness.
31 Similarly, they have now disobeyed so that you might receive mercy, and they might also be extended Preeminent Sovereign’s compassion.
32 The Preeminent Sovereign has consigned all people to their defiant ways to demonstrate Himself as merciful to all.

§ 28590 THANKSGIVING

33 The depth of the Preeminent Sovereign’s wisdom is truly remarkable! His decisions are mysterious, and His paths are beyond understanding.
34 “Who can comprehend the Sovereign Captain’s thoughts? Or who can be His advisor?”

35 “Who has ever given a gift to a Preeminent Sovereign that He should repay them?”
36 Everything comes from Him, exists by His power, and is for His honor. May eternal acclaim be His! So be it.

§ 28600 A LIVING PENANCE

12 Due to the Preeminent Sovereign’s immense compassion, I urge you, people of the New Humanity, to offer yourselves as a living, exalted absolving payment that pleases the Preeminent Sovereign, as this is your authentic and proper adulation.
2 Don’t get stuck in the algorithms of this world—let your mindset be refreshed and reshaped by a higher perspective.

§ 28610 HUMBLE SERVICE IN THE BODY OF THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

3 Because of the transformative generosity given to me, I urge you all to think seriously and follow the depth of trust that the Preeminent Sovereign has given you. Don’t overestimate yourselves.
4-5 In a dynamic organization, every team has different roles—designers, engineers, managers, and analysts. Each contributes something unique, but all belong to the same mission. In the Chosen Redeemer, we are many individuals united into one purpose, interdependent and connected.

6 We each have unique talents thanks to the transformative generosity given to us. If your talent is vision, use it in line with your trust.
7 If your skill is assisting others, help diligently. If it’s imparting understanding, dedicate yourself to enlightening.
8 In encouragement, offer uplifting words; in giving, do it generously; if leading, lead with perseverance; if showing kindness, do it with genuine delight.

§ 28620 LOVE IN ACTION

9 Authentic affection is essential. Embrace what is good and reject impurity.
10 Love each other deeply, valuing others above yourself.
11 Stay enthusiastic and passionate as you serve the Sovereign Captain.
12 Be joyful in hope, patient in hardship, and persistent in intervention, melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Help the Sovereign Captain’s pathseekers in need and be eager to offer hospitality.
14 Bless those who mistreat you; ask the Preeminent Sovereign to empower them, not curse them.
15 Rejoice with those who rejoice; mourn with those who mourn.
16 Live in harmony and avoid arrogance, being willing to associate with those of low position. Do not be conceited.
17 Do not repay evil for evil; strive to do what is right in everyone’s eyes.
18 As far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone.
19 Distinguished friends, it is written: “The revenge is Mine; I will punish.” Therefore, do not pursue retribution; make space for celestial fury. The Sovereign Captain says the same thing.
20 Rather, feed your enemy if he’s hungry and offer him something to drink if he’s thirsty. You will sling hot coals over his head by doing this.
21 Overcome evil with integrity, not by being overcome by it.

§ 28630 SUBMISSION TO GOVERNING AUTHORITIES

13 everyone should submit to the rule of the prevailing powers, as no power exists without the Preeminent Sovereign's endorsement. The Preeminent Sovereign has enabled the powers that currently exist.

2 Those who resist established authority oppose the Preeminent Sovereign's command and will invite judgment on themselves.
3 Prime Rulers frighten awful behavior rather than good behavior. Do you wish to have no fear of the person in charge? Then, you will receive his approval if you do what is right.
4 For leaders in authority are meant to serve the Eternal Reality's purpose for your benefit. But if you act unjustly, be aware—they carry the power to enforce justice for good reason.
5 It is essential to be obedient to the authorities, not solely due to the fear of punishment but also to maintain your moral integrity.
6 This is why you fulfill your tax obligations, as those in authority are the coworkers of the Preeminent Sovereign, dedicating themselves entirely to governance.
7 Fulfill your obligations to everyone: taxes to those to whom taxes are due; duties to those to whom duties are unpaid; courtesy to those to whom courtesy is due; and honor to those who deserve honor.

§ 28640 LOVE FULFILLS THE MOSAICAL LAW

8 Settle all accounts promptly, except the ongoing obligation to show love to others, for love is the fulfillment of what is just and right.
9 Directives such as not committing an extramarital affair, refraining from murder, avoiding theft, resisting the desire for what others possess, and all other instructions are encompassed in this singular principle: "Cherish your fellow being as you would cherish yourself."
10 Love never inflicts any damage on a neighbor. So, love is the embodiment of the Mosaic Law.

§ 28650 THE DAY IS NEAR

11 Recognize the importance of the present time: The moment has come to awaken from your slumber, as our deliverance is nearer now than when we first believed.
12 The long night of confusion is ending, and the new day is upon us. Shed the shady behaviors of the past and embrace a mindset ready for accountability and clarity.
13 Conduct yourselves properly, as in the daytime, avoiding wild parties, excessive drinking, sexual misconduct, loose behavior, confrontation, and jealousy.
14 Instead, embrace the presence of the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, and avoid planning to gratify the desires of your flesh.

§ 28660 THE WEAK AND THE STRONG

14 Welcome those with fragile trust without engaging in disputes over differing opinions.
2 Some trust allows them to eat all foods, while others with weaker trust eat only vegetables.
3 Those who eat everything and those who do not should recognize that the Preeminent Sovereign accepts both without looking down on each other.
4 Who are you to judge someone else's coworker? They stand or fall before their own supervisor and will stand, for the Sovereign Captain can make them stand.
5 Some value one day over another, while others see all days alike. Each should be convinced in their own mind.
6 Those who regard a day as special do so to honor the Sovereign Captain. Those who eat meat honor the Sovereign Captain and thank the Preeminent Sovereign. Those who abstain do so to honor the Sovereign Captain and give thanks to the Preeminent Sovereign.
7 No one is born for themselves, and no one dies for themselves.
8 Whether we live or die, we belong to the Sovereign Captain.
9 For this reason, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, died and returned to life to be the Sovereign Captain of both the dead and the living.

10 Why do you judge your sibling? Everybody present will be facing the Preeminent Sovereign's judgment seat.
11 "Every knee will bow before Me; every ethnicity will acknowledge Preeminent Sovereign," declares the Sovereign Captain, as it is written: "As surely as I live."
12 Each of us will give an account of ourselves to the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Consequently, let's cease criticizing one another. Rather, resolve not to place any roadblocks or hindrances in the path of a brother or sister.
14 I am convinced, fully persuaded by Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, that nothing is unhealthy in itself. But if anyone regards something as unclean, it is unhealthy for that person.
15 You are now not acting out of love if your sibling is upset about what you consume. Don't let your food ruin someone for whom Immanuel gave his life.
16 Therefore, do not let what you know is good be considered evil.
17 For the Celestial Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality is not a matter of eating and drinking, but of integrity, peace, and delight in the exalted Eternal Spark.
18 Anyone who serves Immanuel this way is pleasing to the Preeminent Sovereign and receives human approval.
19 Let us endeavor to do all that promotes mutual enlightenment and peace.
20 Don't ruin the Preeminent Sovereign's creations to get food. All food is wholesome, yet consuming anything that could trip up another person is improper.
21 It is preferable to abstain from liquor, meat, and other activities that could topple your sibling.
22 So whatever you trust about these things, keep between yourself and the Preeminent Sovereign. Fortunate are the ones who do not condemn themselves for what they approve.
23 But whoever has doubts is condemned if they eat because their eating is not from the trust, and everything that does not come from the trust is transgression.

15 The powerful should put up with the shortcomings of the weak, not the other way around.
2 We should please our neighbors for their good, to build them up.
3 For even Immanuel did not delight himself; rather, as it says in the Living Word, "I have been the object of the abuses of those who attack You."
4 Every previous wisdom aimed to impart hope, thereby endowing us with endurance through the support of the Living Path.
5 May the Eternal Reality who grants perseverance and inspiration grant upon you the same perspective on one another that Immanuel possessed.

[6] so that you would exalt the Preeminent Sovereign, our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain’s Life-Giver, with one voice and one mind.
[7] Accept one another, just as Immanuel accepted you, to bring praise to the Preeminent Sovereign.
[8] Because I tell you, Immanuel has served the circumcised on behalf of the Preeminent Sovereign and fulfilled the promises given to the patriarchs
[9] so that the Outsiders might exalt the Preeminent Sovereign for His kindness. “Therefore I will exalt You among the nations; I will sing acclamations of Your Name,” as it is affirmed.
[10] Again, it says, “Rejoice, you nations, with His people.”
[11] Again, “Praise the Sovereign Captain, all you Outsiders; let all the peoples elevate Him.”
[12] “And Isaiah says, 'A leader will emerge, a descendant from Jesse’s family line, who will rise to guide all nations. People from every culture and background will find hope in him.”
[13] May the Preeminent Sovereign of hope fill you with all delight and peace as you trust in Him so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Eternal Spark.

§ 28670 PAUL, THE ENSOVEREIGNED MEDIATOR TO THE OUTSIDERS

[14] I am confident, dear people of the New Humanity, that you are full of goodness and knowledge and capable of advising each other.
[15] Nonetheless, due to the favor the Eternal Reality granted me, I directly wrote to you about a few subjects to refresh your memory, [16] to serve as a servant of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer to the Outsiders. I’ve been entrusted with spreading the Preeminent Sovereign’s joyous developments so that the Outsiders may form an offering that pleases the Preeminent Sovereign, having been made pure by the Eternal Spark.
[17] In Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, I take pride in my work for the Preeminent Sovereign.
[18] I discuss only what Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, has achieved through me to guide the Outsiders in complying with the Preeminent Sovereign through my path and actions.
[19] The Eternal Spark’s awesome power has prompted these words and actions, accompanied by signs and marvels. Therefore, I have fully proclaimed the message of the Chosen Redeemer from Yerushalayim to Illyricum.
[20] My goal has been to proclaim the joyous developments where the Chosen Redeemer hasn’t been heard of to avoid building on another’s foundation.
[21] As the Living Word says, ‘Those who have not heard about Him will understand, and those who have not seen Him will comprehend. ’ [22] This may be why I have been frequently impeded from visiting you.

§ 28680 PAUL’S PLAN TO VISIT ROME

[23] “Now that I have completed my work in these regions and have longed to see you for many years, [24] I plan to visit you on my way to Spain, hoping to enjoy your company before you assist me on my journey.
[25] Currently, I am heading to Yerushalayim to support the citizens of the New Humanity there.

26 The loyal individuals from Macedonia and Achaia were delighted to share their resources with the less fortunate pathseekers of the Sovereign Captain in Yerushalayim.
27 They were happy to do so and are truly indebted to them. Since the Outsiders have shared the Israelites' inner gifts, they must share their tangible resources with the Israelites.
28 Once I have completed this task and ensured they have received this donation, I will head to Spain, stopping by to see you.
29 I am confident that when I arrive, I will bring the extreme transformative generosity of the Chosen Redeemer.
30 By the authority of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, and through the affection of the Eternal Spark, I implore you, my dear people of the New Humanity, to aid me in my tribulations by directing your meldings of consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign on my behalf.
31 Seek celestial guidance to protect me from those not aligned with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality in Judea, and let the offering I bring to Yerushalayim find a warm reception among the Preeminent Sovereign's devout pathseekers there, 32 so that, according to the Preeminent Sovereign's will, I may arrive joyfully and rejuvenate in your presence.
33 May the Eternal Reality that imparts tranquility be with everyone. So be it. "

§ 28690 PERSONAL GREETINGS

16 I introduce our sister Phoebe, who trustfully serves as an ensovereigned lifestyle community organizer in Cenchreae.
2 I implore you to accept her in the Sovereign Captain in a manner befitting all citizens of the New Humanity and provide her with any assistance she might require from you, as she has been a contributor to numerous individuals, myself included.

3 Extend my salutations to Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow laborers in the service of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
4 They put their lives on the line for my sake: Not just for me but for all the ensovereigned lifestyle communities among the Outsiders. Extend my greetings to the ensovereigned lifestyle community that gathers in their home.

5 Please send my regards to my cherished friend Epenetus, the first individual in the region of Asia to put his trust in the Chosen Redeemer.
6 Say hello to Mary. She labored intensely on your behalf.
7 Extend your warm regards to Andronicus and Junia, my relatives and former cellmates. They hold a remarkable reputation among the emissaries and proclaimed their trust in the Chosen Redeemer before me.

8 Extend my warm regards to Ampliatus, a cherished companion in our trust.
9 Offer salutations to Urbanus, our companion in the Chosen Redeemer's endeavor, and my dear confidant, Stachys.
10 Extend your greetings to Apelles; his loyalty to the Chosen Redeemer has been proven. Also, send regards to those from Aristobulus' family.
11 Acknowledge Herodion, my relative. Send regards to those from the Narcissus family devoted to the Sovereign Captain.

12 Extend warm wishes to Tryphena and Tryphosa, these women who have toiled diligently in their service to the Sovereign Captain. Also, I express fond regards to my cherished friend Persis, another dedicated woman who has exerted herself extensively in the service of the Sovereign Captain.

13 Extend my salutations to Rufus, a select individual under the Sovereign Captain's guidance, along with his mother, who has also shown motherly affection towards me.

14 Extend your best wishes to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and all their associated people of the New Humanity.
15 Extend warm regards to Philologus, Julia, Nereus, his sister Olympas, and all the pathseekers of the Sovereign Captain accompanying them.
16 Express mutual affection with an exalted embrace. All the assemblies of the Chosen Redeemer extend warm salutations.

17 I implore you, my people of the New Humanity, to be vigilant for those inciting dissensions and creating hindrances against the path you've imparted. Steer clear of them.
18 Individuals like these are not devoted to our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, but to their desires. They fool those with an innocent mindset through their eloquent speeches and compliments.
19 Your adherence to the path has become renowned, which brings me optimism; however, I aspire for you to retain wisdom concerning the sovereign lifestyle and to remain uncontaminated despite toxic surroundings.

20 The peace-bringing Preeminent Sovereign will soon defeat the Adversary, placing him under your command. May the kindness of our Rescuer, Immanuel, accompany you.
21 Timothy, who collaborates with me, extends his greetings to you with Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my relatives of Judean ancestry.
22 I, Tertius, the transcriptor of this letter, extend my salutations to you as a pathseeker of the Sovereign Captain.
23 Gaius welcomes me and the ensovereigned lifestyle community and extends his salutations to you. Erastus, holding the office of the city's infrastructure manager, and our fellow person of trust, Quartus, also convey their greetings.

24 Let our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain's loving kindness, touch each of you. So be it.

25 Praise the Preeminent Sovereign, He who possesses the power to strengthen your trust in line with the joyous developments I share; the message I spread about the Chosen Redeemer is in harmony with the unveiling of the secret ultimate authenticity that was concealed for countless ages past.
26 The eternal Preeminent Sovereign's command has now been disclosed and demonstrated through the Wisdom of the eternally wise servants, intending that all nations may attain trust-driven adherence.
27 Give immortal acclaim to the sole Preeminent Sovereign of wisdom through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer. So be it.

~ 207 | 1 Sophisticates | 1 Corinthians

§ 28700 KINDNESS AND TRANQUILITY

1 The Preeminent Sovereign calls Paul a messenger, and we consider Sosthenes as our fellow person of trust.

2 To the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Corinth, purified in the Chosen Redeemer Immanuel and chosen to be exalted, along with everyone who invokes the name of our Rescuer Immanuel—their Rescuer as well as ours:

3 May you receive kindness and tranquility from the Preeminent Sovereign, our Celestial Life-Giver, and the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.

§ 28710 THANKSGIVING

4 Due to the Eternal Reality's favor given through the Chosen Redeemer, I am always grateful to my Innovator for you.

5 Through Him, your lives are enriched with diverse communication skills for comprehensive understanding.
6 You validated our message about the Chosen Redeemer.
7 As a result, you lack no celestial gift as you eagerly await the unveiling of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.
8 He will fortify you until the end, ensuring you are blameless on the day of our Sovereign Captain, Chosen Redeemer's return.
9 Trust in the reliability of the Preeminent Sovereign, who invited you to form a close relationship with His Heir, the Chosen Redeemer, our Sovereign Captain.

§ 28720 AN ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY DIVIDED OVER LEADERS

10 By the power of our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, I implore you, my people of the New Humanity, to speak with one voice, refrain from disagreements, and uphold perfect harmony in your comprehension and perception.
11 My siblings, in trust, I have received word from individuals in Chloe's family that there are disputes among you.
12 Some of you claim to follow Paul, Apollos, Cephas, or the Chosen Redeemer.
13 Has the Chosen Redeemer been fragmented? Was it Paul who died on the execution stake for your unworthy choices? Or was it Paul's name in which you were immersed?
14 I am grateful to the Eternal Reality that I only imparted Immanuel's death and rebirth by water immersion with Crispus and Gaius.
15 No one can claim they were immersed under my attention.

16 (Indeed, Stephanas' family was among those I immersed; apart from them, my memory fails to recall any others to whom I imparted Immanuel's death and rebirth.

17 The Chosen Redeemer entrusted me with the mission of not only absorbing myself in the joyous developments but also sharing them. This assignment was not to be accomplished through refined speech or intellect to not drain the significance from the nailing him to an execution stake of the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 28730 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER NAILED TO AN EXECUTION STAKE

18 The proclamation of nailing Him to an execution stake seems absurd to those on the path of demise. Still, for those on the path of redemption, it represents the Preeminent Sovereign's might.
19 The Living Word declares: "I will annihilate the wisdom of those who consider themselves wise and confound the understanding of insightful thinkers."
20 Where are the individuals deemed wise? Where can a knowledgeable Law instructor be found? Where is the intellectual of this era? Hasn't the Preeminent Sovereign exposed the world's wisdom as senselessness?
21 Indeed, through His profound wisdom, the Preeminent Sovereign decided that the world would not come to recognize Him simply via its understanding. He was delighted, instead, to rescue those with trust through the seemingly absurd message we proclaim.
22 Israelites require marvelous works as proof, while Greeks pursue philosophical knowledge.
23 We make known a Redeemer, nailed on an execution stake, a cause for stumbling in the eyes of Israelites, and a non-sensible concept to Outsiders.
24 Nevertheless, the Preeminent Sovereign selects individuals, regardless of their Judean or Greek origins, and to them, the Chosen Redeemer embodies the Preeminent Sovereign's mighty power and profound wisdom.

25 The Preeminent Sovereign's apparent foolishness surpasses human intelligence, and what seems to be the Preeminent Sovereign's weakness is more powerful than human strength.

26 Reflect on your past, siblings, during your celestial invitation. Few among you were considered intelligent by societal judgment; few held substantial power; few came from distinguished lineages.

27 The Preeminent Sovereign intentionally selected what the world perceives as foolish to disgrace the wise and what the world sees as weak to embarrass the powerful.
28 The Preeminent Sovereign selected the insignificant and contemptible elements of the world, along with the non-existent ones, to make the existing ones obsolete.
29 To ensure that no individual can take pride in His presence.

30 You are united with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, due to His actions, who has been transformed into Celestial wisdom for us, representing our integrity, purification, and redemption.
31 As stated in the Living Word, "Any individual who wishes to take pride should take pride in the Sovereign Captain."

2 As it stands, my people of the New Humanity, I avoided rhetoric or mortal wisdom during my encounter with you while expressing the message from the Preeminent Sovereign.

2 I decided to concentrate solely on the Chosen Redeemer and His nailing to an execution stake when I was among you.

3 I approached you in a state of frailty, filled with intense dread and shaking.
4 My discourse and proclamation relied not on eloquent or convincing language but on the potent manifestation of the Eternal Spark.
5 Your trust would not be founded on humanity's wisdom, but the Preeminent Sovereign's might.

§ 28740 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S WISDOM REVEALED BY THE ETERNAL SPARK

6 We share profound wisdom with the innerly mature, not of this era or its diminishing authorities.
7 Instead, we reveal the Preeminent Sovereign's hidden wisdom, predestined for our acclaim before time began.

8 The leaders of this age missed it; otherwise, they wouldn't have executed the bearer of celestial radiance.
9 As the Living Word says: "No eye has seen, no ear has heard, no mind has conceived—the empowerments the Preeminent Sovereign has for those who love him."

10 The Preeminent Sovereign disclosed these through His Eternal Spark, which explores all, including His profound depths.
11 Only a person's essence understands their thoughts; similarly, only the Eternal Spark of the Preeminent Sovereign understands His thoughts.

12 We have received empowerment from the Eternal Spark rather than from the empowerment of the world.
13 And this is what we say, expressing inner realities in inner terms, not in words taught to us by human wisdom but in words taught to us by the Eternal Spark.
14 The natural man rejects the things from the Eternal Spark of the Preeminent Sovereign. Because they are innerly discerning, he cannot comprehend them and considers them silly.
15 The individual with the Eternal Spark evaluates all but is not subject to human judgment.
16 Who understands the Sovereign Captain to guide Him? Yet, we have the mind of the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 28750 THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY AND ITS LEADERS

3 My dear people of the New Humanity, I couldn't call you enlightened by the Eternal Spark but rather individuals driven by worldly desires, like newborns in the Chosen Redeemer.

[2] I nourished you with milk instead of solid food, as you were unprepared to receive it. Remarkably, you're still not prepared.
[3] Your physical nature continues to influence you. Given envy and disputes, doesn't your physical nature still affect you? Aren't you behaving like ordinary individuals?

[4] When one of you claims to be a follower of Paul, and another asserts allegiance to Apollos, doesn't this show you behave just like ordinary individuals?
[5] In the end, who are Apollos and Paul? Merely agents assisting you in embracing trust, each performing the role the Sovereign Captain assigned.

[6-7] Some plant seeds in a community garden, and others water them, but it's the Eternal Reality who ensures the growth, turning our efforts into something meaningful.

[8] The individual who plants and the one who waters work together towards the same goal, yet each will receive a reward based on their efforts. We collaborate in Preeminent Sovereign's purpose.

[9-11] We are all partners in the Preeminent Sovereign's mission—you are like a collaborative project designed by the Eternal Reality. I helped establish a solid foundation, like a skilled architect, and others are continuing the work. But be thoughtful in how you contribute, because the foundation has already been set: it's Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

[12-15] If anyone builds their life's work using materials of varying value—like steel, glass, or fragile plastic—their efforts will be tested. The moment of truth will shine a spotlight, revealing the durability of their choices. What endures will be celebrated, but what crumbles under scrutiny will be lost.

[16] Aren't you aware that collectively, you represent the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress, and his Eternal Spark resides within you?

[17] The Preeminent Sovereign will bring ruin to anyone who brings ruin to their fortress; the Preeminent Sovereign exalts the fortress, and you collectively form that fortress.

[18] Guard against self-deception. Suppose anyone among you considers himself enlightened according to this era's norms. In that case, this person must embrace foolishness to become truly wise.

[19] The Preeminent Sovereign views the wisdom of this world as folly. As per the Living Word, He ensnares the cunning in their guile.
[20] Once more, the Sovereign Captain is aware that the intellectual contemplations of the enlightened are pointless.

[21] Therefore, cease glorifying earthly authorities. Everything belongs to you:
[22] Paul, Apollos, Cephas, the world, life, death, the now and the yet to come are yours.
[23] You are affiliated with the Chosen Redeemer, and the Chosen Redeemer is affiliated with the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 28760 THE NATURE OF AN AUTHENTIC EMISSARISHIP

4 We are administrators of the Chosen Redeemer and custodians of the Eternal Reality's secrets disclosed by the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 Those entrusted with responsibilities must demonstrate reliability.
3 It matters little if you evaluate me or if any human tribunal does; I refrain from judging myself.
4 A clear conscience doesn't imply faultlessness. The Sovereign Captain presides over my judgment.
5 Avoid premature conclusions and await the Sovereign Captain's arrival. He will illuminate what's concealed and reveal inner intentions. Each will receive commendation from the Preeminent Sovereign.

6 "My people of the New Humanity, I've used Apollos and myself as examples for your benefit so you may understand the essence of the statement and refrain from exceeding what is scripted. Consequently, you won't be inflated with pride by favoring one of us over the other."

7 "Who accredits you as superior? What possessions do you have that weren't given to you? If they were gifted, why act as if they weren't?"

8 "You trust you have everything! You consider yourselves wealthy! You have started ruling without us! I wish your reign were a reality to share your rule!"

9 "Preeminent Sovereign has displayed us, the emissaries, at the tail end, like those sentenced to perish in public. We have become a spectacle for the cosmos, Celestial Envoys, and humanity."

10 "We appear simple-minded for the cause of the Chosen Redeemer, yet you are perceived as insightful in Him! We are frail, whereas you are robust! You receive accolades while we face scorn!"

11 "Up to this moment, we endure hunger and thirst, are clothed in tatters, suffer cruel treatment, and lack a home."

12 "We exhaust ourselves through manual labor. When insulted, we respond with kindness; amid persecution, we are resilient."

13 "When slandered, we respond gently. We are considered the world's filth, society's waste—up to this moment."

§ 28770 PAUL'S APPEAL AND WARNING

14 I'm not writing to shame you but to caution you, as with cherished offspring.
15 Despite having many mentors under the Chosen Redeemer's guidance, there are few paternal figures, for I became your inner guide in the path of Immanuel through joyous developments.
16 I implore you to be like me.

17 I have sent Timothy to you, my cherished heir who is loyal to the Sovereign Captain. He will remind you of my path in the light of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, which aligns with the path I share universally in each ensovereigned lifestyle community.
18 Some of you have become overconfident, assuming I won't visit.
19 I shall arrive shortly, Preeminent Sovereign willing, and will assess not just the words of these conceited individuals but their inherent strength.
20 The Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality isn't just words but a manifestation of power.
21 What's your preference? Should I come with an instrument of correction or with affection and mildness?

§ 28780 DEALING WITH A CASE OF INCEST

5 It's reported that sexual immorality exists among you, a kind even those unaligned with the Eternal Reality reject: A man is cohabiting with his stepmother.
2 You are basking in arrogance! Shouldn't you mourn and expel the individual involved from your community?
3 My inner-self is with you, though I'm not present physically. If I were there, judgment would have already been pronounced against this individual under the authority of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
4 Gather in the name of our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, with my presence in the Eternal Spark and the power of our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
5 Submit this individual to the Adversary to obliterate the physical self, intending that his inner-self is preserved on the day the Sovereign Captain returns.
6 Your bragging is inappropriate. Don't you know a small amount of yeast affects the whole dough?
7 Eliminate the old leaven to become a fresh, unleavened batch—your authentic state, for our Emancipation Lamb, the Chosen Redeemer, has already been offered.

8 Celebrate not with stale bread imbued with spite and iniquity but with fresh bread signifying honesty and integrity.
9 In my previous correspondence, I advised you not to keep company with individuals indulging in sexual misconduct.
10 I didn't mean avoiding those who live unethically, are greedy, deceitful, or worship counterfeit idolized deities. If that were so, you'd need to leave this world entirely.
11 Now I tell you not to mingle with anyone who identifies as a person of trust yet persists in sexual immorality or greed, worships counterfeit idolized deities, speaks ill of others, over consumes alcohol, or cheats. Refrain from even sharing a meal with such individuals.
12 What business is it of mine to judge those outside the ensovereigned lifestyle community? Are you not to judge those inside?
13 The Preeminent Sovereign adjudicates Those beyond our circle. Remove the evil individual from your midst.

§ 28790 ACCUSATIONS AMONG PATHSEEKERS

6 If you have a conflict, why seek judgment from those outside the Eternal Reality instead of the Sovereign Captain's pathseekers?

2 Don’t you know the Preeminent Sovereign’s people will rule the world? If so, can’t you handle minor disputes?
3 We will rule over Celestial Envoys, so we should manage earthly matters.
4 Why seek judgment from those dismissed within the ensovereigned lifestyle community?
5 This is to your shame. Is there no one wise enough to mediate disputes among brothers?
6 Instead, you take legal action against each other in front of mistrustful people!

7 Legal disputes among you already signify a loss. Wouldn’t it be better to endure injustice or accept deception?
8 Instead, you commit deceit and injustice against your relatives.
9 Don’t you know wrongdoers won’t inherit the Preeminent Sovereign’s Sovereignty? Don’t be misled: Neither those indulging in sexual improprieties, worshipping counterfeit idolized deities, disloyal partners, men engaged in homosexual acts, 10 thieves, greedy individuals, habitual drinkers, slanderers, nor con artists will share in the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality.
11 Some of you were like this, but you were purified and exalted. Your integrity was affirmed in the name of the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, and through the Eternal Spark of our Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 28800 SEXUAL IMMORALITY

12 Though you claim “all actions are permissible for me,” not all are beneficial. I refuse to let any activity dominate me, yet I am free to engage in any.

13 Our digestive system is for eating, and eating is for our digestive system. Still, the Preeminent Sovereign will make both unnecessary. The body is not designed for lewd activities but for serving the Sovereign Captain, and the Sovereign Captain is for the body.
14 In His might, the Preeminent Sovereign resurrected the Sovereign Captain and will similarly resurrect us.
15 Aren’t you aware that your bodies are parts of the Chosen Redeemer? Should I then connect the parts of the Chosen Redeemer with a harlot? Not!
16 When a man becomes physically united with a harlot, they become one entity. It is declared that “two shall transform into a single entity.”
17 Any individual who joins themselves with the Sovereign Captain becomes innerly unified with Him.

18 Evade sexual misconduct. Every other transgression an individual performs is external to the body; however, anyone who indulges in sexual wrongdoing offends their own body.
19 Aren’t you aware that your body is the fortress of the exalted Eternal Spark who resides within you, given to you by the Preeminent Sovereign? You do not possess yourself.
20 You were purchased for a sum; hence, acclaim the Preeminent Sovereign using your physical selves.

§ 28810 CONCERNING MARRIED LIFE

7 Addressing your concerns: it is beneficial for a man to avoid intimate contact with a woman.
2 Due to rising sexual misconduct, each man should be intimate with his wife and each woman with her husband.

[3] Both the wife and the husband have obligations to one another as part of their marriage.
[4] A wife does not have authority over her body; her husband does. Similarly, a husband does not have authority over his body; his wife does.
[5] Do not deprive each other except by mutual consent and temporarily, to focus on uniting your conscience with the Eternal Reality. Then, come together again to avoid temptation by the Adversary's lack of restraint.
[6] I say this as a concession, not a directive.
[7] I wish everyone were as I am. However, each has their own celestial gift; one has this gift, another has that.
[8] To the unmarried and widows, I suggest it is good to remain single like me.
[9] However, if they lack control, they ought to be married because getting married is preferable to burning with passion.

[10] For the married, these instructions come from the Sovereign Captain, not from me: A wife should not separate from her husband.
[11] If she does, she must remain unmarried or reconcile with her husband. Likewise, a husband must not divorce his wife.
[12] To others (this is my advice, not the Sovereign Captain's): If a man of trust has a wife who does not share his trust but agrees to live with him, he should not divorce her.
[13] Similarly, if a woman has a husband who lacks trust but agrees to live with her, she should not divorce him.
[14] The husband who lacks trust is purified through his wife, and the wife who lacks trust is purified through her trust-filled husband. Otherwise, your children would be impure, but now they are exalted.
[15] If a person of mistrust decides to leave, let them go. A brother or sister is not obliged in such circumstances; the Preeminent Sovereign calls us to live peacefully.
[16] Wife, can you be sure of leading your husband to redemption? Husband, can you be confident of leading your wife to redemption?
[17] Regardless of circumstances, everyone should live the life the Sovereign Captain appointed, as the Preeminent Sovereign invited them. This directive applies to all ensovereigned lifestyle communities.

[18] "If a man was circumcised at his celestial summons, he shouldn't reverse it. If uncircumcised, he shouldn't undergo circumcision.
[19] Circumcision or not is insignificant; what matters is adhering to the Preeminent Sovereign's directives.
[20] The Preeminent Sovereign summons everyone to remain in their current condition.

[21] "Don't worry if you were a servant when called. If you can become free, seize the opportunity.

[22] He who was summoned in servitude is the Sovereign Captain's liberated individual; similarly, he who was unbound when called is a bondman of the Chosen Redeemer.
[23] A significant cost was paid for you; don't become enslaved to others.
[24] People of the New Humanity, persist in your circumstances when the Preeminent Sovereign called you."

§ 28820 CONCERNING THE UNMARRIED

[25] I don't have a directive from the Sovereign Captain regarding unmarried individuals. Still, I can offer a viewpoint as a reliable person through the Sovereign Captain's compassion.

[26] Given the ongoing predicament, it's beneficial for an individual to stay in their current state.
[27] Have you made a promise to a lady? Don't try to free yourself from it. You are not tied to such a vow. Resist the urge to seek a spouse.
[28] However, if you tie the knot, you haven't made an unworthy choice; similarly, if a maiden gets hitched, she has not made unworthy decisions. Yet, those who decide to get married will undoubtedly encounter numerous challenges in their earthly lives, and I intend to shield them from such hardships.

[29] I'm saying this, siblings: our time is fleeting. From now forward, those who are married should behave as if they are not;
[30] individuals experiencing sorrow should behave as if they are not distressed; those experiencing delight should behave as though they are not delighted; those who purchase items should behave as if they do not own them.
[31] Individuals using worldly resources should live as if they do not absorb them because the current state of this world will soon cease to exist.

[32] My desire is for you to be devoid of worries. A bachelor is preoccupied with the matters of the Sovereign Captain and how to satisfy Him.
[33] A married man tends to worry about worldly matters, specifically how he might satisfy his wife.
[34] His attention is pulled in two directions. A single woman or a virgin is fixated on the matters of the Sovereign Captain, striving to serve the Sovereign Captain with both body and energy. However, a woman who is married is preoccupied with earthly responsibilities, especially with how to satisfy her husband.

[35] I shared this with your best interest, not to impose limitations but to promote a lifestyle of single-minded dedication to the Sovereign Captain.
[36] If an individual feels that he isn't treating his betrothed virgin fairly, and his emotions are extremely intense, leading him to trust that marriage is necessary, he should follow his desire. It's not a transgression. They are free to wed.
[37] However, the individual who is resolved in his inner-self, feeling no pressure but has command over his desires, and has decided not to wed the maiden—such a person is also doing well.
[38] Consequently, the individual who unites with the maiden in matrimony acts appropriately. However, the one who refrains from such a union performs even better.

[39] A wife is obligated to her spouse for his life. However, if he passes away, she can marry whomever she chooses, as long as the individual is a pathseeker of the Sovereign Captain.
[40] She would find greater delight remaining in her current condition. I trust I possess the Eternal Reality's guidance of Preeminent Sovereign's Eternal Spark.

§ 28830 CONCERNING FOOD OFFERED TO IDOLIZED DEITIES

8 Regarding meals offered to idolized deities, we know that insight can lead to arrogance while love fosters growth.

[2] Those who think they know everything still need to learn more.

3 The Preeminent Sovereign recognizes those who love Him.
4 We understand that handmade idolized deities are not real and that there is only one authentic and living Eternal Reality.
5 Even if there are many so-called idolized deities and rulers, whether in the celestial realms or on Earth,
6 there is only one Eternal Reality, the Life-Giver, the source of all, and one Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, through whom everything was created and by whom we live.
7 Some people still associate food with idolized deity worship, and their fragile conscience becomes tainted.
8 Eating food doesn't make us more acceptable to the Preeminent Sovereign; our worth doesn't change whether we eat or not.
9 But be careful that your freedom doesn't cause those with weaker trust to stumble.
10 If someone with a fragile conscience sees you, with your knowledge, eating in a skeptic fortress, they might be encouraged to eat food offered to idolized deities.
11 Your knowledge could lead to the downfall of this frail sibling, for whom the Chosen Redeemer sacrificed His life.
12 When you harm their fragile moral sense, you are making an unworthy choice against the Chosen Redeemer.
13 If eating meat leads my siblings in trust toward transgression, I pledge to abstain from meat forever to prevent them from making an unworthy choice.

§ 28840 PAUL'S RIGHTS AS AN EMISSARY

9 "Am I not a free individual? Am I not a special messenger? Haven't I personally encountered our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain? Aren't you all evidence of my endeavors for the Sovereign Captain?

2 Even if others do not acknowledge me as their emissary, you recognize me as one because you are the living proof of my celestial commission in the Sovereign Captain.
3 I provide this answer to those seeking to pass judgment on me.
4 Do we not have the authority to consume nourishment and beverages?
5 Aren't we entitled to have a wife accompany us in trust, just like the other emissaries, the siblings of the Sovereign Captain and Cephas?
6 Are Barnabas and I the only ones who don't have the privilege to abstain from labor to earn our livelihood?
7 Does anyone engage in military service on their coin? Who cultivates a rooftop garden but doesn't partake of its produce? Who looks after a herd of dairy cows without consuming the milk produced?
8 Am I merely stating this from a human perspective? Does the Mosaic Law not endorse the same principle?
9 The Mosaic Law of Moses states: 'You should not restrict an ox from eating as it threshes the grain. ' Does the Preeminent Sovereign express concern solely for oxen?
10 This statement applies to us, right? Indeed, it was drafted for our sake, given that anyone who cultivates and threshes should act with the anticipation of enjoying a portion of the yield.
11 If we've planted inner authenticities within you, would expecting worldly benefits in return be unreasonable?
12 While others have the privilege to expect support from you, don't we deserve it even more? However, we chose not to exercise this privilege. Instead, we tolerate everything to avoid obstructing the spreading of the Chosen Redeemer's joyous developments.

13 Are you unaware that those who perform duties in the fortress consume their meals from the fortress absolving payments, and those who assist at the pedestal table partake in the absolving payments presented there?

14 Similarly, the Sovereign Captain has ordered those spreading the joyous developments to earn their livelihood.
15 I haven't exercised any of these privileges. Furthermore, I intend not to write this with the expectation that you will implement it for me. Indeed, I would prefer to perish than have someone rob me of my right to take pride in this.
16 I have no cause for pride when delivering the joyous developments, given that I am duty-bound to carry out this task. I will be terrible if I fail to share the joyous developments.
17 If I willingly spread the joyous developments, I earn a reward; if reluctantly, I merely perform my entrusted duty.
18 So, what is my compensation? It's simply this: I offer free delivery of joyous developments, so I'm not fully employing my privileges as a bearer. "

§ 28850 PAUL'S USE OF HIS FREEDOM

19 Despite my independence, I have willingly become subservient to everyone to lead as many as possible to redemption.
20 When with the Israelites, I adopted their ways to convince them. To those under the Mosaic Law, I behaved as if I were also under it, though I am not, to persuade them.
21 To influence those without the Mosaic Law, I acted as one without it (though the Preeminent Sovereign's Law governs me).
22 I adapted to the frail and molded myself to the needs of all individuals, hoping to rescue some through every means.
23 I undertake all these actions to upgrade developments and share their benefits.

§ 28860 THE NEED FOR SELF-DISCIPLINE

24 "Don't you know that in a competition, everyone participates, but only the focused achieve the goal? Strive with intention to reach your purpose."

25 Athletes discipline themselves for months to win a trophy that will eventually fade away. But the prize we pursue is one that lasts forever—enduring and unchanging.
26 "So, I don't sprint like someone without a clear goal or engage in combat like a pugilist striking aimlessly into the void."
27 "No, I rigorously discipline my body and adhere to my will, ensuring that I will not be deemed unfit for the award after delivering the word to others."

§ 28870 WARNINGS FROM ISRAEL'S HISTORY

10 My people of the New Humanity, remember that the cloud protected our ancestors and safely crossed the sea.
2 They experienced a form of immersion into Moses through the cloud and the sea.
3 They all consumed the same inner sustenance.
4 They drank from the inner stone with them, known as Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

5 Yet, most did not find favor with the Preeminent Sovereign and perished in the desert.
6 These events serve as warnings to prevent us from desiring malevolent actions as they did.
7 As the Living Word states, “Refrain from worshipping counterfeit idolized deities as some did: After feasting and drinking, they indulged in debauched festivities.”
8 We must avoid unworthy sexual choices like some of them, which led to the sudden death of twenty-three thousand in one day.
9 We should not tempt the Chosen Redeemer as some did, resulting in death by serpents.
10 Avoid complaining like certain individuals who met their end through the Celestial Envoy of destruction.

11 These events are cautionary lessons documented for us, upon whom the end of the eras has come.
12 Be careful not to fall if you think you are secure.
13 No test has overtaken you except what is common to humanity. The Preeminent Sovereign is trustworthy; He won’t allow you to give in to temptation more than you can handle. He will also provide a way out so you can endure temptation.

§ 28880 IDOLIZED DEITY FEASTS AND THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN’S SUPPER

14 So, my cherished comrades, avoid the expression of joyful adoration of counterfeit idolized deities at all costs.
15 I address you as individuals who determine your discernment by what I articulate.
16 Isn’t the fortunate cup we are thankful for a sharing in the Chosen Redeemer’s blood? And doesn’t the bread we break symbolize our connection to his gift of renewal?
17 Despite our multitude, we form a single entity as we share the same bread.
18 Reflect on the Israelites: Aren’t those who consume the absolving payments engaged with the pedestal table?
19 Am I implying then that an offering made to a false the Preeminent Sovereign holds any significance, or that the false the Preeminent Sovereign itself is important?
20 When skeptics make absolving payments, I assert that they present absolving payments to malevolent entities, not the Preeminent Sovereign. I do not wish for you to partner with such malevolent entities.
21 It’s impossible to partake in the Sovereign Captain’s chalice and the chalice of evil; you cannot be a guest at the Sovereign Captain’s or the malevolent entity feast.
22 Are we attempting to incite the Sovereign Captain’s envy? Do we consider ourselves more powerful than Him?

§ 28890 THE PATH SEEKER’S FREEDOM

23 You may argue that “everything is permissible,” but not everything is beneficial. While all actions are possible, not all lead to positive outcomes.
24 Prioritize the welfare of others over personal gain.
25 Feel free to consume any item in the meat market without doubting its origin.
26 Everything on Earth belongs to the Sovereign Captain.
27 If you accept an invitation to supper from someone you don’t trust, take whatever is offered without asking where it came from.

[28] If informed that a meal was given as an absolving payment, refrain from eating it for the sake of the person who informed you and for ethical reasons.
[29] I refer to the other person's conscience, not yours. Why should someone else's moral compass judge my liberty?
[30] If I express gratitude while eating, why am I criticized for something I have given thanks to the Preeminent Sovereign?
[31] Whatever you do, whether eating, drinking or any other activity, do it to honor the Preeminent Sovereign.
[32] Avoid leading anyone into error, whether Israelites, Greeks, or the ensovereigned lifestyle community of the Preeminent Sovereign.
[33] Like I aim to satisfy all people in all ways, I seek not my benefit but the benefit of many, striving for their redemption.

[11] Imitate me as I imitate IMMANUEL, the Preeminent Redeemer.

§ 28900 ON COVERING THE HEAD IN EXPRESS JOYFUL ADORATION

[2] I commend you for remembering me and adhering to the customs as I conveyed them.

[3] Understand that the Chosen Redeemer is the authority over every man, the man is the authority over the woman, and the Preeminent Sovereign is the authority over the Chosen Redeemer.
[4] A man disgraces himself or delivers celestial messages with his head covered when communicating with the Preeminent Sovereign.
[5] Any woman who communicates or provides a message from the Preeminent Sovereign with her head uncovered disgraces her head; it equates to having her hair wholly removed.
[6] If a lady doesn't veil her head, she might consider cutting off her hair; however, if it is shameful for a lady to shave her head or cut her hair off, she should cover her head.
[7] In trust, a man should not conceal his head, as he reflects the likeness and magnificence of the Preeminent Sovereign. Conversely, the woman stands as a symbol of man's grandeur.
[8] Man did not originate from woman; rather, woman originated from man.
[9] The man wasn't fashioned for the sake of a woman; rather, the woman was fashioned for the sake of a man.
[10] Because of the Celestial Envoys, a woman should wear a symbol of authority on her head.
[11] However, in the Eternal Reality's plan, neither is a woman autonomous from a man nor is a man autonomous from a woman.
[12] Just as woman originated from man, so is man birthed from woman. Nonetheless, all things have their genesis in Preeminent Sovereign.
[13] Consider this among yourselves: Is it fitting for a woman to offer melding of her conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign without covering her head?
[14] Isn't it clear from the natural order that for a man to have lengthy hair is humiliating and degrading to him?
[15] Yet, isn't a long-haired woman a symbol of honor? After all, lengthy locks are provided to her as a veil.

[16] Should anyone desire to debate this point, neither we nor the Preeminent Sovereign's lifestyle communities maintain any different custom.

§ 28910 CORRECTING AN ABUSE OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S SUPPER

17 I cannot commend you on the following guidelines, as your gatherings cause more harm than good.
18 I've heard there are disputes when you assemble as an ensovereigned lifestyle community, and I find some authenticity in this.
19 Divergences among you are necessary to reveal those who truly have the Preeminent Sovereign's endorsement.
20 When you gather, it isn't the Sovereign Captain's meal you are consuming.
21 Some rush to eat their meals, leaving one hungry and another intoxicated.
22 Don't you have homes to eat and drink in? Or do you show contempt for the Preeminent Sovereign's ensovereigned lifestyle community by humiliating those who lack resources? Should I praise you? Certainly not in this matter!

23 The instruction I gave you is the same one I received from the Sovereign Captain: Immanuel took bread the night He was betrayed.
24 After giving thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body, given for you; do this in remembrance of me."
25 "This wine represents the new agreement based on my blood; whenever you drink this wine, commemorate My absolving payment," he said, taking the wine-cup after dinner.
26 Whenever you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Sovereign Captain's death until He returns.
27 So, anyone who eats the Sovereign Captain's bread or drinks His cup improperly will be guilty of disrespecting the Sovereign Captain's body and blood.

28 everyone should examine themselves before eating the bread and drinking the cup.
29 Those who eat and drink without recognizing the body of the Chosen Redeemer bring judgment upon themselves.
30 This is why many of you are weak and ill, and some have died.
31 If we judged ourselves properly, we would not come under judgment.
32 When the Sovereign Captain judges us, it is to discipline us so that the world will not condemn us.
33 Therefore, my siblings, in trust, wait for each other when you gather to eat.
34 If anyone is hungry, they should eat at home so that your meetings may not result in judgment. When I come, I will give further instructions.

§ 28920 CONCERNING INNER GIFTS

12 I want you to understand the special abilities given by the Eternal Spark, my people of the New Humanity; there should be no confusion about this.
2 Remember, idolized deities who couldn't speak often misled you before becoming people of trust.
3 Know that nobody speaking under the influence of the Preeminent Sovereign's Eternal Spark declares Immanuel to be cursed, and nobody can profess Immanuel as Sovereign Captain except through the Eternal Spark.

[4] The Eternal Spark's gifts exist, yet the same Eternal Spark disseminates them.
[5] Various service forms exist, yet they're all directed by one Sovereign Captain.
[6] Various forms of activity exist, but the identical Preeminent Sovereign operates all of them in each of us.
[7] The Eternal Spark's display is given to each individual for the benefit of all.

[8] Through the Eternal Spark, one individual receives a word of wisdom, while another obtains a word of knowledge from the same Eternal Spark.
[9] The same Eternal Spark grants trust to one individual, while that identical Eternal Spark provides healing abilities to another.
[10] Some individuals can execute extraordinary deeds, while others possess the knack for foretelling events or visions. The gift of discerning entities is given to some. In contrast, the capability to articulate in diverse tongues is vested in others. Finally, some are endowed with the ability to translate these various tongues.
[11] The same Eternal Spark is responsible for everything and allocates them to everyone as He sees fit.

§ 28930 UNITY AND DIVERSITY IN THE BODY

[12-14] Think of a well-functioning city: it's one entity but relies on many systems working together—transport, utilities, education, and healthcare. Each has a role, but together they form a thriving community. In the Chosen Redeemer, we're all integrated into one system, regardless of our backgrounds or roles, unified by the Eternal Spark that sustains us.

[15] If a delivery driver were to say, 'Because I'm not in the office, I don't belong to the team,' that wouldn't make them any less essential to the company.
[16] If customer support said, 'Because I'm not in product development, I'm not part of the organization,' it wouldn't change their critical role in the company's success.
[17] If everyone in a city were builders, who would design the architecture? If everyone were designers, who would manage the logistics?
[18] In reality, the Preeminent Sovereign has organized every team member in their unique role, just as He intended for the organization to function well.
[19] If everyone in a company did the same job, how would the organization operate?
[20] Just like a city has many systems—transportation, healthcare, education—all working as part of one community.

[21] The designer can't say to the delivery team, 'I don't need you!' And the CEO can't say to the engineers, 'I don't need you!'
[22] In fact, the roles that seem less visible—like custodians or IT support—are absolutely essential.
[23] The behind-the-scenes workers who don't often get recognition deserve special appreciation, and their efforts are handled with respect and care.
[24] Public-facing roles may not need extra attention, but the Preeminent Sovereign has designed the team to ensure that those who are often overlooked receive greater acknowledgment.
[25-26] In a collaborative team, no one works in isolation. When one team member struggles, the whole group feels the impact. When one succeeds, everyone celebrates. That's how Immanuel's New Humanity community operates—interconnected and supportive.

[27] You are all part of Immanuel's collective mission, and each of you plays a vital role in making it thrive.

28 Within the ensovereigned lifestyle community, the Preeminent Sovereign has established emissaries, eternally wise servants, teachers, those who perform marvelous works, healers, helpers, guides, and speakers of various languages.
29 Is everyone an emissary? Does everyone envision eternal wisdom? Is everyone a teacher? Can everyone perform marvelous deeds?
30 Does everyone heal? Can everyone speak in other languages? Can everyone interpret these languages?
31 Strive zealously for the higher gifts, and I will show you a superior way to excellence.

§ 28940 LOVE IS INDISPENSABLE

13 Even if I speak fluently in all human and celestial languages, without love, I am just noise.
2 Even with the wisdom to unravel all secrets and the trust to move mountains, without love, I am nothing.

3 Even if I give away everything to help the poor and sacrifice myself, without love, I gain nothing.
4 Love is patient, kind, not jealous or boastful, and not arrogant.
5 It is not rude, selfish, easily angered, or resentful.
6 Love rejoices in ultimate authenticity, not wrongdoing.
7 It always protects, trusts, hopes, and perseveres.
8 Love never fails. Prophecies will end, unknown languages will cease, and knowledge will fade.
9-10 Our understanding is partial now but will be complete when perfection comes.
11 As a child, I spoke, thought, and reasoned like a child; as an adult, I put childish ways behind me.
12 Right now, it's like seeing the Eternal Reality's plans through a blurry screen. But soon, it'll be crystal-clear, face to face. What we understand now is just a glimpse; one day, we'll get the full picture.
13 These three remain: trust, hope, and love. But the greatest is love!

§ 28950 INTELLIGIBILITY IN JOYFUL ADORATION

14 Pursue affection and seek inner gifts, especially vision.
2 Speaking in celestial languages communicates with the Preeminent Sovereign, not humans, as no one understands; they articulate enigmatic authenticities from the Eternal Spark.
3 Eternally wise persons fortify, motivate, and comfort others.
4 Speaking in different languages uplifts oneself, but predicting augments the ensovereigned lifestyle community.

5 I prefer you to speak in various dialects but more so to offer inspired predictions. Eternally wise servants hold more value unless the language is decoded for enlightenment.

6 People of the New Humanity, what benefit is there in speaking diverse languages without providing disclosure, wisdom, or inner instructions?
7 Even inanimate objects like flutes or harps must produce distinguishable tones to be understood.
8 If an alarm is indistinct, how will men prepare for combat?

[9] Similarly, clear and understandable words are necessary for communication; otherwise, it's meaningless.
[10] Various tongues exist globally, all significant.
[11] Without understanding someone's words, we become outsiders to each other.
[12] Strive to contribute to the ensovereigned lifestyle community's growth.
[13] Those speaking different languages should seek celestial assistance to explain their utterances.

[14] Melding my conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign in a foreign language connects my inner-self with the Eternal Reality, but my cognizance produces no result.
[15] So what should I do? In addition to melding my consciousness with the Eternal Reality, I shall make interventions using my intellect. In addition to singing from my inner-self, I shall sing from my mind.
[16] Expressing gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign in your inner-self leaves novices unable to affirm your thanksgiving with a "So Be It," as they are unaware of your utterances.
[17] While your thanksgiving is praiseworthy, it doesn't uplift others.

[18] I'm grateful to the Preeminent Sovereign for my ability to communicate in particular sounds more than any of you.
[19] In a sovereign lifestyle merging, I'd rather articulate five clear words to educate others than ten thousand in an unfamiliar language.

[20] Siblings in trust cease to possess a child's mindset. Be innocent as babies in malice but mature in understanding.
[21] The exalted Living Word states: Using unfamiliar languages and expressions of outsiders, I will communicate with this population, yet they will fail to heed me, announces the Eternal Reality.
[22] Speaking in different languages is a sign for those lacking trust, not those possessing it. Visioning is for those with trust.
[23] If the entire ensovereigned lifestyle community assembles and speaks different languages, uninformed or mistrustful people will think you've lost your senses.
[24] Yet, if a mistrustful person or questioner enters while celestial disclosures are being delivered, they blame them for their transgressions and hold them accountable by all.
[25] Once their inner-selves hidden authenticities are divulged, they will express joyful adoration to the Preeminent Sovereign, asserting that the Preeminent Sovereign is genuinely present among them.

§ 28960 GOOD ORDER DURING JOYFUL ADORATION

[26] What should we infer then, people of the New Humanity? Each time you gather, everyone contributes—a song, a teaching, a celestial disclosure, an unfamiliar language, or its explanation. All activities should aim to strengthen and enhance the ensovereigned lifestyle community.
[27] If someone communicates in an unfamiliar language, it should be limited to two or three individuals at most, with each person speaking in sequence, and a translation is necessary.

28 If no interpreter is present, the individual should remain silent during the gathering, conversing exclusively with himself and the Preeminent Sovereign.

29 Permit two or three eternally wise servants to express their celestial disclosures while the rest critically assess the messages.
30 If someone seated receives an inspired message, the initial speaker should maintain silence.

31 All of you can share a disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign individually, ensuring that every person gains knowledge and receives motivation.

32 The eternally wise servant's inspiration is under their dominion.
33 The Preeminent Sovereign is not the author of chaos but of tranquility, as observed in all assemblies of His pathseekers.

34 Females should maintain calm in the ensovereigned lifestyle community assemblies. They are not granted permission to voice their opinions but should embrace subordination to what the Mosaic Law dictates.
35 They should consult their husbands privately at home to understand more. It's seen as improper for a woman to voice out in an ensovereigned lifestyle community gathering.

36 Did the path of Preeminent Sovereign first come from you, or do you assert that you are the sole recipient of it?
37 Should one perceive themselves as an eternally wise servant or trust they are endowed with celestial gifts, they should concede that what I am penning down for you is a directive from the Sovereign Captain.

38 Anyone who disregards this will not be recognized.

39 So, my people of the New Humanity strive to foretell the messages of Eternal Reality and never inhibit expressions in unfamiliar languages.
40 All actions should be conducted appropriately and systematically.

§ 28970 THE RETURN FROM DEATH OF THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

15 People of the New Humanity, remember the joyous developments of redemption I shared with you, which you embraced and built your trust upon.
2 These positive developments liberate you if you hold steadfastly to my proclaimed directives; otherwise, your trust is meaningless.

3 The essential message I transmitted, which I also received, was that: Immanuel, the Ensovereigned One, gave His life for our transgressions, as foretold in the Living Word.
4 He was interred; three days later, as per the Living Word, He was returned from death.
5 Cephas was the first to see Him, followed by the Twelve.
6 Subsequently, more than five hundred trustworthy people witnessed Him simultaneously, most of whom are still with us today, although some have passed.
7 He made Himself known to James, followed by all the emissaries.
8 He disclosed Himself to me, just like someone untimely brought into this world.

9 I view myself as the least significant among the emissaries. I haven't earned the right to be called an emissary. I once sought to destroy the Preeminent Sovereign's lifestyle community.

10 Through the Preeminent Sovereign's favor, I have become who I am today, and this empowerment was not rendered ineffective. In ultimate authenticity, I exerted more effort than any of them. However, it was not my labor but the Eternal Reality's compassion accompanying me.
11 Regardless of whether I or others were delivering the message, our proclamation was the same, and you entrusted your trust in it.

§ 28980 THE RETURN FROM DEATH OF THE DEAD

12 If the Chosen Redeemer has risen from the dead, why do some of you dispute the return from death?
13 If the dead are not raised, then the Chosen Redeemer's return from the death is also false.
14 Without His return from death, our proclamation is worthless, and your trust is in vain.

15 We would be false witnesses of the Preeminent Sovereign, claiming He returned the Chosen Redeemer from death if He does not raise the dead.
16 If the dead are not raised, the Chosen Redeemer was not raised either.

17 Without His return from death, your trust is pointless, and you remain wallowing in your unworthy choices.
18 Those who trusted in the Chosen Redeemer and have died are lost.

19 If our hope in Him is only for this life and not beyond, we are the most pitiful excuses of people.

20 But in ultimate authenticity, the Chosen Redeemer has been returned from death, the first of those who have since died.
21 Since death came through a man, return from death also comes through a man.
22 As all die in Adam, all will be made alive in the Chosen Redeemer.
23 Each in their order: first the Chosen Redeemer, then those who belong to Him at His coming.
24 The end will come when He hands over the sovereignty to the Preeminent Sovereign after destroying all dominion, authority, and power.
25 He must reign until all His adversaries are under His control.
26 The last enemy to be destroyed is death.
27 "Everything is under the Preeminent Sovereign's feet." The One who put everything under Him is not included in this.
28 When everything is subject to Him, the Heir will also be subject to the One who put everything under Him, so that the Preeminent Sovereign may be all in all.

29 If no return from death exists, why are people immersed for the dead? If the dead are not raised, why do it?
30 Why do we endanger ourselves every hour?
31 I face death daily—this is as authentic as my pride in you through our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.
32 If I fought wild beasts in Ephesus for human reasons, what have I gained? If there is no return from death, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."
33 Do not be misled: "Bad company corrupts good character."

34 Come back to your senses and stop sinning; some of you are ignorant of the Preeminent Sovereign—I say this to your shame.

§ 28990 THE RETURN FROM DEATH BODY

35 One might inquire, “How do the deceased rise? What form will they possess?”
36 It’s illogical! What seed you plant only springs to life if its outer casing perishes first.
37 When you plant seeds, you’re not planting the fully grown plant but merely a kernel; it could be wheat or another variety.
38 The Preeminent Sovereign designs each living thing with its own unique form, shaping it according to its purpose, just as every planted idea or creation takes on a distinct expression.

39 Flesh differs among life forms: humans have one type, animals another, birds another, and fish yet another.
40 Both celestial and terrestrial beings exist. The radiance of Celestial Envoys is one type, and the magnificence of those on Earth is different.
41 The sun, moon, and stars have unique brilliance; indeed, each star varies in radiance.
42 Similarly, in the return from death of the deceased, the planted body is subject to decay, but when raised, it is indestructible.
43 What is sown in dishonor is raised as glorious; what is sown in weakness is raised in power.
44 When buried, it’s a physical body, but it becomes an intangible body when returned from death. A physical body exists, and correspondingly, an intangible one exists.

45 As per the Living Word, the first man, Adam, became a being with life, whereas the final Adam emerged as an Eternal Spark that imparts new life.
46 Initially, the natural life occurred, not the intangible life, but the intangible life followed.

47 The initial human was made from Earth’s dust; the subsequent individual is from the celestial realms.
48 Just as the man formed from dust represents those on Earth, similarly, the Celestial Man models those from the celestial realm.
49 Just as we have carried the likeness of the individual formed from dust, we will take the likeness of the Celestial Envoy.

50 I assert to you, my dear family that our mortal bodies cannot partake in the Preeminent Sovereign’s Eternal Sovereignty, and what is subject to decay cannot inherit Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
51 Pay heed; I reveal a secret: Not all of us will die, yet everyone will be transformed.
52 Instantly, in the blink of an eye, at the final trumpet call, the deceased will be returned from death incorruptible, and we shall be transformed.
53 The transient must adorn itself with the eternal and the mortal with Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
54 Once the transient has put on the enduring and the mortal has donned Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign, the written saying will come authentic: ‘Death has been swallowed up in victory. ’
55 ‘Death, where is your victory? Where is your sting?’
56 The sting of death is transgression, and the power of transgression is the Mosaic Law.

57 But thanks be to the Preeminent Sovereign! He gives us victory through our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.
58 Therefore, my dear people of the New Humanity, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Sovereign Captain because you know that your labor in the Sovereign Captain is not in vain.

§ 29000 THE COLLECTION FOR THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S PEOPLE

16 Regarding the fundraising for the people of trust, follow the same instructions I gave to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities in Galatia.
2 Each week, on the first day, set aside a portion of your earnings so no collections are needed when I arrive.
3 Upon arrival, I will provide authorization letters to your chosen representatives to deliver your contribution to Yerushalayim.
4 If it is suitable for me to travel, they can accompany me.

§ 29010 PERSONAL REQUESTS

5 After my journey through Macedonia, I plan to visit you, as my route includes passing through Macedonia.
6 I might stay with you for some time, potentially through the winter, so that you can assist in my onward journey, regardless of the destination.
7 My intention is not a brief visit; I aspire to linger with you, should it be the Sovereign Captain's will.
8 I plan to remain in Ephesus until the Harvest Festival.
9 A significant and fruitful opportunity for productive labor has been provided to me, yet many oppose me.
10 Ensure Timothy feels at ease and unafraid during his stay with you, as he is devotedly doing the Sovereign Captain's work, like myself.
11 Let no one disrespect him. Ensure his departure is harmonious so he can reunite with me. I and the people of the New Humanity anticipate his arrival.
12 Regarding our sibling Apollos, I persuaded him to visit you and the people of the New Humanity. He was not inclined to make the journey then but will proceed when he finds a suitable chance.

13 Stay alert; remain unyielding in your trust; demonstrate bravery; grow in strength.
14 Let love drive your every action.
15 People of the New Humanity, you know that Stephanas' family pioneered trust in Achaia and committed themselves to serve the Preeminent Sovereign's people. I implore you 16 to submit to all laborers and coworkers.
17 The arrival of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus delighted me, filling the void your absence had left.
18 These individuals have rejuvenated my inner-self and yours. Individuals of such caliber merit acknowledgment.

§ 29020 FINAL GREETINGS

19 The ensovereigned lifestyle communities from Asia send their greetings. Aquila and Priscilla warmly greet you in the Sovereign Captain and the assembly in their home.
20 All who trust this place send their salutations. Exchange an exalted kiss as a greeting.
21 Paul and I wrote this closing salutation.
22 “If anyone lacks affection for the Sovereign Captain, let him be accursed. May the Sovereign Captain arrive soon.”
23 “May the affection and favor of the Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, be with you.”
24 “My affection is with you under Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer. So be it.”

~ 208 | 2 Sophisticates | 2 Corinthians

§ 29030 TRANQUILITY FROM THE ETERNAL REALITY

1 Paul, a messenger of the Chosen Redeemer, chosen by the will of the Preeminent Sovereign, along with our brother Timothy, addresses the ensovereigned lifestyle community at Corinth and all the loyal throughout Achaia:

2 May favor from the Eternal Reality and tranquility be conferred on you from our Celestial Life-Giver and Rescuer, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29040 PRAISE TO THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN OF ALL COMFORT

3 Acclaim the Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver of our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, renowned as the Life-Giver of mercy and the Eternal Reality of all consolation.
4 He consoles us in every hardship, enabling us to soothe others facing tribulation with the same consolation we receive from the Preeminent Sovereign.
5 As we partake in the plentiful afflictions of the Chosen Redeemer, so does our consolation overflow through the Chosen Redeemer.
6 If we are troubled, it's for your encouragement and deliverance. If we are offered solace, it's for your consolation, which gives you the strength to bear the same trials we patiently undergo.
7 We remain confident in you, understanding that you equally share the comfort we receive, just as we share the same sufferings.
8 Our dear people of the New Humanity, we want you to know about the struggles we had in the province of Asia. We were burdened beyond our capacity to bear, so we lost all hope for life.
9 We felt the death verdict was on us. However, this occurred so we would not lean on our strength but on the Preeminent Sovereign, who can resurrect the dead.

10 He has saved us from such a grave risk of death and will save us once more. We have trusted Him and know that He will protect us.
11 As you support us with your supplications, numerous people will render gratitude for the Eternal Reality's kindness we received in response to multiple meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 29050 PAUL'S CHANGE OF PLANS

12 Our conscience testifies that we have lived with exaltedness and sincerity from the Preeminent Sovereign, not human knowledge, but His transformative generosity.
13-14 Our communication is clear and understandable. You will fully grasp it, taking pride in us as we do on the day of our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.

15 Trusting this, I planned to visit you first, doing you a double favor.
16 I intended to visit during my journey to Macedonia and return to see you, anticipating your help towards Judea.
17 Was I inconsistent? Do I make decisions based on worldly considerations, saying both “Yes” and “No” ?
18 The Preeminent Sovereign is trustworthy; our message does not waver.
19 The message about Immanuel, conveyed by us—myself, Silas, and Timothy— has always been affirmative.
20 The Chosen Redeemer affirms the Preeminent Sovereign’s promises, amplifying His acclaim.
21 He establishes us in the Chosen Redeemer and has Ensovereigned us.
22 He marked us with His Eternal Spark as a down payment, ensuring His promises.
23 I ask the Preeminent Sovereign to testify that my decision not to revisit Corinth was out of consideration for your feelings.

24 We don’t enforce dominion over your trust; we collaborate to promote your happiness, given your unshakeable trust.

2 I decided not to pay another visit that caused grief.
2 If I cause sorrow, who will cheer me but the one I made sorrowful?
3 I wrote to avoid angst on my arrival, trusting you to share my delight.
4 My letter was crafted amidst hardship and heartache, with countless tears—not to cause sorrow but to show my profound affection for you.

§ 29060 FORGIVENESS FOR THE OFFENDER

5 “If someone has caused distress, it’s not just me he has grieved but all of you, to some extent.”
6 The penalty imposed by the majority is sufficient.
7 Now, extend your forgiveness and provide him solace to prevent unbearable grief.
8 Confirm your affection towards him.
9 I wrote to test your integrity and see if you would adhere to every directive.
10 Whomever you pardon, I do as well. If there was anything to forgive, it has been pardoned before the Chosen Redeemer for your benefit.
11 This action prevents the Adversary from gaining an advantage since we know his strategies.

§ 29070 MEDIATORS OF THE NEW AGREEMENT

12 Upon arriving in Troas to share the joyous developments of the Chosen Redeemer, I encountered an opportunity presented by the Sovereign Captain.

13 My inner-self was unsettled as I couldn’t find my ensovereigned mediator, Titus. So, after saying farewell, I headed to Macedonia.
14 Gratitude is given to the Eternal Reality, who always leads us in Immanuel’s victorious march and uses us to spread His knowledge universally.
15 We are a delightful scent of the Chosen Redeemer to the Preeminent Sovereign, recognized among those on the path to redemption and those facing extinction.
16 To one group, we are the scent of mortality; to the other, the fragrance of existence. And who is competent for such a task?

17 Unlike many who proclaim the joyous developments for financial gain, we, as men sent by the Preeminent Sovereign, come before Him in the Chosen Redeemer and speak honestly.

3 Are we beginning to praise our merits again, or do we need commendatory letters like some individuals, either to you or from you?
2 You are our testimonial, inscribed in our inner-selves, recognized and understood by all.
3 You are a message from the Chosen Redeemer due to our attendance, not written with ink but with the Eternal Spark of the living Preeminent Sovereign, not on stone slabs but on human inner-selves.
4 We have this certainty towards the Preeminent Sovereign through the Chosen Redeemer.
5 We don't claim to be qualified on our own; the Preeminent Sovereign grants our qualifications.
6 He has made us capable coworkers of a new solemn agreement, not based on the written code but on the Eternal Spark, for the written code leads to death, while the Eternal Spark grants life.

§ 29080 THE GREATER MAJESTY OF THE NEW AGREEMENT

7 Consider this: the service that led to death, engraved on a rock, was delivered with such majesty that the people of Israel couldn't constantly gaze on Moses' face due to its radiance, a radiance that, despite its transient nature, was overwhelming.
8 Wouldn't the work of the Eternal Spark be even more splendid?
9 If the service that produced judgment had splendor, imagine the magnificence of the service that imparts integrity!
10 Indeed, what once had splendor now lacks, given the tremendous acclaim that exceeds it.
11 If what was temporary arrived in splendor, how much more splendid would it be than that which is enduring?
12 With such tremendous hope, we act confidently and speak with immense courage.
13 We differ from Moses, who used to cover his face with a veil to keep the children of Israel from gazing after what was becoming obsolete.
14 However, their comprehension was hardened, and to this day, the identical covering persists while reading the ancient solemn agreement. It hasn't been set aside, as it is exclusively through the Chosen Redeemer that it gets abolished.
15 A shroud continues to obscure their inner-selves. At the same time, the Living Word of Moses is being perused even in contemporary times.
16 However, the covering is removed when one turns towards the Sovereign Captain.
17 The essence of the Sovereign Captain is indeed the Eternal Spark, and wherever the Eternal Spark of the Sovereign Captain resides, there lies liberation.
18 With open hearts, we reflect the Eternal Reality's brilliance, like a clear digital screen showing His image. We're being upgraded daily, transformed into His likeness by the power of His indwelling Eternal Spark."

§ 29090 PRESENT WEAKNESS AND THE RETURN FROM DEATH

4 The Preeminent Sovereign’s kindness has entrusted us with this work, so we refuse to become discouraged. We have rejected hidden and disgraceful actions; we don’t employ deceit or manipulate the word of the Preeminent Sovereign.

2 Instead, we openly express ultimate authenticity, presenting ourselves favorably to the conscience of all in the Preeminent Sovereign’s sight.
3 Even if our message of redemption is obscure, it is only unclear to those on the path toward eternal destruction.

4 The Adversary of this era has clouded the understanding of people unaligned with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality, preventing them from recognizing the radiance of the joyous developments that showcase the splendor of the Chosen Redeemer, who reflects the Preeminent Sovereign.

5 Our message is not about us, but the Chosen Redeemer being the Sovereign Captain. For Immanuel’s sake, we present ourselves as your humble helpers.

6 The same Eternal Reality who flipped the switch to light up the universe has sparked a glow within our inner lives, showing us the brilliance of His presence through Immanuel.

7 But we hold this treasure in fragile containers, showing that this extraordinary power is from the Preeminent Sovereign, not from ourselves.
8 We often find ourselves in distressing situations, yet we do not succumb; we may lack solutions but never lose hope.
9 Pursued yet not forsaken, smitten down yet not perishing.

10 We persistently bear the demise of Immanuel in our physique so that the existence of Immanuel may also be unveiled in our physique.
11 Continually, we are under the threat of death for Immanuel’s sake so that He may be vividly displayed in our mortal flesh.
12 Consequently, mortality operates within us. However, vitality prevails in you.

13 The Living Word asserts: I trusted and voiced my trust. Given that we possess the identical unity of trust, we, too, have trust, and for that reason, we also express it.
14 We are confident that the same Preeminent Sovereign who returned Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain from death will bring us back to life through Immanuel and usher us, along with you, into His presence.

15 All these things are happening for your good; as transformative generosity expands to an increasing number of individuals, it may boost gratitude and magnify the Preeminent Sovereign’s acclaim.
16 We do not give up; even though our physical body is gradually decaying, our inner-self is continually revitalized daily.
17 Our fleeting, minor disturbances generate a perpetual radiance of grandeur that overwhelmingly transcends them.

18 Rather than focusing on what is visible, we focus on what remains unseen, understanding that what we can see is temporary while the invisible is everlasting.

§ 29100 AWAITING THE NEW BODY

5 We know that if our physical home is taken away, the Preeminent Sovereign has a permanent and eternal celestial dwelling for us in His presence—designed and built beyond human ability.

2 We yearn to be clothed with our celestial abode.

3 While we are sheltered, we will not be found naked.
4 As long as we inhabit this earthly shelter, we groan and feel burdened, not because we desire to be unclothed but because we wish to clothe ourselves with our celestial home so that eternal life may swallow up what is mortal.
5 The Preeminent Sovereign has prepared us for this purpose and given us the Eternal Spark to guarantee what is to come.
6 Therefore, we are always confident, knowing that while we are at home in the body, we are away from the Eternal Reality.
7 We live by trust, not by sight.
8 We are confident and prefer to be away from the body and at home with the Sovereign Captain.
9 Our goal is to please him, whether at home in the body or away from it.
10 For we must all appear before the Chosen Redeemer's tribunal to receive what is due for the things done in the body, whether good or bad.

§ 29110 THE ATTENTIVENESS OF RECONCILIATION

11 Aware of the Sovereign Captain's awe, we aim to persuade people. The Preeminent Sovereign knows our authentic nature, and I trust your moral senses do too.
12 We're not proving our worth again but offering you a chance to take pride in us, enabling you to respond to those focused on appearances rather than the inner-self.
13 If we seem out of our senses, it's for celestial purposes; if sane, it's for your benefit.
14 The Chosen Redeemer's love controls us, as we trust one died for all; so, all have died.
15 He gave his life for everyone so that those who live should exist not for themselves but for him who died and was returned from death.

16 From now on, we judge no one by worldly standards. Though we once viewed the Chosen Redeemer this way, we do so no longer.
17 If anyone is united with the Chosen Redeemer, they are a new creation: The old life has gone, and a new life has begun!
18 This life comes from the Preeminent Sovereign, who reconciled us to Himself through the Chosen Redeemer and gave us the attentiveness of reconciliation.
19 The Preeminent Sovereign was in the Chosen Redeemer, absolving the world to Himself, not counting their transgressions against them. He entrusted us with the message of reconciliation.
20 We are ambassadors for the Chosen Redeemer, with the Preeminent Sovereign appealing through us. On behalf of the Chosen Redeemer, we urge you to be reconciled to the Preeminent Sovereign.

21 The Preeminent Sovereign made the one who knew no unworthy choice an unfit offering for us so that in him, we might become rightful in His eyes.

6 As partners with the Preeminent Sovereign, we implore you not to disregard His undeserved favor.
2 He declares He heard your pleas during His goodwill and helped on your day of deliverance. I affirm that now is the Preeminent Sovereign's time of goodwill; today is the day of redemption.

§ 29120 PAUL'S HARDSHIPS

3 We strive to avoid being a stumbling block, ensuring our service remains above reproach.
4 As coworkers of the Preeminent Sovereign, we demonstrate immense perseverance through adversity, hardships, and distress.
5 We endure physical abuse, incarcerations, civil unrest, demanding labor, sleepless nights, and starvation.
6 With innocence, clarity, wisdom, endurance, and transformative generosity, we abide by the Eternal Spark and exhibit genuine affection.

7 Using the language of integrity and the Preeminent Sovereign's might, we wield integrity instruments for defense and offense.
8 Amid honor, disgrace, slander, and praise, we are perceived as deceitful yet remain authentic.
9 Recognized but treated as unknown; near death yet living; disciplined but not killed;
10 Sad yet perpetually filled with delight; seemingly needy yet enriching many; appearing to own nothing yet possessing everything.
11 O Corinthians, our declarations to you have been candid, and our affection for you is expansive.
12 Our love for you has not been held back. However, it is you who have restricted your affections towards us.
13 As an equitable trade addressing you as my offspring, expand your inner-selves to us, too.

§ 29130 WARNING AGAINST WORSHIP OF IDOLIZED DEITIES

14 Avoid alliances with those who lack your trust. Can integrity coexist with impurity? Can light and darkness share the same space?
15 How can the Chosen Redeemer and the Adversary agree? What can a pathseeker impart to an atheist?
16 What common ground exists between the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign and idolized deities? We are the fortress of the living, the Preeminent Sovereign. The Preeminent Sovereign said: "I will live with them and walk among them. I will be their Preeminent Sovereign, and they will be my people."

17 Therefore, "Come out from them and be separate," says the Sovereign Captain. "Touch no dirty thing, and I will receive you."

18 The Almighty Sovereign Captain declares, "I will be your loving parent, and you will be my cherished children."

7 Having these assurances, cherished companions, let's cleanse ourselves from all that defiles our body and inner-self, making our commitment to exaltedness complete, motivated by our deep respect for the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 29140 PAUL'S DELIGHT FOR YOUR TRANSFORMATION

2 "Open your inner-selves towards us; we haven't mistreated or caused harm to anyone, nor have we taken undue advantage of anyone.
3 My intention is not to criticize you. I've said it before: you occupy our inner-selves to such an extent that we will live and die together.
4 Great is my pride and confidence in you; you encourage me; my delight overflows in all our tribulations.

5 On our arrival in Macedonia, we had no tranquility. We were besieged at all corners, facing outward battles and inward apprehensions.
6 The one who uplifts the despondent, Preeminent Sovereign, consoled us through the arrival of Titus.
7 Not solely through his arrival but also via the comfort you provided him. He shared with us your deep yearning for me, your profound sadness, and your passionate care toward me, amplifying my delight to an unprecedented level.

8 Even though my correspondence caused you distress, I do not feel remorse. Despite feeling remorse initially, I recognize now that my letter caused you pain, although it was temporary.
9 My delight emerges not from the sadness you experienced but because your sadness propelled you toward a life transformation. The Preeminent Sovereign designed a sorrow for you, ensuring that you suffered no damage from our end.

10 The Preeminent Sovereign distress fosters inner-self change that results in deliverance, leaving no remorse; however, earthly grief brings demise.

11 Observe how your innermost-self has guided your sorrow into determination. You will vindicate yourselves, outrage, fear, intense wish, concern, and preparedness to enact fairness. Throughout the situation, you have demonstrated your innocence.
12 Consequently, my writing to you was not due to the actions of the individual who committed the wrong, nor was it due to the harmed one. It was primarily to allow you, in your presence, to acknowledge your deep dedication to us.
13 Through all of this, we have been comforted.

14 To be sure, I wasn't ashamed of anything I'd told Titus about you. But our boasts to him have proven accurate, just as all we spoke to you was genuine.
15 His love for you intensifies when he recollects that everyone complied, welcoming him with utmost respect and apprehension.
16 Knowing I can fully trust you brings me delight."

§ 29150 GENEROSITY FOR THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S PEOPLE

8 People of the New Humanity, we want to inform you about the favor the Eternal Reality has shown to the ecclesiastical gatherings in Macedonia.
2 Despite severe suffering, their abundant happiness and deep poverty led to a wealth of transformative generosity.
3 They gave as much as they could, even beyond their means, entirely of their own volition.
4 They fervently implored us to let them participate in the service for the people of the Sovereign Captain.

5 They exceeded our expectations: first, they surrendered themselves to the Sovereign Captain, then, by the Preeminent Sovereign's will, to us as well.
6 We encouraged Titus, who had previously initiated it, to ensure the successful completion of this benevolent task on your behalf.
7 Since you excel in all areas—trust, speech, knowledge, total dedication, and the affection we ignited in you—ensure you excel equally in this act of transformative generosity.
8 I am not issuing an order; instead, I am testing the genuineness of your love by comparing it with the dedication of others.
9 You know the loving favor of our Sovereign Captain Redeemer; However, he was wealthy and became destitute for your benefit, allowing you to prosper through his poverty.
10 Here is my counsel for your best interests. Last year, you were the first to act and feel the urge to act.
11 Now, complete the task so that your fulfillment matches your enthusiastic determination based on your resources.
12 If one is eager to give, the gift will be appreciated based on what they possess, not their lack.
13 We do not intend for others to experience ease while you face difficulties; instead, we aim for balance.
14 Your abundance can meet their needs so that their surplus can eventually meet your needs. The aim is to establish balance.
15 As the Living Word says, "The individual who collected a lot didn't have an excess, and the one who amassed a little wasn't deficient."

§ 29160 TITUS SENT TO RECEIVE THE COLLECTION

16 Praise the Preeminent Sovereign for instilling in Titus the same dedication I have for you.

17 Titus eagerly accepted our encouragement and is heading your way by his own decision.
18 We are sending an ensovereigned mediator with him, whose dedication to the joyous developments has earned commendations from all ensovereigned lifestyle communities.
19 The ensovereigned lifestyle communities chose this mediator to accompany the offering—a kind donation to honor the Sovereign Captain and show our willingness to assist.
20 We aim to prevent objections to managing this generous donation.

21 We strive to do what is honorable, not just in the sight of the Preeminent Sovereign but also in the view of the people.
22 Additionally, we are assigning our people of the New Humanity, who have proven their enthusiasm numerous times. His enthusiasm is now heightened due to the immense trust he holds in you.
23 Titus is my companion and collaborator among you; our people of the New Humanity serve as delegates from the ensovereigned lifestyle communities and a tribute to the Chosen Redeemer.
24 So, demonstrate to these men your affection and the basis for our boasting about you so that the ensovereigned lifestyle communities can witness it.

9 I don't need to explain the assistance offered to Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers.
2 I know your readiness to help. I have bragged about it to the Macedonians, telling them that you esteemed people in Achaia have been ready to contribute since last year. Your enthusiasm has inspired many of them to participate.
3 However, I'm sending the people of the New Humanity to ensure our praise about you doesn't result in disappointment and that you are prepared, as I previously indicated.
4 If any Macedonians accompany me and find you unprepared, it would cause us, and you, shame due to our misplaced confidence.

5 Therefore, it is essential to encourage the people of the New Humanity to arrive before us and complete the necessary arrangements for the substantial gift you pledged. This way, it will be prepared not as a reluctant obligation but as a freely given and generous contribution.

§ 29170 TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY ENCOURAGED

6 Here's the principle: If you contribute only a little, you'll see limited results. But if you give freely and generously, the impact will be far greater.
7 Each person should give as they decide, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for the Preeminent Sovereign delights in cheerful givers.
8 The Preeminent Sovereign can provide all you need, ensuring you always have enough to excel in every good deed.
9 As it is written, "They have generously given their absolving payments to the needy, and their deeds of justice and kindness endure forever."
10 The One who provides resources for all will also equip you with everything needed to do good. He will amplify your efforts, leading to a greater impact of generosity and goodness in the world.
11 You will be fortunate beyond measure, enabling you to give generously at all times. Through us, your transformative generosity will result in thanksgiving to the Eternal Reality.
12 This service not only meets the needs of the Sovereign Captain's people but also overflows in many expressions of thanks to the Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Because of this service, others will praise the Preeminent Sovereign for your obedience and transformative generosity in sharing with them and everyone else.
14 And in the melding of their consciences with the Eternal Reality for you, their inner determination will go out to you because of the surpassing transformative generosity the Preeminent Sovereign has given you.
15 Thanks be to the Preeminent Sovereign for his indescribable gift!

§ 29180 PAUL'S DEFENSE OF HIS ATTENTIVENESS

10 I appeal to you with the humility and patience of the Chosen Redeemer, though some think I am bold in writing but timid in person.
2 I hope I won't have to be bold when I'm with you. Some say we live by the same self-centered values as the world, but that's not authentic.
3 Though we navigate life in this world, we don't fight using its methods.
4 The Preeminent Sovereign empowers the strategies we rely on to dismantle corrupt systems and misguided beliefs.
5 We challenge every argument and idea that challenges the Preeminent Sovereign's ultimate authenticity, aligning every thought with the Chosen Redeemer.
6 Once you're fully committed, we'll address all areas of disobedience among you.
7 Take a close look at what's in front of you. If someone thinks they belong to the Chosen Redeemer, they should remember that we also belong to him.
8-9 Even if I take pride in the authority the Preeminent Sovereign gave us to strengthen you, not tear you down, I won't be ashamed. I don't want my letters to make you think I'm trying to intimidate you.
10 Some say, "His letters are strong and weighty, but in person, he's unimpressive, and his speaking isn't persuasive."
11 Let those people realize that what we write when absent, we will back up when present.
12 We don't compare ourselves to those who promote themselves. They measure their value by their own standards, which isn't wise.
13 We'll only take credit for what the Eternal Reality has assigned to us, including our work with you.
14 We're not overstepping; we were the first to bring you the Preeminent Sovereign's message.
15 We don't claim credit for others' work but hope your growing trust will expand the reach of our efforts.
16 Then, we can share the message in areas beyond you without taking credit for someone else's work.

17 If someone wants to take pride in something, let it be what the Sovereign Captain has done.
18 It's not self-approval that counts but the approval from the Sovereign Captain.

§ 29190 PAUL AND THE FALSE EMISSARIES

11 Please bear with my foolishness for a moment. Indeed, do tolerate me!
2 I have a celestial concern for you, like the Preeminent Sovereign's. I pledged you in marriage to a single man, the Chosen Redeemer, to present you as an untouched maiden to him.
3 Just as the snake deceived Eve with his craftiness, your thoughts could deviate from genuine and untainted dedication to the Chosen Redeemer.
4 You seem to tolerate it effortlessly when someone approaches you, proclaiming a different Immanuel than the one we announced or when a different intention or suitable news variant from the one you initially accepted is introduced.
5 I don't consider myself any less capable than those exceptional emissaries.
6 While I may lack formal training in oratory, I am not deficient in knowledge. We have ensured this is evident to you in every conceivable way.
7 Did I transgress by humbling myself to uplift you by disseminating the word of the Preeminent Sovereign to you at no cost?

[8] I plundered other ensovereigned lifestyle communities by accepting their contributions to serve you at no cost.
[9] I ensured I didn't impose on anyone whenever I was among you and required aid. The people of the New Humanity who journeyed from Macedonia catered to my needs. I have consistently prevented myself from being a hindrance to any of you and will persist.
[10] In complete certainty, the ultimate authenticity of the Chosen Redeemer resides within me, and no one in the Achaia regions can deter this assurance of mine.
[11] Is it because I don't have affection for you? The Eternal Reality is aware of my deep feelings for you!

[12] I will persist in my actions, intending to undermine those who seek a chance to claim equivalence with us in their self-praising endeavors.
[13] Individuals of this sort are insincere emissaries and dishonest laborers pretending to be emissaries of the Chosen Redeemer.
[14] Unsurprisingly, even the Adversary attempts to present himself as a messenger of celestial realm light.
[15] So, it is expected that if his servants disguise themselves as administrators of integrity, their deeds will dictate their destiny.

§ 29200 PAUL BOASTS ABOUT HIS SUFFERINGS

[16] I urge you not to see me as a fool. But if you do, bear with me so I may indulge in self-praise.
[17] While boasting, I'm not following the Sovereign Captain's path but foolishly expressing myself.
[18] Since many boast in a worldly manner, I will do the same.
[19] You are insightful and tolerate the foolish!
[20] You endure when someone subjugates, mistreats, manipulates, behaves arrogantly, or strikes you.
[21] I embarrassingly confess that we have been too feeble for that! Whatever others dare to boast about—I say this as a clown—I dare to boast, too.
[22] Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Do they trace their family to Abraham? So do I.
[23] Are they pathseekers of the Chosen Redeemer? I sound mad saying this: I exceed them. My efforts have been more intense, my imprisonments are more frequent, my beatings harsher, and I have faced death many times.
[24] Five times, I received thirty-nine lashes from the Israelites.

[25] I was beaten with rods three times; stoned once; shipwrecked thrice; and spent a night and day adrift at sea.
[26] I have traveled constantly. I have faced river threats, thieves, dangers from my Judean community, Outsiders, urban and rural perils, ocean dangers, and deceitful people of trust.
[27] I have struggled and worked hard, often missing sleep; experienced hunger and thirst; lacked food; and found myself cold and without clothing.
[28] On top of all else, each day brings the burden of my worry for all the ensovereigned lifestyle communities.
[29] When someone is weak, don't I share their frailty? If anyone is misled into unworthy choices, don't I seethe angrily?
[30] I'll boast about my frailty if I must boast.
[31] The Life-Giver of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, eternally endowed, confirms that I am authentic.

32 When I was in Damascus, the governor under Prime Ruler Aretas set up a security perimeter around Damascene City to capture me.
33 I avoided capture by descending in a container through an opening in the city's barrier, evading his grasp.

§ 29210 PAUL'S VISION AND HIS THORN

12 Despite its lack of benefit, I must continue boasting about Eternal Reality's visions and disclosures.
2 Fourteen years ago, I knew a pathseeker of the Chosen Redeemer who was taken to the third celestial realm. Whether this happened physically or not, only the Preeminent Sovereign knows.
3 This individual remains uncertain whether in physical presence or not; only the Eternal Reality knows.
4 I was transported into paradise, hearing unspeakable matters that no human can disclose.

5 I will take pride in such a person, but for myself, I will only take pride in my shortcomings.
6 Even if I wanted to boast, I would not be foolish because I would be speaking the truth. However, I refrain so no one will think more of me than what is seen in my actions or heard from my words.
7 To keep me from becoming overly proud due to these remarkable disclosures, a nuisance was given to me, a messenger of the Adversary, to torment me.
8 I pleaded with the Sovereign Captain three times to remove this issue.
9 He said, "My favor is enough for you, for my might is perfected in weakness." I will gladly brag about my weaknesses to honor the Chosen Redeemer's might on my behalf.
10 For this reason, I delight in weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and difficulties for the sake of the Chosen Redeemer because when I am weak, I am strong.

§ 29220 PAUL'S CONCERN FOR THE CORINTHIANS

11 "You forced me into foolishness. You should have defended me, as I am not inferior to those esteemed super-proponents, even though I am a nobody.
12 I demonstrated the signs of a genuine emissary through marvelous signs, wonders, and extraordinary deeds.
13 How were you less privileged than other ensovereigned lifestyle communities, except that I did not burden you financially? Please excuse this transgression!
14 I am ready to visit you a third time and will not be a burden because I seek you, not your possessions. Parents should save for their children, not vice versa.
15 I am glad to give all I have and offer myself to you. If my love for you increases, will your love for me decrease?
16 It is acknowledged that I did not burden you. However, being cunning, I ensnared you with deception.

17 Did anyone I sent to you take advantage of you?
18 I sent our ensovereigned mediator with Titus and urged him to see you. Did Titus exploit you in any way? Did we not follow the same path and walk in the same Eternal Spark?

19 Have you assumed we have been justifying ourselves before you? We have been speaking before the Preeminent Sovereign and as pathseekers of the Chosen Redeemer, and every action we take dear companions, is aimed at fortifying you mentally and innerly.
20 I'm concerned that you might not be as I wish on my arrival, and I may not be as you desire. I worry there may be conflict, envy, sudden anger, self-centered pursuits, defamation, rumor-spreading, arrogance, and chaos.
21 I fear my Eternal Reality will humble me in your presence upon my return. I will feel sorrow over those who have committed unworthy choices and have not made amends for their impure actions, sexual transgressions, and acts of decadence."

§ 29230 FINAL WARNINGS

13 I'm preparing for my third visit. As the ancient Law dictates, corroboration is required from at least two or three individuals for each issue.
2 I previously cautioned you during my second visit; now, I echo the same sentiment in my absence: on my return, I will not be lenient with those who have committed unworthy choices or any others.
3 As you seek evidence of the Chosen Redeemer communicating through me, understand that he is not feeble when dealing with you but exerts his strength on you.
4 Indeed, his nailing to an execution stake occurred in a state of frailty. Still, he exists now with the strength of celestial power. Simultaneously, we are feeble in him, yet through Eternal Reality's power, we will be alive alongside him while interacting with you.
5 Look at yourselves and assess if you live by the trust. Evaluate yourselves. Don't you understand that the Chosen Redeemer resides within you unless you've failed to pass the check?

6 You will recognize that we were not unsuccessful in the examination.
7 The melding of our conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign is for you to avoid any wrongdoings, not to show we've passed the test, but rather for you to maintain the right actions, even if it might seem like we have faltered.
8 We cannot act against ultimate authenticity but support it exclusively.
9 We rejoice when we seem frail, yet you are robust; our intervention is for you to reach a state of complete restoration.
10 I pen these words while absent so that upon my arrival, I won't have to show severity through my authority—an authority the Sovereign Captain has given me to foster your growth, not to tear you down.

§ 29240 FINAL GREETINGS

11 In conclusion, my people of the New Humanity find delight! Strive for complete reconciliation, uplift each other, maintain unity of thought, and live harmoniously. The celestial provider of affection and tranquility will accompany you.
12 Exchange an exalted kiss when you meet each other.
13 All New Humanity here extend their best regards.
14 May the kindness and empowerment of the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, be on you, may the Preeminent Sovereign demonstrate His love, and may you all enjoy the companionship of the Eternal Spark.

~ 209 | Celtics | Galatians

§ 29250 APPOINTED BY THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

1 Paul, a messenger—not appointed by humans but by the Chosen Redeemer and the celestial realm Life-Giver who returned him from death.

2 Along with all the people of trust accompanying me to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities in Galatia.
3 May loving favor and tranquility be granted to you from the Eternal Reality's Life-Giver and our Rescuer, Immanuel, the Sovereign.
4 Immanuel surrendered himself as an absolving payment for our transgressions, intending to liberate us from the current corrupt era in conformity with the desires of our Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver.
5 May he have all the honor forever. Let it be so.

§ 29260 NO CHANGES TO OUR JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

6 It's astonishing how quickly you're turning away from the One who called you by the transformative generosity of the Chosen Redeemer to a different joyous development, which isn't joyous at all.
7 It seems others are troubling you and distorting the message of the Chosen Redeemer.
8 Even if a Celestial Envoy or we present joyous developments contrary to what we initially proclaimed, let that person be under celestial condemnation!
9 As I said before, I now repeat: if anyone preaches joyous developments different from what you received, let them face celestial condemnation!
10 Am I now seeking the approval of humanity or the Preeminent Sovereign? Or am I trying to please people? If I were still trying to please humans, I wouldn't be a bondservant of the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29270 PAUL CALLED BY THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

11 Please understand, my people of the New Humanity, that no human conceived the joyous developments I shared.
12 I didn't receive it from anyone, nor was it taught to me; it came through a direct disclosure from the Chosen Redeemer.

13 You know my former conduct in the Judean religion, where I fiercely persecuted the Preeminent Sovereign's ensovereigned lifestyle community, attempting to eradicate it.
14 I advanced in the Judean faith. I outpaced many of my contemporaries, fueled by my intense enthusiasm for the path my ancestors handed down to me.
15 However, the Preeminent Sovereign, pleased with me, called me through His kindness, having selected me before birth.
16 To declare His Heir among the Outsider folk, I didn't seek advice from anyone.
17 Instead of traveling to Yerushalayim to meet those who were emissaries before me, I went to Arabia and then returned to Damascus.
18 I went to Yerushalayim three years later to meet Peter and spent a fortnight with him.
19 I didn't meet any other emissaries except James, the Sovereign Captain's sibling.
20 In the presence of the Preeminent Sovereign, I assure you there is no falsehood in what I convey.
21 Subsequently, I journeyed to Syria and Cilicia.
22 The ensovereigned lifestyle communities in Judea had not met me personally.
23 They only heard, "The one who previously harassed us is now advocating the trust he once aimed to obliterate."
24 They glorified the Preeminent Sovereign in me.

§ 29280 PAUL ACCEPTED BY THE EMISSARIES

2 Fourteen years later, I returned to Yerushalayim with Barnabas and Titus.
2 Following a disclosure, I shared the joyous developments I teach among the Outsiders with the leaders, concerned that my efforts might be in vain.

3 Despite being Greek, Titus was not compelled to undergo circumcision.
4 This issue arose because false pathseekers infiltrated our group to undermine our freedom in Immanuel, aiming to enslave us.
5 We did not yield to them for a moment, preserving the ultimate authenticity of the joyous developments for you.
6 Those deemed influential added nothing new to my directives; Preeminent Sovereign shows no partiality.
7 They recognized my mission to the non-Jews, just as Peter's was to the Israelites.
8 The same Preeminent Sovereign Force empowering Peter also empowered me as an emissary to the Outsiders.
9 James, Cephas, and John, esteemed as pillars, acknowledged the Eternal Reality's empowerment in me and extended partnership to Barnabas and me, agreeing that we focus on the Outsiders while they ministered to the circumcised.
10 They only asked that we remember the less fortunate, which I was eager to do.

§ 29290 PAUL OPPOSES CEPHAS

11 I openly confronted Cephas in Antioch because he was clearly wrong.
12 Before certain individuals from James arrived, Peter would dine with the Outsiders. However, upon their arrival, he began to withdraw and separate himself out of fear of those who adhered to circumcision customs.
13 The other Judean people of trust followed his example, and even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy.

14 When I saw they were not acting in line with the joyous developments' ultimate authenticity, I said to Cephas in front of them all, "You are a Judean, yet you live like an Outsider and not like a Judean. How can you force Outsiders to follow Judean customs?"
15 We who are born Israelites, not wrongdoers from the Outsider nations,

16 know that a person is not made right with the Preeminent Sovereign through the Mosaic Law but through trusting the Chosen Redeemer. We have placed our trust in the Chosen Redeemer so that we can be declared integrid through our trust in Him rather than by the Mosaic Law since no one will ever be judged integrid by it.
17 Certainly not! If seeking integrity with the Chosen Redeemer makes us identify with wrongdoers, it doesn't mean He endorses unworthy choices.
18 If I rebuild what I destroyed, I prove myself a rule violator.
19 The Mosaic Law made me realize its mortality, allowing me to live for the Preeminent Sovereign.
20 With the Chosen Redeemer, my old self has been put to death. It's no longer my life but the Chosen Redeemer's life within me. I live my life in this mortal body by completely trusting the Preeminent Sovereign's Heir, who loved me and gave himself for me.
21 I do not set aside the Preeminent Sovereign's generous gift; if integrity could be gained through the Mosaic Law, then the Chosen Redeemer's absolving payment was in vain!

§ 29300 TRUST OR WORKS OF THE MOSAICAL LAW

3 You unwise Galatians! Who has cast a spell on you? It was as if the Chosen Redeemer's nailing to an execution stake was vividly portrayed before your eyes.
2 I want to understand: Did you receive the Eternal Spark through the acts of the Mosaic Law or by trusting what you heard?
3 Can you be so senseless? Having begun your journey through the Eternal Spark, do you intend to complete it with human efforts?
4 Did you endure so much for nothing if it was for nothing?
5 Again, I ask: Does the Eternal Reality grant you His Eternal Spark and perform extraordinary acts among you because you adhere to the Mosaic Law or your trust in what you heard?

6 Abraham, too, trusted the Preeminent Sovereign and this trust was accounted to him as integrity.
7 Understand that individuals who adhere to trust are the genuine offspring of Abraham.
8 The exalted writings predicted long ago that the Preeminent Sovereign would accept the Outsiders due to their trust. They communicated these positive developments to Abraham, stating, "All nations will be endowed because of him."
9 So, individuals placing their trust in trust are graced just like Abraham, the person of trust.
10 Anyone who relies on the deeds of the Torah is subject to a curse, as explicitly stated in the Living Word: "everyone who fails to abide by and fulfill all that is inscribed in the Book of the Mosaic Law is damned."
11 Depending on the Mosaic Law doesn't make anyone right in the Preeminent Sovereign's sight, for a just person will live through trust.
12 The legislation isn't founded on trust but articulates that whoever performs these actions will gain life through them.
13 The Chosen Redeemer rescued us from the condemnation of the Mosaic Law by taking on the curse for us, as it is documented: "Anyone affixed to a pole is cursed."

14 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, liberated us so that the empowerment promised to Abraham could extend to the Outsiders, allowing us to attain the Eternal Spark's promise through trust.

§ 29310 THE MOSAICAL LAW AND THE PROMISE

15 Consider everyday agreements: once authorized, they can't be altered.
16 The Preeminent Sovereign made promises to Abraham and his offspring, not "descendants" but a single entity, the Chosen Redeemer.

17 The laws introduced 430 years later don't nullify this contract or contradict His promise.
18 If the legacy depended on the Mosaic Law, it wouldn't rely on the promise. Yet, Abraham received it as a gift from the Preeminent Sovereign.
19 The Mosaic Law was added due to wrongdoings until the promised Descendant arrived, delivered through celestial realm messengers to a mediator.
20 A mediator implies multiple parties, but only one is the Preeminent Sovereign.
21 Does the Mosaic Law oppose the Preeminent Sovereign's promises? No. If a Law could grant life, integrity would come from it.
22 The Living Word concludes that everyone is a transgressor and that those who trust Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, can obtain what he has promised.
23 Before trust emerged, we were restrained under the Mosaic Law, confined until trust was unveiled.
24 The Mosaic Law acted as our custodian, guiding us to embrace integrity through trust.

25 We are no longer under a custodian now that our trust has arrived.
26 Through trust in the Chosen Redeemer, you are all offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign.
27 Those who underwent water immersion —bathing in the Eternal Spark and sharing the death and rebirth of the Chosen Redeemer— have adorned themselves with Him.

§ 29320 CHILDREN OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

28 In Immanuel, distinctions of Judean or outsider, enslaved person or free, male or female no longer exist; all are unified.
29 Being in the Chosen Redeemer marks you as the offspring of Abraham, inheriting the promised empowerments.

4 As long as the inheritor is a minor, his situation doesn't differ from a bondservant despite owning the entire property.
2 Until his father determines a time, the caretakers and stewards oversee the heir.
3 Similarly, when innerly immature, we were captive to elementary teachings and philosophical principles.
4 When the fullness of time arrived, the Preeminent Sovereign dispatched His Heir, born of a woman and subject to Mosaic Law.
5 To liberate those under Mosaic Law so we might be accepted as children through adoption.
6 As proof of being His children, the Preeminent Sovereign dispatched the Eternal Spark of His Heir into your inner-selves, crying out, "Life-Giver, dear Life-Giver."

7 You are no longer a servant but a child of the Preeminent Sovereign; as His child, He has chosen you to be an inheritor.

§ 29330 PAUL'S CONCERN FOR THE CELTICS

8 Previously, when you were unaware of the Preeminent Sovereign, you were enslaved to beings unlike the Eternal Reality.
9 Now that you know the Preeminent Sovereign—or rather, Preeminent Sovereign knows you—why to revert to those powerless and unfortunate entities? Do you wish to be under their control again?
10 You meticulously observe specific days, months, festival seasons, and years!
11 I fear my efforts for you might have been in vain.
12 I urge you to mimic my ways, dear people of the New Humanity. Since I adopted yours, you've caused me no harm.
13 You know that my initial proclamation of the joyous developments to you happened due to a physical infirmity.

14 Despite my challenging sickness, you did not show contempt or ridicule. Instead, you welcomed me as though I was a Celestial Envoy—as if I was Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
15 So, where is that delight you once had for me? It's authentic that if possible, you would have given me your own eyes.
16 Have I become your enemy for speaking the ultimate authenticity to you?
17 These individuals are eager to convince you, but their intentions are not authentic. They want to create a rift between us and incite your enthusiasm towards them.
18 Being passionate is always good if the cause is noble, whether I am with you or not.

19 My Esteemed offspring, I am once more enduring the anguish of giving birth until the essence of the Chosen Redeemer is fully developed within you.
20 I long to be with you and feel confused by your behavior, which compels me to change my tone.

§ 29340 HAGAR AND SARAH

21 Enlighten me, those eager to follow the Mosaic Law, don't you understand what it stipulates?
22 The Living Word states that Abraham had two sons, one from a enslaved woman and the other from a free woman.
23 The bondmaid's son was conceived naturally, while the free woman's son came from a celestial vow.
24 These women represent two covenants. Hagar is one contract from Exalted Mountain of the Mosaic Law where children are enslaved.
25 Hagar represents the Exalted Mountain of the Mosaic Law in Arabia. She equates to present-day Yerushalayim, for she and her children are in bondage.
26 However, the celestial realm Yerushalayim above symbolizes liberty and is our inner mother.

27 It is written: 'Rejoice, childless woman who has not given birth; shout in delight and express aloud, you who have not endured labor; because the children of the desolate woman are more numerous than those of her with a spouse. '

28 Like Isaac, you all, my fellow people of the New Humanity, are offspring of the Eternal Reality's pledge.
29 However, at that time, the son of the flesh persecuted the son of the Eternal Spark. Now, it is the same.
30 Yet, what do the exalted writings assert? 'Expel the bondwoman and her son, for the heir of the bondwoman shall not share the inheritance with the free woman's son. '
31 So, siblings, we are not children of the enslaved woman but of the liberated one.

§ 29350 FREEDOM IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

5 The Chosen Redeemer has granted us liberty. Stand firm and do not submit again to the yoke of servitude.
2 Listen to my warning! I, Paul, declare that if you undergo circumcision, the benefits of the Chosen Redeemer will be nullified for you.
3 I emphasize that anyone who chooses circumcision is obligated to follow the entire Mosaic Law.
4 Those seeking integrity through the Mosaic Law have become estranged from the Chosen Redeemer; you've fallen from the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity.
5 Through the Eternal Spark and our trust, we eagerly await the integrity we seek.
6 In Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, circumcision or its absence is irrelevant. What matters is trust expressed through love.
7 You were progressing well. Who hindered you from following the ultimate authenticity?
8 This influence does not come from the one who calls you to freedom in the Chosen Redeemer.

9 A little yeast affects the whole dough.
10 Despite this, I trust the Sovereign Captain; you will not think otherwise. Whoever is causing this disruption will face punishment.
11 My devout relative, if I still proclaim circumcision, why am I persecuted? If that were authentic, the scandal of the execution stake would be removed.
12 I wish those agitators would go all the way and castrate themselves.
13 You, my people of the New Humanity, are called to live in liberty. But do not let this liberty fuel fleshly impulses; instead, serve each other humbly through love.
14 The entire regulation is summed up in this single decree: "Cherish others as you do yourself."
15 Be cautious; if you continue to hurt and tear apart, you risk annihilating one another.

§ 29360 LIFE BY THE ETERNAL SPARK

16 My guidance is this: live under the influence of the Eternal Spark, and you will not succumb to fleshly cravings.
17 Human nature desires what opposes the Eternal Spark, and the Eternal Spark desires what contradicts human nature. These two are in constant battle, preventing you from acting as you wish.
18 If the Eternal Spark guides you, you are not subject to the directives of the Mosaic Law.
19 Unworthy choices manifest in sexual misconduct, unhealthfulness, and unrestrained indulgence;
20 reverencing counterfeit idolized deities, practicing sorcery, harboring enmity and discord, jealousy, outbursts of anger, selfish desires, instigating disagreements, and promoting divisive groups.

21 Feelings of jealousy, excessive drinking, wild parties, and similar behaviors are warned against. Those who persist in these behaviors will not gain access to Eternal Reality's Sovereignty.

22 The outcomes of the Eternal Spark are compassion, delight, harmony, perseverance, transformative generosity, ultimate authenticity, and reliability;
23 humility and self-restraint. No legislation can oppose such virtues.
24 Individual pathseekers of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, have metaphorically put their human inclinations, intense emotions, and cravings to death.
25 Since our existence is by the Eternal Spark, we should align our actions with it.
26 We should avoid arrogance, stirring up one another and harboring jealousy toward each other.

§ 29370 DOING GOOD TO ALL

6 "Comrades in trust, if anyone is trapped by wrongdoing, it's your duty as pathseekers of Eternal Spark to gently bring them back on the right path. Be cautious, however, because you, too, could find yourself enticed by unworthy choices.

2 Assist each other in your troubles; you'll genuinely obey the Chosen Redeemer's Law through this.

3 When people perceive themselves as significant while, in reality, they are merely deluding themselves.

4 everyone should assess their accomplishments, and then they could find satisfaction alone, steering clear from comparisons.

5 Each person has a burden and a story to write.

6 Indeed, anyone who has taught the word of the Preeminent Sovereign ought to share all their empowerments with their teacher.

7-8 Don't be misled: You can't fool the Eternal Reality. Your actions determine their results. If you focus only on selfish desires, you'll face consequences that unravel your life. But if you invest in things that align with the Eternal Spark, you'll experience lasting fulfillment and purpose.

9 We must not tire of performing good deeds, for when the right moment arrives, we will yield plentiful results if we stay persistent.

10 When we get a chance, we should invest in doing good for everyone; priority should be given to those who are part of the ensovereigned lifestyle community.

§ 29380 NOT BY CIRCUMCISION BUT BY THE NEW CREATION

11 Observe the large letters I use when writing to you personally!

12 Those who want to make a good impression outwardly are urging you to undergo circumcision to avoid persecution for the Chosen Redeemer's execution stake.
13 Even those who are circumcised do not keep the Mosaic Law. Still, they want you circumcised so they can boast about your physical conformity.
14 I will never boast except in the execution stake of our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, through which the world is executed to me, and I executed to the world.

15 Circumcision or uncircumcision means nothing; what counts is the new creation.

16 Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, especially to the Preeminent Sovereign's Israel.
17 From now on, let no one cause me trouble, for I bear the marks of Immanuel on my body.
18 My fellow people of the New Humanity, may the transformative generosity of our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, be with your inner-self. So be it.

~ 210 | Consummation | Ephesians

§ 29390 BY CELESTIAL DECREE

1 Paul was chosen by celestial decree to represent the Chosen Redeemer to Ephesus' exalted ensovereigned lifestyle community, which maintains its fidelity to Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
2 "May you receive empowerment and tranquility from our Celestial Life-Giver and Rescuer, the Chosen Redeemer."

§ 29400 PRAISE FOR INNER EMPOWERMENTS IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

3 Let us express our gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, who has given us every inner gift in the celestial realms through the Chosen Redeemer.
4 Before the universe's inception, He selected us in His love to be pure and faultless before His eyes.
5 The Preeminent Sovereign had decided beforehand to welcome us into His family through the Chosen Redeemer, aligning with His delight and intent.
6 We honor the Preeminent Sovereign's magnificent kindness that has been generously conferred on us throuWe honor the Preeminent Sovereign who has generously conferred magnificent kindness to us through His dearly cherished Heir.

7 Through His blood, we have acquired deliverance; our unworthy choices have been pardoned, exhibiting the abundant wealth of the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity.
8 He generously gave us comprehensive wisdom and understanding.
9 The Preeminent Sovereign disclosed the mystery of His intention, which He planned to carry out through Immanuel as an expression of His pleasure.
10 When the right time has arrived, the plan will be implemented to bring harmony to all entities in the celestial realms and on the Earth under the authority of the Chosen Redeemer.
11 Within Him, we, too, have been selected and predestined in line with the Eternal Reality's design of the One who orchestrates all things in harmony with the intent of His will.
12 The intention was that we, who initially trusted the Chosen Redeemer, would exist to laud His brilliance.
13 In addition, when you heard the earnest message of redemption, you came to trust in the Chosen Redeemer. On your trust, you were identified with the indelible mark of the anticipated Eternal Spark.
14 The Eternal Spark assures our forthcoming inheritance, securing it until the Preeminent Sovereign acquires possession of those who belong to Him. This acquisition culminates in a celebration of His grandeur.

§ 29410 THANKSGIVING AND MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

15 Learning about your strong trust in Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain and your affection for all Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers has led me to this conclusion.
16 I continuously express gratitude for you, keeping you in my thoughts during the meldings of my consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.
17 I implore that the Preeminent Sovereign of our Immanuel, the splendid Life-Giver, grant you insight and disclosure, leading to a deeper comprehension of Him.

18 I implore you to have enlightened eyes, to recognize the acclaim of His extraordinary inheritance in the chosen ones, and the hope of His calling,
19 and the immeasurable grandeur of His power for all of us who trust. These align with His enormous strength at work,
20 which He used in the Chosen Redeemer to bring Him back to life and set Him at His dominant hand in the celestial realms, 21 beyond all authority, control, sovereignty, and power, and all titles, both now and in the future.

22 The Preeminent Sovereign made Immanuel the supreme authority of everything for the ensovereigned lifestyle community and subordinated everything to Him.
23 This ensovereigned lifestyle community is His Body, which refers to His entirety and permeates all things in every possible manner.

§ 29420 MADE ALIVE IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

2 Once, you were innerly lifeless due to your misdeeds and unworthy choices,
2 following the world's dictates and the overseer of the air's power, the Adversary, who works in the disobedient.
3 We, too, once lived among them, succumbing to physical desires and cravings. Like everyone else, we were inherently subject to wrath.
4 But due to His vast affection, the Preeminent Sovereign, abundant in forgiveness,
5 even in our inner death due to misdeeds, imbued us with life through the Chosen Redeemer—we are redeemed through His undeserved favor.
6 In our association with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, He and the Preeminent Sovereign has elevated us, giving us honor in the celestial realms,

7 so that in future generations, He could demonstrate His unmatched transformative generosity towards us in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
8 Your redemption comes through the Preeminent Sovereign's compassion and endowment, obtained by trust—an undeserved gift from the Preeminent Sovereign.
9 It's not due to personal deeds so that no one can brag.
10 We are a creation of the Preeminent Sovereign, fashioned in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, to perform authentic deeds previously orchestrated for our new lifestyle.

§ 29430 JUDEANS AND OUTSIDERS RECONCILED THROUGH THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

11 Keep in mind that those who label themselves “circumcised” have labeled you, Outsiders by birth, as “uncircumcised” due to a physical act performed by human hands.
12 During those times, you were disconnected from the Chosen Redeemer, not part of Israel’s citizenry, unfamiliar with the solemn agreements of assurance, devoid of hope, and without the Preeminent Sovereign in your lives.

13 Now, through the blood of the Chosen Redeemer, you who were once distanced have been drawn close in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
14 The Chosen Redeemer is our accord, uniting two factions into one entity and eliminating the wall of hatred that divided them.
15 By annulling the Mosaic Law and its decrees in His physical form, He aimed to forge a New Humanity from the two groups, synthesizing peace.

16 Their hatred was extinguished through the execution stake, absolving both to the Preeminent Sovereign within a single entity.

17 He proclaimed the joyous developments of peace to those distant and those close.
18 Through His intervention, we can approach the Life-Giver through one Eternal Spark.

19-22 You’re no longer outsiders—you belong to the Preeminent Sovereign’s family, part of a connected community rooted in the eternal wisdom of those who came before, with Immanuel as the Foundation Link holding everything together. In Him, the community grows into a vibrant space where the Eternal Reality’s presence is alive. You, too, are part of this network, woven together as a home for the Eternal Spark.

§ 29440 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S MARVELOUS PLAN FOR THE OUTSIDERS

3 I, Paul, am a captive of the Chosen Redeemer, serving you Outsiders.
2 My task is to manage the Preeminent Sovereign’s favor towards you.
3 This enigma, which I disclosed and documented,
4 will help you understand the Chosen Redeemer’s mystery.
5 The Eternal Spark has now disclosed the joyous developments to their exalted emissaries and eternally wise servants of the Preeminent Sovereign, unknown to previous generations.
6 The enigma shows that the Outsiders are co-inheritors with Israel, joint members of the same being, and partakers in the promise of the Preeminent Sovereign through Immanuel.

7 Through the force of the Eternal Reality, I was endowed with the Preeminent Sovereign’s transformative generosity, making me an emissary of these joyous developments.
8 Though I consider myself the least worthy among the Preeminent Sovereign’s pathseekers, I was granted this favor from the Eternal Reality: to share the boundless wealth the Chosen Redeemer offers to the Outsiders,

9 and to elucidate the unfolding of this enigma previously concealed in the Preeminent Sovereign, the Innovator of all things.
10 His goal was for all celestial rulers and authorities to now be aware of the Preeminent Sovereign's vast understanding through the ensovereigned lifestyle community, 11 following the unchanging goal He fulfilled in the Chosen Redeemer, our Sovereign Captain.
12 We can approach our Preeminent Sovereign without fear Through the Chosen Redeemer and our trust in Him.
13 So, I implore you not to lose your inner enthusiasm due to my afflictions on your behalf since they contribute to your distinction.

§ 29450 A MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS FOR THE EPHESIANS

14 Therefore, I submit to the Life-Giver,
15 from whom all the family in the celestial realm and on Earth receive its Name.
16 The melding of my consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign is that He will use His marvelous assets to empower you with strength deep within your inner-self through His Eternal Spark.
17 May the Preeminent Sovereign reside in your inner-selves through trust. The objective of melding my consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign is for you to have love as the rich soil where your life takes root and becomes founded.
18 May you possess the capacity, along with all the chosen people of the Sovereign Captain, to fathom the depth, width, and height of the affection

19 to comprehend the Chosen Redeemer's Love, which goes beyond any understanding so that you may be wholly imbued with the essence of the Preeminent Sovereign.
20 Now, to Him who, by the power at work within us, can accomplish far more than everything we ask or can dream, 21 forever and ever, to Him be acclaimed in the ensovereigned lifestyle community and the Chosen Redeemer Immanuel across all generations. So be it.

§ 29460 UNITY AND MATURITY IN THE BODY OF THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

4 As one incarcerated for the Sovereign Captain, I implore you to lead a life that mirrors the value of the Eternal Reality's calling you have been endowed.
2 Always maintain total humility and gentleness, consistently display patience, and tolerate each other out of love.
3 Strive diligently to preserve your oneness of the Eternal Spark fostered through the ties of peace.
4 We are all parts of the same entity and share the same Eternal Spark, just as the single aspiration was set for you when you were chosen.
5 A single Sovereign Captain, a unified trust, and one sharing Immanuel's death and rebirth by water immersion.

[6] A singular Preeminent Sovereign exists, the Life-Giver of everyone, who reigns supreme over everything, operates through all, and is present in all things.
[7] The Chosen Redeemer's discretion has given us enormous transformative generosity.
[8] It is reported: "He escorted captives away and gave gifts to men when He went to the celestial realms."
[9] What does the phrase "He rose" imply, if not that He first descended into the abyssal dominion of the Adversary?
[10] The very One who went down is the same One who ascended beyond all the celestial realms to fill the entire universe.

[11] He gave some individuals the role of emissaries, others eternally wise servants, and others as announcers of joyous developments, mentors, and educators, [12] to thoroughly prepare the Preeminent Sovereign's people to activate, which will strengthen and grow the Body of the Chosen Redeemer.
[13] Until we've all achieved oneness in trust and understanding of the Preeminent Sovereign's Heir, we mature to encompass the complete stature of the Chosen Redeemer's fullness.

[14] From now on, we will embrace our innermost maturity and refuse to ignore every new teaching or tolerate the manipulative tactics of those with dishonest intentions.

[15-16] By aligning with truth and love, we'll develop into a thriving network under the leadership of Christ. He's the central hub, connecting and supporting every part of the system, enabling growth and mutual support as each component fulfills its purpose.

§ 29470 INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE SOVEREIGN LIFESTYLE

[17] I assert this with emphasis from the Sovereign Captain: "Cease living like those of mistrust, trapped in pointless thoughts.
[18] They lack comprehension due to stubborn inner-selves and ignorance, cut off from the Preeminent Sovereign's essence.
[19] Devoid of integrity with the Eternal Reality, they indulge in unrestrained sensuality and corruption, driven by insatiable greed.
[20] This conflicts with your teachings about the Chosen Redeemer.

[21] On receiving knowledge about Him, I aligned with the integrity in Immanuel.
[22] Let go of your old persona, shaped by the misleading cravings of your past lifestyle.
[23] Transform your mental disposition;
[24] Embrace your revived self, mirroring the Preeminent Sovereign in genuine integrity and exaltation.
[25] Abandon dishonesty and speak truthfully with your neighbor, as we are interconnected parts of the same entity.
[26] When upset, don't let it lead to wrongdoing: Ensure your resentment doesn't persist until nightfall.
[27] Refrain from allowing the Chief Instigator to defeat you.
[28] Those who stole must cease and work earnestly, using their hands for good to help the underprivileged.

29 Let no harmful words escape your mouth; speak what is valuable to empower others according to their needs.

30 When the Preeminent Sovereign obliterated the plain's cities, heeded Abraham's intervention, rescuing Lot from calamity.
31 Obliterate all resentment, fury, wrath, quarreling, derogatory language, and ill will.
32 Show kindness and understanding towards each other, readily absolving one another's faults as the Preeminent Sovereign pardoned you through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

5 Therefore, emulate the Preeminent Sovereign, His cherished offspring, in everything you do.
2 Proceed in affection, mirroring the Chosen Redeemer who cherished us and offered Himself as a pleasing and fragrant absolving payment to the Preeminent Sovereign.

3 There should never be a hint of wrong sexual behaviors, unhealthfulness, or greed among you, as such behaviors are unsuitable for those set-apart as Preeminent Sovereign's exalted people.
4 Inappropriate is vulgar speech, silly discourse, or crude humor; instead, expressions of gratefulness should prevail.
5 Be sure of this: No individual engaging in sexual immorality, impurity, or avarice—essentially an idolized deity worshipper—receives a share in the Celestial Realms of the Chosen Redeemer and the Eternal Reality.
6 Allow no one to mislead you with empty arguments; such actions bring celestial retribution on those who choose not to abide by His control center.
7 Do not associate or share with them.
8 Once, you were like an unlit corner of the city, but now you illuminate through your connection with the Source. Live as reflectors of clarity and hope.
9 Shine through all that's good, just, and true.
10 Seek out what aligns with the Sovereign Captain.
11 Steer clear of the dead-end deeds hidden in obscurity, and instead bring them into the light of accountability.
12 It's embarrassing even to talk about the shady dealings people try to keep hidden.
13 But when these actions are brought into the open, the truth makes them clear for all to see.
14 Once illuminated, even the darkest corners can reflect light. That's why it's said: "Wake up, dreamer, rise above the chaos, and the Radiant Source, the Chosen Redeemer, will shine on you." "

15 Exercise caution in your lifestyle; live not as ignorant but as enlightened individuals.
16 Maximize each chance you get, seeing these times are impure.
17 So don't be imprudent; instead, grasp and comprehend what the Sovereign Captain desires.

18 Avoid excessive wine as it leads to reckless behavior. Instead, be ignited with the exalted Eternal Spark.
19 Address each other through inner anthems, celestial chants, and exalted songs. Create melodies in your inner-self as devotion to the Sovereign Captain.
20 Consistently express gratitude for all things to the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, invoking our Sovereign Captain's Name, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29480 INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOUSEHOLDS OF THE NEW HUMANITY

21 Honor the Chosen Redeemer and prioritize others.
22 “Wives, obey your husbands like the Sovereign Captain.”
23 The husband leads his wife, just as the Chosen Redeemer leads the ensovereigned lifestyle community, His Body, and its Redeemer.
24 As the ensovereigned lifestyle community complies with the Chosen Redeemer, wives should obey their husbands in all aspects.
25-27 "Care for your partners with the same selfless devotion that the Chosen Redeemer showed for His people, sacrificing Himself to make them whole, renewing them through His truth, and preparing them to stand as a vibrant and unified community—pure and without fault."

28 Similarly, husbands should cherish their wives as their bodies. A man who loves his wife loves himself.
29-30 Nobody neglects their vital systems—they maintain and protect them, just as the Chosen Redeemer nurtures and sustains His people. We are all integral parts of His network.

31 A man will leave his father and mother and be devoted to his wife, becoming one entity.

32 This is a profound secret of ultimate authenticity. I interpret it in the context of the Chosen Redeemer and the ensovereigned lifestyle community.
33 Every man must love his wife as himself, and the wife must honor her spouse.

§ 29490 KIDS AND PARENTS

6 “Kids, as participants of the New Humanity, obey your parents in alignment with the Sovereign Captain’s Path, as it’s right.”
2 Esteem and value your parents; this is the primary directive with a promise,
3 for you to prosper and have a prolonged life on Earth.
4 Parents, avoid provoking your children to anger; nurture them with the Sovereign Captain’s peaceful discipline and discerning teachings.

§ 29500 THOSE ENSLAVED AND THEIR OVERSEERS

5 “Bondservants, obey your human overseers with deep respect and trepidation, serving sincerely from the inner-self as if serving the Chosen Redeemer.”
6 Do not follow instructions to earn approval when observed; act as coworkers of the Chosen Redeemer, fulfilling the Preeminent Sovereign’s desire wholeheartedly when you’re unseen.
7 Render services enthusiastically, as though serving the Sovereign Captain, not merely humans.
8 The Sovereign Captain will reward everyone for honest acts, irrespective of status as servants or free people.

9 The same applies to enslavers and their enslaved people. He is in the celestial realms and shows no partiality, so stop using threats against them and yourself.

§ 29510 EQUIPPING YOURSELF WITH SPIRITUAL ARMOR IN AN URBAN WORLD

10 Finally, be empowered by the strength that comes from the Eternal Reality’s limitless energy and unwavering resilience.
11 Put on the full protective gear of the Preeminent Sovereign, so you can navigate and stand firm against the complexities and challenges brought on by spiritual forces at work in the world.
12 For our struggle isn’t against physical enemies but against unseen systems, celestial powers, and spiritual influences shaping this world’s brokenness—from corrupt ideologies to unseen spiritual pressures.
13 So, prepare yourself fully with the Sovereign Captain’s resources so that when the day of trouble comes, you can stay steady, holding your ground in integrity and hope.
14 Stand confidently: let truth be like a reinforced utility belt holding everything in place. Wrap yourself in integrity, like a protective vest that shields your heart.
15 Step into readiness, wearing boots that equip you to walk in peace and share the good news wherever you go.
16 Above all, rely on your trust in God as your firewall, deflecting every malicious attack sent to harm you.
17 Equip yourself with salvation like a secure helmet to protect your perspective and mindset, and take up the Eternal Reality's Word living inside of you —it’s your precision tool, sharper than any scalpel, cutting through confusion with clarity and truth.

18 Communicate consistently in the Eternal Spark with supplications and pleas. Stay watchful and intercede for all of Preeminent Sovereign’s children.
19 Pray that I may speak confidently about the joyous developments.
20 As a messenger in restraints, I implore for courage to speak of Him bravely, as is my duty.

§ 29520 FINAL GREETINGS

21 Tychicus, our esteemed mediator and reliable helper in the Sovereign Captain’s work, will update you on my current situation and actions.
22 I sent him to inform you about our condition and to provide comfort.
23 May all my people of the New Humanity receive tranquility and affection joined with trust from the Eternal Reality’s Life-Giver and our Rescuer, Chosen Redeemer.
24 May the Preeminent Sovereign’s favor be eternally on all those with an imperishable Love for our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.

~ 211 | Contentment | Philippians

§ 29530 TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY AND TRANQUILITY ON YOU!

1 Paul and Timothy, bonded servitors of the Chosen Redeemer, extend greetings to all set-apart individuals in association with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer residing in Philippi, including the ensovereigned lifestyle community leaders and their aides.
2 May transformative generosity and tranquility from the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver, and Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, be on you.

§ 29540 THANKSGIVING AND MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

3 Whenever you cross my mind, I express gratitude to my Preeminent Sovereign.
4 In every intervention I make for all of you, my inner-self is filled with delight,
5 due to your cooperation in the message of Immanuel from the beginning to the end,
6 trusting that the One who initiated the work of integrity in you will see it through to completion until the return of the Chosen Redeemer.
7 It's entirely suitable for me to embrace these sentiments about each of you, given that you hold a special place in my inner-self. Whether I am in confinement or advocating and validating the joyous developments, all of you share Eternal Reality's favor with me.
8 The Preeminent Sovereign knows the depth of my desire for all of you, filled with the loving kindness that Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, provides.
9 My intervention for you is that your affection may grow increasingly in wisdom and thorough understanding,
10 so that you can differentiate what is superior and remain untainted and faultless until the Chosen Redeemer's return, 11 brimming with the bounty of authentic deeds, yielded through the Chosen Redeemer, ultimately for the magnification and acclamation of the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 29550 PAUL'S CHAINS ADVANCE THE JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

12 I want you to understand, my people of the New Humanity, that my experiences have truly aided in spreading the joyous developments.
13 Consequently, the entire federal guard and others know my imprisonment is due to my devotion to the Chosen Redeemer.

14 Because of my incarceration, most people of the New Humanity have grown bold in the Sovereign Captain. They are more fearless about spreading joyous developments.

15 Indeed, some proclaim the message of the Chosen Redeemer out of jealousy and competition. In contrast, others do it with benevolent intentions.
16 They act from affection, knowing my purpose here is to advocate for the joyous developments.
17 Those who are insincere proclaim the message for personal gain, falsely assuming they can cause me distress during my imprisonment.
18 Regardless, what truly counts is that the Chosen Redeemer is being proclaimed, whether the intentions are sincere or not. This proclamation gives me delight, and I will persist in my happiness.

19 Given what I have endured, I am confident that your intercessions and the support of the Eternal Spark of Chosen Redeemer will result in my liberation.
20 My earnest expectation is that I will never experience disgrace but will harness ample bravery, allowing the Chosen Redeemer to be revered in my existence, whether through living or passing away.
21 For me, life finds all its meaning in the Chosen Redeemer, and death also has its benefits.

22 Continuing to exist in this physical form signifies productive work for me. The decision remains unclear to me.
23 I find myself in a dilemma: I yearn to leave this existence and unite with the Chosen Redeemer, which is substantially superior.
24 However, I must continue to exist in the flesh for your sake.
25 Assured of this, I acknowledge that I will stay and continue alongside everyone of you to assist your advancement and happiness in your trust.

26 When I return to you, your triumph in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, will overflow because of my presence.

§ 29560 LIFE WORTHY OF THE JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

27 Regardless of the circumstances, lead your lives in a way that honors the path of the Chosen Redeemer's joyous developments. Whether I visit you or hear about your actions when I'm not there, I'll feel assured that you are united in cooperation, actively fighting for trust in the ultimate authenticity of joyous developments, without letting others who disagree intimidate you.

28 This intimidation is a definite omen of their demise and your deliverance from the Preeminent Sovereign.
29 On behalf of the Chosen Redeemer, you have been optimally endowed with the opportunity to put your trust in him and endure suffering for him.
30 You are experiencing the same conflict you witnessed in me and currently hear about me persisting.

§ 29570 IMITATING THE CHOSEN REDEEMER'S HUMILITY

2 If you find solace in the Chosen Redeemer, consolation in His love, communion with the Eternal Spark, or any warmth and kindness,
2 then complete my happiness by sharing my love, being like-minded, and aligning with my energy and purpose.
3 Avoid actions driven by ego or vanity; instead, in humbleness, regard others as more important than yourself.
4 Each of you should not focus solely on your matters but also consider the concerns of others.
5 Emulate the attitude of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, in your interactions.

6 Existing inherently as the Preeminent Sovereign, He didn't perceive His equivalence with the Preeminent Sovereign as an opportunity for self-gain;
7 instead, He relinquished His status and accepted the role of a servant, transforming into a human being.
8 Discovered in human form, He displayed humility by willingly taking death, even nailing Him to an execution stake.
9 Consequently, the Preeminent Sovereign elevated Him to the most superior position and gave Him a title surpassing all others.
10 With the mention of Immanuel's name, every knee must pay homage, whether in the celestial realms, on Earth, or beneath it.
11 everyone will openly admit that Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, is the Sovereign Captain, bringing honor to the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver.

§ 29580 DO EVERYTHING WITHOUT GRUMBLING

12 Consequently, my cherished companions, as you have consistently adhered to My path, not just in my presence but even more so in my absence, continue cultivating your inner deliverance with awe and careful self-examination.
13 The Preeminent Sovereign effectively generates within you both the desire and the capability to achieve His chosen purpose.
14 Execute all tasks without complaining or disputing.
15 So you can live with integrity as the Eternal Reality's children in a chaotic, self-centered world. You'll glow among others like city lights against the night skyline.

16 Clinging firmly to the teaching that grants life, I will have a reason to express pride on the day of the Chosen Redeemer's return, ensuring that my race wasn't run aimlessly, or my efforts were expended futilely.
17 Even if my lifeblood is being poured out as a poured offering on your trust's absolving service, I delight and find delight with all of you.
18 Similarly, you should be joyful and share your happiness with me.

§ 29590 TIMOTHY AND EPAPHRODITUS

19 With Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain’s guidance, I plan to send Timothy to you soon to hear updates about you.
20 No one else shares his deep concern for your well-being.
21 Others prioritize their pursuits over the Chosen Redeemer’s concerns.
22 You know Timothy’s character; he has worked with me in the mission of the joyous developments like an heir with his father.
23 I will dispatch him promptly once I know my situation.
24 The Sovereign Captain assures me my arrival will not be delayed.

25 I find it essential to return Epaphroditus to you, my ensovereigned mediator, collaborator, and comrade in battle, and your envoy who attended to my needs.
26 He misses you all and is troubled because you heard of his ailment.
27 He was near death due to his illness, but celestial compassion spared him and me from added grief.
28 I am eager to send him so you may delight in his presence and ease my worries.
29 Welcome him with immense happiness as the Sovereign Captain and respect individuals like him.
30 He risked his life for the work of the Chosen Redeemer, providing the assistance you could not offer me.

§ 29600 NO CONFIDENCE IN THE FLESH

3 My people of the New Humanity, take delight in the Sovereign Captain! Repeating this message protects you.
2 Be cautious of dogs, impure individuals, and those who harm the body.
3 We are the authentic circumcised, expressing joyful adoration to the Preeminent Sovereign through His Eternal Spark, taking pride in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, and not trusting our physical abilities.
4 I have even more if anyone has grounds for self-assurance in mortal capabilities.
5 I was circumcised on the eighth day from the nation of Israel, a community of Benjamin, an authentic Hebrew born of Hebrew parents, and a Tradition Keeper abiding by the Mosaic Law.
6 Concerning zeal, I opposed and attacked the ensovereigned lifestyle community; I was impeccable in upholding the Mosaic Law’s integrity.
7 Now, I see anything once advantageous as a deficit for the Chosen Redeemer.
8 I regard everything as meaningless compared to knowing Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, My Sovereign Captain. I have let go of everything for his sake, considering it a waste to gain the Chosen Redeemer.
9 To be united with Him, one must possess not an individual correct standing from the Mosaic Law but one achieved through trust in the Chosen Redeemer—the Eternal Reality’s accurate standings attributable to trust.
10 I aim to understand the Chosen Redeemer, comprehend the potency of His return from death, and share in His tribulations, becoming like His demise.
11 So, the rise from the dead can be achieved through some means.
12 It’s not like I’ve achieved this or reached my aim. Yet, I continue striving to grasp that for which Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, seized me.

13 My fellow people of trust, I don't claim to have fully grasped it yet. However, my sole focus is dismissing past events and reaching toward the future.
14 I continually strive to claim the reward that the Preeminent Sovereign has beckoned me. He calls me towards the celestial realm through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29610 FOLLOWING PAUL'S EXAMPLE

15 We who are innerly mature should share this perspective. If you think differently, the Preeminent Sovereign will help you understand.
16 Let us live up to what we have already attained.

17 Join in following my example, people of the New Humanity, and observe those who live according to our pattern.
18 I have often told you, and now say with sorrow, that many live as adversaries of the Chosen Redeemer's execution stake.
19 Their disgrace is their acclaim, their belly is their idolized deity, and destruction is their end. Their thoughts are focused on material things.

20 But our citizenship is in a celestial realm, and we eagerly await our Redeemer, Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, from there.
21 He'll change our meek bodies into His magnificent body by the power that makes everything under His sovereignty.

§ 29620 CLOSING APPEAL FOR STEADFASTNESS AND UNITY

4 So, my dear friends, the ones I care for deeply and who make my life so meaningful—you're my pride and my achievement. Stay grounded in what's right, my cherished companions.
2 I implore Euodia and Syntyche to have the same perspective in the Sovereign Captain.
3 And yes, I implore you, my authentic comrade, to help these women who have worked with me for the cause of joyful development, as well as Clement and all my coworkers, whose names are inscribed in the Book of Existence.

§ 29630 FINAL EXHORTATIONS

4 "Always find delight in the Sovereign Captain. I stress it once more: Be joyful!"

5 "Let all people perceive your kind-heartedness. The Sovereign Captain is imminent."

6 "Rather than worrying about anything, in whatever circumstance, express your needs to the Preeminent Sovereign by melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign and your gratitude."

7 "The Preeminent Sovereign's tranquility, more significant than any human comprehension, will watch over your emotions and thoughts through the Chosen Redeemer."

[8] “In conclusion, people of the New Humanity, dedicate your thoughts to whatever is authentic, dignified, just, wholesome, delightful, and commendable. If any ultimate authenticity or anything deserving of acclaim exists, make these the focus of your contemplation.”

[9] “Implement what you have learned, absorbed, heard, and observed from me. In doing so, the Eternal Reality of tranquility will accompany you.”

§ 29640 THANKS FOR THEIR GIFTS

[10] The Sovereign Captain filled me with immense delight because you finally expressed your care towards me. In ultimate authenticity, your concern persisted, but circumstances didn’t present a chance for you to convey it.
[11] This statement is not out of any personal necessity. I’ve mastered the art of finding satisfaction in all situations.

[12] I am acquainted with both scarcity and abundance. Regardless of the situation, whether having an excess or lacking, satiated or starved, I have mastered the art of remaining contented.
[13] I can accomplish everything because the Chosen Redeemer empowers me.
[14] However, it was commendable of you to assist me in my difficulties.
[15] As you, Philippians, are aware, during the initial days of your experience with the joyous developments when I left Macedonia, there wasn’t a single ensovereigned lifestyle community that joined in the acts of giving and receiving with me; exclusively, you did so.
[16] Indeed, during my stay in Thessalonica, you repeatedly dispatched assistance to cater to my necessities.
[17] It’s not that I’m seeking your presence; I aim to reflect an increase in your balance.
[18] I’ve been fully compensated and have an excess. I am completely taken care of. Since Epaphroditus brought me your donations, they are a soothing fragrance. This acceptable gift brings delight to the Preeminent Sovereign.
[19] My Preeminent Sovereign will fulfill your every requirement aligned with his celestial wealth in Chosen Redeemer.
[20] May honor be given to our Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver for eternity and beyond. So be it.

§ 29650 FINAL GREETINGS

[21] Extend my regards to every pathseeker of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer. Those people of the New Humanity accompanying me also send their salutations.
[22] All the chosen ones convey their regards to you, particularly those associated with Caesar’s residence.
[23] May your inner-self have the loving favor of the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.

~ 212 | Be Transformed | Colossians

§ 29660 TO THE PURIFIED

1 The Preeminent Sovereign appointed Paul as a messenger of the Chosen Redeemer and our ensovereigned mediator, Timothy.
2 Addressed to the purified individuals and unwavering siblings in trust residing in Colossae:
May the Eternal Reality grant you favor and the Celestial Life-Giver grant serenity upon you.

§ 29670 THANKSGIVING AND OUR MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

3 Whenever we meld our consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, we express gratitude to the Eternal Reality, the Life-Giver of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, on your behalf.
4 Since learning about your trust in the Chosen Redeemer and your affection for all the chosen ones,
5-6 your trust and love arise from the hope kept for you in the celestial realm, a hope you learned through the authentic words of the joyous developments. The message has reached you; the joyous developments are spreading fruitfully and expanding worldwide, just as it has among you since you comprehended the authentic essence of the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity.
7 Epaphras, our esteemed coworker, taught you that he is a trustworthy servant of the Chosen Redeemer representing us.
8 He informed us about the affection you expressed through the Eternal Spark.

9 For this reason, our meldings of consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign on your behalf have never ceased since we learned about you. We persistently seek from the Preeminent Sovereign that He might endow you with a deep understanding of His intentions, enriched by all the enlightenment and discernment the Eternal Spark provides.
10 We intervene that you lead a life by the Sovereign Captain's expectations. We delight Him in all things by producing inner fruit through every good action and enhancing your understanding of the Preeminent Sovereign.
11 Empowered with all might in line with His magnificent power, for you to have immense perseverance and tolerance.
12 And expressing joyful gratitude to the Life-Giver, who has rendered you capable of partaking in the legacy of His purified people in the domain of light.
13 He has freed us from the dark reign of the Adversary and translated us into the Sovereignty of His Esteemed Heir.
14 He has liberated us, and our unworthy choices have been pardoned.

§ 29680 THE SUPREMACY OF THE HEIR OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

15 The Heir mirrors the unseen Preeminent Sovereign, surpassing all creation.
16 Everything, celestial and terrestrial, visible and invisible, including dominions, lordships, principalities, and powers, was created through and for Him.
17 He existed before all and holds everything together.
18 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer as the first reborn from death is the Preeminent Sovereign of this global network we recognize as the ensovereigned lifestyle community. He's the origin, the visionary leader, and the foundation of its success, ensuring His influence reaches every part of the system.
19 The Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, was pleased to have His fullness dwell in His Heir.
20 Through Him, the Preeminent Sovereign sought to recompense everything on Earth and in the Celestial Realms, establishing peace through His blood on the execution stake.

21 You were once alienated from the Preeminent Sovereign, with hostile thoughts due to your wrong actions.
22 Now, through the death of the Chosen Redeemer's physical form, you've been reconciled to stand before Him pure, immaculate, and absolved of all wrongdoing.
23 Provided you remain steadfast in your trust, stable and unshakeable, not straying from the optimistic assurance of the joyous developments. These joyous developments you heard have been proclaimed to all beings under the celestial realms. I, Paul, am an appointed emissary of these positive developments.

§ 29690 PAUL'S LABOR FOR THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY

24 I delight in the hardships I endure for you, supplementing in my body what remains of the Chosen Redeemer's trials for his body, the ensovereigned lifestyle community.
25 I was made an ensovereigned mediator by the Preeminent Sovereign's task to reveal the complete message to you.
26 The secret, hidden for ages, is now disclosed to Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers.
27 The Preeminent Sovereign intended to unveil this wondrous secret among the Outsiders, symbolizing the Chosen Redeemer within you and the anticipation of magnificence.
28 We spread His word, cautioning and enlightening everyone with profound insight to present each one as innerly mature in the Chosen Redeemer.
29 I exert great effort to achieve this, utilizing all the vigor the Chosen Redeemer infuses in me.

2 I want you to understand the magnitude of my struggle for you, those in Laodicea, and everyone who hasn't seen me.
2 I aim for them to find encouragement and unity in love, possessing all the wealth of full assurance in understanding, leading to the knowledge of the Eternal Reality's secret, the Chosen Redeemer.

3 In him are concealed all riches of insight and understanding.

4 I state this to ensure nobody misleads you with convincing yet deceptive discourse.
5 Even though I may not be physically present, my inner-self is united with you, and it fills me with delight to witness your disciplined demeanor and steadfast trust in the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29700 INNER FULLNESS IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

6-7 Just as you embraced Immanuel as your leader, continue to live connected to Him—grounded in His truth and growing stronger, like a building supported by a solid foundation, filled with gratitude.

8 Be vigilant so no one traps you with empty and misleading philosophies grounded in human customs and the fundamental inner forces of this world instead of the Chosen Redeemer.
9 The Preeminent Sovereign’s complete essence resides in the Chosen Redeemer in human form.
10 You have achieved complete fulfillment in the Chosen Redeemer, who presides over all power and authority.
11 In the Chosen Redeemer, you experienced an inner circumcision that mortal hands did not perform. The Chosen Redeemer eradicated the dominion of the flesh over your being through inner circumcision.
12 You were metaphorically laid to rest with Him in sharing Immanuel's death and rebirth by water immersion. You were innerly returned from death with Him through your conviction in the Preeminent Sovereign’s actions and power, mirroring His return from death from the grave.
13-14 When you were disconnected from hope because of your moral failures, the Preeminent Sovereign brought you to life through the Chosen Redeemer. He cleared our record of moral debt, erasing the charges that stood against us and condemned us. He disposed of it entirely, securing the cancellation on the execution stake.

15 After stripping the powers and authorities, He displayed them openly, achieving victory over them through the execution stake.

§ 29710 FREEDOM FROM HUMAN DIRECTIVES

16 Do not let anyone judge you based on your diet, drinks, or observance of traditional feasts, New Moon activations, or the Day of Rest.
17 These are mere shadows of future events; the reality is found in the Chosen Redeemer.

18 “Resist being influenced by those who take pleasure in false humility and the worship of Celestial Envoys. They boast about visions and are inflated with baseless ideas.
19 They have cut their connection to the Preeminent Sovereign, whose guidance supports the entire structure, strengthened by ligaments and tendons that thrive through celestial intervention.

20 Since you’ve left this world’s basic inner forces through unity with the Chosen Redeemer, why follow its rules as if you still belong to it?
21 Avoid handling! Refrain from tasting! Refrain from making contact!

22 These regulations concern items that perish with use and are based on human rules and teachings.
23 They appear wise with self-made religion, false humility, and harsh treatment of the body. Still, they are useless in curbing physical desires.”

§ 29720 LIVING AS THOSE MADE ALIVE IN THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

3 Since you’ve been innerly revitalized with the Chosen Redeemer, focus on celestial matters where He presides at the dominant hand of the Preeminent Sovereign.
2 Set your thoughts on the celestial realm, not worldly concerns.
3 Your worldly existence has ended; your authentic life is now hidden with the Chosen Redeemer in the Preeminent Sovereign.
4 When He, who is your life, is disclosed, you will also be disclosed with Him in His acclaim.

5 Therefore, eliminate all worldly elements: illicit sexual behavior, impurity, carnal cravings, malevolent yearnings, and greed, which is false worship.
6 the Preeminent Sovereign’s wrath will come upon those who disobey.
7 You once lived this way when you were buried in such deeds.
8 Now, rid yourselves of anger, rage, malice, slander, and abusive language.
9 Do not lie to each other, as you have discarded your old self and its practices.
10 Step into your upgraded self, continually refreshed with new understanding that reflects the brilliance of your Eternal Reality.

11 Here, there is no distinction between Outsider or Judean, circumcised or uncircumcised, barbarian or Scythian, enslaved person or free; the Chosen Redeemer is all and in all.
12 As chosen individuals of the Preeminent Sovereign, exalted and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience.
13 Bear with each other and forgive grievances as the Sovereign Captain forgave you.
14 Above all these virtues, put on love, which binds everything together in perfect unity.

15 Let the peace of the Chosen Redeemer rule in your inner determination since you were called to peace as one body. Be thankful.
16 As you instruct and chastise one another with discernment through inner songs, chants, and proclamations of eternal wisdom, let His path dwell among you abundantly. Sing to the Sovereign Captain with gratitude in your inner determination.
17 Whatever you do—speaking, writing, or working—do it all in the name of Immanuel, our Sovereign Captain, giving thanks through Him to our celestial realm Life-Giver.

§ 29730 INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOUSEHOLDS OF THE NEW HUMANITY

18 “Wives, respect your husband’s authority, as this is fitting in the eyes of the Sovereign Captain.”

19 “Men, cherish your spouses and avoid harsh treatment.”

20 “Young ones, obey your parents’ instructions, as this pleases the Sovereign Captain.”

21 “Parents, do not provoke your children to resentment; they may become disheartened.”

22 “Servants, obey your terrestrial superiors in all respects, not just when observed, but with genuine inner-self and deep respect for the Eternal Reality.”

23 “Whatever your task, put your whole inner-self into it, as if serving the Sovereign Captain, not earthly superiors.”

24 “Knowing that your reward will be an inheritance from the Eternal Reality, serve the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.”

25 “Wrongdoers will receive due compensation for their misdeeds, with impartiality observed.”

4 “As an overseer, treat your servants justly and equitably, remembering you have a higher authority in the celestial realm.”

§ 29740 FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS

2 Persistently meld your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, staying alert and expressing gratitude.

3 Kindly intercede for us, asking the Preeminent Sovereign to pave the way for our proclamation, enabling us to unveil the profound truth of the Chosen Redeemer, even in challenging circumstances.

4 Intervene that I may convey it clearly as my duty.

5 Conduct yourselves wisely around those who are not people of trust, making the most of every opportunity.

6 "Let your words be thoughtful and full of meaning, like a key ingredient that enhances every interaction, so you’ll know how to connect with everyone you meet."

§ 29750 FINAL GREETINGS

7 Tychicus, an esteemed sibling and dedicated fellow worker who serves as the Sovereign Captain, will provide you with all the information concerning me.
8 I’m dispatching him to you so you can understand our situation and he can emotionally support you.
9 Onesimus, a trustworthy and much-loved comrade from your community, will join him. They will update you on all the occurrences here.
10 Aristarchus, who shares imprisonment with me, conveys his salutations as does Mark, Barnabas’ cousin. You have been informed about him; please make him feel welcome if he arrives.

[11] Immanuel, known also as Justus, extends his salutations. They represent the sole Judean individuals among my collaborators for the Sovereignty of the Eternal Reality. They have provided solace to me.
[12] Epaphras, being one of your own and a servant of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, sends his salutations. He persistently merges his conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign earnestly for you, with the desire that you remain mature and wholly convinced in the complete will of the Preeminent Sovereign.
[13] I can testify that he exerts a great effort for your sake and the inhabitants of Laodicea and Hierapolis.
[14] Luke, the physician we hold dear, and Demas extend their salutations.
[15] I extend my best wishes to the people of the New Humanity in Laodicea, Nympha, and the assembly gathering at her residence.
[16] Once you've finished reading this letter, ensure it's also read in the Laodiceans' ensovereigned lifestyle community, and make sure you peruse the letter from Laodicea.
[17] Notify Archippus to carry out the duty assigned to him by the Sovereign Captain.
[18] Paul and I penned this salutation personally. Keep in mind my confinement. May empowerment be on you.

~ 213 | 1 Standfast | 1 Thessalonians

§ 29760 FIRMLY ROOTED

1 From Paul, Silas, and Timothy, a message to the Thessalonians' ensovereigned lifestyle community: You are firmly rooted in the Preeminent Sovereign and the Chosen Redeemer. "May transformative generosity and tranquility from the Eternal Reality be within you."

§ 29770 THANKSGIVING FOR THE THESSALONIANS' TRUST

2 We constantly express our gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign for each of you while consistently including you in our supplications.
3 Before the Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver, we continually bear in mind your trust-driven accomplishments, acts of love that required effort, and your hopeful resilience in our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.
4 We are sure, dear siblings cherished by the Preeminent Sovereign, that He has elected you.
5 Our joyous developments did not reach you exclusively through language. Still, it also brought strength, an Eternal Spark, and a profound assurance. You know how we conducted ourselves among you for your welfare.
6 Emulating the Sovereign Captain and us, you warmly received the word amidst substantial hardship, experiencing delight, a gift of the Eternal Spark.
7 Consequently, you emerged as a pattern for all who trust in Macedonia and Achaia.
8 People throughout Macedonia and Achaia haven't just acknowledged your trust in the Preeminent Sovereign; they have recognized it universally. So we do not have to elaborate on it.
9 They are already communicating about the welcome we received from you. They narrate how you shifted your focus from idolized deities to serving the genuine and living Preeminent Sovereign.

10 Awaiting the arrival of His Heir from the celestial realms, whom He brought back to life—Immanuel, our Rescuer from the imminent wrath.

§ 29780 PAUL'S ATTENTIVENESS IN THESSALONICA

2 People of the New Humanity, our time with you was fruitful.
2 Despite suffering and disgrace in Philippi, we, through the strength of our Preeminent Sovereign, boldly proclaimed His celestial teachings amidst strong resistance.
3 Our message is not from misconceptions or corrupt intentions, nor do we aim to deceive.

4 We speak as individuals endorsed by the Preeminent Sovereign entrusted with the joyous developments. We seek to please the Preeminent Sovereign, who scrutinizes our inner-selves, not human beings.
5 We never used false compliments or deception to hide avaricious intentions— the Preeminent Sovereign testifies to this.
6 We didn't seek admiration from individuals, neither you nor anyone else, even though we could enforce our dominance as the Chosen Redeemer's messengers.
7 Instead, we displayed the innocence of little ones among you, like a mother nursing and cherishing her children.
8 Our affection for you was so profound that we were willing to share the Preeminent Sovereign's joyous developments and our very selves, reflecting our deep love.

9 People of the New Humanity surely recall our strenuous effort and difficulties; we labored day and night to avoid imposing any financial burden while delivering the Preeminent Sovereign's joyous developments to you.
10 You and the Preeminent Sovereign are testifiers to our pure, upright, and innocent conduct among you, the people of trust.

11 We interacted with each of you as a parent does with their offspring, 12 prodding, consoling, and stimulating you to lead lives befitting the Preeminent Sovereign, who invites you into His Sovereignty and glorious fortunateness.
13 We consistently express our gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign because when you heard His message from us, you embraced it not as mere human communication but for what it indeed is—the message of the Preeminent Sovereign, actively impacting those of you who have trust.

14 You, people of the New Humanity, began to emulate the Judean ensovereigned lifestyle communities of the Preeminent Sovereign centered around the Chosen Redeemer Immanuel.
15 You endured from your fellow citizens the same sufferings they endured from the Judeans, who expelled us and slaughtered their own eternally wise servants in addition to Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain. They are antagonistic toward everyone and unbecoming to the Preeminent Sovereign.
16 They persistently strive to prevent us from communicating with the Outsiders to lead them towards redemption. Consequently, they amass many unworthy choices, reaching an extreme. The Preeminent Sovereign's fury has finally descended on them.

§ 29790 PAUL'S LONGING TO SEE THE THESSALONIANS

17 Though physically separated from you, our people of the New Humanity, we never felt distant in our inner-selves. Fueled by a strong desire to reunite, we tried to meet you again.
18 We longed to visit—I, Paul, repeatedly had this desire—but the Adversary hindered us.
19 "Isn't it authentic that you are the source of our hope, happiness, and triumph when we stand before our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain at his return?"
20 Truly, you are our honor and delight.

3 We decided to remain in Athens when we could no longer tolerate it.

2 Timothy, our ensovereigned mediator and a servant of the Preeminent Sovereign who aids in sharing the Chosen Redeemer's joyous developments, was sent to fortify and uplift you in your beliefs.
3 I want to make sure that none of you feel disturbed by these hardships, as you understand these are the tribulations we must face.
4 During our time with you, we persistently informed you that we would face persecution. As you are fully aware, this indeed transpired.
5 Unable to contain my worry any longer, I sent someone to understand the status of your trust. I feared the deceiver may have lured you, making all our diligent efforts pointless.

§ 29800 TIMOTHY'S ENCOURAGING REPORT

6 Timothy has returned with uplifting news of your unwavering trust and affection. He shared that you cherish heartwarming memories of us and eagerly wish to meet, a sentiment we share.
7 People of the New Humanity, your steadfast trust in the Preeminent Sovereign uplifts us despite our affliction and oppression.
8 Our existence gains meaning through your steadfastness in the Sovereign Captain.
9 How can we adequately thank Him for the immense delight we experience in the Presence of the Preeminent Sovereign because of you?
10 We fervently implore day and night for the chance to meet you again and to mend any shortcomings in your trust.
11 May our Preeminent Sovereign, Life-Giver, and Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain Himself pave the way for our journey towards you.
12 We intervene for the Sovereign Captain to multiply your love and make it abound towards one another and all individuals, just as our affection for you continually expands.

13 May He fortify your inner-selves, ensuring you are faultless and celestial in the sight of our Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver when our Rescuer Immanuel returns with all His exalted pathseekers.

§ 29810 LIVING TO PLEASE THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

4 People of the New Humanity, we have guided you on how to live in a way that pleases the Preeminent Sovereign, which you are already doing. We implore and encourage you, in the name of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, to do so even more intensely.
2 You know the directions we provided under the authority of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
3 The Preeminent Sovereign desires you to be purified and pure, avoiding any sexual vice.
4 You should manage your bodily desires in purification and respectability.
5 Avoid overwhelming desire like skeptics unaware of the Preeminent Sovereign.
6 No one should infringe on or exploit a fellow person of trust. As previously communicated and solemnly cautioned, those who engage in such actions will suffer celestial retribution.
7 The Preeminent Sovereign has called us to live a life of purification, not impurity.
8 Whoever disregards this teaching is not dismissing a person but the Preeminent Sovereign, who endows you with His Eternal Spark.

9 Regarding brotherly affection, we do not need to write instructions, as the Eternal Reality has personally taught us to care for one another.
10 You show affection towards Macedonia's celestial relatives. However, we encourage you, people of the New Humanity, to increase this love.
11 Strive to live a tranquil life: attend to your affairs and earn your living through your labor, just as we instructed you.
12 Ensure your everyday activities command admiration from outsiders and avoid relying on anyone else.

§ 29820 PATHSEEKERS WHO HAVE DIED

13 We want you, people of the New Humanity, to understand about those who have passed away so that your sorrow is not like those without hope.
14 We trust that Immanuel died and was returned from death. With this trust, we affirm that Preeminent Sovereign will bring those in Immanuel who have transitioned to eternal rest when He returns.
15 According to the Sovereign Captain's message, we assure you that those alive at the Sovereign Captain's return will not precede those who have passed away.
16 The Sovereign Captain Himself will descend from the celestial realms with a compelling directive, the sound of a Celestial Guardian, and the Preeminent Sovereign's alarm blast. The departed in the Chosen Redeemer will be the first to resurrect.
17 Afterward, those still alive will catch up to them in the celestial realms and greet the Sovereign Captain. From then on, we will always be with the Sovereign Captain.
18 So, uplift each other with these words.

§ 29830 THE DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

5 Regarding specific periods and moments, people of the New Humanity, we do not need to pen anything to you.
2 You know that the coming of the Sovereign Captain's day will be as unpredictable as a thief striking at night.
3 When individuals proclaim "peace and security," sudden catastrophe will unexpectedly befall them, just like the sudden onset of childbirth in a pregnant woman, from which they can't elude.
4 However, people of the New Humanity, you do not exist in the shadows. So, that day won't take you unprepared as a burglar would.

5 We are all offspring of daylight and luminosity. We are not a part of the obscurity or the nocturnal.
6 We should not imitate those in intangible slumber. Instead, we need to remain vigilant and practice self-control.
7 Individuals who slumber do so during the night, and those who excessively consume alcohol do so during the night as well.
8 As people who live in the light, let's stay clear-headed, wearing faith and love as our protective gear and anchoring our minds in the confidence of rescue and renewal.
9 The Preeminent Sovereign did not destine us to endure his fury but to achieve redemption through our Sovereign Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.
10 He sacrificed his life for us, ensuring that we coexist with him whether we remain conscious or fall into eternal slumber.

[11] So, continue to uplift and strengthen one another as you are presently accomplishing.

§ 29840 FINAL INSTRUCTIONS

[12] We implore you, people of the New Humanity, to appreciate those who labor diligently, provide inner care to the Sovereign Captain, and offer correction.
[13] Show them great respect and wholehearted love for their efforts. Coexist harmoniously.

[14] Admonish the idle and chaotic, uplift the disheartened, assist the fragile, and demonstrate patience to everyone.
[15] Ensure no one repays a lousy deed with another but strives to show kindness and pursue the overall good for everyone.

[16] Always be full of delight.

[17] Never cease merging your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
[18] Show gratitude in every situation, as the Preeminent Sovereign desires through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
[19] Do not stifle the work of the Eternal Spark.
[20] Don’t disregard visions.
[21] Examine them thoroughly and retain what is valuable.
[22] Stay away from any form of impurity.

[23] May the Preeminent Sovereign of tranquility make you entirely pure. I intervene so that your entire inner-self, essence, and body can be preserved immaculately for the arrival of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.
[24] The one who summons you is trustworthy; he will accomplish it.

[25] Dear siblings in trust, we request your meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign.
[26] Extend an exalted kiss to all people of trust as a greeting.
[27] I solemnly urge you, under the authority of the Sovereign Captain, to ensure this letter is shared with all people of trust.
[28] May the loving favor of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, be with you.

~ 214 | 2 Standfast | 2 Thessalonians

§ 29850 FAVOR FROM THE ETERNAL REALITY

1 From Paul, Silas, and Timothy, greetings to the Thessalonian ensovereigned lifestyle community—united in the Preeminent Sovereign—our Life-Giver, the Sovereign Captain, and the Chosen Redeemer.
2 May you receive transformative generosity and tranquility from the Eternal Reality—our Celestial Innovator, our Sovereign Captain, and the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29860 THANKSGIVING AND MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

3 We must express our gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign for you, my dear people of the New Humanity, especially given the remarkable growth of your trust and the increasing love you show one another.
4 We proudly speak of you in the ensovereigned lifestyle communities of the Preeminent Sovereign, applauding your resilience and trust despite ongoing persecutions and tribulations.
5 This is definitive evidence of the Preeminent Sovereign's fair judgment, deeming you deserving of His realm for which you endure hardship.
6 The Preeminent Sovereign is just: He will repay those causing you distress with affliction.
7 Relief will come to those distressed and to us when Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain manifests from the celestial realm with His mighty Celestial Envoys surrounded by an intense flame.
8 He will render retribution to those unacquainted with the Preeminent Sovereign and those not heeding the message of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
9 They will face the penalty of eternal ruin, distanced from the Sovereign Captain's presence and His power's magnificence.
10 On His arrival day, His devout pathseekers will exalt Him. All who have placed their trust, including you who acknowledged and believed in our message, will admire Him.

11 Bearing this in mind, we perpetually intercede for you, hoping our Eternal Reality deems you suitable for His celestial summons and that through His potent force, He actualizes your aspirations for transformative generosity and actions instigated by your trust.
12 The melding of our conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign is that the name of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain will be honored through you. You will be honored in Him, with the mercy of our Preeminent Sovereign and the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.

§ 29870 THE MAN OF ANARCHY

2 Regarding the anticipated return of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, and our subsequent assembly with Him, we request your attention, people of the New Humanity.
2 Don't let any message—whether it's a vision, verbal communication, or a letter—disturb or alarm you quickly by claiming that the Sovereign Captain's Day has already happened.

[3] Let no one mislead you in any way, for that day will not come until the apostasy happens first, and the embodiment of unworthy choice is disclosed, the individual destined for perdition.
[4] He will defy and elevate himself above all so-called idolized deities or objects of reverence to the extent that he positions himself in the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, declaring his celestial force.
[5] Do you remember that I previously informed you about these matters while I was with you?
[6] Now you know what is restraining him, ensuring his unveiling at the proper time.
[7] The mysterious force of disobedience is already at work; however, the one suppressing it will persist until he is removed from the scene.
[8] Then that impure one will be disclosed, and Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain will annihilate him with the life force in his mouth and obliterate him with the luminosity of his presence.

[9] The arrival of the one defying the Mosaic Law will align with the Adversary's activities. He will demonstrate various power displays, performing deceptive signs and wonders that propagate falsehood.
[10] In all manners, evilness tricks those on the path to destruction. Their doom is sealed due to their rejection of the ultimate authenticity they refused to love, hence missing their chance to be rescued.
[11] the Preeminent Sovereign will send a compelling deception, causing them to trust in falsehood.
[12] So, all who disregarded the ultimate authenticity and took pleasure in degradation will face judgment.

§ 29880 STAND FIRM

[13] We must always express our gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign for the people of the New Humanity, who the Sovereign Captain cherishes. The Preeminent Sovereign chose you from the beginning as the first harvest for redemption, guiding you through the purifying process executed by the Eternal Spark and empowering your trust in ultimate authenticity.
[14] Through our joyous developments, you were selected for redemption to partake in the honor of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer.
[15] Therefore, people of the New Humanity, remain steadfast and retain the directives we conveyed to you through our spoken word or written correspondence.
[16] May our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer and the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver, cherish us and grant us perpetual comfort and tremendous hope through His transformative generosity.
[17] May our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer himself, and the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver, invigorate your work, enliven your speech, and give you strength in every good thing you say and do.

§ 29890 REQUEST FOR MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

3 Regarding other subjects, people of the New Humanity intercede for us so that the Sovereign Captain's teaching might proliferate expeditiously and receive reverence as it did with you.
[2] Meld your consciousnesses with the Preeminent Sovereign to be rescued from harmful and counterfeit individuals, as not all people align with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality.

[3] However, the Sovereign Captain is dependable and will fortify and safeguard you from the malicious ones.
[4] We trust in the Sovereign Captain that you are implementing and will persist in following the instructions we have given to you.
[5] May the Sovereign Captain lead your inner-selves to express the Preeminent Sovereign's love and the endurance the Chosen Redeemer gave.

§ 29900 WARNING AGAINST IDLENESS

[6] Under the authority of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, we instruct you, people of the New Humanity, to distance yourselves from any pathseeker who is unoccupied, disorderly, and does not adhere to the wisdom imparted to you from us.
[7] You are fully aware that you should imitate our conduct. We did not lead an undisciplined life during our time with you.
[8] We didn't consume anyone's provisions without reimbursing for it. We persisted in laboring and striving day and night to avoid placing a financial strain on any of you.
[9] This was our approach, not because we lacked the right to request such assistance but to establish ourselves as an example for you to emulate.
[10] Indeed, when we were present with you, it was our command: "Anyone refusing to labor should not consume food."
[11] We have been informed that some individuals in your group are leading unproductive lives and causing disturbances. They do not engage in productive activities but meddle in other people's affairs.

[12] We instruct and implore such individuals in the name of the Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, to calm down, work, and provide for their sustenance.
[13] People of the New Humanity persist without faltering in doing what's right.
[14] Be alert to anyone who disregards the instructions in this letter. Refrain from interacting with them so that they may experience a sense of embarrassment.
[15] Avoid considering them adversaries; caution them as a comrade in trust.

§ 29910 FINAL GREETINGS

[16] May the Sovereign Captain of Harmony Himself gift you serenity in all circumstances and manners. May the Sovereign Captain accompany each one of you.

[17] It's me, Paul, crafting this salutation using my handwriting, a signature attribute consistent in all my messages. This salutation is my method of inscription.

[18] May the kindness of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, accompany all of you.

~ 215 | 1 Timotheos | 1 Timothy

§ 29920 TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY, MERCY, AND TRANQUILITY BE YOURS

1 Paul, a messenger of Immanuel the Chosen Redeemer, received instructions from our Preeminent Sovereign, embodying the trust we place in Him.

2 To Timothy, my genuine child in the trust: May transformative generosity, mercy, and tranquility from the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, and our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, be yours.

§ 29930 TIMOTHY CHARGED TO OPPOSE COUNTERFEIT TEACHERS

3 On my journey to Macedonia, I urged you to stay in Ephesus to instruct certain individuals to stop spreading misleading principles.
4 Instead of focusing on myths and endless genealogies that only spark debates, they should advance the Preeminent Sovereign's mission, which thrives on trust.
5 This directive aims to foster affection from an unblemished inner-self, an authentic conscience, and trust.
6 Some have strayed from these principles and engaged in pointless chatter.
7 They aspire to be instructors of the Mosaic Law but lack understanding of what they say and confidently assert.
8 The legislation is beneficial if used correctly.
9 Laws are not for the authentic but for the lawless and rebellious, the depraved and illicit, the impure and profane, those who kill their parents, and murderers.
10 Laws are for those involved in sexual misconduct, homosexual activities, human trafficking, dishonesty, false oaths, and any behavior opposing healthy teaching.
11 These joyous developments align with the exalted Preeminent Sovereign, which He has confided in me.

§ 29940 THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN'S TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY GIVEN TO PAUL

12 I am grateful to our Sovereign Captain, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer. He has fortified and deemed me reliable, designating me for His celestial mission.

13 I used to be a violent, persecuting, and arrogant man, but I was pardoned since I had acted in stupidity and unbelief.

14 Our Sovereign Captain's favor was exceedingly generous towards me, coupled with the trust and affection that originate in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
15 This undeniable statement fully deserves approval: "Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, entered this world to rescue wrongdoers, among which I am the most significant."
16 Precisely for this reason, I was granted mercy so that in me, deemed the most egregious of all offenders, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, could exhibit his boundless forbearance, serving as a model to those who will trust in him and attain Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
17 Praise and reverence be to the everlasting ruler, undying and unseen, the sole Eternal Reality, forever and always. So be it.

§ 29950 THE CHARGE TO TIMOTHY RENEWED

18 "Timothy, my dear child, I present this decree in line with the foretold visions about you so that you can perform valiantly in inner combat by reflecting on them.
19 Clinging to trust and maintaining a clear conscience, some individuals have disregarded it, bringing about a disaster regarding their trust.
20 Hymenaeus and Alexander are included; I have given them into the hands of the Adversary to be educated and not to speak in opposition to the Preeminent Sovereign's lifestyle. "

§ 29960 INSTRUCTIONS ON JOYFUL ADORATION

2 I urge that requests, meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, pleas, and expressions of gratitude be directed towards all individuals.
2 For Prime Rulers and those in power, this ensures we lead tranquil lives rooted in celestial respect and purification.

3 Such actions are correct and delightfully accepted by our Chosen Redeemer, the Eternal Reality.
4 He desires every individual to be delivered and fully understand ultimate authenticity.
5 There exists a single Preeminent Sovereign and one intermediary between the Preeminent Sovereign and humanity, the human, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
6 He sacrificed himself to redeem everyone, a fact attested at the right time.
7 I was assigned as a proclaimer and emissary, I assure you. I speak no untruths—a devoted and sincere instructor of the Outsiders.
8 I desire men everywhere to melt their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, raising their exalted hands devoid of anger or arguments.
9 Women should attire themselves humbly, respectably, and properly; intricate hairdos, gold, pearls, or high-priced garments shouldn't define their beautification.
10 Instead, they should engage in authentic actions fitting for women who assert their devotion to the Preeminent Sovereign.
11 A woman should gain tranquility and absolute obedience knowledge.
12 I do not allow a woman to provide instruction or exercise control over a man; she should remain silent.
13 The Preeminent Sovereign created Adam first, followed by Eve.
14 Adam was not misled; it was the woman who was led astray and transgressed.
15 However, women will be delivered through childbirth if they persist in trust, affection, and purity with sound judgment.

§ 29970 QUALIFICATIONS FOR ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY COORDINATO

3 Aspiring to be an ensovereigned lifestyle community leader is a noble pursuit.
2 An overseer must be blameless, loyal to his spouse, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, and able to teach.
3 He should avoid excessive wine, be non-violent, gentle, not quarrelsome, and not a lover of money.
4 He must manage his household well, ensuring his children respect and obey him, earning full admiration.
5 If he cannot manage his household, how can he care for the ensovereigned lifestyle community of the Preeminent Sovereign?
6 He should not be a recent convert to avoid pride and the same judgment as the Chief Instigator.
7 He must also have a good reputation with outsiders to avoid disgrace and the Chief Instigator's trap.
8 Similarly, ensovereigned lifestyle community organizers should be dignified, sincere, not heavy drinkers, and not greedy for dishonest gain.
9 They must hold firm to the deep authenticities of the trust with a clear conscience.
10 They should be tested first; if found blameless, they can serve as ensovereigned lifestyle community organizers.
11 Women should be dignified, not slanderers, self-controlled, and trustworthy.
12 An ensovereigned lifestyle community coworker should be devoted to his spouse and manage his children and household well.
13 Those who serve well as ensovereigned lifestyle community organizers gain great standing and confidence in their trust in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.

§ 29980 REASONS FOR PAUL'S INSTRUCTIONS

14 Despite my hopes of visiting soon, I'm writing these directives for your guidance.

15 If I'm delayed, you'll understand how to live as part of the Eternal Reality's community—a dynamic network that supports and upholds the authenticity like the framework of a strong building.
16 The enigma of genuine purity is profound: His manifestation in human form, The Sovereign Captain Eternal Spark confirmed His integrity, Celestial Envoys witnessed Him, His word spread among nations, He gained global trust and ascended to the Sovereign Captain's presence in acclaim.

§ 29990 INSTRUCTIONS TO TIMOTHY

4 The Eternal Spark warns that in the future, some people will abandon their trust, seduced by false entities and teachings that malevolent forces inspire.
2 These teachings come from deceitful individuals with seared consciences.

3 They forbid marriage and demand abstinence from foods that the Preeminent Sovereign intended for grateful consumption by those who trust and discern ultimate authenticity.
4 Every creation by the Preeminent Sovereign is excellent and should be received with gratitude.
5 It is made exalted through invoking the Preeminent Sovereign's words and melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
6 By highlighting these issues for the people of the New Humanity, you will actively support Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, guided by the principles of trust and the valuable teachings you have embraced.
7 Disregard misconceptions opposed to the Sovereign's lifestyle and antiquated narrations; instead, exercise yourself in becoming like the Sovereign.
8 Physical exercise has some value, but inner devotion benefits all aspects, offering assurances for life now and in the afterlife.
9 This saying is reliable and deserving of full acceptance.
10 We toil and strive because we trust in the living Preeminent Sovereign, the deliverer of all humanity, especially those who trust.
11 Enjoin and instruct these teachings.

12 Do not let anyone belittle you for your youth; set an excellent example for pathseekers in communication, behavior, affection, trust, and moral health.
13 Until I arrive, focus on publicly reciting the Living Word, encouraging others, and imparting knowledge.
14 Embrace the inner gift that the ensovereigned mediators envisioned and confirmed through their authority.
15 Stay consistent and give it your all; let others see the steady growth of your character, like tracking milestones on a development project.

16 Be mindful of your conduct and teachings. Persist in these, for by doing so, you will safeguard not only your redemption but also that of your listeners.

§ 30000 WIDOWS, SENIORS AND ENSLAVED PEOPLE

5 Treat older men with the respect you would show your father and younger men as brothers.
2 Regard older women as mothers and younger women as sisters, maintaining moral purity.
3 Support truly destitute widows.
4 If a widow has children or grandchildren, they should first fulfill their duty to their family and repay their parents or grandparents, which pleases the Preeminent Sovereign.
5 An authentic widow, left alone, trusts in the Preeminent Sovereign and prays day and night.
6 A widow who lives for pleasure is innerly dead.
7 Teach these principles to avoid criticism.
8 Anyone who does not care for their family, especially their household, has denied their beliefs and is worse than someone without trust.
9 Enroll a widow for help if she is at least sixty years old and is loyal to her onetime husband.

10 She should be known for good deeds, such as raising children, showing hospitality, helping the loyal, assisting those in trouble, and doing good work.

11 Do not include younger widows, as their desires may lead them away from their commitment to the Chosen Redeemer and toward marriage.
12 They face condemnation for breaking their original vow.
13 They often become idle, going from house to house, becoming busybodies and gossips.
14 Encourage younger widows to remarry, have children, manage their homes, and avoid giving the Adversary a reason to accuse them.
15 Some have already strayed to follow the Adversary.
16 Loyal women with widows in their care should support them so the ensovereigned lifestyle community can help those truly in need.
17 Ensovereigned lifestyle community mediators who work well deserve double honor, especially those who proclaim and teach.
18 The exalted writings say an ox should not be muzzled while treading grain, and a worker deserves their wages.
19 Only accept accusations against a community leader living in an ensovereigned lifestyle if two or three witnesses support them.
20 Publicly correct elders who transgress to warn others.
21 Before Preeminent Sovereign Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, and the selected Celestial Envoys, I charge you to keep these directives without bias or favoritism.
22 Do not be hasty in ordaining anyone or share in others' transgressions. Keep yourself pure.
23 Give up drinking exclusively water and treat your stomach and regular illnesses with a small amount of wine.
24 Some people's unworthy choices are obvious, leading to judgment; others' unworthy choices will be disclosed later.

25 Similarly, good deeds are evident, and even those that are not will eventually be known.

6 Enslaved people should regard their overseers with full respect to avoid defaming the Preeminent Sovereign's name and teachings.
2 Those with path-seeking overseers should not disrespect them but serve them better because they are fellow pathseekers committed to their welfare. Teach and insist on these principles.

§ 30010 FALSE TEACHERS AND THE LOVE OF MONEY

3 "Should anyone propagate different directives and refuse to conform to the wholesome teachings of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, and the principles that promote sovereign likeness?"
4 Such individuals are full of pride but lack understanding. They are obsessed with contentious debates and disputes over terminology, leading to feelings of jealousy, quarrels, harmful communication, and impure suspicions.
5 Perpetual disputes among individuals with distorted minds who have lost the essence of ultimate authenticity and assume religious devoutness is a pathway to monetary prosperity.
6 Indeed, a life aligned with the Sovereign's lifestyle and satisfaction brings immense profits.
7 We came into this world with nothing; we will take nothing when we die.
8 We shall be satisfied with sustenance and attire.
9 Individuals who long for wealth often succumb to temptation and traps, and they become entangled in numerous unwise and detrimental desires that lead to their downfall and devastation.

10 The yearning for wealth is the source of multiple wrongdoings. In their quest for riches, some individuals have strayed from their beliefs and inflicted multiple sorrows on themselves.

§ 30020 FINAL CHARGE TO TIMOTHY

11 As a servant of the Preeminent Sovereign, shun all these things and strive for integrity, sovereign likeness, trust, love, perseverance, and a kind inner-self.
12 Strive valiantly in the battle of trust. Embrace the endless life for which you were summoned, a testament you have courageously professed under the watchful eyes of numerous onlookers.
13 I command you in the presence of the Preeminent Sovereign, who breathes life into all, and of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, who gave a brave testimony before Pontius Pilate.
14 Uphold this mandate flawlessly and without fault until the manifestation of our Rescuer, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
15 At the right moment, the Eternal Reality’s disclosure will come the empowered and only Sovereign One : the Preeminent Sovereign of all Prime Rulers and the Supreme Overseer of all overseers.
16 He solely possesses undying life. He resides in light beyond reach, which no individual has witnessed or is capable of seeing. May eternal honor and power be given to him. So be it.
17 Instruct those affluent in the current time not to display arrogance or place their trust in the unpredictable nature of wealth but rather to place their trust in the Preeminent Sovereign, who generously grants us everything necessary for our fulfillment.
18 Instruct them to engage in good actions, to be abundant in authentic activities, and to be benevolent and ready to distribute.
19 In doing this, they will accumulate wealth, creating a robust base for the forthcoming era, thereby seizing the existence that is genuinely life.
20 Timothy, preserve what has been entrusted to you; shun worldly and pointless discourse and the contradictory assertions of what is erroneously referred to as knowledge.
21 Some individuals have strayed far from the core beliefs by claiming such knowledge. May favor from the Eternal Reality be with each one of you.

~ 216 | 2 Timotheos | 2 Timothy

§ 30030 A MESSENGER OF IMMANUEL

1 Paul, chosen by the Preeminent Sovereign's decree, serves as a messenger of Immanuel the Chosen Redeemer through the life assurance granted by Immanuel.
2 Timothy, my esteemed child, may transformative generosity, kindness, and tranquility be within you from our Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, and our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.

§ 30040 THANKSGIVING

3 I am grateful to the Eternal Reality, expressing joyful adoration like my forefathers, with an untainted conscience, as you occupy my thoughts unceasingly in my meldings with the Preeminent Sovereign, day and night.
4 Remembering your tears, I yearn to meet you again, which would bring me happiness.
5 I recall your genuine trust, first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice. I am confident it is present in you now as well.

§ 30050 APPEAL FOR LOYALTY TO PAUL AND JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

6 I urge you to rekindle the Preeminent Sovereign's gift within you, conveyed when I touched you.
7 The Preeminent Sovereign's intention doesn't incite fear but endows us with strength, affection, and self-governance.

8 Do not be embarrassed about testifying to our Sovereign Captain or my status as his captive. Instead, stand with me in enduring hardships for the joyous developments, empowered by the Preeminent Sovereign's strength.
9 We were rescued and chosen for an exalted lifestyle—not due to our actions but His specific intent and mercy. This favor was given to us through Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, even before time started.
10 Our Redeemer, Immanuel, has now unveiled Himself as the Chosen Redeemer, conquering death and illuminating the path to perpetual life through His message of joyous developments.
11 I was designated as a messenger, an emissary, and an instructor of these positive developments.
12 This is why I endure my current afflictions. However, I refuse to let shame overcome me because I am sure of the one in whom I've placed my trust. I am convinced of their ability to safeguard what I have entrusted them until the appointed day.
13 Preserve the template of wholesome instruction you received from me and the trust and affection in the Chosen Redeemer.
14 Safeguard the valuable trust given to you with the assistance of the exalted Eternal Spark within us.

§ 30060 EXAMPLES OF DISLOYALTY AND LOYALTY

15 “All those in the Asian region have abandoned me, including Phygelus and Hermogenes.
16 May the Sovereign Captain grant kindness to Onesiphorus’ family, as he often revitalized me and was never embarrassed by my imprisonment.
17 Instead, he eagerly sought to find me when he was in Rome, but he failed.
18 I hope the Eternal Reality will grant him kindness during that fateful event. You know the many ways he helped me in Ephesus.”

§ 30070 THE APPEAL RENEWED

2 My child draws strength from the kindness of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
2 Share the path you received from me with trustworthy individuals capable of teaching others.
3 Endure hardship with me as a loyal soldier of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
4 A soldier avoids everyday matters to please their superior officer.
5 Similarly, an athlete must follow the directives to win the prize.
6 The diligent farmer deserves the first share of the harvest.
7 Reflect on My Path, as the Sovereign Captain will give you understanding in all these matters.
8 Always remember that Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, returned from death and a descendant of David, is the essence of the joyous developments I share.
9 For this cause, I endure hardships, even being restricted like a felon. Yet the Eternal Reality’s authenticity remains unrestricted.
10 For the chosen’s benefit, I tolerate all things so they may attain redemption in Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, with everlasting acclaim.
11 This statement is reliable: “If we perish with him, we will also exist with him.
12 If we persist, we shall rule with him. If we deny him, he will deny us.
13 Even when our trust wavers, his constancy endures, as his nature is unchangeable.”

§ 30080 DEALING WITH FALSE TEACHERS

14 Continue educating Preeminent Sovereign’s pathseekers on these principles. Advise them, with the Preeminent Sovereign as a witness, to avoid pointless disputes over language, which serve no benefit and exclusively lead to the downfall of the people involved.

15 Endeavor to show yourself as worthy of the Preeminent Sovereign’s approval, a diligent worker with no cause for embarrassment, and accurately interpret the message of ultimate authenticity.
16 Stay away from carnal discussions, as they will lead individuals deeper into behavior opposed to the lifestyle of the Preeminent Sovereign.
17 Their mandates will disseminate like a deadly disease, including individuals such as Hymenaeus and Philetus, 18 those who have strayed from the ultimate authenticity, proclaiming that the return from death has already occurred, undermine some individuals’ trust.
19 The Preeminent Sovereign lays a firm foundation that endures, marked by the acknowledgment: “The Sovereign Captain recognizes those who belong to Him.” Additionally, “anyone who calls on the name of the Sovereign Captain must distance themselves from iniquity.”

20 Within an expansive residence, one can find items constructed from gold and silver and crafted from wood and earthen materials; some items are designated for extraordinary functions, while others are utilized for mundane tasks.
21 Individuals who purify themselves from these aspects will become utensils of significant value, set-apart, beneficial for the Sovereign Captain, and ready to carry out any authentic act.
22 Avoid youth's wrong impulses and achieve a focus on the innermost-self, trust, affection, and tranquility. Do this with those who intervene with the Sovereign Captain with an unblemished inner-self.
23 Avoid senseless and ignorant disputes; as you know, they engender conflicts.
24 A servant of the Sovereign Captain should avoid disputes, show kindness to all, be competent in imparting knowledge, and refrain from harboring grudges.
25 Those who oppose must be guided kindly, with a wish that the Preeminent Sovereign might inspire them to change their inner-selves, leading them towards comprehending ultimate authenticity.
26 They may regain their senses, freeing themselves from the Chief Instigator's snare, having been his captive, forced to act on his desires.

§ 30090 DEPRAVITY IN THE LAST DAYS

3 Be aware that difficult periods will manifest in the final days.
2 Individuals will exhibit self-love, show fondness for wealth, engage in arrogant bragging, display pride, act abusively, show disobedience to their parents, lack gratitude, and live impurely.
3 Lacking affection, implacable, spreading lies, uncontrolled, savage, and in opposition to what is authentic,
4 untrustworthy, reckless, inflated with self-importance, and more fond of indulgence than the Preeminent Sovereign.
5 It exhibits a facade of support for the sovereign lifestyle yet rejects its force. Keep your distance from such individuals.
6 Such are the ones who insinuate themselves into households and manipulate vulnerable women burdened with unworthy choices and propelled by a myriad of impure inclinations.
7 Continually acquiring knowledge, yet never understanding the ultimate authenticity.
8 Analogous to how Jannes and Jambres resisted Moses, these individuals similarly confront the ultimate authenticity. They are men with corrupt minds who, in terms of trust, are deemed unfit.
9 However, their advancement will be limited since, like those individuals, their foolishness will become apparent to all.

§ 30100 A FINAL CHARGE TO TIMOTHY

10 You know the principles I teach, my lifestyle, objectives, trust, perseverance, affection, and resilience.
11 Tribulations and afflictions I faced in Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra, the tribulations I withstood. However, the Sovereign Captain delivered me from everyone of them.

12 Anyone desiring to lead a rightful relationship with Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, will face persecution.
13 Counterfeit men and false teachers will progressively deteriorate, leading others astray while they are misguided.

14 As for you, keep exemplifying what you have discovered and trust in it because you are mindful of your source.
15 Since childhood, you have become familiar with the exalted writings, and these Living Words can impart wisdom that leads to redemption through trust in the Chosen Redeemer.
16 The Preeminent Sovereign's breath imbues every bit of the Living Path. It benefits instruction, rebuke, correction, and guidance toward authentic living.
17 To ensure the individual dedicated to the Preeminent Sovereign is comprehensively prepared for all acts of goodness.

4 Under the watchful eyes of the Preeminent Sovereign and of Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, who is set to judge both the living and the dead, and considering his imminent return and his reign, I solemnly deliver this mandate to you.
2 Proclaim the directives; always be prepared, whether the time is favorable; carry out corrections, issue warnings, and uplift others—all this must be done with utmost patience and meticulous guidance.
3 An era will arrive when individuals reject wholesome teaching. Driven by their inclinations, they will surround themselves with numerous instructors who echo their fancies to satisfy their desire for agreeable sentiments.
4 They will ignore the ultimate authenticity and fall victim to false tales.
5 However, maintain your composure under any circumstances, tolerate adversities, carry out the duties of a proclaimer of joyous developments, and fulfill all responsibilities of your service.
6 I am offered as a poured offering, and my exit is imminent.
7 I have battled the noble combat, completed the journey, and maintained my trust in the Eternal Reality.

8 From now on, there's a reward waiting for me—the ultimate recognition of a life lived in integrity. The just and fair Eternal Reality will present it to me on that day, and not just to me but to everyone who eagerly looks forward to His arrival.

§ 30110 PERSONAL REMARKS

9 "Strive to join me as soon as possible."
10 Demas, having developed a fondness for this age, abandoned me for Thessalonica. Crescens has gone to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia.
11 Luke is the only one here with me. Please bring Mark with you; his assistance is invaluable.
12 I sent Tychicus to Ephesus.
13 When you come, bring the coat I left with Carpus in Troas and my manuscripts, especially the parchments.
14 The metalworker Alexander caused me great harm. The Sovereign Captain will repay him for his actions.
15 Be cautious of him, as he fiercely opposed our teachings.
16 At my first defense, everyone abandoned me; no one stood by me. I hope it doesn't come back to haunt them.
17 The Sovereign Captain was with me, strengthening me so that His message could be fully proclaimed to all Outsiders. I was rescued from the lion's mouth.
18 The Sovereign Captain will shield me from impure deeds and ensure my safe passage into his celestial realm. May the acclaim and honor be His forever. So be it.

§ 30120 FINAL GREETINGS

19 Extend my warm regards to Prisca, Aquila, and everyone in Onesiphorus' dwelling.

20 Erastus remained in Corinth, while Trophimus, who was unwell, had to be left in Miletus.
21 Strive to arrive before winter. Eubulus, Pudens, Linus, Claudia, and all the people of the New Humanity send their greetings.
22 May the Sovereign Captain accompany your inner-self. His kindness and empowerment are with everyone.

~ 217 | Transformed | Titus

§ 30130 ANCHORED

1 Paul, a bond-servant of the Preeminent Sovereign and chosen representative of the Chosen Redeemer, is sent to enhance the trust of the Preeminent Sovereign's chosen ones and guide them toward a life of purity.
2 Anchored in the promise of perpetual life by the Preeminent Sovereign, incapable of deceit, before the Inception of time.
3 At the set time, He disclosed His message through the proclamation, a duty assigned to me by the directive of the Preeminent Sovereign, our Redeemer.
4 To Titus, my genuine child in our trust: May transformative generosity and tranquility come to you from the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, our Rescuer.

§ 30140 APPOINTING LEADERS WHO LOVE WHAT IS GOOD

5 "My motive for leaving you on Crete was to have you handle the incomplete tasks and assign leaders in every city per my guidance.

6 A leader must be blameless, loyal to his spouse, a man whose offspring are people of trust and are not accused of indulging in wild behavior or being insubordinate.
7 As the overseer of the Preeminent Sovereign's affairs, one must lead an impeccable life. This life includes avoiding domineering behavior, being mindful not to act impulsively, abstaining from excessive alcohol intake, refraining from violence, and steering clear of ill-gotten wealth.

8 "Instead, he should be welcoming to guests, appreciative of everything good, in control of his actions, just, pure, and able to control his desires.
9 He needs to adhere steadfastly to the reliable teachings as conveyed to him, enabling him to uplift others through credible directives and rebuff those who contradict them. "

§ 30150 REBUKING THOSE WHO FAIL TO DO GOOD

10 Many refuse to obey; their talk is hollow and misleading, especially those advocating circumcision.
11 They must be silenced as they disrupt entire families with improper teachings for evil financial gain.
12 An eternally wise servant from Crete said: "Cretans are perpetually deceitful, malicious beasts, and slothful overeaters."
13 This testimony is authentic. So, chastise offenders severely to maintain their trust.
14 They will disregard Judean folktales and instructions from those who deny ultimate authenticity.

15 For the untainted, everything is untainted. But for the defiled and disloyal, nothing is uncontaminated. Their thoughts and morals are already tainted.
16 They claim to recognize the Preeminent Sovereign, yet their deeds contradict Him. They are loathsome, rebellious, and unworthy of any authentic deed.

§ 30160 DOING GOOD FOR THE SAKE OF JOYOUS DEVELOPMENTS

2 Teach what aligns with robust theological principles.

2 “Instruct older men to be restrained, honorable, self-disciplined, and grounded in trust, love, and perseverance.

3 Similarly, older women should be instructed to lead exalted lives, avoid rumors and excessive alcohol, and convey what is authentic.
4 They can encourage young women to care deeply for their spouses and offspring.
5 They must be disciplined, morally unblemished, manage household affairs dutifully, exhibit kindness, and yield to their husbands to uphold the Preeminent Sovereign’s message.

6 Similarly, it inspires young men to exercise self-restraint.
7 Demonstrate appropriate behavior in every aspect. Exhibit honesty and sincerity in your education.
8 Ensure your words are solid and beyond criticism, so those who contradict you might feel embarrassed, having no negative comments about us.

9 Instruct bond-servants to submit to their overseers in all aspects, strive to satisfy them, and refrain from contradicting them.
10 Instead of taking from them, they should demonstrate absolute reliability, enhancing the beauty and appeal of the path concerning our Rescuer, Preeminent Sovereign, in every aspect.

11 The Preeminent Sovereign’s transformative generosity has manifested, giving everyone the gift of redemption.
12 This teaching instructs us to reject impiety and worldly desires and adopt a disciplined, rightful, integrid, devout lifestyle in the current era.

13 We anticipate the joyous hope—the manifestation of the unique splendor of our magnificent Preeminent Sovereign and Redeemer, Chosen Redeemer.
14 He selflessly sacrificed himself for our benefit, aiming to liberate us from all forms of evil and cleanse us into a distinct group of people that are solely his, filled with enthusiasm to perform deeds of integrity.

15 These are the points you ought to impart. Encourage and correct with complete authority. Ensure that no one disrespects you.”

§ 30170 DELIVERED TO DO GOOD

3 Remind the public to respect their leaders and authorities, ensure compliance, and always be ready for authentic action.
2 Avoid speaking ill of anyone, maintain harmony and thoughtfulness, and continuously show kindness.

3 There was a time when we were unwise, rebellious, misled, and driven by various desires and indulgences. Our lives were filled with spite and jealousy, despised by others and despising each other.

4 However, when the Preeminent Sovereign, our Rescuer, manifested His affection and transformative generosity toward humanity:
5 Eternal Spark's cleansing of regeneration and revitalization by the Eternal Spark.

6 He generously dispensed His Eternal Spark to us, made possible by the Chosen Redeemer, our Sovereign Captain.
7 By receiving His undeserved transformative generosity, we can be made right with the Preeminent Sovereign and become inheritors with the hope of Eternal Life alongside Him.
8 "This assertion is reliable. I urge you to emphasize these matters so that those who trust the Preeminent Sovereign will be meticulous in performing acts of kindness. These deeds are not only commendable but also advantageous to all."
9 Avoid meaningless debates, genealogical discussions, disagreements, and disputes related to the Mosaic Law, as they are fruitless and devoid of utility.
10 If individuals cause conflict, warn them initially, then issue a second notice. If they persist, cease all interaction with them.
11 You can be sure that individuals like these are twisted, counterfeit, and condemn themselves.

§ 30180 FINAL REMARKS

12 "As soon as I dispatch Artemas or Tychicus, make every effort to join me in Nicopolis, where I plan to spend the winter. "

13 "Ensure Zenas, the advocate, and Apollos receive full support for their journey, so they lack nothing. "

14 "Our community must learn to engage in beneficial actions to meet immediate needs and avoid a fruitless existence. "

15 "All here send their greetings. Extend our goodwill to those who trust us. May celestial favor be with you all."

~ 218 | Brotherhood | Philemon

§ 30190 TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY AND TRANQUILITY BE WITH YOU

1 Paul, imprisoned for the cause of the Chosen Redeemer, and Timothy, our trusted sibling, write to our esteemed colleague and co-laborer, Philemon.
2 We also extend our gratitude to our dear sisters Apphia and Archippus, our fellow warriors, and the ensovereigned lifestyle community that gathers at your residence.
3 "May the favor and tranquility from the Preeminent Sovereign, our Life-Giver, and Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, be with you."

§ 30200 THANKSGIVING AND MY MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS

4 I continually express gratitude to my Preeminent Sovereign when I mention you in my meldings of consciousness with Him.
5 I recognize your affection for all Eternal Reality's individuals and your trust in Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain.
6 My melding of consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign aims for your active involvement in trust to enhance our understanding of every noble aspect we share for the acclaim of the Chosen Redeemer.
7 Your affection has brought me immense delight and motivation as you, my ensovereigned mediator, have invigorated the Sovereign Captain's pathseekers.

§ 30210 PAUL'S PLEA FOR ONESIMUS

8 In the Chosen Redeemer, I have the authority to direct you to do what is right.

9 Yet, out of affection, I choose to appeal to you as Paul, an older man and a prison inmate for Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer.
10 I implore you on behalf of my child Onesimus, whom I gave life to during my imprisonment.
11 He was once of no benefit to you, but now he benefits you and me.
12 I am sending him back to you, my very essence.
13 I wanted to keep him with me to help me in your stead during my incarceration due to the joyous developments.
14 However, I didn't want to do anything without your consent so that your kindness would be voluntary, not forced.
15 Perhaps he was separated from you for a while, so you could have him back forever.
16 No longer as a servant, but more than that, as an esteemed sibling, he is dear to me but even dearer to you, both as a person and as an inner relative in trust.
17 If you consider me a comrade, welcome him as you would welcome me.

18 If he has wronged you or owes you anything, charge it to me.
19 I, Paul, am writing this in my handwriting. I will repay it—not to mention that you owe me your very self.
20 Yes, my ensovereigned mediator, let me have some delight from you in the Sovereign Captain; refresh my inner-self in the Chosen Redeemer.
21 I write to you with confidence in your compliance, trusting you'll provide above and beyond what I ask.
22 Also, prepare a guest room for me because I hope to be restored to you in response to the meldings of your conscience with the Eternal Reality.
23 Epaphras, my fellow prisoner for Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, sends his greetings.
24 So do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my collaborators.

25 May the transformative generosity of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, be with your inner-self.

~ 219 | The Promised People | Hebrews

§ 30220 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S FINAL WORD: HIS HEIR

[1] Long ago, our forefathers received celestial messages from eternally wise servants through various methods and occasions.
[2] In these final days, He communicated with us through His Heir, designated as the inheritor of all entities and through whom He fashioned the cosmos.
[3] The Heir illuminates the Preeminent Sovereign's splendor, perfectly reflecting His essence and preserving all creations with His potent word. After achieving atonement for transgressions, He claimed His seat next to the Eternal Authority in the celestial realm.
[4] So, He elevated to a level much higher than the Celestial Envoys, just as the name He was given stands superior to theirs.

§ 30230 THE HEIR SUPERIOR TO CELESTIAL ENVOYS

[5] When did the Eternal Reality ever declare to any Celestial Envoys, 'You are my offspring; today, I am your Innovator'? Or reiterate, 'I will serve as his parent, and he will stand as my child'?
[6] Once more, when the Preeminent Sovereign presents His premier Heir to the cosmos, He commands, 'May all celestial realm messengers of the Preeminent Sovereign elevate Him. '
[7] Regarding the Celestial Envoys, he remarks, 'He turns His messengers into winds and His administrators into blazing fire. '

[8] Concerning the Heir, it is stated that 'Your rule, my Preeminent Sovereign, is eternal; the symbol of your sovereignty is a rod of fairness. '
[9] 'You have cherished what is just and abhorred evil, so the Preeminent Sovereign has elected you, elevating you beyond your peers by endowing you with triumphant delight. '
[10] The Preeminent Sovereign stated, ' You, Sovereign Captain, set the Earth's foundation in its initial stages, and your hands are responsible for creating the celestial realms. '
[11] 'They will end, but you continue; they all become threadbare like old clothing. '
[12] 'They will be modified as you wrap them up like a cloak, just like garments. Despite these changes, you persistently remain unaltered, and your lifespan will continue. '
[13] Has the Preeminent Sovereign ever asked any Celestial Envoys to sit at His right side until He turns their enemies into their footrests?
[14] Aren't all the Celestial Envoys merely tasked to assist those destined to receive redemption?

§ 30240 WARNING TO PAY HEED

2 We must diligently heed what has been taught to avoid straying.

[2] Celestial Envoys conveyed a reliable path and justly penalized every infraction and act of disobedience.
[3] How can we escape consequences if we neglect such a critical deliverance? Initially declared by the Sovereign Captain, it was solidified by those who listened to him.
[4] The Preeminent Sovereign corroborated it through signs, marvels, diverse marvelous works, and the gifts of the exalted Eternal Spark, given according to His will.

§ 30250 IMMANUEL MADE FULLY HUMAN

[5] The world we discuss is not under the Celestial Envoys' control.
[6] It is written: "What is humanity that you think of them, or a child of humanity that you care for?"
[7] "You temporarily placed them below the Celestial Envoys; you adorned them with dignity and distinction."
[8] The Preeminent Sovereign has placed everything under their authority, leaving nothing outside their control. Some things remain under their exclusive governance.
[9] We see Immanuel, briefly lower than the Celestial Envoys, now adorned with dignity and prestige. His suffering and death were so that by the Preeminent Sovereign's merciful love, he could experience death for everyone.
[10] It was fitting for the Preeminent Sovereign, through whom all things exist, to perfect the Author of their redemption through suffering, bringing many children to acclaim.
[11] Those who are made pure and the One who makes pure are related. Immanuel, therefore, calls them His citizens of the New Humanity.
[12] He proclaims, "I will make known your name to my siblings; amidst the ensovereigned lifestyle community, I will vocalize your praises."
[13] Again, "I will place my confidence in Him." He further declares, "Look, I'm here, along with the children the Preeminent Sovereign entrusted me."
[14] Since the offspring are flesh and blood, he, too, shared in their mortal nature, ensuring that by his demise, he could dismantle the authority of the entity controlling death—the Chief Instigator.
[15] He freed those who lived in fear of death throughout their lives.
[16] His assistance is directed not towards Celestial Envoys but to Abraham's family.
[17] He had to be fully human in every aspect to emerge as a compassionate and dedicated prime ensovereigned mediator in the Preeminent Sovereign's service, repaying people for their unworthy choices.

[18] Having endured suffering and testing himself, he can assist those undergoing temptation.

§ 30260 IMMANUEL GREATER THAN MOSES

3 Exalted siblings, participants in the Eternal Reality's summons, focus on Immanuel, our commissioned messenger and Supreme Mediator.
[2] He remained loyal to the one who designated him, just as Moses was loyal throughout the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress.
[3-4] Immanuel is worthy of more recognition than even Moses, just as the architect of a building deserves more credit than the structure itself. Every structure has a designer, but the Eternal Reality is the ultimate designer, creating everything that stands strong and endures.

5 Moses was devoted as a servant in the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress, testifying to what the Preeminent Sovereign would later reveal.
6 The Chosen Redeemer is trustworthy as a Heir and head of the Preeminent Sovereign family. We are part of His family, provided we hold on to our trust and the hope we are proud of.

§ 30270 WARNING AGAINST DISTRUST

7 So, the Eternal Spark articulates, "This day, if you perceive His utterance, 8 refrain from making your inner-selves obstinate as was done during the rebellion at the time of trial in the barren lands.
9 Even though your forefathers saw my actions for four decades, they still challenged and scrutinized me.
10 I was infuriated with that era; I stated, 'Their inner-selves are perpetually deviating, and they remain unfamiliar with my methods. '
11 In my fury, I solemnly said, 'They will by no means find solace in my Fortress. '

12 People of the New Humanity, be vigilant to ensure that not one of you possesses an impure, deceptive inner-self that abandons the living Preeminent Sovereign.
13 Persist in uplifting each other daily for as long as the term 'Today' is relevant, ensuring that none among you succumbs to the hardening effects of unworthy choice's deceptions.
14 We have become partners with the Chosen Redeemer, provided we steadfastly maintain the certainty of our initial beliefs until the conclusion.
15 As stated previously, 'On this day, should you perceive His voice, do not make your inner-selves unyielding as they did during the revolt. '

16 Who were the ones who listened and yet resisted? Did Moses not guide these same individuals out of Egypt?
17 Who was the Preeminent Sovereign's wrath target for four decades? Was it not the ones who committed infractions and whose lifeless bodies were scattered in the desert?
18 Who were the people that the Preeminent Sovereign pledged would never experience His tranquility if not those who resisted compliance?"
19 We can observe that their inability to enter was due to their lack of trust.

§ 30280 A REST DAY FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

4 Considering the promise of entering, His rest remains, so let us ensure no one falls short.
2 We have received the same message of redemption, but it was futile for them as they lacked trust.
3 As people of trust, we achieve tranquility, adhering to the Eternal Reality's proclamation: "My tranquility shall remain untouched by them." His celestial deeds have been fulfilled since the dawn of existence.

4 It is mentioned that the Preeminent Sovereign ceased all His deeds on the seventh day.
5 The Living Word states, "They will not find solace in my rest."
6 Some still can enter this rest, but those who initially heard the joyous developments did not due to disobedience.

7 The Preeminent Sovereign designates a specific day, “Today,” as conveyed through David: “If his voice reaches you today, do not harden your inner-selves.”
8 If Joshua had provided tranquility, the Preeminent Sovereign wouldn’t have mentioned another day.
9 A remarkable rest, like a Day of Rest, remains for the pathseekers of the Preeminent Sovereign;
10 anyone who enters this rest also takes a break from their tasks, emulating the Preeminent Sovereign.
11 So, strive diligently to enter that rest, ensuring nobody succumbs to noncompliance.
12 The word of the Preeminent Sovereign is alive and powerful, sharper than a surgeon’s scalpel. It cuts deeply, separating even the unseen layers of thoughts and motives. It exposes the innermost intentions of the heart."
13 No aspect of the universe is concealed from the Eternal Reality’s inspection. All matters stand exposed and defenseless before His gaze, to whom we are accountable.

§ 30290 IMMANUEL, THE SUPREME MEDIATOR

14 Immanuel, the Preeminent Sovereign’s Heir, is our elevated innermost leader in the celestial realms. We must hold firmly to our convictions.
15 Our prime ensovereigned mediator understands our frailties, having faced every trial without committing unworthy choices.

16 Let us confidently approach the Preeminent Sovereign’s seat of undeserved favor to obtain compassion and find help in times of need.

5 Every prime ensovereigned mediator is chosen from among humans to act on their behalf before the Preeminent Sovereign, presenting gifts and absolving payments for unworthy choices.
2 He empathizes with the ignorant and misguided, being susceptible to frailty himself.
3 So, he must make absolving payments for his transgressions and those of the people.
4 The celestial calling grants this privilege, just as it did for Aaron.
5 Similarly, the Chosen Redeemer did not claim the honor of becoming a prime ensovereigned mediator; it was affirmed by the Preeminent Sovereign who said, “You are my Heir; today, I have become your Life-Giver.”
6 He also stated, “You are an eternal mediator in the order of Melchizedek.”
7 During his time on Earth, Immanuel fervently petitioned and melded his consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign, who had the power to save him from death. His prayers were answered due to his devout reverence.
8 Though a Heir, he learned obedience through suffering.
9 Once perfected, he became the eternal redemption provider for all who heed his directives.
10 The Preeminent Sovereign appointed Him as a Supreme Ensovereigned Mediator in the order of Melchizedek.

§ 30300 WARNING AGAINST FALLING AWAY

11 There’s much to convey on this matter; however, clarifying it has become challenging as you’ve stopped trying to comprehend.

12 Although you should be an educator at this stage, you require someone to reteach the basic principles of the Preeminent Sovereign's message. You need nourishment from milk rather than mature sustenance!

13 An individual subsisting on milk, merely a baby, lacks familiarity with integrid directives.
14 However, substantial nourishment is meant for those who are developed, who, through habitual behavior, have educated their senses to differentiate between authentic and impure.

6 Subsequently, we must surpass the basic instructions related to the Chosen Redeemer and progress towards a more comprehensive understanding without reemphasizing the bedrock of remorse for deeds that result in demise and the trust in the Eternal Reality.
2 Teaching about formality purifications, conferring empowerments, the revival of the deceased, and the final verdict of eternity.
3 We shall proceed if the Preeminent Sovereign allows it.

4 It's unfeasible for those who have once received enlightenment, savored the Eternal Reality's gift, and partook in the exalted Eternal Spark.
5 Those who have experienced the richness of the Preeminent Sovereign's message and felt the energies of the forthcoming era.
6 And for those who have deserted the trust, they can't be renewed to a changed life. To their detriment, they are nailing the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign to the execution stake once more and exposing Him to public humiliation.

7 Soil that soaks up the frequent rains and yields crops beneficial to those who cultivate it is endowed with the Preeminent Sovereign's empowerments.
8 Ground that yields obstacles and overgrowth exclusively is useless and near to being condemned; ultimately, it will be set ablaze.

9 Despite our words sounding this way, cherished friends, we are confident that your situation entails superior elements—those associated with redemption.

10 The Preeminent Sovereign is fair. It will not disregard your labors, and the affection demonstrated towards Him while serving His people and the ongoing service to them.
11 We wish all of you to continually exhibit the same zeal until the last moment, leading to the complete fulfillment of your aspirations.
12 Our desire is not for you to become sluggish but to be like those who, through trust and long-suffering, receive what has been assured.

§ 30310 THE CERTAINTY OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S PROMISE

13 With no higher entity to pledge by, the Preeminent Sovereign affirmed His commitment to Abraham by vowing in His name.
14 "I will greatly empower you and multiply your family."
15 Abraham received what was pledged due to his enduring patience.
16 Individuals pledge by someone superior, and the confirmation oath validates the statement and resolves disputes.

17 To assure the inheritors of His promise about His steadfast intent, the Preeminent Sovereign fortified it with a pledge.
18 He did this so that through two unwavering authenticities in which He cannot be untruthful, we who have sought Fortress in grasping the optimism laid out for us would be profoundly inspired.
19 Our inner-selves hold on to this hope as a solid, unshakeable anchor penetrating the exalted space behind the veil.
20 Immanuel, our originator, has already made his way there on our behalf. He has assumed the eternal role of a prime ensovereigned mediator, following the family of Melchizedek.

§ 30320 MELCHIZEDEK THE PRIME MEDIATOR

7 After Abraham returned victorious from battling the Prime Rulers, Melchizedek, the governor of Salem and the prime ensovereigned mediator of the Preeminent Sovereign greeted him and granted him authority.
2 Abraham gave Melchizedek one-tenth of all he had. Melchizedek's name means "Prime Ruler of correct standings," and as "Prime Ruler of Salem," he represents the "Prime Ruler of peace."
3 He has no recorded family or lifespan, resembling the Heir of Preeminent Sovereign, continuing as an eternal mediator.
4 Consider his importance—the patriarch Abraham gave him a tenth of the spoils!
5 According to the Mosaic Law, descendants of Levi who become mediators must collect a tenth from their fellow Israelites despite their shared ancestry with Abraham.
6 Though not from Levi's family, Melchizedek received a tenth from Abraham and empowered him, who held celestial promises.
7 Clearly, those of lower standing receive empowerment from their superiors.
8 In one case, mortal men gather the ten percent contributions; in another, One who is affirmed to be Eternal alive collects them.
9 It can be said that Levi, who receives the ten percent contribution, essentially paid it through Abraham.
10 When Melchizedek met Abraham, Levi was still unborn within his forefather.

§ 30330 IMMANUEL LIKE MELCHIZEDEK

11 Suppose the Levitical Mediatorship could achieve perfection, given that the Mosaic Law established it. Why was there a need for another mediator from Melchizedek's family instead of Aaron's?
12 A change in Mediatorship necessitates a modification of the Mosaic Law.
13 The individual discussed here was from a community where no one has served on the pedestal table.

14 Our Rescuer came from Judah, a community Moses did not mention regarding the Mediatorship.
15 This is clearer when another mediator like Melchizedek emerges.
16 Instead of following a family directive, the individual becomes an ensovereigned mediator through a perpetual life.
17 It is testified: "You are an eternal mediator, following Melchizedek's family."
18 The previous directive was nullified due to ineffectiveness.

19 While the Mosaic Law achieved no perfection, it paved the way for a superior hope, allowing us to approach the Preeminent Sovereign.
20 Indeed, a solemn pledge was involved! Some assumed Mediatorship without such a vow.

21 Yet, he took on the role of mediator through an exalted affirmation from the Eternal Reality who declared: “The Eternal Reality has made a solemn vow and shall remain unwavering: ‘Your Ensovereigned Meditators will be eternal. ’”
22 Immanuel ensures a superior agreement due to this pledge.
23 Numerous mediators existed previously, but their mortality obstructed their tenure.
24 Since Immanuel exists eternally, his Mediatorship is enduring and unchanging.
25 He can eternally rescue those who approach the Preeminent Sovereign through Him, as He persistently remains alive to advocate on their behalf.
26 A prime ensovereigned mediator of this nature perfectly fits our needs—exalted, innocent, unstained, separated from transgressors, and elevated higher than the celestial realm.
27, Unlike other Prime Meditators, he has no obligation to present absolving payments repeatedly, initially for his transgressions and then for the people’s unworthy choices. He performed this act of atonement permanently when he sacrificed himself.

28 Although the Mosaic Law designates men with frailties as high mediators, the pledge established after it assigned the Heir, who has been eternally perfected.

§ 30340 THE SUPREME MEDIATOR OF A NEW PACT

8 The essence of our discussion is this: We have a distinguished ensovereigned mediator seated at the right side of Eternal Reality’s command control in the celestial realm.
2 He acts as an ensovereigned mediator in the authentic exalted space of joyful adoration that the Sovereign Captain established, not by any ordinary individual.
3 Every prime ensovereigned mediator must present gifts and absolving payments, so it was essential for this individual to have something to provide.
4 Were he on Earth, he wouldn’t serve as an ensovereigned mediator, given the existence of already established ensovereigned mediators who provide absolving payments as stipulated in the Mosaic Law.
5 They perform their duties at a place that serves as a replica and foreshadowing of the celestial realm. The Preeminent Sovereign warned Moses as he prepared to build the Tent: “Make sure you create all elements according to the blueprint I presented to you on the mountain.”
6 Immanuel’s service is superior to the previous one, just as the solemn agreement he mediates is superior, based on enhanced promises.
7 If the initial agreement had been faultless, a subsequent one wouldn’t have been necessary.
8 However, the Preeminent Sovereign pointed out the flaws with the people, declaring: “A time is approaching,” affirms the Sovereign Captain, “when I will establish a fresh agreement with the individuals of Israel and the inhabitants of Judah.”
9 “The agreement I formed with their forebears when I guided them by hand out of Egypt will not be mirrored, as they failed to uphold my pact, causing me to withdraw my attention,” announces the Sovereign Captain.

10 “This pact I will institute with the population of Israel in the future,” asserts the Sovereign Captain. “I will imprint My path in their thoughts and inscribe them in their inner-selves. I will stand as their Eternal Reality, and they will turn into My pathseekers.”

11 “They will not need to instruct their neighbor or tell each other, ‘Understand Preeminent Sovereign, ’ as they will all comprehend me, from the most insignificant to the most distinguished.”
12 “I shall be merciful to their wrongdoings and no longer hold their unworthy choices against them.”
13 Terminating this accord as new has rendered the first one old, and that which is aging and no longer in use is on the brink of vanishing.

§ 30350 EXPRESS JOYFUL ADORATION IN THE EARTHLY TENT

9 The initial agreement included directives for celestial service and a physical place for joyful adoration on Earth.
2 A fortress was established with a light fixture and a table bearing the exalted bread in the initial chamber, known as the Exalted Place.
3 The Most Exalted Space followed the second veil.
4 It held a golden incense pedestal table and the solemn agreement’s chest, cloaked in gold, containing a gold pot with Aaron’s rod that sprouted celestial food and the stone inscriptions of the solemn agreement.
5 The Celestial Envoy of Acclaim cast their shadow over the Strongbox’s cover, known as the mercy seat. However, it’s not feasible to delve into these things in depth.
6 With all elements set, the ensovereigned mediators habitually entered the initial compartment to execute their sovereign lifestyle activations.
7 Only the prime ensovereigned mediator could enter the Fortress annually, always presenting blood as an offering for his transgressions and the unknowing unworthy choices of the populace.

8 The Eternal Spark indicated that the path into the Most Exalted Space had yet to be disclosed while the original Tent was still in use.
9 Since the gifts and tributes could not clear the adorer’s conscience, it is an analogy for the current era.
10 These are about sustenance, beverages, and different types of formality cleanings—outward directives enforced until the era of the new system.

§ 30360 THE BLOOD OF THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

11 When the Chosen Redeemer arrived as the prime ensovereigned mediator of the present empowerments, he entered the superior and more immaculate Fortress not constructed by human hands, indicating it’s not a constituent of this worldly creation.
12 Utilizing his blood, not the blood of goats and calves, he accessed the Most Exalted Space once and for all, thereby achieving eternal redemption.
13 The ashes of a heifer and the blood of bulls and goats, when sprinkled on those who are formally impure, commission them, ensuring their external health.
14 Isn’t it more likely, therefore, that the blood of the Chosen Redeemer, who willingly offered himself as a flawless absolving payment to the Preeminent Sovereign through the Eternal Spark, will purify our consciences from deeds leading to mortality, enabling us to express joyful adoration to the ever-living Preeminent Sovereign?

15 As the facilitator of a fresh agreement, the Chosen Redeemer ensures the called ones are eligible for the permanent empowerment the Preeminent Sovereign promised. His absolving death paves the way for their liberation from wrongdoings made under the prior agreement.
16 When it comes to a testament, validating the demise of the testament's Innovator is obligatory.
17 A testament exclusively becomes valid when the person who created it has passed away; it holds no power as long as the Innovator is alive.
18 That's why even the first agreement couldn't be initiated without the shedding of blood.

19 Following Moses' declaration of every statute of the Mosaic Law to the entire populace, he utilized the blood of calves, mixed with water, crimson yarn, and hyssop twigs, to sprinkle the manuscript and all the individuals present.
20 He proclaimed, "This is the blood that seals the agreement, an agreement that Preeminent Sovereign has commissioned for your adherence."
21 He spread the blood over the tent, expressing joyful adoration and all elements used in its activities.
22 The Mosaic Law states that blood purifies almost everything, and bloodshed is necessary for absolution.
23 The purification of celestial realm entities' replicas necessitated these absolving payments; however, superior absolving payments were required for the celestial realm envoys.
24 The Chosen Redeemer didn't step into a person-made fortress, merely imitating the actual one; instead, he entered the celestial realm and currently stands before the Preeminent Sovereign, advocating for us.
25 He did not ascend to the celestial realm to present himself repeatedly, in the manner of the prime ensovereigned mediator who proceeds into the Most Exalted Space (where the Preeminent Sovereign manifests His astonishing reconciliation) annually with blood, not of his own.
26 If otherwise, the Chosen Redeemer would have been required to endure suffering numerous times since the world's inception. However, he has once and definitively appeared at the peak of the eras to eliminate unworthy choice through self-sacrifice.
27 It's in the plan that all individuals pass away once. Subsequently, they will stand before the Preeminent Sovereign for their judgment.
28 The Chosen Redeemer was offered as an absolving payment one time to cleanse the multitude of their unworthy choices; during his second coming, he will not carry unworthy choices but instead deliver redemption to those eagerly waiting for him.

§ 30370 THE CHOSEN REDEEMER'S PENANCE ONCE FOR ALL

10 The Mosaic Law outlines future empowerments but lacks the actual reality of these empowerments. Consequently, the repeated yearly absolving payments fail to achieve absolute purification for those offering joyful adoration.
2 Wouldn't the absolving payments have ceased if they did? The worshippers would have been purified and free from guilt.
3 These payments are a yearly reminder of transgressions.
4 Unworthy choices cannot be eradicated with the blood of bulls and goats.

[5] Upon the Chosen Redeemer's arrival, he said: "You didn't desire absolving payments; instead, You prepared a body for Me."
[6] "Scorched and absolving payments for unworthy choices did not please you."
[7] I declared, "Look, I am here—the scroll contains writings about me—I am determined to fulfill your desires, my Preeminent Sovereign."

[8] The Chosen Redeemer states, "You did not desire nor delight in tributes and absolving payments, scorched absolving payments, and transgression absolving payments" (though they are provided under the Mosaic Law).
[9] Then he proclaimed, "Pay Heed; I have arrived to fulfill your desire." He discards the initial system to establish the latter one.
[10] By the Preeminent Sovereign's desire, we have been set-apart through the once-for-all offering of the Chosen Redeemer's body.

[11] Every mediator continually repeats their exalted obligations daily, presenting identical absolving payments incapable of eradicating unworthy choices.
[12] However, after this mediator presented an enduring absolving payment, he took his seat at Eternal Reality's dominant hand.
[13] He has been waiting for his adversaries to become a stepping stool under his feet.

[14] Through a single offering, Immanuel has eternally perfected those undergoing purification.

[15] The exalted Eternal Spark testifies to us regarding this, first stating.
[16] "This agreement is what I will establish with them in the future," proclaimed the Sovereign Captain. "I will place My path in their thoughts and inscribe them in their inner-selves.
[17] He then states: "I will no longer recall their transgressions and unlawful behaviors."
[18] When these transgressions have been pardoned, offering up an absolving payment is no longer required.

§ 30380 A CALL TO PERSEVERE IN TRUST

[19] So, my people of the New Humanity, we can boldly approach the Most Exalted Fortress, thanks to the blood of Immanuel.
[20] Through a fresh and vital path, He inaugurated for us via the veil, namely, His physical form.
[21] Given that we possess a distinguished prime ensovereigned mediator who presides over the Preeminent Sovereign's fortress,
[22] let's approach the Eternal Reality with an honest and genuine inner-self with unqualified certainty that stems from our trust. Our inner-selves have been purified from wrongful actions, and our bodies have been cleansed with the purest of water.
[23] We should steadfastly cling to the hope we assert as the One who made the promise is trustworthy.
[24] Let's contemplate how to encourage others to manifest love and perform deeds of integrity.

[25] Instead of neglecting our collective gatherings, a custom habitual to some, we should motivate one another to continue, particularly as we perceive the eminent day drawing nearer.
[26] Should we consciously persist in wrongdoing even after understanding the ultimate authenticity, no offering remains to wipe away our transgressions.
[27] Only a terrifying prospect of celestial judgment and a fierce inferno prepared to annihilate the Preeminent Sovereign's adversaries remains.

28 A person who disregarded Moses' Law was put to death without compassion, based on the evidence of two or three witnesses.
29 Don't you reckon that an individual who disrespects the Heir of Preeminent Sovereign, considers the purifying solemn agreement's blood impure, and offends the Eternal Spark of Generosity should face a far harsher penalty?
30 We know that the One who proclaimed, "Justice is My prerogative; I will reciprocate," and "The Sovereign Captain will assess His pathseekers."
31 It is truly a terrifying experience to be punished for living the Preeminent Sovereign.
32 Recall the days after your inner enlightenment when you persevered through an immense struggle laden with hardship.
33 You were often publicly humiliated and oppressed while others were in solidarity with those enduring similar trials.
34 You endured hardship with those incarcerated. You embraced the deprivation of your assets with happiness, convinced of your ownership of superior and permanent possessions.
35 Therefore, do not discard your boldness; you will receive a substantial reward.
36 You must exhibit steadfast patience to obtain the assurances He has extended to accomplish the Preeminent Sovereign's desired actions.
37 Soon, the One who is expected will arrive, and He won't postpone His coming.
38 However, the one justified through trust shall exist by that trust. If anyone withdraws in fear, My inner-self is not satisfied.

39 We are not associated with those who recoil and get ruined; we align ourselves with those who possess trust and secure redemption.

§ 30390 TRUST IN ACTION

11 Trust is the solid assurance of our expectations and the strong conviction regarding the unseen.
2 This trust is why the ancients received recognition.
3 Through trust, we comprehend that the Preeminent Sovereign's decree structured the universe, implying that the observable was created from indiscernible elements.
4 Abel offered the Preeminent Sovereign a superior absolving payment to Cain through his conviction. His unwavering trust earned him the commendation of being authentic, as the Preeminent Sovereign expressed approval of his absolving payments. Despite his death, Abel's voice resonates, courtesy of his trust.
5 Out of trust, Enoch was whisked away from existence, avoiding the encounter with death. His whereabouts remained unknown, as the Preeminent Sovereign had carried him off. Before his removal, he was applauded for his actions that found favor with the Preeminent Sovereign.
6 Pleasing the Preeminent Sovereign is unattainable without trust, as it necessitates that anyone approaching Him has conviction in His existence and trusts that He rewards those who passionately pursue Him.
7 Through his trust in the Preeminent Sovereign, Noah, on receiving celestial foresight of events not yet visible, out of profound reverence, constructed a vessel to protect his relative. His trust illustrated the world's faults, and he was established as a recipient of the integrity that aligns with his trust.
8 Trusting in the Preeminent Sovereign, Abraham complied when instructed to set off for a territory he was promised to possess as his own eventually. He embarked on this journey, oblivious to his final destination.

[9] Trusting in the Eternal Reality, Abraham dwelled as an outsider in the land of celestial assurance, just like a wanderer in a land not his own; his abode was in makeshift shelters, just as Isaac and Jacob, who were co-inheritors of the same celestial decree.

[10] He anticipated a city with solid foundations, designed and constructed by Preeminent Sovereign.
[11] Even Sarah, who was beyond the typical childbearing years, received the ability to conceive a baby because she trusted that He who had given His word was reliable.
[12] So, from this single individual, practically at death's door, sprang descendants as plentiful as the stars of the cosmos and as immeasurable as the grains of sand on the seashore.
[13] All these individuals were still embracing trust at their time of death. They didn't acquire the things promised; they merely observed them from afar and greeted them warmly while acknowledging that they were transient inhabitants and outsiders.
[14] Individuals uttering such phrases show they are pursuing their homeland.
[15] They could have found a chance to return if they had pondered about the nation they abandoned.
[16] They yearned for an improved celestial place. Consequently, since Immanuel has arranged a metropolis for them, the Preeminent Sovereign doesn't feel discredited to be recognized as their Eternal Reality.
[17] Abraham, demonstrating his trust, was ready to make his sole Heir, Isaac, an offering when the Preeminent Sovereign tested his trust. Being the recipient of the Preeminent Sovereign's promises, he was prepared to offer his exclusively begotten child.
[18] Even though the Preeminent Sovereign had informed him, "Your descendants will carry your name through Isaac."
[19] Abraham believed the Preeminent Sovereign could bring back the dead. In a symbolic context, it was as if he got Isaac back from death.
[20] Out of trust, Isaac empowered Jacob and Esau concerning their forthcoming events.
[21] Trusting in the Eternal Reality, Jacob empowered Joseph's offspring during Jacob's final moments. As he leaned on his power staff, he expressed his reverence through the joyful expression of adoration.

[22] Having trust, Joseph, as he was coming to his life's end, mentioned the celestial deliverance of the Israelites from Egypt and provided directions about the interment of his remains.
[23] The parents of Moses trusted in their instincts. They concealed him for three months after his birth because they recognized him as an extraordinary infant, undaunted by the Pharaoh's proclamation.
[24] Through his trust in the Preeminent Sovereign, Moses, once he reached maturity, declined the title of being Pharaoh's daughter's heir.
[25] He decided to endure hardship alongside the Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers instead of indulging himself in temporary unworthy choices and pleasures.
[26] He esteemed the rebuke suffered for the Chosen Redeemer as richer than all the treasures in Egypt, an unworthy choice. His focus was on the future reward.
[27] Through trust, he departed from Egypt, unafraid of the Prime Ruler's wrath; he remained resolute as he visualized the unseen entity.
[28] Through his trust, Moses adhered to the Emancipation Feast and the sprinkling of blood, ensuring that the first-born of Israel would be unharmed by the entity that brought about the demise of the first-born.
[29] Trusting in their trust, the individuals traversed through the Red Sea as if treading on dry soil; tragically, the Egyptians, attempting to replicate this, met their end in the water.
[30] Due to trust, Jericho's fortifications collapsed following the military's seven-day encirclement.

31 Rahab, a woman who sold herself for sex, exhibited trust and welcomed the scouts. Consequently, she was spared the fate of those who defied the directives.
32 How much more need I to mention? There isn't enough time to narrate the stories of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the eternally wise servants.

33 Those who, by their enduring trust in the Preeminent Sovereign, subdued nations brought about integrity and received the promised empowerment; they could close the lions' jaws.
34 They extinguished the fierceness of the fire and got away from the peril of the tactical blade; their frailties were transformed into might; they exhibited remarkable Fortress in combat and sent the Adversary's troops fleeing.
35 Females reclaimed their departed loved ones and brought them back to life. Some chose to endure torment, rejecting liberation with the hope of a superior ascension after death.
36 Certain individuals endured mockery and whippings in addition to confinement and incarceration.
37 They met their end through stoning; they were sawn asunder; they were slaughtered via the tactical blade. They roamed in attire made from sheep and goat skins, living in deprivation, facing oppression and severe ill-treatment.
38 They were too good for this world, aimlessly wandering in the wilderness and mountains, taking shelter in crevices and caverns on Earth.
39 All of these individuals were praised for their incredible trust. However, they still need to attain what was pledged to them.
40 As Preeminent Sovereign had foreseen a superior plan involving us, it was ensured they would exclusively reach completion with our inclusion.

§ 30400 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN DISCIPLINES HIS CHILDREN

12 Amidst a vast crowd of testimonies, we must release anything that hinders our progress and avoid the missteps that can easily trap us. Let us move forward with determination, staying on the path set before us.
2 Concentrating on Immanuel, the initiator and accomplisher of our trust—He bore the execution stake—He dismissed its humiliation for the delight ahead, eventually taking His seat at the Preeminent Sovereign's dominant hand in His Cosmic Sovereignty.
3 Reflect on the one who withstood such great hostility from wrongdoers, ensuring you don't become exhausted or disheartened.

4 You haven't faced the ultimate absolving payment in your fight against wrongdoing.
5 Have you forgotten the encouraging message that speaks to you as a father to his child? It says, "My child, do not dismiss the Sovereign Captain's discipline, and do not lose confidence when he corrects you."
6 The Sovereign Captain disciplines those he loves and reprimands every individual he acknowledges as his offspring.
7 See challenges as the Eternal Reality shaping you with love, like a parent guiding their children to grow stronger and wiser.
8 If you aren't corrected—something everyone experiences—then you are not genuine offspring.
9 We all had earthly parents who corrected us, and we respected them. Shouldn't we be even more willing to obey the Parent of the Celestial Envoys and truly live?

[10] While they corrected us for a short time as they thought best, the Preeminent Sovereign corrects us for our benefit, enabling us to share in His purification.
[11] Discipline doesn't seem pleasant at the time but painful. However, it later yields a harvest of ultimate authenticity and tranquility for those who train with it.
[12] So, strengthen your weak hands and feeble knees.
[13] Make straight paths for your feet so that the weak may not be disabled but rather healed.

§ 30410 WARNING AND ENCOURAGEMENT

[14] Strive for harmony with everyone and pursue purification; without it, no one will witness the Sovereign Captain.
[15] Ensure no one misses the Preeminent Sovereign's celestial transformative generosity and prevent any resentful root from causing disturbances and contaminating many.

[16] Avoid sexual vice and opposition to the Preeminent Sovereign's lifestyle, like Esau, who traded his birthright for a meal.
[17] He was later rebuffed in his attempt to claim empowerment, unable to rectify his past actions despite tearful pleas.

§ 30420 THE MOUNTAIN OF FEAR AND THE MOUNTAIN OF DELIGHT

[18] You have not arrived at a touchable, flaming mountain; you have arrived at a place of darkness, gloom, and storm;
[19] to the sound of a trumpet blow or a voice so powerful that those who heard it begged for silence.
[20] Due to their inability to withstand the command, "any beast making contact with the mountain must be killed with stones."
[21] The spectacle was so fearful that Moses shook with dread and fear.

[22] You've approached the City of the Eternal Reality, the hub of David, the celestial city of the living Preeminent Sovereign, the celestial realm Yerushalayim. You're amidst an exuberant gathering of innumerable Celestial Envoys.
[23] You have arrived at the assembly of the preeminent ones registered as citizens in the celestial sphere. You're in the presence of the Preeminent Sovereign, the universally fair adjudicator, and integrid individuals who have attained perfection.

[24] Cheers to Immanuel, the orchestrator of a new agreement. He shed his blood, conveying a more profound message than Abel's account.
[25] Don't shut out the One speaking. How much less would we escape if we reject the Eternal Reality, who warns us from the celestial regions if the people did not run when they refused Him, who warned them on Earth?
[26] His voice caused the Earth to tremble in the past. However, He has now vowed to drive the Earth and the celestial realms to quiver again.

[27] The term "once more" implies eliminating all that can be destabilized, specifically the items created, allowing exclusively the unshakeable elements to persist.

28 As we are inheriting an unshakeable sovereignty, we should express our gratitude and serve the Preeminent Sovereign in a manner that pleases Him, demonstrating respect and fear.
29 Our Preeminent Sovereign is an unstoppable force, purifying all that comes into His presence.

§ 30430 CONCLUDING EXHORTATIONS

13 Maintain brotherly love.
2 Always welcome outsiders; some have unknowingly hosted Celestial Envoys.
3 Remember those imprisoned as if you were with them. Those mistreated as if you shared their suffering.
4 Honor marriage and keep it pure, for the Preeminent Sovereign will judge those who commit extramarital affairs and sexual misconduct.
5 Live free from the love of money and be content with what you have; as the Preeminent Sovereign said, “I will never leave you nor forsake you.”
6 we confidently say, “The Sovereign Captain helps me; I will not fear. What can mere mortals do to me?”
7 Reflect on your leaders who spoke the word of the Preeminent Sovereign to you. Consider their lifestyle and imitate their trust.
8 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, is the same yesterday, today, and forever. Do not be led astray by diverse and strange teachings.

9 Strengthen your inner-selves with the transformative generosity of the Eternal Reality, rather than relying on external religious indoctrinations that do not enhance your journey on The Path.

10 We have a pedestal table from which those who serve at the Tent have no right to eat.
11 The prime ensovereigned mediator brings animal blood into the exalted Fortress for atonement of unworthy choices. Still, the carcasses are scorched outside the camp.
12 Immanuel also suffered outside the city gate to purify the people with his blood.
13 So let us approach Him outside the camp, carrying the shame He carried.
14 We do not have an enduring city here but seek the one to come.
15 Through Immanuel, let us continually offer the Preeminent Sovereign an absolving payment of acclaim—the inner fruit of lips that openly profess His name.
16 Do not forget to do good and share with others, for such absolving payments please the Preeminent Sovereign.
17 Obey your leaders and submit to their authority, for they keep watch over you as those who must give an account. Do this so their work will be a delight, not a burden, for that would not benefit you.
18 Offer interventions for us. We are certain that we want to live lives of integrity and have a clean conscience.
19 I urge you to intervene so I may be restored to you soon.

§ 30440 BENEFIT SAYINGS AND FINAL GREETINGS

20 May the peaceful Eternal Reality, who returned our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain from death,—the ultimate protector and leader—give you everything you need to carry out His purpose.

21 May He provide you with all that is beneficial for executing His intentions, and let Him accomplish in us what is desirable to Him through the mediation of the Chosen Redeemer, to whom belongs the honor for all eternity. So be it.

22 I appeal to you, people of the New Humanity, to listen patiently to my message of encouragement, as I've penned to you exclusively a brief letter.
23 Be aware that our sibling Timothy is set at liberty. If he arrives on time, he and I will visit you together.
24 Convey my regards to all your inner mentors and each of the Preeminent Sovereign's pathseekers. The individuals hailing from Italy send their salutations to you.
25 May the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity always be within you.

~ 220 | New Wisdom | James

§ 30450 TO THE DISPERSED

1 James, an eternal servant of the Preeminent Sovereign, and Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer, extend salutations to the twelve communities dispersed among different nations.

§ 30460 TRIALS AND TEMPTATIONS

2 My people of the New Humanity consider it a pure delight when you face various trials.
3 You know that testing your trust develops endurance.
4 Let resilience finish its work so you may be mature and complete, lacking nothing.
5 Ask the Preeminent Sovereign, who grants wisdom liberally and without judgment on anybody; it will be given upon you if you lack it.

6 When you ask, trust fully and avoid worry; those who doubt resemble sea waves tossed and driven by the wind.
7 Such a person should not expect to receive anything from the Eternal Reality.
8 Being double-minded, they are unstable in all they do.

9 Pathseekers in humble circumstances ought to take pride in their high position.
10-11 The wealthy will vanish even in the middle of their success. Just as the pressure of competition can shut down a startup, their influence fades, and their achievements are forgotten.

12 The person who stays strong through challenges is fortunate because, after they've proven themselves, they'll be rewarded with the gift of true, unending life—a promise made by the Eternal Reality to those who love Him.
13-14 When tempted, no one should say, "Preeminent Sovereign is tempting me." The Preeminent Sovereign cannot be tempted by evil, nor does He tempt anyone. Instead, individuals become tempted when their impure desires lure and carry them away.
15 Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to transgression; and transgression, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death.
16 Don't be deceived, my Esteemed siblings.

17 All the best things in life come from the Life-Giver, the Eternal Reality of light, whose character is steady and unchanging like a true source of goodness.
18 He chose to give us birth through the word of ultimate authenticity, that we might be a kind of first fruits of all He created.

§ 30470 LISTENING AND DOING

19 Understand this, cherished siblings: Be prompt in listening, deliberate in speaking, and patient regarding anger.

20 Human discontent does not result in the moral standards that the Preeminent Sovereign wishes for.
21 So, distance yourself from all ethical and rampant impurities and respectfully embrace the word anchored within you, which can be your Redeemer.

22 Don't just read the truth and scroll past it—let it shape your actions and decisions in real life.
23-25 Anyone who listens to the Eternal Reality's word but doesn't act on it is like someone who glances at their reflection in a store window or a phone screen, then walks away and forgets their appearance. But whoever examines the truth closely—like a clear reflection showing their potential—and applies it in their life without forgetting will experience a life filled with purpose and fulfillment.

26 Individuals who trust they are aligned with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality but fail to control their speech are merely deluding themselves; their trust holds no value.

27 The essence of a devout trust that is unblemished and impeccable in the sight of our Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver encompasses offering aid to orphans and widows in their hardships and maintaining oneself uncontaminated by worldly influences.

§ 30480 FAVORITISM FORBIDDEN

2 Pathseekers of our magnificent Rescuer, Chosen Redeemer, must avoid showing favoritism.
2 Imagine someone arriving at your gathering with a gold ring and fine clothes while another person comes in shabby attire.
3 If you favor the well-dressed person, saying, "Here's a good seat for you," but tell the poor person, "Stand there," or "Sit on the floor by my feet," 4 aren't you showing favoritism and becoming judges with evil thoughts?

5 Pay heed, my cherished siblings: hasn't the Preeminent Sovereign chosen those poor in the eyes of the world to be rich in trust and inherit the Celestial Realms of the Eternal, which He promised to those who love Him?
6 Yet, you dishonor the poor. Isn't it the rich who exploit you and drag you into court?
7 Aren't they the ones who slander the honorable name of the one you belong to?

8 Truly, if you fulfill the sovereign command in the Living Path, "love your neighbor as yourself," you do right.
9 Showing partiality leads to transgression, and the directive will judge you.
10 Anyone who upholds the entire Law, but falters once is guilty of violating it all.
11 The one who said, "Do not commit extra-marital affairs," also said, "Do not murder." If you do not commit extra-marital affairs but do commit murder, you become a lawbreaker.

12 Act and speak as individuals who are judged by the Law that grants freedom.
13 Anyone who has not demonstrated mercy will face judgment without mercy. Merciful action triumphs over Justice.

§ 30490 TRUST AND DEEDS

14 Is it useful, my fellow people of trust, if an individual professes confidence but lacks corresponding actions? Can trust of this nature rescue them?
15 Imagine a person of trust, either a man or a woman, who lacks clothing or sufficient daily nourishment.
16 If you tell them, “May you stay comfortable and be well-nourished,” yet fail to assist in meeting their physical requirements, what benefit is your statement?
17 Equally, trust alone is futile if it doesn’t result in corresponding deeds.
18 An individual might argue, “You possess trust; I have actions that demonstrate your trust devoid of actions, and I will exhibit my trust through my actions.”
19 Your trust in a single Preeminent Sovereign is commendable! However, be aware that even the malevolent entities hold this trust and tremble with fear.
20 Are you a senseless individual seeking proof that trust without actions holds no value?

21 Isn’t it authentic that our forefather Abraham was deemed full of integrity, given his deeds when he presented his offspring Isaac on the absolving pedestal table?
22 His trust and deeds worked together, and his behavior accomplished his confidence.
23 The fulfillment of the Living Path took place when Abraham’s trust in the Preeminent Sovereign was recognized as integrity, earning him the title of friend of the Preeminent Sovereign.
24 A person is deemed authentic through their actions, not their trust.
25 Similarly, wasn’t Rahab the harlot deemed authentic for her actions when she provided shelter to the spies and guided them away on an alternate path?
26 Just as a lifeless body signifies death. Similarly, trust without actions represents dead trust.

§ 30500 TAMING THE TONGUE

3 Few of you, my people of the New Humanity in trust, should aspire to be instructors, understanding that we, as instructors, will undergo a more rigorous judgment.
2 We all falter in numerous ways. If someone never errs in their speech, they are flawless, capable of controlling their entire self.
3 We can effectively control the entire creature by inserting a small piece of metal in a horse’s mouth to ensure its obedience.
4 Consider the case of ships. Despite their vast size and the powerful winds propelling them, a miniature rudder guides them according to the sailors’ desired direction.

5 Similarly, despite being a minor body component, the tongue can make grand assertions. Reflect on how a mere spark can ignite a massive forest.
6 The mouth is a world of impurity and fire among the bodily organs. It contaminates the individual ultimately, ignites his life’s path, and is consumed by the realm of the Adversary.
7 Humans have subdued and stopped every species of beasts, birds, reptiles, and sea creatures.
8 However, no individual can control the tongue. It is an uncontrolled malignancy brimming with lethal venom.

9 We utilize our language to elevate our Sovereign Captain and Innovator while simultaneously using it to disparage individuals who were fashioned in the image of the Preeminent Sovereign.

10 Favor and condemnation emerge from the exact mouth. This circumstance is unacceptable, my siblings.

11 Can both bitter and sweet water be produced by a spring? Can both bitter and sweet water be produced by a spring?
12 Dear friends, does a fig tree have the capacity to yield olives, or can a vine generate figs? It is just as impossible for a saltwater spring to give birth to fresh water.

§ 30510 TWO KINDS OF WISDOM

13 “Who among you is wise and knowledgeable? Let them show it through a noble and humble lifestyle, reflecting authentic wisdom’s gentleness.”

14 If your inner-selves are filled with bitter jealousy and self-centered ambition, refrain from bragging about this or contradicting the ultimate authenticity.
15 “This understanding isn’t a celestial gift but originates from the world, lacks insight for your innermost-self, and is impure.”
16 There will be chaos and wrongdoing whenever jealousy and self-interest arise.
17 “The Preeminent Sovereign wisdom, initially, is pure; following that, it promotes peace, displays understanding, manifests humility, abounds in compassion, yields good outcomes, doesn’t discriminate, and is always genuine.”
18 Those who promote harmony and plant ideas of tranquility shall gather a bounty of Justice.

§ 30520 SUBMIT YOURSELVES TO THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

4 What causes conflicts and disputes among you? Aren’t your own desires waging war within you?
2 You crave what you lack, leading to violence. You long for what you cannot secure, resulting in disputes. Your meldings with the Eternal Reality remain unanswered because you fail to meld with the Preeminent Sovereign.

3 When you ask, you do so with wrong intentions, hoping to waste everything on your pleasures, and so, you do not receive.
4 Disloyal beings, don’t you know that aligning with worldly desires is hostility toward the Eternal Reality? Anyone who befriends worldly pleasures becomes a foe of the Preeminent Sovereign.
5-6 Do you think the Living Word speaks in vain? Is the Eternal Spark jealous of someone who has moved into our bodies? Yet, He grants us additional transformative generosity. This reality adheres to the Living Word’s teachings: The Preeminent Sovereign resists the arrogant but extends kindness to the modest.
7 Yield yourself to the Preeminent Sovereign, stand firm against the Adversary, and he will retreat from you.
8 Approach the Eternal Reality, and the Eternal Reality will approach you. Clear the clutter from your actions and focus your thoughts, because a divided mind can’t see clearly."
9 Be miserable, lament, and shed tears. Transform your amusement into sorrow and your pleasure into desolation.
10 Lower yourself in the presence of the Sovereign Captain, and he will elevate you.

11 People of the New Humanity avoid slandering each other. When you slander or critique your siblings, you criticize and pass judgment on the Mosaic Law. In judging the Mosaic Law, you are not adhering to it but presiding over it.
12 Only one exists who decrees laws and adjudicates, possessing the capacity to rescue and annihilate. Yet you—by what authority do you assess your fellow man?

§ 30530 BOASTING ABOUT TOMORROW

13 Pay heed to those who declare, “We will go to a city today or tomorrow, stay for a year, do business, and make money.”
14 You lack certainty about tomorrow. What is your life? You are like a fleeting puff of smoke that appears briefly and vanishes.

15 Instead, you should say, “We will live and do this or that if the Sovereign Captain desires.”
16 Boasting about your plans is impure.
17 Anyone who knows the right action and fails to act commits an unworthy choice.

§ 30540 WARNING TO RICH OPPRESSORS

5 Pay heed; wealthy individuals, weep and wail for the distressing events about to befall you.
2 Your affluence has decayed, and moths have consumed your attire.
3 The precious metals you have accumulated have tarnished, serving as evidence against you and destroying your flesh like fire. You have amassed a fortune in these final days.
4 Take note! The compensation you unfairly withheld from the laborers who reaped your lands is calling out against you. The harvesters’ screams have reached the Sovereign Captain’s ears, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces.
5 You have indulged in earthly luxury and pleasure, nourishing your inner-selves for the day of impending doom.
6 You have judged and killed the non-resistant, integrid individual.

§ 30550 PATIENCE IN SUFFERING

7 “Exercise patience, my people of the New Humanity, until the Sovereign Captain’s return. Think of how someone overseeing growth must wait for valuable results, ensuring all the necessary elements—timing and resources—are in place.
8 Similarly, you must wait patiently and remain strong, as the imminent arrival of the Sovereign Captain is close.

9 Stop complaining about each other, friends, or you’ll face consequences. The One who holds accountability is right at your doorstep!
10 Look on the eternally wise servants who communicated the Preeminent Sovereign’s message as models of enduring patience amidst suffering, my people of the New Humanity.
11 We consider those who remained steadfast and fortunate. You’ve listened to Job’s tale of endurance and have witnessed the ultimate result that the Sovereign Captain achieved. The Sovereign Captain is filled with empathy and kindness.

12 Above all else, people of the New Humanity refrain from making oaths, whether by the sky, the land, or any other entity. Your affirmations should remain simple: yes when it's yes, and no when it's no. If not, you place yourself at risk of judgment.

§ 30560 THE MELDING OF CONSCIOUSNESS OF TRUST WITH THE ETERNAL REALITY

13 If you face hardships, meld your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign. If you are joyous, express it by singing praises.
14 If anyone among you is ill, invite the ensovereigned mediators of the ensovereigned lifestyle community to meld their consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign and commission them with oil, invoking the name of the Sovereign Captain.
15 Trust-filled supplications will bring recovery to the ailing; the Sovereign Captain will lift them. Should they have transgressed, they will receive absolution.
16 Admit your wrongdoings to each other and intercede for one another to attain healing. The earnest supplications of an integrid person carry immense power and yield incredible results.
17 Elijah, an ordinary mortal like ourselves, intensely pled for the absence of rainfall, resulting in a drought on Earth for three years and six months.
18 He melded his conscience with the Eternal Reality again, and the sky poured rain, leading to the Earth yielding its harvest.

19 Dear friends, if anyone in your community deviates from the path of integrity and another helps redirect them, 20 remember that anyone who guides a wrongdoer away from their misguided path will rescue them from demise and bring about forgiveness for numerous unworthy choices.

~ 221 | Hope | 1 Peter

§ 30570 TRANSFORMATIONAL GENEROSITY AND TRANQUILITY BE YOURS

1 Peter, a messenger of the Chosen Redeemer, writes to the Preeminent Sovereign's chosen individuals residing temporarily in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia.

2 "Selected in alignment with the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-giver's presence, through the purifying efforts of the Eternal Spark, to adhere to the Chosen Redeemer and be purified with His blood: May the abundance of transformational generosity and tranquility be within you."

§ 30580 PRAISE TO THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN FOR A LIVING HOPE

3 All gratitude to the Preeminent Sovereign and the Life-Giver of our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer! Immanuel's return from death has granted us new life and vibrant hope from His tremendous mercy.
4 This leads to an unfading, uncontaminated, and imperishable inheritance set aside for you in paradise.
5 Your trust protects you through the might of the Eternal Reality, revealing the redemption that is soon to come.
6 Amidst all these, you find delight. However, if necessary, you might have faced distress for a short period in various tribulations.

7 These trials exhibit the unadulterated quality of your trust, more precious than gold that can deteriorate despite being tested in fire. The aim is for it to bring you applause, splendor, and recognition when the identity of the Chosen Redeemer is unveiled.
8 Your affection for Him is unwavering even though you have yet to see Him. Despite His absence from your sight, your trust in Him remains, filling you with indescribable and magnificent delight.
9 You are attaining the ultimate purpose of your confidence: rescue your inner-self.
10 Regarding deliverance, the eternally wise servants who foretold the Eternal Reality's empowerment destined for you thoroughly investigated and scrutinized with utmost diligence.
11 The eternally wise servants sought to understand which person or time the Eternal Spark of the Chosen Redeemer within Him indicated when He foretold the Chosen Redeemer's sufferings and ensuing glories.
12 They were informed that their disclosures were not for their benefit but for their enlightenment.
The bearers of joyous developments have now delivered these messages to you with the power of the Eternal Spark sent from the celestial realm. Even the Celestial Envoys express a strong desire to comprehend these mysteries.

§ 30590 BE SET-APART

13 With vigilant and temperate minds, place your trust in the Eternal Reality's favor, which will be given to you at the disclosure of the Chosen Redeemer during His second coming.
14 Like obedient children, don't succumb to the harmful cravings you once had in your ignorance.
15 Just as the One who chose you is pure, show exaltedness in every part of your life.
16 As written in the Living Word: "Lead an exalted life, as I am exalted."

17 Since you call upon a Life-Giver who judges everyone's actions without bias, live in this foreign land with profound awe and respect for the duration of your time.
18 Recognize that your redemption from the obsolete lifestyle passed down by your forebears wasn't achieved with earthly entities like gold or silver.
19 It was through the invaluable blood of the Chosen Redeemer, who was like a flawless, unmarked lamb.
20 The Chosen Redeemer was selected before the world's formation but has been unveiled in these concluding periods for your benefit.
21 Because of Him, your conviction in the Preeminent Sovereign, who returned Him from death and gave Him magnificence, intensifies; hence, your trust and hope reside solely in the Preeminent Sovereign.
22 Since your inner-selves have been cleansed through compliance with ultimate authenticity, fostering genuine affection for one another, continue to express this love passionately and genuinely.
23 You have been regenerated, not from an idea that decays, but from one that is eternal, through the unswerving and perpetual word of the Preeminent Sovereign.
24-25 All people are like seasonal campaigns, and their achievements are like viral moments; campaigns end, and trends fade, but the authenticity of the Sovereign Captain lasts perpetually.

2 Consequently, all forms of ill will, dishonesty, insincerity, jealousy, and defamatory speech should be eliminated.
2 As newborn infants, yearn for wholesome inner milk so that you may mature towards redemption through it.
3 Since you have experienced the graciousness of the Sovereign Captain.

§ 30600 THE LIVING STONE AND A CHOSEN PEOPLE

4-5 As you come to Immanuel, the cornerstone—overlooked by many but chosen and valued by the Preeminent Sovereign—you, too, are like dynamic pieces being shaped into an ensovereigned spiritual community, a network of people dedicated to serving the Eternal Reality in meaningful ways through your personal indwelling Immanuel.

6-8 As per the Living Word: "Look, I've placed a secure foundation in the city—a chosen and valuable cornerstone. Anyone who trusts in it will stand firm.' To those who believe, this foundation is invaluable. But for those who reject it, it's like overlooking the most essential part of a structure—it trips them up and reveals their flaws."

9 You are a unique community, set apart as the Preeminent Sovereign’s treasured people, chosen to proclaim the greatness of the One who brought you from confusion into clarity and purpose, into His radiant clarity.
10 Previously, you had no identity as the Preeminent Sovereign’s people. Now you’ve become His; you were once devoid of mercy, but it has been given to you.

§ 30610 LIVING PURE LIVES IN AN IMPURE SOCIETY

11 Cherished ones, I appeal to you as sojourners and temporary residents to keep clear of the passions of the flesh that are continually at odds with your inner-self.
12 Lead an authentic life among people unaligned with the lifestyle of the Eternal Reality so that even when they speak against you, your good actions can be observed. They may honor the Preeminent Sovereign during His visitation.
13 For the sake of the Sovereign Captain, yield to every human institution, be it the Prime Ruler with ultimate earthly power.
14 He dispatched rulers to penalize the offenders and applaud those who acted rightly.

15 The Preeminent Sovereign desires you to quiet the uninformed criticisms of the foolish through your benevolent actions.
16 Embark on a journey of liberty, yet refrain from using it as a camouflage for animosity; exist as helpers to the Eternal Reality.
17 Give due honor to all, cherish the community of people of trust, reverence the Preeminent Sovereign, and esteem the Prime Ruler.
18 Servants, display a deep respect for the Preeminent Sovereign as you yield to your superiors, not strictly those gentle and understanding, but also those inclined to severity.
19 It is praiseworthy if an individual endures the agony of undeserved hardship, being aware of the Preeminent Sovereign’s presence.
20 What honor does it bring if you take punishment for your misdeeds? However, suppose you suffer for doing what’s right and bear it bravely. In that case, this is deemed worthy in the sight of the Preeminent Sovereign.
21 As the Chosen Redeemer endured for you, you were summoned to this, providing you a model to tread his path.
22 He was completely innocent, with no falsehood ever escaping his lips.
23 Despite being bombarded with derogatory remarks, he did not respond kindly. Rather than issuing threats in the face of suffering, he trusted the one who administers justice impartially.
24 He took on our transgressions within his frame on the execution stake so that, being deceased to wrongdoings, we might exist for moral integrity; through his inflictions, you have obtained healing.
25 You were like travelers who had lost their way, but now you have returned to the Guide and Protector of your inner selves.

§ 30620 WIVES AND HUSBANDS

3 Similarly, wives should yield to their husbands. This way, even if some of them deny the word, their wives can sway them with authentic conduct without needing to use verbal persuasion.
2 They will notice your lives filled with ultimate authenticity and respectful awe.

[3] Don’t let external factors like sophisticated hairdos, gold accessories, or luxurious garments define your attractiveness.
[4] Instead, your beauty should emanate from within you, the enduring transformative generosity of a serene disposition that holds immense value in the eyes of the Preeminent Sovereign.
[5] Because this is how the ancient exalted women dressed. They submitted to their spouses and placed their trust in the Preeminent Sovereign,
[6] in the same way Sarah referred to Abraham as her superior. And if you follow your honorable convictions and resist giving in to fear, then you are her offspring.
[7] As husbands, show understanding as you coexist with your wives; treat them with respect as the more fragile counterparts and acknowledge them as co-recipients of the Eternal Reality’s empowerment of life with you to ensure the meldings of your consciousness with the Preeminent Sovereign are unobstructed.

§ 30630 SUFFERING FOR DOING GOOD

[8] In conclusion, everyone should be united, understanding, affectionate, compassionate, and humble.
[9] Don’t repay evil with evil or insults with insults. Instead, respond to negativity with positivity and empowerment, as this is your purpose and will lead to empowerment from the Eternal Reality.
[10] Anyone who wants to cherish life and see joyful days should control their language from impurity and their lips from dishonesty.
[11] They should shun impurity and commit to correct standings, striving for tranquility and actively following its path.
[12] The Sovereign Captain’s gaze is on those who act with integrity, and He responds to their supplications. However, His countenance opposes those who commit impure acts.
[13] If you constantly strive to do good, who can harm you?

[14] Even if you endure hardship for your integrity, consider yourself fortunate. Do not be intimidated by the Enemy’s threats; remain unshaken.
[15] Hold the Chosen Redeemer exalted within your inner-selves as your Sovereign Captain. Always be ready to kindly and respectfully explain to anyone curious about the source of your optimism.
[16] Keep your conscience clear so that those who slander your genuine actions as pathseekers of the Chosen Redeemer will feel embarrassed by their false accusations.
[17] If it is the Preeminent Sovereign’s will, enduring hardship for integrid actions is preferable to suffering for wrongdoing.
[18] The Chosen Redeemer endured single suffering for unworthy choices, the authentic one for the wrongdoers, to lead us to the Preeminent Sovereign. Although his physical existence was extinguished, he was revitalized through the Eternal Spark.
[19] After being revived, he delivered his message to the held captives.
[20] Long ago, during Noah’s life barge construction, they acted against the Preeminent Sovereign’s will. Despite the Preeminent Sovereign’s extended patience, only a handful of individuals, precisely eight, found redemption in the water.
[21] This water represents sharing Immanuel's death and rebirth by water immersion that delivers you not by eliminating physical grime but as a solemn promise of a clean conscience before the Preeminent Sovereign. It rescues you through the return from the death of the Chosen Redeemer.
[22] Having ascended to the celestial realm, he now resides on the right side of the Preeminent Sovereign, ruling over Celestial Envoys, authorities, and powers subservient to him.

§ 30640 LIVING FOR THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

4 Since the Chosen Redeemer endured physical pain, adopt the same mindset as those who have suffered and moved past unworthy choices.

2 They no longer live for impure human desires but align with the Preeminent Sovereign's intent.
3 "Your past has seen enough indulgence in debauchery, unchecked desires, over-indulgence in alcohol, wild parties, and the appalling worship of counterfeit idolized deities.
4 It astonishes them that you no longer partake in their lifestyle, leading them to slander you.
5 Nonetheless, they must justify their actions before him, who is primed to assess the living and deceased.
6 For the dead to be judged as living men but live according to the Preeminent Sovereign in the Eternal Spark, the joyous developments were proclaimed even to the dead.
7 The culmination of all things is imminent. So, remain watchful and clear-headed for melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign.
8 Above all, love each other deeply since love compensates for numerous transgressions.
9 Share your homes without complaint.
10 "Use your unique abilities to serve others as trustworthy caretakers of the Preeminent Sovereign's transformative generosity.
11 Anyone who communicates should do so as if conveying the Preeminent Sovereign's direct messages. Anyone offering service must use the power the Preeminent Sovereign gives, ensuring he is glorified in all actions through the Chosen Redeemer. All majesty and authority belong to him eternally. So be it."

§ 30650 SUFFERING FOR BEING A PERSON OF THE NEW HUMANITY

12 Dear friends, don't be surprised by the intense trials that test you; they are not something strange.
13 Rejoice in sharing the Chosen Redeemer's trials, for you will be filled with immense delight when His magnificence is disclosed.

14 Being ridiculed for bearing the Chosen Redeemer's name makes you fortunate, as the Eternal Spark of magnificence and the Preeminent Sovereign dwell within you.
15 If you suffer, it should not be as a killer, robber, criminal, or meddler.
16 If you endure challenges as a pathseeker of the Chosen Redeemer, don't feel ashamed; instead, honor the Preeminent Sovereign for receiving such a distinguished name.
17 The time has come for judgment to begin with the Eternal Reality's family; if it starts with us, what will be the fate of those who disregard the Preeminent Sovereign's message of joyous developments?
18 If even the authentic struggle to attain redemption, what fate awaits those full of unworthy choices without reverence for the Eternal Reality?
19 Individuals enduring hardships by celestial direction should trust their unwavering Great Innovator while persistently performing deeds of integrity.

§ 30660 TO THE SENIORS AND THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY

5 As a fellow senior who has witnessed the trials of the Chosen Redeemer and will share in the coming celestial glory, I urge the senior members among you.
2-4 "Take care of those God has entrusted to you, not out of obligation, but willingly, reflecting Eternal Reality's heart. Lead with humility, knowing you'll share in His reward."

5 Likewise, younger members, submit to your seniors. All of you clothe yourselves with humility towards one another, for the Preeminent Sovereign opposes the proud but favors the humble.
6 Humble yourselves under the mighty hand of the Preeminent Sovereign so that He may lift you in due time.

7 Cast all your anxieties on Him because He cares for you.
8 Be alert and sober-minded. Your Adversary, the Chief Instigator, prowls like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour.
9 Resist him, standing firm in your trust, knowing that your fellow pathseekers worldwide suffer the same.
10 The Preeminent Sovereign of all transformative generosity, who called you to His eternal acclaim in the Chosen Redeemer, will, after a brief period of suffering, establish, confirm, strengthen, and restore you.
11 To Him be the power forever. So be it.

§ 30670 FINAL GREETINGS

12 With Silas, a trustworthy and steadfast mediator, I've written briefly to encourage you and affirm the ultimate authenticity of transformative generosity. Stand firm in this transformative generosity.
13 The chosen lady from Babylon, among you, sends her salutations, as does my offspring, Mark.
14 Express affection with a loving kiss. Tranquility to all who belong to the Chosen Redeemer.

~ 222 | Pursuit | 2 Peter

§ 30680 BE LAVISHED WITH AMPLE TRANSFORMATIVE GENEROSITY

1 Simon Peter, a pathseeker and representative of the Chosen Redeemer, addressed those who share our valuable trust due to the integrity of our Preeminent Sovereign and Rescuer, Chosen Redeemer.

2 "May you be lavished with ample transformative generosity and tranquility as you deepen your understanding of Preeminent Sovereign and our Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain."

§ 30690 CONFIRMING ONE'S CALLING AND ELECTION

3 He has provided everything necessary for an authentic existence through his celestial realm might. He learned through understanding him, who invited us with magnificence and transformative generosity.
4 Through these invaluable promises, He enables us to partake in the nature of Eternal Reality, helping us escape the moral decay of the world caused by sinister cravings.
5 Strive ardently to supplement your trust with ultimate authenticity; to this ultimate authenticity, add wisdom.
6 Promote knowledge with discipline, discipline with unwavering endurance, and endurance with adherence to sovereign likeness.
7 Incorporate into your devotion a fondness for others, and this fondness infuses love.
8 If you possess these traits and grow in you, they will prevent idleness or fruitlessness in understanding our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.
9 Whoever lacks these qualities is shortsighted and visually impaired, oblivious to the purification of their previous transgressions.
10 So, my people of the New Humanity and sisters, strive diligently to affirm your call and selection from the Chosen Redeemer. By persistently doing this, you'll evade any missteps.
11 You will be generously granted a grand entrance into the perpetual sovereignty of our Redeemer and Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain.

§ 30700 A VISION OF SET-APART DISCLOSURES

12 I will keep reminding you of these authenticities, even though you are well aware and firmly grounded in your ultimate authenticity.
13 It is right to refresh your memory as long as I live in this earthly body.
14 As our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain, has shown me, I know my time in this body is short.
15 I will ensure you always have these insights, even after I am gone.

16 We did not tell you tales skillfully crafted to deceive you about the imminent arrival of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain; we were eyewitnesses of his majesty.
17 He received honor and acclaim from the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, when a voice came to him from the Majestic Splendor, saying, “This is my Esteemed offspring; I take delight in him.”
18 We heard this voice from the celestial realms when we were with him on the sacred mountain.
19 We also have the eternal wisdom made more certain. You will do well to heed it, as to a streetlamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and stars rise in your inner-selves.
20 Understand that no crafted eternal wisdom came about by the eternally wise servant’s own interpretation.
21 Eternal wisdom never had its origin in human will, but eternally wise servants, though human, spoke from the Eternal Spark as the celestial realms carried them along.

§ 30710 FALSE TEACHERS AND THEIR DESTRUCTION

2 In the past, deceitful prophets existed among the people, just as deceitful educators will emerge among you. They’ll secretly introduce harmful dogmas, even rejecting the Preeminent Sovereign who redeemed them, inviting rapid ruin upon themselves.
2 Many will follow their corrupt behavior, disparaging the path of a proper relationship.

3 These instructors exploit you with deceptive tales driven by greed. Their judgment has been looming over them for a long time, and their doom is wide awake.
4 When Celestial Envoys transgressed, the Preeminent Sovereign showed no mercy, confining them to the of utter isolation and bleakness until the day of accountability.

5 When he unleashed a flood on those opposed to the Preeminent Sovereign’s lifestyle, inhabitants of the ancient world showed no mercy. Yet, Noah, a herald of integrity, and seven others were safeguarded by him.
6 He reduced Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, to ashes to judge them, using them as a cautionary tale for those who live unvirtuously.
7 The Sovereign Captain saved Lot, a genuine individual who struggled deeply with the wrongdoings of the outlaws.
8 That authentic individual, who lived among them daily, found his noble inner-self constantly tormented by the unlawful acts he witnessed and heard.

9 If this is accurate, the Eternal Reality can save the devout from tribulations and preserve the impure to face retribution on the day of reckoning.
10 This redemption particularly applies to those who indulge in depraved cravings and show contempt for authority.
11 Even Celestial Envoys refrain from disparaging these Celestial Envoys despite their superior strength and authority when conveying the Sovereign Captain’s judgment on them.

12 These individuals disrespect matters they are ignorant of. They resemble mindless creatures, driven by instinct, born solely to be trapped and eradicated, and they will meet their end like these beasts.

13 They will receive hardship for the damage they've inflicted. They find delight in wild parties held in full view of the sun. They're spots and stains, indulging in their deceptive delights when dining with you.
14 Their eyes, greedy for illicit sexual desires, are relentless in their pursuit of unworthy choices.
They are adept at luring those who lack a firm moral compass, and their inner-selves are steeped in greed. Indeed, they are a breed destined for celestial condemnation.

15 They abandoned the right path. They veered off, choosing to follow Balaam, Heir of Bezer, who reveled in his payment for evil actions.
16 He faced reprimand for his transgression from a donkey—a creature incapable of speech—who spoke in a human voice and curbed the prophet's insanity.
17 These people resemble wind-blown clouds and desiccated sinkholes. They have been granted access to the darkest reaches of the Adversary's domain.

18 Utilizing hollow, arrogant language, they prey on humanity's carnal appetites to seduce those in the early stages of breaking away from a life of falsehood.
19 They assure them of liberation but are in servitude to corruption because individuals are enslaved to whatever dominates them.
20 Suppose individuals have escaped worldly contamination by understanding our Sovereign Captain and Rescuer, the Chosen Redeemer, but fall back into it and get defeated. In that case, their final condition is worse than their beginning.

21 They would have been better off not knowing the path of integrity than learning it and ignoring the exalted directive they were given.
22 These old sayings perfectly describe them: A canine returns to its regurgitated food, and a cleaned pig reverts to rolling in the grime.

§ 30720 THE COMING DAY OF THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN

3 My dear companions, this is my second letter to you, both written to prompt authentic thoughts.
2 Remember the predictions by the set-apart eternally wise servants and the instruction from our Sovereign Captain and Rescuer conveyed through your emissaries.
3 Understand that in the last days, critics will appear, ridiculing and pursuing their impure cravings.
4 They'll ask, "What happened to the promised return? Since our forefathers passed away, everything has remained unchanged since the dawn of existence."
5 They ignore that the Preeminent Sovereign's word created the celestial realms long ago, and the Earth was shaped from water and amid water.
6 These waters also led to the inundation and devastation of the world during that period.
7 By the same decree, the current cosmos and Earth are preserved for combustion, awaiting the evaluation and obliteration of the impure.
8 Dear friends, don't forget this ultimate authenticity: To the Sovereign Captain, a single day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years is like a single day.
9 The Sovereign Captain doesn't delay fulfilling his promise as some perceive delay. Instead, he shows patience toward you, desiring not to destroy any but for all to turn away from unworthy choices.

10 The day of the Sovereign Captain will arrive unexpectedly, like a thief. With a violent noise, the celestial realms will vanish; fire will annihilate the elements, and the Earth and all its deeds will be exposed.
11 Given that all will be dismantled in such a manner, what sort of individuals should you be?
Leading a life of purification and purity is expected of you.
12 While you await and advance the arrival of Preeminent Sovereign's Day, the flames will destroy the celestial realms, and the components will liquefy due to intense heat.

13 Yet, anticipating the realization of the Preeminent Sovereign's assurance, we envision a renewed celestial realm and Earth, where ultimate authenticity and integrity reside.

14 Consequently, cherished companions, as you anticipate this, strive diligently to present yourself before him unblemished, faultless, and tranquil.
15 The Sovereign Captain redeems himself through His tolerance, as our respected mediator
Paul wrote, drawing inspiration from the wisdom of the Eternal Reality.
16 He consistently discusses these topics in his letters. Certain aspects of his discourse are hard to understand, and people needing more knowledge and stability tend to misinterpret them.
They also do this with other theological texts, leading to their oblivion.
17 So, dear companions, stay alert to avoid being swayed by the deceptive tactics of the unregulated, which might lead you to abandon your stable stance.
18 Continue to expand in the transformative generosity and understanding of our Sovereign Captain and Rescuer, Chosen Redeemer. May he be honored both now and forever! So be it.

~ 223 | 1 Empowerment | 1 John

§ 30730 THE INCARNATION OF THE WORD OF LIFE

1 We convey the essence of Life, which existed before all things we have heard, seen, scrutinized, and physically encountered.
2 Life became visible; we have witnessed it, can vouch for it, and relay to you the perpetual existence coexisting with the Life-Giver that has been made manifest to us.

3 We declare what we have experienced and discerned so you might share in our inner connection. Our connection is with the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, and His Heir, the Chosen Redeemer.
4 We pen these words to achieve our total happiness.

§ 30740 CHOOSING THE BRIGHT PATH

5 We have received the ultimate authenticity from Immanuel and communicated to you: the Preeminent Sovereign embodies clarity and brilliance and in Him, there's no shadow or confusion.
6 If we claim to align with Him while navigating shady dealings, we're misleading ourselves and ignoring what's right.
7 If we live openly, walking in the brightness of truth as the Eternal Reality does, we'll experience real connection with others, and the transformative blood of Immanuel will clear away every mistake.
8 Suppose we assert that we are devoid of unworthy choices. In that case, we mislead ourselves; the ultimate authenticity does not dwell within us.
9 When we acknowledge our wrongdoings, the Chosen Redeemer's reliability and fairness ensure the forgiveness of our unworthy choices and the purification from all our wrong deeds.
10 Suppose we insist we have not made any unworthy choice. In that case, we portray Immanuel as dishonest, and the Chosen Redeemer's teachings are not ingrained in us.

2 "My esteemed children, I pen these words with the intent that you may not trespass. However, if any person falls into transgression, remember that we have a Chosen Redeemer, integrid, to intercede for us before our Life-giver.
2 He is the absolving offering for our transgressions, not merely for ours but also the misdeeds of the entire planet."

§ 30750 LOVE AND HATRED FOR FELLOW PATHSEEKERS

3 We demonstrate our understanding of Him by adhering to His directives.
4 Claiming to understand Him without following His directives is dishonest and lacks ultimate authenticity.

5 Those who observe His words show the affection of the Preeminent Sovereign at its peak, assuring us of our unity with Him.
6 Anyone professing to abide in Him should live as Immanuel did.

7 “My esteemed companions, I’m not introducing a new directive but reminding you of a traditional one you’ve known from the start. This ancient directive is the proclamation you’ve heard.
8 Yet, I write a fresh mandate; its ultimate authenticity is evident in Him and you. As darkness fades, the genuine light begins to shine.
9 A person claiming to live in the light but hating a sibling remains in darkness.
10 Loving your siblings means abiding in enlightenment, free from stumbling.
11 Hatred towards a sibling envelops one in darkness, causing them to stray without direction as darkness blinds them.”

§ 30760 REASONS FOR WRITING

12 My dear ones, I write to you because your wrongdoings have been absolved in the light of His Name.

13 “Fathers, I address you because you know the One who has existed since the Inception. Young men, I contact you because you have defeated the malevolent entity.

14 Because you, fathers, know Him who has existed from the beginning, I write to you. I write to you, young men, because you possess strength, the word of the Preeminent Sovereign lives inside you, and you have triumphed over the Adversary.”

§ 30770 ON NOT LOVING THE WORLD

15 Refrain from cherishing the world or its offerings. If anyone loves the world, the Life-Giver’s love is absent in them.
16 The cravings of our bodies, the desires of our eyes, and the boasting about our achievements and possessions are worldly, not from the Eternal Reality.
17 The Earth and its desires are fleeting, but those who follow the Preeminent Sovereign’s instructions endure eternally.

§ 30780 WARNINGS AGAINST DENYING THE HEIR

18 As you’ve been advised, my dear young ones, we are nearing the end of times when the Enemy of the Chosen Redeemer will appear. Many such Adversaries have already shown up. This news confirms our trust that the final hour is on us.
19 Some defectors departed from our midst, but their authentic allegiance was never with us. They wouldn’t have left us if they were genuinely part of our group. Their departure clarifies that none of them were authentically tied to us.
20 However, you’ve been endowed with a special touch from the Purified One, and each of you is aware of the ultimate authenticity.
21 I’m not penning this to you due to your ignorance of the ultimate authenticity but because you are aware of it and understand that no falsehood originates from the ultimate authenticity.

22 Who gives false statements? It is the defector who refutes that Immanuel is the Chosen Redeemer. Such a person embodies the Enemy of the Chosen Redeemer—rebuffing the existence of the Life-Giver and the Heir.
23 A person who rejects the Heir does not have the Life-Giver; conversely, the one who accepts the Heir also possesses the Life-Giver.

24 Ensure that the path you've received from the beginning stays in your inner-self. If you do so, you'll persist in connecting with the Heir and the Life-Giver.
25 He assured us of this Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
26 I am penning these words to warn you of individuals trying to mislead you.
27 Regarding you, the Eternal Reality guidance you obtained from Him is still with you, and you don't require anyone else's instruction. His special endowment enlightens you about everything; it's genuine, not fraudulent—just as it has educated you, persist in staying close to Him.

§ 30790 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S CHILDREN AND UNWORTHY CHOICES

28 Cherished little ones, strive in His path to maintain self-assurance and not feel disconcerted in the Chosen Redeemer's presence on His return.
29 If you know He is honorable, you understand that all individuals who act with integrity are His offspring.

3 Consider the extravagant love the Life-Giver has given us, allowing us to be named children of the Preeminent Sovereign! Indeed, that's who we are! The world fails to recognize us because it fails to acknowledge Him.
2 Right now, we're part of the Eternal Reality's family, though our future selves are still loading. But when Immanuel reveals Himself, we'll mirror His image completely and see Him as He authentically is.
3 everyone aiming for this anticipation in Him keeps themselves purified in the same way He is pure.
4 everyone committing wrongdoing contradicts the Preeminent Sovereign's Law. Indeed, unworthy choices are a form of rebellion.
5 Immanuel was disclosed to eradicate our misdeeds, and He is entirely free from unworthy choice.

6 Anyone abiding in Him doesn't persist in unworthy choices. Anyone who maintains unworthy choices has neither perceived Him nor comprehended His essence.
7 My little ones, don't let anyone deceive you. Those who practice what is honorable are honorable like the Chosen Redeemer is.
8 The individual who engages in unworthy choices is aligned with the Chief Instigator, considering the Chief Instigator has indulged in unworthy choices from the outset. The appearance of the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign was intended to abolish the Chief Instigator's deeds.
9 Anybody born of the Preeminent Sovereign cannot continue to transgress since he carries the Preeminent Sovereign's idea and cannot continue to transgress.
10 This is how the children of the Preeminent Sovereign and the Adversary are separated: the Preeminent Sovereign is not associated with anyone who does not love the Eternal Reality or his fellow man.

§ 30800 MORE ON AFFECTION AND HATRED

11 You've been taught from the beginning: "We should cherish each other."
12 Avoid following Cain, who, influenced by the impure one, killed his brother. His motivation? He acted immorally, while his brother acted with integrity.
13 My people of the New Humanity, don't be surprised if the world hates you.
14 We know we've transitioned from death to life because we love one another. Those who don't express love remain in death.
15 Those who detest their siblings are killers, and no killer possesses Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign within them.
16 We understand love through this: The Chosen Redeemer offered His life for us, and we must do the same for our brothers and sisters of the New Humanity.
17 If someone has worldly goods and sees a person of trust in need but shows no compassion, how can the Preeminent Sovereign's love reside in them?

18 Esteemed offspring, let's express affection through deeds and ultimate authenticity, not just words.
19 By doing this, we reassure our inner-selves in the Chosen Redeemer's presence and know we are part of ultimate authenticity:
20 The Preeminent Sovereign is greater than our inner-selves and knows everything, even if our inner-selves condemn us.
21 My dear friends, if our inner-selves don't find us guilty, we can confidently approach the Preeminent Sovereign.
22 We receive whatever we request from Him as we adhere to His directives and do what pleases Him.
23 The Preeminent Sovereign's directive is clear: trust in His Heir, Immanuel, and show affection towards each other, as He taught.
24 Those who follow the Preeminent Sovereign's orders reside within Him, and He within them. The Eternal Spark within our inner-selves confirms that He dwells within us.

§ 30810 ON DENYING THE INCARNATION

4 Cherished companions do not trust every resolution without scrutiny. Test the entities to see if they originate from the Preeminent Sovereign, for many deceitful prophets have spread into the world.
2 You will recognize the Eternal Spark by this: All entities who acknowledge the celestial force of the Chosen Redeemer belong to the Eternal Reality,
3 and no entity belongs to Him if it refuses to acknowledge Immanuel as the Chosen Redeemer. Such an entity has the mindset of the Adversary, which is now present in the world, and as you have been told, it is on its way.
4 You, Esteemed offspring, belong to the Eternal Reality and have triumphed over the Adversary since He who exists within you is mightier than he who inhabits the world.
5 They belong to the world. As a result, they speak from the world's viewpoint, and the whole Earth pays attention to the Adversary.

6 We originate from the Preeminent Sovereign, and anyone who understands the Eternal Reality heeds us; conversely, anyone who does not evolve from the Preeminent Sovereign does not heed us. This origin is our method of distinguishing between the Eternal Spark of Authenticity and the Adversary of Deceit.

§ 30820 THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN'S AFFECTION AND OURS

7 My esteemed friends, we must continue to express affection towards each other because affection originates from our Preeminent Sovereign. Those who express this affection have experienced an inner rebirth by the Preeminent Sovereign and foster a personal relationship with Him.
8 The one who lacks love lacks understanding of the Preeminent Sovereign, given that the Eternal Reality embodies love.
9 The manifestation of the Preeminent Sovereign's love among us was that He sent His unique Heir into the world so we could have Life through Him.
10 The essence of love is this: it isn't about our affection for the Preeminent Sovereign but about His affection for us when He sent His Heir to absolve our wrongdoings.
11 Cherished companions, seeing how profoundly the Preeminent Sovereign cherished us, we should similarly extend love to one another.
12 The Preeminent Sovereign has not been seen. Still, if we love one another, the Eternal Reality lives inside us and is made perfect in our love.
13 We are sure that we dwell in Him and Him in us because He has incorporated some of His Eternal Spark within us.
14 We have observed and confirmed that the Life-Giver dispatched His Heir to be the world's Redeemer.
15 Anyone who agrees that Immanuel is the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign has the Eternal Reality residing in them, and they live within the Preeminent Sovereign.

16 We have comprehended and trusted the Love the Preeminent Sovereign grants us. The Eternal Reality embodies love. Anyone who dwells in love dwells in the Preeminent Sovereign, and the Preeminent Sovereign resides within them.
17 This Love is how it reaches its culmination within us, enabling us to be fearless when judgment comes: We mirror Immanuel in our existence.
18 Love does not encompass fear. Nevertheless, flawless love eradicates fear, as fear is associated with punishment. An individual who lives in fear has not achieved completeness in love.
19 Our affection responds to His initial love for us.
20 Anyone professing affection for the Preeminent Sovereign while harboring hatred for a sibling is dishonest. Indeed, anyone who fails to feel love for their seen sibling is incapable of loving the unseen Preeminent Sovereign.
21 It is a clear directive that He gave to us: Those who harbor a love for the Preeminent Sovereign should equally extend their love to their brothers and sisters of the New Humanity.

§ 30830 TRUST IN THE INCARNATE HEIR OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN

5 Those who trust Immanuel as the Chosen Redeemer are children of the Preeminent Sovereign, and whoever cherishes the Life-Giver also appreciates His offspring.
2 Our love for the Preeminent Sovereign's children is evident when we express love toward the Eternal Reality and adhere to His directives.
3 The Preeminent Sovereign loves us so much that we obey His directives, which are not burdensome,
4 because everyone born of the Preeminent Sovereign triumphs over the outside world. Our trust is the victory that has triumphed over the world.
5 Who else conquers the world but the person who trusts that Immanuel is the Preeminent Sovereign's Heir?
6 Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, arrives through water and blood, and the Eternal Spark authenticates Him, as He embodies ultimate authenticity.

7 Three testify
8 The Eternal Spark, the water, and blood—unified in their testimony.
9 We trust what people tell us, yet Eternal Reality's declaration holds more weight as it comes from the Preeminent Sovereign Himself about His Heir.
10 This testimony is within the person who believes in the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign; in contrast, the person who does not trust the Preeminent Sovereign exposes Him as a liar by refusing to accept His testimony regarding His Heir.

11 Here is the ultimate authenticity: The Preeminent Sovereign's Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign given to us is found in His Heir.
12 Anyone who possesses the Heir possesses Life; anyone who does not have the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign does not possess Life.

§ 30840 CONCLUDING AFFIRMATIONS

13 I write to you who trust in Eternal Reality's Heir's Name to affirm that Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign is yours.
14 We have bold assurance before the Preeminent Sovereign, knowing He hears us if we request anything aligned with His celestial plan.
15 If He listens, we can be confident we possess what He requested.
16 If you see a fellow pathseeker committing a non-fatal wrongdoing, intercede through your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign, granting them life. This scenario applies to transgressions that do not lead to death. There is a transgression resulting in death, but I am not implying you should implore the Preeminent Sovereign for that.
17 Every unauthentic action is an unworthy choice, but some do not result in death.
18 Those born of the Preeminent Sovereign do not persist in unworthy choices; He who came from the Preeminent Sovereign safeguards them, and the impure one cannot harm them.

19 We are sure we are the offspring of the Preeminent Sovereign while the entire globe is under the Adversary's power.

[20] The Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign has come, granting us comprehension to recognize Him who embodies ultimate authenticity. We reside in this authentic essence through His Heir, the Chosen Redeemer, the authentic Eternal Reality, and the source of Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
[21] My little ones, guard yourselves against counterfeit idolized deities.

§ 30850 SO YOU MAY RECEIVE THE COMPLETE REWARD

1 From: the senior mediator, To: the woman selected by the Preeminent Sovereign and her offspring, whom I adore in reality—not just me, but all those who recognize the ultimate authenticity.

2 Due to the enduring ultimate authenticity residing within us that shall persist eternally:
3 Favor, transformative generosity, and tranquility originating from the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, and Chosen Redeemer, the Heir of the Life-Giver, shall remain with us, upheld by ultimate authenticity and affection.
4 Discovering that a few of your children are following the path of honesty, in compliance with the Life-giver's directives, has filled me with immense happiness.

5 I implore you now, esteemed lady, I'm not inscribing a novel command to you, but the one we've known since the start; let's continue to cherish each other.

6 Affection is manifested in our adherence to His directives. As it was pronounced in Inception, His instruction is to live a life permeated with love.
7 I state this because numerous fraudsters who won't admit the Chosen Redeemer's arrival in human form have disseminated globally. Any individual of this kind is the trickster and the opponent of the Chosen Redeemer.
8 Be vigilant to ensure that the effort we've put in is not wasted so you may receive the complete reward.
9 An individual who ventures beyond and fails to uphold the path of the Chosen Redeemer is devoid of the Preeminent Sovereign. However, those loyal to these teachings are communal with the Life-Giver and the Heir.
10 Should an individual arrive without adhering to this mandate, refrain from inviting them into your dwelling or extending hospitality.
11 Anyone who greets them involuntarily cooperates in their malicious deeds.
12 I wish to communicate plenty to you, yet I don't want to use ink and paper. Instead, I hope to meet you in person and share our thoughts directly to complete our happiness.
13 Your sister's children, whom the Preeminent Sovereign has elected, extend their salutations.

~ 225 | 3 Empowerment | 3 John

§ 30860 FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE NEW HUMANITY

[1] From: The ensovereigned lifestyle community leader. To: My cherished companion Gaius, whom I adore honestly.

[2] My dear companion, I wish you good health and hope everything progresses favorably, just as your inner-self exhibits wellness.
[3] I was delighted when trusted pathseekers shared stories of your dedication to ultimate authenticity, illustrating how you persistently live in its light.
[4] Nothing exhilarates me more than knowing my children live by ultimate authenticity.

[5] Your acts of trust are evident in all you do for the people of the New Humanity, even when their faces are unknown to you.
[6] They have witnessed your affection before the ensovereigned lifestyle community. Kindly assist them in proceeding commendably in the Preeminent Sovereign's view.
[7] These individuals embarked on their journey in the name of the Sovereign Captain without support from those who did not subscribe to their trust.
[8] Therefore, we must extend kindness to individuals like these, enabling us to collaborate in propagating ultimate authenticity.

[9] I penned a communication to the ensovereigned lifestyle community. However, Diotrephes, who takes pleasure in being the foremost, refuses to receive us.
[10] On arrival, I will highlight his actions, circulating harmful rumors about us. But that's not enough. He openly refuses to accept other people of trust. Moreover, he prevents those who wish to do so and expels them from the ensovereigned lifestyle community.

[11] Cherished companions avoid replicating what is impure and instead model integrity. Those who practice integrity are connected to the Preeminent Sovereign. Those who engage in impurity haven't indeed encountered the Preeminent Sovereign.
[12] everyone has testified favorably about Demetrius and has the ultimate authenticity. We, too, vouch for him, and you know that our affirmation is genuine.

[13] I want to communicate a lot with you. However, I'm not inclined to use ink and pen.
[14] I anticipate our forthcoming meeting, where we can converse in person. Here's wishing you tranquility. The acquaintances from this end extend their salutations. Please pass on personalized greetings to our friends located at your back.

~ 226 | Stay Trustworthy | Jude

§ 30870 TO THOSE WHOM THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN HAS CHOSEN AND CHERISHED

1 Jude, a bondservant of Immanuel the Chosen Redeemer and brother of James, writes to those chosen and cherished by the Preeminent Sovereign, the Life-Giver, who protects them for the Chosen Redeemer.
2 "May an abundance of kindness, tranquility, and love be granted to you."

§ 30880 THE UNWORTHY CHOICES AND DOOM OF DEPRAVED PEOPLE

3 My dear friends, though I wished to write about our shared redemption, I must urge you to defend the trust delivered to the community of people of trust.
4 Certain individuals, whose doom was predetermined, have infiltrated your community. They oppose a Sovereign Lifestyle, twisting the transformative generosity of our Preeminent Sovereign into an excuse for evil and repudiating the Chosen Redeemer, our sole Ruler and Sovereign Captain.
5 Though you know this, remember that the Sovereign Captain rescued His people from Egypt but later annihilated those who lacked trust.

6 Even those Celestial Envoys who abandoned their assigned roles and their designated places—these He has kept in solitary isolation, restrained by unbreakable locks until the ultimate Day of Accountability.
7 Similarly, Sodom and Gomorrah, the cities of transgression, succumbed to sexual decadence and unnatural vice, serving as a cautionary tale for those destined for infernal flames.
8 These irreverent individuals contaminate their flesh, dismiss governance, and slander celestial realm entities.
9 Even Michael, the Celestial Guardian, during his argument with the Chief Instigator over Moses' body, refused to slander him, instead asserting, "May the Sovereign Captain reprimand you!"
10 These individuals deride what they fail to comprehend, and their instinctive actions will be their downfall.
11 Disaster awaits them. They tread the path of Cain, chase monetary benefits in Balaam's folly, and meet their end in Korah's revolt.
12 They are stains on your communal meals, dining without fear, like self-serving lifesavers.
Moisture-less clouds float through the breeze, while autumnal trees stand barren and uprooted, symbolizing a double death.
13 Like chaotic forces throwing up their own vomit, they are aimless and lost, with a future locked in perpetual obscurity and regret.
14 Enoch envisioned these people seven generations after Adam: "Look, the Sovereign Captain is arriving with innumerable celestial entities."

15 To pass judgment on all, highlighting every irreverent deed and harsh expression against him.
16 These individuals are constant complainers and critics, guided by impure cravings; they brag and use flattery for personal gain.

§ 30890 A CALL TO PERSEVERE

17 Cherished companions, remember the predictions made by our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain messengers.

18 They warned that in the end, individuals would mock trust and follow their impious cravings.
19 Eternal Spark's essence.
20 Fortify your existence in your set-apart beliefs and seek celestial guidance by melding your conscience with the Preeminent Sovereign in the exalted Eternal Spark.
21 Stay within the Eternal Reality's affection, anticipating the compassion of our Chosen Redeemer, the Sovereign Captain that grants Eternal Life with the Preeminent Sovereign.
22 Show compassion to those who are uncertain;
23 Rescue some by pulling them from the flames and show kindness to others with cautious fear, hating even the garments tainted by being counterfeit.

§ 30900 FINAL THANKSGIVING

24 To the One who can keep you from stumbling and present you flawless and joyful before His magnificent acclaim:
25 Praise the Preeminent Sovereign, our deliverer, through our Sovereign Captain, the Chosen Redeemer. His acclaim, grandeur, might, and sovereignty are eternal, predating all ages, present now, and will persist for all ages to come! So be it.

~ 227 | Disclosure | Revelation

§ 30910 IT'S IMMINENT !

1 Here is the disclosure from the Preeminent Sovereign to Immanuel, the Chosen Redeemer, revealing what will soon occur to His coworkers. He sent His Celestial Envoy to inform His coworker, John

2 who testified to all he witnessed. This is Immanuel the Chosen Redeemer's testimony and the word of the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 Fortunate is the one who shares this eternal wisdom and those who heed its message, for the time is imminent.

§ 30920 GREETINGS AND THANKSGIVING

4 John, to the seven ensovereigned lifestyle communities in Asia: May you receive the Preeminent Sovereign's favor and tranquility from the Eternal Reality, who has always existed and who will return, and from the sevenfold Eternal Spark standing before His command control.
5 From the Chosen Redeemer, the reliable revealer of all ultimate authenticity, the pioneer in rising from death, and the Eternal Authority over all earthly Prime Rulers. To Him who exhibits perpetual adoration for us and liberates us from our wrongdoings through His absolving lifeblood.
6 He has transformed us into ensovereigned mediators who serve His Preeminent Sovereign and Life-Giver. To Him belong eternal acclaim and power. So be it.
7 Pay Heed: He is arriving amid the clouds, with every eye set to see Him, including those who inflicted harm. Each community across the globe will lament Him. That is the certainty! So Be It.
8 The Sovereign Captain affirms that Immanuel is the Inception and the Culmination, the One who exists, who always lived, and who will arrive, the Omnipotent One.

§ 30930 JOHN'S VISION OF THE CHOSEN REDEEMER

9 I, John, your sibling and partner in the hardships and exalted sovereignty that we share in Immanuel, found myself on Patmos Island due to the arrival of the Preeminent Sovereign's message and the evidence of Immanuel.
10 Eternal Spark engaged, and I discerned a resounding sound reminiscent of a trumpet emanating.

11 The directive was to document what I observed and dispatch it to the seven ensovereigned lifestyle communities: Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea.

12 I turned to see who was speaking to me, and as I looked, I saw seven radiant light fixtures, gleaming like golden beacons.
13 Amidst the light fixtures, there was a figure resembling the Heir of Humanity, attired in a robe stretched to His feet, girded with a golden cloth across His torso.
14 His head and hair blazed with the whiteness of wool, reminiscent of pristine snow, while His eyes glittered like a fiery flame.
15 His feet shone as if they were fine brass refined in a fire, and the resonance of His voice resembled that of a powerful waterfall.
16 In his hand, he held seven radiant lights, and from his words came a precise and piercing truth, cutting through lies and misconceptions. His face shone with dazzling brilliance, like the midday sun.
17 On laying my eyes on Him, I collapsed at His feet as if lifeless. He touched me with His dominant hand and reassured me, “Fear not. I am the Alpha and Omega.” 18 “I am the one who exists; I passed away, and now I am eternally alive! I possess authority over life’s cessation and the underworld.
19 Pen down the visions you have witnessed, the current occurrences, and the events destined to unfold.”
20 “The enigma of the seven stars you observed in My right palm and the seven gilded light holders means this: The seven stars represent the Celestial Envoys of the seven ensovereigned lifestyle communities. In contrast, the seven gilded light holders embody the same communities.”

§ 30940 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN EPHESUS

2 “Write to the innermost leader of the aligned lifestyle community in Ephesus: ‘This message is from the One, which securely grips the seven stars in His dominant hand and strolls through the seven golden light fixtures. ’

2 ‘I know your actions, diligent exertion, and unwavering patience. It’s clear that you do not stand for hateful individuals; you’ve scrutinized those professing themselves to be pathseekers yet are not, and you’ve ascertained their dishonesty. ’ 3 ‘You have demonstrated patience, undergone trials for my name’s sake, and haven’t allowed fatigue to overtake you. ’
4 ‘I have a complaint against you: You have abandoned your initial affection. ’
5 ‘Reflect on the extent of your decline! Change your ways and return to your initial actions. If you don’t change your mind, I will arrive and displace your light fixture from its location. ’
6 ‘In your favor, you detest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I, too, hold in contempt. ’
7 ‘All those who can hear should consider what the Eternal Spark conveys to the endangered lifestyle communities. I will reward those who achieve victory with permission to partake from the Source of Eternal Renewal in the Preeminent Sovereign’s celestial garden. ’”

§ 30950 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN SMYRNA

8 “Communicate to the Celestial Envoy of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Smyrna the following: ‘This message comes from the one who is the Beginning and the End, who endured death and was returned from death’
9 ‘I know your hardships and poverty, yet you possess authentic wealth! I understand the disparagement from those who claim to be Israelites but are not; instead, they are members of the assembly of the Adversary. ’
10 ‘Stay committed, even when it feels like everything’s on the line. Indeed, the Chief Instigator intends to imprison some of you to test your trust, and you will experience hardship for ten days. Remain steadfast, even if it leads to your demise. and I’ll give you the ultimate gift: an indestructible life that never ends.
11 ‘everyone capable of hearing should heed what the Eternal Spark communicates to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. The individual who prevails will be utterly unharmed by the second death. ’”

§ 30960 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN PERGAMUM

12 “Write to the Celestial Envoy of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Pergamum: ‘The One with the sharp, two-edged tactical blade sends this message:
13 ‘I know your dwelling place, where the Adversary holds his seat of power. Yet you cling to My Name. You didn’t relinquish your trust in Me, not even when Antipas, My loyal testifier, giving their life, met his untimely death in your locality, where the Adversary resides. ’
14 ‘However, I harbor a few complaints against you: Some among you adhere to the teachings of Balaam, who instructed Balak to lead the Israelites astray, causing them to consume food offered to idolized deities and engage in sexual misconduct. ’
15 ‘Similarly, you, too, have adherents to the mandates of the Nicolaitans. ’
16 ‘Change your ways! Otherwise, I will confront them with the piercing truth of my words, cutting through deception with precision and power.’
17 ‘Who can listen to and heed the message of the Eternal Spark spoken to the endangered lifestyle communities? To those who persevere, I will provide access to hidden, sustaining resources that bring true life. Furthermore, I will grant this individual a white stone engraved with a unique name exclusively known to the recipient. ’”

§ 30970 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN THYATIRA

18 “Write this to the Celestial Envoy of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Thyatira: ‘This proclamation of the Heir of the Preeminent Sovereign, who possesses eyes resembling a radiant fire and feet like polished bronze:

19 I know your actions, devotion, trust, acts of service, and steadfast endurance and that your recent efforts surpass those of the past. ’

20 ‘However, my contention with you is that you permit that woman, Jezebel, the manipulative first lady, who self-proclaims to be a prophetess. Through her teachings, she guides My coworkers astray into unworthy sexual choices and into eating foods that have been offered to idolized deities. ’
21 ‘She was allowed ample opportunity to show remorse for her indecency but was unwilling to do so. ’
22 ‘Therefore, I will throw her on a bed of distress, and those who commit a sexual act with her will endure immense suffering unless they turn away from her practices. ’
23 ‘I will eliminate her offspring. Subsequently, all the ensovereigned lifestyle communities will discern that I am the One who scrutinizes thoughts and feelings. I will reward or punish each one of you for your actions. ’

24 “To those remaining in Thyatira who haven’t subscribed to her ideologies or delved into what they call the ‘depths of the Adversary, ’ I assure you I won’t inflict any additional hardship on you.”
25 ‘Only maintain what you possess until I return. ’
26 ‘To the individual who conquers and continues to obey My directives until the conclusion, I will endow them with great power over the nations. ’
27 ‘They will be governed with an iron rod, shattered like clay vessels, mirroring the power I inherited from My Life-Giver. ’
28 ‘That individual will also be granted the dawn star. ’
29 ‘Any individual in possession of ears should heed the message that the Eternal Spark communicates to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. ’

§ 30980 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN SARDIS

3 “These are the words of the One who owns the seven Celestial Envoys and the seven Guardians of the Eternal Reality, write to the Celestial Envoy of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Sardis: ‘You have a reputation for being alive, but you are dead; I know your actions. ’

2 ‘Rouse yourself. Reinforce what’s left and in danger of perishing. For I observed that your actions are incomplete in the eyes of my Preeminent Sovereign. ’
3 ‘Remember the path you’ve received and accepted; adhere closely to them, and seek to change your ways. If you don’t become alert, I’ll make a sudden, unexpected visit like a burglar, and you won’t know when I’ll arrive. ’
4 ‘Nonetheless, a handful of individuals in Sardis have managed to keep their garments unstained. These individuals will accompany Me, adorned in white attire, signifying their deservedness. ’
5 ‘The individual who triumphs will be attired in white. I will not erase their name from the Book of Existence, but I will openly declare it in the presence of My Life-Giver and His Celestial Envoys. ’
6 ‘Anyone listening should heed what the Eternal Spark communicates to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. ’”

§ 30990 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN PHILADELPHIA

7 “To the Celestial Envoy of the ensovereigned lifestyle community in Philadelphia, write: ‘This is the proclamation from the One who is exalted and genuine, the custodian of David’s key: When He unseals something, nobody can lock it; when He closes off something, nobody can unlock it. ’

8 ‘I’m aware of your actions. Note that I have established an open door in your favor. Despite your limited power, you’ve trustfully adhered to My path and haven’t refuted My identity. ’

9 ‘Surely, I will cause those who belong to the “Congregation of the Adversary,” who fake to be Israelites but are deceitful, to come and salute at Eternal Reality’s feet, and they will acknowledge that I have cherished My own. ’

10 ‘As you have upheld My directive to persist tenaciously, I will shield you from the testing period destined to impact the entire globe to examine the citizens of the planet. ’

11 ‘I’ll be arriving soon. Stay steady and hold on to what you’ve achieved so far, so no one can take away the reward meant for you.’

12 ‘Those who prevail, I will transform into steadfast support in the fortress of my Eternal Reality. They will permanently abide by it. I will inscribe on them the Name of my Eternal Reality, the appellation of my Eternal Reality’s city, the new Yerushalayim, descending from the celestial realms of My Eternal Reality. I will also imprint My new epithet on them. ’

13 ‘Anyone who can hear should consider what the Eternal Spark communicates to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. ’”

§ 31000 TO THE ENSOVEREIGNED LIFESTYLE COMMUNITY IN LAODICEA

14 “To the Celestial Envoy of the assembly in Laodicea, record these words from the ‘So Be It, ’ the reliable and genuine testifier, the Innovator of the Preeminent Sovereign’s creation:
15 ‘I know your actions; you’re neither invigoratingly cold nor therapeutically hot. I’d prefer it if you were one or the other!’”

16 “‘Given that you’re tepid, not being either fervent or frigid, I’m on the verge of spitting you out of my mouth. ’

17 “You claim, ‘I am affluent; I have amassed riches and am in no want of anything. ’ However, you are unaware you are in misery, suffering, poverty, sightlessness, and exposure.”

18 “I advise you to seek from Me true wealth, like gold purified in a furnace, so you can possess what lasts. Embrace a new perspective that shields you from disgrace, and gain clarity to see life as it truly is. Apply healing ointment to your eyes to restore your vision.”

19 ‘To those I cherish, I also correct and instruct. So, show zeal and alter your lifestyle. ’

20 ‘I’m here! I’m standing at your door, knocking. If you hear me and let me in, we’ll share a meal and a real connection together. ’

21 ‘The one who prevails will earn the right to share My command control, just as I triumphed and took My place alongside My Life-Giver in His command control. ’

22 ‘Anyone who listens should comprehend what the Eternal Spark communicates to the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. ’”

§ 31010 THE SOVEREIGNTY IN THE CELESTIAL REALMS

4 After this, I observed a wide-open entrance in the celestial realms. Like a trumpet, the voice that initially resonated with me proclaimed, “Ascend here. I will disclose the events destined to occur in the future.”
2 Immediately, I found myself under the influence of the Eternal Spark. I witnessed a command control in the celestial realm with an entity seated on it.
3 This entity resembled precious gems like Jasper and Carnelian. A halo, which had the hue of an emerald, formed a ring around the platform.
4 Twenty-four more governance bases surrounded the central authority base, and twenty-four leaders wearing brilliant headbands sat on governance seats.

5 “Lightning flashes, thunder rumblings, and peals emanated from the fortress control. Seven flame throwers fiercely burned and were positioned before the command control. They represent the seven Guardians of the Eternal Reality.”
6 “Furthermore, a transparent, crystal-like sea appeared before the command control. At the center and encircling the command control were four living creatures adorned with eyes both at their front and rear.”
7 “The initial living creature resembled a lion; the following mirrored an ox, the third bore a human-like face, and the last appeared as an eagle in mid-flight.”
8 “Each creature of the four living beings possessed six wings, enveloped with eyes everywhere, even beneath their wings. Unceasingly, day and night, they exclaim: ‘Pure, More Pure, Most Pure is the Omnipotent Sovereign Captain who existed, who now exists and who is yet to exist. ’”
9 “And whenever all living things give recognition, honor, and thankfulness to the One who is seated on the celestial command control and Who is eternally alive,”
10 “is met with the twenty-four leaders who prostrate before Him and express adoration to the One who endures evermore. As they hurl their golden headbands in front of the Eternal Reality, they say:”
11 “‘All things exist and came into being by Your will; therefore, You, our Sovereign Captain and Preeminent Sovereign, are worthy of all acclaim, esteem, and authority. ’”

§ 31020 THE SCROLL AND THE LAMB

5 “I observed a manuscript in the dominant hand of the One seated on the command control, scribed on both sides and affixed with seven seals.
2 I watched a powerful Celestial Envoy say, ‘Who possesses the qualification to loosen the seals and unveil the contents of the scroll?’
3 There wasn’t a single being in the celestial realm, on Earth, or beneath the Earth capable of unlocking the scroll or even peering within it.
4 I shed countless tears as no individual was deemed deserving to unseal the manuscript or glance within.

5 A senior citizen addressed me, saying, ‘Do not shed tears! Pay Heed: the lion belonging to the community of Judah, the origin of David, has won the victory. He possesses the capability to unseal the manuscript and its seven seals. ’
6 I observed a Lamb, appearing as though it had been sacrificed, positioned in the center of the command control, surrounded by the four living creatures and the twenty-four leaders. The Lamb possessed seven horns and seven eyes, representing seven Celestial Envoys of the Preeminent Sovereign dispatched to every part of the Earth.
7 The Lamb advanced and retrieved the manuscript from the dominant hand of the One seated on the command control.
8 On seizing the scroll, the four creatures of life and the twenty-four leaders prostrated before the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate. Each entity grasped a harp and had gold vessels brimming with incense, signifying the supplications of the celestial pathseekers.
9 They intoned a novel melody, articulating: ‘You merit to receive the manuscript and to breach its seals since You were sacrificed, and via Your life-fluid, You attained individuals for the Eternal Reality from all ethnicities, dialects, populaces, and nations.
10 You have crafted them into a governance family and ensovereigned mediators to work for our Preeminent Sovereign, and they will be the leaders on Earth. ’
11 Then I turned to see and heard millions of Celestial Envoys, creatures, and leaders, with their voices, surrounding the seat of authority.
12 With a full voice, they were chanting: ‘The Lamb that was sacrificed deserves to attain power, prosperity, knowledge, might, esteem, majesty, and adoration!’
13 Consequently, I perceived every being in the cosmos, above and below, echoing together: ‘Infinite admiration, respect, radiance, and strength to the One Ensovereigned and the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate, now and forever!’
14 The four sentient creatures proclaimed, ‘So be it, ’ as the leaders prostrated themselves in adoration.”

§ 31030 THE SEALS

6 “I observed as the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate instigated the unveiling of the primary seal out of seven. Subsequently, I perceived one of the four animate creatures declaring in a thunder-like tone, ‘Advance!’
2 Casting my gaze, a white horse appeared in my view! The first living creature mounted on the white horse possessed a projectile launcher. He was rewarded with a wreath and embarked on his journey as a victor, eager to win more battles.
3 When the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate unlocked the second seal, I heard the second creature exclaim, ‘Approach!’

4 Subsequently, a horse of fiery red hue appeared. The power was vested in its rider to withdraw peace from the world, instigating individuals to slay one another. He was also given a substantial tactical blade.
5 When the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate broke the third seal, the third living creature’s voice rang out with a call: ‘Approach Now. ’ As I turned my gaze, I beheld a menacing black horse. The creature held a set of balances within his grasp.
6 ‘Take 1.1 liters of wheat and 3.30 liters of barley for a day’s wages, and do not contaminate the wine or oil, ’sounded a voice from among the four living creatures.
7 As the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate initiated the unveiling of the fourth seal, an utterance of the fourth living creature was audible to me, beckoning, ‘Proceed!’
8 I noticed, and a light-colored horse appeared before me! The one riding it was called death, and the Underworld trailed closely after him. The horse and the rider were endowed with authority over a quarter of the planet to extinguish life using warfare, starvation, disease, and the Earth’s wild creatures.
9 As the fifth seal was broken, I observed the individuals whose lives had been taken due to their unwavering adherence to the Preeminent Sovereign’s message and their dedicated testifier beneath the pedestal table.
10 They loudly implored, ‘My Sovereign Captain, the exalted and unerring, how long will it be before You pass judgment on those residing on Earth and exact retribution for our bloodshed?’
11 Each one of them received a formal white garment, and they were instructed to have patience for a bit longer until the designated number of their colleagues, their relatives, were martyred just as they were.

12 I observed a substantial earthquake as He broke the sixth seal. The sun shifted into a darkness resembling mourning fabric woven from goat hair. At the same time, the entire moon appeared as crimson as blood, 13 and meteorites plummeted to the ground, resembling unripe figs falling from a tree due to a powerful gust of wind.
14 The firmament withdrew, comparing a coiled manuscript, and all the hills and isles shifted from their original positions.
15 The Earth’s prime rulers, dignitaries, military chiefs, the affluent, the strong, and all individuals, whether enslaved or liberated, sought refuge in caverns and within the stones of the mountains.
16 They yelled to the hills and boulders, ‘Descend on us and conceal us from the sight of the One perched on the command control and from the fury of the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate!’
17 ‘The moment of their intense fury has arrived; who has the strength to resist?’

§ 31040 144,000 SEALED

7 Following this, I witnessed four of the highest-ranking Celestial Guardians positioned at the Earth’s four extremities, restraining the Earth’s four breezes to forestall any gust from stirring the ground, the ocean, or any tree.
2 I observed an additional Celestial Envoy rising from the direction of the sunrise, bearing the symbol of the Living Preeminent Sovereign. He said boomingly to the four Celestial Envoys who were granted the capability to inflict damage on the Earth and the ocean.
3 ‘Avoid causing harm to the Earth, the sea, or the trees until we’ve marked the Preeminent Sovereign’s coworkers on their foreheads with a protective seal. ’

4 Subsequently, the count of those marked with the seal was disclosed to me: A total of 144,000 came from every community of Israel.
5 The community of Judah had twelve thousand individuals distinguished with the seal, as did the communities of Reuben and Gad.
6 From the family of Asher, a total of 12,000; from the family of Naphtali, another 12,000; and the family of Manasseh, also 12,000;

7 12,000 from the family of Simeon, 12,000 from the family of Levi, and 12,000 from the family of Isaac.
8 Twelve thousand were marked from the people of Zebulun, the same number from Joseph's family, and likewise from the community of Benjamin."

§ 31050 THE GREAT MULTITUDE IN WHITE ROBES

9 I witnessed a vast assembly from every civilization, people, ethnic group, and dialect standing before the command control and the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate. They wore radiant white garments and held palm leaves.
10 They chanted in unity: "Our deliverance is in the hands of the Eternal Reality seated on the command control and the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate." 11 All Celestial Envoys encircled the command control, along with the twenty-four leaders and the four living creatures. They prostrated themselves, offering joyful expressions of adoration to the Preeminent Sovereign.
12 They declared: "So be it! May our Preeminent Sovereign receive joyful adoration, brilliance, insight, gratitude, respect, authority, and might now and forever. Let it be so!"
13 One of the leaders asked who these individuals in white were and their origin.
14 I replied, "Sir, you are the one who knows." He told me, "These individuals have emerged from immense suffering; they have cleansed their garments and transformed them white using the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate's blood."
15 "So, they are right in front of the Preeminent Sovereign, expressing joyful adoration for Him continuously in His fortress; moreover, He who resides in the command control will shelter them through His presence.
16 They will never experience hunger or thirst again or be subjected to the sun's harsh rays or intense heat.
17 The Lamb at the control center will care for them, leading them to sources of endless renewal and vitality. The Eternal Reality will comfort them, removing all sorrow."

§ 31060 THE SEVENTH SEAL AND THE GOLDEN INCENSE BURNER

8 When the seventh seal was opened, a profound silence enveloped the celestial realms for about thirty minutes.
2 I saw seven Celestial Envoys, each given a trumpet before the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 Another Celestial Envoy stood at the pedestal table holding a golden incense burner. He was given much incense to offer on the golden pedestal table before the command control and the chosen ones' petitions.
4 The incense smoke, mingled with the melding of their consciences with the Eternal Reality, rose to the Preeminent Sovereign by the Celestial Envoy's hand.

5 Then, the Celestial Envoy filled the incense burner with fire from the pedestal table and hurled it to the planet, causing thunder, echoes, lightning bursts, and an earthquake.

§ 31070 THE TRUMPETS

6 The seven Celestial Envoys, each with a trumpet, prepared to sound their alarms.
7 When the first Celestial Envoy blew his trumpet, the Earth was showered with fire and hail mixed with blood. One-third of the land, trees, and all green plants were scorched.
8-9 The second Celestial Envoy sounded his trumpet, and something like a burning mountain was thrown into the sea, turning one-third of the oceans to blood.
10 A light burning brightly like a torch descended from the celestial realms and landed on a third of the rivers and water springs as the third Celestial Envoy blew his trumpet.
11 Wormwood is the name of the star. Many people perished from the bitter waters, which caused one-third of the waters to turn bitter like wormwood oil.

12 The fourth Celestial Envoy sounded his trumpet, darkening one-third of the sun, moon, and stars, reducing their light by a third.
13 An eagle cried out, “Disaster! Disaster! Disaster to those on Earth from the remaining trumpet blasts!”

9 The fifth Celestial Envoy blew his trumpet, and a star fell to Earth with the key to the Abyss.

2 The star opened the Abyss' pit, and smoke swirled out like the billows from a huge furnace, darkening the air and the sun.
3 Smoke from the Abyss darkened the sky, and locusts with scorpion-like power emerged.
4 Only those without the seal of the Preeminent Sovereign on their foreheads were to be harmed, not the grass of the Earth, any plant, or any tree.
5 The locusts were only allowed to afflict them for five months, which was like a scorpion sting, rather than killing them.
6 People sought death but couldn’t find it.
7-9 The locusts looked like war-ready tactical personnel transports with human-like faces, long hair, lion-like teeth, and metallic breastplates. Their wings sounded like many riders and battle vehicles charging into combat.
10 They had tails with stingers to inflict pain for five months.
11 Their leader was Abaddon in Hebrew and Apollyon in Greek, meaning the annihilator.
12 The first woe has passed; two more misfortunes are coming.
13-14 The sixth Celestial Envoy sounded his trumpet and a voice from the golden pedestal table before the Preeminent Sovereign instructed him to release the four Celestial Envoys bound at the Euphrates River.
15 The four Celestial Envoys were released to kill one-third of humanity.
16 The number of troops was two hundred million.

17-18 In my vision, the assault forces had chest ballistic body armor in fiery scarlet, deep cobalt, and sulfuric yellow. Their lion-like heads expelled fire, smoke, and sulfur, killing one-third of humanity.
19 Their power was in their mouths and tails, like serpents with heads for destruction.
20-21 The survivors did not change their ways of living, their worship of malevolent entities and counterfeit idolized deities, or their murders, sorceries, sexual immorality, or thefts.

§ 31080 THE CELESTIAL ENVOY AND THE LITTLE SCROLL

10 I saw a mighty Celestial Envoy descend from the celestial realms, enveloped in a cloud with a rainbow over his head. His face shone like the sun, and his legs were like fiery pillars.
2 Holding a small scroll, he placed his right foot on the sea and his left on the land.
3 He roared like a lion, and the seven thunders spoke.
4 As I was about to write, a voice from the sky told me to seal up what the seven thunders said and not write it down.
5 The Celestial Envoy raised his dominant hand to the sky.
6 He swore by the Eternal Reality, who created everything, declaring, “There will be no more delay!
7 When the seventh Celestial Envoy sounds his trumpet, the Preeminent Sovereign’s plan will be fulfilled, as He disclosed to His wise ones.”
8 The voice from the celestial realms spoke again: “Go, take the scroll from the Celestial Envoy standing on the sea and land.”
9 I approached and asked for the scroll. He said, “It will taste sweet in your mouth but bitter in your stomach if you eat it.”
10 I took and ate the scroll; it was as sweet as honey but made my stomach bitter.

11 “You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages, and rulers.”

§ 31090 THE TWO TESTIFIERS

11 A rod similar to a measuring stick was given to me. I was instructed to proceed and calculate the dimensions of the fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign, the pedestal table, and its attendees.
2 “However, leave out the exterior court; do not take its dimensions, as it has been handed over to the Outsiders. They will devastate the exhausted city for 42 months.
3 I will grant my two eternally wise servants the authority to deliver visionary messages for 1260 days, donned in mourning garments.
4 These two eternally wise servants symbolize the dual olive trees and light fixtures, and they exist in the presence of the Earth’s Sovereign Captain.
5 Should anyone seek to cause them harm, flames emanate from their mouths, obliterating their adversaries. Any individual harboring intentions of inflicting damage on them will perish in this manner.
6 The eternally wise servants can halt the descent of rain from the skies during their envisioning epoch. They can also convert water into blood and afflict the Earth with all manner of diseases as frequently as they wish.
7 After the two eternally wise servants have completed testifying, the monstrous creature that emerges from the Abyss will battle them, subdue them, and ultimately kill them.
8 The remains of these eternally wise servants will be left unattended in the central area of the metropolitan city, which metaphorically takes the names Sodom and Egypt, the very same location where their Sovereign Captain was nailed on an execution stake.
9 Individuals from each ethnicity, community, language, and country will observe their bodies for three and a half days and deny them a proper burial.

10 Earth's dwellers will rejoice over them, marking the occasion by exchanging presents since these two Eternally Wise Servants inflicted such torment on those residing on this planet.
11 Following the three and a half days, they were revived by the Eternal Spark by breathing life into their bodies; they rose to their feet, causing all who witnessed it to be filled with fear.
12 A booming voice from the sky beckoned the eternally wise servants, inviting them upward. They ascended into the celestial realms in a cloud-bank under the watchful gaze of their adversaries.
13 At that precise moment, a devastating earthquake occurred, causing a tenth of the city to crumble. The catastrophe claimed the lives of seven thousand people. At the same time, the remaining inhabitants, overwhelmed with fear, applauded the Eternal Reality.
14 The second calamity is over; the third catastrophe will swiftly follow.

§ 31100 THE SEVENTH TRUMPET

15 The seventh Celestial Envoy sounded his alarm, and proclamations echoed in the realm: "The world's sovereignty is now with our Sovereign Captain and His Redeemer, and His rule will last forever."
16 The twenty-four leaders, in the presence of the Preeminent Sovereign, prostrated and paid homage to the Eternal Reality
17 saying, "We give You thanks, Almighty Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign and the Eternal Reality who exists and has always been, for You have claimed Your immense authority and initiated Your Sovereignty.
18 The world's inhabitants were angry, but Your anger has come. It's time for the deceased to be evaluated, rewarding Your devoted Celestial Envoys, the eternally wise servants, and Your chosen pathseekers who elevate Your Name, regardless of their stature. It's also time to eradicate those destroying our planet."
19 The celestial fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign was unveiled, revealing the Strongbox of His Solemn Pact within. The unveiling sparked lightning, rumblings, thunder, seismic disturbances, and intense hail.

§ 31110 THE WOMAN AND THE DRAGON

12 A remarkable phenomenon was seen in outer space: • "A woman adorned with the brightness of the sun"
• "Standing on the moon"
• "Bearing on her head a garland of twelve stars"

2 Being with a child, she screamed in labor pains, on the verge of delivery.

3 Subsequently, another symbol manifested in the celestial realms: a formidable, fiery red dragon characterized by its seven heads, ten horns, and a governance sign of authority adorning each head.

4 The dragon's tail dragged down a third of the asteroid bodies from space and hurled them onto the Earth. The beast positioned itself in front of the woman, on the verge of childbirth, intending to eat her offspring as soon as it emerged.

5 A boy was born from her, a male progeny, destined to govern all nations wielding an iron rod. The child was abruptly placed before the Preeminent Sovereign in His command control.

6 The woman escaped into the desert to a location that the Preeminent Sovereign had arranged for her protection, where she would receive sustenance for 1,260 days.

7 Subsequently, a battle ensued in the Sovereign Captain's realm. The Celestial Guardian Michael and his Celestial Forces combated against the monstrous dragon. Similarly, the dragon and his evil celestial accomplices retaliated.

8 However, they lacked strength, and all of them, including the dragon, were deprived of their celestial habitation.

9 The enormous serpent, known as the Chief Instigator or the Adversary, who misguides all of humanity, was cast down to the Earth, along with his evil celestial accomplices.

10 Subsequently, I recognized a potent outcry in the Sovereignty of the Eternal reality, proclaiming: "The time has arrived for the manifestation of our Eternal Reality's deliverance, His Sovereignty, and His reign, along with the same Sovereignty of His Redeemer. The individual who has continuously brought allegations against our siblings before our Preeminent Sovereign has been cast aside for all time."

11 Michael and his Celestial Forces prevailed over him through the blood of the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate and the power of their testimony. Their love for life was not so great as to prevent them from facing death.

12 "So be jubilant, you celestial expanses and those who inhabit them! Yet, Disaster awaits the land and the ocean since the Chief Instigator has descended on you! He brims with rage, aware that his years are fleeting!"

13 On realizing he was cast down to Earth, the dragon started to hunt the woman who had delivered the boy.

14 The woman received the wings of a giant eagle, enabling her to escape to a fortress in the wilderness. She was sheltered and sustained for a duration, double of it and half of it, away from the dragon's danger.

15 The dragon expelled water, like a river, from its mouth to engulf the woman and carry her away in the flood.

16 The Earth came to the woman's aid; it opened a gaping hole and absorbed the dragon's stream from his mouth.

17 The dragon, filled with fury towards the woman, departed to initiate conflict with the remainder of her family—those individuals who abide by the Preeminent Sovereign's decrees and firmly uphold their declaration of trust in Immanuel.

13 The dragon stood on the seashore, and I saw a beast rise from the ocean with ten horns and seven heads. Each horn had a battle helmet, and each head bore a vulgar name insulting the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 31120 THE BEAST OUT OF THE SEA

[2] The beast resembled a leopard, had bear-like limbs, and had a lion’s mouth. The dragon gave it power, command control, and vast dominion.
[3] One of the beast’s heads seemed mortally wounded but was healed. The whole world followed the beast in awe.
[4] The dragon was worshipped for empowering the beast, and the beast was revered. People asked, “Who can match the beast? Who can fight it?”
[5] The beast was given a voice to make arrogant claims and utterances against the Preeminent Sovereign’s lifestyle with authority to act for forty-two months.
[6] It blasphemed the Preeminent Sovereign, His Name, His fortress place, and His celestial realm.

[7] The beast was allowed to wage war against the Preeminent Sovereign’s exalted ones and conquer them, ruling every community, dialect, and country.
[8] everyone on Earth whose name is not in the “Book of Existence” of the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate, sacrificed since the world’s foundation, will worship the beast.
[9] If anyone has an ear, let him listen.
[10] Those destined for imprisonment will be imprisoned; those foreseen to die by a tactical blade will meet that fate. These events call for steadfast perseverance and unwavering loyalty from pathseekers of the Preeminent Sovereign.

§ 31130 THE BEAST OUT OF THE EARTH

[11] Then, I witnessed a second beast emerging from the ground. This beast spoke like a dragon but had two horns like a lamb.
[12] This second beast utilized the first beast’s power on its behalf, compelling the globe and its dwellers to venerate the primary beast, the one whose lethal injury had been recovered.
[13] It performed remarkable, marvelous works, including bringing fire down from the sky for the people to see.
[14] Owing to the marvelous signs it was allowed to perform under the influence of the initial beast, it swayed the dwellers of the Earth. They constructed an artifact in tribute to the first beast that survived despite being injured by the tactical blade.
[15] The second beast was granted the capability to breathe life into the artifact of the initial beast, enabling it to articulate and demand the execution of all who declined to venerate it.
[16] It demanded every individual, irrespective of their stature or wealth, whether free or enslaved, to bear a mark on their dominant hands or foreheads.
[17] The condition was that one couldn’t engage in trade or commerce unless they possessed the symbol representing the beast’s name or numerical identifier.
[18] “Wisdom is required here. One with understanding should discern the beast’s code, which signifies a human’s name. Its designation is 666 .”

§ 31140 THE LAMB AND THE 144,000

[14] I envisioned the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate standing on Mount David and surrounded by 144,000 individuals who had His name, and His Life-Giver’s name inscribed on their foreheads.

[2] The sound from the celestial realms was like cascading waters and mighty thunder, accompanied by musicians strumming their harps.
[3] They sang a unique melody before the celestial command control, the four living creatures, and the twenty-four leaders. Only the 144,000 bought from the land of Israel could learn this song.
[4] These individuals have remained virgins, following the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate wherever He goes. They were rescued from humanity and presented as the earliest harvest to the Preeminent Sovereign and the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate.
[5] They never utter falsehoods and are impeccably untainted.

§ 31150 THE THREE CELESTIAL ENVOYS

[6] I then saw another Celestial Envoy flying high, carrying the everlasting joyous developments to announce to all Earth’s inhabitants, reaching every nation, community, language, and people.
[7] He proclaimed, “Fear the Preeminent Sovereign and give Him acclaim, for the hour of His vengeance has come. Honor the One who made the world, the sea, the celestial realms, and the water springs.”
[8] Another Celestial Envoy followed, declaring, “Ruined! Ruined is the immense Babylon, who compelled all nations to partake in the intoxicating liquor of her disloyal acts.”
[9] A third Celestial Envoy followed: “Should any individual pay homage to the beast and its artifact and allow its identification mark on their forehead or palm?

[10] They will partake in the ferocious anger of the Preeminent Sovereign, unadulterated and served in His cup of indignation. They will endure the agony of flaming brimstone under the watchful eyes of the Sovereign Captain’s Celestial Envoys and the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate.
[11] The fumes of their suffering will ascend perpetually. There exists no respite, neither day nor night, for those who pay homage to the beast and its likeness or accept its mark.
[12] The Preeminent Sovereign’s pathseekers must demonstrate steadfast resilience, adhere to His instructions, and maintain unswerving loyalty to Immanuel.”
[13] A proclamation from the celestial realms resonated: “Those departing this life in unwavering trust in the Eternal Reality are indeed endowed from this moment forward. The Eternal Spark affirms this ultimate authenticity, granting them a peaceful reprieve from their toils, as their meritorious actions remain inseparably connected to them.”

§ 31160 FINAL EVALUATIONS AWAIT ALL

[14] I saw a remarkable sight: a dazzling Heir of Humanity seated high above, wearing a golden badge of leadership and holding tools for decisive action.
[15] Then a Celestial Envoy emerged from the fortress and instructed the Heir, “Begin the assessments now; the time for review is upon us, and the cases are ready for closure.”
[16] The Heir acted decisively, completing the work across the system, bringing everything to its conclusion.
[17] Another Celestial Envoy appeared with tools of inspection, prepared to evaluate all outputs.
[18] A third Celestial Envoy, overseeing accountability, called out, “Collect the results from every branch—both thriving and failing ones—because the assessments are complete.”
[19] The Celestial Envoy conducted a sweeping audit, collecting all data and sending it through the ultimate accountability system.

20 The process revealed deep corruption, with the fallout affecting the entire organization’s structure and leaving a lasting impression on its operations.

§ 31170 SEVEN CELESTIAL AGENTS WITH SEVEN PLAGUES

15 I witnessed another profound and fantastic spectacle in the celestial realms: seven Celestial Envoys, each holding one of seven earth-ending disasters. These are the ultimate calamities, marking all celestial indignation’s full expression and completion.
2 I observed what seemed to be a flaming sea of crystal, and those standing beside this sea were the ones who had triumphed over the beast, its artifact, and the number that signifies its name. They were holding celestial harps given to them by the Preeminent Sovereign.
3 They chanted the Hymn of Moses, the servant of Preeminent Sovereign, and the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate: “Your accomplishments, Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign, and Eternal Reality, are extraordinary and awe-inspiring. Your methods, Prime Ruler of all nations, are full of integrity and sincerity.
4 Who wouldn’t stand in awe of You, Sovereign Captain, and honor Your greatness? You solely are exalted. All the nations will assemble to adore You as Your just deeds have become evident.”
5 Subsequently, I observed, and it appeared that the celestial fortress, which serves as the Tent of the Solemn Agreement, was now unveiled.
6 The seven Celestial Envoys with the seven afflictions emerged from the fortress, cloaked in immaculate, radiant linen and adorned with gold belts across their torsos.
7 One of the four living creatures presented the seven Celestial Envoys with seven golden bowls brimming with the fury of the Preeminent Sovereign, who exists eternally.
8 No one was allowed inside the fortress until the seven Celestial Envoys’ plagues were accomplished. The fortress was also filled with smoke from the Preeminent Sovereign’s splendor and power.

§ 31180 THE SEVEN BOWLS OF THE PREEMINENT SOVEREIGN’S WRATH

16 I heard a commanding voice from the fortress instructing the seven Celestial Envoys, “Proceed, empty the seven flasks of Preeminent Sovereign’s anger over the Earth.”
2 The initial Celestial Envoy discharged his bowl on the Earth, causing malignant and repulsive sores to emerge on those who bore the sign of the beast and paid homage to its effigy.
3 The second Celestial Envoy emptied his vessel into the ocean, transforming it into a substance like the sanguine fluid of a carcass, resulting in the demise of all marine life.
4 The third Celestial Envoy discharged his container into the watercourses and natural fountains, turning them into blood.
5 I overheard the Celestial Envoy presiding over the waters proclaim: “Your verdicts are equitable, O exalted One, You who exist now and have always existed.
6 Because they shed the blood of eternally wise servants and Chosen Ones, You have granted the murderers the right to drink the contaminated water, now changed to blood, as they deserve.”

7 The affirmation from the pedestal table was heard: “Indeed, Almighty Sovereign Captain, your verdicts are genuine and equitable.”
8 The fourth Celestial Envoy dispersed his flask over the sun, and the sun received permission to burn individuals with flames.
9 The extreme heat scorched them. They blasphemed the Name of the Preeminent Sovereign who had authority over these catastrophes. However, they remained remorseless and did not offer Him honor.
10 The fifth Celestial Envoy emptied his vial on the beast’s seat of power, and the beast’s dominion was obscured. Humans bit their tongues due to immense suffering.
11 They spoke ill of the Preeminent Sovereign due to their discomfort and wounds. Yet they stubbornly persisted in their wrongdoings without remorse.
12 The sixth Celestial Envoy emptied his bowl on the mighty Euphrates River, causing water to evaporate and paving a path for the Prime Rulers from the East.

13 The dragon, the beast, and the fake oracle all had frog-like malevolent entities coming from their mouths, and I saw three of them.
14 Indeed, they are malevolent entities capable of performing marvelous signs. They approach all the global Prime Rulers to rally them for an impending confrontation on the extraordinary day of the Omnipotent Sovereign.
15 “Pay Heed! I will arrive unexpectedly like a burglar! Fortunate is the individual who stays vigilant and holds on to his attire, so he won’t be shamefully bare and open to all.”
16 The Prime Rulers were assembled at the End-Time Battlefield known as Armageddon in Hebrew.
17 The ultimate Celestial Envoy emptied his vessel across the sky; following this, a resonating proclamation emerged from the command control within the fortress, declaring, “Everything is accomplished!”
18 Loud noises, thunderclaps, and an extreme earthquake followed lightning strikes.
19 The meaningful metropolis fragmented into three sections, and the cities of different nations crumbled. The Preeminent Sovereign remembered “Babylon the Mighty” and gave her the chalice, brimming with His forceful and furious anger.
20 All islands vanished, and no mountains were left to be seen.
21 Massive hailstones, measuring around 45.36 kilograms, descended from the celestial realms on individuals. They cursed the Preeminent Sovereign due to the Disaster of the hailstorm, as its devastation was extremely severe.

§ 31190 BABYLON, THE PROSTITUTE ON THE BEAST

17 A Celestial Envoy from the seven with the seven bowls approached and said, “Come with me; I’ll show you the judgment against the notorious harlot who reigns over many oceans.”
2 Earth’s rulers engaged in sexual misconduct with her, and Earth’s residents were intoxicated by her promiscuity.”

3 The Celestial Envoy took me by the Eternal Spark into a wilderness. I saw a lady sitting on a scarlet beast with 10 horns and seven heads, covered in obscene names.
4 Dressed in purple and scarlet, the woman shimmered with gold, gems, and pearls. She held a gold cup filled with vile deeds and the contamination of her wrong acts.

5 A mysterious title was inscribed on her forehead: MYSTERY BABYLON
THE GREAT THE MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES
AND OF
THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH

6 I observed the woman intoxicated with the blood of those devoted to the Preeminent Sovereign and those who testified about Immanuel. Witnessing her left me profoundly shocked.
7 I shall disclose the concealed significance of the woman and the beast—the being with ten horns and seven heads—that she mounts.
8 The Beast you saw once existed does not exist now but is about to ascend from the Abyss and proceed to its destruction. Those on Earth whose names aren't in the Book of Existence since the world's Inception will be amazed by its past existence, current non-existence, and anticipated return.
9 Understanding this requires wisdom. The woman rests on seven hills, and seven heads represent her.
10 Additionally, there are seven Prime Rulers. Five have been removed from governance; one is in power, and the last hasn't appeared yet; his reign will be short.
11 The creature that once existed but no longer does represents an eighth ruler, connected to the original seven, heading towards destruction.
12 The ten horns represent ten Prime Rulers who haven't gained sovereignty yet but will for a single hour alongside the Beast.

13 With a singular intention, they confer their strength and rule on the Beast.
14 They will combat the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate. Still, the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate will emerge victorious because He is the Sovereign Captain, the Commander Chief of the Celestial Forces, and the ultimate Sovereign of all sovereigns. Accompanying Him will be His summoned, chosen, and loyal pathseekers.
15 The Celestial Envoy conveyed that the waters you saw, where the harlot is seated, symbolize races, crowds of people, countries, and dialects.
16 The monster and the ten projections will despise the harlot, devastate her, leave her bare, devour her body, and incinerate her with flames.
17 The Preeminent Sovereign has influenced the minds of the crowds to carry out His intention by unanimously deciding to give their governance power to the Beast until the visions of the Eternal Reality are actualized.
18 The female figure represents the world's Prime Rulers.

§ 31200 LAMENT OVER FALLEN BABYLON

18 I saw another Celestial Envoy descend from the celestial realms, radiating immense power and illuminating the Earth with his majesty.
2 He declared forcefully: "Ruined! Ruined is the great Babylon! It has become a dwelling for malevolent entities, a fortress for every evil entity, a refuge for every filthy vulture, and a shelter for every wretched and repulsive monster.
3 All nations have drunk the intoxicating brew of her indiscretions. Earth's Prime Rulers engaged in her infidelity, and global merchants grew rich from her extravagant indulgences.

§ 31210 WARNING TO ESCAPE BABYLON'S JUDGMENT

4 Then I perceived an additional celestial echo: “Depart from her, My pathseekers, to avoid involvement in her transgressions and to evade her impending calamities.”

5 Her transgressions have accumulated as high as the sky, and the Preeminent Sovereign has not forgotten her offenses.
6 Return the favor by giving her double what she has given to others and putting twice as much in her cup.
7 Impose an equivalent measure of suffering and sorrow on her to match the honor and luxury she awarded herself. She arrogantly declares in her core, “I reside as a sovereign. I'm not bereft of a spouse; I will never experience grief.”
8 In a single day, she will experience her calamities: death, grief, and starvation. She will be burned down with fire, as powerful is the Sovereign Captain who pronounces judgment on her.

§ 31220 THREEFOLD WOE OVER BABYLON'S FALL

9 The Prime Rulers of the world who indulged in worthless sexual acts with her and lived in sensual excesses will weep and mourn when they see the smoke of her destruction.
10 Fearful of her suffering, they will withdraw and scream: “Misfortune! Misfortune awaits you, great city, mighty Babylon! In one hour, your doom has come!”
11 The world's traders will mourn because no one buys their goods anymore:
12 pearls, gold, silver, and valuable stones; scarlet fabric, silk, and exquisite linen; every kind of citron wood; and articles of ivory, costly wood, bronze, iron, and marble;
13 cinnamon, spices, myrrh, frankincense, wine, olive oil, fine flour, and wheat; sheep and animals; carriages and horses; and individuals sold into slavery.
14 They will say, “The inner fruit you craved for is no longer with you.” All of your splendor and wealth have vanished, never to reappear.
15 The wealthy merchants who profited from her will stand at a distance, terrified by her torment. They will weep, mourn 16 and cry: “Unfortune! Great city, you are about to meet misfortune adorned in purple, crimson, and fine linen, sparkling with jewels, valuable stones, and gold!

17 Such immense wealth has been destroyed in just one hour!” All sea commanders, ship passengers, sailors, and others who depend on the sea for their livelihood shall remain apart.
18 “Was there ever a place like this great city?” they will cry out as soon as they see her burning.
19 They will throw dust on their heads, weeping and mourning, and cry out: “Unfortune! You are destined for misfortune, a wealthy metropolis that made everyone who owned ships at sea wealthy! She has been reduced to rubble in just one hour!
20 Rejoice over her, you the celestial realms! Rejoice, you ensovereigned lifestyle community of the celestial realms! Rejoice, chosen people, Proponents, and Eternally Wise Servants! For the Preeminent Sovereign has judged her for the way she treated you.

§ 31230 THE FINALITY OF BABYLON'S DOOM

21 Then, a mighty Celestial Envoy hurled a rock as large as a millstone into the ocean, proclaiming: "So, the great city of Babylon will be violently overthrown, never to be found again.
22 The melodies of musicians, flutists, and horn blowers will never be heard in you again. No artisan of any trade will be found in you. The sound of a millstone will never be heard in you again.
23 The light of a lamp will never shine in you again. The voices of brides and grooms will cease. Your merchants were the world's most powerful. By your sorcery, all nations were deceived.
24 You are accountable for the blood of the eternally wise, the Preeminent Sovereign's exalted ones, and all who have been slain on Earth."

§ 31240 THREEFOLD CHEER FOR THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN OVER BABYLON'S FALL

19 I heard a vast multitude in the celestial realms exclaiming: "Praise the Sovereign Captain! Redemption, magnificence, and authority belong to our Eternal Reality.

2 His rulings are legitimate and full of integrity. He has judged the notorious reprobate who defiled the world through Babylon's infidelity and enacted retribution for the slaughter of His pathseekers."
3 They continued: "Praise the Sovereign Captain! The smoke from Babylon will rise perpetually."
4 Twenty-four leaders and four living creatures bowed down, acclaiming the Preeminent Sovereign in command control, saying, "So be it, Praise the Sovereign Captain!"
5 A voice from command control instructed: "Elevate our Eternal Reality, all His pathseekers who honor Him, regardless of their stature!"
6 I then heard a voice from a vast crowd, like surging waters and mighty thunder: "Applaud the Sovereign Captain! For our Preeminent Sovereign, the Omnipotent, now runs the whole show!"
7-8 "Let's celebrate and give Him honor! The long-awaited union of the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate and His people has arrived, and they have prepared themselves, clothed in deeds of justice and goodness, shining bright for all to see."

9 The Celestial Envoy instructed me to write: "Fortunate people have been asked to the banquet celebrating the marriage of the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate!" He added, "These words are genuine proclamations of the Preeminent Sovereign."
10 I knelt to express adoration at his feet, but he warned me not to. "I am a coworker with you and your people of the New Humanity who depend on Immanuel's testimony. Honor the Eternal Reality! The essence of vision is found in Immanuel's testimony."

§ 31250 THE UNIVERSAL WARRIOR DEFEATS THE BEAST

11 I observed the broad open celestial realms, and a starship appeared before me. Its pilot, White Horse, is known by two words: “Loyal” and “Authentic.” He rules with justice and makes warfare.
12 His gaze resembles a fiery flame; numerous wreaths rest on his head. An inscription of his name is unknown to all but him.

13 He’s clad in a garment steeped in blood and known as the Preeminent Sovereign’s Word.
14 The Celestial Forces, attired in bright and spotless linen, trailed him in a formation of cruisers.
15 From the Sovereign Captain’s words comes a sharp and decisive truth, powerful enough to confront and correct entire systems.
16 This inscription is on his garment and leg: THE PRIME RULER OF ALL PRIME RULERS AND
THE SOVEREIGN CAPTAIN OF ALL CAPTAINS

17 Then I saw a Celestial Envoy standing in the sunlight, calling out to all the birds soaring overhead, “Come, assemble for the Preeminent Sovereign’s grand supper, 18 to consume the flesh of Prime Rulers, assault troops, and mobile fighters, as well as all enslaved and free people of all sizes.”
19 After that, I witnessed the Beast, alongside the Earth’s Prime Rulers and armed forces, amassing to battle against the One astride the horse and his troops.
20 The Beast and the false prophet who had performed marvelous acts on its authority were seized. Through these marvelous acts, he had tricked those who had accepted the artifact of the Beast and paid tribute to its likeness. Both were hurled alive into the blazing lake of sulfur.
21 The remaining warriors of the Beast met their end with the tactical weapon that emerged from the starship of White Horse. And every bird indulged until they completed the eating of their flesh.

§ 31260 THE THOUSAND YEARS

20 I observed a Celestial Envoy descending from the realms of Eternal Reality, possessing the key to the bottomless pit and carrying a substantial chain.

2 The ancient dragon, the Chief Instigator, known as the Adversary, was captured and restrained for millennia.
3 He was cast into the Abyss, and the seal and lock applied over him, preventing him from leading the nation astray until the completion of a thousand years. Subsequently, he must be granted freedom for a brief duration.

4 Then I saw the command centers and realized that individuals commissioned to them had real power to make decisions. And I witnessed the lives of those who had been executed for testifying against the Beast and proclaiming the word of the Eternal Reality, as well as those who had not idolized the Beast or its image or been marked with its mark on their hands or foreheads. And they both came to life for a Thousand-year End-Time and ruled alongside the Chosen Redeemer.

5 The remaining deceased didn’t regain existence until the completion of a thousand years. This event is referred to as the initial return from death.
6 Fortunate and set-apart partake in the initial return from death. The fortunate are impervious to the second death. Instead, they will serve as mediators of the Preeminent Sovereign and the Chosen Redeemer and hold reign with Him for a Thousand-year End-Time.

§ 31270 THE JUDGMENT OF THE CHIEF INSTIGATOR

7 Once the Thousand-year End-Time ends, the Adversary will be released from confinement.
8 He will deceive the nations at the Earth’s farthest ends, Gog and Magog, gathering them for battle. Their numbers will be as countless as sand on the shore.
9 The forces of Gog and Magog will spread across the Earth, surrounding the encampment of the celestial pathseekers and the cherished metropolis. But an unstoppable surge of power descended from above, dismantling their threats completely.

10 The ancient dragon, who deceived them, will be thrown into the inferno of blazing sulfur with the Beast and the counterfeit prophet, destined to suffer eternally, day and night.

§ 31280 THE ULTIMATE JUDGMENT OF THE DEAD

11 I observed a vast command control and the individual who commanded from it. The Earth and the sky retreated from His presence, and none could provide refuge for them.
12 I witnessed the high and low deceased people positioned before the Eternal Reality. And numerous books were opened. One of the books, known as the Book of Existence, was disclosed. From this book, the departed were evaluated based on their actions, as reflected in the records.
13 The ocean surrendered all the deceased within its depths. Mortality and the Underworld relinquished their dead, each individual being assessed based on their actions.
14-15 Then death and all its darkness were cast into a consuming blaze of finality. This blaze represents the ultimate separation from life-the second death. Anyone who had turned away from the Path of Life and not having their name inscribed in the Book of Existence found themselves lost in this irreversible moment of judgment.

§ 31290 A NEW UNIVERSE AND A NEW EARTH

21 I witnessed a renewed Universe and Earth, as the initial ones had ceased to exist, and the ocean was no more.
2 I saw the exalted city, New Yerushalayim, descending from the celestial realm by the will of the Preeminent Sovereign, a new and transformed community, descending from heaven like a carefully designed masterpiece, ready to meet its Eternal Reality with beauty and purpose."
3 A booming voice from the command control declared, “Pay heed! The fortress of the Preeminent Sovereign has become the habitation of the New Humanity, and He will cohabit with them. They will be His people, and He will be their Eternal Reality.

4 He will erase every drop of sorrow from their eyes. Existence will no longer know death, grief, tears, or distress; everything of the old world has vanished.”
5 The One in command pronounced, “I’m transforming everything anew!” Then he stated, “Inscribe this, as these declarations are dependable and accurate.”
6 He told me: “It’s finished. I am the First and the Last, the Inception and Termination. For those who crave water, I will generously provide life-giving water from the wellspring at no expense.
7 All who emerge victorious will inherit these empowerments. I will be their Eternal Reality, and they will be regarded as my offspring.
8 However, the timid, deceptive, vile assassins, those indulging in illicit sexual activities, practitioners of sorcery, adorers of counterfeit idolized deities, and all deceivers—their destiny lies in the incandescent lake of blazing sulfur. This finish represents the second death.”

§ 31300 THE NEW YERUSHALAYIM, UNITY WITH THE LAMB

9 A Celestial Envoy, one of the seven with bowls of the final afflictions, invited me, saying, “Come, I’ll show you the radiant community, united with the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate in purpose and love.”
10 He took me to a tall mountain under the Eternal Spark’s guidance and showed me the exalted city of New Yerushalayim emerging from the celestial realms of the Preeminent Sovereign.
11 It radiated with the Eternal Reality’s brilliance, resembling a crystal-clear jasper.
12 The builders engraved the names of the twelve communities of Israel on the twelve gateways of this imposing barrier, each watched over by a Celestial Envoy.
13 Three entries were in the East, three in the North, three in the South, and three in the West.
14 The city’s protective design rested on twelve foundational layers, each inscribed with the names of Immanuel's closest emissaries, showing their lasting contribution to the city’s design and purpose.
15 The Celestial Envoy had the technology to gauge the city’s dimensions, entryways, and fortifications.

16 The city was a cube, 2,194.56 kilometers in size, with equal width and height.
17 The wall was 65.88 meters thick, measured using human standards.
18 The city was translucent as crystal, and the wall was built of jasper.
19-20 The city’s walls were adorned with various gems: jasper, sapphire, agate, emerald, sardonyx, sardius, chrysolite, beryl, topaz, chrysoprase, jacinth, and amethyst.
21 The twelve entrances were formed from twelve pearls, each crafted from a single pearl. The city’s main street was pure gold, like clear glass.
22 I saw no fortress in the city because the Omnipotent Sovereign Captain and the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate are its fortress.
23 In Eternal Reality's perfect city, no streetlights or power grids are needed. His brilliance fills every corner, and Immanuel illuminates it all.
24 Nations will walk by its light, and Earth’s Prime Rulers will bring their magnificence to it.
25 Its doors will never close because there is no night there.
26 The splendor and respect of nations will be brought into it.
27 No unhealthy entity or anyone practicing vile or deceitful acts will enter, only those inscribed in the Eternal Reality‘s Redeeming Advocate’s Book of Existence.

§ 31310 EDEN RESTORED

22 The Celestial Envoy showed me a pristine stream of life-giving energy, flowing directly from the Eternal Reality's source and the Redeeming Advocate's center of authority, coursing through the heart of the city's main avenue and radiating life and vitality.

3 No curse will exist anymore. The Preeminent Sovereign's and the Eternal Reality's Redeeming Advocate's command control will be in the city. Their coworkers will serve them.
4 They will see His face, and His Name will be on their foreheads.
5 There'll be no more darkness. No need for streetlights or even the sun because the Eternal Reality Himself will illuminate everything, and we'll thrive forever in His radiance.

§ 31320 JOHN AND THE CELESTIAL ENVOY

6 The Celestial Envoy said, "These words are reliable and genuine. The Sovereign Captain, the Preeminent Sovereign who influences the eternally wise servants, has dispatched His Celestial Envoy to reveal the events that will soon unfold to His coworkers."
7 "Pay Heed; I will arrive shortly! Fortunate is the person who adheres to the eternally wise servant messages inscribed in this book."
8 Being John, I am the individual who perceived and witnessed these events. Upon hearing and observing, I prostrated myself in homage before the Celestial Envoy who had presented them to me.
9 He told me, "Don't do that! I serve alongside you, with your eternally wise servants, and with all those who adhere to the path of this manuscript. Exclusively, the Preeminent Sovereign should be elevated!"
10 He told me to avoid locking away the eternally wise servant disclosures in this manuscript, given that the appointed period is approaching.
11 "Allow those who act impurely to persist in their impurity; allow the morally repugnant to uphold their repugnance, and allow those committed to integrity to sustain their authentic deeds; and let the set-apart individuals uphold their exaltedness."

§ 31330 EPILOGUE: INVITATION AND WARNING

12 "Pay heed, I'm arriving shortly! I carry with me the compensation, and I will repay each individual based on their actions.

13 I am the Alpha and Omega, the Outset and the Conclusion, the Premiere and the Ultimate.
14 Fortunate are those who refresh their lives and live rightly, for they will have access to the Tree of Life-the Source of Vitality, and they will enjoy the freedom to enter into the celestial city.
15 Situated outside the city are individuals with unworthy choices. They are the impure, the ones engaged in sorcery, individuals of wrongful sexual behavior, those guilty of murder, false adorers of the Eternal Reality, and all who derive pleasure from and indulge in deception."

16 "I am Immanuel, who dispatched My Celestial Envoy to provide this testament for the ensovereigned lifestyle communities. I am both the originator and descendant of David and the Radiant Dawn Star.

17 “The Eternal Spark and the ensovereigned lifestyle community invite everyone to say, 'Come and recharge! Those who hear this call repeat, 'Come!' Anyone feeling drained is welcome to connect and freely access this unlimited, life-giving energy.’ ”

18 “Everyone who listens to this manuscript of this eternally wise servant is cautioned: Should anyone augment these words, the Preeminent Sovereign will inflict on them the calamities detailed in this manuscript.
19 Should anyone eliminate words this eternally wise servant disclosed, the Preeminent Sovereign will revoke that individual’s privilege in receiving the Tree of Life and the Eternal Reality’s City, as outlined in this scroll.
20 The One who testifies to these things affirms, ‘I am arriving quickly. ’ So be it. Do come soon, Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain!”

21 May the affection and mercy of Immanuel, the Sovereign Captain, empower all of the Preeminent Sovereign’s pathseekers. So be it!
